CALLED 'LYNCH LAW VEILED'
Special to The New York Times.
New York Times (1857-1922); Dec 24, 1914;
ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2008)
Prof. 5

CALLED 'LYNCH LAW VEILED'

Judge Sulzberger of Philadelphia on the Trial of Frank.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—"Lynch law veiled" was the characterization applied today by Judge Mayer Sulzberger to the trial of Leo Frank.

"At a certain point in the trial," said Sulzberger. " the presiding Judge called upon the Colonel of Militia and the Chief of Police for protection against apprehended violence to Frank and his counsel. The Chief of Police sat alongside the Judge on the I cannot avoid the conclusion that from the moment the military and police authorities intervened court the court was automatically ad-The verdict, moreover, a man who was not in received by court, and the verdict was rendered by a jury that was no longer a con-stituent part of the court. I conclude from these facts that the proceeding was lynch law veiled."

Plans for the circulation of petitions in this city to be sent to Gov. Slater of Georgia, requesting that the sentence of Frank be commuted, were made yesterday at a meeting held at the home of Benjamin Golder, an at-Committees are being formed tornev. in every ward and cash subscriptions are being taken up to defray the expense of circulating the petitions. committee will be sent from this city to Georgia to present petitions to the Governor. Plans have been made for in the Academy of mass meeting Sectional meetings are Music.

planned.