

From The Savannah Press—"The Atlanta Constitution has taken up its summer burden and is once again printing it black and strong that Georgia's school teachers must be paid. Really, this old scandal has gone far enough. Year after year the press of the state laments the shame that the rich state of Georgia is in arrears in its payments to the public school teachers, and year after year the legislature meets, looks sad and returns home to think the matter over. C. Six months' pay is again due the Georgia school teachers. What sort of behavior is this from a state which believes in education and would maintain correct standards of fair and honest dealings among its people? C. The Constitution is right in calling the settlement of this debt 'Georgia's first duty.' It is right in printing this reminder across its first page."

Mellen Charged With Gross Mismanagement and Is Under Indictment for Violation of Federal Law.

New York July 17—Charles S. Mellen today tendered his resignation as president of the New York New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company and all its various or subsidiary lines, including the various railroads, trolley lines and water lines which had become part of the New Haven system under his management.

Announcement of Mr. Mellen's resignation, which is to take effect at the pleasure of the New Haven board but in no event later than October 1 next, followed a long meeting of the directors, most of whom, including Wm. Rockefeller and J. P. Morgan, were present.

The brief announcement of Mr. Mellen's proposed retirement was the only official statement issued. None of the directors would supplement by so much as a word, and Mr. Mellen steadfastly denied himself to all interviewers.

Some of the more prominent members of the board earnestly urged Mr. Mellen to reconsider his action, but apparently without avail. In railroad and financial circles Mr. Mellen's decision will excite no surprise.

Mellen Chosen by Morgan.

Charles Sunger Mellen whose recent management of the New Haven road has given rise to considerable criticism, became president of that system in October of 1907, resigning from the presidency of the New York and Maine Central railroads, at the request of the late J. P. Morgan, who regarded Mr. Mellen as the man best fitted to reorganize the more or less chaotic transportation lines of the New England states.

Mr. Mellen's immediate predecessor, John M. Hall, had managed the road with all the conservatism which marked the administration of corporate affairs, especially in New England, during the previous decade. Mr. Mellen's advent was the signal for a vast scheme of consolidation, embracing not only the New York and Maine Central railroads, but all the leading steamship lines between New York and Boston and intermediate points, as well as various and numerous trolley lines in Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. The capitalization of the New Haven system increased enormously, and continuous outlays accruing from the acquisitions.

Mismanagement Alleged.

The steady decline of New Haven shares in the local and Boston stock market, and the matter of comment for several years, New Haven which for many years sold at and above 200 and for a long period paid 8 per cent dividends and recently went below par in anticipation of a cut in the dividend, which was reduced to 5 per cent.

Alleged mismanagement of the New Haven road and several serious wrecks costing many lives, finally resulted in definite action, and a committee of New England stockholders, led by George Von L. Meyer, former secretary of the navy, was organized to make an investigation of the road's affairs. That committee's experts are

MERRITT ASKED FOR RESIGNATION?

May Quit as Head of Battle Hill Sanitarium Following the Charges of Jesse Shelton.

The report that Dr. W. S. Merritt, superintendent, has been urged to resign as head of the Battle Hill sanitarium for tuberculosis patients, leaked out Thursday, despite reticence of Mayor James G. Woodward and officials of the board of health to discuss the matter.

A complaint to Mayor Woodward by Jesse Shelton, a former patient, that he was roughly treated by Superintendent Merritt is said to be the cause of friction between hospital head and city officials who have supervisory jurisdiction over the institution.

It is positively known that following the Shelton complaint and one or two others to Mayor Woodward, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, and Dr. Claude Smith, city bacteriologist, were urged to take the complaints up with Superintendent Merritt. Two conferences were held. One in the office of Mayor Woodward, and the other in the office of City Bacteriologist Smith.

Judge John S. Candler, chairman of the committee on hospitals and charities, it is said that the second conference. It is said that he agreed with Mayor Woodward that it was necessary to make a change at the sanitarium.

Denial From Merritt.

Superintendent Merritt denied to The Constitution, Thursday night, that he had been asked to resign.

"I have considered resigning my position for some time," Superintendent Merritt informed the reporter. "The city officials seem to think that I am not competent to manage the sanitarium, and I feel that under the present city charter and in view of the financial condition of the city I cannot do full justice to the work."

Superintendent Merritt admitted that Doctors Kennedy and Smith conferred with him about the Shelton complaint. But he vigorously denied that he had been asked to resign. Denials were also made by Doctors Kennedy and Smith. Mayor Woodward admitted that he turned the Shelton complaint over to the health officers and asked them to make an investigation.

Was Dr. Merritt asked to resign?

"Something along these lines," he replied hesitatingly. "I think everyone agreed that it would be best to make a change."

Mayor Woodward stated that it was his understanding that Superintendent Merritt would resign from the sanitarium about August 1.

Shelton's Complaint.

Shelton's complaint to Mayor Woodward was made through a relative living in Atlanta. From the meager details it appears that the youth was a convalescent patient, and allowed the privileges of the recreation room. It was charged that Superintendent Merritt severely reprimanded Shelton because he sat too close to one of the female patients. Shelton, it is said, retorted rather hotly, and was informed that he must obey the rules of the institution or leave. He left at night, and soon after complained to Superintendent Merritt, according to reports which are verified by his own statement, to allow Shelton to return to the hospital. He asserts that Shelton was abusive.

Judge Candler, who is chairman of the hospital committee of council, would not discuss the matter except to state that a complaint had been made and that Drs. Kennedy and Smith had been instructed to take the matter up with the superintendent.

Superintendent Merritt has been in charge of the sanitarium under three administrations. He came here from Baltimore where he had charge of a sanitarium.

Despite the handicap because of lack of funds, he has made the sanitarium one of the finest in the south. Recently he courted an investigation of complaints made through the Anti-Tuberculosis society. In investigating committee exonerated him. It also commended his managerial ability.

The salary of the superintendent is $1,500 a year. When an increase was asked for recently the finance committee turned it down. Doctor Merritt informed the committee at the time of the refusal of the request that he would be forced to resign.

Law and Order League Obtains Injunctions Against Two Clubs and Sheriff Makes Raids.

Macon, Ga., July 17.—(Special)—Macon's law and order league began its campaign today to rid Macon of saloons and locker clubs, under the plan used by Hon. Seaborn Wright in Rome.

Application was made by the league to Judge Mathews, of the superior court, for an injunction to restrain the Teutonia club, in Wall street alley, Ed Cassidy's saloon, on Cotton avenue and Charles Bekakes' saloon, opposite the Southern railway depot, from operating. Immediately after the application was made raids were made by the sheriff on each of the three places. At the Teutonia club whisky was seized, and whisky was also found in the Cassidy saloon. Only beer was found at Bekakes' place.

The petition of the league asks that the three places be closed permanently, and Judge Mathews has cited the proprietors to appear on August 1 and show cause why they should not be permanently enjoined from operating. Upon the outcome of these cases depends the future operations of the law and order league. If the club and saloons are closed by the court, then the same steps will be taken against every other club and saloon in Macon.

The application for injunction is based on the contention that the clubs and saloons are a nuisance. Attorney R. D. Feagin has been engaged by the league to conduct the prosecution. The law and order league was organized several weeks ago, and regular meetings have been held since that time, where the work to be carried out has been planned. It is said that the league not only plans to fight the clubs and saloons, but will go after other kinds of vices alleged to be prevalent here, including the restricted district of the city.

Secretary of War and Party Are Entertained on Brief Inspection Trip to Fort in Atlanta.

Atlanta Viewed in a Day.

"I would not say Atlanta is a city of the north, or south, or east, or west. It is a truly cosmopolitan city. It is alive. It is throbbing with activity. This was my first visit here. And I was greatly pleased."—Secretary of War L. M. Garrison.

"I have been in Atlanta before, but I was surprised at the wonderful changes. Atlanta is a great city. I know of no city of its size in the country which can surpass it for enterprise."—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, U. S. A.

Secretary of War Garrison's favorable inspection of Fort McPherson yesterday seemed to indicate that it will be retained as a brigade post. This was the secretary's first visit to Atlanta, and the first stop made on his tour of inspection of the U. S. army posts throughout the country.

Accompanying him were Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, Major General J. B. Aleshire, chief of quartermaster corps, Captain S. J. Bayard Schindel, of the general army staff, and W. T. Pedigo, Secretary of Garrison's civilian secretary.

The party arrived in Atlanta direct from Washington early Thursday morning, and breakfasted at the new Hotel Ansley. General R. K. Evans, of the department of the gulf, stationed in Atlanta, and Lieutenant Albert J. Tucker, took them immediately to Fort McPherson, where Colonel J. T. Van Orsdale, commander of the Seventeenth infantry, personally escorted them about the garrison until 11 o'clock, when an informal reception was given on Colonel Van Orsdale's veranda, all of the post officers being presented to the officials.

Secretary Garrison and his party inspected every portion of the post, going through the various lines of defense, and seemed greatly interested in the manner in which the garrison is conducted.

Peace Condition of Post.

Whitely would not commit himself to the enlargement of the post, he said: "I found that everything at Fort McPherson is admirably conducted. Such a post is a credit to the country." In their inspection tour

CHAMBERS FOR HEAD OF MEDIATION BOARD

President Wilson Selects Men Who Will Arbitrate Railway Wage Disputes.

Washington, July 17.—President Wilson late today selected William L. Chambers, of the District of Columbia, to be commissioner of mediation and conciliation, under the Newlands act, and G. W. Hanger as his assistant.

Their names will be sent to the senate tomorrow. The other two members of the new board will be Judge Martin Cassidy of the United States commerce court, and Louis E. Post, assistant secretary of labor.

