PLAZA AND GRADY BONDS MAY GO BEFORE PEOPLE AT THE SAME ELECTION

Movement Is Started at Conference Between Mayor and Representatives of the Three Newspapers of Atlanta on Tuesday Afternoon.

MAYOR FAVORS MAY 25 FOR PASSING ON BONDS AND COUNTY OFFICERS

County Executive Committee Will Hold Meeting on Friday Morning in Consider Change in Date. Council Will Hold Another Meeting This Afternoon.

Because of the almost unanimous sentiment favoring the issuance of $2,000,000 improvement bonds for building the plaza over Atlanta's unsightly "gulch," Mayor James G. Woodward yesterday launched a proposal to submit both the Grady hospital bond issue of $750,000 and the plaza bonds at one election.

Mayor Woodward's scheme is to have the county executive committee defer the county election from May 5 to May 25. At that time he hopes to have both bond issues submitted to the people for an expression. The bonds will be voted on by separate ballot, and it will be within the right of the voter to support one issue and reject the other or to vote for or against both.

Call Meeting Friday. Judge Eugene Thomas, chairman of the county executive committee, who was present at the conference between Mayor Woodward and representatives of the newspapers—Clark Howell, Constitution, Keats Speed, Georgian and American, and James R. Gray, Journal—assured the mayor that he will call his committee together Friday morning. In the meantime the newspapers will interview the various candidates who will participate in the county election and will urge them to agree to the postponement of the election from May 5 to May 25.

"I don't think any candidate will object to putting back the date set for the election in order that the people may be given an opportunity of passing on these two most important civic projects," Mayor Woodward said. "In fact, I am certain that they will be only too willing to sacrifice their own personal desires in the interest of two projects which the people are interested in at this time."

County Chairman Thomas and other members of the conference agreed with the mayor.

Papers Promise Aid. "I'll give my best efforts to get this matter before the people," said Mr. Gray in the morning. "I'll have The Journal assign a man to work with representatives of the other papers in the matter of getting the consent of the county candidates to postpone the election."

"The Constitution will do all that is demanded of it to help put through both projects," said Mr. Howell. "The Constitution will do all that is demanded of it to help put through both projects."

Assuming that all the candidates will enter heartily into Mayor Woodward's proposal, the conference requested the mayor to draw up a resolution or prepare a message to council urging the city fathers to authorize the issuance of $2,000,000 bonds for the plaza improvement.

Council will meet at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of receiving and acting on the report of the committee appointed to investigate the advisability of asking the voters to pass on the Grady hospital bonds. Council's committee will recommend that hospital bonds be submitted in order to the council on the date originally agreed upon by the Grady hospital campaign committee.

Indications are that there will be absolutely no discussion in council on the plaza bonds. A canvass of nearly every member recently showed that they are all in favor of the plaza improvement.

Two Issues Before People. However, it is the desire of Mayor Woodward and the chamber of commerce that the plaza bonds and the Grady hospital bonds be submitted at one election.

ATLANTA RICHER BY $1,672,652

City Property Shows a Remarkable Increase in Value From December, 1912, to Same Month 1913.

According to the city comptroller's inventory of the property of Atlanta on December 31, 1913, which has just been compiled, the value of the city's property, including real estate and buildings, shows an increase of $1,672,652.71 over December 31, 1912; the real estate value being $1,116,686,532.02, against 1912, $9,013,379.85.

Including the value of the city's equipment with the value of the property, the report shows an increase of $2,245,019.09; the real estate and equipment values being, December 31, 1913, $23,069,979.68, against December 31, 1912, $20,824,960.59.

The recapitulation of values for the report has been made upon a more conservative and scientific basis than formerly, state the city officials who have been engaged in making the inventory. Formerly, they state, the values have been turned in by the heads of the different city departments, who, in a great many instances, were not expert in estimating the values.

