

CAPTAIN OF POLICE ACCUSED OF KISSING GIRL IS SUSPENDED

Misconduct With a Young Woman, While on Duty in Grant Park, Is Charged to J. W. Norman, 63 Years Old.

OFFICER TO BE TRIED BEFORE BOARD TONIGHT

Two Policemen and Several Citizens Summoned to Appear Against Him—"Many Complaints," Says Chief.

Captain J. W. Norman, aged 63 years, a police officer of thirty years' service, has been suspended by Chief Beavers, and will be arraigned before the police commission tonight on charge of conduct unbecoming an officer, which grew out of reports made to headquarters that the aged man had been seen hugging and kissing a pretty young woman while on duty in Grant park.

He was suspended Monday morning. The case has set headquarters in a ferment. Captain Norman has stated that it is a conspiracy of certain enemies who seek to drag him from the department, and deny the charges bitterly.

Two policemen, S. A. Greer and J. Louis Whitley, both patrolmen in Grant park, will appear at the trial tonight to substantiate the charges. Three citizens have also been subpoenaed who allege they witnessed the captain's misconduct with the young woman.

Her name has been withheld. It is not contained in the form of charges filed against Captain Norman, and Chief Beavers will not divulge her identity. It is stated, however, that she has been summoned to testify before the commission.

The charges are that Captain Norman has frequently been seen strolling through Grant park with this woman, and that he has hugged and kissed her openly on the public walks. It is specified that on some occasions he has been sitting with her in his arms, while on others he has been disconsolately embracing her while both were standing.

Reports of the policeman's misconduct have been coming to headquarters for some time. Chief Beavers stated Monday recently, a captain was asked to investigate. Three citizens were found to testify of scenes they had noted.

Sunday an official report was made of the case. It was kept secret. Monday morning Chief Beavers called the accused captain into his office and notified him of the charges and instantly entered suspension. Norman was relieved of his equipment and badge.

Norman Denies Charges. He denied the charges in whole, stating to the chief that he was innocent of any such charge, and that he had never even strolled through the park with a woman alone. He declared he would be able to produce a number of witnesses who would testify to the falsity of the charges.

Captain Norman has been attached to the police department for thirty years or more. He was reduced from the rank of captain to that of patrolman three years ago following a resignation before the board of commissioners on charges of incompetency of office. He was alleged to have inefficiently handled affairs at headquarters during the famous fight between Policemen R. A. Wood and a prisoner Ivan Wambush which resulted in Wood's dismissal and Norman's demotion.

On a previous occasion he was arraigned before the board of commissioners on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer based on a report of alleged misconduct in which the captain had indulged with a woman who was visiting his office at headquarters. These charges were dismissed.

Other than these two trials he faced before the board Norman's record at headquarters is shown to be exceptionally good. He lives at 119 Hunnicutt street and has a family. He would not make a statement for publication. His trial will be held at 8:30 o'clock tonight in police headquarters.

CAPTAIN J. W. NORMAN.

AT 4 IN AFTERNOON SENATE WILL PASS TARIFF REVISION

In Long Night Session the Democrats Forced Republicans to Agree to Vote on Measure Today.

LINES OF DEMOCRATS REMAINED UNBROKEN

All Republican Amendments Beaten—Marshall and Bacon in Clash—Senate Adjourned About 2 a. m.

Washington, September 9.—The senate will vote finally on the democratic tariff bill tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. This agreement was reached tonight at 11:45 o'clock when it became apparent that it would be impossible to pass the measure before adjournment.

The party leaders agreed to keep the senate in session until well into the morning to dispose of as many of the amendments still pending as possible, and then to adjourn until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The sugar schedule without amendment and including the provision for free sugar in 1915 was finally agreed to in the senate at 1 o'clock this morning. Senator Brister yielded in his former demand for another roll call because Senator Ransdell's amendment had been decisively defeated earlier.

An amendment by Chairman Simmons, of the finance committee, to enable farmers to manufacture denatured alcohol, was agreed to without opposition. The amendment removed troublesome restrictions now required by law.

After agreeing to numerous minor amendments the senate adjourned at 12:45 a. m., to 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Democratic lines unbroken.

Democratic lines stood solidly against the tariff fight with party leaders urging their colleagues to approve of the bill, the ranks closed up against the anti-free sugar amendment. It was defeated and all amendments to the bill as fast as they came to the vote.

Attempts to restore to the bill a duty on raw wool and to raise the duty on woolen manufactured goods made to successive amendments by Senators La Follette, Catron and E. Prose were defeated without the loss of a party vote.

Last stand by the anti-free sugar forces led by Senator Randall, of Louisiana, who drew the attention of the senate throughout the evening, but the votes of Senators Ransdell and Thurston had been long conceded to the free sugar amendment.

Among the amendments defeated was that of Senator Norris for a heavy tax on inheritances. This was beaten 58 to 12 by the following republicans joining the democrats in voting against the tax: Grandison, Catron, Jackson, Lippitt, Lodge, Oliver, Perkins, Root, Sherman and Sutherland.

Wool Schedule Stands. The attempt by Senator La Follette to secure the adoption of substitutes for the wool schedule, but it failed by strict party votes. There remained the prospect of a final wool hant when the single item of free wool was reached in the free list of the bill.

Senator Randall, in beginning his fight against the free wool, announced he opposed free wool also and would join in any attempt to have a small duty put on that product. He had voted against the La Follette amendment which embraced a duty on all classes of woolen goods, but it was expected he would support the republicans in the last fight against the wool item in the free list.

Senator Stone questioned Senator Ransdell's right to ignore the agreement reached by the democratic caucus to support the bill. Senator Ransdell insisted he had reserved the right to vote as he pleased on any section of the tariff bill.

Our plan of investigation embraces an enlightenment as well as punishment. We bring the dairymen here and teach them to make proper milk. One farmer came here recently with milk that was really beyond the limit when he returned the next week after accepting our advice as to how to produce decent milk, his efforts showed a 75 per cent improvement. We ask the co-operation of the farmers and that is all we seek. We are not going to ruin the dairy business locally. All we seek to do is to show the way. Then if there is no improvement we will act.

During October the state department of agriculture will deliver a series of lectures through its scientific men at Taft hall in the Auditorium annex and at that time it is expected that additional sessions as to Atlanta's milk supply will be made public as photographs of some of the worst milk depots and milk handlers' places are now being made for display at that time. Model dairies will also be touched upon in the lectures.

Senator Bacon, democrat, took issue with the vice president, declaring that while he had the profoundest respect for the vice president and wished to give no offense, he earnestly wished him to revise his statement that there was nothing in the rules of the senate giving him authority to preserve order. He insisted that while there might not be a senatorial rule in a narrow parliamentary body to protect itself against disorder.

The vice president replied that he had noticed many times that senators objected to applying to the galleries only when it was to the argument of the other side. He said he looked to the galleries to be a judge of order in the senate, that he had no objection to the galleries being clear and would willingly clear the galleries if the senate would bear out the chair in such action.

There has been as much disorder here tonight as we instance a senator, some of whom are the most insistent about the rules, as there has been in the galleries," he added. "As to following precedent, the chair is not one of those to be bound by any precedent."

Senator Bacon was about to move for an executive session, but was restrained by Senator Simmons. Then Senator Gallinger introduced.

HE GOT IT ALL RIGHT!

FULTON DAIRIES IN BAD CONDITION

Tests Made at the Statehouse Show Big Improvement Is Necessary for the Health of the City.

The state department of agriculture under the direction of Commissioner J. D. Price has turned up an appalling state of affairs in the matter of Atlanta's milk supply.

Already bacteriologist Kenneth Atkins, under whose direct supervision the work of making a survey of milk conditions not only locally, but throughout the chamber of commerce district has developed a serious and vexing situation.

According to tests made at the state house laboratories Fulton county dairies, supplying the milk for restaurants, hotels, clubs and other residences, have been found, it is alleged, to be in a condition bordering on hopeless.

Tubercular cows, open wells, in many cases being breeding places for fever germs, filthy cow stables and indescribable sanitary conditions have been unearthed by inspectors of the agricultural department and in nine cases made during the past sixty days, based on violations of the pure food laws, each case has resulted in heavy fines.

The state-wide pure milk campaign is the outgrowth of the movement set on foot locally for a better milk supply through the chamber of commerce. Instead of bringing an expert here from New York as was the plan of the chamber its milk committee headed by Dr. Samuel A. Visnaska turned an investigation of Atlanta's milk sources over to the state investigators.

Since August 1 when the state opened its probe starting the crusade in Fulton county over two hundred samples of milk have been analyzed at the capitol laboratories.

Poo Much Water in Milk. Milk being sent into Atlanta from nearby dairies was found to contain too much water, no facts which make cream, germs of a deadly character being present in the water.

Other samples, put to the various bacteriological tests brought to light the fact that water from wells, evidently containing typhus germs, was being added to the product obtained from unheathy cows and sold as pure milk.

Dr. Kenneth Atkins bacteriologist under Commissioner Price, gave time by warning to mothers and in fact to consumers of milk in general Monday when he declared that the only safe way of procuring milk drinkable was proper pasteurization.

"If persons who insist on having their milk pure will only take the trouble to write to the United States department of agriculture, bureau of animal industries, and ask for a copy of circular 152, they will have a handy method for home sterilization and pasteurization of their milk that has proved of vast benefit in other cities," said Dr. Atkins.

Take Milk for Granted. "The trouble is," continued Dr. Atkins, "that people take their milk like death and their taxes—for granted. I am not yet ready, nor will I be before October 1, to make a public reference concerning the condition of Atlanta's milk supply sufficient to say that we are giving the dairymen a chance to reform."

Our plan of investigation embraces an enlightenment as well as punishment. We bring the dairymen here and teach them to make proper milk. One farmer came here recently with milk that was really beyond the limit when he returned the next week after accepting our advice as to how to produce decent milk, his efforts showed a 75 per cent improvement. We ask the co-operation of the farmers and that is all we seek. We are not going to ruin the dairy business locally. All we seek to do is to show the way. Then if there is no improvement we will act.

During October the state department of agriculture will deliver a series of lectures through its scientific men at Taft hall in the Auditorium annex and at that time it is expected that additional sessions as to Atlanta's milk supply will be made public as photographs of some of the worst milk depots and milk handlers' places are now being made for display at that time. Model dairies will also be touched upon in the lectures.

Halbert B. Gardner, member of the progressive national committee, of Maine, said tonight: "The returns indicate the election of John A. Peters in the third district. We had no money. Lack of funds hampered the progressive working organization and prevented proper publicity."

After Making Two Small Graves Society Woman Commits Suicide

Chicago, September 8.—Mrs. Walter B. Smith, wife of a wealthy stockbroker in Lake Forest, a suburb, committed suicide today by tying a heavy weight around her neck and jumping from a pier into Lake Michigan. Just before ending her life she made two little graves in the sand of the lake shore and decorated each with sprigs of flowers. An hour later the body was washed ashore. Servants said Mrs. Smith had seemed unusually cheery and happy today, and had spent much of the morning singing and playing the piano.

DEMOCRATS LOSE IN THE THIRD MAINE

Republican Chosen by 450 Votes—Roosevelt Candidate a Bad Third—District Is Nominally Republican.

Portland, Maine, September 8.—Speaker John A. Peters, republican, of Ellsworth, was chosen to fill the congressional vacancy in the third Maine district today by a plurality of 558 over Mayor William A. Pattangall, democrat, of Waterville, with Edward M. Lawrence, of Lubec, progressive, a poor third in the race.

The returns in this special election from all but the small island plantation gave Peters 15,164, Pattangall 14,633 and Lawrence 6,487.

The vote for president in November was, Wilson democrat, 14,692, Roosevelt progressive 13,236, Taft, republican, 7,159.

The election, made necessary by the death of Forest Goodwin, the republican representative from that district was fought out on national issues, with speakers of national prominence stumping the district for the republican, progressive and democratic candidates. The voters responded to the appeal in larger numbers than voted at the last presidential election.

Roosevelt Vote Fell Off. Mr. Pattangall carried his own county of Kennebec by about 1,000 plurality, but he ran behind in Hancock, Somerset and Waldo counties and apparently in Washington county.

The progressive vote showed a falling off of about 50 per cent from that given Colonel Roosevelt last November. On the other hand, the Taft vote was 108 per cent greater than the Taft vote, while the Pattangall and Wilson vote showed very little variation.

Republican leaders were jubilant tonight over their success in view of the fight waged by the national administration to capture the district. Mr. Peters said:

"I regard the result of the election as a triumph, not only for the republican principle of protection, but also for the new liberal republicanism. I believe it to be entirely possible to harmonize and unite the anti-democratic strength. The differences between the progressive and the regular republicans are not fundamental, but more a difference of opinion as how the same principles should be administered."

Statement by Democrats. Mr. Pattangall, the democratic candidate, gave out the following statement tonight:

"From the returns which I have received I should judge that Mr. John A. Peters was elected to congress from this district by a plurality of 300 to 400 in a total vote of about 25,000. "The result should not be construed as a rebuke to the national administration. It is wholly to be attributed to democratic treachery. Because certain men failed of success in the primaries they are now making a desperate bid in this election. The democracy of Maine is loyal to President Wilson and will present a united front in the next presidential campaign. Personally I want to thank the 15,000 democratic voters who supported me at the polls and to thank, as well, the state and national democracy for the part each took in the campaign. We all made the best fight we were capable of making, and while the result is disappointing, we are not discouraged, and only temporarily defeated."

None Here Had No Funds. Halbert B. Gardner, member of the progressive national committee, of Maine, said tonight: "The returns indicate the election of John A. Peters in the third district. We had no money. Lack of funds hampered the progressive working organization and prevented proper publicity."

