

Three Dead and One Dying As Result of Bloody Duel On Street of Georgia Town

$6,000,000 A YEAR ADDED TO THE PAY OF RAILROAD MEN

Arbitration Board, in Its Award, Gives Employees of Eastern Roads About Half What They Wanted.

INCREASED LIVING COST RESPONSIBLE FOR AWARD

Board Ruled Against the Employees on Every Point Except as to the Cost of Living.

New York, November 10.—The long-lived controversy between railroads of the east and their conductors and trainmen over the latter's demands for more pay ended tonight. The employees are granted an increase in wages averaging 7 per cent and totaling $6,000,000 annually—about half of what they wanted—from October last effective for one year. One hundred thousand men will share in the increase.

Thus ends, by arbitration under the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act, a controversy that threatened at one time to tie up by strike the transportation facilities of all states east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio. The award of the arbitration commission, filed late this afternoon in the federal district court, is binding and final. The two board representatives of the employees filed a minority report in addition and the two representatives of the forty-one railroads a dissenting opinion.

In reaching its award the board ruled mainly against the employees on four out of five points submitted as reasons why the increase should be granted and found for them on the fifth—the increased cost of living. Since 1909, when last an increase was granted, the arbitrators found the cost of living has increased 7 per cent. Certain minor contentions embraced also were conceded to the employees.

The board ruled for the maintenance of the wage differential between the two sections. "Such an inquiry ought to result in a recommendation," reads the award, "if it is found that such a differential should be maintained. Those making the inquiry should be empowered to report upon existing wage scales in all territories for the purpose of ascertaining, if possible, a scientific basis for the maintenance of such a differential to operate trains. This suggestion does not contemplate that the body making such inquiry should attempt to fix wages."

It is suggested that the commission on industrial relations recently appointed by President Wilson might be competent to carry out the suggested inquiry.

Unbroken Coalition. Analysis of the vote on each article submitted by the trainmen reveals an almost unbroken coalition between the two representatives of the employees and the two independent members of the board with the railroads' representatives opposing them. The articles are dealt with separately and fix the pay for various classifications of labor. While technical in verbiage, they provide, chiefly, that the monthly pay of employees in the passenger branch of the service shall be:

Conductors, $135; baggage men, $82.50; flagmen and rear brakemen, $78; brakemen, $76.50; over time, per hour, conductors, 45.7 cents; assistant conductors and ticket collectors, 25.7 cents; baggage men, 27.5 cents; flagmen and rear brakemen, 26 cents; brakemen, 25.5 cents.

For the freight service, the chief awards are: Through runs, conductors, 4 cents a mile; flagmen, 2.67 a mile; brakemen, 2.67 a mile; any run less than 100 miles to be paid for as if were 100 miles. In-way freight, pick-up or drop, mine and rouabout service, same minimum, conductors are awarded $4.50 a day of 100 miles or less, ten hours or less; flagmen, $3.10, and brakemen, $2.00, overtime to be paid for as time and one-half.

This was done in few instances in which the employees triumphed in their demand that overtime be paid for at one and one-half the regular rate. The award is distinctly against such practice in most instances. To this finding the employees' representatives filed a minority report of protest. To the entire finding the railroads' representatives dissented.

"We dissent from this award," read their report, "because standardization is chimerical and uneconomic; because such increased cost of living as has occurred is not sufficient to justify the increase granted; because statistics

UNDECORATED AUTOMOBILES WANTED IN PARADE TODAY

Mr. Automobile Owner! Bring out that car of yours and get in the big parade today. Have the "boat" at Whitehall and Mitchell streets at 10 o'clock sharp! Not decorated? That makes no difference.

The parade committee Monday night decided to offer a special prize for people who have not had time or opportunity to decorate their cars. This prize will be a Stromberg carburetor for the best kept car.

For the decorated cars there is a list of prizes valued at nearly $1,000. Bring out your car and help boost the Million-Dollar Show!

Line of Gaily Decorated Automobiles Will Begin Moving Through Streets at 10 This Morning.

SOUSA'S BAND TO GIVE OPENING CONCERT TODAY

Large Delegation of Boys From Ga. Tech Among the Most Interested Spectators on the Second Day.

Today is the biggest day of Atlanta's great million-dollar automobile show. There will be something doing all day long, something every minute!

The floral parade is the gala event of the week, and Sousa's first concert marks the beginning of a series of seven prizes which he will give during the remainder of the show.

ANNOUNCE ANOTHER PRIZE

Chairman Gwinnett announced another prize Monday night which may be won in the parade, making a total of seven prizes in all.

This is a prize for the best kept car, undecorated.

Chairman Gwinnett made the offer of this prize because the great demand on decorations by people who have their cars beautifully decorated for the parade has been so great that decorating material was at a premium.

This new prize will be a Stromberg carburetor, given and installed at the change by the Johnson-Gwinnett team.

Other prizes, aggregating in value between $500 and $1,000, will also be given. There will be three prizes for the most beautifully decorated car.

The parade will form at 10 o'clock at Whitehall and Mitchell streets, and will proceed up Peachtree street, through the business section of the city to Ponce de Leon avenue, where it will turn and go back down Peachtree street to Five Points.

The judges, consisting of seven of the city's most prominent business men, will be stationed on the balcony of the Capital City club, and will watch the parade as it goes by and make their decision.

DESPITE UNITED STATES, DICTATOR HUERTA PLANS TO CONTINUE IN POWER

BAN PUT ON HUERTA AND ALL HIS WORKS BY UNITED STATES

Washington Emphasizes Its Purpose Not to Recognize Any of the Acts of New Mexican Congress.

POWERS ARE INFORMED OF AMERICAN PURPOSE

Diplomats in Washington Cable Their Governments That Complete Break Is Near.

Washington, November 10.—Development in the Mexican situation here today tended to emphasize a purpose on the part of the Washington government to refuse to recognize any of the acts of the new Mexican congress and to fight the fact that serious consideration was being given by President Wilson to the question of permitting exportations of arms to all factions in the southern republic.

Secretary Bryan had a long conference with Senor Alzaga, chargé d'affaires of the Mexican embassy, during which it was understood, he said, that the United States considered the election of congressmen equally as invalid as the voting for president and vice president.

The secretary summoned the ministers from five Central American countries and advised them in general what had been done by the United States in its diplomatic parleys with the Huerta government.

It was reported that some of these diplomats transmitted long dispatches to their governments regarding the situation in Mexico.

The political program of the provisional government, constituted in this manner from that time has been defined perfectly and concentrated on two fundamental propositions.

The first proposition is to establish peace in order that extraordinary elections might be held in compliance with the already cited article 31 of the constitution, in order to turn over the executive power to the one designated by the popular will at these elections, and to respect and make respected the law.

In compliance with this program the executive launched a call for elections, taking care that there should be fixed for their holding a time which he deemed proper, and to respect and make respected the law.

In view of the fact that the note recited in detail Huerta's defense of his assumption of legislative authority and his arrest of the deputies and gave the program for the future, it was taken by many diplomats as an obvious reply to the American suggestion that he eliminate himself.

The Mexican embassy here, which received a copy of the note, declared in an official statement that "it may be

Heroism of Crippled Boy Who Dared Fire for Girl May Save Life of Sister

The bravery of her crippled 8-year-old brother, Jeff, may save the life of 5-year-old Minnie Lee Karr, who was burned almost to death at her home, No. 125 Venable street late yesterday afternoon.

The boy was also badly burned. He had just been released from the hospital, in which he had been confined with a broken leg sustained last week, when he was struck by an automobile at Hunnicutt and Marietta streets.

Jeff was in the front yard of the Karr residence shortly before midnight, when he heard the screams of Minnie. He had left her in the sitting room playing on the lounge. Running into the room he found her enveloped in flame, the lower part of her apron already burned off.

Picking her up bodily, a task for a much stronger boy, the brother dashed with his sister into the kitchen. His own clothing caught aflame as he ran. At the sink in the kitchen the boy put the child beneath the hydrant, turning the water on full force.

The boy's screams attracted neighbors, one of whom was Policeman J. D. Benson, who lives next door, and who rushed into the Karr home. He found Jeff rolling the unconscious child beneath a flood of water from the hydrant. She had been badly scorched about the face and chest and lower torso. Her injuries are very serious.

SHOT THROUGH WINDOW SCARES LINDALE WOMAN

North Georgia Town Stirred by Supposed Attempt at Assassination.

Rome, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—While Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Taylor, of Lindale, were seated before their fire, an attempt to assassinate them was made by some unknown person, who shot into the house from outside. The bullet was from a .38-caliber pistol, and crashed within an inch of Mrs. Taylor's head. Her husband seized his gun and sprang to the door. He fired six shots at the figure of a man who was running rapidly from the moonlight, but none of the shots took effect. The affair caused tremendous excitement in Lindale, and scores of people joined in the search for the miscreant. Taylor is an employee of the Lindale mills, and Mrs. Taylor is a member of the faculty of the Lindale public schools. No reason for the shooting can be assigned, and one theory is that the bullet was fired by some irresponsible drunken man on his way home. Officers are investigating.

Famous For Her Hair

Actress Tells How She Grew It.

Madame Rose, the well-known actress who played on one of the leading vaudeville circuits the past winter and who is especially noted for her long, beautiful hair, in a recent interview in Chicago, made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can promote the growth of their hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1/2 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barb's Compound and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tip. I have ever known, but it prevents the hair from falling out, removes dandruff, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. The ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at a very little cost."

Y. W. C. A. ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

Gym Classes to Continue at Wesley Memorial Until New Building Is Completed.

With the infusion of new impetus into the local Young Women's Christian association, a complete schedule of gym classes has just been announced, to be held in the Wesley Memorial church until some time next year, when the new Y. W. C. A. building on Baker street is constructed. A splendid gymnasium is at the disposal of the association in the Wesley Memorial church, and by the way the girls have dived in for the work enthusiastically within the past week or two. The success of the classes for the year is assured. Miss Eva Betzner, the physical director, has full charge of all the classes. Of especial interest is the class that has been instituted for young girls, from the ages of 8 to 14 years, on Saturday mornings. Before long, when it is rumored that the girls will give an exhibition of their work, the people of Atlanta will be astonished by the acrobatic stunts and skill at games acquired by the young girls of these classes.

The schedule as announced is as follows:
Monday.
7:00 to 8:00—Girls' high school.
8:00 to 9:00—Business women.
9:00 to 10:00—S. I. S. P. and Clover clubs.
Tuesday.
7:00 to 8:00—Young women.
8:00 to 9:00—Class in folk dancing.
9:00 to 10:00—Girls' high school.
10:00 to 11:00—Business women.
7:00 to 8:00—Basketball.
Friday.
8:00 to 9:00—Young women.
Saturday.
8:00 to 11:00—Girls from 8 to 14 years of age.
11:00 to 12:00—Folk dancing.

PRIZES ANNOUNCED FOR POULTRY SHOW

Special Feature Will Be Boys' and Girls' Department for Exhibitors Under 16.

The final premium list for the Southern International Poultry show, which will be held in the Auditorium-Armory, December 1 to 5, has just been announced by President Will V. Zimmer and T. M. Poole, active manager of the show. The premium list is one of the finest ever offered. In addition to special club ribbons by the national association and handsome silk badges by national organizations and other trophies, the following prizes will be offered:

One hundred dollars in gold for the best display of 100 or more birds of different varieties exhibited by one breeder.
Fifty dollars in gold for the best display of fifty birds or more exhibited by one breeder.
Twenty-five dollars in gold for twenty-five or more birds of one variety, bantams not competing.

Special Prizes Offered.
The following special prizes for members of the Southern International Poultry association only:
Handsome cup for the largest and best display by a member.
Handsome cup for the best display in the American class.
Handsome cup for best display in the Mediterranean class.
Handsome cup for best display in the English class.
Handsome cup for best display of any one breed.
The following open prizes are offered:
Handsome cup for best cock bird; handsome cup for best cockerel; handsome cup for best hen; handsome cup for best pullet; handsome cup for best pen; handsome cup for largest and best display of twenty-five birds; handsome cup for state of the union. This cup is offered as a special inducement to breeders who come from many states.

The Buff Rock club will meet with the Southern International Poultry association, December 1 to 5, and all club members will compete for the district prize cup in addition to the five trophies offered by the Southern International Poultry association. Cups are offered respectively for the best cock, hen, pullet and pen; in addition, $25 in gold to club members. In the duck class handsome cups will be offered for Buff Orpingtons, White Indian Runners, Light Fawn Indian Runners and Dark Fawn Indian Runners.

Boys' and Girls' Department.
The special feature of the show this year will be the boys' and girls' department, exhibitors to be under 16 years of age. This department was instituted by Uncle Dudley of beloved memory, and will be kept up as a monument to his name. Cash prizes and ribbons will be offered, and in addition there will be a handsome cup for the largest and best display in the boys' and girls' class, and a handsome cup for the best pen in the children's department, all varieties competing. Also a handsome cup in the children's department for the best bird.
The egg prize competition for rubber trophies will be open to the world. Cash prizes, cups and ribbons will be given in the pigeon class.
In the bantam class there will be handsome cups offered by the Southern International Poultry association, and also cash and ribbon prizes by the association. All standard breeds and varieties will be recognized.

