

TAMPICO REPORTED LOST BY TAMPICHERS; FOREIGNERS ARE FLEEING

There Has Been Serious Fighting for Several Days Between Rebels and Federals Around the Mexican Port.

OIL TANKS ARE BLAZING AS RESULT OF SHELL FIRE

Americans and Other Foreigners Are Taking Refuge on United States Warships. Washington Is Greatly Concerned Over Situation.

Veracruz, Mexico, April 9.—The American consulate has received word from the consular agent at Tampico that grave rumors are current there that Tampico has fallen. While there is no confirmation of this it is known that there has been serious fighting between federals and rebels around that port.

The British steamer Leedsdale from New York March 13, which is now at Tampico, has been unable to discharge her cargo and asked permission to be wireless to come here.

Late reports from Tampico say the Mexican gunboats are successfully defending the town, but are doing much damage by bad marksmanship. The Waters-Pierce oil storage tank at Arbol-Grande was set on fire and many other tanks were hit, large quantities of oil flowing into the river.

Many shells from the Mexican warships Vera Cruz and Zaragoza have fallen near the American war vessels in the river. The federals are reported to be so hard pressed that all the jefe politicians throughout the country have been ordered to force enlistments to the utmost.

The gunboat Bravo is preparing to sail from here to Tampico with 300 troops and ammunition.

The warehouse of the Acuña Oil Co. was destroyed in the fighting at Tampico, according to a wireless dispatch received here tonight. It contained fire from the shells of the Zaragoza. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Tampico is reported to be enveloped in smoke from the burning oil tanks. General Maas, commander at Vera Cruz, has received an urgent call for the Bravo and ammunition.

Rear Admiral Mayo, in a report filed at 10 o'clock this morning from Tampico, says the fighting is intense, but that the fiercest advances of the rebels was checked by the strong fire from the Zaragoza and Vera Cruz. One of the oil tanks was burning at that time.

Sixty American women were on board the United States warships and the German cruiser Dresden had some further up river to rescue others.

The battleship Utah left here for Tampico tonight. Norman Lind, son of John Lind, was aboard.

WASHINGTON ANXIOUS REGARDING TAMPICO

Washington, April 9.—Officials here tonight were gravely anxious for the safety of foreign property in the Tampico district, where valuable oil plants already have been destroyed and other properties, valued at millions, are threatened by Mexican constitutionalists and federal shells.

Dispatches today told of the burning of warehouses belonging to a German company, with a loss of half a million dollars, and of imminent danger to the immensely valuable plant of the Waters-Pierce Oil refinery. This plant, the navy department learned today, has been occupied by Mexicans for the past few days, and as a consequence shell after shell has been poured into it from federal gunboats in the harbor.

Rear Admiral Mayo's suggestion that an American transport be sent to Tampico to harbor refugees probably will not cause official action here. The hospital ship Solace, which was left for New Orleans for Tampico tonight, and at the navy department it was said the marines on the transport left in the vicinity of Tampico. Classes from the United States military academy at West Point, which were to be distributed among the other ships in Mexican waters, leaving that craft with accommodations for at least 800, available for service at Tampico.

The fate of the 700 and more Spanish exiles from Torreon, who made their entry into El Paso yesterday, has not been determined by state or war department officials, who believe the problem is one for the immigration authorities. For the time being, the exiles apparently are dependent on the bounty of the people of El Paso and the Red Cross. The state department, through Agent Carothers, at El Paso and Juarez, is endeavoring to obtain passports for their rights, and redress for their grievances against the constitutionalist government.

A messenger report today from the border, saying 3,000 men had renewed fighting east of Torreon, left war department officials more in doubt than ever as to the probable outcome of Villa's occupancy of that city. No details came as to the outcome of the renewed hostilities.

TOTS AND "GROWN-UPS" TO TELL OF MISSIONS

Sunday morning in the Bible school of Second Baptist church an interesting service will be given. Classes from all departments, from the small 3-year babies to the grown-up adults will tell of the work now being done by the East Street Baptist church mission board. School opens at 9:30 o'clock and all will receive a warm welcome.

VILLA MADE BRITON FACE FIRE OF RIFLES

Rebel General Used English Vice Consul as Messenger at Torreon—Vice Consul Protested.

El Paso, Texas, April 9.—H. S. Conard-Cummins, acting British vice consul at Gomez Palacio, was used by General Villa during the Torreon battle to carry a demand to General Velasco on March 27 that the latter surrender. According to newspaper correspondents who reached here from the front tonight, Mr. Conard-Cummins performed the mission under protest, and was subjected to rifle fire on his return toward the rebel lines.

George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department at the battle, in the report of the incident that he has made to Washington, however, does not indicate that Mr. Conard-Cummins was coerced into becoming General Villa's messenger, but states that he did so with some reluctance after first refusing.

Report of Carothers. Mr. Carothers' report follows: "At 4 p. m. (March 27) General Villa sent a messenger to see Cummins, requesting him to go to headquarters. I and H. W. Potter accompanied him.

When we arrived, after introducing Cummins to Villa, Villa said to him that he knew that he (Cummins) was an enemy to the constitutionalist cause, that he had information that Cummins was accustomed to banqueting with the federals, that he knew he was a friend of General Velasco, and that in view of this friendship with Velasco, he wanted Cummins to take a communication to Velasco in which he demanded the surrender of the city to avoid further bloodshed.

Villa said the message was couched in terms usual in warfare in such cases. Cummins refused to take the message, arguing that he was neutral, and should not mix in political affairs of the country.

"At this Villa became very angry and said we foreigners were demanding that he protect foreigners and be humanitarian in his acts, and that at the very first opportunity given us to do some good we refused. He commenced to talk about probably leaving to fight all of us, when I interposed and advised Cummins to go.

Most Serious Aspect. "Villa said he first thought of sending the message by me, but on second thought had decided on Cummins on account of his friendship with Velasco, as he would be in no danger. Cummins agreed to go, so I wrote some instructions to Mr. Ulmer. Cummins left about 5 o'clock and was to return about noon next day. The interview with Villa had a most serious aspect for a few moments, but as it turned out, Villa and he shook hands, called each other "Amigos" and parted in the best of spirits.

The Mr. Ulmer mentioned in the report is L. M. Ulmer, United States consular agent at Torreon.

Mr. Carothers, questioned by a reporter here today, amplified his report to the state department as follows: "Just before leaving Villa's headquarters, Villa called Cummins 'Amigo.' Cummins turned to Villa and said, 'You call me friend?' " "Yes, I call you friend, because I want you for my friend," responded Villa.

"Villa's last word to us was that he left all arrangements about getting away to us.

Carried British Flag. "I then walked toward Mr. O'Hea's house with Cummins, but left him before reaching there, in order to get a handcar. I saw Cummins enter O'Hea's house. A half hour later I met Cummins coming from O'Hea's house with British flag and a flag of truce. I had been unable to get a handcar, so Cummins said he would go on foot, as it was getting late, and he did not want to make the trip in the dark. Cummins did not make any complaint to me of coercion, then or later. On his return on the 30th he was cordially received by Villa, who embraced him and thanked him for what he had done."

Mr. O'Hea, mentioned by Mr. Carothers, is Patrick O'Hea, recently appointed to succeed Conard-Cummins as British vice consul. He had resigned, but was acting as vice consul.

It Pays the Women To Read the Ads

SOMEbody missed some good bargain in silk petticoats the other day. Did you? A merchant advertised in The Constitution a sale of $6.50 and $8.50 silk petticoats at $3.98 and sold almost every one. Don't miss any more sales like that. The Constitution carries money-saving ads daily.

Another merchant offered two pounds of lard for 25 cents. Did you get your share? And one man sold four packages of Kellogg's Corn Flakes for a quarter. That's a saving worth while. Read Constitution advertisements and cut the cost of living without cutting the quality.

ELEVEN WORDS MAY STAY EXECUTION OF 4 GUNMEN

Friends of Men Condemned to Die for Murder of Rosen—that Are Still Hoping.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—Eleven words written on a slip of white paper which was found today in a bundle of old correspondence by L. B. M. Brown, of New York, may prove the means of obtaining a stay of execution for the four gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

According to Mr. Brown, the note, which Brown said it was written against giving credence to statements of Morris Luban and Max Margolis, who were witnesses against the gunmen, was written by a former assistant district attorney, Whitman. It was intended, says Brown, for the guidance of former Governor William Sulzer, in whose behalf, it was reported at the trial, the district attorney was acting.

Mr. Brown said he would take this legal step probably tomorrow. Mr. DeLahanty agreed to assume charge of the proceedings for the district attorney's office.

