CLOUD-STANFORD'S SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARANCE OF MEN'S HIGH-GRADE CLOTHING, HATS AND FURNISHINGS

The price reductions made during our twice-yearly sales are, for the most part, so very much lower than are usually quoted elsewhere for similar grades that the comparative saving one realizes here is very material.

One should keep in mind, too, that the quality of our wearables—and the styles—are far removed from the commonplace, and even at sale time with its attending rush the most minute details of fitting and fashioning are not overlooked.

NOTE AND COMPARE THE FOLLOWING PRICE SCHEDULE: CHOICE OF ANY SUIT IN THE HOUSE $20

There are no restrictions (except Full Dress Suits). You are offered unlimited choice, regardless of color or former price.

CHOICE OF ANY SHIRT EXCEPT FULL DRESS SHIRTS AND SILK NEGLIGES $1.25

Cloud-Stanford Co. The Shop of Quality--61 Peachtree St.

While Detective Harry Scott was upon the witness stand yesterday morning a pretty little woman sat on a front seat near the press table and clutched her hands in nervous anticipation and delight.

It was his wife who two years ago came all the way from Philadelphia to marry the Pinkerton man when he was transferred to the Atlanta office. She had come down to the trial just to hear her husband's testimony and to see how he came out of the fire of Rosser's cross examination which had so sorely riddled John Black. Scott's detective colleague on the preceding afternoon.

Honors were about evenly divided between Scott and Rosser during the two hours he was on the stand. All the while the little woman sat keenly expectant, her hands clenched a constant eye on the stand. At the conclusion of his testimony she rushed through the rear door and ran to the front entrance meeting the detective as he emerged, smiling, from the court room.

Oh Harry—you were grand! she exclaimed as he reached the sidewalk. You just put it all over him!

With which she called him aside in the shadow of the building where so many weren't looking and gave him an impetuous kiss partly as a goodbye but mostly in congratulation. Then she caught a car for home, telling reporters that she had come to the trial only to hear the testimony of her husband.

How can a person help giving good testimony with a wife like her looking on? asked Scott as he disappeared into the witness room.

EISEMAN BROS., Inc. ANNUAL Midsummer Sale in Full Swing! Discount Prices in All Departments!

Men's and Young Men's Clothing Main Floor

The success of our REBUILDING DISCOUNT SALE has reached and passed all former records in the history of the "Big Store's" CLEARANCE campaigns. From the very start of the Sale the fact became obvious that early depletions of CLOTHING STOCKS in particular was imminent; and when well swung into July we found that a continuance of the sale depended (insofar as the CLOTHING was concerned) in obtaining NEW goods to sustain the sale through its normal period.

Confronted with this ultimatum, we bought all the short lengths of piece goods our various manufacturers had on hand and ordered them made up into SUITS, with the results that no lot contains more than three suits of a kind, many of them but one or two. Of course, we bought these at quite a concession in price, which fact materially advances values at the special mid summer clearance prices. These handsomely tailored SUITS are now being received daily by Express, and your special attention is called to the extraordinary merit of these models.

IN THE MELTING POT

The honor of the state of Georgia is in the melting pot. The events of the next few days must determine whether the pot shall tilt toward honor or dishonor. That is how the legislative crisis with regard to the appropriations and the tax equalization bills may be summarized. The state board feature of the ways and means committee did not meet the judgment of that body. It received an adverse vote. But the house still has to commit itself definitely for or against the principle of state-wide equalization. By whatever method it is attained The Constitution hopes that the house will yet recognize the important principle of state-wide equalization. As we see it, such a tax system is the one thing that will save Georgia from dishonor and her institutions from total paralysis.

The house has passed an appropriations bill carrying $280,000 in excess of revenue for the current year. That $280,000 discrepancy is based upon the tax returns of last year. Elsewhere The Constitution publishes summaries of tax returns from forty counties for 1913. These returns show an approximate slump of $600,000 from last year. If nearly one-fourth of the counties of the 148 register this slump, the returns from the entire 148 must go into the millions. In the face of this steadily dwindling revenue the house has already authorized the expenditure of $280,000 in excess of the revenues based upon the large returns of last year.

Governor Slaton said in a recent address that no member could defend a vote for increased appropriations unless he voted for revenue with which to meet it. That is the pith of the present crisis. It is not a question of partisanship, but simply of the arithmetic of everyday business.

No legislator in house or senate would attempt to conduct his private business by spending a sum in excess of revenue without providing for that revenue. He knows that he would, in such a case, invite bankruptcy.

The Constitution is as yet unwilling to concede that the general assembly will be so lacking in patriotism that it may throw the state's honor to the winds, encourage the old carpetbag ghost of repudiation and threaten every institution within our borders with paralysis and stagnation. That is the distinct threat of the moment. For if the present appropriations bill is passed without accompanying revenue legislation there will be no escape from an impairment of the state's credit in its refunding operations. If the excess is pruned out of the appropriation bill the state's institutions as a whole will be crippled. There is only one feasible solution in honor and manliness. That is tax equalization.

We trust that today the members of the house, having had opportunity to fully canvass the situation, may yet pass a bill embodying the principle of state-wide equalization. The honor of the state and the maintenance of her institutions depend upon the enactment of such a principle into law. In the hour of crisis we are unwilling to believe the general assembly will not be able to muster patriotism to meet an urgent situation.

TWO CHICAGO WOMEN.

A matter of interest to the entire country is the fact that Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, for several years superintendent of schools in Chicago, has rescinded her resignation from that position. The old board of education had disagreed in toto with Mrs. Young's policies and the situation became such that her presence in the system was worse than useless. The newly-organized board has refused, however, by a vote of 14 to 1 to accept her resignation.

Two women who have rendered service of a distinctly national and international nature have come out of Chicago. They are Ella Flagg Young and Jane Addams. It is open to question which one deserves the more credit. Mrs. Young has aided the woman's cause and education generally, by giving a splendid illustration of efficiency in the reorganization of Chicago's once hopelessly run-down school system. No man could have wrought better or more fearlessly to such an end. The sociological achievements of Miss Addams is of national-wide reputation. She has done more than any other woman in America to revolutionize and vitalize our viewpoint toward the girl who works or the girl who stirs.

These two Chicago women exemplify the most constructive attributes of the feminist movement.

THE MOTHER'S RIGHT.

If every superior court judge in Georgia were polled they would probably agree with Judge John T. Pendleton that the law should be so amended as to give to mothers, in the case of domestic litigation, the right to their children where their unfitness is not clearly established. Judge Pendleton expressed himself to this effect with regard to the Augusta case recently cited in The Constitution, and the bills correcting such conditions now pending in the legislature.

The law as it stands is simply the survival of barbarism. The most ignorant men recognize, in the practices of daily life, the superiority of the claim of the mother. She who faced death to bring children into the world, who spent sleepless nights with them in their illnesses and arduous days in training them for manhood and womanhood, is their natural custodian by a law higher than any man-made statute.

The present legislature can remove a basic injustice and write itself on the side of humanity by bringing the law to the twentieth century conception of right.

LOBBYISTS AND DEMAGOGUES

As sound and deliberate a thinker as The Springfield (Mass.) Republican joyously hails the Mulhall disclosures as probably marking the end of undesirable flirtations between business and politics. The revelations of the undue influences exerted upon politics and law-making by the National Association of Manufacturers are pointed out as legitimate developments of a high protective tariff and of any condition that brings law-making and commercial agencies of the country into too close a contact.

We agree with The Republican in its major premise that the dealings between business and politics must be wholly open. That assured, there is nothing to fear. Publicity is a sufficient preventive against sinister alliances. That much said, it remains that business always will and always ought to be interested in politics. And there is very little legislation that may be enacted by congress that will not bear directly or indirectly upon business. We must expect, at every session and despite the reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis, to see representatives of commercial institutions gather in groups. These institutions would, indeed, be careless of their stockholders' interests and reckless of the future if they did not keep an intelligent eye on measures affecting both.

Another phase of the situation is rarely canvassed, and that is the manner in which the activities of the demagogue make necessary the exertions before congress of the business man. We have gone lately a long way in showing the lobbyist just how far he will be allowed to go and what is expected of him under all circumstances. There is nothing but public opinion to put a check on the demagogue. For instance, candidates for house and senate can misrepresent conditions to their heart's content, vilify business, bait corporations, gird at the railroads and line up impassioned prejudice for selfish interest. They may be willing to forget these banes of their own making, after they have achieved office, but the memory of the people is longer. Voters, unfortunately, or at least a few of them, take these attacks seriously. They believed the candidate when he told them things were plunging hellward, and they demand straightway that he proceed to purge the country of the devil and all his works.

Is it any wonder that, in situations of this nature, lobbyists flourish and multiply and that big and little business should spend a good many thousand each year in maintaining representatives at Washington? The remedy, of course, is the education of the voter and a little more skepticism on his part. But as long as our system of politics encourages the demagogue we are going to find his counterpart in the lobbyist.

PLAYING WITH DYNAMITE.

We have little sympathy with democratic, republican or progressive harangues charging their partisan opponents with maneuvering for the manufacture of a panic. There is a good deal of such loose talk going up in and around congress at present. The practice not only makes those who indulge in it appear silly, but it is distinctly in the way of playing with dynamite.

A few months ago the leading financiers of the country were a trifle pessimistic. Their brooding grew out of world conditions and in no way were affected, save by deliberate distortion, by pending legislation. Of recent weeks their viewpoint has grown more hopeful. They see for the United States not hard times or a panic, but every prospect of a healthy business year. Reports thus far indicate that crops will be of the bumper variety. Trade is active. Collections have improved. We have presented, then, the unusual paradox of all the country talking prosperity, with the exception of congress.

