board of nine members at Washington. Elasticity of the currency is to be secured through the issuance of United States notes to these reserve associations and by them to the local banks upon adequate security, including commercial paper of a graded class. The local banks making up each reserve association will be required to keep a specified amount of their reserves in the association vaults.

No present issues of treasury notes or gold or silver certificates are to be disturbed by the new currency but the bill would require the gradual retirement of all national bank notes within a maximum period of twenty years. The new currency system would become operative July 1, 1914.

The president's message written first in shorthand and transcribed by himself on the little typewriter on which he wrote both his inaugural address and his tariff message was also sent to the printer tonight. It will be read to the cabinet tomorrow. Members of the banking and currency committees of both houses will be in frequent conference hereafter with the president and while the bill as presented will carry administration approval it will be subject to amendments and suggestions generally in both houses.

Harmony is Predicted. That differences of opinion can be harmonized is the confident expectation of both the president and Mr. Taft. But whether this can be accomplished in the summer months or whether only a start will be made in the present session and the measure really enacted early in the December session is the point upon which even the president is reported to be unable to venture a prediction.

The framers of the bill have made public an authoritative version of the bill and up to tonight they declared there had been no final agreement as to detail. The main essentials—the distribution of reserves in the elasticity of the currency—have been finally agreed upon only after wide differences of opinion among the currency advocates themselves were reconciled. A more conciliatory spirit toward the currency plan prevailed among members of the house committee today following a visit to the white house by Representative Phelan, of Massachusetts, settles one of the members of the committee who have felt that they should be consulted with or advised regarding the currency while so many conferences were in progress talked among themselves with a view to securing party harmony.

Speech making in the house on currency will begin soon. When the house meets tomorrow according to a plan arranged today a request will be made for time for Representative Neely of Kansas a member of the committee majority to speak at the earliest opportunity. He believes with Representative Henry of Texas that there should be an immediate removal of the inquiry into the money trust.

Headed by its drum corps arrayed in all the glory of their flaming Oriental uniforms, the delegation from Atlanta aerie No. 714 Fraternal Order of Eagles amid the blare of trumpets and the thunder of drums left last night for the annual convention of Eagles in Jacksonville, Fla. which begins today.

Prior to entraining the Eagles headed by a squad of mounted police and the drum corps paraded the central streets of the city. The column formed in front of the Constitution building and gave a parade there and then marched up Forsyth street and back to an Peachtree street to the Terminal station. Their brilliant uniforms and the fine work of their well trained drummers and buglers attracted great deal of attention on the streets and it is a safe bet when the delegation of Aerie No. 714 arrives in Jacksonville the Florida burg will know that Atlanta has hit town.

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW DEMANDED BY SULZER

Albany N. Y. June 16.—Governor Sulzer tonight submitted to the legislature an extraordinary session a special message urging the passage of his direct primary bill. These unapproachable testimony he says seems quite conclusive. After the message had been read speeches were made by several members criticizing the methods of Governor Sulzer during the campaign he has conducted throughout the state in behalf of the primary measure.

"WATER" WANTED BY THE BANKERS

Oxnard Tells How New York Financiers Poured Liquid Into Beet Sugar Company. Probers Still After Lobby.

Washington, June 16.—Henry L. Oxnard, known as the father of the beet industry and the vice president of the American Beet Sugar company was the principal witness today before the senate lobby investigating committee. Mr. Oxnard was on the stand for several hours and gave an entertaining witness. He told the committee how New York bankers who helped to organize the beet sugar company insisted upon putting in about $15,000,000 water in that $20,000,000 corporation, how and by what means they had made a million by the sale of much of their share of this watered stock and gave warning that the Underwood bill with its free sugar provision would result in his opinion in the formation of a new sugar trust which would not violate the anti-trust law.

Only the best managed sugar factories would be able to survive free sugar, he said and a combination would result. To Form New Trust. Then you are going to form a new trust? asked Senator Reed. I have that in mind, said the witness.

In violation of the anti-trust law? No sir, there is no law to prevent it. I have been so advised by counsel. The committee took Mr. Oxnard over most of the ground that other anti-free sugar witnesses have covered. He told them he received $10,000 a year in his official capacity but that it was not for legislative work.

Mr. Oxnard testified that he had been fighting reductions in sugar duties for many years and heard with interest that he knew something about sugar at a glance the celebrated document that was made a senate document and sent over the country postage free under the frank of Senator Lodge. The committee got a surprise today when A. Y. More owner of the Fargo North Dakota Courier News and A. M. Baker general manager of that paper gave their testimony about an editorial recently printed in The News which Senator Gronna thought was a reflection upon him and which led to their being subpoenaed. Both men made the long trip to Washington to answer to the senate summons and then declared under oath that they knew nothing of the editorial until they saw it in print. It was written, they said, by James A. Metcalfe of Glendy, Mont. Temporary supplies of the Baker were away from Fargo. Both More and Baker said they had no reason to doubt Senator Gronna's political and private integrity and honesty and More said that the tract might be printed. Metcalfe had written the editorial, they thought, in a flippant way.

This Witness Was Cold. Another witness was Hiram Gove of Denver, employed at $2,000 a year by the Great Western Sugar company who said he had given up the last eight years to a study of the economic side of sugar and to convincing congressmen of the soundness of his views for duty on that article. Mr. Gove testified that before his employment by the sugar company he had been superintendent of schools of Denver.

Although the thermometer outside the committee room was trying hard to slip over the 100 mark and two electric fans were kept busy all day long in an endeavor to make a cool spot in the surrounding heat Mr. Gove sat for half an hour in the witness chair with an overcoat over his knees. He had not talked with many senators, he said, but he remembered a dinner with senator Bristow in which he had tried to convince the senator of the necessity of the Dutch standard in sugar. Instead of convincing Mr. Bristow he explained he came away convinced that the Dutch standard was unnecessary. There, in eight years he had appeared before committees of congress and he had delivered addresses before various organizations on the sugar question.

Sugar at a Glance. Harry A. Austin employed by Truman G. Palmer the Washington representative of the United States beet industry was the last witness. The committee spent nearly two hours in an attempt to find out just what happened to sugar at a glance after the senate ordered much of the material in printed as a public document and its actual appearance in pamphlet form. They endeavored to find out what he knew about an alleged order of the senate regarding the printing of the pamphlet which does not appear in senate records but is printed on the title page of "Sugar at a Glance." The best information Austin could give was that his order which has aroused the indignation of the committee must have appeared in proofs received at Palmer's office from the government printing office. Officials of that office have already explained to the committee that they knew nothing about his order, but they had been put upon the stand. They probably will be heard later.

"Quo Vadis" Produces Awe; Is a Wonderful Picture Play

By Sidney Ormond. The awful pomp of Imperial Purple—with its pageantry its putrefaction of morals its barbaric display its lust of flesh and of power—was vividly visualized and brought down to the present period in the motion pictures depicting Quo Vadis at the Grand last night.

For over two hours an audience which would have been considered a large one during the regular winter season at some musical comedy, sat enthralled as the wonderful story was unfolded scene by scene in a fashion so convincing that spoken words were not necessary to follow the thread of the gripping narrative. Not a person had stirred from his seat when the faint outlines of the Savior and the Cross were flashed on the screen as the final chapter of the story. The pictures compelled an attention rarely seen at a play. This attitude of the audience was far more eloquent than applause.