The governor declined to express an opinion on the merits of the new angle in the case. He said he desired that the gunmen should have every opportunity to prove their innocence and that he had suggested bringing the district attorney's office into the case.

A futile attempt to appeal personally to the governor for the lives of the gunmen was made today by three relatives and a friend of the condemned men's families. They were the wives of Louis Rosenberg ("Lefty Louie") and Harry Horowitz ("Gyp the Blood") and the mother of Jacob Seidenshner ("Whitey Lewis") and Mrs. Volk, of New York.

The quartette waited at the capital for an hour and then learning there was no chance of seeing the governor, left for New York.

The governor explained that he had refused to see the women because he thought it was useless.

"I've rendered my final decision," he said, "who have seen these women would have meant only another dramatic scene and no good would have come of it."

Between $2,000 and $3,000 Secured—Muffled Cries of Messenger Brought Trainmen to His Rescue.

Little Rock, Ark., April 9.—Attracted by muffled cries emanating from the express car attached to a "local" Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train, railroad employees here tonight found the express messenger, William Ahring, locked in a trunk, bound and gagged and the safe in the car looted.

The discovery was made when the train reached Little Rock from Hot Springs at 10 o'clock. It is estimated that between $2,000 and $3,000 was secured by the two men who Ahring declares took possession of the car near Haskell, Ark., 30 miles from Little Rock, forced him into the trunk and escaped with all the valuables aboard.

No attempt was made to rob the passengers, and other members of the train crew knew nothing of the robbery until the messenger was discovered in the trunk.

Posses are in pursuit of the bandits. Story of Messenger. According to Ahring the window of his car was smashed shortly after the train left Haskell and two revolvers were thrust through the aperture with a guff command to open the door.

Taken unawares, he says, he complied and the two masked men entered, covered him with their revolvers and, after relieving him of his weapon, keys and money, forced him into the trunk.

That was all he knew, Ahring asserts, until he was released here. The car had been thoroughly ransacked and the safe emptied of its contents.

Express company officials here declared tonight they were unable to definitely estimate the amount secured by the robbers.

BILL HENDERSON DIES AT HIS FATHER'S HOME

W. F. Henderson, for years one of the ablest cartoonists in the country, died last night at 9 o'clock at the home of his father, W. M. Henderson, in Dover, Georgia.

Bill Henderson, as he was familiarly known, had been ill for three weeks. About ten days ago he left Atlanta for the home of his father, where he had been ever since, in a critical condition. Henderson was one of the best-known artists in the south. For many years he worked on The Constitution, then became connected with several other Atlanta papers, and some time ago returned to The Constitution. Recently he had been connected with the Southern Engraving company, which he is survived by his wife, who lives in Atlanta, and by his father, and a number of other relatives.

GIRL LOSES PURSE AFTER BRAVE FIGHT

Two Well-Dressed Young White Men Get Away With Jewelry Worth $600 After Choking Owner.

Two well-dressed young white men attacked Miss Annie Heath, of 115 West Harris street, last night about 9 o'clock at the corner of Orme and West Harris streets, and after a brave struggle on the part of the young woman, managed to make a get-away with her leather bag containing $26 in bills, and jewelry valued at about $600.

Miss Heath had been to see a friend at the Carnegie library, and was on her way home. At the No. 8 fire engine house she noticed a disturbance between some negroes, and also noticed that two white men began to follow her. At the corner of Orme and West Harris, they crossed the street, and under the arc light made the attack.

After Miss Heath had hit one of the men in the face several times with her fist, he began to choke her. The other then snatched the pocketbook from her arm, and the two then broke into a run out Orme street.

Miss Heath walked the half block to her home at 115 West Harris and telephoned for the police. She was so nervous from the effects of the attack, that she could only give a vague description of the two white men.

She stated that one of them wore a gray overcoat and a black derby, and that the other wore a fat man, wearing a dark suit of clothes.

"I gave them the best scrap I knew how to," said Miss Heath, at the same time showing her fist, where all the skin on her knuckles had been knocked off by the blows she rained on the highwayman's head.

"I never did scream. That never entered my head. I only thought of my jewelry, and fought my best to save it."

Miss Heath works at the Lester Book store, on Peachtree street.

List of Stolen Jewelry. A list of the stolen jewelry consisted of a $300 solitaire ring, a small diamond ring of three stones, valued at $85; a diamond studded bracelet, valued at $60, and one ruby ring, valued at $40.

Miss Heath states that she always puts them in her pocketbook when at work at the store, and that she had not taken them out Thursday afternoon when she left the store to return to her home.

Detectives are working on the robbery. The description of one of the highwaymen is the same as that of the young white man who attacked Miss Nannon Mott, of 22 Leckie street, on Monday night, and snatched her purse, containing a few dollars.

Child Chases Thief. Annie Moore, the 7-year-old daughter of T. E. Moore, the well-known grocer, chased a negro snatch thief three blocks last night with hopes of regaining her pocketbook that had been snatched from her hand on Bedford street near the corner of Fourth street. The purse contained two linen handkerchiefs and 75 cents in change. The little girl was near her home, 45 Yeddo drive, when a negro girl about 16 years of age ran by her.

PEACH CROP FATE HANGS IN BALANCE

No Damage Had Been Done Up to Late Thursday Night, According to Reports Received Here.

Unless the cold weather of last night produced considerable damage—and at this time it is too early to state—the fruit crop of Georgia has not been hurt. Many thought that the sudden cold spell of Wednesday would prove fatal to the peach crop. This did not prove the case. Reports from various parts of the state are to the effect that the crop is unharmed as yet.

State Entomologist Lee Worsham said Thursday: "I have received no information tending to indicate that the peach crop has been hurt. However, tonight will tell the tale. If there should be a hard frost, as the other reports indicate, the damage will be great."

Commissioner of Agriculture Price had received no news of damage up to a late hour Thursday afternoon.

The dawn of Friday, it was predicted late Thursday night by C. F. von Hermann, of the U. S. weather bureau, would see the end of Georgia's dangers from the frost, which, for two days, has been slowly advancing upon the south.

"The thermometer will probably stay about freezing until just before dawn—about 1:30 o'clock in the morning," said Mr. von Hermann. "At that time, it can be expected to have reached thirty. As soon as the sun rises the temperature will begin to go up, and the danger will be over. The actual length of time during which frost temperature can be expected to reign will be no more than two hours."

Dispatches were received which indicated that many Georgia peach growers are confident that the crop will be saved. This, however, it was predicted by the weather bureau, would die down before midnight.

ORCHARDISTS BELOW MACON BURN SMUGGLES UNDER TREES. Anticipating freezing temperatures tonight throughout middle Georgia, peach growers below Macon are burning smuggles in their orchards tonight in an effort to prevent serious injury to the crop. However, if the predicted freeze comes tonight, followed by rough weather for a day or two, the entire crop will probably be wiped out, entailing a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The temperature went as low as 40 degrees here this morning and early this evening was dropping rapidly. Truck growers are also apprehensive for the safety of their vegetables.

PEACH GROWERS AT CORNELIA ARE DEPENDING ON WIND. Cornelia, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The fruit crop is pronounced safe so far. However, it is a crisp breeze blowing, which indicates frost. In the event the breeze continues the force of the frost will be broken and no disastrous results will come.

Orchardists express themselves as confident that the crop will be fully 100 per cent if the Easter freeze is passed. The temperature registered 60 degrees this afternoon and will, no doubt, continue to drop.

GROWERS OF FORT VALLEY LOOKING FOR MEDIUM CROP. Fort Valley, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—At present the outlook is for about three-fourths of a crop in the Fort Valley section. A frost tonight would do material damage, the extent of which could not be estimated at this time. The growers are optimistic, however, and look for a medium crop this season.

PEACHES STILL UNHARMED IN THE VICINITY OF ROME. Rome, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Although low temperatures have prevailed here last night and today, the fruit crop in this section has probably not been harmed. A cloudy sky and high winds have kept the thermometer above 33 degrees.

FRUIT GROWERS IN COBB FEAR EARLY MORNING FROST. Marietta, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Fruit in Cobb was perfectly protected in Thursday morning's cold by clouds and high winds. Growers fear a still night may bring heavy frost Friday morning, but to this hour the fruit is in the condition.

CROPS OF SOUTH GEORGIA IN DANGER FROM FREEZE. Thomasville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Winter played a return engagement here today and overcoats and furs have been in demand. Cotton, corn, watermelons and other crops are in a condition to be had for a shovelful. The predicted frost came tonight. The large crop of LeConte pears would also be damaged. It is hoped that the wind and clouds will prevent frost.

