Exploiters of Mexico Charged With Seeking Failure of Mediation

Alleged That Interests Represented by H. Clay Pierce Object to Success of the Niagara Falls Conference.

HUERTA AGENTS STYLED TOOLS OF LORD COWDRAY

Documentary Evidence Showing the Relation of "Big Business" to the Revolution That Is Rending Mexico.

New York, June 28.—(Special.)—Readers of Sunday's New York Herald and Atlanta Constitution, who were given an insight into the peculiar and highly significant activities of the American end of the revolutionary propaganda in relation to Mexico, will doubtless be greatly interested in the revelation that the same forces that have been engaged in the formulation of a railway program for the Mexican people have been exerted to prevent the success of mediation.

Documentary evidence published in Sunday's Atlanta Constitution clearly indicated the intimate relationship existing between Captain Sherborne G. Hopkins, consul-general, as he calls himself, of the constitutionalist junta in Washington, and Mr. Henry Clay Pierce, whose deep interest in the railways of Mexico is shown by his conferences with representatives of General Carranza and in other ways.

All Represent Big Business.

Attention was drawn to the fact that the three Mexican representatives of General Carranza, who are understood to have been named as his delegates to confer with the representatives of the Mexican government at Niagara Falls, are the same gentlemen to whom, according to Captain Hopkins' reports to General Carranza, Mr. Pierce had fully outlined a program for the reorganization of the Northern Railways into a separate system, to be financed by American capital.

According to the same testimony, Mr. Luis Elguero and his associates of the delegation representing the Mexico City government are charged with being agents of Lord Cowdray, who is characterized by Mr. Henry Clay Pierce as "the actual controller of Mexico outside constitutionalist lines."

One of the most interesting allegations of this remarkable inside correspondence of the revolutionary junta is that Mr. Jose Vasconcelos, one of General Carranza's representatives, received money from Mr. Henry Clay Pierce. Another interesting disclosure had to do with the payment of money by Mr. Henry Clay Pierce to Captain Sherborne G. Hopkins, an expert in the correspondence relating thereto.

Zubaran Is Mentioned.

It will have been noted that in one of the telegrams relating to this payment reference is made to the arrival in Washington of Mr. Rafael Zubaran, another of General Carranza's lieutenants, who had devoted his attention to the railway end of the situation and who, also, is understood to have been named by General Carranza as one of his delegates at Niagara Falls.

The activities of Captain Sherborne G. Hopkins in the role of mouler of American public opinion have been briefly alluded to. It is highly significant in this connection to discover that Mr. Henry Clay Pierce has been in some degree directing Captain Hopkins concerning his activities in this particular line.

In a letter written by Mr. Pierce to Captain Hopkins on May 12, 1914, he inclosed a newspaper clipping relative to the identity of the three gentlemen named by the Niagara Falls mediation conference and said:

"I think you should use the inclosed clipping of May 11 as the basis of a strong article in The New York Herald and elsewhere as you can arrange, showing that all three of Huerta's peace envoys are controlled by Cowdray. You know that Luis Elguero has always been Cowdray's personal attorney in Mexico, and chairman of the Mexican board, National Railways of Mexico, since Lumantour left Mexico."

Pierce's letter to Hopkins.

Inasmuch as Mr. Pierce's primary anxiety for publicity along these lines lay in obtaining the publication of an article in The New York Herald, it will, of course, be extremely gratifying to see here reproduced an extract of his letter. It reads as follows:

Letter to S. G. Hopkins, Esq., Hibbs Bldg., Washington, D. C., from H. C. Pierce.

"New York City, May 12, 1914.—Dear Captain: Referring to your letter of March 23 and May 11, do you know what has become of Parker? Everything indicates that Cowdray's interests are active in trying to convince the constitutionalists that Cowdray has been and can be their best friend. Mr. Flint told me today that Zubaran is still here. Unless Carranza acts promptly the railroad situation will be beyond his control, because when Huerta is disposed of, England, France and Germany will easily convince the United States that Cowdray's long-

SECRET PARLEYS HELD BY HUERTA WITH CARRANZA

Stated in Vera Cruz That Peace Negotiations Have Been in Progress at the Capital of Mexico.

CARRANZA IS ANGERED BY THE UNITED STATES

The Rebel Chief Is Said to Think That Washington Has Assumed a Dictatorial Attitude in Regard to Mexico.