Prizes Awarded.
In addition, of course, cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded under the Southern International Poultry association rules for cock, hen, cockerel, pullet and pen of every known standard variety.
The Silver Wyandotte Club of America offers three ribbons, to be competed for by club members only.
The executive committee is composed of Leroy Brown, T. M. Poole, T. P. Hunniford, John S. McCreight, J. M. Karwisch, Will V. Zimmer, W. S. Thompson and O. O. Ray. The officers of the association are: Will V. Zimmer, president; J. M. Karwisch, vice president; Leroy Brown, chairman of the executive committee; T. M. Poole, secretary and treasurer.

ATTACKED WITH RAZOR, SHE SHOTS HUSBAND

Gainesville Woman Surrenders to Police Immediately
After Shooting.

Gainesville, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Belzona Spain Scott shot and probably fatally wounded her husband, Ed Scott, a prominent painter and contractor, of this city, yesterday evening at a late hour, the bullet taking effect in the jugular vein.
Mrs. Scott immediately after shooting her husband came to town and gave herself up, saying that she had shot her husband, and wanted the officers to lock her up, fearing that her husband would follow her.

Mrs. Scott's story of the affair is to the effect that her husband came home under the influence of whisky about 3 o'clock and pulled a razor, saying that he intended to "cut her head off." Mrs. Scott alleges that she then arose from her seat and went to the dresser, where she secured a pistol, and shot Scott while he was advancing on her with the razor.

HOPKINS HOME BURNS WITH MANY TREASURES

Flames wrecked the home of Dr. J. R. Hopkins, at 275 Peachtree street Monday morning about 9 o'clock. Many priceless pictures and other art treasures were lost, together with the furnishings and fixtures of the handsome residence.
The fire originated in the bedroom of Dr. Hopkins, where he had left a fire in the grate to go downstairs for breakfast. Coals popping to the floor are believed to have been the cause.
When the fire department arrived the flames were unmanageable, except to confine to the doomed structure. A few front rooms were saved, but were gutted with smoke and water. The art collection of the Hopkins home, considered one of the most valuable in the city, was destroyed completely.
The loss is covered by insurance.

STATE CHAMBER TO BRING CHICAGO MEN ON INSPECTION TRIP

Brunswick, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—A letter was received yesterday by the Brunswick board of trade from H. C. Miller, business manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce, announcing that the party of some thirty or forty Chicago business men who were to tour Georgia this month at the invitation of the state chamber of commerce, would not make the trip until after the holidays.
The letter stated, however, that the business men of Chicago were manifesting much interest in the trip, and that it would be made during a special strain. All of the principal cities in Georgia will be visited.

OF CRUEL TREATMENT MACON WIFE TELLS

Charles M. Barksdale Is Sentenced for Beating Up
His Wife.

Macon, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Charles M. Barksdale, who several weeks ago took bichloride of mercury in an effort to end her life, appeared in police court this morning as a witness against her husband, who had been arrested by the police for being drunk and disorderly.

Mrs. Barksdale declared her husband returned home Sunday night for the second time within a week in an intoxicated condition, and so badly whipped her that she had to call in a physician. She also told the recorder she had tried to separate from her husband, but that he followed her and tried to kill herself, said Mrs. Barksdale, "but the doctors would not let me die. Mr. Barksdale is the first and only husband I ever had, and the only one I ever want."

Barksdale told the court that his wife had used as much improper language as he had, but other witnesses refuted his statement. He was fined $30 or sixty days on the stockade.

ONCE WORTH $80,000, HE IS NOW RUNNING WHEEL OF FORTUNE

Rome, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Once the owner of Georgia lands valued at $80,000, C. M. Pate, operator of a "paddle-wheel" with a street car, spent several hours in jail here today while his employer scurried around raising $40 to pay a fine for gambling. Although a youth yet in his twenties, Pate ran through with a big fortune left him by his father, a prominent farmer of Warrenton, Ga., a few years ago, and is now employed by the Acme Carnival company, a Georgia corporation, has been showing here for the past week. The departure of the company was delayed by arrests of five members of the company, charging them with operating gambling devices. Three of the men, Pate among them, pleaded guilty. The boys' employer, Harry Applebaum, threatened to leave Rome without paying the fine, but put the money up when Solicitor Porter threatened to make a case against him.

DUDLEY FIELD MALONE NAMED N. Y. COLLECTOR

Washington, November 10.—The nomination of Dudley Field Malone to be collector of customs at New York was sent to the senate today. Mr. Malone is now third assistant secretary of state, and fought the Tammany ticket in the last campaign. He is a son-in-law of Senator O'Gorman. Thomas Purroy Mitchell resigned the collectorship when he became the anti-Tammany candidate for mayor of New York.

FEDERAL AID URGED FOR GOOD ROAD WORK

St. Louis, Mo., November 10.—Federal aid for good road work was urged by Governor Major, of Missouri, and Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, at the opening session of the United States Good Roads convention here today. Senator Bankhead, the president of the association, spoke in response to an address of welcome by Governor Major. He was expected to attend the convention, but at the opening session Mr. Major was the only governor present. He told the delegates that 1,800 miles of good road could be bought for the cost of one battleship.

Senator Bankhead urged that pressure be put on the federal aid be brought on congress and said few senators would refuse to present the appeals of their own states for road appropriations. "Bad roads," said the senator, "act like a barrier, shutting off the people of the cities from the people of the cities from the rural districts."

NO POSTPONEMENT IN FRANK HEARING

Supreme Court Issues Ruling That Argument in the Murder Case Must Begin About December 15.

There will be no suspension of the rules of the supreme court to give attorneys more time in which to prepare to argue the Frank case, notwithstanding the fact that counsel for the state and for the defense united in a request for more time. After a brief conference of the justices yesterday morning it was decided that if the papers reached the court by December 1 the argument will be set down for about December 15.

Following the conference of the justices, Clerk Harrison announced to the attorneys in the case that the rule of the court could not be varied. Clerks of superior courts are allowed by law only fifteen days in which to file with the supreme court the records in appealed cases, no matter how voluminous they may be. The motion for a new trial was denied by Judge Roan on October 31. The record must accordingly be filed the 15th of this month. After that no longer than a month may elapse before the case shall be argued.

Asked for Postponement.
Attorneys Rosser and Arnold, on behalf of the defense, called upon Solicitor Hugh Dorsey Monday morning and asked if he would consent to a motion to postpone the argument of the case in the supreme court until January. Mr. Dorsey did not agree and dispatched his assistant, E. A. Stephens, to the capitol to make the request of the supreme court.

Attorneys for the defense stated that, on account of the voluminous record in the case and the fact that both of them will be engaged a large part of their time in the lower courts for the ensuing two weeks, they would like to have a postponement.

The assistant solicitor general stated that Mr. Dorsey will be engaged in the criminal division of the superior court continuously until Christmas. He explained that the criminal docket is greatly congested, and that the fall is crowded with prisoners awaiting trial. After hearing from the attorneys, the justices declared that they would take the matter under advisement and notify the attorneys of their decision within a few hours. This they did just before noon. Clerk Harrison called up the attorneys and told them that the court had decided that the routine procedure could not be varied, and that the case would come up for argument on or about December 15, provided the papers reached the court by December 1.

Light Term for Conley.
It is expected that Jim Conley, the negro on whose evidence the state rested largely to secure Leo M. Frank's conviction, will be arraigned today, and that he will plead guilty to being an accessory after the fact to the murder of Mary Phagan. The maximum punishment which may be imposed in a case of this sort is three years in the penitentiary.

It is not believed, however, that the negro will be given the maximum penalty, and he will probably be punished as for a misdemeanor. There has been no expectation of Conley being arraigned on a more serious charge, since Solicitor Dorsey announced his intention not to prosecute the negro for murder.

Friends of Leo Frank will not raise any objection to Conley's entering a plea of guilty as accessory after the fact to the murder of Mary Phagan. They point out that when the negro finds himself immune from further prosecution there will be no motive for him to tell a lie, and they believe that, rather than see an innocent man hanged, whom he could have saved, he will confess the crime himself.

They will endeavor to induce the police to make an effort to secure a confession from the negro.

MORTUARY.

Mrs. E. B. Baldwin.
Marshallville, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. E. B. Baldwin, whose death occurred after a few hours' illness, was buried here this afternoon. She is survived by her husband and three children. Mrs. Baldwin was of true nobility of character and loyal to every duty of life.

D. D. Bartlett, Columbus.
Columbus, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—The funeral of D. D. Bartlett took place this afternoon and was largely attended. Mr. Bartlett was 73 years old and had been a resident of Columbus for many years.

Mrs. C. M. Query.
The friends of Mrs. C. M. Query and of Harvey W. Query will regret the death of Miss Clara E. Query, who died in Baltimore last Tuesday. Miss Query was the eldest daughter of the late C. M. Query, and was an aunt of Mr. Orr.

Miss Kittie Fitts.
Miss Kittie Fitts, aged 75 years, died at her residence, 284 Spring street, Monday morning. The funeral services will be conducted from Barclay & Brandon's chapel this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Oakland.

MISSIONARY ADDRESSES AT ALLIANCE MEETING

Addresses by many well-known missionary workers marked yesterday's session of the annual convention of the Christian Missionary Alliance held at Mission Home, No. 59 Capital avenue. The organization is undenominational and has a constituency of more than 700 members. Representatives from every state in the union are in attendance.

Monday's session was opened by Rev. William E. Combs, of Lumberton, S. C. The afternoon meeting was given over to testimonial speeches. Mrs. William R. McDuffie, of Durham, N. C., who but recently returned from Soudan, where she was a missionary for two years, was the principal speaker. A children's meeting was held at 4 o'clock and Mrs. R. A. Forrest's collection of stereopticon views which contains interesting scenes in the missionary field, was shown. An evangelistic service was held last night. Rev. William T. McArthur, of New York, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Dyke, missionaries to central China, narrated a number of their most interesting experiences. The meetings will continue throughout the week.

AT THE THEATERS

"Truxton King."

(At the Lyric.)
"Truxton King," a dramatization by Grace Hayward, of George Edgar McCutcheon's well-known romantic novel, was capably presented at the Lyric last night.

The play is full of action—improbable action, it is true, but it thrills the audience and at times the situations are tense. The story has to do with anarchists who seek to veil the youth of the nation to the throne of a small principality. Of course Truxton King is an American, and of course he is a man of resources. How he confounds the plotters and foils the plot is told in four acts.

Herbert Hayes, as Truxton King, and Mildred Von Hollen, as Olga Platanova, were capably other members of the cast were only moderately successful. The play will be seen all the week.

"Last Days of Pompeii."

(At the Atlanta.)
Quite impossible it would be to say just how many people have read Lord Bulwer Lytton's wonderful story "The Last Days of Pompeii." For seventy-five years it has been read throughout the civilized world, and many attempts have been made to stage it with real people, but to Pasadena it was the credit of reproducing the city of Pompeii and peopled it with all the characters described by Lord Lytton.

At the Atlanta theater, last night, the writer, along with hundreds of others, marveled at the wonderful pictures, not one of which showed studio traces, but each one apparently dug from the ruins of the glorious ancient city which was buried beneath the lava of Vesuvius. From the standpoint of the reproduction of the story, "The Last Days of Pompeii" stands out a masterpiece for just as Lord Lytton was the master of the pen, so in Pasadena he was the master of the reproduction. The film story follows the book story closely. There are wonderful amphi-theaters, the temples noted for their beauty and art, the Garden of Isis, and Mount Vesuvius in eruption. But the observer marvels not alone at these things. It is the precise technical execution. An army of men and women, hundreds of horses and wild beasts to make the story realistic. A splendid company of principals enact the story. Included in the cast is the Princess Empress, as Iona, the blind girl; Borgheesi as Glaucus, and La France as Nydia.

To sit for nearly three hours in a darkened theater with your eyes constantly on the screen, it would seem a rather trying task, but such is not true of Pasadena's picture. The shades are blended to relieve the strain on the eyes, and instead of becoming tiresome as is true of most pictures, they are smooth and interesting.

"The Last Days of Pompeii" is really worth while because it will be many a day before its equal is produced.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)
The Nine White Hussars, "The Mist Army" and Rena Santos are the star acts at the Forsyth this week, and secured the major part of the audience of the audience at Monday's performances.

Rena Santos had clear sailing from the start. She won the women by her gowns, captured the men by her eyes, and made friends with all by her singing. Her partner, Fred Watson, greatly pleased the gallery at the afternoon show.

The Hussars have an act that offers both singing and playing on various musical instruments. These nine men make a fine appearance on the stage, and at all times their work is of the kind that will both deserve and force appreciation. The audience was especially enthusiastic over the way they sang "It Was Apple Blossom Time in Normandy."

"The Mist Army," presented by George Reno and company, has been here before, made good when here before, and now comes back to show that lightning can strike twice in the same place. The most of the fun is created by the sizes of the various actors, including one fat boy who weighs at least 350; one little dwarf, one chap about 5 feet tall, and a comedian who looks as if he had just come out of a circus and had forgotten to remove his war paint.

"The Standard Southern Newspaper"

tors of the show was a large delegation of Georgia Tech mechanical students at both the afternoon and night sessions, who came down to examine the perfected types of the 1914 model engines and other automobile machinery on exhibition at the show. These boys, eager to learn, kept a veritable array of lectures from the factories of the various automobiles exhibited busy explaining the details of the new machines.

Tech Boys Interested.

An interesting exhibit to the public and especially to the students from a technical standpoint, was the Carter car exposed chassis, showing the friction drive engine of that car. This is the only automobile in the show which uses the friction drive engine, by which it is able to attain any ratio of gears and is able to go directly from the highest speed into reverse. Mr. Mahoney, in charge of the booth, showing the Tech boys how this remarkable engine could be reversed so quickly that the drive wheels would be spinning backwards while the momentum of the car still carried it forward.