The report shows an increase in the valuation of the city hall of $300,000, it being valued at $800,000, as against $500,000 in the inventory of 1912. The property valuation of the city fire department shows an increase of $124,800; $144,100 for 1913, as against $289,500 for 1912. The inventory of the fire department's equipment shows a decrease of $20,156.10. The police department's real estate valuation, including buildings, is $156,500, an increase of $40,000 over the 1912 valuation of $116,500. The Grady hospital shows an increase of $28,300.74, its present value being given as $300,000.

The inventory of the city's school property shows a decrease in value of $123,734.01, with a present value of $3,597,900. This decrease in the value of the school property is accounted for by the fact that the schools of the city are located in sections where property values are not enhancing, and as buildings always decrease with age in value, this decrease in the value of the school buildings is not offset by any increase in property values.

The value of the Carnegie library is stipulated at $445,900, an increase of $225,000 including the increased value of the building. The city's new books, there is an increase of total valuation of $232,230.08.

The value of the city's parks shows a large increase of $652,050, the present valuation of the parks being $1,904,025. The valuation of the property of the waterworks department shows a slight increase of $23,140, but in the valuation of the equipment of the waterworks department there is a decrease in valuation of $310,648.56.

The present valuation of the waterworks department is placed at $6,141,770.22, as against $5,831,121.66 for 1912. The Auditorium-Army is valued at $300,000, as against $278,500 for 1912.

IN VERY LAST DITCH HUERTA'S SOLDIERS FIGHT AT TORREON

Federals Have Retreated to the General Barracks and Are Making Final Stand Against Villa.

CAPTURE OF THE CITY CAN'T BE LONG DELAYED

Villa to Dynamite Buildings So as to Bring His Artillery to Bear on the General Barracks.

Juarez, Mexico, March 31.—General Carranza stated positively at 8 o'clock tonight that while there was every reason to hope for the early capture of Torreon, the town had not fallen and that the position of the troops had not changed materially in the last twenty-four hours.

This information was given out through Roberto V. Penquerra, confidential agent of the constitutionalists, and Alfredo Breda, secretary to Carranza. They also traced to its origin the report today that the city had fallen.

The town burst into flame when a rebel official exhibited to two Americans a telegram sent yesterday by Theodore Hamm, American consul at Durango, to Secretary of State Bryan. It said he had been informed that Torreon had fallen.

Called Great Excitement. The first report was that Marion Letcher, United States consul at Chihuahua, had transmitted to Washington, secretary of state, a report from George Carothers, vice consul, who has been at the front with Villa, that Torreon was captured at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

That something was wrong with the news began to be suspected when rebel officials were observed at the school for information. Singly and in groups they returned from General Carranza's office, shaking their heads and went to the telegraph office.

Could Not Reach Villa. News of the capture was lacking and finally Federico Gonzalez Garza telegraphed directly to General Villa, only to be informed by the operator that his message could not be handled.

The whole incident left the impression of something of importance was taking place in the south and it was hoped that official announcement of victory merely was being delayed for some purpose known only to Villa.

A telegram from Villa to General Carranza sent this morning and given out this afternoon indicated Carranza on his welcome to Juarez and said that Villa hoped to announce the surrender of Torreon in a few hours.

Rebel leaders contend that the main battle for supremacy was fought last week at Gomez Palacio where soldiers of both sides fell by hundreds in the desperate conflict.

The losses at Gomez Palacio were so heavy, it is said, that neither side is now capable of repeating so determined a battle. In Torreon the fighting is said to be from building to building without any open charges or concentrated assaults.

Confidence in General Villa's ultimate victory was restored among constitutionalist sympathizers last night by receipt of various semi-official reports that the rebel leader had forced General Velasco's federal army to its last stand in the general barracks at Torreon. Opinions were freely expressed, even by army officers here, that fighting cannot last much longer and that it has continued thus far and strenuously because it really is a battle to the death.

