

CAUGHT DRINKING, THREE POLICEMEN FIRED OFF FORCE

Three Officers Are Suspended for Ninety Days, and Two Exonerated and Their Pay for Lost Time Restored.

WOOD, BORN, FOLDS DISCHARGED BY BOARD

Mayor Intimated He Would Ask Charges Be Preferred Against Moon, Who Said He Drank to Secure Evidence.

The scandal in the police department which grew out of revelations that eight policemen visited the resort of Ola Bradley, a negro, at No. 129 Auburn street resulted in the dismissal of three, exoneration of two, and suspension of three for ninety days, by the police board, at 1.30 o'clock this morning.

The policemen discharged were Robert A. Wood, J. P. Born and E. C. Folds. Patrolmen J. E. McDaniels and L. W. Evans, who were under charges for neglect of duty for failure to report the visits of their partners to the resort, were found not guilty and were restored to the ranks with pay for lost time during suspension.

Three Are Suspended.

The three who were suspended were Patrolmen R. T. David, J. J. Jackson and Roundman Bailey.

Mayor James G. Woodward vigorously opposed the dismissal or suspension of any of the accused officers. "You can't believe a nigger against a white man and that is what this board will do if they find them guilty," he said.

A majority of the board were agreed that the testimony of the Cutwright woman, a young negro, was correct. As Woodward strongly intimated that he would demand that Chief Beavers bring charges before the board against Plainclothes Officer Moon, who admitted that he drank whisky in the Bradley house to get evidence against the woman, "I have not decided what I will do with Moon," Chief Beavers declared. "He was ordered by his superior officer to make an investigation and get the evidence. It looks to me like he was carrying out instructions."

Abbe Counsel Present.

The accused men were ably represented by Hon. J. Y. Smith, Colonel Harvey Hill, Aldine Chambers, William R. Smith and others.

The trials were, perhaps, the most sensational and salacious that have ever demanded the attention of the police department. Patrolmen Born, Folds, Wood, David, Jackson and Roundman Bailey were charged with visiting the house—specifically that they drank whisky with the inmates on June 24 Evans and McDaniels were charged with failing to report the visits of their partners to the chief.

The chief witnesses against the accused officers were Plainclothes Officers Moon and Adams.

Patrolman E. E. Jackson, charged by Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith with abusive treatment in the Bijou theater June 24, was exonerated.

H. T. Adams, while on duty as a member of Chief Beavers' "vice squad," who exposed the alleged police rendezvous at the house of Ola Bradley, No. 127 Auburn avenue, told the board of seeing many men and women at the Bradley house.

Adams said he saw a negro woman pour whisky out of a jar for a white man who offered to pay for it.

"On the night of the 27th," Adams testified, "we saw Sergeant Bailey and Patrolman King in the house. A negro woman poured whisky out of a

"There are a dozen things in the attic that I haven't any use for. And here are more. They're only taking up room that we could use to better advantage."

Atlanta's Own Regiment Loading Baggage For Trip to Annual Camp at St. Simons.

Cheered by thousands of Atlantans along a farewell parade through the downtown section, the boys of the Fifth regiment of the National Guard of Georgia left the union station in two trains over the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad promptly at 8 and 8.30 o'clock, respectively, last night for the encampment at St. Simons Island, which will be in progress for ten days.

The members of the regiment were in the highest spirits and marched with lively step to the martial airs of the band which led the way.

From the army the regiment, in command of Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, marched up Edgewood avenue to Pryor, up Pryor to Houston to Peachtree, down Peachtree and Whitehall to Mitchell, thence down Pryor street to the depot. The scene at the station was one of great activity, but the entrainment and departure was accomplished with military dispatch and precision.

The regiment will arrive at Brunswick early Wednesday morning. The men occupied the day coaches, while the officers were provided with a Pullman. For breakfast, coffee and sandwiches will be served immediately upon arrival at Brunswick, and the regiment will then directly enter special boats for the trip across the sea to St. Simons Camp will be pitched and the boys will be enjoying the surf in the early afternoon.

All day long Tuesday the big task of loading the baggage of the regiment was in progress. The various details worked hard under the direction of Regimental Quartermaster S. P. Cronheim and before nightfall every one of the twelve companies had their baggage at the depot ready to go.

Captain F. H. Lichtenwaller, regimental commissary, went in advance of the regiment to buy the supplies and make other arrangements incidental to feeding 600 men three times a day for ten days.

Decision is Withheld.

Decision in the cases of Candler and Stonewall counties was withheld upon request of delegates from Tattall county, because of the fact that both those counties contemplated cutting a portion of Tattall county, and there are two more proposed new counties—Hampton and Evans—which also contemplate taking in parts of Tattall.

The delegation asked that the committee withhold its decision until the hearings upon Hampton and Evans counties.

Candler and Stonewall embrace practically the same territory, cutting into Tattall, Emanuel and Bulloch counties, the main contention being as to the location of the county seat. Candler county stands out for a new county, of which Metter shall be the county seat, while the promoters of Stonewall want Stillmore as the county seat.

The fight before the committee, which met at 3 o'clock in the house chamber, was the hottest that has come up in either the house or the senate or any committee of the present legislature.

Big Crowd Present.

The floor and the galleries were crowded with delegations from the various counties interested and by spectators until standing room was at a premium, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the chairman was able to keep order. The walls of the house chamber were ablaze with charts, maps and banners designed to elucidate the points in question in the case of each county and to arouse the enthusiasm of those present.

Many delegations came from the different counties interested, both for and against the creation of the new counties. Gwinnett, Walton and Jackson counties claimed a delegation of 125 protesting against the creation of Barrow county.

The argument before the committee was fraught throughout with high feeling and there was repeated applause as point after point was made by the delegates. The feeling of the speaker rose to the point of bitterness.

Sentiment Against New Counties.

An interesting aspect brought out by the tenor of several arguments and their reception by the committee was a fairly widespread sentiment against the creation of any more new counties in Georgia.

The creation of Barrow county came up for first hearing, and the argument in its favor was opened by W. H. Toole, a banker of Winder, the proposed county seat of Barrow county.

"We feel that the creation of Barrow county will be beneficial to us," said Mr. Toole, "and will help the state as a business proposition."

"We have the taxable values, the area and the population to support our proposition. We have 12,000 people, $2,125,000 worth of taxable properties, and 159 square miles of area."

"The town of Winder, with a population of 3,000 people, is the proposed county seat. The town of Winder is split in a very business center by three counties, and this condition is typical of all the commercial territory of this section."

We Are Up Against It.

"We people of the territory affected by the proposed creation of Barrow county are not only divided into three counties, but also into two congressional districts and three senatorial districts. We are up against it."

Mr. Toole stated that the creation of Barrow would not injure the other counties from which land would be taken.

The use of the territory which we ask for the creation of a new county would greatly help the people living in it, for the reason that the creation of a small county, as in any other subdivision, leads always to intensive development and enhancement.

Turner Opposes Barrow.

J. C. Turner took the floor for Jackson county, opposing the creation of Barrow county.

"General prosperity is responsible for the increase in taxable values and not the size of the counties, as the gentleman who preceded me would have you believe," he said.

"If we were in the right I would gladly say, 'Go ahead and take all of Jackson county except a little strip around Jefferson.'" We contend that to lessen the size of the county will not make us richer, but poorer.

BARROW COUNTY GAINS SUPPORT OF COMMITTEE

General Assembly Will Be Asked to Take Favorable Action Upon Petition at This Session.

TWO OTHER COUNTIES HELD UP FOR PRESENT

The Decision Is Postponed in These Cases as Result of Request of Delegates from Tattall County.

The committee appointed at the beginning of this session of the legislature to consider the applications of new counties Tuesday afternoon heard arguments for and against the creation of the counties of Barrow, Stonewall and Candler counties, reaching a decision to recommend the creation of Barrow county, and withholding decision in the cases of the other two counties until the next meeting of the committee, which will be next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The new county of Barrow, the creation of which will be recommended to the house, will be formed of parts of Jackson, Gwinnett and Walton counties.

CAPT. JACK W. JOHNSON DIES OF HEART DISEASE

Well-Known and Popular Former Atlantan Passes Suddenly in Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., July 8.—Captain Jack W. Johnson, district passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line railway here and one of the best known railroad men in the south, died suddenly tonight of heart disease.

Captain Johnson was born in Georgia and enjoyed an exceptionally wide acquaintance in the states which through his line passed.

The news of the death of Jack W. Johnson will occasion general regret throughout Georgia and especially in Atlanta, where he resided for so many years and where he had so many friends.

He was born near Cave Spring, Ga., and began his career in Atlanta soon after reaching manhood. He was for a long time ticket agent at the union depot and yet that position to assume charge of the passenger business here of the old East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway. He was also connected with the old Baltimore Baggage Transfer company.

He left Atlanta several years ago to go to Birmingham, but made frequent trips to his old home to visit friends and relatives. Among his relatives in Atlanta are the Glenss and Porters.

Sweeping in Effect.

This resolution, if carried out, will cut off all the state institutions without a single dollar in the general appropriation bill.

SUFFRAGISTS TO MEET ON STEPS OF CAPITOL

Gathering Will Be in Nature of Protest Against Action of Georgia Senate.

Arrangements are under way for a monster mass meeting on the state house steps at 8 o'clock tonight at the opening session of the annual convention of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association.

The suffragists have not as yet been granted either the senate chamber or the house chamber and their first meeting will be tonight. If the legislature remains indifferent to their request the women are planning to hold their meeting in the open air on the capitol grounds.

Thrive on Opposition.

"We thrive on opposition," said Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, regarding the attitude of the legislature. "If we are not granted a hall in the capitol and if the authorities break up our meeting on the Washington street steps, we will convene at 8 o'clock tonight in the Temple of Labor, which has been placed at our disposal by organized labor."

Tonight's program, after the invocation by Bishop C. K. Nelson or Rev. George A. Beattie will begin with "America," after which the delegates will repeat the twenty-third Psalm in concert.

Smith to Welcome Visitors.

The address of welcome on behalf of Fulton county will be delivered by John P. Smith, who has gathered the suffragist resolutions in the house, and Governor John Marshall Slaton has been asked to deliver the address of welcome for Georgia President Marks, of the Georgia Federation of Labor, will welcome the convention for labor, and Rev. George A. Beattie will greet the suffragists for the clergy.

Responding for the women will be Miss Eugenia Estill and Mrs. M. T. McWhorter will discuss "The Fruits of Equal Suffrage." Mrs. Susan E. Cunningham, president of the newly organized DeKalb County Equal Suffrage league, which is auxiliary to the state association, will speak on "Woman in Civic Life." The address of the state president, Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, who will preside will conclude the program for the first session.

Rumors of the organization of a second state suffrage association by the Atlanta Civic league, which will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Carnegie library, have caused much speculation as to which organization will be recognized as official. The officers of the association which meets tonight, however, are not worried and are confident of winning.

SOME ELKS CLUBS DISGRACE TO ORDER

So Retiring Ruler Mills Alleges—Illegal Sale of Liquor Is Charged—Leach Chosen Exalted Ruler.

