

Gen. Huerta to Resign Presidency of Mexico, John Lind Wires Wilson

Choice of His Successor May Depend on Acceptability to American Government—Various Names Suggested.

MEXICO'S SOVEREIGNTY NOT TO BE IMPAIRED

Whatever May Happen, Administration at Washington Is Determined Not to Violate Mexico's Territorial Rights.

Washington, October 17.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, has reported from Vera Cruz indications of General Huerta's intention to resign the provisional presidency.

Mr. Lind has advised the president that if the information that has come to him is reliable, the United States may be called upon indirectly to indicate whether it will recognize or open negotiations with Huerta's successor.

Apparently various names are being suggested and acceptability to the American government, it is thought, might influence the final choice.

From Mr. Lind's report, which was filed Wednesday, there arose today rumors of fresh negotiations with the Huerta government by the United States, but at the white house and state department it was declared communication had not been resumed.

To Guard Sovereignty. Speeches to congress and other suggestions today for an armed protectorate over Mexico in conjunction with other nations were met by high administration officials with the declaration that such an arm would impair Mexico's sovereignty.

It was declared today by those who know President Wilson's attitude on these questions that no matter what drastic measures are eventually required to compose the situation in Mexico, under no circumstances will the present administration at Washington interfere in any way with the sovereign or territorial rights of Mexico.

London dispatches declaring Great Britain's local interest in Mexico, a suggestion of armed intervention because it would not benefit British interests, while it might by annexation of territory or indemnity recompense the United States, brought to the attention of the comment that territorial acquisition would never be considered in connection with interference in Mexico any policy that may hereafter be adopted looks merely to the restoration of constitutional order and peace.

No Change in Attitude. An unconfirmed report reached Washington today that in the conference of diplomats called by the Spanish minister at Mexico City on Wednesday, practically all those present, except the British and American representatives, recommended armed intervention.

The situation seemed unchanged tonight with respect to further diplomatic parleys by the Washington government, which is disposed to treat no further with the Huerta regime, though admittedly in a receptive mood for suggestions or declarations of purposes on the part of the constitutionalist chiefs.

Constitutionalist representatives here are maintaining silence with respect to such negotiations. The only development to which they called attention tonight was the appointment of General Felipe Angeles as minister of war to Governor Carranza. They said Angeles was commissioned a major general in the federal army before Madero was overthrown that he remained in Mexico City until last month and at the first opportunity sailed for Europe and came to the United States at once, arriving in Nogales, Sonora, today to join Carranza.

TWO AMERICANS KILLED AT MEXIC MINING CAMP

Guadalajara, Mex., October 17.—Two American citizens and one Mexican were killed on Tuesday as the result of a feud at Hostot-Paquillo, a mining camp in the state of Jalisco, about 80 miles northwest of this city.

The American victims were Thomas Barrett, a mine manager, and William Kendall, a mine employee.

Barrett was murdered with an ax by the Mexican who was captured by Kendall and turned over to the rural guards. While the guards were escorting the murderer to Magdalena they shot him.

MOTHER SEES SON CRUSHED BY AUTO

W. L. McCalley Held on $500 Bond for Running Over Jimmie Ward During the Rush Hour.

Held on bond of $500, W. L. McCalley, a well-known business man with offices in the Equitable building, was carried to police headquarters yesterday afternoon following an automobile accident at Forsyth and Marietta street, in which his machine ran down an 18-year-old Jimmie Ward.

Bond was given by Marion M. Jackson, of the executive committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement. Mr. McCalley left police station immediately, carrying with him his 5-year-old son, who was a witness of the occurrence. He will be tried in recorder's court at 2:30 o'clock today.

The injured lad was rushed to Grady hospital, where he is feared, a serious. Grady officials said that no definite statement could be made of his injuries. One leg is believed to have been broken and, it is believed, he was injured internally.

Mother Saw Boy Injured. The accident occurred in one of the busiest downtown points at the rush hour. The mother of the boy, Mrs. James Ward, witnessed the affair, almost swooning as the boy's body rolled beneath the machine.

Accidental, Say Witnesses. "I was temporarily excited," said Mr. McCalley, "before I could do anything—threw on the break or relieve the gear, the front wheels had passed over his body. I stopped as quickly as possible."

