

Huerta Must Salute "Old Glory" or Fight; Dictator Given Until 6 P. M. Today to Decide

TOPICS OF THE DAY, AS SEEN BY GREGG

President Wilson, Disgusted With the Evasions of Huerta, Issues an Ultimatum—United States Is Done Talking and Unless Huerta Salutes Flag Drastic Action Will Follow. Mexico City Believes Huerta Will Defy United States.

Mexico City, April 18.—The news of the coming of the United States fleet has caused no anti-American demonstrations in the capital. The controversy between the two governments has been the subject of spirited editorials in Mexico City papers, which apparently have aimed to arouse the patriotism of the people.

Washington April 19.—Word that a message was on its way from Mexico City to the state department here was received by Secretary Bryan shortly before midnight. Owing to the difficulty in telegraphic transmissions from Mexico City it was uncertain when the message would arrive.

Secretary Bryan had no intimation of the contents of the message, but kept state department officials on duty during the night to receive and decipher it. As soon as it has been translated it will be transmitted to President Wilson, who will receive it on his arrival at White Sulphur Springs this morning.

"Encouraging, but not final," was the way Secretary Bryan, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning summed up a message just received from Mexico City. Further than that the secretary did not disclose what his latest dispatch contained.

LAST WORD SPOKEN BY UNITED STATES; FLAG GETS SALUTE OR HUERTA FIGHTS

Final Arrangements Made to Seize Vera Cruz, Tampico, Mexican Warships, and Vera Cruz-Mexico City Railroad if Huerta Refuses American Demands.

CONGRESS IS BACKING DEMANDS OF WILSON

Ultimatum of the President Meets With General Favor—Many High Officials Believe Huerta Will Defy the United States and Seek to Arouse a National Spirit Among Mexicans That Will Weaken the Rebels. Great American Armada Nearing Mexican Waters.

Washington, April 18.—The gravest international crisis the United States has faced since the Spanish war looms ahead.

Unless Huerta, before 6 o'clock Sunday evening, accedes to Rear Admiral Mayo's demand for a 21-gun salute to the American flag at Tampico, President Wilson will go possibly before a joint session of congress Monday and ask for authority to use the army and navy for such steps as may be necessary.

Huerta may actually fire the salute before 6 o'clock, which would be 7:36 p. m. Washington time, or he may "yield" by advising President Wilson of his intention to do so. Either action, taken at the last minute in Mexico, could be known here before the hour of the president's going to congress.

This final word went to Mexico City today after Huerta had parleyed for the last time and reiterated his demand for a "simultaneous salute." And leaders in congress declared President Wilson immediately would be clothed with all the authority necessary to take action.

of the Mexican warships in those waters, and of a section of the railroad from Vera Cruz to Mexico City as far as a trestle twenty miles west of Vera Cruz, and a Pacific blockade are features of a plan of action President Wilson has outlined to his closest advisers.

Such a course authorities on international law describe as one short of war and yet not an act of war. Huerta however might construe it as one.

The climax came today when a third message came from Huerta in which on his own conditions for a simultaneous salute. A conference between the president and cabinet members resulted in a prompt decision to brook no more temporizing or dilatory tactics.

STATEMENT ISSUED FROM WHITE HOUSE The following statement was issued from the white house: General Huerta is still insisting upon doing something less than has been demanded and something less than would constitute an acknowledgment that his representatives were partners in the wrong in the indications they have put upon the government of the United States.

The president has determined that if General Huerta has not yielded by six o'clock Sunday afternoon, he will take the matter to congress on Monday.

intercepted from Huerta ending the tolerance of the United States with his dilatory tactics was emphasized strongly in the day's developments. It was a day of action in official circles reminiscent to many of the scenes of 1846 for at no time since has a president threatened to ask congress to use the army and navy to enforce a foreign policy.

The knowledge that the Mexican situation had reached a turning point spread throughout the national capital generally. For two hours while clerks deciphered a long message from General Huerta, a half hundred correspondents waited in the corridors of the state department for an inkling of its contents.

The president at 10:30 a. m. sent for Secretary Bryan and Mr. Tumulty had gone golfing, expecting no developments until noon. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Tumulty conferred briefly and then hurried to a waiting automobile and soon were speeding toward the Virginia hills where the president was dining. In the meantime the white house had telephoned to the golf club a secret service man ran out to the ninth hole and commuted a message.

That Huerta merely had suggested and inquired also was revealed and the president abandoned his links and got into his big motor car. On the way toward Washington he met Secretary Bryan and Mr. Tumulty. The party sped back to the white house.

Officials at the state department meanwhile had described Huerta's message as inconclusive. Through the text of Huerta's answer was not made public other officials described the dictator's attitude as very obstinate and insisting on a simultaneous salute.

Badger on the flagship Arkansas, at the head of the fleet speeding to Mexico, the text of President Wilson's statement regarding Huerta until 6 p. m. Sunday it also was forwarded to Rear Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz who will communicate it to Rear Admiral Bagge at Tampico. Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the squadron in Pacific Mexican waters also was notified.

The fourth marine regiment on the Pacific coast was ordered southward. The armored cruiser South Dakota, with 260 marines was dispatched from Bremerton Wash to Mare Island where the remaining two regiments will be divided with the cruiser Jupiter. Then the two craft will steam to San Diego to await further orders.

The two powerful new dreadnaughts, Texas and New York, which although not under orders, are ready to start for Mexico on twelve hours notice. The Virginia, Georgia, Nebraska and Rhode Island now at Boston will be ready by the end of the month.

The transport Hancock already has arrived at Tampico with 500 marines and the cruiser Oregon and San Francisco the gunboat Dolphin, the scout cruiser Chester, the transport Buffalo and the collier Cyclops already are there.

Vera Cruz Rear Admiral Fletcher has the battleships Florida and Lan and the transport Prairie with a large complement of marines. The battle ships under Rear Admiral Bagge's command were reported to be en route and are to arrive Tuesday. On orders from Washington they could reach Tampico by Monday. It was generally agreed however that the force now at Tampico and Vera Cruz is sufficient to carry out any plan of action President Wilson may direct.

CONGRESS BACKS WILSON TO LIMIT PLenary Power Will Be Given President to Deal With Huerta—Uncle Sam Is Through Talking. Washington April 18.—Congress will not dubile if developments make it necessary for President Wilson to resort to it Monday that Huerta declines to fulfil the American colors in accordance with the American demand.

Should it eventuate that Huerta maintains his boggling defiance leaders in congress believe the president will ask authority to use armed force to defend the dignity of the nation. Democrats republicans and progressives alike agree that no other course could be pursued and congress stands ready to give the president plenary power to act as in his judgment necessities may dictate.

It is apparent the president has in mind to cut off the supply of arms to Huerta. It is admitted the United States could shut off Mexico from all commerce with the United States but whether foreign vessels also could be prevented from entering Mexican waters is a disputed point.

U. S. SOLDIERS LAUDED FOR SHOOTING MEXICANS Two Huerta Men Interned at Fort Bliss Badly Wounded. No Delivery Plot. El Paso Texas April 18.—Melvin L. Switzer and A. Flaney, the two men who were shot and killed in the two offending Mexicans interned in the prison camp at Fort Bliss last night were commended by Captain G. L. Lutes, executive officer of the camp after an investigation today.

Jesus Zazo the first man shot was caught by Flaney in the act of breaking electric light bulbs lighting the big camp. Zazo was making expert use of a slink shot and when Flaney called on him to desist the Mexican directed his missiles at the sentry. The soldier fired and the bullet passed through the Mexican's thigh and left hand. He will recover.

Jesus Pallares who had crawled under the barbed wire fence which surrounds the camp, was seen by Switzer trying to escape. The sentry called on him to halt but he regained his speed and Switzer fired. The bullet passed through his stomach and he probably will die.

No evidence was found today that there was any plot at a delivery. Recently some of the prisoners succeeded in breaking all of the lights of one side of the camp and the barbed wires having been cut a number escaped. They were recaptured. On this occasion Colonel Robert H. R. Loughborough issued a warning to the prisoners not to try to escape as the sentries had been instructed to shoot.

Under military law the two sentries must be executed. The sentries were placed under technical arrest.

Doscher Twirls In Hole and Out; Crackers Win

Turtles Beaten in the First Road Game 4 to 3 After a Fierce Battle—Price Hurls Today.

By Herbert Caldwell. Memphis Tenn April 18—(Special) Billy Smith's Atlanta champions composed of some new and old parts made their debut here today in a very victorious game.

It was not an auspicious opening from any standpoint locally. Hains during the morning and a cloudy afternoon held the crowd down to as small a crowd as has witnessed some of the spring exhibition games.

It was more or less a pitchers' duel between Doscher and Liebhardt with Doscher's second standing out for him. As the game moved on the locals began to solve Doscher's delivery and hit the ball but some of the crackers were on the other end of the bat.

The Premier-Weidely Six-Cylinder Car
Will Be Shown In Atlanta At The Georgian Terrace
Hotel, Next Friday and Saturday, April 24th and 25th

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT will be read with interest by hundreds of automobile owners and prospective purchasers of motor cars, and in announcing the Weidely motor a few of the most important features should be mentioned for the benefit of those who are not familiar with the wonderful advantages of this motor.

THE PREMIER-WEIDELY motor is absolutely the most wonderful motor in the automobile world today. It was the sensation of all the shows, and will be a revelation to all who have not had the opportunity of seeing this masterpiece, created by the master mind of George Weidely, the designer of PREMIER cars since their inception fourteen years ago.

THE PREMIER-WEIDELY motor, by its simplification of design, has eliminated 40 per cent of needless moving parts---shows a wonderful increase in power with great saving of weight and consequent wear on tires---increases gasoline and oil efficiency fully 100 per cent---will cut gasoline and oil bills one-half, and is at least two years in advance of the industry.

THE PREMIER-WEIDELY 6-cylinder car is not a 1914 car or even a 1915 car---We believe we are entirely conservative and reasonable in putting it into the 1916 class---i. e., this car today is the type that other makers will be endeavoring to market two years hence.

IN OTHER WORDS THE PREMIER-WEIDELY 6 is the superior of any of the standard six-cylinder automobiles shown or sold in America today by giving everything in the way of power, speed, silent operation and reliability that any automobile can give at an expenditure of 40 to 50 per cent less for gasoline and lubrication and with less friction and wear on tires.

You May Prove Our Claim

Every claim here made can be proved by YOU. All that we ask is the opportunity---the car will be here, and demonstrations will be given.

Mr. George Weidely, the designer, and also Mr. H. O. Smith, President of the Premier Motor Manufacturing Company, will be present to give full information.

AMERICAN POLOISTS PREDICT VICTORY

Showing of Team in Practice
Matches Makes Every One Confident.

New York, April 18.—After watching practice games at Lakewood N. Y., American poloists are confident that the Westchester cup will remain in this country. Several even wagers have been made that the American four would win the international series in June two best out of three. A year ago on the eve of the international match English poloists had odds of 2 to 1 against the Americans.

With three members of the big four—W. and Lawrence Waterbury and Devereux Alburn—in this year's matches American poloists feel safe in predicting another victory over the challengers. Players named as the English team do not rank with the players of last year according to close followers of the game.

The one handicap of the American team lies in its new member. At the present time Rene Le Montagne and Malcolm Stevenson are the men most favored to take H. P. Whitney's place. Both have shown excellent form in practice.

