INSIDE INFORMATION ON THE WAY TO WILSON

Wm. Bayard Hale Hurrying to Washington With Detailed Report—Important Developments Expected.

HALE GOES TO WILSON WITH DETAILED REPORT

Key West, Fla., September 2.—William Bayard Hale, special investigator for President Wilson of political affairs in Mexico, arrived here by boat late yesterday and immediately boarded a train for Washington. He refused to discuss the situation in Mexico beyond expressing an opinion that President Wilson's proposals to General Huerta, made through John Lind, would not be accepted. Mr. Hale said he would lay a detailed report before President Wilson and Secretary Bryan.

Washington, September 2.—President Wilson, who returns to Washington tomorrow morning from Cornish, N. H., is expected to meet William Bayard Hale, now en route here from a special mission to Mexico for the administration. Mr. Hale's report on conditions in Mexico since the arrival of John Lind with the peace proposals of the American government will be made direct to the president.

Unofficial reports reached Washington today that Mr. Lind, who has been at Vera Cruz since the rejection by the Huerta government of the American proposals would return to the United States within a few days. No confirmation of this could be procured at the state department. Secretary of State Bryan said just before leaving for a lecture engagement tonight at York, Pa., that he knew nothing of such an intention by Mr. Lind.

IMMODEST COSTUMES IN "MOVIE" THEATERS BARRED BY COUNCIL

The ordinance which was recently introduced in council seeking to prohibit the appearance of women in tight and short skirts in theaters, was adopted yesterday in modified form.

AVIATOR AND WOMAN KILLED WHILE FLYING

Rheims, September 2.—Lieutenant Paul Lefranc, of the French naval flying corps, and his passenger, Mme. Lefranc, wife of an artillery officer, were fatally hurt when their aeroplane capsized and fell near Buoy late last night. The machine caught fire, and when villagers reached it they found its passengers hopelessly injured.

DO YOU NEED HELP IN YOUR NEW HOME?

If so, what will you do? Ask your neighbor or some man on the street? Why, do you think they keep a pocket directory of men and women out of a job, any more than you do? Don't bother your friends and neighbors when you want help.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Woman Wins Fight To Prevent Change In Name of Street

McDaniel Street Is Good Enough for Her, Says Miss Wells, and She Convinces Members of Council.

Found, at last! A woman who does not change her mind or moods. She is Miss Susan Wells, and she lives right here in Atlanta. Miss Wells made up her mind that the name of McDaniel street should not be changed, and her mind is still made up. She has won her fight, and let it be said right here that it was a good fight, the last round of it being before Atlanta's city council, yesterday afternoon.

It was such a good fight, and Miss Wells showed herself to be such a good fighter, the council voted almost unanimously with her even though she was beaten before the street committee. Name Good Enough for Her. Miss Wells is one of the largest property owners on McDaniel street, and even though it has no fancy sound, she decided that it was good enough for her.

So, alone, with a plucky knowledge of politics, she charged the enemy. Arranged against her were more than fifty of the most influential ladies who live in the most prominent section of the street. The leader of the opposition was none other than the "Bob" Blackburn, member of Georgia's house of representatives, and a diplomat of the highest order.

The enemy had a good start on Miss Wells. A petition was signed up and before the street committee had hardly kneeled what was in the air. The committee agreed to delay action in two weeks. Miss Wells had a petition of her own. She secured signatures of owners of 7000 feet on McDaniel street protesting against the change.

When Tommy Long crashed into the end of the bleachers in deep left field in the ninth inning and pulled down Milton Stocks line drive that had a home run tag on it, he saved the first game of the series for the Crackers.

The locals copped the jump game 4 to 1 and but two games now separate the two leaders in their fight for the right to the title of Southern league champions.

It was a desperate battle, witnessed by the largest week-day crowd of the season, barring the opening day. Gilbert Price, hurling the battle of his life, kept the Gulls at bay throughout the entire nine innings. He never worked harder. He pitched like the world's series hung on the outcome of this one game and in this neck of the woods the present series is more important than the world's series.

The Gulls were able to nick his delivery for but four widely scattered bingles in the ninth inning. Schmidt was permitted to count with the run. The Gulls made, rather than get him in, a shame to the city. The possibility of a wild throw that might gum the cards. Price made one man sure.

Chances Improve. Tuesday morning the Crackers had a slim chance to win. This morning, in their old jump game stowed away in their hearts, their chances have improved fully fifty per cent. True, we cannot afford to lose a single game in the series, but psychologically, the effect of the victory of the Crackers Tuesday should be two-fold.

In the first place, the locals will be stirred to greater deeds today. They drew first blood. Maybe the Tuesday victory spells the ultimate rout of the league leaders. There's nothing like grabbing off the jump game in any sport. In this series it spells twice as much, with everyone working at a high nervous tension.

Teller "Pug" Cavet, working with an eye shade over his bum lamp was twirling just about as good a game as Price. But in the first inning, three balls hit right on the locals' saled right into waiting hands.

But meeting the ball in this manner right off the reel gave the Crackers a peek full of confidence. "We can get him," they shouted in unison, and get him they did.

For five innings Pug was turning the Crackers back with painful regularity. The big crowd sat on an anxious bench it was getting monotonous. Someone had a hunch that something was going to happen in the sixth.

It did. The Gulls went out in order, but the Crackers got the runs that proved them to be winners, and supplemented the two in this round with a couple more in the seventh that packed the old pastime away on ice.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO FLOCK TO VERA CRUZ FOR SAFETY

AMERICANS QUIT MEXICO. VERA CRUZ HARBOR. BATTLESHIP LOUISIANA.

Many Americans in Mexico dropped their business, closed their homes and hurried to Vera Cruz after President Wilson had announced his policy of non-interference in Mexican affairs and had urged Americans there to leave the country. Every train entering Vera Cruz brought refugees, some of them indignant at the president's order, but others satisfied to leave the land of revolution. The sight of the United States battleships was good to the eyes of all.

LOLA NORRIS TELLS OF HER RENO TRIP

Caminetti's Wife Listens to Girl's Story—Lola Says Caminetti Promised to Divorce Wife and Marry Her.

San Francisco, Cal., September 2.—Except for brief minor testimony to be introduced tomorrow, the government today completed its case against F. Drew Caminetti, whom it seeks to prove guilty of violating the Mann act by transporting Lola Norris for immoral purposes, from her home in Sacramento to Reno, Nev. The defense promised to rest Thursday.

Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris were the chief witnesses of the day. Miss Warrington resolutely reaffirmed the responsibility of Maury I. Diggs, recently found guilty, for her downfall. Champagne had been served in Diggs' offices, she said. "I guess," she added shamefacedly, "I was intoxicated."

She testified that at no time had wines or liquors been ordered by her or Miss Norris, but always at the instance of Diggs and Caminetti. Miss Norris later confirmed this testimony. Lola Norris repeated more fully than in the Diggs trial the story of her relations with Caminetti.

Wronged Wife Listened to Girl. The wife and mother of the defendant listened to Miss Norris closely, and Caminetti frequently advised his lawyers. Diggs was in attendance, as has been his wont since the trial of his companion began. Mrs. Caminetti displayed no emotion as she heard the girl tell how Caminetti had pressed his love on her, promising to marry her as soon as he could obtain a divorce.

"Was anything said about marriage before March 1?" she was asked. The elopement did not take place until the early morning of March 10, and in the meantime there had been trips to San Francisco, Stockton, San Jose and Jackson.

"No," was the answer. "The day before we left for Reno Mr. Caminetti said his wife would start action for divorce at once and then we could be married."

"I introduced Mr. Caminetti to my people," she testified, "under a false name, because I didn't want them to know I was going with a married man."

"She Knew It Wasn't Proper. "Then, why did you continue to go with Caminetti?" "Well, I knew it was not proper. If they had been living properly, it might have made a difference. I did not feel that I was doing her (Mrs. Caminetti) an injustice, as he told me they were going to be separated."

Robert Devlin, for the defense, in cross-examining the witness, dwelt upon the return trip from Reno.

BANK WRECKER ROBIN PARDONED BY SULZER

Action May Result in a Test of the Legal Status of Sulzer.

Albany, N. Y., September 2.—Announcement that Governor Sulzer had pardoned Joseph G. Robin, who is serving a term in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island for wrecking the Northern bank and the Washington Saving bank, of New York, was made at the executive chamber this afternoon, although the pardon was granted last Saturday.

Simultaneously word came that Supreme Court Justice G. E. R. Harbrouck issued a writ demanding the production of the prisoner before him at Kingston on Thursday. Both the friends and opponents of Governor Sulzer regard this proceeding as a court test of the validity of the impeachment of the governor in advance of the time set for the convening of the court of impeachment. It is known, however, that Judge D. Cady Herrick and others close to the governor advised strongly against issuing the pardon.

Acting Governor Glynn tonight refused to comment on the circumstances. While Attorney General Carmody seemed loath to discuss the case, it was pointed out at his office that under his recent opinion on the status of the gubernatorial tangle, Governor Sulzer is disqualified from exercising the pardon function pending the result of the impeachment trial.

"I stand on that opinion," was all Mr. Carmody would say. District Attorney Whitman, of New York, has notified the attorney general's office that he will oppose the granting of the writ sued out in behalf of Robin. As Robin is confined in a county penal institution, the people's case will be conducted by the New York district attorney.

In a statement explaining his reasons for pardoning Robin, Governor Sulzer points out that as Robin was never tried, the justice who sentenced him acted without hearing evidence. It is also claimed for Robin, he says, that in pleading guilty he did so with an understanding that no sentence would be imposed. He adds that many pleas for clemency have been made in Robin's behalf while Frank Moss, assistant district attorney of New York county, rendered a written report holding that Robin is innocent.

Robin was sentenced to a year's imprisonment last November so that in the ordinary process his term would expire in about two months.

CHILDREN OF MILLS THROWN OUT OF WORK

Boston, September 2.—Thousands of "children of the mills" were thrown out of work today by the operation of a new state law which prohibits the employment of any child under 14 years in a workshop, and provides that more than 14 years shall work more than eight hours a day or more than 48 hours a week. Fifty thousand employees are affected by the change.

THOUSANDS DUE FOR SEWER TAXES

Several Prominent Business Men May Go to Court to Prevent the City Levying Against Property.

Under a resolution adopted by council at a recent meeting City Marshal James M. Fuller will be forced to issue $1 fas. against more than 200 property owners who have been delinquent in the matter of paying sewer assessments for 1912 and 1913.