Little Girl Says She Likes Her "Mama Best," But Courts Must Decide Fight for Children

Some time within the next few days the three children of Samuel Daddorio will find out whether they are going to spend the remainder of their childhood with their father or their mother. Either way, according to the adult persons involved, they will have a hard time of it.

Samuel Daddorio is a stonemason. He married his present wife fourteen years ago, in Carpeneto, Italy. Since then there have been four children, Mary, 12 years old, George, 7, and Samuel II, who can look back on eighteen decidedly eventful months.

The trouble between the Daddorios might be described as an aggravated case of mutual incompatibility. Daddorio says his wife is crazy, and she says he is crazy.

As the question is being settled by argument, Mrs. Daddorio, her husband explains, has frequently resorted to action, this action usually taking the shape of an abrupt departure from home, with the three children as traveling companions.

The couple, the attorney, and the children stood on the front porch of the Daddorio cottage at 323 Cooper street Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Daddorio dwelt gesticulatively and at length on her husband's state of aberration.

It was finally decided to consult Mary, as the most mature of the three admitted, sane persons involved. Mary has gray eyes, the kind of red mouth which has kept twenty centuries of Italian and English poets hunting for an adequate description of its redness, and a much better command of English than either of her parents.

"I don't know which is crazy," said Mary, "but I like 'mamma best.'" "That settles it for me," said someone. However, as it doesn't settle it to the satisfaction of Mr. Daddorio, it is probable that the matter will go to the superior court. The writ is returnable April 10.

247 VOTES CAST FOR THE REPEAL; 161 VOTES CAST IN OPPOSITION

Vote Came After a Day of Heated Debate—Majority for Repeal Much Larger Than the Supporters of Wilson Expected.

SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK MADE CHIEF ARGUMENT AGAINST THE REPEAL

The Speaker Was Vehement in Opposition, But He Could Not Sway the Democrats—220 Democrats Stood by the President and Only 52 Voted With the Speaker.

Washington, March 31.—The national house of representatives tonight, after one of the most spectacular legislative struggles in the history of the nation, voted to repeal the provision of the Panama canal act exempting American vessels from the payment of tolls. The vote on the repeal bill was 247 to 161—a majority of 86 votes in support of the personal plea of Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States.

This verdict on the issue which has absorbed congress for many weeks came at the close of a stirring day, made memorable in the annals of the house by a party division which found Speaker Champ Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and other democratic chieftains lined up in opposition to the president on an issue which the latter had declared vital to his conduct of the nation's foreign policy.

220 Democrats Stood by Wilson. Today's result was the first struggle within the party since democracy took control of the government a year ago. Tomorrow the bill goes to the senate, where the fight will be renewed with all the vigor and determination that attended it in the lower house.

On the final vote 220 democrats in the house stood by the president, giving him in "ungrudging measure" what he had asked "for the honor of the nation" in its foreign relations. Twenty-five republicans and two progressives also voted to sustain the president. Fifty-two democrats followed Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood to defeat.

Clark, it seemed, could stem the tide of administration support. Speaker Clark, for nearly twenty-two years a member of the house, made the speech of his life to forestall what he termed "unquestionable degradation" of the nation. In this he failed, but he left behind a record of the fight with kindly words for his adversaries, praise for President Wilson, and an unqualified denial of any vaunting ambition on his own behalf.

Wilson Greatly Gratified. President Wilson was at dinner when the result of the vote was announced. He was greatly gratified.

COL. HUFF RENEWS ATTACK ON SPEER

No Sense or Safety, He Says, in Move for Retirement of Jurist Under Fire. Raps Congressmen.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Recent suggestions that the charges against Federal Judge Emory Speer be withdrawn, and that the judge retire from the bench have prompted Colonel W. A. Huff, one of the chief witnesses against the jurist at the recent congressional investigation here, to issue a statement in which he hotly renews his attack on the judge and takes occasion to criticize, severely, any move toward what he terms a "compromise" of the case.