The story of Quo Vadis, that wonderful novel which created such a furor in the world of letters some twelve or fifteen years ago is well known to the majority of persons who are at all familiar with contemporary literature and a majority of those in last night's audience had read the book. But even to the few who had not the portrait was so perfect that scenes fitting into scenes with such absolute harmony—that one had no difficulty in following the theme.

Picture plays and picture plays have been seen in Atlanta but one and all pale into insignificance by comparison with the wealth of labor and detail which went into the making of last night's production. In every essential detail of costume architectural accessory and setting the various scenes were as near perfect as could be made. If the scene required a Roman mob of thousands the thousands were there and when I say thousands I mean just that thing. There was no cutting no scrimping no properties. You felt the very spirit of Rome pervading you and you realized how puny and unimpressive were the most graphic of written words which you had read. The pictures brought Rome to you while your auto waited at the curb. With a thousand sights and sounds of the twentieth century at your very elbow you were transported to the fabulous days of Nero.

Several scenes stagger the imagination. One wonders how it was humanly possible to produce them. The burning of Rome literally reeks of realism. You see before you scenes which the imagination runs riot and which the imagination runs riot and which the imagination runs riot. Again the arena scene where the Christian martyrs are off red up as sacrifices to countless gods and as come trooping forth in their causes a genuine thrill which no motion picture has ever produced. I did not wonder that the faces of the actors wear agonized expressions.

but you do wonder that they do not turn and flee for their lives. Aside from its educational value the moral of the play is more eloquent than many a sermon. The principals in the cast are actors of rare ability. The portrayal of Nero is admirable. One gains a very vivid idea of the vainglorious clownish creature who thought more of his jingling dogwood than of an empire. Petronius and Vitellius and Chilo and Peter the apostle were likewise skillfully portrayed.

Quo Vadis is given in three acts with eight minutes between acts. The pictures are so perfect that there is no strain on the eyes. It will be seen twice daily for the remainder of the week.

The Knight Motor Best

Poppet valve motor in official test falls far below the Knight record

This is the story of two 38 horsepower automobile engines--one a six-cylinder poppet valve motor of 1913 design, and the other a four-cylinder Knight sleeve valve motor built in 1909--four years ago.

The poppet valve motor was tested by the Automobile Club of America--the Knight by the Royal Automobile Club of England

The poppet valve motor was under observation 300 hours--the Knight 320 hours.

The maximum power of the poppet valve was 44.9--the Knight 59.

The average power of the poppet valve was 35.7--the Knight 53.

The minimum power of the poppet valve was 28.7--the Knight 51.

At the end of the tests the poppet valve motor was found to be delivering less power than at the beginning, while the Knight showed considerably more.

During the test of the poppet valve engine, valves were twice adjusted when the power fell off--during the test of the Knight motor no adjustments to the mechanism were made at any time.

It is conceded that the poppet-valve motor which was thus tested is one of the most highly developed poppet-valve engines manufactured; that the test was conducted by the Automobile Club of America, is proof that it was accurate. Hence the superiority of the Knight type motor has been proven by the poppet valve itself, and again supports the statement that--

The Stearns-Knight "Four" is better than any poppet-valve "Six," and that--

The only car better than the Stearns-Knight "Four" is the Stearns-Knight "Six"

"WON'T BE BULLDOZED," SAYS ORVILLE HALL

Councilman From Third Ward Tells Council He Intends to Have His "Sayso."

"I won't be bulldozed from the floor of this council. I represent the biggest ward in town, and I am going to have my sayso or know the reason why," Councilman Orville H. Hall, of the third ward, harried at his council adversaries, yesterday afternoon, when they attempted to railroad the Nutting resolution consolidating the various departments of the tax office.

The Nutting resolution was considered by the tax committee at a recent meeting, and only two of the five members attached their signatures to the favorable report. Councilman Hall declared at the time of the adoption of the resolution by the committee that he would fight it on the floor of council, and made good his boast.

When the resolution, which requires a charter amendment, was called before council Monday, an effort was made to have it passed over the objection of Councilman Hall, Smith and Colcord, those who led the movement declaring that immediate action was imperative if council wanted the amendment to go to the legislature. Councilman Hall frankly argued that the opponents of the resolution would tie the proposition up unless it was referred back to the committee, and he carried his point. The committee will probably meet during the week to pass on the matter.

Under the charter amendment adopted at the last session of the legislature, the tax assessors, the tax collector and the chief clerk were in charge of the various departments. That is to say, Chief Clerk G. P. Beauchamp had charge of his department, the receivers were put in charge of the receiving department, and the assessors had charge of the assessments. Under the resolution the charter is to be amended so that all the departments of the tax office are consolidated and placed under the assessors.

WOMEN POLICE WILL BE URGED BY CHIEF AT BOARD MEETING

It is not improbable that Atlanta soon will have such ultra-modern things as women police. The appointment of a squad of women to work in connection with the detective bureau at police headquarters is being considered seriously by Police Chief Beavers, who has just returned from the convention of national police chiefs.

He will recommend at the next board meeting that three or more women be employed for duty in the detective department, and, that, if necessary, city ordinances be amended in order to meet this proposed innovation.

"I am certain that women police can be used to good advantage," the chief told reporters. Many other cities have found them successful. They are capable of doing work which men cannot do, and would be invaluable in many respects."

TO DOUBLE WORK OF CORN CLUBS

Walter G. Cooper Gives Out Interesting Interview on the Subject.

"We must double the work of the Boys' Corn clubs," says Secretary Walter G. Cooper, in a striking interview, calling attention to the statistics which show that Georgia lacks $37,000,000 annually of making enough money out of her cotton crops to pay for food supplies brought into the state.

Mr. Cooper says: "Leading authorities on the food supply of Georgia agree in the estimate that the people sent out of this state last year $172,496,000 for corn, oats, hay, meat, dairy products and other food that should be raised here. The cotton and cottonseed crops lack $37,496,000 of paying for the food we bought."

"This in spite of the fact that the corn crop of Georgia has increased 25,000,000 bushels in five years. We have heard of a revolution in agriculture, and statistics show that the average yield of corn per acre went up from 10 to 15 bushels in five years, but Georgia still lacks a great deal of raising her food."

"In the fact of wonderful improvements wrought by the corn clubs in the past five years, it is hard to believe the statement that the cotton crop is thirty-seven million dollars of paying for the food supplies brought into the state, but these estimates are vouched for by such men as the state pure food inspector, P. A. Methvin, and H. G. Hastings, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on agriculture."

"Of course the farmers raise some corn, oats and hay, but they must have consumed what they raised, otherwise they would not have to buy. The farmers of Georgia, according to the state department of agriculture, produce something over $232,000,000, possibly $250,000,000, but when it is remembered that the farmers have to buy medicines, fertilizers, hardware, clothes, schoolbooks and a great many other things besides food, it is clear that they have very little left to pay the enormous food bills indicated by the foregoing figures."

"What are we going to do about it? Of course we must make the farms more productive and produce the things that we import. The corn clubs and other like work have in five years increased the average yield of corn per acre from 10 to 15 bushels, but corn states like Iowa are producing 36 bushels to the acre, and there is no reason why this should not be done in Georgia."

"In addition to this, the state of Iowa sold $200,000,000 a year of animal products. We cannot have much in the way of animal products until we have enough corn, oats, hay and forage to feed the animals, as well as the people."