Marshal Fuller dug up the records Tuesday morning and found that delinquent owners owe the city approximately $7,000. In the collector's office there is another batch of fas. amounting to about $8,000 which council has also directed to be enforced.

City Marshal Fuller has been in possession of the fas. for more than four months, but he did not proceed against the property owners because in every case the assessments were made against sewers that have no water connections.

The question of whether the city could collect assessments where the city has failed to put water on the streets originated in the sewer committee, and in accordance with a decision rendered by City Attorney Mayson to the effect that the property owners are liable, the committee adopted a resolution forcing the marshal to levy.

Quite a number of prominent business men are named in the fas. Some declare that they will seek injunctions to prevent the city levying against their property.

26 PERSONS KILLED AND 50 ARE INJURED WHEN TRAINS CRASH

White Mountain Express, Going 40 Miles Hour, Strikes Bar Harbor Express Just Outside New Haven.

DANGER SIGNAL IGNORED BY THE SPEEDING TRAIN

Many Prominent Persons Are Among Victims, Who Were Returning From Maine Resorts—"Banjo" Block System Responsible.

FLAMING DERRIS SEEN BY PRESIDENT WILSON

New Haven, Conn., September 2.—President Wilson passed through here at 9:50 o'clock tonight en route from Cornish, N. H., to Washington. The president's train was taken over the same route where earlier in the day the disastrous wreck of the Bar Harbor express occurred. The president stood on the observation platform and saw the wreckage being burned.

New Haven, Conn., September 2.—Twenty-six persons were killed and nearly fifty injured, some of whom may die, in a rear-end collision shortly before 7 o'clock this morning on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, six miles north of here.

The first section of the White Mountain Express, bound for New York, speeding along at probably 40 miles an hour, in a thick fog, rushed by a danger signal, it is said, and crashed into the rear of the second section of the Bar Harbor Express, standing 100 feet beyond the block signal.

The White Mountain engine cleaved through the two rear Pullman cars, both of wood, splitting them in two and tossing their wreckage and treasure of mangled human beings, some alive, some dead, on either side of the track.

Forty Boys Caught. The third car, also of wood and occupied by forty boys on their way from a summer camp at Monmouth, Maine, was lifted into the air and fell on its side crumpled up and crushing two of the boys to death and injuring others.

Some of the victims of the two rear Pullmans were hurled from berths over a fence paralleling the track fifty feet distant, mattresses, bedding and clothing found lodgment in the telegraph wires.

It was the third serious wreck which the New Haven has suffered within a year, and inaugurated the first day of the regime of Howard Elliot, the newly elected head of the road. Mr. Elliot, returning from his summer home in New Hampshire to assume his duties, passed over the scene of the wreck on an earlier train less than an hour before.

Practically all the passengers on both trains were returning home from the summer vacations and all but two of a camping party of nine, guests of S. Crozier Fox, of Elklin's Park, Pa., returning from Maine, were waved out. Fox was among those killed. No one was hurt in the White Mountain train.

The list of the dead, from the coroner's report and from the list issued by the railroad company, is: KILLED IN WRECK. WILLIAM ALTSCHUL, Norfolk, Va. FALLOLD ATNEY, New York. MISS MARGARET ARMSTRONG, Washington, D. C. MISS MARIE L. BULLITT, Philadelphia. ALBERT GREEN, New York. ROYAL HOCKESS, New Haven. MISS MERRITT, Philadelphia. MISS HARRIET MIDDLE, Torredale, Pa. Under the "banjo" system, as soon as a train passes a signal, it sets red and automatically opens the signal in the previous block, allowing a train following to enter.

This opened the signal in the previous block, a mile away, and down a stretch of track straight as an arrow, plunging through the thick fog, came the White Mountain express, with the impetus of seven cars, bar-

Meantime Plagman C. N. Murray, of the Bar Harbor train, had gone back with the torpedoes, a distance, it was said, of four hundred feet. The torpedoes went off, according to officials of the road and some of the train crew. Then came the crash.

According to Vice President Whaley, of the New Haven, it would not have been possible at the speed the train was making, for Engineer Miller to have stopped within 1,500 feet after he saw the signal. The engineer did not see it, he said, until he was almost upon it, or scarcely more than one hundred feet from the rear of the Bar Harbor express, and at the same moment he heard the torpedoes.

The vestibule of one Pullman, setting astride the pilot of the locomotive, and the vestibule of the other, tossed into the ditch, were the only parts of the two cars not demolished.

According to this recital, every possible precaution was taken. The flagman on the Bar Harbor express went back when his train stopped, placed torpedoes on the track and stood ready to stop any train that might be following. He was recalled by an engine whistle.

WRECK TO BE PROBED BY THE GOVERNMENT. Washington, September 2.—Upon receipt of news of the New Haven wreck Chief Inspector H. M. Wilknap, of the interstate commerce commission, left for Wallingford, Conn., to direct an investigation. Telegrams were sent by the commission to Field Inspector

STRENUOUS DAY IN POLICE COURT

Colored Minister Urges the Negroes to Aid Police Catch Criminals—Forty Women Slain in Two Years.

Police court experienced another strenuous day Tuesday, when Recorder Pro Tom Preston tried approximately 125 cases from 8:30 a. m. until 2:30 o'clock at night.

This record, coming upon the heels of Monday's court, which Judge Preston declares was the biggest since prohibition, establishes another mark in police justice. The crime wave and especially the many murders of negro women, is alarming the negroes of Atlanta.

This was made evident in a strong sermon on the present war of crime, delivered by Rev. B. J. Bridges, colored, president of the Georgia Colored Industrial school at Macon Sunday night at the Butler street Methodist church.

He cited that there had been more than 40 negro women slain in Atlanta within less than two years and that more than twice that number of men had been killed. He urged with the traditional impulse to shield the slayer in such cases, and in order to rid the community of such widespread crime, to co-operate with the police in running down criminals.

"The perpetrators of most of these crimes," he said, "have gone unpunished, which fact is due to the feeling of most of our race who would shield and hide, not only the crime but the criminal."

As long as this condition exists the negro race is in danger of destruction. The only thing which will reduce crime among us is to afford no piece of seclusion for the wrongdoer, but to assist the authorities in meeting out to him the justice he deserves.

This wave of crime, as well as all others will never be checked unless this course is pursued by the negro police, in striving to ferret the murder of a black, strike a wall of adamant in the absence of negroes who try to thwart the efforts of authorities.

Mrs. Pankhurst Insane Woman Believes Dr. Len G. Broughton

DR. LEN G. BROUGHTON, First pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle

REV. LINCOLN M. McCONNELL, Who has just accepted call to the Tabernacle

The militant suffragettes of England are anarchists and should be treated as such. They should suffer the same penalties for like crimes that anarchists do—except that I am not in favor of capital punishment. Mrs. Pankhurst I regard as insane. She is extremely erratic and has done great harm to the cause of equal suffrage.

This was said by Dr. Len G. Broughton, former pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle now of London, who slipped in to Atlanta unheralded Tuesday morning.

Slipping in an easy chair at the home of his brother, Dr. Joseph Broughton, 102 West Twelfth street last night with a favorite Havana between his lips, Dr. Broughton looked the picture of health. With an extra 25 pounds in weight to his credit, and a ruddy glow to his cheeks, he spoke freely about conditions of the world in general.

I tried to slip in here unobserved on my way to Macon and other points, he said. But I see I have been found out. I am very happy to be back here again, especially just at the time when Dr. McConnell is to be installed at the Tabernacle.

England Rid of Pankhurst

Speaking further about militant suffragettes, Dr. Broughton said: "You know Sylvia Pankhurst has gone to jail. Under certain treaties existing between the European countries, she will have to stay there. I think that England is forever rid of her. She may try her hunger strike there all that she wishes and I do not think that it will benefit her in the least. The suffragettes gained a great point when they dug up that old English law which says that anyone who allows another to commit suicide is guilty of a crime. That's where they benefit by their hunger strike. But France has no such law to my knowledge. And this fact I imagine will have a good effect upon the actions of Sylvia Pankhurst. If she tries to hunger strike there they will no doubt flow her to starve to her heart's content.

When asked how the morality of Atlanta compared with that of London, Dr. Broughton said: "It is hard to compare the two cities, considering their great difference in size and the fact that London and the English nation is vastly older than we here. There is this difference though—they do not have the great crime waves there that America has. A shooting is rarely heard of in London. From the standpoint of general morality on the surface the British race is in advance of us. Beneath the surface I do not know. However, I think in matters of legislation we are slightly superior. But from the personal standpoint they are more advanced. I should say.

Seekers After Limelight

Speaking of the new mode of dress now prevailing among certain classes of women, Dr. Broughton spoke very clearly.

The women who run to the extreme in fashion do not represent a nation as a whole, he said. They are the seekers after the limelight. I do not think they will have any great lasting effect upon morals because they are only disgusting that is all.

Dr. Broughton will remain in Atlanta for several days, meeting old friends, and will then go to Macon and other points to speak. He will return in time to speak at Dr. McConnell's installation at the Baptist Tabernacle Sunday September 14.

JUDGE CONDEMNNS PISTOL CARRYING

Gambling Termed a "Senseless Evil" and Grand Jury Is Urged to See That Law Is Strictly Enforced.

When Judge John T. Pendleton of the superior court swore in the new grand jury Tuesday he made mention of the crime wave that has struck Atlanta, as told in The Constitution.

At 10:15 a. m. he urged that the members of the grand jury see to it that every man charged with breaking the law be indicted if the evidence indicated a possibility of his guilt.

Atlanta while I have observed the wave of lawlessness here is no worse than many other cities of its size, the judge remarked and added: "I do not think Fulton county is worse in this respect than are many other counties."

Attacks Gamblers

Judge Pendleton made an especially strong attack upon gamblers and pistol toppers and urged that the officers should go after these law breakers at once. He declared that the man who carries a pistol in a civilized community is a coward and deserves only contempt.

Smiling called by the judge a senseless evil was also made the subject of part of his address to the new grand jury and he told them that it was the duty of grand jurors and of petit jurors to see that gamblers received a just punishment.

The grand jury after being sworn in met and chose H. Y. McCord as foreman. Immediately thereafter a number of cases were taken up, and nineteen true bills ranging from murder to robbery were returned.