FRUIT CROP ABOUT DALTON FEAR OF FREEZE FROM WIND. Dalton, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The high wind which prevailed last night proved a salvation for the fruit crop, which is yet safe, although the temperature reached the freezing point. Inasmuch as the wind has calmed and the cold still prevails, much apprehension is felt for the safety of the fruit, and tonight is regarded as the crisis.

SUMMER COTTON GROWERS FEAR FOR YOUNG PLANTS. Americus, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Americus orchard men are decidedly

Rev. C. W. Rowe, of Rome, Denies Story That J. M. Rowe, Whose Body Was Found in Elevator Shaft of the Emery-Steiner Building on Thursday Morning, Had Two Wives.

BLOODY STICK IS FOUND NEAR BODY OF DECEASED; MAY AID SOLVE MYSTERY

Hat and Club Are Found by Police After Search Late Thursday Afternoon—The Body Will Be Taken to Monroe, Ga., for Funeral Services and Interment.

Believing their father, J. M. Rowe, whose body was found in the bottom of the elevator shaft of the Emery-Steiner building on Thursday morning, was murdered, his two sons and son-in-law, who arrived in Atlanta last night, will ask the police today to make a thorough investigation.

"It looks like murder," said Rev. C. W. Rowe, of Rome, Ga., one of the sons. "I do not see how it was possible for my father to have fallen through the shaft and met his death through any accident."

"It is true that he drank some, but he was always able to take care of himself. Of course I don't know of any reason why he should have been killed, and I know of no enemies he had made, but I will certainly insist upon a complete probe of the case before accepting an accident theory."

Rowe Seen on Sunday. "The last we heard of him was on last Sunday. Taken care of our neighbors in Monroe saw him in Atlanta. Since then we have had no news of his whereabouts. We have made arrangements to have his body taken to Monroe, Ga., for funeral and interment tomorrow. We will certainly insist upon a complete probe of the case before accepting an accident theory."

"I do not know whether he had any money with him than what was found by the police, but as a usual thing he carried considerable money on his person, and it is possible that robbers had something to do with the case."

"I see in the afternoon papers a story to the effect that letters found on my father's body indicated that he had two wives. I do not believe that there is a word of truth in this statement. Certainly the members of his family know nothing of it. He has never been divorced from my mother, who is still living with her family in Monroe."

Rev. C. W. Rowe is now pastor of a church in Monroe, La. He was at one time connected with the Jones Avenue Baptist church here as assistant to the Rev. Mr. McCutcheon. His brother, J. L. Rowe, of Monroe, and another brother, J. C. Rowe, of Monroe, also survived in Atlanta last night.

Death Puzzles Detectives. The baffling death mystery surrounding the discovery Thursday morning of the decomposed body continued to puzzle the city detectives Thursday night, who are working on the case.

Late Thursday afternoon Chief of Police James L. Beavers and Detective Butler visited the basement of the building and made a thorough search of the elevator shaft, finding the missing part of the dead man partly hidden under debris in the bottom of the shaft. Close by the hat was found a bloody budgeon, which was about three feet in length and the size in thickness of a 2x4 timber.

At one end of the budgeon was a nail, and this end of the budgeon and the nail were coated with blood. Close by the weapon was found an empty half-pint bottle of corn whisky. Marks on the dead man's body advanced the theory that probably Rowe had been murdered on one of the floors above and thrown into the elevator shaft. There was a hole in the back of his neck, which was probably made either by a bullet or the nail in the end of the bludgeon. The dead man's head was cut very deep on one side, and the left side of his face and his left shoulder horribly bruised. His neck was evidently broken. From some papers on his person his identity was established. Several letters were also found in his pockets. The detectives do not believe that he was robbed, as they found a $5 bill in his inside coat pocket, which was placed in a folding leather pocket-book. A half-dollar, a nickel and a one-cent piece were found in his side coat pocket. A plain gold watch was in his pocket. The body was discovered about 10 o'clock by Sam Phillips, the negro janitor and freight elevator boy. Phillips had lowered the elevator to the basement and had stepped out of it to make some adjustment of the cables. He ran the elevator up a few feet in order to step underneath it to arrange the cables. As he stepped down into the bottom of the shaft, which is a few feet below the level of the basement, he saw the face of a white man directly underneath his foot. Horrified, he quickly drew his foot back and ran out and called up the police. Detectives Summoned. Detectives Moon, Patrick, Black and Rosser came to the scene and removed the dead man's body to A. O. Doneho's undertaking establishment. The undertaker declared that the body had probably been in the pit from two and a half to three days. The theory that the man had wandered into the elevator shaft in a drunken state and fallen to sleep was dropped when the negro elevator boy declared that the freight elevator never touched the bottom of the pit, which is about three feet below the level of the basement floor. He further declared that the entrance to the basement from underneath the Peachtree viaduct was always fastened by a lock, and that no one could enter the basement from the ground floor. This left only two theories for the detectives to work upon. That the man had fallen either from the second or third floors of the building into the elevator shaft, or was murdered and thrown into the shaft. The janitor states that recently carpenters were repairing the stairsteps on the second and third floors, and that the bludgeon could possibly have fallen through the shaft then, and been smeared with blood when the man's head struck it. An investigation of the building shows that on the second floor there is a toilet immediately to the left of the elevator door. The elevator door is of solid wood and unatches from the outside. Some of the detectives are of the belief that Rowe had wandered into the building in a drunken state in search of the toilet and had opened the door to the elevator shaft and fallen through. Love Tangle Revealed. By the discovery of personal letters addressed to Rowe and a perusal of their contents, a thrilling love tangle was disclosed by the tragedy. Two of the love letters are signed "Your Loving Wife," and were written in March from Lanett, Ala. A third was written from Gainesville, Ga., dated October 11, 1911, and is signed "Minnie Knight." Each letter disclosed a story of undying devotion and love for Rowe. A slip of paper found upon the body disclosed the fact that about two years ago he had worked for Frewitt Brothers Furniture company, at 1424 Edgewood avenue. D. R. Frewitt, of the furniture company, identified the body at Doneho's as that of J. M. Rowe. He stated that the man formerly worked for him, and that about two years ago he left Atlanta for Lawrenceville, presumably to reside. Mr. Frewitt stated further that the dead man had a son who was an evangelist minister at Reiter, Ga., named "Your Loving Wife." He further stated that he understood Rowe about two months ago held a position in Atlanta with the Home Art Supply company at 172 Whitehall street. Love Letter From Wife. One letter reads in part: "I can't write for crying. To think that I have a sweet man in the world and can't be with him. It hurts my heart, and if you can find any way to get us to live together, I will be so happy and will live for you alone. I don't want any other man but you. If I didn't love you, I would never be married to you. You are all the world to me. Can you prove that you have got divorce? If you can't, I will live with you and send them to me. I will live with you. You know it is against the law to have two living wives without divorce. If you can find any way to get free from the law, I will live with you, for you're the only man that I ever saw that I love." This letter was dated March, 1914, and signed "Your Loving Wife." It was posted in Lanett, Ala. Another letter, signed the same way, was along similar lines. The third letter, which was signed "Minnie Knight," and written from Gainesville, Ga., dated March 11, 1911, read in part as follows: "I would like to see you, and if you'll send me the money I will see you soon. Oh, if I could only see you this morning. I thought before I met you that I had loved, but alas, none until I saw the one that captured my heart and that was you, darling." This letter was signed "Your friend until death." Below the letter was a bit of poetry: "I once had a heart—a heart that was true; It has flown from me and gone to you. Care for it well, as I have done. For you have two and I have none." Poets of Divorce. Another letter referring to the divorce of his wife, and written upon paper with the letter head of R. W. Smith Medical company, Lawrenceville, Ga., read, in part, as follows: "When I got a divorce from J. M. Rowe some twelve years ago, we agreed that if he would not appear and fight the proceedings his disabilities would be removed also, and he would be at liberty to marry again." This paper was unsigned, but dated March 24, 1913. It stated that the divorce case was tried by Judge R. B. Russell (Dick Russell), of the court of appeals. A lawyer, whose name is unknown, came to Doneho's Thursday afternoon and stated that he had talked to Rowe Monday morning in Lawrenceville, about his divorce case, and that Rowe wanted him to take up the matter of getting his disabilities removed. He stated that Rowe had a sister in Lawrenceville, named Mrs. Thomas M. O'Kelley. She was communicated with, and stated that Rowe left there Tuesday morning for Birmingham, Ala. Worked as Convict Guard. A dispatch from Lawrenceville said J. M. Rowe was until recently a convict guard in Gwinnett county. This was borne out by the discovery in one of Rowe's pockets of a month's record of the misdemeanor convicts of Gwinnett county, signed by C. L. Nash. On a card in his pocket was written the name of Mrs. E. H. Rainey Lanett, Ala., and inside pocket the detectives found a health certificate relating to Rowe's physical condition, signed by Dr. J. P. C. Van Horn and G. P. Hurst, of Monroe, Ga. It stated that Rowe had lived in Monroe for twenty years, and that he was of weak health, and subject to nervous prostrations, and unable to do any hard physical labor. It is probable that Coroner Doneho will hold his inquest over the body of the dead man this morning. The body is at the chapel of A. O. & Roy Doneho and will be carried to his home at Monroe, Ga., for funeral and interment. Mr. Rowe was 64 years old. Surviving him are his wife, and the following children: First, Roy Rowe, of Rome; J. L. Tom, Willie, Travis and C. C. Rowe, of Monroe; Misses Florence and Georgia Rowe, Mrs. Lizzie Ellison and Mrs. W. C. Fortner, of Monroe.