Now, a panic or hard times, as most students of economics have learned from close observation, where it is not actually created by a psychological state of mind, is unquestionably aided and abetted by that influence. For struggling partisans, therefore, to be trifling with the public welfare for the sake of a little trivial party advantage, is a spectacle that is puzzling, to say the least of it.

We're not going to have a panic, and those now so recklessly bandying such talk know it. About the most patriotic thing all hands can do is to abate their noise and give the country a chance to make headway against the legislation with which it has been continuously drenched since the first year of the Taft administration.

NO RECOGNITION OF HUERTA.

From the points of view either of morality or policy President Wilson's refusal to recognize the government of Huerta of Mexico is amply justified. The president is said to base his decision purely upon the moral aspect. Since Huerta rose to power by treachery and assassination, the president reasons that the quasi-indorsement of such methods by the United States might encourage similar conditions in South and Central American countries, already tolerably well inclined to such short cuts. History is, of course, sprinkled with instances of progress being forwarded upon bloodshed and intrigue. All things being equal, however, it is just as well that this nation be not placed even in the indirect attitude of approving such practices.

By far the more important argument for non-recognition lies in the instability of the rule of Huerta. Recognizing him would be in the nature of throwing a rope to a drowning man, with slim possibility either of reaching him or of his ability to grasp it. Huerta and his partisans have set up the claim that the moment we recognize the de facto government of Mexico the troubles of that republic will fade as by magic. The statement is more a special plea than anything else. Huerta has now had many months in which to put down disaffection. Lately he has had access to large foreign loans, which should have supplied him plentifully with munitions of war. He has had abundant ports of entry. He has enjoyed also what is more important, and that is a full opportunity to demonstrate his good faith to the Mexican people of all classes.

Despite these advantages, power has steadily trickled through his fingers. One by one the men originally associated with him in his conspiracies and their fruition have gone over to the opposition or given up in disgust. Rebellions are sprouting in every state. Federal troops sent out to bring order go over to the enemy. To recognize Huerta in this situation would throw the authority of this government behind a leader foredoomed to failure, and we would discredit the force of any support we might in the future extend to a Mexican government. Incidentally, it is a matter for congratulation that Ambassador Wilson seems destined to remain at home. Evidently he is not even remotely in accord with the policies of the president.

The World's Mysteries

WAS MARLBOROUGH HONEST IN PURPOSE?

The Duke of Marlborough, like most men who have been successful, was the target of many arrows started at his country. His integrity and his loyalty to his country. As to their justice, it depends much upon which side of the political fence a refuge was taken. For close to a hundred years after his death Marlborough has been represented in books as a consummate general indeed, but as being devoid of honor and principle; an intriguer, a traitor, a speculator; and so careless of human life and of human suffering that for the sake of his own sordid interests he wantonly prolonged the war, which for his ambition and his avarice, might many times have been brought to an end.

Did these charges originate with the very men whom, in the course of his political life, he patronized most? When his enemies came into power they gave the stories the sanction of authority. Was it because they felt they must sacrifice him before they could sacrifice their country? When Louis XIV heard of Marlborough's removal, he added, with his own hand, in his dispatches to his order in London, "The affair of displacing the Duke of Marlborough will do for us all we can desire." Did he judge rightly? The disgraceful treaty of Utrecht would indicate that such was the case.

In recent years Marlborough's character has been in no way open to the world and by kinder hands, and it would seem that there never was the integrity, or patriotism, of any public man more unfairly aspersed. The period of the greatest achievements of Marlborough was between the battle of Blenheim and his deposition, in 1711, by the order of Queen Anne, the daughter of his enemies. During this period, taking everything into consideration, he distinguished himself as much as any other English general has done. Wherein could it have been for personal gain? When the king of France, the loss of Lisle, offered to negotiate for peace, the Marquis de Torcy tried to bribe Marlborough with two million livres if he could obtain for the house of Bourbon certain advantages, and promised a double that sum if he would be able to obtain the same for the king.

He pledged the honor of the king for its payment. Marlborough refused this magnifi-

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON.
The Famous Prose Poet.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

"This thing of paying rent," remarked the melancholy boarder, "is what keeps so many Americans poor. Every married man should own his home, and then he'll be independent."

"That's another of the star-spangled theories that won't wash," said the star boarder. "The truly independent man is the one who lives in a rented house. He enjoys many advantages unknown to the one who owns his home, including the chance of beating the landlord out of the rent. It's surprising how long a man may stay in a house without paying rent if he knows a little law, and has the courage of his convictions. A friend of mine has held the house for nearly a year, and the landlord seems unable to get him out. The friend in question is a perfect gentleman in every way, but he has an inherited prejudice against paying rent, and landlords always are trying to evict him from their property."

The public opinion in such a case is first to last, and the landlord is harassed every time he appears with a constable.

"People who are fond of honest sport must enjoy such an experience as that of my friend, and it is an experience the home owners are not likely to have. I can assure you, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, that I am not a stagnation. I hold that it is the duty of every poor man to take a fall out of the landlords on every possible occasion. Let us rent houses and refuse to pay for them, and we'll make a fortune in no time."

"As soon as a man owns his home, his troubles begin. If the renter doesn't like the house he is in, he may move into another one, and then another, and so on, always neglecting to pay his rent, and thus having the entry of the constable. The house owner must stay where he is unless he has a chance to sell out, and that seldom happens, for people who have money enough to buy a house can find a better use for it. The price of an ordinary cottage would provide joy rides for a month."

"The house owner has to be everlastingly digging up for one thing or another. His wife is forever wanting something done to the house: an addition to the kitchen, or a porch on the south side, or a sleeping porch over the kitchen. If he lives in a rented house he could tell her to go and jack up the landlord, and turn again to the sporting page of his newspaper with a serene and contented mind; but that house owner has no such an opportunity. His wife keeps after him until finally she has him, and he has to go in debt for the sleeping porch or whatever it is his wife has decided upon."

"Then the house has to be painted every once in a while, and you don't know what expense is. Mrs. Jiggers, until you hire a couple of old masters to paint a house, and when you pay the outside of the house looking presentable, you begin to realize that the inside is a disgrace to the neighborhood, and you have to move into the woods while the paperhangers do their worst. Along about the 25th of July your insurance runs out, and for two weeks prior to that date all the insurance agents in town are chasing you, each pointing out with impassioned language, that he represents the only reliable company. For a long and ghastly fortnight the insurance agents are all over you, and you feel like the man who occupies the white house and finds the fruit trees full of office-seekers."

"When he has selected his insurance agent, and secured a policy, all the other insurance agents and their families cut him dead, and he finds himself a social outcast in his own town. And the first time he picks up a magazine he finds a muckraking story which demonstrates that the insurance company he patronized is an organization of rascals, and he learns that his policy isn't worth the paper it is printed on."

"Thus unmerciful disaster follows fast and follows faster. Mrs. Jiggers, until the house owner grows green with envy when he contemplates his neighbor, who lives in a rented house, and has no end of fun talking and laughing at the outcast. In the end the unfortunate man sells his house for what the shingles on the roof cost him, and rents a house, and life begins to seem worth while."

Traveling Via the Movies.

(From Judge.)

There was a young fellow named Claude,
Just returned from a long trip abroad;
Everywhere he would go,
He would knowledge bestow,
Believing his friends would applaud.

But it seemed that this was not to be,
For, no matter of what he told, he Heard his cry o'er and o'er:
"Yes, he've seen that before,
For we go to the picture show. See!"

The Porch Swing

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Swarth"

In spite of the vast growth of the automobile business, the porch swing continues to be the great American vehicle for summer use.

A million Americans climb into automobiles on each hot evening and career gaily through space and other automobiles. But ten million Americans sit in porch swings after supper is over and watch them.

The porch swing costs about as much as an automobile cushion and can be set up and operated by a mere novice in mechanics. A porch swing built for two can be operated from eight p. m. until father comes down in his shirt and trousers early the next morning and at the end of that time the total expense for tires, gasoline, fines and storage will be $4000.

Millions of porch swings are carrying the people of this country hither and yon each evening without any trouble with the police or anything but minor breakdowns. A porch swing can be bought on installments like an automobile, but the buyer does not have to mortgage his home in order to do it. A good strong, three-passenger porch swing will run on a sturdy frame, deep, easy cushions and two speeds, one forward and one reverse, can be bought for $3.00, and five cents' worth of lubricating oil will run it ten years.

There are many Americans who look upon the porch swing with scorn and declare that it doesn't get the passenger anywhere. However, it must be said that the porch swing always gets its passengers home. It is also alleged that the scenery from the deck of the porch swing becomes monotonous very quickly. However, the porch swing does not get so much of it in his eye. The boffer further alleges that it is impossible to load up a porch swing with merry friends and carry them to Jolly Little restaurants many miles away. This is perhaps the porch swing's greatest virtue.

"Two speeds, one forward and one reverse."

The safety of America lies not in the million who are willing and able to blow in peck of assorted greenbacks for an automobile, but in the millions who are manning the porch swings, and are getting to be early in order to use them in the best of work so hard that they will be able to lay aside a little money towards automobile of their own.

At Forty.

(From Judge.)

When forty winters shall besiege thy brow,
And deep deep trenches in thy beauty's field,
Thy youth's proud livery, so gaze on now,
Will be a tattered weed, of small worth held.

What! Forty winters mar her lovely brow,
And leave her with no reason to aspire?
Once forty may have been old age, but now
At forty woman still has youthful fire.