Here Is the Much-Talked-Of Premier Weidely Car

The above is a photograph of the new Premier Weidely car, which will be shown in Atlanta next Friday and Saturday April 24 and 25, at the Georgian Terrace hotel. The show or display of this car is being held primarily for the dealers representing the Premier car in the southeastern states, but at the same time all those interested in automobiles will have their first opportunity to examine this car and motor as a complete car carrying the Weidely motor will be shown and demonstrations will be given to those interested. This motor, which will be used by the Premier exclusively, was the sensation of all the shows in which it was exhibited owing to its simplified construction and few parts. Great claims are being made by the manufacturer in reference to economy and simplicity. It is claimed that this motor can be operated from 40 to 50 per cent less than other six-cylinder cars on gasoline and oil consumption. There is no doubt but that the Weidely motor has created more talk in the automobile industry since the New York automobile show than any other one advancement made in the industry in several years. George Weidely, the designer of the motor and the designer of all Premier cars since their first introduction in 1909 will be present at the display as will H. O. Smith, president of the Premier factory, which will give additional interest as all visitors will have the opportunity of not only examining the car, but of also talking with the two men who are in a position to give interesting details in reference to the development of this motor.

ILLINOIS RELAY TEAM SHOWS SPLENDID FORM

Des Moines, Iowa, April 18.—The University of Illinois won major honors at the Drake relay meet today, and demonstrated in winning the two mile event in eight minutes flat that its team would be a factor in the race at the University of Pennsylvania's relay meet next Saturday.

The Illinois quartet equaled the Pennsylvania record made by Michigan's two-mile team last year—and their one mile squad won its event.

The University of Chicago team won the half mile relay, breaking the Drake record of 1:31.5 made in 1910 by Illinois. The Maroon team covered the 880 yards in 1:21.

The fourth of the university events, the four-mile run, was taken by Wisconsin's team in 19:05.2.5 with Illinois second.

Get the Personal Touch

The greater part of our 1914 product has already been sold—and the year is young. And in our entire advertising campaign, not a word was said about the quality of the car.

We merely asked the public to get in it, drive it and judge its quality for themselves. Bombast and adjectives were absent. We rested our case wholly with the intelligence of the people. The result speaks for itself.

Advertising as a rule seeks to excite and overwhelm. It assumes that the public is utterly ignorant. It allows the reader no right to think, but raves and rants about superiority, perfection and infallibility. Two hundred makers of cars declare their cars the best. How ridiculous!

So-called advertising experts declared positively that our advertising campaign would prove a decided failure. They said that we should have done the people's thinking for them—that we should have described the car, printed the prices in black figures, filled the spaces with mechanical details and claimed the earth. Of course that's what most advertising does.

Yet no real sensible man buys an automobile without looking at it and riding in it. We figured that it was better to invite the people to look at our car in a rational way than to rush them down the row with tempestuous advertising. We figured that if we admitted the public's intelligence and common sense and asked the privilege of personal demonstration, the car would sell itself—if worthy. If it wasn't worthy, nothing would sell it.

To try to rush the sale of an automobile with breathless advertising is to arouse suspicion that you have something to conceal, and that you don't want the "prospects" to look too long or too closely. To ask prospects to come and look at the car, ride in it, drive it and do their own thinking, is to prove that you have something worth buying. You show your own confidence in its quality.

We believe that this is the only automobile concern in the world that has ever admitted publicly that the public has any sense. Another automobile advertiser has flatly said: "What do you know about automobiles? Read this and buy something else at your peril!"

Yet the American and Canadian public has actually thanked us for our invitation to "Get the Personal Touch" and the Mitchell car has sold itself on its merits. This is the greatest tribute that has ever been paid to an automobile. The thousands of men and women who have bought our 1914 car, went to see it without previous knowledge of its style, appearance or construction. They rode in it, drove it themselves and tested it in their own way. Our salesmen didn't even ask—or expect—to ride with them.

The advertising gave them no information—not even the prices. There wasn't one solitary inducement or lure. There was absolutely nothing in the advertisements to excite admiration or curiosity. The chatter of salesmen was conspicuous by its absence.

The car did its own talking. It proved itself and it sold itself, and every person who bought it is going to enjoy the possession of it every hour he is in it. While we made no promises, no claims, and offered no guarantees or service, naturally these are pre-supposed when you buy from a concern that has the proud record of

Willys Utility Truck

$1350

(Chassis Only)

The first truck of this power and capacity to be sold below $1500

Too much stress has been laid on the efficiency of the truck as an economic factor, and too little or no attention has been paid to the matter of initial costs. You have read a vast amount of comparative economic data in reference to the operation and application of trucks to your business—all of which was very fitting, proper and right. You have heard considerable about truck costs vs. horse costs. But so far, the simple subject of truck costs vs. truck costs has been ignored.

This is due to various reasons. The most prominent of which is the inability of most manufacturers to produce trucks on a large enough scale to effect any practical reduction in the retail selling price.

But this is exactly what we have done.

The Willys Utility truck is being manufactured in lots of ten thousand and this is what brings down the price. This is the largest production of trucks ever attempted.

It is the first really standardized truck the world has ever had.

It means that we have developed this truck to a point where it can be manufactured not only this year on a large scale, but year in and year out on a large scale.

The design, all of the individual parts, its methods of control, operation, etc., are staple. Every individual part is interchangeable. Standardizing a truck on this basis has made possible economies that have materially reduced the manufacturing costs, and, in turn, reduced the retail selling price to you.

This truck has a powerful thirty-five horsepower motor, which is controlled by our patented governor. It is impossible for the truck to be driven over eighteen miles an hour. It has a heavily reinforced pressed steel frame; both the front and rear axles are unusually rugged; it has a three-speed transmission—three forward and one reverse; it has 34x4 1/2 pneumatic tires on the front, and 36x3 1/2 solid tires on the rear. The distribution of weight is correctly solved.

We can supply bodies adaptable to any line of business.

If you haul things you can use one or more of these Willys Utility trucks to advantage.

This is the lowest priced truck of this size, power and capacity that has ever been offered.

Auburn Wins Double Bill From Tulane University

Auburn, Ala., April 18.—(Special)—In the most exciting game ever seen on the field, Auburn defeated Tulane in a double-header here today in the games Tulane presented in Gillis the most formidable pitcher that Auburn has gone against this year.

He kept the Auburn batters either popping up or lining drives right into the fielders' hands. Only twenty-nine Auburn batters faced him in eight innings. The only run of the game was scored by Auburn in the first when Harris was safe on a fielder's choice. He stole and scored on a wild throw to catch him off second. Tulane threatened several times, but Auburn played very tight ball in pinches and headed off a squeeze in the ninth when it looked especially bad.

The second game was a free batting contest, as both pitchers weakened. Tulane scored one run in each of the first two innings. In the first of the fourth, Auburn tied up the score on a base on balls, two hits and the squeeze. After this Auburn hit Gillis hard, and while Davis was hit hard, he tightened up in the pinches and received sharp support. The games were by far the best exhibitions put up by Auburn this year.

MAXWELL DEALERS WILL MEET REDDEN

General Sales Manager Will Be Given Luncheon Here on Tuesday.

C. F. Redden, sales manager of the Maxwell Motor company, of Detroit, Mich., who is making a trip through the southern territory, will be in Atlanta Tuesday, April 21, and in order that Mr. Redden may have the pleasure of meeting all the Maxwell dealers in the Atlanta territory, the local office has issued the following invitation: "Atlanta, April 19, 1914. "Dear Sir: Mr. C. F. Redden, general sales manager of the Maxwell Motor company, will visit Atlanta next Tuesday, April 21, and we are arranging a luncheon of the Maxwell dealers in this territory, as Mr. Redden will have some very interesting and valuable information to give them. "You are cordially invited to be our guest at a luncheon which will be given at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday, at the Ansley hotel, and we sincerely hope you will favor us by attending. "General Sales Manager Redden will talk with you about what the Maxwell company is now doing and what they propose to do for the future. It has always been Mr. Redden's policy to as-ist the dealers in every manner by giving him all the advance information and good news possible. Mr. Redden has in the company's dealers and we are taking this means of bringing the Maxwell family together. "Come in and possibly bring all who are connected with your concern. Remember, the affair is strictly informal and you will be glad to meet you, either at the Maxwell office, 147 Madison avenue, or at the Ansley hotel, where a luncheon will be held at 12:30 o'clock. "Please acknowledge receipt of this letter and let us know how many members of your firm will be with us. Yours very truly, "MAXWELL MOTOR SALES CORP., Atlanta, Ga."

One of the most interesting features of the dealers' reunion will be the trip to the mammoth Maxwell factory, located by means of moving pictures. These pictures include the first factory, which is centered in one building, would form, perhaps, the largest automobile factory in the world under one roof. The films were made by the "Esplanade" camera, which is the most expensive and show the building of Maxwell cars in every stage, from the crude material to the shipping platform. The southern dealers are very enthusiastic over the Maxwell cars having used with great success in the sale of that line during the present season, and many will no doubt avail themselves of the opportunity of meeting and talking with their sales manager, Mr. Redden.

JOHNSON'S DOGS ARE WELL TRAINED FOR RACE

Nome, Alaska, April 18.—The Siberian wolves, driven by John Johnson, which won the 41-mile All-Alaska sweepstakes dog team race of 1914, in a remarkably well-conditioned finish here Friday night, are a cross between the Alaska working dog and the Siberian wolf. They have the agility and endurance of the wolf and the faithful intelligence of the Alaskan dog. They are light in color with a shaggy coat. Johnson's dogs are carefully selected, the driver making annual trips to the east coast of Siberia to obtain material for his team. He trains his team by constant work on the trail, making long trips to camps in the country surrounding Nome and watches the work of the animals even more closely than a jockey watches his mount. Although this is the first time Johnson has won a sweepstakes race since his team set the record four years ago, he has always been considered a dangerous competitor. Three years ago he was beaten by Scotty Allan, after he was stricken with snow blindness. Two years ago he was unable to drive, being snowbound on the Siberian shore, where he had gone in the early fall to obtain fresh dogs, and last year he finished second. When Johnson left Solomon, 22 miles from the goal, shortly after noon, notice was posted that he would arrive at 6 o'clock and every man, woman and child in the camp gathered to welcome the winner. Johnson's time, 81 hours and 3 minutes, was nearly 7 hours slower than the record set by himself in 1910, when he drove over the course in 74 hours

14 minutes and 20 seconds. The racers were handicapped this year by stormy weather. The cold virtually put Allan and Ayre out of the running, the teams of both drivers becoming lame from frost-nipped feet. One of the delights of picking the ponies is that they always win on the days when you are broke and haven't got a bet on them.

How much should an automobile weigh?

Suppose that railroads should offer you as an inducement to trust your life in their hands, the argument that the weight of their rolling stock had been reduced to the lowest notch.

Suppose in the locomotive, they make the boiler wall so thin and so light that it will barely withstand the normal pressure for a limited time.

Suppose they make the trucks, the wheels, and the axles barely strong enough to support the engine under the most favorable conditions.

Suppose they make the connecting rods barely strong enough to turn the wheels.

Then, going back to the cars, suppose they make the trucks, the wheels and the axles no stronger than just enough to carry them a few thousand miles.

Suppose they make the frame barely strong enough to support the body of the car.

Suppose they make the body barely strong enough to hold together.

Suppose they reduce the weight of every vital part to the lowest point—

Would you trust your life in the hands of a railroad which offered you such inducements?

Safety demands strength.
Strength demands material.
Material means weight.

If these be true, then:—

Absence of weight must mean absence of material.
Absence of material must mean absence of strength.
Absence of strength must mean absence of safety.

These things apply, whether you have in mind railroads or automobiles.

How much is your safety worth?

Cadillac materials are selected for their adaptability and fitness for the functions and duties which they must perform.

