

WILSON DEMANDS CURRENCY REFORM AT THIS SESSION

Underscored by Opposition, He Is Determined That Congress Shall Proceed Without Delay

SENATOR HOKE SMITH DISCUSSES WILSON PLAN

Says It Will Free the Country of Calling on Money Centers in Times of Stress

(BY BARRY SMITH) — The
substitution of the administration of the money market by which the great money centers of the country have completely isolated the bank of the United States from the rest of the country is the subject of a bill introduced by Senator Hoke Smith of Alabama. The bill is intended to free the country of the practice of calling on money centers in times of stress.

TELEMON S. CUYLER SUED FOR DIVORCE BY WIFE IN CALIFORNIA

Millionaire Wife of Atlantian Who Changed His Name
From Cuyler Smith to Smith
Cuyler, Wants Freedom

MR. CUYLER A TRAVELER AND WRITER ON HISTORY

Was Recently in Mexico, Where Wife Sought to Notify Him of Suit—Now at Home Near Wayside, Ga.

Former Atlantian
Sued for Divorce

LOBBY HAS BEEN FOUND; NOW FOR A SURE CURE FOR IT

Lobby Probe Has Fully Sustained Burden of Proof.
Question Now Concerns
Remedial Legislation

(BY BARRY SMITH) — It is no longer a question of defining a lobby, but of showing the danger of publicity in the hands of a lobby. The investigation has fully sustained the burden of proof and the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

MILITARY LAW TO BE UNDER FIRE BEFORE STATE LEGISLATURE

At Least Three Bills Looking to Repeal of Measure Will Be Introduced as Result of Augusta Strike Last Fall

SCHOOL BOOK QUESTION ANOTHER LIVE ISSUE

Present Five-Year Contract Expires in November—Legislature Meets Wednesday, New Governor Takes Office

At any one time that the present of the 1913-14 general meeting of the Georgia State Legislature will be the subject of a bill to repeal the measure which was passed last fall. The measure was passed last fall as a result of the Augusta strike.

HE WILL AID FRANK DEFENSE

Ably Attorney, Who Declares He Will Not Have Retired Case Were It Not Fully Convicted of Late M. Frank's Innocence

ARNOLD DECLARES FRANK INNOCENT AND EMBERS CASE

Famous Lawyer Says He Wouldn't Defend Man Accused of Such Crime Unless Sure of His Innocence

Robert R. Arnold, famous Georgia lawyer, has officially entered the case in the defense of M. Frank, an ex-convict recently convicted by the Georgia State Legislature.

SCORES CITY DETECTIVES FOR HOLDING TO THEORY

Mr. Arnold Says Detectives Have Tried to Prejudice the Case by Unfair Means—Has Studied Evidence

Mr. Arnold says that he has studied the evidence in the case of M. Frank and that he is convinced of his innocence.

Mr. Arnold says that he has studied the evidence in the case
of M. Frank and that he is convinced of his innocence.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—It is
no longer a question of defining a lobby,
but of showing the danger of public-
ity in the hands of a lobby. The
investigation has fully sus-
tained the burden of proof and
the real question now concerns remedial legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 21.—The
substitution of the administration
of the money market by which
the great money centers of the
country have completely isolated
the bank of the United States
from the rest of the country
is the subject of a bill introduced
by Senator Hoke Smith of
Alabama. The bill is intended
to free the country of the
practice of calling on money
centers in times of stress.

Quo Vadis continues of Grand next week; buy now.