The beauty who at twenty-five may please
Declines at thirty to be grim and stout,
While at the hopeful age of forty she's
But fully blown and fairly rounded out.

She dances and she flirts, she charms the eye;
Her careless laughter causes hearts to leap.
The beauty doctors all their art apply
To keep her furrows from becoming deep.

When forty winters have pursued their course,
She may not even have her first divorce.

When Atlanta Women Buy CRACKERS

If every housewife in Atlanta would look into the Supply-Rooms at the BLOCK Bakeries, she would have fresh faith in BLOCK Crackers and Biscuits.

What would she see?

Just this: The finest of materials and the first grade of ingredients all ready for making into BLOCK Crackers.

Then, if she would look a bit further, she would see how these fresh and perfect materials are handled--the skill, the care, the perfection of detail that enter into the whole process.

She would find absolute cleanliness and rigidly sanitary methods. She would see that BLOCK products are evolved with fastidious care at every step--from mixing to packing.

All this goes on right here in Atlanta, ladies. You are invited to see it.

Why not serve on YOUR table the Crackers and Biscuits that come to you crisp, clean and fresh from an Atlanta bakery, just a few minutes from your home?

CONFERENCE IS HELD ON MACON DAMAGES

Representatives of Central and Citizens Whose Property Is Affected by New Depot Meet.

Macon will know in a week from now whether the Central of Georgia railroad will pay the damages asked by Cherry street property owners for the closing of the end of Cherry street for the erection of the proposed new passenger station. This much was settled at a conference held in the office of Railroad Commissioner Candler the night of Thursday.

When the railroad proposed to close this street the owners of the property affected asked damages but when the railroad investigated it claimed that the damages asked were too great and declined to pay them. Conference between these citizens, the chamber of commerce and city council resulted in a compromise which was considered Thursday.

Present at the conference were Colonel R. L. Berner a petitioner for damages, John T. Moore, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and W. W. Stetson, president of the chamber of commerce representing the city, while the railroad was represented by Vice President W. A. Winburn.

The compromise of the property owners was submitted to Vice President Winburn and Mr. Winburn stated that he would without authority either to accept or reject the terms. He said, however, that he would confer with the directors of his company and announce the policy of the road on the question within a week.

MARRIAGE CONTRACT BILL IS RECONSIDERED

Action Taken by Vote of 21 to 9 Following Eloquent Appeal of Senator Allen.

Upon motion of Senator J. T. Allen, of the twentieth, the marriage contract bill which was postponed indefinitely Wednesday by a vote of 19 to 18, was reconsidered Thursday morning by a vote of 21 to 9. This reconsideration has the effect of placing the bill at the tail of the calendar.

Senator Allen, in asking for the reconsideration, depicted the horrible condition of the demented children who are now in Georgia as a result of unwise marriages.

The bill by Senator C. E. McGreggor, providing that newly couples shall be admitted only by majority vote of qualified voters of all counties affected, which was lost Wednesday by a vote of 22 to 15, was also reconsidered.

Appointments Affirmed.

The senate confirmed the appointments of Governor Slaton sent up Wednesday morning.

The bill amending the charter of the city of Macon so as to incorporate Cherokee Heights was passed unanimously yesterday.

President Anderson's bill allowing the militia of Chatham county to serve during the Vanderbilt cup races to be held in Savannah from November 24 to 27 was passed.

A bill for the permanent registration of voters in this state, as recommended by Governor Slaton, was introduced by Senator B. S. Miller, of the twenty-fourth.

Sentence Bill Passed.

With only two dissenting votes the indeterminate sentence bill, regulating the manner of sentencing prisoners, the manner of their parole and providing a system for the grading and classification of convicts while in the penitentiary, was passed by the senate Thursday.

The bill which was introduced by Senator Foster, is supported by the Men and Religion movement and by the Prison Reform association and its effect permits prisoners who conduct themselves well while imprisoned to be released before the maximum limit of their term.

Senator Bush's bill regulating and controlling industrial insurance companies, domestic and foreign, fraternal orders and societies so as to prevent misrepresentation, was passed by a vote of 86 to 0.

Bills Passed.

By Mr. Foster of the Twenty-seventh—To fix indeterminate sentences for chain-gang prisoners, and to provide for special insurance companies in state.

By Messrs. Seary and Smith—To fix sentence of supreme court judges.

By Messrs. Burke, Jones and Foster—To provide for revision of jury lists.

By Mr. Smith of the Ninth—To protect the coast beds of the state.

By Mr. Wright—A resolution creating a commission to provide for disposal of the governor's mansion.

By Mr. Miller—To provide for the registration of voters.

By Messrs. Turner and Ekins—A resolution giving governor authority to appoint commission to dispose of governor's mansion.

EQUINE JACK RIPPER GETS HIS TENTH MULE

Valdosta, Ga., July 31.—(Special).—The unknown vandal who for several months has maimed at intervals a number of fine mules and horses in this city has again operated again.

Another of the city's big mules was found in its stall yesterday morning wounded exactly as a number of others have been. In all, ten mules belonging to the city have been maimed, four of them being dead and others being maimed for life.

All of them were wounded by having a knife or sharp instrument thrust into their shoulder joint at a certain point. The instrument severed certain ligaments in the joint, causing the death of the animal in some cases and rendering it valueless if it lives.

The police force and city authorities are puzzled, and are at their wits end in their efforts to catch the vandal. The mules have been watched night after night, and detectives have spent a long while in the effort to nab the man who does the maiming, but without results.

CRUISER DES MOINES PUTS INTO BRUNSWICK

Brunswick, Ga., July 31.—(Special).—The United States protected cruiser, Des Moines, much to the surprise of the people of the city generally, has put into port, and is here for an indefinite stay.

No announcement of her coming was received in this city. Commander Long, when seen today, merely stated that he received orders to leave New York for Brunswick Saturday, and he is at once steamed southward. He does not know what his next move will be, and says he is in this port to await orders. He may be here for only a few days, and the vessel may remain for several weeks.

Carroll County Masons.

EXPERIMENT STATION CAUSES SHARP CLASH

Two Removal Bills Will Be Argued by House Committee Tuesday Afternoon.

There was a sharp fight before house committee No. 1 on general agriculture Thursday afternoon on the proposition to move the state experiment station to south Georgia, with the result that action was postponed until next Tuesday afternoon, at which time a similar bill to move the experiment station to Athens will also be considered.

The bill considered Thursday was introduced in the house by Messrs. Ellis, of Tift, and Slaton, of Bryan, and calls for the station to be located somewhere in south Georgia without specifying any particular location.

Mr. Herring, editor of the Tifton Gazette; Judge Frank Park, of the Albany circuit, the sponsors of the bill, and others spoke before the committee urging a recommendation that the bill do pass.

The argument was advanced in favor of the bill that south Georgia is the most advantageous agricultural section of the state for the location of the experiment station, in that it admits of more diversified crops and greater range for experiment purposes. The advocates of the removal stated that in a short time the boll weevil may be expected in south Georgia, and the help of the experiment station will be needed to fight its ravages, as well as those of beetles on the peach crop, pear blight and other crop pestilences peculiar to the section.

Representative Connor, of Spalding, and Senator Seary, of Griffin, and Judge James Plynt, of Griffin, strenuously opposed the removal of the station, stating that the people of Spalding county and of the town of Griffin had donated much money to the establishment of the station at its present location, and that its removal at this date would be unjust to them.

The bill to move the station to Athens, which will be heard next Tuesday for final action along with the removal bill, was introduced by Representative Booker and Greens, of Wilkes.

PRIMARY ELECTION BILL FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

The primary election bill, introduced by Representatives Cooper and Crawley, of Ware, providing for the holding of state primaries not later than June 15 before the general elections in the fall, was recommended favorably to the house by general judiciary committee No. 2 Thursday afternoon.

This committee also made favorable recommendations on the following measures introduced:

By Mr. Moon of Traup—To fix fees of tax collectors at 1 per cent on corporation taxes.

By Mr. Harkin of Glynn—To allow corporations to change their location by a two-thirds vote of the stockholders.

By Mr. Swift of Muscogee—To provide a right of action against a person who negligently kills a dog.

CASHIER OF CROSSLAND GOES ON TRIAL TODAY

Moultrie, Ga., July 31.—(Special).—J. H. Cason, former cashier of the Bank of Crossland, was indicted for the misappropriation of about $1,500 of the bank's funds. He has been in jail for the past seven weeks owing to his inability to give the $6,000 bond assessed by the court.

He will be placed on trial some time tomorrow or it is possible that the case will go over to next week. He admitted his shortage to the bank directors, it is said, but since his indictment he will enter a plea of not guilty and fight the prosecution.

GRADY COUNTY FARMERS JUBILANT OVER CROPS

Calto, Ga., July 31.—(Special).—Grady county farmers are all in high spirit claiming that the crops generally are the best in ten years. The corn crop is excellent, the cotton crop has been for the past two weeks getting plenty of good afternoon rains.

The stalks are loaded with bolls and blooms and unless something serious comes about that no one is looking for Grady county will make this year her banner cotton year.

ATLANTA SUFFRAGISTS HOLD A CELEBRATION

While the big parade of suffrage pilgrims was in progress on the streets of Washington yesterday the members of the Woman's Suffrage League of Atlanta, until two weeks ago known as the Woman's Civic League, celebrated the event on Peachtree street.

This celebration consisted of the sale and distribution of suffrage buttons, literature and other advertising media from a table in the entrance of Mrs. Smith's millinery store at 115 Peachtree street.

The table was in charge of the ladies of the league, who made converts to the cause, including many of the young women of the city and some of the leading business men.