Immediate confirmation of the president's nominations is expected. Democrats and republicans in both houses of congress joined hands Tuesday to put through promptly the Newlands bill with the hope of averting the threatened strike of 80,000 conductors and trainmen on eastern railroads. The roads and their employees had agreed to submit their wage dispute to the new board of mediation and conciliation.

The board is a permanent institution to aid in the adjustment of disputes between railroads and their employees, and the act creating it provides elaborate machinery for carrying out the work. The commissioner and his assistant will devote all of their time to their new duties, but other two members of the board will retain their present positions and act as mediators only when called upon.

Judge Chambers, chosen to head the board, was at once named chief justice of the national court at Samoa, and since 1901 has been a member of the Spanish treaty claims commission. He has had considerable experience, however, in arbitrating labor disputes. In 1910, he was selected as a third arbitrator of the controversy between the International Brotherhood of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. He was selected for this task by Dr. Charles I. Neill, then commissioner of labor, and Martin A. Knapp, then chairman of the interstate commerce commission, who were the other two mediators under the Erdman act.

Mr. Hanger, who is to be assistant to Judge Chambers, is chief statistician of the bureau of labor statistics, and acting head of the bureau since the resignation of Dr. Neill. He, also, has had much opportunity to familiarize himself with labor controversies. He has been chief statistician of the bureau since 1907.

Judge Knapp is presiding judge of the United States commerce court and for a long time has been identified with arbitration movements on the part of the government. Since the creation of the new board was contemplated, he has been looked as certain to be one of its members.

Mr. Post is the assistant secretary of labor and as an editor and writer has long been an advocate of the 80,000 Trainmen Will Strike if Roads Insist on Arbitration of Grievances at Same Time as Demands of Men.

New York, July 17.—The 80,000 trainmen and conductors who threaten a strike against the eastern railroads will not agree under any circumstances to have the roads' grievances arbitrated at the same time as the men's demands for better wages under the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act, according to a statement issued tonight by W. G. Lee and A. B. Garretton, presidents, respectively, of the trainmen's and conductors' brotherhoods.

Mr. Lee, in a verbal statement supplementing the formal one, declared that if the railroads persist in their present stand to have their own grievances arbitrated, it is absolutely certain that a strike will follow.

The formal statement of the trainmen was sent as a letter to Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of managers. It was prepared as a result of a meeting of the trainmen's committee of 100 held today to consider the announcement of the roads last night that they intend to have "all questions" incorporated in the agreement to arbitrate.

The trainmen declare in their letter that the railroads, in insisting upon arbitration of their own grievances at this time, could have not selected no other way of settling their wage demands for the service. The sincerity of the roads is questioned by the employees, who point out that prior to the mediation conference with their president last Monday no intimation was given by the roads that they proposed to air their demands before the federal arbitration body. The present attitude of the roads is characterized in the letter as a "flagrant violation of faith."

Copies of the letter that the trainmen submitted to the roads tonight were mailed to President Wilson, every member in the senate and the house and to all the conferees at the meeting attended by the president.

The employees said tonight that they will wait only for the senate's confirmation of the president's appointments today before insisting upon a conference forthwith, at which they will present their wage demands. If the roads then submit their grievances to the federal board, the men, so they declared, will decline to sign the arbitration stipulation and will strike instead.

Mr. Lee and Mr. Garretton expressed satisfaction at the "pernicious" mediation and the "conciliation" board

NEW SUBCOMMITTEE TO REVISE MEASURE

Representative Akin Reads and Praises Constitution Editorial to Members of Ways and Means Committee.

If the ways and means committee of the house can get together this afternoon and Chairman Akin is making every effort in his power to get the committee together, the bill reported Wednesday will be so amended as to provide for equalization of tax assessments among the counties in the state.

Since the split came in the committee Tuesday on the question of a state board of equalizers, Mr. Akin has been using every means in his power to reconcile the conflicting factions, which he fears will endanger the cause of tax reform at this session of the legislature, if it is allowed to break out on the floor of the house.

A more conciliatory spirit was shown at the meeting of the committee yesterday than appeared at Wednesday's meeting, and, at the extremity of both sides, it was thought to be possible something might be done. The possibility that the committee may be able to give its united support to a bill.

Chairman Akin feels that it is most necessary to the success of a tax revision measure this year that it have the united support of the committee behind it. He has himself worked out a plan, embodying the principle of county equalization, on which he hopes the friends of tax revision can get together.

Constitution's Editorial Read.

The chairman of the committee paid a high compliment to The Constitution and the work this paper had done for tax reform. In laying his views before the committee, he read with approval from the editorial of Thursday's paper captioned "A Beginning." He agreed with the editor of The Constitution that a beginning had been made in tax revision with the provision of county boards of equalizers. He also agreed that the committee

ATTORNEYS NEAR CLASH IN CRAWFORD HEARING

Use of the Words "Nefarious Scheme" Riles Rosser—No Change in Criminal Charge.

A personal clash between attorneys in the Crawford litigation was apparently about to break out Thursday when Attorney Luther Z. Rosser, on the stand to testify in regard to a previous settlement of the affair, declared that any further mention of the settlement as a "nefarious scheme to defraud the right heirs of the late Joshua B. Crawford," would be taken as a personal affront.

Auditor James Anderson, who is conducting the hearing, refused order in this juncture and the affair blew over.

Luther Z. Rosser, Colonel P. H. Brewster and J. J. Barge were the attorneys connected with the settlement for the Crawford heirs, or so-called heirs, as Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford's attorneys name them, and afterward Colonel Reuben R. Arnold declared that the affair was made satisfactory by the statement from Colonel J. S. James that no personal insinuation in regard to the attorneys was meant.

No change in Criminal Charge. The charge was made during the day in regard to the criminal charge against Mrs. Crawford on the ground that she and Fred Lumb, a New York barber, conspired to poison her aged husband and get his wealth.

Exactly what he meant by the statement the attorney did not explain, but further charges of a similar nature are expected.

It is expected that Colonel James will close the plaintiff's testimony and introduction of evidence today, and the defendant, Mrs. Crawford, will be put upon the stand to make a statement in denial of the charges made in the suit filed to get possession for Charles Z. Crawford and a number of relatives of her share of the $250,000 estate of Mr. Crawford who died in 1909, at his residence, 674 Peachtree street.

WORDY WAR OVER, SAYS WOODWARD

In Final Fling at Broyles the Mayor, Declares He Is Through With Controversies With City Officials.

The word war raging between Mayor James G. Woodward and Judge Nash R. Broyles, police magistrate, which grew out of the mayor's use of the pardon prerogative, grew tense yesterday, when both sides hurled bitter excoipations at the other.

Mayor Woodward took a final fling at Recorder Broyles in a statement last night.

"I sympathize with Broyles," Mayor Woodward said. "He is, in my opinion, a political accident. No one takes him seriously. He is mad with the courts for reversing him, and he is trying to take it all out on me. Really, I am sorry for the fellow."

The mayor announced that he is through with controversies with any city officer. He stated that in the future he will welcome criticism when it is made to him, face to face.

Neither Secretary Garrison nor General Wood would commit themselves on the Mexican situation. Speaking to a Constitution reporter the secretary said: "President Wilson sent for the Mexican ambassador in order that he might ascertain the true situation in Mexico. As you know, there have been many rumors current within the past few months. As to what action he shall take I cannot say. That is for him to decide."

Freeman Still in Stockade. An anecdote of all, Grif Freeman, the blind tiger, who was the cause of all the rough stuff between the mayor and the recorder, languishes in the stockade. And the chances are that he will remain there. His only chance of freedom lies in his ability to get a lawyer to sign up about $5,000 in bonds.

Mayor Woodward's statement in reply to Recorder Broyles' criticism of his pardoning Freeman brought forth a hot reply Thursday morning from the recorder. In addition to the statement quoted Recorder Broyles denied the statement of the mayor that he was frequently reversed by the court of appeals.

The record of May 23, 1912, shows that the court of appeals reversed, on that day, ten cases which were decided by Judge Broyles. On that same day the court affirmed seven of his decisions. Two of the affirmed cases were against the same man. The fines ranged from $25 to $500.

Discussion is Distasteful. "This entire discussion has been distasteful to me. I am trying to keep down friction in the city administration, but it appears that some people are determined not to let me alone. Judge Broyles has brought this all on himself, all because of his desire to act the little czar. The mayor's office has been the place for dispensing clemency since Atlanta was Martinus's city. The charter gives the executive of the city the records of Broyles' cases through his littleness, desires that those who come before him must appeal to him for mercy. He has dealt with those poor unfortunates of the underworld so long that he is beginning to imagine himself supreme."

now at work on the company's books. Mr. Mellen is under federal indictment for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws and an indictment for manslaughter, resulting from the Westport, Conn., wreck also is hanging over him.

It is known that an influential factor in the board favors the sale of the company's water lines and many, if not all, of its trolley roads. It is believed the New Haven also will relinquish control of the Boston and Maine road.

Financial Condition of Bond. According to an exhaustive examination made by the New Haven system its assets are estimated at close to $500,000,000 against liabilities of $394,000,000.

Mr. Mellen's retirement will open the way to much conjecture regarding his successor. This name most frequently mentioned in the connection is that of Howard Elliott, head of the Northern Pacific road, from which Mr. Mellen resigned to accept the management of the New Haven.

Way Mellen Resigned. Boston, July 17.—According to interests close to President Mellen, one reason he has given for resigning was the apparent disposition to hold him, as president of the road, responsible for acts which might be committed by an engineer or other employees of the company and of which the president might be without knowledge. It is said, he felt that having a wife and children he would not face the

OPEN TRUCKLING TO THE COMBINES LAID TO ROOSEVELT

Lobby Probers Told That the Colonel Tried to Please the "Interests" to Get Support for Taft.

