Famous Hotels, City Water and Supply Plants All Destroyed—The Flames Burn Themselves Out.

BUILDINGS DYNAMITED IN PATH OF THE FLAMES

Famous Arkansas Watering Place in Danger of Being Completely Wiped Off the Map—Call Sent for Help.

Hot Springs, Ark., September 5.—Fire which started in a negro's cabin at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon is slowly dying out at the foot of West Mountain, the southern extremity of Hot Springs, at midnight after reducing to a smouldering mass of wreckage on area more than a mile in length and from even to ten blocks wide in the eastern section of the city.

Hot Springs late tonight and all probably order a military patrol of the burned district tomorrow morning. United States troops are also expected from Little Rock to add to the guard on the military reservation.

It is estimated that two thousand persons are homeless.

But few of those whose homes were burned saved any of their belongings and guests of the hotels gave little heed to their valuables and luggage in their efforts to escape with their lives.

A police patrol of 250 men were sworn in to patrol the fire swept district. So far there has been no disorder. All the homeless have been cared for temporarily and plans have been started to systematize the work of success tomorrow.

Business was practically suspended tonight except that necessary to provide for the immediate wants of those who suffered the loss of their homes.

More than thirty square blocks on the eastern edge of the business district had been swept clean at 9 o'clock tonight by the fire, which, at that hour, threatened to eat its way toward Central avenue, the main business thoroughfare.

Originated in Negro Dwelling. The fire originated in a negro dwelling on Church street, near Malvern avenue, just east of the Army and Navy hospital, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon and spread quickly to the south and east.

CAMINETTI GUILTY, BUT ONLY ON ONE OUT OF 4 COUNTS

Jury Was Tied Up for Three Hours Before the Compromise Verdict Was Finally Reached.

GETS OFF MUCH LIGHTER THAN DID MAURY DIGGS

Maximum Sentence for the Count on Which Caminetti Was Convicted Is 5 Years and Fine of $5,000.

San Francisco, September 5.—Farley Drew Caminetti, son of the commissioner general of immigration, was found guilty late today on one count of the indictment charging him with violation of the Mann white slave act.

The jury was out three hours, and took eight ballots. From the first the vote stood ten to two for conviction, and finally the two recalcitrants agreed to compromise by finding a verdict of guilty on one of the four counts charged.

Bail in the sum of $10,000 was furnished. Sentence will be pronounced Wednesday, September 10, the day set for sentencing Maury I. Diggs, jointly indicted with Caminetti and convicted on four counts.

Exceptions to the charge of Judge Van Fleet, as a whole and in part, were taken by counsel in the case of Diggs. Caminetti took the verdict lightly, smiling a forced smile and nudging his little daughter, Naomi, who was playing at his feet, and placed her carefully in her mother's lap.

One count applied to each girl, and each count carried a maximum penalty of five years in a federal penitentiary and $5,000 fine.

The verdicts correspond with the contention of the government, which was that Diggs was the self-constituted boss and major dome of the party and Caminetti more or less of a passive and pliant agent.

There remain over the heads of both Diggs and Caminetti indictments charging conspiracy to violate the act, and Diggs has still a third indictment hanging over him.

COUP BY ATTORNEYS SAVES HARRY THAW FROM DEPORTATION

Writ Secured From Montreal Judge Stops Execution of Order of Special Board of Inquiry.

WRIT WILL BE HEARD IN MONTREAL ON 15TH

Sensations Come Quick and Fast in Thaw Case During Friday—Jerome Is Arrested on Charge of Gambling.

Coteau, Quebec, September 5.—Harry K. Thaw will be produced before the full king's bench, appealing side, at Montreal on the morning of September 15. Two of his counsel, J. N. Greenshield and N. K. LaFlamme, today obtained a double writ—habeas corpus and prohibition—at Montreal and whirled in a special train to Coteau, where not long before the immigration authorities had ordered Thaw's deportation from the Dominion.

There were cheers when the writ arrived and more cheers whenever Thaw appeared at the window of the detention room. There was more cheering when the news got abroad that for Thaw the new move meant ten days' delay. Not only by the writ secured in Montreal, but by the action of his attorneys on appeal did Thaw today block his deportation. In addition, he had the pleasurable knowledge that his old enemy, William Travers Jerome, had been arrested, charged with gambling.

Meantime the special board of inquiry ordered Thaw's deportation to Vermont under two classes of the immigration act, namely: that he had entered Canada by stealth and had, within five years, been an inmate of an institution for the insane. From both these decisions, Thaw's lawyers appealed.

Jerome's arrest was not prompted in any way by the Thaw lawyers. One and all they expressed indignation at the move and said they were ready to aid him. The arrest really signifies that the state of public opinion here is decidedly pro-Thaw and more decidedly anti-Jerome. Another factor is a split in the town counsel over Chief of Police John Boudreau, Thaw's original captor and subsequent petitioner for the writ of habeas corpus, which forced Thaw out of jail at Sherbrooke into the hands of the immigration authorities.

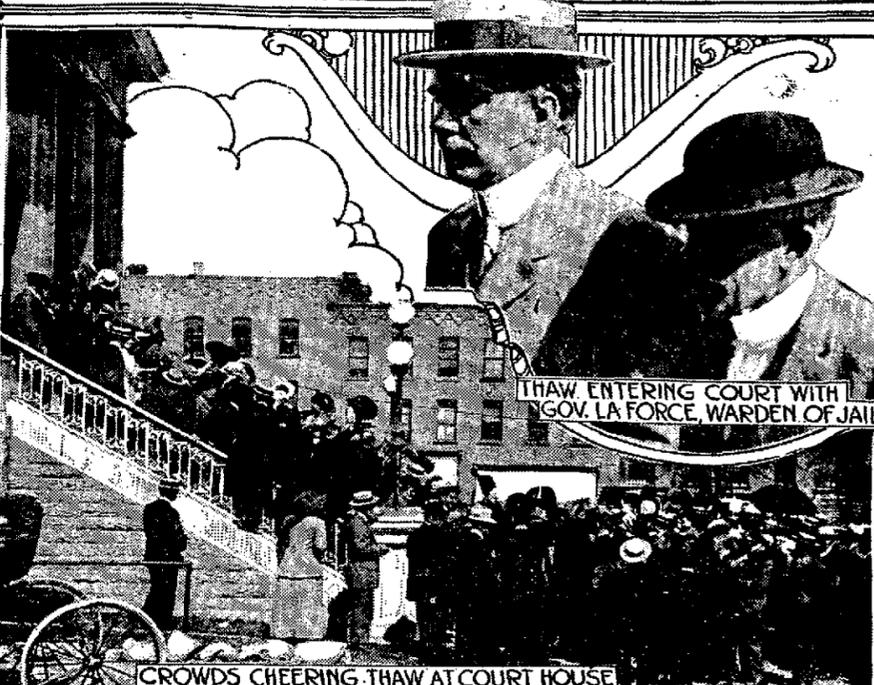

Some of the aidmen contend that Boudreau was influenced and acted unwisely in the habeas corpus matter and should resign. Among his opponents is A. A. Hopkins, chairman of the police committee of the council. Hopkins employs in his grist mill Milford Aldrich, the complainant against Jerome. Aldrich says he acted as a zealous citizen and his contention was sustained by A. C. Hanson, justice of the peace, who caused the warrant to be issued.

More than a year ago the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers protested against the "banjo" system as not offering sufficient protection, and asked that it be abolished. Correspondence to this effect was placed in evidence.

That an order to stop the White East Fair street. The Meyers youth is a clerk and lives next door at 287 East Fair. Neither is over twenty years old. They were able to obtain copies of charges upon being carried to headquarters Thursday night, being acquainted with Desk Sergeant Holcombe.

Recorder Broyles, when Miss Weisman and young Meyers were arraigned Friday afternoon, told them there were many more desirable places for spooning than on state property.

CANADIAN CROWDS CHEER THAW AS HE ENTER COURT TO FIGHT BEING DEPORTED

CROWDS CHEERING THAW AT COURT HOUSE. PHOTOS COPYRIGHT 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

When Harry K. Thaw was taken from the county jail at Sherbrooke, Canada, to the courthouse, where he fought against being turned over to the immigration authorities, crowds of Canadians thronged the sidewalk in front of the courthouse and the steps of the building.

They cheered Thaw as he entered and waved their hats. They seemed to be with him to a man in his fight against the New York lawyers who tried to have him handed over to the immigration authorities so that he could be deported to the United States.

Testimony in the New Haven Railroad Investigation Shows That Road Knew Its System Was Faulty.

New Haven, Conn., September 5.—The so-called "banjo" signal system installed on the New Haven railroad nearly 25 years ago, was charged in sworn testimony today with responsibility for the death of twenty-one persons in the wreck on that road last Tuesday.

Such was the reason for the New Haven wreck, according to Engineer August B. Miller, who was at the throttle of the locomotive of the White Mountain express when it plunged into the rear of the Bar Harbor express on the fatal Tuesday morning.