Rochester, N. Y., July 8.—Grand Treasurer Edward Leach, of New York, today was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks to succeed Thomas B. Mills, of Superior, Wis. Mr. Leach was opposed by J. Cookman Boyd, of Baltimore. The vote was Leach 1,119, Boyd 332. Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, of Grand Duke, Iowa, was re-elected in a three-cornered fight.

The election was the feature of the day's sessions of the Grand Lodge. At the conclusion adjournment was taken until tomorrow when the report of the committee appointed to consider the advisability of erecting a new national home at Bedford, Va., was made a special order of business.

Other officers chosen today are: Grand esteemed knight, P. H. Shields, Clarksville, W. Va., grand esteemed knight, H. H. Jennings, Bridgeport, Conn., grand esteemed lecturing knight, E. M. Dickerman, Tucson, Ariz., grand inner guard, Edwin J. Kelley, Cheyenne Wyo., grand trustee for five years, S. V. Perott, Indianapolis, grand trustee for two years to fill vacancy caused by death of Mayor Charles C. Schmidt, of Wheeling, W. Va., James R. Nicholson, Springfield, Mass.

Judge John J. Mitchell, of St. Paul, Minn., was appointed to the grand forum by Grand Exalted Ruler Mills to succeed Perry A. Shanor, of Sisterville, Pa.

A grand treasurer was not elected. A second ballot will be cast tomorrow morning. Charles A. White, of Chicago, led a four-cornered race on the ballot, his opponents being George D. Locke, of Rogers, Ark.; P. Brennan, of Canton, Tex.; and William D. Evans, of St. Joseph, Mo. White lacked 155 votes of election, 714 being necessary.

Atlanta withdrew from the race for the 1914 convention before the grand lodge went into session and the delegates were appointed to the convention.

Earlier in the day the grand officers made their annual reports. Grand Exalted Ruler Thomas B. Mills devoted part of his report to the conduct of Elks clubs, saying:

"The manner in which the clubs connected with some of the subordinate lodges are conducted is a disgrace to the order and in many places a public scandal. Liquor is sold either in open violation of the laws of the land or some miserable subterfuge is resorted to in evasion of those laws, thereby trampling under foot the obligation and statutes of the order. While it is true that these crimes can be charged to but a very small percentage of the memberships, where indulged in, the fact remains that the outside world pillories each and every member of the lodge and blames the innocent with the guilty."

JAMES M. LYNN NAMED BY GOVERNOR SULZER

Albany, N. Y., July 8.—After having been unsuccessful in three attempts to have John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, made state labor commissioner, Governor Sulzer tonight sent to the senate for confirmation the appointment of James M. # No Unwritten Law for Woman Who Defended Her Honor

MRS. J. J. LEE AND HER SON, J. J. LEE, JR.

MRS. J. J. LEE GIVES STATEMENT ABOUT INTERVIEW WITH BEAVERS

At the trial of Mrs. J. J. Lee in police court Tuesday afternoon she was cross-questioned by Chief of Police Beavers, the purport of his questions being apparently to discredit a statement in The Constitution of Tuesday morning. This statement was to the effect that Chief Beavers had said to Mrs. Lee that a slanderer of a woman's character deserved to have his face slapped. During the cross-questioning Mrs. Lee was manifestly nervous, and when asked pointblank if she had made this statement to a Constitution reporter she denied that she had.

In order to set the matter right and to ascertain just exactly what conversation transpired between Chief Beavers and Mrs. Lee the same reporter called on her Tuesday afternoon, after the trial was over. She voluntarily wrote the following communication to The Constitution in the presence of her son, who was with her when the original statement was made:

"Editor Constitution: Mr. Beavers said that if it was his relative who a man was slandering he would feel like slapping his face or horsewhipping him, but that he would do neither—he would let the courts settle it, sue for libel.

"I was nervous and excited at what Thompson was saying about me and decided I would horsewhip Thompson.

"I think when you feel like doing anything you should go as your conscience guides you. I feel sure and felt like Mr. Beavers thought that was the right thing to do. I asked him what would it cost me if I did such a thing (meaning the horsewhipping) and he gave me no answer.

"The reporter asked me if Mr. Beavers told me to horsewhip him (meaning Thompson). I told him (the reporter) that he said he (Beavers) would feel like doing both.

(Signed) "MRS. J. J. LEE."

"I have no sympathy with the unwritten law. I don't believe in it. We have the courts for protection. They uphold the law and defend justice. Persons must not take the law in their own hands."

This denunciation of the unwritten law was made by Police Judge Nash R. Broyles yesterday afternoon as he concluded the trial of Mrs. J. J. Lee, the pretty Peachtree street resident who avenged alleged attacks on her character in a sensational horsewhipping of T. D. Thompson Monday evening.

"ONLY VILLAIN" IN WALL STREET

So David Lamar Bitterly Cries When Grilled About Deceptions He Practiced. Denies He Is Blackmailer.

Washington, July 8.—The senate job investigating committee took a look at Wall street today through the spectacles of David Lamar. The dapper operator on the bear side who admits that he handled about in the market place the names of men high in congress took the committee completely into his confidence.

For all the machinations he contrived there were later all his sworn but two reasons. He wished to cause an explosion which would bring the Wall street men whom he felt were antagonistic to him into the open and he wished to insure the re-employment of Edward Lauterbach, his lawyer friend who had fallen into disfavor with the mighty of the street.

Although the committee tried to develop that there might have been some other consideration involved, Lamar denied such an allegation as often as it was made. He was on the stand for several hours and although five senators wielded the scalpel at various times they uncovered nothing that Lamar did not wish to reveal.

Lamar Plays Wall Street Game.

Time after time he seemed to be on the verge of some admission to which patient questioning had brought him but he veered away and no personal or lawyer like threatening could bring him back again.

When playing Wall street's game he said, when he made such frequent use of the telephone and talked about what might be done in Washington through prominent members of congress. It was the game he had known most of the twenty five years he had been in the street, he said, but he was through with it now. He was sorry for the publicity that has been given to the reports of influence in congress but except for that he thought that the end justified the means.

The explosion had occurred he added and his enemies had been dragged into the open to prove charges circulated for many years in the financial district against himself and Lauterbach. He summed up his whole story in a few words when he said:

It was the Wall street game I was playing. In Wall street you don't act like you do on a New Jersey farm. Later he added bitterly, I am the only villain in Wall street and others are actuated by the highest motives and possess the highest ideals.

His Honor at Stake.

I realize perfectly that my life and character are on trial, Lamar began, and that his testimony and Lauterbach's had shown they were not engaged in any effort to get money from J. P. Morgan & Co. or other interests.

"I'll tell you what my motive was," said Lamar. "I was either to force these men to recognize the injustice of their attitude toward Lauterbach and myself or force them to come out into the open with the charges of blackmail they had circulated in New York for years against both of us. Ledyard and his associates had ruined many men. It was determined they should not ruin me."

Lamar said he knew Lewis Cass Ledyard was trying to trip him when he began telephoning in the name of Representative Palmer and then he determined to fix up a "stunt" on Ledyard to force the financial people into the open.

Frequently Lamar's voice shook with apparent emotion.

Lamar said the whole thing framed up by himself was a major Wall street operation traveling on parallel lines.

He Wanted an Explosion.

"It was a favorite method of mine producing an explosion when I wanted one," he added.

Senator Cummins wanted to know if Lauterbach asked for an explanation of any of Lamar's plans which involved his (Lauterbach's) honor.

The question of honor was not a secret. It was entirely a Wall street operation, returned Lamar.

Leading Lamar up to a discussion of the creation of the Union Pacific Railroad company, Senator Reed asked, "How many years have you been plotting in the Wall street field?"

About twenty five years, Lamar said, and your conscience has taken many a flight out of the window? If the end justifies the means, no," Lamar described the Wall street frame of mind as long as the thing to do was to win as long as nothing criminal was done.

Were you in the Wall street frame

Some Great Shows in New York Says Homer George in Letter

News from the front arrived in Atlanta yesterday in a personal letter from Homer George, man-about-town and the amiable manager of the Atlanta theater, to a friend. An extract from his epistle speaks very eloquently for itself.

New York has many Atlantans here now, and they seem to be enjoying themselves. I meet them at theaters in hotels in restaurants at the turkey trot places—and at Jack's.

By the way New York is closed town now. All hotels and other restaurants, dancing parlors and places of entertainment close tight at 1 a. m. except Jack's. Just where his pill comes from no one knows but after all entertainment centers there is no music no dancing nothing but good service and plenty to drink. His four immense dining halls are packed within fifteen minutes after curfew tolls and the wine buyers and plain suppers get busy. Thank goodness it is only one block from my hotel so I stay until I get sleepy regularly. Usually the gang entertains until sleep is almost forgotten.

All the restaurants have turkey trot floors, and one dances between each drink or bit of food. William Morris has a fine dance hall on the roof of the New York theater. There Miss Joan Sawyer sets the standard. She gets $200 a week—I saw the contract—and only does fashionable steps with a graceful partner. She told me at lunch this week that Morris wanted her to go on tour with the Linder show. If so, we will get her in Atlanta. She gets $2 an hour for lessons from members of the 400 of which she is the pet.

But you are interested in shows here. Here is my advice to Atlantans coming here.

For the benefit of the free press friends let me say that I have had to pay for every show I see and as high as $10 per seat. Passes are out of the question here with good shows.

THREE POLICEMEN FIRED OFF FORCE

I saw the officers with the whiskey in their hands but did not see either of them drink.

Did you see Policeman Evans there at any time? Councilman Colcord asked.

No, he never saw him talking to the negro woman.

Never saw Evans drink.

Did you ever see Evans drink whiskey in there? he was asked.

No, he never saw him.

Did you ever report the house as being a suspicious place?

No, he never saw any whiskey bottles stuck about the place.

You can find whiskey bottles in almost every house since prohibition went into effect," David replied.

Flour clothes Officer Moon also a member of the vice squad who was called by Chief Beavers to watch the Bradley house testified that the instructions he received from the sergeant were to watch the house and catch whoever went there. He saw Sergeant Bailey and Wood drinking in the house he said. Moon told the board that he never saw Evans in the house.

Did you ever take a drink there? Commissioner Johnson asked.

Yes, he answered.

Were you instructed to drink? We were told to get the evidence. How big a drink did you take?

About four fingers?

Not that much.

Who gave you orders what sergeant told you to get the evidence? Sergeant Barfield.

Minor Woodward asked Moon if he did not tell it was whiskey without taking a big drink.

The policeman shied at the question. He would excuse the witness, said Barfield in Latin, denied that he ever drank at the Bradley house, or that he knew of other officers who visited or drank there.

In order to save time Chairman Mason suggested that the charges against R. W. David, Sergeant C. H. Bailey, J. J. Brown, J. P. Ryan and M. C. Folds be discussed by Moon and Adams of having drunk whisky at the Bradley house. Adams testified and the accused tried together.

FLAMES LAY WASTE TOWN IN LOUISIANA

New Orleans, July 8.—Independence, La., a town of 1,000 inhabitants, practically was wiped off the map by fire today, entailing a loss estimated tonight at $200,000 to $250,000. No person was seriously hurt.