The immense crowd of the Carter car, said Mr. Mahoney, and the ease with which it may be shifted from one speed to another makes it an admirable car for use in crowded streets.

The Tech boys also found much to learn in the Henderson booth. The Henderson car is another exhibit which has a monopoly on a peculiar feature at the show. The Henderson car uses coal oil, or ordinary kerosene, for its fuel instead of gasoline, which is used in all other cars in the building not propelled by electricity.

"The ability of the Henderson car to use coal oil," said W. B. McKerrall, in charge of the booth, "is by reason of its use of the Harrold coal oil carburetor. This carburetor was invented by Ray Harrold, the famous racing car driver, and I believe, is destined to solve the fuel question for automobilists."

Ladies See Electricities.

J. H. McNulty, "the talking Irishman," from the factory of the Mitchell cars, also had a great crowd of Tech students, showing them the disassembled Mitchell car and the various improved points of each piece.

The Tech boys made the rounds of all the exhibits, and declared the show to be one of the greatest lessons in mechanics they had ever had.

A large number of ladies was also out to see the show Monday afternoon and evening, and kept the electric men a busy bunch. The beautiful 1914 models of the Ohio electric and the Overland four-passenger coupe, the Locomobile 1914 seven-passenger limousine and other cars are meeting with the hearty endorsement of the women.

The Oakland Motor Car company also has an exhibit which is attracting the women. This is the new Oakland sedan in a big "six" chassis. An odd concept is the Royal Cabette, of the Premier Sales company. Paige-Detroit is showing a three-passenger coupe of great beauty, while the Cadillac has a handsome four-passenger coupe on exhibit. The Ford people are showing their new enclosed "town car."

On Tuesday, the show may be said to have really opened. On that day the great floral automobile parade will be held.

Floral Parade Prizes.

The following is a complete list of the prizes which will be awarded the winning cars in Tuesday's parade:

First Prize—Two Racer Trusty Tread and two Racer Country Tread Non-Skid tires, valued at $150.

Second Prize—Two Empire tires, valued at $88.18, and $25 in cash, making a total value of $113.18.

Third Prize—One Kelly Springfield tire, valued at $46.70, and $25 in cash, making a total value of $71.70.

The originally prize offered will be two Ajax tires, valued at $71.40.

To the car containing the prettiest occupants, one G. and Chain-Tread tire, valued at $25.50, and a specially prepared box of Nunnally's candy to each occupant.

To the best woman driver, one awarded one Buckeye diamond bumper and $20 in cash.

In offering these prizes, the parade committee wishes to announce that in case the size offered will not fit the winner's car, and exchange may be had at Johnson-Gewinner company's by paying the difference for larger size, or receive credit in case smaller sizes are needed.

Johnson-Gewinner company will be glad to give the winners of these prizes a small discount off the list price.

RESINOL STOPS TORTURING ITCH

There is no earthly need of itching and scratching. No matter how long you have suffered no matter how many treatments you have tried, there are thousands who have been in as bad a plight, and who have found perfect relief in Resinol. In even the stubbornest cases of eczema, ringworm, or other tormenting unsightly humor, a warm bath with Resinol Soap and a single application of Resinol Ointment stop the itching instantly. Healing begins at once and soon this simple, pleasant economical treatment clears the trouble away. After that, the regular use of Resinol Soap for the toilet and bath is usually enough to prevent its return. Resinol Soap (25c), and Resinol Ointment (50c and $1.00), are also speedily effective for pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores and many forms of piles. Prescribed by doctors for the past eighteen years and sold by practically every druggist in the United States. For trial free write to Dept. 31-R, Resinol, Baltimore Md. Buy in the original blue package and avoid substitutes.

BAPTIST WOMEN CONVENE TODAY

Celebrate Twenty-Fifth Annual Jubilate of Women's Baptist Missionary Union, South.

With more than 1,000 women from all sections of Georgia in attendance, the twenty-fifth annual jubilate of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union, South, will begin this morning at 10 o'clock in the Baptist Tabernacle. The program will occupy the whole day Wednesday will mark the opening session of the thirty-first annual meeting of the Georgia Women's Baptist Missionary Union.

Already 700 women from out of town have arrived in the city, and it is expected that morning trains will bring at least 300 more to the convention. There are also 500 women in Atlanta who are members of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union, and it is predicted that the convention will be one of the greatest held in the south in recent years.

Mrs. Neel Presides. Mrs. W. J. Neel, of Cartersville, president of the executive board of the Georgia union, will preside at morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. Sam D. Jones, of Atlanta, will officiate at the evening session. The principal speaker at the morning session is Mrs. C. Lanier, of West Point, who will deliver an address on "A History of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention." Mrs. A. J. Orme will take as her subject, "Pioneers in the Women's Baptist Missionary Union of Georgia." Following her address thirty of the oldest members of the union will be requested to come upon the rostrum, and will each be presented with a white rose.

Miss Kathleen Mallory, of Baltimore, who, together with Miss F. H. Heck, of Raleigh, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. Sam D. Jones, of Atlanta, will speak on "Our National Need." The morning session will be brought to close with a prayer by Mrs. Stainback Wilson, the oldest member of the union and its first president. Music will be supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Boatman, and Mrs. A. B. Cunyus will render a solo.

Mrs. H. H. Tift, of Tifton, Ga., who recently donated $5,000 for missionary purposes, will be the principal speaker at the afternoon session. Her subject will be, "The Jubilate Praise Offering." Miss F. E. S. Heck, of Raleigh, will deliver an address on "A Prophecy of Growth."

The Young Women's Auxiliary hymn and a number of missionary hymns included in the musical program at the evening session promise much toward making that service the most enthusiastic of the day. Miss Marie Buhlmaier will speak on Home Missions and the Immigrant, and Miss Sallie Frost will deliver an address "In Behalf of All Nations."

During the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Georgia Women's Baptist Missionary Union, which begins Wednesday and will continue through Friday, inclusive, much important work remains to be accomplished. A history of the work and progress of the union since its organization will be a special feature of the convention, and a general discussion will follow this, which includes suggestions that are expected to do much toward furthering the work already in hand.

In the last year the Georgia Women's Baptist Missionary Union raised approximately $85,000. This amount goes toward the maintenance of schools in the state, of which there are thirty; the support of orphan homes; a number of Baptist hospitals and the installation of missionaries in the foreign field and the construction of churches. There are 250,000 women in Georgia, and it is estimated by members of the union that fully 10 per cent of the women in the state belong to the organization. In the southern union there are over 2,000 organizations.

Officers of Union.
Following is a list of the officers and board members:
President—Mrs. W. J. Neel, Cartersville.

THE CURRENCY CAUCUS.

Currency legislation in the senate will tomorrow reach the caucus stage. The senate banking and currency committee appears to be in hopeless disagreement. Democratic leaders with a sense of responsibility to the country and the administration have been driven to invoke the supreme court of binding party councils.

As a general proposition it is well to approach the arbitrary rule of the caucus gingerly. For the caucus is a two-edged sword. It generally gets results. On the other hand, if it is manipulated carelessly it is likely to engender feuds and bitterness that will break out later in schisms and divisions defying all discipline and conciliation.

For these reasons, and because of the precarious democratic majority in the senate, it is imperative upon all senators to remember that they are Americans first and democrats afterward. The country clamors for action on the currency issue. It cannot understand the quibbles and hair-splitting with which individual senators soothe their consciences and justify filibustering. All it knows is that the question has been before congress, both branches of it, long enough for knowledge to have become general and for differences to have been fought out. It knows, too, the sore need for action. With business straining at the leash and withheld from progress only by currency uncertainty, the country is daily finding it more difficult to reconcile stubborn obstructionism with common sense and non-partisan patriotism.

That is why the caucus should develop the broadest tolerance and the most unselfish concession. It is to be hoped that some way may yet be found to enact a currency law upon a non-partisan basis. But if no other plan is found the authority of the caucus must be called into play. It is not the republican or the bull moose party that the country will hold accountable for obstinacy and non-action. Punishment will be visited solely upon the democracy.

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION.

In a recent address State Senator Watt T. Brown, of Alabama, laid down forcefully the business man's plea that the federal government aid industrial education. Senator Brown speaks with the authority of a specialist. He is an ideal type of the self-made captain of industry, having carved out his own fortunes as a developer of the mines of Alabama. His interest in education is a practical one. He is chairman of the board of control of the Alabama School of Trades and Industries, at Ragland. The principle of preparedness is the one that actuates his life.

Sensor Brown outlined the vast acreation in wealth that would come to the south with the section's own people turning their crude resources into manufactured goods and said:

If the national government would give national aid to industrial education, together with the state, which I feel sure they will do, at some early date, it would be the wisest investment that could be made. Money spent in this way should not be regarded as an expense, but an investment in the absolutely necessary investment, if we would raise the standard of our citizenship.

All of which is axiomatic. The educational ideal of our day is a symmetrical ideal—it blends the academic and professional method with the practical method. It strives to fit for life, whether training to that end should be literary or squarely vocational.

An ideal of this nature means the manufacture of producing and well-equipped citizens. The federal government has an intimate interest in the evolving of such types, since the man that is well equipped is the man that adds to the wealth of the nation, contributes to the solution of its problems and minimizes those internal forces making for menace.

Money spent on industrial training will return dividends in inestimable ratio to the original investment.

THE Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association of Atlanta is working for Atlanta toward the solution of one of the most important city problems of the twentieth century. It is seeking to aid, to protect and to train the woman and the girl emancipated industrially but not emancipated from those weaknesses and handicaps that immemorably pertain to the sex. The economic scheme has shifted so that it makes women and girls a part of the working world. The Young Women's Christian Association, recognizing this fact, seeks to throw around such women those protecting influences once offered by the sheltering home, as well as the mental and manual training which may fit them the better to cope with conditions in an age the dominant keynote of which is exacting rivalry.

It is possible in the space of one newspaper story to give only an intimation of what the association is accomplishing and what, under the direction of its president, Mrs. William S. Witham, it hopes to accomplish. Sufficient to say that it plans to do for girls and women all the Young Men's Association does for boys and men—then more. For while the boy enjoys a long handicap in the capacity for self-care, and while the consequences of error of impulse or ignorance may be hopelessly outlived, the girl is inevitably hampered from the start and the penalty for mistake may be inexorable.

With the growth of Atlanta into metropolitanism has come the growth of a large element of women and girls needing the ministrations of such an organization. Many of these girls are away from home and require some substitute influence. Hundreds upon hundreds of them are but crudely educated, fitted to earn only nominal pay. Hundreds more thrill with ambition, ready and eager to advance themselves if they are shown the way to do so at reasonable cost. Others need recreation and recreation places free of contaminating influences, where pleasure and relaxation may be obtained without paying a deadly price for it.

These classes and innumerable others the Y. W. C. A. has set out to benefit with its various features, including classes in vocational education, its rest rooms, its gymnasium and its extension work. The organization is not a charity, in the much-abused sense. It is a community asset, returning dividends incalculable for the money invested in it. Atlanta invests much less money in this institution than smaller and poorer cities in the country. Every father and mother with growing girls ought to feel a proprietary interest in the work. Each one ought to feel it a privilege to contribute according to his or her ability. They are aiding in the problem of the woman forced to become self-supporting. That exigency may some day come home to their own now-sheltered fireplaces.

SPEEDING UP THE FARMS.

Clarence S. Ucker, director of colonization for the Southern Settlement and Development organization, of which S. Davies Warfield, of Baltimore, is president, recently contributed a striking chapter to the analysis of southern needs. He showed there were 400,000,000 acres of farm land lying idle in the south, and that this great principle must be populated if the south is to achieve its true agricultural destiny. That is true and the work is important. But no less true and important is the work of "speeding up" the southern farms already occupied but falling far below their possibilities in production. In this task the Southern Settlement and Development organization can be of great aid. Specifically as regards Georgia, the state chamber of commerce has a splendid and characteristic opportunity.

A farm is nothing in the world but a factory for the manufacture of crops. Like a factory, it is supplied with machinery, consisting of the soil and the men and the animals to work the soil. It is easily possible for a given factory to work in haphazard fashion, disregarding the improvements that science and research have taught and using antiquated methods. But it is certain that at the end of the fiscal year this factory will show up at an incomparable disadvantage as compared with its competitor that followed modern methods.

Throughout Georgia today are hundreds of farms in need of "speeding up," or to put it more exactly, in need of the science called "efficiency." To use an expression coined by a well-known student of farm conditions, they need to be "departmentalized." They need the services of expert agricultural engineers, who will go over each one carefully, tell its owner the purposes for which it is best fitted, indicate wastes and leaks and outlining a thoroughly effectual system.

A great deal of this work is done and has been done by the State College of Agriculture, the federal farm demonstration work, the state entomologist and the dairy and weekly press. But the speeding up of Georgia's farms is merely in its infancy. When the process is completed it would not be surprising if aggregate yields of all crops were increased from one-third to one-half. The best part is that this progress will be accomplished at a positive saving over present expenditures.

RANDOLPH CHURCHILL WRITES ON ATLANTA

By Randolph Churchill.
(In South Bend (Ind.) Tribune.)
Atlanta claims to be the queen city of the south and in many respects one is not likely to dispute the assertion. We find here a city of some 200,000, when Birmingham is a town of 100,000 and left it in ashes. Its skyscrapers, fine streets and stores, beautiful churches, stately capitol, granite courthouse, marble postoffice, terminal railway station and city hall are worthy of any metropolis.

