Dumb Brutes Find Friends in Atlanta Women; More Drinking Fountains Are Needed in City

The dumb brutes in Atlanta found three noble friends yesterday in Mrs. Joseph Moody, Mrs. Emma Neal Douglas and Mrs. John Hill, a committee from the Atlanta Humane society, who have started a campaign for the protection of the dumb brutes of Atlanta who have been dying by the dozens during the recent heat.

"Every city of Atlanta's size has made better provision for her dumb brutes than has Atlanta," explained Mrs. Moody.

"In many cases, where horses and mules have died on the streets of Atlanta, they have been found to be ill-fed, badly treated, cruelly harnessed, and the laws which the Humane society has hope to enforce have been in every way violated."

A meeting has been called by the Humane society of Atlanta in the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of annual election of officers, and the pushing of a campaign for the better care of once of Atlanta's dumb brutes.

"Nashville, Savannah and Mobile have humane societies doing able work. City laws have been passed which are enforced, and offenders against the rights of the dumb brutes are punished as are the other law breakers."

"Eight different cases in one day of cruelty to animals was reported to me, during the last week," stated another member of the committee.

"In many cases, where horses and mules have died on the streets of Atlanta, they have been found to be ill-fed, badly treated, cruelly harnessed, and the laws which the Humane society has hope to enforce have been in every way violated."

BLOODY FINALE BEING PLANNED BY GEN. HUERTA

"Before I Resign Half the People of Mexico City Will Die With Me," Says the Dictator.

MEDIATION SUSPENDED; STATEMENT BY DA GAMA

Brazilian Envoy Says War Has Been Averted—Hopes Carranza Agents and Huerta Delegates Will Agree.

Vera Cruz, July 1.—"Before I resign, half the people of Mexico City will die with me," is the remark President Victoriano Huerta is credited with having made to friends on Monday afternoon while sitting in a Mexico City cafe at tea.

The party was discussing the efforts of the mediators at Niagara Falls to find a solution of the Mexican problem. General Huerta was more grim and taciturn than usual and showed little of his accustomed jocularity.

When the passengers who arrived here today left the capital yesterday morning General Huerta's family still was there.

The constitutionalists in possession of Tuxpan on June 29 made a demonstration against Americans in that port. They marched through the streets shouting: "Death to the Americans!" No one was injured.

MEDIATION SUSPENDED; STATEMENT BY ENVOYS

Niagara Falls, Ontario, July 1.—Ambassador Da Gama, of Brazil, today formally announced the virtual settlement of the conflict between the United States and Mexico.

The ambassador explained that while mediation would take an indefinite recess awaiting the outcome of efforts by representatives of the two Mexican factions to settle the Mexican problem of Mexico, the task of mediation was not yet concluded, though an essential part of its work had been accomplished.

The ambassador spoke at a luncheon given by the three mediators to newspaper correspondents. The entire American and Huerta delegations to the mediation conference were present, and without foreign interference, after careful revision, were made public later, constituting a formal statement of the mediation work thus far.

"It is a source of satisfaction for me," said the ambassador, "to be able to say that one of the essential points of our program, that dealing with the internal side of the conflict, is virtually ended. This does not imply that we are not working with the settlement, but we feel that so far we have averted war. We have established also through agreement between the parties most directly interested and in complete harmony with the sentiments of the government of the United States that it is a principle of American policy to give our national problems always a fair examination and settlement without foreign interference. We understand that if such a result has been attained we shall have created a more favorable atmosphere in international relations in American affairs."

Mr. Da Gama called attention to the fact that President Wilson personally had informed the mediators before they left Washington that the only way to solve the Mexican problem was to reach an agreement among themselves, thus obtaining a Mexican solution of the Mexican question.

In his hour with the ambassador revealed that the course mediation has taken was in President Wilson's mind from the beginning.

The speech served also as a definition of the work generally of the hitherto unsettled status of mediation. Ambassador Da Gama and Minister Naon had planned to leave tonight, but found many details to arrange in connection with their departure until tomorrow.

The American delegates today received the news of the settlement here when they thought advisable, but they will be the last to go. The Huerta delegates received formal information.

Doctor's Wife Used a Dictagraph On Husband and Women Patients

Mrs. Carman Is "Much Comforted" by What She Heard—No Arrests Yet Made for Murder of Mrs. Bailey in Doctor's Office.

Preport, N. Y., July 1.—No arrests had been made late tonight in connection with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, a Hempstead matron, shot last night in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, a physician. Officers still were following several clues, but all admitted that evidence sufficiently tangible to warrant an arrest was not at hand.

Sheriff Stephen Pettit said today he had discovered in the Carman home a telephone device, the wires of which led from the doctor's office to a closet in the bedroom of his wife. According to the sheriff, Mrs. Carman admitted she had the instrument installed because she "wanted to hear what went on" in her husband's office and women patients and that she had been "much comforted" by what she had overheard.

The sheriff said also that Dr. Carman, when questioned about the matter, admitted he had his wife admitted to him that she had the machine put in. He said she removed the receiving end in her closet early today.

Only a few days ago, however, Mr. Candler stated to a reporter for The Chronicle that he has opposed Mr. Candler himself he was not compelled to be making speeches throughout the state this hot weather and left the impression at that time that he had no notion of running.

Augusta, Ga., July 1.—(Special.)—John W. Clark is now postmaster of Augusta, the transfer from Thomas D. Murphy the retiring official, having been made last night. Mr. Murphy rejoins the staff of The Chronicle, with which paper he has been for many years in the past.

instructions from their government giving them plenary powers to discuss internal questions with constitutionalists. The Huerta delegation is anxious to know when and where the conference will take place.