RUSHING POLICE SIGNAL AND FIRE-ALARM SYSTEM

Value of Change Will Be Evident at Once, Says Chief Cummings.

Despite the fact that there is pending an application for a writ of injunction, alleging that the city is contracting a moral obligation, the Okenite company, of New York, is rushing to completion the new fire alarm and police signal system for which the city has agreed to pay $108,000.

Work on the new central fire station system has been started, according to Fire Chief W. B. Cummings. The bill Cummings estimates that the value of the new system will be made apparent because the department will be enabled to reach a fire several minutes earlier. Under the present system when a telephone call is sent in the fire headquarters, and the operator sends the alarm to the nearest station. Under the new system the alarm will first reach the nearest stations. Chief Cummings says that the new system eliminates the danger of damage in storms and entirely does away with lightning hits the wires.

The city has made a contract with the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company whereby a considerable portion of the cost of erecting the telephones at each of the fire stations will be cut off.

HART IS FOUND GUILTY

Verdict of Voluntary Man-slaughter for Killing Harnage.

Moultrie, July 31.—(Special).—After deliberating many hours, the jury trying the case of James Hart, charged with the murder of J. M. Harnage, returned a verdict today of voluntary manslaughter.

Jerry Hart, a brother of James Hart, is on trial today for the murder of Horace Harnage, the charge being one out of the same affair for which his brother was convicted.

The trouble between the Harnages and the Harts took place in May in a roadway near Berlin, and was the culmination of a number of misunderstandings.

Sentence has not been passed yet, and will not be until the trial of Jerry Hart, charged with the murder of Horace Harnage, who is now on trial, is concluded.

Harnage's wife and daughter were present, according to the evidence in the trial, and sought to prevent a difficulty. When the row was over, young Harnage was dead with a pistol bullet through his head, and old man Harnage was unconscious with his skull fractured and his brain cooking out. He lingered a week and died without ever regaining consciousness. His aged wife and daughter were the principal witnesses for the prosecution. The Jerry Hart trial will not be concluded before tomorrow.

HE LOSES HIS HAND IN ESCAPING DEATH

Harlem, Ga., July 31.—(Special).—Percy Williamson had his left hand crushed here last night by the engine of freight train No. 15 from Augusta, which was pulling into a siding to which the main line for passenger train No. 38 from Atlanta. Mr. Williamson tried to cross the track ahead of the engine, but seeing that he would not have time, attempted to jump back but fell. In attempting to push his body from under the wheels of the engine his left hand was caught under the wheel.

BILL TO GIVE W. & A. OPENING TO THE SEA

Measure of Cooper and Crawley, if Passed, Would Open Way for Extension.

A bill introduced in the house Thursday by Representatives Cooper and Crawley, of Ware, to provide for a right-of-way for the Atlantic, Waycross and Northern railroad into Atlanta, is designed ultimately to allow an extension of the Western and Atlantic railroad to the sea, should the measure be passed by the legislature.

The bill ostensibly gives the Atlantic, Waycross and Northern power to condemn and take possession of the Fort Valley branch of the Southern railway and parts of the Georgia terminal property, giving the road a right-of-way into Atlanta, and at the same time amends the charter of the road so as to allow the road to connect with the Atlantic ocean at the St. Mary's river.

Next to the last clause in the bill, however, provides that the state, by action of the legislature, may take over the property affected by the bill at a consideration to be fixed by arbitration. In the event of such action this would give the state possession of an unbroken trunk line from Chattanooga to the sea.

The bill points out the legal machinery necessary to the exercising of the privileges granted by the bill.

AUTOPSIES ON BIRDS ORDERED BY NEW YORK

New York, July 31.—One of the most unusual autopsies ever ordered by the city authorities is expected to establish the cause of death of nearly one-third of the valuable collection of water fowl in Central park. For the past three days an epidemic has been raging among the fowl, forty-one having died in one day. The water in the lake has been drained off and analyzed, but it is the opinion of the park commissioner that spinal meningitis and not impure water is to blame for the high mortality.

Among the fowl affected are ducks from China and the arctic. One of a pair of priceless black swans, an almost extinct variety, is dead. Sixty-one birds in all have succumbed to the malady.

QUESTION OF TARE ON AMERICAN COTTON

Washington, July 31.—The first meeting of the committee appointed at the annual meeting of the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, at Raleigh, N. C., in November last to formulate a plan for bringing about a conference of representatives of the various organized cotton interests of the world to devise some method by which the tare on American cotton may be standardized with a view to eliminating the evils growing out of present tare practices was held in the office here today of Senator E. B. Smith, of South Carolina.

The committee is composed of Senators Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Smith, of South Carolina; Postmaster General Burleson, former Representative W. G. Brantley, of Georgia, and representatives of the departments of agriculture and commerce. A subcommittee was appointed to work out the details of the proposed conference, to be presented to the full committee at another meeting to be held here within a short time. The question of speedily bringing about a universal standard for American cotton was also considered, but no definite action was taken.

MURDER OF HEWELLS IS NOW CHARGED TO DUBLIN WHITE MAN

Bob Williamson, a white man, was arrested here this morning charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hewell, who were shot down at their home one night several weeks ago near Dublin. Four negroes are already in jail, charged with the crime.

Williamson, it is claimed, had a disagreement with Hewell just a day or two before the shooting, and he has been suspected for some time, but no arrest was made until today, when charges were laid against him for murder. Whether they will endeavor to show that he did the killing or inspired some negroes to do it is not known, but he is charged with being connected with it in some manner.

The grand jury, which has been in session here all the week, took up the case this morning, and is now investigating it, but so far has not completed hearing all evidence.

GOV. MAJOR TO WORK ON MISSOURI'S ROADS

Jefferson City, Mo., July 31.—Governor Major will take charge of a gasoline traction engine and four road graders August 20 and 21, the day set apart in his proclamation for improvement of public highways.

Today the governor received a letter from a traction company offering to give a gasoline traction engine and four graders if the governor would consent to direct the work. Governor Major accepted.

Letters continue to come in daily from all sections of the state promising a general response to the proclamation.

PAT QUINLAN TALKS AND GETS YEAR IN JAIL

Paterson, N. J., Patrick Quinlan, Industrial Workers of the World leader, active in the recent silk workers' strike, was sentenced today to serve a year in the county jail for saying last Saturday night at a socialist meeting:

"Elect a socialist mayor and then you won't have cops like Bunmy Ryan, bating you over the head with a club."

Quinlan admitted having used this language, but denied that it was disorderly, as charged. He is now out on bail pending appeal from conviction and a two to seven-year sentence in prison for inciting to riot during the strike. He will appeal today's decision.

ZACHRY CASE WILL GO BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Augusta, Ga., July 31.—(Special).—Mrs. Mary W. Zachry, who fled to South Carolina with her two children after Judge Hammond, of Richmond superior court, rendered a decision awarding their custody to the father, Julian W. Zachry, has, through her attorneys, filed a bill of exceptions, and the supreme court will be asked to decide whether the father or the mother shall have the two little girls, Frances and Mildred Zachry.

It is thought that this action will stop the habeas corpus proceedings, about to be brought by Mr. Zachry in Columbia, to regain possession of the children.

Western Tennis.

Chicago, July 31.—In a brilliant tournament, featured by unexpected victories of two "dark horses," and a thrilling match between Clarence Griffin, of California, and Heath Byford, of Chicago, the Western Tennis Champions-hip meet at Lake Forest today reached its semi-finals. Tomorrow Griffin will play William Blair, of Lake Geneva, who turned one of the big upsets of the tournament in downing John Adams, of Minneapolis.

The line extends from Ashburn to Camilla. The Hawkinsville and Florida Southern will now be operated from Hawkinsville to Camilla, with John B. Munson as acting president. He will later be elected vice president and general manager.

Holly Hatcher, who has been assistant to the president and actively in charge of the Gulf Line railroad, will not remain with the road, but will go to New York, where he will still be associated with the Watson interests, which formerly owned the Gulf Line.

The Crackers hooked the Vols under Thursday. Here's hoping they grab both double headers yet to be played.

Crackers Romp In Two Games Today

Crackers Slaughter Alibis; Beck's Horseshoe Quit Work When Locals Batted in Eighth

WHIFFS

Affix Records.
THE CRACKERS have forty more games to play. Thirty of them are on the home grounds. Harry Welchone only needs 56 hits in the forty games to establish a new mark in the number of hits made in a season. Tommy Long has to make only 21 runs in the same number of games to establish a new run-getting mark. Many more days like they had Thursday, and it will be a cinch.

Was Nervous.
HARRY HOLLAND looked good on third for the Crackers Thursday. The former jacket handles himself as excellently as he always did in the field. At the bat he was a little nervous and too anxious. But when he gets used to his new surroundings, his new teammates and their signals, this boy is going to start hitting. His pulse at the plate is entirely too natural for him not to chime into a hitting bee soon. He crowds the plate and takes a free, easy swing.

Looks Good.
HOLTZ looks good in that right garden. This fellow is an experienced ball player or we miss our guess. He's a youngster up from the minor league. He knows how to field, can throw, is awake on the bases and his position at the plate reminds one of a hitter. The way he came in on those two fly balls in the ninth inning Thursday was a treat.

Debuts Saturday.
"SLIM" LOVE, the elongated southpaw of the Crackers, will make his debut Saturday against the Vols. The big fellow has been working out carefully every day since he joined the club, and announces himself with a bang. Spratt and Price will face the Vols today. Conzelmann will work the other game Saturday.

With Regret.
THE PASSING of Bill Bailey causes us much sorrow. Bill has always been one of our favorites, and we hate to see him go, but his physical condition has been such that he could do no other himself nor the club justice. In many of the games Bailey played through nervousness. Whether or he goes, we wish him the greatest success.