The blaze started in Kiltz hotel from a defective flue, soon spread to nearby buildings, and then into the residence section. Fire fighters from Amite and Hammond, La., hurried to the scene on special trains, and when they left tonight only three buildings, a small box factory and two dwellings were left.

The Illinois Central station was burned and telegraph communication destroyed. The telephone building also was burned. Wire communication had not been restored late tonight.

WARNER COUNTY PLAN OPPOSED AT MEETING

Citizens of Meriwether Appoin Delegates to Fight Proposition in Atlanta.

Greenfield, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—A mass meeting of Meriwether citizens was held here today to protest against the creation of Warner county. A large crowd of representative citizens were present and resolutions were passed urging the representatives of this county and the senator from this district to do all within their power to defeat the bill. A number of men were appointed to go to Atlanta and protest against the establishment of the new county. Among the strongest opponents to the creation of the new county are the relatives of Judge Hiram Warner, for whom the proposed county is to be named.

FIVE MEN TO WORK ON TAX REVISION

Subcommittee of Ways and Means to Prepare Equalization Bill by Thursday.

A sub-committee of five of the ways and means committee of the house was appointed yesterday afternoon to look into the various tax equalization bills that have been introduced into the house this year and report its findings to the main committee Thursday afternoon.

The following are the members of the sub-committee: L. R. Akin, of Glynn; I. J. Cooper, of Ware; J. E. Sheppard, of Sumter; F. A. Lipscomb, of Clarke, and Dr. A. S. J. Stovall, of Elbert.

May Draft New Bill.

Among the tax equalization bills which these men will have to consider are the Lipscomb, Sheppard and Ledbetter bills. The sub-committee will compare these bills carefully, and it is not improbable that a new bill will be drafted taking what seems to be the best features in each of the measures proposed and any other good features which the authors may have omitted. A bill by Representative Beck, of Carroll, to provide for tax assessors in each militia district will also be considered.

The resolution of Mr. Gower, of Crisp, providing for a joint committee to make an investigation of the tax system of the state during vacation and to report a bill at the next session of the legislature was read and action on it deferred.

No Chance for Frank Bills.

The committee showed that it would not waste time in considering impossible measures by voting down on first reading a bill of Representative Jones, of Coweta, was elected secretary of the committee, and after some debate, it was decided that thirteen should constitute a quorum.

BARTENDERS' UNION TO GIVE BARBECUE SUNDAY

The annual barbecue of local No. 192, Bartenders' International League, will be given at Spink's station, on the river car line, Sunday, July 13. Quite a large number of the Atlanta members have signified their intention of being present, and a good time is promised all.

RUMOR OF PENNSY DEAL DENIED IN WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—None of the Atlantic Coast line officials here are aware of any deal whereby the Pennsylvania will shortly secure control of the Coast Line and it is learned from an authoritative source tonight that the report sent from Baltimore and tentatively accepted in Jacksonville is not based on facts. Each year reports of this nature are scattered abroad only to be denied officially by both the Pennsylvania and the Coast Line. The new report has only the additional strength of the recent deal by the Pennsylvania for Southern Pacific shares and the known desire of the Pennsylvania to get a through-line to southern points, notably New Orleans. It is reported that the special movement now under way for the Pennsylvania to open a short route to New Orleans via the Coast Line to Waycross, Thomasville, and River Junction, Fla., Pensacola, and Pomaton, Ala.

KINDERGARTEN BILL IS WELL SUPPORTED

Measure of Senator McNeil Is Backed by Public-Spirited Women Throughout State.

One of the most important measures to be considered by the legislature this year is the bill providing for free public kindergartens for children between the ages of 4 and 6 years, which has been introduced in the senate by Senator W. D. McNeil, of the twenty-second.

The bill calls for no extra outlay of money by the state, but simply authorizes boards of education in their discretion to adopt the kindergarten system, using a part of the school funds already provided for its maintenance. It is the same bill which was introduced in the house last year by Randolph Anderson, now president of the senate.

Case Is Transferred.

Judge Newman of the United States court, yesterday issued an order transferring a suit in equity by the Georgia Railway and Power company against Eugene McSwenney and others from Rome to Atlanta. The same order directs that the entire litigation be referred to F. C. Callaway, standing master, for a full report to the federal court.

LOWER TEMPERATURES FOR ATLANTA THIS WEEK

Lower temperatures by at least ten degrees than during the height of the heated spell of last week are expected in Atlanta for the coming three or four days. On Tuesday the maximum temperature was 87 degrees at 3 o'clock, while the entire day was much cooler than usual. The same conditions are forecasted for today and apparently there will be no change. A minimum temperature of 66 degrees was reached early Friday morning, which is decidedly lower than the minimum temperatures of the past three weeks and after that the mercury gradually rose until it reached its height at 8 o'clock.

Chamber Directors Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce will be held in the chamber rooms this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

VICE SCANDAL PROBE POSTPONED FOR A DAY

Because the attorney of Lena Barnhart, who is accused by Hattie Smith of being a white slave procurer, pleaded for time in which to obtain witnesses to the effect that the Barnhart woman had been introduced to the girl and had been her benefactor, the recent hotel vice scandal which was to have been given a airing yesterday in police court was postponed until today at 2:30 o'clock. Chief Beavers ordered detectives Tuesday morning to summon C. V. Kistner, proprietor of the hotel Cumberland, to appear in recorder's court and bring the guest register of his establishment. It is rumored that the registers of a number of hotels will be probed within a short while. The case against Elijah Murray, the negro bell boy of the Cumberland, and against J. Cox, the man who figured in the first arrest in the case, were all postponed until today. Each will be given an airing.

SENATORS OPTIMISTIC OVER CROP PROSPECTS

Agree With Representatives Cotton and Corn Outlook Better Than Last Year.

The senators, as well as the representatives of the Georgia legislature, see nothing but bright prospects for cotton and corn crops for this year. The general attitude of the entire membership is indicative of a banner year for Georgia and, while it is hardly probable that the crops will be as good as those of the bumper crop of 1911, at the same time the solons are wont to compare this year's yield with that of two years ago, rather than with the discouraging outcome of last year.

The general consensus of opinion is that while the weather for preparation of the crops was poorer from the first of January to the middle of April on account of the cold and protracted rains, than in many years, at the same time the excellent weather since then for the growing of cotton and corn has given them a good stand, although it has taken several plantings in many instances. These late plantings will necessarily result in a crop that is not so heavy as that of the last stands will be productive of the best results.

What Senators Say.

Senator W. J. Bush, of the eighth senatorial district, stated that in his section the crops, with which he was thoroughly familiar, were above the average. The corn is very good, while the cotton is fair. Senator Grant D. Perry, of Madison county, and one of the largest planters in the state, owning nearly 5,000 acres of land, says that the poor preparation will undoubtedly show its effects upon the crops, but that, in favorable conditions for the next month or two, his section should turn out most favorable crops.

Senator W. E. Spinks, of Paulding county, remarks that it is a little early to make predictions as to this year, but the cotton and corn were both good in his county, and at the present clip there are great prospects for one of the best crops in many years.

Corn Best in Years.

Senator C. M. Tyson, of McIntosh, not much of an agricultural county, states that the corn compares favorably with the past several years in spite of the scarcity of rain. It has been entirely too dry, but with a little more rain the crops will be fine.

Senator W. L. Converse, of Valdosta, was enthusiastic over the condition of corn in his district, and said it to be the finest crop in ten years, while the cotton was way above the normal.

AUGUSTA 10-CENT STORE LOSES $85,000 BY FIRE

Augusta, Ga., July 8.—(Special.)—Silver's 5 and 10 Cent store was swept by fire at 3 o'clock this morning and the stock of goods and fixtures entirely ruined. The total loss is estimated at $85,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Favor Dr. Thurman.

Dr. J. B. Thurman was nominated for council for the tenth ward at a mass meeting of the citizens of Capitol View Monday night, when the resolutions, declaring their confidence in Dr. Thurman's ability to serve the city and to attend to the interests of his ward. The formal resolutions were signed by John C. Shannon, G. W. Cooper and N. E. Lunsford, the committee appointed to draw them up.

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR TRIP TO ATHENS

Mayor Rowe Arranges Special for Legislators Leaving at 8 O'Clock Saturday.

Mayor Hugh Rowe, of Athens, spent Tuesday in Atlanta arranging for a special train to be run from Atlanta to Athens and back on July 12, to take the Georgia legislature to Athens for an old-fashioned barbecue as the guests of the city of Athens.

While in the Classic City the solons are promised one of the most enjoyable meals of the University of the entire chamber of commerce of Athens is busy providing for their comfort and pleasure while their guests.

THE SHADOW OF THE SPY

The senate of the United States has acted none too quick in demanding by what seems to be a narrow vote an immediate investigation of the alleged governmental spy system which has assumed such proportions during the past few years as to threaten one of the mainstays of a free government.

This censorious system has grown so rapidly in a decade that not satisfied with confining its insidious encroachment to the governmental departments it has actually reached out to the judges of the country and worse than that its grasping entanglements have actually laid hold of federal grand jurors.

If this system is permitted to live and grow at the rate at which it has developed during the past decade another ten years will find the country at the mercy of the horde of spies who are being supported by the taxpayers of the country at the expense of the liberty and the freedom of the people.

This is the first time in the history of the country when either house of congress has found it necessary to initiate an executive department which is exercising surveillance of any sort over the judiciary. The action of the senate is therefore epochal and it is to be hoped that it will be followed by the house.

Upon American ideas which have amazed the country from one end to the other. The great body of well known lawyers and judges by whom Judge Emory Speer's address was made referred to a committee. The next day their careful consideration of the case is reported and a resolution was unanimously adopted protesting in the strongest way against this espionage of the members of that branch of the public service whose independence is absolutely essential to the perpetuity of liberty.

To perceive how abhorrent is this Russian system to the principles of free government we have but to compare it with the privileges of the accused as secured in the fifth and sixth amendments to the constitution. The individual is entitled to be plainly informed as to the nature of the charge against him. Here is no information. He may in truth be absolutely in ignorance that the spies are at work. He is entitled to make his defense. How can he when he does not know the charge? He has the privilege of being confronted with the witnesses against him. The disgraced attorneys the revengeful suitors the enemies of high and low degree which every judge is liable to make act in the dark. Their affidavits and statements are given secretly and yet they are made matters of record. They go to desecrate the character. They are placed of file in a great department of the government. No antidote goes with the poison for the victim is wholly unaware. The accused is entitled to call witnesses in his own behalf but how can he when he does not know the charge?

There is no failure on the part of the examiner to let the news go out to the world that the judge is under investigation, and the judicial honor like the purity of a woman, which feels a stain like a wound, is smeared and blackened with no chance of redress.

This suggests only partially the wrongs to the accused, but the graver wrong is to the administration of justice and to those persons and corporations who are often accused of crime upon bare suspicion or baseless rumor. If the fiber of a judge's nature is not of sterner stuff than that of the average man is he not likely to become subservient to the wishes and purposes of the prosecuting officers of the government, and their army of satellites and spies if thereby he knew he could escape the days of misery to himself and agony to his family entailed by an investigation of this sort? The examiner himself is utterly irresponsible. He comes into the community unformed as to the character of the judge. He is directed mainly to those who are moved by malignant motives and possibly by that jealousy which withers at another's joy and hates the excellence it cannot reach.

