PLAY FAIR—OR QUIT!

COUNCIL TO AGREE ON SHEET MONDAY

Both Sides Make Concessions, and End of Long Dispute Is Now in Sight.

Final settlement of the dispute over the 1914 money sheet will be effected at the meeting of council Monday afternoon. The end of the deadlock was seen Saturday afternoon when Alderman James R. Nutting leader of the budget opponents and Councilman W. G. Humphrey chairman of the finance committee issued statements that they believed the concessions agreed on by both factions will be accepted

Members of the finance committee practically agreed Saturday that $2000 should be put in the sheet for Lucile avenue paving and $5000 for an engine house in the fifth ward but they were confronted with the question of where the money is going to be taken from

Mayor James G. Woodward has put the finance committee and the insurgent members of council on notice that he will veto the sheet if it carries more than $15000 of the anticipated revenue of the city. He added on Saturday that unless the tax assessors estimate of the tax assessors the finance committee will be forced to take a portion of the anticipated revenue of the finance sheet for January 1 and apply it to the June appointments

At a conference held between Finance Chairman Humphrey and Alderman Nutting and Councilman Humphrey on Saturday afternoon the proposals were carefully discussed again. It was understood that the insurgents were assured that the $3000 for Lucile avenue would be taken from the street ordinary fund and applied to that project. It was also reported that the committee agreed to find the money for the fifth ward engine house which will cost about $5500

Merchants of Atlanta Charge Discrimination Is Practiced In Purchasing Fort Supplies

The issue of The Constitution for Saturday contained a statement in which it was explained that some of the merchants are purchasing commissary supplies for Fort McPherson in New York rather than in Atlanta as an economic move on the part of the first division. It was stated that only such articles as could be bought in New York and delivered in Atlanta cheaper than they could be bought here would be bought in the former city

That they have not been given opportunity to bid upon the bulk of the issue supplies of the commissary department of the army post at Fort McPherson since last October and that the bulk of such supplies have been arbitrarily purchased in New York city was disclosed to The Constitution by leading commission merchants of Atlanta on Saturday

The Constitution's reporter was informed at Fort McPherson that the contracts for the supplies would be let where or the supplies could be bought cheapest, regardless of where this might be and that Atlanta merchants would get the patronage of the fort providing they could furnish supplies as cheaply as New York

A Remarkable Fact. The Atlanta merchants claim however that this is true only in letter and not in spirit. They cite as proof of this that whereas in time past Atlanta merchants have had opportunity to bid upon as much as $25000 worth of supplies per month during the last month total of issue commissary supplies upon which they had opportunity to bid would not exceed $5000 in value. The word issue applies to the standard commissary supplies issued to the enlisted men. They are allowing us to bid upon

Helen Ferguson Tells Defense in Affidavit Of Advance by Conley

Little Factory Girl Who Was a Star Witness for State in Trial of Leo Frank Declares She Was Badly Frightened by Negro, Who Approached Her Menacingly While in a Drunken State on Saturday, April 19, at Same Spot Defense Says Mary Phagan Was Slain—Says She Dropped Boxes and Ran Upstairs to Escape Him.

DENIES REPORT OF REPUTATION OF TESTIMONY SHE GAVE AT TRIAL

Describes Visit Made to Her by C. W. Burke. Investigator for Defense—Mother Did Not Know for Month She Had Given Affidavit. Statement Given the Defense by Mrs. Nina Formby, Denying One She Gave Detectives Before Trial of Prisoner, Published Today in The Constitution for the First Time.

Helen Ferguson the little factory girl who was a star witness for the state in Leo Frank's trial told a reporter for The Constitution last night that Jim Conley had made drunken advances upon her the Saturday previous to the murder on the same spot on the first floor at which counsel for the defense contended the black sweeper slew Mary Phagan

It was on Saturday April 19 she told the reporter 'I went into where I worked on the second floor to the first I walked over to a place kinder behind the stairway I started to pick up a box I saw a hand

'He was drunk—seemingly as drunk as could be I saw a whisky in a hip pocket He was staggering His eyes looked queer and I seem to know what he was doing I was scared from the way he picked up the box and started to hurry away

'He came over toward me menacingly I drew back He strode within arm's length of me He said something I was so frightened I didn't remember all of his words Some of them were about the boxes The rest of them he sorter mumbled just like a drunk man

GIRL BADLY FRIGHTENED. 'I dropped the box as he pushed nearer me I jumped to the stairs and ran up as fast as I could I didn't look back—I was too frightened—to see whether or not he was following me I don't think he was though

BENTON WAS SHOT IN OFFICE OF VILLA

Washington Satisfied the Briton Was Killed by Bullet in Stomach—No Arms Were Carried by Benton.

Washington, February 28.—William Benton the British subject slain at Juarez was unarmed and was shot to death in Villa's office pistol bullets through the stomach ending his life according to conclusive information which has reached Washington of the fact. While no statement to this effect was forthcoming today, slackening of official interest in the case was evident from the fact that the examination of the body was not held in the presence of witnesses who possibly otherwise would witness their oral statements.

arm's surgeons to make a medical examination of the body and Acting Secretary Moore, of the state department, said it had been left to the United States district attorney at El Paso to select two representatives of the state department. These representatives were said probably will be chosen outside of the consular service.

The examination of Benton's body will be conducted by the United States authorities the British view being that the responsibility rests on the state department. The British ambassador has taken frequent opportunity to show the satisfaction his government feels in the activities which have marked the prosecution of the inquiry. Sir Cecil Spring Rice spent an hour with Acting Secretary John Bassett Moore, going over the details of the case afterwards reporting its status to the foreign office.

It is believed that when the facts connected with the killing of Benton are fully developed, unless the United States government feels called upon to demand reparation, the British government will apply to the case and place it on file to be presented to the future government of Mexico for settlement when the day of reckoning comes.

No answer has been returned to the letter from the Governor of the state of Texas to whom he could address a petition for the surrender of the person who killed Vergara, the Texas ranchman.

Benton Commission Being Named. El Paso, Texas, February 28.—Army surgeons are awaiting the commission to examine the body of William Benton to ascertain if he was the victim of a formal firing squad or of merely a bullet through the head. JAMES' SANATORIUM

692 ALABAMA AVE. MEMPHIS, TENN.

A Private Sanatorium for the Treatment of Drug Addictions, Alcoholism, Nervous Diseases, Tobacco and Cigarettes.

CURED OF DRUG HABIT.

Yours of the 25th to hand and contents noted and I can truthfully say it is all true about my taking the treatment of the James Sanatorium for the morphine habit, and I am a cured man. I never suffered any pain from weakness. I was surprised when they told me I was not taking any morphine. It is all true what you read in the Memphis papers about my cure, that I would never touch the drug. Life I was living and I determined to go away from wife and family and if I returned would be a cured man. Yours truly, J. L. ABBOTT

CURED OF WHISKEY HABIT.

I take pleasure in stating that about nine years ago I took treatment at your sanatorium for the Drink Habit. Since that time I have not taken a drop of liquor and I feel today that I should give your treatment this testimonial in order to help others who are in the dire necessity of drinking in order to satisfy a diseased condition of their nerves. You may use this testimonial as you see fit.

Killing of Benton Angers Soldiers

GENERAL CASTRO, GENERAL MERCADO AND COLONEL HERNANDEZ AT FORT BLISS TEXAS REFUGEES UNDER GUARD

Since the shooting of William S. Benton a rich British subject at Juarez by Francisco Villa's men, the Mexicans have been incensed at Fort Bliss, Texas. The rank and file of the United States army are disgraced with the Mexican outrage and with the presence of the 4,000 refugees here, who fled from Ojinaga. One of the accompanying pictures shows some of these refugees under guard. General Villard and Colonel Hernandez, federal leaders who led the Mexican forces in the retreat across the Rio Grande.

Point Marion, Pa., William Kessel, 54, an American giving his name as A. L. Fosh and who declined to name his state of the United States. I have to inform you as follows. I have already on other occasions informed you so that you may communicate it to your government in order to enable the executive power under my charge to attend to representations relative to foreigners residing in this country within the territorial jurisdiction of the constitutional authorities that such persons must be made by representatives authorized by their respective governments and communicated directly to me as representative of the department of foreign affairs attached to the executive power. It is consistent with my policy as above outlined, I wish to inform you that I shall do only those things which are requested in the name of the British subject William S. Benton provided of course that it may be shown to me by a representative of the British government.

The ribbon was inscribed with the name of Senator Bacon and the date of his death, March 1, 1913.

VERGARA IS ALIVE, SAYS MEXIC OFFICER

Huerta General Declares the American Ranchman Escaped From Captors and Joined Rebel Forces.

Barle Pass, Texas, February 28.—Officers of the American ranchman report to have been kidnaped by Mexican federales and hanged at Hidalgo, Mexico is alive according to General Guajardo a federal commander at Piedras Negras. General Guajardo today declared Vergara escaped from his captors last Saturday and joined a party of constitutionalists. This statement could not be confirmed here tonight.

The rumor that Vergara might be alive first gained credence among Mexican federal troops in Nueva Laredo two days ago but efforts to trace it to an authoritative source failed. Inquiry at Piedras Negras today elicited but vague statements and finally the question was put squarely up to General Guajardo.

He briefly indicated that Vergara was alive and when pressed for an opinion refused to say that Vergara had escaped and had joined the constitutionalists. He said, however, that he could say anything further with reference to Vergara he obtained tonight.

It is believed that Vergara is in this vicinity and is being held by the federal troops. Vergara, which was not mentioned by both his wife and his brother, is a well known minor federal leader. The report includes a map of the island from which Vergara was taken. It was reported that the island was entirely in the hands of the rebels. The report also includes a map of the island from which Vergara was taken.

GEORGIA QUINTET DEFEATS AUBURN

Peacock Does Stellar Goal Shooting—Fine Passing by Red and Black Helps Scoring.

Auburn, Ala., February 28.—(Special)—In a fast and snappy game of basketball the University of Georgia basketball team defeated Auburn here tonight by the score of 46 to 15.

Lightning passes work and spectacular goal shooting marked the play from beginning to end. Only one foul goal was called during the game and this on Georgia for running with the ball.

Clements and Paine played the best ball for Auburn, with Peacock starting for the visitors. The latter scored seven goals from the field.

The line-up and summary:

Georgia (46)	Peacock (15)
Paine (9)	Clump (12)
Clements (9)	Brant (12)
Taylor (6)	Brand (12)
Speed (4)	Cook (10)
Duncan (4)	Arnold (10)
L. Cook (2)	Brown (2)

REPORTING TIME FOR LOCAL CLUB

department of the Crackers will be their strongest point.

Tommy Long, the league's leading run getter, will go in left again, without competition, and Harry Welchance, the lead pitcher, and the team's captain will enter.

This was a right field undecided, with Al on hand to battle to retain his job against Flanagan, the leading batter of the Three I league last season and Kircher, the leading base runner of the Virginia league.

Kircher is also a star utility man and may, if he is defeated for a berth in the outfield, try for some other position. He is also said to be good in the infield, but that behind the bat he plays better ball than any place else.

Advice from sport scribes in Kircher's home town, Louisville, Ky. are to the effect that Manager Smith need not worry about the catching proposition with Kircher in the ranks.

Infield Problem.

In the infield, the problem rests with the left side of the inner works. The right side is complete now and no other candidates are trying for the positions of first and second basemen.

Hank Lubbie, the heavy hitting first sacker from Saginaw in the Southern Michigan league will have no opposition for that position and those who have seen him play say that he is going to make good even in the task of filling Joe Agler's stock, a tremendous task.

Amby McConnell as second is a pinch runner for Red and White Sox. Star has pulled down the key position without opposition and will probably ably be assigned to the lead off position in the batting order, as well.

At short, Arthur Schwid, from the Texas league; Ed Walsh, the semi-pro star, and Morley Jenning, from the unsigned, are the three candidates. The chances seem to favor the latter if he signs and reports. But even if he does, this part of the infield looks like it is weakest.

Nelson Lynch, the new third baseman from the Decatur club of the Three I league, which also sends us Outfielder Flanagan, has the inside track on the third base job to date.

Frank Manush, utility man last season, but regularly a third baseman, says that he is going to give Lynch a fine battle for the regular berth. And if Frank's foot is as well as he says it is, Mr. Lynch is going to have a regular battle.

Otto Schmidt and Henry Broadwater, two semi-pros, can be eliminated from the discussion. They will be "farmed" to other clubs.

In the Middle Mix.

A good pitching staff is always essential to a pennant winner. The Crackers have a good pitching staff lined up in the hope and the figures from last season's performances.

Gil Price and Ed Dent have nailed two in one. It is up to the other eight men to battle for the three remaining places.

Kissinger and Wood, the two semi-pro hurlers, can be eliminated from discussion right now as they are not against on as a certain, men who know all about pitching.

This will leave Kissinger, Doscher, Lawrence, Browning, Perryman, H. Price and Ed Dent to consider for the other three places.

Kissinger's work is known. He pitched for Memphis in this league last season and the "Rule" can almost be counted on as a certainty, though he must battle to retain this edge that he has on paper.

Hedges has not signed and gives no indication of doing so. Until he does, he will eliminate him from the discussion.

Of the remaining five, we are willing to leave it to Manager Smith to decide, out of which is the best of the lot. On the records, Browning and Perryman can be eliminated, but their figures are strong for their chances and the local manager is not going to use any snap judgment.

Doscher stands an excellent chance by reason of the fact that he is the only left-hander on the staff besides Price, of course, eliminating Hedges, as we did before. Doscher is a pitcher of long experience and as experienced left-handers are hard to get, his chances are mighty good.

The Other Right-Handers.

Just to get up an argument for the two right hander berths that are open after Elliott Dent has been conceded his place, Kissinger, Lawrence and Edrid seem to have the best chances.

Lawrence and Edrid bring the best records of any of the new men. The former led the Appalachian league and the latter has been twirling in the Virginia for three seasons and contributing mostly to his teams percentage of victories besides being willing to work as many as sixty games a season.

This is not our judgment, but depends on the record book past performances of friends of the players ball players who have played with the men and know what they can do.

On such dope, the five regular hurlers of the local club will be Dewey Price, Doscher, Kissinger and Edrid. But the training season may change this around somewhat.

Good Hitting.