Both couples were arrested by Police-men Clark and Wheeler, of the plain clothes "vice squad." Miss Johnson and William were arrested Wednesday night on the capitol steps at the Washington street entrance about 5 o'clock. Thursday night Clark and Wheeler discovered Miss Weisman and Meyers in the same place.

The policemen stated to Captain Poole upon arrival at headquarters with the prisoners that they had seen no immoral conduct and that the couples had only embraced. Only charges of disorderly conduct were made without the usual specification of "immoral."

BIGGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF THE SOUTHERN LEAGUE SAW YESTERDAY'S GAMES

By Ralph Jones. Paid attendance, 12,140. Total attendance, 12,812. Total number of people in Ponce de Leon ball grounds—nobody will ever know.

That sums up the results of yesterday's games from an attendance standpoint. But the above figures don't come near showing how many people actually saw the games. The only possible source of information is the gatekeepers' official figures, and there were many who saw the game from inside the grounds who never passed that stern custodian at all.

Long before the first game started the tops of the fences around the field were covered with human sparrows, who perched as thick as their ingenuity could accomplish.

Soon the fences began to give way beneath the load, and a fast as a gap appeared the crowd would come through unchecked. There were undoubtedly several thousand who gained admittance this way. Then it was Ladies' day, too, and the fair fans were there in goodly numbers.

All told, there were full 15,000 people who saw the game, and never before has there been witnessed such a scene in the entire history of the Southern league. It would take the pen of a Stevenson to describe it, and sagas and epic poems are the only forms of literature which could do the subject justice.

The chamber of commerce sent a card around to all their members early in the day, requesting that as many as possible close their places of business, or at least let as many of their employees off for the afternoon as possible. Then a number of the most frantic fans raised a subscription to take a band out to the game, and while the music was mostly lost beneath the overwhelming waves of

When the first game was ended there remained but 50 minutes to play, and with some fifteen minutes of this time consumed in getting the jubilant crowd off the field, it was useless to even start the game.

Sofas and Swings Are Better For Spooning Than Capitol Steps Recorder Tells Two Sweethearts

Telling pretty Miss Dora Weisman and Gus Meyers, who were arrested Thursday night for spooning on the steps of the state capitol, that sofas and swings in their own homes were more suitable places for lovemaking.

Recorder Broyles, when Miss Weisman and young Meyers were arraigned Friday afternoon, told them there were many more desirable places for spooning than on state property.

Home Is Logical Place. "The most logical place of all," he declared from the bench, "is the parlor or the porch. There are porch swings, you know, and sofas, each for its season of summer or winter."

Both couples were arrested by Police-men Clark and Wheeler, of the plain clothes "vice squad." Miss Johnson and William were arrested Wednesday night on the capitol steps at the Washington street entrance about 5 o'clock.

MACON HOMES ENTERED BY MYSTERIOUS MAN

Screams of One Young Woman Arouse Family—Shot at Entering Another Home.

Macon, Ga. September 5—(Special) Many Macon women are on the verge of nervous prostration, while the police are bending every effort to run down the culprit who for over a week has been entering homes at night.

Last Tuesday night the intruder a young white man, entered a Walnut street home about 10:30 o'clock in the evening while the young daughter of the household was preparing to retire. He grabbed the young woman about the waist. Her screams brought members of the household to her assistance and the young man fled.

Wednesday night a young man entered the home of Charles A. Vent on Second street. He was frightened away by Mr. Vent's wife who saw him just as he entered her bedroom.

Thursday night the police received two calls. The first was from Helmath hall where the matron reported that a young white man was prowling about the premises. He had seen a neighbor saw him and shot at him.

Two hours later a call came from the home of Policeman Stripling, on Plum street where the same young man had broken open a blind and was preparing to climb in the window when a neighbor saw him and shot at him.

The police have appealed to the women of the city to see that their windows are securely fastened before they retire at night.

Alleged White Slavers of Walker County May Face Federal Charges

Rome, Ga. September 5—(Special) The white slave cases which have attracted attention in Walker county will not be tried at the term of superior court now in session. By agreement of the attorneys the cases have gone over to the December term.

The defendants George Walker and Will Walker farmers who are accused of having lured Susie Fricks a pretty little fourteen year old girl from her home for immoral purposes have been released under heavy bonds.

It is possible that the men will be tried in federal court before their cases come up in the state courts. They have laid themselves out to be tried under the United States laws when they attempted to send the little girl across the state line into Gadsden Ala. Federal court meets in Rome in November and it is believed that the United States grand jury will indict the men at that time.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS TO GO TO BALL GAME

After a brief session on Friday the grand jury returned fourteen true bills and adjourned in time for the ball game.

The case of Jim Conley negro sweeper at the National Pencil company's factory confessed accessory after the fact of Mary Phagan's murder was not considered by the grand jury.

Among the true bills rendered were the following: Simpson Brown colored, charged with the murder of Charlie Hill colored.

Charles L. Smith, alias C. R. Smith charged with bigamy his alleged plurality of spouses being Miss Gertrude Wilson and Miss Lennie Spain.

P. M. Christian, charged with simple assault upon a young girl.

W. K. Dunn charged with using a black jack upon some newsboys in a recent disturbance.

MRS. CRAWFORD WANTS GRAND JURY TO ACT

With a view to getting at something definite in the case against Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, charged with having poisoned her husband, Joshua B. Crawford her attorney, Burton Smith has made a formal demand upon Solicitor General H. M. Dorsey, asking that the matter be brought to the immediate attention of the grand jury.

No steps in that direction, however, have yet been taken.

FIGHT FOR DAUGHTER ON IN THREE COURTS

J. E. Barlow Is Seeking to Regain Possession of Child From Her Mother.

A brilliant legal fight is anticipated next week when a writ of habeas corpus which has been taken out by Burton Smith, attorney for J. E. Barlow, the Stewart county millionaire, who is contesting with Mrs. Edith P. Barlow for the possession of their 10-year old daughter, Madeline, comes before Judge George L. Bell.

The taking out of this writ in Fulton county made the third simultaneous court proceeding instituted in the case, action being also started in the Stewart county circuit, where the decision of the ordinary awarding the child to the mother is contested and in the American circuit, where Mr. Barlow, Littlejohn's circuit, where Mr. Barlow is charged with contempt of court.

When the parents were divorced, some time ago, the courts awarded the daughter to the father, with the provision that the mother was to be allowed to have the child for reasonable visits.

Early one morning when Mrs. Barlow left the hotel, taking the child with her, Mr. Barlow believed that she was going to take the child away from him, and instituted proceedings in the ordinary's court. The ordinary's court reversed the decision of Judge Littlejohn, who awarded the daughter to the father and placed the child in the custody of the mother. The daughter is now with her mother in Atlanta, at 219 West Peachtree street.

Moore & Pomeroy attorneys for Mrs. Barlow, have instituted proceedings against Mr. Barlow in the mercantile court, charging contempt of court in that Mr. Barlow placed his daughter in Candler college, in Cuba, for a year, thus depriving the mother of the privilege of seeing her daughter at reasonable intervals, according to the order of the court.

The father's attorneys are Burton Smith and Little, Powell, Hooper & Gholstein. The mother's attorneys are Moore & Pomeroy.

ATLANTA SMOKE LAW NOW BEING OBEYED

Smoke Inspector Poole stated Friday that every concern within the half mile limit is now complying with the smoke ordinance or making such arrangements as will bring them within the requirements of the law.

For some time the Grant building has been the only office building in the half mile limit which was not complying with the ordinance. Work has now started on the new heating plant as designed by Inspector Poole for that building and will shortly be complete. The large majority of the buildings in the one mile limit are also now complying with the ordinance or so remodeling their furnaces that they may say Mr. Poole.

R. M. Harwell president of the board states that he has learned that there are several concerns in the one mile limit who are not entering into the plea which will be made before the board next Tuesday for a year's extension of time in which to comply with the smoke ordinance. He hopes to state this morning ahead of time and make the necessary arrangements.

ASK CHICAGO TO AID LOCAL NEGRO SCHOOL

There will be an immense educational mass meeting at the Bethel church on Thursday night, September 11, at 8 o'clock for the Atlanta Normal and Industrial Institute. All persons interested in the educational welfare of the negro boys and girls of the south have been urged to be present.

W. K. Walker, who has accepted the chairmanship of the meeting and will lend his aid in every manner to the practical education of the negro. The addresses will be along the lines of substantiality, such as character building, home ownership and of obtaining such training as will make them useful in any community into which they may go.

WEST POINT OFFICES CLOSE FOR BALL GAME

The entire executive offices of the West Point route closed at noon Friday to enable the officials and employees to attend the double bill between Mobile and Atlanta.

Large numbers of clerks were thus able to see the games. The offices to close were the auditors where over half a hundred clerks work, the freight claim agent's, the general passenger agent's and the president and general managers.

These offices were also closed the opening day of the season to permit the employees to witness the opening fray between the Lookouts and Crackers. They will also be closed Saturday afternoon.

HOME COMING DAY TO OPEN FALL CAMPAIGN

The Bible school of the First Christian church, the largest school in Atlanta, and the winner of the famous contest between the Second Baptist and First Christian, at which time the First Christian school broke the world's record for attendance, is preparing for home coming day on Sunday, September 14, at which time it is expected at least two thousand scholars will be present.