Young, Birmingham, Ala., president; John A. Marvin, Houston, Texas, first vice president; J. C. Beiding, Augusta, Ga., second vice president; Alvin M. Smith, Richmond, Va., secretary-treasurer. There are about a thousand delegates in attendance. The morning session was devoted to the report of officers. The entertainment features are very elaborate. day at the closing sessions of the first national conference, which has been in session here the last four days. The next annual meeting of the conference probably will be held in Cincinnati in February, 1915 as a section of the superintendence department of the National Education Association. The conference which closed here today was called by E. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, and was presided over by J. L. McGrew, of Washington, D. C., of the bureau of education. Thirty-seven states were represented and the delegates discussed the best methods for improving the rural schools of the country through state supervision. The decision of the conference as announced today was that the most pressing needs in this work are: demonstration schools, state and local supervisors, consolidation of weak schools into strong centralized institutions, improvement of teachers' training, agricultural and industrial supervisors and community activities. Lathrop explained that the bureau of education and the children's bureau would soon draw up a plan for handling the problem. She spoke of the reduction of the appropriation for the children's bureau from $12,000, that had been asked to $26,000 and the president expressed his regret that such action had been taken. IMPORTANT SCHEDULE CHANGES The Southern railway announces that effective Sunday, April 12th, Royal Palm No. 2, southbound, will arrive Atlanta 10:45 p. m., leave Atlanta 10:55 p. m.; Kansas City Florida Special No. 24, southbound, will arrive Atlanta 9:25 p. m., leave Atlanta 9:35 p. m., instead of 10:30 p. m. as at present. # DIVORCE SYSTEM SCORED BY ELLIS

Judge Tells the Jury He Has Felt "Humiliated" at Having to Preside Over So Many Cases.

Judge W. D. Ellis, of the superior court, who has been hearing undefended divorce suits, yesterday scored the divorce system in an address to the jury, following the hearing of the last case on the list.

"Witness, step down," said Judge Ellis. Then he turned to the jury and let loose. He characterized the proceedings of the previous four days as disgusting. He spoke slightly of the Georgia divorce laws. He described his own feelings at having to hear so many divorce cases in four days as "humiliating." Last of all, he scored the 140 men and women who had been given decrees.

"Did you notice these women?" he demanded. "Did you notice that nearly all of them wore startling and gaudy clothes, and addressed the jury in such bland and honeyed tones that you could hardly hear them? If they'd taken the trouble to talk that way at home we probably wouldn't have had any divorce proceedings."

"During the trial of all these cases," he went on, "not the wail of an infant was heard in this court. If a man is on trial for murder or some other crime, his wife and children will fairly overflow the courtroom, but you don't see them hanging around when one of these undefended divorce suits is going through.

"One woman, you will remember, made a sworn statement of most inhuman cruelty supposed to have been suffered at the hands of her husband—a sworn statement from this stand. Yet the husband, the next day, in the public print, branded every one of those statements as untrue. But he didn't try to stop the divorce. How many other husbands could also deny such statements if they wanted to do it?"

Judge Ellis stated that he had introduced a bill embodying his ideas for divorce reforms in the legislature, but that after a favorable hearing it had been killed in the judiciary committee.

"You gentlemen," the court concluded, "have seen what occurs under the present laws. How much they need to be amended, you can deduce for yourselves."

TEN BLAZES LAID TO J. W. YARBROUGH

Man Accused of Giving Girl Poisoned Banana Said to Have Had Many Fires During Last Few Years.

Macon, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—With a view to determining whether or not there are grounds for taking out a warrant charging John W. Yarbrough, the man who is alleged to have given Miss Irene Herndon a poisoned banana last Saturday, with arson, in connection with the burning of a couple of weeks ago of the house in which he was living, State Fire Marshal W. R. Joyner, of Atlanta, will hold an inquiry here tomorrow morning and will go fully into the matter. More than forty affidavits will figure in the case, some having to do with previous fires it is alleged that Yarbrough was connected with.

Captain Joyner stated today that he was undecided what his course would be if the evidence at the hearing tomorrow indicated that Yarbrough was responsible for the fire. He said if the testimony warranted it he would either wear out a warrant himself or turn the matter over to Solicitor Ross with the request that it be brought before the grand jury, which convenes here next Monday.

Yarbrough today continued to protest his innocence of the charge of giving Miss Herndon the banana containing large quantities of cyanide of mercury. He has employed Attorney W. D. McNeill, state senator from the twenty-second district, to represent him and the latter said today that Yarbrough has not only been done a great injustice, but is the victim of an awful plot. Attorney McNeill declared that if Yarbrough is vindicated, heavy damage suits will be brought against the ones who made the charges against him, for false arrest and defamation of character.

The charges in brief against Yarbrough are that he gave Miss Herndon a poisoned banana in order to put her out of the way so that she could not testify against him if a charge of arson was brought against him.

Miss Herndon claims to have discovered that when Yarbrough's house was burned he saved four trunks filled with household goods and placed them in a barn at the rear of the house. Yarbrough had made affidavit that he had lost household goods to the value of $1,900, and sought to collect insurance to the amount of $1,200 and Miss Herndon learned of this, it is said, and had told several people of her alleged discovery of the trunks.

The insurance company which held the policy for $1,200 on Yarbrough's property claims that it has information in its possession that Yarbrough had ten fires in Georgia during the last few years.

Will Probably Be Early Next Week Before It Is Submitted to the Detective.

Interest in the Leo Frank case is now centered on the forthcoming report of Detective William J. Burns. He stated Thursday that no definite date had been set, but it is the general belief that it will not be submitted until the early part of next week.

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey left the city last night and will not return until the day previous to the date set for Leo Frank's execution—April 17. The investigation being promoted into the case by the prosecution is being managed almost entirely by the detective department, fully six men of which are actively at work.

Roses and Posies and Fruits and Foliage!

The Daintiest and Prettiest Hats of the Season Arrived from Estelle Mershon Yesterday

A number of them have the magic names of wonderful Paris milliners; the others are the creations and the adaptations of Estelle Mershon, of 20 E. 46 St., New York.

They are in every respect the daintiest and prettiest collection of hats we have offered this season. And here it is but two days until Easter.

What are the hats?

They are a reflection, or rather an embodiment of the lately successful styles of Paris and New York.

Tiny turbans, bewitching Watteau hats, smart sailors, piquant poke bonnets. Hats that seem to be nothing but a flat brim and a bandeau and a bit of fruit or floral trimming; others that flare up oddly in the back and have a band that fits under the back coiffure.

Nothing new is missing, the fruit and the flowers, the lacquered ribbons, the high colors are put to their smartest uses. The result is hats that will queen it over all at such times as Easter and the opera.

Early in the season we advised that this would be a season of the dainty hat. It is coming to pass. These, the latest and best efforts (or copies) of the world's celebrated artists in millinery, are proving it.

We invite you to this, the most satisfying display of spring millinery thus far this season.

CALLING A HAIT.

The Angliophobists claim that the election of Oscar Underwood to the senate from Alabama was a repudiation of the president's position on Panama canal tolls. Underwood having taken issue with the president in this matter.

Mr. Underwood will not take oath as senator until March 4, 1915. The tolls controversy will then have been settled.

But Captain Frank S. White, elected to fill the short senatorial term from Alabama up to March 4, 1915, will vote on the tolls controversy. Here is his public statement:

I am opposed to the exemption of canal tolls to American ships, on the ground that it is unfair and undemocratic. My position is independent of any question of national honor that might arise out of the Panama canal treaty. Exemption of tolls to United States ships is in line with the granting of taxes on imports for the sake of protection to American ships at the expense of the people.

Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, takes the same position. Both agree that, independent of the question of national honor, appealing enough in itself, the economic principle of subsidies involved in coastwise exemption is undemocratic and impractical.

So Alabama's two senate votes are with the president for repeal of the free toll subsidy.