The local club will enter the 1914 campaign with a flock of good hitters dangerous batters in eight of the nine positions on the batting order and in some instances carrying good hitting there when certain men are twirling.

There will be five and possibly six players on the roster who are likely to bust that pit at a 300 clip during the coming campaign. In fact the team has a batting order promising to be even bigger than it was during the past campaign.

It is a question of course, and naturally so, as to which men will make the team, but there is a possibility, if chances pan out, that six of the nine men in the batting order will be left-hand batemen.

McCannell, Lynch, Flanagan, Welchance and Bible are five of the left-hand hitters with the two left-hand pitchers making the sixth. But with the way these fellows can hit the ball, there need be little worry as to that many southpaws in the batting order, especially if they all hit as well as "Whelchance."

The batting order should cause little worry. McConnell will lead off, Long second and Welchance third. Then it will be a question of Edible or the right fielder for clean-up position. The rest of the batting order can be adjusted easily.

Exhibition Schedule.

With twenty-two games on the exhibition schedule, Manager Smith will be able to get a splendid line on his material. This will furnish ample opportunity to try out all the pitchers and all the candidates for positions where there is a contest.

Manager Smith is likely to use all three of them in the three fields and get Welchance and Long rest, as he knows what they can do.

He will alternate the men at the other positions and the batting line is going to be strenuous.

The list of games arranged is the best that the local chieftain has arranged for local fans in many a spring, and if he is blessed with good weather, the games ought to be as interesting as the regular scheduled games.

The final week of the training season will see a game every day with Rochester. This will give the Crackers just the final touch that they need, as the games will be most closely contested and both the Rochester and Atlanta teams will be in good trim by then.

Athletic Pins Will Be Distributed To High School Boys Very Shortly

The Public School league athletic badges that are to be awarded by The Constitution as official organ of the State High School association will be awarded very shortly.

These badges will be awarded to the successful contestants who, prescribing to the rules of the contest, are successful in reaching the required marks set in the three events in the list named in the bulletins that have been issued on the subject.

The first shipment of pins has been made by the manufacturers and the sporting editor now has them on hand. As soon as the school heads attest to the correctness of the names of the winners, and President Stewart of the High School association, gives the lists his approval, the pins will be forwarded for distribution.

A cut of the pin with this story gives an idea of what it looks like, though this is several times the size of the original.

Madison Winners.

J. H. Purks and W. L. Downs judges of the contests held at the Madison High school recently, have sent a list of names of the winners in their school.

For the higher grades high school boys all the requirements were fulfilled, and the two winners have qualified or bettered the average set in the three events prescribed, but in the other only one event is listed, and the pins cannot be awarded to these boys until their marks in the two events are given out.

The two winners in grade 10 are Harold Bugg and John Little. The former made the 100-yard dash in 11 seconds, high jump 4 feet 4 inches.

American Rhodes Scholars Winners.

London, February 28.—American Rhodes scholars were successful in several of the events in the Oxford university sports held here today.

F. T. Adams of Texas won the hammer throwing event with a throw of 122 feet 3 inches. V. B. Havens, of New Jersey won his heats in the hurdles and the 100 yards flat, his respective times being 17 4/8 seconds and 10 1/8 seconds.

Er. Taber, of Rhode Island, was second in the one-mile flat race, being five yards behind A. N. S. Jackson, president of the Oxford University Athletic association who broke the track record. Jackson's time was 4 minutes 22 3/8 seconds.

The sports will be concluded on Monday.

World's Relay Record.

Boston, February 28.—A Harvard four-man relay team running against a team from the Boston Athletic association, today set a new world's record for 1,569 yards, finishing in 3 minutes and 3 seconds. The old record held by the Boston Athletic association team was 3 06 2/5.

HEDLUND DEFEATS TEN GOOD RUNNERS

Boston, Mass., February 28.—Oscar F. Hedlund, of the Boston Athletic association, defeated ten runners last night in the 2-mile run, feature event of the annual indoor championship games of the New England Association of the Amateur Athletic Union. His time was 9 minutes 34 seconds.

Doves Start South.

Boston, Mass., February 28.—Seven players of the Boston National league baseball team left tonight for the south. They will pick up other members of the club en route and meet Manager George Stallings at Macon, Ga., Tuesday. Those who started from here were Joe Connelly, Walter Maranville, Lealie Mann, Walter Kenebeck, George Tyler, Fred Tyler and Tom Griffith.

If this car is honest, there isn't an automobile in existence that compares with it in value.

That it is honest inside as it is beautiful outside, the name Studebaker guarantees.

The fact that it is manufactured to an extent exceeded by no other car of even higher price clinches the question of internal value.

And despite its beauty, despite its internal excellence, despite its seven-passenger capacity, despite its electric starting and lighting system, it is the lowest priced "Six" on the market.

In the face of such obvious and overwhelming evidence of value—how can you consistently pay a penny more for any other car, than the price of this Studebaker SIX?

Mitchell Little Six

Fully Equipped $1,895

The Mitchell Little Six at $1,895, is definite confirmation of the fact that high-priced cars are too high-priced.

There is nothing you can ask in any car—no matter how high the price—that is not embodied in the Little Six. There is no other car now before the public that offers so much car—so much quality—so much comfort and satisfaction for so little money.

No sane business man who is familiar with the inflexible rule of values, can overlook this Little Six or fail to be impressed by its sterling character. Your chance to buy for $1,895, a high-class six-cylinder car fully equipped with conveniences that likewise bear the hall-mark of class, from a concern that has behind it the proud record of eighty years of faithful service to the American public, is decidedly unusual and we feel that you will think it over seriously when this announcement strikes your eye.

This is not the era of high-priced cars. True, they will always have a following among those persons to whom money means nothing, but the bulk of the people ask for a high-class, low-cost car that will preserve their pride and fill their practical wants. This in brief is the Mitchell Little Six. Observe the equipment which is included in the price of $1,895.

With the intercollegiate track and field championships only three months away Harvard and Pennsylvania are the most likely contenders for first place in this blue ribbon event of the intercollegiate track athlete year. The Michigan and the Quakers have much the same in the number of 1913 point winners lost and retained. Both universities still have as a nucleus most of the stars who represented them a year ago. The rules governing the award of the championship trophy is that it becomes the permanent property of the college first winning it five times. The score now stands Cornell 4, Pennsylvania 3, Harvard 1. If either the Quakers or the Ithacans win this year they become its permanent possessors. If Harvard or some other team wins then the competition must go on. That is why Pennsylvania and Cornell are striving so desperately to clinch it this year.

College	Points scored	Points lost	Points retained
Pennsylvania	11 1/2	9	12 1/2
Harvard	11 1/2	9	12 1/2
Michigan	11 1/2	9	12 1/2

ner, and Allen of California Whitney, of Cornell, and Thomson, who were second, third and fourth. Conditions are almost as bad in the high jump. In this event Beeson, of California, and Camp of Harvard tied for first but Beeson has graduated. There was a tie for third place between Sargent of Cornell and Moffat of Harvard, and Simons of Princeton all of whom have graduated.

Two of the point winners in the hammer throw have graduated. They are Cable, of Harvard, who won, and Englehorn, of Dartmouth, who was third. The point winners still eligible are Shattuck of California, who was second, and Captain Kohler of Michigan, who was fourth. In the shot put, Kohler, of Cornell, who was fourth, is the only man lost. This leaves four in the field Whitney, of Dartmouth, the winner of Columbia and the runner-up of Michigan, who were second and third. In the last event the pole vault, two of the five point winners have been graduated, Captain Fiske, of Princeton, is back but Wagner, of Yale, and Wright, of Dartmouth, who tied for second, are gone. The other point winners who will be back are Camp of Harvard, and Van Kenna, of Cornell, who tied for fourth.

nothing has been heard from the California team, but the Pacific coast collegians will have to send a team or forfeit forever their right to compete in these games. They have lost most of their 1913 stars. Yale ought to be stronger than last year. The Elis have a very capable high jumper in Oler, who as a schoolboy, did 6 feet 3 inches. What the minor colleges will do will depend upon the way their men develop in the spring meets.

FORT & PARROTT, Managers

The Old-Time Fan Certain Federals Will Open Season "But Will They Finish?"

"Well, well, well, as the ubiquitous Artie Latham used to yell in the muddy past the despised Federals will start the season all right whether they finish it or not.

McGraw was a fine ball player, he is now a great manager, possesses a noble brain and beyond all question he is a first class fighting man. But there are others and others, and McGraw's tactics are successful because his magnetism, courage and brains furnish the punch. Moreover, he is the first place of the Giants in name and in fact. He is immune to the criticism of press and public and acts as the tactician first and last all the time and never on the suggestions or dictation of amateur directors.

The wild old but intelligent baseball fans of this great country can't be buffaloed by such bunk as that. As a matter of fact they are making in the star athletes who amuse them by playing finished ball.

The very same tactics were called—enabled Frank Chance and Fred Clarke to win world's championships and George Stallings to lift the Boston Red Sox to first place in the division. But not one of these is as drastic as McGraw. Yet they have the brains, the courage and the wit for handling men and there you are.

They don't care anything about the name of a manager or the position in baseball either. The moguls don't seem to be wise to that, but don't worry, it's coming to them in due time.

It is far and away beyond me to see the strategy of the McGraw tactics. The chances of Mr. Herzog, at Cincinnati and Wilbert Robinson, at Brooklyn, are better than the chances of McGraw and they may come through at that.

Think of Toledo and Cleveland teams playing continuous ball in the Cleveland arenas. Think of the Cleveland team that jolt your wisdom teeth. It is too ridiculous for discussion and couldn't possibly succeed between now and the crack of doom.

Red Ebrert, once a famous pitcher with Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, rounded out his career on the diamond in this league some years ago. He was with Memphis.

"Good of Game" Yarns.
The baseball experts are always anxious and willing to work themselves to the bone for the good of the game, provided of course that their pet schemes or plans and so on and so forth are "for the good of the game."

Later a friend hailed him and said "Say, Bo, you were appointed a run-in with Ebrert and got it good and strong. Do you feel any better?" "No, he rankled me fair with you, I don't feel any better, but I know a blamed sight more." And so he did.

IMPETUS IS GIVEN
AUTO ASSOCIATION
State-Wide Organization
Planned at a Meeting of Local Auto Men and the Georgia Chamber Officers

Greater impetus was given the movement to organize a state-wide automobile association at a meeting of the Atlanta Auto and Accessory association and officers of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

President Charles J. Haden, and Secretary Slade, representing the Georgia chamber, submitted a proposition on the part of that organization to work in harmony with the Atlanta auto dealers in the movement to organize the state organization. All that was asked of the local association is that it cooperate in the good roads campaign which the chamber has launched throughout the state.

There were more than thirty members of the Atlanta Auto and Accessory association present at the meeting, and for more than two hours the members discussed the state-wide organization and the good roads movement. It will be recalled that at the annual meeting the association went on record opposing any movement which will have the effect of creating an additional tax against the dealer or the auto owner. It was for the purpose of combating legislation against auto dealers and owners that the association, acting on the suggestion of President George Haden, appointed a committee to make plans for a state organization.

This committee reported back to the association Saturday. The report was favorable to the state organization, and it suggested that the local association get the project started immediately.

President Haden and Secretary Slade informed the association that the Georgia Chamber of Commerce is not aiming to place a tax on automobiles as a means of creating the fund demanded by the federal government to meet its apportionment for good roads in the state.

Meeting on Monday.
There will be another meeting of the Atlanta auto dealers on Monday. The meeting will be for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed to take up the chamber of commerce proposition to work with the auto association in the matter of organizing a state association.

Goodrich Company Men Are Banqueted by Price on Eve of His Departure

The employees of the local E. F. Goodrich company branch were tendered a dinner last evening by H. A. Price, retiring manager of the Atlanta branch, who has been promoted to the management of the E. F. Goodrich company's branch at Cleveland, Ohio.

While connected with the local branch, Mr. Price made many friends, who are sorry to hear of his leaving Atlanta, but who are glad to hear of his recent promotion to the Cleveland branch. Mr. Price will leave Monday for Cleveland, Ohio.

JOINS BUICK FORCE

HERBERT H. SIMON,
Now with Buick Motor company

A change of business connections which will occasion some little surprise in local automobile trade circles was made by Herbert H. Simon, this week, when he left the Overland Southern Auto company and went with the Buick Motor company's local sales force.

This change will be of interest to Mr. Simon's friends as well, as he has been with the Overland for nearly two years now, and has built up a large following of satisfied customers by his universally careful attention to his customers' needs and interests.

Mr. Simon, while still young man, has had a very thorough business training, both in the merchandising and selling ends, while connected with his father, Mr. C. H. Simon, here in Atlanta, and this training has stood him in good stead in his present line.

The very best wishes of the local automobile colony go with Mr. Simon for his success in his new connection with the Buick.

NEW AMERICAN RECORD MADE BY KOLEHMAINEN

Buffalo, N. Y., February 28.—Hannes Kolehmainen established a new American one-hour running record here to-night, covering 11 miles 751 yards. The best former American mark, held by Sid Thomas, was 10 miles 1,132 1-2 yards, made on November 30, 1889. Kolehmainen fell short of breaking the world's record, held by Jean Bouin, of France, by 670 yards.

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE CROSSES THE ANDES

Washington, February 28.—An American-built automobile, driven by Johnson Martin, a Princeton football player of recent years, has succeeded in crossing the Andes, thus achieving a victory for which automobiles of a number of foreign makes have been striving for five years or more. A cablegram today to The Pan-American Union announced Martin's arrival in Santiago, Cuba, from Buenos Ayres.

Martin crossed the backbone of the South American continent at a height of more than 13,000 feet through Uspallata Pass.

Horse Show Officers.

Phillips-Exeter Wins.

Boston, February 28.—Phillips-Exeter academy athletes won the indoor championship of New England schools and a second leg on the five-year prize cup at the annual title games of the Boston Athletic association today. Worcester academy was second, and Noble and Greenough school of Boston, third.

Velie Trucks Demonstrate Profitable Delivery Over That of Horse Drawn Vehicles

Extreme winter days, with snowy, slippery streets or roads, or the extreme hot days of summer---it makes not a particle of difference, Velie Motor Trucks have proven beyond a doubt their practicability, their economy, and their efficiency over that of the horse drawn vehicles.

