

RENEWAL OF PACTS WITH 23 NATIONS HITS SENATE SNAG

Unexpected Strength of Opposition Shown to Compulsory Arbitration Alarms the Friends of Principle

CANAL TOLLS QUESTION BRINGS UP ARGUMENT

Unless There Is a Decided Change of Sentiment Renewal of Peace Conventions May Be Impossible

Washington June 6.—The principle of compulsory arbitration written into the code that has found the Latin States with 23 nations of the world for the last five years is in danger and unless there is a decided change in sentiment in the senate the renewal of it of the treaties which gave concrete evidence of this nation's belief in such a policy may be impossible. In executive session to-night the senate again failed to ratify renewals of the arbitrator agreements with Great Britain, Italy and Spain which recently expired. These conventions provide that questions relating to the interpretation of treaties excepting those that cannot be settled through diplomatic channels or those of vital national honor or independence shall be submitted to The Hague. A similar treaty with France already has been renewed.

The main argument tonight arose over the contention that if the treaty with Great Britain is ratified the Panama canal tolls question would have to be submitted to The Hague. But during the discussion the Japanese question and the general attitude of the nation toward compulsory arbitration was brought up and led to the expression of views utterly at variance with the sentiment which has been expressed in the past.

Low Debate Expected

A motion to refer the three treaties to the foreign relations committee with instructions that the one with Great Britain be modified so as to exempt specifically the Panama canal tolls question was abandoned but protracted debate was predicted for future sessions and friends of the principle of arbitration were alarmed at the strength displayed by the opposition. One senator went so far as to declare:

There are many people in the United States and in the senate who ought to live in England. Senators who did not speak but who discussed arbitration with their colleagues during the debate expressed decided opinions on the extent to which this nation has bound itself to argue matters out before a court. This attitude was condemned as one which would compromise the United States throughout the world and one which had appeared to the country's disadvantage in the Mexican problem in the dispute with Great Britain and in the more recent controversy with Japan.

Union Only Open Breker

Many senators were convinced tonight that few of the 23 agreements which come up for renewal in the next few months will be agreed to without a hard fight. Although the treaties probably have many supporters, Chairman Bacon of the foreign relations committee was admitted the only one who spoke in their behalf in spite of his endorsement of arbitration under the British treaty the treaty question must be arbitrated and pressed entirely in conformity with the California land legislation.

Senator Chamberlain was the only member to object to the British treaty yesterday when it first came before the senate. The chief of the foreign relations committee but in tonight's session there were nine senators behind him. The Oregon senator contended that there could be little question that under the proposed agreement he took question must be arbitrated. He pointed to utterances of Sir Edward Grey, the British minister for foreign affairs as complete vindication of his position.

Senator O'Gorman chairman of the international committee in the recent charge of Panama legislation declaring his opposition to arbitration of this matter but said that a his

$2,000,000 NEEDED FOR HIGH SCHOOLS, STATES COL. DALEY

In Address at Boys' High School Graduation President of Board of Education Tells of Conditions.

"NOT A HIGH SCHOOL HAS ADEQUATE PLANT"

Bond Issue of $5,000,000 Is Urged and of This Col. Daley Asks $2,000,000 for New High Schools

Atlanta has a credit upon which any city government could borrow $5,000,000 there is not an adequate high school in the city and it is time for the people of Atlanta the fathers and mothers of the children in the schools and the citizens interested in education to urge the city councilmen to wake up and do their duty. Said Colonel Walter R. Daley, president of the board of education in delivering the diplomas to sixty four graduates of the Boys High school last night at the Grand Opera house.

When he delivered the diplomas Thursday night to graduates of the Girls High school Colonel Daley pleaded for a bond issue for the construction of new and adequate school buildings in his address Friday night he reiterated and strengthened this plea pledging himself to work for this and until it is accomplished and calling on the citizens of Atlanta to fight for it.

In opening his address the speaker declared that he wanted to say a few practical things about the high schools in Atlanta and first of all he told of the work that had been accomplished and praised the efficiency of the present system calling attention to the 600 students in the male schools and the many more in the girls schools.

"High Schools Efficient"

As an example of work done in the Boys High school said Colonel Daley I want to say that from the class of 1912 that went from the Boys High school every boy who went to college was well enough prepared to stand the examinations for the college class to which he sought admission and that time not a cent for new high schools despite the fact that in that time and at present there is not an adequate building in the city for high schools.

We have done something for the grammar schools he declared. In the past few years we have spent $4,000,000 on grammar schools and in that time not a cent for new high schools despite the fact that in that time and at present there is not an adequate building in the city for high schools.

The grammar schools are important to realize the importance of the high schools and come to the knowledge of the fact that many Atlanta boys receive their final preparation in these schools for life—not such a great part.

THOMSON POSTOFFICE RIFLED BY BURGLARS

Thomson Ga. June 5.—(Special.)—The postoffice here was entered last night. Entrance was gained by smashing a large glass window in the rear of the building. About midnight Policeman F. L. Hale was attracted by a noise in the building and on approach the parties fled. In a later search was notified and a search made. Desks and drawers had been rifled. About 30 cents and a pistol were missing. The pistol, a .38 caliber and brass and bit were found and identified as belonging to shops here which had also been broken open. A pair of tan shoes were found near by.

Arguments Used in Rejoinder Are Calculated to Tax Talents of American Negotiators

Washington June 6.—Japan's latest note in regard to the California land legislation admittedly furnishing problems calculated to tax the talents of the American negotiators was read at the cabinet meeting today and later was the subject of a conference between President Wilson and John Bass Moore, co-negotiator of the state department.

Consideration of the note by the cabinet was deferred until the return of the late Mr. Bryan who left early in the afternoon for Pittsburgh to attend a farewell dinner in honor of the new ambassador to Japan from the United States, George W. Guthrie. There was some discussion how-ever after the long document had been read and President Wilson as a result of his talk with Ambassador Guthrie yesterday was able to illuminate the formal argument presented with side lights disclosing internal political conditions in Japan which are powerfully influencing the Japanese foreign office in the conduct of the negotiations.

News dispatches from Tokyo outlining the contents of the Japanese communication were received with great interest here. Officials who have examined into the subject have reached the conclusion that the Japanese foreign office has shown a remarkable knowledge of American constitutional law and that the legal light of the state depart-

SUPERINTENDENT IS FIRED FOR IMMORALITY

One Member of Board, Woman, Would Return Man Who Caused Pupils' Strike

Pittsburg June 6.—After many weeks of investigation the board of education early tonight discharged S. L. Heeter, superintendent of public schools, finding him guilty of immorality in making improper advances and taking unwarranted liberties with women.