"If we are short $58,000,000 worth of corn, with no animals to feed, how much more corn will we have to raise in order to supply the present demand and furnish food for $200,000,000 worth of animals, as well as food?"

"Iowa is about the same size as Georgia and the climate is certainly no better. There is no more congenial soil and not as much moisture. What are we going to do about it? What is the answer?"

"The answer is that we must double the work of the corn clubs and farm demonstration agents so bravely begun during the past five years."

"Where there are now 10,000 boys in corn clubs, we should have a hundred thousand. This means the economic salvation of Georgia."

HOME OF MRS. HAZEL LOOTED BY BURGLARS

Robbers yesterday invaded the home of Mrs. L. C. Hazel, 117 Holderness street, stealing several hundred dollars' worth of valuable jewelry and heirlooms which were highly prized.

Finding her back door wide open after a day away from home, and her valuables gone, Mrs. Hazel at once notified the police Monday night, and they will investigate the matter this morning.

Among the treasured pieces which were stolen were a gold watch, solid gold bracelet, an old-fashioned cameo pin, a diamond ring and several other things.

Attempts to break open a trunk were abandoned by the thief after breaking a button hook, with which he attempted to pry the lock. Pieces of the broken button hook were found lying on the floor.

Neighbors believe the robbery was committed Monday morning, as several people were on nearby porches at the afternoon, where they could have seen anyone who might have entered Mrs. Hazel's home.

EDUCATORS WILL SPEAK TO COLORED TEACHERS

The Georgia Association of Teachers in Colored Schools will assemble in the thirty-first annual session in Atlanta June 15-20 at Atlanta Baptist college. From present indications this will be the largest assembly of negro teachers that has met in Atlanta in a great many years.

Some of the most prominent educators of the state of both races will be present to help, suggest and advise. Chief among these are H. M. L. Brittain, state supervisor of education; Professor M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of rural schools; Hon. W. M. Slaton, superintendent of public schools, of Atlanta, Ga.

B. D. GLYPH ATTEMPTS TO PUT END TO LIFE

Despondent over ill health, B. D. Glymph, a painter, aged 60 years, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon by eating a quantity of rat poison. He was rushed from his home, 339 Scabard avenue, to Grady hospital, where heroic efforts by the "suicide squad" quickly revived him. He will live.

The aged man frankly admitted to hospital surgeons that he had attempted to kill himself. His health was given as the cause. Because of his advanced years, it will take him a considerable while to recover from the effects of the poison, and he will be confined to the hospital for several days.

PLAN FIGHT ON TARIFF REVISION

Republican leaders in the senate are working hard in preparation for their fight against the tariff bill now being rounded into shape for debate. Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, ranking republican member of the finance committee, is to lead the opposition on the floor after the bill is reported. The measure may not reach the senate until the end of June. Senator Smith, of Michigan, is preparing to lead the fight against the sugar schedule, and Senator Smoot will command the anti-free wool debate. Senator La Follette, who has amendments which amount practically to a new bill, plans to make a speech that will extend over a week. Others who are preparing long tariff arguments include Senators Borah, Cummins, Weeks, Lodge, Root, Burton, McCumber and Gallinger. The minority members of the finance committee are already at work on their report.

A. L. LYNN WILL APPEAL TO HIGHEST TRIBUNAL

Beaten in State Courts, Fight for Life Will Be Staged in U. S. Supreme Court.

Attorneys S. P. New and George B. Davis, of Dublin, Ga., counsel for the defendant in the case of the State v. Alonzo L. Lynn, have announced their intention of carrying their case to the supreme court of the United States since the supreme court of Georgia has sustained the lower court in rendering a verdict for the state, the defendant being sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge K. W. Hawkins, of the superior court of the Dublin district.

Alonzo Lynn was jointly indicted with his wife, Alice Lynn, for the killing of Frank M. Hightower, an aged Confederate veteran, 86 years old, at the Lynn truck farm near Dublin, Ga., last December. At the trial of the case in the lower court Mrs. Lynn pleaded guilty of being the fatal shot at Hightower, giving as her reason improper proposals made to her by Hightower. However, the counsel for the state maintained a conspiracy existed, and introduced several letters written to Hightower by Mrs. Lynn, inviting him out to her home on the day of the killing to get some light-wood and kindling. The defense maintained that no conspiracy had existed, but that Mrs. Lynn was forced into it by Mr. Hightower's insult.

After the lower court had given its decision in the case, Attorneys New and Davis immediately began their case in the supreme court of Georgia, which was argued on May 18 by counsel for the defense and for the state by Solicitor Stephens, of Laurens county, and Judge John S. Adams, of Dublin, before Justices Evans, Hill and Atkinson.

The contention for a new trial was set forth in twenty-one grounds, the main contention being that the indictment upon which Lynn was tried was void on account of the alleged unlawful sitting of the grand jury in session at the time. The defense also contended in their motion that the court erred in admitting unwelcome evidence at the trial, this being the sworn admission of old man Hightower's son, Frank, Jr., who is chief of the police at Dublin, Ga.

At the time of the trial excitement was at its highest pitch when it was learned that Hightower was an old Confederate veteran, and had served honorably during the civil war. A William G. Burns detective named McCall was detailed on the case, working up evidence for the state. In this a dictograph machine was used, being placed in the interior of the cell occupied by Lynn. The dictograph recorded certain statements purported to have been made by Lynn to his wife in the cell.

The case is one of the most interesting ones ever recorded in the state on account of the fact that Mrs. Lynn, who admitted firing the shot that killed Hightower, in self-defense, was set free and her husband given a life sentence, thus setting a precedent in the annals of criminal cases in the state.

Now You Can Get Beer Without That "SKUNKY" Taste!

All you have to do is to ask for Schlitz in Brown Bottles.

Sunlight grows hops, but spoils the beer.

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable, so-called 'light taste,' and also a repulsive, skunk-like odor," says no less an authority than the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, the scientific authorities on the subject. "Beer so affected," they say, "is offensive to the palate of most consumers."

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

ANKLE BEGAN TO GET SCALES ON IT

Sting Looked Like Pimple, Itching and Tormenting, Ankle and Instep Swollen, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In 6 Weeks Well.

1427 Story Ave., Louisville, Ky.—"Three summers ago in the middle of the night I was awakened with what I believed to be a sting of some kind on my left ankle. It was very severe. I scratched it till I felt it all over my body. Next day it looked like a pimple. It bothered me every night and grew bigger. In six months it had grown to the size of a quarter and it kept on itching and tormenting me till it got as big as a dollar. Then it began to get scales on it like a fish. It itched so badly that sometimes I thought I could tear the flesh from my leg. The more I scratched the larger it got. My ankle and instep were swollen.

"I used lard, tallow and all sorts of liniments that I knew of but they were all the same. It got as large as two dollars, not round but oblong. Then I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I sent for a sample and used them. The very first night I was able to sleep some and the third night I was able to sleep all night without any itching or burning whatsoever. Then I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It got better all the time and in six weeks it was dry and well." (Signed) Geo. L. Kalkhoff, Oct. 10, 1912.

GIRLS HAD TO WADE AT POINT OF GUNS

Witnesses Say West Virginia Mine Guards Hurled Obscene Remarks at the Girls as They Waded the Creek.