DON'T PUT OFF ANOTHER DAY!

Stop using the old, antiquated system of horse and mule delivery---
MODERNIZE YOUR DELIVERY SYSTEM!

BLANKET OF WHITE COVERS GATE CITY

Traffic Greatly Inconvenienced and Many Horses Are Injured by Falls on Slippery Streets.

Atlanta on Wednesday was in the grip of the most persistent snowstorm she has had in years, and so riding to the weather man the city will be under a coat of white snow until Thursday night.

Horses and animals, however, suffered extremely from the condition of the streets. By 9 o'clock Wednesday morning horses and mules began to fall upon the slippery streets, and by noon one could hardly find half a block in the business district without an animal unable to get up.

A careful scientific engineering department, maintained by the Velie Motor Co., will be glad to solve your delivery problems. They have already studied a variety of concerns that used the old form of delivery—figures were given, scientific demonstrations were made, and in every instance the old form of horse drawn vehicles system was discarded for the More Modern, the More Economical and the More Efficient Motor-Propelled Trucks.

Not only has economy of operation, when Velie Trucks are running, been taken into consideration, but also economy in time saved and the low maintenance of a truck when standing still, for unlike the horse, the motor truck eats only when it works.

Let us submit a proposition on a guaranteed cost of operating a Velie Truck for you. This is a proposition never before made by a manufacturer of Motor Trucks. It will interest you. Write today or phone Ivy 5534.

Weeding Out the Recruits Is Task Few Moguls Relish

By Bill Evans.

(Copyright 1914 by Bill Evans.)
These are busy days for the major and minor league managers. The big task of the year confronts them: the weeding out of the recruit material. The acid test is soon to be laid upon the raw back of the future of the sport in a quick way that has made a name for itself as the best and also intended granting Cobb second for I felt sure he would be caught in some way by the manager. To avoid being touched and reaching the bag in safety. Quickly getting to his feet he asked:

"What do you call that movement?"
"Ellis?"
"A ball if I ever saw one," responded Tom.

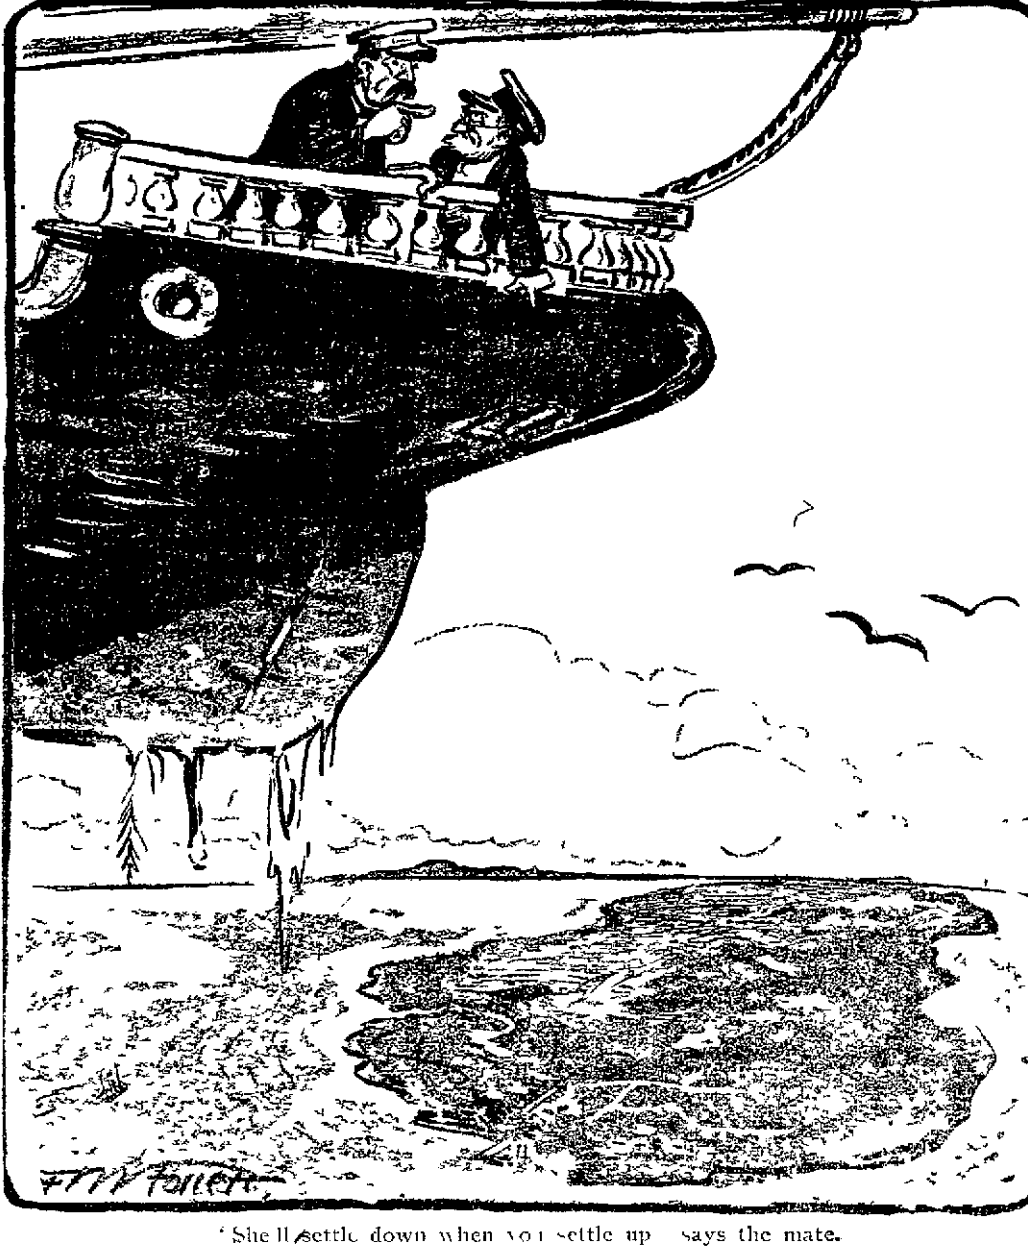

The Duke Often Goes Wrong

It is all too remarkable the way a form comes on when they are in the line. The Duke often goes wrong when he is out of the game. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player.

Star Players Are Much Desired

No umpire could but respect a fellow who had been in the game. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player. He is not a very good player.

Walsh and Plank Battle For Whitewash Honors

By Ernest J. Lamigan.

Edward Armstrong Walsh once called Comiskey a man of steel. Walsh will have to come back and come back strongly this season if he desires to retain his title of Monarch of the American League's Whitewash Brigade.

Walsh and Plank are the only American leaders who have passed the half-century mark in the game. Walsh has led the league in hits for ten seasons.

Longest Runless Game

The longest runless battle in the American League was played in Detroit on July 18, 1909, between the Tigers and the Nationals. It lasted eighteen innings.

$20,000 DAMAGES ASKED BY MAYOR

Waycross Herald Defendant in Suit Resulting From Publications During City Campaign.

Waycross, Ga. February 28.—(Special)—In city court today Mayor Scott T. Beaton filed suit against The Herald Printing company, publishers of The Morning Herald, for $20,000 damages because of certain matter published by The Herald in its issue of November 29 last year during the campaign for mayor.

Mayor Beaton declares The Herald did falsify, wickedly and maliciously compose and publish of and concerning him a false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory libel extended over a whole page.

Exception is taken in the libel suit to the publication in The Herald of one article referring to the Beaton campaign cartoon representing Beaton as the watch dog of the city treasury as Beaton's cartoon emblem of blind tiger a splendid likeness of Beaton and his head and neck.

Another section especially complained of as libel is as follows: "Give us support for a man whose greed for money and riches has not poisoned and thickened his soul and heart."

Appeared as Advertisements The libel charged by Mayor Beaton was published in one issue appearing as an advertisement for a political organization known as the Good Government Club in which a number of prominent and well known citizens were named.

Before his election for mayor Mr. Beaton and his opponents took his threat as a jest. He says he will fight the case to the hilt and will not be represented by any lawyer.

MERCER STUDENTS DENY ALLEGED ROWDY ACTS

Indignation Meeting Held to Protest Against Printed Reports of Their Fun.

Macon, Ga. February 28.—(Special)—Students of Mercer university, while admitting that they set the example in some of the disorders which occurred here last Wednesday, while the celebration was in progress over the arrival of the heaviest snow in the history of the city deny that they were the ones guilty of the acts of rowdiness claimed to have taken place in various portions of the city and told of in the newspapers of the state the following morning.

Here is the substance of what a committee named by the students report it found to have occurred on the day in question.

No Malicious Intent. From the college the students went to the business portion of the city where many snowballs were thrown but none with malicious intent or in injurious result.

No Flat Fights. The report of flat fights between Mercer men and pedestrians are untrue and Mercer men participating in fights during the day.

Atlanta Plumbers Unite in Endorsing the Peerless

HOMES MADE HEALTHFUL BY WISE PLUMBERS WHO INSTALL FOR YOU THE PEERLESS COMBINATION

PEERLESS Closets are perfect in mechanism so the working parts will not trouble the house owner. Bowls are of the hardest, most perfect vitreous pottery, absolutely non-absorbent. They preclude germ colonization, if given ordinary cleansing care. They are inexpensive, costing hardly more than a dollar over the cheap kinds.

MANY WANT PLACE AS WEST'S SECRETARY

New Senator Will Leave Valdosta for Washington Tuesday.

Valdosta, Ga., February 28.—(Special.)—Senator W. S. West expects to leave for Washington on Tuesday night to qualify as senator of the United States. It was his desire to take up work immediately but important business engagements will prevent his going to the capital until next week. He leaves on Sunday for Ocala, Fla., where urgent business matters await him on Monday. From there he returns to his home here and goes direct to Washington. Senator West has received hundreds of telegrams and letters congratulating him on his appointment by Governor Slaton, and commending the governor for his wise selection. He had a force of stenographers busy today clearing up the floor of mail which has come to him, and expects to answer every telegram and letter received.

RAMPOLLA WILL STOLEN IN ORDER TO BLACKMAIL

Rome, Italy, February 28.—The case involving the disappearance of the last testament of the late Cardinal Rampolla was complicated further today by a judge's ruling that the priest's denunciation in which it is asserted that the will was stolen by a brother of Giuseppe, the dead prelate's nephew, is not for the purpose of blackmailing Baron Rampolla-Pezana. By the suppression of this clause the case remains, through his wife, who is a sister of the cardinal, sole in issue. Cases of this kind have been openly accused Rampolla-Pezana of being an accomplice in the suppression of the will.

SOMETHING IS DOING IN CANALS OF MARS

Boston, Mass., February 28.—The so-called canals of Mars are exhibiting striking seasonal developments, according to Dr. Percival Lowell, of the Flagstaff, Ariz. observatory. A dispatch received here today, he said: "The north polar cap is melting and the darkening at the edge of the cap." Lowell's theory that melting of snow at the pole is the cause of clouds that are responsible for color changes in the "canals."

CEDARGROFT SANITARIUM FOR TREATMENT OF Drug, Alcohol and Tobacco Addictions

Formerly of Lebanon, Tenn., wishes to announce the renovation of the Cedargroft building at Nashville, Tenn. Equipment includes electric passenger elevator, steam heat, 3,000 square feet of glass, etc. Well equipped for application of Hydrotherapy and Electro-Therapy in every form. German and Swedish. Electric Light Baths, Vibratory Massage, Static Electricity, Faradism-Galvanism and Sinusoidal Currents. On an extensive overlooking the Athens and South and with its beautiful lawn and many kinds of rare trees and shrubs of many kinds, it is said to be the most beautiful place within a radius of five miles of the capital city. Our original method of treatment for drug, alcohol and tobacco addictions has made Cedargroft famous as a place where chronic cases of these habits can be cured. A CURE IS ACCOMPLISHED WITHOUT DRUGS OR SURGICAL DISTRESS. The so-called "Hyocine" or "Knackout" method not employed. SULZER IS CHALLENGED TO PRODUCE EVIDENCE

The Deposed Governor Clashes With Legislator During Graft Hearing.

New York, February 28.—The first hearing of the Sullivan graft investigation committee of the assembly today was marked by a verbal clash between William Sulzer, the former governor, and Alfred E. Smith, a democratic member of the committee and speaker of the assembly when Sulzer was impeached. Smith challenged the former governor, who was testifying, to produce documentary evidence by which Sulzer announced in the assembly recently he would prove that $6,000,000 of people's money had been stolen in highway graft. Sulzer retorted that his evidence was a report made to him by his investigator, John A. Hennessy.

GALLON LIQUOR LIMIT KILLED IN TENNESSEE

Nashville, Tenn., February 28.—The Tennessee supreme court today held invalid the section of the recently enacted liquor shipping law limiting interstate shipments to one gallon for personal or family use. The ground was that it was a regulation of interstate commerce. The court, however, holds that the provision of the law which holds that the provision of the law is a regulation of interstate commerce, since this transpires after the delivery of the liquor. It allows this provision to stand.

ANTI-TRUST MEASURES WILL DELAY CONGRESS

Problems So Complicated Early Adjournment Is Unlikely. Underwood's Attitude.

Washington, February 28.—(Special.)—The problem of drafting satisfactory trust legislation becoming more complicated as congressional committees dig more deeply into the subject, early adjournment of congress becomes doubtful. Administration leaders declared today that trust legislation must be enacted in order to carry out the democratic party's pledge, but it is equally essential, in their opinion, to consider the situation so carefully that no mistakes be made.

March the First

"Ah, March, we know thou art Kind-hearted, spite of ugly looks and threats, And out of sight art nursing April's violets."
—Helen Hunt.

SPRING— EASTER

After Washington's birthday, spring cannot be far behind.

And, despite the snow, and other evidence to the contrary, we know it is just around the corner.

Spring! She is a wonderful creature. Never twice alike, yet always essentially the same. The same whisper runs through the earth each year, the same call is sounded on the hills and in the woods; yet with her coming each season the song is somehow changed and made glorious with a sudden new meaning.

We watch for her coming with holy expectancy, and tremble with joy when her "footfall sounds along the street," or over the meadows and fields. We know exactly how she will look, yet have the old thrill at her approach. This year we imagine she will be even more beautiful, more radiant, more girlish than ever—and she will soon be here, with Easter in her train.