Emilio Rabasa, head of the Huerta delegation, said he was pleased with the accomplishments of mediation thus far. The recess of mediation still holds in effect the armistice between the United States and the Huerta government at Vera Cruz. No protocol has been signed indicating when the American forces will be withdrawn. This has been left for consideration after the two Mexican factions agree on the new provisional government.

As future meetings of the mediation board and delegates probably will be held in New York or Washington today a luncheon was in the nature of a farewell.

ARMY MEN TO SETTLE CARRANZA-VILLA ROW

El Paso, Texas, July 1.—The conference designed to settle differences between General Carranza and General Villa will be composed entirely of military men. Representatives of the eastern central and western military zones will meet soon probably at Torreon, to discuss the situation that threatens the well being of the constitutional revolution.

This was learned today from persons coming from Monterey and Saltillo. They said the proposed conference resulted from an exchange of telegrams between General Villa and General Carranza's eastern division commander. Villa asked Carranza for coal to operate railroads for movements incident to the attack on Aguas Calientes. Carranza they declared replied he would offer Villa no assistance until strained relations between the central zone chief and Carranza had been adjusted. Plans for the conference repulsed.

From the west today came reports that General Alvaro Obregon also would send delegates to the conference. Obregon's troops are investing Guadalupe. The Gonzales forces are about to attack San Luis Potosi while Villa's army is attacking Durango. Carranza has returned north with most of his army desiring to push further his heretofore successful campaign. Gonzales and Obregon supposedly are firm adherents of Carranza in his present embitterment with Villa.

WASHINGTON PLEASER WITH MEDIATION WORK

Washington, July 1.—Suspension of mediation conferences at Niagara Falls today found the Washington administration and its employees in a state of mind which they expected to exchange messages with the first chief at Saltillo tomorrow. The heads of the Washington agency, Robert Zubaran and Luis Cabrera, are pressing for news of the conference between Carranza and Villa. Carranza is expected to meet with Huerta delegates. The agency also is trying to get more information from Carranza's headquarters of the Villa Carranza differences.

Early in the day President Wilson and Secretary Bryan conferred after which the president authorized the statement that the Mexican situation was favorable to mediation and hoped an agreement between the warring factions.

SECLUSION SUGGESTED FOR SIR THOMAS LIPTON

As Result of British Canteen Scandals—Matter Aired in House of Lords.

London, July 1.—The canteen scandals which culminated last May in the conviction of the British army officers and six civilian employees of Lipton's Limited today had an echo in the house of lords. Lord Saxe and Sele formerly lieutenant colonel of the Royal Scots Fusiliers, now controller of the king's household, said the charge that he had tempted Lieutenant Colonel Whitaker, who was sentenced to six months imprisonment was a lie. He declared he had been deeply wronged by Justice Sir Charles Darling who said in reference to a letter from Lord Saxe and Sele that he had been misled.

The letter shows and denounces from the traditions of a great family I myself as I belonged to such a family would starve rather than get my living by cadging for orders for beer.

Lord Saxe and Sele today repudiated the mischievous idea that the possession of an illustrious ancestry carried with it the obligation of an honest living in trade or otherwise.

Baron Newton took up the cudgels in defense of the judges' strictures. He felt that the position of Sir Thomas Lipton the baron remarked:

"I was chairman of a company which had engaged in proceedings of that kind I should be inclined to seek temporary seclusion rather than be continually advertising my case in every conceivable way."

Baron Newton asked if Lipton a Limited had been removed from the list of contractors for the war office.

The Marquis of Crewe, liberal leader in the house, hesitatingly assented. Lord Saxe and Sele statement and said the government did not propose any further action in the matter.

GIRL ACCUSES FATHER OF KILLING HER LOVER

Shrieking Miss Longworth Falls Across Coffin of the Dead Man.

Nashville, Tenn., July 1.—With the arrest of T. E. Longworth, aged 45 when he visited his son J. B. Longworth, aged 23 in his cell at the county jail, the police believe they began to unravel the mystery around the murder here yesterday morning of Blair Wilson. Both father and son are charged with murder and are in the same cell.

Miss Longworth lives at Jackson villa, Fla., and reached Nashville a short time before the killing. The police claim that father and son met on the street not far from Wilson's home and sent a negro boy who told Wilson that he was wanted at a neighboring telephone. When he walked down the street Wilson was confronted by the two Longworths. It is claimed that T. E. Longworth said that a him and that his son then fired the shots that killed Wilson.

Miss Ellen Longworth, over whom the murder is said to have been plotted, appeared her father at the trial for killing Wilson. This afternoon over the coffin of Blair Wilson, Blair Longworth's wife, from whom he had been separated, shrieking hysterically she fell across the coffin.

RECORD DRAWN ON ROOSEVELT

Taft Minister to Colombia Adds Chapter to Panama Controversy—Says Roosevelt Didn't Deal Fairly.

Haltstead, Penn., July 1.—In a statement issued here tonight dealing with the proposed Colombian treaty, James T. Dubois, United States minister to Colombia under the Taft administration, takes issue with views recently expressed by Colonel Roosevelt and explains his own reasons for supporting the treaty. He also analyzes the treaty regarding his difference with Colonel Roosevelt on the subject. Mr. Dubois regrets opposing a great leader whose fortunes he devotedly followed for ten years' and says, no man will tolerate this thought that any of Colonel Roosevelt's acts was inspired by tainted motives, but no man is always right.