MAD DASH IN AUTO SAVES MAN'S LIFE

Police Try in Vain to Stop Speeder, Not Knowing There Was a Wounded Youth in Car.

A mad dash at 40 miles an hour through the downtown district in an automobile was all that saved the life of Grady Nunnally, a 32-year-old youth who was carried to Grady hospital at midnight, with a knife blade embedded in his breast, after a stalling affray at Forsyth and Mitchell streets.

He was hurried to the operating table and the blade was extracted. He will recover. The police are looking for James Conklin, another youth, whom the wounded man accuses. An order to arrest Conklin on sight was read to the midnight watch at police headquarters.

The mad run from Mitchell and Forsyth streets was made in a private automobile driven by C. C. Allen the young chauffeur who was fired upon Saturday night by negro highwaymen while driving a girl companion to her home on Garrett street. It was made in less than two minutes.

Several Stabbing Victims. Versions vary of the stabbing. Nunnally told the police, while he lay on the operating table, that he and Conklin, with other friends, had been together throughout the night, and that, as they were returning home, he and Conklin quarreled. Suddenly, he stated Conklin whipped out his knife and thrust it into Nunnally's breast, dangerously near the heart.

The wounded boy lay for several minutes on the sidewalk. Someone telephoned for an ambulance, but the machine at Grady hospital was out on another call. Allen, who was driving by the scene, volunteered to make the trip to the hospital. Nunnally was bundled in the tonneau.

With his siren shrieking a warning, Allen raced the car down Whitehall street and into Decatur at Five Points he whipped around from Whitehall into Decatur street in a cloud of dust which completely enveloped the machine. A squad of policemen, just going on duty, yelled and signaled for him to stop.

Police Try to Stop Him. All the way down Decatur street policemen ran into the street howling and waving their arms. The driver continued on his way to police headquarters, where the scream of his siren had attracted a large number of policemen to the street. They tried to stop him by lining up across the pavement from walk to walk. Allen split the line like a meteor. He turned into Butler street and kept up the pace to Grady.

Physicians at the hospital declare that had it not been for the car's speed, young Nunnally would likely have succumbed to the wound.

It is evident that the voters of the third district are absolutely opposed to the policies of the democratic party.

Democrats Disappointed. Washington, September 8.—Returns from the Maine congressional election were awaited here with extraordinary interest by the leaders of all parties. The democrats, who had sent Secretary Bryan, Speaker Champ Clark and other notable campaigners into Maine to aid Pattangall, were keenly disappointed when news came that their man probably was defeated. President Wilson waited for the returns until late in the night.

JEROME IS FREED IN GAMBLING CASE AND GIVEN APOLOGY

In Rendering Decision, Magistrate Tells Jerome Right-Thinking Canadians Regret Indignity Put Upon Him.

HISSES AND CAT-CALLS GREETED THE DECISION

As Soon as He Was Released Jerome Left for New York. Thaw Pleased at Outcome of the Case.

Coaticook, Quebec, September 8.—William Travers Jerome was acquitted tonight of the charge of having gambled on Thursday last on the station property of the Grand Trunk railway here while waiting for the immigration authorities to pass on the case of Harry K. Thaw. In discharging him the court apologized for the humiliation to which he had been subjected.

Hearing Was Very Brief. The hearing before Magistrate Henry Mulvena, of Sherbrooke, lasted less than an hour. It began at 7:55 o'clock and at 8:30 o'clock the court said, "Sir, you are honorably discharged."

An attempt to hold an afternoon session failed because the magistrate felt he had no authority to take precedence over James McKee, the justice of the peace who signed the warrant for Mr. Jerome's arrest. Tonight, however, the magistrate said he was convinced of his authority to act and the hearing moved with dispatch.

When acquitted Mr. Jerome thanked the court, spoke flatteringly of his reception in Canada and added that he did not attribute his arrest and brief imprisonment last week to the thinking people of the dominion.

He took a late train from Coaticook tonight in order to be in New York Tuesday and will return to Montreal for the arguments on the latest Thaw habeas corpus writ to be held before the king's bench at Montreal September 15.

Spectators Hostile to Jerome. Townspeople packed the courtroom like sardines when the hearing was opened tonight. Jerome looked strange at the court and did not once glance at the throng, which in looks, grimaces and subdued remarks was plainly hostile.

A. C. Hanson, joint crown prosecutor, opened the case with the reading of the complaint on Alfred Aldrich, a Mill hand, who swore he had seen the defendant playing cards for money at the railway station. Statutes were quoted to show that this was an indictable offense punishable with a year's imprisonment.

The cross-examination of Montreal, who has been retained by New York state in its efforts to return Thaw to Matewan, contended that the statute applied only to gambling on a public conveyance proper. The court took this question under advisement and called for witnesses.

Michael Knight, white-haired, aged 65, leaning on a black thorn stick, took the stand. He had seen the defendant playing "a little game of cards" in the station yard, he said. The defendant had been pointed out to him as Jerome, of New York.

Don't Know Who Was. "Did you see him win any money?" asked the joint prosecutor. "I saw a bill changed," answered the witness. "I could not say who won it."

The cross-examination conducted by Mr. Jacobs was very short. "Why did you stop to watch the game?" he asked. "Because it was in an automobile and a man in front had a little typewriter in his lap a-writing, and I was interested."

This was a New York newspaper man writing his story under difficulties. Fred Chesley, a younger man than Knight, testified on direct examination that he had seen the defendant playing cards for money. "Did you see him win any?" asked Jacobs on cross examination. "I saw him take it," replied the witness.

He Saw Jerome Win Money. Jonathan Chesley, nearly 80 years old, with snow-white hair and beard, was the last witness. He related the now familiar details of the little game of cards and when asked if he had seen Jerome win money said promptly, "Yes, sir."

"How much?" "Can't say," said the aged witness. "He was not cross-examined. The prosecuting attorney pointed out that Dominion law had been enacted to protect the public from card sharps on trains, steamships and other public conveyances, and that, according to the evidence, William Travers Jerome, late district attorney of New York, had violated this law. Though vague, he continued, the statute undoubtedly applied to railroad yards and stations, and he asked for a conviction.

Mr. Jacobs did not even sum up for the defense. "To save the court's time," he said, "we shall make no statement." Justice Apologizes to Jerome. Magistrate Mulvena leaned back and Constitution's Presentation of Magnificent Crop Conditions Commended Warmly, Although Many Consider Statement a Conservative One.

BUSINESS MEN SAY GEORGIA WILL REAP ABUNDANT HARVEST

Optimistic Interviews Given by Asa G. Candler, Frank Hawkins, W. L. Peel, W. S. Lounsbury, Colonel Robert Lowry, John K. Ottley, W. J. Blalock and Charles Currier.

Set in the center of the country's richest and most abundant crop fields, Atlanta is on the threshold of one of the biggest business years it has ever known. Atlanta's bankers have an ear to the ground, and they hear it coming. With one accord they are predicting an almost unprecedented business year as the result of bountiful harvests throughout Georgia and the entire southeastern territory and of eager and waiting markets.

Commending warmly the Constitution's presentation of the magnificent and unusual crop conditions in Georgia and adjacent states, which indicate an almost unprecedented year of prosperity for this section, Atlanta's bankers incline to the opinion that the statement was a conservative one.

"We have never had reason to be more optimistic as to the immediate future than now," is the forceful summation up of Asa G. Candler, president of the Central Bank and Trust corporation, while President Frank Hawkins, of the Third National Bank, declares Georgia and the Carolinas "the most favored section in the United States."

Atlanta's Bankers See Most Prosperous Year. These expressions furnish an insight to the views generally of Atlanta's bankers. They are not only optimistic, but they are enthusiastically so.

Their statements and predictions are in direct accord with those in the editorial in Sunday's Constitution, which, in their estimation presented an accurate summary and picture of what is before Atlanta, Georgia and the south.

While expressing regret that the misfortunes of other sections in crop damage should have been a factor in our own prosperity, they view it as one of those providential recurrences in which all sections must at one time or another share, and Georgia had hers just a year ago.

Atlanta's bankers predict a Georgia cotton crop of anywhere from 2,500,000 to 2,750,000 bales and with the biggest corn crop in the state's history, besides forage and meat crops, and with substantial market prices, they look for an era of prosperity such as the state has not before known.

Surrounding states of the southeast are experiencing similar good crop years, and, occupying the center of this good crop stage, Atlanta's business position is viewed as perhaps the most strategic and powerful, from the standpoint of any city in the country.

Hawkins Predicts Big Business Year. "The Constitution has it down right," said President Frank Hawkins, of the Third National Bank. "I read the Constitution's report Sunday of the splendid crop conditions in all parts of Georgia, and it is surprising how closely they accord with reports from our own correspondents. Practically every letter we have received brings business and crop reports indicative of the best season we have had in years.

"I had a letter this morning from a prominent Texas business man, who told me that the crops had been badly damaged there, and that Texas would not make over 4,000,000 bales this year. This is indicative of conditions in the territory west of the Mississippi. While here in the southeast we are everywhere making splendid crops, with Georgia and the Carolinas perhaps the most favored section of the entire country.

"Atlanta is right in the center of all this prosperity, and in my opinion may look for one of the best business years it has ever known. There are already indications of the money situation getting easier. There is a better feeling in the east now, and with the marketing of the crops, I am confident that the next 60 to 90 days will see a full restoration of conditions that obtained prior to this year. All of this is going to bring a great deal of money into Atlanta, and the city is undoubtedly going to continue to grow rapidly but substantially.

"The action of the secretary of the treasury in putting out money with the banks of the country to assist in moving a crop of money into the country is a policy which I think should be made permanent. There is always more or less money tightness at the time of crop movements, and such assistance as this would tend in a great measure to relieve it.

"The people of Georgia and the southeast now that they are about to enjoy one of the most abundant seasons they have ever known, will only practice the right sort of economy, they may build now so as to protect themselves against bad seasons in the future. I mean by this that they should not let an excess of good fortune overcome their better judgment and lead them not only into extravagance but into debt.

"Our correspondents are writing us from day to day that the crop prospects are as fine as they have ever known, and the indications are that the farmers and merchants throughout the state are not only going to be able to pay up their last year's indebtedness, but that they will have money enough with which to trade besides.

"The effect of the crop movement is already being felt. The money situation is getting easier now, and there is every indication that it will clear up entirely within the next 60 or 90 days.

"Right now, while this prosperity confronts us, we ought to think about the important question of saving. The people of Georgia ought to be taught to save, and the savings accounts of Massachusetts are $24,000,000. Those of Georgia are but $10,000,000. It is this savings that constitute a splendid business for the state.

"That was a great story of the Constitution's Sunday. I read it with much pleasure, and personally acquainted with many of the men quoted, and I know that they have given a careful and conservative statement of conditions in their communities. I believe that we have been hearing of a business year before us, and Atlanta cannot help but profit handsomely by it.

"Two weeks ago we wrote our correspondents not only in the parts of Georgia, but also in various cities of the north and east, and from not a single one of them have we had a pessimistic answer. On the other hand, every reply received has been optimistic, and, taken together with conditions as I have observed them here in Atlanta and throughout the state, I am confident that one of the biggest and best years we have ever had is now before us.

"Of course, we sympathize with those who are confronted by somewhat adverse conditions, and we believe that the prosperity which is contributed to by the misfortunes of others. While that is true to some extent as a result of crop damage to the west of the Mississippi, I think there are other conditions which have contributed to our promised prosperity. The farmers have made the present crop at a comparatively small expense, and, regardless of conditions elsewhere, they are in better shape than they have been in some time.

"Atlanta is right in the center of what now appears to be the most prosperous section of the entire country. As the city has always conducted business on a conservative basis, it is in splendid position to take advantage of what is before it. Atlanta had a prosperous year last year, and the indications were very satisfactory as in any year of its history. Possessing good credit, Atlanta merchants were enabled to tide over this year, and are now in good shape for the big business prospects before them. I believe business is going to be good in all lines. Merchants, bankers, manufacturers, real estate men—in fact, every trade and calling should share in this crop of prosperity, which is more prosperous than anything I have known in years."

"The Atlanta Constitution in its presentation of Sunday, has in no sense overdrawn the picture, if anything it has underplayed the real conditions which appear to me to be more full of substantial promise than at any time within our business history. The Constitution's editorial has the right ring; it is Atlanta's opportunity to believe her merchants and business men are in excellent position to make the most of it."

"The Atlanta Constitution deserves great credit for the publicity which is being given through its columns to the prosperous outlook for this state," said Assistant W. D. Manley, of the Bankers' Trust company, representing the Witham banks.

"Speaking for Georgia, we have just harvested one of the best hay and oat crops ever produced. We have more corn than ever before in the history of the state.

"Georgia will have considerably over 2,000,000 bales of cotton this year. Together with plenty of cotton, we have early crops of a good grade of cotton, and a good price. What more could you wish?"

"The borrower and the lender expect to make friends this year. The Witham bank cashiers from every part of the state write that the conditions under their immediate observation never better.

"This crop is the most economical crop ever produced. It uses fewer supplies and is learning the diversification of crops and intensive farming. Georgia, however, is immune to crop calamities. Not in the history of the state has there ever been a complete failure."

"Nothing But Prosperity Ahead of Georgia. The Constitution has properly diagnosed the situation; I can see nothing but prosperity ahead of Georgia," said President Charles E. Gering of the Atlanta National bank.

"No money was consipated by the raiders. The club, who is a conspicuous figure in local society, managed to pocket an amount of money, leap through a window that fronted Bradford street, and reach a neighboring building over a string of telegraph wires.