DIRTY DEAL CHARGED AGAINST "UNCLE JOE"

Late Vice President Sherman Is Quoted as Denouncing Roosevelt for the Fight Made on Cannon.

Washington, July 17.—Martin M. Mulhall, late "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers, was put on cross-examination today about the truth of his own correspondence for the first time since nearly a week ago, when he began to tell the senate investigating committee of his doings.

ator said he wanted to prove who was telling the truth, Mulhall or McClave. Many letters from McClave identified many letters from Mulhall to himself, written in 1908, said he went to the sixth district to help McClave fight Hughes, and gave details of his work there. He said the National Association of Manufacturers furnished him with $2,500 for this fight and that a man named "Barber" put up $2,000. He told about taking McClave to lunch and dinner, about riding with him around in cabs on political hours and in other ways helping out in the fight. One item in an expense account Senator Reed put in the record spoke of "dinner for two" and the witness was asked who was the other person.

"I think it was McClave; he was always on hand," said the witness. Mulhall swore he took McClave around to shops in the district. He said they went to one shop and the superintendent said he would rather give $500 than let them in. "McClave growled all the way home because we didn't take them on and try to get the help afterwards," he added.

Such a "fight-plated" was. "The last three days of the campaign he and I slept together," said the witness once, illustrating how close he was to McClave. Mulhall said McClave was in the lumber business, and members of the committee wanted to know if he didn't have money. Mulhall said he heard so. "But," he added, "I have been campaigning for thirty years among all sorts of men and I never saw such a tight-fisted man in my life."

Mulhall said he furnished headquarters and paid for McClave's meals three times a day. "What did you want to elect such a man for?" he was asked. "The only way I can explain it," said the witness. Mulhall said a man named "Barber," collector of internal revenue at Paterson, had been paid by him $40 a week "regularly" for services in this campaign.

The testimony about McClave was a climax to a rather sensational day, even for the committee that has waded through almost daily sessions for nearly two months. In five hours Mulhall identified hundreds of letters, bringing in the names of dozens of the most prominent men in the republican party in 1908, and speaking familiarly of making platforms, throwing influence to men for nominations to all sorts of offices and of working to elect or defeat others for congress.

Trust-Truckling Laid to Roosevelt. Some of the letters introduced dealt with former President Roosevelt's endorsement of the candidacy of Mr. Taft, then secretary of war. In a letter to Schwedman, secretary of the manufacturers, in April, 1908, Mulhall quoted the late Vice President Sherman as saying that the fight then raging on Speaker Cannon was a "dirty deal" by the white house against the speaker.

"Watson states," wrote Mulhall, "that the president (Roosevelt) is moving heaven and earth to nominate Taft, and that he is willing to sacrifice the Sherman law and every law to please the trusts and please Wall street, so that he can get their support for his candidate."

One of Mulhall's letters detailed a conversation with Senator Beveridge, in which the Indiana senator declared himself for an injunction bill, amendment of the Sherman law and a child labor bill. Mulhall wrote that he reported Beveridge's sentiments to Hemensway.

"Beveridge is not very big now, but will grow smaller right along if he keeps on that kind of talk. He need not try to bluff us. We have been in the game too long."

$10,000 ASKED FOR GEORGIA STATE FAIR

President of State Agricultural Society Says This Much Is Needed for Prizes.

In an argument before the appropriations committee of the house of representatives yesterday in behalf of an appropriation of $10,000 to the State Agricultural Society for prizes in connection with the Georgia state fair, Hon. John T. Williams, president of the society, called attention to the small appropriation asked for only an absolute necessity because the State Fair cannot be made a success without this appropriation.

"The small appropriation asked for is only an absolute necessity because the State Fair cannot be made a success without this appropriation. One fellow in the Georgia state fair said he would like to see the state fair more than one hundred times as much as the appropriation asked for would stop the wheels of progress for years to come."

Georgia has made generous appropriations for the purpose of making exhibits at St. Louis, at Chicago, and at Jamestown, and the appropriation now asked for, for an exhibit within the fair, is only one-third of what was appropriated for Jamestown, St. Louis and Chicago.

It is recognized that the state has not at the present time an adequate system of agriculture, and it is recognized further that the general assembly must act with caution in making appropriations, but it is suggested that the general assembly should not oppose any other appropriation that while favoring this appropriation should not oppose any other appropriation that would be for the benefit of the state.

The agricultural is the foundation of the state's welfare. Whatever stimulates and encourages him, benefits every interest in the state. Another thing, the appropriations for foreign exhibits have been the same for all years outside of the state. Every dollar of this appropriation will be spent within the state, and will create the state one dollar, and will create the state one dollar.

LEE FINALLY DIES OF SUICIDAL BULLET. NEVER EXPLAINED

W. B. Lee, treasurer of the Mutual Light and Water company, who on last Friday put a bullet through his head with suicidal intent and who has since been lingering between life and death, passed away at his home this morning.

No hope has ever been entertained for his recovery by the attending physicians, his death always having been considered a question of time. Necropsy has sent the bullet crashing through his brain has he regained full consciousness.

On one or two occasions Mr. Lee received sufficiently to recognize his wife and other members of the family and has uttered one or two sentences, but never has he referred to the shooting. Why he ended his life is a mystery which will probably never be solved.

DARING BIRDMAN FLIES AT THE ISLE OF PALMS

William Luckey Voyages From the Isle to Charleston and Returns.

Isle of Palms, S. C., July 17.—(Special.)—William S. Luckey, of New York city, a Curtis aviator of wide reputation for skill and daring, will make exhibition flights from here to Charleston and return and also at the beach on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, reserving his best stunts for the crowds that throng to the beach from all parts of South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia on Sunday.

Mr. Luckey has brought a hydro-aeroplane with him in order to demonstrate what the latest idea in flying machines can accomplish on water as well as on land, and his machine is capable of developing a speed of 125 miles an hour, with the wind. This is the first time that the hydro-aeroplane has been seen in this part of the country, and in the south, with the exception of Florida. Visitors are expected to visit the Isle of Palms this week from far and near to witness the daring flying feats that Mr. Luckey purposes to accomplish, if a fatal accident does not interrupt his plans.

On Sunday he will give the visitors to the Isle of Palms a novel demonstration of the possibilities of the hydro-aeroplane in life-saving work. He will show how a drowning person can be rescued from an aeroplane. He is under contract to deliver the mail daily from the Isle of Palms to the Charleston postoffice, making the trip of eight or ten miles over ocean and harbor to the city ferry wharf of the Charleston-Isle of Palms Tractor company. His machine has both water and land gears. It is of the same model as is used by the United States and foreign nations in naval exercises.

Chamberlin - Johnson - DuBose Co. ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS Now for the Once-In-A-Year Event 'The Half-Price Sale' Of Our Finest Embroideries Flouncings, Bands and Points of Rare Beauty The Selling Starts at 9 O'Clock Today is the once-in-a-year day for buying embroideries—the day of the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s disposal of their choicest imported embroideries. The ranking embroidery event that Atlanta knows! It is not surprising that we should hold such a sale. A clearaway at this season. It is quite logical that we should dispose of all these embroideries while they are still fresh, that when the next season starts, we shall start with entirely new stocks. You expect that of us. But it is surprising and out of the ordinary that we should have the temerity to go at the disposal in such a determined fashion—by halving prices. Therein lies one difference between this and many embroidery sales; another is the embroideries themselves. They are those exquisite affairs that the women of Atlanta naturally turn to Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. for at regular prices, ranking among the most beautiful that come from Switzerland. Fabrics as soft and sheer as looms can spin them, embroidered in amazing patterns at one time as lacy as gossamer, again heavy, rich, gorgeous. Some of them are even hand embroidered. There are flouncings, 45 inches wide that were $3.50 to $17.50 a yard. There are bands 4 to 10 inches wide that were $3.50 to $12 a yard. There are embroidery points—to match the flouncings and the bands—that were $3.50 to $12 a yard. Mulls, Crepes, Voiles, Batistes mostly—and you will get a new idea of how sheer a fabric can be woven once you see these—and linens. A few tans and blues, mostly white. Half-price. Why, it will pay women to buy for next spring! And doubtless many will, once they see the rare beauty of the embroideries. THE COUNTRY TEACHERS.

The rich state of Georgia would have no cause of complaint if the thousands of
 its country school teachers raised behind
 it the pursuit of—
"STOP, THIEF!"

For in effect Georgia has been pilfering
 from its country school teachers since the establishment of the public school system
 forty-four years ago. The common sense definition of thievery is the unlawful retention of money or property. Georgia is guilty on two counts. In the first place,
 she makes her country school teachers
 wait for ten to twelve months for their meager pay, and where they get it in advance it is at a discount of from 8 to 25 per cent. In the second place, 50
STRAIGHTENED ARE GEORGIA'S FIN-ANCES BY HER BEGARLY TAX SYS-TEM THAT STATE OFFICIALS ARE FORCED EACH YEAR TO VIOLATE THE CONSTITUTION BY DIVERTING FUNDS
MEANT FOR THE TEACHERS TO NAKED PURPOSES OF UPKEEP. So that our state officials are by exigency forced into
 the role of LAW-BREAKERS.

This condition is bringing Georgia into disrepute before the entire civilized world.
 The state is being mocked by her neighbors.
 Describing the lesser shame of other states,
 The Birmingham (Ala.) News shows that Georgia reaches the pinnacle of reproach,
"IT IS ONLY IN GEORGIA, IN SOME RE-SPECTS THE RICHEST OF THE COT-TON STATES. THAT THE COUNTRY
TEACHERS ARE TREATED WITH CON-TEMPT."