Vera Cruz, June 28.—Secret peace negotiations between General Carranza and President Huerta have been in progress in the capital, according to Antonio Magnon, an American, who arrived from Mexico City today. Magnon said it was known positively that representatives of Carranza had conferred with President Huerta.

Magnon said also that Huerta's volunteer forces at San Luis Potosi, including all the noted chieftains, had refused to co-operate further with the regular army or to withdraw toward the capital, but would fight the constitutionalists in that region. The volunteer chieftains, most of whom are veterans of the three years border warfare, declare the federal recruits are hopeless as soldiers, and only hamper the actions of the veteran volunteers, according to Magnon.

The federals are fortifying Aguas Calientes against a constitutionalist advance, according to Magnon, but it is understood in the capital General Villa plans his next blow against Queretaro.

There are indications that the federal forces before Vera Cruz are being rapidly reduced, and that only a thin fringe of rural guards will be left to maintain the outposts. It was thought in the capital that a peace agreement between Huerta and Carranza, based on Huerta's resignation, was certain to come soon, Carranza being forced to make some concessions because of his disagreement with Generals Villa and Azules.

It is reported in the capital that supporters of Villa and Carranza have been fighting near Monterey.

FOREIGN INTERFERENCE RESENTED BY CARRANZA

Laredo, Texas, June 28.—"Constitutionalist leaders who have the sympathy of all the people of Mexico behind them, will not allow the dignity of the nation to be lowered by the interference of any foreign power in the internal affairs of the country."

This declaration was made by General Venustiano Carranza at a banquet at Monterey Saturday night, according to travelers who arrived here today. Carranza, it was said, asserted that the United States was assuming a dictatorial attitude. The 400 Mexicans who attended the banquet received the declaration with cheers, it is declared.

"The constitutionalist movement has now proceeded to such a point," the first chief is quoted as having said, "that the party has nothing to fear except from the Judases in its own ranks." He mentioned no names.

MEDIATION URGED AT MASS MEETING TO SETTLE STRIKE

BOTH PARTIES ASKED TO SELECT ARBITERS

Addresses on Problems of Capital and Labor Made by Dr. Wilmer, Dr. White and Marion Jackson.

Following addresses stressing the necessity of an immediate and amicable settlement for the public good of the differences between the strikers of the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills and the mill owners and an improvement of conditions at that mill, some 2,000 citizens at a mass meeting at the Grand opera house Sunday afternoon adopted resolutions urging the mill owners to meet the offer of the strikers to arbitrate their differences in the same spirit of fairness in which the striking employees have made the offer.

It was further urged that in order that such a mediation might be more binding and that there might not be the imbalance of grounds for subsequent charges of unfairness on the part of the proposed board of mediation by either contending party, that the employees and the mill owners select their own board of mediation instead of having the Men and Religion Forward Movement and the ministers of the city to select that board, as was originally proposed by the union.

Historical Significance.

Dr. John E. White, one of the speakers, characterized the meeting, should it be successful in its object, as one of historical significance and one which will in the future mark the beginning of intelligent discussion and mediation of capital and labor differences and the ushering in of a new era of fair play in such warfare.

The resolutions adopted were as follows:

"Whereas, the strikers at the Fulton Bag and Cotton mill have signified their willingness to settle the differences between them and the mill arbitrated; and

"Whereas, for the protection of women and children and the health of the community, it is the duty of the community in the solving of the points of the truth or the difference between both the strikers and the mill owners, be it

Resolved, That we, citizens of Atlanta and Fulton county, in mass meeting assembled, do hereby urge upon the Fulton Bag and Cotton mill the necessity for meeting this offer in the same spirit of fairness and that an arbitration be had between the strikers and the mill in a manner and form to be determined by them."

Denies Prejudice Against Jews.

John J. Eagan presided over the meeting and the speakers were Dr. J. E. White, Dr. John E. White and Marion Jackson.

To Mr. Jackson was assigned the duty of speaking upon the "brass tacks" of the situation.

His subject was "The Coming of the Kingdom of God," which subject had been touched upon in his bearing upon capital and labor differences by the two main speakers at the meeting.

Mr. Jackson dispensing with high-sounding phrases and fine spun theory, figuratively rolled up his sleeves and added into the subject of the strike situation.

He began with an attack upon the circulated report in connection with the Frank case that there exists in Atlanta a spirit of prejudice against the Jews.

"I want to brand as a lie," he cried, "the report that there exists in Atlanta or in Georgia a prejudice against the Jews. In that report is false and was sent abroad for selfish purposes.

