ProQuest Historical Newspapers Atlanta Constitution (1868 - 1945)

CRIMINAL COURT WILL CONVENE MONDAY WEEK

Before That Time Solicitor Dorsey Expects to Have Concluded Frank Hearing.

That the criminal division of superior court will start on Monday week and the general work of that division be resumed was the statement made yesterday by Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, who expects to finish the mo-tion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank before that time. Judge Ben H. Hill, recently appointed to the Fulton bench and who is expected to occupy the criminal division, will probably take his place in the Fulton courts by that time and begin ton courts by that time and begin the trial of the numerous cases which have been kept walting on account of the Frank motion.

The grand fruy is due to be called together some time during the latter part of the coming ween and a num-ber of indictments have already been drawn up for it by the solicitor's assistants. Bulicitor Dorsey and Attorney Leonard Haas, the latter representing the man convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, held a conference Friday over the questions in the brief filed by the defense.

The solicitor will appear in court at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and it is believed that the case will be postpeneved that the case will be post-poned again and the date set for Tues-day or wednesday of next week. The arguments in the hearing will proba-bly extend through several days, the principal fight contering about the charges of bias made against Jurors A. H. Henslee and M. Johenning. Much argument will also be sub-mitted involving the legal side of mitted involving the legal side of various rulings made by Judge L. S.

Roan during the long trial.