Worship therefore and well has the senate acted in instituting an inquiry into methods which have shocked the country and met with the strongest reprehension wherever he became known. This is written in behalf of no particular judge. It applies to all alike for there is not one of the last who is free from the shadow of the spy. All are presumed to be innocent until the contrary is made to appear by proof. But this despicable policy presumes them guilty and affords no opportunity whatever to establish innocence.

All are presumed to be innocent until the contrary is made to appear by proof. But this despicable policy presumes them guilty and affords no opportunity whatever to establish innocence.

The same right of investigation—if it is a right exists against a member of the house or of the senate as against a judge. It is the same against the president himself or an officer of the cabinet. Indeed it is the same against such surveillance was instituted not long ago upon the members of congress and we know that right here in Georgia federal grand jurors have been shut down for weeks by government spies.

Indeed so threatening is this system becoming that it involves the very existence of free government itself and nothing that has been brought to the attention of this congress—tariff currency legislation or anything else compares in importance to the necessity for such drastic action as will take this menacing shadow from the hearthstone of American homes.

BEATING THE TAX BUSHES. Some years ago when Kansas applied the acediter to her tax assessments she found that property was being returned at about 16 per cent of its actual value. In a great many counties in Georgia the disparity is undoubtedly much more startling. It is the legislature passes as we believe it will a measure to beat the tax bushes in Georgia it will disclose an astounding condition and it will add two or three millions to the revenue of the state. Elsewhere a correspondent from Sycamore outlines a method he deems just and sensible.

The plan he advances is nothing less than a fine-tooth combing of the state from the standpoint of revenue. It is no new idea but it possesses the virtue of soundness and also of being commended by the experience of other states. In many respects it resembles the Lipscomb bill now pending and drawn up by former Supreme Court Justice Andrew J. Cobb.

He would have a state board of commission of equalizers and he would have county appraisers with an assessor to each congressional district. He would make the state board the court of last appeal as he Lipscomb bill provides.

Whether to go the full bill this session and to fill a new system from a 1 to 2 or to begin this year and make progress next year is a matter for decision. It may be expedient to inaugurate too drastic a reformation at one time. The cure at one dose plan was tried a few years ago in Georgia. So sweeping was the effect that the next legislature lost no time in repealing the enabling act.

But the Constitution does know. In this legislature cannot so home with a clear conscience unless it provides some measure of tax relief. If for no other reason it must proceed to put the state's fiscal system on a sound basis pending the refunding of nearly half the state's bonded indebtedness. That must be done in 1917, but the present legislature must take the preliminary steps. In the present condition of the money market the risk of refunding may be hard enough despite Georgia's splendid credit unless Georgia's financial house is put in order.

In the process of putting this house in order the bushes should be beat and the flocks of negligent citizens now doing less than their duty by the state made to toe the line. Whether this is done piecemeal or at one stroke it must be started now.

TOMORROW'S RECEPTION. The state of Georgia and the city of Atlanta will get closely together tomorrow night at the Piedmont Driving club. The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is giving a reception to the state house officers, the governor and the members of the general assembly.

The idea is a good one. It is well that the capital city and the remainder of the state bring closer the already intimate relations binding the two. It is especially fitting that the movement should be fostered by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

That body has probably done more than any other organization in the state to show the community of interest between all parts of Georgia. In commerce in agriculture in general industry and in development its propaganda has a state-wide emphasis. The reception tomorrow evening should be of material assistance in cementing good will and promoting mutual welfare.

FINE-TOOTH-COMB TAX SUGGESTED FOR GEORGIA

Editor Constitution. I presume that your opinion did paper is read by every member of the Georgia legislature and that some one of that body will grasp the plan which I shall outline if they believe it has merit. Tax reform stands at the head of the list in needful legislation and I have given care and thought to every suggested remedy and believe I have evolved a plan which if adopted will prove a great success.

My plan is for a tax commission in every county which shall be composed of the tax receiver an equalizer and an assessor. There shall be only eleven assessors in the state—one for each congressional district and these are to be appointed by the governor for a period of four years. The equalizers are also to be appointed by the governor from a list of three recommended by the ordinary and tax collector who shall serve for a period of four years.

Let these appointments be made as early after the enactment of the law as possible in order for the appointees to collect information and get matters well in hand before the new year comes in. When the district assessor and equalizer meet with the receiver and fix the value of property there shall be no appeal if our legislators will frame a law that embodies these suggestions then I am confident the state will get an increase of not less than twenty five per cent and no one be wronged. The tax gathering in Georgia is certainly poorly managed and is void of justice and equity. Their minded men willingly pay tax on an honest value of their property while he who owns much but shirks all the duties of good citizen gets a reversal of the finding of equalizers. He gets his friends and neighbors to arbitrate for him and laughs at cheating his country.

The equalizer by going over former returns keeping track of public and private sales of property a mass of information that would aid him in determining values. I might go more fully into details in presenting my plan but believe this unnecessary for if my plan has merit enough to appeal to our lawmakers I am sure there are plenty of brains men in our legislature who can give it power should it be enacted. I am holding their offices by appointment would not be inclined to ponder to the unreasonable exactions of the tax dodger.

The district assessor would have to visit about fourteen counties and he would gain a large store of valuable information by comparison for there is great diversity in tax returns of different counties. The tax receiver and equalizer would have regular times to expect the assessor to visit their county and both would have things such as maps that values could be readily determined. The receiver should not be hurried in his return and should set out a number of all land returned in order that all land returned might be checked up and thus catch up with thousands of acres that have long escaped taxation.

The tax receiver should also inquire of each taxpayer if he had either bought or sold any real estate since his last return and record all such sales. The equalizer should collect all possible data relative to transfers prices offered and asked for property which should be entered in a reference book of information. In just a little time things would work smoothly and satisfactory results would be obtained. I am ready to meet all obligations promptly and pay her old sold acres as much as at least as the paper costs the counties.

JOHN F. TOOLE, Sycamore Ga.

APPEAL FOR STATE-WIDE HIGHWAY COMMISSION

The Manufacturers and Merchants' association of Rome and Floyd county Georgia is mailing printed copies of their good road plan for the state to every chamber of commerce and business organization in the state of Georgia with a request that these organizations sign these resolutions with their full indorsement.

Many of the commercial bodies have done so promptly. Each mail brings to Rome additional indorsements. These indorsements will at the proper time be returned to the present legislature. The resolutions as adopted by Rome call for county sites to county site good roads under a state highway commission with co-operation between state and county. The state and county highways will connect each county site with the county site of each adjoining county. The system will give a network of good roads for the entire state of Georgia, centering on Atlanta.

The theory is a good one if guided purely by a state highway commission and the roads built as near as the cross lines as possible. It is a benefit where we adopt the county site to county site plan as outlined by the Manufacturers and Merchants' association of Rome.

Rome and Floyd county will reap only such benefits from this movement as will be enjoyed by every county in the state. Rome is paying the expense of this campaign and the secretary of their commercial organization is doing the work gratis hoping that every chamber of commerce and other business organizations of the state will come quickly to his assistance by returning the resolutions to Rome properly signed. It has also been suggested that each county send resolutions to their respective representatives in the present legislature urging co-operation along this line. There is no need for delay. This step should have been taken 1908.

It is a matter of Georgia that our lack of system has caused millions of useless expense and brought us no results worth mentioning. If the present legislature does nothing else more than to make provision for the carrying out of this good road plan from county site to county site plan it will have made its name immortal.

LOUIS SPENCER DANIEL, Director Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, Rome Ga. July 7 1913.

A Plea for Pure Tobacco.

Editor Constitution. I have during my business life been a close observer of causes and effects. When people were honest and the greed to accumulate wealth was not so great it was common to observe insects worms etc. with labor. But since the demand for tobacco has grown so great the planters of tobacco and other crops have resorted to crude arsenic paris green and other dangerous poisons as an insecticide to preserve their crops from the insects.

Crude arsenic is to a great extent insoluble hence it is taken up by the tobacco plants from start to maturity. The plants being of rough leaves and stalks the poison is held in an insoluble state is retained on the matured plants where it is to a great extent manufactured and incorporated into all the cheaper grades of manufactured tobacco and then consumed by the masses of the common people. Tobacco snuff impregnated with the paris green is conducive to vice stimulating the passions of the old and young alike.

The remedy lies in the enactment of rigid laws that will forbid the use of the arsenic in any form as an insecticide on tobacco or vegetables in their growth and maturity. The tobacco question should be put under standards of purity and controlled by the pure food and drugs laws.

W. D. REESE, Confederate soldiers Home Atlanta, Ga. July 8 1913.

The World's Mysteries

THE ORIGIN OF OUR FLAG

It will no doubt seem a strange statement to the average American when it is said that the Star Spangled Banner has a history that is older than the present flag of Great Britain which dates from 1801 older than the German Empire standard—1879 older than that of France—1794 or that of Spain—1785 older in fact than any of the present flags of the ancient empires of China and Japan.

In fact it was created during our Revolutionary period in the exciting times of its birth its designers failed to keep a record of its history consequently there is considerable mystery as to just when it was first made. But the reason for this is that like so many other things of its character it had a growth and development rather than a specific starting.

When the Revolution broke out most of the States adopted flags of their own. The Connecticut troops who took part at Bunker Hill had a state banner and the State arms on their flag, with the motto Qui Transiit Sustinet. The Massachusetts troops adopted the words An Appeal to Heaven. Early New York records speak of different standards. The men at Lexington had neither uniforms nor flags but at Bunker Hill two months later the Colonial troops had more the appearance of an army.

Then later were a jolly good fellow. Don't Tread on My Flag. The snake flag was used by the Southern States from 1776 to June 1777. A chain of thirteen links a ring a tiger and a field of wheat were also used as devices.

In October 1775 Washington writes to two officers who were about to take command of cruisers. Please fix on some flag by which our vessels may know each other. The first striped flag is said to have been flung to the breeze at Cambridge, Mass.

Mark Antony's real name was Marcus Antonius but he was a jolly good fellow and even his political opponents called him Mark. He was the grandson of old Marcus Antonius who was one of the greatest orators whom Rome ever produced and who never ate a meal at home during the public dinner season.

It would thus be seen that Mark came of a good family. He got a fine education and picked up all the knowledge that a college boy with a big income can acquire. As a result he mastered Latin with a good knowledge of Latin a fine back stroke with a short sword an irresistible way with women and a thirst which began when he awoke and stayed right on the job.

Mark was born in 83 B. C. and when a very young man helped Caesar eradicate the barbarians in Gaul. He then came home and because he came of a good family and was even his political opponents called him Mark. He was the grandson of old Marcus Antonius who was one of the greatest orators whom Rome ever produced and who never ate a meal at home during the public dinner season.

Antony and Octavius soon enuchered Lepidus out of his share and divided the empire among themselves. Antony took the east half and went to Egypt where he met up with a prominent divorcee named Cleopatra and let his office boy run the empire while he floated around in a canoe at night with his insomniac and made up songs with a guitar accompaniment.