The designs of the various parts are adopted only after they have proven themselves to embody liberal factors of safety.

The Cadillac car will appeal to you because of its strength and its security, rather than upon the basis of lightness.

The Cadillac will appeal to you for its comfort as the luxurious Pullman appeals to you in contrast with the light weight, flimsy coach.

The Cadillac will appeal to you for its smoothness and steadiness in running, as the majestic liner is in contrast with the light weight barge in a choppy sea.

The Cadillac will appeal to you because of its sturdiness and its endurance, rather than upon the basis of fragility and impermanence.

Because of its strength, because of its enduring qualities, the Cadillac is an economical car to own and to operate, day-in-and-day-out and year-in-and-year-out.

The Cadillac is economical in fuel.

Hundreds of 1914 Cadillac users are averaging from 15 to 18 miles per gallon of gasoline in every-day service.

Special test runs have been made showing more than 22 miles per gallon, but this cannot be taken as a criterion for the average user.

In the recent test by the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain, which won for the Cadillac the Dewar Trophy, the 1914 car averaged 17.17 miles per gallon for 1000 miles over give-and-take roads—in spite of frequent stops and starts in testing the electrical cranking device.

It consumed less than one gallon of lubricating oil in traveling the 1000 miles.

Hundreds of users are averaging more than 5000 miles on tires. Some users are reporting from 6000 to 8000 miles and even more.

We believe that in tires, fuel and oil, the 1914 Cadillac will average more mileage than any car which approaches its efficiency.

Because of its standardization, because of the interchangeability of its parts, because of its sturdiness, because of its endurance, the Cadillac has been called The Everlasting Car.

That this appellation is merited, we need but point to the 75,000 Cadillacs produced, all of which to the best of our knowledge are still doing duty, the oldest after eleven years of service—and many of them after having passed the 100,000 mile mark.

How much should an automobile weigh?

It should weigh enough to enable it successfully to perform the duties required of it.

It should weigh enough to enable it successfully to perform those duties day-in-and-day-out and year-in-and-year-out, at a minimum outlay for operation and maintenance,—performance and satisfaction considered,—and with a minimum depreciation in value after years of service.

1916 BOOM LAUNCHED FOR COL. ROOSEVELT

At Indiana Progressive Convention—Beveridge Named for U. S. Senator.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18.—The platform of the progressive party unanimously adopted at the state convention here this afternoon, pledges the party to work for the elimination of all breweries and saloons in the state and to inaugurate prohibition legislation now before congress. The platform attacks the democratic administration and criticizes its Mexican policy. Other items include: the initiative, referendum and recall for all elective and judicial offices; a state-wide direct primary law; the short ballot; equal suffrage; or woman's home rule for cities; elimination of the judiciary from politics; prohibition of injunctions in labor disputes; a minimum wage for women; free school books and a law to compel the giving of ample notice before a strike or lockout.

Another plank opposes the approval of any treaty with Colombia which provides for the payment of $25,000,000 to that country.

Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator, was the unanimous choice of the convention as the party candidate for United States senator. He accepted the nomination.

Senator Miles Poindexter, of Washington, launched a boom for the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as the presidential candidate of the progressive party in 1916 in a speech delivered here.

After an elaborate discussion and attack upon the democratic and republican parties, declared the progressive's presidential nominee would have the support of the great mass of the people. Analysis of the progressive and republican parties is impossible, declared Charles Sumner Mird, former progressive candidate for governor of Massachusetts, in an address to the convention. "Is it possible," he asked, "that the leaders of the progressive party would work in harmony with the men in control of the republican party? Stand them up and judge for yourself. In one row are Barnes, Kenrose, Smoot, Guggenheimer and their kind, and in the other are Roosevelt, Johnson, Stubbs, Lindsay, Beveridge and men of their type. It is as impossible to bring these men together upon one platform as it would be to induce the rank and file of the progressive party to follow the leadership of men who would compromise with the bosses of the old parties in order to win the office of president. Mr. Bird placed upon the republican party the responsibility for what he termed the "democratic" condition of business of the country, asserting that during the Taft administration the republican leaders had "broken" their solemn pre-election pledges, and that if they had not stolen the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention of 1912, then a democratic administration would not have been elected.

TETTER ON SCALP COULD NOT SLEEP

Went Over Entire Body, Itching and Burning. Large White Blisters. Hair Fell Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 4, Linden, Tenn.—"Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment cured me of a terrible skin trouble called tetter. It began on my scalp causing my hair to fall out, then it went over my entire body. The itching and burning were so bad that I scratched and made sores. My clothing made the burning on my body more intense. My skin looked as if it had been scalded. I could not sleep much at night. Later on it took the form of large white blisters. My hair fell out gradually and was thin, dry and lifeless.

"I tried several ointments and took a treatment but nothing did me any good. I had been troubled with the tetter for about one year when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After bathing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment I was astonished to see the great relief. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me in four weeks." (Signed) Miss Vera Bell, June 27, 1913.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 30c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 72-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. E, Boston."

Councilman Jesse Lee Explains His Ordinance For Purchasing Agent

Councilman Jesse E. Lee, reported as being in favor of abolishing the office of city purchasing agent, stated Saturday that the ordinance he will introduce in council on Monday provides for the creation of the office of city purchasing agent and inspector of goods.

Under Councilman Lee's ordinance, the purchasing agent will receive $1,800 per annum, but his powers will be limited to the purchasing of supplies of the value only of $5,000 and under. The ordinance also provides that the goods purchased must have the approval of the mayor, the head of the department making requisition for the chairman of the committee which has supervision of the particular department. All requisitions for supplies to be made through the head of the department.

DETERMINED ON DEATH, H. H. FUDGE SUCCEEDS

Plunges Out of a Window at Grady Hospital, Where He Was Being Treated.

Determined to die, and after making an unsuccessful attempt to end his own life by stabbing himself over the heart Wednesday morning at the Grady hospital, while recovering from his wounds at the Grady hospital, H. H. Fudge, a salesman, shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday morning arose from his sick bed in his wall and walked over to the window. There a moment he poised on the window ledge. A negro cook from the kitchen window of the hospital, who happened to be at work early in the morning for a moment raised his eyes. The white figure of a man was seen crashing down from the fourth-floor window. The body struck an iron grating and crashed through the iron pipe, an inch thick.

The negro cook's startled cry caused a general rush of excited Grady internes and nurses to the spot where the white-clothed figure had huddled upon the earth. The man had successfully accomplished his purpose. He was dead.

H. H. Fudge was a successful traveling salesman of the Mendelson company, of New York city, and had been connected with the same firm for over fifteen years. He was a married man with three children, living at No. 19 Simpson street. He was 55 years old.

Apparently there was no cause for the man to wish to end his life Wednesday morning, after his arrival in Atlanta from a trip to Jacksonville on business, when he attempted to commit suicide by stabbing himself over the heart with a penknife. He stated that he was without money, but his wife later stated that lack of money would not have been the reason, as her husband made an excellent salary, and always had plenty.

The hospital authorities state that they had not watched Fudge, as he did not seem to be suffering from melancholia and was apparently at ease of mind.

The body was removed to Harry G. Pooler's undertaking establishment, it is probable that the body will be sent to Albany, Ga., for funeral services and interment.

According to the terms of the holders of the existing notes a 2 per cent cash payment will be allowed to those who make the exchange of new for old.

SLATON ISSUES HIS STATEMENT

Makes Formal Announcement of His Candidacy to Fill the Unexpired Term of Late A. O. Bacon.

In his statement to the people of Georgia formally announcing his candidacy for the unexpired term of the late United States Senator A. O. Bacon Governor John M. Slaton states among other things that if elected he will favor a rural credits system which will enable the farmers of the country to borrow money at the interest rate paid by other industries. He stresses the importance of agriculture and pledges himself to work for all measures calculated to relieve the tolling masses of as many of their burdens as possible.

He states that he feels morally obligated to perform certain duties as duties as governor among these to aid the legislature in making provision for the refunding of maturing bonds of the state. When that duty is completed he will have been completed his duty and he will be authorized to leave the office of the state whether he should be honored with the high office of senator or not.

The statement in full is as follows: To the People of Georgia: In making for the senate to fill the unexpired term of Senator Bacon I am not actuated by an ambition to represent the people of Georgia in a position which I can most effectively use. I have a great deal of property and what I have I have acquired in my own industry. I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood.

Thus I feel morally obligated to perform the duties which are incumbent upon me by my obligation that is to aid the legislature in making provision for the refunding of maturing bonds of the state and when that duty is performed my special work is completed. This being my special work I feel authorized to leave the office of the state whether I should be honored with the high office of senator or not.

It is my duty to the people of Georgia to state that I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood. I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood.

It is my duty to the people of Georgia to state that I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood. I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood.

It is my duty to the people of Georgia to state that I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood. I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood and I have no other means of livelihood.

Justly withheld I am satisfied that the enforcement of fair just and wise laws in an industry which is so vitally important to the welfare of Georgia is difficult to anticipate. I am a native Georgian, educated in the schools of my native state and with her people her needs and aspirations I do not believe that the states have become mere colonies but maintain their own sovereignty under the constitution of our country. While holding the notion in reverence that the people of Georgia are entitled to a Georgian and I believe that each state and community should govern its own affairs in a manner compatible with the public interests.

This principle of general government I have endeavored to illustrate in both office and political capacity and only recently urged upon the state executive committee of our party the primary importance of preserving the full political rights of even the smallest county. And I am pleased to note that in the rules adopted for determining the contest in which I shall be engaged such is done in conformity to the platform upon which I was nominated for governor.

Progress Essential. I still plant my faith in the doctrines of Jefferson and do not believe in the multiplicity of laws and recognized that legislative acts may be instrumentalities to constitute as well as decrees of the law. True progress is essential to every people, but it can be achieved on the broad foundation of liberty and justice. The wise legislator must distinguish between mere change and permanent advancement. Novelty has its charm but abandonment of the lessons of history may lead to disaster. My freedom rests on the established principles of democracy.

I have both as legislator and executive especially stressed the practical wisdom of an economical restriction of government and am gratified by the reflection that during my administration the expenditures of the state of Georgia have been reduced. I have endeavored to illustrate in both office and political capacity and only recently urged upon the state executive committee of our party the primary importance of preserving the full political rights of even the smallest county.

Fifty South Georgia Hams To Be Marketed Direct to Consumers by Parcel Post

As a part of the campaign being conducted by Postmaster Jones to bring the country producer and the city consumer together in direct marketing of farm produce by parcel post, an experimental shipment of south Georgia hams will be made as soon as orders for fifty of these hams can be obtained.

The principle idea of this experimental shipment is to demonstrate to both the producer and the consumer that the marketing of cured meats as well as poultry products, vegetables and all farm products ready for consumption is both feasible and economical. For this purpose fifty hams from pigs grown, fed, butchered and cured under the direction of the United States department of agriculture expert in charge of boys pig clubs in Georgia have been secured and will be disposed of to the first comers at regular retail prices.

OPEN PAY WARDS TO ALL PHYSICIANS

Council Will Also Provide for Commission to See That Money From Bond Issue Is Expended Properly

In order that there may be no doubt or question as to the opening of the hospital pay wards to all of the physicians of Atlanta for treatment of their patients, the board of trustees of the hospital has passed a resolution making provision for it to be introduced in the city council tomorrow and that body will be asked to pass it. With this resolution enacted by council, the pay wards of the hospital will be open to all medical professionals in Atlanta, and in no sense subject to a commission of inquiry by the governing board of the hospital. Atlanta physicians who are not members of the hospital are invited to send their names to the committee in charge of the pay wards, and will be notified by the board of the hospital that they are permitted to work in the pay wards. The reason for this has been the lack of facilities for the proposed new pay ward which would be added to the hospital building. It is expected that the pay wards will be opened to all physicians of Atlanta by the first of May.