The Angliophobists die hard. Among the first of the telegrams of congratulation Underwood received after his victory was one from the president. Its warmth and spontaneity were evident. Its concluding sentence was "Now for a triumphant conclusion of the democratic program."

The president feels, as does The Constitution, that honest divergence is no ground for tolerance, for party wreckage, for venom and bitterness that includes gutter abuse and that verges on staking personal vindictiveness against common patriotism and the country's welfare. No paper in the country has been more persistent in its antagonism to the tolls grab than The Constitution. No paper in the south has been more fast in its admiration and advocacy of Oscar Underwood. Instead of abusing, vilifying and berating him because we took different views on the canal tolls, The Constitution, recognizing the honesty and commending the courage of the man, supported him just as earnestly as it knew how, and with becoming modesty we believe that with The Constitution having a larger circulation in Alabama than any Alabama newspaper—its assistance, to say the least of it, did Mr. Underwood no harm.

In this connection it is worthy of note that every leading newspaper in middle and northern Alabama which stood with the president on the question of canal tolls were equally as zealous in their support of Underwood, who made no issue with the president in his campaign for the senate, knowing the matter would be disposed of before he entered the senate.

How different the attitude of the Alabama toll repeal newspapers toward Underwood and that of some of the jingo newspapers which, by character assassination, charges of treachery and incendiary appeals to bestial and ignorant passion, seek to inflame the public mind against the president of the United States.

No wonder the press of the country is beginning to call a halt in this miserable campaign of personal abuse and vilification of the president—a campaign based upon the theory that the national mind is a blank and that the virtue of patriotism is a football for political harlotry.

SAFETY COSTS MONEY.

The interstate commerce commission reports a gratifying decrease in the number of people killed or injured on American railroads for the quarter ending September 30, 1913.

Two causes actuated these effects. More scrupulous attention to operating detail, in response to public sentiment, and a realization of the avoidability of accidents. The installation of safety appliances. Each of these factors must figure increasingly in railroad management, as people grow to demand more safety and at the same time not to remit in their demand for speed and efficiency.

And both of these factors demand money on part of the railroads. Efficiency on part of employees is high-priced. The cheap railroad man is incompetent and dangerous. The safety and efficiency you buy are reflected in the pay envelope of the man who handles the throttle, the telegraph key or the repair tool.

Safety mechanical appliances cost money. Foremost among them is the double-track system, which soon must be effected upon all trunk southern lines. Decent rolling stock and replacements are further items.

Some of the great systems have shown what can be accomplished in making transportation safe and at the same time efficient. But it has cost much money to get to this point. More will be required, as development thrusts greater burdens on the carrier.

The railroads are asking for a nominal increase in tariffs that they may so stabilize their revenues as to be able to borrow money for these improvements that mean so much to traffic.

It is for the interstate commerce commission to decide if the roads have sufficiently recovered from their old-time financial and "watering" debauch to justify the authority.

The selling of the securities marketed to assure these improvements will turn loose a cool billion into every channel of trade and industry.

That means prosperity. It means also safety and efficiency.

WILSON ON LOCAL OPTION.

President Wilson has reaffirmed his advocacy of local option with regard to the liquor question, a position taken unequivocally when he was governor of New Jersey.

A dispatch from Washington, evidently inspired, states thus fact and quotes, as follows, the letter in which the president, then governor, originally laid down his position:

I am in favor of local option. I am a thorough believer in local self-government, and believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to control the matter of the regulation of the withholding of licenses. But the questions involved are social and moral and are not susceptible of being made parts of a party program.

Local self-government and, specifically as regards the liquor traffic, local option, is a traditional democratic doctrine. In times past it never was challenged, either by prohibitionists or anti-prohibitionists. What-ever crusades the one or other element projected were restricted to their respective localities. Only within recent years have efforts been made to inject an issue essentially moral and ethical into the realm of national or state-wide politics.

The president is right. Unbiased observation strengthens the belief that efforts to inject prohibition into politics has done the cause of temperance more harm than good. We have a very concrete illustration of that fact in the recent senatorial campaign in Alabama. The political fortunes of the candidate who strove to subordinate logical issues to the moral issues of prohibition fell before the common sense of the protesting voters.

The more quickly the bona-fide or the demagogic advocates of prohibition learn that the principle of local self-government should be all prevailing, and that the attempt to enforce one community's definition of virtue upon another is abhorrent to reason and democracy, the better for all concerned.

THE CENTRAL'S PRESIDENT.

The selection of W. A. Winburn as president of the Central of Georgia railway is a tribute to loyalty and efficiency, and is significant of the rapid development of the big territory covered by the Central.

Mr. Winburn succeeds C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, which railroad also owns the Central. Mr. Markham found that the phenomenal development of the two properties placed too onerous a burden upon him as the president of both. Hence the promotion of Mr. Winburn. Mr. Markham retains the presidency of the Illinois Central and of the Ocean Steamship company.

Mr. Winburn has grown up in the service of the Central. Since 1892 he has been in its employ in various capacities, steadily advancing all the time. His last promotion is the logical climax to a career that has covered every practical phase of railroad administration, and that has equipped him admirably to fulfill his new functions.

No section of the south has expanded more rapidly in business and agriculture than the field traversed by this important system.

Mr. Winburn succeeds to the direction of a property that is gradually being molded into one of the most valuable and best-equipped in the southern states. Under his administration the Central will be well qualified to get its share of the prosperity now opening before the eastern half of the southern states.

The career of Mr. Winburn is a singular illustration of the efficiency of application, industry and ability in pursuing opportunity in this country. Still a young man, he has wrought so well and so faithfully that not only has he won the confidence of those who control the Central, but he enjoys as well the esteem of all its patrons and of the public. He employed no magic formula in his success. Just the old-fashioned virtues of ability, hard work and persistence, which have blazed the way to distinction ever since the world began.

TENNESSEE THREATENED WITH BITTER POLITICAL STRUGGLE

Nashville, Tenn., April 9.—(Special).—The bitterest political struggle that Tennessee has yet had is promised in the attempt of united democracy to regain the state from Governor Hooper, for this republican leader, also choice of the fusionists in the past for governor, will undoubtedly secure without opposition the nomination for the third term when the E. O. P. assembly in state convention April 15.

Of all the democratic idols who have served as chief executive of the state in the past none in recent years has had the temerity to stand for the third consecutive term for governor, so great is the prejudice against the third-term idea in this state, and it has remained for the second republican governor to make an attempt to break up the well-observed custom of the past.

Governor Hooper has such a hold on his own party, however, and has been so strong in the past two contests, that no other line in the ranks of the G. O. P. would dare oppose him for the nomination. He will not only get the republican nomination for governor by acclamation, but the convention following one week after the republicans promise to give Governor Hooper a third indorsement for the highest office in the state.

But it does not follow that the indorsement of the independent convention of April 22 will be a guide for all of the fusion democrats to follow. Developments so far give fair promise of a reunited party this year. Not only is the call of President Wilson for harmony being heeded by many, but the two United States senators and seven of the eight democratic congressmen have put themselves on record as strongly favoring the harmonized program.

Backed up by such support the nominee of the democrats at the convention to be held May 26 will have also a strong array of state papers that have supported the fusion plan in the past solely on account of the position of the fusionists on the liquor question and the election laws.

With the democratic state committee already in session favoring the continuance of both the temperance and election laws the republicans and such former democrats who remain with Governor Hooper will be deprived of a great amount of political thunder with which to contend the people on the election laws and the liquor question. A majority of the people of the state regard the liquor question as settled, and it may be that an effort to keep it open will react against a leader of such continued disturbance.

SUFFRAGISTS BUSY IN TENNESSEE.

The national suffrage party, in deciding on Tennessee for the national party convention this autumn, when the meeting will be in Nashville, reviews the proposition that the effort to gain votes for women in the south will be first attempted in a general way in this commonwealth.

Particularly significant is the fact that the national convention is scheduled here just prior to the session of the next legislature, when every effort is to be made by the local suffragettes to gain recognition as ballot fillers.

The first step taken toward the recognition of women was at the last session of the Tennessee general assembly when a law was passed that gave women the right to own and control property independent of their husband. With the agitation of the right to vote at the national convention to be held at the capital this autumn, the local leaders hope to be well prepared to make the harmonized program a reality in a petition for the right of ballot.

No Panacea for Tuberculosis; Nature Offers the Only Cure

(From The New York Post)

In spite of the statements of a number of individuals who have recently claimed that they have found a "cure" for consumption, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the highest authority on this disease in America, in a bulletin published today, declares that there is no information at hand to justify the belief that any specific cure for tuberculosis has been discovered which deserves the confidence of the medical profession and the people.