"His spectacular flight was witnessed by a crowd of pedestrians who had gathered on the street below, attracted to the scene by the policemen entering the building. The fleeing man, it was stated by these eye-witnesses, jumped through a third-story window, caught on the cross-arm of the telegraph pole, and dived himself to the network of wires.

the Travelers' Bank and Trust company were splendid reports. The Constitution's Sunday from all sections of the state, and they are in thorough accord with the reports we are receiving from our Georgia correspondents. It is not only that they have our splendid crop of cotton, while the crop damage in other sections is keeping up the price, but Georgia is always prosperous, by reason of her corn and hay crops, which I am informed are the largest and best, but bad investment. This shows that the people of Georgia are putting themselves in a position where they can make their living at home and the result will be we will send less money out of the state this year for eastern products than we have been in the habit of doing heretofore. While we are making a big cotton crop and the price is good, we should not lose sight of this fact, and the Constitution's editorial which so largely enters into and contributes to what promises to be a year of almost unprecedented prosperity for the southeast.

"The Constitution has given a splendid picture of the conditions, and I heartily concur in its conclusion that the business opportunity just ahead of us is one which Atlanta has seldom known."

"An important factor contributing to the almost unprecedented prosperity before Atlanta and the territory of Georgia is the fact that we cannot afford to overlook," said Colonel Robert J. Lowry, president of the Lowry National bank, "is our magnificent corn crop. Georgia ranks third in increased corn production along this important line.

"Increased corn production means not only that we are making some money at home but that we are going to keep at home more of the money we make instead of sending it out west.

"With a 2,500,000 bale crop in Georgia this year, we have got $150,000,000 more in cotton seed products.

"Under these circumstances Atlanta and Georgia couldn't dodge a year of prosperity if they tried. The reports from our correspondents are entirely in accord with those published by The Constitution Sunday from all sections of the state. In no instance have we had any report except one that says that cotton has already begun to move far more rapidly than last year, and the outlook everywhere in this territory as we hear it is exceptionally bright.

"Atlanta is right in the center of this prosperous area, and cannot help but profit by it. The Constitution has done and is doing a splendid work and I am confident that its predictions will be well borne out.

"Atlanta to Reap Abundant Harvest. I want to congratulate The Constitution upon its splendid presentation of business conditions and prospects in Georgia and throughout the territory," said Vice President John K. Otley, of the Fourth National bank.

"We are undoubtedly enjoying a big crop year, and we are on the verge of reaping the harvest from it. There is unquestionably a year of large business before us, and in my opinion it is going to be done on a sound and conservative basis. We have not only a big cotton crop, but a big southeastern section, but we have made it economically and it is going to market at a good price. We have also largely increased our corn and hay crops, and we are going to reap at home more of the money we have made than we have been in the habit of doing. These two factors will, I think, not only enable the farmers to meet their obligations which they incurred last year, but will leave them well equipped for the year, in many instances with money in the bank.

"From a crop standpoint in surrounding territory, I do not know of any city in the country that enjoys a more satisfactory position than Atlanta does today. In whatever direction you may go from Atlanta you will go for hundreds of miles through abundant fields. Atlanta must reap the business harvest so handsomely promised."

"Business Feeling Effect of Good Crops. My observation of conditions convince me that we have already begun to feel the good effect in business of the splendid crop production throughout this territory," said President W. J. Blalock, of the Fulton National bank.

"Cotton is moving to market now far more rapidly than in any year of our business history. The present is leaving us an impression upon business in Georgia. Our correspondents in all parts of the state write us that the country banks and country merchants are in fine shape, and are happy not only in the prospect of good fall trade, but also of good collections.

"Throughout the southeast everything is looking good, and Atlanta is in the best strategic position for the fall trade. In my opinion, of any city in the country.

"The Constitution, in its presentation of Sunday, has in no sense overdrawn the picture, if anything it has underplayed the real conditions which appear to me to be more full of substantial promise than at any time within our business history. The Constitution's editorial has the right ring; it is Atlanta's opportunity to believe her merchants and business men are in excellent position to make the most of it."

"Conditions Never Better, Say Witham Bankers. The Atlanta Constitution deserves great credit for the publicity which is being given through its columns to the prosperous outlook for this state," said Assistant W. D. Manley, of the Bankers' Trust company, representing the Witham banks.

"Speaking for Georgia, we have just harvested one of the best hay and oat crops ever produced. We have more corn than ever before in the history of the state.

"Georgia will have considerably over 2,000,000 bales of cotton this year. Together with plenty of cotton, we have early crops of a good grade of cotton, and a good price. What more could you wish?"

"The borrower and the lender expect to make friends this year. The Witham bank cashiers from every part of the state write that the conditions under their immediate observation never better.

"This crop is the most economical crop ever produced. It uses fewer supplies and is learning the diversification of crops and intensive farming. Georgia, however, is immune to crop calamities. Not in the history of the state has there ever been a complete failure."

"Nothing But Prosperity Ahead of Georgia. The Constitution has properly diagnosed the situation; I can see nothing but prosperity ahead of Georgia," said President Charles E. Gering of the Atlanta National bank.

"No money was consipated by the raiders. The club, who is a conspicuous figure in local society, managed to pocket an amount of money, leap through a window that fronted Bradford street, and reach a neighboring building over a string of telegraph wires.

"His spectacular flight was witnessed by a crowd of pedestrians who had gathered on the street below, attracted to the scene by the policemen entering the building. The fleeing man, it was stated by these eye-witnesses, jumped through a third-story window, caught on the cross-arm of the telegraph pole, and dived himself to the network of wires.

"Across the wires he crawled to a nearby roof, jumping to it and escaping through a scuttle hole. The police were unable to find him. Vigorous efforts are being made to find him before the trial at which he will be introduced, the police say, as a witness against the other prisoners.

"No one was locked up. All were given copies of charges. The list of prisoners contains the names of some of the city's leading business men, many of whom are of Gainesville's oldest families. The boys were in a canoe in a place where they had been told the river was not over 5 feet deep. They went into a hole 12 feet deep, and both were drowned before they could be rescued. CHILDREN RETURN TO SCHOOL DUTIES

Nearly 26,000 Strong Youngsters Throng Streets of Atlanta on Way Back to Their Studies.

After three months of vacation pleasures, with no time to do the long day but romp and play, free from the duties of lesson study, the school children of Atlanta, nearly 26,000 strong, appeared at their respective school buildings Monday morning at 8 o'clock to begin their work for the year.

Big boys, little boys, small girls and large, busy and brown from their outdoor play of the summer months filled the streets early Monday morning as they set out from thousands of Atlanta homes for school. A number of them are beginning their last year in the schools of Atlanta and will next spring either go to work or take up a collegiate course, others will take up where they left off at the beginning of vacation time and still others are taking their first step into a school room. Their happy laughter and playful banter gave to the streets a pleasant atmosphere which has been missing for the past three months and which will gladden the hearts of the passerby for the nine months of the 1913-14 scholastic year just beginning.

No Classes on Monday.

For the first day no regular classes were held, the children being given their first instructions for the season and a slip on which was printed a list of books and other equipment needed. The different grades were organized, and, wherever possible, lessons were assigned in order that the regular work for the year which will be taken up this morning should not meet with unnecessary delay.

The principals of the various schools were in their offices by 8 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later more than 500 teachers were at their respective posts, ready to welcome the happy youngsters who began pouring in at 8:30 o'clock. The classes were quickly formed, and the preliminary work was well under way shortly after the children were seated. The giving out of book lists and lesson assignments was rushed through as speedily as possible, and in less than two hours the army of children were on their way to the shopping district to make their purchases.

The book stores of Atlanta were crowded to their utmost capacity by 10 o'clock to accommodate the thousands of children, who, accompanied by their guardians and parents, rushed upon them to buy text books. In spite of the fact that all of the stores had employed extra clerks in anticipation of the rush, hundreds of men, women and children were compelled to crowd around the doors of the shops and await their turns to squeeze in. No accurate figures could be obtained on the volume of business done by these stores Monday, but it is conservatively estimated to reach close to the figure of $100,000.

Hardest Worked Man in City.

Superintendent William M. Slaton and his assistants had another busy day Monday and it is safe to say that Mr. Slaton was the hardest worked man in Atlanta for the day at least. Hundreds and hundreds of unnecessary questions, some of them foolish, inquiries, are registered in the office every hour, and the greatest wonder of it all is how Mr. Slaton and his co-workers have managed to remain cool, tempered and calm under the strain. Every visitor of the office meets with the same old, unfailing courtesy and consideration as in the days when they are not so rushed, and whenever possible, Mr. Slaton personally receives the caller, no matter how trivial or immaterial the inquiry may be.

Owing to the fact that parents have delayed until the present time to secure the necessary entrance tickets for their children, the office in the Boys' High school building is besieged by hundreds of delinquent applicants every day, and by 10 o'clock Monday morning a line containing more than 150 persons had formed in front of the window, and was constantly increased during every hour of the day. This number was still further increased by a number of children who failed to meet the entrance requirements at the schools Monday morning and were sent back to secure the proper credentials.

20,000 School Children.

With the night schools and several of the graded schools not yet heard from (figures in the superintendent's office Monday showed that the total enrollment for the beginning of the year will reach close to the predicted 20,000. Of the reported schools, both for white and colored children, the total was 21,878, and it is expected that the remaining schools not yet heard from will add about 5,000. Of the number reported, 15,451 are enrolled in the schools for the white, and 6,217 are negroes. The number of white children and 268 negroes, a total of 371 children, for whom no seats could be found in the schools of their respective school districts.

Of this number, the districts, Pylewood, Georgia at Ebenezer Park, Edgewood and Highland avenue schools had the largest totals of pupils who could not be accommodated with seats. They will double up on the available seats for two days more, and will then be transferred to other schools where the accommodations are better. A meeting of the principals of all the schools has been called by Mr. Slaton for Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time the matter will be thoroughly gone into and proper provision made for all applicants by transferring them to some less congested school.

Superintendent Slaton Pleased.

Everything in connection with the schools, except in the matter of finding seats for all the children, passed off smoothly and without the slightest hitch, and Mr. Slaton expressed himself Monday night as being well pleased with the opening which he termed the most auspicious in the history of public schools in the city of Atlanta.

Girls' Night School Opens.

The girls' night school opened last night in the Steiner-Emery building with what is stated to be the largest attendance in the history of the institution. The girls and the teachers held a most enthusiastic session and the opening, according to Mrs. Oscar Gamble, the principal, is indicative of a very successful term for the scholastic year of 1913-14.

No regular classes were held for the first night, the girls being assigned to their various classes and given instruction as to what books and other equipment to purchase. The regular routine study for the year will be taken up tonight.

$500,000 TO BE PAID THE STATE SCHOOL TEACHERS

Twenty per cent, or about $500,000, of the school appropriation fund will be paid at once to the long suffering school teachers, according to announcement from Governor Slaton's office Monday.

The amount is now available from the corporation taxes now coming in and which will amount in the aggregate about $700,000.

The new payment to the teachers completes a total payment made within the last four weeks of $1,000,000, which is about half of the state school fund.

HAMILTON IS GRANTED NEW TRIAL BY EDWARDS

Jurors Swear Jury Room Was Entered While They Were Reaching Verdict.

Rome, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—Judge Price Edwards today granted a new trial in the case of Alford S. Hamilton convicted of embezzlement in September of 1912 in Chattooga superior court, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Great interest centers in the case and in the unusual grounds upon which the new trial was granted, as Hamilton, former president of Triana cotton mill, where the alleged embezzlements took place, is a member of one of Georgia's wealthiest and most prominent families.

The ground for the new trial was that G. J. Wilson, a white man acting as janitor of the courthouse at Chattooga county, after the jury had been out thirty hours, entered the jury room and stated that the judge would leave on the next southbound train and that "the jury would be held all next week if they did not make a verdict before that time." The verdict was brought in just before the southbound train arrived.

Wilson has died since the trial, but jurors and the constable in charge of them make affidavit that he made the statement, and three of the jurors swear they were influenced to agree in a verdict of guilty, believing the janitor's statement to have been authorized by the court.

In granting a new trial Judge Edwards says he used every endeavor to protect the jury from outside influences and declares that he will take up for future consideration "flagrant disregard of oath and of instructions by J. M. Jackson, bailiff in charge of the jury, who admitted the janitor to the room."

Judge Edwards presided at the original trial in place of Judge J. W. Madison, who was disqualified, and heard the motion for the new trial only last week, after a year had intervened. Hamilton is under bond of $10,000.

Burke Pleads Guilty.

Macon, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—Edward J. Burke, proprietor of a saloon on Hawthorne street, today entered a plea of guilty to violation of the prohibition law and was sentenced to serve twelve months or pay a fine of $300. He paid the fine. Council will revoke his license tomorrow night.

JUDGE ROAN URGED FOR NEW JUDGESHIP

Governor Slaton Tells Committee He Intends to Keep the Place Free of Politics.

A committee composed of many of the prominent members of the Atlanta Bar association called upon Governor Slaton at the state capitol Monday afternoon urging the appointment of Judge L. S. Roan to the fourth superior court judgeship, created by act of the last legislature for the Atlanta circuit.

Speaking in behalf of Judge Roan several of the city's best known attorneys declared him to be the man most fit for the position.

Eugene R. Black, chairman of the bar association committee, touched upon the "opposition to Judge Roan's appointment," and declared it to be based solely on the theory that Judge Roan was not an Atlanta man and that the members of the bar association who had signed a petition asking that Judge Roan be not named had signed it for that reason only.

In naming a man for the vacant judgeship the governor declared that he desired above all things to have a unanimity of action on the part of the Atlanta Bar association behind such an appointment.