PAID TO LEAVE CITY, SAYS "STOOL PIGEON"

W. C. Jones Declares Clubs Were Anxious to Get Him Out of Atlanta.

Declaring that certain parties had paid him $300 and supplied expense money as long as he remained out of Atlanta, W. C. Jones, the missing stool pigeon employed by the city detectives to aid in the investigation of locker clubs in Atlanta, who returned to the city Tuesday after an absence of months, sprang a sensation in Judge Boyles police court Saturday morning.

The occasion was the trial of L. C. Hagan, manager of the Owls club, charged with the charge which was made last fall for selling whisky and Jones was at that time the chief witness for the state. The case was continued with the proviso that if Jones ever returned to the city they would be reopened.

Jones' statement about bribe money was made in answer to a question from Attorney C. L. Anderson defending the Owls club manager. He stated that other parties acting in the interest of the locker clubs against which cases had been made influenced him to leave and charged him for signing a certain paper and had been furnished with expense money.

He stated that the $300 had been paid to him by an Atlanta lawyer, John S. McClelland. Mr. McClelland denied that he had ever paid any money to Jones, and also denied ever knowing that Jones had received any money for the paper which he went to Cartersville to get Jones to sign in the presence of a deputy public prosecutor. Jones said that he returned to the city Tuesday because he had received a message stating that everything was all right with the Owls. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 to a year in the city jail, and his stakeholder was also found over for trial to the superior court.

William W. Adams, who was charged with Hagan, was dismissed as the city attorney stated that there was no evidence to show that he had been connected with sale of liquor.

JAMES CARLTON'S HEIRS SAY FALL CAUSED DEATH

$125,000 Asked of Accident Insurance Companies in Which He Was Insured.

On the question of whether James L. Carlton, founder of the Carlton shoe company, died from natural causes or from injuries received in an accident last June demands a suit for $125,000 which Mr. Carlton's heirs have filed in the superior court.

Mr. Carlton was injured by a fall from a moving train on the Macon Dublin and Savannah railroad June 4, 1913. His right forearm was broken, his head was bruised and he received other minor injuries about the body. A month later July 17, 1913 he died. The heirs say his death was result of the accident. Five accident insurance companies in which he carried large policies maintain that it was from natural causes. It is against these companies that the $125,000 suit has been instituted.

The companies named and the amounts for which Mr. Carlton was insured with them are: The Aetna Life Insurance company $1,000; The Continental Casualty company $30,000; The Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland $1,000; The Travelers Protective Association of American $5,000; and the Travelers Insurance company $1,600.

The remainder of the $125,000 asked for expenses while Mr. Carlton was in hospital for damages and for attorney's fees. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Louise H. Carlton, the dead man's widow, James L. Carlton Jr., John T. Hall Jr. and Charles D. Hunt. Their attorneys are King and Spalding Monday, May 4 has been set by Judge J. T. Pendleton for the first hearing.

If You Take Too Much Calomel You Will Bring On Rheumatism

Calomel Attacks the Bones and Develops a Painful Mercurial Rheumatism.

JACOBS LIVER SALT is better than calomel. And every dose of calomel that you take is putting mercury into your system and mercury is a powerful chemical which attacks the bones and causes a gradual wasting away necrosis of the bone or mercurial rheumatism, the most painful and the most dangerous form of rheumatism.

JACOBS LIVER SALT beats calomel every way. It contains no mercury, it flushes the intestinal canal and bowels and cleanses them of all sourness and undigested waste and it dissolves the uric acid poison which has generated from the fermenting food that has lain in the stomach and presses it off in the urine thus removing the cause which has poisoned the blood and clogged the liver and the liver itself resumes its normal activity.

The action of JACOBS LIVER SALT is quick and mild. It contains the same sulphates that are in the system and acts naturally without griping nausea or vomiting.

We claim that JACOBS LIVER SALT is the best if or stimulant made. If you are bilious it will cure you. If you are well take it and keep well for ever. One's liver is apt to get sluggish occasionally and prevention is always better than cure. A glass of JACOBS LIVER SALT 113 LIVER SALT WATER before breakfast is a fine every morning habit. Try it. WEST HUNTER ST. WORK TO MAKE NEW MARKET

Upon the completion of the widening and repaving of West Hunter street to the property of the Mosley estate and upon the city's purchase of ten acres of the Mosley estate property for a city park depends the opening of several new residential subdivisions in a new section of the city. It is now practically complete and the laying of the new pavement is to commence in a few days. It is hoped that the city will purchase the property for park purposes. It is certainly a beautiful property.

With the establishment of a new city park on this property the new city line will be fixed, hence considerably increased value of the property.

A number of agencies which are already interested in that part of the city are awaiting the outcome of this development with keen interest.

Subdivision Of The GRANT HOME PROPERTY ON Hill, Kelley and Sidney Streets

No more beautiful subdivision has ever been offered the public than the one represented in the accompanying plat.

These lots are now on sale, priced in plain figures, and will be sold on terms of one-fourth cash, balance in 2 and 3 years, with 7 per cent interest.

The late Col. L. P. Grant, in selecting his permanent home in Atlanta, no doubt selected this site on account of its superior beauty and location.

The property is beautifully elevated and shaded by oaks.

The palatial old home is built with concrete and stands on a lot 100x200 feet. To fully appreciate it, one must see it. The occupants of this home have kindly consented to allow prospective purchasers to look through it, therefore we request those wishing to see the house to arrange convenient hours in which to inspect the property.

A majority of these lots, as will be observed, have beautiful shrubbery, fruit trees, rosebushes and flowers of almost untold varieties.

The extension of Sydney street from Hill to Kelly Streets, as shown by the plat, will begin in a few days and be pushed to rapid completion.

Those first buying lots will be given the flowers, etc., that now occupy the place of the proposed street.

Take one of these plats, go out and select your lot while you can secure the pick, and call at our office or phone us, and we will send a representative to see you.

REAL ESTATE PAGE DEVOTED TO REALTY AND BUILDING

NO SECOND PAVING FOR WEST PEACHTREE ST.

So the Property Owners Hope. Working Force Will Be Doubled This Week.

West Peachtree property owners are hopeful of having the dirt in the fill between the junction and Howland street so trimmed by the time it is placed that the necessity for a temporary pavement will be foregone and a permanent surface of asphalt may be laid at once. Such a convenience, most certainly would not only be a great convenience but also a great saving of expense and the property owners are not going to pass up the possibility of obtaining this advantage without a fight.

During last week about fifty workmen were busy on West Peachtree street finishing the construction of the retaining walls on the west side of the street. This work is now about done. Beginning this week the working force will be doubled on this street and the work of building the retaining walls on the east side of the street will be pushed.

It is expected that the county will have finished its work of filling in the hollow of which the junction of Mills street and Peachtree street is the bottom within sixty days. This will mark the completion of the first leg of the journey of bringing the entire street to a uniform grade.

Many realty agents and investors have great faith in the worth of West Peachtree street once the entire street has been brought to grade. It is expected that it will be the most direct route between the business section of the city and the north side residence section.

GRADING TO BEGIN FOR NEW BUILDINGS ACROSS RAILROAD

Following the announcement in The Constitution of a week or more ago that the first building to be erected in the new Walker and Nelson street development is in the amount of that work will begin this week of grading the sites for at least three more buildings across the spur tracks in the main development.

Just what will be the nature of these buildings and who will be the lessees of the buildings the Investment Company of the South the promoters are not yet ready to say. A prominent member of this company said during the latter part of last week that while the promoters are waiting for the city to grant the leases for these buildings the leases have not yet been definitely signed up. There is small doubt, however, that the promoters of this project will find it difficult in finding money on account of the advantageous location of the property and the extraordinary facilities which it affords.

WORK PROGRESSING ON HUDSON MOORE HOME

Dr. E. L. Connally talks enthusiastically of his plans for a big building on the southeast corner of Alabama and Whitehall streets and upon all occasions when asked about it assures newspaper men that he certainly intends to put a handsome improvement on that corner which he owns.

IN all the talk one hears about child welfare, and the care of the child and child hygiene, it does not go away with the fact that sometimes children, even of the most luxurious, are found to be ailing, and with well-developed illnesses, all because nobody had noticed they were ailing. They had played on just the same; they had not complained; they had not eaten much, it is true, but not until violent symptoms developed had anybody noticed "Johnny" was sick! Mama weeps and wails when the doctor comes, and confesses "son" had not been as bright as usual, but thought he would be "alright next day."

It seemed so easy. When the doctor came, stuck the little thermometer in his mouth, and drawing it out, exclaimed: "Why, no wonder he is complaining; he has a high temperature!" Now "mama" had attended mothers' meetings, had read up on hygiene, but she had not learned the intelligent use of the thermometer, or Johnny never would have gotten as near heaven as he was without something being done to help him. The first time his little face was flushed and he said he was "tired," or didn't want his dinner, the little thermometer slipped between his lips would have told the truth! The importance of everybody knowing a few things about the every-day methods of keeping well, I believe, ought to be taught, and the use of the thermometer might be one of the first practical lessons.

Not long since an Atlanta woman, discussing this subject, told the story of what a thermometer meant to her. Her son came home from school several days flushed, and by using the thermometer, she discovered he had temperature. She applied the usual remedies with good results. After a week's time, with the recurrence of this temperature each day for a short time, she realized something was wrong, that she could not remedy, and the boy was taken to the doctor. After thorough investigation it was found the child had tubercular trouble in its incipency.

"Out of doors in the higher altitude of the mountains," the doctor advised, and at once the boy was taken.

In less than a year's time he was entirely well. The mother had taken hold of her end of the case at the right time.

"But there is such a thing as a thermometer fiend," I have been told. That is true, but some women would always be excessive about anything they would do, and they had better overdo it than underdo it.

CORRA HARRIS DEFENDS SOUTHERN COOKING.

I wonder how many Georgians have had the joy of reading after that brilliant Georgia woman, Corra Harris, in the series of articles she has been writing in The Independent. I like them better than anything she has written lately (except her letters), because they are like her conversation, honestly studied, and expressing exactly what she thinks.

And she thinks—that is her great gift—she thinks, and she thinks something, and she has a power of expressing it as winsome when she writes as when she talks.

Her articles in The Independent are philosophy—the philosophy of things in everyday life. They do not deal with "new thought" aspirations, so-called "problems," and you have no difficulty in understanding just exactly what she means to say. It may not please you; you may differ with her, but you must acknowledge always, she is not snobbish. She is not writing to please the rich New Yorker she has observed, nor is she trying to cater to the opinion the south may have of the rich New Yorker.

She is writing what she thinks about the things she sees in New York, just as she told the editor she would do. She writes about the commonplace things along with the greater ones, always taking you with her, whether sympathetically or not. Corra Harris will talk about life as she sees it, and write about it as she sees it. That is what she did to start with, and then her success began. It is when she writes according to some editor's assignment who is trying to make her see life as she does not see it, that she writes unpleasing things. I will not mention the particular thing I mean here, because though she has urged upon me to write what I really think of this one contribution of hers, I have not done so, because it is not really hers; it is a something she wrote to satisfy another's viewpoint.

I have been assigned not to put anything serious or thoughtful in this department under the caption, "The Social Whirl," but to put into it practical things, which appeal to "home and mother." Therefore I quote the least serious thing from Corra Harris' last article in The Independent—an extract about "biscuits."