The accident, he stated, was accidental. He was corroborated by a number of eye-witnesses. An ambulance was called and the injured boy sent to the hospital. Mr. McCalley drove to police headquarters with Policeman Shaw. He first offered to carry the boy to the hospital.

MRS. K. R. FITZHUGH, F. F. V. ADMITS CHURCH THEFTS

New York, October 17.—Mrs. Katherine Randolph Fitzhugh, said to be a member of an old Virginia family, pleaded guilty today to two indictments charging grand larceny, and was remanded until Monday, when it is likely that she will be released under a suspended sentence and sent to Washington in the care of relatives.

Mrs. Fitzhugh stole a gold mesh bag valued at $200 from Miss Dorothy Fisk daughter of Billy Fisk, a banker, while Miss Fisk was worshipping in St. Bartholomew's church early last summer. The second indictment charges her with stealing a gold bracelet in the Church of the Transfiguration.

Counsel for Mrs. Fitzhugh told the court that if she were given another chance members of her family had agreed to place her in a sanitarium.

SPINNERS WANT MORE LONG STAPLE COTTON

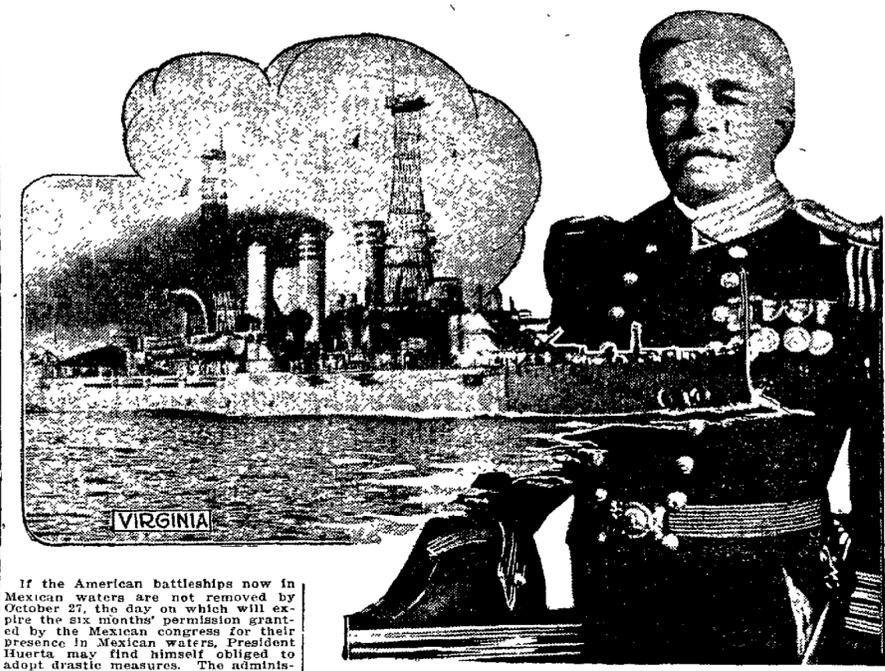

Washington, October 17.—Three members of the Arkwright club, of Boston, representing a number of large cotton spinning enterprises, had a conference today with Secretary Houston, Assistant Secretary Galloway and members of the cotton committee of the department of agriculture, in regard to the growing of long staple cotton in the United States.

The New Englanders said they were anxious to secure as much of this variety of cotton as possible. It was decided that they should appoint a committee to consult frequently with the department's committee.

UNCLE SAM SENDS NEW BATTLESHIP TO MEXICAN WATERS TO FOIL HUERTA'S MOVE

ELLIS CONFESSES HE MURDERED WIFE

After First Telling the Police a Story of Suicide Pact He Confesses to the Killing at Inquest.

Chicago, October 17.—William C. Ellis confessed at the inquest this afternoon to the murder of his wife here late Wednesday night. He said his wife was "the most virtuous woman" in the world, and that he must have been crazy over his health and business troubles.

The confession came dramatically soon after the opening of the afternoon session of the inquest. The Cincinnati man, who had insisted that there was a suicide pact, stood as he asserted the murder of his wife.