All this time Octavius whose sister had married Antony, was getting madder and madder and finally he came over with plenty of ammunition to speak to Antony as a brother in law. Antony had a date with Cleopatra and told his generals to go to thunder and to ring off when they tried to call him up. His army was beaten his navy sunk and Antony killed himself to escape serious consequences.

The death of Antony should teach us all that when we have talents we should not soak them in alcohol. Nothing corrodes a talent so much as alcohol.

Though lightning damaged John D. Rockefeller's paw he didn't raise the price on the consumer.

Our kept in senators needn't worry Wu Ting Fang is coming, and he can fill out their chautauqua dates.

Washington's headquarters in January 1776 it had thirteen stripes alternate red and white with the blue field in the center. John Paul Jones has left it on record that the "Flag of America" was hoisted by his own hand on his vessel the Alfred the first time it was ever displayed on a man-of-war. No exact date for the Jones flag is given. It may have been before the Washington flag at Cambridge or after but it was undoubtedly before the adoption of a flag by Congress June 14 1777. In fact although we celebrate June 14 as our flag day there seems to be considerable mystery as to whether that is the appropriate date.

According to records Congress adopted a resolution June 14 1777 which read as follows: Resolved That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes alternate red and white and the Union be thirteen stars white in a blue field representing a new constellation. There is not one scintilla of evidence to show who introduced this resolution or whether one word of it was ever used. The resolution was adopted and so it must have had a father but his name is lost to history. While the resolution comes down in history as adopted by Congress that day it was not officially promulgated by the secretary until September 3 1777.

It is claimed that the first using of the Stars and Stripes in actual military service was at Fort Stanwix in 1777 August 2 of that year the fort was besieged by the English and Indians. The brave garrison was without a flag but a flag was made in the fort. The red was from strips of a petticoat furnished by a woman the white was from skirts torn for the purpose and the blue was a piece of Colonel Peter Gansevoort's military coat.

There are several answers to the question What suggested the stars and stripes? Some authorities maintain that Washington found in a coat of arms of his own family a hint from which he derived the flag. This design being two red bars one a white ground with three gold stripes above the top bar. It is not mentioned by Washington himself however although his diaries always carefully kept furnish ample evidences of all other prominent events of his remarkable career.

The United States however is indebted largely to Washington for the flag. The story of his visit to Betsy Ross in Philadelphia in 1776 is well known. It was also the story of how the first young widow with single clip of her scissors demonstrated the feasibility of the five pointed star.

None of the questions in doubt regarding the American flag are settled to the satisfaction of everyone and the third of them in discussion are when was the first American flag as we now understand it unfurled who suggested it and who made the first one that was used?

Not That Kind of Seal. (From The Spectator.) An incident that occurred in the experience of an English officer illustrates the calmness and indifference to death and bodily danger characteristic of the Turkish soldier. The officer accompanied by a guard of Turkish soldiers went to the edge of a cliff overlooking the sea to shoot at a seal that he saw sporting itself in the water. The first shot was a good one and the seal bobbed up and down. The officer was surprised to find that the seal was not dead. He fired a second shot and the seal bobbed up and down. The officer was surprised to find that the seal was not dead. He fired a third shot and the seal bobbed up and down. The officer was surprised to find that the seal was not dead. # LEE BEGINS FIGHT TODAY FOR LIBERTY

Attorneys for Leo M. Frank Indicate They Will Oppose Effort to Bring Him Into Court.

Judge W. D. Ellis on the motions division of superior court set 10 o'clock today for the hearing of the writ of habeas corpus brought to secure the release of Leo M. Frank, the negro night watchman of the National Pencil factory who was bound over by the coroner's jury at the same time that Leo M. Frank superintendent of the factory was ordered to jail.

As soon as it is known that Judge Ellis had denied the order late yesterday afternoon for the hearing Attorney Reuben H. Arnold for Leo Frank made his first move to block the attempt of Graham & Chappell, Leo's lawyers, to get Frank into court to testify at the hearing. Attorney Arnold at once called up the jail and notified the deputies in charge that under the law they had no right to allow Frank to leave the jail.

Frank's Counsel Take no Chances. No order has yet been asked for Frank's appearance, but his defense was apparently taking no chances at his being brought into court with out a fight being made to stop it. The action of Attorney Arnold makes plain that he will fight an order of the court today which Attorney Bernard L. Chappell declares he will ask. Attorney Chappell declared Tuesday afternoon that he would request of Judge Ellis that he lay an instant order requiring the sheriff to bring Frank and James Corley, the negro sweeper in charge of the jail, to the court. The attorney declared that he wished to have them make sworn testimony as to Leo's innocence of the crime and to aid in showing that there was no basis for keeping him in jail.

John Lindsay and Dr. Connally Are Moving Picture Stars in The Drama of Gettysburg

Whenever you see State Pension Commissioner John W. Lindsay and Dr. F. L. Connally sneak off together to a quiet corner exchange a few whispered sentences grin sheepishly, then fall on a guilty silence you will know neither a reason nor a matter of fact, neither one of these two gentlemen know yet just exactly how it happened.

Colonel John as the world knows, is Georgia's commissioner of pensions. He is also a confederate veteran with a record for bravery so glowing as the 21st of June and more friends than the most ambitious counting machine will register. Dr. Connally is also in addition to being a pioneer of Atlanta a confederate veteran who participated in many of the bloodiest battles of the sixties. The two men are about as close knit in friendship as Damon and Pythias.

The lure of the Gettysburg reunion called to them. They decided to answer it in company.

Men Dropped Like Flies. Now Commissioner Lindsay was among those present—decidedly so!—at the battle of Gettysburg. Dr. Connally was then taking pot shots at bluecoats at another point, but he wanted to hear from the lips of Colonel John just what happened on the historic little field.

On the first morning of the reunion they sallied forth together. The doctor was dotted up in his suit of gray tattered and bullet ridden. They made a gallant looking pair with their straight figures, their keen eyes and firm steps. Colonel John was plucking chickens.

Over their doctor he pointed out in the hill we swarmed up just fifty years ago today.

Dr. Connally said the doctor in intense interest and John wanted the fighting fierce.

Pierce snorted the colonel why doctor men were dropping round me like flies. The bullets were patter-patter-patter like a hard hail in the air.

your darn business? What would you have done, anyhow? The aftermath? There was one you know. The girls were the daughters of two New York federal survivors. They had heard this thrilling twentieth century saga. They had simply been caught up by the tone of tenderness and of amity that reigned over and rebaptized the old battlefield. And they couldn't resist the temptation to express their feelings the symbol of affection and admiration as sweet and as pure as though they had themselves been the daughters of these two scarred old warriors.

And that little incident the doctor and the colonel agree was entirely symbolic of the second battle of Gettysburg. Here are some more of their experiences. But the capitulation of the doctor and the colonel to these two daughters of their one-time foe stand out as bas-relief in their memories. And—didn't we say there was a reason?

Loved Us to Death. Since their return Dr. Connally, Colonel Lindsay and the scores of other veterans who went to the reunion have been giving vivid descriptions of their experiences on the resurrected battlefield.

It was a wonderful feast of brotherly love—they just loved my confederates to death was the interesting way in which Dr. F. L. Connally described yesterday his impression of the reunion.

Nothing like it was ever held in the history of the country. It was the greatest demonstration of good feeling and love that has taken place since the war. Why they treated us confederates just like princes—rather like long lost brothers—because they felt upon our shoulders every attention upon us in the power. There were four times as many federals as confederates and it seemed to be their highest aim to make us feel how welcome we were.

Nothing happened to mar the good feeling existing in the camp during the entire reunion.

Loving Cup for General West. There were many interesting scenes and meetings of various kinds on that battlefield. continued Dr. Connally.

One of the most interesting to Georgians was the presenting of a silver loving cup to General A. J. West by the Georgia delegation to the reunion.

The presentation took place before 5,000 people at one of the meeting places that were provided in different parts of the field. When Judge George Hilyer got up before the Georgia delegation to present the cup to General West as a token of their appreciation for the splendid work he had done as commissioner from Georgia, the crowd of 5,000 people gathered in a very few moments to watch the ceremony.

General West himself responded to the presentation speech in an interesting little address. With many different meetings like this going on nearly all the time the battlefield was one of the busiest places in the world during the reunion. There was something delightful all the time. It was indeed an experience which everyone of us will remember always.

Snatched suddenly back from a dream of fifty years ago were the colonel and the doctor to blame for being snatched into fight? They were not.

Happy Ever Afterward. For all Colonel John knew it was a warren mine ball or a frog shell through a wire of a 10 inch shell. And the doctor couldn't have sworn he hadn't been assailed by a desperate junk bent on bearing him to camp for ransom. For a moment it was a question of life or fight.

But the minds flew back to the man in the lap of fifty years. Before them stood the two blinking and beautiful girls. The doctor still peered in that world of light through the honey-silk curtain and the doctor and the colonel. Oh well, it's none of our business.

Chaingangs in Georgia

"I forgave you-- Should you not also have had compassion-- Even as I had pity on you?" --Matt. 18:32-33.

The sun scorched. Men with guns watched. Chained men worked. Shackles clanked. Repeatedly, rapidly, continuously their flying tools crashed and bit into the earth. The heat was hellish. Their haste feverish. Slacken, they dared not. They feared the lash. Four fell and died grading this block in the city street. Driven to death? "Not so," say the guards. "They drank too much of ice water." God knows; He pitied them; He took them from our cruelty. Crucified between convicted thieves, to one of these your Saviour said: "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." And having risen triumphant over the grave, to the Magdalene first of all He appeared. He sought and saved the lost. Paul wrote: "Restore such an one in a spirit of gentleness, considering yourself, lest you also be tempted." For Paul, in the blinding blaze on Damascus Road, had heard Him say: "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?" "Who art thou, Lord?" he cried. "I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest." Hear Him today. To you He says: "Inasmuch as you did it unto the least of these, you did it unto Me. Inasmuch as you did it not, you did it not unto Me." You forget. Something is wrong. The census shows that in January, 1910-- In Georgia's penal institutions were sixty-eight hundred and sixteen persons. To every hundred thousand people Georgia had two hundred and sixty-one prisoners. The average in the United States was only one hundred and twenty-three. WHAT IS WRONG IN GEORGIA? Her prison population was equalled only by that of New York and Pennsylvania with their teeming millions. And those two had fewer per hundred thousand; New York having only one hundred and thirty-seven, Pennsylvania only one hundred and seven, while Georgia had two hundred and sixty-one. Why should we have more than twice the number per hundred thousand that the average state has? The negro? Not so. Our prisoners were twice those of Virginia. Three times the number in South Carolina or Mississippi. More than four times as many as in North Carolina or West Virginia. Of all the Southern States, Texas was second to Georgia. But Texas had twenty-four hundred and ninety less prisoners—only one hundred and eleven per hundred thousand against our two hundred and sixty-one. What is wrong in Georgia? The Grand Jury of _____ county, after a recent investigation, said: "The warden and all the guards were in the habit of keeping and drinking whisky at the camp, particularly on Sunday. "At least one or two of the guards, and probably others of the officers, have been known to be drinking or drunk in charge of convicts while at work on the public highways. "Two of the guards have publicly insulted citizens. "One of the guards has repeatedly been guilty of the grossest infractions of the law. "Immorality of the most revolting character is allowed and winked at, if not actually encouraged by the warden and guards in camp life." And this in Georgia—our home! You know what is wrong. NOT THE WORKING OF PRISONERS ON OUR ROADS! But these festering sores, the convict camps. The stripes, the chains, and worse! The brutalizing of men. No question half so grave confronts the State. Our Legislature should and will free us from our shame.