B. C. Smith a negro was indicted for the murder of John Henry Wilkerson another negro whom he is said to have stabbed to death. Most of the indictments were against negroes and were for burglary and robbery. Several indictments were returned for carrying concealed weapons.

Other Indictments

There were other cases on the list. Three of the indictments found, charged perversion and two were for assault with intent to rape.

During its session Tuesday morning the grand jury found no bills out of the many cases considered. Several of these cases will be given further

TWO TRAINMEN HURT MAKING A TEST RUN

Members of Crew on Georgia Train Have Narrow Escape From Death

A miraculous escape from serious injury and possible death was experienced by Georgia railroad trainmen when fast freight train No. 210, on a test run, collided head-on with switch engine No. 614 at the Georgia railroad crossing at Hurt street Tuesday night at 7:52 o'clock. All of the crew escaped without injury with the exception of R. A. Perrot switching conductor who had his back badly wrenched and Lemmie Smith a negro brakeman whose back and head were deeply cut.

Perrot was taken to the Tabernacle infirmary where it was found that his wounds would not prove serious and Smith was taken to Grady hospital where it was stated that if no internal complications set in he will recover.

The test run was to be made in an effort to show that the engineer of a swiftly moving train running south into Decatur could see a train if it were standing on the track by the Decatur depot as the Georgia railroad is now being used by Engineer Gilliam who was injured in a collision at Decatur about two years ago, and who claims that he was approaching the station at a fast rate of speed and did not see the train which was standing on the track.

GOVERNOR IS DELAYED ON HOMEBOUND TRIP

Owing to his failure to make a connection in Denver, the return of Governor Dixon will probably be delayed until Thursday. Secretary Harley Elm announced yesterday. The governor was detained in Denver longer than he expected to be and did not start on his homeward trip from that city until Tuesday morning. He will probably reach Atlanta late Thursday evening.

Members of Rotary Clubs Must Be Boosters for City

The full meaning of Rotary club work and the part the Atlanta Rotary club is expected to play in advancing the best interests of this community were explained in detail at a meeting at the Piedmont Tuesday afternoon by E. Allen and Albert S. Adams, delegate to the fourth national convention of Rotary clubs were back from Buffalo filled with enthusiasm over the ideas they had gathered there.

Since the recent organization of a club in Atlanta the wrong impression has grown up in some quarters as to its purpose. It is not a selfish organization. It is not a business swapping organization. The representative of any particular line of business who is a member of the Rotary club holds his membership not to boost his private interests or his individual business but to represent and serve the interests of all Atlantans in his trade or professional calling.

Mr. Allen and Mr. Adams both made successful and enthusiastic speeches. Mr. Adams quoting from a speech made by President Glenn C. Mead of the national organization said:

Rotary can never attain its full perfection as long as there is a vestige of the notion that Rotary clubs exist for the purpose of exchanging business among their members. Our last two conventions have emphatically repudiated this idea and President Harris dealt it a death blow in his masterful analysis of Rotary delivered before the assembly in 1911. The misconception appears to arise in the minds of outsiders because the membership of Rotary clubs is restricted to one representative from each trade or professional calling. But it requires only a moment's thought and reflection to grasp the real reason for this form of organization.

Since the Rotary club is a commercial organization it could not include every business proprietor or manager in a large city without becoming unwieldy and cumbersome. The Rotary club is a carefully selected body of business and professional men and the ideal Rotary club is the most representative commercial organization and business club the world has ever known. It is a parliament of business where every business constituency has its representative and may be heard on a basis of absolute equality.

Service and not self is the true motto of all Rotarians.

WIFE, ASKING WORK, FINDS HUSBAND WHO HAD DESERTED HER

When Mrs. Bige Wallace applied for work at a local mill Tuesday morning the first person whom she saw on entering the building was her husband by whom she and her two young children were deserted three weeks ago in Anderson S. C. She immediately communicated with the police and Wallace was placed under arrest charged with desertion of his family and is being held at police headquarters pending investigation of the case by Probation Officer Coogler.

Mrs. Wallace appeared at the office of the Associated Charities Monday morning and told a most pitiful story of having been deserted by her husband three weeks ago. Because she could not obtain employment of any kind in Anderson Mrs. Wallace, with her two children, aged 2 and 4 came to Atlanta.

Mrs. Wallace was promised every assistance. A boarding place was secured for her and her children are being cared for in the day nursery for working women's children. Acting on the advice of Superintendent Logan of the Associated Charities she went early Tuesday morning to a local spinning mill to apply for work, and there met her husband.

Mr. Logan and Miss Ramspeck, of the Associated Charities hope with the assistance of Mr. Coogler to effect an amicable adjustment between the couple, making it unnecessary to prosecute the case against Wallace.

Negroess Is Killed.

Perry, Ga., September 2.—(Special)—On Saturday night, between 10 and 11 o'clock on E. J. Thompson's farm, about two miles west of Perry, Moss Armstrong, a negro man, shot and killed Marie Jones, a negroess, with a shot gun. A quarrel led to the shooting.

The cause of shooting is said to have been jealousy. An inquest was held by Coroner Scippling on Sunday morning and the coroner's jury returned a verdict of willful murder. Moss was arrested and put in jail.

IT'S COMING OUR WAY!

The government's September cotton report, issued yesterday, vindicates every forecast made by The Constitution. It points for Georgia a year of prosperity singularly unequalled by any other southern state.

GEORGIA, SECOND BIGGEST COTTON STATE OF THE UNION, HAS AN UNCHANGED CONDITION OF 76 FOR THE TWO REPORT MONTHS. In a nutshell, while the southwestern cotton belt has been pelted by misfortune and its yield and condition driven down.

Another factor is to be reckoned with, and that is the condition over the entire belt as affecting prices generally. The ten-year average for the belt is 74.7. The average for the current year is only 68.2, a divergence of nearly seven points.

HIGH PRICES FOR GEORGIA COTTON ARE, THEREFORE, GUARANTEED FROM TWO POINTS OF VIEW: (1) THE COMMANDING SUPERIORITY OF GEORGIA'S COTTON CONDITION; (2) THE CERTAINTY THAT THE BELT AS A WHOLE WILL NOT YIELD SUCH A GLUT AS TO DRIVE DOWN PRICES AS A WHOLE.

Considering that our crop this year was raised at less cost than in many years, and also the bumper crop of corn coming on, Providence literally is playing into the hands of this state.

STRANGE, ISN'T IT?

Everybody agrees that the Peachtree sewage disposal plant, costing the city nearly $200,000, is threatened by the sluggish outflow caused by the debris which has been collecting in Peachtree creek for many decades.

The men who are building the plant say that its efficacy is going to depend largely upon a clear flow in the creek.

is attended to the city is liable to lose at least a part of its investment. Chief of Construction Clayton says that he has done his duty in calling attention to the matter, and he very properly washes his hands of the responsibility.

This is all very interesting, but it counts for very little in protecting an investment for which the city has already paid in cash the greater part of $200,000.

It is incredible that with seven hundred convicts one dozen cannot be spared to do this work, which Chief of Construction Clayton says can easily be done by a dozen men in two or three weeks.

This is a detail that might very easily be worked out between the county commission and the bond commission. The main point is that the work is of sufficient importance to REQUIRE IMMEDIATE ATTENTION.

The county board meets today, and it should give definite direction to the matter, either notifying the city that they will or will not do the work.

We are quite confident, however, that the county commissioners will not let down so meritorious a proposition.

THE NEW EDUCATION.

Sam Small, in his letter today, graphically embodies the long-held ideas of this paper with regard to the education of today and of tomorrow. Mr. Small shows that our present curriculum are in need of sharp revision toward the practical, and indicates that already sturdy progress in that direction is visible.

A personal experience will be illuminating. Some weeks ago, in a talk with the Constitution's editor, Mr. P. T. Dodge, president of the Mergenthaler Linotype company, emphasized the importance of the educational policy outlined by Mr. Small.

Discussing his experiences and observations with regard to education as it applied to his own business, President Dodge said: "What I have seen and undergone in Germany alone has taught me that we are years behind that country in educational standards."

Germany is making the whole commercial and literary world sit up and take notice. Her educational system is the reason. Until America adopts or modifies some such method we shall be unjust to the coming generation, to our own opportunities, and to the destiny fate has in store for this nation.

September brought the bills, but the dollars met 'em half way. Nevertheless, Thaw has enabled his ancient enemy, Jerome, to get back to the front page.

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. STANTON

The Farewell Word. Autumn's the Old Year's banker, rain's his riches down; Summer's a sweet old lady, smoothin' a lavender gown.

And when she sighs: "I'm in the way"—As the old have done For many a day, The children kiss her And whisper, "Stay!"

She sighs to think she must leave us, when earth's so golden-fair; But sweet to her are the children's smiles, and her silver hair.

Sighing, through tears: "I'm in the way!"—Calling the name of Of her lost one—May—She drifts with the dreams Down the dying day.

Country is applaudin'—biggest crowd in town; But when you've made yer little speech come down! Come down! Come down, an' git acquainted with the people for an' nigh, who all the time have wonder'd why you started up there so high!

Holdin' His Ground. Mister Punkin's fat an' round—Falltime's yaller blossom, He's a holdin' of his ground, But—gimme Mister 'Possum! Coax him down fum dat high limb—Got de bigges' dish fer him!

Coax him des de bes' you kin Tell he hits de gravel; Yer's a sack ter put him in. An' it's time ter travel. Ef de Meat Trus' git him—my Dinner bell, goodby—goodby!

The Unwelcome Passenger. "There's no hope for us, this side of the Hereafter," says the editor of the Whitsett Courier. "When the recent hurricane gave us free transportation—house and all—over the county line we were congratulating ourself on the way that we'd escape paying taxes when, happening to turn 'round, we'd covered the tax collector a few yards behind us, riding the same hurricane!"

"Uncle Sam" in Clover. A peep into Uncle Sam's Autumn Storehouse inspired Folger McKinsey to strike this jubilant note:

"Rivers ripplin' as they run In the beauty of the sun, Orchards fruited, and the vine—Uncle Samuel for mine!

"Banks a-cov'rin' brisk and bold, Fills of silver, dreams of gold, Corn enough to stand the test, Good-luck watch-charm on his vest.

"Mills a-runnin' night an' day, Lots of work and lots of play; Wilson at the helm of state, Uncle Sam's just 'wellin' great!"