Charleston, W. Va., June 16—Forcing girls to wade creeks at the muzzle of guns was one of the diversions of the mine guards according to witnesses who testified today before the senate committee which is investigating conditions in the West Virginia coal fields. Elizabeth Fish, a pretty 19-year-old girl, described how a party of guards forced her, May Claypool and another girl to wade Cabin creek at the point of guns meaning taunting them with obscene remarks.

A H. Honiker, a merchant at Holly Grove, said he was arrested by mine guards and taken from his home. He had allowed miners to visit tens of thousands of dollars after they had been elected from the company's houses. C. R. Shaw of Parkersburg said he was taken into the coal fields during the strike with his wife and children. He worked at Mucklow for four weeks, and that he received no pay. It was all used up in the court-pool store, he said, and the store sold the company money. F. J. White, a negro miner, said that he was run off the creek by Murray Morton, son of a coal operator, and a guard.

Chief of Guards on Stand. T. A. Feltz, chief of the president of the Baldwin-Feltz Protective Agency, which supplied the mine guards for the Paint creek and Cabin creek operations during the strike, was the principal witness.

Mr. Feltz told the committee that when the trouble on Paint and Cabin creeks was at its height his company had about 110 armed men on Cabin creek and about thirty-five men on Paint creek. He also said that his company had from side to side ten men working in the strike district as "service" operatives.

Did you men make a list of those who were organizers for the United Mine Workers and those who were a list in the union for the use of the operators? asked Senator Stedman. The witness said such a list had been compiled.

One of the objects of your organization, asked Mr. Stedman, when employed is to prevent the organization of branches of the United Mine Workers? Yes, that is one of the objects, said Feltz. Mr. Feltz denied emphatically that any of his men operated in the strike district after Governor Hatfield declared martial law. He also denied that any of Baldwin-Feltz men were on the armored train which freed on the strikers' camp at Holly Grove in February.

Senator Kenyon ascertained from Mr. Feltz that men were employed "to join the unions to find out what was going on" in order to carry out the purposes of preventing union organization.

Wanted Men Who Could Shoot. After a lengthy examination as to the qualifications which the agency demanded when men applied for places, Senator Martin demanded "when it was a question whether a man possessed physical courage or moral courage which way did you decide?" Feltz was not quite sure, and the senator asked rather impatiently "When a man came to you for a place and it was a question as to whether he could shoot well or pray well which did you choose?" With a smile the chief of the guards answered "Well, I think to shoot well would be the qualification needed in a contract such as there was in the case."

Feltz told the committee his company received something over $300 a day for the services rendered by its men in the field on the creeks when the trouble was at its height.

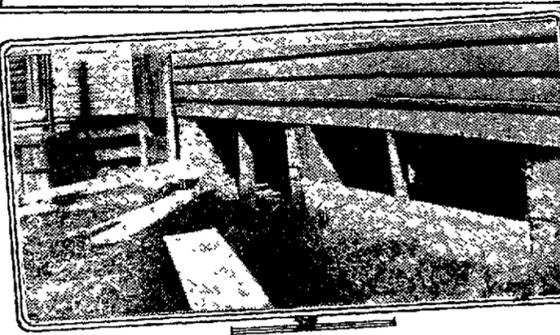

Under examination by Senator Martin, Feltz said he had endeavored to find the origin of a story to the effect that a human being among the mine guards had mutilated a woman's breast.

"I offered a reward of $500 for any information on this story," said Feltz, "but was unable to find out where the story began."

Paul J. Emison, the first witness called for the operators, said he was in office of the United Mine Workers. He declared he could not say whether several persons, including Motley Jones, were employed by the United Mine Workers.

T. C. Cowherd said that when he was traveling through Cabin Creek a mob of strikers beat up a man who was traveling with him. Cowherd told the committee he bement, slaying the deputy across the throat and face and arms Yancey fired three times. The negro plunged his knife into the heart and Yancey fell dead almost instantly. While his victim lay lifeless the slayer drew his knife across the face and stomach, inflicting three hideous wounds. Over fences and through neighboring yards the negro fled finally ducking under a house, where he was captured.

The pathetic side of the tragedy has so touched the hearts of a large number of Atlantans that liberal subscriptions were made yesterday for a relief fund to be given the dead deputy's widow. She will be in distress—financially, as a result of the death.

She is the mother of eight children, all of whom are living. One was recently released from Grady hospital, where she suffered an operation that confined her for two months. Another child is still in the sanatorium, seriously ill.

Sickness Drained Resources. Yancey had recently purchased his pretty home on Jonesboro road. Only two months' payments have been made on the purchase. Sickness had drained his resources until he was unable to make the two monthly payments now due. He was promoted drawing a salary of $100 monthly.

All attaches of the sheriff's office, including Sheriff Mangum, himself speak highly of the dead man. He was an honest, capable official, they say, and to be trusted in any circumstances.

Fund for Yancey Family. As soon as it became generally known that Dave Yancey had met death in doing his duty the thoughts of his friends turned toward his family, and various subscriptions came in to make up a fund for them.

Sheriff Mangum was the first to subscribe, and from his office he gave $50. Police headquarters have raised a fund also. Individual contributions came in from various deputy sheriffs and from others who had known and admired Yancey.

At present the subscription list stands: Sheriff's office $50.00, Constitution 25.00, Georgian 25.00, John 25.00, Plennie Mmer 10.00, Arnold Broyles 10.00, John H. Owen 5.00, G. H. Brodnax 5.00, G. NEW CREMATORY GIVEN APPROVAL

Council Adopts $260,000 Appropriation for Purchase, and Also Arranges for Electric Plant Option.

The city council, despite the refusal of Mayor James G. Woodward to unconditionally approve the June finance sheet, adopted the appropriation which carries $260,000 for the cash purchase of the crematory, and assumed the responsibility of making a contract with the New York Destructor company in accordance with the supreme court decision.

Council also passed the Nutting resolution, which reserves to the city the right to demand that the company instead of a $100,000 electric generating plant in connection with the plant, and granted the company authority to remain in possession of the plant until the contract is carried out.

Mayor Woodward returned the finance sheet to council with a conditional approval. In his message he informed council that he construed the decision of the supreme court to mean that he was enjoined against any measure looking toward the fulfillment of the contract which invalidated.

When informed of the action of council, Mayor Woodward declared that he was more than satisfied to let council assume the responsibility for everything connected with the new contract.

The court plainly says that the old contract is void, and for me to do anything to conflict with the ruling of the court would mean contempt," Mayor Woodward said. "Council must make a new contract. If the city insists on an electric plant in connection with the crematory it seems to me to be an open matter to incorporate a clause for option in the new contract. As for allowing the Destructor company to continue in possession of the plant and ground, I consider that a matter for the supreme court to decide whether council has the authority or not. Council has relieved me of the responsibility."

City Attorney James L. Mayson was asked for an interpretation of the message of the mayor. Alderman James R. Nutting insisting that the failure of the mayor to approve or disapprove a measure constituted a veto. The city attorney ruled that under the language of the message council could only construe the action of the mayor to mean that the matters were automatically adopted.

Council was bent on "putting one over" on the mayor, and treated the returned sheet and resolutions as vetoes, and passed them accordingly. Alderman Nutting criticized the attitude of the mayor against the installation of an electric generating plant in connection with the crematory. He intimated that the mayor was inspired by some large interests. Speaking of the failure of the mayor to approve the resolution asking the Destructor company to give the city an option on an electric plant, Alderman Nutting said:

"We are getting at the milk of the coconut now. The mayor has refused to approve the electric plant part of the contract for reasons which you all know, and which are not necessary for me to repeat now."