The meeting marks the opening of the fall campaign for new scholars and an effort will be made to again break the world's record. The workers in the First Christian Bible school are actively at work, and as scholars belonging to this school are returning to the city daily, the crowd will no doubt tax the seating capacity of the church.

NURSES GET CHARTER IN TUBERCULOSIS WAR

Judge Bell of the Fulton county superior court, on Friday granted a charter to the Atlanta Anti Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurses' association for a period of twenty years.

The petition stipulates that the organization will be without capital stock, and will not operate for gain, its object being a warfare upon tuberculosis.

The petitioners for the charter are as follows: Hugh M. Willet, Howard S. Cole, Mrs. H. W. Salmon, Mrs. Nellie Peters, Black, David Woodward, Mrs. J. Wade Conklin and Dr. Theo. Toepel.

TEXAS BANKER WANTED FOR BIG DEFEALCATION

$130,000 Shortage Reported in Accounts of State National Bank of Fort Worth.

Washington September 5—Defalcation of $130,000 in the State National Bank of Fort Worth, Texas was reported today to Thomas P. Kaine, acting comptroller of the currency, by National Bank Examiner Van Zandt. The short age will not affect the solvency of the bank.

The bank examiner reported that the whereabouts of Vice President M. L. Woodce was unknown. Comptroller Kaine ordered that the facts be reported to the United States attorney at Fort Worth. The bank's surplus and profits amounted to $232,000, according to the last report of the comptroller. The bank's capital is $500,000.

Woods of Way to Fort Worth. A telegram received by the state National bank from Dr. Baldwin Woods, at Berkeley, Cal. today said that M. L. Woods, vice president of the State National bank, is on his way to Fort Worth. Charges were filed against Woods August 29 alleging embezzlement of $5,000 and today another charge of embezzlement of $10,000 was filed. Official of the bank stated that the shortage at first was shown to be only $5,165 but that a completed audit showed a shortage of $120,000. Suit has been filed against Woods to attach $18,000 of unencumbered real estate he owns. He is also under $20,000 bonds. Officials of the bank said they were not surprised at the announcement of Woods' voluntary return. He left several weeks ago on a vacation.

Woods, who sent the telegram, is professor of statistics in the University of California.

Barred From Insurance On Life Since He Has Forgotten Date of Birth

Cordale, Ga. September 5—(Special)—Because he has forgotten the year and date of his birth and there is probably no source from which he can secure this information a local Greek citizen is barred temporarily if not permanently from securing life insurance. It was the intention of the Greek to purchase a $2,000 policy from a local insurance agent, and it was secured this information on the application that he discovered that his age had slipped his memory.

CONGRESSMAN WALKER CALLED TO VALDOSTA

Valdosta, Ga. September 5—(Special)—Congressman J. R. Walker, of the Eleventh district, accompanied by Mrs. Walker who has been very ill at a sanitarium in Atlanta, expected to return to Valdosta Saturday, in order that he may be there when the currency bill is put on its passage under the five-minute rule.

Mr. Walker says the democratic administration is making a splendid record and that people in all sections of the country are confident that the democrats are going to make good all of their legislative undertakings. The friends of Congressman Walker, who his wife will be glad to learn that the latter is rapidly regaining her strength after a serious operation and that she will soon be entirely well. She is now residing in her former home at Madison, Fla.

ALABAMA GOVERNOR BACK AT HIS DESK

Montgomery Ala. September 6—(Special)—Governor O'Neal returned to Montgomery Thursday after an absence of nearly two weeks, during which he attended the annual meeting of the governors' conference at Colorado Springs and visited Denver, Chicago and other cities in the middle west.

The governor's attitude with reference to the senate nomination will be a waiting one. He has appointed Representative Clayton to fill the vacancy in the senate and he will allow himself to consider no other course unless the senate shall refuse to seat his appointee. But he does not state that he will take this action believing that Representative Clayton will be seated within the next few weeks.

TIFTON MAN'S KNEE CRUSHED BY BOX CARS

Tifton, Ga. September 5—(Special). John Young, a young white man working as a switchman in the yards of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway at Tifton had his knee caught between two cars and crushed late last night.

Young was riding on a box car and did not see the car which was approaching. When the two cars came together Young was knocked off and fell between them. This is the second accident Young has had within a few weeks. He had only been at work two weeks since recovering from the previous injury.

CHILD IS NEAR DEATH FROM EXPLODING ACID

Rome, Ga. September 5—(Special). The six-weeks-old child of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carpenter of Lindale, lies at the point of death in the yards severe burns received when a coked bottle of disinfecting compound known as cresco bursts and scattered its contents over the child's head and body. Mrs. Carpenter was sitting with the child on her lap near the bottle, which hung on a nail, and a careless passer by knocked it down. It fell and burst, inflicting very painful wounds upon the child before the frantic mother could wash away the acids.

Albany Man Appointed.

Albany, Ga. September 5—(Special). J. S. Davis, of Albany, prominent in the business and banking circles of the state, has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, J. Haden, of Atlanta, chairman of the committee. The appointment of Mr. Davis will be met with interest by his many friends in the state who regard his appointment as a compliment to Albany as showing the part his home city plays in the work of developing the state.

SAY MACON SALOONS ARE "BLIND TIGERS"

Ministers Ask for Injunctions Against 5 Near Beer Places. Claim They Sell Whisky.

Macon, Ga. September 5—(Special) The second move in the campaign of the Law Enforcement league recently formed by the ministers of the city, was taken today when application was made for injunctions to restrain five more near beer saloons from operating on the ground they are "blind tigers" and therefore a public nuisance. Judge Mathews set all five of the cases for hearing on the first Monday in November.

These places against which injunctions have been asked are James and Dennis Cassidy, 454 Mulberry and 401 Broadway, A. D. Jones, 1402 Broadway, Sam Williams, 1204 Broadway, and G. M. Bass, 236 Cotton avenue. The sheriff raided all of these places and claims to have found whisky at the two Cassidy places and at the saloon run by A. D. Jones.

Uses Fists in Resenting Attention to His Sister; Jury Justifies Assault

Rome, Ga. September 5—(Special). James Payne, a well-known Floyd county man was acquitted in Floyd county court today of a charge of assault and battery upon Kenny Vann, son of one of the county's wealthy families.

Payne admitted that he had roughly attacked and beaten young Vann, but brought forward as his defense that the youth persisted in attentions to Payne's sister, after the brother had warned him that they were unbecomingly.

Vann's character was brought into issue, and the defense claimed that this was so bad that Payne was justified in ordering him to let the girl alone, and in attacking him when he failed to do so.

SUFFRAGISTS INVITE JANE ADDAMS HERE

Many interesting reports were made and plans entered upon for increasing the usefulness of the association at the regular business meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association at Carnegie library Wednesday.

Ansley, gave the association most cordial invitation to hold all their meetings at his hotel, and at this meeting it was decided to accept it and the secretary was appointed to send him a note of thanks. The first meeting of the association will be held there this month.

The president Mrs. Woodall announced that the association would establish a bureau of information, also perfect a system of mail order department that would reach the women of every county in the state.

This will encourage home study classes under the direction of the bureau of information. An invitation has been sent Miss Jane Addams asking her to address the association in October and the public will be invited to hear her.

Mrs. Ada F. Ralls, who has fitted up her home on Irwin street near Jackson, for the use of girls who go out to work, announced that it was ready to be named "The Addams-Belmont home." It is to be a real home with reading rooms and music and entertainments. McLendon hall, within the building, is for whatever use the association wishes.

DEDICATION SERVICE AT ENGLISH LUTHERAN

A service in which centers wide interest will be held at the English Lutheran church next Sunday morning, when the dedication of the new English school annex will take place. This building has been constructed on the property adjacent to the church that has recently been secured by the congregation and will be used exclusively for primary purposes.

Invitations will be made by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Schaeffer Jr., and by Rev. Dr. C. E. Weltner who is assisting in the work. The consecration service will be participated in by the congregation and the school, and the public is heartily invited.

NEW JERSEY ORGANIST PLAYS HERE SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Auditorium, Clarence Reynolds, official organist of the Ocean Grove, N. J. Auditorium will give a concert to Atlanta's music lovers.

Mr. Reynolds arrived yesterday from Ocean Grove where he held the position of organist for four years, playing to 10,000 people three afternoons of each week for three months every year. He spent some time Friday familiarizing himself with the immense Atlanta organ and after an examination declared it to be one of the most remarkable he had ever seen.

Reynolds' concert program has been planned for Sunday and several pieces of classical, as well as popular music, have been arranged for and it is sure that the program will please the crowds.

REQUISITION GRANTED FOR A. D. OLIVER

The governor yesterday afternoon granted a requisition for A. D. Oliver, alias L. C. Harding, who has just finished serving a term in the penitentiary for bigamy. Harding worked on the roads of Lee county.

He was convicted in Decatur county, where he made quite a reputation as a "get-rich-quick Wallingford," having cleaned up $100,000 in a few weeks' time. He married a girl in the state the best familiar in southwest Georgia and it was for bigamy that he was sent to jail.