The new fashions for that event are already arriving, and the feeling that "winter is over" puts an into the store, which can be felt by all who watch the barometer of fashions.

"Variety Is the Spice of—" Boys' Spring Wash Suits

Where formerly there were only a few styles to choose from there are now at least a score of pretty kinds that are different.

A variety of the best wash materials, many color combinations—plain colors or stripes or all-white, with the various kinds of collars boys like.

- Russian Suits, 2 to 6-year sizes.
 - Sailor Blouse Suits, 2 to 10-year sizes.
- Priced $1 to $10.

Spring-Time Hats $5, 7.50, $10

New Spring hats are rather conspicuous for their smallness and an abundance of fruit and leather trimmings. A number of new hats ready today in the Millinery Store are copies of French importations.

Each is different—and there are many becoming models! Second Floor.

Comfort--Real Comfort

ABOVE all else a Warner's Rust-Proof Corset is comfortable. Of course, they are fashionable as well, but fashion's lines are gained by common-sense designing—not by freakish, exaggerated stunts. When you see a Warner's it may look like an ordinary corset—when you wear it you appreciate how extraordinary it is for combining comfort and style.

We would like to fit you in such a model as is best suited to your figure. $1 to $8 pair.

Never Such an Assortment of Brassieres

Almost every other woman that comes to the Corset section buys Brassieres. For that reason we are compelled to keep a complete stock.

New Brassieres for spring—an immense shipment—have just come. There is almost every kind one could ask for. Judge of the variety when we tell you they are priced from 50c to $10.

The favored styles for spring hook up the front; they extend to the waist and answer as corset cover and bust supporter. Some specially pretty Brassieres are of allover embroidery, or are hand-embroidered, or Cluny lace-trimmed. You will enjoy making your selections from this fresh, new stock.

Rompers for Children That Play

If a child is healthy he plays; if he plays he needs Rompers, the kinds that wash easily and well.

Here are scores of good, new kinds—made of ripplette, percale or madras; plain colors or stripe effects or white; 1 to 6-year sizes—50c each.

Creepers for Babies

Tots too little to walk, but who are attempting it need these creepers; they are made of white madras; 6 months to 2-year sizes; 50c each.

The Tiniest of Embroidered Flowers Scattered on a Sheer White Crepe Ground

That is one of the prettiest new fabrics in the silk section. Exquisite for blouses, for tunic effects on dainty frocks; 40 inches wide, $2 yard.

Another exquisite soft white crepe has embossed conventional flowers in rose, blue or black; this will be very fashionable for dressy gowns; double width—$2 yard.

Radiant Easter Silks

Look where you will in the silk section, you may see them. New and delightful!

Taffetas, Crepes de Chine, Novelty Moires, Poppins, Pompadours, Plaid Silks, Satin Failles, Moires.

Light-Weight Wool Materials For Easter Gowns

You will be surprised to find how soft and silky they are this season and how fine in weave—all to enable them to drape gracefully, according to the new fashions.

A soft pastel green and the shades of wistaria—of which there are several—are especial favorites. Other particularly pretty shades among the new materials are spring grays, blues, golden brown and some English checks.

Crepe cloths, newest of all—a variety of weaves, including some lovely novelties, in weights for suits and dresses.

Widths from 50 to 54 inches, and priced from $1.25 to $2.50 yard. Second Floor.

New Gloves for Right Now

Spring Gloves for Women

Perrin's "Touraine" fine French kidskin every pair, black with white, or white with black embroidery on the backs. Pique sewn, $1.50 pair.

Perrin's "Belfort," black, white or cream, or black with white, or white with black embroidery on backs, pique sewn; $2 pair; very dressy.

A Special Sale of $2.50 Gloves at $1.98

Long White Gloves—16-button length—of soft, good kid—a regular $2.50 Glove, is priced for Monday at $1.98 pair.

Girls' Smart Wash Dresses Are Down Values to $5 Are Priced for Monday at $2.49

A number of stylish, well-made Frocks of fine wash materials have their prices lowered because they are soiled. One tubbing will make them ideal school dresses for spring. Sizes 8 to 14 years. Priced regularly up to $5, for Monday at $2.49.

Beautiful Lingerie Petticoats Girls Can Buy for Less

Pay $1.49 Monday for garments priced formerly up to $3.50. They are made of good materials and are beautifully trimmed with laces and bria stitching. They are fuller than the present styles call for, and hence the reduction in price. A slight alteration will make them right. Sizes 10 to 18.

Suits New and Charming Are Only $25.00

It is wonderful what $25 will buy in Suits this season.

Suits of such distinction, such beauty of materials and prettiness of styles.

And one may choose either one of the lovely new, soft fabrics so popular now, or a smart moire silk, as fancy dictates.

Hardly anything more novel can be imagined than the suits for this season. The little short coats with their pretty collars, sometimes of contrasting materials, their quaint linings, many of flowered silk, some with fancy vests; the skirts with ruffles or flared tunics. Their picturesqueness never fails to charm one.

There are various materials—crepes, poppins, crepe Bedfords, suitings and moire silks—not forgetting the popular gum club, or English checks.

The color tones are particularly appealing; Soft blues, lovely greens, new browns, tango, wistaria and mode.

We want you to see this particular showing of Suits at $25.

Silk Petticoats for Spring Suits and Dresses

Especially pretty ones at $2.98.

They are new—made of mesaline in all the fashionable hues and different styles. (Third Floor.)

New Dress Cottons for Spring

They grow every season more wonderful! More varied in weaves, more beautiful of texture, more marvelous of color tones.

We have never had more delightful dress fabrics, both cotton and linen, than are here now for your consideration.

For morning and afternoon frocks, and smart tailored gowns and suits, there are ratines in various weaves that are fashionable. Plain colors and mixed and striped effects.

Linens, of course, will be worn, French effects in delicate and deeper tones and the rough Ramie and Bagdad weaves for suits and tailorish frocks.

Then all the superb, soft, sheer, filmy fabrics—time and space fails us—you must see the entire display in order to fully appreciate the new cottons and linens.

If You Want Something Different From Plain Cotton Ratine

Some people who are always on the lookout for novelties are asking us for it. You may have your choice of any of these new weaves, all of which have ratine as a foundation.

Two-toned ratine, with a soft velour finish, for suits or costumes. Ottoman weave ratine, for suits or coats. Golfine ratine, with wide wale cords, for sport coats. Also checks, plaids and plain-colored ratines in almost every shade that could be wanted. Prices from 85c to $1.75 a yard.

Canvas weave ratine, loosely woven, but heavy and substantial for suits, coats or walking skirts.

Society

Socialists to Have Ball.
 On Tuesday evening the ladies of the Atlanta Socialist League will give an entertainment and dance at the hall, 117 1-2 Whitehall street, and extend a cordial invitation to their friends to attend and make the affair a success.
 A prominent member of the socialist party will deliver an address in reply to the recent criticism by Andy Collins, who spoke at the Auditorium Sunday night.
 An excellent musical program will be rendered and at 9 o'clock the floor will be cleared for dancing. During the evening refreshments will be served.
 Tickets can be obtained at the hall on Tuesday evening.

Miss Robinson's Dance.
 A social event which fifty of the younger society set are anticipating next Saturday evening is the dancing party which Captain James W. English will give in the ballroom of the Ponce de Leon apartment, in compliment to his granddaughter, Miss Emily Robinson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson.

George Washington Party.
 Master Howard Morrison entertained at the home of his parents, 330 North Jackson street, Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, thirty of his friends at a George Washington party.
 The guests had not rested in a drill at the North avenue school, and attended the party in full fancy dress of the colonial times. The house was decorated in American flags, and the color scheme was carried out in the national colors. After games had been played, refreshments were served in the dining room.
 Among the guests were Stuart Gould, Edward Murrell, Edward Winslow, Mark Palmer, Maurice Lonsberg, Harry Edwards, Ralph Gilzard, Lamar Johnson, William Thayer, Lewis Hardin, George Haugh, Frederick Baker, Hanson Nix, Hugh Connells, James A. Callahan, Henry Yalobashi, Robert Campbell, John Costello, Allen Vickers, Tom Akers, Frank Denton, Matt Adams, Fred Dugan, Harry Peters, Jack Bryan, Franklin Morrison, Miss Margaret Foster, Miss Robert Harbour, Miss Sue Bryan, Miss Catherine Bryan.

An Evening of Music.
 One of the best prospects for Atlanta's musical future lies in the genuinely substantial work which is being done by a large element of the student world.
 A private recital last week by two young girls, a singer and a pianist, afforded a striking instance of this trend in the right direction. Miss Genevieve Ward, soprano, and Miss Helen Schindl, pianist, pupils of Mr. Harry Madden, were the young musicians, and their program was representative of an excellent achievement.
 The term musician is used advisedly, even of the singer, for Miss Ward displayed the steadiness, the confidence, that momentary knowledge of the music she sang as well as the art of voice production and finish. Her voice is of beautiful quality, clear and vibrant and evenly trained and she knows how to bring out all the sweetness of the notes, and at the beginning of her musical history, she promises well.
 Miss Schindl's program was made up of a number of pieces of brilliant character and she handled them with satisfying evidence of a well-founded technique. The highest intelligence has gone into the direction of her work and she has received the specialized musical training which has put her to account every advantage. She knows thoroughly what she knows and she has the fine ear which has put her work with the magnetism that makes for the popularity of the pianist.

Golightly-Griffin.
 One of the most beautiful weddings ever solemnized in Columbia was that of Miss Lita Griffin and Mr. A. H. Griffin of Atlanta which took place at the First Methodist church on February 23, by A. T. Sturges of Atlanta, performing the ceremony.
 The reception following the ceremony at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bullard was attended by many out-of-town guests from Atlanta, Newnan, Milledgeville and other points. The entire lower floor of the house was elaborately decorated with pink roses and white. The bride party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bullard, Miss Lucile Smith, Mr. Beyer, Miss Evelyn Smith, Mr. Pearson, Miss Dorothy Duke, Mr. Roy Brittain, Mr. Izard, Golightly, Miss Martha Zellars, Miss Catherine Smith, Mrs. George Ware and Mrs. Edward Dean Smith, received in the parlor. Those assisting Miss Bullard in entertaining the guests were Mrs. Kate Herington and Miss Alice Herington of Milledgeville; Mrs. P. Zellars, Mrs. Edward Duke, Mrs. S. M. Dean, Miss Helen Hudson served punch and the Misses Cowan poured coffee in the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served.
 A number of entertainments were given in compliment to Miss Golightly preceding her marriage. On last Monday Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Bullard entertained the bridal party at a beautiful luncheon. Tuesday Mrs. Edward Dean Smith entertained at 5 o'clock tea. Wednesday, the Misses Connor gave a lunch shower.

'42 Special Club.
 The '42 Special club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. M. Nichols on St. Charles avenue. The annual election of officers was held and the following were elected: Mrs. T. H. Calhoun, president; Mrs. McPherson, vice president; Mrs. C. L. Smith, treasurer, and Mrs. Jack Salmon, corresponding secretary.

Gossip of Well-Known Society People Heard at Lenten Teas

The young women of Washington City have taken the initiative in combining the serious with the frivolous, while scarcely through with their debut parties. Miss Eleanor Wilson, the president's second daughter, is taking part in dramatic and musical production in New York city, and Miss Margaret Wilson allows nothing to in-

Mme. Mariette Corsets

"Corset Styles" and Special Features of the Spring Models

"Corset styles" is now a most important phrase in corset making. The stylish figure is the one to fit the fashionable gown. One cannot effect Grecian lines with a corset out of keeping.

The corset department at Allen's sets forth the very best styles in corsets—the corset that is made for grace—long straight hip lines, low natural bust line and very straight flat back. These are, after all, the naturally good features of the human body perfected by firm yet comfortably supple boning.

Such is the celebrated Mme. Mariette Corset of whose virtues few women need to be told.

Fittings a Feature of Importance

Corset selling is a profession, because it means corset fitting. A sale without a satisfactory fitting is not a very big advantage to the corset business. To fit you once here in a MME. MARIETTE CORSET is to keep you always as a corset customer.

Fittings in the department are personally superintended by Miss Miller. Please see our spring models and make a fitting appointment for the greatest corset comfort you've ever known.

Spring fabrics are noticeably handsome.

several years ago, she charmed many with her vocal music.
 Miss Eleanor Wilson is now the guest of her cousin, Miss Marjorie Brown, of Atlanta, who is spending the winter in New York. Miss Wilson and Miss Brown took part in the beautiful entertainment given at the Hotel Astor this week, under the auspices of the American Association for the Conservation of Birds.
 Miss Fannie May Otley is the guest of Miss Brown, and the three young ladies were the guests of a theater party given Wednesday evening by Hon. W. V. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury. Others entertaining for them this week are Mr. and Mrs. Julian Harris.

Mrs. Borden Harriman, who is the woman on the national industrial commission, devotes the greater part of each day to study, and intends to prove the value and usefulness of women on all boards where the interests of men and women are one.

Mrs. Spencer Trask, the wife of the late Spencer Trask, multi-millionaire, is a student of literature and the first "King Alfred's Jewel," a beautiful peasant, the other "guardian" which brings a message of universal peace.

Mrs. Frank Doubleday has traveled the world over to make the more complete the books she has contributed to literature on the subject of formal gardens, the culture of shrubs and flowers and the simpler home gardens. She has been the inspiration of the beauty of the plant of the Doubleday-Park plant garden, New York city.

Atlanta's women are the busiest of women and they are adept in combining the studious and useful with the more frivolous pastime. Mrs. John Lewis Stinson is president and continued promoter of the Atlanta Musical association. She has contributed to the program of the Drama League this winter and she is vice president of the Players' club.
 The recent impetus given to the study of French by the Alliance Française in this country has developed Delta Psi sorority Tuesday afternoon, March 3, at 3:30 o'clock, in the Ansley hotel. All Atlanta alumnae are urged to be present.

A Call for Books.
 Mrs. J. O. Mathewson, 444 Peachtree street, who is the chairman of the literary committee of the Woman's club, asks that any magazines or books which one may wish to "pass on" to others, will be sent to her. If this cannot be done call by 6:30 and Mrs. Mathewson will gladly send for them. Two subscriptions to "The Ladies' Home Journal" are desired for the Girl's night school.