ATLANTA MILK SUPPLY WILL BE DISCUSSED

Commerce Chamber to Consider Problem at Piedmont Luncheon.

E. L. Bradley, formerly with the milk supply of Atlanta, there will be a meeting of the house of representatives of the local chamber of commerce at a luncheon to be held at the Piedmont hotel at 1 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, June 24.

There will be a very interesting report made at that time by Dr. S. A. Visanska, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on milk supply. In addition to Dr. Visanska, B. M. Hood, director in charge of the chamber of commerce division of health, who is an ex-officio member of the committee, will also be heard from. Other members of the committee are Oscar Elias, Ivan K. Allen, Beaumont Davidson, and Dr. Michael Hoke.

President Wilmer L. Moore, of the chamber of commerce, will preside at the luncheon.

The house of representatives of the chamber of commerce is composed of the chairman of the various standing committees, the directors, the former president, and the members of the advisory committee. It is intended to hold regular meetings of this body, which have somewhat fallen into abeyance.

Two resignations of members of city boards were sent to council yesterday afternoon. Frank Wilby, member of the park board from the second ward, resigned because he said he cannot find time from his business to give to the park department. George E. Tigner, another member of the board, resigned because the Grady hospital, sent his resignation with no explanation.

Council did not take up either resignation, aside from accepting both and ordering them filed. The vacancies will probably be filled at the next meeting. N. Thom, capitalist of the second ward, has been mentioned as the possible new member of the park board.

STOCK SALE CONTRACTS MUST BE FULFILLED

Subscribers of stock to corporations who have made their subscriptions with the provision that certain conditions be complied with, will not be compelled to pay when such conditions are not complied with.

This is in effect the holding of the state supreme court in an opinion handed down Monday in the case of G. C. Dutton versus the Savannah Pure Food Canning company.

NO MONEY IS ALLOWED FOR CONVENTION TRIP

General Manager Zede Smith and one of his assistants in the waterworks department will not attend the national waterworks convention, in Minneapolis, June 23, unless they pay their own expenses.

This was ordained by the general council yesterday afternoon, after a spirited debate on the waterworks committee resolution urging an appropriation of $250 for the trip.

Chairman W. G. Humphrey, of the finance committee, informed Councilman Claude L. Mason, of the waterworks committee, that the city treasury was at low ebb, and he frankly did not believe the city could afford the money. He also pointed out that Chief Beavers spent his own money to make the trip to Washington to attend the police chief's convention.

Alderman Harwell, who is also a member of the finance committee, agreed along the same line.

The resolution was killed in council, therefore there is no necessity for it going to the committee.

Goes to Massachusetts.

George Drummond left yesterday afternoon for a trip to his old home in Massachusetts, where he will remain until fall.

Few Atlantans are more better known than George Drummond in the middle fifties his oldest brother came to Savannah, and when the conflict between the states began he enlisted with the Chatham artillery, serving throughout the struggle.

George Drummond, the youngest of his family, wore the blue. After the war George Drummond lived in Atlanta. His wife and daughter, both Atlantans born, are now in Massachusetts.

OVER 90 IN THE SHADE WAS MONDAY WEATHER

The weekly forecast sent out from Washington indicated a hot wave over the entire country with local showers in this section by the end of the present week and Atlanta temperature responded to the predictions by staying in the nineties during the middle part of Monday.

The atmosphere was hot all day, from 6 o'clock in the morning, when the mercury had reached 71 degrees, until 3 in the afternoon, when it was a fraction over 90 in the shade.

Direct sunshine and the absence of the steady breeze of the past few days made the climate appear even hotter and induced Atlantans to go in for light suits and hot-weather clothes of all kinds.

The local forecast for Tuesday shows continued fair weather with practically no change of temperature, unless it be that the mercury will climb a degree or two higher toward the top of the column.

ASA G. CANDLER SAID

In THE AMERICAN, Yesterday:

SOUTH IN MAGNIFICENT SHAPE

"The South, when we come to consider our immediate prospects, is in absolutely magnificent shape. I know much of conditions in Georgia of my own knowledge."

Far from believing the country on the verge of hard times or anything like serious financial depression, Mr. Candler believes the horizon to be abundantly rainbowed and promising nothing but good things.

He said that if he did not feel this way about it he would not leave the United States for Europe to be gone two months.

And, too, we know Mr. Candler to be a man who is fearless in speech; he says exactly what he thinks; and more—he has a good think every now and then.

Miss Charles Owens Weds Mr. Edward Buckingham Hall

The marriage of Miss Charles Owens and Mr. Edward Buckingham Hall of Montgomery, Ala., was solemnized last night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Owens, 25 North street, and the ceremony was followed by an informal dinner.

INTEREST IS GROWING IN REVISION OF TAXES
O. T. Gower, of Crisp, Will Propose Joint Committee to Prepare New Law

Legislators are becoming more and more impressed with the importance of a revision of the tax system of the state. He hopes to work out a solution of the tax problem on somewhat the same lines that the insurance laws of the state were revised by the last general assembly.

As to the importance of the issue he says:

"This tax question in my opinion is one of the most vital subjects that can possibly be brought before the legislature. If it is properly worked out it would properly assess and collect equally from the property holders the question of deficiency in the state treasury will be eliminated and at the same time the burden of taxation will not be increased to the masses of the people."

The statistics were compiled by members of the union one of whom says he is a former instructor in mathematics in an eastern college. He resigned from that position he said, to engage in a small business in Newark, N. J.

Naturally I do not care to reveal my name he said. We present a case of men who have found themselves unable to cope with some of the harsh requirements of life. I was unmarried an became busy with just enough money to keep me a week. At first I tried rough work, but I was unable to endure the hardships. So I became a dish washer.

W. & A. FUTURE WILL BE DEBATED THURSDAY
Chamber of Commerce Secures Able Speakers to Discuss Big State Problem

Speakers holding different views as to the future of the Western and Atlantic railroad the states oropert will be secured for the many meeting Thursday night in Taft hall called by the Atlanta chamber of omme r e.

The purpose of this meeting which will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening is not to reach any conclusion as to what should be done with the property but to decide as to the advisability of calling a state convention to discuss its future.

Everybody who has kept pace with the Western and Atlantic situation is aware that this is the biggest problem which now confronts the state. What shall be done with a property worth $12,000,000 which would pay the states entire public debt and still leave more than $5,000,000 in the state treasury? This is the question the legislature must decide at an early date because it is realized that it will be dangerous to defer it to the last moment.

The Atlanta chamber of commerce is actuated not only by the fact that the proper disposition of the property is of the utmost importance to the state financially but also because the Western and Atlantic railroad is an important key to the freight rate situation in Georgia and the disposition of it must be guarded from this standpoint as well as that of the states financial interest.

Thursday night's meeting is merely a preliminary one but its importance cannot be questioned. A state convention might be of material assistance to the legislature in bringing about a speedy solution of the big problem.

President Wilmer L. Moore of the chamber will preside and the matter of speeches is in the hands of Chairman W. A. Wimshis who has given the matter some attention himself and will have something to say about it.

A state convention if called would at least furnish a splendid indication of public sentiment regarding the future of this important property and that is undoubtedly something which legislators would like to know about.