Looks Good.
LOU CASTRO'S entrance into the boxing promoting game in Atlanta looks like the best deal locally. Lou will not stand for anything shady in his bouts, and in securing the leading ring in Atlanta, Lou is present an ideal place for boxing bouts of the highest caliber. Nothing but the best boys will be brought to Atlanta with all the preliminaries to make the card attractive. The announcement of his first show, printed elsewhere, sizes up each a bear.

Did Just Right.
LUBE BENTON has no holler coming regarding the decision of President Herrmann of the Reds, not to pay him a street car on your machine? Well, hardly. Why should the Reds pay Benton's?

A Real Jinx.
PLAYING first base in a world's series seems to be a little bit of a jinx. After a campaign for the world's title at the initial corner, all kinds of accidents or tough breaks in the luck have fallen upon the star players. Look over the list. Frank Chance, Dan McGinnis, Jiggs Donahue, Bill Dahlen, Ed Delahanty are a few of the unfortunate ones. Fred Merkle, Frank Chance and Harry Davis are the three who survived the jinx and are still in the game. It is a major league ball. There are others besides the five mentioned, whom we cannot remember.

The Answer.
FOURTEEN big league scouts met in Little Texas town some time ago and, of course, their trade was the main topic of conversation. There are too few lefties in the minor leagues to be the commodity of one. "Fads" of youngsters this season. I can tell you why. There are a few lefties in the minors. The "Celts" are all in politics. It comes easier." And the laugh went around.

Hot Weather.
THE SPIRIT during the past two weeks of the Memphis Turtles has been one of the surprises of the race at the present writing. The belated aggressiveness of the Turtles has been the most ardent admirers, and the steady warm weather is given as the real cause for the added dash and pep. Of the last 10 games played, the Turtles have capped 13, which is mighty useful going and will bring them up out of the rut if it is maintained.

By Dick Jamison.
For seven innings George Beck's horseshoes stuck to him faithfully. In the eighth inning they departed thence with a loud and resounding smack, and the Crackers copped the opening game of a five game series with the Nashville Vols, 10 to 2.

For seven innings the count stood 2 to 2, with the Vol hurler getting all the best of every break, but in the eighth inning the local heavy artillery, when Beck threw over Spratt's head Welchone and Smith scored and Bisland went to second. Holland sacrificed him to third, and Holtz scored him with a single.

The "big boom" of the league strike in the picnic or 1912 was second chance during the inning, and promptly poked the first ball over to right field for two cushions, clearing the bases.

Beck was yanked, and Del Young, right fielder, called in to pitch. Back Gardner went to right field. Young retired both Smith and Bisland without further damage.

Debut Parties.
The game marked the local debut of first ball players, and the debut of three new Vols making their first appearance of the season at Ponce de Leon.

For Nashville Artie Hoffman played first and Baumgardner was in right field as a part of an inning. Jack Spratt played third base, his debut being the most successful. He foided errorlessly and drove in both of the tallies the Vols counted.

For the Crackers Harry Holland, the former Tech captain and third baseman, played the hot corner for the locals. He handled his two chances in the field in fine style, but did not get any hits, although he stood up to the plate and swung nicely.

Holtz, the new right fielder, looks fine. He acts like a man that knows how to run bases. He looks good at the bat, two clean bingles being his quota for the day, while he fields well. He got two chances in the outfield, both difficult ones, which came in the ninth inning. He handled them in fine shape.

The one-handed stab of Bisland's of a grounder from Perry's bat was the one bright feature of the fielding part of the fray. It was well nigh an impossible stop. No one expected him to play the ball. Perry beat the throw for a hit.

A nice running catch by Welchone, Holtz's two catches and Chapman's work behind the bat was also excellent. The Vols were the first to score. With two gone, Hoffman hit to Bisland, who threw back to first. Agler's relay got Hoff to second, but his throw to first came back to second, from where he scored on Spratt's single.

Smith by Bisland, Holtz and Chapman tied it up for the Crackers in the second. Leach's single, Agler's sacrifice and Welchone's single put the Crackers one to the good in the third.

Daly's single, which Welchone errored, led scampering to third, and Pratt's single tied it up for the Vols in the sixth.

The Crackers had several chances to grab the lead, but Beck was getting away. But the eighth opened auspiciously.

Welchone started things with a single to left. Smith was hit, Bisland bunted. Welchone beat the throw to first.

third, Bisland getting a "Cincinnati" hit, when Beck threw over Spratt's head Welchone and Smith scored and Bisland went to second. Holland sacrificed him to third, and Holtz scored him with a single.

Holtz went to second on a wild pitch, Chapman walked and Dent singled, filling the bases. Long sent two home with a double, and Agler walked, filling the cushions.

The "big boom" of the league strike in the picnic or 1912 was second chance during the inning, and promptly poked the first ball over to right field for two cushions, clearing the bases.

Beck was yanked, and Del Young, right fielder, called in to pitch. Back Gardner went to right field. Young retired both Smith and Bisland without further damage.

Cubs 4, Giants 4.
Chicago, July 31.—Chicago made it two straight from New York today, winning 5 to 4 after an up-hill battle. The locals forced Ruba Marquard out, thus his record of nine consecutive wins remains intact. To Larry Cheney, the Chicago pitcher, belongs the distinction of both victories. He blanked McGraw men yesterday and today, when he came to the rescue with the score a tie, he held the enemy safe until Manager Evers scored and won the game. Burns, who knocked unconscious by a thrown ball by Bidwell, refused, when he regained consciousness, to leave the game.

Pirates 3, Dodgers 2.
Pittsburg, July 31.—Jack Miller's three-bagger, with two on bases, in the sixth inning, decided today's game for the Pirates. Miller, who had two hits, getting their other run in the eighth on Komoros' walk and singles by Miller and Wilson. Rucker pitched a 9 1/2 inning game, secured by Maurice Keit from Brooklyn by waiver.

Phillies 9, Reds 4.
Cincinnati, July 31.—Philadelphia played savagely today and easily won the second game of the series from Cincinnati 9 to 4. Charley White v. Frank Whitney At Ponce de Leon Skating Rink; Winner to Meet Speedy Britton Count Louis Castro has entered the boxing promoting game and has leased the Ponce de Leon skating rink for a year. He proposes to stage the highest class bouts obtainable at least every two weeks.

In the ten-round semi-windup, Ed Castro, Hamilton, who was in the ring with Terry Nelson at the Auditorium, was so good, has been matched with Mike Saul, the fighting milkman. Plenty of action here.

A large force of workmen have started to work remodeling the interior of the rink, converting it into a permanent boxing emporium, erecting the ring and installing the seats. The first bouts at the new club will be held Wednesday night, August 13.

Castro has signed his boxers for the evening, and has wired transportation to those not in the city. He proposes to have everyone of his contestants on the ground at least a week before the battles.

Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, who made such quick work of Jake Abel at the Auditorium-Armory about two weeks ago, will go on in the ten-round main bout with Frank Whitney, the most popular boxer that ever appeared in Atlanta.

The winner of the main bout will get a crack at Jack Britton, the speedy lightweight, in the main bout of an all-star card arranged for Labor day.

CLEM POOLE CONVICTED OF KILLING POLICEMAN

Mercy Recommended—Baptism of Poole's Young Wife Led to Tragedy.

Dalton, Ga., July 31.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of the state against Clem Poole, who killed Policeman Harry Cooke, tonight returned a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to the mercy of the court, which will mean a life sentence for the defendant. The verdict was a slight surprise, as a verdict of murder in the first degree was expected. No violence is anticipated.

Early in the morning a jury was secured in the Poole case and all other parties and witnesses were excused for the day and quite an array of witnesses were sworn for both the state and the defense, although there was no eye-witness to the killing. Poole's young wife and his mother were with him and advised with his counsel throughout the progress of the trial.

It developed during the trial that Poole objected to the baptism of his wife last Sunday afternoon when she and forty others were baptized by Rev. Buford Farrar, and that he endeavored to induce her to take carbolic acid and upon her refusal, fired at her with a pistol and then forced her to accompany him to the residence of her father, Rev. J. A. Hudlow. A telephone call for the police was answered by Cooke and in attempting to arrest Poole, Cooke was killed by him. The pretty young wife of Poole, whom he attempted to kill and who is now so loyal to him, is said to be only 14 years of age, and about eight years his junior.

The defense resorted to the respective pleas of insanity, self-defense while the arresting officer was without due authority and accidental killing.

Sitton pitched for Nashville and Atlanta in this league.

LEGION OF SLEUTHS AFTER JEWEL THIEVES

Everybody at Swell Narragansett Is Viewed With Suspicion.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 31.—The jewels stolen from the summer homes of Charles Cary Rumsey and John J. Hannan are being sought in New York, Boston and other cities where big transactions in precious stones are not uncommon. Large dealers in diamonds have been cautioned against dealing with strangers who have jewelry of great value for sale. Although the police throughout the country have been asked to watch pawnshops, detectives are satisfied the robbers are the work of an expert gang too shrewd to do business with pawnbrokers. The mysterious automobile seen on Ocean road Saturday night is the most important clue, and after learning all he could about the car, one of the detectives engaged by Mrs. Hannan left for New York today.

"The detectives," said Mrs. Hannan, "are as much of a puzzle to me as the whereabouts of my jewelry." The first word I have had from the detectives was the assurance from the operative today that he had learned something very important and was going to New York at once.

Work of Trained Thief.
When the detectives began work on the Hannan case they declared that it was an "inside" job. But when a day later the Ramsey cottage was entered, they modified their views and thought they saw the hand of the experienced thief.