Important Meeting.
 There will be a very important meeting of the alumnae club of the Alpha Delta Psi sorority Tuesday afternoon, March 3, at 3:30 o'clock, in the Ansley hotel. All Atlanta alumnae are urged to be present.
Art Exhibit.
 Miss Ross will have an exhibit of paintings this week from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at her studio, 27 Durant place. The collection is a beautiful one, and many of the water colors are foreign sketches, made by Miss Ross during her residence abroad. The public is invited to attend.

For Mrs. Bagley.
 Mrs. James T. Childs entertained a box party at the Forsyth Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Fred E. Bagley, of Augusta. The guests included Mrs. Bagley, Miss Regina Lynch, Miss Eileen McCulloch, Mr. J. L. Baird and Mrs. John F. Hurley.

The Vesper Club Dance.
 The dance given by the Vesper club at their clubroom in West End Friday evening was one of the most enjoyable events of the past week.
 The guests of honor were Miss Polly Hollowman, a charming young lady from Texas, and Miss Hersel Hoetz of Los Angeles, Cal., who is the guest of Miss Fautino Coulter.
 Among others who attended were: Miss Fautino Coulter, Marguerite Weatherfield, Jamie Arnold, Leslie Weathers, Hersel Hoetz, Clara Harrison, Ana Lou Jenkins, Anna Bell, Polly Hollowman, Annie Bell, Maude Lewis, Annie Marie Schwesler, Laura Wyatt, Adeline Callaway, Marguerite Green, Gladys Grant, Louise Reid, Alice Guilard, Marie Oliver, Mary Anderson, Mildred Thomas, Edna Harper, Ella Roberts, Messrs. Ultra Things for Spring Ready-to-Wear Shown at Allen's

Spring Suits; Morning and Afternoon Dresses; New Blouses; New Corset Models

Our present display of Women's Ready-to-Wear for Spring is the most beautiful and original we have ever had the pleasure of placing before you. The unique materials used are really wonderful, not only in their particular adaptability to the present-day fashions, but in the unusually good garments they afford at small expense.

We know that with our big spring showing of all good styles and materials every woman can shop here for her spring wardrobe with the assurance that every gown purchased is of confirmed style and the much-sought materials. These are shown in profusion on our second and third floors.

Dressy Silk Suits for Spring
 Elaborately fancy and oddly different is the design of the 1914 silk suit. Shown a given half a dozen, it would indeed be a specially gifted woman who could go away and accurately describe one. Each purchase has its own advantage of some pointed difference. Speaking generally, coats are short, but that is the only general thing about them. Some have pointed backs, others nobby straight belted backs; every collar is different, and every sleeve has a fascinating finish of buttons and lace or bits of ornamental embroidery.
 All colors are soft, reseda green, wistaria, mustard, dull browns and grays, corn color, terra-cotta, and black and white; and every handsome suit is touched with lace and embroidery.

$35, $40, $50, $65 and up to $210
Spring Wool Suits
 Gaberdine is the popular spring suit fabric. prunella cloth, wool crepes, basket weaves and poplin add their soft beauty to the list. It is here that the choice fabrics of spring show their true value, for never have we seen suits so attractive in quality or style, or so inexpensive, considering their virtues, as these we sell today for $19.75, $25 and $30

Suits at $19.75
 Specially worthy of mention are our Suits at $19.75. Good quality Shepherd checks and blue serge, with black moire trimmings. Others of equally good fabrics and colors and all of the accepted cut and finish, and really surprising worth, when the small cost is considered.
Suits at $25 and $30
 Having a $50 look is the truest tribute we can pay the suits in this class. To ask you to see them makes it easy for you to believe what we say of them—to describe them is about impossible, the variety being so great. Please see them all.
 Full price range is $19.75, $25, $30, $35, $40 and up to $85.

New Golfine Coats
 Belted three-quarter coats of Golfine is the new spring model, brown, rose, golf red and green, $12.50, $23.75 and $25.

$15, $17.50, $19.75 and $25.
Dressy Silks for Afternoon
 Truly beautiful, artistic and, above all things, original—that's the spring silk dressy dress. Dark blue and brown are popular colors that combine exquisitely with gay embroidery and soft creamy laces and nets to a high point of fascination. Chiffon draperies over soft taffeta, edged with frilled taffeta, soft turn-over collars opening on fluffy fronts of lace—
 Let us show you the many handsome fabrics, combinations and styles the spring season presents, $19.75, $25, $35, $40 and up to $85.

BUST DEVELOPED
ONE OUNCE
A DAY
A New Simple Easy Home Method That Gives Quick And Permanent Success
I judge from my picture as to the truth of what I say to you—that the crowning feminine attribute is a bust of beautiful proportions. Firmness and exquisite development then ask yourself how much you would like to have such a photograph of yourself showing the glory of womanhood with its lines of infant charm and grace. It would be worth far more than 3 cent stamps would it not? Then let me give you my message—let me tell you of what I have learned and let me give you recent pictures of myself to prove what I say—if for you will write me today.

I will tell you how—FREE
I will tell you gladly and willingly. Why should any woman neglect an opportunity to escape the pain and heart ache of being skinny scrawny angular and unattractive in body? Misery is not our heritage. Nature planned that you—a woman—should have the rich pulsing lines of warm living flesh molded after the mother of us all the description of whom perfumes our sacred literature with love and admiration for the divinity of woman's form. For why should there be that pitiful aspect—the face of a woman and the form of a man.
Write to Me Today
I don't care how tall or faced or I developed your bust now is—I want to tell you of a simple home method—want to tell you how you can gain perfect development one ounce a day. No physical culture—no massage—foam bath or paste—no plasters masks or injurious injections—I want to tell you of an absolutely new method never before offered or told about—insuring immediate success and permanent beauty.
Send No Money
Just write me a letter—address it to me personally—that's all I will answer it by return mail and you can develop your bust one ounce a day—now you can be what you want to be. Believe me when I say that you will bless me through years of happiness for pointing the way to you and telling you what I know. Please send your letter today to the following address.

Authoritative Styles

Warner's

Rust-Proof Corsets

Paris has spoken, and Dress-Fashions have therefore been set for Spring.

Modistes, milliners, tailors—all have ordered their gowns. Every west-bound ship is bringing a wealth of feminine apparel from Europe. Some dressmakers are studying and copying these new designs; and in a week or two you yourself will be enraptured before the splendor of the new fashions for Spring.

Now Is the Time to Select Your Corset

Choose a Warner's—for a Warner's is designed to accurately set off the fashions of the season—wear it for a couple of weeks, and then have your Spring suit or gown fitted over the new corset. You will be surprised how much easier the fitting will be and how much more satisfactory the result.

The New Warner Styles—

Laced Back or Front as You Prefer—
Meet Every Detail of Fashion's Edict

New gowns are fluffy and full over the hips, and Warner's Corsets have long skirts inset with elastic gores or lacings to permit the freedom necessary without disturbing the drape of the gown.

Your Waist This Season Must Be Natural

—unconfined, not unnaturally round and confined; and for certain extreme gowns reflecting the Venus de Milo pose, the corset must curve over the abdomen. There are Warner Corsets designed to create this pose in easy, natural lines—corsets designed to support the figure, too, if you prefer.

Diaphanous,

Veil-Like Bodices Are Extremely Smart.

—but the beauty of the blouse depends largely on the brassiere over which it is worn. These are Warner's Brassieres different from anything you have ever seen; delicate, lacy and neat—a fitting adjunct to the beauty of your lingerie and your Warner's Corset.

The Spring showing of Authoritative Styles of Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets and Warner's Brassieres will open tomorrow in all the stores.

March Ushers in a Magnificent Sale of Oriental Rugs

A Regal Assemblage of Beautiful and Durable Oriental Rugs at Savings of a Fifth to a Third —Within the past twenty-odd years we have distributed hundreds of Oriental rugs throughout Atlanta and the south.

—These rugs have stood the test of time; most of them look as well today as when first bought. They will continue to give such service.

—There is no luxury as sensible as Oriental rugs, for they not only outwear all other floor coverings, but they also add elegance to the home.

—Because Oriental rugs give such unending service, the demand for them is increasing. Present prices on the finer rugs are at a minimum. You could pay from a fourth to a third more and still have your money well invested.

—For these reasons we are as proud to hold this March Sale of Oriental rugs as you will be to have them adorn your home. Though the stock is almost inexhaustible in variety, space permits only these hints:

Name	Size	Value	Sale Price
Kirmanshah	8:7 x12:11	$450.00	$350.00
Shah Abbas	9:11 x12	$350.00	$225.00

Ratines: A Superb Quality at $1 a yd.

—How we can sell this fashionable ratine at $1 a yard is of less interest than the fact that it is here.

—Moreover, it is a superb quality, every thread perfect. The surface shows little nubs—a rough effect exceedingly rich and captivating.

—What is more, we have a complete color assortment: Copenhagen, navy, pink, rose, reseda, mustard, tango and wistaria. 42 inches wide.

—Since ratines loom large on the Spring Fashion horizon, there should be a buzz and a stir to get these at $1 a yard.

Cut-Steel Slipper Buckles 50c to $1.98

—The dancing craze has brought these cut steel buckles into high favor. Various in oval, square, round and oblong shapes. Those at 95c and $1.48 a pair are genuine cut-steel; those at 50c are an imitation.

(Main Floor, Center.)

Munsingwear Union Suits

—Munsingwear Union Suits are perfectly woven of the finest lisse yarns. They fit, wear and satisfy. Spring styles are low neck and sleeveless with choice of shell, lace or tight knee. All sizes, of course, in each style.

50c, 75c $1 and $1.50
Vests 25c, 35c & 50c.
(Main Floor, Right.)

Milady's Neckfixings

—Jabots, collars and fichus of nets, shadow laces and crepe de chimes. Full of dainty frills. All new. 50c to $15.00.

Rich's New & Enlarged Corset Section Announces that Miss Jackson is here to demonstrate the merits of the Bon Ton Corsets

INASMUCH as Miss Jackson has been coming to Atlanta every Spring and Fall for a number of years, this news will interest the many women whom Miss Jackson has so satisfactorily fitted in the past.

The Bon Ton Corsets

have been long and favorably known as among the best of the finer grade of corsets. The 1914 models for Spring sustain their high reputation. After Miss Jackson fits a Bon Ton that suits one's figure, that woman is ready for the Spring campaign with tailors and dressmakers. Appointments can be made by telephone.

Bon Ton Corsets are $3 to $25.

Prices Are Revised Downward On Nainsooks & Longcloths

While this store is run for profit, we have no desire to take all "the tariff" will bear.

Though these nainsooks and longcloths are firmly established, and are excellent values at their first prices, changed trade conditions enable us to drop the price 25c a bolt on certain numbers. Our many customers, we know, will be glad to buy at these revised and lowered prices. All longcloths are in 12-yard bolts.

Longcloths	Nainsooks
No. 400 now at 98c.	No. 555, 12-yard bolts, $1.50.
No. 500 now at $1.25.	No. 666, 12-yard bolts, $1.75.
No. 600 now at $1.50.	No. 888, 12-yard bolts, $2.25.
No. 700 now at $1.75.	No. 999, 12-yard bolts, $2.50.
No. 800 now at $2.00.	Chimosa, 42 in., 10 yds., $3.00.
No. 900, 42 in., $2.50.	Phantom, 40 in., 10 yds., $3.00.

P. S.—Not all the above numbers have been reduced.

12 Yards of Val Lace: 29c

Round thread laces in edges and insertions from 7 to 1 1/2 inches wide. Charming for spring trimmings. About four hundred bolts in all.

45-in. Embroidered Robes $2.95

Each robe consists of 3 1/3 yards of 45-inch flouncing. The material—voile, crepe or serge—is handsomely embellished with bewitching patterns of solid embroidery.

12 1-2c to 20c Embroideries 9c

Baby sets of edges and insertions. Swisses and nainsooks in baby embroidery designs.

(Main Floor, Right.)

Pictorial Review Dress Patterns. Mrs. Bennion is here all week to explain their use.

A Little Journey to the Home of Oriental Rugs

—Our trip takes us to Persia, Syria, Turkey—various places in the Orient where time and labor mean naught. With infinite patience a native puts in a year, two years, or more, on one rug. Her wage—for the work is carried out chiefly by women and girls—is five or ten cents a day.

Rug Designs Require Interpretation

—While it is impossible to understand accurately the symbolism of the Oriental rug, each design is fraught with significance. The circle signifies continuity; zig-zag figures, lightning; the lotus, new life and fecundity; the palm, a blessing or benediction. Color symbolism is equally important. Blue strands for truth; virtue and sincerity; orange, resignation; yellow, joy and victory; black, evil; white, purity and innocence.

The Wonderful Durability of Oriental Rugs

—Is due to the careful selection and preparation of the woolen yarns and dyeing. The dyeing process is generally a family or tribe secret zealously guarded and handed down from generation to generation. The woollens plus the peculiar method of hand-tying each knot make Oriental rugs

The Most Economical of Floor Coverings

—Though the increasing demand for Oriental Rugs has brought into the market much that is spurious and of little value, any one can buy of the well-established stores with the assurance that the rug, if given proper usage, will be a lifetime investment.

Stamped Pillow Cases 25c and 50c a Pair

—Two pillow cases made of heavy muslin and stamped for solid or eyelet embroidery. 42x36-inch size. The pair 25c.

—At 50c a pair are stamped pillow cases of the sturdy Atlantic tubing 45x36 inches.

Stamped Gowns 39c

—A high-grade nainsook stamped for solid, eyelet or punch work embroidery. Choice of high, square or "V-neck" designs.
(Main Floor, Center.)

A White Kid Glove That Needs No Trip to the Cleaner

—Again we announce a complete stock of the Washnew glove—the white kid glove that washes like a piece of linen.

Directions—Place gloves on your hands and wash with soap and water just as if you were washing your hands. Little time is required; the result is satisfactory and there is no waiting on the cleaner.

Washnew gloves are made of the best quality French kid. Overseam sewn.

Short 2-clasp style, $1.50
16-button length, $3.50

The Smartest $1 Wool Crepe for Spring

Imagine a soft, pliant crepe that will fall in graceful folds, yet with body enough to tailor—that's this crepe. Not sheer, nor flimsy—just firm and flexible: the smartest, softest woolen we have seen this spring for suits and dresses. 44 inches wide; black and solid colors. $1.00.