Backing up these statements, the United States public health service declares that outside of the three essentials in the treatment of consumption, namely, rest, fresh air and good food, "there is no drug known, however rare or expensive it may be, that has any curative action in this disease, and all remedies advertised as such are to be avoided. Patent cough medicines are harmful, radium, X-rays, or electricity in any of its forms have no special value in tuberculosis of the lungs. No serum has yet been found that will cure it, and there is no plaster or poultice which has an effect on the disease itself."

Campaign Against Nourishment.
The national association is planning in the near future to institute an extensive campaign for the suppression of the numerous fake consumption cures, which are annually costing the public in this country a total of not less than $15,000,000, and besides are depriving numerous innocent victims of the chance of a real cure. Consumptives who are taking remedies of this character are doing themselves a great deal of harm and in other ways against the danger of such procedure.

Any person desiring information with regard to consumption cures or the treatment of tuberculosis may obtain literature and advice from the office of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East Twenty-second street.

FROM A PRISON CELL.

There is no hour so dark, so black,
As that which turns the memory back
To scenes and deeds we thought we had
Forever buried with the dead.
A thing once done can never die,
It boots not how serene the sky
May spread and smile above our head,
A thing once done is never dead.
The best way to undo the deed
That mars our heart and conscience bleed
Is just to look above and say
I will pursue a better way.
A man no matter how debased,
Or low, or fallen or disgraced,
Can rise above his yesterday,
By deeds today all men must praise.
One thing we never must forget
We owe to all mankind the debt
Of service and of friendship true—
We owe the debt that shall live anew,
And this his high reward shall be:
A freeman of eternity.

President Haden Pleads For Safe Modification Of City Beef Inspection

Referring to the statements of Dr. Kennedy, city health officer, The Constitution of yesterday regarding the slaughterhouse problem, Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, said "I hold in the highest esteem the honorability, personally, and a public officer. The intentions of the ordinance are no doubt good, but the effects are extremely unjust. It is too sweeping. It makes it possible for a packer to market his dressed animals in Atlanta, while the Georgia grower, who lives inside the state and contributes to the state's tax, is forbidden the privilege of selling his beef in his own state. The ordinance 'permits' packing houses to ship here dressed meats. Any ordinance would be powerless to prevent it. The federal law permits it."

"He said to a representative of The Observer today when asked for an expression Mr. Vereen says that he is not willing to leave his business interests to engage in a long but political fight, such as is promised in Georgia this year."

"Just at this time he is giving much attention to the building of the large packing house here, and this is claiming more of his time than he can give to politics."

"While Mr. Vereen made it plain that he would not become a candidate for governor, at the same time he said he did not want to fall to let it be known that he is deeply appreciative of the efforts of his friends who have, of their own accord, been so vigorously pressing his claims for that high office."

FELDER DENIES ANY CONFERENCE IN REGARD TO SENATE RACE

Attorney General Thomas S. Felder, candidate for the senate, was in Atlanta Wednesday from Washington, where he had been on legal business for the state. Asked about the statement that he had had a conference with Congressman Tom Hardwick regarding the senatorial race, he smiled and said:

"It is true that I met Mr. Hardwick at the capital and had a few words of greeting with him, but that is all. There was no conference of any kind. He is in the capitol and we stopped and shook hands. One can not be expected to run from his opponent, can he? So far as any contemplated conference with Mr. Hardwick concerning anything is or was further from my mind I am in the race to stay."

"As soon as I got off the train the reporters wanted to know if I would see Mr. Hardwick. There was no significance to our meeting whatever."

Mr. Felder said that he was receiving many letters from various parts of the state, but that he would not answer any of them until after he left the office of attorney general. Up to that time he said he would be too busy with routine matters to do more than answer letters.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEES ARE BEING ORGANIZED FOR SLATON

Governor Slaton continues to increase his following by finding it a difficult matter to keep up with the many letters and telegrams that are daily pouring in.

My mail is so large that I cannot read it all, and I am corresponding time during my race for governor," said Governor Slaton Wednesday.

The Elberton Star, a strong Hoke Smith paper, has been published in Atlanta since the Pelham Journal and The Miller County Local Practically the only daily papers in the state opposed to Hoke Smith are the Augusta Herald, which is supporting Underwood.

News has reached the governor that campaign committees are being organized in various counties of the state and systematic work in his behalf has begun.

Among the callers on Governor Slaton Wednesday was former Representative E. S. Anit, of Paulding county, who is a strong supporter of the governor. He brought encouraging news from his section.

CLEMENTS ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN FOR CONGRESS IN 12TH DISTRICT

Eastman, Ga., April 9.—(Special).—The campaign for congress in the 12th district of this state, for congress from the twelfth, appeared in all the papers of the district last week, and as a result his friends are planning a very active and aggressive campaign in his behalf.

A large number of his Eastman and Dodge county friends met in the rooms of the Commercial club Monday afternoon and perfected plans for the organization of a Dodge County Citizens club and a central campaign committee. O. A. Gentry was elected president of the campaign committee and Professor J. E. Matthews was elected secretary.

It is a certainty that there will be a warm battle in the twelfth district this year. Mr. Hughes has not yet made his formal announcement, but it is expected in a few days.

SMITH THE FIRST CANDIDATE FOR THE SENATE COMMISSION

Waycross, Ga., April 9.—(Special).—Waycross friends of G. C. Smith, of Brunswick, a former superintendent of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, stated that Smith will be a candidate for railroad commissioner, making his announcement at the proper time.

DAILY CRISIS FROM THE STATES' POLITICAL GRIND

BURWELL WILL MAKE THE RACE; W. C. VEREEN IS OUT OF IT
Practically the only change in development of Wednesday were the tentative announcement for governor of W. H. Burwell, speaker of the house, and the statement of W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie, that he "was out of politics for the year," and would not be a candidate for governor.

Mr. Burwell, who is one of the leading politicians of the state, is a prominent lawyer of Sparta. He was a member of the state senate during the first administration of Hoke Smith and was a leader in that body. Later he was elected to the house. As speaker of the house, he was conspicuously successful and his tact and diplomacy made him a splendid presiding officer.

In a conversation over the long distance telephone Wednesday he had the following to say:
"I am considering, very seriously, the matter of running for governor. I have been considering the only change in development of Wednesday were the tentative announcement for governor of W. H. Burwell, speaker of the house, and the statement of W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie, that he 'was out of politics for the year,' and would not be a candidate for governor."

Mr. Slaton for the unexpired term of Senator A. H. Bacon. The universal sentiment, as gathered from those expressing themselves, is that they are gratified that Governor Slaton is not to resign his position as governor pending his candidacy for the United States senate.

That Governor Slaton and Senator Hoke Smith will carry Hart county almost unanimously is a foregone conclusion.

FRIENDS STILL URGING COBB TO ANNOUNCE FOR GOVERNOR

Athens, Ga., April 9.—(Special).—Despite the fact that Judge Andrew J. Cobb has stated that he is not in a position to enter the gubernatorial campaign, his friends here and throughout the state are continuing to urge him to make the race.

During the past few days discussion of the matter has been very general here, and it is known that strong pressure is being brought to bear upon Judge Cobb to announce.

Letters from various sections of the state indicate that the suggestion of Judge Cobb's name has been very favorably received and his friends claim that he could win easily if he entered the race. Through his connection with the University Law school he has been thrown in personal contact with hundreds of men now prominent in every section of the state, the great majority of whom it is claimed would enthusiastically welcome his announcement for governor.

Hundred Times Over Ocean And Return, This Seadog Has Thrilling Experiences

Captain Charles Polack, of the North German Lloyd in command of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, completed one hundred round trips as a captain in the employ of the North German Lloyd, when he arrived in New York Tuesday, March 17. His remarkable record is gained by his two sea captains, and when it is considered that Captain Polack is still in his prime, there is every likelihood that he will have broken all existing records before the time arrives for him to retire and "settle down a little" as they all announce, but few little do scores of friends of Captain Polack who are waiting at the dock when he arrived in New York to extend their congratulations upon his splendid achievement.

Captain Polack during his long career at sea has had experiences that, if truthfully told, would prove as fascinating and interesting as the tales of Robert Louis Stevenson.

Long at sea.
Captain Polack has been in the service of the North German Lloyd since 1888. He has been at sea since he was 15 years old. He was appointed a captain on July 11, 1897, and has been successfully in command of 10 steamers. He is now in command of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, George Washington and Kronprinzessin Cecilie. He commanded the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse when that ship was the largest and fastest steamer afloat, and when the Kronprinzessin Cecilie was the largest and fastest steamer afloat.