His voice strengthened perceptibly as he asserted the murder of his wife and mother and that her conduct had been above criticism.

Held on Murder Charge. The coroner's jury ordered Ellis held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. Ellis said he fired four shots into his wife's body and gashed her throat. He then shot himself and cut his own throat and wrists.

He then lay down by her side, hugging her lifeless body. He insisted two days until morning while the warmth left her body and it became rigid.

Before the hearing Ellis was given the usual warning that anything he might say would be used against him. He said he and his wife had agreed to commit suicide together.

Marks of Bloody Hand. According to detectives, there was much in the hotel room to show movements of one of the occupants after at least part of the tragedy was completed. A whiskey flask on the bathroom shelf was emptied and marks of a bloody hand were on it. Ellis said he drank from it after wounding his throat. The washstand in the bathroom was filled with bloody water.

Ellis himself was fairly clean when he was discovered by the house detective.

Mrs. Ellis had three bullet wounds in the left side of her body and one in the left side of her head, besides the gash in her throat which exposed the spinal column," said Dr. Springer.

"One of the bullets pierced her heart. The one in her head passed through the brain. At least one of these bullets she could not have fired herself."

"Her throat was cut after she was dead. There was no hemorrhage from that wound."

His Wife Knew Him, And This Saved Man From a Night in Jail

J. Preston Tried to Fix Lock of Store and the Police Believed He Was a Bold Robber.

It is well that J. Preston is a married man and has a wife who knows him so well that, at all hours of the day or night, she is able to identify him.

Otherwise, he would have been sent to police headquarters Thursday night on a charge of burglarizing his own store.

Which leads up to a little story, which is this: Policeman Lon Evans answered the telephone call at headquarters this particular night about 10 o'clock Sunday.

"Halt, you're under arrest. Another move, another step, another twist with that thing you've got in your hand, and you'll be dealt with severely."

"Arrest you for attempting burglary." "But you can't. I own the store."

"Perfectly. See the name on the sign. That is my name?" "Well, let's see!" The man at the door, with hands still aloft, pondered for a moment, then this: "Why, my wife, I suppose. She knows me pretty well."

Yes, That's Husband. Across the street he travels with the two policemen. Less than three doors away a pretty woman comes to the door.

"Dear," says the almost-prisoner, "these men wish that you identify me. Am I J. Preston or not—answer, please."

"You certainly are. The very idea—a. Come on in one of that night air or you'll catch cold."

When Preston explained that he was merely trying to fix with a screw-driver the lock on his store door that had been broken, Policemen Gorman and Evans returned to headquarters, quite content with J. Preston's original plan of identification.

NO MORE RESPITES GRANTED FOR DELAY

Applications to Stay Hangings Must Be Passed On by Prison Board, Says Governor Slaton.

No respites will be granted to condemned murderers for the purpose of having applications for clemency considered, unless the application therefor has first been presented to and recommended by the prison board.

Prison Commission to Act. "While naturally no iron-clad rule can be laid down on the subject, it has been and will be my policy to grant no respite to men sentenced to be hanged, unless the application therefor has first been acted upon favorably by the prison board."

The commission meets monthly on the first Sunday of each month, and generally speaking, I will not take action on applications for respite which come to my hands too late to be referred to the prison commission.

Respite of condemned criminals for the chief functions for which the prison commission was created. It is manifestly unfair to the gentlemen of the prison board, to the governor and to the counties which have frequently gone to considerable expense to prepare for an execution, that respite applications should be delayed until after the commission meets and then put into my hands a day or two before the date set for hangings."

May Prevent Lynchings. The governor cited a case in which he had declined to grant a respite. The day before the murderer was to hang, he received a telephone call from the representative of the county in which the killing occurred. His first idea was that the legislator wished to plead for an extension of the life of the condemned, but, much to his surprise, the purpose of the call was to thank the governor for his action, as there would probably have been an attempt to storm the jail and toynch the murderer, if a respite had been granted.

"Had I granted a respite," the governor added, "and an attempt had been made to storm the jail, resulting in the death of several citizens, my responsibility would have been upon me. During my tenure of office I will follow the orderly procedure prescribed by the law, and will interfere with the regular legal processes only in such cases as are manifestly necessary to meet the requirement of justice."