Colored Wigs

Paris favors COLORED WIGS to match individual costumes. The idea is carried out in our window displays.

Fastidious Women Have a Marked Preference for Hudnut's Perfumes

The Famous Center Aisle contains a very interesting display of Richard Hudnut's incomparable perfumes and toilet preparations.

—In the "Rose of Omar" toilet water, Hudnut has captured the elusive scent of the natural rose. An exquisite toilet requisite. 75c.

—"Gardenia"—another Hudnut toilet water—is the very quintessence of the fragrant jasmine. 75c.

—In "Gardenia" perfume the jasmine fragrance has been multiplied tenfold. Offered in an attractive cut glass bottle.

—For gifts or favors there are charming sachet bags in "Rose Rosce" and "Dulcinary"—two delightful odors. $1.50.

There is a Hudnut preparation for every toilet purpose. A special representative is here from Hudnut's to explain how best to use them.

(Toilet Goods—Main Floor, Center.)

Spring Suits Make Instant Appeal

THERE'S a subtle charm about the Spring suits. It may be their picturesque frivolity; their departure from severe tailored lines; perchance it lies in their delicate frills and piquants, or the draped and pannier skirts. But a fig for analysis—the point is, Milady finds the suits becoming.

"But," says a conservative customer, "I don't want a suit all frills and flounces and furbelows." Precisely! Here are a score of clever styles plain as a pipewest; their dash and piquancy due wholly to the way they are cut.

The Store Fairly Brims Over With Fashionable Suits

with styles and prices to suit any taste or purse. This is a good week to see them. Prices are $19.75 to $157.50, with especially strong lines at—

Fascinating fabrics for the making of newest Spring frocks

Keely Company

Paris cables taffetas

Every advice from abroad, every fashion letter, all information from the world style centers, accentuate one piece of news—"Changeable taffetas will be the vogue for Spring." Nice and Monte Carlo, the watering places of the Riviera, and the race courses of Paris, are all ablaze with taffetas. Taffetas are here, there and everywhere. Our silk man foresaw the coming vogue and has prepared for you such a showing of plain and changeable taffetas as will astonish and please you. Bear in mind that in no other silk section in this part of the country can taffetas be found in such an assortment and variety. Of course, these are all shown in the correct chiffon weights; the new spring colors and the right combinations.

Popular silk crepes

These are the fabrics which are being worn for all occasions in the style centers of Europe, and these are they for which you will be seeking throughout the Spring and Summer. No other fabric so useful, so wearable, so enjoyable, as these silky crepes. They have enduring strength, sturdy wearing qualities combined with daintiness and delicacy. If you want a frock, a gown or dress or the luxurious underwear, no other fabric takes its place.

Popular wool crepes

Just off boat 150 pieces of assorted wool crepes in all of their variations. These will be the strongest favorites throughout for early spring wear, and are the advance guard of the most popular fabrics of the season. The colors and designs are uncommon and distinctive. As changes the budding shrubbery of the season, so changes the dress materials from winter to spring. Living up to nature, the foreign weaver sends us the daintiest and prettiest of colored wools. Revealing these as harbingers of spring, they are a relief to the eye and mind after the dark hues and heavy fabrics of winter. Crepes, crepelettes, canton crepes, meteor crepes—all are produced in wool and are assembled in one great offering, Monday, at

A low price for pretty frocks

A one-price sale tomorrow of special silk dresses which carry every inspiration of Spring, in their style. Charming original and individual in style and so worthy in quality, you would think them twice the price asked. Fashionably cut, they develop all of the recent ideas, such as new tunics, new collars, new sleeve lines, new shades; made of serviceable crepe de chine, shot taffetas, changeable taffetas, crepe meteors and the new brocades.

The range is so large and comprehensive that you can find a frock or gown in any of this season's favorite materials. They show new yokes, some with sailor collars, others with ruffled edge tunics, some with vestees of shadow lace, with puffed tunics; others show panniers of narrow ruffles extending below the hip lines. The new styles of extended shoulders, three-quarter sleeves with Marie Stuart neck finishings extending in frills down the net fronts. 150 new dresses in twelve entirely new models, at

Opening March Sales

Up-to-the-minute suits

Tomorrow, March 2nd, marks a distinctive style showing of correct Spring models. About one hundred new suits, that were opened Saturday, every one of which is a correct copy from the best models of the foreign master builders. Each suit is a gem in itself, and so many distinctive models are shown that lack of space would forbid individual description.

Of course there are variations of the distinctive styles, peculiar to this season. In general terms, we may say that all of the new features are incorporated which will make each piece shown an exclusive and individual suit. Some of the attractive features are new boleros, semi-tons and short cutaways; combination taffeta and moire trimmed. Skirts are tier panniers, tunic and girdle trimmed styles; many of them showing the new draped fronts, others with apron fronts and some few are developing a polonaise style. Colors capucine blue, greens, Tangos, browns, navies, Copenhagens, wistarias and blacks.

French dress cottons

We are ready tomorrow with an assortment almost too beautiful to be true.

The French loom wizards have produced this season the most luxurious and dressy cottons in the history of textile arts. Under new tariff changes, we are able to place them within reach of the American customers at a reasonable figure. These Frenchmen have shown a lot of courage, because they place their cottons in direct competition with the silks. They charm with their beauty, delight with their useful character and tempt with their little prices. Tomorrow an amazing assortment of novelties is assembled at one price, including plain eponges, French eponges, crepes, crepelettes, nub crepes, crystal finish crepes, Bourette eponges and 46-inch crepe linens.

REFORM OR SUSPEND!

The senate committee on agriculture and forestry has reported favorably the bill of Senator Smith of South Carolina looking to federal regulation of cotton exchanges with specific reference to dealings in futures.

The measure follows identically the contention often advanced by The Constitution. Only recently the Vicksburg and Memphis exchanges demanding a house cleaning, declared that all transactions in futures—

Must be based upon a fair and honest contract system. And that is precisely what the senate bill provides. Under it the New York Cotton exchange practice of using a stock accumulation of dirty "dog tail" cotton as the basis of quotations or of arbitrarily classifying cotton without regard to its quality or texture would be stopped.

The bill puts the classification of cotton in future transactions upon the federal department of agriculture and not interested or unscrupulous market manipulators. This is as it should be.

It is also provided that grades of cotton to be delivered on contract shall be explicitly specified. As it now is the New York Cotton exchange contract calls for anything and nothing, with the cards stacked against the farmer and against the legitimate dealer in the staple.

There is nothing whatever in this bill to which the legitimate operator in cotton can take exceptions.

It does not interfere with hedging, which is a natural and needed function of all business transactions and markets.

It simply exacts that transactions in futures shall be upon a bona fide basis and not sheer frame ups for the purpose of "shaking down" the farmer and the mill man.

The keynote of the bill is regulation and not destruction. That is proper.

It would be a calamity if American markets were wiped out altogether—if farmers were at the mercy of foreign markets, and if American non-unions had no chance to hedge.

But it is a dead certainty that unless the exchanges conform to these reasonable stipulations they are going to be compelled to do so. It is even probable that congress, despairing of curing a disease any other way and skeptical of hypocritical protestations and temporary reform, may cut off the head of the patient.

That would be unfortunate and it is wholly unnecessary. The senate bill provides a square and rational way out. It has come down to this.

The farmer, the government and the honest trader says to the exchanges. "Stop stacking the cards or get out of the game!"

That's the situation in one sentence!

THE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Atlanta now ranks as the greatest medical educational center in the South Atlantic states and one of the most important in the country. That is the substance of an announcement carried elsewhere regarding the Class A rating of the council of the American Medical Association.

Session are based upon standing of the teaching staff and faculty, hospital and laboratory facilities and, of course, financial rating. The ease with which the Atlanta Medical college complied with these tests is due to two factors. The merger, last year, of the Atlanta School of Physicians and Surgeons and the Atlanta College of Medicine into the Atlanta Medical college, insuring the most distinguished staff and faculty and the best laboratory facilities in the south.

Dr. W. S. Elkin, dean of the faculty of the college, and Dr. George H. Noble, vice president, appeared before the committee and presented the cause of the college. The verdict was unanimous and handed down without delay.

Few Atlantans realize what prestige the city is given by the presence and activity here of an institution of the scope and standing of this institution. It has nearly 500 students from all over the country. Adequate and accessible hospital facilities comprise an indispensable adjunct of all medical colleges of the first standing. It is, therefore, fortunate that the Grady hospital, across the street from the college, is able to supply facilities for actual bedside study and clinical observation. In this connection, it is especially fortunate that Grady was included in the last $3,000,000 municipal bond issue enabling it to increase its equipment and facilities and measure up more accurately to the commensurate growth of what is now the Atlanta Medical college.

In that the city owns and operates Grady, it actually cooperates with the college which has brought such distinction to Atlanta. It is, therefore, to the interest of the city to see that Grady, the complement of the college, amply sustains its share of the partnership, the stakes being both civic pride and civic obligation.

With the formal approval and the Class A rating conferred by the American Medical association and the awakening of the city to the need of keeping Grady up to the minute in facilities and space and equipment, Atlanta's future as the southern medical center is assured.

IF TRUE, SOMETHING'S WRONG!

The wholesale merchants and jobbers of Atlanta justly protest against a condition that takes contracts for army supplies for Fort McPherson away from Atlanta to New York and other eastern points. They have brought the matter to the attention of the chamber of commerce asking a rigorous investigation.

It is said that there is no discrimination in the matter—that it is simply a question of buying supplies in the cheapest market—that where New York and other points underbid Atlanta they are compelled under the regulations to give preference against local merchants.

It is inconceivable that supplies can be bought in New York, the freight to Atlanta added, and Atlanta prices cut under these conditions.

If that is so there is a big wrong somewhere. If it is so, the chamber of commerce should lose no time in ferreting this baffling economic mystery.

The sooner it finds the disease and remedies it the better for the commercial and industrial reputation and future of this city.

In the meantime, it is worthy of note that the merchants of Atlanta hold that they can bid against New York or any other city for this business, and they have a right to demand that they be put upon an even footing in their competition for it.

This demand is just and fair, and if Atlanta merchants are not accorded the fair treatment to which they are entitled some body is going to have lots of explaining to do later.

LOOK IN THE MIRROR.

Though only two or three great denomi nations literally and technically observe the religious season of Lent, the principles underlying the celebration might well be applied by persons of all creeds and of no creed.

Some of the lessons of Lent is that the individual should indulge in a little stock taking and introspection trace his faults, and all of us know them if we are candid with ourselves practice self denial and that means self control, be a little more tolerant toward others and try to sense the beauty in the spiritual no less than the material.

Now, there is not a man or woman in Atlanta who would not be a better citizen and a person more worth knowing and living with, if they voluntarily underwent this course in self searching.

We all live too swiftly, whether in city or country, on Peters or Peachtree streets. Few enough of us are willing to take the time for meditation, which our fore fathers thought so essential to growth in grace as well as in substantial acquisition.

It helps now and then to look in a kind of moral and mental mirror, with the moral and mental rouge off with the charitable lights stripped of their shades that we may see just exactly the kind of spirit it is with whom we associate from the day of birth until the moment of death.

THE INCORRIGIBLE PUPIL.

How discipline may be peacefully maintained and the preponderance of studious pupils protected from the exceptional incorrigibles is described elsewhere by J. O. Martin, superintendent of the county schools of Newton county. Every superintendent in Georgia may well examine his method and its results.

The procedure in Newton is simplicity itself. Every student enters school with the presumption in their favor that their purpose is to study, obey the rules and observe discipline generally. If a student proves obstreperous he is reprimanded and loses standing. If he does not respond to moral suasion he is sent home—expelled, in other words.

The theory of Superintendent Martin, and it is sound, is that one ungovernable pupil can corrupt a whole classroom. That has been proved time and again in the experience of every teacher. He argues soundly that the infrequent trouble maker has no right to upset the educational opportunities of a whole class room. A school is after all, only a juvenile democracy. The parents of the children support it. The vast majority of children abide by the rules and steadily acquire an education. It is fundamentally unjust that their rights should be infringed by the one or two fractious pupils bent on making trouble.

Superintendent Martin reports that the plan has worked like a charm. The child who is expelled goes home and an investigation ensues. It is to the interest of the parent to educate the child. And when the parent discovers that his boy or girl fails of improving opportunity the fault is analyzed and corrected where it ought to be, at home and not at school.

Last year The Constitution commended the Martin idea. It is pleasant to know that it is still proceeding with such good effect. We commend consideration of it to thought ful educators and parents everywhere.

GETTING TOGETHER.

The visit to Atlanta last week of a delegation of prominent business men from Cleveland, Ohio, points a significant development in this country and that is the tendency of the sections to cultivate amicable commercial relations despite differences of geography and politics.

Within the past ten years business men from every part of the country have visited Atlanta on errands of commerce, as so many evangels of the new order of business which today has horizons broad as the compass. From California and New York and Massachusetts from Ohio and Iowa they have come to see if they could win our friendship increase their dealings with us, build a bridge of better understanding.

Atlanta has done some return visiting—but not enough! The Constitution commends this suggestion to the attention of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

It would be profitable also if the State Chamber of Commerce took cognizance of the same principle. Acquaintance and understanding are two of the big ingredients in making business and promoting general amicability. And, undoubtedly, one of the most effective ways to secure these ends is by being neighborly, with recognition of the now proven fact that the railroad and the telegraph and long distance make us nationally one huge neighborhood.

THE CRUSADE OF HEALTH.

Referring to the manner in which the doctrine of cleaning up has attained world wide dimensions, The New York Times significantly says:

The cleaning up of Cuba and the sanitation of Panama were but the beginning of a general evangelizing of the world with the gospel of prophylaxis. Colonel Gorgas is of course the head of the great missionary movement, and his next objective is the diamond fields of South Africa. The Rockefeller hookworm campaign in the Carribean and in Georgia is another instance of a propaganda that has spread to China and the Philippine islands. It is movement inspired by science to rank with the old crusades and with the later enterprises of the religious missionaries.

The comparison with the crusades of old is hardly an adequate one. These movements had purely a religious or fanatical significance came and went and rose and fell as the tides.

