HENLEY'S EVIDENCE WILL ATTACK PART OF BECKER'S STORY

Former Employee of National Pencil Factory Holds Conference With Solicitor Hugh Dorsey.

REUBEN ARNOLD HOME FROM NEW YORK TRIP

Burns and Leonard J. Haas Are Planning to Leave for Gotham Monday—Lehon Takes Charge Here.

Evidence declared to refute certain portions of the story of F. Becker, the ex-pencil factory employee who comes to the defense of Leo M. Frank, has been turned over to Solicitor Hugh Dorsey by Sam Henley, a former attaché to the pencil plant, who lives at 363 Whitehall street.

The evidence is in the form of a document said to be a contract that was made during Becker's connection with the National Pencil company. Neither the solicitor nor Henley will discuss it.

Henley and Becker were employed at the pencil factory at the same time. The former is a nickelplater, and was attached to the tipping department of the pencil plant. He worked side by side with Mary Phagan, he stated, and knew her intimately. He stated he was also intimate with Becker.

Henley in Cincinnati. He and Becker, he said, left the employ of the pencil factory about the same time. Henley has been in Cincinnati for considerable while since. He is now located at the Whitehall street address. He is a large-sized man, middle-aged and slightly bald.

Henley visited Solicitor Dorsey late Friday afternoon and held a long conference with him in his offices in the Klier building. He would not discuss the document with reporters. It was put in Dorsey's hands. Whether or not Henley made a sworn statement was not stated.

Dorsey declared that he had been given the contract in such a way that the evidence he would not disclose its nature. That he considered it important was obvious. It had been put on file, Henley himself stated, that the lawyer contracted certain parts of Becker's story, but would go no further into details.

Becker's association with the present status of the contract is about the most interesting of recent developments. His name seems to be barely legibly inscribed in one of the murder notes which, he declares, was thrown with the other bits of the document when he left the pencil factory's employ.

"ZONES OF QUIET" WANTED FOR CITY

Prominent Doctors and Surgeons Seek to Give Adequate Protection From Noise to Local Hospitals.

At the request of Dr. L. C. Fischer and on a petition signed by more than 200 of Atlanta's most prominent surgeons and physicians, City Attorney James L. Mayson has been engaged drawing up legislative measures to establish "zones of quiet" in Atlanta.

The object of the various measures is to give the city council authority to adopt ordinances prohibiting vehicles or bands of pedestrians disturbing the peace in the neighborhoods of hospitals and private sanitariums where sick persons are confined.

The Atlanta ordinances are similar to measures in force in some of the most progressive cities in the United States. The city council has no authority, under the present charter, to establish such zones as were suggested by physicians. Hence it will be necessary for the legislature to authorize an amendment to the charter.

Under the laws as contemplated, owners of private hospitals and directors of public hospitals can cause council to establish zones of 150 feet around such institutions, and it will be unlawful for a vehicle to go through the zone making noises calculated to disturb patients.

At points within a radius of 150 feet signs will be stuck up notifying pedestrians and those in charge of vehicles that they are within a "Zone of Quiet."

Both measures necessary for pedestrians and those in charge of vehicles to pass as quietly as possible or suffer punishment in the recorder's court by fine not less than $5 and not exceeding $25.

Another ordinance which City Attorney Mayson has drawn provides for the establishment of zones around automobiles owned and operated by physicians in the right-of-way over all other vehicles on the streets.

City Attorney Mayson says the measure authorizing the establishment of zones is a good one, and is in keeping with the progress of other cities.

The measure will probably be introduced in council at the next meeting, and if they are approved the legislature will be urged to authorize the amendment of the charter to conform with the measures.

BLASPHEMY CHARGE MUST BE ANSWERED BY NOVELIST GORKY

St. Petersburg, Russia, March 21.—Court proceedings will be brought immediately against Maxim Gorky the Russian novelist, on a charge of blasphemy, according to an order issued today by the public prosecutor of the district court of St. Petersburg.

Gorky, who is suffering from tuberculosis, declared by his friends to have been contracted during his incarceration in the fortress of St. Peter and Paul, recently returned to Russia from the island of Capri, after an eight-year exile.

The charge of blasphemy was preferred against Gorky in 1903 in connection with his novel, "Mother," in which he is alleged to have insulted the national faith. It found guilty the novelist's sentence, according to the Russian law, would be exile to Siberia, which, in his present state of health, his friends believe, would be equivalent to a sentence of death.

MARCH SNOW FALL SMASHES RECORDS

Flurries in January, February and April Common, but Prove Decided Novelty for Windy Month.

Saturday brought the most unusual weather this part of the state has experienced in years, but it did not come until as early as Thursday morning when the air was chilled, and Friday morning folks awoke to find that spring had decamped, and Saturday morning the temperature began to drop.

OFFICERS REFUSE TO LEAD SOLDIERS AGAINST ULSTER

Disaffection of the Regular Army Officers Is the Outstanding Feature of Home Rule Situation.

RUMORS OF ARMY CRISIS CURRENT FOR LONG TIME

All the Regular Troops in Ulster Will Probably Be Withdrawn and Replaced by Fresh Regiments.

London, March 21.—The government's military preparations to suppress the order in Ulster have precipitated a crisis without parallel in the history of the British army.

Public curiosity is at fever heat over the question of how the government is to deal with the resignations. The liberal sentiment is that the officers should be court-martialed.

The entrance of King George on the scene as peacemaker was the dramatic event of the day. The king held long conferences with the prime minister, Mr. Asquith, the secretary of state for war, Colonel Saely, and several other high officials.

From the palace the veteran field marshal drove directly to the war office, where he had a long talk with the secretary of war.

The meantime the troop movement continued in Ireland. The center of gravity has shifted to Curragh, 25 miles from Dublin, where the Third cavalry brigade, under General Gough, and the recently formed infantry brigade, under Colonel Holt, are stationed.

Resignations Reach Large Figure. According to some reports the military men have unanimously refused information, but a Dublin dispatch says that the resignations from the Curragh forces number forty.

The government is embarrassed by the dissatisfaction which even exists among the officers who continue on duty. Among those published and denied were reports that the government had issued an ultimatum to the officers, giving them twelve hours to decide whether to obey orders, or that two companies of the Dorsetshire regiment in Belfast had thrown down their arms.

A Dublin message to the London Press association says the officers' disaffection is spreading.

HYMNS WILL BE SUNG IN EFFORT TO STOP TANGOING IN CAFES

New York, March 21.—Singing hymns in opposition to tango music is to be tried tonight by a picked band of ten Salvation Army men and women to attract dancers away from their pastimes. The crusaders, who are the sweetest singers in the Salvation Army in this city, plan to march from one tango restaurant to another.

Girl Dares Death In Burning House To Rescue Kitten

Miss Lois Pattillo, of 137 Elizabeth Street, Helps Aunt to Safety and Then Returns for Her Pet.

Miss Lois Pattillo, of 137 Elizabeth street, a popular member of the Human Park social set, after telephoning the fire department that her home was on fire, and aiding her mother, S. J. Pattillo, president of the Pacific Lumber company, to carry off the house her sick aunt, insisted on returning to rescue her pet kitten, which was in the basement of the home, where the fire originated.

When she found her pet it was lying on the basement steps suffocated by the smoke. Carrying it out of the house, Miss Pattillo and her little sister, Mary Jitmas, worked for one hour trying to revive it, while the firemen quenched the flames.