"I think of the Jews not as Shylocks, but as ministers of people whom the world owes a great deal."

Great Jews of History.

He illustrated what he meant by referring to the names of Isaac and other world-figures.

He cited Moses as the leader of the first strike against the Egyptian slaveholders against slavery of Pharaoh in the brick yards of Egypt, and pointed him out as the first laborer who was under the laws under which the present civilization exists—namely, the ten commandments.

He then went back to the history of Jacob and Joseph, writing of the latter as a man of great ambition and of great character.

Murdered Duke and His Wife

ARCHDUKE FRANCIS FERDINAND AND HIS WIFE.

The murder of the archduke and his wife is likely to complicate the Austro-Hungarian succession. The Duchess Hohenberg was morganatically married to the archduke and as such marriages are not recognized in Austria, her son, Maximilian Charles, cannot succeed to the Austrian throne, though he can be king of Hungary, where there is no law against morganatic marriages.

As the law stands at present, the archduke's heir, Franz, nephew of the murdered archduke, is the heir to the Austrian throne. If the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife had lived the latter could not have been empress of Austria, but would have been queen of Hungary.

TWO ARE ARRESTED AFTER OPERATION

Prominent Physician and Hotel Employee Are Held on Charges of Suspicion. Girl Will Be Witness.

A prominent physician and a hotel employee will have to face serious charges as the result of an alleged operation on a young telephone operator.

The hearing, it is understood, will take place on Tuesday morning.

Dr. L. W. Birdsong was arrested in connection with the operation Friday by Detectives Bass Rosser and John Black, the blanket charge of suspicion being made and later released under bond of $1,000.

The doctor's arrest followed that of C. A. Dockstader, chief porter of the Winecoff hotel, who is held at police station, having failed to give bond. His arrest followed complaint made by the girl's sister.

The two men were taken in custody by the detectives, pending the return to the city of a telephone operator at one time with the Arason hotel. As a result of the operation the young woman was for some time in a critical condition.

According to the detectives the girl was sent out of the city to Sumter, S. C., by a friend. Last night she came back into the city, and was served with a subpoena by the detectives.

Young Dockstader denied that any criminal operation had been performed on the woman as the result of their relations. He laid the blame for her condition on another. He will be represented by Attorney W. A. Miner.

Dr. Birdsong could not be reached for a statement last night.

Couple Were Shot Dead While Riding in an Auto Through Bosnian Capital

Shots Were Fired by a Servian Student—Archduke Shot in Face and Duchess in Abdomen and Throat—Royal Couple Escaped Bomb Before Bullets Were Fired.

Double Murder Most Shocking Of Numerous Tragedies Recorded In Annals of House of Hapsburg

Aged Austrian Emperor Had Already Lost a Brother, Son, Wife and Other Members of Family by Violence—Latest Tragedy Charged to Servia and Anti-Servian Outbreaks Are Reported.

Sarajevo, June 28.—Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austria-Hungarian throne, and his morganatic wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, were assassinated today while driving through the streets of Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital. A youthful Servian student fired the shots which added another to the long list of tragedies that has darkened the reign of Emperor Francis Joseph.

The archduke and his wife were victims of the second attempt in the same day against their lives. First a bomb was thrown at the automobile in which they were driving to the town hall. Forewarned, however, of a possible attempt against his life, the archduke was watchful and struck the missile aside with his arm. It fell under an automobile following which carried members of the archduke's suite, wounding Count Von Boos-Waldeck and Colonel Merizzo.

AMERICAN SHELLS STOP CANNON FIRE ON PUERTA PLATA

U. S. Gunboat Machias Uses Her Main Battery to Awe the Forces of the Dominican President.

AGREEMENT VIOLATED BY PRESIDENT BORDAS

After Machias Had Thrown a Few Shells, However, Bordas Remembered His Pledge to American Commander.

Washington, June 28.—Bombardment of the rebel city of Puerto Plata by President Bordas, of Santo Domingo, was silenced late Friday by fire from the main battery of the American gunboat Machias. Only a few shots were required for the task.

News of this incident came to the navy department late tonight in a belated dispatch from Captain Russell, of the battleship South Carolina. The Machias was sent into the inner harbor at Puerto Plata prepared for battle after the Dominican forces several times had violated an agreement not to use artillery in attacking the rebel forces holding the city.