"There is no sense or safety, no justice or dignity, in temporizing with a man like Speer," he declared. "He has none of the attributes of the clear-headed, clean-handed, open-hearted man of fixed principle and fixed character, and hence he can't be dealt with as other men are. None of the essential elements that go to make up a gentleman is to be found in or about him, and there is no safety in dealing with him as such. He is the most adroit prevaricator that ever came down the judicial pike and must therefore be handled with great care."

Colonel Huff expressed faith in the house subcommittee and insisted that the investigation be carried to a finish. Colonel Huff reiterated his declaration that he can prove all charges made against Judge Speer and challenges the jurist with the offer to withdraw all charges, except two which are not named, if Judge Speer or any of his friends will get former President Taft a written statement that he knows or believes the jurist to be "perfectly clean, honest, upright, conscientious and well-behaved judge."

"If, however," he continues, "Speer fails to get such a statement from Mr.

Taft, then he must agree to resign at once." Referring to the move to retire Judge Speer, Colonel Huff mentions the names of Congressmen Adamson, Bartlett and Hardwick as the ones he has heard were "the prime movers in this retirement and let-down-easy scheme."

"There is much to justify," he says, "the belief that we are at the mercy of a gang of Hittite politicians at Washington, all claiming to be democrats."

Grant to Hold Court.
Savannah, Ga., March 31.—It is officially announced that Judge Grubb, of the northern district of Alabama, will come to Savannah on May 18 and hold United States court in the place of Judge Emory Speer. Judge Grubb will hear the case against the American Naval Stores company officials charged with maintaining a naval stores trust.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The announcement from Savannah that Judge Speer will not reside at the trial of the American Naval Stores case caused no surprise here, as Judge Speer already has stated that he will not preside at the trial of cases pending the outcome of the impeachment proceedings begun against him.

Judge Shepherd, of Florida, and Judge Grubb, of Alabama, will alternate in handling the business of the district.

Bibb Registration Low.
Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—There has been a slight increase in registration here during the last few days since the campaign to get the voters to register has been waded by the newspapers. There are now a total of 2,000 names on the books out of a possible 8,000. With less than a week in which to qualify, the indications are that Bibb county will fall far behind previous registrations this year and that in the face of the fact that this is an important election year.

The normal registration in this county is between five and six thousand, but it is not expected that number will be reached this year. Friends of T. S. Felder and John R. Cooper, candidates for United States senator, are urging the voters to qualify.

Orchard Asks Receiver.
Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The Luxury Fruit company, of Fort Valley, has petitioned the United States district court for a receiver to take charge of the property of the company and work it out of its financial difficulties.

The company has secured debts of $22,000 and unsecured liabilities of $1,352. The assets comprise 1,200 acres of land in Houston county on which fruit is grown. The value of the assets is not given.

W. W. Hollinshead, of Nashville, Tenn., one of the principal creditors of the company, is secretary and treasurer.

New Trial for Wooten.
Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Harry Wooten, the young Jasper county man who was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of Charles Brown in a difficulty in Tybee several months ago, was today granted a new trial by Judge H. A. Mathews, of the Bibb superior court. The court holds that he erred in not charging reasonable doubt and for charging manslaughter.

Wooten's home is at Moultrie. He is now confined in the Bibb county jail. Attorneys Dukes and M. P. Hall represent him.

PLAZA AND GRADY BONDS MAY GO BEFORE PEOPLE

bonds be the only issues placed before the people. Sentiment is so strongly in favor of the plaza bonds that it is the prevalent belief that the project will lend influence to the hospital bond project. The sentiment has been created through exploitation of plans submitted by Chief Clayton, of the construction department, at various times. As the consequence, the voters have already given thought and study to the plaza project, and it is possible that nearly two-thirds would be ready to cast their votes immediately.

The advisability of asking the people to vote for the plaza bonds before the meeting of the legislature was also discussed at Tuesday's conference.

The improvement contemplated through the plaza bonds affects state property, and it will be necessary for the city to get authority from the legislature to build the plaza. The general assembly does not meet until the last of June, whereas it is proposed to vote the bonds in May.