BRYAN'S DEFENSE OF CURRENCY BILL SCORES BANKERS

Their Contentions Presumptuous, Impertinent and Audacious, Says Secretary of State in Waterloo Speech.

TARIFF AND INCOME TAX ALSO UPHELD BY BRYAN

"Great Commoner" Believes Present Tariff Law Will Settle Agitation on That Subject for Generation.

Waterloo, Iowa, October 17.—Secretary of State William J. Bryan tonight spoke in defense of President Wilson's administration policies. He defended the pending currency bill, the new tariff and the income tax and attacked critics of these measures.

"For generations the national banks have held the government's money in return for contributions to campaigns and support of the republican party," said Mr. Bryan, speaking of the currency bill. "The currency bill is the most remarkable currency measure we have ever had. It gives the bankers enough to make them happy and doesn't make them take enough to make the people miserable."

Return Asked of Bankers. "The government asks in return something that bankers should be willing to concede, namely, that the government should issue the money itself, money without requiring bonds."

On the income tax law he said: "I have been called a socialist for asking for an income tax more than for any one thing I ever advocated. Because years ago I favored a 2 per cent tax with an exemption of $4,000 and no graduation, they called me a socialist."

His Hearst with Hearst. "Who did he do it? Because his heart is on the people's side. They could not come down and scare him. The man in his own state had not only defeated and wanted a high tariff could not persuade him to take his stand with them and let them collect tribute out of the pockets of the people."

He said Nelson Aldrich's opposition to the currency bill was necessary to assure the rest of the party of its control. "What would you think of a railroad that said: 'We must control the interstate commerce commission, or we will make ourselves do what the people want done?'"

"We're presumptuous, impertinent, audacious and the bankers themselves ought to be ashamed of it. This board is to be political and that is dangerous! Do you know of anything in this country that is not being controlled by boards; any part of the government that is not conducted by political boards? Congress is a political board. You trust everything else to a political board, your making of laws and a part of every government which is made up of political heads and officers selected by the people to make your laws, protect your property, can regulate marriage and divorce, can fix the death penalty and take human life. Why do you say that a political body cannot control the banks for the people?"

"I would imagine that business communities exist for the banks' benefit. It would be a good thing if there were that people ate in order to furnish a demand for farmers' products."

SULZER ASKED TO ACCEPT PROGRESSIVE NOMINATION

New York, October 17.—A telegram was sent to William Sulzer tonight asking him to accept the nomination of the progressive party for congress in the twentieth district, to take the place of Oscar S. Strauss who recently declined the nomination, according to announcement by Max M. Huerlenstein, a member of the progressive party committee on vacancies in the district. The committee will meet tomorrow night, to consider the last day given it under the law to fill the vacancy.

Albany, N. Y., October 17.—(Special.)—Calling his impeachment trial a farce and a political lynching, directed by Boss Murphy, William Sulzer, deposed today as governor of New York, reiterated his innocence of all the charges in the impeachment articles.

The out-going executive issued a statement in which he denounced the tribunal which had removed him as "Murphy's high court of infamy."

"Murphy controlled the assembly and ordered the impeachment," he said. "He controlled most of the members of the court and dictated procedure and wrote the judgment. He was the judge and the jury, the prosecutor and the bailiff."

Sulzer declared his trial was a "political lynching as far as the Tammany part of the court was concerned—the confirmation of a deep laid political conspiracy to oust me from office."

"A horse thief in frontier days," he said, "would have received a squarer deal."

Work of Star Chamber. He characterized the secret sessions of the court as "star chamber proceedings, where the enemies of the state could work for my conviction undiscovered."

He asserted he had not taken the stand in his own defense because he realized that his story attacking the Tammany leader would be ruled out. He entered a general denial of all the charges in the impeachment articles, denied he had ever asked Allan A. Ryan to obtain the influence of Murphy or Republican State Chairman Barnes to stop the trial; said that the testimony of Henry L. Morgenthau could be explained; asserted that every dollar given him during his campaign had been properly accounted for; that he was $76,000 in debt, that he had been "faithful to his trust" and

ASKS COURT TO VOID PURCHASE OF STOCK

Bought Interest in Southern Utilities Company Under Misrepresentation, He Says.