Editors Poor Judges of Money. The editor of the Bonham Favorite warns the brethren "to beware of the citizen who offers them a ten-dollar bill in payment of his subscription. In the first place, it is too much money for an editor to handle at one time, especially while the weather is so warm, and in the second place, there are a number of counterfeit tens in circulation and not being good judges of money they are liable to be handed a 'bum' bill!"

Why George Stays at Home. George Bailey says the ministers of his town realize that they can always take a summer vacation while he remains on guard to keep the devil out.

Cancelled Dates. 'Tis sweet to hear the silver dollars chime—They keep afar the Wolf of Want and Woe, But he'd decline to lecture, at this time, At hot tamale stands in Mexico.

Fair Notice. "We haven't been at home to our visiting friends and relations since high prices hit us," says a Georgia editor, "and we warn them not to come now—in order to get acclimated, so's the price of beefsteak is higher than the cow that jumped over the moon, and we can't invite them to a ride in an airship to overtake it!"

"In the Fall of the Year." The following quatrain by D. G. Bickers is the first lyrical Autumn word from the gold-croon rearm:

"The autumn tines is touching western skies, The harvest fragrance floats up from the sod, The Indian summer's born as August dies—And goldenrod is smiling up to God!"

The Ungrateful. "While the paper was running," says the Billville editor, "we got neither money nor thanks for it, and now that it's in the hands of a receiver, best if the man is thankful for what he's about to receive!"

A Huge Yellow Jacket Nest. (From The Abbeville Chronicle.) A farmer from Ludowick, a few miles from here, tells of a yellow jacket nest at that place thirty-eight feet in circumference and ten feet in diameter, and steadily getting larger. He says that the curious for miles around are coming to see the wonder.

Two weeks ago, continues the farmer, the nest was nine feet in diameter and thirty-eight feet in circumference. As a rule yellow jackets build their nest under the ground and this one is said to extend several feet under it.

Advice to Young Mothers. (From The Lumpkin Independent.) Every young mother should let her husband get up on the night and walk with the crying baby, so that he can enjoy the remainder of his life telling that he always did it.

NEW EDUCATION WILL BRING REVOLUTION

By Sam W. Small.

Education? Sure! But what is education, in the special terms of a public service? That last is the question that is dragging out wider and deeper discussions daily all over the land.

The education of its citizens is a paramount function of the state. The debatable questions that grow more heated with handling are "What kind of education?" and "How much education?"

Mixing and meeting with the masses and meeting with them on distinctly educational lines I am not mistaken, I think, in predicting a coming revolution of systems and methods of public education—slowly forming through the years, but sure to be realized.

The idea is growing that public school curriculum have been too much expanded and the studies of the pupils diffused over too many merely academic and unpractical subjects. They come out of the schools with a smug and smugly air, as if, of things imperfectly taught and that they will never be called upon to use in the actual business of life.

The demand is rising stronger daily for a simpler, more perfect and more practical schooling of the children of the people in the fundamental principles of an English education. This demand covers three irreducible essentials, namely:

First, indispensable and expert training in the three R's, geography, history, personal hygiene and elementary civics.

Second, that half-time of classes in all schools shall be devoted to life-work instruction in rural schools to manual and agricultural arts, and in urban schools to manual and vocational arts.

Third, that education beyond the grammar schools shall be either at public charge, through merit scholarships awarded to graduates of grammar or high schools, or at the expense of the students or their parents, guardians, etc.

It is needless here to rehearse the many and cogent arguments uttered in defense of these three demands. Suffice it to say that they are plausible, popular and appeal especially to the business sense of that large majority of voters who know that their own sons and daughters have scant chance of being beneficiaries of expensive high school and university plants, operated by taxation on the masses and enjoyed by the few.

The new education will undertake the thorough reformation of the common schools, beginning with those of the rural districts. There will be more of them; they will be scientifically built and sanitary, and will have better qualified and better paid teachers.

The new education will give us a generation of boys and girls who can correctly spell the common words of the language, read the mother tongue without stumbling without sticking out their tongues and erasing every fifth or sixth word, and can "figger any sum" that ordinarily comes through the farm, the shop, or the roadside store.

The new education will give back to the state value received in stalwart, capable citizens and not crust-cultured sissies; it will produce moral and responsible patriots, and not pop-eyed political parasites and demagogues.

The new education will produce more schools like Georgia Tech and the Milledgeville School for Girls, and will direct those who want classical and professional preparation to let the public treasury severely alone, and go to the private institutions where such training is supplied on strictly C. O. D. terms.

The new education, in fact, will be "of the people, by the people and for the people."

Pay for Writer's Cramp.

(From The London Daily Mail) A home office committee in a report published yesterday recommended that writers' cramp should be scheduled as an industrial disease entitling an employee to compensation under the workmen's compensation act.

The committee, who heard evidence on behalf of the National Union of Journalists, railway companies and the general postoffice, state that "writers' cramp is a disease of the central nervous system resulting in failure in the coordination of the muscular members necessary for writing."

The disease apparently is not very prevalent. Among the railway companies for whom evidence was given only seventy-eight cases could be traced in twenty-five years, while Dr. Sinclair, of the general post office, knew of only fourteen cases among 8,128 employees. Writers' cramp disables only for writing, not for any other occupation.

Cobwebs in Churches.

(From The London Evening Standard.) A well-known Victorian clergyman is responsible for the following story which he tells as an "awful example" of the dangers of democracy, a preacher is exposed who ventures to use figurative language in the pulpit.

The clergyman in question when in the pulpit made use of the following expression: "The natural science nowadays has bestowed the handmaid of the Lord; but the revelation which comes to us from that domain is, as it were, from without, and may be likened unto a beam of sunlight darting through the window of some ancient house of God; it does not reveal the presence of cobwebs, but simply waxes time's way."

As he was packing his robe in his bag before leaving the church he noticed an elderly woman fidgeting about in the dim gloom at the back of the nave. "What can I do for you?" he asked at length, as she showed no signs of taking her departure.

"Nervously she burst forth: "Oh, sir, it was very cruel of you to talk about them cobwebs from the pulpit. I do my best, but my mop's too short, and yicar, he won't let me get another."

A Distinct Advance.

(From The Butts County Progress.) The corn acreage in Georgia this year is 4,061,412 as against 3,283,061 last year, an increase of 878,351 acres. The Boys' Corn clubs are stirring things up in Georgia.

The World's Mysteries

WHAT WAS THE PALATINE LIGHT?

Few readers will recognize the title of this article as associated with anything familiar to them in connection with America, and those few who do know something of the Palatine Light are more or less familiar with Whittier's popular poem, "The Palatine," which is contained in his "The Tent on the Beach."

Leagues north, as fly the gull and auk, Point south, they beacon flames, Montauk There, circling over their narrow range, Quaint tradition and legion strange Live on unchallenged, and know no change.

The old men mending their nets of twine Talk together of dream and sign, Talk of the lost ship Palatine.

Into the teeth of death she sped: "May God forgive the hands that fed The false lights over the rocky head"

In their cruel hearts, as they homeward sped, "The sea and the rocks are dumb," they said: "There'll be no reckoning with the dead."

Behold, again, with shimmer and shine Over the rocks and seething brine, The flaming wreck of the Palatine.

As the poem indicates, some mysterious light appears to have been seen from time to time near where the ship Palatine was wrecked. The sea has many mysteries and sailors are unusually superstitious. What this peculiar light that hovered about the unfortunate vessel was no one has been able to find out.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON, The Famous Press Post

"Here is a most remarkable little contrivance, madam," said the bustling stranger. "As you see, it is a pistol, but it shoots liquids instead of the usual ammunition. Of course, you will take it for granted that it's a toy, but it isn't. It is a great protection to a woman who is home alone much of the time. Keep this pistol loaded with ammonia, and you don't need to worry about tramps coming to the door."

"I know all about that pistol, mister," replied Mrs. Curfew, "and I know it's a wolf in sheep's clothing. I bought just such a weapon of an agent last spring, and it brought more trouble into this house than you could shake a stick at. Just after I bought it my little granddaughter came to spend a week with me, and I knew the minute I saw her coming up the walk that there would be no end to my trials and tribulations. She's a good little girl, and nobody could have better intentions, but she's the worst trouble breeder I ever saw. Wherever she goes people hold up their hands in horror, for she leaves a trail of wreckage behind her, and she's always falling up stairs or doing something that will break a bone, and then the doctor has to be called, and his bill is something scandalous."

"That little girl found the pistol the first thing, and I told her she could shoot water with it as much as she wanted to, and gave her a basin of water, and she seemed to be having the best time in the world, when there was a knock at the front door, and I went there to find that Mrs. Jigsaw had come to see me. She was carrying a package for Mrs. Jigsaw, the wife of the assistant cashier at the bank, and people of her standing seldom go calling in this neighborhood. I could see Mrs. Turpentine, across the street, and Mrs. Pumpernickel, in the house next door, looking out of their windows with their faces green with envy, and the sight did me good, for the highest distinction either of them ever had was when the wife of the new grocer called on them, and, of course, she was there in the interests of trade. It was different with Mrs. Jigsaw, however, for she never mentioned her husband's bank, and she was beginning to tell me something about a new organization she had established. It was called the Woman's Welfare society, and I have no doubt that it was a splendid thing, but before she could explain its purposes the catastrophe happened. That little girl came into the parlor with her package, and she was holding it tight as if it were a live coal. She screamed and tried to interfere, but before I could do a thing the child had pulled the trigger of that deadly weapon, and Mrs. Jigsaw was dripping as though she had been caught in a blue rain without an umbrella. If it had been plain water that the child squirted on her it would have been so bad, but the water she had found a bottle of blueing and filled her pistol out of that and the liquid splashed all over Mrs. Jigsaw's face so she looked like a woman in a sideshow."

"I took her to the kitchen and washed her off and tried to explain things, and apologize in every language I could recall, but she just looked at me with a stony glare and never said a word, and when she left the house and walked down the street anybody could see she was as mad as a wet hen, and I could see the neighbor women grinning in the most idiotic way. While I stood in the window watching her go, Mrs. Curfew entered the house by the back door. He was whistling as though he hadn't a care in the world, but all of a sudden he quit whistling and began yelling for the police, and falling over the furniture in the most reckless way. I went to the kitchen and there I was, rolling around with my head on the floor, and asking somebody to turn a fire extinguisher on him. That unfortunate child had loaded the pistol with painkiller she found in a bottle, and she shot it into Mr. Curfew's face as he entered the house, and it was three days before he could get out of his eyes, or do any thing but use old mother language. So you must realize, mister, that you are wasting your time when you stand here trying to sell me one of your pistols."