Negotiations for a treaty during the Taft administration failed, he says, because his instructions, out of excessive care not to impugn the wisdom of President Roosevelt in taking Panama, failed to give Colombia sufficient justice. The pending treaty, he believes should be approved heartily by the American people.

Not Blackmailers and Bandits. Taking issue with Colonel Roosevelt regarding the character of public men in Colombia, Mr. Dubois declared they compare well with the public men of other countries instead of being blackmailers and bandits, quoting Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that the people of Panama were a unit in demanding the revolution he says a handful of men coerced it and not the hundredth part of the isthmus inhabitants knew of the revolt until an American officer in the uniform of the United States army raised the flag of the new republic.

Regarding the acting president, Marroquin, whom he quotes Colonel Roosevelt as describing "as an absolute and uncontrolled dictator," Mr. Dubois says he was a helpless and hapless old man, not in accord with a congress that was alive with discord.

"If Theodore Roosevelt had realized the true situation in Bogota he would have reinforced his patience with sympathy for that helpless people who had been for a hundred years, our best friends south of the Rio Grande," the statement says.

Mr. Dubois deals with Colonel Roosevelt's claim that the Colombian treaty is a blackmailing agreement in his interpretation of the document. He declares that while negotiating for a treaty, he made the Colombian authorities understand that "the rates would not be applied to any political act, but in his information," conversations he suggested that an expression of regret that anything to mar the friendly relations between the countries might later be included in the treaty.

The Expression of Regret. This expression of regret, the statement says, would have served as a balm for the wounded feelings of once friendly nation, which had been humiliated before the world, whose credit had been destroyed, whose bargaining ability had been annihilated, and whose persistent appeals for arbitration had been ignored. The opposition to this feature, on the ground that it is an apology, is not just and is not in the true interests of the United States. If the Anglo Saxons are to live in harmony with the Latins on this continent they must treat them with absolute justice, just as we shall exact justice from them.

Dealing with that part of the treaty providing a payment to Colombia, Mr. Dubois describes Colombia's claims for the unpaid annuities on the cessation of the Trans-Isthmian Railroad company, the reversionary rights in the Panama railroad and Panama's portion in the Colombian national debt, all of which, he says, should be met by the United States.

Under the contract of 1867, the Panama Railroad company, the Trans-Isthmian Railroad company for 39 years, for which she was to receive $2,000,000 annually during the life of the contract. When Panama was separated there remained $4,000,000 unpaid, amounting to $16,000,000. The concession also insured to Colombia reversionary rights in the Panama railroad at the expiration of the contract.

"The physical value of the railroad shortly after the revolt was placed at $18,000,000. In addition, the claims she is entitled to several millions of dollars for that part of her national debt incurred in the interests of Panama before the revolution, a claim recognized in the 1905 treaty made under the administration of Roosevelt. Altogether these claims total about $36,000,000."

Recognized by Roosevelt. Though Colonel Roosevelt asserts all civil rights (title and pecuniary interests of Colombia passed to Panama at the separation, Mr. Dubois declares these rights had been recognized by the Roosevelt administration itself.

"Colombia," he says, "by an agreement concluded in 1850, contracted a $3,000,000 debt with the railway company, amortizable in 20 years by annual payments of $250,000 annually. The amortization actually proceeded until the debt would have been paid, but the United States prevented by physical force the payment of the debt. The interest on the debt could be paid, and never attempted, exact the six missing instalments, they recognized Colombia's right of ownership."

These and other material claims of Colombia, says Mr. Dubois, are of the indemnification article of the treaty, to say nothing of the tremendous territorial loss and humiliation Colombia has sustained.

OVERLAND BAND GIVES TWO CONCERTS IN CITY

Famous Organization, Combining Mechanics With High Art, to Appear Here.

Mechanics and high art seldom are placed in the same category. But this incongruous contrast is furnished by the fifty members of the Overland band, who arrive in Atlanta Saturday. They are on their way back to Toledo from the international convention of Rotary clubs which they attended as escort of honor for the Toledo, Detroit and Cleveland Rotarians.

The bandmen are all employees of the large Willys-Overland factory in Toledo. Their trades range from blacksmith to draughtsman. Although a number of them have been professional musicians in the past, today they maintain a strict amateur standing by refusing to accept extra remuneration for their services in the band which is one of the most famous industrial organizations of its kind in the world.

The director, Herr Gustav Koehler, has been decorated by foreign musical societies on a number of occasions. Since coming from Germany to the United States he has been in command of the famous marine band and has won the baton over other well-known musical organizations. Under his tutelage the Overland band has passed through the experimental stage into a high-class concert band through consistent application and long service to the kind ever attempted in a repertoire ranging from rag time to Wagner.

Concerts will be given in Atlanta on the fourth of July as guests of the "Crackers" the musicians will attend the afternoon game at Ponce de Leon park, where a section has been set aside for their use. They will play a number of selections between the game and between innings. From 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening a public complimentary concert will be given in Grant park. The program will contain a wide variety of selections. Although the band is playing in more than a score of cities in the course of its 6,000-mile trip, no program is being duplicated.

Mother Allowed Children As Long as She Resists Lure of Gay White Way

A unique court order was made by Judge W. D. Ellis in superior court Wednesday, when he issued instructions that as long as Mrs. Mary Hemperly resists the lure of Atlanta's gay white way, she will be allowed to retain the custody of her children. Otherwise, she will be forced to turn them over to her husband.

Mrs. Hemperly is suing her husband for divorce. She charges extreme cruelty and asks for alimony and the custody of her two children. In a counter charge, the husband, James B. Hemperly, a solicitor of 128 Nelson street, accuses his wife of association with swift characters along the white light way, and of frequenting restaurants and places of amusement with other men instead of properly caring for the children.