Declaring that the president of the company had told him that the Southern Utilities Manufacturing company had no money and was making no money, J. F. Brannon yesterday brought a petition to superior court seeking to have his purchase of 1,000 shares of stock in that concern declared void and asking that his equity in a lot of Cleveland avenue, which he says he gave in exchange, be returned to him.

Dave Wurtzbarger and Martin May are named as defendants in the petition, filed by Attorney Nathan Copeland, and Brannon states that they induced him to purchase the shares on October 2 by the use of fraudulent statements.

Brannon asserts that Wurtzbarger and May told him that $19,000 worth of the treasury stock of the corporation had been sold and also that the market value of the stock was equivalent to its par value.

SHOWERS ARE EXPECTED TO ARRIVE SATURDAY

Showers and then some cooler weather make up the official weather program for today, and the merchants are glad of the announcement. It is not that Atlanta merchants are particularly fond of rain, but that they cannot be pleased by the mild weather of the past fortnight, but cold weather suggests winter clothes and Atlanta stores have "the greatest line on earth." Show me rather like the rain that will make "low quarters" give way in a hurry to the "toppers" with which show weather is wonted.

The official column of mercury on top of the Empire building crawled up to the 55-degree mark on Friday, which was about as warm as any day of the week, but the rain which was forecast for Friday night and Saturday morning have lowered that mark before the day was over.

The rain and cooler weather came from a gathering disturbance in the elements, and night at a time when all things pointed to a sunny day.

After all, Sunday may be fair and with just a touch of briskness in the air left by the rain.

Diminutive Miss Burman Is Bodyguard for J. K. Hackett

It doesn't seem hardly fair that a great strapping man—some six feet and over—should require the services of a girl body guard—let alone a tiny little miss, scarce out of her teens.

However, this is the case, and the bodyguard happens to be Miss Sylvia S. Burman, of New York city, who stands guard over the apartment doors leading to the rooms of James K. Hackett, the actor and matinee idol.

Miss Burman, who is in Atlanta to declare her job is "really something new under the sun."

"I have been with Mr. Hackett now since July. It is my first engagement in anything like this. You see, my regular work is that of private secretary. Mr. Hackett engaged me in that capacity in Atlantic City this past summer, but I soon graduated from the ranks of ordinary amanuensis to that of 'berserk' bodyguard."

"I open scores of letters each day addressed to Mr. Hackett. These letters run the gamut of emotions from those of an aspiring young author, who seeks Mr. Hackett's notice of his latest play, offering to be unseated in the theatre, the debutante, whose interest in my employer starts at the first sight of her."

"Whereas, one of the great needs of the times is the checking and finalizing of tuberculosis, the need being not only one of humanity, but of economic efficiency, and it has been found that the best means by which the movement against tuberculosis can be advanced are public agitation and enlightenment on the line of prevention, and education of the public."

WHITEHALL INJUNCTION WILL BE ARGUED TODAY

Witnesses Examined on Friday by Sig Teitelbaum on Behalf of Plaintiff

The hearing of the application of W. L. Kelley, of No. 120 Whitehall street for permanent injunction to stop the regrading and paving of Whitehall from Mitchell to Trinity avenue, will be held before Judge George Bell, in the superior court, this morning. Commissioner Sig Teitelbaum conducted an examination of witnesses on behalf of the plaintiff Friday, afternoon John E. McClelland, former alderman from the second ward appeared for the plaintiff, and City Attorney James L. Mayson and his assistant, W. D. Ellis, represented the city. Luther Z. Rosser was present on behalf of the city commissioners.

To controvert this line of evidence City Attorney Mayson showed, by evidence given by McClelland, that to bring out in the testimony of Graham West chief clerk in the city controller's office, that the $2,500 apportioned by the city in June to pay for the city's share of the improvement was taken from the school maintenance fund. He also brought out testimony which is cited to show that the city has no right to contribute to the improvement of a street within the city limits.

Another interesting point brought out in the examination was that the county agreed to furnish the labor for the Whitehall project. Construction Chief Clayton said that the agreement was that the county would furnish convict labor, the city furnish the material and the property owners would contribute to the cost of the expenses, such as lowering and adjusting water mains, which was not included in the original estimate.