The chamber invites the public generally to attend this meeting and trusts that a large and representative gathering of Atlanta's business men will be present.

A. K. Sessions and J. A. Sweat, of Waycross, Appeal to the State Department.

By John Cornegan, Jr.

Washington, June 15.—(Special).—Claiming property losses in Mexico, amounting to $300,000, A. K. Sessions, of Waycross, and his partner, J. A. Sweat, are here to confer with the state department as to recovery.

Fifteen Americans owning property in Mexico held a conference with Mr. Bryan, secretary of state, to know what could be done by this government to have them reimbursed for their losses.

No decision has yet been reached as to whether this government will pay the losses of its citizens suffered through the revolutionary uprisings in Mexico, and then demand reparation from that government, or whether the claimants must go into the Mexican courts for redress.

MRS. J. BORDEN HARRIMAN CHOSEN

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, of New York, has been selected for appointment as a member of the industrial commission. It was said that no woman ever had been appointed to an office of the same character and importance.

Mrs. Harriman married a nephew of the late E. H. Harriman. She has been prominent as a social worker, and the president is well acquainted with her activities in that direction. In the last presidential campaign Mrs. Harriman was in charge of the woman's section of the democratic national committee, her particular task being to impress on the women of the country the advantages to be derived from a reduction of the import duties on household necessities. The industrial commission is to be composed of nine members, of whom three are to represent the public-at-large, three to represent labor and three to represent industry. It is supposed that Mrs. Harriman will be one of the representatives of the people. The commission will undertake an exhaustive investigation of the relations between capital and labor and industrial and economic conditions generally. Mrs. Harriman is a member of the National Civic Federation, the Child Welfare association and acquainted with all of the prominent labor leaders in the country.

A fight to defeat the medical practice bill which will come up at the next session of the legislature was planned at the fortieth annual meeting of the Georgia Eclectic Medical association which held its first session yesterday at the Aragon hotel.

Urging the necessity of concerted action by all eclectic physicians, President L. S. PRICE NOW LEADS LEAGUE'S HURLERS

EDITED BY Dick Jamison

In Far Ahead.
FIGURES appearing in other papers have put Tommy Long in second place with Dave Robertson, the leading batter of the Southern league. Long is 17 points ahead of Robertson, while even Kid Eberfeld, the Chattanooga manager, has passed the Mobile slugger. Long is hitting .361, Eberfeld .347 and Robertson .341. Rabbit came out of his slump yesterday.

Like Old Times.
WHEN Whitey Alpermann stepped up to the plate Monday and punched the sphere out safely three times, twice driving in runs, it looked like old times. When Whitey is hitting them in the pinnacles, watch out. Here's hoping that the local field leader is back in his real stride again.

It Happened.
ALEXANDER'S winning streak has been broken. The big right-hander of the Phillies was the only twirler in the big league that had a consecutive winning streak without any defeats, but the Cubs romped in his career. Monday he accepted three chances, but they all settle down and go to work again to see who will lead the league.

Outright Release.
BUCK WEAVER, the biggest disappointment of the season to Manager Smith, has been handed his unconditional release. Manager Frank of the Pelicans, to whom he was loaned by the local mogul, wanted to turn him back Saturday, but the local mogul wired the Pelican chief to give him his outright release. The Crackers made an effort to place the big right hander, but were unable to.

Back Soon.
HARRY CHAPMAN, the Crackers' peppy receiver, will be back in harness again, possibly by the time the Birmingham Barons come here Thursday. He could really jump into the pastime right now, but Manager Smith wants to give the spiker a thorough healing, so as not to have it give away under the strain.

Going Good.
THE WORK of Joe Dunn has been very satisfactory. The big backstop, although overworked, has been catching a consistent game. In fact, the task of having to catch every day for the past two weeks has made Joe's work show an improvement that has been pleasing to himself, the fans, his fellow players and his manager. The big fellow is a hard, earnest worker, and deserves a lot of credit for sticking to the ship every day in the week, with the local hurlers as wild as they have been.

Recent Knapp.
C. FRANK, peeved at the backing down of President Jones, of the Montgomery club, in a proposed deal whereby Pitcher Bagby and First Baseman Kutina would go to the Peis for first baseman Snedecor, has recalled Cotton Knapp from the Billieus to whom he was loaned and sent Green back to them.

A Pretty Race.
THE CHASE for the rag in the Southern league promises to be a good one, with every team with the exception of the Pelicans having a look in. The Gulls have just about maintained their lead over the second place team, but the other teams are advancing easily and the present clip keeps up. The Gulls' lead is going to be cut down shortly.

A Curiosity.
POP VAN HALTREN, scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates and former big league star, and in his day one of the most successful players in laying down bats and beating them to first, is a baseball freak. Van Haltren is scouting for the Braves, but at the same time holding down an umpire's job on the Pacific coast. It is in the latter capacity that he shines, and strange to say, he is one man who enjoys an umpire's duties, at the same time assisting in the knowing that he gets kicks. He enjoys being amused and busy and time does not drag on his hands. And they say Pop is a good umpire at that.

A Complete Change.
FRANK CHANCE is beginning to show his managerial ability that made him famous when he was a member of the Great City machine. He has changed the Yankees' personnel, until he has them playing real baseball now. During the past week, they won more games in proportion than they did for the rest of the season. Chance is boss of the ranch now. When Ed Sweeney took exception to Husk's rulings, Chance tried to impress his authority on the big receiver. When this failed, he beat it into Ed's head with his fists. Chance is supreme master of the club, and with the changes that he is making in its lineup, they are not going to be done mats for all the contestants much longer.

Mack May Aid Chance.
New York, June 16.—President Ban Johnson, of the American league, who was in this city today, said he would endeavor to procure one of Connie Mack's extra outfielders for the New York club. Mack has six outfielders, Dan Murphy, Eddie Murphy, Oldring, Strunk, Daley and Walsh. Mr. Johnson will endeavor to have Mack part with either Walsh or Daley. A young semi-professional catcher, Moffit, joined the Highlanders today.

Today's Batteries.
Joe Conzelman and Dunn for Atlanta and George Beck, the Mobile marvel, with Eddie Noyes, receiving, are the probable batteries for today's ladies' day game.

By Dick Jamison.
Gilbert Price, Tommy Long and Whitey Alpermann shared the honors in the starting way Monday afternoon, in handing out the first defeat of the Nashville Aibis at Ponce de Leon this season.

The count was 7 to 3. Price not only pitched the Crackers to victory, but he pitched himself into the lead in percentage of games won over the great Pole, Coveleskie. Price has won nine games and lost two, a percentage of .813. Coveleskie has won thirteen and lost three, a percentage of .811.

Rabbit and Whitey.
Rabbit Long had a busy day. He stepped up to the platter five times. Three times he crashed the horseshoe safely, a single, a double and a triple being his quota. The three-ply smash came in the fourth inning, with the bases rolling, two men packed away, and the count two, and nothing on him.

But this was not all. Rabbit negotiated the distance from the plate to the plate three times, aiding his passage by parloring the keystone on one occasion and the hot corner with a wonderful headfirst slide on another. He accepted three chances cleanly in the outfield. (Mr. Robertson of Mobile, please note.) Whitey Alpermann got a couple of singles and a double in five tries. He also had a great day around the Keystones, making two of the prettiest plays of the day.

