'BRIDGIE' WEBBER, SQUEAKER, WITHHOLDS NAME OF ASSAILANT

One of the Alleged Gamblers Who Souleated at the Rosenthal Trial, Is Stabbed in the Back Early Saturday

TRIED TO COVER HIS IDENTITY FROM POLICE

Had Just Left a Midnight Engagement With Sam Paul, Another Gambler Who Talked of 'Croaking' Rosenthal

NEW YORK, June 15.—'Bridgie' Webber, one of the four gamblers who testified against 'Boss' Rosenthal, today had a narrow escape from the hands of the police.

Webber, who is a well-known figure in the underworld as a 'squeaker' in the Rosenthal case, was arrested in the city early this morning after being detected in a rooming house.

At first Webber tried to hide even his own identity and the fact that he had been wounded.

The stabbing occurred on East Eighth street, near the corner of Broadway, where he had been drinking with another gambler, Sam Paul.

Webber, who had been drinking with Paul, was seen to be in a rooming house on East Eighth street.