Judge Ellis ordered that the husband pay $3 weekly alimony, and that Mrs. Hemperly, as long as she remained with her parents in peaceful Fayetteville, retain the children. The divorce phase will be decided by a jury.

CARTERSVILLE PLANS BIG TIME SATURDAY

The merchants of the city operating with the chamber of commerce have arranged a program for the day that would do credit to a state fair, and to all the attractions she people will be admitted free of charge. Special decorations, with patriotic color scheme, have been placed in a tasteful manner all over the city, and all stores and residences will be covered and festooned with flags and bunting.

WOMEN TO BE MEMBERS OF MACON PARK BOARD

Proposed to Have Commission Appointed for Life by the Present Mayor.

Macon, Ga., July 1.—(Special)—The mayor and council has decided on the plan for the tree and park commission of Macon, for which a charter amendment is to be applied for during the present session of the legislature. The commission is to be composed of a man and two women, each ward of the city with the mayor as an ex-officio member, and all of the members will be appointed for life by the present mayor with the beginning of the new year. Any vacancies as may occur from time to time will be filled by succeeding mayors.

The new commission will have entire control of the trees and parks of the city with the exception of Centennial park, where the Georgia State fair is held each year. Because of the many buildings in this park, council has decided that it shall remain under the control of the public property committee of council.

The commission will be given an appropriation each year, which they will be privileged to spend as they think best.

One of the first big undertakings of the commission will be the turning of 117 acres of land along the bank of the Ocmulgee river, just north of the city, donated by the heirs of the late Senator A. O. Bacon, into a public park.

DAVIS MURDER CASE WILL PROBABLY GO TO JURY TONIGHT

Brunswick, Ga., July 1.—(Special)—The state this afternoon resumed its case against Virgil H. Davis, charged with the murder of his wife, and tonight three or four witnesses for the defense were examined. The case may get to the jury by tomorrow night.

The evidence, in its entirety, differs very little from that offered at the first trial. The state has introduced testimony which shows that the wife of Virgil Davis left Brunswick in a response to a telegram calling her to Brunswick, that the brother, Albert Davis, now dead met her at Thalman and left the train with her a mile south of that station the last time she was seen alive.

Three or four witnesses for the state testified that the husband left his camp late on the night that the murder was committed, with a certain number of witnesses swore that the defendant was in his camp during the entire night of the murder.

The evidence seems to be stronger against the dead brother than the husband, but the state is endeavoring to establish that a conspiracy existed between the husband and brother. The case is attracting much attention, and the courtroom has been crowded during the trial.

FENCE LAW DECIDED ON BY MITCHELL COUNTY

Felham, Ga., July 1.—(Special)—The voters of Mitchell county voted on the question of fence or no fence today. Although all of the precincts in the county have not been heard from, enough have been heard from to show that the election has gone overwhelmingly for "fence." The vote at Felham was 9 for "fence" and 19 against "fence." The election passed off quietly and no one seemed much interested except farmers.

WHITFIELD TAX BOARD SHOWS GAIN OF $469,253

Dalton, Ga., July 1.—(Special)—The board of tax equalizers, composed of W. Thompson, for fifteen years tax receiver of this county, G. W. Sisk, L. V. Laffitte and J. L. Palmer, clerk, completed their labors today, having finished the tax roll for the year. As a result of the board's action the aggregate tax values were increased $369,253, and in addition this amount there was a voluntary increase of approximately $100,000, which will aggregate something over $5,000,000 for Whitfield county.

The new law has met with opposition, and as a result the board has been organized and none resorted to arbitration.

My back ached, I had no appetite and was so tired morning that I could scarcely get around. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

END OF GREATER TECH CAMPAIGN DRAWS NEAR
Nearly Two-Thirds of Hundred Thousand Dollars Has Been Subscribed.

Satisfactory progress in the Greater Tech campaign has been reported by the committee and workers for the project. Several large subscriptions which have been assured are expected before Sunday, and the total for the week will probably exceed that reported last week.

The fund is steadily growing and with nearly two thirds of the one hundred thousand dollars already in hand the end of the campaign is drawing near. Preparations are being made to begin work on the new power plant at Tech one feature of the improvements to be made as a part of Greater Tech soon as the fund of one hundred thousand dollars shall have been raised. The old power plant at Tech has long since failed to fill the needs of the school and the new one is imperative.

Much of the machinery which has been donated is being assembled. A unique bulletin in the form of a schedule of Georgia Tech, beginning with the foundation of the school and continuing until 1920 has been issued from the campaign headquarters to the friends of the school by J. R. A. Hobson, chairman of the executive committee. The schedule follows:

History of Atlanta—Date 1915.
1882—Georgia Tech Proposed
1885—Legislature appropriated the money
1886—Atlanta bid for Tech and won, and has been winning ever since

SAME OLD TACTICS.

The political situation in Georgia reminds us of Bob Toombs story about the white man, the negro and the peevy gates.

The white man Toombs said wanted to negotiate heaven. Peter at the gate told him he would have to come mounted.

It was turned to earth and induced a negro to serve as steed, artfully insinuating that thus equipped both of them could enter the hall.

They arrived at the celestial portals. The vour horse outside and come on in said the good gatekeeper.

It is been that way in Georgia politics since the cows came home.

Everybody knows how it works. The demagogue gets out on the stump and by every cheap device imaginable appeals to race prejudice.