The crusade of health is a permanent one and it is so for the reason that we have discovered that a large percentage of the diseases that cripple the race are preventable and can, with due care, either be eliminated or minimized.

Recognition of that fact explains why it is that in Cuba and Panama, in Guayaquil or far off China, the hosts of prevention and of prophylaxis are at work incessantly routing dirt and germs and teaching the people the gospel of cleanliness.

Activity of this nature is moreover only in its infancy. As states and cities and nations the dollars and cents bene factious cleanliness not to speak of the happiness the increased efficiency and well being the medical brigade will be a part of the equipment of every community, whether in the tropics or fringing the Arctic circle.

The crusade of health is come to stay. We are going to see no more great world plagues, once erroneously called the dispensations of Providence. That is about the safest prophecy upon which one can enter in this day of uncertainties.

Some of the Mexican papers give all the news Huerta thinks fit to print.

IF A FIGHT, THE RESPONSIBILITY SHOULD BE PROPERLY PLACED

Editor Constitution I note with pleasure your editorial on Resurrecting Rusty Hatchets in Georgia politics and I quite approve of the position you take. The point that should be emphasized however, and that you had no doubt in view in your editorial is that if there is any revival of this old time custom those who are responsible for it should be held accountable accordingly.

Up to the present time things have been going along serenely and Governor Slaton has conducted himself admirably in bringing all parts of the state together. His appointment of a real south Georgia man to the United States senate is perhaps the most notable recognition of that principle ever made in Georgia.

It certainly cannot be said therefore that Governor Slaton has not done his part toward continuing Georgia on a peace basis. Now if there is anyone responsible for this war against peace it is the responsibility of those whose conduct may put them in the attitude of being instigators of public disturbance.

Governor Slaton has not only avoided putting himself in this position up to this time but more than that he has by official manifestation declared himself in a manner that must meet the public approval of the state. If a public disturbance is to be created however it must not be taken for granted for a moment that the strongest leadership both sides will be chosen for the front. It is the very force of circumstances forces Governor Slaton to the front in the senatorial fight. It will not be because he is trying to disturb the peace but simply because his many efforts to avoid public disturbance has been brave enough to choose Senator Bacon's successor from a section of the state which had a right to expect recognition.

It is significant that in view of his appointment takes the shape of two immediate announcements of senatorial candidates from the upper part of the state. So that up to this time if anybody is responsible for creating trouble it cannot be a man from south Georgia but from those who are not living in south Georgia at all are kind enough to a come to be its spokesman.

Your editorial is exactly on the right line. Let us have peace by all means but if we are not going to have it then let the responsibility for the resumption of hostilities be placed where it belongs.

NEWTON COUNTY EDUCATOR SOLVES DISCIPLINE PROBLEM

Editor Constitution I notice that the disruption of the high school of a nearby county is threatened by the whipping of one of the pupils. In this connection a year ago you commended a ruling recently issued by our Newton county board of education when they gave the teachers the authority to expel incorrigible pupils and after a term's trial I wish to state that our schools never had a more peaceable period since your work with them began.

If a pupil is sent home the parent is given an opportunity to investigate the trouble and inflict the punishment himself, thus throwing the burden of care to him which it should be and at the same time saving the school the embarrassment of a fight or a case of public disturbance. It means that the parent must support the teacher if he keeps his child in school. In my honest opinion much litigation would be obviated if all county boards would adopt this plan.

FORMER CLASSMATE OF FRANK MAKES APPEAL IN HIS BEHALF

Editor Constitution The adverse decision of the supreme court of Georgia denying Frank a new trial is a stunning blow indeed. But thousands of law abiding citizens of the land feel that the life of an innocent man is about to be snuffed out by the griping tentacles of a merciless legal monster. And it does seem incomprehensible that the people of Georgia will be satisfied with the case as it stands today.

I have the utmost respect for the learning and wisdom of the supreme court judges of Georgia. Still one cannot help feeling that their decision is hardly based upon old legal technicalities and involved formalities of legal procedure. In spite of that, two of the six judges voted in Frank's favor. And a man must hang even though the chief justice and one of his colleagues feel that he should have a new trial.

As I stated in my previous letter I was a classmate and chum of Leo M. Frank while at Cornell. There I learned to love and respect him as I did few men. And that love and respect I have carried with me as my classmates who came into intimate contact with him. He was never addicted to any excesses or vices. His life was clean and wholesome and he made a credit to himself and deservedly so. It was a pleasure and a privilege indeed to me that I could count him among my friends. Scholarly, highly intelligent, clean souled and blessed with a general kindness he was a credit to his friends and a blessing to his country.

How horrible then is the fact that such a man could through the meshes of the law be stamped as a degenerate degeneracy is never manifested by one sudden outburst of crime in a previously normal and exemplary man. I think I can be designated then circumstantial evidence and a vicious prosecution can make a degenerate of any living man charged with a crime!

The record of the trial of Frank reads like a dreadful and impossible romance. And I have carefully studied the daily accounts of the trial in the Atlanta papers to think of any reasonable and justice loving people it seems utterly beyond the realms of comprehension that Frank could be convicted on the evidence presented.

How could the people of Georgia prefer the living words of a negro who perjured himself many times during the course of the trial and who was a habitual jail bird to the statement of a white man of enviable and accredited reputation? The flimsy fabric woven by Conley was permeated with lies all the way through. First he denied that he could write. Then he confessed that he could! What significance has that? In all the order of intelligence the finding of the two notes, beside the body of poor little Mary Phagan? The very fact that the two notes were written at all shows the complete lack of intelligence the negro writer must have been. Here was an attempt to make the discoverers of the body believe that the poor little victim wrote the notes. In the mutilated condition of Mary Phagan's body and with a rope around her neck or deep sunk in her throat it would have been absolutely impossible for the little victim to have written the two notes. And only a human beast of a very low order of intelligence could have failed to see that. But even the prosecution must admit that Frank is of a high order of intelligence!

The two notes were therefore simply a pained stricken and dumb attempt of an ignorant criminal to conceal his crime. How can any other explanation be made?

And if further investigation is impracticable that men are found willing to believe that Frank could make a confession of a crime if he had committed the crime. If Frank had murdered Mrs. Phagan and no one saw him do it why should he voluntarily have confessed the crime to Conley? Would he not rather have kept the crime secret from every human soul?

Conley claimed that the body was taken down into the cellar by means of the factory elevator and yet workmen on the top floor of the factory swore that the elevator wheels and chains never moved during the afternoon when the body was supposed to have been removed to the cellar. And yet Conley's word was here again taken in preference to everybody's else. What material hypothesis did Conley have for his living words were like as 'sope! truth'?

It passes human understanding that a good man could be ordered to die when the chief witness against him had repeatedly and admitted to how could the good people of Atlanta believe one single word of Conley after such a series of colossal lies and fabrications. Who could conscientiously and honestly say when Conley spoke the truth?

Somewhat of this I feel that Leo M. Frank will be cleared of the crime for which he is sentenced to die. I feel that the incongruous legal net which has been woven around him will be dismantled. I cannot and will not believe that the good people of Georgia will see an innocent man strangled to death because of the unsupported word of a negro criminal perjurer and jail bird that is a possibility my mind cannot hold.

I have the utmost faith and confidence in the people of Georgia. I know that they will wash justice and truth to prevail. And because I have that faith in the people of Georgia do I feel all the more that Frank will not suffer for another a crime.

In conformity of how could the good people of Georgia believe one single word of Conley after such a series of colossal lies and fabrications. Who could conscientiously and honestly say when Conley spoke the truth?

EX-SENATOR FELKER WARMLY APPROVES 'EXCHANGE' EDITORIAL

Editor Constitution Permit me as a lawyer a farmer a cotton mill man and as a plain citizen to thank you for your editorial in today's paper on Regulating Exchanges.

The editorial was certainly to the point and I trust that you will continue this fight in the interest of the south. It is strange that the senators and representatives from the south will allow such a difference to exist between the New Orleans and the New York cotton exchanges in the contracts Congress should at least pass a law which will require the delivery of the kind of cotton purchased and not allow the advantage of unscrupulous dogtail cotton that is kept there for the purpose.

Please keep up the fight until some member from the south either in the senate or the house will introduce and pass it.

I've said all I wanted to I have no interest at all in what you or your friends have to say. One evening he was a guest at a hotel, after dinner he was in a bath and immediately after the dinner was served went calmly to sleep on the sofa to the theater he had another nap in the cab. He also slumbered peacefully through the performance of the cloth which brandy evoked. And how Abbey have to say last night. Anything worth while?

NEW GEORGIA RAILROAD TO BE OPENED MONDAY

Line 100 Miles Long Connects Collins and Brunswick—Auto Highway Completed.

Brunswick Ga., February 28—(Special)—Monday is going to be a day of big events to all places along the line of the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railroad—these people will see for the first time a train operated from Collins to the one end of the line to Brunswick on the other, and the occasion is to be celebrated all along the line.

A special train, carrying about 300 prominent Brunswick business men and known as the Board of Trade Special, will leave Brunswick at 7:30 o'clock and will make short stops at all points along the line where citizens of the various towns will assemble at the depots to greet the Brunswick visitors.

The Georgia Coast and Piedmont, as it will be put into operation on Monday, is exactly 100 miles long running from Brunswick to Collins in Tatnall county, and passing through the counties of Glynn, McIntosh, Liberty and Tallah.

doesn't 'take' fair. They say his wife does all the work. She runs a baking school in every town where Mr. Stout works and teaches women how to bake. Then they make the grocer buy Calumet for them. Well, what if it is not thus the day of women—the women do the work, do the work?

Today the people who eat the food must know what it is what it does and how to use it. Some women couldn't make good biscuits or bread with any powder. They blame the powder. Some men couldn't run any kind of an automobile, and blame the car. The motor car maker takes care of that. He runs a service station, teaches the novice how to drive and then keeps the car on the road for him. That's the new idea in merchandising food products that we have adopted.

Stout has opened up six states for the Calumet Baking Powder company. Each state has been worked with the same thoroughness that he has applied to Atlanta. One state that Mr. Stout has planned for Atlanta, to be conducted by Mrs. Stout at her baking school next Friday afternoon, is a cake contest. All this contest a special prize is offered of $25 in gold to the organizer.

DISTRIBUTOR SURE TO HOLD HIS JOB

Producer and Consumer Must Use Him to Guide Trade Between Them.

To hear many people talk one would think that there is the whole sum of human endeavor, the producer and the consumer. It is simple enough and reads well enough, producer, one who produces the stuff, consumer, the fellow who consumes it. What more do you want and besides what does away with a lot of fellows who are supposed to be dead weights and to have a graft on a lot of our money.

Half-baked philosophers would be business men, and many other undelusions or overdone minds are constantly spinning out theories and schemes and plans for getting the producer and the consumer nearer together by eliminating that all important factor, the distributor.

Friendship in Business. The salesman who was formerly intent on getting orders by means of the "happy days" system of cigars and drinks now courts the friendship of the customer and the customer tries to make suggestions that will be of use. He essays an idea or drops a piece of news intended to do the customer some good. Not infrequently an expert salesman will study the methods of a customer and even the methods in use in his establishment, before approaching him, so as to be in a position to talk intelligently on his needs, and perhaps spring a new idea that will attract attention.

Know the Goods You Sell.

In order to become an expert salesman or even a reasonably efficient one, one thing is necessary more than any other, and that is knowledge concerning the things you have to sell. The ordinary customer comes to your counter with only an inkling of what he wants and he expects you to be able to help him make the choice.

Merchant Finds Atlanta Market Can Meet His Needs, and Buys Big Bill.

That Atlanta has made great headway in the past several years in establishing itself as the logical trade jobbing center for retail merchants of the southeast is an evidence more strongly with each new season.

It might be well to mention a particular instance that happened a few days ago with Ragan-Malone company. A progressive and well-to-do merchant of the southern part of South Carolina who has been coming to the Atlanta market for the past several years, to buy nothing but millinery, was invited to call and inspect the new home of Ragan-Malone during his stay in the city. Passing the store a day or so later he was prompted to go in and take a look around. He was so impressed with the general appearance that he decided to make a special inspection. His call resulted in buying a large bill of goods.

The Service You Render. When you take the goods to the place where they are made and place them where they are used, you are rendering a service and your profit is the pay you get for that service.

Work as a Habit. Work in spite of yourself and make a habit of work. And when the habit of work is formed it will be continued into work, and at last you will not only enjoy it, but you will have no doubts out of the work which then you are constrained to do.

THE CONSTITUTION'S FIRING LINE

The Reserve Bank

If the Southeastern states be made a district—and we think they will—and if Atlanta is selected as its financial capital...

"The districts shall be apportioned with due regard to the convenience and customary course of business"

This fundamental thought was so ably presented by Senator Hoke Smith that it carried conviction even to our most sanguine opponents.

We showed that ninety thousand merchants in this territory traded in Atlanta, half of them living in Georgia...

May we, too, lay the emphasis on CONVENIENCE?

Here's an illustration:

A successful merchant living within fifty miles of Atlanta told us yesterday that he increased his business last year nearly sixty per cent.

Last October he came to Atlanta once a week and replenished his stock.

He found out for the first time the real convenience of a near-by shoe factory.

Atlanta proved itself a commercial Reserve City, that enabled thousands of merchants of this and adjoining states to get on the band wagon of prosperity before it got out of sight.

Thinking merchants will soon be laying plans for the coming fall season.

In deciding who'll be your shoe maker don't overlook these advantages (the far-away salesman will hardly mention them):

You can buy often.

Our new express rates, delivery over night, are less than the far-away freight, with its delay and uncertainty.

One case on your sidewalk is worth two on the road.

In the matter of quality, our factory record shows that last year we had returned to us, for all causes, one and a half pairs for every thousand pairs we made.

How's that for a low mortality?

In the matter of price:

The factory upon its present turn-over of five and a half times, can make a satisfactory dividend on a net profit of four per cent.

This of necessity confines our business to prompt-paying, prosperous merchants.

We believe there are enough of these in this "Region" to run our plant to its capacity—more than that, to build a new factory every few years.

If our platform appeals to your good judgment we will be glad to hear from you.

Our salesman for your section will drop you a card when to expect him. A postal here will bring him without obligation.

So while we're waiting to hear from the Regional Bank Committee, just remember

Every pair of Red Seal shoes you buy is adding that much to the reserve forces of the South.