The captain's dispatch, dated Friday, reads:

"This afternoon when the Bordas artillery ashore fired shells into the city of Puerto Plata, the Machias anchored in the inner harbor and with some shots from her main battery stopped the artillery fire after which there was no further firing. We have the situation well in hand. The prompt stopping of the artillery fire into the city will have a reassuring effect on Americans and other foreigners in the city who recently have displayed great anxiety about their safety."

"At 8 p. m. Friday the revenue cutter Albatross took on board forty-two persons for passage to San Juan, thirty-three being Porto Ricans, nine Americans, ten men, thirteen women and sixteen children, and then steamed for San Juan. The Clyde line steamer, the Seminole, from Norfolk (for Santo Domingo City, arrived at 5 p. m. Friday, and after delivering mail took away from Puerto Plata four persons. The Clyde line steamer Albatross took away twenty-four persons. These passengers were put on board the three vessels by the South Carolina's boats."

mination of the personal sorrows that have overshadowed the life of the Emperor. His reign began with sinister omens for he faced internal dissensions and external aggressions from the moment he came to the throne. It is the first of these that is identified with an attempt on his own life when a Hungarian named Lebeaux wounded him with a knife.

WRATH SHOWN AGAIN SERVIANS

Anti-Serbian demonstrations began tonight. Crowds knelt in the streets and sang the national anthem. The mayor of Zagreb issued a proclamation in which he declared that the city denounces the crime and declares that by the confessions of the assassins it was shown beyond all doubt that the bomb thrown at the archduke came from Belgrade.

ASSASSINS MADE SURE OF VICTIMS

The archduke and his wife were passed through here on their annual visit to the imperial provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina. The bullets of the assassin struck the archduke in the face and the duchess was shot through the abdomen and throat. Those responsible for the assassination took care that it should prove effective. There were two assassins, the first armed with a bomb and the second with a revolver. The bomb was thrown at the royal automobile as it sped in a hall where a reception was to be held.

The archduke saw the missile hurtling through the air and warded it off with his arm. It fell outside the car.

SITE FINALLY CHOSEN FOR CORDELE SCHOOL

Cordele Ga. June 28.—(Special) The board of Cordele bond commissioners have purchased a site on Northern Heights for the location of a new school building which was voted over two years ago. The matter has been in litigation for more than a year by reason of the fact that the citizens of that section objected to the location formerly selected by the commissioners and an injunction suit was filed. The action of the board in this instance seems to meet with the general approval of the citizens.

Did Pretty Divorcee Kill Her Admirer?

MRS. HELEN M. ANGILO

Did Mrs. Helen M. Angile the pretty and well-to-do divorcee kill Walter R. Ballou councilman of Stamford Conn. and one of the most active republican workers in the state? Ballou's dead body was found on the sidewalk in front of the building where Mrs. Angile lived in her two room studio. Her story is that she had called upon him in the evening and left about 10 p. m. being under the influence of liquor. She heard a fall and found him on the second landing in a pool of blood. She says she thought him dead. In a panic she went down and found his body and fearing that his body would be found there if a coroner's inquest was held she carried the body down stairs and left it on the sidewalk. She then returned to her rooms and went to bed where she was awakened by the police after the body had been discovered on the sidewalk. Mrs. Angile and Mr. Ballou had been close friends for more than five years. Although he was 29 years older than Mrs. Angile they often went about together. They were frequently seen in restaurants and riding in her father's automobile together but with all this there is never a word of scandal in Stamford about either of them. It was remarkable how every one here testified to Mrs. Angile's good reputation. Mrs. Angile's father and Mr. Ballou were good friends. Some persons here believed that Mr. Ballou would marry Mrs. Angile but other said that their friendship was purely platonic. Mr. Ballou was a widower and Mrs. Angile a widow. She had been divorced six years. Her former husband Frank Angile lived in Longwood and obtained the divorce on the ground of desertion. Angile said in Bridgeport that he was convinced that his former wife's reputation was unimpeachable. All of these things helped to baffle the police in their efforts to establish any reason why she should have killed Mr. Ballou. Those inclined to believe that she knew more than she told conjectured variously revenge jealousy and anger and other things being ascribed without evidence to support them.

"CHURCH MUST SOLVE BIG WORLD PROBLEMS"

Dr. Holderby Says the Church Must Settle Conflict of Capital and Labor.