He promises with a binding oath to repeal the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. He crosses his heart and swears himself purple in the face that when he is elected to the house or the senate he will see there are no more negro federal appointments.

The campaign ends—and with it comes an end of the issue until it is resurrected for the same use in the next campaign.

The current Georgia campaigns bring about the usual revival of the eternal nigger bogie. Once more they are going to ride the nigger up to the political peevy gates.

And then—they're going to tie the negro outside, for two more years—until the next campaign. Time and again they have slid into office on the back of race prejudice, cooing promises to disfranchise the negro nationally and to prize him away from the pie counter—and failed utterly to redeem those promises after they took their seats.

The people of Georgia are awake to these cheap, insincere and contemptible tactics. Hold that candidate who can find no stronger issue than the nigger under suspicion. Discount 100 per cent his promises on other issues if he make the old specious sophistical promises about the nigger—promises experience proves will not be kept.

The people of Georgia have cut their political eyeteeth. They know hypocrisy and buncombe when they see it.

A FOE TO RURAL CREDITS

Georgia will be barred from participation in the benefit of federal rural credits unless the state reforms her impossible land title and foreclosure laws.

David C. Barrow, of Felham, Mitchell county, a widely experienced farm loan authority adds his warning in this respect to the warning published recently in The Constitution from J. T. Holliman, of Atlanta. In a communication published today Mr. Barrow says the farmers of Georgia generally pay from one to two per cent higher interest, and almost twice as much in commissions and attorney's fees and expense of abstracting as their fellows elsewhere, because of the state's uncertain and insecure land title and foreclosure laws.

There is no question whatever that if these conditions exist when rural credits, in whatever form, are sanctioned by congress Georgia will be left out in the cold as compared with other states. The primary and indispensable requisite to securing loans from a land bank is absolute perfection of title. Georgia has nothing to offer in this direction. Her system of titles is regarded as obsolete in most of the other states, and is complicated, baffling and indecisive.

Mr. Barrow's suggestion that the present legislature create a commission of experienced business men to investigate and make recommendations is an excellent one. The general assembly should act in the matter at once. It is reasonably certain that congress will enact rural credits legislation next winter. A commission can analyze Georgia's land title and foreclosure law systems, recommend a substitute and prepare the way for its adoption before rural credits become effective. It is as certain as anything can be that unless the legislature takes this step the farmers of Georgia will be cut out of the great stimulus to development and economic emancipation that will come with this new fiscal agency. And if rural credits were not at all involved it would be essential to the interests of the farmers, and of investors, and the dignity of the state, that our inadequate laws on this subject be amended.

SEVEN WEEKS OF CARNAGE.

The Sphinx has spoken. The mantle of profound silence in which "Little Joe" Brown had wrapped himself has been rent in twain.

The anguish of the politicians, squirming on the anxious bench, and of the political "fans" eager for a sensation, has been as unguaged.

He is going to run for the senate! One of the greatest midsummer diversions of Georgians is politics.

People turn a deaf ear to the lure of the sea and the mountains, if they may hear the sweet sound of the partisan mallet "swatting" friend and foe, the swish of the "shorter and uglier" word as it hurtles through the atmosphere the lullaby of the charge and the countercharge, as alternately they pin each other to the mat the roar of the stump orator, like unto the wild bulls of Bashan and now—

The staccato solo of the machine gun card writer rapid and crescendo, as it enfolds the enemy and shoots him up with crisp epigrams and phrases embroidered with sulphuric acid and garnished with brimstone and logic.

Yes, yes brethren you will get all the carnage for which you lust for the next seven weeks in Georgia.

From now until the fateful 19th of August each moment will be packed as full of thrills as is a resident of arid West Virginia when he tracks a fugitive drunk to its lair.

We're going to have all the fifty-seven varieties of campaigning. Local Long distance. The tornado "eat 'em up Bill. The dignified and statesman like. The subtle and gunshoe. The insidious and insinuating personal letter. The gentle roorback. The "save me and save the state brand. The meek and lowly news paper advertisement. The "sniper. Last, not least and don't you forget it, the vitriolic card that "stingeth like an adder and biteth like a serpent."

They're off that goodly company and Little Joe is with 'em. Who said this grand old state was in for a dull time?

BY WHAT RIGHT? Colonel Roosevelt has found his voice long enough to shoot volleys at the bosses he once dominated and to attack the democratic party. The Colonel's vigor of invective is unimpaired. The weaknesses of his criticism of the democratic party are that his attacks are compounded equally of evasion generalities and opportunism.

By what right does Theodore Roosevelt criticize any party for attempting such fundamental legislation as that touching the tariff, the currency and the trusts?

He had seven years of undisputed power. What did he do with it, so far as legislation is concerned?

Nothing! The tariff and the currency and the trust questions were just as critical, just as ripe for adjudication during his tenure as they were when Wilson was inaugurated.

Did Roosevelt attempt any solutions? He did not. He satisfied himself with vague recommendations and denunciations.

He sheered away from the tariff when ever it was mentioned. He bequeathed the issue to Taft and it broke Taft's back.

He avoided any permanent settlement of the currency problem.

He fulminated about "malefactors of great wealth, but he never put into effect any measures to curb them.

This is the man, long on talk and short on action, that finds fault with the administration that did more in one year than he did in seven.

Whatever Wilson's shortcomings, no one can deny he is a man of performance.

Roosevelt proposes a number of quick remedies for tariff and trust difficulties. Does he dream the nation is going to reopen these questions and submit to another period of grueling uncertainty? He must have lost his political acumen.

"Only the progressive party can save the nation. If that was the only panacea he had to offer he might have saved himself the visit to Pittsburg.