Before he was taken in Georgia he was charged with being an escaped convict from Mississippi and it was supposed the balance of his term that the governor sent him back.

DELEGATES APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR SLATON

The following persons have been appointed delegates from the state to the meeting of geologists and mining engineers to be held in Knoxville, Tenn., under the auspices of the National Conservation exposition, September 12, 1913.

They are: W. S. McCallie, state geologist, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Craig Arnold, Dahlonega, Ga.

MRS. GODBEE IS READY, SAY HER ATTORNEYS

State Two Additional Killings Will Not Affect Trial for Double Homicide.

Millen, Ga. September 5—(Special) Attorneys for Mrs. Edna Perkins Godbee, who is charged with shooting to death her former husband, Judge Walter S. Godbee, and his bride, Mrs. Florence Boyer Godbee, deny absolutely there will be any postponement of the trial if the state announces ready next Wednesday Attorney G. C. Dekle, the only one of the attorneys at Millen today, stated that on the contrary they were especially anxious to go on with the case and that the tragedy of night before last could in no way affect their case. The intense interest that centered about the new tragedy, in which Mrs. Belle Newton, pretty young divorcee, was murdered by Rufus Bryant, who sent a bullet crashing through his brain when carbolic acid failed to produce death has subsided and Mrs. Godbee's case again occupies the center of the stage.

A third tragedy occurred early this morning, a negro woman was murdered by her husband. The crime attracted unusual interest on account of the manner in which death was inflicted. The woman was found in bed this morning with a cord deeply imbedded in the flesh of her neck that had produced death by strangulation. With the three tragedies occurring in so short a while the city was in a tense state of excitement this morning when the report first spread of a third tragedy.

MEDICAL SCHOLARSHIPS APPOINTED BY SLATON

The following persons appointed to scholarships in the medical department of the University of Georgia, provided they meet the requirements of the law and those of the faculty of the institution, these named as alternates to be given the opportunity in the order of their names in this executive order to take the places of those who fail to qualify for the appointments.

WHAT BROYLES SAYS.
City Recorder Nash R. Broyles is the foremost authority on crime and crime conditions in the city of Atlanta.

Recorder Broyles has just returned from a month's absence from the city. He brings to the situation a new and unbiased perspective.

One thing noticeable upon my return is the wave of crime that seems to have swept over the city. I have never seen things so bad at this particular season. It is inexplicable. Crime seems to have clutched Atlanta in a grip that is irresistible.

In a spirit of warning rather than of personal vindication, The Constitution cites these expressions of Judge Broyles to those who have been indignantly denying that crime in Atlanta was in any respect at variance with the normal.

The man whose business it has for many years been to deal with every feature of its crime at its fountain head declares that present conditions are unprecedented at this season.

A situation of this nature is a dangerous one. The automatic tendency is not self-healing, but exactly the reverse. The city that does not check an epidemic of crime invites its reckless spread, precisely as does the city that neglects an epidemic of disease.

We warn the police commission, we warn the police department, we warn the people generally of Atlanta against a condition the underlying threat of which is anarchy.

A WISE JUDGE.
At a moment when we are besieged on all sides by a hurricane of official prudery it is refreshing to turn to the calm and common sense views of Judge Robert C. Latschaw, of Kansas City.

The slit and diaphanous skirts are on the verge of being barred as first aids to the devil.

In an enthusiastic mood, someone approached Judge Latschaw, of the criminal court, and asked him if he did not sympathize with the crusade. "By no means," replied the judge, and then proceeded to explain why. He saw no harm, he said, in a trim figure being trimly clad, and especially did he see no harm in the innocent exposure of parts of the most wonderful machinery invented by the creator. Succinctly the judge remarked that one of the most immoral ages of the world had been characterized by the hoopskirt.

The world and the nation team with so many real dragons in need of the ax that the diversion of official energy to the clothes of women makes melancholy the most buoyant. The Constitution renews its suggestion of blinders for frill masculine vision. For the officials agitated by skirts and what goes with them, we advise a Turkish bath and a Bryanized cocktail, unspiked!

SHARKS AND MINNOWS.
It is dangerous to theorize about the Diggs-Caminetti case as bearing generally upon the social evil, lest one's attitude be misinterpreted as a quasi-defense of these two young reprobates. But if the government is to make real progress in breaking up, or at least minimizing, the practices at which the Mann "white slave" act is aimed it must essentially broaden either the law or the application of it.

The Mann act was intended, primarily, to check the infamous profession of trafficking in women for immoral purposes. Unless the department of justice has been more active than it has led the public to believe, the enforcement of the act has thus far been confined to a few sensational cases, such as the one now on trial, not to mention the unpeppable "Jack" Johnson case.

These defiances of the code are indefensible and must be punished and discouraged, by the Mann act or some other one. But they are, necessarily, the minnows in the stream of vice. In chasing them down the department should not overlook the sharks, those sinister men and women who make seduction and procurement a trade, and who comprise a real, if hidden, force behind the social evil in this country. The pimps, the cadets, the procuresses and the various dark tribe of the underworld, commercialized, should not be overlooked while the more spectacular offenders are run to earth.

The main intent of the Mann act was to make the main-traveled highways of this country safe for the innocent and unsophisticated young girl. That basic fact should be borne prominently in mind.

WHY COTTON IS MASTER.
The southern farmer raises cotton by force of habit. It has come to be regarded by the unthinking as the only money crop of the south. Farmers, like other business men, are likely to measure success by the actual cash that comes in. It is hard to wean a man, even partially, from what he has come to regard as his chief or only source of revenue. This money idea is the principal reason why cotton has established itself as master of the southern farmer, but there are other reasons.

A manufacturer in England, Germany or China can trace the ownership of a bale of cotton right back to the farm on which it was grown. This story was told years ago of a farmer who did his own ginning. Toward the end of the season he found himself in need of about fifty pounds of lint to make a bale of desirable weight. On his place there was an old worthless grindstone. This he packed in the middle of his bale of cotton. Some months later he bought a barrel of sugar from a wholesale house in New Orleans. Imagine his surprise on finding, in the middle of the barrel, his own grindstone. Sugar was then more expensive than cotton. This incident illustrates the fact that it is next to impossible to defraud or be defrauded in handling cotton without detection and punishment. A farmer does not feel this sense of protection in regard to any other crop. Cattle may stray and it would be hard to identify a load of corn or hay. This can hardly happen to cotton that is labeled and receipted for every time it changes hands from gin to gin.

Cotton is the only crop that a tenant's family, stock, cattle and fowls cannot eat. Cotton, even while it is growing, is a better collateral than any other crop. Cotton is protected by stricter laws than any other product of the farm.

Cotton is handled in a more businesslike way than any other crop, and all the markets of the world are properly organized to receive it.

These things being true, and the value of diversified crops not being fully considered, it is easy to understand the firm hold that cotton has on the farmer. It is possible, however, for cotton to be like fire: a good slave, but a mighty bad master.

GOVERNMENT JOBS BEGGING.
The civil service commission in Washington announces that it has experienced difficulty in securing a sufficient number of eligibles for certain positions, and qualified persons are urged to enter another examination which is soon to be held.

It is a little surprising that the professorship of pharmacology in the public health service should go begging at $4,500 a year; but it is not at all to be wondered at that no man wants to be preparator in the bureau of entomology of the department of agriculture for $60 a month; or teacher of metal working and mechanical drawing in the Indian service for $60 a month.

To fill either of these two $60 positions a man must have spent many years in careful study and preparation. The man occupying either of them will have to pay $35 to $40 a month for board and room.

This is not the proper way for a great government to encourage young men to educate themselves. The rural schools of Georgia offer better immediate advantages and about as much prospect of promotion.

Because Andrew Carnegie has been received by kings he needn't speak of them like a man who holds four aces.

Since the governments of the world invested in aeroplanes it hasn't been so hard to rise in the army.

The Colonel won't talk, and some of the fool reporters are trying to make him.

A good, hard-cider statesman would feel awfully out of place in a grape-juice and orangeade community.

Some call him "Farmer Bryan," because of his habit of making hay while the sun shines.

It's the simple truth that two suffragettes beat Premier Asquith at a game of golf.

New York lawyers have been dining on Thaw so long it's a wonder there's a meal ticket left of him.

Just From Georgia
By FRANK L. STANTON
The Day You're a Dollar Ahead.
I.
No time to worry and flurry.
Whatever of money is said;
I settle the currency problem
The day I'm a dollar ahead!
And I'd feel like a Trust with a million
If I saw a gold eagle's wings spread.

II.
When I walk with a modest-like jingle
I'm proud as a king
with a crown;
When the tabs has something like plenty
They can't keep this good feller down!
Oh, the musical ring of a dollar
Beats all the bells in the town!

III.
The dollar's not all—and we know it;
But still it's a glittering heap!
In fields where the harvests are golden
The saints and the sinners still reap
Till, dreaming of treasure in heaven,
The last trump wakes them from sleep!

MEBBE SCHOOL WON'T START MONDAY NOW, BILL!