The bride, a lovely brunette, wore a wedding gown of white satin charmingly trimmed in duchesse lace and pearls, her veil, draped from a lace cap, being caught with a cluster of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of orchids, with a shower of valley lilies.

An elegant reception followed the church ceremony at the residence, which also celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John William Murphy, the date, 1888-1913, woven into the decorations of palms, Easter lilies and southern smilax, which were artistically arranged throughout the house.

Crackers Score Seventh Straight Win

WHIFFS

Deserves Better. BILL BERNHARD'S Turtles have no business floundering around at the bottom of the second division. He has a good ball club, one that is superior to some of those now ahead of him.

Attack Strong. THE TURTLES' attack is strong with a little bolstering in the box, an elimination of some of the errors on the defense and the club will be heard from.

A Great Race. GLANCE at the race that is going on in the Georgia-Alabama league. There's a real pennant chase for you, with a matter of but three games separating the first place team from the last.

Climax by Himself. WHITTY Alpermann, the Crackers' field captain, is in a class by himself in one respect. The way he can get rid of that old baseball is amazing.

Ellected Prelate. ALTHOUGH Maurice McLoughlin, the American tennis champion, lost to Anthony F. Waudin in the challenge round for the English tennis championship, his finish in playing through the tournament eliminated all corners until he met in Waudin, a more experienced, and just as energetic a player.

Lock the Gates. SOMEBODY must get up and close the door leading to the National League pennant race and close it quick and tight. At the present clip the Giants are showing, there will be no heading them for that hunting.

The Result. THE ATHLETICS are running rough-shod over all their opponents in the American league, resuming where they left off in 1911, and it begins to look like the Giants and Athletics again for the world's series.

All Mail. TWO VETERANS, Christopher Mathewson, of the Giants, and Eddie Plank, of the Athletics, stand out holdily in the limelight of the campaign of their teams for another pennant.

The Battles. MATHEWSON and Bender will renew their duels again this fall. Marquard and Plank will tie up in the southpaw duels. Combs may come around in time to battle Tesreau.

Welchance's Big Bat Brings Seventh Straight Victory; Thompson's Debut a Winner

By Dick Jemison. Harry Welchance was the lad who packed the seventh straight victory on his for the Crackers Tuesday afternoon and scored the second straight win from the Turtles.

Harry Welchance scored his 110th hit of the season and is well on the way to break the Southern league record for the most number of hits in a season. Eighty-two more will give it to him, and here's hoping he makes twice that number.

Joe Arler, with two singles and a double, and Tommy Long, with a single and triple, were the other offensive stars for the Crackers. The only other hit that the Crackers got was recorded by Josephus Dunn, but was hindered by Josephus Dunn, but was hindered by Josephus Dunn, but was hindered by Josephus Dunn.

Carl Thompson, the former University of Georgia and Birmingham twirler, made his Atlanta debut and held the hard-hitting Turtles to four bingles, three of which came in the opening session. The other came in the fourth inning when he pitched seven innings, he twirled no-hit ball.

Thompson had a peck of stuff and worked coolly throughout. The most exciting part of the game did not worry him in the least and the Crackers showed that they appreciated his ability to stay steady by going out and pounding in the game for him.

The contest was won from behind. Two runs were secured by the Turtles right off the bat, but it was like lightning when a couple of runs. There was nothing to it, when the wrecking crew, headed by Welchance, really got started.

Glen Liebhardt, of Iron Man fame, pitched for the Turtles, and although he was being touched up rather freely, his management was able to get the ball scattered until towards the close, when the Crackers went right after him, just like they have been going after lots of pitchers this season.

Love robbed Thompson of a hit in the sixth inning, making the star play from a fielder's standpoint for the Turtles. Long continued to pitch his best play of the game.

How They Scored. With one gone in the first inning, Butler crashed one to left for a single, and when Bailey let the ball get away, Williams kept on a nice pretty swing, he popped up an easy one back of second, which three Crackers let drop between them for a hit. Butler clouting. Ward sent Baerwald to third with a single to right and he continued on a force out in a knot.

In the Crackers' second Wallop Smith worked Liebhardt for free transportation and Bland sent him to second with a nice sacrifice. Joe Dunn paced one between first and second for a beautiful single, counting Walsh.

Welchance Wins It. Agler beat out a hit to start the eighth and stole second. Long and Thompson were easy, but Dunn got a free hit on a nice pretty swing of his and taking the first one to his liking, heaced it down the first base line a mile a minute, driving over the runs that were sufficient to win and pulling up at the hot corner, Opeleka he was left.

“Tex” Richards Still Wins; Tuesday's Races Thrilling

Wilder “Tex” Richards, the speed and star State motorcyclist, had everything his own way at the Motordrome Tuesday night. His record of victories remained unbroken.

Tex won his heats in the Walthour sweepstakes and in the Motordrome purse and then copped the finals in both events. He seemed to have a tremendous supply of power that he turned on whenever he desired running past the fastest riders at the track like they were tied to a post.

Tuesday's races were not without their thrills. In fact, every race was closely contested. The final in the Walthour sweepstakes was the classic race of the evening, and up until the last three laps it was a wonderful sprint.

The four riders jockeyed, pocketed, ran their opponents high on the bank and did everything known to the game, trying to win but when the machine was wide open space, Tex Richards shot through like a greased streak and for the last three laps it was just a question of by how far he would win.

In this race, about the tenth lap, George Lockner, the twenty-four-hour champion, was crowded out from here to there and while the great crowd sat breathless for several seconds, he read the white boards that run perpendicular to the wire netting. For at least a quarter of a lap he was forced to ride back before he could come to safety, and when he did the crowd gave him an ovation.

Jack McNeill's J. A. P. sprung some kind of trouble that only Jack can fix. Therefore the speedy Scotchman was not in the money during the night. Rich, second; George Lockner, third. Time, 2:57.

This gave Richards, with the best machine left, a clean field and he made the best of his opportunities. The most pleasing thing of the night's performances was the work of George Renel, the little Frenchman. He has his machine going at a fine clip now and made the pace in every race for the rest of the season.

The next races will be Friday night. Longer races are being planned. The Cracker sweepstakes, started by Manager Billy Smith, of the Atlanta team, will be the feature attraction.

Here are last night's summaries: WALTHOUR SWEEPSTAKES. (Heats, 3 miles; final, 5 miles.) First Heat—Billy Shields, first; Harry Swartz, second; Jack McNeill, third. Time, 2:15 3-5.

Two Birdmen Caught in Storm Plunge Into Lake Michigan

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—Two of the three hydro-aeroplanes which started from Chicago today to fly to Detroit were wrecked on Lake Michigan by squalls and fell into the waves far from land.

Anthony Janus, of St. Louis, and his mechanic, Paul McCullough, were picked up off South Chicago by the steam tug Chicago. Duhon and Johnson, who were flying from Chicago, were rescued near Whiting, Ind., by the South Chicago United States life-saving crew. Janus' machine was abandoned in a squall after the dredger had started to tow it ashore.

The life-savers brought Johnson's craft to shore and he may resume his flight. Beckwith Havens, carrying as passenger J. P. Venplanck, of Fishkill, N. Y., owner of the machine, reached Michigan City in safety, the only one of the aviators originally scheduled to start who made the first lap.

Janus was the first to leave Chicago. Havens followed ten minutes later. Johnson's start was delayed by engine trouble.

Roy I. Francis, of San Francisco, did not attempt the flight to Michigan City, but landed instead at Grant Park, the starting point for the contest. He will start tomorrow in an effort to catch up with Havens.

Havens, who left Chicago a few minutes before 1 o'clock, dropped into the smooth water of Michigan City harbor at 1:43 p. m. The distance is 100 miles. The distance is Macatawa bay is his next scheduled stop.

Johnson remained tonight at Whitworth, Ind., and will start again tomorrow morning. Janus and McCullough are out of it.

WILL CHANGE LOCATION OF REFRESHMENT STAND

Plans for immediately replacing the refreshment stand at Grant Park, which was damaged by fire to the extent of about $2,500, last Sunday morning, will be taken up by the improvement committee of the park board.

President J. O. Conroy called a special meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of conferring with General Manager Dan Carey as to designs and the location of the new building. The latter called on Carey the stand should be located to the lake, at a point diagonal with the zoo.

The comfort rooms will probably be separated from the stand and placed in another section of the park, near the beach.

The board will probably negotiate for a building which will cost about $4,500, but will contract at present only for a section to cost about $2,500. The balance to be paid for with the insurance money.

Charles Chosewood, the lessee of the refreshment stands in Grant and Piedmont parks, has been allowed the use of any section of the park to continue his business during the time the stand is being rebuilt.

THREE MEN INJURED BY LIQUOR EXPLOSION

Peoria, Ill., July 8.—Three men were injured in an explosion in the kitchen room of the Clark distillery, William Denison and Fred Stockel, laborers, terribly burned, will die.

Fire broke out immediately, and gave the firemen a three hours' struggle to keep the flames confined to the one building.

Workmen had just emptied a big copper kettle of high-proof whisky, and accidentally let a block of wood fall into the second. A man was lowered into the vat, and later an incandescent electric light bulb was sent down to him. The bulb struck against the side of the vat, broke, and an explosion of the gas in the kettle followed.

A second explosion followed the first, and for a time threatened the big warehouses.

The loss by fire, it is said, will not exceed $30,000.

WARRANTS OUT FOR NINE AS RESULT OF FLOGGING

Quitman, Ga., July 8.—J. H. Miller, flogged a week ago yesterday for alleged mistreatment of his wife, has sworn out warrants for nine of his neighbors, eight of whom he declares he recognized as the persons who flogged him. The ninth warrant is for Mrs. M. Phillips, sister of Miller's wife, who is said to have given out information that brought about the whipping of Miller. Mrs. Phillips' husband is among those whom Miller charges.

The men for whom warrants were taken out all are well known in this section of the state. They are Hardy Johnson, Charles Johnson, Henry Johnson, Jared Johnson, J. T. A. Williams, W. Willis, M. Phillips and Mrs. M. Phillips.

The flogging of Miller followed allegations that, although his wife was desperately ill, he had driven her sister, Dunce and Sycamore, nearby villages, back and forth by wind.

BARRIER IS WANTED AGAINST BOLL WEEVIL

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, Is at Work on a Plan.

Washington, July 8.—Plans for the federal government to raise a barrier against the boll weevil of the Southwestern cotton states invading the Atlantic coast states are being drafted by Senator Smith, of South Carolina. Secretary Houston, of the department of agriculture, is said to have given the proposition his tentative approval.