On his 290 single trips he has been in command of North German Lloyd ships crossing and recrossing the Atlantic. Captain Polack has traveled approximately 50,000 miles during his career, and he has brought his own baggage on board although there were times when his courage and seamanship were taxed to the limit. His most memorable and hardest trip was when the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was on the bridge when the captain naturally transferred to the newer and larger ship.

His most memorable and hardest trip was when the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was on the bridge when the captain naturally transferred to the newer and larger ship.

A terrible gale was blowing and when Captain Polack jumped to the wheel he realized that the ship was in danger. The ship was 700 miles from Halifax, 1,200 miles from New York and 1,721 miles from Plymouth. It was impossible to stop in that wild sea. Captain Polack pushed her nose ahead, and she went on her way. Finally reached Bremen in only twenty-four hours late. It was considered a feat of seamanship, and when the Kaiser heard of it, he decorated him with the Order of the Crown. Captain Polack blushed like a schoolgirl and declared:

"I had implicit confidence in my ship."

The Kaiser's Friend.
And the man who uttered this had been asleep, eating and drinking as usual, and when his boots from his swollen feet were removed to his bed, where he fell exhausted, he was awarded him for his bravery, and he has been highly praised by Captain Polack. The one most highly given by Queen Victoria in 1890. He was also given the Order of the Crown by the Kaiser of Germany. The Kaiser's friend, Captain Sander, the sailing ship Hebe flying a distress signal. The ship was sinking, but the sea was rough. Captain Sander would not order the ship to be abandoned, but Polack volunteered, and with five men, he rescued off their trail craft and all six men were rescued. The Kaiser's friend, Captain Sander, could reach him. They were rescued before they were on the sea. Polack rescued four of them, but the other was not rescued. The man stood by all night, but at dawn there was no trace of the unfortunate ship.

BROOKS FARMERS KNOCK ORDINANCE

Charge Atlanta Law, Requiring Meat to Be Shipped Alive, Discriminates Against Ga. Stock Raiser.

Quitman Ga. April 9.—(Special)—At a meeting held in Quitman today the matter of the discrimination against the small Georgia meat raiser through an ordinance requiring all meat to be shipped alive and in Atlanta slaughter houses was most earnestly protested against and its repeal urged. The secretary of Brooks County Industrial club was instructed to send to Mayor Woodruff the following telegram:

Indorsed by Citizens. This telegram has been discussed and approved by the executive committee of this organization and is forwarded by the leading citizens of Brooks county. Your past record leads us to believe that you will do everything in your power to have repealed the ordinance referred to above. We are quite sure the substantial business concerns of Atlanta do not wish the impression created in South Georgia or anywhere else that they are desirous of having in force an ordinance discriminating unjustly against the middle class citizenship of the state.

The impression prevails in Brooks county that the ordinance was passed at the instance of our western shippers who of course ship in carload lots and was intended to put out competition with western meat by the small Georgia meat raiser. At the meeting the secretary of the organization was instructed to write the president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce that Brooks county would join with other counties in the state in sending a committee to Atlanta to make an earnest protest against the ordinance and to seek its repeal.

Telegram to Kennedy. The following telegram was also sent to J. P. Kennedy, the health officer of Atlanta who it is reported favors the present law. As a broad minded Georgian we appeal to you to come to the condition now existing in Atlanta which discriminates against the small Georgia meat raiser. We are sure you do not wish to be placed in the attitude before the people of Georgia is favoring the interest of a few small Georgia producers in favor of the big western packing houses. The county of Brooks is vitally concerned in this situation because its farmers shipped last year more hog meat than all the counties of the state combined.

FOR DOWAGER EMPRESS JAPAN IS MOURNING

Tokio Japan April 9.—The Dowager Empress Haruko died at the imperial villa at Misasa today. Following the usual custom in the case of the death of a member of the imperial family the official announcement of the event will not be made until the body has been transferred to the capital. This is expected to take place tomorrow. Her majesty passed away suddenly in the presence of Emperor Yoshihito, the empress and the other members of the royal family who had been summoned to the capital. Her majesty had been suffering for a considerable period from angina pectoris, but the official diagnosis declared that Bright's disease was the direct cause of her death. The Dowager Empress Haruko was the widow of Emperor Mutsuhito who died on July 30, 1912. She was born May 28, 1849 and was the daughter of a nobleman Ichijo Tadado. In 1869 she married the late emperor and was declared empress.

BRINSON TRAIN HELD UP BY MOB OF ARMED MEN

Burke Sheriff Restores Order at St. Clair and Brings Out Train.

Savannah Ga. April 9.—The strike of the Savannah and Northwestern railroad formerly the Brinson railway became serious this morning when the regular passenger train scheduled to leave St. Clair is alleged to have been held up by a mob General Manager R. P. Morgan said he believed the obstructionists to be employees of the Georgia and Florida railway who are in sympathy with the striking conductors. The passenger train from Savannah left at 10 o'clock in charge of C. J. Clark the local agent. The freight train into Savannah arrived on time in charge of M. M. Brennan the road master. The Brinson railway officials succeeded in getting the train out as scheduled but about the time he was to leave the train of the Georgia and Florida railway came up and the crew refused the substitute conductor to abandon his post and not start the train out. The telephone messages from St. Clair say there is no trouble expected. Mr. Morgan insists that his crew was intimidated by armed men with guns and revolvers. At 2 o'clock this afternoon General Manager Morgan stated that the train of Burke county had reached St. Clair and started the train out from that place. The train is in charge of an agent. All other trains are moving at this time.

OPERATION PERFORMED ON KING OF SWEDEN

Stockholm Sweden April 9.—King Gustav of Sweden was operated on today at the Sophia hospital here. The surgeons found he was suffering from extensive ulceration of the stomach. The operation in charge of Professor John Wilhelm Sjogren, a well-known Swedish surgeon occupied two hours later it was announced the royal patient's condition was satisfactory, although his majesty was weak. The king occupied an apartment in the hospital during the operation and will stay there until the king is convalescent. After the operation on the king a bulletin was issued which said the actual operation lasted 75 minutes and was well borne by the royal patient. It continued. A more or less superficial ulcer was discovered on the left lower side of the stomach near the pylorus or opening between the stomach and small intestine. The ulcer showed no signs of being malignant. Professor Wilhelm Sjogren who acted as another eye declared the result left no doubt that the operation was necessary.

GATES ESTATE PAYS $82,538 TO MINNESOTA

St. Paul Minn. April 9.—The state of Minnesota today received $82,538 as the inheritance tax on the estate of the late Charles G. Gates of Minneapolis. The heirs agreed two months ago to pay the tax without contest. Manager Morgan stated that the Gates home was in Texas.

AUTO OWNERS REJOICE; GASOLINE TAKES DROP

Many automobile owners were given reason to rejoice when they learned that there was about to be another gasoline war on among the oil dealers of Atlanta. The price for several months has been about 17 cents per gallon, until the first sudden drop this week when it went to 16 1/2 cents. Then another cut came Tuesday when the price took another half-cent drop and remained at that price until late Thursday when one of the larger dealers announced the price at 15 1/4 cents per gallon. This is the lowest retail price for gasoline quoted in many days, and it looks like the gasoline war is on in earnest. The sudden drop in price, however, probably is due to the heavy oil production in this country as the heavy import shipments from the South American fields.

STOP Coffee Drinkers, And think a minute!

Some persons seem able, for a time at least, to get along with coffee, but it contains a subtle, habit-forming drug, caffeine, which sooner or later is pretty sure to rob one of health and comfort.

If you know coffee don't harm you—if you feel prime and fit under its continued use, well and good—stick to it. But—if you are sometimes a bit "off color," and irritable nerves, disturbed heart action, biliousness, headache, or symptoms of liver or kidney trouble make you wonder what's the matter—

Better find out what coffee has to do with it.

Evidently some people are learning the truth about coffee—listen—

During 1913 the sales of coffee in this country decreased over one hundred million pounds.

A mighty army of former coffee drinkers now use and enjoy freedom from their old coffee aches and pains.

Postum, made of whole wheat and a bit of molasses, is a delicious table beverage absolutely free from the coffee drugs, caffeine and tannin.

If you are interested in bettering yourself—think it over! Postum now comes in two forms. Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—a soluble powder, requires no boiling. 30c and 50c tins. The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

Every One Freezes While Crackers Cop Game 11 to 4. Few Fans Brave the Chilly Winds.

By Dick Jemison.

Only a few fans, and those the most dyed in the wool kind, braved the cold breezes Thursday afternoon and journeyed out to Ponce de Leon to see the Crackers hand the Hustlers a good beating.

The final count was 11 to 4. At the end of the Hustlers' half of the eighth the game was tied 5 to 5.