The Rockefeller Interpretation.
This story, told by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gives his father's explanation of two lines in Shakespeare:

"In my boyhood in Hartford I sat one evening over my Shakespeare when a figure, a sentence cropped up and puzzled me. So I said to my father, who was reading his newspaper beside the lamp:

"Father, what does this mean—'There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune.' What kind of a tide would that be, father?"

"Tied down to business, son," my father replied.

"In Nobody's Way at Home."
I.
Since he's been to congress,
'Fedin' on honeycomb,
We'll say this much for him: He ain't
In nobody's way at home.

II.
'Fore we sent him yonder
He used to set aroun'
Tellin' the tricks of politics—
Runnin' the state an' town;
Sure he run 'em to beat the band—
That's why he's gone from the Georgy land!

III.
As good as lost in congress,
An' we'll keep him there forever
An' mebbe an extra day;
He ain't in nobody's way.
'Way up there, where the wild-eyed roam,
He ain't in nobody's way at home.

The Friendly Strife of Business.
When it was proposed that Mr. Bryan be invited to deliver a lecture in a Georgia town the local papers said:

"We rise to object. We don't want lectures on 'Peace' at this time. We want talk that'll stir up a certain sort of strife, that'll start competition—that'll make business boom like a war-gun!"

September Jingle.
All on a bright September morn
Dreamin' o' the cotton, shuckin' o' the corn,
One trust dies and another is born,
But joy to the Georgy farmer!

Good Times dance it's time to begin,
Hoss we bet on is the one will win;
Big sack for to put yer money in,
An' it's joy to the Georgy farmer!

Good Outlook, Anyway.
"Cheer up," wrote the office-seeker,
In Washington, to the hometooks. "If I fall in the civil service examination I'll try at something else. This is a good town for doctors and lawyers, and I'll be either the one or the other, if I can get somebody to paint me a sign."

Toppleton Travels.
Says the original Pleasant Valley correspondent of The Kansas City Star:
"When Tobe Toppleton left the distillery
Thursday evening the landscape was standing on edge. Arriving at the creek he wandered along its bank climbing sycamore trees until he finally found one that proved to be the foot-log."

The Peace Preachers.
Here is a rhymed opinion of the hot air
peace orators:
"They give us peace-talk by the yard—
Red hot an' still a-heatin';
They've hit that Dove o' Peace so hard
'Twould be too tough for eatin'."

A Question of Hash.
Replying to the home-inquiry, "When will the tariff be settled?" the representative wrote:
"Have it to me; I'll settle its hash."
And he got this rejoinder:
"Y'ou'd better; for there's darned little hash on the tables of your constituents."

"Last Call."
Purse-proud, we scoff at Time and Tide
Till in the dark we grope;
The drowning fellow gulps his pride
And hollers loud for rope.

Political Note.
The rich want office because they're able to support it; the poor seek it because they need the money; and the other chaps are after it.

Italy and Africa.
(From The Le Cri de Paris.)
One of the consequences of the unfortunate expedition to Morocco was that it definitely and solidly attached Italy to the triple alliance. We were obliged to permit her to take Tripoli, and hereafter all her ambition will be turned toward Africa. Tripoli is sterile, but Tunis is at its door. Tunis is rich, is colonized by some 400,000 Italians, and Rome has evidently some claims upon the land since she conquered it twenty centuries ago.

A Story of the Moment
By WALT MASON,
The Famous Mass Poet
ONE OF LIFE'S TRAGEDIES
"You seem well acquainted with the woman who has moved into the house across the street," Mr. Todhunter, said the landlady. "I notice that you often stop to talk with her."

"Yes, Mrs. Jiggers," replied the star-boarder. "She is one of the numerous cultured and refined ladies who turned me down in the halcyon days when I was trying to secure a bride, regardless of expense. I have known her since she was a little girl. She was a child and I was a child, in a kingdom by the sea, Mrs. Jiggers, and we loved with a love that was more than love. I and my Sarah Jane Bee, not without standing which she asked her to be my bride and live happy ever after, she told me to chase myself."

"It always happened that way. No man was ever more unfortunate in his love affairs. The ladies all adored me, yet I never talked business to them, and suggested going to the bindery, there was nothing doing. They didn't like some of my habits. Sarah Jane, for instance, admitted that she loved me more than she ever could love anybody else, but she had made up her mind never to marry a man who smoked tobacco. So early in life she had made up her mind that when she married, her husband would not be a smoker."

"Seeing that it was useless to argue the question further, I dismissed Sarah Jane from the secret chambers of my heart, and began paying attention to Lillian Liverwort, a beautiful, refreshing damsel, who finally refused to marry me because I invested in a fighting bulldog, and made a practice of offering to bet $10 that the animal could whip anything of his weight in town. It saddens me when I think of how many beautiful young women turned me down on one pretext or another, and thus missed the chance of their lives."

"Well, my portfolio as Sarah Jane's suitor was at once taken by a young man who was willing to promise any old thing in order to get the girl. He was a most nefarious smoker. Instead of smoking a cigar, he smoked a briar pipe, he indulged in those atrocious cheroots, which are composed of horse hair. He also played cheap games such as no gentlemen indulge in, such as checkers and crokinole. He abandoned all his evil habits, and Sarah Jane, who had been waiting for him, and a fortnight later they were married, and a fortnight later he was back to his old tricks, and the poor woman's heart broke with a sickening thud."

"Her husband was no account in any way, Mrs. Jiggers, and in a few months she had to take to wearing a keep the pot boiling. She had done it before, and in doing it today, while her husband hovers around the street corners waiting and watching for some good Samaritan to come along and ask him to take something. It gives me much pleasure to stop when I am passing, and tell Sarah Jane, reminding her of the old days, and how she reduced to poverty. She admitted only this morning that she had a sense enough to come out of the rain when she chose her husband, and this confession, as you may imagine, was a balm to my bruised spirit. And I believe that a slice of your raisin pie would be an additional balm, Mrs. Jiggers."

Beavers in Yellowstone Park.
(From The Milwaukee Journal.)
Yellowstone Park, the "national playground," is filled with wonders, but there probably is nothing more wonderful than the beavers.

In secluded valleys, along quiet streams, the "first engineers" are still building dams, digging canals, rearing houses and having a good time. It isn't easy to see the beavers. They seldom appear except at night. You have to steal up quietly by moonlight and remain motionless to observe them at work or play.

Their work, however, can always be seen. "Beaver lakes" is a familiar name. There is a meadow where beavers have lived for probably hundreds of years, with one old dam 600 feet long, clear across the valley. The beaver year starts in September. There is construction or repair work to be done and the winter's supply of food to gather. First come the dams. They are needed to deepen the water so the beavers will have a sure escape from their enemies. With their sharp teeth they cut down trees from meadows and up to the top of the trunk in diameter. Then they bite off the branches and cut the trunks into short sections and drag or float them to the dam site, anchoring them firmly on the bottom, and piling more logs and brush to the outside.

They build their houses by laying a foundation of logs and sticks on the bottom of the dammed stream. On this they pile two feet of mud. Then they put on a cone-shaped roof of poles and mud on the outside. They work together, pulling, pushing and rolling the logs.

When their autumn work is done they have nothing to do until spring. Then they come out in June they go out of their long summer vacation walking and swimming about, enjoying life and visiting their friends for miles around. Really, it isn't so bad to "work like a beaver." They have as long as good a time as the summer tourists do.

Scallop Fisheries.
(From The New York Times.)
Scallops, which yield a food relished by New Englanders and New Yorkers, can be grown suitably only in fifty square miles of land lying mostly south of the city of Cod. John Riddle, Jr., says in Science Prospectus that, while the crop is one that can be secured with little delay, and there is practically no risk of depleting the supply by overfishing, on account of the restlessness of the animal, "it recommends rather for communal cultivation than for the business undertaking of the individual." The scallop fisheries yielded the state of Massachusetts last year a return of $155,000.

Brings His Pet to Town.
A Mr. Land, from Fanning county, brought a pretty good sized rattlesnake to town Friday. The snake's teeth had been pulled and it seemed to take things easy. Mr. Land said he captured the snake very easily and it had not eaten anything during the forty-six days he'd had it.

The World's Mysteries
"THE WANDERING JEW."
There is no mystery in the story of the "Wandering Jew" so far as such a personage is concerned, but there is a mystery as to when and how the story originated. It is the story of an imaginary figure, according to the Jewish Encyclopedia, of a shoemaker who taunting Jesus on the way to Golgotha, was told by him to "Go on forever till I return."

No one seems to know just how this story started. So far as can be learned the legend first appeared in a pamphlet of four leaves, which it is thought was printed at Leyden in 1602 by Christoff Crutizer, but no printer of that name has been discovered and the real place and printer cannot now be ascertained.

The legend spread quickly throughout Germany, and by less than eight different editions appearing in 1602; although forty appeared in Germany before the end of the eighteenth century. The story soon passed to other countries, and appeared in England about 1825.

The figure of the doomed sinner forced to wander without hope of rest in death till the millennium, impressed itself upon the popular imagination, and passed thence into literary art; mainly with reference to the ancient immortality of the wandering Hebrew race. The legend has been the subject of a great number of poems, of several novels and tragedies.