Only one member of the board, Miss Beulah Kennard, voted against discharging Heeter. The accused superintendent was not present. It was stated a clock when the board of education began to vote publicly on the case. Previously the members had studied the transcript of the evidence over 1,000 pages of testimony taken by a special committee of six prominent citizens appointed by the board.

Early in March last a domestic employed by Heeter made two serious charges against him while she was ill in a hospital. He was arrested, indicted and acquitted by a jury in the criminal court. He had been granted a leave of absence during the trial. When he resumed his duties as superintendent after his acquittal demonstrations or strikes participated in by thousands of school children occurred.

Additional charges that Superintendent Heeter had acted indiscreetly with others resulted in the board of education appointing a citizens committee to make a thorough investigation. Last Monday the committee made its report finding Heeter guilty.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE FOR SOUTHERN STATES

Postmaster Burleson Working Out Scheme for Sweeping Reorganization in Fourth

Washington D. C. June 6.—(Special.)—Postmaster General Burleson and his assistants are working out a scheme for the sweeping reorganization of the railway mail service in the fourth division which promises a great improvement in mail service in the southeastern states.

George W. Pepper superintendent has been marked for dismissal. It is understood that Edward C. King who has been first assistant for a number of years will succeed him as division superintendent.

Whether or not Charles Rager, chief clerk to Pepper will also be demoted has not yet been definitely determined. Another feature of the new policy is the separation of the two races in mail cars and elsewhere, as much as possible. Under this plan the negro mail clerks would work together in a car on one run and the white clerks would have a different run.

Atlanta May Become Terminus Of South's Largest Electric, Freight and Passenger Line

Anderson S. C. June 6.—(Special.)—The chamber of commerce of this city is taking the initiative in a project which may extend the Greenville Spartanburg and Anderson railroad electrically operated to Atlanta and make that city the southern terminus for a great southern trunk line, which will also be one of the longest electrically operated standard gauge railroads in the world. The movement grows out of the near completion of the G. S. & A., from Anderson to Durham N. C. and the talk of projecting it thence to Tidewater at Norfolk, Va. Already the chamber of commerce has appointed a committee to handle the Atlanta extension and prospects in that direction are portentious.

The Greenville Spartanburg and Anderson railroad is one of the most remarkable in civilization. Its chief financial backer and president is J. B. Duke, the tobacco millionnaire and the road is as much his pet as the sea railroad was the pet of Flagler. The line is projected and practically completed from Anderson to Durham N. C. and to Winston Salem in close proximity to Durham.

Already the link between Anderson and Greenville is completed and trains for both freight and passenger are run over it. Work on the section between Greenville and Durham is being pushed rapidly and soon will be operated. It is then probable that it will be ultimately extended to Norfolk.

The territory through which the road runs is rich in water power. Enough of this has been harnessed by the Duke companies to operate the road. It is a strange sight to ride over a line of this length without being stung by cinders or once hearing the puff of a locomotive.

A remarkable feature of the road is that it is in every respect a standard one. While it is operated by hydroelectric power the track and equipment have been built so that trains from the G. S. & A. may be switched on to the tracks of standard gauge steam railroads and actuated by locomotives. The only difference between this road and the finest most up to date steam road in the country is the source of the motive power. Even now it is exchanging freight with the Southern at Greenville and it destined to maintain with all the other steam roads to freight and passenger exchange relations that are common in the transportation world of America.

For some time the chamber of commerce

AMERICANS IN MEXICO CRY FOR PROTECTION

300 Declare They Will Take the Situation Up Unless Government Sends Them Aid

Tampico Mexico June 6.—Three hundred Americans located in southern Tamaulipas representing through eight families have demanded in a long message to President Wilson sent through Consul Miller here to know once for all whether they can expect protection from their home government since they do not desire to take measures for their own safety which would embarrass our government without giving due notice beforehand.

The message of the Americans was transmitted by wireless through Consul Miller to W. W. Canada, the American consul at Vera Cruz to be forwarded to Washington. It says in part:

Having been left without any protection whatever on the part of both sides in the pending controversy therefore we can look for protection only from our own country. We must know once for all if we can expect same. Having been subjected to slights and a great variety of indignities and gross abuse during the last few days the situation calls for most serious preparations for our personal safety and the defense of our families and our interests. Therefore we have assembled for the purpose of considering the best way we can consider protection necessary now since that after death it will be of no utility.

"We consider the lives of ourselves and our families in danger and the situation has justified this petition several times in the last few days. It is no longer doubtful that the slightest spark will bring on the dread conflagration at any moment in many instances the small arms sold American citizens on the part of the American government for their protection have been demanded and in some instances they have been taken."

BRIBERY ATTEMPTED IN CONSPIRACY TRIAL

Jury Says He Was Offered $200 and Position for His Vote—No Verdict Yet

Boston June 6.—The jury in the dyed-stuff plotting conspiracy case which grew out of the Lawrence textile strike, still was deliberating at a late hour tonight on the question of the guilt of the three alleged conspirators—William W. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, Fredrick E. Atteaus, a dye manufacturer and Denis J. Collins, a Cambridge dye fancier.

There was no indication that an early agreement might be expected. Just before court opened today Judge Morris Shuman told Judge Crosby he had been approached with an offer of $200 and a life position if he would agree to vote as directed. The man who approached him would not be understood any for whom he was acting. The grand jury will consider the matter tomorrow.

After a conference with Judge Crosby District Attorney Pelletier and counsel for the defense Shuman said he could reach a decision without being influenced by the alleged offer and he entered the box.

WILSON AND SECRET CAUCUS ARE ROASTED BY TOWNSEND BEFORE LOBBY COMMITTEE

REVISION OF TAXES TO COME THIS YEAR

Both Governors Will Call Legislature's Attention to Financial Needs—Comptroller Wright's Views

Probably the most important and certainly the most perplexing problem that will present itself to the legislature when it meets at the end of this month will be the revision of the tax system of the state.

True it is not a new question by any means. Legislatures have tackled it before. Governors have urged its necessity in their annual messages. In particular Governor Brown has recommended tax revision and equalization in every message that he has sent to the general assembly since he has sat in the gubernatorial chair. Still nothing has been done so far.

Will Be Urged This Year

This year however the condition of the state's finances is such that in the opinion of statehouse officers and of members of the legislature who have been interviewed on the subject some sort of radical measure must come. The question will be presented to the lawmakers in such a way that they cannot evade it. It is too early to predict just what the governor's message to the general assembly this year will contain. It is a considerable part of the farewell message of Governor Brown and the initial message of Governor-elect Slaton will be devoted to this question of a revision of the state's system of finance.