IS "THE POISON BELT" PROPHECIC?

The World Is Coming to an End Sometime; Will It Come as Professor Challenger Thinks It Is Coming in the Great Conan Doyle Story?

The world was destroyed by the flood, as we are taught in the Bible; yet Noah with the aid of the ark saved enough of human and animal life to replenish the earth.

We are taught that the next time the world is destroyed it will be done with fire and brimstone—which may mean poisonous gases.

When Professor Challenger in "The Poison Belt" sent for his friends to come to him he ordered them to bring oxygen, and later, when they had arrived and had given an account of how peculiarly each had acted, he told them the earth was entering a poison belt of ether, and he added "in my opinion it is the end of the world."

Is Conan Doyle's story of a prophetic nature? Does it tell his idea of how this world is to be destroyed and then re-populated by the few who are saved by the oxygen Professor Challenger's friends brought from London?

You will learn if you read the wonderful story which will begin in next Sunday's Constitution. Do not miss it if you want to be prepared to talk on the subject all Atlanta, will be discussing for the next month or more.

Point Judith, referred to in the poem, is an extremely dangerous point that extends into the sound at the entrance to Narragansett Bay, and is always a great source of anxiety to the sailor on account of its treachery, and the Point Judith light is one of the most prominent along the sound, which warns the mariner to keep away.

The record of the sinking of the Palatine is somewhat vague. There are different stories of the cause of the wreck, and Whittier adopted one of these for his descriptive poem. One writer says the Palatine light has not been seen since 1832, and another, Dr. Aaron C. Wiley, a physician on Block Island, saw it in 1810 and 1811, and wrote a description of it, which is included in Arnold's "History of Rhode Island."

Dr. Wiley says the beams came to him as from a vessel at anchor at first. But the light moved along the shore of the island twice as fast as he rode on horseback on shore. Then in a flash it went backward to its former abiding place. It was a true light, but somewhat dim and owing to its movements it was apparently always on the point of vanishing, but appearing in brightness. It was two miles off shore sometimes, and sometimes five miles, and would move along the shore for a couple of miles, to return on its vagrant course.

Dr. Wiley's account may be said to be the best in existence, for most of the many persons who have given accounts of the light have given no date for their stories. More of those who have told of it have been compelled to deny they ever saw it, but have observed that their mother or father had seen it, and from such an "excellent" source their information was derived.

Dr. Wiley says the beams came to him from time to time is that there may be peat beds off the northwest corner of the island and that the natural phosphorescence from the spot provides the light, a true ignis fatuus. Many residents who claim to have seen the light have been misled by the light of some passing schooner wending its way towards Vineyard Sound of Narragansett Bay, but every now and then within the past thirty years have been printed statements of its reappearance.

THE BLACKSMITH.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Slawash."

(Copyrighted, 1913, for The Constitution) The blacksmith is a healthy man with large hairy arms who beats his way through life.

However, no one would reproach the blacksmith for beating his way—not even a lady man who had large hairy arms himself. The blacksmith is held in the highest respect because of his earnest attention to beating up iron bars and rods.

It takes a blacksmith about ten hours a day to beat his way successfully. After he has handled a large headed hammer for a few years he becomes very broad across the chest and ends in a double chin. Very few men amuse themselves by playing a blacksmith. While everyone does not always agree with him he is generally argued with very politely. Only a reckless and half-brained citizen would wander from the safe to the ancestry of his opponent while arguing with a blacksmith.

The blacksmith stands all day before his forge heating iron red hot and then beating it up with a hammer. When he isn't doing this he is perspiring a nervous, and embarrassed horse to lift up its off hind legs and show its anus. Nothing is more impressive to the layman than to see a blacksmith pick up one corner of a large horse and nail a red hot shoe on it in spite of the animal's objection. The blacksmith holds the foot in his lap while doing this, but if the amateur tried the job he said hoof or extracted from his stomach by a coroner's jury with appropriate ceremonies.

The blacksmith is an honest man who has no chance to hood his business for one thousand times its worth. He does not grow rich, and while others toll blithely in soft seated chairs he stands and now and then picks up one of his own shoes by mistake. No blacksmith has as yet become president. On the other hand, practically no blacksmiths are arrested for littering up the street.

"If the world were filled with blacksmiths the shortage of soap would be something awful."

corners of our cities with their flitting carcasses. If the world were filled with blacksmiths the shortage of soap would be something awful and art would suffer a swift decline; but it would be a better world than it would be if it were carrying an excess cargo of spectators, hydraulic millionaires or automobile speeders.

QUEBEC IS TIRED OF HARRY THAW

Premier of Province Intervenes to End the Squabble. Thaw Gets Little Delay, but Seems Near Deportation.

Sherbrooke Quebec September 2—Harry K. Thaw won more delay today in his flight against his return to the Mattawean asylum and tonight he was back in his cell at the Sherbrooke jail. There he will remain until Superior Judge Matthew Hutchinson renders his decision on the question of sustaining or dismissing the habeas corpus writ arguments on which were heard today in chambers the public not being admitted. The decision may come tomorrow, but more probably on Thursday.

It was a day of alternate joy and depression for Thaw. At the opening of the hearing he faced a new and dangerous opponent in Alma Geoffrion of Quebec, special emissary from the provincial attorney general and premier, Sir Lemor Gouin, and from his lips Thaw heard that the attorney general was insistent that there be no more delay in the case and that the habeas corpus writ failing other steps would be taken to insure Thaw's release and seizure by the immigration authorities. This would mean the start of the return trip to the asylum on the Hudson.

From his counsel Thaw heard arguments against sustaining the writ from them also he heard ineffectual pleas for delay from the crowd that backed the courthouse and streamed over the lawn he heard the shouts and words of an excitement he was nervous through at the trial and returned to his cell tired out with the excitement.

Thaw's Lawyers Present Action Counsel for New York state argued that the writ should be sustained and Thaw's lawyers opposed it. Thaw's attorney, J. J. McLaughlin, spoke in a brilliant and convincing manner, which Jerome Boudreau, the chief of police of Quebec, seeks to free the man he arrested two weeks ago as a smuggler of fraud and hypocrisy. Mr. Boudreau spoke last.

The writ was granted by reason of wide publicity has assumed a position of international importance and the eyes of the world are centered here. The writ of habeas corpus is known throughout the world. Although we have searched every record we have failed to find an instance where the writ was granted in a case like this. If it is sustained it will revolutionize the whole basic principle of habeas corpus.

Here he emphasized that the use of the writ by Boudreau is Thaw's by half without Thaw's consent. In his opinion a fraud of the highest order is being used to induce Thaw to hand himself over to Boudreau's custody. The hypocrisy of Boudreau's attitude is apparent.

As an alien in the British Empire, Thaw has his rights and is entitled to have full justice done. He is entitled to have full justice done. He is entitled to have full justice done. He is entitled to have full justice done.

KIRBY CRACKED WHIP OVER CONGRESSMEN

Bluntly Admits He Fought Representatives Who Opposed His Views.

Washington Sept. 2—John Kirby, Jr. president of the National Association of Manufacturers bluntly told the senate labor committee today that he had worked to defeat congressmen whose views he disapproved. Kirby worked to elect others and expected to continue to take the same sort of active interest in the future.

I think it my duty as a citizen," said Kirby. The senate committee came within sight of the end of the Mulhall case before adjournment tonight. In addition to John Kirby Jr. D. M. Tracy, of Indianapolis, another ex-president of the National Association of Manufacturers and J. P. Bird, its general manager, testified during the day.

Kirby, who has been in Washington for eight weeks, told the committee all it required of him in four minutes. Bird was still under examination when adjournment was taken. Bird gave the committee one new fact. He said the national council for industrial defense is an organization in which prominent members of the National Association of Manufacturers took an active interest, put up $3,500 to aid in a campaign in the sixth New Jersey Congressional district several years ago.

Before continuing cross examination of Martin M. Mulhall today the lobby committee questioned John J. McDermott, manager of the National States' Breweries Association about a $100,000 campaign contribution to Representative J. J. McDermott in 1912. He insisted it was made as a friend and not for the brewers. Representative McDermott said he had no recollection who could produce the brewers' books that made no announcement of his intentions.

The committee began a detailed cross examination of Mulhall concerning his activities in connection with the use of certain representatives' names in the lobbyists' correspondence. Mulhall swore that he had never attempted to influence the representatives' names of Kentucky, Maryland, Virginia, or Tennessee. He mentioned the names of those who had mentioned in his charges.

Many Southern Items in Deficiency Measure. Dublin and Elberton Get Appropriation—No Money for Commerce Court.

Washington September 2—Elimination of the commerce court an appropriation of $100,000 for relief of American refugees in Mexico and $50,000 to start the interstate commission for the physical valuation of railroads feature the general deficiency appropriation bill reported to the house today by the appropriations committee.

The bill carries a total of $784,472. The first executive department items stand $2,400. Debate on the bill will occupy most of this week in the house. The commerce court would go out of existence within sixty days after the passage of the bill. Work would be transferred to the district courts and its judges would automatically resume their regular duties.

The bill includes the following provisions: Construction of a wharf and building at the mouth of a creek in Alabama for a depot for the Alabama Lumber Co. on the mainland in the head of the present site on Little Back Bay in Charleston harbor S. C. $30,000.

Sanders Succeeds Wright. It was announced Tuesday that T. L. Sanders has been appointed traveling freight agent for the Ocean Steamship company with headquarters at Atlanta.

NEW YORK DREADS THAT INCOME TAX

Root Appeals to Senate Not to Put Burdens on His Constituents—'Ham' Lewis Says Rich Ought to Pay.

Washington September 2—An appeal by Senator Root for justice to the people of New York in the levying of the income tax and a reply by Senator Lewis of Illinois who declared that the chosen few of wealth should be made to pay for the benefits of government marked today's tariff debate in the senate.

Senator Root declared that his state which paid so large a proportion of the civil war income tax had voluntarily surrendered its constitutional protection against unfair taxation on the conviction that the wisdom of self-control and moderation would stay the other states from combining to heap upon it the burden of taxation. He said that the men upon whom the income tax would fall were those upon whom New York depended as the source for meeting its great yearly expenses.