"It would be humiliating," said the governor, "for such a judge to have to appear before the people declaring their votes against opposition. There has never been opposition to judges here and it should not begin now."

The governor thanked the committee for calling upon him and asked their further co-operation in the matter of filling the vacant bench.

ATLANTA DAY TO DRAW CROWD TO KNOXVILLE

Mayor Woodward has been informed through a letter from W. J. Fraser, formerly of Atlanta, but now of Knoxville, that Knoxville wants a strong representation from Atlanta on "Atlanta day" at the coming national conservation exposition there.

Mayor Woodward has written to Mr. Fraser that he approves of the idea and that he will take it up with the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the newspapers.

Mr. Fraser wants a squad from the fire department, another squad from the police department, city officials and a large delegation of citizens. The mayor believes that it would be a good idea to give Knoxville a real touch of "Atlanta spirit" by running a special train to the Tennessee city on "Atlanta day," if the people of Atlanta are agreeable to the scheme.

G. M. A. WILL OPEN FOR THE FALL TERM TODAY

The Georgia Military academy will open the fall term of its fourteenth year this morning. The last member of the faculty arrived Monday and Colonel J. C. Woodward, president, states that everything is in readiness for the opening, and that from all indications, the school will enjoy this term the most successful year in its history.

Students from nearly every state in the union and a considerable number from foreign countries are enrolled this year. A number of last year's star athletes are back for the fall term and the outlook for a winning eleven this fall is bright.

NOTICE TO OUT-OF-TOWN SUBSCRIBERS. The traveling representatives are C. G. BRADLEY and C. G. SMITH.

A WORD OF WARNING. The school boy remembers the mad orgy into which all England was plunged with the accession of the "Merry Monarch."

With the passing of Cromwell, the smashing reaction came. Vice and license were rampant, a pair of wild horses driven by no less a hand than that of the king himself.

The Constitution does not say Atlanta faces such a disaster. We believe not. At least we hope not.

At any rate, our correspondent is apprehensive that some day the pendulum of rigid Puritanic repression may swing backward.

It is wise to heed the warning while there is yet time. Atlanta has made wonderful progress in the checking of organized and recognized vice.

Then—Stop these foolish and frivolous arrests! Cease putting in jeopardy the names of virtuous girls and good women.

That revulsion may conceivably send the pendulum farther back than it has ever been in the history of Atlanta.

Go slow! Heed the warning signal! ATLANTA AND BASEBALL.

The whirlwind, whip and lash finish by which Atlanta won the baseball pennant of the Southern league is wholly typical of this city.

More than 40,000 Atlantans flocked to the games, the loss of any one of which would have changed the final result.

Atlanta seemed imbued with but one idea, and that was—"We've got a fighting chance to win that pennant. We're going to get that pennant."

And collectively and individually, they roared, "pulled," talked victory, claimed victory, worked like a mighty human avalanche to bring triumph to the home roost.

The result was inevitable. You can't beat the psychology of the crowd, especially when its psychology is absorbed in a good clean fight with a riveted determination to win.

The same spirit has won many a civic triumph for Atlanta. It boosted the home team through discouragement, spurred its members to a task that seemed insuperable and brought them up the hill to a victory probably unequalled in the baseball chronicles of the south.

For Manager "Billy" Smith and his men it is needless to say much in praise in behalf of the city. They have already been tendered substantial tokens of the sentiment in which they are held. The players fought tenaciously against desperate odds. They have brought not only the pride of victory but the benefit of pleasure to the whole city.

The players fought tenaciously against desperate odds. They have brought not only the pride of victory but the benefit of pleasure to the whole city.

A pleasant fall and winter to them, with the hope that the no less than thrilling experiences of the summer just past will be repeated by the season of 1914.

ALL--OR NONE! W. S. Witham, the Atlanta capitalist and banker, is not a man who leans to the immoral side of any movement.

And yet, in another column, Mr. Witham makes strong protest in a letter to Senator Smith against the proposed Clark amendment taxing transactions in cotton futures 50c a bale.

Since Mr. Witham's letter was written, action taken by the senate democrats makes it probable that the question of the amendment will be postponed a year.

Deferring the time of the amendment's operation is, of course, a recognition that there are features fundamentally unjust and unwise in the measure.

But that is not enough. If hedging in cotton is immoral, then hedging in wheat and corn and stocks is immoral.

To make cotton the "goat" while crops of hardly its importance go free is flagrant and indefensible discrimination.

Wipe the entire thing out of the tariff law, or stop preaching cant about the immorality of hedging cotton, while hedging in all the other staple crops goes on unimpeded.

GET THE AGONY OVER. From the standpoint of political strategy alone, President Wilson is to be commended for exerting every influence to have the cardinal principles of the party's program enacted by the close of the regular December session.

Announcement now comes that, with hope of disposing of the currency at the special session, the trust and railroad problems will be pushed to completion at the December session.

Well and good! It is now a relatively short time only before the democratic party will have again to go before the nation. It can afford to have no pledges unfulfilled.

It can afford to have no legislation still in the experimental stage, with a sore and resentful country ready to smile the first democratic head it sees.

It can not, above all, afford to jeopardize its slender hold on the senate or in the house.

For the good of the nation and the party, the Constitution fervently hopes that moderation will prevail, that there will be a minimum of demagoguery, and that what ever surgery is to be performed will be done at once and not piecemeal.

There is no doubt whatever that America has had a surfeit of crude and hilly digested legislation. There is no doubt that all business, of any nature whatever, is suffering therefrom, from uncertainty, and here and there from what seems like political or popular baiting.

Certain definite promises the party must redeem or go into the discard. But in the process of redeeming these promises it must display discretion. It cannot afford to be merely partisan jockeying for narrow party advantage.

That way lies an invitation to the fate of the G. O. P. It must be national, statesmanlike, remembering that by a verdict not approximated in years its mandate is a non-geographical and non-political one.

Set the committee to work. By the time the regular session convenes, all preliminary matters should have been cleared off the decks. The legislation pertaining to trusts and railroads should be put through with little wind-jamming, no delays and absolute sincerity.

We need decided changes and improvements. But there is danger that reckless zeal may dose the patient to death. That is now the most imminent peril that awaits the democracy.

If all the candidates for office would do one day's work a year for good roads we'd forgive 'em for the noise they make going over them.

In that poker game in Canada Jerome was pennywise and pound foolish. Poets who regret the departure of summer should remember that they were reading their poems to her.

Just From Georgia

A Dream of Old Joys. Love is lost and love is won. Easy reads the riddle. Story all must learn. my son—

Hand me my old fiddle; I'll revive the old-time joys. For the halting, gray-haired coys.

Here's a tune they used to know. Never failed to win them. Dancing with their sweet-hearts so.

When new life was in them! Sure they'll have a whirl tonight. When old sweethearts come in sight?

Gray grandmothers now, they smile. On the days grown older. Only seems a little while. Since their hair was golden.

Unto all their time and chance. Time flies faster when we dance. Can't they answer to a tune. Of the far-away-time.

Dream about a lover's moon. And a rose in Maytime? Young Love vowed the dreams would stay. Did they melt to mist away?

Pat the useless fiddle by! Not a rose adorning. Lives where life is but a sigh. For a vanished morning.

In a far and fairer day. They have danced Love's dreams away!

Rough on the Judge. After court, the other day, the old Colonel told this one to me.

"A young negro boy was convicted for a crime that meant several years in the penitentiary. The judge however reserved his decision until the following Monday."

"The boy's father, an old man, called upon the judge to plead a light sentence for his son."

"After the conference the old man's employer asked him if he thought the judge would mitigate the sentence."

"How do you know?" "Did he look sorry?" "Look sorry? Boss, did I ever see the sorriest lookin' white man I judge was!"

The Dixie Joy-Train. Country's smilin' so beautiful! Here's the Joy-train! Fellers pile in! Good times, Glad chimes, From all the bells in Dixie!

Merry sound of the music ringin! Sets all hearts in Dixie singin! Great days, And ways, That lead to light in Dixie!

Fortune now round flagpole rallies, Gleam o' gold in the hills and valleys, Good times, Glad chimes, From all the bells in Dixie!

The Youngster's Comment. The Indianapolis News says a veteran talking to his great-grandson, a lad of 8 years, remarked:

"Nearly a generation and a half ago my head was grazed by a bullet at the battle of Chickamauga."

The little boy looked at the old man's head thoughtfully and said: "There isn't much crazing there now, is there, sir?"

Fatal Fortune. Commenting on the statement of a Washington correspondent that a large number of people in that city would find it difficult to live on $12,000 a year, George Bailey says:

"We are one of them. If an income like that were to strike us, we should probably drop dead."

To the Dollar. While listening at the office door for the ring of the dollar Editor Russell, of the Cedarhurst Standard, nailed this song of welcome to the wall.

A Story of the Moment

TO BAFFLE BORROWERS. "My new neighbor and his wife are the worst borrowers I ever saw," complained the petty merchant.

"They have no conscience at all. They come running over at all hours, wanting to borrow this, that and the other thing. I've handed them some pretty strong hints, but they didn't do any good, and I suppose I'll have to appeal to the governor to put out the word."

"Hints don't do a doggone bit of good in such a case," said the hotelkeeper. "The man who has gall enough to borrow from his neighbors all the time isn't going to pay phrased with an any more."

You have to take drastic measures at the start, and the more drastic they are the better, so that you remain within the law.

"I've taken possession of this hotel I was living out of on back streets, and a nefarious individual named Swankerson moved into the house next door. That man was just a natural born borrower. He couldn't see a thing without wanting to borrow it."

Swankerson kept chasing over at all hours, and place borrowing our chairs and our bird dogs and our flatirons and everything that wasn't bolted down. He always wanted things for fifteen or twenty minutes, and then he'd keep them six months, or until I went after them and he always busted everything he borrowed. He ruined most of my tools and implements, and still he kept on borrowing, and I saw that something would have to be done.

So I had him a million times that I was tired of running a free loan office for his benefit, and once or twice I resorted to plain Anglo-Saxon and told him my private sentiments in language which should have crinkled his whiskers, but he'd just smile in a sad, put-on way, and say he was used to being misunderstood, and that his motives were pure and holy. Then he'd ask if he couldn't borrow my cistern for eighteen minutes, and before I could say 'No' he'd have carried it out of the ground, and would be climbing the roof of his house and pulling a flag of truce to the chimney."

"This affair seemed good, and I put it into effect at once. I went right over to Swankerson and borrowed his razor and used it to cut a hole through a stove pipe, and when I took it back you couldn't tell which was the edge and which was the back. Swankerson looked as though he was going to burst into tears, but before he could say a word I announced that I was borrowing his horse and buggy for the rest of the day. He started to explain that he was going to use the outfit himself, but I got action on his larynx, and when he saw that I was backing the horse into the shafts."

"He began making a kick, but I could talk loud and clear, and I told him there was nothing he could do. I told him what we were here for, doggone it! If it isn't to help one another." And I kept on shooting that brand of logic into him until I had the horse hitched up and then went into two hemlockers, and Bridgeport manufactures typewriters, phonographs and sewing machines. Bridgeport would be a prettier city if its factories hadn't grown over some of its fine old buildings and wiped out the habits of some of its first families, but it would not be nearly as impressive in the census returns.

Bridgeport is situated at the bottom of Connecticut on Long Island Sound. It has one railroad, the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and it is a great general and wholesale market for the surrounding country. It is a city of 100,000 people, and it is one of the most important cities in the New England section of the United States.

The World's Mysteries

WAS COLUMBUS A SPANIARD? In Italy to be once more humiliated and in the link that has bound this country to the Italian nation as having produced our discoverer about to be severed? It seems almost incredible that they are attempting to deprive Italy of one more of her glories—that of the greatest of all navigators. But new documents, that have lately been brought to light and upon which scholars have been working, would go to show, at least so they affirm, that Columbus was an Italian, born that his birthplace was not Genoa, but instead that he was a Spaniard, and that he was a Hebrew.

All this information is about to be brought out in a brochure shortly to be published by Enrique Maria de Arribas Turul, who is a Spaniard historian of considerable reputation and an expert on ancient manuscripts. The Spanish historian asserts that in his unearched document he had discovered that a co-partnership existed between the families of Colon and Fontsera purveyors to the Archbishop of Santiago, whose court they supplied with fish.

But of what significance is this? Christoforo Colombo was the name of the Spaniard in the Spanish for Christopher Colon. The Spaniard for Columbus. Christoforo Colombo was the discoverer of America, he stated, and not Christopher Columbus. It was this name that Columbus himself used if he was an Italian why did he use the Spanish form of his name exclusively? Every one of his documents is signed Christoforo Colon, in his own handwriting. To this day his descendants bear the title "Marquise Colon, Duke of Veragua."

Why, if his real name was Columbus or Colombo, did he himself and his family suppress it, not only in all his public documents, but also the family coat of arms? Historian Turul believes he will be able to prove to the satisfaction of the public in the evidence he is soon to submit that Columbus or Colon was born in the Spanish town of Pontevedra, instead of in Genoa. In Pontevedra his people were so well known that their name occurs no less than eighteen times between 1413 and 1628 in documents relating to taxes, commercial enterprises and public services.

To return to the subject of the Colon and Fontsera co-partnership, it will be remembered that Fontsera was the family name of the mother of Columbus, and it was a natural custom of the Hebrews of those days to cement their industrial partnerships by intermarriage.

But the question naturally arises, why did Columbus claim Genoa as his birthplace? Turul answers this as follows: "First, because then, as now, the prophet had little credit in his own country, and again, because the discoverer was of Hebrew descent, both on his father's and his mother's side. Documents exist showing that as late as 1480 Andreas Colon, his wife and mother-in-law were sentenced to the stake and executed at Tarragona because they were suspected of Hebrew sympathies."