Joe Agler was next in line. Joseph cracked out a couple of clean wallups in four attempts and handled the first sack very nicely, making three nice catches and a couple of snags of bad throws that startled.

Pleasant Hammered.
Earl Pleasley started the pastime for the visitors, but he did not last but three and a fraction of a fourth inning. At that he seemed to show more stuff than he had ever shown. Usually he has nothing but a glove and a prayer. Monday he showed a sweeping curve that had the locals baffled until they got used to it.

Then a young southerner succeeded him, worked pretty smoothly for the youngster he appears to be, but at that he was touched up for four hits and a couple of runs.

The Gulls grabbed off a two-run lead in the second session. Perry got a life when Bisland, playing his ball on a short hop, missed it and let it get away. Young sacrificed him to second, and Schwartz sent him home.

Where Locals Won.
The fourth session was the big one. With one gone, Bisland and Agler singled in rapid succession. Both advanced on Dunn's lifted ball. Price walked, and the boys were out.

Tommy Long stepped up, fouled off one, looked over another strike and then picked the third. Jud Daley evidently misjudged the ball, for he landed in the turned and sprang back, but although he just touched the pill, he could not hold it. Rabbit cleaning the sacks and winding up at third. Welcome sent him home with a single to center.

The final Volunteer run came in the ninth. Gibson doubled to left and scored when Noyes, hitting for Dye, punched one down the third base line.

Leading by a run, Birmingham was tied in the ninth session, when Elston's triple scored Eberfeld. Hardgrove pitched in invincible form with men on bases, while Sommer was consistently effective throughout. Score 2 to 1.

The Crackers' Leading Pitcher Who Also Leads the League

GILBERT E. PRICE, Who is the only southpaw the Crackers possess, and incidentally is the leading pitcher of the team. But he added new laurels to his crown Monday at Ponce, when he beat the Volunteers, giving him a record for the season of nine games won and only two lost. This put him in the front rank of the hurlers of the league, with a percentage of .813. Harry Coveleskie, the big Pole, is right behind him, with an average of .813, compiled from thirteen wins and three defeats. If Price can maintain this stride the chances of the Crackers for the remainder of the season will be considerably enhanced.

GEORGIA TENNIS PLAY HAS BEGUN

Several Singles Mathes Played Monday—Resume Play This Afternoon at Piedmont Driving Club.

The tenth annual tennis tournament for the championship of the state got under way yesterday afternoon on the courts of the Piedmont Driving Club. All of the entries in the tournament are local men, as the out-of-town players who anticipated entering the meet were prevented either by sickness or by pressing business. Notwithstanding that fact the meet will no doubt be a fast one, as several of the local players rank with the best in the south.

In one of the best played matches of the afternoon, Mansfield defeated J. K. Orr, Jr., by the score of 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Both men played a strong, steady game, some pretty work being pulled off repeatedly.

C. T. Smith played in his true form, easily defeating Williams and Green. He rules as the favorite to face Thornton, the present champion, in the final. The results of yesterday's play in the men's singles were as follows:

First Round.
A. W. Smith defeated A. Clarke, 5-6, 2-6, 6-0.
H. J. Hall defeated Grover Middlebrooks by default.
S. C. Williams defeated Henry Groves by default.
Mansfield defeated Orr, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.
McCarthy defeated Sims, 6-4, 6-4.
Fleet defeated L. E. Grant, 6-0, 6-2.
Matthews defeated Drummond Jones by default.

The following men drew byes:
L. D. Scott, G. A. Howell, E. R. Black, Jr., J. Draper, W. Colquitt, F. B. Green, J. B. Williams, C. Y. Smith, T. H. Williams, E. Perry, C. W. McCarty, H. M. Ashe, Jr., W. Nunnally, W. Griffith, Ramspeck, Abbott, Tom Morris Trophy.

Chicago, Ill., June 16.—With reports received from thirty-five clubs of the fifty that entered teams in the Tom Morris memorial cup competition against par, the trophy appeared tonight to have been won by the Los Angeles Country club, with a score of 36 down. The next best score reported was that made by the team of the Annandale Country club of Pasadena, which made 39 down. Other scores of relative merit are: Glen Echo club, of St. Louis, 46; Memphis Country club, 47; Calumet Country club, 55; Rock Island Arsenal, 56; Midlothian, 57; Skeikie, 60.

WISCONSIN AND PENN. CREWS IN COLLISION

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 16.—In a head-on collision between the Wisconsin varsity four-oared crew and that of Pennsylvania, on the Poughkeepsie course during practice today, the Pennsylvania shell was put out of commission. The Wisconsin shell escaped with little damage. None of the oarsmen in either shell was injured.

The Wisconsin four was going up the river and in turning to clear a ferry boat crashed into the Pennsylvania shell coming down the course. The Pennsylvania shell took water rapidly and was sinking fast when a launch came alongside, took the oarsmen off and towed the wrecked shell to the boat house.

GAMBLERS EJECTED FROM POLO GROUNDS

New York, June 16.—A large number of men whom the management alleges have been laying odds on the baseball games at the Polo grounds were denied admission to the baseball park for the New York-Detroit American league game today. It is estimated 150 of them were not permitted to pass the turnstiles and that 50 others who had evaded the watchfulness of detectives at the gates later were ordered from the grandstand.

It is said that recently the baseball authorities have had detectives circulating in the stands to watch for bettors and today's deportments and evictions were due to their work.

President Ban Johnson, of the American league, whose hostile views against betting in baseball parks are well known, was a visitor at the Polo grounds today.

The crusade against betting is a concerted one. It was started by Ban Johnson and both Frank Farrell, owner of the New York Americans, and Larry Hempstead, proprietor of the New York Nationals, and various other club owners will work actively for the abolition of the betting evil at ball games. It is said.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM WILL TRY IT AGAIN

New York, June 16.—The Duke of Westminster, who backed the English polo team on its trip to this country in the unsuccessful attempt to lift the Westchester polo cup, "has only just started his campaign to get the trophy back to England." This is about as far as any of the English players here would commit themselves today as to the possibility of a challenge for the cup next year.

When the team sails for England on Thursday it will take back only twenty-seven of the forty-two ponies which were brought over for the tournament. A few of the mounts already have been sold and there are a number of the older ones still to be disposed of.

This weeding out process is taken as an indication that the duke proposes to improve his stable in preparation for another challenge. The time limit for a challenge for a series next year is December 31.

A special cable dispatch published today hinted the possibility of a challenge from Germany. Polo is coming into great popularity there under the inspiration of the crown prince, and it is said there is a general desire to send a representative team to America, but probably this will not be realized for a few years, at least.

WILSON APPROVES BIG BASEBALL TOUR

Washington, June 16.—When James J. Callahan, of the Chicago American baseball club, called on President Wilson today to explain the proposed world tour of the White Sox and the New York Giants, Mr. Wilson expressed his approval, not only because he said he considered himself a baseball fan, but because he thought the movement might result in the creation of an international league in a large sense.

President Wilson promised that through official channels every courtesy would be extended to the baseball teams abroad. The trip will include visits to the Philippines, Japan, China, Australia, Egypt, France and Ireland. The teams will return about March 1, 1914.