Mrs. Hannan has refused to entertain a suspicion against the twenty-two servants in their employ, but today she admitted it was possible some of the servants had made acquaintances who thoughtlessly gave information that was later turned to account. The more the matter of the robberies is studied the clearer it becomes to the detectives that they were committed with skill. It is inadvisable to them that sneak thieves—having obtained $150,000 worth of jewels at Mrs. Hannan's last Friday night, would remain here fishing detectives, to get perhaps half as much in value from the Ramsey home on the following night.

The selection of pieces at Mrs. Hannan's is now believed to have been deliberate, too.

Mrs. Hannan said tonight that the thieves discarded a magnificent string of Indian pearls that could not have been disposed of without attracting attention and quite likely suspicion.

Everybody Viewed With Suspicion.
All but those who are well-known here are viewed with suspicion, and some of the amateur sleuths go so far as to say that a few residents will bear watching.

Gaiety at the Casino and other places where the members of the cottage colony met today were subdued by the knowledge that detectives were about. Patrons spoke in whispers over their tea cups, and every stranger, whether man or woman, was immediately placed under a suspicion of being either detective or jewel thief.

The man who sets his best foot forward is the one who gets there with both feet.

HER HUSBAND FIT TO DIE SO SHE PLOTTED MURDER

Gainesville, Ga., July 31.—(Special.)—Realizing that she must give up either her husband or her affinity, Mrs. Arthur Hawkins came to the conclusion that her husband, being a religious man, was ready to die and so plotted his death.

Such is the alleged confession made by Mrs. Hawkins shortly after her arrest, according to the testimony of Sheriff E. A. Spier today at the trial of the woman, charged with being an accessory before the fact to Hawkins' murder. The sheriff also said that Mrs. Hawkins admitted her infatuation for Jim Cantrell.

Coroner D. C. Stow testified to taking a slug from the dead man's body. The case will be continued tomorrow.

Jim Cantrell and Bartow Cantrell have been found guilty in this case. Bartow Cantrell admitted doing the actual killing, but stated that his brother, because of his infatuation for Mrs. Hawkins, had threatened to kill him unless he would make way with the woman's husband.

It was not likely he would be welcomed.

Ambassador Wilson planned to go to New York tomorrow for a brief visit, returning immediately to Washington. He said tonight he had been authorized by Secretary Bryan to deny that any leave of absence had been extended to him. The ambassador is without direct information as to whether president Wilson has approved or rejected his recommendations on the Mexican situation. He also has not been instructed as to his future.

Latin-Americans Interested.
Latin-American diplomats here are looking forward with eager interest to President Wilson's pronouncement of policy as a further expression of his attitude toward Central and South American nations.

Just when the president will make known his views is not certain. It will depend somewhat on the possible adjustment of the dispute by the factions themselves in Mexico. The president thinks the prospect of peace is growing stronger daily and regards the problems as by no means insoluble. He conceives that the Mexicans themselves may be able shortly to bring about peace.

With the American government absolutely opposed to the Huerta regime administration officials here believe the friends of President Huerta will prevail upon him to retire in favor of a provisional president acceptable to all factions who would conduct a general election. Some prominent Mexicans whose names are not being mentioned publicly, any one of whom would meet the approval of the constitutionalists for provisional president, are personal friends of President Huerta, which fact has lent encouragement here to the idea that a peace plan is not impossible.

To Wait Developments.
Meanwhile it is more than likely that the policy of President Wilson will be to wait developments in the southern republic and refrain from offering mediation or other conciliatory suggestions until Mexicans themselves have exhausted every resource to bring about peace. It is not likely that President Wilson will receive any envoys from either side in the Mexican dispute.

The report that Francisco de La Barra, former provisional president and member of Huerta's cabinet for many months, was coming to the United States and might seek an audience with President Wilson, brought forth the information from the white house that it would depend upon the character of Mr. de La Barra's mission whether or not he would be received. It was intimated that if Mr. de La Barra came merely to pay his respects as a former ambassador to the United States or as former president of Mexico, he would be accorded all courtesies, but that in the capacity of a partisan in the trouble, was that while seeking nothing itself, the American government had no sympathy with the volatile processes by which governments were overthrown in Latin-America.

CHINESE REBELLION BEING SUPPRESSED

Adherents of Yuan Shi Kai Hope for Establishment of "Yuan Dynasty."

Peking, July 31.—Revolutionary forces in the south steadily are being subdued by the northern troops supporting provisional President Yuan Shi Kai. Rebel leaders disappear whenever the revolutionary centers are menaced by government troops.

Yuan Shi Kai's adherents expressed much elation today over successes gained by the loyal armies. They advocate the adoption of a dictatorial form of government.

It is said that they hope for the ultimate establishment of a "Yuan dynasty" under which they would share in the spoils of office. They contend that any compromise at the present time would place China in a chronic condition of revolution which they argue would be most dangerous, owing to territorial aspirations of Russia and Japan.

With the fall of the forts at the mouth of the Yang Tze river, which is believed here to be imminent, the Yang Tze will be cleared of rebels and it is thought the rebellion then would resolve itself into provisional outlawry, which soon could be controlled.

Reports received here from Shanghai say that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional president, still is there, but that General Ching Chi-Men and General Huan Sing, two other leaders in the revolt, have fled.

Bankers and members of the diplomatic corps in Peking believe that provisional President Yuan Shi Kai's most difficult task is the organization of a system of taxation throughout the republic. When the anti-Manchu revolution was put down revenues from the provinces practically ceased and the central government since has been carried on by means of loans.

22,000 Operatives Strike.
Barcelona, July 31.—The striking textile workers have ignored an invitation sent to them by the governor of Barcelona for a conference. The police today estimated that 22,000 operatives from 195 factories are on strike. The employers said they believe the movement is essentially a revolutionary one, as they have not yet been informed what the workers demand.

MEDIATION IS ASKED BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC
Washington, July 31.—Commissioner Chambers, of the federal board of mediation, today received a telegram from William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific railway, asking the board to mediate a threatened strike of its conductors and trainmen. The telegram stated that a strike vote had been taken, and, although a strike had not yet been ordered, negotiations for settlement had come to a naught.

The commissioner replied that he would be engaged for a time in the mediation of trouble brewing between the employees and the Chicago and Western Indiana railway, but would come to San Francisco as soon as he disposed of these cases and a minor one at St. Louis.

The difficulties between the trainmen and the Southern Pacific are over the question of seniority of the men who are already employed and those who may be transferred to certain properties of the main railway that have been and are being electrified.

Commissioner Chambers and Assistant Commissioner Hanger leave for Chicago Saturday.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED IN AN L. & N. WRECK
Knoxville, Tenn., July 31.—Engineer John Davis and Fireman N. F. Carey, both of Louisville, Ky., were killed and Express Messenger Bridges, also of Louisville, was injured in a derailment of southbound Louisville and Nashville passenger train No. 23, 3 miles north of Livingston, Ky., at 11:56 o'clock this morning. None of the passengers was hurt, though many were much shaken up. Express Messenger Bridges had two ribs broken.

The cause of the accident is unexplained. The locomotive, express baggage, mail and two passenger coaches left the rails, the locomotive overturning. Train No. 23 runs between Louisville and Corbin.

KILLED MISSION MAN AND IS FREED BY JURY

Juneau, Alaska, July 31.—Joseph MacDonald, general manager of the Consolidated Mining and Milling company, of Guanajuato, Mex., and former superintendent of the Treadwell mine here, was acquitted today by the jury that tried him on the charge of having murdered N. C. Jones, a mission worker, on May 14, 1906.

MacDonald pleaded self defense. His trouble with Jones was over Jones' insistence that the Treadwell mine be closed on Sunday. A coroner's jury exonerated MacDonald, but a grand jury indicted him and he paid his own extradition expenses from Mexico, where he was arrested.

He will return to Guanajuato with his family, except one daughter, who goes back to school in Massachusetts. MacDonald is one of the best known mining men in the west.

Increase in Wages.
Denison, Texas, July 31.—An increase in wages of two cents an hour and better working conditions were granted boiler-makers, helpers and apprentices throughout the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad system of Texas at a conference here last night of the men with officials of the road.

Motorcycle Stolen.
When George E. Barnwell, 239 Capitol avenue, left the Vaudette theater, on Whitehall street, Thursday night about 9:30, he made the discovery that his motorcycle, an Indian, had been taken from the curb where he had left it on entering the theater. The police were immediately notified and officers detailed on the case.

All the News of Real Estate and Building

The election of Charles P. Glover, former president of the Atlanta Real Estate board, to the vice presidency of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges at the conclusion of the sixth annual convention at Winnipeg, Canada, Wednesday, is taken as an indication that the honor of maintaining the convention in 1916, is confidently expected that the Gate City will prove victorious as usual.

The principal officers of the national association elected were: C. L. Stimpson, Kansas Mo., president, and Charles P. Glover, vice president.

As a C. Chandler is expected to arrive in New York from Europe within the next week, and will return at once to Atlanta. It is expected that Mr. Chandler will enter actively into the real estate activities of the city. Before his departure some weeks ago Mr. Chandler made several large purchases in Chicago real estate which attracted attention over the country.

Real estate men are speculating as to whether Mr. Chandler will make any further attempts to purchase the present executive mansion site from the state.

$15,000,000 REQUIRED TO VALUE RAILROADS

Commerce Commission Thinks Task Will Be Completed in Seven Years.