I would infinitely prefer the two columns so ably setting forth her view of life in New York, but obedient to the assignment, I quote here what she writes about "biscuits."

"Never attempt to eat a biscuit north of Mason and Dixon line. They are sometimes offered on the menu, and one occasionally meets what is called a biscuit in a private house here, but they are a deadly compound, far removed from the native light-hearted biscuit of the south. The same caution should be observed with regard to what is called "southern rice pudding," a frightful, tasteless, purple-dyed concoction that not one of us ever saw in the south. In short, avoid every dish described as "southern." They are shameful libels upon a section which deserves some reputation for its culinary attainments. But one may order eggs here now with confidence. New York has really made wonderful strides in its eggs. They no longer taste as if they were produced from the bitter end of a drug store."

ELOQUENT MEMORIAL BOOK.

Bound in white, and simply ornate with her name in gold letters, is the beautiful "In Memoriam" book which the friends of Mrs. H. C. White have received from Dr. White. The book, in the tributes paid Mrs. White by press and people, express eloquently the strength and beauty of her character, and the nobility and usefulness of her life.

LOUISE HARDING SPAIN, The attractive 7-months-old daughter of Mrs. Ruth May Spain.

In the Social Whirl

By Isma Dooly
 ATLANTA women, with their usual hospitality, are planning to make the social side of opera season one of marked brilliancy, and yet they are confronted by many problems. One of these is the fact that for opera week arrangements have to be made ahead. The boxes only hold parties of six or four. This year the demand for boxes was three times in excess of the actual number of boxes. The season tickets, which had to be bought the first week of opera, made it difficult to buy groups of seats together, when hostesses after making their first reservations heard of other friends to visit Atlanta at opera time. Then came the announcement that the seating capacity at the clubs was being tried even three weeks ago, especially for the first evening of opera and the two dinner-dances. Ordinarily large entertainments could be given when all friends might be included, but there is not time for these entertainments. There are the three matinees, which go away with the opportunity of having anything but short luncheons, while entertaining after the matinees is almost impossible, for on those evenings are semi-official entertainments in the club dinner-dances. The Georgian Terrace hotel, for the convenience of Atlanta hostesses, has announced the inauguration of afternoon tea, the afternoons of opera week; the clubs will keep open house at that time, and Atlanta hostesses are busy with their engagement books seeing what they can do, as each day they read in the columns of the paper the friends who are coming from all sections.

The official entertainments are generally conceded to be the supper parties, after the opera, Monday, Wednesday and Friday and Saturday evenings. On those occasions the grand opera stars will be guests of the Music Festival association and will occupy a central table in the club banquet hall. Around them in parties will be the Atlanta hosts and hostesses, with the visiting guests.

DINNER-DANCE AT DRIVING CLUB.
 On Tuesday night of opera week will be the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving club, when the opera stars will be the guests of the board of officers of the driving club, and Thursday night the Capital City club will give a dinner-dance for the opera stars and distinguished visitors.

Of the entertainments not of an official nature, are a number. Monday, Mrs. James E. Hickey gives a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of her guest, Mrs. Dent of Washington, D. C., the same day Dr. and Mrs. Bates Block will give a luncheon for Dr. and Mrs. Barker, of Baltimore. Colonel and Mrs. Peel give a breakfast Wednesday to the grand opera stars Mr. and Mrs. James R. Gray give a breakfast on Thursday, among their distinguished guests to be Otto Kahn, of New York, and his party. Friday there will be a number of brilliant entertainments. Colonel and Mrs. Lowry give a breakfast at the Piedmont Driving club to the Knoxville party, who will have arrived in the city at that time. The Druid Hills Golf club will have their formal opening Wednesday. Colonel and Mrs. William Lawson Peel will give a reception Friday afternoon to Mr. Otto Kahn and his party. Mrs. Richard Johnston will give a luncheon to the Mason guests in the city.

SMALL DINNER AND BREAKFAST PARTIES.
 There will be innumerable small dinner parties preceding opera each evening, and informal breakfast parties each day. These dinners are planned for 6:30 o'clock, so as to insure guests being in their seats at the opera, before the curtain rises. The management will enforce the rule of no one entering the auditorium after the performance begins. And it will be strictly enforced this year that no one will be permitted to leave their seats until the curtain goes down on the last act. The conduct of some exceedingly ill-bred people last year who began to leave before the last act was concluded will not be countenanced this year, and there will be people authorized to protect the general audience against this annoyance.

The club management begs that guests for the dinner dances be prompt in their attendance at a quarter to 8 o'clock. The large number of people to be served will necessitate all being served at the same time, so that parties arriving late will be served the course at the time being served, and they will miss those which have preceded their arrival.

MRS. PEEL AS OFFICIAL HOSTESS.
 Mrs. William Lawson Peel, wife of the president of the Atlanta Music Festival association, will be the gracious hostess at the several entertainments opera week when the association board will be the hosts; also at the table where the stars will be seated at the Capital City club Thursday night. She has reserved the seats in her box for the opera stars not taking part in the opera each evening. Aside from Colonel Peel's official identity with the Atlanta Music Festival association, it is most appropriate that Mrs. Peel should occupy this charming position, as no individual in Atlanta, man or woman, has done more to promote musical life in Atlanta. Her home for years has been the recognized social center for artistic people and her Monday afternoon musicals have been delightful occasions for twenty years.

Aside from her interest as a patron, Mrs. Peel has given generously of her talents to music and the drama, having sung in musical events of marked local importance, while no dramatic event in Atlanta was ever more heralded and more enjoyed than Mrs. Peel's participation in Sheridan's "The Rivals," put on in the first brilliant days of the Atlanta Players' club.

Mrs. Peel hopes to have her entertainment to Mr. Kahn opera week in the nature of a garden party at Woodbine. But if the weather is fickle and faithless, it will take place within. On the occasion Mrs. Peel will be assisted in entertaining by a party of Atlanta's most attractive women.

Julia Jackson Chapter.
 The Julia Jackson chapter, Children of the Confederacy, will be a conspicuous feature of the Memorial parade Monday, April 27, tally-ho capable of seating forty people, has been engaged, and all who desire seats at 25 cents each should phone Miss Mary Griffith or Miss Elizabeth Hanna.

Yaarab Patrol Ball.
 A brilliant occasion of the week will be the Yaarab Patrol ball to be given Friday evening, April 24, at the hall to the members of the Yaarab temple. The first ball given by the patrol was in January at Taft hall, and was a splendid success. There will be good music and the committee on arrangements have spared no pains to make the ball a delightful one in every respect.

Cabaret Tea.
 An event of Friday afternoon, April 24, will be the cabaret tea which will be given under the auspices of the

Sanitary McCRAY Refrigerators
 (Built for Outside Iceing)

If you are planning the purchase of a new refrigerator, why not decide on something of a new and up-to-date kind. Let us estimate for you the cost of installation of a regular standard McCray Refrigerator arranged with an outside icing door so that the ice man can put the ice in from the rear porch. No more will you be bothered and annoyed by the ice man coming in with his muddy feet, at all. This is the most advanced idea ever brought out in a refrigerator and it has met with high favor in all parts of the country. We will also be glad to explain to you in detail the scientific principle of McCray Refrigerator construction—how the McCray patented system keeps the current of pure, cold, dry air circulating in the food chambers all the time, a condition that is vitally essential to prevent germ life, odors and impurities. McCray Refrigerators are always made with clean, white linings with a choice of opal glass, porcelain white enamel or odorless white wood that are easily cleaned and strictly sanitary. We invite you to come in and inspect the McCray. This store is the McCray headquarters.

bride's mother, Mrs. William H. Crane, at 101 Greene street. The annual performance of the 1910 Minstrel troupe, which was a social event, for the popularity of the members of this strong amateur organization filled the opera house from pit to dome, the entire house having been sold two or three days before the performance. Mr. and Mrs. Taft occupied a box, and the house was filled with leading society people. The present address of Mr. Taft and the prominent members of the Washington Masonic Fraternity who came on the occasion of a round of festivities and entertainments during their stay. The morning was entertained at a barbecue breakfast at Carmichael's club. Later in the day there was an entertainment at the Country club. A reception in the famous gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Landon A. Thomas was one of the most interesting of the day. Mrs. Taft being the guests of honor. Just before the dedication exercises an informal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Butt was much enjoyed. Mrs. Butt was in deep mourning, felt that in view of the distinguished honors being paid to Mr. Butt's brother, they must show their high appreciation, and so invited the visitors from Washington and Savannah, the members of the Butt memorial committee and the Augusta Masons and all participating in the day's program to their home on the Hill. The Butt cottage was profusely decorated with lilacs and dogwood blossoms. Mr. and Mrs. Butt were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Louis Golettin, of Atlanta; Mrs. Thomas Barrett, Mrs. Ashby Jones and Mrs. Lindsay Arrington. Mrs. Thomas Coleman and Mrs. A. J. Salinas served punch, and in the dining room were Mrs. Gould Barrett, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Thomas W. Loyless, Miss Kate Boggs and Miss Grace Dugas. Another beautiful wedding of the week was that of Miss Ellen Burum Law to Mr. Frederick K. Moore, Jr., on Wednesday evening at the First Baptist church, the pastor, Dr. Ashby Jones officiating. The bride and groom party arrived. The ushers came first, Messrs. Joseph and Eldon Hatcher and Messrs. George Powers and George Fargo; then Miss Agnes Fuller and Miss Emily Hauser; next Miss Julia Johnson and Miss Ruth Hollingsworth; then Miss Elizabeth Law, maid of honor; and Miss Ruth Hollingsworth. The bride entered with her father, Mr. William K. Law, and met at the altar the groom and his best man, Mr. Edward H. Wayton. The altar was very effectively decorated with white palms, dogwood blossoms and Easter lilies. The bridemaids stood on the rostrum, facing the audience, each in an evening gown. The rest of the bridal party being in a semi-circle below, and forming a very charming tableau. After the ceremony the bridemaids left the platform one at a time, joining their father before and marching out in couples. After the ceremony there was a reception at the home of Mrs. W. F. Law, on the Hill, for the bridal party, relatives and a few intimate friends. Mrs. W. F. Law, Jr., of Grovetown, and Miss Mary Danforth served punch. The bride carried a large, heavy, white gown, and Mr. and Mrs. Powers left on the midnight train on the Georgia road and the congratulatory wishes of the company with the usual accompaniments of rice, etc. On the return from their bridal trip they will be at home with the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Powers.

TO KEEP THE FACE Fresh, Clear, Youthful. More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is its physical care. To keep the face clean, fresh, youthful, there's nothing better than common macrolized wax. It absorbs the dirt and faded worn-out skin particles. Cosmetics simply add unwholesomeness to the complexion. That's the difference. By all means, acquire the macrolized wax habit. It's so easy to get an ounce of the wax at the drugstore's, simply at night, like cold cream and wash it off next morning. There's no attention indoors, the old skin coming off so gradually no one suspects you're using anything. When in a week or two the amazingly youthful, roselike, underlain in its view--well, you won't want, or need, a make-up complexion after that. It must be apparent that this process means complete eradication of all cutaneous blemishes, like freckles, pimples, blotches and blackheads. For obstinate wrinkles, a face bath made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, stirrings massage cream and everything else for results.