The basement and the kitchen of the house were practically destroyed, and the walls of the house were charred considerably.

THREE LABOR LEADERS FAIL TO GET FREEDOM

Kansas City, Mo., March 21.—Applications of three of the labor men convicted at Indianapolis in 1912 on charges of transporting explosives illegally asking their release from the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth were denied last night by Judge John C. Pollock in the federal court at Kansas City, Kan.; Philip Cooley, of New Orleans; J. E. Munay, of Salt Lake City, and John Webb, of New York, were also denied.

Release for the three was asked for on the ground that they were convicted in Indiana, while none was a citizen of that state. Judge Pollock held this not sufficient grounds for taking up the matter.

SNOWING IN VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA

Charlotte, N. C., March 21.—Snow began falling here tonight about 9 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock about two inches had fallen—the heaviest snowfall at this season of the year on record in this section of the state.

Newport News, Va., March 21.—The first day of spring was ushered in here today with one of the heaviest falls of snow of the winter. It began snowing early this afternoon, and indications are that four or five inches will have fallen by morning.

Stole Gems Worth $20,000. Huntington, W. Va., March 21.—Two men entered the jewelry store of H. J. Homrich here early tonight and, covering a clerk with revolvers, picked up a tray containing diamond rings valued at $20,000, and escaped. C. F. Reuschlein, a clerk, pursued the men through the crowded street and followed them into an alley. The robbers turned and fired twice at their pursuer. Reuschlein escaped unhurt.

WOMEN ARE HELD FOR MAN'S DEATH

Calhoun, Ga., Farmer's Dead Body Is Found on Doorstep of His Aunt and Niece—Shotgun in House.

Calhoun, Ga., March 21.—(Special.)—Sid Chapman, a young farmer living four miles from Calhoun, was shot and killed at an early hour this morning at the door of his home.

The evidence at the inquest showed that had feeling existed between Mrs. Chapman and her uncle, and that she had threatened to kill him.

Officers found wads from the gun lying on the doorstep. They also found an unloaded shotgun in the house which looked as if it had been recently used.

No motive for the crime has been clearly established, and there are several theories which the officers are working on. It is thought that Mrs. Chapman may have shot the victim herself in the absence of her husband.

The women who are in custody declare that they know absolutely nothing of the tragedy. It is believed by the officers that they know all about it, and will finally confess.

The victim of the shooting was 29 years old; had been married but was separated from his wife several years ago. He was well known in this section, and the killing had created a great sensation throughout the county.

THEY LIVE ON SOUP SINCE FALSE TEETH HAVE BEEN STOLEN

Oakland, Cal., March 21.—For three weeks twenty persons whose false teeth were stolen from an Oakland dentist's office, where they had been taken for repairs, have been subsisting chiefly on soup.

W. F. Roche, charged with the burglary, learned of their plight when arranged in court yesterday, and in order that the teeth which were being held at evidence might be restored to their owners, he agreed to plead guilty. His case was referred to the probation officer.

Congressman Flood to Wed.

Washington, March 21.—Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Anna V. Fortner, of Massachusetts, and Congressman Henry D. Flood, of Appomattox, Va., April 18, at All Souls church, Washington.

TORREON BATTLE TURNING POINT IN MEXICAN TROUBLE

Washington Believes Fight Just Beginning the Relative Strength of General Huerta and His Foes.

Washington, March 21.—The battle of Torreon will be the turning point in the Mexican revolution, in the opinion of high administration officials.

Officials did not comment themselves tonight as to the proposals reported to have been made to John Lind of Vera Cruz by Senator Portillo y Rojas, Mexican minister of foreign affairs.

Discussion among constitutionalists here of the possibility that General Huerta would retire in favor of Senator Portillo developed the probability that he would not be acceptable to the constitutionalists because of his affiliation with the clerical party.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy expects to return to Mexico City in a few days, according to his dispatches to the state department. His telegrams make mention of his ill-health, but there is no suggestion, according to Mr. Bryan, of contemplated resignation.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy's resignation at this time would be diplomatically embarrassing, because to send another charge d'affaires to Mexico City in a few days, according to his dispatches to the state department.

MORRID ONES BARRED FROM CRIMINAL MUSEUM

London Place Became Almost as Great an Attraction as Paris Morgue.

London, March 21.—Because it was becoming as great an attraction for the morbid as the Paris morgue, the criminal museum of Scotland Yard has been practically closed to all except those who can show some good reason for desiring to visit it. The museum has never been opened to the general public, but has not been difficult to obtain admission. Now a permit must be secured from the second commissioner of police, and the visits can only be made on one of two days in the week. During the past year it became quite the rage for society women to obtain permits to view the gruesome relics which the place contains, and complaint was made that the museum was being turned into a side show for the gratification of the morbidly curious. Some of the relics are of considerable interest, and these are displayed with a lack of reserve which, according to the Scotland Yard authorities, has made it possible for parties of visitors to be admitted. Besides the implements used in the commission of famous crimes, the museum contains interesting exhibits in the place are death masks, formerly made of every criminal executed in England.

FIRST TARIFF FILED FOR SPOTTING SERVICE

Washington, March 21.—The first tariff filed with the interstate commerce commission assessing a charge for spotting cars was that of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, submitted today, covering services rendered on the tracks of the Virginia-Portland railway at Norfolk, Va. The tariff defines spotting service as "service beyond a reasonable convenient point of interchange," and provides that the service shall include "one placement of a loaded car on this railway, and its transportation or the taking out of a loaded car from a particular location on the Virginia-Portland railway for the purpose of this company."

FISHIN'

Fishin' is somethin' it's more to me than bait and tackle and hook and line. Fishin' is gettin' right next to the tree and the bird and the bush and the vine. Now, you take your wrigglin' old worm and give him a bang with your palm, like that: Then he goes on your hook, and you make your cast. And then you sit down 'neath yer broad-brimmed hat. And then while yer watchin' yer smokin' pipe, and dreamin' and purrin' inside like a kettle. And feelin' the shine of the sun and the glow of a spirit and vigor that puts you in the mood for the conclusion of fishin', by sittin'.

Safe Breakers, Tools and Weapons

(1) ROTHMANN, (2) J. ROBERT RUBIN, (3) FAUROT, (4) ARSENAL OF THE THIEVES.

The arrest of Jacob Rothmann, 23 years old, and Michael Snelderman by the New York detective bureau prevented one of the most sensational diamond robberies of recent years, according to the police. They had completed plans to break into the vaults of Stern Bros. & Co. on West 42nd street, to secure $300,000 worth of jewelry in the firm's safes. These two refined burglars, who had been in the very pink of fashion and whose tasteful outfits form a background for diamond burglars, despite their boishness, to have successfully carried out other crimes on a large scale. The field of their operations is thought to have been Boston and the New England states. With the two most complete burglar tools which for completeness and ingenuity are almost without parallel in police memory in fact, the two men would have been successful in their attempt to break into the vaults of Stern Bros. & Co. on West 42nd street, to secure $300,000 worth of jewelry in the firm's safes. Shaw Termed an Extinct Volcano, Vomiting Only Ashes and Dust

London, March 21.—John Palmer, Max Beerthorn's successor as The Saturday Review's dramatic critic, has written a book called "The Future of the Theater," which has succeeded in "drawing" the only living Victorian dramatist, let alone Grundy, and his pamphlet in answer to it is one of the most interesting literary pieces of the week. It is published on this side of the Atlantic for many long months. In it he defends the old-fashioned drama, as Shaw, Barker and Wilde, Limited, Marston and others of epochs.

