Attorney Rosser Directs His Questions to Combat Claim of Nervousness—Witness Declares She Never Saw Any Red Paint in the Metal Room—State Claims New Evidence Will Soon Be Given—Trial Will Run Into Second Week

Four distinct features marked the trial of Leo M. Frank Wednesday. One was an admission from Miss Hix that the girls frequently combed their hair over the machines in the metal room of the factory; another was a statement on the part of the state to prove that Frank was very nervous on the morning of the discovery of little Mary Phagan's body; still another feature was the attempt of the state to show that Frank was nervous in looking upon the state's efforts in the underlying parlor, and the fourth was the state's effort to prove that red paint never had been seen on the floor of the metal room where the state alleges bloody spots were found.

Attorney Rosser directed his questions to combat the claim of nervousness—Witness declared she never saw any red paint in the metal room—State claims new evidence will soon be given—Trial will run into second week.

BY RALPH SMITH.
WASHINGTON, July 29.—The currency discussion today is expected to be a more serious one than the discussion of the banks, Republicans, Democrats and Independent Democrats. The discussion that is expected without delay is the question of how far the government will go in controlling the issue of currency legislation.

(By Associated Press.)
WILLIAMSBURG, July 29.—The town in Falcon, Venezuela, has been occupied by partisans of Cipriano Castro and General Leon Jurado, Governor of Falcon, has been taken prisoner, according to reports received here.

The last definite news as to the whereabouts of Cipriano Castro, former President of Venezuela, was his arrival in Berlin from New York. After his departure from Venezuela, he was reported to have reached the Canary Islands, where he disappeared. He later was reported to have returned to the island of Tenerife, where he was reported to have been arrested by the Spanish authorities.

to introduce an affidavit Tuesday night and would be sworn to by the writer and most of the lines in the affidavit were written by the writer.

The affidavit again sought to introduce the claim in evidence. The defense objected, and the judge ruled that it was being shown where the jury meant to see it. Attorney Arnold asked that a copy be made of the affidavit and that it be read to the jury. The judge refused to do so.