Senator Smith's plan is for the federal government, with state co-operation, to prohibit the growing of cotton in a belt which would separate the Atlantic coast states from the southwestern states. As the boll weevil migrates only from cotton field to cotton field, the senator believes this belt would save the states to the east of it from the pest, which has cost cotton raisers to the southwest millions of dollars annually.

According to investigation already made, the narrowest belt where a barrier might be raised would be in Alabama between the mountains near the Tennessee line and the gulf. This belt would be a distance of about 150 miles. The boll weevil already has swept over Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and is said to be traveling eastward into Alabama.

Senator Smith is preparing to urge upon the senate that this narrow belt will be a practical barrier. It immediately action is taken to establish it, if effective, it would protect most of Alabama and all of Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and North Carolina.

The barrier to be effective must be fifty miles wide, it is believed. The growing of cotton in that zone would be prohibited, but the farmers could raise any other crops.

Senator Smith's plan is to have the federal government invest cotton farmers in this zone for not planting cotton. He is investigating the action of the federal government in stopping out yellow fever in Louisiana and the federal government of obligating the farmers in this zone for the conservation of resource in order to have precedents for his plan.

Senator Smith today consulted Senator Kern, of Indiana, the Democratic leader, and won his approval to a plan to accomplish the desired object.

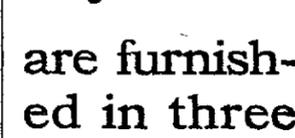

WASHINGTON WOMAN ATTACKED BY NEGRO

Washington, July 8.—Police are searching today for a negro who, in broad daylight yesterday, in a fashionable section of the city, seized Mrs. May Jorgensen, sister-in-law of Senator Poindexter, and of Brigadier General Charles Morton, U. S. A., retired. A number of negroes have been arrested, but the attack was so sudden that Mrs. Jorgensen has been unable to identify her assailant.

The negro's motive is not clear to the police. He came up behind Mrs. Jorgensen as she was approaching Senator Poindexter's house and seized her roughly by the shoulders. A gardener working in a nearby yard started to Mrs. Jorgensen's assistance as she sought to break the man's grip. The negro fled.

Thoroughly frightened, Mrs. Jorgensen entered Senator Poindexter's house, where the telephone was used to advise the police. The latter believe they have the man in custody today.

AS AIRSHIP FALLS HE VAINLY STRIVES TO ESCAPE DEATH

Lieut. Call, of U. S. Army Aviation Corps, Crushed When Aeroplane Shoots to the Ground

EVERY INCH OF DROP HE FOUGHT FOR LIFE

But Fight Proved Vain and He Struck With Such Force Every Bone Was Broken Ninth Fatality in Army.

Houston, Tex., July 8.—Lieutenant Loren R. Call of the United States Army aviation corps was killed in a crash landing of his biplane this morning.

Lieutenant Call was regarded as one of the best army aviators. Yesterday he made a solo flight in a biplane.

Turned Nose Downward The dangerous thing known to aviators is a wing or current is held responsive to the least touch of the

About two hours after sunrise Lieutenant Call made practice landings had risen from the aviation field when he lost the Gulf of Mexico had turned his plane northward away from the water crossing the brown tented army camp and was flying over the treeless stretches near the aviation camp which lies farthest inland.

His altitude at an altitude of about 1,000 feet.

visible to several soldiers who say that it seemed to be running smoothly, and that without warning, it suddenly turned its nose downward and plunged almost straight to the earth.

Fought for His Life.

Spectators said that Lieutenant Call fought every inch of his long drop, first to right the machine and after that was hopeless to save his life. Private Smith of the aero squadron said that the biplane seemed to halt and plunge so abruptly as to pitch Call forward out of his seat. He caught the forward rail with both hands his body dropping down and dangling below the machine. Call was seen to try to draw himself up to the machine by main strength in which to regain the lost seat again. For about the first 400 feet he fought to get back into the machine above him and then gave it up letting go the rail and dropping down ahead of the plane body erect and perpendicular feet seemingly braced to break the shock.

Every Bone Broken

He landed true but the force of the lunge was too terrific for the man's gameness to overcome. Some of his bones were driven through the soles of his feet into the ground and against the taut muscles bones snapped at various places up to his hips. Then the machine came down on top of him. The lieutenant's watch stood at exactly 6:45 a few days ago he fell about 100 feet into the bay in front of the camp but was not injured.

Lieutenant Call was born in Washington, D. C. June 30, 1888, and appointed a second lieutenant in the coast artillery from Kansas September 28, 1909. He was promoted to first lieutenant July 1, 1911.

Call Ninth Victim

Washington, July 8.—The death of Lieutenant Call today makes a total of nine in the interest of government aviation work eight fatalities being credited to the army and one to the navy since experiments in aerial navigation was started with heavier than air machines at Fort Myer Va. in 1908. The list is as follows:

Lieutenant Thomas F. Salfridge dashed to death at Fort Myer Va. September 1, 1908 while flying with Orville Wright who had a leg broken in the fall.

Lieutenant J. M. Kelly ground to death beneath his machine when he struck ground too hard in landing at San Antonio, Texas, May 16, 1911.

Lieutenant Leighton W. Halsehurst plunged to death when a wing of his machine crumpled at College Park, Md. June 12, 1912.

L. L. Welsh (professional instructor) killed in fall at Chicago, September 11, 1912.

Lieutenant L. C. Rockwell killed when a plane refused to work at College Park, Md. September 28, 1912.

Captain Frank S. Scott killed in fall with Lieutenant Rockwell.

Lieutenant Rex Chandler killed when his machine stalled and he became disabled at San Diego, Cal. April 8, 1913.

Lieutenant Joseph D. Park killed when his aeroplane hit a tree at Olive Hill, Md. May 8, 1913.

Ensign William S. Blingley 1,825 feet in the air when a gust of wind hit the machine knocking him from his seat across the steering gear, throwing it out of commission causing the machine to drop in Chesapeake bay several miles from Annapolis on June 20, 1913.

Lieutenant John H. Towers received serious internal injuries in the fall with Ensign Blingley and probably the only man alive able to tell of a fall of 1,825 feet.

In aviation the world over approximately 298 persons have met death since 1908, 78 having been killed during the present year including persons struck by falling air craft.

He Wants to Devote Entire Time to New York, New Haven and Hartford

New York, July 8.—Charles B. Mellen has resigned the presidency of the Boston and Maine railroad according to an announcement made at the New York, New Haven and Hartford offices here this afternoon.

The reason given for his retirement was that he desired to devote his entire time to his position as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Morris McDonald, vice president and general manager of the Maine Central railroad, a subsidiary of the Boston and Maine will succeed Mr. Mellen. It was announced.

MONEY TO SAVE CATTLE, BUT LITTLE FOR PEOPLE

Nashville, Tenn., July 8.—Making the principal address at the corner stone laying for the Galloway Memorial hospital yesterday Dr. J. A. Witherspoon, president of the American Medical Association, termed the action of the federal government in appropriating $3,000,000 for looking after the country's live stock and a mere pittance for looking after the man and woman of the country a disgrace to civilization.

Thank God the speaker said that I happen to be at the head of an association of 93,000 physicians who are making a great fight to prevent disease in this country. And ladies and gentlemen, let me say to you we are not going to stop till the government really realizes that the health of our people is at least as important as that of the live stock.

The new hospital is a Southern Methodist institution to cost $375,000.

BY "TIN-CAN" POST WHITEY RECEIVES LETTER FROM HOME

The "Tin Can" post showed up in opposition to the regular mail yesterday when Whitey Alpermann Atlanta's second baseman and field captain received a message of good wishes that was sent from his home town in Ft. Pa. in a consignment of paint cans billed to the Parlan Paint company Atlanta.

The message was signed "Plumkie" and came from one of Whitey's friends who is a shipping clerk for a can manufacturing concern in Ft. Pa. It was while superintending a shipment of stock that the clerk noticed the Atlanta player.

When the shipment was unpacked here the note was found and delivered to Joseph Hirsch, president of the Parlan company who mailed it to Alpermann with an explanatory note.

Ball players receive all sorts of notes and many that are written on daintier stationery and sent in various ways but Whitey's team mates believe that he has taken the cake for being the recipient of a message sent in the most unique way Whitey prizes his "Canned Message" highly and also the good wishes that it carries with it.

To alleviate the conditions complained of in the case of Winder that town was given two years ago an opportunity to vote herself into any one of the three counties which the legislature had designated for the opportunity.

Mr. Nunnally spoke for Walton county and pointed out that Walton county was no more inclined than Jackson to donate the taxable property needed for the creation of Barrow county.

Let Winder Join Old County

As for Winder's unfortunate location in three counties we could not grant her relief on the score without doing the same for High Shoals which lies in the counties of Walton, Morgan and Oconee. Let Winder vote herself into another one of the old counties. We are willing to that.

Mr. Blasingame of Walton county made the practically the same argument as his predecessors upon the floor against Barrow saying that sentiment in the southern part of the county where he lives is almost wholly against the creation of the new county.

Dr. J. C. Bennett of Jackson presented a petition with 10 signatures of people he said lived in the territory affected by the creation of Barrow county and who were opposed to its creation.

Too Many Counties.

W. E. Simmons of Gwinnett county took the floor and opposed Barrow county. We already have more counties than we need. It would be better to have smaller counties merged into the larger ones instead of creating new counties. I understand that a petition to this very end has already been circulated in Banks county. The time has come to call a halt on new counties.

Mr. Simmons created a mild sensation when he attacked the figures presented by Mr. Toole as misrepresenting the size of Winder's population. He stated that the tax rate in the new county would jump 200 or 300 per cent.

Mr. Simmons charged the Barrow county people with maintaining a lobby at thousands of dollars of expense during the present session of the board of county commissioners of his county would not allow a lobby to oppose the creation of the new county.

When Mr. Simmons accused the Barrow county people of having paid the figures regarding the area of Barrow county and the taxes paid there on he precipitated a tilt of words with Lewis Russell of Winder in which all parliamentary rules were cast to the winds and the speakers were free to speak freely. The chairman's gavel brought a stop just as words were apparently beginning to fall to answer the purpose.

The tranquility of the argument however was immediately broken again when Mr. Toole took the floor in rebuttal of the arguments against Barrow county.

Declares Statement Untrue.

In the contest over the creation of Barrow county the statement that all that Mr. Simmons had said was untrue and accused Mr. Simmons of having represented to the people of the affected territory that taxes would increase to $4 on the $100.

Mr. Simmons was on his feet in an instant and shouted hotly:

I did not say it.

The chair once more interfered.

Mr. Toole produced telegrams from new counties and gave his contention as to the betterment of conditions produced by the formation of new counties.

Candler County's Plea

This concluded the argument upon the creation of Barrow county. Mr. Sills took the floor in behalf of the creation of Candler county.

Mr. Sills argued that Bulloch, Emanuel and Tattnall counties from parts of which it is proposed to form Candler county would remain practically uninjured by the creation of the new county.

Mr. Sills contended that the portions of the counties which were now asking to be formed into a new county were receiving proper attention from the counties of which they are now a part and felt that they could better themselves by being able to work for themselves. He introduced affidavits and petitions backing Candler county in preference to Stone Mountain.

Following Mr. Sills, Judge H. W. Evans waved eloquent in an address in behalf of Stone Mountain county of which at the end of his argument he freely admitted that he was the paid attorney.