Both governors are wide awake to the fact that the present system has broken down long ago and proved altogether defective. It is not likely that Governor Brown will do more than call the legislature's attention to the deplorable conditions brought about by the system in vogue. Letting it to his successor to prescribe a remedy. It is known that the incoming executive has devoted much time and study since his election to this subject and he has, doubtless, formulated a definite and feasible measure of relief for legislative action.

New Bills Coming

Members of the legislature have also given much thought to the solution of the problem and several of them will be ready to present as soon as the lawmakers gather here. There is a measure providing for an equalization board that will be presented by Representative Lipscomb, of Clarke.

Gover, of Crisp the author of the new insurance law which passed the last general assembly has been in correspondence with Comptroller General W. A. Wright on the subject and it is said that he is preparing a bill that will be ready to present as soon as the lawmakers gather here.

Comptroller Wright's Views

There is probably no man in the state who has given the subject longer and deeper study than has Comptroller General Wright who is chairman of the board of the state department of revenue for more than a generation and whose advice will undoubtedly be sought in whatever measures of relief are proposed this summer. Mr. Wright admits that the problem is a difficult one and that he has ever put his mind to discussing the situation he said:

I believe that some measure of tax revision and adjustment will be enacted by the legislature this summer for the very simple reason that it cannot be delayed longer. The state's needs have been expanding yearly with its growth and the development of the various institutions looking to it for support while the state has not reached the limit of revenue that can be raised under the present system. I do not mean that tax values will not increase but they cannot keep pace with the demands upon the treasury and the limit of the tax rate has long ago been reached. Appropriations are running ahead of income.

How to Reach Inevitable Property

are some features of it that I admit I have found no solution for after years of study and a close examination of the laws of the different states. One of them is how to reach inevitable property. Innumerable plans have been suggested but none have been adopted. No one can be more alive to the difficulties that will present themselves to the lawmakers in dealing with this problem than I have. It has been devised and various laws enacted in the different states. I think in view but so far as I know none of them has attained its object.

There is undoubtedly great room for improvement under the present system without any amendment of the law if county officers could always be depended upon to do their duty. If grand juries would follow out what the law prescribes in making a rigid search of the tax returns and equalizing tax assessments in their respective counties it would go far toward solving the problem so far as the individual counties are concerned. Of course we need to have equalization extend to the whole state so that the burdens of taxation may be distributed equitable between all the counties and to do that a state board of equalizers might help.

Would I Enlarge Terms

As a member of the legislature I would accomplish as much or more than would anything else that could be suggested. It would be an extension of the terms of office of county tax collectors and receivers to four or six years, or better still change in the method of their election.

These officials should be removed as far as possible from politics. They should be where they can do their duty without fear of being thrown out of office every year by electors who are not intelligent in their taxes, or who do not want to make fair returns. It would be much better to have them appointed by the judge of the superior court, by the county commissioners or even by the grand jury. It would be a constitutional amendment to make this change, but I believe it

Republican Senator Says the Nearest Approach to "Undue Influence" Emanates From President and Secret Party Gatherings.

MORE TIME IS GRANTED COMMITTEE BY SENATE FOR EXTENSIVE PROBE

Washington June 6.—An unexpected turn was given the senate's lobby investigation today when Senator Townsend of Michigan republican declared on the stand that the influence wielded by President Wilson and by the democratic secret caucus upon the making of the tariff bill constituted the nearest approach of undue influence upon members of congress that the investigation committee would be able to find.

Democrats Demand Right to Show That Wilson Has Not Used Coercion to Force Tariff Bill

Senator Townsend criticized the committee for not having asked members of the senate whether the president has sought to influence them, and declared that even though the president had not intended it his recent denunciation of lobbies working in support of changes in the tariff would force certain senators to vote against amendments they knew to be just.

Why do these senators' demands Senator Reed.

I don't care to name any one, reported senator Townsend.

The two democratic members of the committee present, Reed and Walsh, insisted on following the precedent that Wilson had used patronage or threats to force any one to support free sugar or free wool or to support the bill as a whole. Senator Townsend insisted the committee had not asked any senator that far whether the president had tried to influence him.

I move interrupted Senator Walsh, "that in view of the serious statements touching the executive, that any senator who has already testified may be asked to retestify in reference thereto."

I am for that, said Senator Nelson, and every member of the committee agreed.

Feeling Intensified

Dragging President Wilson's tariff activities into the investigation somewhat intensified feeling in the committee and it is expected it will make more searching the investigation to be carried on. Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts following the precedent on the stand, expressed the opinion that executives had more influence on bills than all the persons who have come to Washington put together.

The statement that the president put out that regarding the lobby influenced the public mind, said Senator Weeks and that has its effect upon senators. The public believes a lobbyist is a bad man and no senator likes to oppose a measure if the president has the lobbyists are seeking to change it.

The senate agreed early in the afternoon to extend the time limit for the lobby investigation until June 28. Members of the committee doubt whether it can be completed within the time. The new element injected into today probably will carry the questioning of senators over into next week. Features of the so-called lobby include sugar, wool and metals and liquor, labor and other legislation must then be taken up as the second stage of the investigation.

Senator Townsend's statements in relation to President Wilson were not in the form of charges. He expressly said he did not charge the president with using improper methods but insisted that charges, existed and the activity of the president in support of free wool and free sugar amounted to an undue influence, even though he did not use the big stick of patronage.

As the term lobbyist is generally understood he said and as I believe

C. F. von BERGMANN, - Berlin Director.

It was used by the president in his recent statement, upon which this investigation was founded. It means one who tries to secure or prevent legislation by the use of means that are improper; by the offer of payment of money, the granting or withholding of favors, by insidious threats of political opposition; by the use of patronage or the giving of political rewards. As I know of no improper lobbyist of that kind, the nearest approach to undue influence exerted on members of congress, I believe that is exercised by the president and by the use of the party secret caucus.

Charges of Coercion.

"Do you mean to say that is lobbying?" demanded Senator Reed.
"A lobbyist is a man who attempts to influence legislation against the honest conviction, the conscience and the notions of duty of the legislator," returned Senator Townsend. "Because of the insinuation that a lobby exists to influence them to vote for amendments they believe in, I think some senators will refrain from so voting. This, I believe, is coercion."
"You believe there is a species of lobbying from the executive, as well as the outside?" asked Senator Cummins.
"Yes, sir, I have no doubt of it," replied Senator Townsend.
"Democratic leaders have been reported as saying: 'This is to be a matter the president must decide and in order to be a good democrat and receive the proper amount of patronage and not perhaps be opposed, you must support the party measure.'"
"Do you know any human being who can say as a matter of fact that President Wilson has either withheld or given appointments to affect the vote of any man in congress?" demanded Senator Reed.
"No, I don't; I know only what I have heard rumored and seen in the papers," said Senator Townsend.