Speaking of Palmer, who is a defender of the so-called modern school of playwrights, of which Shaw, Barker, Galsworthy and the late St. John Galsworthy are prominent exponents, Grundy writes: "It is apparently another of those 'academic' nuts, with a neat taste in turned-up trousers and intellectual fancy socks. 'Whose pocket rule has pulled fair England down,' who opine that the libraries are only letters, that no play is literary unless it is suited to an archaism; because their university education has not included the elementary fact that the theater is a living thing. Clearly, he is young; clearly he is clever; clearly, he will learn better; but because his sympathies are with the goodly company who despise 'stag-short-hand,' because they despise the play with a plot, because they cannot weave one; plays with situations, because they cannot write it; plays with heart in them, because they have no heart; plays with purpose, because they have no purpose; plays with a living idea, because they have no morality; who would reduce the stage to a platform, the drama to a stage, and the living theater to a theater to the dead language of a lexicon—Manx cats, who sneer at tails."

Grundy is especially bitter against Shaw. "Will Mr. Shaw leave any mark whatever, or will his footprints be obliterated from the sands?" he asks, and then replies: "He brings no glad tidings; he is a man with no vision, no dry light, no true, he has extensive, but a few, no, he has already contained the germs of death, but he has hastened their extinction only by destroying the healthy tissues upon which they preyed. Is there any future for Mr. Shaw? Will there be any life after his death? Will there be any mourners? Any inscription on even a state-aided and rate-supported sarcophagus? Will he be buried in a pauper's grave? The press believes in him; to the press his whirlwind of words, his high-sounding pronouncements, his popularity and its purse. The fiat has gone forth; there shall be no more plays—only discourses, dissertations and treatises—only, in short, the stuff that can be produced by amanuensis without theatrical taste, training or technique."

GUILTY OF ASSAULT ON GIRL INMATE OF HOME

Canton, Ohio, March 21.—James C. Lupter, superintendent of the Fairmount Children's Home, was found guilty of assault and battery, the offenses charged in five separate indictments returned against him by a special grand jury. The verdict finds Lupter guilty of immoral treatment of Mary Holstein, a 13-year-old inmate of the Fairmount home. Lupter is 52 years old and was superintendent of Fairmount home three years. Before assuming this public office he was a banker at Waynesburg, a place about 40 miles from here, and a justice of the peace and for a number of years a deacon in a Waynesburg church. Mary Holstein created a sensation in court when she appeared with bobbed hair and in knee-length dresses to tell her story of how Lupter had assaulted her while he drove with her in a buggy between the Fairmount home and Carrollton.

LOUISVILLE IS SELECTED BY RESERVE BANKERS

Cincinnati, March 21.—Louisville, Ky., was selected as the next convention city, and officers were elected at the last day's session of the Association of Reserve City Bankers here today. Edward B. Butler, of Cincinnati, was elected president over C. R. MacKay, of Chicago. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Thomas E. Hildt, Baltimore; directors, J. Lucas Williams, New York city; Charles F. Shaw, Jr., Philadelphia; H. D. Ormsby, Louisville. The convention was held during the federal reserve act and pledging the services of the members of the association to the organization of a committee and the federal reserve board in the work of establishing and inaugurating the various federal reserve banks.

Banana Imports Gigantic.

Everybody that eats at all eats bananas—that is, almost everybody. From the rare luxury and tropical curiosity of 40 years ago, the banana has become almost as common and well known as the apple, and taken the place of the orange in the crowded markets of New York to the cross roads country. The banana is now so familiar as is the homely barrel of potatoes, and the enormous quantities of this fruit consumed by the people of the United States is astounding. You did not eat 40 bananas last year, you did not have your share," writes Franklin Adams, editor of the Boston Bulletin, in an article in the American Union. "More than 46,000,000 bunches, or more than 3,600,000,000 bananas, were imported into the United States in 1913. The immensity of these shipments can be more readily grasped by the fact that the banana would cover an area over 20 feet wide reaching from New York to San Francisco, or placed end to end would encircle the earth thirteen times around the equator. The ship in the peels would be 100 feet high. The value of these shipments at point of export, was more than $100,000,000 in all probability, and the consuming public of the United States expended more than $40,000,000 for this delectable fruit."

A Telephone Postal Card.

(From Popular Mechanics.) The postmaster general is considering the use of a telephone postal card, which will show not only the ordinary street address of the recipient, but also the telephone number. The card will be used in the same manner as the ordinary postal card, but will be delivered by telephone. The card is addressed and read the message, after which the card would be placed in a special box, and would bear a special stamp, costing 5 cents, and would have preference over ordinary postal cards. The number of words might be limited, and no liability assumed by the postal authorities for loss or damage to the card in the special delivery letter.

Overcome by Feelings.

It is quite evident that Grundy would not change the age in which he lived for the present. Towards the end of his pamphlet his feelings evidently overcome him, for the following appears: "Half, halcyon memories of happier days, when the young rejected in their youth, and the old in their green age, Angels and ministers of grace, defend us against the dust and drabness of these dismal times—this generation of untimely birches, sired by compulsory celibacy, and the numbers of which are increasing. Yes, Mr. Shaw, I am young, which leaps before it can walk, which teaches before it has learnt, and which dies before it has lived—to which the years have already come when it has no pleasure in them and which the grasshopper has inherited and desires unknown—in whose eyes the day of its death is better than the day of its birth, whose mourners go about the streets, exhibiting their acres—its youths, before their voices crack, their long hair, whose mothers grow beards because there are no men—whose lord high priests consort with apes and manx cats, whose mad grow lewd files, abandon hope, and with their own hands lose the silver cord and break the golden bowl—whose young men, rotten as ripe to whom the light is darkness and whose mothers grow beards because there are no men—whose lord HIPRESS FOOTWEAR IS MASTER STROKE IN RUBBER INDUSTRY

The motor car industry during the past fifteen years has influenced tremendous development in the manufacture of tires, bringing out new methods, new processes and remarkable possibilities never before dreamed of in the manufacture of rubber goods.

The B. F. Goodrich company, of Akron, Ohio, always a leader and always reaching out after new possibilities, have striven for years to adapt the process by which world-famous motor car tires are made to the making of rubber boots and shoes.

There is no question but what this great achievement will be a tremendous incentive and impetus to further accomplishment in the rubber industry, it reflects credit upon the entire rubber manufacturing world.

Saturday's Game Called Off Also; Naps Here Later

Fans Disappointed at Not Seeing the Heavy Hitting Lajoie and Jackson in Action Once More.

By Dick Jenison. Managers Smith and Brunningham were again forced to call off the scheduled game between the Naps and Crackers...

The Naps will be back again at a later date. They will play the Crackers on April 1 and 2.

The Naps did not present their star bats in the game with the Crackers and will not be able to do so until after their complete lineup is some time come.

Harry Holland, former Cracker and Red star, who has been turned back to the Crackers by Manager Clark Griffith, is due to arrive in Atlanta from Chattanooga today.