In the bill of complaint filed by Kelley it was alleged that the lowering of the street and sidewalk in front of the building 120 Whitehall, would be dangerous. Captain Clayton said during examination, that he made an inspection of the sidewalk work being done by Inspector Hays and said there would be no danger. He denied that the city had any other streets named in the complaint.

At least it has proven it can by the marriage, Wednesday last, of Miss Myrtle Benson, of 260 Capitol avenue and Terrell H. Lewis, chief soda dispenser for Jacobus Pharmacy at Whitehall and Alabama streets.

Between cries of "chicken potpie" and one man's Lewis managed to squeeze in a few remarks across the crowd. Benson's remarks soon ripened into real conversation. This conversation led to serious conversation. Benson's remarks soon ripened into real conversation. This conversation led to serious conversation. ## HINT OF NEW EVIDENCE IN TRIAL OF MRS. EATON

District Attorney Hopes to Show Will Made by Admiral Later Than One Probated.

This had to do with a typewritten document alleged to have disappeared from the Eaton home after the death of Rear Admiral Eaton, Dorothy Ainsworth, the younger of Mrs. Eaton's two daughters by an earlier marriage, was testifying. District Attorney Barker asked her what she knew of such a paper. The defense objected, whereupon Barker called upon Mrs. Eaton's attorney to produce the document. Barker said he hoped to introduce the paper later.

After the admiral's death a search was made for a will alleged to have been made by him after the date borne by the will filed for probate, which left his property to the widow and his stepdaughters.

His mother and stepfather quarreled frequently, Dorothy said, a particular bone of contention being the attentions paid to the witness' sister, Jane, by a man 70 years of age. The girl told of Mrs. Eaton's attempts to have her husband's courtship resumed with her and Mrs. Eaton questioned the admiral's sanity because he dabbled in dangerous affairs. The admiral had been in a hospital and she said she was well when he was "somewhat intoxicated."

She said she returned to the home by Daniel H. Ainsworth, of Chicago, from whom her mother was divorced a few months before her father's death. She and of trips made by the defendant to Chicago and Washington.

The defendant said she had, at times taunted the admiral with being a lunatic and he jokingly referred to their household as "the lunatic asylum."

While the subject of the typewritten document was up, Dorothy said, in a seriously injured question, Barker asked with the exception of her mother and herself of the household could use a typewriter.

Cross-examined, Dorothy said that for some time previous to her stepfather's death she had been in the habit of placing medicine in her husband's cup at every meal. The admiral had a habit of drinking and complained, whereupon Mrs. Eaton would not give him medicine in that way again.

Replying to a question by the court the witness said that on the night before her husband's death she was suffering, the admiral exclaimed:

"Doctor! Doctor!" Mrs. Eaton asked her to get a doctor, it would be all right to wait until morning for a physician. The admiral weakly answered "yes."

The machine exploded with a noise like a blast of dynamite, and water in the steam chest and the introduction of cold water suddenly was the cause of the bursting.

FLOYD GRAND JURY INDICTS ONE OF ITS OWN MEMBERS

Rome, Ga., October 1.—(Special.)—It became public knowledge today that the Floyd county grand jury had performed the unusual stunt of indicting one of its own members, T. J. Bright, a prosperous farmer and member of the grand jury who was indicted by the grand jury for the offense of using opprobrious words in the presence of a female. The evidence before the grand jury showed that Bright had addressed insulting remarks to a respectable married woman in a Rome drug store.

Some of the other people who have been indicted by the grand jury now in session will make a legal point on Bright's indictment, but lawyers here assert that the action against the grand juror will not affect any actions of the body, as an indictment is, of course, not a proof of guilt. They say that to nullify the acts it would have to be shown that one of the members was disqualified to serve on account of a crime he committed, and thereby lost the rights of citizenship, or for some other cause.

PROSPERITY REIGNING IN TOWN OF CLERMONT

Clermont, Ga., October 17.—(Special.) The road will be about two miles, there to connect with another road which leads to Dahlonega.