Another fact that would almost conclusively prove that Columbus or Colon was of Hebrew extraction is that the Pontevedra documents give the names of the relatives of his mother as Abraham, Alcazar Jacobo, Benjamin, etc., while the mother's own name, Suzanna, was regarded as exclusively and comprehensively Hebrew.

And further, Colon's letters prove that he had strong private leanings toward his former co-religionists, for among his correspondents were the philanthropist, Luis de Santangel, Bocher, the merchant prince, and Levy, the physician, all three Hebrews, but so eminent and so highly esteemed that the Inquisition dared not touch them.

"The difference in religion between the ruling house of Spain and the family of Colon was such that the Spanish king and queen would hardly have dared to assist a Hebrew to prove that the Bible geography was radically wrong," says Turul, and it is more than likely that Christoforo Colon would have perished at the stake like his cousin, Andreas Colon—for they were cousins.

The proofs of Turul will be awaited with interest, and if they are sustained along with the deductions he has already made it is going to bring out a very interesting discussion among scholars as to whether Columbus was or was not a Spaniard and a Hebrew.

FRIVOLOUS POLICE ARRESTS AND THE SURE REACTION

Editor Constitution A timely editorial would be relative to the horrible crimes committed the other evening on the capitol steps and how the "ever-watchful and wonderful detective force of the city was able to arrest the guilty" ones and even though they were found not guilty it demonstrates that the Atlanta police force never lets the opportunity go by without arresting someone, except it be in a murder case, or where a real crime was committed.

The pendulum must swing back some time soon and while it is to be hoped Atlanta will not be too wide open let us trust that the police force will consist of real men with brains and that the chief of the force will be able to distinguish what constitutes a real crime and issue instructions accordingly.

To be incarcerated over night must have been a glorious incident in the life of a young girl who did no wrong and it is to be regretted that the item had to be given so much prominence. Let us all hope that no sister of ours will ever have a like experience.

I am not acquainted with any of the people concerned. Only a broad-minded and fair TRAVELING MAN. Atlanta, Ga.

WITHAM PROTESTS THE TAX UPON COTTON HEDGING PRACTICE

W. S. Witham, Atlanta capitalist and creator and president of the chain of Witham banks in Georgia, has written a strong letter to Senator Smith protesting against the proposed tax of 50 cents a bale upon hedging transactions in cotton. He says: "The price of cotton in country towns broke nearly $3 per bale today, the cause of which appears to be due to action of the caucus on the Clark amendment. The people express regrets that this action was not deferred until after the greater part of this crop has been sold. There seems to be no particular objection to the law, but inopportune just as we are harvesting a great crop and the prosperity of the cotton states depending upon it. Great as the price they receive, I just want to give you this report of widespread adverse criticism along this line."

Success Already Achieved.

(From The New York Times.) With the waters of the two oceans now flowing to the locks supporting the higher level of the Panama canal, and with the Gatun lake rapidly rising the completion of an undertaking so colossal that in the beginning it seemed almost hopeless comes into plain sight. And what the American engineers, mechanical and sanitary have accomplished is no less magnificent than the manner of their achievement, for ever since the original mistakes in method and management were corrected the work has gone forward with not less smoothness than efficiency.

It is this that has won for the United States from observant foreigners the sort of self respect they have hitherto been inclined to withhold. They have not waited for the opening of the canal to call it a success, for they have seen the qualities and the potentialities revealed while its building went on, and those of us who visited the lands and islands around the Caribbean in other days know, if we have been there lately, with what a different tone and inflection the word "American" is now spoken all through that region.

There have been some unhappy jealousies among the canal heads, but there have been no scandals, and even the jealousies can safely enough be ascribed to the irritation and weariness produced by a terrible climate in which a white man who would not can long keep his temper in constant control.

The Far Call. (From The Houston Post.) The Galway roads are calling, calling to the Galway-born. They can see the dew-wet hedges shining jeweled in the morn. They can hear the heart-horn laughter of each child-known gussoon. And o' nights they hear the fiddles in a well remembered tune, And the Galway voices call them where the Galway children play, And their hearts turn back to Galway—Aye, from half the world away! And the Devon roads are calling, calling to the Devon-born. They can smell the English roses in the sweetness of the morn, They can see the white winged fishers homing when the day is done, On a sea all crimson glory from the setting Devon sun, And the blue-eyed Devon lassies call them from the long ago, And their hearts are sick for Devon when the sun is red and low, And the Scottish hills are calling—call the Scottish banks and braes; And the Holland dikes and lowlands, and call loud Italian ways, From wherever men with children, North or South or East or West, Comes the call to those who've wandered when their faltering limbs would rest, It is not the home ways calling when the evening sun sinks low, It is lost youth calling, calling; but they never seem to know. —JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Her Marriage Portion. In Germany, when Frau Becker, a menagerie proprietor, was married to Herr Schneider, she took to him as dowry an elephant, a lion, and several other wild animals, to form the nucleus of a rival show.

Old "Rules of Civility." If the seventeenth century Englishman failed in his manners it was not for want of instruction. The Rules of Civility, a book published in 1675, contains the following hints on good behavior: "Being in discourse with a man, 'tis no less than ridiculous to pull him by the Buttons, to play with the Bandstingers, Belt or Clasp, or to punch him now and then on the Stomach; 'tis a pleasant sight and well worthy of laughter, to see him that is so punctured, fall back, and retire 'whilst the other, insensible of his absurdity pursues and presses him into some corner where he is at last glad to cry quarter, before his comrade perceives he is in danger." And again: "It argues neglect, and to undervalue a man, to sleep when he is discoursing or reading; therefore, good manners command it to be forth, besides, something there may happen in the act that may offend, as snoring, sweating, spitting or dribbling."

To Prison in a Touring Car. All offenders whom it becomes desirable to detain for a greater or less period in the new Bordeaux jail, near Montreal, are taken to their temporary dwelling place in a touring car, which traverses a beautiful route, alongside a river, and with serene and uplifting scenery in the distance and at hand.

THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER. After court, the other day, the old Colonel told this one to me.

"A young negro boy was convicted for a crime that meant several years in the penitentiary. The judge however reserved his decision until the following Monday."

"The boy's father, an old man, called upon the judge to plead a light sentence for his son."

"After the conference the old man's employer asked him if he thought the judge would mitigate the sentence."

"How do you know?" "Did he look sorry?" "Look sorry? Boss, did I ever see the sorriest lookin' white man I judge was!"

The Dixie Joy-Train. Country's smilin' so beautiful! Here's the Joy-train! Fellers pile in! Good times, Glad chimes, From all the bells in Dixie!

Merry sound of the music ringin! Sets all hearts in Dixie singin! Great days, And ways, That lead to light in Dixie!

Fortune now round flagpole rallies, Gleam o' gold in the hills and valleys, Good times, Glad chimes, From all the bells in Dixie!

The Youngster's Comment. The Indianapolis News says a veteran talking to his great-grandson, a lad of 8 years, remarked:

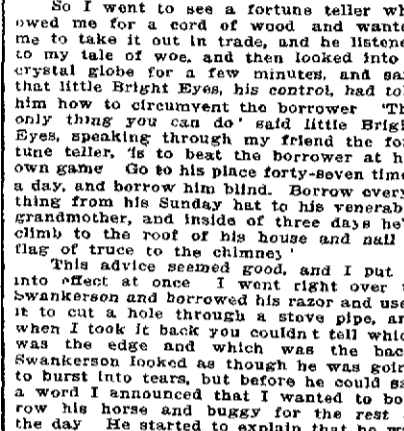

"Nearly a generation and a half ago my head was grazed by a bullet at the battle of Chickamauga."

The little boy looked at the old man's head thoughtfully and said: "There isn't much crazing there now, is there, sir?"

Fatal Fortune. Commenting on the statement of a Washington correspondent that a large number of people in that city would find it difficult to live on $12,000 a year, George Bailey says:

"We are one of them. If an income like that were to strike us, we should probably drop dead."

To the Dollar. While listening at the office door for the ring of the dollar Editor Russell, of the Cedarhurst Standard, nailed this song of welcome to the wall.

9 MILES TO PEQUONNOCK. "This situated its growth for many years," houses in the cold season are densely populated with acrobats, circussian beauties, talented men, fat ladies and children.

Bridgeport's greatest citizen was Elias Howe, who pottered around in a garret until he invented the sewing machine and started the city on its industrious career. Inventing was the great feat of the early Connecticut statesman, and the city in that state which kept its Yankee at home became inevitably great.

Bridgeport, Conn. By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Swank."

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.) Bridgeport, Conn., was one of the last cities to get under the wire before the 1900 class closed in the census of 1910. It showed 102,000 inhabitants and members of the Commercial club still shudder when they think what might have happened if the old $200 had bought tickets to Hartford instead.

Few Americans visit Bridgeport in cold blood, but extracts from the city can be found in every American home. Bridgeport's sobby manufacturing industry and its chief monuments are factory chimneys and its factory whistles at noon sound like a giant callopie. If all the corsets made in Bridgeport were put together they would squeeze the United States into two hemlockers.

Bridgeport manufactures typewriters, phonographs and sewing machines. Bridgeport would be a prettier city if its factories hadn't grown over some of its fine old buildings and wiped out the habits of some of its first families, but it would not be nearly as impressive in the census returns.

Bridgeport is situated at the bottom of Connecticut on Long Island Sound. It has one railroad, the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and it is a great general and wholesale market for the surrounding country. It is a city of 100,000 people, and it is one of the most important cities in the New England section of the United States.

ALLEGED SWINDLER CAUGHT BY PINKERTON

Hugh W. Timothy, Medical Student, Is Charged With Postal Frauds.

Harry Scott, of the Pinkertons, was shadowing Hugh W. Timothy, a young medical student, yesterday morning as Timothy went into the Central Bank and Trust Corporation in the Candier building. Timothy was suspected of fraudulent operations through the mails, and Scott's agency had been employed in the case.

The youth walked into the building through the Peachtree street entrance. The detective waited outside. Presently, Timothy dashed wildly through the doorway, followed by the assistant cashier, James King. King was hatless and coatless and was crying.

"Stop him!"

The fleeing student ran directly into Scott's arms. Scott held him, announcing that he was under arrest. After which, the cashier and detective carried the prisoner to the postoffice inspector's office in the federal building.

Timothy, government officials say, has been operating a scheme through the mails through which applicants for Pullman porter service have been swindled all over the state. Advertisements recently appeared in newspapers announcing that aspirants for Pullman service could be taught for the nominal sum of $5, and that if their applications did not pass the government board of examiners, the money would be returned.

Timothy used the name of Polet, victims, it is said, numbered 250. Most of Timothy's money orders and checks were cashed in the Candier building bank. Pinkerton men notified officials of the bank to apprehend Timothy, and, Monday morning when he stepped in to cash a check of $15, Cashier King told him that he was wanted by government authorities.

The chase resulted Timothy was investigated before Commissioner Colquitt Monday afternoon and ordered held for further investigation.

SKIMPY DRESSES AND PAINTED FACES ARE RAPPED BY PREACHER

Macon, Ga., September 8.—(Special) Dr. W. Ainsworth, in an attack on the manners and morals of the modern womanhood, Sunday, at the Mulberry Street Methodist church, declared that women can be seen on the streets of Macon any day with dresses of such vulgar display as to demand the interference of the police in the interest of public morals.

He declared that only a few days ago a young woman accosted him on the street and placed him in a very embarrassing position.

"The young woman was of good family and noble name," said Dr. Ainsworth. "I knew her, but her skimpy dress and painted cheeks gave her the marks of a harlot, and I trembled for my good name among passers-by who might not know my identity."

The same immodesty is seen in the modern dances, declared Dr. Ainsworth. "Recently a stranger went to the Loo Cabin club, and from the veranda witnessed the midnight orgies," he declared, "and, turning to her companion, declared: 'If these are the best people of the city, I pity the worst.'"

The turkey trot, bunny hug and kitchen sink, the pastor characterized as an extreme of suggestion and indecency.

BLACK HOLE OF TEXAS FATAL TO 8 PRISONERS

Negro Convicts, Put in Hole on Hottest Day of Year, Quickly Die.

Richmond, Texas, September 8.—The suffocation of eight negro convicts in an unventilated cell in the state prison farm Sunday night today aroused an investigation headed by the governor of Texas. The attorney general's department, the prison commission and local police authorities.

Twelve convicts in a punishment cell in the prison were locked in the cell over the Saturday. Its dimensions are about nine feet by seven and seven feet high. Its roof is double with air holes placed so that no two shall be opposite each other, in order not to admit light. There are six of these roof arches and four in the floor, and by pipes.

At 10 o'clock Saturday night according to the blackly manager of the prison term here, the convicts in the dark cell started for water and a bucket fell as they passed into them, but after that nothing more was heard from them. Reports are conflicting as to whether there was a struggle in the cell.

Wednesday has been set for the hearing of these guards arrested in connection with the inquisition. C. A. Sweeton, assistant attorney general arrived here today to investigate personally for his department.

The four survivors today told Police Commissioner and the state prison commissioners they yelled repeatedly during the night.

"Men are dying in here!"

The guards replied they asserted you will all wish you were dead if you don't make less noise."

Justice Peen, examining the "dark cell" today, found only three air holes in the floor, each about the size of a quarter. The fourth hole was stopped up. The fourth survivor had slipped and burst a bucket full of water into them, but after that nothing more was heard from them.

COUNTY POLICE PUZZLED BY MYSTERIOUS FIRES

Officers Suspect Firebug Was at Work Last Night Near Center Hill.