He attacked the $3,000 exemption as relieving the agricultural states from the burden of taxation and advocated a $1,000 exemption. Lewis Replies to Root. Senator Lewis said New York had failed notably to make its rich men bear their share of the burden of government and that in accordance with the growing idea that where the states had failed to act the federal government must act for them he was ready to make the rich pay. He said senator Root himself had preached this doctrine when secretary of state.

Who are the people of New York for whom the senate is so solicitous? Inquired the Illinois senator. Are they those who lined around Wall street and look to the Wall street? Are they those whose names are seldom found on the registers of the islands in the summer and the islands of the Caribbean in the winter? Are these no poor and humble in his state? Why should the senator ask that my people should be exempt from the burden of government?

The object of democracy is not to make ill-gal war on legal wealth but legal war on illegal wealth. We hear talk of war with Mexico. Who would be the first to hasten to this capital to have the army and navy? It would be my people who would want the farmers to sacrifice to protect their property and to prevent invasion of their country. Let them pay for the great benefits of government which they enjoy and let not all the burden be placed on the helpless that they may become the hopeless too.

Gallinger Assails Colleague. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire replied to the recent speech by his democratic colleague senator Hollis who declared New England was not discriminated against in the tariff bill and had availed the textile manufacturers for recent labor troubles.

New England believes in a protective tariff declared Senator Gallinger and no man who supports the bill now under consideration or defends men like Mr. Hayward and others of their ilk represents in any way her views. Senator Hollis replied that his presence in the senate is proof that the people of New Hampshire had rejected a high protection.

Democrats in Caucus. The senate in caucus today considered the bill that had been passed by the committee. The two most important features of the bill were the income tax and the tariff. Just before adjournment the committee advised the original provisions of the bill as it came from the house prohibiting the importation of all birds and plants except for educational or scientific purposes. It was decided to leave to the committee the duty of referring the bill to the floor for consideration.

Schooner Driven Ashore. Norfolk Va. Sept. 1—The three-masted schooner R. C. Hartley was driven ashore in a squall 18 miles south of Bodie's island on this coast today. Two of her crew were drowned before life savers could reach the wreck. Five were rescued. The vessel and her cargo will be a total loss. The Hartley was bound from New York to Charleston S. C. with 'salt.

WEALTHY MEN ROBBED BY CONFIDENCE GANG

Nearly Quarter of a Million Dollars Secured in the Last Year.

Terre Haute, Ind., September 2—With the arrest here today of George Reed John Collins and Hugh McGinnis of Indianapolis on complaint of Cary Shaw, of Houston, Texas, the National Association of the Second degree declare they have ended the operations of a gang that in the last year has swindled wealthy men out of nearly a quarter of a million dollars. The work of the gang the officials say, closely resembles that of the money swindle syndicate, and included fake prize fights.

Mr. Shaw lost $7,500 which he was induced to place in a safety deposit box here. He had brought the money from Houston to invest in a deal for 20,000 acres of land in the West. Upon his arrival he was shown a large amount of money by the alleged confidence men, and asked to place his money with them and put it in the box, while he and two of the men went to inspect the land. En route to St. Louis Shaw was induced to give up the money and the box containing the money and his companions disappeared.

Another Texas banker who was swindled by the alleged gang is said to be Ray Cunningham of Franklin, Tex., who now on his way here to aid in the prosecution of the men. Both Cunningham and Shaw met the 'scout' for the alleged gang in their home towns. The operations of the gang the authorities assert, were carried on in Arkansas as well as Indiana, and many victims from both states are said to have filed complaints of swindle. The police expect other arrests to be made in several cities soon, they say.

They were 200 feet up when the aeroplane fell.

Friends of Dr. McNaughton Make Fight to Save Him From Gallows—Produce Affidavits. Savannah Ga. September 2—(Special)—Carrying with him two affidavits signed by well-known citizens of Thomaston, which bear out the theory that Fred Flanders whom Dr. J. W. McNaughton was convicted of murdering really came to his death from a drug which he was in the habit of taking, Rev. John S. Wilder has gone to Atlanta to aid in the fight that is being made in behalf of the condemned physician.

The affidavits are to the effect that shortly before his death Flanders was in Thomaston on business and while there frequently took some kind of medicine and that several times he was heard to remark, 'This is going to kill me some day.' One of the affidavits was sworn to by W. Taylor, a merchant and the other by A. Standland for sixteen years the surgeon of Thomaston. Mr. Taylor swore that Flanders had come into his store three or four times to obtain some water with which to wash his pills or tablets. Mr. Standland declared that he went with Mr. Flanders to investigate timber lands and that he saw him take the drug several times.

PEOPLE OF ARKANSAS WORKING ON THE ROADS

Little Rock Ark. September 2—Governor Hays of Louisiana, Hodges of Kansas and Major of Missouri, expected here tomorrow when the people of Arkansas in response to a road road act passed by Governor Hays will become highway workers. Arrangements for a great demonstration are under way in this city. Governor Hays National League committee W. M. Kay, secretary, called on Judge Hodges and scores of other prominent citizens of Little Rock have announced their intentions of donating overalls and graduation caps. A roll for 100 automobiles to transfer these road builders to the scene of work has been issued.

While banker's merchants and others are road building their wives sisters and sweet hearts will be frying chicken and preparing country dinners. This Arkansas committee which has charge of the plans for tomorrow is determined to outdo if possible the road builders of Missouri. The purpose of Governor Major, of that state to participate in Wednesday's work has given a good report to the highway movement. Instead of having a one day good roads demonstration Arkansas will devote two days to practical highway construction. A winter brigade of boys will supply drinking water.

SOMERSAULT IN AIR AGAIN BY AVIATOR

Pegoud Again Describes Vast Letter 'S' While Flying Hundreds of Feet in Air. Machine Under Control.

Versailles, France, September 2—The thrilling maneuver of turning a somersault in the air with an aeroplane flying at rapid speed was successfully repeated today by the French aviator Pegoud over the Aerodrome at Buc. Pegoud had promised that his performance at Juvisy yesterday was not the result of an accident but was a proof of proper control and also of the aeroplane's stability.

A dense fog had settled over the district around Buc this morning and this delayed Pegoud's ascent for three hours and a half. Then the sun burst through and cleared away the mist. Pegoud ran his aeroplane into the center of the field and indicated to a battery of moving picture operators and newspaper photographers the part of the sky from which he would begin to fly with his head downward.

He then took his seat at the motor and rose in a spiral to a height of 3,000 feet. There he turned his aeroplane into a vertical position with its tail upward and dove down toward the earth like an arrow. When he had descended to an altitude of 1,500 feet he began with his machine to describe a vast letter 'S'. The wheels of the aeroplane were clearly visible in the middle of the 'S' sticking upward while Pegoud could be seen hanging with his head down. The aviator sailed along in this position for about fifty seconds. Then his craft with a great sweeping curve came again into a horizontal position this time with the aviator headed upward. The silence which hitherto had been disturbed only by the whirr of the motor was broken by a tremendous cheer from the crowd. Meanwhile Pegoud spiraled to earth. He had been in the air only ten minutes.

When Pegoud clambered from his seat a number of women presented him with flowers while the aviators and military men crowded around to shake his hand. A number of his admirers bore him shoulder high to the aeroplane shed where Pegoud, using a box as a platform told the crowd of his experiences.

Machine Under Control. He declared that the motor was running at only quarter speed while the aeroplane was upside down. He continued: "The machine was completely under my control. I could have flown farther in the reversed position, but no object was to be attained by doing so. Besides, hanging downward for a long time brings the blood to the head and would cause insensibility." "It is easily conceivable that some persons might immediately suffer from congestion and thus lose control of the apparatus I, however, felt no such danger."

The greatest lesson learned from Pegoud's feat, according to experienced aviators who witnessed it, is no matter what position an aeroplane is thrown into while in the air by squalls or accidents to the machinery, an aviator, if he keeps his presence of mind should be able to right the machine and volplane downward in safety.

Wright Somewhat Doubtful. Dayton, Ohio September 2—The story is interesting, but I am not prepared to comment on the event without knowing exact details, said Orville Wright today when questioned about the upside down flight of French Aviator Pegoud at Buc. "Present models of monoplane that I am acquainted with," he continued, "make such a feat impossible because once the engine is upside down it stops, due to a lack of gasoline."

U. S. RECEIPTS MORE AND EXPENSES LESS
Washington, September 2.—Increased government receipts and decreased expenditures during August as compared with August of 1912 halted the growth of the deficit of the federal treasury for the current fiscal year.

Receipts for the month exceeded disbursements exclusive of Panama canal and public debt transactions by $129,000 bringing the deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1 down to $10,301,000 as compared with $3,809,000 a year ago.

Customs despite the approaching enactment of the tariff bill amounted to $30,935,000 an increase of $730,000 over the same month last year. Expenditures for the army and navy showed decreases of about $1,000,000 each, while pensions due to the new pension law reached $17,268,000 an increase of $2,295,000.

The net balance in the general fund today was $127,211,000 including $101,260,000 as a free working balance in the treasury vaults and the national banks.

About $1,000,000 of the proposed $59,000,000 of government deposits to assist in moving the crops has been deposited largely in Baltimore and Washington. The south's share of the big deposits it is expected will be distributed this week.

GREAT CENTRAL AGENCY TO SELL FARM PRODUCTS

Its Establishment Is Recommended by Directors of Farmers' Union.

Salina, Kan., September 2.—Establishment of a great central agency to assist in the marketing of all farm products was recommended in the report of the board of directors of the farmers union at the opening session of the national convention of that organization here today.

The principal object of the central marketing bureau the report held, would be to draw business and farming interests closed together for their mutual benefit and to the ultimate benefit of the consumer.

In addition to its recommendation the directors report spoke of important work accomplished by the farmers union through the aid furnished toward the enactment of the parcel post law, an immigration restriction and other legislation.

The members of the union, the report said, are members of the national board studying the rural credit systems of Europe. The union is preparing for publication of a book on the general subject of cooperation as it affects the farmer.

More liberal agricultural appropriation the abolishment of dealing in futures the establishment of a bureau of marketing in the agricultural department, credit extension, stricter immigration laws and a protest against the proposed central bank currency plan were some of the recommendations to congress contained in the report of the legislative committee as drawn for presentation.

Five hundred delegates representing thirty one states are present. The officers include:

President C. S. Barrett of Georgia, secretary treasurer A. C. Davis of Arkansas and legislative committee L. N. Rhodes of Tennessee and W. T. Wright of North Carolina.