Washington, July 31.—Physical valuation of the railroads of the United States by the interstate commerce commission will take from five to seven years by a specially organized corps of men, and will cost the government from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 or more, according to plans of the commission presented to the house appropriations committee. The commission has asked for an immediate appropriation of $1,500,000 for organization of the corps of engineers necessary to undertake the work.

Commissioners Clements and Prouty and Secretary George B. McGinty, of the commission, have told the house appropriations subcommittee that a carefully worked out estimate places the cost of the field work at $1,521,- 500 a year throughout that period.
The plan presented by Mr. McGinty contemplates the division of the country into five districts containing approximately 50,000 miles of railroads each.

Mr. McGinty explained to the committee that the estimated cost per year of each of these district organizations, with their groups of field squads would be about $384,000, or a total per year for the five districts of nearly two million dollars. In addition to this work of the organization and accounting feature of the work would cost about $450,000 a year, and that the maintenance of a valuation office in Washington would cost probably $150,000 a year.

EIGHT DEATHS DUE TO CYCLE EXPLOSION

Cincinnati, July 31.—Out of the thirty-five persons who suffered burns when the explosion of the gasoline tank on Odlin Johnson's motorcycle at the Lagoon Ky., motordrome last night showered spectators with burning oil, eight had died up to 9 o'clock tonight. One other, a woman, cannot recover, the attending physicians say, while seven others are in a serious condition and not out of danger. Of the others eighteen suffered more or less painful injuries, but did not require treatment in hospitals.

The explosion occurred after Johnson had collided with an electric light pole and the racer himself was among the first victims. Statements from several of the eye-witnesses indicated that Johnson's daring attempt to pass another rider was the primary cause of the accident.

He is said to have come in contact with the machine piloted by Gabanna, of the Cleveland team, while trying to pass the latter on the upper elevation of the track. The impact was slight, but enough to force Johnson to head his machine toward the upper railing. He appeared at this time to have plenty of room, but the machine seemed to refuse to right itself and crashed into a pole that was some distance beyond the danger mark on the track.

Warrants were issued today, at the instigation of the coroner, which charged voluntary manslaughter and were directed at the three heads of the amusement park. Bond was given for the men's appearance in police court on Saturday.

retary Garrison, who left for Portland, Ore., tonight, continuing the tour of Pacific coast defenses.

Reference by the secretary to the possible necessity of another "crisis" aroused much interest, but he refused to comment on it after luncheon.

"We have a method of calling to youth of our land into military service as a patriotic duty," he said, "and must have a way of training them that there will be no conscription to the country as a result of the service to the flag. We should develop our soldiers so that they can suits at the age of 25 or 26, and be to aid in the working out of our

CASTRO IS FIGHTING TO REGAIN VENEZUELA

Revolution Is Begun in Several States—Castro Controls Steamer.

Willemstad, Curacao, July 31.—Reports received here from revolutionary sources in Venezuela are to the effect that the uprising in that republic started simultaneously last Monday in several states and that General Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, is the leader of the movement.

The advices say that General Leon Falcon, governor of the state of Falcon, was reported to have been captured, escaping upon the steamer rebels attacked Coro and fled to the interior, but that the military authorities in Coro were imprisoned.
From the state of Falcon, according to reports received here, it is the purpose of the revolutionists to invade the state of Lara, which adjoins Falcon on the south, and General Navas is expected to operate in the state of Zulia in the northeastern part of the republic adjoining the United States of Colombia. Maracaibo, principal seaport of Venezuela, is the capital of Zulia.

General Carmelo Castro, brother of Cipriano Castro, is in command of the rebel troops in the state of Tachira, which lies just south of the state of Zulia.

It is stated that prior to the outbreak of the revolt the revolutionists seized the cable and telegraph lines.
Castro is said to have control a steamer in these waters which has not been reported or seen. Letters for Castro are in the postoffice here.

Castro's Return Welcomed.

New York, July 31.—General Rafael De Nogales-Mendez, a leader of the nationalist party of the Venezuelan border states, said today he warmly welcomed General Castro's reported return to Venezuela because it would bring political affairs of the country to a crisis. The general had no information today that the former president had landed on South American soil, but the news, he said, was expected daily.

The nationalists of the border states said General Nogales-Mendez, expected Castro would make his first appeal to members of his party, who formerly were his adherents. "Castro formed the cable and telegraph lines straight for Cucuta, Colombia, on the Venezuelan border, and start his invasion of the country from that point."

"The nationalists have been waiting for President Gomez to make an open attempt to repeal the law against re-election and make himself dictator of Venezuela. The national election was set for next March and we did not expect Gomez to declare himself until about that time. The coming of Castro, however, will precipitate a crisis in the struggle between Castro and Gomez and will give the nationalists an opportunity to step in and make their fight for constitutional government."

AUGUST COTTON MADE ADVANCE

But New Crops Closed Two to Four Points Lower—Shorts Caused Flurry in July Cotton Just Before Noon.

New York July 31.—Bleated shorts caused temporary excitement in July cotton just before noon today by running the price up to 12 1/2 against 11 1/2 at the close last night. An advance of 46 points. About 6,000 bales changed hands during the flurry.

The interest of traders was about evenly divided between new crop and old crop cotton figures and comments from Texas and Oklahoma about dry hot weather. The average of seventy-two members of the exchange was 81 1/2 and the average of nine private reports this issue was 81 1/2, leading the market to believe that tomorrow's advance would not show the same vigor as the one today.

The Texas news was quiet but serious at times and indicated that the fall comes soon there is likely to be a sharp decline in condition.

KEEPING THE MUD FROM MULHALL

Lobby Probers Protect the "Squealer" From Lawyers. He Doesn't Want Questions Put in Regard to His Past.

Washington, July 31.—To an accompaniment of arguments between counsel and members of the committee between democratic and republican committee men, and between Martin M. Mulhall and everybody connected with the case, the cross-examination of the alleged lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers proceeded hotly today before the senate investigating committee.

In the five hours Mulhall was on the stand about 116 questions submitted for the association were put to him by Chairman Overman, Robert McCarter and James A. Emery, attorneys for the association, who denied the right to cross-examine the witness directly, but after much debate were permitted to submit questions based upon replies the witness made to the queries already submitted.

Senator in Clash.
Senators Reed and Walsh and Cummins and Nelson were almost at swords' points on several occasions, but peace always was restored without an open break and any ill-feeling that existed was laid away for future reference.

Mulhall himself, always an interesting witness, ready to make comments upon the the attorneys of the National Association of Manufacturers, or its officials, surpassed himself in spite of continual warnings by the chairman. He declared once that unless the committee allowed him to have counsel he would refuse to answer further questions and would rather go to jail. Chairman Overman finally became so angry that he bluntly told him unless he refrained from superfluous comment and stuck to plain answers he would be subjected to discipline. Mulhall then subsided.

Case of the Outbreak.
Robert McCarter, attorney for the National Association of Manufacturers, precipitated the outbreak by asking Mulhall if he had not been discharged from the Cleveland police force ten years ago for violation of a state law. Mulhall replied he was dismissed for political reasons and demanded counsel.

"I was advised by friends to refuse to answer," he explained. "I want counsel, I insist on it and refuse to go on until I have it. I'll go to jail before I'll answer questions about my personal affairs thirty or forty years ago."

"Instead of being despatched to throw light on this case, many of these questions are designed to throw mud at the witness," declared Senator Reed. This is an investigation, not a trial. I insist you have no right to say a word here," he concluded, addressing McCarter.

Mulhall withdrew his demand for counsel and the hearing proceeded with the attorneys submitting their questions to Chairman Overman.

"Vicious Lie," Says Mulhall.
"Is it not true that Samuel H. Springer tried to dispose of these letters to the Philadelphia Press and the Philadelphia Record?" Mulhall was asked.

"It's a vicious lie!" he shouted. Mulhall denied having made a statement to Richard Barry, who was representing him, that the Manufacturers' association would pay $150,000 for the documents.

Mulhall denied that he agreed Barry should sell the letters to the New York World for $10,000, but that he would be content with $5,000; but later he testified that at Barry's suggestion he did agree.

"Have you produced all letters between you and the association?" asked Senator Cummins.
"I believe I have not," Senator Nelson asked about a published statement that Mulhall had spent $200,000 bribing voters and in lobby work. Mulhall couldn't tell how just how much he had spent and thought $200,000 must be a mistake. The lawyers asked if the total of his expenditures was not about $48,000, but Mulhall said he did not know if that amount was right.

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)
Four more performances at the Forsyth, matinee and night today, and matinee and night tomorrow, will conclude this week's offering at the Keith theater. There is merit and talent, and more comedy on this one bill than has been seen this season.
For next week the features will be the Eight Berlin Madcaps, late features with Eddie Foy's "Over the River" company, Miss Alice Kent, a delightful little singer, who will help make things merry, while Van Rooven, the daffy mad magician, will entertain.

Alaska-Siberian Pictures.
(At the Grand.)
A great deal of interest is being manifested in the Arctic region pictures being exhibited at the Grand. This is a great opportunity for the many people who have been eagerly reading all the news concerning the Carnegie Museum expedition to Alaska and Siberia to witness the many scenes of the exciting, exciting and novel adventures of this campaign to the "cold country."
For next week, a new policy will be instituted, in that there will be two performances in the afternoon and two at night. The admission will be 10 cents. The first half of the week, the feature film will be "Zigomar." In addition there will be high-class first-run pictures. For the second half of the week, a sensational "Patagonia," the demon "Sabon," will be exhibited.