I know of no city in all my travels more progressive. What in the world are you going to do with so many immense skyscrapers and fine hotels? was asked of a typical Atlantan, and he said: "We are going to build more for these do not meet the needs of our growing city." When the Kimball was built, more than 80 years ago, it was the beginning of the new Atlanta and one wondered how such a hotel could ever be made to pay, any when burned many said it could never be rebuilt, but the Atlanta split soon gave the south its New Kimball and it is to this moment the leading commercial hotel of the south.

Besides the big New Kimball Atlanta boasts its half-dozen other first-class hotels, the Georgia Turf and the Winecoff, the Piedmont, the Aragon, the Analee and the Majestic, not to mention a dozen smaller ones, giving the city with its immense auditorium seating 6,500, a pre-eminent advantage as a convention city, and I may add, a city of its size attracts no many. Randolph Churchill claims to be the first inland city in the republic and if I am able to judge Atlanta and Birmingham come next.

This city is the radiating point for fourteen railway lines with a trolley system unsurpassed. Its business edifices are the largest, tallest and most modern in the south, and this is the center of industry, railroads, finance, publication, insurance and commerce for the southeastern states.

The city's manufactured products annually foot up over $50,000,000, its insurance agencies bring into Atlanta more than $10,000,000, and its banks have reached last year the big sum of $700,000,000, and the postoffice receipts grow at the yearly rate of $100,000.

Georgia and Prohibition. Georgia is a prohibition state, but one would never suspect it in some of the cities here in Atlanta. There are "near beer" saloons, but all of them sell all kinds of beer in profusion and many of them sell something stronger, I am told, and then there are hundreds of "locker clubs," where gentlemen meet to enjoy themselves. However, I am not here to report on the city, but to report on the city's progress. Georgia has actually greatly reduced the output of drunkards and the experiment has shown that the milder beverages when given a free hand have a tendency to reduce drunkenness.

Some years ago I met a distinguished merchant of this city in The Eagle, Holland, and he told me they really had prohibition in Atlanta, but the other day he said it was a failure in all cities and he now favored regulation. So it goes the world over; it's a big problem, and he who expects to change the world in a single day is bound to be disappointed. There are some things worse than regulated saloons, and the shipping of mean whiskey, the sale of habit-forming drugs, as well as the use of doped soda fountain drinks and many patent medicine concoctions in thousands of prohibition districts, towns and cities is one of them.

The so-called drug stores, the whiskey jobbers, or mail order houses, and the bootleggers are doing their gainful and fiendish work while the church people are holding meetings and praying God to send protection in more than one section of this fair republic.

My little experience and investigations in more than one nation have taught me some valuable lessons, and even against my personal predilections I do not expect to see the world reformed in my life time, and therefore I shall not harshly criticize the officials of Atlanta, Savannah, Macon, Memphis, Nashville, Wichita, Portland and Bangor for not being able to enforce radical laws governing the people's questions in their entirety when the people are not ready for the ideal.

Atlanta Makes Good Start. We are entirely too mercenary, vulgar and selfish to expect the ideal obtained in a moment, but I am delighted to find so much that is good in Georgia's beautiful progressive capital. The most important orders coming favorably with York, England, and Toronto, Canada. As intimated above, the south is still in its manufacturing infancy, but Atlanta has made a fine beginning as well as the state.

The so-called progressive, Atlanta, 1,800 feet above tide water, situated at the heart of the new south, its quaint railway center, the capital of a great commonwealth, the home of a noble people, capable of untold development and with three great daily journals, The Constitution, The Journal and the Atlanta News, are all well equipped to tell its story, is sure to have a continuous growth and a great future.

FEDERAL PRISON INVESTIGATION. (From The Atlanta Journal of Labor.) The Journal of Labor has no special interest, none more than should be held in common by Atlanta and all her people, touching the Federal prison alleged outrages.

What is all this talk about? Is there any foundation for these serious attacks upon Warden Moyer and those who are responsible for the management of the institution? Do we the white people here come from those within the walls or someone who is out and wants to get in—A JOB?

God Almighty help these poor fellows within the walls when the Federal prison management becomes political soap.

We do not make this charge in defense of Warden Moyer or his management, but the poor unfortunate—some of whom we know and have a personal interest in. It is plain the Federal prison in Atlanta is not run the way Federal would run it. Nor are free industrial institutions run according to the teachings of the Carpenter of Galilee—and not all religious bodies.

Is it possible that the head and front of this man's offending bath this extent, no more—that he is holding the position of warden to the exclusion of another?

Ever since Warden Moyer has been in Atlanta the press and public have spoken in the highest terms of the man—and as warden of the Federal prison they have praised him without stint.

And all of this has not been without cause.

Warden Moyer has ever appeared a very modest, unobtrusive gentleman; he seems to have studiously kept out of public gaze. He is a man of character and reputation and his standing in his profession cannot be questioned.

Yet suddenly he becomes a vampire; a very fiend incarnate, a thing utterly lost to all sense of human we and suffering.

In our desire to obtain some things we go too hastily.

Before imperiling the man's reputation further—to say nothing of respect for his feeling—would it not be well to wait "until the evidence is all in before rendering a verdict?"

Wasting Away. (From Judge.) "I notice that our cook," said he, "is thinner than she used to be."

"Yes," she replied, "from day to day she seems inclined to waste away."

Efficient Housekeeping

By HENRIETTA D. GRAVELL,
Domestic Science Lecturer.

VENTILATION.

To persons who stay in the house as much as the average housekeeper any information that will aid in keeping the air pure and fresh should be welcome.

The choice of a house is too often decided upon because of its convenience to certain preferred neighborhoods, or because of its outward appearance, and the locality should be the foremost consideration. There should be a clear passage of air on every side of the house and there should be no uncovered sewers near the house. The neighborhood for the air that you are to breathe should be pure and good.

Pure air and good drainage are closely related, having to do with the principles of life and death. Oxygen is pure and gives health and strength. Carbonic acid gas is an accumulation of vitiated partially fresh air and is fatal to life. It is a narcotic poison and causes headache and drowsiness. It is this carbonic acid in the air of crowded rooms that makes one feel stupid and sleepy; it is this that kills the entombed miner at the wall digger.

Fresh air is as necessary to life as food or water; it is the most common thing in the world, yet we do not use it as generously as we should with the result that whole families have pallid faces and lack energy. Every person in a room breathes a certain quantity of air and it takes the lungs and comes out filled with impurities, this air should not be breathed again but unless there is a circulation of fresh air in the room the entire atmosphere gradually becomes charged with poisonous vapors.

Sleeping rooms should always be furnished with ventilators but there should be no draught across the bed. Whether the windows shall be left wide open, allowing cold air to flow into the room all through the night or not, is an undecided question; each must decide for themselves. Scarcely two in a family agree on the subject, but in every room, day and night, there should be cross currents of air.

As heated air always ascends and floats about the upper part of the room, there should always be one window down from the top; and on the other side of the room, if possible, there should be a window raised from the bottom, so that the vacuum left by the hot vitiated air rising out can be filled by cool air rushing in.

Every room should be well ventilated, but especially should the kitchen have a constant supply of fresh air so that all odors of cooking food, smoke, and heavy hot air can be carried away and dispersed throughout the house. How to get fresh air in the kitchen is a most important question and if you have not found the answer to it you may expect to have catarrhal colds, lung troubles and constant headache until you do.

Ninety per cent of American women do their housework and cooking and fifty per cent of these complain to me that they have little appetite for the food they cook. Now this is because their kitchens have no circulation of air. A transom over the outside door or a skylight, partly open, will allow the bad air to escape and give the cross draught so necessary to good health.

Provide your family with an abundance of fresh air, avoid draughts or hot or cold air, provide an escape for foul air and odors and your family will be more comfortable, you will have fewer doctor bills and you will burn less fuel, for fresh air feels warm more quickly than impure air.

POLITICAL APPOINTMENTS

BY GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Slavery"

A political appointment is one of the most popular ways of getting nothing for something.

All that is necessary to get a political appointment is to work earnestly and tirelessly for one's party for a few decades, to contribute unhesitatingly to all campaign funds, to whomper up twenty-five hours a day during the campaign and to form a household around the election of a certain man for a few months after his inauguration. It is absurdly easy. A mere child could do it. In fact the more childish a man is the more he does of it.

In return for this slight price, a man often gets an appointment which pays so much that by rigid economy he can pay his expenses throughout his term by borrowing a small sum each year.

And yet a political appointment to most patriots is the last station before Heaven. In fact, so many men who are appointed try to go on this line. Of all heroic endeavors, nothing approaches the sacrifices made by men who are struggling to get a political appointment urged upon them. Men who gasp with exhaustion and give up the fight after having found one clean sock on Sunday morning, while the great nation for whom they travel thousands of miles and remain through lunch and dinner hours, hanging tightly to the door-knob of a representative who knows an official who has influence with a friend of the secretary to the president. Men who do not even know French and who when they see them will expose themselves unflinchingly to the chances of an appointment as a foreign consul. Men who become fatigued and aching about the head when they try to subtract their month's income from their month's bills will stand back and watch the office of a state official in vacant, and exclaim: "Look no farther for some victim. I will take the job if it kills me."

Some political appointments bring great honor, but most of them bring only the ubiquitous political assessment and the cold, bitter tear of woe when the administration changes and all honest men must go to work.

ATLANTA'S GREAT LIFE WASTE AND THE REMEDY POINTED OUT BY RUSSELL SAGE FOUNDATION

One-third of the deaths each year in Atlanta are due to preventable diseases. Attitude attention is given to disease among negroes, a prolific source of menace to the white man.

Recommendation for the sweeping reorganization of the health and sanitary departments, with the reporting of venereal diseases.

These are the startling features of the probe into Atlanta's health situation, made recently by Franz Schneider, Jr., sanitarian of the department of surveys and exhibits of the Russell Sage Foundation. The report, which had just been heralded as containing sensational, is the result of a survey made upon the instance of the chamber of commerce.

70 PER CENT BEFORE FIFTY.

Expert Schneider takes the year 1910 for statistical analysis of the death rate from various causes. In that year there were 2,988 deaths. Nearly one-third occurred in the first year, nearly one-third between the ages of 25 and 50, the period of greatest productive activity, and 70 per cent died before reaching the fiftieth year.

Mr. Schneider then analyzes these deaths from the standpoint of certainly and conjecturally preventable diseases. He includes in the first class typhoid fever, malaria, smallpox, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, tuberculosis, meningitis and others. Diseases possibly preventable are listed as diarrhea (under 3), measles, pneumonia, purpura fever.

The report describes the present organization of Atlanta, the health department, having supervision over the division of sanitary inspection and the board of health proper. The report summarizes the work of the health department proper, as distinguished from the sanitary feature, and shows that it has to spend less than 25 cents per inhabitant a year. "Below the minimum requirement for a modern, well-run and effective department."

STATISTICS RIDDLED.

Atlanta's system of vital statistics is riddled, both as regards births and the cause of death. In some instances, says the report, it is "difficult to escape the conclusion that the statistics of disease is still in the dark ages of medicine."

Laxity in reporting communicable diseases is criticized. Quarantine measures are ineffective. The milk inspection program is excellent, but is deplorably hampered by a small force. The report is not enthusiastic over the milk supplied Atlanta.

Mr. Schneider condemns bad control of the health department as obsolete and ineffective, and advocates a health specialist, with a small board to advise with and check him, if necessary. He says that the board is apt to pay more attention to the work of the sanitary department, where much money is spent, than to the health department, spending less money, but whose activities are the safeguard of health in Atlanta. The chief defects, he points out, are due to too meager appropriations.

Mr. Schneider views as a neglected opportunity the inaction of the board of health in the prevention of infant mortality. Other cities save many lives each year. Here again it is a question of lack of funds.

A great deal could be accomplished in minimizing the ravages from tuberculosis by proper expenditure of public funds. A splendid program and spirit are manifest, but money is insufficient.

It is recommended that venereal diseases be made reportable, and that steps be taken in the public interest, for the prevention of their spreading and for free treatment for the poor.

Inasmuch as poverty and diseases go hand in hand, and since the diseases of the poor are often of a communicable nature, it is "economy if nothing else" that the community should take a leading role in hunting and treating sickness at this source. A free health department dispensary is recommended.

THE NEGRO HOVEL.

Stress is laid on the need of a new housing law. It is pointed out that many of the negro communities may now become centers of disease and insubordination, a menace that may spread to the white population.

The negro is referred to as a "hygienic liability" and also as a "hygienic opportunity," since attention to him will reduce the community's stock of infectious diseases. Almost no attention is paid to contagious diseases among the negroes, yet he is an ever-present menace to the white population.

THE REMEDY.

Mr. Schneider reduces his remedy to the following recommendations:

To secure to the city an up-to-date health department, one that shall be able to grapple successfully with the existing opportunities, the following recommendations are made:

1. That the city's health work be reorganized with the elimination of the present large boards; the dissolution of the health department from its correlation with the sanitary division and a relative increase in the responsibility and authority of the health officer. A small carefully chosen public health council may be retained to pass necessary additions to the sanitary code; but aside from this its function should be purely advisory to the health officer and its meetings should be held at the latter's call.

2. That the health department be made responsible for the condition of privy vaults, dry closets and private wells, and be furnished with sanitary inspectors to carry on this work.