Senator Weeks testified he severed his connection with all banking and commercial concerns when he was elected to congress and refused to produce a bill to require registration of all persons discussing legislation before committees, to limit their appearance to regular session only, make it unlawful for any persons to attempt to influence any senator or representative individually, and make it unlawful also for any such persons, even if former members of congress, to appear upon the floor of either branch of congress.
It also would require corporations or others who had agents before committees to file a statement within 30 days after adjournment of each session showing the names of all persons elected to the senate, the said three or four men had called upon him who might be called lobbyists.
They were not promoting or opposing legislation, he said, but gathering information for members of their associations.
Senator Shively testified he had no personal knowledge of a lobby.
Senator Cummins said the flooding of Senators with telegrams and letters was the only practice he had observed in Washington that was wrong and lost money.
Senator Page of Vermont, thought "the operations of Indian attorneys in Washington in relation to claims and attorneys' contracts came near to being of a lobbying character."

RECALL OF JUDGES FAVORED AT TECH

S. D. Frankel, Speaker on the Affirmative Side, Awarded Prize for the Best Address Made.

A debate last night on the recall of judges in Georgia was the opening feature of the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Georgia School of Technology. S. D. Frankel, of the senior class, won the individual prize for his speech in favor of the recall, and his colleague, on the winning affirmative team, was W. P. Raybon, of Jesup.

The judges were J. W. Austin, A. C. King, J. S. Fleet and the Rev. C. W. Dantel, and they selected, not only the winning team, but also the winner of the George Muse company medal for the best debater.

The debate was closely contested, and the negative was supported by S. A. Gayle, of Columbus, of the freshman class, and L. C. Gordon, of Atlanta, a sophomore.

The debate was staged in the Tech Y. M. C. A. auditorium, under the auspices of the Henry W. Grady Literary society. All of the speakers were chosen in competition in a preliminary contest last February. The hall was most beautifully decorated in the school colors. Yellow and white curtains draped the windows, and American flags mingled with the Tech ensigns and the state flag.

The contest was presided over by Professor E. W. G. Boogher, and the Tech orchestra opened and concluded the program, arousing considerable enthusiasm when they played the college songs.

ATTACKS MANAGEMENT OF FRISCO RAILROAD

Representative Hinebaugh Urges That Commerce Commission Investigate Company.

Washington, June 6.—A spirited attack on the financial management of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad was made in the house today by Representative Hinebaugh, of Illinois, in a speech urging the adoption of his resolution directing the interstate commerce commission to investigate the operations of the company now in receivership.
"This resolution should be passed," he said, "and an investigation made if for no other reason than this receivership had already been given as a reason why freight rates should be raised. As usual the public is asked to hold the bag and pay the bill when the operations of these gentlemen who are given to frenzied finance are brought to halt."
"Many persons who have bought securities this company has sold during the last three years are anxious to know what portion of that money has been paid to the company, and how much was diverted into the pockets of certain officials."
"I am more than satisfied that a thorough investigation by the interstate commerce commission will demonstrate that the Frisco system, under the management of B. F. Yoakum, has never been conducted as a legitimate transportation company, but that it has been made the basis of a tremendous jobbing scheme to enrich the men who have been in a position to manipulate its securities. I believe it will also be found that great volumes of the stocks and bonds of this company have been sold far in excess of the true value of the tangible property owned by the company."
Representative Hinebaugh charged that the receivership was not actually necessary.

STATE COMMERCE CHAMBER IN SIGHT

Movement Is Given Hearty Indorsement and Funds for Preliminary Organization Advanced.

Another step was taken towards the organization of a state chamber of commerce by the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce yesterday when they made an appropriation to cover the preliminary expenses of the organization of a state-wide body. Those who are behind the movement are now more in earnest than ever, and they have little doubt that an effective organization will be completed this summer.

It is proposed to call a meeting at an early date of the officers of the various chambers of commerce in the state and also to have the county officials send delegates from counties in which there are no local boards.

Mr. Haden's Report.
C. J. Haden, chairman of the committee on a state chamber of commerce, made a report to the directors in which he outlined the plan which the organizers of a state-wide chamber proposed to follow. One end to be effected by a central state organization is the coordination and cooperation of the various commercial bodies already existing, but the promoters of the new chamber of commerce do not stop with that. They hope to reach every farmer in the state and to bring about a fraternal inter-relationship between the state and country in a way that will be beneficial to both. In doing this they expect to enlist the united support of every element in the state in all movements for the common good.

"Such a combination of efforts to achieve in the interest of all will be irresistible," said Mr. Haden, when discussing the proposition yesterday. "It has been tried in California with the result that the California products are the most extensively advertised of any in the world and California fruits have monopolized a great many markets."

It is the intention of the chamber of commerce here to put into effect at once three of the best organizers in the state. One of these whose services have been enlisted in the movement is Professor J. Phil Campbell, of Athens, whose work in organizing corn clubs throughout the state is well known.

Will Appeal to Farmers.
In perfecting the organization, a different method will be tried from any hitherto used. Mr. Campbell and the other organizers will take the matter up at the farmers' institutes to be held in the counties this summer. An effort will be made to get the farmers to organize in every locality and there to every assurance given by Mr. Haden, that seventy-five or eighty counties will be organized by the end of the summer.

The state organization is expected to act as a sort of clearing house for all the local bodies. Suggestions will be received from the district organizations in all parts of the state and an efficient press bureau will keep the attention of the nation at large on Georgia and her wonderful resources. Exports in farming and other lines of business will be secured through the central bureau to keep the farmers of the state informed as to the most recent scientific methods of agriculture. After giving the plan as outlined by Mr. Haden its hearty indorsement, the board of directors agreed to advance the money necessary for the preliminary work of organization. It is expected that this will be returned by the state chamber of commerce as soon as a permanent organization is effected.

FREE-THINKERS TO ORGANIZE SOCIETY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

"Freedom of thought in secular, religious and civic affairs."
This is to be the slogan at an organization meeting which will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at 57 1/2 East Hunter street, when a society of free-thinkers is to be formed.
A number of Atlanta men, who declare they have felt in their souls the necessity for free thought in the affairs of the world, have issued an appeal to their friends and others who sympathize with the movement to gather at this time and discuss plans for a permanent, active organization in Atlanta. Among those who in the past few days have become actively interested in the plans are Joseph T. Dabney, Benjamin Daniel, W. M. Hairston, and James Brown.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN No. 58
COUNT THE COST

"Judas, betrayest thou the Son of Man with a kiss?"