Hans Andersen made his "Ahasuerus," the Angel of Doubt, and was imitated by Heller in a poem, entitled "Wandering of Ahasuerus," which he afterwards developed into three cantos. Robert Hamerling, in his "Ahasver in Rome" identifies Nero with the "Wandering Jew." In France, E. Quinet published his prose epic of the legend in 1833, making the subject the judgment of "Errent" (The Wandering Jew) in 1844.

From the Sicilian, in which the author connects the story of Ahasuerus with that of Horodias, most people derive their knowledge of the legend. According to the "Wandering Jew" is founded on the words given in Matthew xvi: 28, which are indeed quoted in the earliest German pamphlet of 1602. So, too, John xxi: 20, a legend arose in the church that St. John would not die before the second coming of Christ, while another legend declares that the attendant Malchus, whose ear St. Peter cut off in the Garden of Gethsemane, was condemned to wander until the second coming.

The action of Malchus is associated in some way with the scolding man, Jesus. An actual predecessor of the "Wandering Jew" is recorded in the "Flores Historiarum," by Conservation of Garbage.

Editor Constitution: The garbage of the city of Atlanta, consisting of ashes, tin cans, broken crockery, glassware, waste paper and also a vast amount of foodstuffs of great pecuniary value, is now being gathered en masse and cremated with no regard to any principle of conservation. In other words, foodstuffs sufficient to victual thousands of hogs are daily wasted. Why would it not be better for the city to establish a stockyard in a suitable location and stock it with pigs to which could be fed the foodstuffs which are now going to waste? Is it not practicable for the sanitary department to require the housewives to separate foodstuffs from other garbage and for the city thus to secure food for its pigs?

It is not true that the revenue which could be derived by the city from the sale of hogs thus fed would pay all of the expenses incident to the enforcement of a law requiring the separation of foodstuffs from other garbage, pay for the necessary pens and pens of the sanitary department, thus relieving the city government of the appropriation of funds for the maintenance of the sanitary department, which, under present conditions, uses a considerable proportion of the large sum raised by taxation which would be available for street improvements and other public works if the sanitary department, by the conservation of garbage, could be made self-sustaining?

Is it not practicable to require householders to separate ashes from other garbage and to have those ashes collected by the sanitary department and used to fill in waste places in the vicinity of the points of collection and thus save to the distant crematory the expense of hauling the ashes and separating them from other garbage and used in the manner suggested would not the expenses incident to the operation of the crematory be greatly reduced? It would exercise as the city authorities who are so anxious to secure funds for current expenses and demanded improvements might profitably give thought to the subject—"Conservation of Garbage." J. L. R.

Modern Inventions
THE TURKEY TROT.
By GEORGE FITZ-G.
Author of "At Good Old Swans"
(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)
The turkey trot is a new form of dancing which is being viewed with alarm and determination by the whole land.

It is difficult to describe the turkey trot because it is danced in two styles. Moreover, the turkey trot at 9 p. m. is only the third cousin of the turkey trot at 2 a. m., when the crowd has thinned out and the policeman has gone to sleep in a chair outside the door.

This is strange because no scientist has gone to the trouble of scaring a turkey off the perch at 2 a. m. by making him trot with a view to imitating the same.

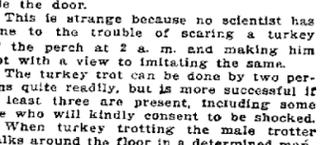

The turkey trot can be done by two persons quite readily, but is more successful if at least three are present, including some one who will kindly consent to be shocked.

When a turkey trots a determined man walks around the floor in a determined manner on his heels dragging the female trotter with him. After every four steps he turns around and waves said female in the air. Some trotters do this sedately and carefully while others trot over conventions and customs with great enthusiasm.

The turkey trot can be learned in two minutes by any one possessing the necessary mental equipment. While experiments along this line have not yet been conducted it is believed that it can be forgotten in the same length of time.

The turkey trot is greatly criticized because it is danced in New York and Chicago. However, it must be remembered that New York and Chicago have even trade a bushel of wheat for a dollar-bill without overdoing the matter and starting a scandal.

The turkey trot is not loved for its beauty. Still it may be said that turkey trotters are at least as graceful as turkeys. At present comparatively few people know how to turkey trot. This keeps them extremely busy doing it before people who haven't caught on yet in New York and Chicago it is even necessary for turkey trotters to trot between courses at the restaurants. However, very soon every one will know how and then there will be no excuse to trot at all.

"No two couple trot alike."

If for any reason it should become desirable to abolish the turkey trot before this time it can be made compulsory in the public schools.

SMITH FAILS IN FIGHT ON COTTON FUTURES TAX

The Return of Senator Newlands Brings Relief to Minds of Administration Leaders

Washington September 5.—Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, who stands on the tariff bill had caused his democratic colleagues some concern brought relief to the minds of administration leaders upon his return from the west today.

I never have contemplated at any time making any fight on the tariff outside the party caucus was Senator Newlands' statement tonight just before entering the democratic caucus.

Senator Simmons chairman of the finance committee said tonight that he would not seek to limit Senator La Follette in his discussion of the textile schedules and for that reason might not get a vote before Monday.

Senator Smith of South Carolina failed in the democratic caucus today to notify the caucus on cotton futures. The caucus refused to reconsider the action approving the amendment proposed by Senator Clarke of Arkansas designed to curb gambling in cotton.

Income tax differences within the majority were settled with an amendment compromising between the highest and lowest income advocated by the original democratic insurgents.

In the senate Senator Brady of Idaho opposed the wool industry as disastrous to the wool industry. He also criticized the proposed tariff rates on lead and zinc.

Senator Penrose discussed the provision which would admit cigars free of duty from the Philippines contending it would let in cheap labor to compete with that of American workmen.

Crackers Tie Gulls Here Today Play Two Races Not Settled Yet

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

Teams are tied for rag. Today's game with Lookouts may decide who flouts rag this year.

Local Baseball Season Will Come To Close Today When the Lookouts Meet Locals in Decisive Battle

TODAY'S MENU
Dent and Chapman for Atlanta, Coveleskie and Street for Chattanooga. The batter will be in the game that is as important in the Crackers' pennant chase as the Mobile game. It will start promptly at 3:15 o'clock.

The local baseball season will come to a close this afternoon. The Chattanooga Lookouts and the Atlanta Crackers will be the contending teams on this game the pennant hinges. If the Crackers win while the Gulls lose to the Pelicans the pennant is ours.

If we lose Mobile must also lose for us to stand a chance. The Crackers are returned victors Sunday's game between the Gulls and the Pelicans will decide who will float the flag.

Must Win Today
The Crackers have tied the Gulls for the pennant. Today's game must be won at any cost. It is up to you fans who have rallied so nobly to the team with their cheering and efforts. A fan that was out Friday ought to be on hand again this afternoon.

Elliot Dent, the Crackers' big right hander, who is now twirling off a five ball as any twirler in the league will be Manager Smith's pitching dependance in this crucial battle of the entire season.

Dent is the man that the Crackers will place their dependence on to pitch soon to the main and personally he can carry our money.

Although Harry Coveleskie pitched five innings against the Pelicans Friday, it is Eberfeld's intention according to report from Chattanooga last night to send him in against the Crackers this afternoon.

Pole Can Be Beaten.
Now we put it up to you fans. Coveleskie can be beaten. The Crackers have done it and they can do it again. But in this critical situation they need your help. The Pole may take an ascension at most any stage. Concentrate on him and help him there quicker than anything else.

Yell "Shamokin Pa." at him and ask him about that girl up there. Then get busy with the old kettle drum imitation. He's sensitive about this. We want this game today and you fans must help.

The victory today may spell the pennant for the Crackers. The New Orleans Pelicans are primed to fight the Gulls in the last drop of the hat and Charley Frank and his tailenders in a story printed elsewhere are gunning for these same Gulls.

Even if we win today and Mobile wins too we will still have the chance of winning out. In this event the Gulls must be beaten Sunday in Mobile.

Team's Great Sport.
The Crackers have fought a wonderful uphill battle. They are tied with the Gulls for the old flag. They ought to be one game ahead this morning. Some of the best players have not cracked. They did momentarily in one game of the Mobile series but they promptly found themselves again, and fought the Gulls to the finish.

Winning three games and tying one, when the other team had only to take one game to win your 13th out of 13 for the pennant is simply pure nerve nothing else and even if we are eventually beaten out for the rag you've got to hand it to Bill Smith and his Crackers—they're the gamest ball team that ever played baseball in the Southern league.

What a wonderful home-stay! The Crackers have to win today's game to make good the prediction of several fans at the baseball matinee, the last game of the last road trip. They predicted that the team would win 20 games of the remaining 26 to be played.

Home Record.
Twenty-seven games have been played. The Crackers won 12, lost 5 and tied 3. They opened up the home stay very inauspiciously, by losing three, winning one and tying one to the Lookouts.

Then they won 3 straight from Birmingham, 3 out of 4 from Montgomery, 4 straight and a tie from Memphis 5 out of 6 from New Orleans and 2 and 1 from Mobile.