Macon Has "Park Habit," Plan 300-Acre Public Park On Ocmulgee River Banks

Macon, Ga., June 16.—(Special.)—The latest result of Macon's growing "park habit" is the proposition for the establishment of a 300-acre public park on the banks of the Ocmulgee river, in North Macon, on land now owned by W. B. Sparks. Mr. Sparks has offered this tract of land to the city, and it is stated that if the city decides to purchase, the street car company will extend its line to the grounds.

The Sparks' tract is ideally located for a park, and one of the advantages is that there is ample room for an 18-hole golf link.

Peaches 6, Babies 2.
Macon, Ga., June 16.—Bremmerhoff, of Albany, had one bad inning, Macon hitting him for five bingles in the fourth and winning the game by 6 to 2. Reynolds drove out a homer in the sixth inning. The visitors were 50 per cent better in the eighth than here before. Manager Herold made one of the proudest plays of the season by getting a popped fly with his bare hands in the seventh. Moses was hit safely twelve times, but kept them well scattered and was good in pinches.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Macon . . . 000 301 021—6 9 2
Albany . . . 100 010 000—2 12 1

Foxes 5, Indians 4.
Savannah, Ga., June 16.—Columbus took a slow and uninteresting 11-inning game from Savannah today, 5 to 4. Manager Lipps' absence from the line-up on account of sickness was sorely felt, particularly in the eleventh when Fox went from first to home on an infield out and misplaying around the far corner. Jackson and Fox starred with the bat. Score:

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Columbus . . . 010 100 020 01—5 11 2

Gulls 3, Scouts 1.
Jacksonville, Fla., June 16.—Foster had the Jacksonville batsmen at his mercy today, and the locals were only able to secure three hits, off the Charleston twister's mysterious benders. The score shows that Stewart was touched for four hits in the seventh round, in which the visitors scored all of their runs, but most of these hits were the result of stupid fielding. Jacksonville's lone tally was the result of spectacular inside work by Pownall and Starr.

Charleston . . . 000 000 300—3 9 0
Jacksonville . . . 001 000 000—1 3 1

"September Morn"

H AND painted water color photographs of Paul Chabas' made painting, "September Morn," fill one window of the Cole Book company and instead of hard critics excited only pity, which was due to the fact that the manager of the store took occasion to select about the coldest June day in the history of this city's weather for this art exhibition.

The original painting excited to end of comment when brought to this country for exhibition purposes. It was first placed in one of the windows of a Fifth avenue art gallery, and was promptly spied by one of Anthony Comstock's agents, who demanded that it be taken out or he would go to the courts. Afterwards Comstock himself decided the picture was nothing to shock any one, according to newspaper accounts at the time, and agreed with the manager of the art gallery that it was artistic.

The picture was sent from one large city in the east to the other and caused more comment than any painting in years. It is now in one of the big European art galleries.

The figure is that of a young blonde haired girl, who is about to take her bath, and is said to be the same model as the figure in "Twilight" by the same artist. "September Morn" was exhibited in the last Paris salon, and received high praise from the artists in the Parisian capital.

The cut represents only the figure, which occupies a small part of the picture. Just bare outlines of mountains are seen in the distance, which rise from the water through a misty haze. The coloring is most delicate. The reproductions in the Whitehall street store are two different sizes.—(adv.)

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS OF DAY

SHARP ADVANCE MADE IN PRICES OF COTTON

Offerings Readily Taken and There Was Considerable Buying.

New York, June 16.—The cotton market was not more than moderately active today, but prices advanced sharply with new crop months making new high ground for the season and with the close steady at a net gain of 17 to 21 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 4 to 8 points in response to higher cables. There was some local selling at the start on reports of generally good weather over Sunday and indications for continued favorable conditions with higher temperatures in the belt for the next day or two at any rate. Offerings, however, were very readily taken by a scattered demand which seemed to include considerable fresh buying for long account as well as covering of shorts.

Liverpool seemed to be selling near months here and there were moderate offerings from Memphis during the early trading, but the good weather reports seemed to be accompanied by no general southern selling movement and as soon as the market began to advance, some of the local sellers turned for cover.

The crop report of a prominent New Orleans authority, indicating an increase of not over 3 percent in acreage and rather a spoiled condition, seemed somewhat disappointing from a bearish standpoint and there were rumors that a local authority would issue a report tomorrow indicating that the crop had made very little improvement since the completion of the June harvest. These features doubtless contributed to the buying movement, in connection with reports of a good domestic trade in cotton goods, and the bullish influence of Saturday's supply and distribution figures. Around 10:55 a. m. the market was enough realizing to cause reactions of 2 or 3 points during the middle of the afternoon, but prices firmed up again on renewed covering and bull support, with the active months selling 18 to 20 points net higher in the late trading, and closing within 2 or 3 points of the best. Private cables attributed the steadiness of Liverpool to a continued good spot demand.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 16.—Cotton opened at an advance, about above the level of Saturday's close all day and finally advanced to the highest, at a net rise of 22 to 24 points. A good part of the upward movement in the late afternoon was due to the news from the long-ship uncovered months orders among the shorts. Now high levels for the new crop and the fact that much of the cotton was in the hands of the shorts, and the fact that the market was not more than moderately active today, but prices advanced sharply with new crop months making new high ground for the season and with the close steady at a net gain of 17 to 21 points.

Cotton Region Bulletin.

Atlanta, June 16.—For the 24 hours ending 6 p. m. the maximum temperature was 90 and the minimum 64.

LAW ALUMNI NAME MELDRIM AS HEAD

"Old Grads" of University Will Gather in Athens Today for Celebration—Eugene Black Alumni Orator.

Athens, Ga., June 16.—(Special).—At a meeting of the members of the Alumni association of the law school of the University of Georgia held Monday, Hon. Peter W. Meldrim, of Savannah, was elected president of this branch of the alumni organizations.

Addresses were made by Judge A. J. Cobb, vice president, and by Prof. Sylvanus Morris and Colonel Travis, of Savannah. The object of the meeting was to effect a heartier working society of the former students of the law department, especially in view of the present possibilities for development of this department.

A committee consisting of Prof. Morris, J. L. Deal, J. H. Abbitt, Nix and H. T. Singleton was appointed to select the other officers, besides the president, and announce them at the banquet which will be given by Mr. Meldrim at the Hotel Georgian Tuesday night to the entire body of law school alumni here for Alumni day events.

Alumni Day Celebration.

Tuesday is Alumni day and the old boys will be here in larger numbers than in any year at commencement since the memorable centennial celebrative reunion in 1871.

The class which went out ten years prior to commencement always has the center of the stage, and the class of 1902 is to be here in large numbers. Col. Cam Dorsey, of Atlanta, of that class, being the speaker to deliver the sophomore cup Tuesday afternoon, following the junior orations. He will also deliver the sophomore and freshman debaters' medals and the three "Meridian" cups for best essay, poem and story.

The class of 1903 has, however, decided to outdo the ten-year-old class record, and as the class of 1907 last year broke the record of numbers in attendance, so the "elephants" will try to smash the record tomorrow.

Hon. Eugene B. Black, of Atlanta, will be the alumni orator, and his address will be the feature of the day.

Numbers of "old grads" will speak at the annual luncheon. The luncheon sessions of the Alumni association are to be held in the morning and matters of importance are to be handled. Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta, is president of this association.

Dunlap, of Gainesville, president of the alumni class of 1913, represented the Franklin College and M. C. College in "The Tragedy of the Unprejudiced." The trustees adjourned their session to attend in a body this program assembled from all the branches of the university system.