When you are tempted to fight against the good—
And to this you are about to add hypocritical treachery, pretending love for that which you are trying to destroy—
Remember Judas kissing the Saviour.
And do it not.
They crucified Christ, but they scorned Judas, who lost his soul.
He failed to count the cost.
Make not the same mistake.
You are warned when Jesus says:
"Whosoever doth not bear his own cross and come after Me can not be my disciple."
"For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it?"
"Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him saying:
"THIS MAN BEGAN TO BUILD AND WAS NOT ABLE TO FINISH."
Count the cost.
And answer:—
"What is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

When the liquor dealers and the landlords of the houses which were in our midst stand before the judgment bar of God, that seven hundred thousand dollars of trade, that sixty thousand dollars of rent squeezed annually from the souls of fallen women will scarcely compensate those liquor dealers and landlords for the ruin of the numberless girls necessary to carry on the infamous traffic.
All of the foul gold of years will not outweigh those thirteen little girls under ten years of age suffering in Grady Hospital from hideous infection.
Neither will it balance the broken hearts of mothers of babies blinded at birth.
Nor will it offset the deadly weight of the sorrow and suffering of the mothers and fathers of these girls betrayed.
Count the cost.
AND YOU WILL JOIN THE FIGHT AGAINST THE SOCIAL EVIL.

It has only begun in Atlanta.
And every imaginable falsehood will be told by servants of Satan to hinder it.
Therefore, when you hear any statement, consider carefully its source.
When a man prating of morality advocates licensed immorality and seeks to besmear with slime police officials who are doing and who have done their duty, EXAMINE THE MAN'S PAST, his friends and connections.
Ask:— Is he connected directly or indirectly with the liquor traffic?
Has he been so connected in the past?
Has he ever been employed—is he now employed by any one or more of those charged with violating the laws against prostitution?
And, when one claims that vice has been scattered but not lessened in Atlanta, make the same inquiries and refer him to this Committee; for he is either in error or lying, as can be easily shown.

Conditions at the time of Chief Beavers' order closing the houses were accurately known to this Committee.
And the work of the Chief and his men—the co-operation of almost all of our public officials, city and county, have far exceeded the hopes of this Committee and demonstrated that ATLANTA NEEDS NO OUTSIDE HELP IN SOLVING HER PROBLEMS.
But remember, this is a work of years and generations, not of months and days.
Burglary, arson and murder—which were never fostered by the lie of segregation—are still here.
But in Atlanta the pimp, the pandarer and those who would live or profit by the shame of women are losing hope.
Therefore, when their friends or their employees protest against "the frightful immorality" of our city and "the corruption" of the police and detective force which has put them out of business, those who know smile in pity.
FOR PROTECTED VICE IS DEAD.
Some people believe that a snake with a broken back will not die until sunset.
Notwithstanding its twisting and writhing, intelligent men know that the creature is dead when its spinal cord has been snapped.
The writhing and twisting are spasmodic; they will grow less and less.
Protected vice is dead. Months ago its spinal cord was broken by our Police Force.
Count the cost. You would not revive, if you could, your city's shame.
Remember Judas and his kiss.

THE SOUTH'S OPEN DOOR

An open door to prosperity is offered the south in the beef and sheep industries. The opportunity is emphasized by a recent bulletin of the federal department of agriculture.

A prominent official of the United States department of agriculture had this menace in mind when the other day he declared that the south was the future beef supply for the nation.

There is every reason why the south and Georgia especially should step into the breach thus created and take largely the place once pre-empted by the west in the beef and sheep industry.

DANGERS AND DUTIES OF SOUTH POINTED OUT BY DR. WHITE

Macon, Ga., June 6.—(Special)—The address of the commencement at Mercer was delivered Tuesday night by Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, to a large audience.

Dr. White summarized his address in signal propositions which were fully discussed and illustrated. That with a southern man in the presidency a majority of southern men in the cabinet and southern leaders in control of congress the southern people may assert as reality and experience.

That the south's approach to the opportunity now presented must be in the antic bellum temper and start at the antic bellum temper and start at the antic bellum temper.

That viewed as it will be in the dry light of southern intelligence the secession movement will be regarded as the most pathetic and disastrous vast enterprise of history.

That the really tragic loss of the secession movement of the war and its entail was not in men or treasure nor in the devastation of the southern people.

That the southern people, with these things behind them to be realized are at a momentous epoch now when they are called on to take again the responsible part in the national government.

But the ability of the south to come back permanently into national power must abide a severe test than national politics can submit it to.

Second—The question of public bread and sympathy of world consciousness of amenability to the fixed standards of Christian civilization.

Third—The question of being true to our selves of falsehood and of the quality of the south as a candidate for the crown which dares to look in the glass frankly and that resolutely takes over to itself the task of candid self criticism and correction.

Fourth—The question of ideal and leadership. The question is in the main character of the man who will lead the south.

The World's Mysteries

MYSTERIES OF CRIME SIMONIDES, THE FORGER

When 1890 was drawing to a close there died in an Albanian village one of the most remarkable characters that has ever been brought prominently to public notice.

Being so unfortunate as to lack a conscience Simonides utilized all these talents by becoming a forger of ancient documents. His first public appearance was in Athens when he was 85 years old.

In a year Simonides was back with a fresh lot among them an ancient Homer written on lotus leaves with an accompanying commentary by Eustathius.

The legislature in 1908 enacted into law section 885 890 of the Penal Code establishing a children's court.

Principles of law in a juvenile court, be come principles of character treatment and character building. The judge does not stop his inquiry with an answer to the problem guilty or not guilty.

Its philosophy rings true to the noblest instincts of the race. Justice in a children's court is not a blind goddess, but open eyed and alive to the truth.

Why He Rejoices. (From The Butler Herald). Oh! life is sweet—so sweet—open-work waist and open-work ties are in your midst.

The palimpsest manuscript was sent to Berlin. Its authenticity was reaffirmed by the Academy and Prof. Dindorf offered the University of Oxford the honor of recovering this valuable book to the world.

The press was stopped at once and the manuscript was submitted to microscopic experts and it was found that the layer of writing which had been nominally restored was more indistinct than the lower which had been effaced and the pretended old ink overlaid the new.

Simonides (for it was he) was called upon for an explanation but again he had disappeared. He now varied his scheme at his next appearance in Constantinople.

When the pasha appeared Simonides in forced him that this very order was mentioned in his manuscript. The pasha's interest was excited.

Two months later Simonides was in London. English scholars were greatly exercised over a remarkable manuscript in his possession giving a memoranda of Belshazzar to the Emperor Justinian.

CYCLORAMA CLOSED; BUILDING DANGEROUS

General Manager Carey Takes Action When Part of the Skylight Collapses.

A skylight in the cyclorama building at Grant park collapsed early Friday morning and several persons who were viewing the magnificent $100,000 painting of the "Battle of Atlanta," narrowly escaped serious injury.