"The Girl From Dublin."
(At the Bijou.)
"One of the most pleasing musical comedy attractions of the season" is the verdict of those who have witnessed this week's attraction at the Bijou, where "The Girl From Dublin" is being shown to a splendid audience. From the minute the curtain goes up to the finale of the last act there is plenty of life and musical music, and the audience's appreciation, of which there are several, are exceedingly loud. Next week will bring to the Bijou another musical comedy entitled "Alice in Wonderland," by the same company. J. J. O'Neill, surrounded by a company of twenty people, including a beauty chorus.

PASSENGER MEN WILL BANQUET TWO OFFICIALS

The Atlanta Passenger club will entertain W. H. Leahy and C. E. Stewart at a dinner in the Georgia pipe room at the Hotel Ansley Saturday night at 8 o'clock.
The former is serving his connection with the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road as general passenger agent to go with the local chamber of commerce, and the latter goes to Baltimore August 15 as general passenger agent of the Western Maryland road, giving up his present position as superintendent of the tariff bureau of the Southeastern Passenger association.

Prof. John Milne Dead.
Newport, Isle of Wight, England, July 31.—Professor John Milne, eminent seismologist, died here today aged 62 years. He was well known all over the world. For twenty years he was employed by the Japanese government for which he established a station of 1,000 earthquake recording stations.

Personal affairs thirty or forty years ago.
"Instead of being despatched to throw light on this case, many of these questions are designed to throw mud at the witness," declared Senator Reed. This is an investigation, not a trial. I insist you have no right to say a word here," he concluded, addressing McCarter.

Mulhall withdrew his demand for counsel and the hearing proceeded with the attorneys submitting their questions to Chairman Overman.

"Vicious Lie," Says Mulhall.
"Is it not true that Samuel H. Springer tried to dispose of these letters to the Philadelphia Press and the Philadelphia Record?" Mulhall was asked.

Mulhall denied having made a statement to Richard Barry, who was representing him, that the Manufacturers' association would pay $150,000 for the documents.

Mulhall denied that he agreed Barry should sell the letters to the New York World for $10,000, but that he would be content with $5,000; but later he testified that at Barry's suggestion he did agree.

"Have you produced all letters between you and the association?" asked Senator Cummins.
"I believe I have not," Senator Nelson asked about a published statement that Mulhall had spent $200,000 bribing voters and in lobby work. Mulhall couldn't tell how just how much he had spent and thought $200,000 must be a mistake. The lawyers asked if the total of his expenditures was not about $48,000, but Mulhall said he did not know if that amount was right.

ATLANTA MAY EXHIBIT AT KNOXVILLE SHOW
Dr. Claude Smith, city bacteriologist, is preparing a resolution through which he hopes to get an appropriation of about $200 from the finance committee with which to pay for an exhibit at the national conservation exhibition which will be held for sixty days in Knoxville, beginning September 1.
Atlanta is expected to send its milk exhibit which is considered one of the best in the world. The exhibit is a method of diminishing infant mortality. Dr. Smith will, in the event council gives up the money, send the city's exhibit and lantern slides showing what has been done to make Atlanta the healthiest city in the world. Atlanta leads the country in infant mortality. That is, there are fewer deaths among children here than any other city.

More than 200 suggestions have been offered so far, and by 8 o'clock tonight fully fifty more are expected. Walter G. Cooper, secretary of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Charles J. Haden, of Atlanta, will address the meeting.

BLALOCK AND THOMPSON TO TAKE OFFICE TODAY
The United States government officials in the local federal building will today retire from their positions, being replaced by two men recently appointed by President Wilson.

DUCKTOWN CONTRACT IS PASSED BY SENATE
Body Votes Unanimously for the Bill—Believed Measure is Sure of Passage by House.
One of the most interesting contests which has occurred before the legislative committee of the present session was that involving the Ducktown copper mines before the general judiciary committee of the senate. The present contract between the state of Georgia and the Tennessee Copper company expires in October of this year, and a resolution has been introduced authorizing the renewal of the contract on certain terms, providing for arbitration and settlement of the claims for damages.
On Friday of last week a hearing was had before the general judiciary committee of the senate, which was held in the office of the Peace法官, and Governor Joe Brown should be entered into between the state and the copper company. After that committee had received the citizens of Fannin county requested that a new hearing be had by the committee in order that they might appear, and a resolution was had on Wednesday of this week in the senate, which was passed and the matter was discussed at length.

THOUSAND NAMES ON PETITION.
Advocates of the contract had petitions from a thousand Georgia citizens favoring the measure, opponents claimed the petition was obtained by force of the companies; opponents had resolutions from a citizens' mass meeting, the attendance of which they claimed was all the way from 250 to 500 men, and that the meeting was well attended. The advocates of the measure claimed that the meeting contained about 100 men; that it was packed by people having a small selfish interest in opposing the measure and that a majority of those present were in the favor of the resolution, but had been hissed and hoisted from the floor when they endeavored to explain their views of the matter.
In the argument before the committee insinuations and accusations were made, heated and retracting. About a dozen farmers from Fannin county had come to Atlanta to be present in favor of the measure and about the same number had come in opposition.
Vote by Farmers.
At the end of the argument, Chairman McNeil of the committee, from the floor, called for a vote of the resolution. The farmers present voted in favor of the contract by a vote of twenty-two ayes to two nays. The committee, after the resolution was unanimously reported the resolution for passage, authorizing the execution of the contract.
The senate, by unanimous vote, passed the resolution yesterday morning, and the measure was introduced in the house and will promptly pass the house and the contract will be speedily put into effect.
The Ducktown situation is one which the whole state, as well as the northern part of Georgia, is greatly interested in, and it is believed that a satisfactory adjustment of the matter will now be reached.

PEEPING TOMS TRIED
W. E. Nace Fined, and H. R. Greenlee Put on Probation.
W. E. Nace, 32 McDaniell street, and H. R. Greenlee, 400 Spring street, the two young white men accused of peeping into the bedroom of three young women living at 48 Washington street, from the roof of the Central Presbyterian church Tuesday night, appeared before Recorder Broyles Thursday afternoon for trial. Nace received a fine of $15 and Greenlee was placed on probation, with a case held open.
In court Thursday afternoon Nace persisted in his story that he had left a hammer on the roof of the church while recently employed on some repairs to the roof. Greenlee, however, broke down and confessed that he had gone on the roof in company with Nace for the sole purpose of watching the young women disrobe.
Short Ice Weight Charged.
Charged with consistently cheating customers by giving short weight to the extent of 25 pounds on every 100 pounds of ice, Will Gifford and Dan Irwin, employees of the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation, appeared before Recorder Broyles Thursday morning. Inspector of Weights and Measures Buckner showed the negroes and carefully weighed the ice after it was delivered. Irwin was fined $15.75 and Gifford $10.75. Tom Williams, another negro implicated, failed to appear in court and was ordered rearrested.

REPRESENTATIVE ALVA GREENE, OF HOUSTON.
As the author of the plan by which the ways and means committee of the house were able to get together on the cause of tax equalization, Representative G. L. Suggs of Haralson has earned an honorable place for himself in the history of Georgia.
Representative Suggs has large farming interest and represents a farming county. He is convinced that reform will be of more real advantage to the farming classes than any other measure which the legislature could pass.
Born in North Carolina, Mr. Suggs has been for thirty-eight years a resident of Georgia and is thoroughly identified with Georgia interests. He is heart and soul a Georgian, he says.
For several years of his early life he was a railway conductor and has strong sympathies for the working-man in every field. In addition to his farming interests he has negroes and banking interests in his town of Bremen.
Speaking of the importance of tax revision, Mr. Suggs said:
"If I can be instrumental even in a secondary way in the solution of this tax problem, I will be perfectly willing to have my political career end right now. I regard it as the most important problem which this legislature has to face."

BAILIFFS FOUND WITH NEGRO WOMEN, FINED
Bailiffs J. H. Stephens and H. A. Austin, who were arrested Wednesday night in company with two negro women, Alice Brown and Florene Mills, in the office of Justice of the Peace for Dan, corner Edgewood and Jackson street, charged with drinking and causing there, appeared in the recorder's court Thursday afternoon and reported fines of $10 and costs each, on charges of disorderly conduct. The two women were also fined $10 and costs each.
The bailiffs stoutly denied, when taken to the station house, that the negro women were in the office for any immoral purpose, claiming that they were there to swear out a warrant for another negro woman who had stolen a dress from them. The warrant, however, was not in evidence and the women were given to have been in the office for some time before the police arrived.

Believes in State Equalization of Tax Representative Greene Explains Vote Against Section Sixteen. Says Tax Reform Will-Win.
"I voted against the 16th section of the ways and means tax equalization bill," said Hon. Alva B. Greene, one of the representatives from Houston county, yesterday, "but I do so solely on the idea that I thought some better method can be provided for a central equalization authority.
"I do not want my vote to be misunderstood as putting me in opposition to the measure."
The author of the plan by which the ways and means committee of the house were able to get together on the cause of tax equalization, Representative G. L. Suggs of Haralson has earned an honorable place for himself in the history of Georgia.

ON NEXT TUESDAY MORNING (LEGAL SALE DAY) AT 10 O'CLOCK, WE ARE GOING TO SELL BEFORE THE COURTHOUSE DOOR, 111 WHITEHALL TERRACE
The lot fronts 42 feet, has a depth of 103 feet, and has on it a 7-room, 2-story frame dwelling now renting for $20 per month; and with just a little money spent on the house it would easily bring $25 per month.
This property is obliged to be sold in order to wind up the estate of Mrs. Victoria A. Foster. There is a mortgage of $1,000 bearing 7 per cent interest, maturing September 1, 1913, which must be assumed by the purchaser; and the balance paid in cash.
Go out and examine this property carefully and attend the sale next Tuesday.