3. That the health department create a division of infant hygiene, with nurses and infant welfare stations, and with the assurance of prompt birth reporting and the examination and certification of midwives.

4. That the health department create a division of tuberculosis; requiring the reporting of its cases, maintaining a register and investigating and supervising cases of the disease in a manner similar to that of the Anti-Tuberculosis society.

5. That the present sanitarian accommodations at Battle Hill be radically reorganized, to accommodate at least twice the present number of white persons and with a view to increasing the attractiveness of the colored quarters.

6. That the venereal diseases be added to the list of other reportable infectious diseases (by number instead of name as now done), and that the health department offer free laboratory facilities for their diagnosis, offer free medical treatment to the indigent afflicted with these diseases (with a view toward discovering and eliminating the sources of these infections), and that it consider such other steps as tend toward the solution of this problem.

HEALTH DISPENSARY.

7. That the city seriously consider the establishment of a health department dispensary with general and special clinics, and with social service investigation and extension home nursing.

8. That the present efforts for laboratory work, meat inspection and the control of communicable diseases be materially extended, and that the present isolation hospital be enlarged to care for a greater number of diseases and for patients of both colors.

9. That the city recognize the importance of controlling communicable diseases among negroes, and that due allowance therefore be made in the health department's program.

10. That the city adopt a comprehensive housing law and establish a system of housing inspection.

11. That the health department create a division of publicity and education, to give force to its efforts as outlined above.

12. That the appropriation of the health department be increased to reasonable proportions, and that in view of any such changes as outlined above, the health officer's salary be increased to a figure compatible with his increased responsibility.

13. That such changes be made in the sanitary code as are consistent with these recommendations.

CONCLUSION.

We have now seen that there is in Atlanta ample opportunity and need for modern public health work, that there are serious defects in the city's present organization; that several of the largest hygienic opportunities are neglected, and that radical reorganization and enlargement will be necessary to take adequate advantage of the situation. These facts may be surprising to many citizens and may shock their sense of conviction of the healthfulness of their city. But the health of such persons can say that Atlanta probably is intrinsically a healthy city; but that many of its people are, through no fault of their own, subject to disease unnecessarily and that many of them die needlessly. These conditions arise partly from the fact that Atlanta is busily engaged in the process of becoming a larger and more prosperous, and partly from the fact that great advances have taken place in public health science in very recent years. The opportunity now confronts the city to put its hygienic house in order; the expenditure required are fortunately not large, and the best authorities tell us that the step will pay a handsome profit.

Ask Us Something Easy. (From The Madison Madisonian.) Why go to the west, north, east or south for grain, provisions, meat, turkeys, potatoes, etc., when Morgan county can show such results as these:

181 bushels of corn on one acre.
162 bushels of oats from one acre.
38 1/2 bushels of "Yellow Yam" potatoes from one vine.
Over 5,000 bushels of oats from 70 acres of land.
And hundreds of other yields just as abundant. Echo answers why?

The World's Mysteries

THE ASSASSINATION OF THE DUC DE BERRY

The sensation which the assassination of the Duc de Berry created not only in Paris in 1820, but throughout France and Europe, was enormous. All parties equally condemned and lamented the crime. The royalist party tried at first to create the impression that the murder was but the symptom of a widespread conspiracy organized by the Bourbon family and the entire nobility, and boldly charged the liberal policy of the government as being the cause of it.

But the wherefore of the crime of Jean Pierre Louvel has never been forthcoming. The political situation in France after the overthrow of Napoleon and the restoration of the Bourbon was precarious. The king, Louis XVII, lacked force of character, and moreover, his long life in exile, with its pleasures and enjoyments as a sybarite and epicurean, had but poorly qualified him for the suddenly imposed tasks.

Finally a new era of terrorism was organized. The French chambers were entirely under the control of the extreme royalists. But liberal and patriotic measures followed one another in quick succession, and everything indicated a return of speedy prosperity, when the assassination of the Duc de Berry, the hope of the Bourbon dynasty, crushed the dreams of the patriotic and reinstated the extremists in power. De Berry was a nephew of the king and was born in 1778, and had passed his youth and early manhood in exile.

The king allowed his nephew to have full sway, and the promise that he gave to the Duc de Berry was that he was to be the victim of assassination. With him out of the way, it was argued, the elder branch of the dynasty would die out entirely. Such was the consideration at least of the young man who undertook the perilous task of killing Duc de Berry.

Louvel was an enthusiastic admirer of Napoleon. Napoleon's dethronement he wanted to revenge on the Bourbon dynasty, and he was a member of the Bourbon family, because in him were centered the hopes of continuing the dynasty.

He finally found employment in the Versailles stables, and whenever the Duc de Berry was out hunting he tried to find an opportunity to shoot him. After a long and patient waiting he finally found his opportunity. It was during the last days of the carnival preceding the season of Lent. In February, 182

MILLIONS FOR POULTRY PAID BY NEW YORK

New York, November 10.—The arrival of 196 carloads of live poultry in New York last week establishes a record, and indicates an immense stock of poultry throughout the United States. It is declared. The shipments come from almost every state in the union. An estimate of the total receipts of live poultry for 1913 to date is 6,000 carloads, making New York's poultry bill thus far this year over $16,000,000.

IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS "CASCARETS"

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascarets tonight to cleanse your liver. Stop on and Pouches, and you will surely feel better by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back ache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartics, pills or castor oil. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, move the sour undigested and fermenting food and food gases. Like the cascade down the liver and carry out the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines in 10 minutes.

Remember, a Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowels, a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

WRIGGLING DANCES FOES TO PURITY

"Tango," "Bunny Hug" and All the Others Denounced by Purity Congress--Problem Novel Is Denounced.

Minneapolis, Minn., November 10.—The international purity congress today elected the following officers: President, B. S. Steadwell, LaCrosse, Wis.; vice presidents, Dr. Talbert Moore, Toronto, Judge Harry Olson, Chicago, and Dr. Emma E. A. Drake, Denver. President Steadwell, who has headed the congress since its organization was re-elected without opposition. Dr. Drake was chosen third vice president after the women delegates had demanded that member of their sex be given that office.

Other officers including corresponding secretary, recording secretary and treasurer will be elected tomorrow. The "problem novel" is held as the chief cause of immorality in the United States, according to the report of the vice committee presented by Chairman J. Frank Chase, of Boston.

The report said that "questions that we are forced to face are graphically presented, the effect being that a certain class will try the experiences which the author has pictured." Animal Dances Denounced. The committee denounced the "tango," "bunny hug," "turkey trot" and other dances. Drinking places are the fountain head of impurity, particularly in Europe, while the prohibition of segregated vice districts does not really suppress the social evil. There are the conclusions drawn by Dr. Wilbur

E. Crafts, of Washington, D. C., in an address before the congress tonight. Dr. Crafts made a reform tour through ten European countries and investigated the night life in many cities. "The drinking of men and women together in public is one of the most fruitful causes of immorality," said the speaker. "I mention this with the more emphasis because in New York at least, the drinking of men and women together is a common thing in all of the restaurants, though I am glad to say that in the cities that are really American that have not been so thoroughly foreignized—it is still 'bad form' for any respectable woman to drink in public restaurants, and even in New York I do not hear that we have got down to the European standard of barnyarding."

"To promote the white life for two, which is the positive side of our reform, we must not depend on any form of law, however excellent, but press to the utmost both legislation and education—education preparing and way for right legislation—and when the legislation has been secured the educational campaign is needed quite as much to supplement it, not only by promoting enforcement, but especially by insuring willing obedience."

"Tri-Partite Saloons." To combat the evils of the immoral life, J. Frank Chase, secretary of the New England Varsity and Ward Society of Boston, proposed the establishment of "tri-partite saloons"—one part for men, one for women and one for couples. Mr. Chase would make it a punishable offense to rent a room for immoral purposes, as a means of overcoming the evils of immoral lodging houses. A law compelling the janitor to keep on file in a room on the first floor the marriage certificate of each person living in a flat was suggested as a means of eliminating the evils of the "affinity fever."

Mr. Chase spoke of the success of the campaign Boston waged against the social evil. He declared there was not now a single open illegal house in the city. E. K. Mohr, superintendent of the purity department of the International Sunday School association, said: "The church has been slow to move in purity reform, but a new day has dawned. The teaching ministry of the church is being led to face our problem, first by organizing a Sunday school purity department in Michigan and soon extending this effort to all North America. The purity department of the International Sunday School association."

Missionaries Are Stirred. December 11, November 10.—Charges made by Dr. Keshava Dava Shastri, of Benares, India, at the purity congress meeting in Minneapolis, that missionaries in India lived in luxury and failed to make converts were vigorously denied in the opening session of their annual conference here today. Twenty-six bishops and more than 100 laymen from all parts of the world are here. The report here showed that $2,300,000 was spent for Methodist missionary work during the last year.

Ed Brown in Charge of the Kimball House. Appointed Receiver to Take Charge of Estate of George Lougee, Bankrupt.

Asking for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of his estate, George A. Lougee, describing himself as a hotel manager, yesterday filed voluntary petition in bankruptcy with Deputy Clerk Fred Beers, of the United States court.

In the absence from the city of Judge Nathan, of the federal court, the papers were transmitted to Percy M. Adams, referee in bankruptcy, who named Ed L. Brown, a local manager of the Kimball house and one of the most widely known hotel men in the country, receiver of the estate.

In his petition Mr. Lougee presents a complete list of his liabilities, less than $40,000, secured in the Kimball house with an inventory of his assets, estimated at a slight excess of $15,000. Assets of Lougee.

The assets are recorded as stock in trade, and fixtures used in the operation of the Kimball house with an estimated value of $15,000 and ground at Lake Bluff, Ill., valued at $200.

Indebtedness is $3,000 secured and $1,000 unsecured. His pending pay roll, while his unsecured creditors aggregate $20,000. Principal creditors appear the H. J. Kimball house company, claiming $12,000 for rent for the months of September, October and November, of which $1,800 is due Mrs. Annie Inman Grant, a large stockholder in the H. J. Kimball house company, the American National Bank of Atlanta, holding $4,500 in notes, V. Zimmer, of Atlanta, $3,000 in notes, and the Kimballville Farm, $335.59. The Oppenheim Cigar company, of Atlanta, $640.35, the Swift & Co., $1,255.24, and the Fulton Market company, $1,600.77, are among other large creditors shown by the papers.

Ed Brown in Charge. It is understood the owners of the Kimball house company, of which John W. Grant is treasurer, will assume active management of the hotel, through Ed L. Brown, who is Mr. Grant's choice as future manager.

Mr. Grant declared last night when seen by a Constitution reporter, that he would be furnished by Mr. Brown with which to operate the hotel, and that Mr. Brown would be given every opportunity to demonstrate his business ability in the management of the hotel. Certain improvements, Mr. Grant admitted, would be made. He declared that this action was not altogether his idea, but that in a measure it was forced upon him.

"Our interests are at stake, and the owners feel that they should look after them. To procure a lease for the hotel at this time would be almost impossible, and, in fact, I doubt very much if the owners would feel like offering any private interest any great inducement to lease the hotel. Money, and all of it that is necessary to make the Kimball house attractive will be spent. If then the investment is not remunerative other arrangements will be made, and in all probability the management will revert to other individuals."

Change Is Certain. "I will not go into the subject as to why the New Kimball house, under Mr. Lougee's management, did not prove remunerative, as I am not what you would call a hotel man, and, therefore, am not a competent judge. I, however, believe that under the new management there will be a decided change, and the Kimball house will assume an entirely new aspect to patrons."

"From what I am told," said Mr. Grant, "it is necessary for 150 rooms of the hotel to be filled each day so as to pay running expenses. In 1911 the daily average of rooms occupied was 275. In 1912 the average was 175, and during the present year the average number of rooms in use has been but 125. The hotel has over 400 rooms. The New Kimball house is one of Atlanta's oldest hosteleries. It was constructed in 1882-3, immediately after the old Kimball house burned. Since that time it has been recognized as Georgia's political headquarters."

150 CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH IN GEORGIA IN SPACE OF A YEAR. Rome, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—A record of children who are burned to death in open graves in the state of Georgia is kept by H. C. Harrington, chief of the Rome fire department. He asserts that from November 1, 1912, to November 1, 1913, one hundred and fifty children were burned to death in Georgia, of whom nine lived in Atlanta.

The chief says that deaths from this cause are most frequent in the fall and early winter, and gives it as his belief that at least three hundred Georgia children are annually fed into the open graves, since his record consists only of press clippings from the Atlanta and Rome newspapers.

State Fire Marshal Joyner will be urged to issue a bulletin dealing with the topic and the necessity of care in preventing such tragedies, as an educational campaign is the only apparent remedy.

FORSTER NAMED HEAD OF MISSIONARY LEAGUE

The Eighth Annual Session of That Body Closes at Cuthbert.

Cuthbert, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—The Georgia Students' Missionary league, which has been in its eighth annual session at Andrew college, closed tonight after a stirring missionary address by Dr. E. H. Rawlings, of Nashville, Tenn. Other addresses during the day were delivered by W. H. Ramsey, of the Student Volunteer movement, and Dr. E. M. Vittum, of Millersville.