It is an ill wind that blows no good and the cold snap has in a measure been helpful to the Crackers. Their air may soon warm and back in the Cracker training camp and the Cracker pitchers are not in condition yet.

Boys' High, by defeating the Lanier school of Macon, Ga. in Macon, Georgia, Tuesday night, is to be crowned champion of the state prep basketball championship.

Boys' High has a good claim to the state prep championship as any other prep team in Georgia, but cannot claim the championship outright, as there are several teams that they have defeated.

FIVE OF BILLY'S CANDIDATES IN ACTION

Passing of the Spitball Has Increased Hitting

By Bill Evans. A few years back there appeared to be a constant demand for more hitting in baseball. Fans and critics bemoaned the superiority of the spit ball over the pitcher over the batter. They insisted that hitting was one thing...

To me the opinion of the veteran big leaguer just about hit the nail on the head, especially his concluding remark that after three or four innings there was no dry side on the ball. I have always believed that the poor condition of the ball had just as much to do with the effectiveness of the spit ball as any other factor.

Readers Ball Suit for Play. I have frequently examined the balls in such games, and often wondered where the spit ball ever managed to get the sphere out of the infield. In such cases I always threw the ball out of the game.

Blames the Spit Ball. The gradual passing of the spit ball pitcher has been a big factor in helping to mark the star player. I played for a number of years in the big leagues and I can tell you that the spit ball pitcher was a very popular character.

There are other people aside from the umpire and batter who are more than glad at the security of the spit ball. Many an infielder has been credited with an error on an easy play simply because the ball was struck when the catcher seems to be almost picking the ball off the ground.

The Old-Time Fan Likes Bill Smith's Cracker Clan

By Charles A. Lamer. To spring before the halcyon days of the wild-eyed baseball fanatics and also the prophets and the sons of prophets. It is always up to the latter class to make good by delivering the goods and demonstrating to the fans that they are the humblers with a strangle hold on the prophesying business.

Correct System. That's the system that will get results, and it's the only one worth while. In the practice games so far the pitchers have not been very good.

Luck Evident. The element of chance called "luck" is sadly overlooked in the patting business. A season's hire will sometimes win a game of ball in like token, an excusable error will lose one.

Get the Personal Touch

We are so confident of the lasting and efficient quality of the 1914 Mitchell that we are asking the public to take a ride in one before it makes up its mind to buy.

An old ducky in Virginia who used to sell apples from door to door used to sing "Taste 'em, try 'em before you buy 'em" and this practical theory is one that we are working under. Anything that costs as much as an automobile ought to be tried by the man who buys it before he lets go of a penny.

The personal touch of the Mitchell gives you the knowledge of power—the knowledge of its mechanism—the knowledge of how it performs for the novice—the knowledge of how it acts on all speeds and under all circumstances and on all kinds of roads.

Here is the Equipment for all the Mitchell Models Which is Included in the List Prices:

No Man Can Justify Higher Tire Prices

Higher Than Goodyear No-Rim-Cut Tires

It's an easy thing to cheapen tires and undersell our prices. But no man knows how to make a tire worth a penny more than Goodyears.

Better Tires Never Can Be

We have had scores of men working for years and years on research and experiment. They build in our laboratory 8 or 10 tires a day, in efforts to get more mileage.

They test them on roads and on testing machines. But they have not in years found a way to add mileage, save through our All-Weather tread. So, in all probability, better tires never can be.

Where We Save

We give you here, in a costly way, the one feasible tire that can't rim-cut.

We give you the "On-Air Cure"—to minimize blow-outs—at an extra cost of $1,500 daily.

We save by modern equipment. We save by a matchless output. We save by a low profit policy. Our profit last year averaged 6% per cent.

Those are the reasons for present prices on Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tires. Higher prices have no reason which means anything to you. Prove this, if you doubt it, by actual mileage tests.

We could never have won the top place in Tire-dom without building the best tires made.

FELDER FOR GOVERNOR IF SLATON RUNS FOR SENATE
Rumor has it that if Governor Slaton should announce for the short term Attorney General Felder will drop out of the senatorial race and run for governor to succeed Governor Slaton

The situation would then be as follows:
On the one hand For the long senatorial term Senator Smith for the short term Hardwick or Felder, but probably Hardwick for the governorship Felder or Hardwick, but probably Felder

In such a situation it would certainly take on the appearance of a Smith slate and would in all probability, place Senator Smith in a position taxing his clearest diplomatic powers, in view of the position taken by him to remain neutral and to take no hand in Georgia politics this year

No one has so far announced against Senator Smith save Ralph Cochran whose candidacy has not to date been publicly recognized by Senator Smith Speculatively Governor Slaton is in the field either against Senator Smith or for the short term most prophets predicting the short term

V. Hager, the 4-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hager, died at 4 o'clock this morning

The clothing of the little girl ignited from the fire and she had time to utter a wailing cry and when her mother alarmed by the screaming screams of the child rushed into the room she found her enveloped in a perfect sheet of flame

The Corset of Today and of the Future The Nemo Kopservice at $5

Because it gives the idealized natural lines to the figure—and it is this physique which women have been striving to attain ever since it was decreed by Fashion, nearly two years ago.

This corset is very short above the waist line and very long below—extending almost to the knees. Nevertheless, it does not push up when one sits down, for its steels support the abdomen and keep the corset in place.

This corset is inset with wide bands of Lastikops Cloth across the hips in the back—these bands make it possible for the corset to curve with the figure when one sits down—and at the same time they act as an automatic massage for reducing the flesh.

THIS CORSET GIVES THE IDEAL FOUNDATION FOR THE NEW GOWNS

Corsets Up to $5--in a Special Sale at $1.00

A quick dismissal of certain Corsets, "odds and ends," broken sizes, discarded models, every one of good value. Worth as high as $5—all sizes in the collection, though not all sizes of any one style.

Priced for Monday at $1.00.

noon from 3 to 5 o'clock at her home on Cheney street in honor of her little son, Hugh's, seventh anniversary.
The house was beautifully decorated in quantities of ferns and jonquills. Among the contests which were enjoyed by the little folks was the pinning of the rabbit's tail, and Miss Lillie Ruth Hemperley and Master Adolph Fla-tauer won the prizes.
The dining table had for its center-piece a cake, with seven burning candles. Baked in jonquill yellow, white tulle was caught from the chandelier to the corners of the table. When the cake was cut Miss Maria Hume cut the dime.
The favors were yellow rabbits and white eggs. Yellow and white ices were served to twenty-seven guests. Master Hugh received a number of pretty presents.
"Glad to Help Brigade."
The East Point "Glad to Help Brigade," held an important meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parker. After a short devotional exercise the executive committee made its report, showing they had the work of the year well under progress.
To Newly Elected Officers.
A beautiful expression of hospitality was the afternoon reception given Tuesday at the Ebenezer Missionary society, in honor of Mrs. E. W. Brogdon, newly elected third vice president of the North Georgia conference, and Mrs. S. P. Jackson, recently elected state treasurer. Mrs. Brogdon made an instructive talk on the work in hand. The reception was given at the home of Colonel and Mrs. J. D. Humphries and during the social hour sandwiches and tea were served to thirty-five members of the society.
Eastern Star Activities.
Mrs. Rose M. Ashby, worthy grand matron of Georgia, has just returned from a trip to south Georgia in the interest of the Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Ashby held a school of instruction in Waycross and gave a lecture on "Principles of the Order of the Star." She also visited chapters at Hahira, Milltown, Ray's Mill and other places, giving detailed lectures in ritual work. There is quite an interest in the Order of Eastern Star work generally awakening.