Legislators are busy because you can't get 'em to believe there's life in the old laws still.

The boys at Vera Cruz are watching and waiting for some good soul to mediate the mediators.

Perkins is such a good campaign angel the Colonel will not permit them to sing a feather of him.

With the mercury still on the red line it's a shame for the country to call so many to run and save it.

An exchange says Villa has ordered a magnificent bathtub. He may yet become sufficiently civilized to swear at Huerta over long distance.

It is taking a mean advantage for them to say things about the progressive party when it has sore throat and can't call anybody a liar.

Summer Days in Billyville. Our celluloid collar caught fire while we were bending over our desk and there was somewhat of a conflagration. But while we regret the loss of our eyebrows it will be some time before we will have to pay for a haircut.

It's a great joy to our sweltering citizens to hop a refrigerator car to Atlanta, where they can watch the legislature upholding the reputation of the state as a summer resort by cooling off under electric fans.

Had we been content to be a foot pilgrim through this world of sorrow we had been happier. Which reflection is due to the fact that the only safe we ever had exploded was consumed by fire and is now peacefully reposing in a home-made ashtan.

I can cite you to life insurance companies that are lending money on western farms at 5 per cent and charging from 6 to 7 per cent on equally as good farm loans in Georgia. And this discriminating difference is due entirely to the Torrens system of titles and the greater risk of operating thereunder.

I can also cite you to some of the large life insurance companies that would like to do business in Georgia, and who come here and investigate the matter with that end in view but they are absolutely afraid of our bunglesome and careless system of titles.

A Legislative Committee. The legislature ought to appoint a committee of good level-headed business men here and investigate the matter with that end in view but they are absolutely afraid of our bunglesome and careless system of titles.

I know that some able lawyers think that it would be better to perfect our present system of titles laws and foreclosure laws while others think that it would be better to adopt the Torrens system of land title entirely.

It would take several years and possibly a reorganization of the entire state to install the Torrens system but when once installed we would have as cheap money in Georgia as in any state in the union, and practically no delay and with a minimum of cost in procuring it and it would be that way for all time to come thereafter.

Some states have adopted it only in amplified form while others have adopted the Torrens system in its entirety and have once adopted and installed in its entirety it has given universal satisfaction to both lenders and owners of real estate as well as borrowers and lenders thereon for when a man has a Torrens certificate of title he knows what it is because they are guaranteed by the state and these certificates show on their face what title is vested in the holder whether a fee simple title a life estate or other interest, and what liens if any are on it and the respective dignity.

I do not attempt to say whether it is better for us to adopt the Torrens system or to try and perfect our present system but I do say that a change and a radical change of some kind is absolutely necessary before we will ever be able to invest in your state in bringing the necessary capital to this matter and waging a campaign that shall have no letup until something has been done to improve the present expensive and cumbersome methods or else adopt the Torrens system straight up and entirely.

You have done a great thing for the state of Georgia in the campaign you are conducting to improve the breeds of cattle etc. and eradicate the ticks and here is the same opportunity for you with the powerful influence of your paper to perform equally as great if not a greater service to your state in bringing the necessary capital to this matter and waging a campaign that shall have no letup until something has been done to improve the present expensive and cumbersome methods or else adopt the Torrens system straight up and entirely.

Georgia Farmers Will Get Cheap Money Only When Title System is Righted

Editor Constitution I noticed a very able article in your paper from J. T. Holliman several days ago regarding the demorable conditions in our state as to land titles and I wish to heartily endorse what he has said. His article is timely and to the point and something ought to be done by the present legislature of Georgia towards reforming our antiquated methods or else towards adopting the Torrens system in Georgia.

There are now pending before the congress of the United States two bills looking to the establishment of rural credit banks loan banks furnishing the means for cheaper long time loans to farmers in the states of the union where the title laws, etc., and the foreclosure laws are up to the standard prescribed and which would make the operation of these institutions safe and expedient.

It is an absolute fact that cannot be contradicted by anyone in a position to know, that Georgia cannot qualify under the conditions necessary to establish loan banks and that her farmers and citizens will not be able to reap the lower rates of interest on loans to which these institutions open the way.

The farmers of Georgia have long been paying from 2 to 3 per cent higher rates of interest on their loans than the farmers of other states where there are better systems of titles and they also have been paying about twice as much in commissions and attorney's fees abstract of perfecting satisfactory abstracts of title to their lands in order to get these loans than is the case in many other states, and they are going to be forced to continue to pay these higher rates until a change is made in the operation of these institutions.

I can cite you to life insurance companies that are lending money on western farms at 5 per cent and charging from 6 to 7 per cent on equally as good farm loans in Georgia. And this discriminating difference is due entirely to the Torrens system of titles and the greater risk of operating thereunder.

DAILY GRIST FROM THE STATES POLITICAL GRIND

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE WILL MEET AT KIMBALL HOUSE FRIDAY. The special meeting of the state democratic executive committee, called by Chairman William J. Harris, for the purpose of considering the question of a second primary to accept Mr. Harris' resignation as chairman, will take place at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Kimball house.

Mr. Harris sent out letters to all members of the committee last Saturday and a large attendance is expected. The meeting is expected to be full of interest, but the general opinion seems to be that the rules governing the primary will not be changed.

NEWS OF BROWN'S ANNOUNCEMENT SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE OVER STATE. It doesn't take political news long to travel.

At noon Tuesday there were just two persons in the wide, wide world who knew what Little Joe Brown was going to do. One of these was Little Joe himself and the other was a well known newspaper man who had been pledged to secrecy and who kept the pledge inviolate.