Conspicuous Nose Pores. How to reduce them. Complexions otherwise flawless are often ruined by conspicuous nose pores. In such cases the small muscular fibres of the nose have become weakened and do not keep the pores closed as they should be. Instead these pores collect dirt, clog up, and become enlarged. Begin tonight to use this treatment. Write a cloth from very hot water, lather it with Woodbury's Facial Soap, then hold it to your face. When the heat has expanded the pores, rub in very gently a fresh lather of Woodbury's. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stopping at once if your nose feels sensitive. Then finish by rubbing the nose for a few minutes with a lump of ice. Woodbury's Facial Soap cleanses the pores. This treatment with it strengthens the muscular fibres of the nose pores so that they can contract properly. But do not expect to change in a week a condition resulting from years of neglect. Use this treatment persistently. It will gradually reduce the enlarged pores and cause them to contract until they are inconspicuous. Woodbury's Facial Soap is the work of a skin specialist. It costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake. Do this today--Now! Tear out the illustration of the cake below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get Woodbury's. Tear out the cake now. Take it to the drug store or the counter today. Begin tonight to get the benefits of this facial soap. For sale by dealers everywhere. Woodbury's Facial Soap. Atlanta Closes With Great Shows; Summer Season in Full Sway

Otis Skinner.
(At the Atlanta.)
Otis Skinner, in Edward Knoblauch's Oriental drama, "Kismet," presented by Klaw & Erlanger and Harrison Grey Fiske, will play at the Atlanta Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with a Wednesday matinee.

"Kismet," though described as "An Arabian Night," is not, however, a dramatization of any one of Scheherazade's remarkable stories. Rather it is a paraphrase of them all. The plot, the incidents and the characters are original with Mr. Knoblauch, yet so thoughtfully did he saturate himself with the romantic tales that their flavor permeates the play from beginning to end. The intrigue, the humor, the lightning-quick changes of fortune, the splendors and barbarities, the pomp and pageantry, the craft, cunning and wit of Oriental life as revealed in "Kismet," are all present in the Arabian Nights, and are woven together in a gorgeous dramatic tapestry, the charm of which is indescribable.

miration and love grants him the felicity of seeing his beloved daughter wed to Caliph; and then, at the end of the day, Fate strips him of his gorgeous raiment and places him again upon his beggar's stool with only the thought to comfort him that he has lived his day of days.

"Damaged Goods."
(At the Atlanta.)
When Richard Bennett's coworkers present Brier's remarkable sociological drama, "Damaged Goods," at the Atlanta, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee, the Atlanta public will have an opportunity to see the play which has created more editorial comment within the last six months than any other play ever produced in America.

The play deals with terrific force and unswerving logic with the great problem of a terrible social disease. It strips the veil of secrecy and ignorance from facts which cannot be denied, and it teaches the truth that only by understanding of the dangers that understanding can evils be combated successfully.

"Seven Days."
(At the Forsyth.)
Lucille LaVerne and her company of players have thoroughly won the hearts of Atlanta theatergoers in the one short week they have appeared here.

"Hooping-Cough OR CROUP"

comes under the wire with record-breaking brilliancy. And there is a love interest, too. Happily truthful among the world's true sayings is that one which tells us "All the world loves a lover." Just as truthful, however, is the Shakespearean assertion that "The course of true love never did run smooth."

Eddie Black Stock.
(At the Bijou.)
A play without a name is to be presented the coming week at the Bijou. This announcement is something of a novelty, and certainly nothing of the kind has ever been attempted in an Atlanta playhouse.

will display a number of startlingly stunning gowns. Robert Middlemass, Evelyn Ayler, Eugene Stewart and Guy Millham are all happily cast and big Jim Marcus will tackle the risqué rôle of Flanigan, the policeman.

Louis Mason, the dance expert, who comes direct from his post at Mrs. Vernon Castle, will explain and demonstrate the latest steps at each performance with a big fancy dance, including Misses Chaffee, Blakeney and Haskill and Messrs. Millham, Ayler and Marcus.

Tuesday and Thursday those who wish may come upon the stage and receive personal instruction from the dance expert. The dance meets with the approval of the public Miss LaVerne plans to have a dance floor built in the capacity of the lyric and incorporate dancing between the acts and after the play with her regular program.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)
One of vaudeville's greatest dramatic headline features will be the star offering at the Forsyth this week—a bill of seven acts that will make up a program that promises to be one of the real sort—a show that will keep the theater crowded at its two performances.

The selection of the bill was in the hands of some of the best offices of the Keith booking offices, and a special effort has been made to have a bill that will create interest that will make the Forsyth more popular than ever before.

Junior Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Grand.)
Everything is in readiness for the opening of Junior Keith vaudeville at the Grand tomorrow afternoon, and the management expects large audiences to attend all performances.

A SPRING SERMON. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

There is and can be no mechanical formula for virtue. There is and can be no inflexible rule that measures all men's behavior, in their varied and vagrant differences, by its little arbitrary inches.

Where the ministers of the city are themselves in doubt the layman cannot be expected to arrive at an arbitrary decision.

Others, equally able and equally consecrated, take the opposite view. They hold such mandate on part of ministers, or a minister, to carry all the sweeping power of an absolute edict, suspending the right of conscience and substituting therefor an ecclesiastical proscription for those holding views at variance with their spiritual advisers.

THE REAL EASTERN MENACE. The Washington Post affects to see a revival of the "yellow peril" in China's negotiations for two dreadnoughts.

It is not only the privilege, but the duty, of the minister to express views upon all issues and subjects. It is not only the privilege, but the duty, of the minister to appeal to conscience by argument and admonition, since without a responsive conscience there can abide no laws or courts.

But to couple this duty with the lash of compulsion; To put back of admonition the scourging sentiment, "Do as I say or be branded as a heathen man and a publican!"

me unless I vote your convictions or wear a sack coat instead of a cutaway. I toiled and fought through the centuries to get the right of free will and speech. You shall not take it away from me now! Nor shall you drive me from a church which is mine as much as it is yours!

The Constitution makes a plea for tolerance, for sanity, for deliberation primarily in the interest of the church! Already there is current talk, whether or not well founded, of revolts among boards of stewards and deacons, many of the cleanest and best men in the community.

Yet invade the realm of personal accountability—and that precisely what is threatened. For there is no impulse in human nature, no thought in the human mind stronger than the impulse and the thought to order one's personal conduct by one's personal conscience.

There is and can be no mechanical formula for virtue. There is and can be no inflexible rule that measures all men's behavior, in their varied and vagrant differences, by its little arbitrary inches.

Under that slogan the "old-time religion" evangelized civilization. Can the twentieth century improve upon it?

Others, equally able and equally consecrated, take the opposite view. They hold such mandate on part of ministers, or a minister, to carry all the sweeping power of an absolute edict, suspending the right of conscience and substituting therefor an ecclesiastical proscription for those holding views at variance with their spiritual advisers.

It is not only the privilege, but the duty, of the minister to express views upon all issues and subjects. It is not only the privilege, but the duty, of the minister to appeal to conscience by argument and admonition, since without a responsive conscience there can abide no laws or courts.

man will not ultimately invade our markets with other products. Unless the so-called enlightened nations awake to the facts, the situation may in course of time come to be not a struggle to maintain our commercial supremacy in the far east, but to keep the products of the east out of our markets.

THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY. For some time the chamber of commerce of Atlanta has had under consideration the arrangement of a program for the observance of the semi-centenary of the battles around Atlanta on a scale of national magnitude.

With the fall of Atlanta following the Battle of Peachtree creek, July 20, 1864, and the Battle of Atlanta two days later, came the first assurance of the collapse of the Confederacy.

Mr. Candler consents to accept the leadership of the movement solely because he considers it not only in the light of a plain civic duty, but equally as a patriotic service. It is a tribute to his public spirit, many times before made evident, that he should agree to divert his energies from private to public duties for a task of this exacting proportion.

These facts combine to give the approaching semi-centennial epochal significance. It will unquestionably appeal to the cooperation of Grand Army of the Republic as well as of the United Confederate veterans. It will enlist the support, as did the recent celebration at Gettysburg, of the federal no less than the state governments.

WHERE DEATH BREEDS. The Constitution could make no more unanswerable or powerful appeal for thorough, non-racial sanitation in Atlanta than contained in an illustrated true story, published elsewhere today.

The photographs reproduced offer the last word in corroboratory documentary evidence.

From a Critic's Journal. "An unknown author sends me his first book and $10. The fellow thinks to bribe me! I can say but little of the book, but the $10 bill is very crisp and new. The government certainly deserves credit for it!"

A Notable Sonnet to "Music" by Atlanta Boy. Music has inspired many poets to high and splendid song; great verse has been written in its praise by master and minor singer; but here is a tribute from the pen of a youth of 17, which loses nothing by comparison with the best efforts of bards, old and new.

Personal Accountability Stressed by This Minister. Editor Constitution: For more than two years I have been an humble citizen of Atlanta and have often thought that I would call and express to you my hearty appreciation of the helpful editorials which have appeared from time to time in The Constitution.

Anderson's Prohibition Position. The most significant feature of J. Randolph Anderson's announcement of his candidacy for the governorship is that he regards the prohibition question as a settled one.

Distracting Noises. THE MOTTO OF THIS CITY IS: CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP.

Wants to Work the Ports. George Bailey never spared the old North State. Here is his latest thrust at the sweet singers of North Carolina: "Occasionally when we read the Sunday editions of the North Carolina papers, we almost fancy that the theory of hell would depart from North Carolina, if some way could be found to induce the Tar Heel poets to take up brickyard work or coal mining."

Here, novels plead for favor; There, guide books give advice And heavy cook books savor Of garlic and of spice, While solemn sermons thrill you With the place where is no ice!

Wesley of Well Doing. "I'm all tired out tryin' to write Lit-er-ature," says the Sweet Singer of Southwest Georgia. "The editors of the magazines seem all to be of one opinion: that I have no more genius than a blind 'possum up a dead pine tree!"

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. Fill out the nomination ballot found on editorial page of all issues of The Constitution, Daily and Sunday Constitution, and send same to the Contest Department, The Constitution. Each contestant is entitled to one coupon good for 5 votes. Contestants may nominate themselves. They do not have to be subscribers to The Constitution. It costs nothing to enter this contest, and no obligations are involved in doing so. Send your name or that of a friend, relative, today.
2. Any white woman in the territory covered by this paper is eligible to enter this great voting contest.

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED

3. Besides voting certificates issued on subscriptions, a daily ballot, good for a certain number of votes, will be published in each issue unless otherwise announced. Each daily ballot printed will be limited and must pass the Constitution office before the expiration date printed thereon.
4. Candidates are not restricted to getting votes or subscriptions in their own particular district, but may secure subscriptions in any part of the United States; and if cash accompanies the order, voting certificates will be issued, but voting certificates will be issued only on cash-in-advance subscriptions.
5. Candidates in one district are not competing with candidates in other districts, except in the instance of the grand prizes. The division of districts, as shown elsewhere in this paper, so equalizes competition that every candidate has an equal chance to win.
6. No votes will be allowed on subscriptions held more than one week after being secured by contestants. Subscriptions must be turned in promptly, together with the money collected on them. Votes will be issued when the money is received, but the contestants may retain these votes to cast them whenever they wish within the rules.
7. No votes will be issued on subscription payments less than amounts stipulated in the voting schedule.
8. Votes will not be allowed on arrearages either for subscriptions to The Constitution or to the carrier unless the payment is sufficient to bring the subscription account up to date and at least six months in advance of the date on which payment is made. In such instances votes may be issued the full amount paid on old subscriptions, according to the schedule.
9. On payments other than those scheduled, votes will be issued according to the scheduled amount next below the amount so paid.
10. Ballots cannot be bought. They can be obtained only by subscribing and preparing a subscription to The Constitution or by cutting daily ballot from the paper.
11. To insure being counted all daily ballots must be neatly trimmed uniform size, fastened together and sent in flat. Do not fold the ballots.