Despite the cold weather, a very neat article of ball was put up by the Crackers. They hammered the playful pellets to all corners of the lot, ran in a body and got for the Crackers' commerce men a very much in evidence last season.

One by one, they are rapidly falling into line on the half day closing proposition and by Saturday most every place of business of any size in Atlanta will be on the list of those who are behind Atlanta in one of her moves to show the south that what it takes to lead is to lead.

Schlesinger Starts It.

Harry Schlesinger, as usual, took the initiative and announced that he would go to the game with all his employees in a body and root for the Crackers. Mr. Schlesinger and his "allo people" crowd were very much in evidence last season.

The Georgia Railway and Power company, the National bank, M. K. Co., Nunnally-McCormac company, W. A. Chapman & Co., Ottley, Knowles & Co., George M. H. Co., and the Georgia Commercial Ice company and the Georgia Ice company joined in the movement yesterday.

J. C. Beam, assistant general passenger agent of the Southern in Atlanta, announced yesterday afternoon that he would close up shop for the day and send his hundreds of employees out.

According to the schedule the preliminary round had to be completed by Wednesday night.

After a consultation with Mr. McKnight, professor of the Capital City Country club, the committee announced that all matches must be played by the time the preliminary round had started.

For the benefit of those who may have forgotten the order of the round of play, or the first round in each night, must be played by Saturday night, April 10; the next by Saturday night, April 11; and the finals by Monday night, April 12.

Forbes Wins Medal Score.

Tillou Forbes, of The Constitution, is the winner of the first round of $5, with a handicap of 3, which gives him a net of 22.

John Akers, of the Associated Press, had a gross of 95, a handicap of 15 and a net of 80.

Chicago, April 9.—The Chicago National League Baseball club is likely to be deprived of Victor Saier, its first baseman, in the early part of the season. Saier, according to a dispatch today from Dayton, Ohio, has discovered that the soreness in his shoulder which delayed his rounding into form is the result of some injury to bone muscle, and will visit a specialist at Youngstown. If Saier is told to stay out of the game for a time, Fred Mottwitz, a recruit, probably will play first base.

Norfolk, Va., April 9.—Warned by Governor Stuart that the state militia would be used if necessary to suppress the Jamestown race meet, the operators beting laws, the Jamestown Jockey club tonight abandoned the spring race meeting which was to have opened April 10.

Sensational raids and fines and prison terms imposed upon book-makers have marked the new season days the meet had been in progress.

In a formal statement the officials of the jockey club announced that the statement added that if the meet had decided to discontinue the meet to avert a riot, the officials of the state would later have constructed the laws so that we can contact with the state and we will re-open; otherwise the course will be permanently closed.

Rich's Good Morning!

M. Rich & Bros. Co. IMPORTERS

THE way to get goods at lowest cost is to get them at first hands.

That's one reason why M. Rich & Bros. Co. import so many goods direct—we consider it poor store-keeping to make our customers pay an importer's added profit for what we can do ourselves.

The other reason is that we have served Atlanta and Georgia people for almost 50 years—we know their tastes much better than any New York importer.

The Atlanta Custom House receipts show that M. Rich & Bros. Co. import more and varied lines than any other retail store.

So it comes about that Rich's is the best and cheapest place to buy good linens, exclusive silks and dress goods, fine laces, jewelry novelties, toys, fine blankets, handkerchiefs, etc. Are you dealing with M. Rich & Bros. Co., Importers?

LODGE IS OPPOSED TO FREE CANAL TOLLS

Veteran G. O. P. Senator Defends Position of President—Lodge Says United States Is Under Suspicion.

Washington, April 9.—Hearings on the Panama tolls exemption repeal bill opened today before the senate canal committee, but interest in the repeal fight was focused on the senate itself, where Senator Lodge, veteran republican member of the foreign relations committee, held the attention of virtually the entire membership and of crowded galleries for more than two hours, defending the position of President Wilson in insisting upon the passage of the repeal bill.

The senator spoke without a single interruption. He declared that in his opinion the right of the United States to exempt any of its shipping from tolls was unquestioned under strict interpretation of the treaty; but because of the delicate position in which the country finds itself in its foreign relations, urged non-partisan support of the president. At the conclusion of Senator Lodge's address the galleries broke into applause and the vice president's gavel pounded several minutes before order was restored and the warning given that senate rules prohibited any display of approval or disapproval from the gallery.

Lodge's Views on Repeal.

Senator Lodge was given the strictest attention by his colleagues on both sides of the chamber, and without respect to the announced views on the repeal struggle.

"To thwart the purposes or to discredit the policies of the head of a political party," he declared, "is legitimate political warfare. To discredit or break down the president of the United States upon a question of foreign policy is quite another thing, not to be undertaken except for the very gravest reason. In one case we overthrow a party leader within that arena where the American people alone sit in judgment; in the other we break down and discredit the representative of the whole country in the great forum of the nations of the earth and paralyze its future power and usefulness in that field where he alone can declare and represent the policy, the honor and the dignity of the United States."

While Senator Lodge maintained vigorously the legal right of the United States to exempt its shipping from tolls as well as coastwise, from tolls, he declared that "in respect to the opinions of mankind and the distrust and in some cases dislike," with which the United States is regarded abroad, demanded prompt repeal of the exemption clause of the canal act.

Larger Issues Involved.

"Whether we shall insist upon giving ing to our ships two or three millions of dollars in a disputed way is, in my conception, a very small question compared to the larger issues which are here involved," said the senator.

"When the year 1908 opened, the United States occupied a higher and stronger position among the nations of the earth than at any period in our history. Never before had we possessed such an influence in international affairs, and that influence had been used beneficially and for the world's peace in two conspicuous instances—Portsmouth and at Algiers. Never before had our relations with the various continents of central and south America been so good.

"It seemed as if the shadow of suspicion which, owing to our dominant and at times domineering power, had darkened and chilled our relations with the people of Latin America had at last been lifted. This great position and this commanding influence have been largely lost.

United States Under Suspicion.

"I am not in the councils of the president of the United States, but I believe that during the past year the present position of the United States in its foreign relations has become very apparent to him, as it has to other responsible and reflecting men, and with only a slight exaggeration it may be said that the present position of the United States in its foreign relations with the various nations, both in the old world and the new, is regarded by other nations with distrust and in some cases with dislike.

"It seems to me that we are not to be trusted, that we make our international relations the subject of political and treat them as if they were in no wise different from questions of domestic legislation. This has not been in accord with our history or our position. Only once have we abrogated a treaty, and then actual, if not declared, war existed. We have scrupulously observed our international agreements and where differences have arisen we have settled them not with the high hand of power, but by negotiation and arbitration.

The outcry about exhibiting subservience to Great Britain or any other country because we see fit to repeal the tolls seems to me hardly worthy of serious consideration. The United States is altogether too great and too powerful to be subservient to anyone, and the mere fact of suggesting it seems to me to indicate an unbecoming lack of confidence in the validity of their position, but of the hand of power, but by negotiation and arbitration.

Favors Roosevelt's Proposal.

Senator Kenyon announced during the day that he approved the suggestion of former President Roosevelt that the tolls question be arbitrated.

Senator Williams, of Mississippi, agreed that the question might well be arbitrated and that arbitration would satisfy the "nearer consequences" spoken of by President Wilson in his repeal message. He said, however, that a canvass of the senate a year ago showed that two-thirds of the senate were not in favor of arbitration and so far as he had heard, only two senators opposed to repeal supported arbitration.

Senator Newlands, democrat, of Nevada, issued a statement late today announcing that he would oppose the repeal bill. He said he did not believe exemption of American coastwise shipping from canal tolls violated the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and declared "it would be unbecoming upon the part of England, the chief beneficiary, to insist that we should abandon a settled democratic policy in order to meet a strained construction of the treaty."

Carnegie Applauds Repeal Speech.

Andrew Carnegie was an interested spectator in the house gallery today and applauded vigorously a speech supporting the Panama tolls exemption repeal by Representative Volmer, of Iowa, the newest member. Later Mr. Carnegie visited the white house.

Mr. Carnegie visited the capitol and had a long talk with Chairman Adamson, of the house committee, on interstate commerce. He predicted that the repeal bill would pass the senate and jokingly suggested that "only prayer will help some of those democrats in the senate, the way they are behaving now."

Mr. Carnegie chatted a few minutes with President Wilson. He said his visit was merely to say his respects and that he had not discussed politics or pending questions. When asked about the canal tolls controversy he said: "Our country will be dishonored if we do not uphold the treaty."

Chicago, April 9.—The city of Chicago will receive $3,299,000 as its share of the net earnings for the last year of the surface street railways, according to the annual report of the companies made public today.