Yours truly,

J. K. ORR, President

THE tailored costume to the left is developed in gens d'arme blue. The collar and the cuffs are of white broadcloth. The scarf is of black charmeuse. The ensemble is thoroughly chic.

In the center is a smart street costume for the first days of Spring, a development of the "three-tier" model, which is destined to extreme popularity.

THE rolled-back collar denotes the final passing of the frill.

The afternoon frock of shimmering sea-color scorns pannier and overskirt, and displays a distinct tendency to harken back to the days when our grandmothers did not dare to sit down for fear of crushing the drapery drawn to the back of their skirts.

The accessories, the jewelry, the bags, the embroidery, and especially the hats, are as chic and up-to-the-minute as the suits themselves.

Remarkable Diary of Mrs. Livingston Mims

Being the notations made by her of those things worth more than passing notice, giving an intimate study of the south, throwing interesting sidelights of the men and women of prominence in the days of the south's re-making. Diary edited for publication by Miss Isma Dooley.

FIFTH INSTALLMENT.

This—the fifth installment of the diary of Mrs. Livingston Mims—presents a series of incidents covering three years' time, beginning in 1880, in which she introduces, with charming comments, people then, as now, celebrated in Georgia's history, social and political.

She makes her first reference to Henry Grady, and gives a touching description of the funeral of Georgia's "silver-tongued orator," United States Senator Benjamin Harvey Hill.

She pays high tribute to Bishop Beckwith, at that time bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia (the father of Mrs. Alexander Lawton, of Savannah, and Miss Beckwith). She notes conversations with General P. M. B. Young, of Georgia, and L. G. C. ...

POLITICAL GOSSIP OF 1880.

June 29.—We had a very pleasant visit from our genial and delightful friends, General Lawton, I stepped downstairs and rested on the sofa that I might enjoy his society. He is anxious to be elected senator by the next convention to fill the unexpired term of General Gordon, now filled by Governor Brown. No man in Georgia is better fitted for the position, and I sincerely hope he will be elected. He says he was consulted by Mr. Wade, president of the Central railroad, in regard to a letter from Governor Brown asking if his appointment as senator by Colquitt to fill General Gordon's place would interfere with his railroad interests.

We are all greatly rejoiced that General Grant's vaunting ambition received its check in the republican convention, and that Garfield was nominated in his stead. Anybody rather than Grant. Our friend, General Lawton, was en route as delegate to the republican convention at Cincinnati, when he stopped with us a few days ago.

It is said that General Grant had over a million dollars to advance his interests at the convention.

July 9.—The whole south is jubilant over the nomination of General Hancock for president. It is thought and hoped that he will overwhelmingly sweep the country. He certainly will be the manliest man and finest gentleman that has occupied that seat for many a long year.

AT MOREHEAD CITY.

Morehead City, N. C., August 30, 1880.—We reached this little city by the sea about the 20th of July. The hotel is delightful, a magnificent ballroom which Emma greatly enjoys, delightful still water bathing and lovely walks and paths. They are just what I needed. My health has greatly improved. My sweet friend, Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Haskell, Mrs. Morehead, Mrs. Governor Jarvis and myself make quite a pleasant and congenial coterie. Emma, a very energetic and capable, but, alas! incipient qualities of the belle. I never saw so young a girl so much admired, nor one so young with so much tact and adaptability. My husband has spent half of his time with us here. He really enjoys it very much, and soon grew quite fond of sailing, which I think the most perfect transportation for pleasure in the world.

Allegany Springs, September 7, 1880.—We came directly from Morehead City, and found this place a very interesting and attractive spot. It is quite lovely and attractive. The water very beneficial to me. I have improved very much since my arrival. I enjoy meeting my sister, Mrs. ...

HOME AGAIN.

Atlanta, October 10.—Had a charming visit from my old friend, Mr. Samuel Barnett. He is in wretched health, suffering with his eyes, and very nervous, but, alas! quite recovered. Had a long talk about the new philosophy, Herbert Spencer, Miss Martineau, and kindred topics. It was, however, a little painful to see a man at his age shaken in a religious faith that had been a source of comfort to him during his life. I believe, however, that he will find that the "understanding heart" is nearer right than the comprehending brain. Solomon, with all his wisdom, prayed for the understanding heart.

October 20.—The whole town is agog with the state fair, the military, etc. Mr. Muldoon, of Mobile, dear jolly soul, society is very diverting. He says there is no sort of doubt about Mad. Le Vert's having been a spy in the pay of the Yankee government.

A DISTINGUISHED GROUP.

Monday, May 20.—We had a very pleasant company to dinner yesterday to meet General Johnston. Among the guests were old Dr. Johnson, the general's former medical adviser. He is a charming old gentleman, courtly, brilliant and very agreeable. He and the general always rub at each other like school girls. Captain Harry Jackson, always brilliant and charming, was with us, too. The other guests were Mr. Boyd, Colonel Pace, Captain John Milledge, General F. M. B. Young, Major Curtis, Colonel O. P. Fitzsimmons, Dr. Little, Dr. Frank H. Orme, Colonel Barkovick, of Texas; Colonel R. N. Ely, Major Raines, Captain E. P. Howell.

bright annuals. Our plants are all housed, but the roses still bloom beautifully out of doors.

I read last week Kinglake's charming volume, "Esther." His style is enchanting.

RENEWING ACQUAINTANCES.

Among the acquaintances that I have renewed is that with Mrs. W. E. Johnson, of Macon. She is a most agreeable woman, absorbed in chaparral her two daughters and niece, a bright, elegant girl. They are just from the White Sulphur, which they found enchanting.

I also find Mr. Mumford, an Episcopal clergyman from Columbus, Miss., a most interesting and engaging person. For many years he was the widest, gayest, most dissipated man in Richmond, and even now, while I think him a most earnest and sincere Christian, he has a little of the aroma of the world clinging to him still, and enhances the interest round him. We have had some charming conversations. I told him of that lovely poem, "Death in Arabia." He said it was shocking to him, that the body, too, was immortal, that it was more than the "house for its tenant." "The soul of it was not the ghost," he certainly was something more than "the man that kept him from the splendid stars." He put more stress on resurrection of the body than is customary, I thought.

Among other things, he gave me a splendid thought that simplified wonderfully the whole plan of creation. That if we would only consider that the world and man were not created for the sake of man and men, but for the sake of the God-man—the climax of humanity. He also called my attention to the wonders and mysteries of the great pyramids, as they are now being excavated, and the marvels of the ancient world. He said that science is unraveling by the still and science of man.

NEW YEAR'S CALLS.

January, 1881.—We had the most unprecedented cold weather known for forty or fifty years—the heaviest snow storms that have ever visited this section since my recollection. On New Year's night I went over to Judge Woods', our opposite neighbor, to receive New Year's calls with them. I wore my elegant black dress, and was declared by Judge Woods to be very ornamental. Mrs. Longbe, whose easy, piquant manners render her quite attractive, was there. She is a very elegant woman. Mrs. also Miss Belger and her sister, Mrs. Barnum. These two sisters are a good breeding and sweet natured man who make one very attractive without any affectation or affectation, where it is necessary, having always failed at proper occasions. Othello, while a victim, is a noble one, and Iago certainly is the most intellectual as well as most consummate of villains.

SOCIAL LIFE.

January 28, 1881.—Had a very pleasant Sunday. Our old friend, General Walker, dined with us. He brought rather sent a few days before, a lovely poem, written by his aunt. It is in a retrospective vein of the pleasures, social, intellectual and artistic, of her long life. In it occurs a beautiful tribute to the genius of Gifford, whom she knew quite well and whom I so greatly admire. Later on in the afternoon our always entertaining and agreeable friend, Captain Harry Jackson, came to the dinner. He was quite as much as I do, and says he has read the History of Civilization three times. Mr. Pat Calhoun also came in. He has a pleasant intellectual face, with the broad overhanging brow of his grandfather, John C. Calhoun.

Monday.—Mr. Ogden and General Walker dined with us. I quite enjoyed it. Mr. Ogden was brighter than I ever saw him, and while he is a little stiff in his manner, he is so punctiliously polite that one cannot help liking and admiring him. In talking about the charming history of Charles James Fox—Charles the Lovable, I call him—General Walker called our attention to the fact that through his mother, Sarah Lenox, he was descended both from Charles the Second and Henry the Fourth of France.

Yester-day I had a pretty little impromptu luncheon for the Misses Foster and my young neighbors, Miss Wood, Miss Culpepper and Miss Kimball. Our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Mack, have been with us a week, and I think quite enjoyed their visit. It is quite sure and did they are large-hearted, large-souled and generous people and I often tell Mrs. Mack that she is like the picture I once saw of a large spreading, unbracketed oak, whose sheltering arms invited repose beneath its leafy shadows, whence the heat and the toil of the day were banished. I have always imagined that Madame Recamier had that temperament, and that added, of course, to the charms of her beauty and the sweetness of her manner, was the secret of her influence over the disconcerted and feverish geniuses of her day. To them she offered repose.

HENRY GRADY.

Everybody is talking about Henry Grady's delightful letter on the aboriginal tide that is sweeping over the land. Science is dwarfing the imagination of our little world, seems to be held accountable for much of the mischief—very absurdly, I think. It is true our egotism suffers from the thought that we are only an atom in a universe of worlds, but then how is the comprehension of the soul enlarged in contemplating an infinity of worlds—a never-ending series of magnificent beings beyond even the imagination of man to conceive.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

February 6, 1881.—Old Colonel Sparks dined with us Sunday before last. He is now 82 years old, seems hale and hearty and well supported himself and wife by his labors as a newspaper correspondent—his contributions consisting mostly of reminiscences of other days. Having known him many years, I have been very much interested. Among other pleasant anecdotes he says that once when he and his wife were in Boston Mr. Webster invited them to drive and look at the celebrities and points of interest about the city. Arriving at the old Park Street church where the parents of Benjamin Franklin were buried, Webster said, "Never did a man more completely perpetuate himself in the united peculiarities of his parents than did Benjamin Franklin—his father an egotist and his mother a miser."

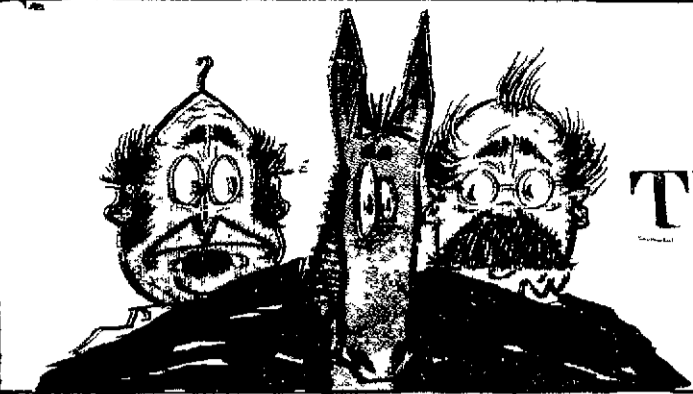

TIBUTE TO BISHOP BECKWITH.

July 21.—I had today a charming visit from our lovely and interesting Bishop Beckwith—a short visit, but it stimulated my great regret that my poor health deprives me of the benefit and enjoyment of his sermons. His eloquence, almost unequalled, is in harmony with the force and vigor of his reasoning, and the quickness of his apprehension. In speaking of some of the unworthy imitations given to the great Creator in the old Bible and contrasting the severe punishment inflicted on the poor Sabbath-breaking Jud by the express command of God with the thought of the great First Cause inspired by the contemplation of nature's God as seen through the marvels of creation, I said impetuously, "O, Bishop, the Bible does not seem grand enough for the universe." He instantly replied, "The Bible is not made for the universe, but for man, and if we live up to its teachings and precepts since I have read in my journal of the man expressing to me the symbol of the evolution theory—the hyacinth with its ugly bulb, its fair body, its mind in flower and its soul in perfume emanating from the whole, he answered, "The Bible is not made for the universe, but for man, and if we live up to its teachings and precepts since I have read in my journal of the man expressing to me the symbol of the evolution theory—the hyacinth with its ugly bulb, its fair body, its JOHN HENRY VISITS OLD SPLASHBURG

"Remember those nice white doorknobs we ate for breakfast next morning?"

By George V. Robart. (Copyright, 1914.) It isn't long now when you'll find Splashburg on a map of the middle west. It's a railroad junction where careless travelers change cars and wait for the other train, which is always late. A week ago it happened to be one of those careless travelers, marooned in Splashburg, and having a wicked hour or two to kill I strolled over to the Commercial House.

Steb Stephens is the name of the clerk of the Commercial house in Splashburg. Steb has been throwing keys at the wall for a long time and he knows how to burn the besters. He played the bell hon at the old Willard in Washington and after that he jumped to Chicago as night porter at the old Sherman house; so what Steb doesn't know about the hotel business isn't worth whispering even.

The Society sitting with both eyes and flouring out. Steb bit the end of a penholder and raised a fringed finger at Mike and butted in with: "Say, you be that fat cuss that cut up with that troupe at the opry house last night, wasn't ye?"

"I was at the opry house last night," Mike answered, and the bartender roared with delight. "You don't look as how you took much exercise," snickered Mike. "But I do the exercise. Oh, me for that exercise thing, good and strong," protested Mike.

of this most interesting and "sunshiny" book. The woman who understands. "She makes no plans for you to fulfill. The woman who understands. She sends no unwhipped grist to your mill."

governor of Mississippi. There being no telephonic communication with the mansion I could not conveniently apprise them of my arrival. New Orleans, January 25.—Arrive early this morning. Found New Orleans rather dull, the heavy, murky and disagreeable; more and more convinced that I could not exist in the climate of the low countries.

Afternoon Gowns

THE new skirts are the most interesting feature of the new Spring styles. They continue to be draped, sometimes from the front, sometimes from the back, sometimes both from the front and from the back. They are still narrow about the feet. The bustle will be noted on one of the small central figures, and the peplum with a frill, the descendant of the lamp shade tunic, will be noted on the other figure in the center and on the figure to the right.

Many long sleeves will be seen. Medici collars with its modifications will be seen everywhere. Collars are invariably high at the back.

Broad sashes are still worn, and the vest effect is still popular.

Hats are simple in design and have little trimming. Many of the shapes are odd; as for instance, that on the figure to the right. They are, for the most part, not wide.
