

Friends Pay Tribute To Memory of Girl Killed One Year Ago

Through courtesy of V. O. Rankin and contributing friends, a special car was chartered Monday afternoon and about one hundred friends and relatives of Mary Phagan went to Marietta to hold a memorial service over her grave.

Some two hundred people had already gathered at the grave when the car arrived. The mother of Mary Phagan was present and was deeply impressed by the ceremony.

Many flowers were laid upon the grave. A song and prayer service were held and Rev. Olin King delivered a short talk.

FULTON SUPPLY COMPANY OPENS BUSINESS MAY 10

The Fulton Supply company, a recently organized general mill and machinery supply house, will begin business on or about May 10.

It is composed of George Winship, Jr., president; J. C. Walraven, vice president; J. R. Walraven, secretary and treasurer, and W. M. McDonald, general manager.

Mr. Winship is with the Continental Gin company, and the other gentlemen for many years with the Cotton States Belting and Supply company.

They have long been identified in the general mill and machinery supply business, and have a wide acquaintance in these circles who predict for the new house a flattering success.

This concern is capitalized at $35,000, with the privilege of increasing to $100,000.

They propose to do a wholesale and retail business, carrying a general line of mill and machinery supplies, hose, belting, packing and steam-fitters' supplies.

NAME CONTEST IS WON BY MISS FURSTENBURG

"When Old Glory Waves" was the name selected as the most appropriate for the play produced last week at the Bijou theater by Eddie Black and his stock company, and because she was the one who suggested the title, Miss Hazel Furstenburg, of No. 317 South Pryor street, wins the $50 which Mr. Black offered for a name.

Nearly 700 names were suggested. The play was based on the war situation in Mexico and attracted considerable attention. Announcement of the name of the winner was made by Mr. Black from the stage of the Bijou yesterday.

MISTRIAL IS DECLARED IN D. C. CAMPBELL CASE

Pelham, Ga., April 27.—(Special.)—At 5 o'clock this morning Judge E. E. Cox declared a mistrial in the case of the state against D. C. Campbell, charged with the murder of John Harrell. The jury had been out on the case since Saturday night and reported to Judge Cox that they could not agree.

It is not known yet whether Campbell will try to get bail or not.