That is a blistering indictment, and it is wholly undeniable. What teachers are being treated with contempt? The city school teachers? No. The city counties have their own system. The city teachers are paid—and they are paid on the dot. It is THE RURAL SCHOOL TEACHER, the teacher that is educating the child of the farmer, that is molding the minds of the backbone of the state's population, that is treated with contempt, penalized, thrust
 aside, made to shynock her pitiful pay.

Another remarkable feature of the situation is the attitude of those counties with their own systems and, therefore, practically independent of the belated state funds. These counties do not suffer when the state shamelessly repudiates or postpones its obligations. They would not benefit substantially by the abolition of the old system of chronic arrearage, for their teachers are promptly paid. Yet so strong is their spirit of state pride, so keen their resentment of having Georgia placarded before the nation, so strong their resentment
 of the injustice to the state's employees
 that they have not entered one word of protest against the temporary additional tax levies of one mill one year and half a mill the next needed to put the state even
 with the country teachers.

If there really were two sides to the issue, which there is not, it would be logical
 to expect the city counties that take care
 of their own teachers, to raise a protest against the extra levy, which will benefit them only indirectly. Yet we hear no protest from them. Their attitude speaks in their legislative and senatorial representatives.

 As a matter of cold fact, no county
 would be perceptibly penalized by these extra levies. The effect would be virtually infinitesimal. But its result would be to wipe out the dishonor of more than four decades. The legislature does not settle whether the tax shall or shall not be levied.
 It does not assume that responsibility. All it is asked to do is to let the people settle the question at the polls. We do not see how any legislator who has due respect for the innate honesty of his constituency can blink the issue. We do not see how any legislator can with a clear conscience deny
 to the people of Georgia the right to lift a stigma that brands the whole state.

THE SPY RECALLED.

The department of justice, has recalled
 the "investigator" that has been trailing Judge Emory Speer. Two unofficial interpretations of the action are offered. One is that the department is in haste to make its report. The other is that indignant sentiment throughout the country has caused it to recede from its act of espionage.
 We hope the latter construction is the correct one.

It is to be doubted if the layman knows
 the true menace in the situation. It is not simply the federal judiciary that is involved, and it is not simply Judge Speer with whose fate we are concerned. But we do confess to alarm when the government
 assumes such inquisitorial rights as may
 at any time lay open to attack and destruction the character of any private individual
 without at least giving him the chance for a hearing.

If with no open scandal or known derelictions
 reglably lodged against an official occupying the high office of judge, he can be pilloried by a criminal investigation—
 what about the citizen in civilian life? Is there any guarantee that the forces that thrust suspicion upon a judge will not also thrust suspicion upon a business man, a banker, or a professional man?

Organized espionage helped to crush the last administration. A democratic administration cannot afford to nurse such a menace.

IN JUSTICE TO PENSACOLA.

The people of Pensacola, Fla., are really
 performing a patriotic service in repelling
 the attacks made upon the fitness of that city as a naval base. Elsewhere we reproduce
 a letter sent by S. E. Dobson, president of the Pensacola Commercial association, to a Philadelphia paper. It seems that for the past few months three or four of the eastern cities maintaining navy yards have centered their fire on Pensacola. The incident grows out of the plans of the navy department for a reorganization of navy
 yards and the elimination of a few with the idea of more effective centralization. It is becoming apparent that in the process one or two of the eastern establishments may have to go, while Pensacola stands a good chance to be retained and enlarged. This danger has roused a corporal's guard of eastern newspapers to action, and they have been unfairly misrepresenting the facilities of the Florida city. When they are asked to make correction they manifest reluctance
 to do so.

President Dobson's arguments regarding Pensacola are correct. Its location is ideal,
 especially with reference to the Panama canal. Its port facilities are splendid. It is less than 300 miles from Birmingham,
 where there is an inexhaustible supply of steam coal. The climate of the vicinity compares favorably, the year round, with that of any of the sections already boasting navy yards.

The Constitution regrets to see the issue of sectionalism raised in this manner. We fear our eastern contemporaries have been just a trifle culpable on that count. If ever the navy is to be 100 per cent efficient and
 pork barrel methods are to be discarded
 a beginning must be made and some sections will be penalized. Pensacola is not to blame if it offers to the nation a site profect against legitimate criticism. And those who seek to disparage the cause of the Florida city must realize the weakness of their propaganda, since they must resort to misrepresentations, such as seems to have been the case in the instance under discussion.

Secretary Daniels may be depended
 upon to do the fair thing in the premises.
 He has visited Pensacola recently and exhaustively investigated conditions there.
 While he has not committed himself, there

FELONY VS. MURDER.

The general judiciary committee of the house is reported reluctant to approve a bill making felony of pistol-toting. There are some mighty good lawyers and mighty
 good citizens on this committee, and they are probably acting with due and consentaneous deliberation.

But, surely, something must be done to stop this deadly and jungle practice in Georgia. Ordinary means have failed. We have depended on them, and pistol-toting
 steadily increases.

We do not know if pistol-toting should be made a felony. But we respectfully suggest to the committee the pistol-toter is invariably a potential murderer.

By a possible prosecution for felony,
 which may stop pistol-toting; or by a sure
 prosecution for murder, which cannot possibly resurrect the dead man or provide
 for his widow and orphans?

How is society and the state best served?

JUST FROM GEORGIA.

Song of the Impatient.

I'll leave the dim valley and climb the high
 hill
 As soon as they settle the tariff;
 I'll plunk down the dollars and settle that bill.
 As soon as they settle the tariff.
 My great grand children will toll
 'round my chair
 And stroke the last strands of my snowy-
 white hair
 And wonder how came the Methuselah there,
 As soon as they settle the tariff.

II.
 The moon'll be blind and the sun'll be cold
 As soon as they settle the tariff;
 The earth will go tottering—stupidly old.
 As soon as they settle the tariff.
 The sky will be painted with ominous red;
 The last word of all to the world will be
 said.
 While the trumpet of Gabriel rouses the
 dead,
 The day that they settle the tariff!

Talk about yer seashore, where mad the breakers foam, there's lots of watery pleasure for the happy stay-at-home; take
 side in invitin' with its cool and placid
 breast; churn the water into billows and imagine all the rest! No high hotel rates worry you where life is full and free, an'
 you're not jest' about as happy as you 'lowed
 you'd ever be!

Red-Hot and Still Heating.
 It must be as hot in Houston as the place that breaks out in Texas occasionally,
 for Jud Lewis sings, in The Post:
 "Another wish that I have, don't scoff,
 Is to loosen my flesh and to take it off,
 An' hang it over a fence near by,
 An' sit around in my bones and sigh
 As the wind comes breezing across the flats
 An' cools and caresses my spine and slat
 To sit that way an' drink lemonade,
 You're not jest' an' made in the shade,
 And feel it splash on my spinal col,
 An' splash an' spatter my ribs, by goll!
 A feller's a fool for to wish that way—
 But he can't help doin' it a hot day."

May Think They Deserve It.
 The Worthing Baptist Herald says:
 "The pastor will be glad to know of sickness in the homes of members of the church."

The Bishop Pleaded "Not Guilty."
 Here is a somewhat lively story of an old manuscript in the Bodleian library at Oxford. The manuscript has this warning:
 "This book belongs to St. Mary of Robert's Bridge; whose ever shall steal it, or sell
 it, or in any way alienate it from this house, let him be anathema maranatha Amen." Underneath this a later owner has written: "I, John, Bishop of Exeter, know
 not where the aforesaid house is, nor did
 I steal this book, but acquired it in a lawful way."

His Vacation Wants.
 "What'll you take?" they asked him.
 "For to make you more at ease?"
 "An' offer, straight,
 For a lecture date,
 For to drive the team wolf from my gate—
 A little more platform, please!"

Harmless Now.
 "Folks 'round here wuz allus lookin' for him to make trouble, in one way or another," says a weekly exchange, "and the town never felt secure while he wuz loose
 in it, so they sent him to the legislature,
 and recent news from that body says that he ain't doin' any harm there at all!"

Political Forecasts.
 "I don't know what I'll do for an issue,"
 said the perpetual candidate, "when they
 settle the tariff and the currency problem!"
 "Don't worry," said the early voter, "the women will be running for congress, then
 and you'll be renting stumpticks for Men's Rights' clubs to meet in."

One Thing Lacking.
 He's a knowledge-box—got a powerful
 sight.
 Kin tell the weather—when the wind blows
 right!
 "Sure," he says, "as the rains descend,
 There a pot of gold at the rainbow's end;
 An' you'd better rise an' sell yer land,
 For the end of the world is close at hand!"
 Philosopher's fame—'he's sure to win it.
 But fer makin' a livin', he jes' ain't in it!

In His Own House, Too.
 He said the Billville youngster, "I want to be a legislator, like daddy."
 After a moment's reflection, the mother
 said:
 "Better wait a while, honey, till he makes
 something like a record."

A Story of the Moment
 BY WALT RAYSON.
 THE FRENCH FRENCH FRENCH
MASCULINE BEAUTY.

"Well, I for one am glad that Skimpington
 has quit patronizing this boarding house, remarked the melancholy boarder.
 "I couldn't eat my vittles with any comfort
 while that man was at the graining board."
 "I can't understand why you all seemed to have such a prejudice against Mr.
 Skimpington," said the landlady. "I thought
 him a perfect gentleman."

"The departed Skimpington was too beautiful, Mrs. Jiggers. He always was so clean-shaven and immaculate in what he took his place at the table the rest of us became painfully conscious that our whiskers were leaking, and that our neckties were far from being best sellers. If a man is naturally beautiful, it is a great handicap, but it is a thing
 that he can't get rid of, and it deserves some sympathy. Beautiful men never are popular with their own sex, Mrs. Jiggers, for it's hard to be beautiful and reasonably modest at the same time, and the man who lacks
 modesty can't hope to enjoy the confidence
 of other men like life insurance agents
 and distributors of sewing machines."