"The church that opens its doors for business on Sundays only and remains closed the balance of the week is only on dress parade and is doing but little for the uplift of the world," said Dr. A. R. Holderby yesterday in his sermon on "A Blessing or a Curse Which?" at Moore Memorial church. "Are we a blessing to the world today or are we a curse? We are one or the other. The business of the church is not merely to meet on Sundays to sing and pray and preach. It is doubtful if this Sunday religion business is a blessing to the world or to other social or political problems. The great conflict now on between capital and labor and which is threatening the very foundations of this republic, can and ought to be settled by the church.

They can be more perfectly ground than any other bifocal known, no ugly seams or pieces to blister or come loose. We make them in Toric or Curved form, giving a larger field both for reading and distance. Each pair is made to order, conforming to the face in every detail. Your best friend would never know you have on bifocals. They are absolutely invisible while on the face. They are a joy, not a discomfort. Ask some of our patients how they are pleased.

A LEGISLATIVE DUTY
Under Georgia's present inadequate land title and foreclosure laws the farmers of the state are unlikely to reap any of the benefits of the pending federal farm mortgage bank and rural credits legislation.

The probability is that federal rural credits will be authorized the early part of 1915 if not sooner. It is therefore incumbent upon the legislature now in session to take steps that will place Georgia upon an equality with the other states. It will be nothing short of a catastrophe if the second richest state in the south, agriculturally speaking is placed at a disadvantage with other states because of failure to make land laws harmonize with modern business usage.

HEALTH AND THE STATE.
What North Carolina is doing and what Georgia is not doing for the health of their respective populations makes a suggestive contrast. The Progressive Farmer of Raleigh tells us in an editorial The Constitution reproduces that in a state wide campaign against typhoid the state furnishes the vaccine free and the county the services of physicians free. The process extends through the regulation three treatments.

Georgia's attitude toward disease shows in discouraging contrast. It is not the fault of the state board of health. The hands of this body are tied by lack of authority and still greater lack of money. It is willing and ready to practice the conservation of human life on a large and habitual scale, but it can do nothing until machinery is placed at its disposal.

The general assembly today gets under way for a 50 day session. There are pending on the calendar two bills that will make Georgia the equal of any state in the union in the matter of health conservation. One of the bills creates a system for registering vital statistics which includes of course the registration of diseases as well as of births and deaths. The other bill creates a public health service broadening the powers of the state board of health and establishing branches in every county or in districts where the counties are too small to afford an individual board.

Both of these measures or others of similar purport should pass at once. It is useless to pass the one without the other. There is no conflict between them but they are both absolutely indispensable to the minimizing of disease and the promotion of the general health. Enacted together and enforced hand in hand there is every reason to believe these laws will within less than five years radically reduce the death rate and radically increase efficiency and economic productiveness in every county of the state.

Georgia has long enough been neglectful of her greatest asset human life. It is the only state in the union without a system for collecting vital statistics. The legislature that assembles today can perform no service of a more constructive nature than by enacting the vital statistics and the public health bills.

RELIGION AND ECONOMICS.

Many of the most distinguished physicians of the United States occupied Philadelphia pulpits last Sunday and pleaded in behalf of the doctrine that the health obligation of the church is a primary one. These specialists and experts in human conservation were on their way to the annual meeting of the American Medical Association in Atlantic City and stopped in Philadelphia to observe Health Day.

The church is under a tangible obligation in the matter of preserving health and stamping out disease. The Latin maxim, "a sound mind in a sound body," should be broadened to read "a clean spirit and a sound mind in a sound body."

It is a scientific commonplace today that much vice and crime takes its rise in abnormal physical conditions. The sickness that does not confine men and women to their beds nor interfere with their accustomed vocations may be sufficiently upsetting of the moral balance to produce crime. Whether the abnormality is acquired or inherited the church still has its tasks. We can do what we may for the criminal that already has been evolved, and then we can do more to prevent his kind from developing in the future.

As a concrete illustration, take the crime rate among the negroes in the south. It is more than a coincidence that the race which shows the largest criminal tendencies shows also the most flagrant ignorance of and disregard for sanitary and hygienic regulations. The Constitution has had the interlocking nature of the two in mind when it has pleaded with the southern churches to take more systematic cognizance of true religion for the negro.

The principle that is dramatized on a large scale with the negro is apparent just as surely with the white man of all classes. Health tends toward normal living and productive citizenship. Ill health tends toward the opposite of these qualities. If it be protested that this interpretation of one of the church's functions puts religion upon too material and economic a plane it may be answered that Christ Himself set the example. Always He was healing. And He never attempted to cure the spirit until He had made whole the body.