SELECT PREPARATORY SCHOOL FOR HIGHER EDUCATION OF GIRLS

Mrs. C. D. Crawley and Mrs. J. W. Cherry Principals.

Mrs. Crawley and Mrs. Cherry will open their school on Ponce de Leon avenue September 8 with a limited number of pupils.

These teachers are well known in Atlanta and over the state. They have been associated for years and are a unit in disciplining and conducting schools. Pupils in the past have assured that they keep up with the demands of the progressive period and that no opportunity of the community makes it possible for the school to be on such a basis as to be second to none in point of all the improved methods of education. Their efficiency for preparing boys and girls for higher education is shown by the stand taken by their pupils in first class colleges.

We consider the early education of the child the most important and should receive the most careful attention.

For this important and delicate work we employ none but the most competent teachers who have the skill and the faculty of adapting them selves to the age and environment of the child.

In the primary department boys will be admitted. The location on Ponce de Leon avenue is one of the best and most desirable in the city. Its accessibility from all points of interest cars run conveniently for pupils and the convenience of the community makes it an ideal location for an institution of learning.

OVER 1,000 GAIN IN CITY SCHOOLS

Superintendent Slaton Again Urges Parents of Children to Secure Entrance Tickets at Once.

The sessions of today and Thursday will be given over to an open meeting at which some of the more experienced teachers will make short talks outlining the best policy to be pursued in all the grade school branches of study.

The Crackers need two Gull scalps to tie them for the pennant. Dent will try to take one today; Connelman the second on Thursday.

WHIFFS

Baseball Wild.
ATLANTA is baseball wild. Nothing else can be heard on the street corners. The "Cracker" situation, the coming local election and other events that usually attract attention have been placed in the background. The issue now at stake is the chance Atlanta has for the pennant and the present series with the Gulls.

One Credit.
REGARDLESS of the outcome of the series the Crackers will be deserving of the highest compliment that can be paid a baseball team—a wild cry of public praise. The team has made a great bid for the rag. A chronic tender for two years Bill Smith got the club out of the run and only poor pitching at the start of the year. He kept the club from enacting the rag and making the present crucial series unnecessary.

May Repeat.
HISTORY may repeat itself. In 1908 Bill Bernhardt took the Nashville Vols and won the pennant after the Vols had finished in eighth place the year before and in seventh place the two previous years. And the pennant was won in the final game of the year. Had Suttou outkicking the veteran Theodore Breitenstein. Bill Smith may accomplish the same trick the only difference being that he will have to win the pennant in the first game of the season while the Vols were only last one year.

Not Only Year.
THE PEELS are usually so high in the race each season that to see them floundering around in the cellar is one of the surprises. I have looked up the record we thought this was the first season that they had finished in the cellar. But they were there in 1902.

Nothing But Contempt.
A LETTER signed A Mason received yesterday insinuates that Memphis and Montgomery threw games to Atlanta. As you can see the very nerve agent who makes the cleanest sport in the world does not sign his name. We have nothing, but contempt for this class of bugs. The only thing we do have is the good news that we usually relegate such communicators into the trash heap where they belong.

What About It.
WITHOUT going into a bunch of useless comment about the idleness of such insinuations, we do not think they should be shot back at Mr. Wise Guy. If Montgomery and Memphis threw games to Atlanta, what about the four games that the Gulls threw to Mobile. We usually relegate such communicators into the trash heap where they belong.

Joint Holders.
ELEVEN consecutive hits is the record for the Southern league and the record is now held jointly by two Nashville players. Clayton Kershaw established the record by Young Babbly right fielder tied it. This mark is just one of many that have been established this season.

Lots of Runs.
THE RUN-GETTING privileges of the Southern league players this year is one of the most interesting features. There have been more runs scored on an average this season than in any season in the history of the league. Long and Stanton (all in Nashville) and Stok of Mobile who have passed the record in the interest of Harry Babbly and other players who will pass it before the season comes to a close. But it looks like the center mark only runs tall in this stretching a Southern league record.

Denies Report.
FRANK PARKER, owner of the New York Yankees, has told the following to the press: "I have written today Sunday that I would be a member of the Yankees next spring. I hate to spoil such an interesting article but the Yankees have not bought Cobb for the reason that the Detroit management will not let him go. Paying $400,000 for a player is a matter of ten or twenty thousand in addition would land him in jail. I will not make a man out of it. I will not do that sum."

Ball Players as Artists.
BALL PLAYERS are as artists as any set of men on earth. They are most so in their best. They are parent hardened exterior or they are hearts that will melt in distress. Glen Liebhardt of the Turtles has written to all the clubs of the league asking for aid for the club. The club is in a state of financial straits. The manager of the club, Charlie Babb, has made through a Charlie Babb manager, who was the Southern league manager of the Southern league are responding magnificently.

JOE AZAVEDO WRITES WOLFGAST'S OBITUARY

San Francisco September 2.—The obituary of Ed Wolfgast, former light weight champion, is written today on the sporting pages with the record of his defeat at Oakland yesterday by Joe Azavedo, a green and nervous youngster, who was the decision at the end of ten rounds. "What's the use of going any farther," asks Wolfgast today. "I don't need to box for a living. I don't like these short fights, and I would rather quit altogether than spend my time training and boxing around like a side show man." He added that he was thinking of returning to his Oregon ranch and settling down as a farmer. Wolfgast fought a characteristic battle, but was wild. His blows lacked the old sting.

The "Cracker" situation, the coming local election and other events that usually attract attention have been placed in the background. The issue now at stake is the chance Atlanta has for the pennant and the present series with the Gulls.

It was a whale of a crowd Tuesday. It will be even bigger today and the last two days of the series. Lock the gates. The S. R. O. sign will be hung out conspicuously an hour before the battle. And if the Crackers take the next two games from the league leaders, the crowd on Friday will make it necessary that ground rules be used. Atlanta is baseball wild. Last night pandemonium reigned throughout the city. The spurt of the Crackers in winning sixteen out of the last eighteen games has everyone on their toes. Bill Smith may have the Chandler building if his henchmen come through the next three days.

But to reverse the game. Cavet and Price were great guns for the first five innings. The Gulls had a grand chance in the second inning when they filled the bases, with only one out but Starr fouled out to Chapman and Holland threw O'Dell out.

They now had a chance after this until the ninth inning when they counted their only run. In this session, Price hit Schmidt in the back and he ambled Clark hit to Hisland and when Wallop dropped the ball, the bases were safe. Both advanced on Miller's out. Sentell hit for Cavet and poled a hot one at Price who knocked it down and then threw leisurely to first, letting Schmidt count.

Price started the way to win his own game in the sixth inning when he laid down a perfect bunt down the third base line. Long forced Agler at second and although the Crackers leading hitters who gained two points on Dave Robertson in their race for the batting honors as the result poled one to right field sending Price home with the first run of the game and Long to third. Captain Wallop connected safely and Long filled out across the park.

Welchone was declared safe at third by Umpire Rudderham but out by Umpire Pfeningger and the tie decision stuck. In the seventh Holland crashed one down the left field foul line for a single. The bases were full and the man bounced one to Stock who threw to third too late to get Holland. Clark came in close to the infield to play for one of Joe Agler's short singles to left. But Joe crossed him and one over his head between him and Robertson and the bases were packed the game on ice were across.

Price pitched himself nearer the Southern league pitching lead Tuesday a victor scored his twenty second win with one defeat. He pitched a masterpiece that was a dead end for Cavet who had 2 and 10 until he was beaten Tuesday.

FANS START FUND TO BE GIVEN

Crackers for Winning Rag

ATLANTA fans have started a purse for the Crackers to be presented to the local players after they have won the pennant. At Tumlins Brothers two stores one at Ekin-Watson and the other at Broad and Walton streets a subscription list was started at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At 9 o'clock last night a list of $85.50 was reported and the subscription list will see a chance to be started tomorrow. Tumlins Brothers started off the subscription list with $25 and the fans entered into the move with spirit. Eighty eight dollars and fifty cents is a mighty good start and the fund will no doubt be swelled considerably to day.

Here is a fine chance to show your appreciation of the efforts of the home boys in trying to bring home the pennant. Hang up a big purse for them to shoot at. It will give them an added incentive in their fight for the pennant. They will see a chance to pick up something on the side by winning the rag and every one likes such an opportunity, no matter what his line of business.

The Crackers are deserving of all the appreciation that local fandom can shower on them. Here's a way to show your appreciation of the boys that the boys will appreciate more than in any other. Winter is coming on and a nice little nest egg for the present of local fandom will go a long way.

Roth Held Valdosta to Two Hits Tuesday—Series Now Stands Two Games Won for Each Side

THOMASVILLE Ga. September 2.—(Special)—Roth held the Valdosta club to two hits today one a scratch and Thomasville won 5 to 0. Roth was in great form the first two men facing him going out in order and not one man got beyond first base until the ninth. Hawkins who started for Valdosta was knocked out of the box in the beginning of the third. Murph with Parker on base in the first inning pasted out a homer which Roth duplicated in the third. Parker and Wagner following both singled and Zellers went in to pitch. Two hits off his delivery in that inning helped to add another score. The playing of both clubs was fast and accurate with but a few exceptions. Batters in the outfield pulled down some great drives and the infield did rapid flying of slow ground balls.

LYNCH REVERSES EMPIRE'S RULING

Declares Game Forfeited to the Giants Last Saturday Shall Stand as a Win for the Phillies.

New York September 2.—Reversing the decision of Empire Brennan, President Thomas J. Lynch of the National League announced this afternoon that the game of Saturday August 30 between the New York and Philadelphia clubs will count as a victory for the Philadelphia team. Empire Brennan awarded the contest to the Giants by a 9 to 6 score when the Philadelphia management was unable to clear a section of the bleachers back of center field during the moving spectators handicapped New York batters.

The decision almost precipitated a riot and the members of the New York club were afforded police protection to the railroad station.

President Lynch states that Empire Brennan exceeded his authority in declaring the game forfeited to the New York club and formally awards it to the Philadelphia team by a score of 8 to 6, which was the score by which the Phillies led in the ninth inning when the game was stopped by the umpire.

In all cases where protest is lodged against the result of a championship game, President Lynch has decided in favor of the umpire's statement of facts of most importance and whenever an umpire in making a decision is supported by the rules of the game, he will back him to the hilt.

The official report of Empire Brennan covering the game of August 30 in New York in Philadelphia August 20 showing that neither club had complained of existing conditions regarding spectators and that the umpire plainly went beyond his authority in declaring a forfeiture.