FILL OUT THE TOP

12. In sending in daily ballots it is unnecessary to fill out more than one top ballot in each package. Then write on this ballot the number of votes the package contains. Contestants who fail to comply with this rule will not accept the count of the contest department of The Constitution as final. Do not acknowledge the receipt of daily ballots unless an error is discovered in your count.
13. Only one nomination ballot good for 5,000 votes is placed to the credit of each candidate in the published score. Daily ballots are also credited to the published score. Voting certificates are issued on subscriptions only.
14. Each publication of daily ballots will be final, except in case of typographical error or mistake of the contest department. It is impossible to save all daily ballots and they will be destroyed three days after date of publication.
15. By the filing of votes all contestants must accept and agree to the following conditions:
16. Votes once issued to one contestant cannot be transferred to the credit of another.
17. No voting certificates can be cast for publication and the subscriptions upon which they were issued used in making up clubs then forming.
18. Votes issued in error will be declared void by the campaign department of The Constitution and thrown out if cast.
19. Neither salaried employees of The Constitution nor their immediate families can enter the contest.

HOT GAMES STAGED BY LOCAL PREPS

All of the games played by the local prep leagues during the past week were hotly fought, the victor only being decided after some great play.

Marist showed that she had a game little team on last Friday, when she entered the ninth inning one run behind and succeeded in scoring one, and thereby tying the score.

Stone Mountain 5, Peacock 4. In a hard fought and exciting game of ball played Friday afternoon at Piedmont Park, Peacock blew out Stone Mountain by the narrow margin of one point, the score being 5 to 4.

THE CONSTITUTION'S FIRING LINE

SALESMEN'S ROUTE TO BIG BUSINESS

Knowledge of Goods and Applied Thinking Combination Sure to Win for the Workers.

BY FRANK MARGLARD

A good many business men attempt to create imagination by posing as the original hard head along severely practical lines. We've all seen examples of these he trumps and the classical Gradgrind pose they take in dealing with facts and figures. Well, facts are stubborn things and sometimes they are silly but is there a successful business to day that owes its position to facts alone? I doubt it. It has to follow the verities, yes, but it uses the flowery of fancy—the imaginative viewpoint—that takes your dull prosaic fact and makes it shimmer like a rainbow with desirability. And it is this selfsame quality of imagination that is the greatest asset a home goods salesman can have to successfully deal with the public.

Over and over again the advice is given to the salesman: Know your merchandise because if you know it know how good it is, how it is made etc. you can tell the customer just what he or she is buying and there is no denying this advice is good, but are you to stop there? This analytical information is good in that the prospective buyer is given the basis of value of that he wishes to purchase to convince him he is getting his money's worth. But you have to do this in any event it being a necessary element to the transaction.

There is another phase the idealizing of the purchase to the personal service of the buyer the part it brings to the future environment, what for want of a better term may be called the romance of its use and its proper place.

The ultra practical hold this is unnecessary that the personal every day usage of an article is sufficient warrant for its purchase. They are partly right but only in part. A sale should pave the way to a pleased customer and the salesman of imagination has the better equipment to bring this about than the chap who lacks it.

The salesman who can make his customer see the loveliness of a window dresser's bedroom suite or whatever be the article under discussion in its proposed setting, the customer's home who uses its colors, decorative design or pattern lines to add to its desirability and hence cause there surely increases the value of that merchandise in the eyes of his audience.

By the same token he will come nearer to selling it and making the customer pleased with the purchase.

This is illustrated by the little story your friend relates regarding some addition to the home—the new living or bedroom that has been bought, herhaps recently or at a year's earlier date. It is an account some feature or characteristic of it learned in all probability at the time of its purchase and this intimate information that is now related to you the

PLANS NEW LAW ON TRADE-MARKS

Greater Protection Sought in Bill Offered Before Congress to Regulate Registration of Slogans.

Representative Palmer has introduced in the house a bill designed to amend the statutes relative to trademarks so as to provide as follows:

Sec. 5 That no mark by which the goods of the owner have been or may be distinguished from other goods of the same class shall be refused registration as a trade mark on account of the nature of such mark unless such mark (a) consists of or comprises in moral or scandalous matter (b) consists of or comprises the flag or coat of arms or other insignia of the United States or any similar emblem thereof or of any state or municipality or of any foreign nation or of any design or picture that has been or may be adopted by any fraternal society as its emblem or of the name of any church, religious denomination, society or religious denomination or society is commonly known or called.

Provided that trade marks which are identical with a registered or unregistered trade mark owned and used by another and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties or which so nearly resemble a registered or known trade mark owned and in use by another and appropriated to merchandise of the same descriptive properties as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake in the mind of the ordinary or exclusive purchasers shall be registered.

Provided further that no mark which consists merely in the name of an individual, firm, corporation or association not written printed impressed or woven in some particular or distinctive manner or in association with the portrait of the individual or merely words or devices which are descriptive of the goods with which they are used of the character or quality of such goods or merely a geographical name or term shall be registered on the terms of this act.

Provided further that no portrait of a living individual may be registered as a trade mark except by the consent of such individual, evidenced by an instrument in writing.

Provided further that nothing herein shall prevent the registration of any mark used by the applicant or his predecessors or by those from whom title to the mark is derived in commerce with foreign nations or among the several states or with Indian tribes which was in actual use as a trade mark of the applicant or his predecessors from whom he derived title for ten years next preceding February 20 1907.

Provided further that in no case herein shall the registration of a trade mark otherwise rightful because of its being the name of the applicant or a portion thereof.

quest gives it a sentimental personal or historic value to its owner.

The chance is good that the salesman responsible for the sale had more than kiln dried facts tabulated in his active gray matter and when the opportunity presented itself he deftly and quickly consulted the card index and handed out the all persuasive dope. The three graces in selling virtues that ought to be in the mental equipment kit of the salesman who really aspires to the title in its successful sense may be thus cataloged, facts imagination tact.

BARGAIN SALES PASSING AWAY

Store Service Taking Place of Cut Rates to Hold Public.

Look into any retail business large or small and it will be found that it is governed by either one or the other of two basic ideas.

First—The bargain idea.

Second—The idea of service.

The bargain idea is put first because it is so old historically it goes back to dim centuries when the merchant was a peddler selling from a pack at markets and fairs. His profits depended largely on the gaudiness and the apparent cheapness of his goods and his skill at double dealing.

Of course his methods were such that nothing but improvement was possible.

Yet the merchant of today who is wedded to his bargain idea still under rates public intelligence. He assumes that penny saving is the chief object of people purchasing goods. He conceals efforts on buying merchandise that will be tempting by reason of the bare prices he can mark upon it.

But the quality are taken into account last of all—sometimes never. This sort of merchant offers the public a disconnected string of price sensations. Yesterday it was marked down books today bargains in stationery tomorrow a terrific slaughter in office supplies. Everything is haphazard and stocks have little relation to the wide needs of the modern family.

But a merchant guided by the service idea, on the other hand has a broad conception of the public's intelligence sees his community's needs as a whole and understands his own function in it.

He knows that customers weigh points of value as well as prices—good taste, grace, appearance, originality, etc. reaches the world for the latest and most beautiful products. Even though he has but a small establishment his stocks will be complete representative adequate to meet the whole demand in his line of the average family and they will be maintained with a view to progress in that line. Shopping is made agreeable, growth and reputation come from customer satisfaction after goods are in use and price forgotten.

The old bargain idea is still deeply ingrained in American merchandising. It dominates nine retail concerns in every article sold to be worth a dollar in principle and service. Ideas may be clear yet doubts arise.

Some rival appealing to the public on cheapness alone may seem to be gaining an advantage. In a given case there will be a feeling that the public cannot be trusted to distinguish value. There is always the temptation to rest the case on cheapness just this once—let value take care of itself—and cater to the desire for crowds. That tendency has to be fought constantly consistently and vigorously.

But the bargain idea in its general acceptance is certainly passing away. An article said to be worth a dollar is offered at 70 cents there is actually 30 cents in value missing somewhere. Haphazard bargain hunting is steadily giving way to intelligent constructive economical buying for the needs of the home.

FAIN & STAMPS TAKE AGENCY FOR CARPENTER & CO.

Fain & Stamps have taken the agency for Atlanta and territory for Carpenter & Co. of Houston, Texas canner and preservers of figs. Carpenter & Co. is one of the best known fig canning houses in the country and heretofore their entire output has been shipped direct into New York and distributed throughout the country from there. The Carpenter brand is considered a very fine quality and Fain & Stamps will no doubt have a fine trade with the line.

How He Kept Going.

There were two businesses of the same kind located in the same town and as a matter of course they were competitors. The proprietor of one was met one day by a business man of the town who said: "How is business?"

Oh, I am getting along first rate. My jump is kept busy all the time. The business of men whom my competitor has made mad at him.

Aye, There's the Rub.

FOR PROMOTION OF FOREIGN COMMERCE

ADDED TO BIG FIRM CLOAK AND COAT DEPT.

TRADE NEWS

A National Convention to Be Held in Washington City May 27 and 28.

After some preliminary consultation between the heads of several of the leading manufacturing concerns in the country and officers of a number of industrial and commercial organizations interested in the promotion of foreign trade, the following call has been issued for a national foreign trade convention to be held at the Hotel Raleigh, Washington, D. C. on Wednesday and Thursday, May 27 and 28.

The A. M. Robinson company have added a new department of great magnitude for the handling of women's coats and cloaks. The entire second floor is given over to the remarkable stock of this firm in this class of merchandise.

Eagle Stamp Works And Multigraphing Company Are Busy

The Eagle Stamp Works and Multigraphing company, who recently moved from the Forsyth street side of the Austell building to rooms 208-204, seem to have inherited good luck with the move. They report that business right now is better than ever before at this season.

W. H. Stentz, manager of the John Deere Plow company, of Atlanta, leaves tonight for St. Louis, to be gone for about a week, to attend a special meeting of branch managers of the company.

R. K. Rambo, buyer and salesman of John Silvey & Co., has returned from a ten days trip to New York, where he went to buy fall merchandise for the piece goods department. Mr. Rambo reports that people he met, when they learned that he was from Atlanta invariably ask him two questions: "What about the regional bank to be located in Atlanta?" and "What about the Frank case?" Mr. Rambo states that people throughout the east are looking to the south for a greater business in future, and that it seems that country has at last realized it is about to come to pass.

T. K. Johnson, division sales manager of the John Deere Plow company, of Atlanta, has returned from a special trip to Knoxville, Tenn.

The Hirschberg company has called in all their salesmen to spend a month in the house. They will spend this time getting together their line of samples for fall and familiarizing themselves with the line.

R. C. Jones, Frank H. Corey and George S. Smith, three of the efficient salesmen representing the John Silvey company, are having an excellent fall business.

E. F. Geiselmann, central Georgia salesman for the John Deere Plow company, of Atlanta, is in the city for a few days.

W. O. Stamps, of Fain & Stamps, has established a record of all records. He took a notion that he wanted a new automobile, a 1915 model it had to be, so he began scouting around to find a factory that would release ahead of time the model he desired. The White company drew the lucky straw and now Mr. Stamps has a beautiful new 1915 model, five-passenger, Ward. Some hurry-up performance this stunt.

J. D. Ivy, special gasoline engine expert with the John Deere Plow company, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. Ira Hirschberg, of the Hirschberg company, leaves tonight on a month's trip to points in the north and east. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Hirschberg.

W. Y. Bailey was a lone "in" at Fain & Stamps yesterday. Business is evidently on the right side of the fence, as the boys at Fain & Stamps are pretty certain to spend the weekend at home unless good business prevents.