Mayor Woodward contends that if the city goes to the legislature with the proposal to improve its property, the strongest argument that can be offered will be the fact that the people have voted $2,000,000 for the improvement, provided, of course, that the people do support the bonds. The state will not be taxed one penny for the improvement, according to the plans mapped out by Captain Clayton and Mayor Woodward with the assistance of the committees.

Create Sinking Fund.

Property owners abutting the state property have agreed and are ready to enter into a contract whereby they will consent to property assessments sufficiently large to create a tax which will pay the interest on the bonds, and create a sinking fund for the retirement of the entire issue within thirty years. For the consent it gives the city to make the improvement, the state will have its vast property advanced in valuation, and it will also get a $300,000 office building which the city will locate either at Central avenue or at Forsyth street, or at any other point the state designates.

On the other hand, the city will receive, in return for authorizing the bond issue, an improvement which will make Atlanta rank among the most progressive cities in the United States. The whole burden of paying for the improvements will rest squarely on the shoulders of the taxpayers.

Should the legislature, for any reason, reject the city's proposition to improve its property, of course, the bond issue will be nullified. However, the progress made by the city before the legislature's Western and Atlantic commission is an indication that the legislature favors the improvement, and it is not likely that the other railroads owning rights of way through the center of the city will raise any objection, for the reason that they will not be burdened by the improvement, and for the further reason that the entrance into the city by underpassing the plaza will eliminate the necessity of electrifying the engines to do away with the smoke and soot nuisance.

Greenwich—It has been established by accurate observation that this is April 1 1914 A. D. It would be well today not to pay too much attention to that message which advises you to call up Mr. Train at Main 213. For 213 is the union station. It would also be well to ignore that silly hat. For there might be a trick beneath it. It would also be well not to believe everything you read and to be wary of everything you hear and not to take warnings and promises and the like too seriously. This is the one day of the year in fact on which serious people are apt to come off badly and mischief ones quite well. Ordinarily perhaps the serious people have the best of it for as is a fairly serious planet, but there is one day on which the light hearted are allowed to assert their existence. That day is today so look out Mr. Serious Individual. This is April Fool's.

SKIN GAME IS RAIDED AND NEGRO IS KILLED

Griffin Ga. March 31—(Special)—In a two ring skin game which was raided here last night a young negro was killed by two bullet shots in the head when Sheriff Slade and a half dozen deputies surrounded the players. The game was in progress in the woods near here and on account of the large number of negroes taking part in it two rings were engaged. Sheriff Slade and his deputies approached the players and ordered them to put up hands. The negroes ran firing back at the officers in the meantime. When several of the number had been captured and handcuffed Alexander was commanded to stand up. His refusal to stand led to the discovery that he was dead. The coroner's inquest resulted in no clues as to who fired the fatal shots but the theory generally accepted is that the parties head of him firing back at the officers killed him accidentally.

MILDRED SALOMED HER PRESS AGENT OUT OF 50 BONES

Judge Nash R. Broyles is no asset to press agents. If the publicity promoter of a modern day seeks the cooperation of police court he should first consider the cost for verily it is expensive cooperation—as was shown yesterday when the judge administered a fine of $50 to Mildred Kelly a Salome dancer of the Columbia burlesque troupe.

And furthermore the judge put the kibosh on the press agents' pet idea which was to stage Mildred's dance in police court and thereby acquire unlimited publicity. It was like this: Mildred's press agent had Mildred put on her most daring performance Monday night because he knew the censor—who is inevitably present on Monday nights—would pinch her. Which he did. So the press agent inasmuch as Mildred was pinched coaxed her to plead with the judge at trial to allow her to perform her dance in police court so that she could show there was no impropriety in her performance. See? Reporters all there "home before justice." Great stuff front page. Mildred pleaded but Judge Broyles preferred the testimony of Official Censor Edward Arthur which had it to the effect that Mildred's dance wasn't fit to associate with. Hence the $50 fine.