At the Driving Club.
A bright ending to the week socially was the dinner-dance last night at the Driving club.
Palms and ferns and quantities of jonquills decorated the club, and on each table was a vase of jonquills. Among the attractive visitors present was Miss Lil Hodgson, of Athens, who is the guest of Miss Mamie Ansley.
In the center of the room was a refreshment table, where Mrs. Forrest retained for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, of New York. A platoon of yellow roses was the centerpiece of the handsomely appointed table, and all other decorative details were in gold and white.

The Corset Nature's First Assistant to Good Figures

"Mariette Thoughts"
"Mariette Thoughts" produced tangible Mariette responses.
Our earnest advocacy, coupled with the intrinsic merit of Mariette Corsets, appeals to the wearer.
Were we asked to succinctly state why we concentrate our corset efforts on Mariette Corsets we would simply say "Distinction and Distinctiveness."
European originality, coupled with American ingenuity, stood at the cradle of Mariette Corsets and they now are synonymous with Corset Perfection.
Proper corseting satisfies the wearer and pleases the beholder. The corset is the most necessary adjunct in dress. It is Nature's first assistance from a symmetrical as well as healthful point of view. It gives you compactness, security, grace and support.

A well-poised corset produces the snug feeling of a perfect fitting glove or shoe. All other garments radiate from the corset, and this is why we feature "Mme. Mariette Corsets"
Our fitters individualize. They study your figure and aid your selection by expert suggestions based on scientific corset knowledge and training—

The Spring Season Has Opened at ALLEN'S

Every new spring has its first attraction in the striking innovations of dress. Lent gives us opportunity to study these to our heart's content.
The Allen Ready-to-Wear Departments
Offer highest examples of everything that is new and of confirmed good style—and when it is new. Every day brings us something new—almost instantaneous with its New York production. Whatever the day brings, the certain thing is that it stands first in the style it represents.

Very gratifying is the commendation we are daily receiving regarding the extensive smart styles, the excellent qualities, the artistic effects and, above all, the remarkable values provided in

Our Dress Department
Not alone the spring silk attractions in taffeta and crepe, but very many advanced summer styles. Black is to be popular for summer, as the developments would indicate, these being net, lace and chiffon, in combination with taffeta or crepe de chine.
The Dress of Many Frills
Is a striking illustration, being a succession of frills of net or chiffon, gathered or accordion pleated, from belt to hem, and having a blouse quite as fluffy as appropriate finish to this beautifully daring costume.

Other striking things for summer are cotton crepes of white and those embroidered in far apart patches of color—quaint and difficult to tell about, so odd and pretty is the effect.
$35, $40, $45, $50, $65 and up to $85
Spring Dresses of Small Expense
The spring dresses of present need and small expense are shown here in most attractive designs, fluffy beruffled models, or with tunics and puffs, in taffeta, crepe de chine and pussy willow, plain or figured, street and evening styles.
$17.75 and $19.75
The New Polo Coats
The White Polo Coat is the jaunty, smart wear at the country clubs, and all outdoor sports. We show the newest spring models with Raglan shoulders and belts, a touch of brilliant color peeping from the linings of collar and cuffs.
$19.75

Our Dress Department
The Allen Suit Special $25
New Butterfly Model
Giving you an agreeable surprise is showing you our latest suit arrivals—those at $25. Developed in the new butterfly effect in black and white checks, with black moire or taffeta trimmings, these suits are marvels of art.
Again it is seen in blue gabardine, in blue and black serge—a really wonderful display of style. See these while they are here.
$25.00
Our Suit Department shows the richest assortment of handsome Spring Suits ever brought South. Come in for the information and demonstration that convinces.
Wool Suits, $25 to $85 Silk Suits, $35 to $210
Crepe and Voile Blouses Sound an Important Note
If you have a doubt with regard to the popularity of the new style Spring Blouse, just glance into our second floor blouse department, and note the beautiful blouses we're selling at
$2, $2.95, $5 and $5.95
Spring Millinery at $10
If we didn't tell you it belonged to our $10 line you would regard it as imported millinery at about double this price.
Paris and New York have contributed ideas that are carried out in less expensive form, and there is such a vast assortment that every woman will find a suitable and becoming model at this price.

Overworked Women

AMBITIOUS that their homes shall be kept neat and attractive, children well dressed and family well nourished, thousands of women in our homes are sacrificing their health to duty. They cook, wash, iron, dust, mend and sew, until some female trouble fastens itself upon them and their every day life is a continual struggle with weakness and pain.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest American Safeguard to woman's health. For three generations it has been relieving women from the worst forms of female ills until there is hardly a town or hamlet where women do not reside who have been restored to health by its use.

How Three Overworked Women Found Help.—Their Own Statements Follow:

CUMMING, GA.—"I tell some suffering woman every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or sleep, had a bad stomach and was in misery all the time. I could not do my housework or walk any distance without suffering great pain. I tried doctors' medicines and different patent medicines but failed to get relief. My husband brought home your Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything, could sleep like a healthy baby, and walk a long distance without feeling tired. I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did, and you are at liberty to use this letter."—Mrs. CHARLIE BAGLEY, R. 3, Cumming, Ga.

FLORENCE, So. DAKOTA.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSSEN, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

ADRIAN, MICH.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get weak so that I would have to lie down before I did my dusting. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' I did, and after taking 2 bottles I felt better, and after 3 months use I am well."—Mrs. A. E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Every sick woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, for it cannot harm her, and there are a hundred chances to one that it will completely restore her health.

The Political Rights of Women

MRS. MARY L. McLENDON, Editor

President Georgia Woman's Suffrage Association

March 17, 1914. Senator Borah, of Idaho, astonished the suffragists who assembled in the galleries of the national capitol expecting to hear him make a strong plea for the amendment to the constitution of the United States...

Senator Borah said "You will never carry the required thirty-six states for a constitutional woman suffrage amendment until you repeal the fifteenth amendment..."

"Please wire your senators that your association desires vote on the suffrage amendment at close of debate. On March 18 the explanation came in a letter and reads 'The particular point of this letter is to explain the reason for my asking you to wire your senators...'"

"First, because of states rights, second because it means that we will enfranchise the negro women, of which they strongly disapprove. The senate has been elected most carefully and we feel convinced that we know exactly which way every senator will vote..."

There is no Suffrage Row. The heading of a newspaper article reads "Suffrage Row" and the article is headed "Suffrage Row"...

She Sees Victory. "Our fight is practically won," says Mrs. McCormick. "After a week of debate in the senate we can see victory for equal suffrage in the United States as plain as day..."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM AT HILL ST. WINS CLOSE GAME

The Hill Street School Literary and Debating society held its monthly meeting Friday, March 12.

The program was interesting throughout. Among the many visitors at the society meeting was Rev. J. A. Moore.

He made a very creditable speech to the children. His visit was certainly appreciated and we expect to see him present at the future meetings.

The debate, "Resolved, That moving pictures shows do more harm than good," was won by the affirmative side.

The affirmative was led by Edwin Williams, who was assisted by John Peppers and Harry Allen.

Charles Williams, Charlie Winburn and the negative and J. C. Shelton and Johnnie McManon were speakers.