J. R. England, of the E. L. Adams company, was off his territory several days last week, taking Scottish Rite degrees.

R. E. Hutchinson, of the Fain & Stamps delegation, was in the house for a few minutes yesterday. He left town at 5 o'clock for LaGrange, Ga., to fill some special engagements with several of his customers.

J. A. Massey, of the E. L. Adams company's staff, is another knight who was kept busy last week, taking Scottish Rite degrees.

E. S. Harriach and J. R. Thornton reported "in" yesterday, according to the register at the S. E. Bank building. They both report that spring business is better with them this season than ever before for the corresponding period.

W. A. ("Bill") Quarles, of Fain & Stamps, had a mighty fine trade last week on the firm's line of fancy groceries.

C. P. McDowell, with E. L. Adams company, worked J. R. England's territory last week, while Mr. England was undergoing Masonic degrees.

W. O. Stamps, of Fain & Stamps, united himself from business duties last week to do some of the more interesting of the entertainment committee during the Scottish Rite semi-annual convalescence. The report goes that Mr. Stamps is "there" when it comes to duty in the kitchen and dining hall.

C. E. Mallett, of the Carmichael-Mallett company, of Jackson, Ga., was a visitor at E. L. Adams company last week.

The "ins" at Dougherty-Little-Redwine company yesterday were: Truett, J. O. Castleberry, A. S. Wilkins, J. M. McKibben, J. A. Woodliff and W. F. Sosy.

O. E. Ready, looking after Mason territory for the Gramling-Spalding company, sent in a fine bunch of orders for fall delivery on Premium brand shoes. The orders were received yesterday morning and evidently represented some pretty good sales, as it was reported that last week he represented the best week Mr. Ready had had so far this season.

J. R. Little, of Dougherty-Little-Redwine company, left Friday afternoon for New York City, where he will spend a week or ten days in the interest of the dry goods department of his firm. On his way up Mr. Little will stop over at Baltimore for the day Sunday, with his brother, G. W. Little, who resides in that city.

Gramling-Spalding company received some nice orders last week for Premium Brand shoes, from Frank Baker, covering territory in southwest Georgia and T. I. Landers, down around Heflin, Ga.

J. O. Chambers and C. D. Dickinson, of the Brown-Ferriman-Green company, were, as usual, "in" yesterday morning.

Charles Babb and J. P. Womble constructed the list of "ins" at Gramling-Spalding company yesterday. Incidentally, they both brought some pretty nice orders along with them.

Ridley-Williamson-Wyatt company had with them yesterday morning the following members of their sales force: J. P. Armstrong, J. S. Cassiter, J. L. Yates and R. B. McWhorter. They all enjoyed a good fill-in business last week, in addition to a splendid advance business.

The Dixie Pickle and Preserving company is having a mighty fine trade from territory hereabouts, in addition to a very encouraging steady increase from new territory, taken on recently.

"Mack" Hirschberg is in town, been here about a week, going to be here about a month getting up his fall sample line. He came in from territory down along the Florida line, where he has been more than putting things over during the past several months.

V. M. Hyatt, with John Silvey & Co., is still laid up with a bad eye, which was injured some several weeks ago. Mr. Hyatt expects to be able to again hit the road at an early date.

Springtime Brings Many Orders for Uncle Sam Bread

"Springtime has come and the busy housewife prefers to serve baker's bread, rather than starchy, hot stove watching biscuits," says Mr. M. E. Schlesinger, of the Schlesinger-Meyer Baking company, of "Uncle Sam" fame.

"Our business is fine. Our force is kept busy night and day keeping up with orders. Our out-of-town trade is extra heavy and we are distributing something like thirty thousand loaves daily." The Schlesinger-Meyer company cover a large territory, distributing "Uncle Sam" bread over the states of Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida and North and South Carolina.

LOOKING OUT FOR A BETTER JOB

Clerk Gets Promotion Because He Watched for Opportunity and Then Grasped It.

Often we hear it said: "Promotion is just a case of luck; hard work isn't recognized any more." Invariably the people who have this idea are those who do not keep on the lookout for opportunity. Very often they are hard workers and persevering, but they have made a little narrow path for themselves, and lack the courage to strike a new trail. They plod along day after day on one side of the fence, and it never occurs to them that if they took the trouble to look over on the other side they might see just the opportunity they have been sighing for.

Employers of large concerns are too much immersed in their own affairs, as a rule, to keep track of each individual employe. The employe must look out for himself and keep on the watch for the job higher up, not wait for some one to lead him to it. Sometimes in an office the more faithful plodder is left lagging behind, while his neighbor, perhaps not so thorough a workman, but with a better appreciation of his own value and the situation, and initiative to force his way to the front, steps into the better job. Among a number of clerks in a counting room was a young man who differed from the other clerks only in that he possessed a rather good opinion of his own ability. As day after day went by with no increase in salary and no word as to whether his work was good, bad or indifferent, he decided he would scout around for himself and see what were the prospects for something better. Watching his opportunity he asked for an interview with the head of the firm, a somewhat august personage. When the young man was admitted to the inner office he felt his knees shake under him, but, summoning all his courage, he said:

"Mr. Blank, I've come to see what the prospects are for promotion. I'd like to be something better than a junior clerk all my life, and I want you to try and get when the next vacancy occurs."

After the first gasp of surprise, Mr. Blank had to acknowledge that a young man who was anxious to get out of the rut and with the courage to ask for a better position certainly deserves promotion. As a matter of fact, this young man was promoted within the next few weeks to the same management and chagrin of his fellow-workmen, who wondered why he had been so fortunate when his work was no better than the average. They did not seem to realize that while hard and faithful work will keep a job, hard work combined with initiative will open the way for a bigger and better job. Everything worth while is accomplished by men and women who, while doing the present work well, are perfecting themselves for the more important position just ahead. It is a case of using brains as well as hands, of making the most of the things you do. Services are for sale; make those services so good that they will command a ready sale, and not like old-style merchandise, be pushed back on the shelf to be forgotten by every one.

Common Sense and Politics

The political pot is beginning to boil all over Georgia now; and from the coast to the mountains, candidates are passing their cards about and asking for votes; some for good reasons, some for no reason at all. Some are men of known and tested honesty and great capacity and many are men who have no record save a "political" one. A political record is usually one that tells of office-seeking and office-hunting from time to time, doing as little real work as possible and drawing us large a salary as can be drawn.

rance, the brick walls that keep reason imprisoned, the steel chains that bind the mind in the dark dungeons of unreasoning hate; it blights progress, fosters all that is evil and poisons the pure stream of good intentions that lead to peace and happiness. The time is at hand for every voter to inquire from reliable sources and find out all about every candidate that they have to vote for, write to reliable business people in their home town or section and from several learn what manner of man you are going to entrust your government to.

Today more than ever in the past must each man who seeks an office show to the voters a clean slate; he must show that he is not trying to serve two masters. He should not be in the legislature trying to serve you and the state and at the same time be the paid employe of some corporation. If he is going to accept an office from you in which his duties may require that certain measures, good for the state and for the people, will have to be legislated upon, he cannot serve you and be on the pay roll of the legislature, and he should have the agency to decline one or the other. If he is seeking some county office, you should know that he is in position to serve the people alone and not be aligned with private interests that will profit off of the county's funds.

If he is seeking to serve in the statehouse, then he should be a man of business judgment and efficient, able to carry on the business that he has undertaken wisely, promptly and at minimum loss of time and money. Voters: Look into the lives of the men you elect. Do they have a record that they have strong characters; know that they have integrity, and know that they are men in the fullest, broadest sense of the word, and will be well. And if you have the enlightenment that every voter should have, busy prejudices, prejudices in the chief stock in trade of a crooked man, and chief weapon of a dirty, messy politician, and you are in a date class. Use your head, your own head, and you will find that reason and common sense are the dominating factors today in politics.

SECRET OF WINNER ON THE SALES RECORD

Salesmanship is nothing more or less than making the other fellow feel as you do about what you have to sell. A sale does not take place in a man's pocket or his pocketbook, or his checkbook, but it first takes place in his mind. When you go in to see him he feels that you does not want his goods. You feel that he should have them and would buy them if he knew as much about the goods as you do.

Builds Up Big Trade in Short Time On Stone's Cake

Merchants throughout this section of the south have been successful in building up good trade on Stone's wrapped cakes. In January the Macon Tea and Coffee company were persuaded to buy a trial consignment of the cakes. In a few days they were daily increasing their order and today they average 210 cakes daily and a thousand on Friday for the Sunday trade. The Stone company has bent all their energies to the production of a cake of highest quality and rapid progress has been their reward.

Gentlemen: Your letter of the 14th is at hand. We would not entertain the proposition contained therein until we had an opportunity of seeing the size, style and quality of the cakes mentioned.
When you begin baking you might send us a sample of each kind of cake and we would be in better position to give the matter consideration. The margin of profit on bakery products is very small and unless it is possible for us to handle sufficient to make it worth while for us to give them any space in our store, we would not care to touch them. After we see samples, we will gladly give you a definite reply.

Gentlemen: Please increase our standing order for cakes to 210 each day, and on Fridays ship 1,000 cakes. The latter, of course, is intended to be shipped Friday nights for Saturday's business.
In about three weeks we will open up the largest and best tea and coffee store in Georgia and will no doubt be able to increase the daily sales of your cakes considerably when our new store is completed. We have been fortunate enough to get most of the desirable business of Macon in our line coming our way, and the quality of your cakes pleases the clientele of this store very much. This may be considered as a strong recommendation of Stone's Cakes.
Yours very truly,
MACON TEA & COFFEE CO.
By H. W. Elkins.

Stone's Cakes are shipped direct to but one dealer in each town.

SPRING FLOWERS and FROCKS

AFTERNOON gown of black and white stripe silk. The kimono waist is opened in front to show a small flowered vest effect and fine white lawn chemisette. Black taffeta is used for the overskirt, which is brought up high and buttoned down the front with brass buttons, as a vest might be, and to this are attached the two bias ruffles, which fall over a plain narrow skirt. The hat worn with it has a turned-up black straw brim and a crushed violet taffeta crown.

The green linen coat suit with a box-pleat down each side of the front, is belted in at the waist-line, and has quite a full tunic. It is worn over a plain white linen shirtwaist, with the flare collar and cuffs, showing outside the coat. The note of black in the soft tie at the neck is repeated in the brim and the high standing bow on the hat, the crown of which is green moire.

Violet linen suit is fashioned with a bolero jacket, with a pleating of white lawn around the neck and sleeves. The skirt is gathered to a rather deep yoke and a Roman stripe girdle finishes the waist. The hat is made of rather narrow moire ribbon, each strip running from the center of the crown to the edge of the brim. It is trimmed with two black pompons and long thin quills.

Mauve cotton voile, with large dots of violet. Girdle and lower front of waist of violet taffeta. Vest and collar is of tucked batiste and Valenciennes lace. The skirt is gathered at the waist and trimmed with three ruffles. A hat of the two shades of lavender is worn with this smart little dress.

The Forecast of Spring Blouses

The figure in the center shows a blouse of fine white batiste trimmed with dainty embroidery and pin tucks. The sleeves are short and finished with small bows to match the bow in front. The revers and sleeves are also trimmed with fine white pleating.

The blouse at the upper right is of a novelty crepe in Copenhagen blue. The yoke extends part way down the sleeves giving the long shoulder effect. The collar and vest are of white crepe as is the cord which is loosely knotted at the opening of the collar. The buttons are of crystal.

Of white crepe, embroidered in blue, is the blouse at the lower left of this page. The raglan sleeves are joined to the lower part of the blouse with narrow French beading. The waist is finished with a scalloped frilling around both collar and cuffs.