Burden cost of the factory one phase lies in unsystematic disposal of goods and the fault is often with the middle man. Much of the present incidental expense of factories must and will be eliminated.

Trolley Time Is Quickest to Peachtree Heights Park. STUDY THIS MAP---It will show you how Peachtree Heights Park is the most quickly reached of any of Atlanta's new resident sections. Read these figures furnished by the Georgia Railway & Power Co.: TIME FROM FIVE POINTS TO MINUTES. Peachtree Heights Park (Buckhead Line) 24. Brookwood (Peachtree Line) 25. Buckhead 30. Brookhaven 40. Druid Hills (Schedule 30 min. with layover) 27 1/2. Highland Avenue (End of Line) 25. West End (Gordon Street Line) 25. THEN THINK ABOUT THESE FACTS: With your home in Peachtree Heights Park you are only 24 minutes from your office in the heart of the city, with a ten-minute schedule and scarcely a minute more by the Buckhead Line than the time on Peachtree to Fourteenth street. You are living in the direct line of progress of Atlanta's home-building---North. The trend of residence development in most of the country's large cities is always North. Atlanta homes are moving unerringly in that direction. Already many of Atlanta's handsomest homes have been built beyond Peachtree Heights Park. Atlanta's favorite automobile highways run through and beyond Peachtree Heights Park. It is where the people go because it is where there is most to see. Your home built in Peachtree Heights Park will not only be a delight and joy to yourself and family while you occupy it, but an asset of rapidly increasing and quickly convertible value whenever you have occasion to dispose of it. Come in and let us tell you more about it, or we will be glad to show you Peachtree Heights Park. Or, if you prefer, see your own agent. E. Rivers Realty Co. 8 West Alabama Street.

Colonel Ragan Gives Housekeepers Lesson on "City Beautiful" Plan

By Inna Dooly.

This morning, Colonel Willis Ragan gives the housekeepers of Atlanta an illuminated lesson in the meaning of a "city beautiful," in the beauty of the flowers and the perfect condition of his front yard and lawn, the corner of Peachtree and Kimball streets.

Defying the rain, and heralding the Easter season, are hundreds of brightly colored blooming hyacinths, bordering the walk to the entrance of his home and forming semi-circles on the lawn around the house. Gold-lighted crocus are bursting from circular beds on each side of the front garden, and a line of vivid blue hyacinths can be seen as far as the eye reaches along the south side of the house.

"I must stay all day and see more of these beautiful gardens," said a lady tourist stopping at the Georgian Terrace hotel, and seeing Colonel Ragan's flowers across the street.

Looking for Flowers.

"I have heard of the lovely homes here; I wish to see more of these flowers," and she engaged a taxicab and drove out the street, that she might see more flower-studded lawns and green grass, and she came back after the drive.

"Why is it, in this glorious climate, where you could all have such beautiful flowers, do you not have more of them? I was quite disappointed," was the comment after the drive.

"Why, the ladies, many of them, have gardens in the back of the house," explained a loyal Atlanta.

"But the lawns were not green, either, except one or two I saw, these few proving that the grass could be made beautiful if someone had tried to make it so."

Whereas there are many Atlanta housekeepers who are fortunate in having backyards in which they can cultivate flowers, only the family, the usual at the home of Mrs. Comer. The meeting will be held at the church after the 4 o'clock service.

Good Eating at Low Cost

We eat far too much meat. We eat meat to excess under the mistaken idea that it is necessary to nourish our bodies, while we continually pass up foodstuffs that (weight for weight) contain more nutriment and cost considerably less than meat.

Take Faust Macaroni for instance. A 10c package of this macaroni contains as much nutriment as four pounds of beef, and has another big advantage, too, in that it is much easier digested.

And consider the many savory, appetizing dishes that can be made from Faust Macaroni. Write for free recipe book today. Your grocer sells Faust Macaroni—8c and 10c packages. Buy today.