THE OUTSIDE INTEREST

A curious but well known feature of the psychology of human nature is emphasized by The New York Times when it refers to the mental misery of hale old men retired on pensions and separated from the vocational habit of a lifetime. With no other resource The Times says that frequently these old men worry themselves into premature graves. Our contemporary says this condition is not an argument against old age pensions, but rather against the too great concentration in our modern life.

The Times is partially right, but the cure to this particular disease is not wholly a lessening of concentration but a cultivation of outside interests. On a certain trolley line in this city a certain old rich man daily comes down town to his establishment at about 9 in the morning. Two or three years ago this man and his family thought he ought to retire. He was more or less a drag on the business and they thought he had earned a rest.

That man away from the shop is one of the most unhappy individuals on earth. As a matter of fact he can't keep away from the shop. He hears and answers the lure of the treadmill though after he reaches it his assistance is more a handicap than a help. He is merely a type. In this country we give ourselves over absolutely to business. Social life is only a side issue. It affords no resource when the man shall have retired from business. If that is true with the better to do classes it is doubly true with the man in moderate circumstances who may be pensioned when he reaches a certain age. Neither of them have cultivated a healthful and absorbing outside interest. It is a rut from the office to the home and vice versa with semi occasional excursions to the theater or the golf links.

The cure is in the broadening of the mental outlook, so that eventually men will come to be independent of their business as a means of amusement. We will have to learn the lesson from Europe. There most men who expect to be able to retire this side of the grave look forward eagerly to emancipation their lives thronging with interests and so-called idleness having no terror for them. In course of time as the man for money getting loses its grip we will cultivate the European repose. Books will more acutely appeal to us. The drama, farming, pottering around house and garden will fill in the gaps. The fault from which we now suffer is the fault of a very young and very rich country.

The weather has no need of the old time lawmaker who used to "set the house on fire." After he has figured a little on a possible vacation a man may decide that there is no place like home as a summer resort. Congress cut out the singing just when the people were prepared to say amen to the long meter doxology.

They say the Niagara Falls mediators are pretty good—at golf. With his voice out of commission there is no chance to put the Colonel in his Ananias club for shouting "All's well" from an Armageddon elevation.

Perhaps a consignment of Georgia water melons would ameliorate the horrors of mediation at Niagara Falls," says The Chicago News. Aviators are working their wits to a frazzle to gain the limelight. One used cloud lather for shaving purposes while in flight.

A Lengthy Compliment

When Dean Walter Williams was in China he made a speech at a dinner given him by the Chinese Journalist Association. Then the president made a speech. At its close all the journalists bowed and clapped their hands. Dean Williams was trying to figure out what all this meant when an interpreter explained that the president had announced that he had named his newly born son School of Journalism Missouri University Walter Williams Wing Lung Foo. Which says we is considerable of a name.

This State Fights Typhoid With Free Vaccination

(From The Progressive Farmer)
Just as we open the papers in the morning mail our eyes light on the following announcement in big type across two columns of a North Carolina county paper:

ANTI-TYPHOID DISPENSARIES
For the purpose of administering anti-typhoid vaccine I will meet the citizens of this county at the following times and places:
Walkertown—May 15 20 25 1 to 5 p m
Terra 16 21 26 1 to 5 p m
Lewisville—May 13 23 28 1 to 5 p m
Kernersville—May 20 25 30 1 to 5 p m
Chapel Hill—May 27 31 1 to 5 p m
Bethania—June 8 13 18 1 to 5 p m
As three treatments are necessary do not fail to meet me on the first date named for our dispensary.
The state furnishes the vaccine and the county the personnel. CHARGE
Dr. S. STRICKLAND M. D.
Forsyth County Health Officer

Let us hope that this announcement is prophetic. Let us hope that just as we have had a south wide crusade against hookworm disease, we shall now have a south wide crusade against typhoid fever. Of course we must keep up the fight for better sanitation for screening houses and killing flies for proper safeguarding of the water supply and for proper disposal of sewage. But no matter how vigilant may be our efforts in these particulars everybody should take the anti-typhoid vaccine. And if there are any who doubt the efficacy of the treatment let them read the following extracts from last year's official report of the surgeon general of the United States army. We quote:

The army got through the year 1913 with only two deaths from typhoid fever. The enlisted strength of more than 80,000 officers and men. One was that of a man who had not been immunized against typhoid vaccine and was believed to have contracted the fever before he enlisted. The other case was among the troops in China and though the man was immunized in 1911 the onset of the case is in doubt.