Two mysterious fires of unknown origin and within half an hour of each other were found on the home place of Henry Ham, a real estate man living near Center Hill, last night, and the county police were called in to find a possible firebug.

The first blaze broke out about 3 o'clock in Mr. Ham's barn and neighbors aided him in extinguishing the flames. Hardly had the crowd which the flames attracted left when the biggy house some few yards distant was seen in flames.

Except for tracks leading from the place the county police who were detailed to investigate the affair have no clue to the person who set it on fire and Mr. Ham declared to them that he knew of no one who would attempt to burn his property. The double fire caused a gradual decrease in the place for a while and was not quelled until the arrival of officers.

TIVERTON "METEOR" PROVES TO BE FAKE

Tiverton, R. I., September 8.—The Tiverton meteor of August 27 was today removed from the realm of natural phenomena by two young men who confessed to the police that the supposed celestial body was composed of sixty pounds of dynamite and a quantity of copper slag.

The "meteor" which was reported to have fallen in the Seacoast river was accompanied by a blinding light and a deafening crash. Two fishermen later found in their nets a heavy piece of metal, which was declared to be the fallen "meteor."

The fishermen put their find on exhibition and did a profitable business until a Brown university geologist pronounced the "meteor" nothing but copper slag, found in quantities near a local manufacturing plant.

The police closed the exhibition and began an investigation which resulted in the confession of two young men that, with some companions, they had taken the dynamite and exploded it behind Gould's Island in order to cause a sensation.

NO "STOOL PIGEONS" AND NO DICTAGRAPH IF MAYOR HAS WAY

Mayor Woodward has declined to sign two vouchers from Newport A. Lanford, chief of city detectives, one of which is to defray the expenses of the use of a dictagraph upon Attorney Thomas B. Feider several months ago, and the other for the payment of "stool pigeons," and these vouchers have been returned to Chief Lanford by the city comptroller's office.

The voucher for the dictagraph called for $13.75. This, the mayor declared to be an outrageous piece of work for which he was unwilling to spend the city's money.

The "stool pigeon" voucher was for $24.75. The mayor is opposed to the use of "stool pigeons" by the detective department both as being illegal and as a matter of principle. The comptroller's office suggested that Chief Lanford get a ruling from the city attorney upon the legality of the payment of "stool pigeons."

PEACHTREE CREEK WORK BEGINS ON WEDNESDAY

The work of clearing out the bed of Peachtree creek to protect the new disposal plant from damage by an overflow did not get under way Monday morning, as Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of the construction department, had planned, but is expected to begin on Tuesday or Wednesday. The delay occurred on account of failure to get material and equipment with which to do the work.

The new plant at Peachtree creek, however, was put into actual operation for the first time on Monday morning. This was done for the purpose of a preliminary test.

This plant will receive the sewerage of several of the north side trunk line sewers, including the Butler street and Highland avenue sewers.

RETURN TO PALESTINE, BRANDEIS URGES JEWS

Vionna, September 8.—The Zionist congress was chiefly occupied today discussing the committee's report on the work accomplished in Palestine during the last two years.

A letter was read from Lewis D. Brandeis, of Boston, suggesting that the congress devote its energies to the work along these lines.

First, an endeavor to divert Jewish emigration to Palestine, second, negotiations with the Turkish government for large concessions, third, an endeavor to interest capital in the creation of industries in Palestine.

Mr. Brandeis expressed the belief that large sums could be raised in America to carry out the project, which statement evoked great enthusiasm.

TROUBLE IS BREWING FOR MRS. PANKHURST

Washington, September 8.—Before Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the British militant suffragists, can be admitted to the United States in October, the immigration authorities will decide whether any of the acts for which she has been imprisoned in England constitute moral turpitude and make her an undesirable alien.

She will be detained at whatever port she lands, but whether eventually she be permitted to enter cannot be foretold. To the immigration authorities Mrs. Pankhurst's visit presents at this time purely a hypothetical question and they decline to pass upon it in advance.

Get a blank book and keep some kind of a household account and see that one column in it is set aside for a savings account. Look upon savings as insurance against future needs. Regard it as a debt which must be paid. If your income increases, your savings will also increase.

FRANK JURY BIASED, CLAIMS THE DEFENSE

Sensational Charge Against One of Jurors May Be Made by Prisoner's Attorneys.

While the attorneys for Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil factory, who is sentenced to hang October 10 for the murder of Little Mary Phagan, a 14-year-old employee, are keeping quiet about their efforts to secure a new trial, it has been known for some time that they claim that the jury which convicted Frank was biased.

It was alleged that the attorneys for the defense will introduce an affidavit which purports to show that one of the jurors, when he learned that he was one of the 14 men on the venire, declared that he would sit out until Christmas before he would turn Frank loose.

Other claims will be made by the defense, among which will be charges that the verdict was not supported by the evidence, and that the jury was influenced by the spectators, who, several times, showed their approval of Solicitor Hugh Dorsey's fight to convict the prisoner.

Brought to Speak. Dr. Len C. Broughton will speak at the Baptist Tabernacle Sunday school next Sunday at 9.30 o'clock.

WHITE WOMEN'S APPEALS MAY SAVE NEGRO'S LIFE

Governor Slaton will probably commute the death sentence of Lige Lane, a negro of Clinch county, sentenced to death on Wednesday for criminal assault, to life imprisonment, following many appeals by telegram and letter from white women living in the negro's neighborhood. It is claimed the evidence was insufficient.

The governor also announced that he would not interfere further with the law's mandate dealing death to Will Varner, the Newton county negro, who will be hanged September 26. The negro has already had a respite.

WILL REAR MONUMENT TO LITTLE MARY PHAGAN

Atlanta lodge No. 720, Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, headed by J. M. Burton, secretary, has inaugurated a movement to erect a monument to the memory of Mary Phagan who was slain in the National Pencil factory and for whose murder Leo M. Frank has been sentenced to hang.

Resolutions passed by the trainmen order set forth that the type of womanhood represented by the slain girl, weak in physical strength and bowed down by the weight of poverty, barred from opportunity and pleasure, holds the priceless jewel of virtue at the stake of her life and, that in memorial to her death, a befitting tribute should be erected.

AMERICAN ANNUITY CO. ORDERED LIQUIDATED

Through what was practically a consent order, Judge George L. Bell directed yesterday the liquidation of the affairs of the American Annuity company, which has assets of about $14,000 and liabilities in excess of that amount.

The company has been in the hands of the state insurance department since July 17, when Judge W. D. Ellis ordered Comptroller General Wright to take charge of it. General Wright is now working out a plan to re-insure the policyholders and thus protect as far as possible the insurance they carry in the company.

Jewish Publication Will Make Headquarters Here

Albert Herskowitz, Editor of The American Jewish Review, Receives Cordial Welcome From Atlantans.

ALBERT HERSHOWITZ.

Albert Herskowitz, editor of The American Jewish Review and a prominent member of the Oklahoma bar, arrived in Atlanta last week, and of considerable interest throughout the Jewish homes of the south is the announcement that he is establishing in Atlanta the headquarters of his publication devoted to Jewish interests of national scope.

A cordial welcome has been extended Mr. Herskowitz by many representative Atlantans who bespeak the co-operation and endorsement of the Associated Jewish Charities, the Jewish Educational Alliance, the B'nai B'rith, the Hebrew Orphans' home and other Jewish activities.

"An active, live Jewish publication, properly handled, will, I believe, be of value to the community and the south at large," said Victor H. Krieshaber, vice president of the chamber of commerce and president of the Jewish Educational Alliance.

Will Be Credited to Atlantans. "Albert Herskowitz will do credit to Atlanta as one of the pioneers of Jewish journalism and as an Atlanta booster. We anticipate with pleasure the next number of The Jewish Review, which will appear in October, and will be published in Atlanta," said Ralph Sonn, superintendent of the Hebrew Orphans' home.

"I have elected Atlanta for my national headquarters," said Mr. Herskowitz, "because of its splendid central location, especially for south-eastern circulation and because of the progressive, industrial and social activity of its people."

"Our paper is designed as a medium for the dissemination of Jewish thoughts and the perpetuation of Jewish ideals," he said. Reference to the files of previous issues shows The Jewish Review to be a monthly survey of Jewish events and accomplishments in a short and concise manner, so that busy men may, by hasty perusal, cull from its pages the leading thoughts of the hour, and the solution of Jewish problems.

Mr. Herskowitz comes with a feeling of confidence that Atlanta will cooperate in his enterprise. One of his first moves will be to identify himself with the Ad Men's club, of which he is an active member in Oklahoma.

Representative in Oklahoma. A representative of the paper will be continued at Oklahoma City to care for the business interests of the publication in that section. The American Jewish Review has an extensive circulation in the southwest, nearly every Hebrew in Oklahoma being a subscriber. There has been a demand for The Review all over the United States, and its editor feels confident that the Jewish publication will attain a circulation and reputation that will be a credit to the race.

Many leading men of Atlanta have endorsed the enterprise.

Mr. Herskowitz, accompanied by his beautiful and charming wife is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Krieshaber, of Inman Park. He plans to make Atlanta his home, and is assured a warm reception by his many friends and admirers who have read and heard of his publication, and his work as secretary of the Oklahoma I. O. O. B.

DOUGHERTY COUNTY NEGRESS DIES IN HER 127TH YEAR

Albany, Ga., September 8.—(Special.) One of the oldest persons in the United States, and probably the oldest in this state, died last night on the Johnson home place, 7 miles east of Albany, when Callie Trowell, a negro woman who had reached the allotted three-score years and ten when the civil war was closed, succumbed to the infirmities of her great age.

She was, according to records which are generally regarded as authentic, 127 years old.

She had been unable to get out of the house in which she lived for nearly twenty years, though retaining most of her faculties, except sight. She was an old woman when the older residents of this county were young, and incidents of her early life which she relates seem to clearly establish the fact that her age is as claimed.

Her funeral was largely attended by the colored population of the county.

ATHLETE KILLS GIRL AND TAKES OWN LIFE

Salem, Ohio, September 8.—The body of Ida Lee, 18 years old, a high school girl, was found in a grove north of here today with a bullet hole through her head. She had been missing since Saturday, when she went mushroom hunting with Oscar Gray, also 18 years old.

The body of Oscar Gray was found this afternoon about a mile from the girl's corpse. He had shot himself through the head.

Gray was a high school student and leading athlete. When the couple did not return home Saturday evening an elopement was suspected. Then Jesse Gray, the boy's father, found that his revolver was missing. Alarmed, he notified the parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, and a search was instituted.

Mrs. Theda Allen, the boy's grandmother, living at Patmos, six miles distant, said he appeared at her home Saturday morning, greatly excited and then disappeared in the woods.

SMOKED PREACHERS SCORED BY BISHOP HOSS

St. Charles, Mo., September 8.—Bishop E. E. Hoss, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, urged ministers attending the Missouri conference of that church here today to refrain from tobacco and characterized total abstinence from the weed as one of the distinguishing marks of a gentleman. While he was speaking several preachers were smoking on the lawn in front of the church.

The bishop asked those who attend the general conference in Oklahoma City next year especially to refrain from smoking. He then asked for a vote endorsing his views as to the general conference, but several ministers voted "no."

The bishop then told a story to illustrate how some people smoke on the sly and he got a unanimous vote endorsing his views.

DUBLIN WOMAN KILLED WHEN HIT BY TRAIN

Returning From Entering Her Child in School, Mrs. Bowers Meets Instant Death.

Dublin, Ga., September 8.—(Special.) On her way home after entering her 6-year-old daughter, Eunice, in school here this morning, Mrs. G. N. Bowers, wife of Engineer Bowers, of the Occanee River Cotton mills, was struck by a switch engine and fiat car at a railroad crossing in the city and killed instantly. The blow from the car breaking her neck her right leg near the ankle and making a flesh wound in her left arm.

Why she got in the way of the train is a mystery. The engine was pushing a fiat car out to the cotton mills and approached the crossing ringing the bell, as claimed by the yard crew of the M. & E., on which road the accident happened. There is a clear view of the track from the crossing for a long distance each way and just as the train neared the crossing Engineer Rease saw Mrs. Bowers step on the track just a few feet from the approaching train.

Letters to Her From Judge Godbee May Be Introduced—She Will Claim Justification.

Millen, Ga., September 8.—(Special.) The trial of Mrs. Edna M. Godbee, charged with the killing of her divorced husband, Judge W. S. Godbee, and his young bride, will begin in Jenkins superior court here Wednesday morning.

It is said that Mrs. Godbee's defense will be that the killing of the young woman was accidental, and that she was justified in taking the life of her former husband. It is also rumored that letters written by Judge Godbee to his former wife will be introduced in the trial in support of this claim. The letters are now in the hands of the defendant's attorneys, who claim that they will be able to prove conclusively a motive that makes her act justified.

CONFESSES TO KILLING OF NEGRO AT CUTHBERT

Cuthbert, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—L. Council Clark has confessed to the killing of the negro, Arthur Brown, whose body was found Friday night at the corner of the Cuthbert Grocery building on Depot street.

Friday night was dark and rainy. About 8.30 a negro stumbled over the body of Arthur Brown, a negro boy who drove a hack, which was standing nearby. The negro was dead, with a hole clear through the heart.

No one had heard a shot, or any fuss of any kind and the authorities thought it would go as an unsolved mystery. From the lack of clues Mr. Clark, however, has come up and told them that he killed him, unintentionally, no reason being assigned.

DICK JEMISON

Tickets Are Now on Sale For Crackers' Benefit Game At Ponce on Wednesday

The tickets for the benefit baseball game and the field day for the Crackers tomorrow at Ponce de Leon, went on sale yesterday morning and the demand was instant.