The following officers for the coming year were elected at the last business meeting: President, Professor Charles E. Forster, Wesleyan; vice president, A. W. Van Housen, Shorter; secretary, Miss Martha Pryor, Andrew; treasurer, Miss Ethel McKay, Agnes Scott; advisory board, F. H. Gaines, Agnes Scott, C. E. Jenkins, Wesleyan, A. W. Van Housen, Shorter, E. C. Brant, State Normal, Miss Lois Campbell, Bessie Tift, Miss Maude Smith, LaGrange, J. G. Harrison, Mercer, La-

WOMEN WILL FIGHT HIGH PRICE OF EGGS. New York, November 10.—A campaign against the high price of eggs, it was announced tonight by Mrs. Julian Heath, president of the Housewives league, will be started at once in which 100,000 women organized in every state will take part.

Eggs are selling for 45 cents a dozen in New York city. These same eggs, Mrs. Heath declared today, were put into cold storage last April at a cost of 18 to 20 cents a dozen, and she declared they could be sold at a reasonable profit for 30 cents.

Mrs. Heath exhibited a statement from the state health department at Albany that there were 730,084 cases of eggs, 30 dozen to the case, in storage in New York September 1.

Today letters were sent out to women in all parts of the country asking for information concerning the egg market and when replies are received, Mrs. Heath said the league here would know with what weapons to fight the dealers. Speculation was the cause of the high prices, Mrs. Heath declared.

Headquarters for transfer supplies

When you transfer correspondence, you do one of three things:

- (1) Transfer the contents of the filing cabinets, such as they are.
- (2) Transfer folders only with contents.
- (3) Remove papers only to other folders in the transfer cases.

Whichever method you follow, you will need transfer files, boxes or cases; guides and folders, too, in all likelihood.

Library Bureau is headquarters for transfer supplies. We have everything you need—in great variety of size, shape, quality and price.

Our latest innovation is a steel transfer section—five drawers high and two drawers wide. May we show it to you?

Transfer time is the time to put your filing and transferring on a better basis. NOW is the time to plan for it. We have the knowledge. It is at your disposal. Use it.

MANY FARM COLLEGES NOT LIVING UP TO LAW

Washington, November 10.—Secretary Garrison has discovered that many agricultural colleges established under the Morrill act of 1862 have not been living up to the law which requires them to include military training in their curriculum. In return for aid from the public treasury, the colleges are to make important recommendations on this subject to congress next month. In an effort to obtain a greater return to the government for the money it spends.

Secretary Garrison believes these colleges should become training schools for young officers for appointment in a volunteer army in time of war. He also believes the graduates of these schools, properly trained in a preliminary way during their college course, could serve with profit for a year after graduation. Thus they would comprise an excellent body of commissioned reservists.

Fire Destroys Barn.
Lawrenceville, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the large barn of William T. Nash, of Five Forks, early Monday morning. The barn was one of the largest in the county and contained the seed from twenty-five bales of cotton, 3000 bushels of fodder, a large quantity of hay, two buggies, four cows and a hog. It is believed that the fire was caused by a spark from the furnace. The county bloodhounds were sent for and, upon being put on the trail, took up the scent and at the last report, were still running.

SOVEREIGN is the great all-Southern cigarette. Made right in the South, for Southern smokers, from Southern-grown Old Belt tobacco. Breaking all sales records—"QUALITY TELLS."

Southerners recognize in SOVEREIGN the fine, fragrant, Old Belt, Virginia-North Carolina tobacco that they love to smoke.

And they find something even more enjoyable—a wonderful smoothness and mellowness that are absolutely new—the result of careful aging and skillful blending of this famous Southern-grown tobacco.

They get all the fragrance and flavor of the tobacco when they smoke SOVEREIGN, because the cigarettes burn evenly—do not smoulder and "go out." This is due to the better grade of paper used on SOVEREIGN—the most expensive cigarette paper ever imported from France.

SOVEREIGN sales have reached nearly 100,000,000 a month in 18 months—are increasing 10,000,000 a month breaking all records for popularity—"QUALITY TELLS."

Georgia Insists on Playing Game at Ponce De Leon; Sanford Issues Statement

Atlanta, Ga., November 10.—(Special.) Though not exactly in the nature of an ultimatum, Professor S. V. Sanford issued a statement in a telegram to President Randall, of Tech, today in which it was strongly intimated that the Georgia-Tech game, which is scheduled for Atlanta Saturday, would be played at Ponce de Leon, or not at all.

Professor Sanford when asked about the statement of Professor Randall in the afternoon papers to the effect that the contract calls for Grant Field, said positively that the contract did not call for the Tech grounds, but only specified that the game be played in Atlanta, and that the Georgia authorities insist that it follows that it shall be played on neutral grounds as heretofore, at Ponce de Leon.

Continuing further, Professor Sanford says "As long as the game is annually played in Atlanta, we will play it on neutral grounds and not on Grant Field. The annual games have been played for many years on neutral grounds in Atlanta. When we begin to alternate between Grant Field and some fair method upon which field the first game shall be played, and then alternate.

"If the current game is played under the contract at Atlanta it must be played on neutral grounds."

In baseball, where four games are played, two in Athens and two in Atlanta, the respective home fields of the two teams are used, but in football, where but one annual game is played, Georgia does not feel that she should be forced to play on her opponents' grounds every year, and with Ponce de Leon offering every advantage to the public, the Athens authorities seem determined on their stand for neutral grounds.

by Dick Jenkinson.

A movement has been started to stage the annual football game between the University of Georgia and the Georgia School of Technology eleven, which is scheduled for Atlanta next Saturday, at Ponce de Leon instead of at Grant Field.

This movement is the result of a general undercurrent of discontent on the part of the football fans of Atlanta, who backed by the alumni of Tech and Georgia in Atlanta.

The general public wants the game staged at Ponce de Leon, and they advance several reasons, and good ones, why it should be staged there instead

No Balm for Jackets; 2 More McWhorters For Georgia Eleven

There is no balm in Gilead for the Yellow Jackets.

"Well, if we are beaten this year and Bob McWhorter is the cause of it, it's the last time he can do it," said a Tech footballer the other day.

But this fellow was shy on the dope. At Athens, a freshman at the University of Georgia, a member of the scrub eleven, and incidentally one of his best players is another McWhorter, ready to step into the shoes of his famous brother, Bob.

Marcus was the first, next came Hamp, known to business associates as Judge Hamilton, now there is Bob and coming is Howard, captain of last year's Gordon eleven.

But Howard is not the last—no, not by a halfpenny.

Thurmond (Boose) McWhorter is at Gordon Institute now, where all the McWhorters started football. He'll be at Georgia ere long, probably when Howard has played his four years at Georgia.

Introducing McWhorter the fifth—captain of the Georgia team of early twenties—thirteen years ago, McWhorter, age 13, weight 110 pounds, right halfback and center fielder.

"There's any more," said that Tech man as he entered the drink emporium—no—soda water.

going to be better Saturday than he has been at any time all year.

Can Tech stop McWhorter?

That's a question that always interests the general football public just before a Tech-Georgia game of recent years. They've been unable to stop him, but they are alone in this. Other teams have suffered the same fate.

We're glad it's their task and not in addition to McWhorter, Georgia will have the weight and the experience, with the speed about equal, providing all the injured on both sides get into harness.

Crumples Recovering.

The crumples of the two teams are showing rapid improvement in fact, it is almost a certainty that the two teams will face each other with the strongest lineup they have been able to muster all season.

Nance and his bolts, Patten and his knee, Johnson and his shoulder, Loeb and his back, Alexander and his shoulder, Fielder and his ankle, and Lucas and Trawick and their faculty disabilities are getting along fine for Tech.

Henderson and his bruised rib, Crump and his bad ankle, Dyer and his knee, Dorsey and his ribs and Conklin and his charleyhorse are doing well for Georgia.

Quite a bunch of crumples to be sure. But the majority of the injuries have been on the Georgia side. Recovery for a week, and are answering the last treatment now.

The Georgia-Tech football game of 1913 is going to be the greatest ever.

Their Team Plays for State Prep Title Here Saturday

The coaches in charge of the Riverside Military academy football team, whose warriors will lock horns at Ponce de Leon park Saturday morning with the Georgia Military college eleven in a game that will decide the prep school title of Georgia. Reading from left to right, the coaches are: Irwin P. Graham, head coach; Frank B. Anderson and H. C. McGregor. Graham is formerly of Washington and Lee, Anderson formerly of Georgia, and McGregor formerly of Auburn.

CROSS DEFEATED BY WILLIE RITCHIE

New York, November 10.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world, in a ten-round bout, which went the limit at Madison Square Garden.

The men weighed in at 9 o'clock, both under the stipulated weight of 135 pounds. The reigning champion was announced as Ritchie 137 pounds and Cross 134.

With the exception of the first round, which was even, and the eighth, in which Cross had a decided advantage, Ritchie had the honors.

Knocked Down Twice.

In the second, after a mix-up, Ritchie fell backwards on his shoulders over Cross, who was in a stooping position. Though the fall was a heavy one, Ritchie did not seem to be much the worse for it.

In the third round Ritchie knocked Cross down twice, each time for the count of nine. The first fall was from a right smash on the jaw, followed by a right half uppercut. After Cross regained his feet, Ritchie rushed him across the ring and put him down again with another right, which was more of a blow than a jab. Then Cross got up he caught Ritchie with a hard left hook on the jaw. It almost lifted the champion off his feet. Cross, sustaining again forced Ritchie to the ropes. It looked in this round as if Ritchie would win easily, but Cross was full of fight and his powerful recuperation surprised the western boy, as well as the spectators.

From the fourth round to the end of the seventh, Cross received most of the punishment, but he kept Ritchie busy and the fighting all through was hard and fast. Cross apparently did not mind the stiff jabs he was receiving, contenting himself with waiting for his deadly right swing. A chance to do so never came.

The eighth round was where Cross showed to the best advantage. He landed lefts and rights to head and body, and also had the better of the infighting. Ritchie shook from heels to head with a left hook to the jaw in this round.

Ritchie's showing was not quite up to the standard of former lightweight champions who have been seen here. But Cross at all times is a puny fighter, no matter how good his opponent may be, and tonight he fought with desperation. He was endeavoring to win Ritchie's title, which the westerner had placed at stake in this match.

TY COBB SATISFIED TO PLAY IN DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., November 10.—Printed reports that Ty Cobb, the hard-hitting centerfielder of the Detroit American league baseball club, was anxious to be traded caused Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit team, today to make public a letter from the champion batsman, in which Cobb said he was anxious to play in Detroit as long as the management and public were willing to have him.

Cobb's letter also indicated that there would be no dispute over the terms of his 1914 contract. Last season he did not sign until two weeks after the opening game.

The letter from Cobb to Navin reads in part:

"I am entirely satisfied with conditions and I want to end my playing days in Detroit. The fans have treated me fine and I want to be loyal to my club."

The understanding we reached pleased me immensely and I will surely give my heart to playing with Detroit next year. I certainly do not want to change."

President Navin said "The understanding referred to concerned Cobb's salary for 1914." Mr. Navin intimated the Georgian would receive the largest salary paid a player in the history of baseball.

WELCHONCE TOPS ALL OFFICIALLY

Secretary Jacobson, of the Southern League, Gives Out Official Figures—Constitution's Figures Verified

The official averages of the Southern league for the season of 1913 have just been issued, and differ little, if any, from the figures carried throughout the season and at the end by The Constitution and compiled by its sporting editor.

The figures are identical in the leaders in the different departments of play, there being only a difference of one or two points in percentage in some instances, while in the main, The Constitution's figures, considered the most authentic unofficial figures in the south, were verified.

To reproduce the official figures in full is useless in this football weather, as it would be but a repetition of The Constitution's page of averages the Sunday after the season closed.

What Figures Show.
But some of the most salient points are listed below, and they verify The Constitution's figures entirely.

Welchonce led the league batters with a percentage of .338, knocking out Dave Robertson, of Mobile, by three points in the last game of the season.

Tommy Long led the run-getters with 112 tallies, a record for the Southern league.

Clinton Brough led the twirlers with a percentage of .753, with Coveleske second and Conselman, Dent and Price, of Atlanta, following close behind.

Dave Robertson, of Mobile, led in home runs, Wally Smith, of Atlanta, in triples, Tim Hendrix, of New Orleans, in doubles, Harry Welchonce, of Atlanta, in singles and in extra bases.

Messenger, of Birmingham, led in stolen bases, and Warren, of Montgomery, in sacrifice hits.

Fielding Marks.
McGillivray, of Birmingham; Paullet, of Mobile, and Snedecor, of Montgomery, were tied for the lead in fielding among the first-sackers.

Marion, of Birmingham, led the second basemen; Lindsay, of Nashville, the shortstops, and Elwert, of Montgomery, the third basemen.
Clark, of Mobile, had the highest fielding average among the outfielders, but Welchonce, of Atlanta, handled the most chances, and Robertson, of Mobile, also surpassed Clark.
Mayer, of Birmingham, led the catchers in fielding. Koger, of Mobile, led the twirlers in fielding.
Elmer Brown, of Montgomery, fanned the most batters, while El Price, of Atlanta, handed free transportation to the most.

It is interesting to note that Mobile was the only team that the Crackers did not win the majority of the twenty games from, while Chattanooga was the only team that the Mobile club was unable to win consistently from.

GEORGIA AMATEUR SIGNED BY LOCALS

Infielder Broadwater Afraid of No Other Candidate for Place But Wally Smith.

Infielder Broadwater, an amateur from Kingston, Ga., has affixed his signature to a contract for a try-out with the Atlanta baseball team next spring.

Broadwater thinks a lot of his chances to make good with the Crackers and in his letter states, "I am not afraid of any one beating me out of my job but Wally Smith." Well as Wally will not be back with the Crackers, the Georgia boy ought to stand a mighty good chance of making good.