The vaccine adopted the vaccine later than the army and did not make it at once compulsory had among its 50,000 jockies only seven authentic cases of typhoid in the year ending last August. The patients were treated at a remote tropical station where the vaccine had deteriorated. As such is the wonderful record of the prophylactic treatment.

Before the resort to immunization typhoid cases in the army averaged about three to a thousand enlisted strength or in the neighborhood of 200 cases a year.

It is surprising that the campaign against typhoid fever carried on as a matter of fact scientifically as has the campaign against hookworm disease. And now that the Rockefeller sanitary commission is finding less and less success in its combating hookworm why should it not join with the state in just such a south wide crusade?

Confusing Land Laws May Deprive Georgia Of Rural Credit Help

Editor Constitution: On the first day of this month you were kind enough to publish a communication from me in which I took exception to the position of the editor of the Constitution that the benefit of the law authorizing farm mortgage banks which congress will undoubtedly pass at the next session I took the position that Georgia would be at a disadvantage if she failed to take advantage of the opportunity to inaugurate systematic campaigns against typhoid fever just as Dr. Strickland is doing in Forsyth county. We should have a south wide campaign against typhoid fever carried on as a matter of fact scientifically as has the campaign against hookworm disease. And now that the Rockefeller sanitary commission is finding less and less success in its combating hookworm why should it not join with the state in just such a south wide crusade?

I call your attention also to the following language in the Hollis bill:
That it shall be the duty of the farm loan commission to make an examination of the laws of every state and territory of the United States and to inform the federal reserve board as rapidly as may be whether in its judgment the laws of each state and territory relating to the conveying and recording of land titles and the foreclosure of mortgages or other instruments securing loans as well as providing homestead and other exemptions and granting the power to waive such exemptions as respects first mortgages are such as to assure the holder thereof adequate safeguards against loss in the event of default on loans secured by any such mortgages. Pending the making of such examination of the laws of any state the federal reserve board may declare first mortgages on farm lands situated within such state ineligibly as the basis for an issue of farm loan bonds, and if such examination shall show that the laws of any state afford insufficient protection to the holder of first mortgages of the kinds provided in this act the said federal reserve board may declare the said first mortgages on land situated in such state permanently ineligible during the continuance of the laws so found to be defective.

Nothing is more certain than that congress will pass a law upon this subject at the next session. Nothing is more certain than that the law passed will contain conditions similar to those quoted above. And nothing is more certain than that the state of Georgia will be ineligible. Her foreclosure laws alone will make it impossible for her to qualify.

How important then that the legislature should take hold of this matter at once. The proper committee should be set to work at this session for the purpose of preparing a bill or bills that will correct the many glaring defects in the present law. The legislature should also appoint a committee to make a thorough investigation of the whole matter with the view of reporting to the legislature of 1915 a bill or bills that will put the state of Georgia on an equal footing with the most progressive states of the union and give farmers an opportunity to avail themselves of the benefit of the national laws upon the subject of land mortgage banks and rural credits. Goldfish Ring Bell for Dinner

(From The London Globe)
The goldfish in the warm inland water of the famous Roman baths at Bath has learned to ring a bell for their dinner. A metal ball floats in the water with an ingenious pivot attachment from which strings hang down in the water. When the goldfish pull the strings a bell sounds and a couple of eggs is turned automatically into the water. The fish greedily enjoy the new game which is watched daily by interested crowds.

DAILY GRIST from the STATES' POLITICAL GRIND

EFFORT TO DEFEAT TAX EQUALIZATION WILL MEET WITH LITTLE SUCCESS

The effort to repeal the tax equalization act will be abortive—it will fail miserably and it deserves to fail.

The tax equalization act is one of the best pieces of legislation which has been placed on the statute books of Georgia in the last half century and sooner or later even those who conscientiously fought the bill last session and who now are seeking its repeal will see the error of their ways and will regret that their votes were cast in an effort to defeat it.

Many of those who fought the measure at the last session have already become converted to the great good the law is certain to work and frankly have come forward with the assurance that their votes this session will be cast in favor of the law standing as it is.

If this were not election year it is believed there would be scarcely a whip against the law as it has proved even more satisfactory than its friends expected. Not in more than one county in ten has it developed trouble and in those where there is complaining the friction is due more to impolitic boards of equalizers than to the act itself.