At 3 o'clock the typewritten announcement reached the Constitution office. Before the compositor had had an opportunity to put the matter in type the news had somehow gone out into the city and had even circulated as far as Savannah. By 5 o'clock every man in the city was talking it.

It was a fact that Mr. Brown had announced just how the news managed to travel that far in so short a time it would be impossible to say—but travel it did.

By 8 o'clock the telephones in the Constitution office were ringing merrily and every other call was from some anxious man who wanted to verify the report he had heard in some mysterious fashion. All during the night this kept up and a party of legislators actually waited up to get the first copies of the Constitution, to be certain the report was true.

It would be difficult to say who got the news first—the friends of Joe Brown or the supporters of Hoke Smith. Mr. Brown told me one he played no favorites. He is certain it is that Hoke Smith club and Hoke Smith clubs were being organized through out the state before the breakfast bell rang.

There were many early risers in Atlanta Wednesday morning. The rumor that Joe Brown had broken his word and was going to lose sleep. By 7 o'clock in the morning every hotel lobby in the city of Atlanta was full of politicians. They were all busy talking Hoke Smith and Joe Brown or Joe Brown and Hoke Smith.

By 11 o'clock as the sun began to get in its deadly work and folks grew more or less peevish, words rose to a high pitch and it looked for a time like the good old days when Hoke and Little Joe first came into contact.

Over at the capitol you could hear practically nothing but Brown and Smith being discussed. The topic of the day was certain. About the only politicians at the statehouse who appeared to take no interest in it were the group of gentlemen from Winnetka who were too excited over the prospect of favorable action on the bill creating the new county of Barrow to care for anything else.

Some politicians had discussed the respective chances of Senator Smith and Little Joe they speculated as to who would be the victor in the contest. Various names were suggested but they were suggestions at best and it remains for Mr. Brown to make good his word.

One thing is certain—there will be some politics in the state of Georgia this summer enough politics to make the city of Atlanta feel as if it had been deplored the fact that no interest in it would be that way for all time to come thereafter.

Some states have adopted it only in amplified form while others have adopted the Torrens system in its entirety and have once adopted and installed in its entirety it has given universal satisfaction to both lenders and owners of real estate as well as borrowers and lenders thereon for when a man has a Torrens certificate of title he knows what it is because they are guaranteed by the state and these certificates show on their face what title is vested in the holder whether a fee simple title a life estate or other interest, and what liens if any are on it and the respective dignity.

ALEX W. STEPHENS ANNOUNCES FOR THE COURT OF APPEALS. Alex W. Stephens the well known Atlanta attorney, has definitely decided to make the race for the court of appeals. Stephens is an extremely brief one. He merely says that if elected he will follow the oath of office and uphold the laws of the state. Mr. Stephens is now out of the city and his decision to run was made known in a telegram sent to his law office in Atlanta. Consideration for some weeks and after discussing the situation with friends in various parts of the state who have greatly encouraged him, he decided to enter the contest. Mr. Stephens is a close friend of the late Alex W. Stephens Georgia's most celebrated governor.

JUDGE ROBERT POTTLER THINKS GRICE WILL PROVE AN EASY WINNER. Judge Robert Pottler of Albany former member of the court of appeals spent Wednesday in Atlanta. Judge Pottler has just returned from a trip through south Georgia. He was very much pleased with the result of the fact that he has made a personal campaign and has gone out on no speaking tour that Warren Grice will carry that section in his race to succeed himself as attorney general. I know of no man in the state of Georgia who is more highly regarded than Warren Grice and I know of none better equipped to fill the post of attorney general.

CANDLER COUNTY ADVOCATES ARE ENCOURAGED OVER BARROW VICTORY. The advocates of the bill seeking to create the new county of Candler felt very much gratified over the victory of Barrow county Wednesday and expressed confidence that their bill would meet with a similar result. It will come up for a vote this morning at 10 o'clock. Candler county and Barrow county have been fighting for the same length of time—ten years.

LIVELY RACE FOR LEGISLATURE BEING RUN IN HARRIS COUNTY. There is a lively three cornered race in the legislature in Harris county. The candidates are T. H. Kimbrough, C. I. Hudson and E. B. Trammell.

Kimbrough is the county's present representative and is standing for re-election. Mr. Hudson is a leading warehouseman at Hamilton and Mr. Trammell is a well known attorney at Shiloh who formerly represented Harris county in the legislature. Mr. Trammell is the last entry in the race.

PROPOSED FOR TITTON'S CHARTER. Tifton, Ga., July 1.—(Special.)—Tifton and Tifton politics will take up considerable time in the committee rooms of the present session of the Georgia legislature unless all signs fail.

The present administration gives notice of three proposed amendments to the city's charter. One is to take into the incorporation what is known as the Tift sawmill property another is to bring the requirements for city registration of voters into conformity with the state constitution and the third is to make the terms of office for the members of the city board of education five years.

It is certain that the first one will be hotly contested and there will perhaps be opposition to the second and third.

This new firm entered business Monday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock and their plans for their first business were so gratifying that they announce they will continue the firm this afternoon and until further notice.

The firm checked the losing streak of the Crackers Wednesday afternoon, their timely wallows being responsible for Atlanta being returned 7 to 4 winners over the New Orleans Pelicans in the first of the game series.

Harry, the senior member of the firm, by reason of his captancy of the "company" mentioned above, acted out a single in the first inning, and a triple in the seventh, each scoring McConnell.

Harry, the junior member of the firm, and guardian of the hot corner, smashed out a single in the fifth inning.