"As I remarked, the man who is born
 beautiful may be tolerated to some extent,
 but nobody has any use for a man like Skimpington who is determined to be radiant regardless of expense. He never had a thought for anything but his looks; he never read anything but the works of Lil-lan Russell; he couldn't converse about anything but the broken hearts of ladies
 of high estate who yearned to be his bride;
 and he turned in vain. Shall the fact that he paid his board in advance reconcile us to a creature of that character? Perish the thought, Mrs. Jiggers."

"He spent most of his time before his mirror, and he had more little boxes and bottles than a successful variety
 actress, and he was always doing something
 for his complexion; and our greatest thinkers and writers, including Darwin and Huxley, agree that the man who worries about his complexion is a cheap shate. That's why I never expect our women to kaisomine
 themselves and train cunning little curls to grow down on their blessed foreheads, and
 much of the feeling against the suffragists
 is due to the fact that they are neglecting their hair and faces. No sooner does a woman convince herself that the cause
 is the only thing that matters, than she quits shaving herself and bleaching her nose
 and combing her hair. As a consequence the suffrage women all seem to belong to the mud-fest variety, and if we have no
 soap time we mustn't let those females
 look at them."

"The man who considers the toilet the most important of human affairs is quite as disagreeable as the woman who doesn't.
 Whether it be Skimpington or not, his hair he had the works of Euclid and other mathematical treatises at hand for consultation. When he made the parting down the middle I felt quite sure that the hairs on either side were exactly equal in number. I never saw that parting, Mrs. Jiggers, with any other man, and I have no doubt
 here to verify my theory. I have no doubt that Skimpington went to sleep with his whiskers in curl papers, for no human whiskers ever waved and crinkled naturally like his. And he had his vest pocket full of little boxes and bottles, and was always using them on those whiskers. And his teeth were entirely too pearly. The man who wishes to enjoy the confidence of his fellow boarders should have yellow teeth.
 And his neckties always sat just right,
 and his hair was so perfect, and I have no
 doubt that he used a theodolite when he adjusted his neckties."

"And yet, Mrs. Jiggers, you speak of such a man as being a perfect gentleman merely because he paid in advance. Your mercenary spirit causes me frequent astonishment
 and grief."

A Matter of Regret.

(From The New York World.)
 It is with the most profound regret that we have to note the position into which the secretary of state has drawn himself and the explanation now given, which only makes it worse.

Whether Mr. Bryan can afford to take a prolonged vacation at just this critical time
 for the administration and his own high
 office may be a question, but a minor one.
 Whether, under the frankly admitted circumstances of personal fortune, he can only afford a money-making vacation must be left to the question, with the great masses of the people whose life he has lived in sympathy.

The real question is whether the government for such a position as his may not justly claim an undivided service, and whether any other view is compatible with a worthy ambition. We have had men in high office who have sacrificed personal fortune to render such undivided service and could afford it. We have had many more men who have done this and could not get it.

We cannot think of the president of the United States doing otherwise. We should not be able to think of any of his cabinet
 doing otherwise.

Why He Worries.

 We hardly know which is the greater
 pest the new county agitation or the boll weevil.

 MYSTERIES OF WAR

DID MARSHAL NEY DIE IN AMERICA?

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)
 Every reader is familiar with the greater part of the life of Marshal Ney, whom Napoleon himself nicknamed "The Bravest of the Brave." He was in every respect the most brilliant of the cohorts of Marshals
 which the great French general had gathered around him. His bravery was especially signal in the terrible retreat of the French army from Moscow.

When Napoleon was overpowered and sent into exile on the Island of St. Helena in 1814
 and the Emperor of the Bourbons, King Louis XVIII. At the return of Napoleon from Elba the command of the royalist army was confided to him, but when Napoleon summoned him to his standard as the bravest
 of the brave, he could not resist and went over to the emperor.

Ney was second in command at the battle of Waterloo, where he fought with desperate tenacity till night and defeat came,
 and he was compelled to flee. Five horses were shot under him and his clothes were torn with bullets. Contrary to the general amnesty that was decreed, the Bourbons
 ordered his arrest, he was condemned to die
 on December 7, 1815, the sentence was carried out by a squad of soldiers in the Luxembourg Gardens.

This is the official story regarding the end of Marshal Ney. It would appear in all respects to be true, and very strange is a contradictory story which has been widely circulated, to the effect that the soldiers who fired at Ney used blank cartridges, that he fell, bleeding to death, and that he was carried away to a cell, from which he escaped the same night, rode to Bordeaux

Pensacola Refutes Yarns Against the Navy Yard

S. E. Dobson, president of the Pensacola (Fla.) Commercial association, has written letters to several northern newspapers regarding against misrepresentations regarding Pensacola's fitness for a navy yard. The fight grows out of the plan to centralize
 the government's navy yard facilities, and a few northern cities are attacking the Florida
 port. Mr. Dobson refers to the superior location and coaling facilities of Pensacola.

Its Advantages.
 Following is a typical letter:
 Editor—Your paper of July
 3 contains an article headed "Fight to Keep Navy Yard," which contains some unwarranted statements in regard to the Pensacola navy yard.

The "sand dunes" on which, according to you,
 the Pensacola navy yard is built, are peculiar in
 that they are covered with trees, the navy yard containing one of the most beautiful live oak groves to be found anywhere.

The navy yard has some of the most modern
 buildings and equipment to be found anywhere, notably its powerhouses, machine shops, paint shops,
 pedance and electrical repair shops and self lift.
 The yard was very active from 1902 to 1910, doing much building and repair work and employing about 1,000 men. The colored command of the Coast Guard were here stationed before the head of inspection for shore stations, that the defense of the Pensacola navy yard from a hostile fleet was "easy."

A representative of a coal company, which mines
 12,000 tons of coal daily, testified before the same board that his company could put 25,000 tons of coal into Pensacola within 72 hours. And this is only one of many Birmingham companies doing business here. That city is only 250 miles by rail from Pensacola, and is the center of a coal
 and iron district not exceeded in this country.

You have a navy yard or six others at Pensacola,
 Boston, Newport, New York and Philadelphia—five
 on a little stretch on North Atlantic coast—and yet
 you grow excited and indignant when the present administration proposes to consolidate the rest of the country. You want to consolidate and centralize
 all the "coaling stations" must be on a little strip
 of North Atlantic coast.

The things that are likely to happen to interest
 the navy and marines will happen down this way,
 not near you, so why shouldn't naval and marine
 facilities be consolidated here instead of so far away? Especially since we have so many advantages of location, climate and health over you.

Will you kindly publish this correction? Sincerely yours,
 C. E. DOBSON,
 President Pensacola Commercial Association,
 Pensacola, Fla.

TEXTBOOK QUESTION DISCUSSED BY M'NAIR

He Denies There Is a School Book Trust as Has Been Alleged.

Regarding the school book controversy Professor I. L. McNaair, of the Lanier High school of Macon, submits the following:

Macon, Ga., July 17.—Editor Constitution. Because I have devoted the greater number of the years of my life to school and college work as an educator, I feel that I can offer the public some facts and suggestions concerning the textbook question that is now agitating the legislature and the state, without fear of having my views misunderstood or misrepresented.

The plan to supply textbooks proposed by Hon. C. R. McCrory, of Shelby county, is a well-considered proposition, although many of Mr. McCrory's aids have so far been presented to the public, it seems that most people have been led to believe that the proposition has only one side. There is a general impression that there is a "school book trust" which controls all the textbooks used in all the schools in the United States and that this book trust has the people of Georgia by the throat and is forcing them to purchase school books at exorbitant prices or at prices higher than those paid elsewhere in this country. Nothing could be further from the truth. The Publishers Weekly, which is a trade journal of all the publishers of the United States and is the supreme authority in all matters relating to the publication of books, including school books, gives a list of more than 150 publishing concerns that are in part or whole devoted to the manufacture of school books, each of these concerns being absolutely independent of all the others. The books in use in the public schools of Georgia by contract with the publishers are as follows:

- Readers—Grand Literature, First and Second Readers (Charles E. Merrill company), Leo Reardon's Readers (American Book company).
- Arithmetic—Wentworth's Practical Arithmetic (Ginn & Co.).
- Grammar—Hildreth's Two-Book Course in English, Book 1 and 2 (Houghton Mifflin company).
- Geography—Perry's Elementary Geography, Perry's Higher Geography (Ginn & Co.).
- History—Hildreth's History of the United States (Scribner Publishing company), Field's United States History (American Book company), Evans' History of Georgia (American Book company).
- Agriculture—Huntley's Agricultural Culture (Publishing company).
- Physiology and Hygiene—Hutchinson's Lessons in Physiology and Hygiene (Charles E. Merrill company).
- Peterman's Civil Government (American Book company).
- Primer—Whitney's Standard Primer (Wheeler & Co.).
- Spellers—Branson's Speller, First Book (H. F. Johnson Publishing company), Seventh's Word Book (American Book company).
- Writing—Writing Book Series, seven numbers (Charles E. Merrill company).