Some record and deserving of the highest praise and tokens of appreciation that a local public can shower on a team.

Go on out to today's game and get after the Pole and the Lookouts like you did the Gulls. You'll have several hundred Lookout fans to drown the Crackers. They are still fighting, and they're confident they'll come through, and it will be all the stronger if you'll help.

Here is the probable batting order for the final game of the season:

ATLANTA	CHATTANOOGA
Agler 1b	Street cf
Long lf	Elliott 2b
Welchone cf	Coyle 1b
Smith 2b	Johnson lf
Eberfeld 3b	Johnson lf
Holland 3b	Graft 3b
Nixon rf	Williams rf

STARRED ON DEFENSE

HARRY CHAPMAN
The Crackers' peppery receiver whose work in the game with the Gulls Friday was the best exhibition of baseball receiving that has ever been uncracked on Ponce de Leon field. It was Chapman's heady work, his backing up of first base, and his pegs to second that pulled the Crackers through. Defensively he was the star of the game.

Crackers Tied With Gulls For Southern League Rag; Won Only Game Played 6-5

Gulls were like babies before his masterful pitching.

Chapman's Great Work.
Harry Chapman's catching was the greatest piece of defensive work ever performed by a ball player on the local field no matter what his position. Three times he backed up first base on throws to that bag and when one of them got away he drove Charley Starr back to the bag, and no one in the field knew that Chapman was there until they saw the ball so hurtling back to the old base.

He caught a great game back of the platter holding up his pitchers throughout and keeping the entire team infused with pepper all the way through.

If anyone is entitled to saving that old ball game Chapman should be the one to be handed the palm for it was his heady pegging with Blisland and Smith on the receiving end of the throws that pulled the Crackers out of the hole in the ninth inning when we felt the game slipping.

Two great one handed stops and throws by Blisland on balls that were labeled safe raps a great one handed stab by Smith, and Welchone's hitting were the other features from an Atlanta standpoint.

Star Seesing
The Crackers started scoring in the first inning. Agler was out on a hard hit grounder to Stock who made a beautiful play on the rap. Tommy Long popped a high foul which Schmidt dropped. Then Rabbit got a free ticket.

Welchone beat out a tap to Stock. Smith forced Welchone at second. The double steal was put on Schmidt had Long. The play that Rabbit knocked the ball out of his hand, and he counted, Smith going to third, from where he counted on Blisland's screamer to left field.

The locals got a couple more in the second stanza and it began to look like the Crackers' ball game. Nixon opened the inning with a single to center. Chapman hit to Stock and beat it to first for a safe rap. Price sacrificed them both up a base.

Agler hit a short fly to center field. Robertson's nice pop to the plate beat Schmidt's booted the pill and Nixon came in Chapman going to third, from where he counted on Long's single to left.

The Crackers' twentied in the third fourth and fifth but could not get any across but the Gulls got across a couple in the fifth.

Miller was hit by a pitched ball. Cavet strided to left. Long made a throw that put him into the outfield. Cavet and Miller were permitted to score. Cavet going to third. He counted on Odell's single. Blisland making a great play on Pauliet's tap over the bag.

The Crackers got one of the two back in the sixth. Holland hit to Stock who booted Nixon popped a punt to Cavet who in his hurry to double Holland at first threw the ball to right field and Holland raced to third from where he counted on Chapman's sacrifice fly.

Gulls Tie It.
The Gulls tied it up in the seventh. Miller who has been the biggest thorn in the Crackers' side in the entire series started the inning with a single. Cavet cut him to second on his infield out. Then Price lost control and walked Stock and Starr, filling the bases.

Odell hit to Smith who made a wonderful one handed stop back of first base retiring Odell at the initial cushion but Miller scored on the play. Ground rules were responsible for the Gulls' tying it. Pauliet hit an ordinary high fly to right field which Nixon could not have camped under easily, but he did to stand still and watch the ball drop into the crowd for a three-base hit and Stock and Starr counted with the fifth run.

The Crackers had a chance in their half when Smith got an infield single and was sacrificed to second but he was left there by Holland and Nixon. The Gulls gave us heart failure in cial train to get your team in Mobile in time for the game tomorrow."

Pinn refused to listen to this, and insisted on catching the train as per schedule.

In this Pinn was technically right. He had everything to lose and nothing to gain. He had the clinched and from his viewpoint, asking advantage of the technicalities before him was the proper grand.

But from Atlanta's viewpoint and of course this is ours the Gulls showed the white feather. We know that the Crackers had them on the run, and that the playing of the game would mean that they lost first place in the league race.

They took advantage of the technicality. They grabbed at the drowning man's straw. They had a perfect right to do so but if they eventually beat the Crackers over they will have this hanging over their heads all the time.

Next season if in view of Friday's actions, the Gulls do win the pennant they will be dubbed "quitters" throughout the entire circuit.

Record Crwd.
The crowd is variously estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000 persons. The paid admission receipts show 12,140 with the total admission according to the turnstile count including ladies day tickets 13,812.

This breaks the southern league record which is 11,152 which is also held by Atlanta and was made in 1907.

There was a crack in the right field fence and the fans who were pushed through this crack and climbed over the fence on all sides when in the rush to get through the turnstiles they were unable to make progress.

There must have been 5,000 additional to climb over the fence.

The stands and bleachers were packed and all around the playing field twenty to thirty deep they were lined. The banks were packed. In fact every available spot that did not interfere with the playing of the game had its hundreds of fans.

Even the players benches were not immune. The players were forced to sit on the ground in front of the bench to make room for the fair fans that packed into the benches.

In this connection an amusing incident occurred.

Ball players love to cuss when in the heat of a battle. Seeing the ladies Bill Smith told them that they were not to be responsible for the kind of language used.

That's all right, Mr. Smith. I don't care what the boys say as long as they win. She was cheered to the echo by the local boys.

Another Fierce One
The game was a repetition of the previous one. It was one of those up and tuck affairs with the tension at the tightest possible moment from the first inning to the last.

The Crackers fought confidently and courageously. The Gulls fought none the less courageously but not as confidently as they had their backs to the wall and they had everything to lose and nothing to gain.

The Gulls made no less than eight errors during the game and it is surprising that the Crackers did not pile up a larger score than they did. The one error that the locals made gave the Gulls their first run and paved the way to their second.

The game added another to the list of great games. The tension could not have been any tighter than it was in the entire series. It was really wonderful under the terrific strain that the two teams were laboring that they did not crack worse than they did.

Cavet and Price
Pug Cavet and Gil Price who hooked up in the first game of the series, tried conclusions again in this game. And from the jump it looked like the Crackers ball game only to find the Gulls rallying towards the close and forcing the locals into extra innings.

Cavet pitched the entire ten innings for his first career. He pitched in the ninth and although the locals nicked him for eleven hits he kept the engagement but for the horrible support given him he would have put up a much stouter fight.

Gil Price was breezing along for the first part of the game and his teammates got him four runs. But this did not seem to deter the Gulls who were fighting and fighting grimly. They grabbed off a couple of runs in the fifth and with the score 5 to 2 against them he called and tied the game in the seventh.

Price sprung a wild streak in the seventh. He could not stop his fast ball through the groove like he wanted to and he had the bases full before he realized what happened. Then Price and the game was tied up.

Elliot Dent twirled the remainder of the game for the Crackers and believe us, that big boy had something on that old apple all the time. The

BARONS SIGN MOLEY FOR NEXT SEASON

Birmingham Mogul Will Make Many Changes in the Club's Personnel Next Year

Birmingham Ala. September 5.—(Special)—Manager Carlton Myles worth will be returned by the Birmingham club as leave in 1914. Although it was expected that an announcement was not in the air this morning it will be his fifth year as manager. There is a slight possibility that the director in regard to Mylesworth's return will be decided in many changes will be made for next season.

Mylesworth will leave Sunday morning for a scout on trip to the minors where he hopes to land three pitchers. After a tour of the minors he will go around the city and remain there until all the willis series.

Four pitchers two infielders two catchers and an outfielder will probably be replaced next season. Several local favorites will miss.

Chattanooga May Send Special Trainload Today

It was reported yesterday that the Chattanooga fans were going to run a special excursion to Atlanta today in order to bring their rosters to the final game of the season at the Atlanta. The idea is that the southern railroad will run the train direct from Chattanooga to the ball park at Ponce de Leon.

The Chattanooga rosters will thus go straight from the train to the grandstand and it behooves Atlanta fandom to be there in bigger numbers than ever in order to be sure and drown out the rooting of these loyal Chattanooga fans.

They will be backing a ball team that is one of the hardest fighting teams in the league and the local fans should be certain they are every one of them and make enough noise to entirely overwhelm these Chattanooga fans.

Harry Endicott Killed When Racer Throws Tire

Jackson Mo. September 5.—Harry Endicott of Anderson Ind. brother of Earl Anderson Ind. a brother of Farmer Bill Lindholt the noted automobile racer on a Mary Sarata of Jackson a 10 year old spectator were killed and three persons injured here this afternoon when Endicott's automobile crashed through a fence at the race track when one of the front tires blew up.