The decision was rendered by the judges in favor of the affirmative.

The oratory contest for the medal was won by the affirmative side.

130 FRASER PUPILS BECOME MEMBERS OF GARDEN LEAGUE

The C. C. Knight society held its seventh annual meeting last week, and a good program was rendered to the patrons.

The winners of the medals for the boys' high school were Donald Fraser, Joseph Wells, and Joseph Wells.

The winners of the girls' medals were Florence Sanders, of the former grade, and Lettie Newborn, of the latter.

The dialogue called "Love," played by three boys, made a great hit, and all through the performance there was a burst of laughter.

After coming near the top for four weeks, the fifth grade A can at last boast of winning the banner for spelling.

This makes the fourth grade that has won the banner so far.

MARIST COLLEGE TO LOSE TWO STARS

By Eugene Oberdorfer. On Thursday afternoon, the Prep Basketball league activities, as far as Marist college is concerned, were brought to a close by the unfortunate defeat of Marist by the Boys' High school, at the Atlanta Athletic club.

Boys' High, Donald Fraser and Marist were knocked in a triple tie for the local pennant, so it was arranged that two of the teams should meet and then the victor could meet with the third team, thus determining the winner by a process of elimination.

Marist and the High school were the teams chosen to play the opening game, booked for Wednesday on the Marist court. Just after the first half, with Marist leading 13 to 19, an untimely shower cancelled the game and brought new hope for the High school. The game was then called to be played as above explained.

It was a mighty battle from beginning to end. Marist men were at their best and had plenty of chances for baskets, but some of them seemed to be out of their minds.

Many a time they were out of the hoop and then fell out. The team has made its splendid record on its own merits, but it is no support, help or encouragement of any kind.

Hubert, McCall, Coker, Dodge and Larson are the players who Marist athletic records as names to conjure with. Shag Hubert, from the former grade, is a very fine player. In this work "Mucker" McCall has been his right-hand man, quieting petty disagreements and smoothing out difficulties.

Both Hubert and McCall have played basketball for several years. They are seniors. The latter will very likely go to Georgia, while Hubert will remain in Atlanta. Any college player who has played for several years may consider two such sterling characters.

The remaining members of the team are expected to continue their studies at Marist, and may be expected to show something under "inter prospectus" next year.

WAITING THE MAGIC WORD.

An Associated Press dispatch says: President Wilson today manifested his deep interest in the financial condition of the railroads of the country, expressing a desire to help in every legitimate way to bring them relief.

If the president's attitude reflects the attitude of the government generally, congress included, we are on the threshold of an era of unprecedented business expansion. The situation has reached the point where the president's "deep interest in the financial condition of the railroads" is the equivalent of a "deep interest in the financial condition of the country."

The railroad rehabilitation of the country demands, for its immediate exigencies, a sum exceeding a billion dollars. In an admirable analysis published elsewhere Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, says the sum required is far beyond that.

But capital is cognizant of the long-drawn-out public and governmental hostility to the railroads. It knows that while this hostility is based partially on demagoguery, it is based largely on the shortsightedness of the railroads themselves in not having dealt fairly with the people. When it is assured that this state of distrust is dissipated, and that the railroads will be held to a square accounting with the people, capital will come forward with the billion dollars urgently needed for railroad betterments.

The moment capital is certain the signals read "safety" from the public on one side, the government on the other, the roads on the third—

It will loosen into every channel of industrial activity in this country the enormous sum required to standardize the railroads of the country to the demand of the time.

For ten years the railroads have been steadily going down at the heel because of the antagonism—often justified—that shut them out of the money market. They are faced by nearly a decade's accumulation of construction and repairs in every channel.

For changing the grades of American railroads; for projecting new and auxiliary lines; for double-tracking; for new sidings; for constructing new and repairing old stations; for enlarging equipment generally, the services of a small army of civil engineers alone will be required.

The number of laborers engaged needed for this work will reach a total many times as large as our standing army. Enough horses and mules will be required to assure the top-notch revival of the business of stock-breeding. Enough excavating and dirt removing machinery will be required to run every plant supplying these items beyond capacity for many months.

Enough new steel rails will be required to keep every mill in the Birmingham and Pittsburg districts working at higher pressure than ever before. The number of laborers here affected will run far into the thousands.

More cement will be required than all the cement plants of the country can readily supply.

More cross-ties will be required than at any one time in the history of American railroading.

Bridge works will be driven to capacity.

Lumber mills supplying railroad construction will have a congestion of orders. Car factories and the car wheel foundries will have to enlarge to meet the demand. Locomotive works will exceed the production that made 1906 phenomenal. Electrical works, mechanical appliance factories, railroad accessories, every line bearing on the construction, operation or maintenance of railroads will experience the banner period of its existence.

Speak of the "unemployed!" This industrial revival will be on so mammoth a scale as to muster into industrial service the greatest army of workers this country has ever seen.

So great, so all-pervading will it be as to mobilize under the flag of prosperity the mightiest industrial force of the world's history.

Here are a few collateral effects: Banking and financial activities the country over will at once feel the touch of this new rush for business.

That means general financial and commercial health.

Great as will be the direct influence of the expenditure of this vast sum, the collateral effect will be felt by every line of business in the country.

Every laborer that handles a pick or shovel, or mans steam machinery, or swings a hammer or directs a riveter—

Every engineer who runs a line or handles a rod—

Every man that puddles a pig of iron—

Every draughtsman that draws a blue print—

Every architect that designs a station—

Every man in the mill or the foundry—

Every man that twists a throttle or helps run a train or handles a key—

Every man of the myriad host that have to do with railroad construction, maintenance and operation in this country—

MUST, WITH THOSE DEPENDENT UPON HIM, BE CLOTHED, FED, AMUSED, INSURED, HOUSED!

This means a revival to unprecedented proportions of the wholesale and retail business; of clothing factories; of coal mine activity; of structural building; of insurance activity; of real estate activity; of amusement activity; of every other line of commercial or industrial pursuit.

Where one man is now at work, there will then be many; where a hundred, perhaps a thousand.

It will mean America the busiest season this country has ever known.

In the light of this reasoning, is the average man longer dubious as to HIS stake in this revival of prosperity? The question answers itself.

Upon what is the fulfillment of this actual vision awaiting—

SIMPLY UPON THE INSPIRATION OF THE MAGIC WORD THAT GOVERNMENT AND RAILROAD HAVE SIGNED TRUCE, THE ONE DEMANDING, THE OTHER ACCEPTING, AN HONEST COURSE OF CONDUCT, PROTECTION FROM DEMAGOGY, A JUST RETURN UPON INVESTMENT; THAT PUBLIC AND RAILROAD HAVE SIGNED TRUCE, OLD HOSTILITY BURIED WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT THE RAILROAD SHALL PERFORM NO MORE FEATS IN HIGH FINANCE TO JUSTIFY REVIVAL OF HOSTILITY; THAT EVERY DOLLAR AUTHORIZED TO BE SPENT IS TO BE SPENT AS IT IS AUTHORIZED.

With the signing of this pact, capital will loosen the purse-strings; one billion dollars and more will be forthcoming; the country will enter into its greatest period of prosperity, based upon legitimate expansion and not wild speculation or expansion.

The quicker the pact is signed, the better. Delay only damages!