JOHN DODGE TOUTS BILL'S YOUNGSTERS

Cincinnati Infielder Says Eff and Kircher Will Make Good With Crackers.

Memphis, Tenn., November 10.—(Special.)—Johnny Dodge, third baseman of the Cincinnati Reds and a reader of this city, says that Billy Smith, manager of the Crackers, has picked up two youngsters from the Virginia league who will make good. Dodge speaks of Kircher, the utility player from Norfolk, and Pitcher Jess Efford, from the same league. Dodge says that Efford's curve ball is a peach, he has the average speed and plenty of nerve.

A good curve ball and a lot of nerve will get away in the Southern league, so Efford's chances are good. Dodge also touts an outfielder named Wally, whom it is claimed the Crackers have. He says Wally, besides being a good hitter and grand fielder, is the fastest man in the south.

AMERICAN TRACK TEAM TO TOUR AUSTRALIA

San Francisco, November 10.—Eustace M. Veloxito, well known in the athletics of the Pacific association of the Amateur Athletic union, has been selected to manage the American track team which will sail from San Francisco on Wednesday and tour Australia. William Unmack, who is unable to make the trip, it was announced today.

Thomas Cobleigh, of New Orleans, will fill the vacancy left on the team through the withdrawal of Rice Wapleton. Cobleigh is a good shot putter, does the high hurdles in 15 3/16 seconds, pole vaults 11 feet and high jump 5 feet 10 inches. He will meet the other athletes in Honolulu on November 23.

Other members of the team are George Parker, the Olympic club sprinter; James Towse, the mile runner from the Boston Athletic club, and Reginald Caughey, of Ukiah, Cal.

MERCER SUB-VARSITY DEFEATED BY GORDON

Barnesville, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Gordon walked away with the Mercer sub- varsity this afternoon by the score of 28 to 6. At no stage of the game did the visitors have a chance to win. Gordon scored three touchdowns in the first quarter, two in the third and one in the fourth. Long forward passes was the style of play used by Gordon. Mercer's score came in the third period when Lethal Newton got around the left end for a touchdown. Fractious every man on the Gordon team starred. Referee Smith, Cornell umpire, Riley, West point, head man, Blount, Emory, timekeeper, Hightower and Gibson. Quarters 15, 12, 15, 12.

TEXAS NOW CLAIMING SOUTHWESTERN TITLE

Houston, Texas, November 10.—The University of Texas claimed the southwestern football championship for the first time as a result of their victory over the University of Oklahoma here this afternoon, 14 to 6.

That swept the Sooners off their guard, gave the Longhorns their two touchdowns in the first half.

That Oklahoma lined up a stiff defense which Texas failed to pierce. Pumping proved costly for the Oklahoma players and lost them many hard-earned gains. Their single score came in the last quarter on a forward pass.

Oklahoma proved superior to Texas in but one department of play, Reed's long punts measuring considerable beyond those of Barrill.

CHILD WELFARE EXHIBIT WILL OPEN DECEMBER 1

For the reason that more time was required in which to prepare local exhibit, the child welfare and health exhibit, which was to have been shown here November 18 to December 10, has been postponed until December 1, and will be shown from that date until December 15, under the auspices of the Atlanta Associated Charities.

The general executive committee met Monday morning, and it was decided to ask the city of Atlanta to contribute $500 to pay the expense of renting the old Layden house on Peachtree street, and of fitting this place for the show.

The main feature of the exhibit will be the health conference, which will be conducted by leading practitioners from the Fulton County Medical society. All mothers are requested to bring their children to this show, and have them examined free of charge by the physicians in attendance. It was pointed out that while all children of an age permitting attendance in public schools have the benefit of free and expert medical attention, no provision is made for advice to mothers in caring for the younger children.

The executive committee will meet today, at which time subcommittees to handle each detail of the exhibit will be named. The general executive committee is made up as follows:

Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. Fred G. Hodgson, Mrs. Frank Neely, F. M. McGowan, Mrs. V. H. Krieger, Mrs. W. Woods White, Walter Rich, Dr. Francis Bradley, W. St. Simon, Mrs. J. H. A Revision of Prices Downward

FOUR years ago we marketed a much smaller car, than our 1914 model, for $1250. And this was a bare car—with no equipment.

Today we offer you a much larger car in every respect, refined right-up-to-date and completely equipped for only $950—25% less than our price four years ago.

Four years ago the wheel base was shorter, the tires smaller, the motor smaller, in fact every essential part of the car represented less value. In addition to that you had to pay extra for all of the equipment.

Today the Overland has a longer wheel base, a larger and more powerful motor, larger tires and complete equipment. In fact every individual unit is larger than heretofore. Yet the price is 25% under the market of four years ago; is 30% under the present market and has fully 200% greater value.

All of which is accounted for by our gigantic production which has been increased each succeeding season. For 1914 we will build 50,000 cars. And a production of this size is the sole explanation, for it makes possible the numerous economies which increase values and decrease prices.

Still, you argue, other manufacturers must have reduced costs and increased values just as we have.

But they haven't.

Look around you. Think a minute of the cars you know of that have not reduced prices.

Think of the cars that are about the same in specifications and price as they were several seasons ago. Then go further and think of the manufacturers who have raised their prices.

That's probably an angle you failed to consider. That's probably a point you overlooked. But it's important.

Check our price reductions and car enlargements and refinements during the last four years. The facts will astonish you!

Then call on the nearest Overland dealer and minutely examine the 1914 Overland. It has a powerful 35 horsepower motor; it has ample five passenger capacity for family comfort; it has handsome and brilliant electric lights throughout—even under the graceful cowl dash; it has larger tires; it has a wheelbase of 114 inches.

There is a spacious body; luxurious upholstery; the finish is rich, beautiful and simple; the brakes are larger and stronger.

There are Timken bearings; the high grade Schebler carburetor; the magneto is a Splitdorf and the speedometer is a jeweled Stewart. Everything is standard—the world's best.

But the price is lower than ever.

And, most advantageous of all, it is the most economical car on tires, gasoline and oil.

There is an Overland dealer near you. Phone him for a demonstration today.

Many Towns Need Improvements

There are a score of reasons why. The biggest and most conclusive reason is that Modern Improvements Pay.

They pay in Health. Sanitary living conditions are the right of the people. Without them there comes sickness, crippled efficiency, poverty and worse.

They pay in Money. The town that is alert and wide-awake enough to clean itself up, make itself attractive and wholesome, is the town that holds its own with firm grip and draws new population from elsewhere.

Is your town clean, efficient, wholesome—a good place to live? Is it the kind of town new industries and new people will naturally be attracted to?

If you lack Correct Sewerage, good water, lights, paving, you ought to get busy.

Our mission is to devise sanitary systems and improvements for towns and cities.

PRISONER STROLLS OUT SHERIFF'S DOOR AND MAKES ESCAPE

Columbus, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Roscoe Huff, a young man who effected his escape from the charge in the superior court this morning, effected his escape from the sheriff's office during the day while awaiting sentence there along with other prisoners.

The prisoners were left unguarded, but when two or three persons who had business in the sheriff's office left the room, Huff managed to get in the crowd some way and walked quietly out. Up to this hour the authorities have not been able to find him.

Huff brought a young woman to Columbus from Savannah, Ala., and they lived together here as man and wife for two or three days. He was afterwards arrested at Hamilton, Ga., on a warrant sworn out by her brother-in-law.

TALLADEGA HONORS HEROES OF 1813

Oscar Underwood and Other Eminent Men Join in the Hundredth Anniversary of the Battle of Talladega.

Talladega, Ala., November 10.—(Special.)—After three of the most strenuous and most enthusiastic days that this city has ever spent, Talladega has settled down again today to the affairs of everyday business. The occasion which has overshadowed every other phase of the city's life during the past few days is the celebration of the one hundred anniversary of the battle of Talladega, which was fought one hundred years ago, on November 3, 1813, between Andrew Jackson's volunteers and the Creek Indians under Chief Weatherford.

The biggest event of the celebration was the pageant parade which took place last Friday, in which many gaily decorated floats and automobiles were arranged to depict scenes of General Jackson's time. "Thousands of people lined along the streets to see the parade, which passed in review before the people of Talladega and the surrounding country. The parade was headed by the principal address of the day was made by Congressman Underwood, who paid glowing tribute to General Jackson and his men for the heroic work they did in fighting the Indians and founding the civilization of Alabama.

Underwood Describes Battle.
In his address, Mr. Underwood told the story of the Battle of Talladega in vivid form, and displayed a thorough familiarity with the history of the stirring times he was describing, and he led up to a splendid climax with the final result of the battle in Fort Ashley by Andrew Jackson's Tennessee Volunteers.

Hon. John W. Williams, who introduced Mr. Underwood; D. A. McNeill, who was master of ceremonies for the day; Hon. Fred L. Beckman, representative in congress from the Talladega district, also made addresses in glowing eulogy of the heroes of 1813.

"The Star Spangled Banner" sung by a chorus of school children, proved one of the most thrilling numbers on the program. Other musical numbers during the exercises also attracted much attention.

Memorial Tablet Unveiled.
Probably the most fitting tribute of all paid to the heroes who died for their country was the unveiling of the memorial tablet erected in the federal building by the Talladega chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The tablet, which was unveiled by General Jackson and his sturdy followers. To their memory is this simple tablet inscribed, to the patriotism, their courage, their foresight, do we dedicate this modest testimony of our reverence. May it excite in all who contemplate it a just pride in all who possess of such an ancestry, and may it inspire in those who come after us a spirit of heroism and valor, that shall not rest short of preserving even unto death the inheritance vouchsafed unto them.

While the celebration was held under the auspices of the D. A. R., they were also under the patronage of the Talladega Chamber of Commerce, of which L. J. McConnell, who is a former Georgian, is president.

ANDREWS OUTLINES MAYORALTY POSITION

Given certain civic conditions, Walter P. Andrews, Talladega commissioner to the Panama Pacific exposition, will be a certain candidate for the mayoralty of Atlanta next year.

Mr. Andrews outlined his stand in a brief speech last night at a dinner tendered the Hotel Men of Atlanta at the new Wincoff hotel. He was called upon by Postmaster John Y. Smith, and said in part:

"For years I have supported the administration of James G. Woodward. I have been one of his most ardent admirers. I believe he has done much for the civic progress of Atlanta, and will leave behind him many monuments to his sagacity.

"I am going away on a mission of importance to this country, and I hope on that mission to give a good account of myself. I hope, on my return, to receive the well-wishes of fellow townsmen.

"I hope to greet the next mayor of Atlanta there Andrews pointed to Frederick Adair, one of the diners, and bid him Godspeed."

Following his speech Mr. Andrews was asked if he had any reference to Mr. Adair in his speech.

"Oh, no," said he, "I was just joking. My position in this mayoralty thing is this.

"When I return from Europe next April, I will be in a position to make a bid for the city call for it. I shall make the race for mayor. I can easily establish my residence here, if that is an objection."

Mr. Andrews will sail from New York on November 29 aboard the George Washington for Cherbourg, from whence he will journey to Madrid, via Havre, and thence to Paris.

Mrs. Andrews, a Panama Pacific exposition director, as yet unnamed, and who will act as publicity agent for the mission, party will be abroad some four months, returning to this country during April of next year.

GOOD ROADS MEETING PROMISED ATLANTA

Charles B. Light, who has been in Atlanta for the past week, virtually promised the next meeting of the National Good Roads congress to Atlanta last night in a speech before the Hotel Men's association at the Hotel Wincoff.

Called upon to address the banquet, Mr. Light declared that so far as his personal influence was concerned, he would throw all his weight toward bringing to this city the gathering of good roads workers.

"I believe there is no better city in the south for holding such a convention as the Good Roads congress," he declared.

Will Give His Aid.
"You have here the facilities for carrying on the convention; you have the means of publicity, which means the very life blood of such a convention, and so far as I myself am concerned, I am bending every energy to bring the body together in this city."

Mr. Light's remarks were made at a dinner at which Frank Harrell, lessee, entertained over forty guests. The dinner was served in exquisite taste that was an excellent example of the higher art of the Wincoff chef.

Following the delicious repast, Postmaster John Y. Smith introduced Colonel Robert Lowry, who told of the time, in 1860, when the present site of the magnificent Wincoff was occupied by a two-story house, built by John Farnham, who sold the property for something like $250.

Speakers of Evening.
Colonel Lowry was followed by Mayor James G. Woodward, Walter P. Andrews, Charles P. Light, Colonel Frederick Paxson, W. F. Wincoff and Forest, who gave a complimentary dinner to the Hotel Men's association and the press of the city, was marked by a spirit of camaraderie seldom seen at such affairs. The songs sung from a song book distributed by Fred Harner, of the Atlanta convention bureau, added much to the evening's entertainment.

WHEN HUSBAND DIES MRS. BANKS SHOOT LITTLE SON AND SELF

Richmond, Ky., November 10.—Mrs. Benjamin L. Banks, a prominent woman in Kentucky, shot and killed her only child, a boy, aged 12 years, then herself at her home in this city today. The tragedy followed the receipt of news announcing the sudden death from pneumonia of her husband in Adelphi county, where he had been visiting his parents.

Mrs. Banks formerly was secretary of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Snow at Mount Airy.
Mount Airy, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—A steady snow fell throughout the day Sunday, with high winds prevailing. A temperature of 26 degrees registered here. A general freeze, with ice, resulted therefrom.