Every player was given fifty tickets and their sales by nightfall surprised the staff. Tickets are now on sale at Tumlin's and they will be distributed around the city at other stores this morning.

The general admission to the game will be 25 cents to all parts of the stands.

To all fans who have not subscribed to the fund raised for the Crackers for the benefit game, almost almost insurmountable odds, here is a fine opportunity for them to contribute.

Y. H. Woodruff has already contributed, purchase one of these pastebards from the players or at Tumlin's even if you cannot go to the game. If you can go, all the better. You will certainly get your money's worth.

Shortstop Bisland is captaining one of the contesting teams, and Wallop Dent is captaining the other. Tickets will be 25 cents to all parts of the stands.

In addition to the ball game there will be some field sports. A sack race and a wheelbarrow race, blindfolded will be the two most laughable features.

Lou Castro and George Winters, players on former teams, will be in Atlanta to participate in the game and will be in the line-up on Wallie Smith's side. Lou's presence in the line-up inspires the fans of plenty of fun for their money.

The sports will start promptly at 3 o'clock. Let's run the fund for Billy and his game boys past the $2,500 mark.

Here's the batting order:

Bill Smith Gives Mascot Credit for Winning Flag

BILL SMITH AND MASCOT.

The Atlanta manager and Dick Jemison, Jr., the 5-weeks-old son of The Constitution's sporting editor, mascot of the Atlanta team, whom the locals' leader gives a lion's share of the credit for winning the pennant. The little mascot cooped playfully while Manager Billy held him for his photo.

B. BILLY SMITH.

(Manager Atlanta Baseball Team.)

Every successful baseball team has a mascot. The Atlanta baseball club was fortunate in having one of the best mascots a team ever had in Dick Jemison, Jr., son of the sporting editor of The Constitution.

I attribute the success of the Atlanta team in finally winning out mainly to the good luck brought by our little mascot, and believe that he is certainly some boy.

He was appointed mascot of the team on August 14, just after Carl Thompson had broken Prough's record of consecutive wins. He assumed his duties with the start of the last home stay the next day.

That first game the Crackers were 45 points or five and a half games behind.

Three cheers for Dick Jemison, Jr., the best mascot the Atlanta baseball team ever had.

Richards to Race Graves; Good Card at Motordrome

Tex Richards and Morty Graves will resume their speed duels of last week at the motordrome tonight in the special match races.

The former on his famous Indian No. 27, and the latter on his record-breaking Excelsior, rode three heats last week at the drome, the average speed being 88 miles an hour. Graves won the first heat, Richards the second, and the third was a dead heat.

Their side bet of $50 put up last week still goes at tonight's races, and there will be thrill after thrill in the three heats that they will ride, one, two and three miles respectively.

Richards has one leg on the handsome silver trophy that goes to the rider winning three finals in the Southern championships at the drome. Richards won this last week and will be out after the second leg tonight. The man that wins this cup will be designated the southern motorcycle champion.

Here's tonight's program:
SOUTHERN CHAMPIONSHIPS.
(Heats 1 mile, finals 2 miles, 25 points for first, 15 for second and 10 for third.)

First Heat—Lockner, Lewis, Glenn and Graves.
Second Heat—Renel, Luther, Swartz and Richards.
SPECIAL MATCH RACE.
(Best two out of three, 1/2 and 3-mile heats, for side bet of $50.)

First Heat (1 mile)—Final southern championship.
WEEPSTAKES.
(French point system, 10 for first, 5 for second, 3 for third.)

First Heat (2 miles)—Lockner, Lewis, Glenn, Swartz, Luther and Renel.
Second Heat—Special match race (2 miles).
Third Heat—Weepstakes (5 miles).

GUSSIE LAWSON KILLED IN RACE

Atlanta Was Pacing French Cyclist at Cologne, Germany, When Fatal Accident Occurred.

Cologne, Germany, September 8.—Gus Lawson, an American cyclist, and Scheermann, a German rider, were killed in a race at Cologne, Germany, today in the course of a motor-paced bicycle race for the 100 kilometer championship.

While Lawson was pacing Guignard, a Frenchman, a tire of his motorcycle burst and the racer was hurled to the bottom of the track. Lawson's skull and both arms were fractured.

Lawson is a former Atlantan and a brother-in-law of Bobby Walthour, of Atlanta, for years champion motor-paced cyclist of the world. Lawson paced him in all his close races.

CRACKERS PLAY IN KNOXVILLE

Deal Closed on Monday for Games in Tennessee City Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Bill Smith and his pennant winning Crackers will go to Knoxville Thursday for a series of three games with the pennant winners of the Appalachian league.

Arrangements were closed via the long distance telephone Monday night and the Crackers play there Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Humpy McElveen, a former Cracker, and Elmer Lawrence, the star pitcher of the Appalachian league, who reports to the Crackers next spring, are members of the Knoxville team.

THE FIGHT THE TEAM MADE IN THE LAST MONTH WAS THE BEST BALL CLUB HAS EVER MADE, NO MATTER WHAT THE LEAGUE.

Not only did they overcome seemingly impossible odds, but several of the men stayed in close proximity to the team when they ought to have been in bed. Six of them stuck out the final ten games on nerve alone.

JOE AGLER DROPPED A BALL IN FINAL INNING OF THE THIRD MOBILE GAME THAT CAME NEAR RESULTING IN THE LOSS OF A PENNANT.

But the real reason for the Agler has never been brought out. On all throws, such as this one was, on the pitcher's side, it is not the pitcher to the approaching runner. Joe has been playing them with one hand all season. Realizing the importance of the pitcher to make it doubly certain, took both hands for the first time all year—and dropped the ball. Had he played it with his usual one-handed nonchalance, the help of the Felicans Sunday would not have been needed. Hats off to Joe Agler.

WHY SOME ONE HAS NOT PUT IN A BID FOR RIVINGTON BISLAND IS THE SURPRISE OF THE YEAR.

Some one is overlooking the best infield proposition in the league. Bisland is head and shoulders above any other infielder in the league. He is just as brilliant a fielder as the best man in the league ever saw, a sure man on a fly ball, he does not drop a ball, and he knows a lot of baseball. He can play as well with his head as he can with his hands, feet, arms and eyes.

THE FACTS IN THE CASE ARE THESE: GRIFFITH WAS NOTIFIED OF CALVO'S CONDITION AND HE ORDERED THE CUBAN TO RETURN TO WASHINGTON.

As for the player that got from Washington to Cuba, the Cuban outfielder, and on some other deals, referring to these deals as "rifts" to the local team for which the Washington club never received any compensation.

A FAN'S SUGGESTION

Special Editor Constitution: Dear Sir—In case you show any appreciation and loyalty to every person in Atlanta to the great Atlanta baseball team I would suggest that every white be given a "ref" as a reward for their loyalty. I would have a sign on it: "Atlanta always ahead" at 11 o'clock a. m. tomorrow.

This would be a special honor and tribute to Bill Smith and his team.

Many people who would like to give to the Constitution fund, but are unable to do so, would like this sort of an opportunity to show their appreciation.

Bill Smith has brought Atlanta from the creeps to the championship and his great tribute would be appreciated by the grand ball players. I hope this suggestion will meet with the approval of all Atlanta fans.

TELEGRAMS POUR IN TO OUR BILLY

Over One Hundred Messages of Congratulations Received From All Parts of United States.

Manager Bill Smith was the busiest man in Atlanta Monday morning, opening telegrams and letters.

Over 100 telegrams of congratulations over his winning the pennant were received, and there were twice that number of letters.

Bill received congratulations from all parts of the country. They came from every mogul in the big leagues and in the International league and from players on teams he has managed in the past, and fans the country over.

Among the former players who wired him was Russell Ford, now with the Yankees. He wired: "Congratulations. McGraw and Connie have nothing on you."

DOBBS TO MANAGE THE LOOKOUTS?

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 8.—According to well founded rumors, Johnny Dobbs will be the manager of the Chattanooga club, succeeding Norman (Kid) Elberfeld.

A petition has been started here asking the officials of the local club to secure the former Montgomery manager. Furthermore, word has been received here by personal friends from Dobbs that he is willing to manage the local club if satisfactory terms can be agreed upon.

Dobbs, who is a native Chattanooga, is immensely popular and managed Chattanooga in 1909 in the Sally league, when he won the flag and defeated Atlanta for the championship, and also in 1910, during the city's first year in the Southern league.

Crackers the Guests Of Atlanta Theater At Tonight's Show

Lengthy Southpaw Twirled One Inning for Senators Monday.

Cotton States Tennis Tourney at East Lake

By Hal Reynolds.

Good progress was made yesterday afternoon in the play for the tennis championship of the cotton states now being conducted on the East Lake courts.

Much to the regret of the local players, there was only one out-of-town entry, Edward Whiteside, of Chattanooga. The present champion, Lee Brooks, of Birmingham, is not required to play through the tournament, but will be on hand to defend his title of champion.

There were several of the younger players out and in some instances they pushed the older men to their best stride to win out, Harry Hollman in particular, giving the veteran Grant much trouble.

The Hall-Wilson match furnished the spectators with some good tennis, both players putting over quite a number of wonderful strokes and returns. The first set went to Hall by a score of 6-2, but in the second Wilson made him play the game to suit his style, and as a result, Hall was only able to win out after 20 games of strenuous fighting.

Carlton Smith disposed of J. K. Orr, Jr. in easy fashion, downing him in two straight sets 6-1, 6-1.

Yesterday's results are as follows:

Start Round.
E. R. Black, Jr., defeated Frank Meadow 6-2; 6-2.
D. H. Starr defeated W. Y. McMillan by default.
H. J. Hall defeated T. M. Wilson 6-2; 11-9.
E. S. Mansfield defeated Lee Douglas 6-2; 6-2.

Vernon McMillan defeated Roff Sims, Jr.
E. M. Grant defeated Harry Hollman 6-1; 6-1.
Floyd Parks defeated Edward Whiteside 6-1; 6-1.
E. W. Smith defeated V. R. Smith by default.
Frank Owens defeated C. A. Rawson 6-3; 6-0.
C. Y. Smith defeated J. K. Orr, Jr. 6-1; 6-2.

Second Round.
D. H. Starr defeated E. R. Black, Jr. 6-1; 6-2.
E. M. Grant defeated Floyd Parks 7-5; 6-1.

Today's Schedule.

The following is the schedule of the men's singles for this afternoon, play beginning promptly at 2:30:

Nat Thornton v. E. W. Ramspeck.
E. V. Smith v. R. B. Scott.

U. S. WARSHIP RUSHED TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Puerto Plata Shelled by Dominican Gunboats and American Lives in Peril.

Washington September 8.—News that Dominan gunboats were shelling the Puerto Plata and sending American lives and property today to the cruiser Des Moines which had been preparing to sail from Guantanamo Cuba, for Santo Domingo since reports of the latest revolution there were received several days ago. The cruiser was sailing today and was expected to sail tonight directly for Puerto Plata.

In the meantime communication between Puerto Plata and the outside world had been broken and no word had come to the state department since the brief message early today announcing the bombing in order to make certain the re-establishment of communications with the arrival of the Des Moines the treasury department was asked to dispatch the revenue cutter Algonquin from San Juan Porto Rico, to Mona Passage a point on the coast midway between Puerto Plata and Santo Domingo city.

"GREEN BACK KITTY" RUN BY SUB-TREASURY

St. Louis September 8.—W. D. Vandiver assistant treasurer of the United States today completed his investigation of irregularities in the St. Louis sub-treasury and within a day or so will send a report to Washington.

Mr. Vandiver said his investigation disclosed that for years the money counters in the office had maintained what was known as the "green back kitty." This was used to conceal errors. If a counter shipped a package of bills to Washington and the package contained an excess over the amount printed on the package the surplus was returned to the St. Louis office where it was put in the "green back kitty."

From this fund shortages in money packages sent to Washington were made up.

Though Mr. Vandiver found no apparent discrepancies were held today handled arising from the practice he ordered it abolished and it tended to promote inaccuracies.

It is alleged that Chandler emptied ten chambers of his revolver at Bolton. All went wild of the mark and Bolton was unhurt in the fight. He was later lodged in the county jail at Jefferson yesterday afternoon.

X-SCIENCE IS KNOCKED BY AN ENGLISH JUDGE

London September 8.—That a father is guilty of manslaughter after the death of his child if he relies solely on the services of a Christian Science practitioner during a serious illness was decided today by Justice Rowlatt, in the central criminal court. Though the case was actually tried, the defendant was acquitted because the charge was not technically proved. The verdict of manslaughter was acquitted Jewell on the ground of insufficient evidence, but turning to the defendant, he declared: "If this case had been proved I certainly would have passed a heavy sentence, Christian Science or no Christian Science."

SHORTAGE OF $13,000 CHARGED TO AGNEW Memphis, Tenn., September 8.—That a shortage of approximately $13,000 has been discovered in the accounts of Captain R. A. Agnew, until recently superintendent and secretary of the Memphis and Arkansas

Packet company, of this city, is alleged in a bill demanding an accounting filed in chancery court here today. Chancellor E. H. Heiskell issued a fiat directing that Agnew, who was also master of one of the river steamers operated by the company, produce the records asked for.

HUERTA IS PAYING FARE OF AMERICANS

Some U. S. Citizens Expect Transportation From the Mexican—Americans Applied to Huerta for Aid.

Vera Cruz September 8.—When the steamer Tamaulipas sails tomorrow morning for New Orleans there will be on board a few Americans part of whose passage has been paid by the Mexican government if other Americans wishing to leave the country, whether destitute or not apply to the local authorities...

Until today there had been received at Vera Cruz no intimation that President Huerta expected to fulfill the offer made by the government to Americans last week...