Following the receipt of the report of the near accident at city hall Friday morning, Park Manager Dan Carey gave instructions to close the building until the city engineers make an inspection.

Announcement was made at the park office that the building would be closed for an indefinite period.

"I am not closing the building as an argument in favor of putting up a new structure," Manager Carey told the Constitution. "The building is in bad condition, and I realize that it will be much safer by keeping the public out."

Asks Mayor to Help.

Manager Carey sought a conference with Mayor Woodward Friday afternoon. He wants the mayor to take an interest and hasten repairs on the old building.

Council's finance committee was asked to appropriate $60,000 for a new fireproof building last January, but the item was left out of the sheet. President J. O. Cochran, of the park board, urged the appropriation again when the committee started making up the June sheet, and the prospects looked up bright until the crematory controversy put an end to all new projects.

The cyclorama is one of the best assets of the park department. The painting is valued now at $95,000. During the last season 51,111 persons viewed the painting, yielding a revenue of $5,110. The building in which it is enclosed is flimsy, and is fast decaying. According to city officials who have inspected the building it will collapse in a short while, in the event fire does not destroy it.

Some weeks ago another portion of the roof of the building fell, but it was at night when no one was about. General Manager Carey put his park carpenters to work on the damage and repaired it without closing the building one day. The skylight which fell Friday was of glass one and one-quarter inch thick.

City Must Safeguard Pointing.

Councilman Albert Thomson recently discussed with members of council the necessity of the city doing something towards safeguarding the pointing. He favors the city carrying heavy insurance on the painting.

Captain R. M. Clayton, city engineer, favors the city spending at least $50,000 on a concrete building, one which will not only safeguard against fire, but will stand the ravages of all kinds of weather.

It is likely that the park board will be called together at an early date to decide whether the building should be condemned and closed for the entire summer.

GIRL PREFERS THE PEN TO THE MARTHA'S HOME

Crying out that she did not want to be reformed, but preferred to go to the stocks, Alma Barrett, a young woman arrested Thursday night in raid on the Frankfort hotel, 21 South Pryor street, persuaded Judge Broyles to send her to the stocks, Friday morning.

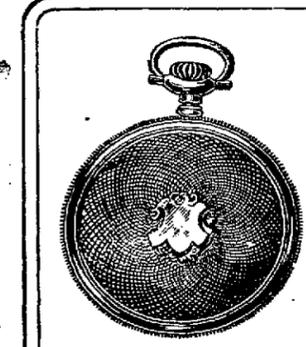

The judge wanted to send her to the Martha's home, but when she objected she and Mrs. F. J. Rathway, also arrested in the raid, and who claims to be the wife of a soldier, were given 28 days each in the stocks.

Atlanta proposes to enter actively into a campaign for interurban railway development.

There has been talk of numerous projects for building electric lines between this city and various distant points, but not one of them has as yet developed beyond the stage of discussion. One company did grade a few miles of roadway on a line proposed to be operated between Atlanta and the South Carolina line at the Savannah river, but it met with financial disaster and the work of construction was suspended.

Lookouts Manage to Win at Last

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

After eight starts, the Lookouts managed to win a game from the Crackers yesterday afternoon, their first of the season, but it took them ten innings to get away with the game at that.

Whiffs

THE STANDING of the Southern league clubs, as it appears in The Constitution every morning, contains at present that much disputed game at Nashville. We have placed this in Atlanta's won column and in Nashville's loss. This game will be kept there until President Kavanaugh decides to throw it out and order it played over, which no doubt he will.

Still Leading.
TOMMY LONG continues to lead the batters of the Southern league, despite his slump of the past few days. Including Thursday's game, Tommy is hitting at a .370 clip. Robertson, of Mobile, who led long for quite a while, is batting .353. But while every one is watching these two men, they had better keep their eyes on three other players who are coming fast. Manager Elberfeld of Chattanooga, is hitting .352; Messinger, of Birmingham, is hitting .349, and Sloan of Montgomery, is hitting .332.

Have Come Around.
IT BEGINS to look as if Billy Smith's twirlers have come around at last and are showing the kind of form that goes to make pennant winners. Messinger and Dent are pitching great ball. Old Reliable King Brady is going as steadily as a clock. This week will tell.

Who Will Get.
CONZELMAN will be signed up today. Who will go to make room for him has not been decided upon by Manager Smith. But the choice seems to rest between Chappelle and Price. Messinger and Brady looking like certain. At this writing. But we leave the choice to Manager Smith, without even a guess.

Thanks, Ruddy.
NEW ORLEANS scribes may think harshly of Frank Rudderham as an umpire, but we beg to disagree with them. Ruddy has always umpired well when in Atlanta, and not having the pleasure of witnessing him in action elsewhere, this is all we can say. Even had his decisions been bad on Thursday, which they were not, we express our thanks herewith for his endeavor to hasten the pastime, by keeping right back of the players at all stages. A little more life on the part of the other umpires in the league and some of the games would not be so tiresome.

Dope Sticks.
THE DOPE promises to run true to form in one respect. The Pirates and the Giants are coming along fast now, and it begins to look like a fight to the barrier between these two clubs. This was the prediction during the stove league, and it is one prediction that will probably pan out. The Philadelphia twirlers were off to a running start, but Doolin's men cannot win as steadily and consistently as either the Giants or the Pirates, when the latter get stretched out in their true stride.

The Cellar Berth.
THE COMPETITION for the cellar berth in the Lynch organization is going to be a keen one. There seems to be three clubs who are about evenly matched, and the Reds, Doves and Cardinals do not propose to languish in the cellar without a fight. The struggle in the second division is going to be as interesting (to the inhabitants of the cities named) as the pennant scrap will be in other circles.

Lock the Gates.
THE TRAPPING of the White Elephants of Connie Mack is getting louder every day. It looks like they will be unable to stop the house of Mack. Take into the consideration that Baker is hitting some 50 points below his natural stride, and Jack Coombs has been horsed in combat for some time, and then figure what will happen when they hit their real stride. Of course for the other fellow. And even at that, the Mackmen have won twelve straight games.

Figure Stumps.
THE NAPS of Joe Birmingham must not be figured out of the running just yet. They are crowding the Athletics closely and winning games right and left. Birmingham are making as good a bid for the pennant as the most rabid Cleveland fan could hope for, and the first slip of the Athletics is likely to find the Naps out in front, and when they get there, the heavy artillery could let with the good pitching that they possess, is likely to keep them there, unless they run into some more accidents.