The injured are George Benedict of Los Angeles who was acting as Lindholt's mechanic in Mrs. Mabel Walters and Frances Hall 15 years old both of Jackson. Benedict's condition is serious. Neither Mrs. Walters nor the Hall girl was seriously hurt.

Endicott was driving a 1908 house power cutting car proprietor, to an exhibition race against Benedict late tomorrow when the accident occurred. Benedict was in his side. The tire turned a sharp curve as it swung in on the home stretch and with a report like a pistol shot the tire burst.

Before the crowd which lined both sides of the track could realize what had happened the machine skidded about 20 feet and struck and plunged directly at a flimsy fence to the side of the course. Endicott was crushed to death against an iron railing. Benedict was killed from the car and one of the rear wheels passed over his body.

The Sarata girl was instantly killed. The car bounding from a road scraper crushed her to death in a twinkling. An inquest will be held here Tuesday.

McNeil Benefit Races Postponed Once More; Will Be Run Next Week

The motorcycle races last night for the benefit of Jack McNeil's family were postponed on account of rain. They will probably be run off Friday night of next week.

The program scheduled for last night will be run off as the regular Tuesday night program and if it rains Tuesday night they will go over until Wednesday.

BARONS RETURN ERY TO OPELIKA CLUB

Birmingham Ala. September 5.—(Special)—Pitcher Ed Liv who was purchased by the Birmingham club on a conditional agreement from the Opelika club of the Georgia Alabama league will be returned to the Opelika club.

The Barons purchased Liv from the little league which he led to supplant Rube Evans in August.

An agreement was made whereby the Birmingham club was to pay a considerable sum if Liv made good before the close of the Southern league season.

After making an auspicious debut against Atlanta he was beaten twice in 11 victories over Memphis Wednesday was the first he registered.

In the Georgia Alabama league Liv won 11 games and lost 6. He has been secured from the Southern league clubs.

Travers Plays Anderson

Garden City N. Y. September 5.—After a week of interesting play in the annual National amateur championship tournament at the Garden City Golf club the issue now lies between the present holder of the title Jerome D. Travers, of Upper Montclair N. J. and John C. Anderson of the Bluebird Club of Massachusetts, former amateur champion of the Bay State.

Travers earned the right to be a finalist by winning his match today from Fred Herreshoff. Anderson qualified for the final by defeating Charles Evans, Jr., of Edgewater Ill., the runner-up last year to Travers. Anderson a golf all through the week has been very steady, each round being done in 75 or better, so that his defeat of Evans today was not an looked for by the conservative element.

FIRE CHIEFS OF UNITED STATES IN NEW YORK

Fire Commissioner JOHNSON

Fire Chief KENLON

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Fire chiefs from every big city in the country and from many smaller ones assembled in New York for the forty-first annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers. The purpose of the convention each year is to advance fire fighting by listening to addresses of experts and to the interchange of facts gained by experience. Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson and Fire Chief John Kenlon, of the New York department, acted as hosts to the fire chiefs. Everything that is up to the minute about the New York department was shown to the visitors. New automobile apparatus was shown in action, and agents of manufacturers of fire fighting devices from America and abroad were on hand to explain their various inventions. White the chiefs were here the firemen's monument on Riverside drive was unveiled.

NEW HEAT RECORDS ARE ESTABLISHED IN WEST

Kansas City, Mo., September 5.—New September heat records were established in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma today and unusually high temperatures prevailed in Missouri. In Kansas the average maximum temperature was well above 100 degrees. At Junction City the mercury climbed to 108, within a degree of the season's record. A new heat record for the year was established at Lawrence, where the government thermometer registered 105 1/3. This was the hottest September day on record at Topeka, the temperature there showing 102. The danger of fire is so great that the Union Pacific railroad is burning every tuft of grass and brush along its right-of-way in Kansas.

RICE TELLS WOMEN ABOUT USEFUL BIRDS

Henry Rice, field agent of the Audubon society, made a brilliant address last night before a large audience at the Atlanta Women's club on "Useful Birds of the World." Mr. Rice was given the closest attention at all time, and his address was pronounced one of the most interesting heard this year. He has sent a letter to the constitution in which he declares that his speech on Thursday night was incorrectly reported where he was quoted as terming feather dealers "grafting inhuman brutes."

MUTUAL LIFE AGENTS CONVENE IN ATLANTA

Sixty Georgia representatives of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York attached to the Atlanta General agency of the company under Colonel Robert F. Sheddard will begin a two days' convention at the Hotel Ansley at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The principal social feature will be a brilliant banquet on Monday evening. A. Jackson, instructor of agents from the home office and other officials of New York will be guests of the convention.

SOCIAL MEETING HELD BY THE OLD GUARD

A social meeting of the Old Guard was held at the University club last night. Cigars and reminiscences were the order of the evening and a quite an enjoyable time was spent by the members.

School Opening Delayed.

Waycross, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—The public schools of Waycross will be opened September 22 instead of on September 15, as decided by the board of education in June. The delay of a week was made necessary by the work on the new school on Isabella street. Registration of pupils will begin September 17 and Superintendent Egan has made preparations to handle this feature of the school work with ease.

District School to Open.

Tifton, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) The fall term at the Second District Agricultural and Mechanical school will open Wednesday. Much preparatory work has been done during vacation. A site has been built, the girls' dormitory calcimined and furnished with new mattresses. Over forty applications from new students have been received and prospects are flatting for a full attendance.

FOURTH GIN ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL ONE

Dublin Man Dies From Injuries. Three Others Hurt During the Same Week.

Dublin, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) H. D. Temples died last night from the effects of wounds received in the fourth gin accident here, in which his arm was horribly mangled and he was injured internally. Mr. Temples was removing some seed that had gathered inside the gin near the saws and in some manner his hand reached too close and was drawn into the rapidly revolving saws. His entire arm was cut and lacerated, the left side of his face badly grazed and the saws cut into his body near his heart, severing the cords and muscles around that organ, which was the direct cause of his death. Every effort was made to save him, but nothing could be done. He had been a resident of Laurens county for about eight years, coming here from Johnston, S. C., to take a position with B. M. Grier, who is sheriff of the city court of Dublin. He leaves a wife and several children. A father in South Carolina and a mother in Laurens county who are kept keenly to learn of his death. His remains will be interred in Northview cemetery in this city Saturday. The first accident happened Monday afternoon, when W. R. Arnold, superintendent of the Empire Cotton gin, while his arm cut by a gin that he was repairing while it was in motion. His sleeve was caught by the machine, and this pulled him into the gin before he could help himself, his right arm getting so badly mangled that it was necessary to amputate it above the elbow. Both men have families. At the same mill where Mr. Arnold lost his arm and during the night of the same day, two negroes were injured by accidents, one of them getting his hand mashed into the cake former, and the other being hit by a belt breaking near him.

Women Aid Auditorium.

Savannah, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—The aid of the women of Savannah is to be sought in the campaign for a public auditorium. The election to determine a $200,000 bond issue will be held September 15. A two-thirds vote of the registered voters is necessary to pass it. With the women participating in a campaign that it was necessary to amputate the issue can be put through.

Parks Holbrook.

Parks Holbrook, aged 51 years, died Friday at his residence, 35 Cameron street. He is survived by his wife, one son, E. A. Holbrook, and one daughter, Mrs. E. M. Floyd. The funeral will be held from the residence Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. B. F. Fraser officiating, and the interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Paving Depot Approach.

Albany, Ga., September 5.—(Special.) Albany is to do more paving. North street, the approach to Albany's new $100,000 passenger station that will be opened this month, will be paved by the city and the work will start the first of next week. The materials for the work are arriving and City Engineer R. J. Edgerly promises the early completion of the work.

G. M. A. OPENS TUESDAY FOR FOURTEENTH TERM

On Tuesday, September 3, the Georgia military academy will open its doors for the beginning of the scholastic year, which is the fourteenth in its history. Entries indicate that the student body will be composed of young men from all over the United States and many foreign countries. The president of the institution feels much pleased over the outlook, and together with the faculty is expecting a year of great achievement. During the summer past passed there have been many improvements made in the equipment of the school, among which is a thoroughly finished outdoor gymnasium composed of three sets of apparatus. There will be a special course in this work to supplement that in the regular military drill.

Proctor Speaks Sunday.

At the First Congregational church, colored, at Houston and Courtland streets, Rev. H. H. Proctor, pastor, will preach at the morning and evening service. In the evening Dr. Proctor will give an address on his trip in New England. Special music will be given by the choir. The cooking school opens September 9 in the Avery Congregational home. Ten lessons will be given for 50 cents.

Venable Family Here.

T. F. Venable who, two months ago, severed his connection with a prominent New York banking house in order to assume his duties as vice president of the Travelers' Bank and Trust company and to make Atlanta his home, has been joined by his wife and their five children. The Venable family will be at home at 62, Ponce de Leon avenue.

Harry Grizzard Marries.

Harry Grizzard is now a married man. His wedding to Miss Sarah White, of Cartersville, taking place last night. They will live at White, Ga., a few miles from Cartersville. Grizzard was once a widely-known figure in Atlanta, having run for several political offices against well-known politicians.