After a favorable answer had come from the capital some of those who signed the petition refused to accept assistance on the grounds that as Americans they did not feel like accepting charity from the Mexican government.

The latest advices from the state department to Consul Canada are not regarded at the consulate as altering materially the previous instructions and most of the transportation provided will continue to be second class or steerage.

Under his discretionary power he has been providing a few women with better accommodations but no such aid is available for free passengers.

GIRL WAS DISMEMBERED WHILE SHE WAS ALIVE

Embroidered Letter "A" May Disclose Identity of the Victim.

New York, September 8.—The torso of a young woman one part of which was picked up last Saturday and another yesterday at widely separated places on the New Jersey shore of the Hudson river...

The absence of the head made it impossible for King said to determine whether the victim had been strangled with a blow or anesthetics were used. The Hudson river is being dragged for the head and limbs of the body.

Both the New Jersey and the New York authorities believe the murder was committed in New York. A probable motive for the crime is found with the discovery that the woman was to have become a mother within a few months.

COTTON FUTURE TAX CAUSES SOME FEAR

Southern Congressmen Are Shaken in Support of Measure by Recent Developments—Postponed for Year.

Washington, September 8.—(Special) Postponement until September 1, 1914, of the special tax on cotton futures became effective, agreed to by the senate on Saturday...

The house has several times in recent years approved a prohibitive tax on the special transactions on the cotton exchanges. This being true, it is not anticipated that the house will balk at the form of the legislation finally adopted by the senate.

Members of congress from the south were divided in their support of the measure, however, following the break in New York cotton exchange on Saturday when prices of futures fell 2 1/2 cents following the democratic caucus.

Advocates of extending this tax to grain and other agricultural products are strong in both the house and senate and many argue that it will not be fair to prevent future trading in one agricultural product and not in another.

On the Anxious Bench. It is safe to say, however that the unexpected drop in the price of cotton is keeping many democratic representatives on the anxious bench.

STOCKS DECLINED; MARKET WAITING

Leading Issues Lost a Point or Two on the Day's Transactions—Trading Was Dull. Bonds Irregular.

New York, September 8.—Representative active stocks lost ground slowly today. Interest was diverted from the standard shares to specialties and to the grain and cotton markets.

The widest movements were among the specialties, particularly the petroleum and railway equipment shares. Several of which advanced 1 to 6 points.

The rise failed to influence leaders, a fact which led to some professional selling. Trading was dull and there was no weakness on the decline.

Traders described the market as a waiting one, referring to various forthcoming events of sufficient importance to restrict speculation.

The monthly report of the Copper Producers today elicited no response in the market. Even the copper stocks showed no improvement after publication of the figures, which were distinctly bullish.

Bonds moved rather irregularly, but showed a slight upward trend. A block of $100,000 government bonds sold at 98 1/2, an advance of 1/2 Panama three coupon advanced 1/4 on call.

GEORGIA COTTON RAPIDLY MOVING TO THE TOWNS

Movement Is in Full Swing in the Southern Part of the State and Everybody Very Busy.

REMARKABLE INCREASE SHOWN OVER LAST YEAR

Prospects Will Compare Favorably With That of Big Crop of 1911—Comparison Between This and Last Year.

The Constitution presents herewith statements of the movement of the cotton crop up to and through last Saturday, September 6—these reports coming from every cotton receipt center throughout the Georgia cotton belt where cotton is now actively moving.

The movement has not yet become active in north Georgia, which is two or three weeks behind south Georgia, but it is in full swing in the southern part of the state.

As will be observed, in some places the receipts of last year are more than doubled by those of this year.

These reports are gathered by The Constitution's correspondents throughout middle and south Georgia, and they are merely typical of the whole section.

The reports come from only one town in each county. Without exception, The Constitution's correspondents write that conditions are exceedingly bright, that the farmers are more cheerful than they have been in years, and the prospect for this year compares with that of the bumper crop of two years ago.

The following receipts up to and through last Saturday night:

DECEMBER CORN LED THE ADVANCE

New High Record for Season Is Made in That Option. Wheat Closed 1-8 to 1-2 Cent Up—Oats Higher.

Chicago, September 8.—Corn today rose to a new high price record for the month in the December option, and narrowly missed a new high level in other futures.

The close, though easy, showed an advance of 1/2 to 3/4 cent in the December option, and 1/4 to 1/2 cent in the other options.

Wheat closed 1/8 to 1/2 cent up, and oats higher. The market had many reactions, but the price always came back and went higher than ever.

Primary receipts of wheat today were 1,522,000 bushels; a year ago 1,033,000. The provision trade consisted chiefly of transactions in lard.

COMMUNION SERVICE STOLEN FROM CHURCH

Several Quarts of Communion Wine Also Taken From Augusta Episcopal Church.

Augusta, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—Silver communion plate of great historic value was stolen from St. Paul's Episcopal church Sunday night. Several quarts of communion wine were also stolen. If melted the plate is said to be worth at least $500. The money value of the articles stolen is nothing as compared with their historic value. Some of the pieces had been in use since the founding of the church and bore the date of 1820. St. Paul's church being the oldest in the city and one of the oldest in the state. The church has offered $100 reward for their recovery. Rev. G. S. Whitney, the rector of the church, was the first to discover the loss when he entered the church Monday morning to get the plate and return it to the vault of the bank, where it is always kept except when it is going to be used. The door of a strong cupboard, where the silver had been placed, had been picked and its hinges and the silver, which was in a morocco leather sack, had been stolen.

JEROME IS FREED IN GAMBLING CASE

pondered for not more than fifty seconds.

"In rendering judgment," he said, "I shall be very brief. I believe every right-minded man in Canada regrets the verdict rendered in this case, which has been placed upon you. It is excusable neither in law nor in fact. The evidence adduced at this hearing affords no reasons for the charges which were laid against you nor for the indignities which you have suffered. In all the circumstances, you will not attribute the apparent offense offered you while in a friendly country in the discharge of your duty as a public officer to the real thinking people in this community. You are, sir, honorably discharged."

Dead silence greeted the conclusion of the court's remarks. Then Mr. Jerome stood up.

"I feel assured, your lordship," he said, "that I understand thoroughly the circumstances of this case. I had been in Canada 14 years, had received my uniform in Sherbrooke, in Montreal, and I may say in Cookport by the thinking people of that city. I do not feel that I have been humiliated before the thoughtful people here."

IN THE THEATERS

"The Call of the Heart."

(At the Lyric.)

"The Call of the Heart," with practically the same cast as last year, played to a fair sized house at the opening performance at the Lyric theater Monday night.

The play deals with the modern problem of parvenu Americans wasting their money in the purchase of the name of a degenerate and financially depleted noble family. The revolting details of the deal are moderated by the strength and beauty of the characters of this young American girl, who is being made the victim of a plot between her aunt and an aristocratic English reprobate.

The results of heredity are grippingly portrayed in the second act when the degenerate son of Lord Winton is exhibited as an object lesson to the American heiress, while the splendid manhood which is the heritage of clean, upright living is portrayed in the son of Lady Everlow by a former sword-bearer.

Miss Billie Shay, as Vivian Forde, makes a pleasing little heroine and Helen Aubrey's portrayal of the vulgar American newly-rich is good. The real interest in the acting of the play, however, centers around John Nicholson's portrayal of the character of Lord Everlow, who is a whimsical and gouty old roue.

"The Call of the Heart" will be seen at the Lyric during the remainder of the week at night and at matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

THAW NEAR LIBERTY, SAYS HIS ATTORNEY

Montreal, September 8.—According to J. M. Greenshields, of Thaw counsel, and the main hopes of the defense in the Thaw deportation proceedings, aside from the fight against the immigration act itself, is an alleged irregularity in the proceedings taken by the immigration officers. It is felt that they did not have a formal order from the minister of justice to take Thaw in charge, which the defense claims is necessary under the act when the alien affected has been in the country ten years.

Thaw had been in the country over fifteen days when he was surrendered to the immigration officials, and T. R. B. McInnes, K. C., has made an affidavit that the immigration men took Thaw in charge without having proper authority from the minister.

He states that before the board of inquiry, he demanded that E. Blakc Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration, produce this document, and that the latter declined to do so.

The second reason cited to Judges Gervais and Cross in the formal application made by Thaw's counsel before Friday, was the unconstitutionality of the act.

The third point was the alleged misuse of the act to supplement and aid the enforcement of law and order in New York state.

The question of ultimate freedom are better now than they have been at any time since he was first arrested on a charge of murder," summed up Mr. Greenshields. "The immigration act is full of holes. It is a positive disgrace to Canada."

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The tango and the turkey trot, as they do the dances in the city, and other cities where night is turned into day, were shown to capacity audiences at the Forsyth yesterday afternoon and evening, and some of us, who had expected very mighty doings, were rather disappointed.

Compared with the publicity they have received, the dances are tame affairs. The tango would have its attractions anywhere, of course, if danced in the costume of the vulgar American newly-rich is good. The real interest in the acting of the play, however, centers around John Nicholson's portrayal of the character of Lord Everlow, who is a whimsical and gouty old roue.

"The Call of the Heart" will be seen at the Lyric during the remainder of the week at night and at matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

DELAY OF TWO YEARS PROBABLE FOR THAW

Ottawa, Ontario, September 8.—Dominion officials here foresee a delay of probably two years before final decision in the Thaw case.

The litigation, in their opinion, undoubtedly will be carried through the Dominion courts to the privy council in England, where the final verdict will be written. Until this verdict is given, the immigration officials believe the courts will not permit the deportation of Thaw and he will remain on Canadian soil. The journey of the action through the courts to the privy council is a long one.

DAUGHTER MAY RIDE WITH R. F. D. FATHER

Washington, September 8.—The little blind daughter of Rural Mail Carrier Sherry, at Mandale, Ohio, may ride with her father over his route, although her father's regulation expressly forbids it, because Miss Jessie Wilson, the president's second daughter, interceded for the little girl and got Postmaster General Burleson to issue a special permit.

Little Jessie Columbia, 13 years old, of Cleveland, spent her vacation this year with her grandfather, the postmaster at Mandale, and saw the blind girl's plight. She wrote Miss Wilson of her father's predicament and the ride on her father's mail cart, and an appeal to the postmaster general was followed by an order waiving, in this case, a regulation which forbids that anyone but a carrier should ride on a mail wagon.

"Little Miss Fix-It."

(At the Atlanta.)

Tonight the Atlanta will be open with "Little Miss Fix-It," as they call it, a musical farce in attractive and decidedly full of real humor. The lines are bright and snappy and the plot is a comedy in kind, keeping behind the footlights as long as she could be persuaded to stay there.

Doris Wilson & Co., whose act is framed around the remarkable resemblance of three sisters, made a pleasing impression. Russell's minstrel, the first to appear at the Forsyth in some time, were well received. Wentworth, Vesta and Teddy (Teddy is a dog) have an acrobatic number, which goes better than any I have seen here for months; Godon and Rica, bicyclists, are good; and Delmore and Lee, aerial wonders, complete the bill.

"The Merry Countess."

(At the Atlanta.)

Following the success of "The Merry Countess" at the Atlanta, Sam Ross will bring "The Merry Countess" to the Atlanta on Friday for two nights and a Saturday matinee. The success of this production is to be made this morning. The music of "The Merry Countess" is by Johann Strauss and an orchestra of fifteen has been provided to make it especially attractive. The company is one which has been highly praised in the south. The principals include Joseph L. Sawyer, Walter White, Dale Winter, May Field, Paoli Rippe, Harry Carter, Charles Ewell, Jack Henderson, Pauline Semple, Fred Gordon, Harry McCoy, E. P. Taylor and Veta Florence, with a Bos chorus.

MOB IS SEEKING UNKNOWN TRAMP

White Man Is Accused of Attempting to Assault Sixteen-Year-Old Daughter of Farmer.

County police, headed by Chief Zach Rowan, and accompanied by an angry crowd of citizens sought far into the night for a tramp, accused of attempting assault upon the 16-year-old daughter of a white farmer near Uttoy camp about 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The girl when attacked by the man fought him off and screamed so loudly as to attract attention and to frighten him into leaving.

The unknown man who attacked the girl struggled with her on the banks of a small creek and both the girl and her assailant toppled into the stream. The girl was dipping west when she reached her home and a pair of water-soaked overalls belonging to the tramp were the only clue found by officers.

Citizens began an immediate search for the man, who is described as a rough looking white man, supposed to be a tramp. County police headquarters were notified at once and Chief Rowan, accompanied by Assistant Chief George Mathieson, set out in an automobile at once. They were joined by Motorcycle Officer C. C. Heard and Mounted Officer John T. Carter. A short time later the county hounds were put on the man's trail, but in some way the dogs lost the scent.

Later it was reported that the man had been seen running down the railroad track some miles north of the scene of his attempted crime and citizens and policemen started out there to search.

The girl, an attractive looking country maid, who gives the appearance of a child, was not injured in any way, but was almost hysterical from fright.

Your Town's Death-Rate

YOU men in charge of municipal affairs have a big responsibility on your hands.

Ever consider that maybe your hold-back, out-of-date and short-sighted policy is keeping the death-rate higher than it ought to be?

Fevers, contagion, death, with their piteous aftermath of poverty and distress may be traceable to your negligence.

Solemn, but true.

Why let your town lack the sanitation, the comforts, the improvements that will drive out disease and make it, at the same time, an attractive, happy place to live in?

We can provide the improvements. We are Municipal Engineers, and we have put more than 300 towns in good sanitary shape. We should like an opportunity to tell you where these towns are and what we did for them.

We plan, estimate, finance, construct, and, if desired, operate Sanitary Systems, Water and Power Plants, Paving and other municipal improvements. Write to us at once.