The road will shorten the distance between these points nearly two miles, and will put Clermont within two and a half hours of Dahlonega by buggy, or less than an hour by auto, both of which are available here.

In the future students and travelers will all come to Clermont to take the train, instead of to Gainesville as formerly.

A large crowd of both races thronged the city to witness the hanging.

This is the fourth negro hanged here in the past few years. Kitchens paid the debt he owed his crime a little over sixty days, it being the quickest conviction and execution for murder in the county.

Henry Kitchens, a brother of the man hanged, is still at large. Governor Slaton offered a reward for both negroes. The Kitchens brothers killed Brantley because he reprimanded a negro girl in his yard. Ed was recently threatened with lynching, but was carried to Macon for safe keeping.

CUYLER'S SLEUTHS START WEST AFTER HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Chicago, Ill., October 17.—(Special.) Cook county deputy sheriffs and an attorney started west from Chicago tonight in an effort to serve papers in the $500,000 valuation suit brought by Telemou Cuyler, the well-known Atlanta agent, against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Isabella T. Barton, of San Francisco, who has successfully eluded sleuths in the Windy City who attempted to intercept her as she arrived here from Buffalo.

According to John M. Rankin, a Chicago lawyer engaged by Cuyler, the suit is brought for the purpose of forcing Mrs. Barton to give up the Cuyler children now held by her and Mrs. Cuyler. The suit alleges that Mrs. Barton "poisoned the mind of Mrs. Cuyler" against her husband, and also cites that during February of this year Cuyler left his San Francisco home on a business trip and during his absence Mrs. Cuyler was successfully urged to bring her divorce suit, the decree having been granted but not yet made public.

Cuyler married Grace Barton in San Francisco in 1911. It is stated in messages from Chicago that the sensational case may be settled out of court.

Cuyler, who lives at the Aragon hotel in this city, has not returned to his apartments after a three-day absence. His friends profess to be ignorant of his whereabouts.

28 PERSONS DIE IN AIR DISASTER

Germany's Latest Dirigible Balloon Explodes While 900 Feet in Air and All Aboard Are Killed.

Berlin, October 17.—Twenty-eight persons were killed today near Johannisthal, in the explosion and fall of Count Zeppelin's latest dirigible balloon, the "L-12." The twenty-eight men represented the entire personnel of the administrative board which was to conduct the final trial of the dirigible looking to its acceptance by the government as a new unit of the German aerial navy.

The disaster occurred just above the main struts of Johannisthal while the dirigible was being inflated. A preliminary trial to its acceptance as a flag ship of the new German aerial navy had been made on September 11, when a mass of blazing canvas and crumpled aluminum, dropped 900 feet into the public highway, and the dirigible rushed to the scene. There was nothing to be done except to take out the bodies of the victims from the wreckage.

Many of the bodies were so burned and mangled as to be unrecognizable. The admiralty trial board consisted of seven officers including Admiral von Capelle, commander in chief, and Lieutenant Freyer, of the German naval flying corps. The airship's pilot was Captain Dietrich, in command.

Spectators who had been watching the dirigible before leaving the balloon, were suddenly and without warning, struck by a regular naval crew and a number of officers. She headed for Berlin, a short distance from the spot, but there was nothing left to be done.

CRIMINAL COURT WILL CONVENE MONDAY WEEK

Before That Time Solicitor Dorsey Expects to Have Concluded Frank Hearing.

That the criminal division of superior court will start on Monday week and the general work of that division be resumed will be stated in a report made yesterday by Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, who expects to finish the motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank before that time.

Judge Ben H. Hill, recently appointed to the Fulton bench, will be expected to occupy the original division, which will probably take his place in the Fulton courts by that time and begin to conduct the trial of the cases which have been kept waiting on account of the Frank motion.

The hearing is due to be called together some time during the latter part of the coming week and a number of cases are expected to have been drawn up for it by the solicitor's assistants.

Solicitor Dorsey and Attorney Leonard Haas, the latter representing the man convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, held a conference Friday over the questions in the brief filed by the defense.

The hearing will appear in court at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and it is believed that the case will be postponed to the following week.

Such arguments as will be presented in the hearing will probably extend through several days, the hearing is expected to be concluded by the middle of next week.