THE TREATY OF INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PEACE OF 1914 WILL MEAN MORE TO THE POCKET OF THE AVERAGE MAN THAN ANY GOVERNMENT OR BUSINESS ACTION TAKEN SINCE THE STARS AND STRIPES WERE FLUNG TO THE BREEZE.

The country is awaiting the magic word!

A CALL TO MUSICAL ATLANTA.

A committee from the Atlanta Musical Association, of which Mrs. John M. Slaton is the president, will this week wait on representative Atlantans to ascertain their attitude with regard to the continuation of the notable work of the Atlanta Philharmonic orchestra. For the past two seasons the orchestra has employed the best musical talent of the city in its concerts, largely through the aid of funds raised by the personal efforts of Mrs. Slaton. Patronage of the concerts has been enthusiastic and growing in volume. But the question of financing the orchestra has been from the start a precarious one, and the guiding spirits of the association feel that unless the people of Atlanta manifest a substantial interest in the project, they are not justified in continuing it.

It should be needless to outline the scope and character of a symphony orchestra. Such an organization represents the highest form of art. Symphony orchestras are never money-making propositions, or financial ventures in any sense. In most of the great cities, and many of the small cities, of the country they are maintained either by subscription or endowment. Persons with an adequate love and knowledge of music are everywhere willing to go down in their pockets to sustain an enterprise of this nature, for its educational value alone, not to mention its spiritual contribution to the community's life.

The symphony concerts in Atlanta have been given under increasing difficulties. No amount of economy in the number of rehearsals or in the matter of imported artists, and this is the sort of skimping that hurts music, has prevented liberal calls upon the guarantors. The members of the association believe that a city that supports grand opera and other high forms of art so liberally as Atlanta, has in it the willingness to support a symphony orchestra that will rank the city with the foremost musical centers of the country. But they are unwilling to continue to prosecute their task against obstacles unless an abundant spirit of co-operation is manifest.

The Constitution believes with the association that Atlanta wants and will support an artistic enterprise of this ennobling description. All that is needed is to have the matter presented with the proper emphasis to the music lovers of this city. The response this week to members of the committee should be such as not only to insure the concerts for the immediate future, but to place the orchestra upon a permanent basis.

A SOUTHERN NATIONAL PARK.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, through its executive committee, has joined other southern commercial bodies in petitioning congress for a national park in the southern Appalachians.

From the national health point of view, not to mention patriotism and the duty of a government to provide wholesome relaxation to its citizens, a national park in the southern Appalachian region would be highly appropriate.

The west is notable for the great reservations set aside by the national government as playgrounds for the people. The east and the south are virtually devoid of such resources.

In the mountainous regions of the south, especially in North Carolina and Georgia, splendid locations offer for such a park, and one of the best features is that such a place could be made easily accessible for all of America east of the Mississippi river.

In Blue Ridge Georgia are scenery and altitudes and general topographical attractions found nowhere outside of Switzerland, and not easily surpassed even there.

As conditions now exist, land can be purchased in this section at a price that is relatively nominal. Enough can be secured to make possible parks that, in acreage at least, will compare favorably with Yosemite and Yellowstone.

Ten, or even five, years from now it is very likely that these sites will be unavailable, except at almost extortionate prices. If the government is going to establish national parks on this side of the continental divide, the time for it to get busy is now, and not later.

If land were bought in the southern Appalachians, and a fraction of the amount spent on its improvement as on the improvement of parks toward the far west, it is a certainty that the visitors to the southern parks, speaking comparatively, would equal or exceed those going west. The patriotic motive should be sufficient to set in motion the necessary southern commercial and political influences. And if patriotism is too casual, the commercial side is attractive enough.

TAFT KEEPS PERSPECTIVE.

Former President Taft gains in sanity and perspective with the passage of the months since he returned to private life. For illustration, his recent declination of the presidency of Delaware college at Wilmington. Mr. Taft is now a member of the faculty of Yale, but it may well be thought that the tender of the presidency of a college might have some inducements to a man of his high ambitions for service. But when he received the offer, he very promptly sent a reply, which read that "I am quite content with my position in New Haven and I could not accept the presidency of any university or college for two reasons: first, because I am not fitted for it; and second, because I have other work in which I believe I can do more good."

How many former presidents of the United States do we find confessing that they are not "fitted" for any distinction that may offer? The common sense and the clear perspective of Taft come as a welcome relief. He seems to have found his work. He is willing to admit that other fields may test his equipment to the breaking point and, what is more to the point, he does not hesitate to say so.

Mr. Taft as president was a poor politician. He was betrayed by such counselors as Wickersham, Hitchcock, et al. He lacked in daring and he had a glaring weakness when it came to sensing public sentiment.

As a private citizen, Mr. Taft is quite another and a more commanding personality. He sacrifices nothing of dignity. But he also keeps his idea of the value of things. He is satisfied with a professorship in Yale. He does not yearn for the presidency of any college or university, and he is frank enough to say it is because he does not believe himself fitted to hold down the job.

It may be that some day Mr. Taft will be lured back into politics. We hope not. For he is too broad and ingenuous a spirit to be spoiled by the intrigues of a game selfish at its finest. But at least, he will have the satisfaction of knowing that as a private citizen he set a stiff pace for common sense, for courage and for ideals of public service far from self-seeking.

"A call," thoughtfully muttered the old fellow, as he scratched his head and seemed to be trying to recall something; "why, that's no callin' 'at's a raise! RAILROAD STANDARDIZATION WOULD MEAN PROSPERITY TO EVERY AMERICAN INDUSTRY

-RICHARD H. EDMONDS

Editor Constitution: The editorial in The Constitution of March 12 touching on the money—that has recently been raised for railroad betterment purposes prompts me to say that while the railroads have recently been more successful in securing new capital than for many months, their needs are vastly greater than the amount yet provided. Indeed, what has been raised recently is a mere bagatelle as compared with what is needed. This new capital is so small relatively to the requirements of the railroad situation as to be hardly worthy of special mention, except for the fact that it indicates that there is a somewhat better feeling as to railroad securities.

To meet the real needs of the country, $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 should be expended upon the railroads of the country in bettering existing lines and building new lines within the next eight or ten years. It might safely be said that if that amount of money could be raised and expended within five years, it would not be more than the situation would justify.

Almost Halted. For some years past, railroad building has almost halted and even the extension of old lines into new territory has been on a very limited scale. There are great sections of our country not only in the south, but throughout the entire land, where railroad building would immediately be followed by business activity and increasing prosperity, and where the new railroad would find ample volume of traffic almost from the day its lines were opened. Since 1907 the railroads of the country have not been able to secure sufficient capital to keep up their streets and sewerage systems and waterworks. Atlanta itself is an illustration of this. So railroad business often grows much more rapidly than facilities can be provided for handling it except by extraordinary means. If Atlanta, for instance, could find no market for its bonds and had to depend entirely upon its actual income for all of its municipal improvements, its progress would be halted or it would grow so lopsided that eventually the cost of reconstructing the city would be staggering. The same conditions hold true in railroad work.

I do not think that the railroads have ever yet worked out a scientific freight rate. I think many of their regulations as to passengers and freight business could be vastly improved to the benefit of the road as well as of the people; but when the officers of the railroads of the country are struggling every day as they have been for years to meet legislative demands and at the same time to find money absolutely required to make any improvement, they are loath to look after lessening the annoyances to which travelers are constantly put and to better the handling of freight.