The books in use in Georgia as cheaply as they are anywhere else in the union, and they are books of the highest quality both as to contents and style of manufacture. Most of the books are superior in every respect to the Ontario books. The truth is, unless forced to do so by some such process as obtains in a monarchy or a dependency of a monarchy such as Canada, no state of the United States would use the Ontario books even for a single day. That the Ontario books are cheap is true. Indeed, that is the only recommendation that they have, but that recommendation surely is the counterfeit of a recommendation of unexcelled suitability of the Georgia state books for the purpose for which they are intended. The general impression that the Ontario books cost nothing more than the prices printed on the backs of the books made by the government of the province has to pay a large sum of money for the preparation of these books, including engravings and plates, before they are put in the hands of publishers for printing and sale. I have before me a letter from Professor James L. Hughes, chief inspector of education, Toronto, Canada, under date of June 17, 1913, which briefly explains the Ontario plan of securing cheap books. The letter is as follows:

"The textbook system of the Ontario government education department works out as follows:

"The education department of the province has an editor-in-chief, who, under direction of his chief, plans the textbooks to be published. He secures such editorial assistance as he requires, choosing from among educational leaders of the province, or course taking specialists in the particular department about which the book treats. Under his direction the editorial work is completed for a book and the plates of the book made, the government paying all charges, including illustrations. When the plates are ready for publication the government asks the publishers of the province, or anyone else who wishes to tender for the publication, to send in tenders for the rate at which they will agree to publish a book of the exact size required. Specifications for the publication are given in detail, including paper, binding process, quality of cloth, etc. The lowest tender

ACCEPTED. THE HOUSE THAT SECURES THE RIGHT OF PUBLICATION HAS AN ADVANTAGE EXCEPT THE COST OF PRINTING AND BINDING THE BOOK.

The government specifies in the tender form that certain discounts shall be given by the trade to school boards in quantities of 1,000 copies.

"In two cases, at least, the books are published for the government at less than cost price. Two very large departments store one of them the largest in the world, tendered. The T. Eaton company got the tender for the readers. They have their own printing plant, and they get the immense advertising, so that their advertising cost them very little. The other house has no printing plant, and they undertook to publish the arithmetics for less than the printer charged them in order to get the advertising."

Now, it must be apparent at once that if Georgia is to secure such prices for textbooks as those that obtain in Ontario, the state must first make a large appropriation for the services of an editor, for engraving, and for making the plates. When this is done, it will quickly be seen that it is impossible to secure for Georgia schools first-class books at any such prices as those that prevail in Ontario.

In the forty-first annual school report, 1912, prepared by Superintendent of Schools M. L. Brittain, there will be found, on pages 34, 35, 36 and 37, a statement regarding school books. This statement includes a proposition from the Byrd Printing company, state printers for the manufacture of certain books now on the Georgia state list and others on the Ontario list. The Byrd company's proposition includes merely the printing and binding of the books, excluding the sum that must be paid to editors, and for engraving and making the plates. This proposition shows to any practical printer beyond doubt that it is impossible to get, under the conditions that prevail in Georgia, any such prices for textbooks as those that prevail in Ontario, but that the contrary, when all is said and done, the price of books prepared under the Byrd company's proposition would doubtless be as large as those that now prevail for books on the Georgia state list, or even larger.

The press of the state has been billed for months with the wildest statements regarding the total cost per annum of school books in Georgia. Mr. McCrory himself has repeatedly stated that the gross sum paid for textbooks was as large as one million dollars a year. Others have stated that the sum approached $2,500,000 a year. The facts are so different from these wild statements as to make such figures as one million dollars or $2,500,000 ridiculous. In the office of State Superintendent Brittain may be found Superintendent Jerm. M. Pound's report showing the total cost of all state textbooks sold in Georgia for the first 5-year period under the state uniformity law, the amount being $719,024.91, or an average per annum of $143,804.90. Superintendent Brittain's report will also be found sworn statements from the publishers that have contracts with Georgia to supply textbooks, showing the gross sales of Georgia state textbooks from January 1, 1909, until June 1, 1913, a period of four and one-half years, the total amount being $655,673.81, or an average per year of $131,134.76. If to this sum be added $50,000, the cost of all other school books sold in Georgia during this four-and-one-half year period, which those who are familiar with the facts declare to be larger than the real figures, it will be seen that the total school book bill of Georgia for the past four and one-half years has not exceeded $1,957,705.29. How completely different are these figures from the gaudy figures of Mr. McCrory and others who have not taken the trouble to get the facts!

But I have taken the trouble to get a statement of the cost of school books in Mr. McCrory's own county, Shelby, during the past four and one-half years, and my figures may easily be verified by anybody who may care to ask me for the source of my information. During the past four and one-half years there were sold in Shelby county school books costing $1,319.55, or an average of $494.52 per year. Now, is not that a tremendous bill for school books? I think it all together likely that there may be found more than one citizen of Shelby county whose cigar bill has cost in the neighborhood of $494.52; certainly more than one Shelby county farmer can be found whose yearly guano bills have exceeded that sum; and yet, in spite of these ridiculously low figures for the cost of school books, what a mighty noise has been made in this state for months past over the so-called robbery of the people by the "book trust!"

In view of such facts as I have herein made public, will not the legislature make a serious mistake in either the original McCrory bill, or the substitute said to be pending in house education committee, before this whole matter of the manufacture, supply and cost of school books is fully investigated by a committee appointed by that body? Who such haste to railroad a bill through the legislature and put upon the state the burden of publishing textbooks? What possible good reason can there be for passing any bill of the subject before a thorough investigation?

KINDERGARTEN BILL IS FAVORABLY REPORTED

Compulsory Education Bill Also Approved by Senate Committee on Education.

The senate committee on education reported favorably on two important bills yesterday, the kindergarten bill and the compulsory education bill. Upon both measures the vote of the committee was unanimous so that the bills be reported to the senate.

President Randolph Anderson, of the first district, opened the argument in favor of the kindergarten bill and introduced George J. Baldwin, of Savannah, who is president of the Kindergarten association of that city and who has practically supported the kindergartens in that town for the poorer classes for several years.

Among those who favored the passage of the measure in the committee room were Mrs. E. B. Smith, of Atlanta, representing the laboring women of Georgia; Miss Carol Oppenheimer, of Savannah, principal of one of the kindergartens; Miss Walleat Allen, connected with kindergarten work in Atlanta, and C. H. Barnes, of Atlanta Kindergarten association; Mrs. Robert Zahner, Mrs. James R. Little and others were present advocating the measure.

What Bills Require.

The provisions of this act simply allow the public schools of the state to create a kindergarten department wherever it is practical and wherever it is desired by the schools.

The compulsory education bill requires that children between the ages of 5 and 12 and those between 14, who are not regularly employed, attend school at least twelve weeks out of the year and require of all children an education equal to a common school education through the fourth grade. Its restrictions and children may be excused from this schooling by the school board for any good reasons tendered by them.

Fight Over Seamy Bill.

The temperance committee of the senate yesterday reported favorably on the bill of Senator Seamy which attempts to enforce the enactment of the provisions of the Webb law in Georgia. When this measure comes up for its passage a merry fight is expected to be fought between the prohibitionists and the anti-s of the senate.

Senator Keas's bill making it unlawful for any farm laborer to unlawfully abandon his contract before completing it with intent to defraud his employer, was reported favorably by the committee on agriculture.

A wholesale revision of the rules of the senate was made when the rules committee's report was adopted. The most important provision is the selection of the author of the most of the changes made a similar revision of the house rules in 1909.

$5,000,000 "MELON" FOR EXPRESS PEOPLE

New York, July 17.—The directors of the American Express company decided today to distribute among the stockholders of the company 45,000 shares of the stock of Wells-Fargo & Co., with a market value of nearly $5,000,000, which has been held by the company for several years. As there are 130,000 shares of American Express stock, one share of Wells-Fargo will be allotted for each four shares of the American company's stock. The American Express company obtained the stock several years ago, when it was purchased as part of an agreement whereby it contracted with the Union Pacific railroad for extension of its service over that line. The purchase was made by the directors with the intention of ultimately distributing the Wells-Fargo stock thus obtained.

SHUTDOWN FAVORED BY NAVAL STORES MEN

Lakeland, Fla., July 17.—Naval stores operators from all parts of south Florida held a convention here today, at which a resolution was adopted which calls for the closing down of the industry on August 15 in order to revive the business and raise the price of the products. This resolution will be presented to a meeting of the operators of Florida and Georgia, which is to be held in Jacksonville next Monday.

AMERICUS INFANTRY GOES TO ST. SIMONS

Americus, Ga., July 17.—(Special.)—The Americus light infantry, fifty-five strong, under command of captain James Fort, leave tonight for the state encampment at St. Simons, as one of the commands of the Second regiment. The Columbus Guards join the Americus company here, both belonging to the Second regiment.

Forty Miners Killed.

Palermo, Sicily, July 17.—A sulphur mine near Castel Termini caught fire today while many miners were at work. There was a terrible struggle to escape from the deadly fumes and it is estimated that forty of the men were killed.

CANDLER LOSES OUT BY A NARROW MARGIN

Call for the Question Cuts Off Debate, Killing Chances of Passage.

While the constitutional amendment for the creation of Candler county, which had been favorably recommended by the constitutional amendments committee, came before the house Thursday morning with fair prospects for passage, by a vote of 33 yeas to 30 nays it failed to get the constitutional majority of two-thirds, and was lost, mainly because a call for the question suddenly cut off debate before the opposition had opportunity to present its side to the house.

Mr. Wohlwendler, of Muscogee, who called the question, stated that it was not his intention in so doing to create a condition of unfairness by shutting off debate, and that at the proper time he would bring it before the house for reconsideration.

Some half dozen or more local bills had just gone through the house with the alacrity of a greased pig, when the question of Candler county came up. Mr. Myrick, chairman of the committee on constitutional amendments, and several other members of the house had spoken in favor of it, when Mr. Wohlwendler moved the previous question. His motion carried apparently before the house had realized what its effect would be, and instantly there were objections from all parts of the house. Motion to reconsider, unanimous consent and all parliamentary machinery was called into service, but it was found impossible to reopen the discussion of the amendment.

When the Question Was Put.

When the question was put this committee, cutting off all appropriations to the house, was filed in the house Thursday. The governor has asked for this bill as early as possible and the matter is expected to be taken up by the house shortly.