After declaring that a cut in the territory in question was inevitable Judge Evans made his principal point that this cut should be made in the county of Stone Mountain. He stated the fact that Stillmore the county seat has six railroad lines radiating from it against one from Metter the proposed seat of Candler county.

Difficult to Reach Coast Seat

He introduced a report of Emanuel county as a witness to the difficulty that people in the affected territory of that county experience in reaching the county seat.

Mr. Deal of Bulloch opposed the creation of Stone Mountain and Tattnall counties principally on the ground that the new counties would have too much territory. He offered little objection provided the eastern line of the new county did not extend beyond the 15 mile point to a small stream in the extreme western part of Bulloch county. He said that the people east of the 15 mile creek don't want to go into a new county. He presented several petitions supporting his state ment.

He was also supported by Mr. Chapman and J. T. Kingery of the 15 mile creek neighborhood and J. F. J. Anderson representative of Bulloch county.

Oppose New Counties.

J. D. Cline of Tattnall county former chairman of the board of commissioners of that county stated that Tattnall was practically a unit in opposition to the creation of either of the new counties.

Dr. Strickland of Tattnall opposed the new counties on account of the tax and school question.

J. B. Kelly of Tattnall and Mr. Turner of Bulloch also opposed the creation of the new counties.

No new speakers or argument was produced in the rebuttals.

SLOW POISON TAKEN BY GROOM AND BRIDE

Englewood, N. J., July 8.—Physicians at the Englewood hospital were hopeful today for the ultimate recovery of John L. Peltowitz and the young woman he says is his bride both of whom are suffering from a slow poison taken yesterday with suicidal intent. They were despondent because the young man's father had cut off his allowance and fearful of separation. The girl bride says she was Barbara M. Kirkman, of Ball more before her marriage. Her fate ment was borne out by her sister.

Peltowitz declined to say where he lived but the girl's relatives said he formerly was a Princeton man.

"The Georgia Junior State" Urged Before Legislators

In the spirit of establishing a state reformatory for boys and girls, supported by adequate appropriations from the Georgia legislature the executive committee of the Juvenile Protective Association appeared yesterday afternoon before the meeting of the appropriations committee of the house.

The Georgia Junior State as the proposed institution is to be called is planned to be established on a large tract of land in Jackson county near Athens to which the Juvenile Protective Association now holds bond for title.

Judge W. R. Hammond who is a member of the committee spoke in the interest of the bill which has been introduced to appropriate the necessary funds.

Rev. Crawford Jackson also read a detailed statistical report comparing Georgia's support of juvenile reformatories with that of other states. The other members of the executive committee present were J. G. Hardman, Clifford L. Anderson, Charles S. Northen, F. C. Callaway, James L. Anderson and Rev. A. R. Holderly.

Reformatory Gets $15,000

The Georgia state reformatory created in 1906 and placed on the state prison farm receives about $15,000 out of the fund set apart for the prison commission of Georgia. Mr. Jackson in his report which was listened to with a great interest.

Alabama appropriated a total of $4,000 for reformatory buildings—three times as much as Georgia while Georgia's assessed value of property in 1912 exceeded Alabama's by over $275,000,000.

South Carolina has already appropriated this year for maintenance salaries and buildings for the industrial school at Florence about $7,000 more than Georgia's reformatory fund besides having a reformatory for negro youth.

The state of Virginia spent for three juvenile reformatories for 1912 $60,441 or more than four times as much as Georgia.

The Idaho Industrial Training School had a biennial appropriation for 1911-1912 for maintenance $86,722 and for improvements for 1911, $22,000 making a total of five times as much as Georgia appropriates while Georgia is ahead of Idaho half a million dollars in taxable property.

Appropriation in Kansas

Kansas appropriated for 1912 a total of $88,726 or nearly six times as much as Georgia but while Georgia has a larger population than Kansas the latter state is the wealthiest of the two.

Michigan's total appropriations for reformatories last year were $355,614 twenty three times Georgia's appropriation while Michigan's wealth is only about 2 1/4 times as much as Georgia's.

A study of these appropriations for the reclamation and training of the neediest class of children in society of the states named puts Georgia in the background or in an embarrassing situation.

Georgia has made encouraging appropriations for her deaf and dumb children her blind youths while municipal governments and private philanthropists have made and are making provision for the sick child and adult all over the state and can boast of supporting as many as 25 orphanages for innocent white orphan children yet the largest class of them all, the strayed lambs or juvenile delinquents potentialities for the wear or woe of potentialities for the wear or woe of class—for this largest and neediest class the very best provision is made.

After Long Debate the Senate Changes Date and Declares It "Dies Non"

In an attempt to save a day for legislative work the Georgia state senate spent practically an entire morning Tuesday quibbling over the question as to whether or not the senate should accept the invitation of the city of Augusta for Wednesday July 16.

The invitation was accepted Monday morning but upon motion of Senator Farver of the forty third the invitation was reconsidered Tuesday morning after a long fight, resulting in a vote of 22 to 13 in favor of reconsideration.

Senator Farver stated that the purpose of the trip was to get the legislature to make an appropriation to the Augusta State Medical college and that it was not right to accept the per diem of the state while the body was on a junketing trip to the various institutions of the state.

Date changed to July 19. Immediately upon the passage of the motion to reconsider, Senator DuBose of the thirty sixth moved that the senate accept the invitation of Augusta to visit the city July 19 which is Saturday and in this way make the visit on a day on which no legisla-tion is usually accomplished.

Senator Farver moved that the motion be amended so as to make Saturday dies non and the amendment was accepted by Senator DuBose. The motion as amended passed almost without opposition although Senator McCreary of the thirty seventh took a very decided stand against the visit and incidentally took a rap at President Andrew M. Soule of the State College of Agriculture at Athens by remarking that conditions have come to a pretty state when we have to go all the way to Canada to get a man who is able to conduct our own school of agriculture.

Payment of Teachers. A bill looking to the payment of the school teachers promptly in the future was introduced by Senator Hixon of the thirty seventh in the shape of a constitutional amendment which would provide for the increasing of the bonded debt of the state. The present section of the constitution reads: The bonded debt of this state shall not be increased except to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or to defend the state in time of war." The measure of Senator Hixon provides that the additional clause shall be added to which would be the purpose of enabling the state to pay promptly when due the salaries of teachers in the public schools.

Would Restore Clayton to Fifth. Senator Hule of the thirty-fifth district introduced a congressional reapportionment measure which would take Clayton out of the sixth district and place it into the fifth district.

A pure paint law was introduced by Senator Harrell of the twelfth which would require the labeling of all containers of paint which lead compounds or mixed paints showing the true per cent of each mineral constituent contained in them.

Senate Bills. The bill of the thirty fifth—To amend the constitution of the state of Georgia so as to place Clayton out of the sixth district and into the fifth district. By Hule of the thirty fifth—To make it a misdemeanor to draw a check or draft if drawn on a bank or other financial institution which has no funds in bank to meet the amount of such check or draft.

RECORDER ORDERS OWLS' CLUB PROBE

Mysterious Shooting Investigated by Court—Woman Released, Captain Thompson Bound Over.

A thorough probe of the Owls' club and of other locker clubs throughout the city is likely to follow the sensational trial in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Lucy Balleu and A. C. Thompson, who figured in the mysterious shooting which occurred in the Owls' reception parlors last Friday night.

After Judge Broyles had advised the detectives who investigated the shooting to probe the club in which it happened to ascertain if it were not being operated in violation of the liquor ordinance he bound Thompson over under $200 bond for carrying concealed weapons.

Thompson is a deputy warden attached to the county convict department. He stated to the recorder that he was legally deputized by Sheriff C. Wheeler Mangum. The bond was given and he will be tried in an early term of the city court.

No Evidence Against Woman. The case against Mrs. Balleu was dismissed the recorder declaring that there was no evidence to show that the shooting was more than an accident. She admitted holding the gun which had fired the bullet but declared that she could not account for its discharge.

Judge Broyles repeatedly tried to question Captain Thompson about his membership in the Owls. He asked if Thompson had an individual locker in the club and if he kept therein his private store of liquors. Attorney for the wounded man met each question with a plea that it was irrelevant.

Such questions have no connection with the trial of this shooting, the attorney would argue. We try everything in this court, Broyles would answer. We want to get all offenders of every nature. It is our duty to investigate these locker clubs and to penalize them if they violate the law.

To detectives Vickery and Hamby and Waggoner who had investigated the shooting the recorder said: I'd advise you to probe this club and if you find anything that smacks of law violation, present it before the police committee of council. This liquor ordinance must be enforced.

Why He Had Pistol. Regarding the pistol which Thompson had carried and with which he was wounded Judge Broyles asked his connection with the county. Thompson stated his official capacity as deputy warden or transfer guard.

What business did you have with a revolver while you were drinking at the Owls club? Thompson intimated that he always carried the gun so long as he was an official of the county.

You were not guarding convicts or prisoners the day you were shot. You were with a lady and I can't see where you needed a pistol. The recorder also gave a severe reprimand to Harry E. Latham of the office of Solicitor Arnold who was in the club at the time of the shooting. The rebuke was given because Latham made no effort to take action for the shooting but instead apparently

EFFICIENCY STAMP ON MRS. LONGSTREET

Senate Committee Finds She Conducted the Gainesville Office Well.

Washington, July 8.—The senate committee considering the nomination of Mrs. H. W. J. Ham for postmaster at Gainesville Ga. in place of Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet was "efficiency, capable and satisfactory" as postmaster. The report includes a letter from Postmaster General Burleson stating that in the naming of a successor Mrs. Longstreet's efficiency was not taken into question.

Mrs. Longstreet testified before the committee that she had no objection to the confirmation of Mrs. Ham but she wished to be heard in her own defense. She stated that she had charge of the management of the post office. The committee last night recommended the confirmation of Mrs. Ham but it was delayed on objection of Senator Townsend until the report of the committee investigation had been printed.

CARRY BOGUS MONEY TO FOOL FOOTPADS. Passaic N. J. July 8.—Learning from experience when they were held up and robbed of $150 in genuine money a year ago Benjamin Goldberg and Julius Kachan organized in a produce business here ever since have carried a goodly quantity of bogus money around ready to fool the next highwaymen they encountered.

Their chance came yesterday when two masked men held up their wagon at the point of revolvers and forced the men to empty their pockets of $10,000 in bogus bills. The robbers fled with the grocer men grateful because their real money—$110—was safe beneath the wagon seat.

Strove to conceal the incident from official eyes. Sheriff Mangum's Position. Sheriff C. Wheeler Mangum who was ill at his residence in the Tower Tuesday afternoon when told of the action of Recorder Broyles in binding Convict Guard Thompson over for carrying concealed weapons took no exception at the turn of the case.

I tell every sheriff when I deputize him said the sheriff "that that does not give him the right to carry a pistol. I tell them that if they want to carry pistols that they should go to the ordinary and get a license for carrying a revolver and then carry the pistol in their hands."

Practically all of the balliffs in the county and in the state carry concealed weapons with them on and off duty and the matter was never held against one of them until the recorder's action in Thompson's case.