Lookouts Win First Game In Eight From Crackers; Took Ten Rounds to Do It

Crackers Sprung Fierce Rally in Eighth, Scoring Five Runs and Tying Up Game—Welchonce, Alpermann, Elberfeld and Coyle Feature With Hitting. Agler Has a Busy Day.

The Lookouts finally won a ball game from the Crackers. Friday they scored their first win of the season from Billy Smith's clan after having been drubbed seven consecutive times. But it took them ten innings to do it, and at that they came very near losing the contest, after they had had it packed away. The final count was 7 to 5.

Despite the fact that the Crackers lost, they gave the fans a run for their money, and gave them more excitement in one round—the eighth—than Atlanta fans have been treated to in many a day. Pandemonium reigned. Both teams used two pitchers. Chappelle started for the Crackers, and was both wild and tending to rather lively, while Dent, who succeeded him, was hit just hard enough to lose.

Sommers started for the Lookouts, and for seven innings he had the Crackers eating out of his hand, but in the eighth the fireworks started. Curtains for Rudy. Coveleskie finished the game and checked the Crackers nicely.

The free hitting of both sides marked the contest. The Crackers got less hits, but their total bases were greater than the Lookouts. It was the long hitting that some might near bringing about the downfall of the Lookouts, after they had a lead that was commanding and looked safe. But they reckoned without their host, for a three-ply and four-ply smash tied up the old pastime, amid the wildest yelling that has been turned loose on the local lot in many a day.

Whitely Alpermann and Harry Welchonce were the boys with the blue gloves for the Crackers, the former getting a double and a circuit smash, and the latter two singles and a triple, and the blows were of the timeliest variety.

Elberfeld and Coyle did the hitting for the visitors. The Chattanooga mogul slammed out three safe wallopers and played a grand game at the short field. If the kid has gone back to his home town, he took Friday's game no indication of it.

Joe Agler had a busy day at the initial cushion, accepting twenty putouts without a boggle, while Curtis Elston, in right field, handled five chances in excellent style, robbing Elberfeld twice of what looked like sure extra base hits.

For two rounds there was nothing doing on either side. In the third, King worked Chappelle for a free ticket, and was sacrificed down by Flick. Coyle kicked in with a single to right, and King denied the plate with his spikes for the first run.

Elberfeld smashed one through Agler for a single, sending Coyle to third. He swiped second, and both scored when Johnson shot one through both Smith and Bistand, one of those teasing grass-cutters that no one can handle.

The fans felt repaid for their wonderful rally.

How Lookouts Won.
The Lookouts packed it away in the tenth session. Elberfeld got his third hit, a smash to center. Elston sacrificed him down neatly. Johnson singled to right, but poor coaching kept the Chattanooga manager on third.

Then Gabby Street hit a slow creep down the third base line that Wallop could only field in time to get Street at first. Williams got a free ticket and then Coveleskie made his own game safe by poling one to right for a single, sending Johnson across the plate.

Manager Elberfeld will probably shoot Coveleskie back at the Crackers this afternoon in an effort to make it two out of three. Street will again catch.

Gilbert Price will draw the assignment of outpitching the Reds, and Elberfeld can do it, too, when he is light. Dunn will again handle his slants.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE
Cordale 2, Thomasville 0.
Thomasville, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) In a short, snappy game this afternoon Cordale won 2 to 0. The runs were made in the first inning on Reagan's hit, stolen base and then hits by Day and Grey. Wilder held the locals completely at his mercy, being credited with thirteen strike outs and allowing but four hits. Day pitched good, steady ball in all except the first inning, when he allowed two hits and a run. The fielding of Chapman featured, taking ten chances without an error.

Valdosta 3, Waycross 2.
Waycross, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)— In a pitchers' battle in which Vanderlip had the best of the argument, Waycross and Valdosta battled to an 11-inning tie, the local score being 3 to 2. Valdosta had not scored until the ninth, when Leininger's home run over left field fence with one on base tied. In the tenth, they moved one over, but Brother's home run hit tied the score, and the game was stopped at the end of the eleventh on account of darkness. Penton hit a home run, and took five hard chances in center. Herring allowed Vanderlip in the tenth, and held the visitors in check.

Brunswick 4, Americus 4.
Brunswick, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)— Brunswick and Americus fought out a pretty twelve-inning tie game this afternoon, the score being 4 and 4. The visitors had a one run lead up to the ninth, when the locals tied the score. Neither club was able to score in the three additional innings. Werner was hit hard, but kept the hit well scattered.

Madison 1, Emory 6.
Madison, Ga., June 6.—Madison won the final game here with Emory college this afternoon, 1 to 0, making a clean sweep of the series of two games. Haines, Madison's pitcher, was invincible, pitching a no-hit game, second an Emory college runner reaching base. He was superbly supported by the fielders behind him, who accepted every chance without an error. Both teams played well. Madison is ready to meet all comers.

CURRENT IN EFFECT ON DAY OF TRAGEDY

Report That Elevator in Pencil Factory Was Not Running Proves Groundless.

Following a widely-prevalent rumor that Leo Frank's defense will strive to prove that the current was shut off from the pencil factory plant on the day Mary Phagan was slain, and that, for this reason, James Conley could not have lowered the girl's body to the basement on the electrically-driven elevator as he claims in his confession, it was established conclusively last night that the Georgia Railway and Power company's electric service was in effect on the tragedy day.

This statement was made to a Constitution reporter by S. Arthur Redding, general superintendent of the department of electricity of the local power concern. Mr. Redding investigated his reports of the murder date to ascertain whether or not the power was running into the pencil factory building on April 25, revealing that the service was effective.

A rumor was circulated Friday that an affidavit had been secured by the defense to the effect that the current was shut off from the pencil factory on the day of the murder. Luther Z. Rosser, Frank's attorney, declared to a reporter for the Constitution that he knew nothing of such a document's existence. He would not deny, however, that an affidavit of that nature had been obtained. He only said that word of its existence was news to him." Shut Off From Inside.

Superintendent Redding said it was probable that the current was shut off from the inside of the plant, as is usual in all factories employing electric power. In this case, however, he declared that to turn on the power required only the plugging of an individual switch, which would have been a fixture of the plant's, not the power company's.

Negro Sticks to Story.

Conley, when informed of the rumored affidavit, strongly maintained the detectives who questioned him say that he did operate the elevator to carry down on the girl's body, and that Frank drove it on the return trip. Furthermore, he is said to have declared the power company was not accustomed to shutting down the current on holidays.

Another startling rumor gained headway Friday, in which A. S. Colyar, the sensational figure in the telegraph charges, was said to have announced his possession of a sworn confession from the negro Conley, and that he had told Sheriff Mangum of it. The rumor had it that Conley had admitted to Colyar that he murdered the girl.