The above is the result of careful inquiry among the members of the legislature and outsiders brought here from various parts of the state by the assemblage. However, no pains will be spared to rally all the good county in ten has it developed trouble and in those where there is complaining the friction is due more to impolitic boards of equalizers than to the act itself.

Congressman Hardwick's friends are using it wherever possible. Mr. Felder is not in more than one county in ten has it developed trouble and in those where there is complaining the friction is due more to impolitic boards of equalizers than to the act itself.

Cooper and Harris to speak from Brunswick. Brunswick, Ga. June 28.—(Special)—Voters of Brunswick and Glynn county will have quite a busy time of it Monday as two candidates are scheduled to speak in the city during the day. John H. Cooper of Macon candidate for senator, for Senator Bacon's seat will speak at the courthouse Monday during the noon hour recess while Mr. Cooper will speak at the courthouse Monday night. Judge Nat E. Harris of Macon gubernatorial candidate will address the voters of the county at a big meeting to be held at the city hall under the auspices of the Glynn County Nat. Harris club.

Need for improving only. The present legislature would do well to amend the tax law if it needs amendment, but every effort should be made by legislators to leave the law stronger and better than it now is. It is not in any way to be feared that the law is certain to be amended in that regard there are no corrections or amendments.

Judge Nat E. Harris held a meeting at the city hall Thursday night and organized the Glynn County Nat. Harris club. Officers were elected and a campaign mapped out in the interest of the Macon candidate, Hon. N. Emanuel former mayor of Brunswick, was elected president of the organization and H. H. Lewis, editor of The Brunswick News, secretary. A meeting will be held at the city hall in the city next week to elect a large executive committee to be headed by the president.

The tax equalizers are making their howl all over the state but somebody ought to be made to howl for they have owned land and other property for years and have never paid tax on it. They have never given it in. How can any man who returns his tax honestly oppose a law that makes these tax dodgers come across with their property? At least if the law is not perfect but if let alone it will be improved upon. Give it a fair test then if it don't prove beneficial to the people of the state it can be repealed.

Would Be a State Calamity (From The Albany Herald)
The enactment of a workable up to date tax law for Georgia was deferred all too long until the one of the most serious in the union was about to become a financial derelict and it would now be nothing short of a state calamity to permit the disgruntled tax dodgers who have been brought to book by it to either repeal or emasculate it.

A Suggestion (From The Progression Journal)
The tax equalization of the county have completed their work. The valuation on some lands was raised and the assessors have done the best to equalize tax. But the thing most needed in the state is a law to ascertain personal property not on the digest. We need a law where a paper is not collectible if it doesn't bear the stamp of the tax receiver showing that it has been given in for taxation.

Has Long Been Needed (From The Rome Tribune Herald)
The tax law is one of the best and fairest ever enacted in the Georgia legislature. It is a law that has long been needed in this state and the very fact that the politicians are trying to repeal it speaks volumes in its favor.

Slight Changes Only Needed (From The Thomaston Times Enterprise)
The tax law we believe will not remain as it is. There are certain phases of it which the experience gained this year has taught the legislators and others identified with its enforcement should be changed. The object of the law is certainly preserved and in that regard there are no corrections or amendments.

One Year's Result (From The Cedartown Standard)
One year's operation of the new tax equalization act will in all probability reduce the tax rate and pay the states accumulated indebtedness without working hardships on one taxpayer in Georgia.

GRIND OF WORK FOR THE SENATE

Weeks of Discussion Likely on Trust Measures—Senate Far From Resigned to the Outlook.

Washington, June 28.—Convinced that there is no other path to adjournment but the one which begins with trust legislation, the senate will set to work this week to the steady grind of work on the federal trade commission bill.

The senate is far from resigned to the thought of six weeks or more of discussion of trust legislation in mid-summer, but it is not probable that the spirit of open revolt will show itself on the floor and unless senate leaders are at fault in the predictions, the three house bills on legislation pending in the senate will be passed by the end of the month.

The trade commission bill is the unfinished business of the senate. The Clayton anti-trust bill is still unfinished, and the railway capitalization bill is about the same shape in the hands of the interstate commerce committee.

Just when the senate is about to get to the bottom of the anti-trust problem, the Clayton bill already passed by the house is being brought up for consideration by the senate.

The senate is far from resigned to the thought of six weeks or more of discussion of trust legislation in mid-summer, but it is not probable that the spirit of open revolt will show itself on the floor and unless senate leaders are at fault in the predictions, the three house bills on legislation pending in the senate will be passed by the end of the month.