COMMITTEE HEARING FOR DRAINAGE BILL

Only $5,000 Asked for Measure That Would Add Millions to State's Wealth.

A bill by Representative Akin, of Glynn, appropriating $5,000 for a preliminary survey of the swamp lands of Georgia with a view to their drainage was considered by the appropriations committee yesterday. The survey is to be made by surveyors of the federal government and, if the state appropriates $5,000, another $3,000 will be added by the United States.

Mr. Akin, who is president of the Georgia Drainage congress, appeared before the committee to argue for the bill. J. V. Phillips, an expert surveyor of the government, and State Geologist S. W. McCallie also appeared before the committee and told of the great things that could be accomplished by the bill.

No special appropriations were acted upon by the committee yesterday, but several members have expressed themselves in favor of the Akin measure and it stands a good chance of a favorable report on its merits as a business proposition.

BILL PROVIDES GRAND JURY STENOGRAPHERS

It is provided that the stenographer shall take the usual oath required of grand jurors, and that the evidence taken by grand juries shall be deemed competent to be admitted in any trial court of competent jurisdiction.

The Definition of "Gold-Filled"

Gold-filled means two layers of solid gold stiffened with a layer of metal alloy between. It makes a firmer case than solid gold, and it costs much less.

If the two plates of gold are heavy enough the case will wear for many years. But irresponsible manufacturers are tempted to roll the gold layers to a mere film. There is nothing to prevent such manufacturers from stamping "Guaranteed for 20 years" inside a brass case washed with gold. Many jewelers buy and sell by such guarantees. It is a matter of history in the trade that a large number of factories making such cases have gone out of business in a few years, and such guarantees are worthless.

Crescent and James Boss filled cases have been made by the Keystone Watch Case Company for fifty years. They make some of the finest solid gold cases manufactured.

We sell and guarantee these filled cases, and if you buy this quality you are absolutely protected.

Our $15.00 12-Size Watch.

We fit a 12-size open-face Elgin or Waltham movement in a 20-year Crescent case—giving you choice of three styles—for $15.00. If you can't visit the store and examine our Watches, write for our illustrated watch and jewelry catalogue, or for a selection of watches for examination.

For Tax Reform, Men and Women Should Work Together

By Mrs. Hugh M. Willet

On the front page of Tuesday's Constitution the clever cartoonist pictured an attractive young woman teacher standing at the gateway of her rural school grounds, gazing wistfully into the beyond. She asks the pertinent question: "I wonder what they are going to do for me?" She holds in one hand a Constitution, with leading headlines across the paper, "Georgia Legislature in Busy Session," and in the other hand an empty pocketbook. The zopher declares the state's shame, "Not one cent in six months." "Waiting" is the significant name given the picture.

Direct Call to Men and Women.

Is not the artist's presentation of this much-discussed subject, "The delayed payment of the teachers," a direct call to the men and women of Georgia to right these long-existing wrongs?

Do we not all agree that one of the best assets of a state is the large body of men and women teachers to whom is entrusted the molding of its children? Surely they deserve a better fate.

The isolated rural school, on week days, was dimly lighted, no glass windows, and only wooden shutters as a protection from the storms. There were no modern seats or desks, only the long low benches without backs, such as are used in primitive country meeting houses. The teacher bore no outward signs of fitness for her work. She lacked neatness; her mental vision was dwarfed; her horizon was bounded by the mountains.

OUR PRICES HAVE BEEN REDUCED 20%

On account of the fact that we expect to move to our new store, 49 Whitehall street, about August 15, we have reduced the price on practically everything in our store. With the exception of a few pieces of silver, Howard and Hamilton Watches and Waterman Fountain Pens, the prices on that which is so splendid in quality are not to be equalled.

Georgia can never reach that pinnacle which is her rightful heritage until illiteracy is driven from her boundaries. Until the masses are educated, we can never hope to obtain conditions ideal. Education is dependent upon legislation, and legislation is necessarily controlled by the body politic—the masses.

Most Work Together.
Before the general assembly there are a number of constructive bills of vital concern to Georgia's present and future prosperity. Men and women throughout the state who are interested should work together to have these bills passed. This can be done by giving active support to their legislators.

Foremost among those of great importance are the compulsory attendance bill, the kindergarten bill, the prompt payment of teachers, and corrective home-for-wayward girls. The keynote to the complete success of each of these hinges, to a marked degree, upon the tax reform bill.
When this last bill goes in the statute books, and local taxation is enacted in all the counties, Georgia will then take her proper place as the Empire State of the South.

Dance at Country Club.
In the beauty of the night, the sojourners and the good company assembled, the guests assembled at the Country club of the Capital City club forgot the temperature they had left in town last night and enjoyed the third of the series of dinner-dances being given during the summer season. Dinner was served on the porch, each table ornate with flowers. The

... again yesterday and before the end of the afternoon the temperature had reached the highwater mark of 96 degrees. This is the highest temperature for July, and higher than any other since that mark was reached on June 28.

The entire day was hot from 3 o'clock in the morning when, after a night during which the minimum temperature was 75 degrees, the mercury registered 80. The high temperature of 80 degrees at that hour of the morning breaks the record for the present summer.
From breakfast time on, the weather continued hot and by noon the thermometer in the government bureau registered 80 degrees. It was at 3:30 o'clock that the maximum for the day was reached.

Out of the fierce heat which beat down upon the streets and probably caused an actual temperature of over 100 degrees on the down town streets, there came one form of relief. The air was dryer than usual and there was none of the oppressive humidity in the atmosphere which causes prostrations in the northern and eastern coast cities.

With the news of the hottest day of the month another statement comes from the weather bureau, and that is to the effect that Friday will be just as hot. "There's no sign of a change in conditions," says the weatherman, "and anybody who wants to know how he will feel at noon Friday, only needs to remember how he felt at the same hour Thursday."
Despite the high temperatures of the entire day, there were no reports of heat prostrations and although people, and many dumb brutes with thoughtless drivers, suffered from the heat, there were no cases of people or animals falling in the streets.

COUNTY OF HARDEMAN WINS OVER NORTHERN

Two Proposed Counties Took in Practically Same Territory. One New County Favored.

The constitutional amendment for the creation of Hardeeman county received the support of the committee on constitutional amendments Thursday afternoon, when the advocates and opposers of that county and the proposed new county of Northern produced their arguments. The committee declined to recommend the creation of Northern county to the house for passage. These two new counties are contesting for practically the same territory, the main fight being on the location of the county seat. The proposed county seat of Hardeeman county is Alma, while it is sought to make Nichols the county seat of Northern. The committee made it plain that they were of the opinion that one or more new counties were needed in this territory, and asked the supporters of Hardeeman and Northern counties whether they could not get together on a compromise.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 17.—(Special.) The board of trustees of the Georgia State sanitarium is in session here this week. Rev. John E. White, of Atlanta, who is a member of the board, is present at the meetings.

PRESTON TO COMMAND VETERANS OF GEORGIA

Other Officers Elected at Close of Reunion at Brunswick. Governor Makes Address.

Brunswick, Ga., July 17.—(Special.) After hearing an address from Governor Slaton and electing officers for the ensuing year, the Confederate Veterans of Georgia, who have been in reunion here, adjourned this afternoon, leaving shortly after adjournment for a boat ride around the harbor, as guests of the people of Brunswick.

While Governor Slaton did not expect to deliver an address when he arrived in the city this morning, after viewing the parade and being urged to make a short talk by many of the old veterans, he agreed to do so. The superior courtroom was so crowded when the governor was ready to speak that the meeting adjourned and the speaking was held in the open air, the governor talking from the steps of the courthouse to a mammoth crowd. His address was brief, but in it he paid a glowing tribute to the veterans of the state. In concluding his able address, the governor said:

"Gentlemen of the Confederacy, I come not as an individual, but as an executive. I come as the representative of three million people and conclude by telling you that the thought in every mind, the pulsation in every heart in the people that we are to become in the future is due to what you soldiers have done in the past. It is in Georgia, among the veterans this afternoon, J. W. Preston, of Macon, was elected commander-in-chief of the Georgia division. General Davenport was placed in nomination, but in frequent speeches he declined, and Colonel Preston was elected without opposition. Brigade commanders elected were the following:

- Northern Brigade—M. C. Martin, At. Eastern Brigade—J. A. Thomas, Dublin. Western Brigade—J. W. Mobley, Vienna. Southern Brigade—W. J. Horster, Dublin.

Cavalry Commander—E. Gilmore. When the matter of selecting a meeting place for the 1914 reunion was reached, it was found that not a single invitation had been extended by any city in Georgia. After the place of meeting and the time was left to a committee to be appointed by the new commander.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Les Miserables."

(At the Grand.) "The Miserables" in moving pictures will be the attraction at the Grand at daily matinee and evening performances all of next week. This wonderful story by Victor Hugo, more than fifty years ago, but dealing with a very live story of today, man and law, was photographed in France in 1900, at a cost of more than $100,000. The greatest French actors were used to portray the characters of the novel, and the original scenes described by Hugo were visited and used for the stage in making the pictures.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.) Talented Vaudeville troupe and her company in "Judgment" maintain headline honors in a splendid fashion, and there has never been a greater hit program at the Forsyth than this. The management declares next week's bill will be of unusual worth. The headline attraction will be John E. Conway and his "Diving Machine," in the greatest swimming and diving act that has been placed on any stage.

"Hotel a la Carte."

(At the Hilltop.) "Hotel a la Carte," the merry musical farce with the catchy title is proving a most entertaining attraction for patrons of the Hilltop. The play is a new and up-to-date feature that musical farce never had before. The management declares next week's bill will be of unusual worth. The headline attraction will be John E. Conway and his "Diving Machine," in the greatest swimming and diving act that has been placed on any stage.