Chief Lanford branded the story as a total falsehood. He had heard it on Thursday night, he said, and immediately had ordered Conley brought to his office for examination. The negro, says the chief, told him emphatically that he had never intimated anything relative to having slain the girl, and that he made no sworn statements other than those in bands of the detectives.

Furthermore, the chief declares, Conley avowed he had never seen or heard of Colyar except through what he had read of him in the newspapers. Also in a telephone conversation with Colyar, Lanford declares Colyar denied having made the reported statement, and said that he had never even seen the negro sweeper, much less talked with him.

Has Negro Cook Disappeared?

The report prevailed at police headquarters Friday that Minnie McKnight, the servant girl in the Frank household, had mysteriously disappeared, and that no trace of her could be found. Investigation at the Frank home, 58 East Georgia avenue, revealed, it is said, that she was there no longer. Neither is she reported to be at her home on Fulliam street.

Her attorney, George Gordon, refuses to talk of his client or of her whereabouts. Neither will he speak of his connection with the case. He has admitted, heretofore, however, that he is counsel for the woman who recently made such a startling affidavit which she denied almost twenty-four hours after it had been in the hands of the solicitor general.

Whitney Meets Aldredge For Southern Golf Title At Montgomery Today

Montgomery, Ala., June 6.—Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans, twice holder of the southern championship today defeated Arthur Aldredge, of New Orleans, in the semi-finals of the championship flight of the Southern Golf association's twelfth annual tournament here. Tomorrow Whitney will contest with George A. Aldredge, state champion of Texas, for the championship.

Whitney and Bush have played against each other in four previous tournaments, Whitney always winning easily. Both men played superior golf in both morning and afternoon rounds, the match being for 36 holes. Whitney won, 7-6. In the afternoon Bush made the bogey 39 for the first nine holes, while Whitney played par golf, 35.

In the first fight for the consolation championship today, Munger, of Dallas, Texas, had no difficulty in defeating Seiden, Macon, Ga., 8-7, and Unger, of Jacksonville, won a hard-fought battle with L. W. Read, Augusta, 1 up, in 38 holes.

Besides the Whitney-Aldredge championship match tomorrow morning, Munger and Unger will fight the finals for the consolation championship.

American Tennis Stars Win From Australasians In Single Matches Friday

New York, June 6.—American lawn tennis players paved the way for a trip to England by defeating the Australasian team two straight matches in the Davis cup preliminaries at the high school courts today.

Maurice E. McLoughlin defeated H. M. Rice, 5-1, 4-5, 6-3, and R. Norris Williams, second, scored the second victory, winning from Stanley N. Doubt, captain of the invading team, 8-4, 6-4, 7-5.

All that is needed to clinch the American team's victory is to win one of the three remaining matches, and experts look for this to be accomplished tomorrow afternoon when McLoughlin and Harold H. Hutchcroft meet the Australasian doubles team, consisting of Doubt and A. B. Jones. Should the United States combination win, the team will sail for England late this month to meet the German team, which already has eliminated the French team.

The play during the seven sets contested today proved conclusively that the American players have the edge on the contenders from the Antipodes.

The worst change of fortune to McLoughlin, easily disposed of Rice, outplaying his opponent to an extent not shown by the scores. To the surprise of the gallery there was none of the old slam-bang tactics for which the "California" has been noted. He used great force, but he used care and discretion.

At the special request of the Australian tennis stars an English ball,

FLOWERS ARE SHOWN ON EGG IN WEST END

The flowers of summer are suggested in a peculiar egg found in the barnyard of C. R. Snyder, of 286 Lawton street, West End. On the small end of the egg, which is otherwise a perfect specimen, appears an excruciating in the shape of a rosebud.

The flower on the egg is of the same color as the remainder of the egg and is formed by a peculiar curling of that part of the shell to form the appearance of the half-opened leaves of the bud. The egg was shown by Mr. Snyder to many friends and was considered a decided curiosity by all who saw it.

You will find blankets, neatly folded up on the foot of your berth, on the Frisco train to Colorado, so that you can conveniently pull them over you when the air becomes too cool.

After crossing the Mississippi the Frisco train begins to climb. As the train goes up the mercury goes down, and your ride to Kansas City over the crest of the Ozarks, often calls for blankets.

The Frisco takes the short cut to Colorado, over the Ozarks, and you get the benefit in beautiful scenery and cool, comfortable riding.

$2,000,000 NEEDED FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

percentage of them are able to continue their education further.

"$2,000,000 for New High Schools."

The present revenue from taxation, he continued, "is not sufficient to care for the maintenance of the high schools, and it's not sufficient to take care of the current expenses of the other important departments of the city. Atlanta citizens should see that the city officials work for a $2,000,000 bond issue, and of that amount, as president of the board of education, I want to ask for $2,000,000 for the purpose of erecting adequate and abundant plants for the high school students."

The remainder of the money from such a bond issue should go to other departments. We need additional grammar schools. At present we need a grammar school in Ansley park, another in East Atlanta, one on the Battle Hill section, and in other parts of the city. The city needs money, and it's only a question of taking the proper business methods to get it.

Colonel Daley's remarks were greeted with applause and every word spoken seemed to be appreciated and approved by the audience and by the members of the graduating class.

The prizes and medals were delivered by Hon. Edgar Watkins in a graceful speech in which he complimented the winners and expressed his appreciation from their classmates and friends. This delivery of medals was to have been made by Harold Hirsch, but when it was learned that his illness in New York city prevented his appearance, Colonel Watkins was prevailed upon by Professor Dykes, principal of the school, to take his place.

Bishop Candler Delivered Invocation.

The program was opened with music by the school orchestra. Bishop Warren A. Candler delivered the invocation. Basil H. Torrance, 6, delivered the valedictory for the literary department, and Joseph H. Stanfield, for the commercial. The following addresses were made: "The Gospel of Service," by Sam Epton; "Universal Peace," by W. Manning; and "Woman's Suffrage," by Ernest H. Lowenthal.

The scholarships were awarded as follows: Harold Hirsch $120 cash scholarship to University of Georgia, Herbert O. Calhoun, Washington and Lee university, Salt Springs, University of Chicago, Eugene Johnson; University of the South, Lewis Rosser; Emory, Charles Candler; Davidson college scholarship, divided between George Hoyt and Evelyn Hamilton; University of North Carolina, Roy W. Manning; Tulane university, Spencer A. Folsom; Mercer, Charles B. Cotney; Harvard, $200 Greenleaf scholarship, Bascom H. Torrance.

The following medals were awarded: The Holston medal, given to A. Holzman for the member of the senior class making the best record in scholarship, Bascom H. Torrance; the medal given by the United States Daughters of 1812 for the student improving most during the year in physical culture, Edwin Lochridge.