Visiting Auto Dealers

You've come to the Atlanta Automobile Show to decide what car you are going to sell this year. On the decision you make in the next few days depends the money you are going to make in the next few months—the next few years.

You can make money selling the Cartercar.

For eleven years the Cartercar has made good. It is put out by a big responsible company. You can depend upon what they say. Your contract will be worth something.

Get busy at once and find out why there is so much talk about the Cartercar. Let me show you the stunts other dealers are doing that are making these cars the most talked about of any in their home towns.

If you're in the right territory, and it is not tied up, I've a proposition you'll like.

I'll be at the Cartercar Exhibit at the Show.

BEILISS NOT GUILTY OF "RITUAL MURDER"

Accused Man Sobbed Convulsively When He Realized Meaning of Verdict.

Kiev, Russia, November 10.—Mendel Beiliss, charged with the murder of Andrew Yushinsky, as a religious sacrifice, was acquitted by the jury today. "Beiliss is not guilty, but the murder was committed in the Zaitseff works," this was the verdict returned shortly after 6 o'clock tonight by the jury after two hours' deliberation.

When Beiliss was taken out of the prisoners' room of the court for the last time and brought along the dingy corridor, it was his head was driving him increased to five soldiers. Two officers entered the dock with him. Beiliss was outwardly calm, but his face was pale, and his eyes were fixed on the judge. The jury then filed in, and the foreman asked a few questions from the box and read the verdict.

Beiliss Sobs Convulsively.
Beiliss was standing with his hands on the dock-rails. He seemed to be in a state of collapse, striving to collect his wits and comprehend what was being said. When he realized the meaning of the verdict, he fell back into his seat sobbing convulsively. His counsel approached the dock and shook hands with him warmly.

The strictest precautions had been taken to prevent unauthorized persons from gaining access to the court. The police were in great force both within and outside the building.

While the jury was deliberating, a memorial service for the murdered boy, Yushinsky, was being held in St. Sophia cathedral, within which was thronged with a great crowd and the bishop delivered an allocution in which he dwelt upon the awful crime. He said that the authorities had made a most minute investigation and he argued the case before the jury. The court's decision, whatever it might be, was pronounced the police dispersed numerous gatherings all over the city.

All afternoon the streets of Kiev were crowded, and after the verdict was announced the police dispersed numerous gatherings all over the city.

An unusual feeling prevails, for it is not known what capital the Black Hundred will make out of the jury's finding that the murder was committed in the Zaitseff work.

Thus far, however, there have been no disorders.

The trial of Mendel Beiliss, a Russian of the Hebrew faith, for the alleged murder for purposes of "blood ritual" of Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian lad, began on October 8. The case caused an immense sensation, which stirred the whole of Russia. The mutilated body of the boy was discovered on March 25, 1911, in a cave on a suburb holding business.

Beiliss was shortly afterwards arrested and charged with the murder and was kept in close confinement till trial.

Extensive precautions were taken by the authorities to prevent threatened outrages by members of a society of anti-semitic Russians known as the Black Hundred.

Looks for Husband Here.

Savannah, Ga., November 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Orin Liedtke, of New York, will go to Atlanta tomorrow to search for her husband, whom she claims abandoned her a short while ago. She came to Savannah, hoping to find him here, but when she got here she learned from a man who was a passenger on a steamer from New York with him that he was on going to Atlanta for the automobile show. She says he is an automobile mechanic and took part in the Savannah automobile races.

What is Woman's Beauty but Health

And the Basis of Her Health and Vigor Lies in the Careful Regulation of the Bowels.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics, every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health, and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels. Pale cheeks, the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly, among them Mrs. C. S. Vance, of 511 S. Ray St., New Castle, Pa. At times she had spells of indigestion so severe that she thought she would die. Syrup Pepsin regulated her stomach and bowels, and she attributes her excellent health today to this remedy.

All the family can use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided, for at least their effect is only for that day, while a gen-

MRS. C. S. VANCE.

Uine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently. It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from griping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative- tonic in America today, and thousands of families are now never without it. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Underpriced to Your Advantage PAIGE 36 $1275

Completely equipped, including Large Unit Gray & Davis Electric Starting and Lighting System

If the Paige "36" was priced at $1500, it would still be an exceptional value. The fact that the price is only $1275 is something for the Paige purchaser to be proud of. Such a price for such a car is proof of maximum efficiency at the Paige plant, and factory efficiency establishes the efficiency of the car.

We believe we could sell every Paige car we have been allotted for this year, at $1500. We could get that price on the size and looks of the car, on its power and comfort, on its construction and equipment. And we would have nothing but satisfied owners. But the price is $1275, plus the freight, and you buyers win.

There are reasons a-plenty for the excellence of the Paige product and the unusualness of the Paige under-price. Absolute financial independence, freedom from debt, freedom from bonds, freedom from preferred stock, economy of management, advantageous buying of parts, material and equipment due to quantity purchases and financial standing; these and more are obvious reasons.

Paige "36" equipment is complete in every detail, and all of the highest class, including: Gray & Davis large unit electric starting and lighting system; ventilating windshield built into body; silk mohair top, tan lined; Jiffy curtains; Stewart revolving dial speedometer; 12-inch electric head lights; electric side lights flush in dash; 5 demountable rims; Goodyear, Goodrich or Diamond tires, with non-skid in rear; Bosch magnet; adjustable foot rail; nickel robe rail; extra tire irons; license brackets; electric horn, pump, jack, tools, tire repair outfit, etc., complete.

Don't you want the advantage of the under-price? Come see the Paige now, whether you desire early or future delivery. We couldn't tell you all the good things about the Paige—all the things that make it better at a lower price—if we ran an advertisement in the papers every day. But you can come here and see and know these things for yourself. If you aren't an automobile expert, bring one with you. We will leave the question of purchase to your judgment and his.

THE MITCHELL LITTLE SIX

At $1,895

IS THE LOGICAL INVESTMENT OF THE YEAR

The Mitchell Little Six is the only six-cylinder car on the market that sells for less than $2,000 and is delivered to you bearing all the modern conveniences and refinements.

It is the only six-cylinder car on the market under $2,000 that has an electric self-starter which is operated by a separate generator that generates its own power.

It is the only six-cylinder car offered to America today under $2,000 which has all the class, the beauty, the smartness, the quality and comfort of the high-priced cars.

The tendency of the time is toward the six. This is a six. The tendency is towards a compromise between great and small power. This is the Logical Compromise. It has fifty horse power and seats five passengers. It is built on rakish lines. It is graceful to a degree. It has the sweetest of motors with the popular long stroke. It is finished to suit exacting people. And as it stands today it will look good to its owner for years to come no matter how styles may change.

It is the only six under $2,000 that has perfect engineering balance—the only six in which the weight and strength and resistance to strain are accurately distributed. In all things it is an Engineering Feat—a beautifully built Road Locomotive and the engine and mechanism throughout is lubricated by a continuous stream of oil.

IT IS FULLY EQUIPPED AND THE EQUIPMENT IS INCLUDED in the price of $1,895. There is nothing left for you to buy. Read the list of conveniences and see if there is anything that we have overlooked.

Electric self-starter and generator, electric lights, electric horn, speedometer, mo-hair top and dustcover, Jiffy quick action curtains, quick action rain vision windshield, pair bow holders, demountable rims with one extra, license plate bracket, extra tire carrier, robe rail, foot rest, electric magnetic exploring lamp, pump, jack and complete set of tools.

This equipment is also part of the Mitchell Big Six seven-passenger, sixty-horse-power touring car at $2,350, and the Mitchell five-passenger, four-cylinder touring car at $1,595. This makes a trio of modern high-class cars at popular prices and no matter which one you buy, you are investing, not speculating.

STOCKS DECLINED

STOCKS DECLINED ON LIQUIDATION

Losses on Some Stocks Run
Up to 4 Points—Fear of Trouble with Mexico Factor in the Decline.

New York, November 10.—Quotations were scaled down all through the stock market today, and the decline of some time, with losses among the representative stocks running up to 4 points. The amount of business was small in proportion to the extent of the movement and the abnormal evidence of feeling liquidation of the market was disquieting to holders of stocks. Even more significant was the evidence of feeling liquidation of the market was disquieting to holders of stocks. Even more significant was the evidence of feeling liquidation of the market was disquieting to holders of stocks.

Consolidated Gas, Louisville and American Telephone were sold at concessions. In other cases prices were below the low points since the slump of last June, and in a number of stocks, including Atchafalaya, American Telephone and Rubber, low marks for the year were set.

The belief that a crisis is approaching in this country's relations with Mexico was the foremost factor in influencing some of the declines. The monthly statement of unfilled tonnage was considerably poorer than had been expected. The unfilled tonnage for the month was 5,000,000 mark, the decrease amounting to more than 8,000,000 mark. The showing last month indicated that order in that period did not average more than 13,000,000 mark. The decline in the copper trade same similarly did not encourage news.

Monday's weak, with severe declines in some issues. Total sales, per value, $1,800,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, November 10.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business in general fund $123,219,098. Total receipts Saturday $2,944,545. Total disbursements $2,944,545. The deficit this fiscal year is $6,511,337 against a deficit of $1,000,000 in the previous year. The Panama canal and public debt transactions.

Money and Exchange.
New York, November 19.—Call money easier at 3½ %; 4½ % ruling rate 2½ %; closing 3½ %.
Time loans easy; 60 and 90 days 5; months 4½ @ 5.
Prime mercantile paper 5½ @ 6.
Sterling exchange steady; 60 days 4.80 @ demand 4.8400.
Commercial bills 4.80 %.
Bar silver 87½.
Mexican dollars 48.
Government bonds steady; railroad bonds weak.

London Stock Market.
London, November 19.—Money was good demand and the market was fairly firm, the dealings were small.

 American securities opened quiet and steady. Light covering advanced the rate a fraction, but later the list declined under the lead of Amalgamated and Pacific. The closing was easy.

BARGAIN

THREE BLOCKS OF LOTS

I AM GOING to offer three blocks of lots in THE ROUGH at sacrifice to enable me to improve my larger tract recently purchased on 16TH, 15TH and WILLIAMS STREETS. One block 250 feet on Williams, between 14th and 16th, for $4,500, worth $6,250. Terms on these lots, $1,500 cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years, 7 per cent. This is only $18 foot.

FOURTEEN LOTS ON 15TH, FOWLER and CHERRY, between 15th and 16th, for $10,750, worth $17,500. Terms, $2,750 cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years, 7 per cent. Will make separate bonds for each lot. Entire block three street fronts.

500 FEET ON 16TH, WEST OF WILLIAMS, for $12,500, $2,500 cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years, 7 per cent. ANY AND ALL OF THESE LOTS ARE BARGAINS. Will only sell in blocks as outlined at the price. This is the first price ever placed on these lots, and purchasers now will get full benefit of all of the improvements which must of necessity come to this section. In naming these prices I have fully considered the sacrifice I am making, but must sell some of my holdings to enable the improvements to be going to make in this section. The above is the price and terms. It's your move next. Sure to make money if you act now.

BIG AUCTION SALE

NOVEMBER 13, 1913

AT JOLLY STATION, on the Georgia railroad, this side of Clarkston, we have a tract of land consisting of thirty (30) acres, which are beautiful lots already staked off and street put through property, which we will sell on the above date to the highest bidder regardless of price. We will have a special coach on the Georgia railroad accommodation train, which leaves the Union station at 10:30 o'clock, and free transportation will be furnished to those attending the sale. For those who can't leave on this 10:30 o'clock train we will have a 40-passenger sightseeing car to meet the street cars in Decatur at the Georgia railroad station, and will meet every car from 11 o'clock until 1:30. We will also have this sightseeing car to bring you back to street car in Decatur any time you want to return. This sightseeing car will leave our office, 14-A Auburn avenue, at 9:30 on the morning of November 13, which is next Thursday, and can take as many as forty through the country on this car.

You are specially invited to attend this sale and your transportation will be furnished you and free lunch on the grounds. We do not hesitate to say that we believe every one who buys this property will double or triple his money within the next twelve months.

The property is located both on the Georgia railroad and the new Stone Mountain street car line, which has just been completed, giving the best accommodation to and from Atlanta.

Sale will commence at 11 o'clock on the grounds and we will sell until 12 o'clock and adjourn for lunch, which we will serve free on the grounds. As soon as lunch is over will commence the sale and continue until the property is sold.

WE HAVE TWO LOTS just sold to us for quick sale in this attractive subdivision. The lots are 50x150 feet, convenient to car and city improvements. They lie well and the price is low. In fact, we consider them the best lots in the park for the money. Price $1,500 each. Easy terms.

A BARGAIN FOR SOMEONE
ON JOSEPHINE STREET we have a 5-room cottage on a lot 40x140 feet, all city improvements and good condition. This place is held at $2,500. Adjoining this we have vacant lot 40x140 feet, all city improvements. In the street this lot is held at $1,000. The owner of this property has authorized us to put a price on the house and lot and the vacant lot that will sell them. We offer you both for $3,500. If you get to our office before the owner, the property is yours.

EXCHANGE
IN WEST END we have a cozy, modern 6-room cottage on a lot 50x160 feet that we are instructed to trade for a 10-room house in this same section. The property is free of encumbrance and in best condition, and the price is $5,500. Prefer trading for place not exceeding $5,500.

IF YOU HAVE REAL ESTATE TO SELL come to see us about it. If you have money to invest we will be glad to help you.