SLIP OF PAPER STOOD FOR ABOUT $88,000,000

New York, July 17.—With a slip of paper in his pocket representing about $88,000,000, Frederick V. S. Crosby, treasurer of the Union Pacific Railroad company, walked into the office of the Central Trust company today. He turned the paper over to the trust company and thereby completed the first step in the dissolution of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, as decreed by the courts. The document was a certificate for Union Pacific's holdings of Southern Pacific exclusive of those turned over yesterday to the Pennsylvania railroad in exchange for that road's holdings of Baltimore and Ohio. The trust company was designated by the court to act as trustee pending distribution of the stock among persons not holders of Union Pacific stock.

VOYAGING IN THE AIR FATAL TO ARMY MEN

Salisbury, England, July 17.—Major A. W. Hewitson, of the Royal Artillery corps and a member of the military flying corps, was killed at the army aerodrome here today when his monoplane fell 100 feet. The machine took too sharp a turn and overbalanced. Schindelmuhl, Germany, July 17.—The military dirigible balloon Schuetz-Lanz was torn from its moorings here by a gale this morning. A soldier guarding the balloon was caught up in the cordage and carried to a height of 500 feet whence he fell to the ground and was killed. The dirigible landed an hour later about two miles away, seriously damaged.

Kills Negro in Pullman.

Jackson, a negro, at Jacksonville, met about 9 o'clock this morning in a Pullman sleeper in which they were about to begin their work and after the negro attempted to kill Henton with an iron bar the white man drew his pistol while fighting off the grip of the negro and killed him instantly, firing two shots into his right side.

MANY RUMORS AFLOAT REGARDING GRAND JURY

Among These Is One That Effort Will Be Made to Indict Conley.

That the grand jury would meet possibly today or tomorrow and take steps toward indicting James Conley, the negro sweeper of the National Pencil factory, was a persistent rumor in circulation Thursday. From Foreman W. D. Beattie came the statement that he had not called for a meeting of the grand jury and that as far as he knew there would be no such action taken. Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey also declared that he had issued no call for the grand jury and knew nothing of any such action.

"I have not issued a call for a meeting," explained Mr. Beattie, "and as far as I am concerned the grand jury will not take steps to indict Conley. Of course, the members of the grand jury have the right to come together and to take any steps they may desire, and I am speaking only for myself in saying that no steps will be taken to start an investigation of Conley's alleged connection."

"There is nothing new in the Mary Phagan murder case so far as I am concerned," said the solicitor, "and I have issued no call for the grand jury. The state is continuing its work and will be ready on July 28 for the trial of Leo M. Ryan."

Attorneys Reuben R. Arnold and Luther Z. Rosser held a consultation Thursday afternoon in Mr. Arnold's office at which they discussed the possibility of the charging of Mr. Arnold. At the courthouse it was said that Judge L. S. Roan, who is due to preside over the Frank trial, was in consultation with lawyers on both sides and that there was a possibility of the case being postponed.

NO SALE OF INFLUENCE BY JUSTICE COHALAN

Albany, N. Y., July 17.—Charges preferred against Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan by the Association of New York upon which his removal from the bench was asked, were dismissed tonight by the legislature. Previous to the adoption of the resolution charging the justice, the report of the joint judicial committee, which heard the evidence against the accused jurist, was received and accepted.

The vote to dismiss the charges stood 23 to 4 in the senate and 115 to 15 in the house.

The report of the committee declared that none of the charges against Justice Cohalan had been proved, that a charge for legislative action had not been established and recommended that the proceedings be dismissed and that no further action be taken by the legislature.

Justice Cohalan was accused of having sold his influence to obtain New York city contracts.

SUICIDE PACT FORMED BY MAN AND HIS WIFE

New York, July 17.—Maurice Doherty, aged 30, and his wife, 28, are in a hospital today technically under arrest charged with attempting to carry out a suicide pact. They had been married only a month. Doherty was formerly an attendant in the immigration hospital on Ellis Island and his wife until recently was supervising nurse in the Washington Heights hospital.

The two were found last night in a critical condition from poisoning in a room in a little East Side hotel. They left a note saying:

"No one but ourselves knows the reason, but it is a suicide pact. There is still some doubt that they will recover."

LITTLE M'KINLEY.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 17.—(Special.) The marriage Tuesday evening of Miss Rebecca Little and Mr. Archibald Carlisle McKinley was a most beautiful affair. The ceremony was performed at the attractive suburban home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Little, and was a quiet one, witnessed by only the most intimate friends of the family. The bride and groom are both from splendid representative families of this city. Popular members of the younger society set. They will make their home in this city.

She Leaps to Death.

New York, July 17.—Mrs. Tracy Lewis, wife of a wealthy rubber manufacturer of Beacon Falls, Conn., eluded her nurse in a private sanitarium here today and either leaped or fell four stories to her death. Before her fall she was Miss Edith Gillen, and her home was in Plainfield. She had suffered from nervous trouble.

Willing to Face Bigamy Charge To Wed the Man She Loves

Mrs. Effie Drummond, a sad-faced girl of 23, would run the risk of facing bigamy charges in order to marry Joe North, the young structural worker who was arraigned in police court yesterday under suspicion of having procured the girl for the scarlet trade.

She was forced to testify against the man. With a great show of reluctance on her part, the recorder exacted apparently unwilling testimony from her against the prisoner, and admitted North, which binds him to higher courts under bond of $200.

When North's case was called, the girl pleaded with Judge Broyles to allow the marriage. He asked if she had been wed before. She answered that she had been married in South Carolina, but that the courts of that state had granted a divorce.

"You were divorced in South Carolina," queried the judge. "Yes," she answered. "A year ago." "You certainly were not," contradicted the recorder. "South Carolina is no spot on the map where divorces of no kind are permitted."

STOVALL INCOME TAX BILL IS REPORTED

After some discussion in the ways and means committee yesterday, the income tax bill of Representative Stovall, of Elbert, was recommended for passage by a vote of 9 to 5. The bill provides for tax of 1 per cent on incomes of individuals and corporations in excess of $4,000. It exempts from taxation the living expenses of persons.

The author expects that $160,000 per year will be added by the bill to the revenue of the state from public service corporations alone.

SMITH IS INDIGNANT AT TREATMENT RECEIVED

M. F. Smith, vice president and secretary of the Eagle Stamp works, who was arrested along with E. T. Glenn, manager of a Whitehall street theater, on suspicion of having been responsible for the illness of Miss Mabel Parker, a chorus girl, went to Mayor Woodward with his complaint Thursday afternoon.

Mayor Woodward referred Smith to the police committee, which was in session. After hearing the complaint and offering Smith sympathy the committee decided that the matter was one for Chief Beavers and the police commission to thrash out. Smith left the city hall in an indignant mood. He stated that he was not through with the affair.

The annual barbecue of the Southern and Southwestern Railway club proved an enjoyable event yesterday at the barbecue grounds near the waterworks station. The party left at 12:30 o'clock on a special train from the Forsyth street underpass and returning reached the city later in the afternoon.

DELAMATER IS FINED FOR CREATING SCENE

Druggist Appeared in Court in Battered Condition—Wife Testifies Against Him.

With a puffed and purple eye shelled by a pair of big goggles, Dr. Ira Delamater, the well-known druggist, appeared in police court yesterday afternoon to answer to charges of disorderly conduct which had grown out of a stormy visit to the home of his wife the previous night.

W. T. Cammack, of 64 Currier street, the railroad man who had inflicted the swollen optic, stood behind Delamater and openly admitted that he viewed his handiwork with pleasure. He had whipped the druggist, he testified, when Delamater had invited him to the street with an ugly word.

Mrs. Delamater was also in court, testifying against her husband, from whom she has been trying to get a divorce for several months. A stiff was created in the courtroom when she declared that when she had been granted alimony her husband had promptly gone into bankruptcy and had not given her a cent as a result. Testimony developed that Delamater, who has been restrained by the courts from visiting the home of his wife, went to her residence Wednesday night in an intoxicated condition, and upon being ordered away, created a scene. Mrs. Delamater took refuge in the home of Mr. Cammack.

Delamater, it was stated, followed her there and began cursing Cammack. The fact emerged in which Delamater was soundly thrashed. He was fined $10.75. No charges were made against Cammack.

UNDER REALIZING Market, Opened at Advance, But Liverpool Cables Were Disappointing and Scattered Realizing Sent Prices Off.

New York, July 17.—Today's news indicated little or no change in the conditions considered responsible for recent nervousness over the new crop outlook, but the cotton market was much less active than yesterday, and prices sagged off, under realizing, with the close steady at a net advance of 1 point on July, while other months were from two to eight points lower.

The failure of the weather map to suggest any immediate prospect of rain in the belt, and a bullish private crop report, inspired some scattering demand during the early trading, and the market opened steady at an advance of 1/2 point, with active months selling about 1/2 cent higher right after the call. Liverpool, however, was rather disappointing, as a result of continental selling of near months, and the character of the trading here seemed to color claims that the scattering or weaker short interest had been pretty well eliminated.

It is reported that south-western railroads are preparing to handle a large cotton crop this season, and notwithstanding scattered complaints, bullish traders claim that the dry, hot weather is hastening maturity without causing any serious damage.

The weather appeared to be a trifle cooler in the southwest, however, and the realizing movement became a little more active in the late trading, with active months closing at practically the lowest.

Chicago, Ill., July 17.—Huge receipts at primary points today acted as an offset for bullish sentiment in the wheat pit. Accordingly, the market closed steady at a shade to 1-8 under last night. Corn finished with a gain of 1/4 cent to 1 1/2-5-8; oats up 1-4 to 3-8, and provisions showing an advance of 10 to 25c.