President Lynch's ruling is without precedent. I waive all technical procedure in ruling on this protest in order that a prompt disposition of the affair may be had and in the interests of the game may be preserved.

Philadelphia Sept. 2.—A warrant charging William Brennan, National League umpire with assault and battery and inciting to riot was issued here today on the complaint of Henry D. Jones, president of the Art Club of Philadelphia who claims that he was injured by the umpire during the disorder which followed the forfeit of the game at New York of the game at the local National League park last Saturday.

Jones charges that Brennan in his efforts to get out of the park, assaulted him and knocked him to the ground where he was trumpeted by the crowd.

The motorcycle races postponed last Friday night for the benefit of the mother of Jack McNeil, the little Scotchman who was killed during a practice spin will be run off Friday night.

All the proceeds from the meet will go to defray expenses that Mr. McNeil sustained just before his untimely death and the balance will be given to Mrs. McNeil who is in St. Louis.

No passes will be honored for this meet as it is held in a city where the way in and every one coming to the meet will donate their services.

Atlanta Chamber Activities "BOOST CITY," MOTTO OF DEPARTMENTS

The chamber of commerce officials are busy at work preparing for the third great corn show which will be held in the capitol the first week of December. This year's show bids fair to surpass anything that has ever been given before, and as Georgia's corn crop this season is said to be the greatest ever, it is thought that the boys' corn show will be given an added impetus.

One particular feature of the coming show will be the great showing which south Georgia will make. Boys by the hundred from these counties will be represented and will no doubt carry off their full share of the prizes.

President Moore of the chamber of commerce has requested the same committee which did such good work last year to have charge of the coming event. These gentlemen are H. G. Hastings chairman, W. H. Leahy, C. E. Fisher, H. E. Stockbridge, J. E. Bodenhamer.

Brooklyn Eagle Entering South.

W. H. Leahy of the industrial and statistical bureau has received a request from The Brooklyn Eagle to forward full information of Atlanta's industrial, commercial and civic life which will be featured in a southern edition which that paper is preparing.

Will Mail Bulletin Today

The industrial and commercial bulletin of the chamber of commerce which has been prepared by W. H. Leahy will be ready for distribution today. An edition of 20,000 copies has been printed which will be distributed to all chamber members, the bankers of the state and others, free of charge.

Milk Meeting Date Changed.

The date of the chamber of commerce meeting in the interest of a pure milk supply for Atlanta has been changed from October 3 to October 7, as that hall had been previously engaged by another body for the former date.

Boot-Cleaner Introduced Here.

A. B. Jones, one of the members of the L. Automatic company of Chattanooga, which manufactures what is said to be the only perfect automatic boot and shoe cleaner in existence was in the city yesterday. Mr. Jones selected Atlanta as the first city in which to appoint agents, and he will here throughout the day.

During the afternoon he paid a visit to W. H. Leahy, head of the industrial and statistical bureau, and the two discussed the proposition of bringing the main factory of the company to Atlanta.

"There is no reason why the proprietors of the firm should not bring their main factory to Atlanta," Mr. Jones said. "Your city seems to be throbbing with industry and its geographical position is certainly to be commended."

Fred Houser After Conventions

Fred Houser is hammering away to get more conventions for Atlanta. The main one he is after now is the fourth biennial convention of the American Road Congress for 1915. This convention meets in Detroit from September 22 to October 4 this year. Fully 3,000 delegates will attend and Mr. Houser wants these delegates for Atlanta next year. At present Mr. Houser wants a delegation of Atlanta citizens to attend this year's convention and capture the prize for Atlanta next year.

Space for Manufacturers' Exhibit.

W. H. Leahy is actively at work signing up the remaining space for the permanent manufacturers' exhibit which will be placed in the upper floors of the chamber building corner Fryer and Auburn. While a great deal of the space is taken there are still some choice sections which are available and which the committee in charge would like to dispose of at the earliest possible moment.

New Industries for Atlanta.

W. H. Leahy is busy corresponding with a number of manufacturers in other cities anxious to move their plants to this city. Besides sending these engineers the customary printed literature, Mr. Leahy is taking the trouble to write each party an individual letter, and answer all queries asked.

It was this personal touch which landed the Memphis shade tree company's branch for this city and a number of other plants which Mr. Leahy will announce soon.

CHILDREN WILL AID IN MILK CAMPAIGN

Youngsters Will Be Invited to Attend Meeting in Taft Hall, October 7.

Preparations for enlisting the children of Atlanta in the cause of good milk were made yesterday afternoon at Carnegie library, when Dr. S. A. Visanska, chairman of the pure milk committee of the chamber of commerce, addressed a number of representatives of the Federated clubs and the Mothers' Congress of Atlanta.

Members of the chamber of commerce and of the state agricultural department who are working to improve the milk supply in the city, plan to have a meeting on October 7, at Taft hall where milk will be the chief topic of discussion.

Dr. R. E. Stallings, state chemist, and Dr. Peter Bahnsen, state veterinarian, will aid the chamber of commerce committee, composed of Dr. Visanska, Dr. Michael Hoke, Oscar Biss and Ivan Allen. Stereopticon views will illustrate conditions in dairies and soda fountains and hotels and also the amount of bacteria found in milk at some of the principal hotels and soda fountains in Atlanta.

Dr. Bahnsen Will Lecture.

Dr. Bahnsen will lecture on tuberculosis in cattle at the same time. All the children of the seventh and eighth grades of the grammar schools, and all the children in the public and private high schools will be invited, according to present plans, to attend the meeting which will be made especially interesting.

Dr. Visanska urges Tuesday afternoon that in bettering milk conditions in Atlanta preparations be made for the future. He declares that efforts should be made to get the children interested in the subject of pure milk, children, once they know about impure and dirty milk the quicker to see it and kick about it than are the elders and children are mighty good sentinels.

At the meeting in October the names of the dairymen and hotels and soda fountains where as many as 1,000,000 counts of bacteria were found where only 100,000 should have been found according to law, will not be mentioned. The milk reformers apparently, feel that they should go easy with the men responsible for impure milk at first and gradually educate them up to a standard.

Dr. Visanska will take a number of Atlanta club women through the state laboratory next Friday afternoon and show them actual samples of milk taken from first class hotels and drug stores in Atlanta, which were an excessive amount of bacteria and dirt.

PRICE CONFERS WITH ATLANTA DAIRYMEN

Tells Them Milk Must Conform to Legal Standard—They Promise Improvement

That Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price is in earnest in his crusade for pure milk in Georgia was indicated when he had about a dozen dairymen of Atlanta and the vicinity in his office yesterday morning in conference with him on the milk question.

Investigations made by the state chemist Dr. R. E. Stallings and the pure food inspector P. A. Methvin, had developed according to their report that 90 per cent of the milk sold in this market is below standard.

The lawyer advised that they would be glad to cooperate with the commissioner in his milk campaign. Commissioner Price told them that he had no desire to prosecute anybody so long as he obeyed the law.

Up to date 318 samples of milk have been examined and about fifty dairy men have been advised to appear before the commissioner.

PIEDMONT PARK LAKE OPEN UNTIL SEPT. 19

Force Will Be Kept on Hand to Look After Comfort of Bathers

After a vigorous fight the park board yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution offered by Commissioner Frank Reynolds appropriating sufficient money to pay the expenses of keeping Piedmont lake open until September 19.

Strenuously opposed the effort which was made to leave the park kept open until September 25. He took the position that to prolong the closing date would not only incur expense on the board but would be a menace to the health of the bathers. He also called attention to the fact that the schools open within a few days and said that with the lake open children would be tempted to play hooky.

The board instructed Manager Carey to have a force at work just sufficient to look after the comfort of the bathers.

ATLANTA QUOTATIONS. Country Produce. (Corrected by Fidelity Fruit and Produce Company.)

MORTUARY. Wayman Sherard. The funeral services of Wayman Sherard, who was killed in the Labor day automobile speed race in Nashville Monday, will be conducted from the home of his parents, 16 Germania avenue, in Decatur at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

W. D. Franklin, the oldest Mason in Floyd county, died last night at the age of 92, at the home of his brother, Dr. H. B. Franklin, near this city. He had been a member of the Masonic order for seventy-one years, and had arisen to high rank, having been master of Caladenia lodge. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at the family cemetery, near Plainville, and the body was laid to rest with Masonic honors.

IN THE THEATERS. Keith Vaudeville. (At the Forsyth.) Sam Mann and his really excellent supporting company are treating the Forsyth patrons to the greatest novelty sketch that has been produced on the stage of the really busy theater.

"The Call of the Heart." (Coming to Lyric.) It is good and refreshing in these days when the stage is holding up the mirror of human nature and reflecting the baser motives, the selfishness, the gross passions and the individual moral weakness to find a play that can go down into the depth of life and come up clean and wholesome.

September Expected to Prove A Very Warm and Dry Month. No official temperatures were made public from last Saturday at noon until Tuesday morning, and while all Atlanta realized that the weather was warm, few realized that the temperature had crawled above the nineties in that time.

Poultry and Eggs. Hens, live, per dozen, 12c. Eggs, per dozen, 11c. Groceries. (Corrected by Orlow Grocery Company.)

Mrs. G. O. Marshall. Mrs. G. O. Marshall, age 19, died in Jacksonville, Fla., Tuesday afternoon, at 5:50 o'clock. She is survived by her husband, G. O. Marshall; her mother, Mrs. F. E. Hardin; two brothers, L. L. Terry, and C. C. Terry, and one sister, Miss Lila Terry.

Smith Strickler, Tallapoosa. Tallapoosa, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Smith Strickler, aged 80, died at his home at Tallapoosa Monday and was buried yesterday in that city. He leaves a wife and one son.

Emma Bunting. (At the Lyric.) If the opening attraction of the Lyric season is any indication of those that are to follow it promises to be one of the most successful in recent years. Little Emma Bunting in her new play, "The Circus Girl," is making a tremendous hit and the Lyric is crowded at every performance.

"The Man From the West." (At the Bijou.) No better play would have been selected for the second week of the Jewell Kelly Company's engagement at the Bijou than "The Man From the West," which is drawing such large audiences to the popular theater this week.

NO WORLD'S SERIES FOR "JACK" COOMBS. Philadelphia, Pa., September 2.—"Jack" Coombs, whose pitching helped to bring two world's baseball championships to Philadelphia, probably will not be in the world's series next month.