Hack poked one to the center field in the seventh inning, sending his fly over the fence, and the game was pay station with glad news to Bill Smith who was about to despair of another day's business.

Harry, the junior member of the firm, and guardian of the hot corner, smashed out a single in the fifth inning.

The pastime was scheduled to start at 4:45 o'clock, but a nice little summer shower delayed the game until 5:15.

If Riggs Refuses to Call S. I. A. A. Meeting, Colleges Will Form New Association

The Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, the controlling body of athletics in twenty-five southern colleges, is in a sticky predicament.

Representatives of seven southeastern colleges held a meeting in Atlanta at the Georgia Terrace yesterday at which resolutions were adopted of vital import in college athletics of this section.

The resolutions request President W. M. Riggs, of the S. I. A. A., to call a meeting of the association for July 13 to consider certain association rule changes which these colleges propose.

But though Riggs calling them they feel confident that President Riggs will not call a meeting on the date mentioned as on a similar request from Vanderbilt university before Wednesday's meeting he informed the Commodore that he had no authority to call such a meeting.

With this knowledge it requires little to discern that the resolutions adopted by these colleges will be called to consider these demands.

What will be the turn of affairs if the resolutions are called to consider these demands? It is not called if the resolutions are called to consider these demands.

Not Authorized to Act. C. C. Trabue, chairman of the games' committee of Vanderbilt university, stated last night that he has been invited to attend this meeting and had done so, but that he was without authority to commit Vanderbilt to any action, and that on this account and for the further reason that Vanderbilt be given a similar request from the S. I. A. A. he desired to be excused from attending.

Bragg, of Auburn, and John Gantt, of Clemson, also stated that they were without authority to act and desired to be excused from attending.

In an interview last night Mr. Bragg stated: "You can say for me that Auburn is in favor of the Southern intercollegiate athletic association, its rules and regulations as they now stand, and that at any subsequent meeting adopted on the vote of Georgia, Tech, Alabama and Sewanee. The Auburn, Clemson and Vanderbilt representatives stated that they did not have the authority to act."

The resolutions adopted follow: Resolved, That President William M. Riggs and the executive committee of the S. I. A. A. be and hereby are requested to call a special meeting of the S. I. A. A. to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, July 13, 1914, to consider the following matters:

1. The equalization of the educational requirements of all institutions composing the association, making the requirements relate to the members of the athletic teams.

2. The modification of the present one-year rule as adopted at the last annual meeting of the association.

3. The whole problem of passing on the eligibility of members of the athletic teams of colleges composing the association.

4. The question of restricting the colleges of the association in their athletic relations with colleges outside the association.

Colleges Represented. The colleges attending, with their representatives were as follows: Sanford, Hugh M. Gordon, Jr., and John Welch, Tech—Dr. J. E. Crenshaw, J. W. Heaman and W. G. Alexander, J. W. Alabama—President George H. Denny and V. H. Friedman.

Yankees—Charles C. Trabue, Sewanee—Harris Cope, Auburn—Professor Thomas Bragg, Clemson—Professor John Gantt, Mr. Gordon, of Georgia, called the meeting to order at the Georgian Terrace and nominated Dr. Denny, of Alabama, as chairman. The meeting was seconded by Dr. Crenshaw, and on unanimous vote Dr. Denny was elected to the position. Hugh Gordon, of Georgia, acted as secretary, and the meeting at once got down to business.

Summer Baseball discussed. As had been anticipated the discussion for the next three or four hours revolved around the one-year rule, summer baseball, equalization of educational requirements. All the delegates and representatives took part in the discussion which was conducted with the utmost frankness, and a very harmonious meeting was had.

The delegates wound up their deliberations by voting on the resolutions calling for S. I. A. A. meeting. After naming an executive committee composed of Hugh Gordon, of Georgia; Dr. Crenshaw, of Tech, and Dr. Denny, of Alabama, the meeting was adjourned.

GEORGIA TENNIS PLAY CONTINUES

Rain somewhat interfered with the playing off of the matches in the second round of the Georgia State tennis tournament Wednesday, but nevertheless several very good matches were played.

The work of Vernon McMillan, in the singles so far, has been very brilliant, and from his class of playing, he shows that it will not be many moons before he will be a star of the first water. He played Ed Carter in the third round today.

The singles match between Carl Ramspeck and Garrett Porter, was about the best and hardest fought match played Wednesday afternoon. Ramspeck won this match in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3. The score, however, does not show how fierce the match was fought for by both players.

The playing of Harry Ashe, a youthful tennis player, has also been very good in this match, and his showing against Ed Carter was excellent. The playing of the mixed doubles will start this afternoon, the matches in the first round starting promptly at 3 o'clock.

Result of the matches played Wednesday is as follows: MEN'S SINGLES. Second Round. Vernon McMillan defeated Bill Matthews, 6-3, 6-0.

Ed Carter defeated Harry Ashe, 6-2, 7-5. Carl Ramspeck defeated Garrett Porter, 6-2, 6-3.

Mixed Doubles. First Round. Orr and Ramspeck defeated Spratt and Simpson, 6-3, 6-2.

Second Round. Smith and Mansfield defeated Ashe and Jennings, 6-3, 6-2.

The card for play today is as follows: Men's Singles. Vernon McMillan v Ed Carter, Frank Pinn v Carl Ramspeck, Victor Smith v Harry Ashe.

Mixed Doubles. Frank Reynolds and Miss Crandall v Vernon McMillan and Miss O'Brien, E. S. Mansfield and Miss Ludwig v Ed Carter and Miss Muse.