Up to the President. If President Wilson is as anxious as I believe he is to have his administration marked by great prosperity and great national progress, I believe that there is nothing else that he could do which would be productive of so much good in that respect as to acquaint the country with the situation and encourage the people to take a kinder view of railroads. If he could give assurance to the public as to governmental safeguarding of railroad interests, to such an extent as to make railroad securities ones more of a favorite investment, there would soon come a quick change in the whole business situation. If the proposed rate increase which eastern roads have asked could be promptly granted, and every day's delay means danger to every business interest in the country, it would be hailed as an affair of the greatest importance. Those interests are not to be sacrificed, but that they are to be protected and safeguarded by the power of the national government. This 5 per cent increase would be a mere trifle as compared with the aggregate amount of money the railroads have to raise. Finance would be tremendous in bringing new money into railroad work. It would be interpreted everywhere as an expression of friendly interest and of co-operation in the broader development of the railroads of the country. And this interpretation would result in an immediate and tremendous stimulus to railroad expansion.

RICHARD H. EDMONDS, Editor Manufacturers' Record, Daytona, Fla., March 17, 1914.

South Not Awake. And yet we of the south have not at all grasped the possibilities of this section, nor do we yet have an adequate appreciation of its advantages as compared with other sections.

The more I have studied the south during the last thirty years, the stronger is my conviction that we have not begun to measure the potentialities of this section nor even to gain a fair appreciation of its advantages.

We really haven't taken the south seriously. We have talked a little about its agricultural and mineral advantages, about its water powers, its soils and its climate, but we haven't thrown our whole soul into a hearty realization of and a utilization of these advantages for the creation of almost boundless wealth. Compared with our opportunity, we have really done but little to make the world understand our unexcelled wealth.

The opening of the Panama canal will concentrate the world's attention upon the South and will necessarily force a larger development in this section, but we will get very little of what is our right unless we take broader steps than we have taken in utilizing the opportunities of the Panama canal, and the influence which its opening will have upon the whole world.

We must have in this section railroads built along modern lines, eliminating curves

DAILY GRIST From the STATES POLITICAL GRIND

POLITICAL STORM TO BREAK SOON IN TENTH DISTRICT. Augusta, Ga., March 21.—(Special.)—The political horizon here gives promise of the first break of the tenth district storm in the congressional race not later than next week.

Following immediately on the heels of the announcement that Colonel Willis Evans will enter the race in a few days, Judge E. T. Rawlings, of Sandersville—both these candidates from Washington county—was in the city yesterday doing what he could to build up a political fence here for the betterment of his chances.

Joseph S. Reynolds, long-time solicitor general of the Augusta circuit, twice a legislator and the first congressional candidate to announce, declares he is still confident he will be the winner, and his campaign is to be more actively waged beginning next week.

While Oswald R. Eves' candidacy has not been formally announced yet, his friends say it will be by or before the middle of next week.

Friends of Hon. Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville, principally Mr. Howard, of that city, have been laying their lines in his behalf in Richmond county for several weeks, and it is an understood Mr. Vinson himself will be down on a handshaking tour in a few days.

All of which, on the face of things, would indicate that there is going to be a right strong race. At the same time, by digging under the top crust, one may find that the people are sitting tight in the boat and waiting for the tosser to say which way they are to go in other words, the party shaking may make pretty fair progress for a week or two, but the real result is going to hinge on the county line-up, a bit on the state situation and a great deal on the inclination—mainly the dictation—of the leaders.

The one big thing in the county this time is going to be the race for sheriff, in which Jailer Tom Blanket is going to be opposed by Bailiff Gus Sturgles. Tom Philip has been mentioned as a candidate for the office, but no definite announcement has come from him. In conjunction with this is going to be an effort to mix the thing up and trade in some promises on the next city election, and bad grades, with double track wherever necessary, and with terminal facilities adequate to the growing needs of the day. We must have railroads like the Clinchfield and the Virginia, the latter built by Henry H. Rogers in the same scientific way, able to haul the heaviest freight trains at the lowest possible cost. What is true of the south in this respect is true of the whole country. Unless the country as a whole is suffering because the railroads are suffering, vast developments would be possible everywhere if railroads could secure the capital needed for expansion. If over night it were possible to so change the complexion of American thought that investors would pour their money into railroad securities, there would come about within a brief space of time activity in railroad building and in every other line of human enterprise to such an extent that instead of there being a surplus of labor, there would be an urgent demand for labor far beyond the supply. So great would be this activity that jobs would be seeking men, and it might almost be said there would be two jobs for every man, for the prosperity which would be created would bring about a great demand for every grade of labor from that of the lowest manual labor to that of the highest technical skill.

Means General Prosperity. Railroad prosperity means general prosperity. Railroad poverty means general poverty. It is impossible for the railroads to make the needed improvements out of earnings. That is too slow a process. Indeed, most roads would go to pieces physically if they had to depend upon their earnings for all of their betterments. Cities sometimes have extensive waterworks and sewerage systems and waterworks. Atlanta itself is an illustration of this. So railroad business often grows much more rapidly than facilities can be provided for handling it except by extraordinary means. If Atlanta, for instance, could find no market for its bonds and had to depend entirely upon its actual income for all of its municipal improvements, its progress would be halted or it would grow so lopsided that eventually the cost of reconstructing the city would be staggering. The same conditions hold true in railroad work.

I do not think that the railroads have ever yet worked out a scientific freight rate. I think many of their regulations as to passengers and freight business could be vastly improved to the benefit of the road as well as of the people; but when the officers of the railroads of the country are struggling every day as they have been for years to meet legislative demands and at the same time to find money absolutely required to make any improvement, they are loath to look after lessening the annoyances to which travelers are constantly put and to better the handling of freight.

Up to the President. If President Wilson is as anxious as I believe he is to have his administration marked by great prosperity and great national progress, I believe that there is nothing else that he could do which would be productive of so much good in that respect as to acquaint the country with the situation and encourage the people to take a kinder view of railroads. If he could give assurance to the public as to governmental safeguarding of railroad interests, to such an extent as to make railroad securities ones more of a favorite investment, there would soon come a quick change in the whole business situation. If the proposed rate increase which eastern roads have asked could be promptly granted, and every day's delay means danger to every business interest in the country, it would be hailed as an affair of the greatest importance. Those interests are not to be sacrificed, but that they are to be protected and safeguarded by the power of the national government. This 5 per cent increase would be a mere trifle as compared with the aggregate amount of money the railroads have to raise. Finance would be tremendous in bringing new money into railroad work. It would be interpreted everywhere as an expression of friendly interest and of co-operation in the broader development of the railroads of the country. And this interpretation would result in an immediate and tremendous stimulus to railroad expansion.

Holder Has Eye on Governorship. SAYS THIS HALL COUNTY REPORT GAINESVILLE, Va., March 21.—(Special.)—The political situation in the ninth district pertaining to aspirants for congressional honors seems to be hinging altogether on the action of Governor John M. Slaton, which will only be known after the state democratic executive committee meets the first week in April.

It is said that Hon. J. N. Holder, of Jefferson, is waiting for the action of not Governor Slaton will be a candidate for the United States senate. Should Governor Slaton enter the race against Senator Smith, Mr. Holder may be a candidate for governor, while Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, is waiting on Mr. Holder's actions before he announces definitely for congress.

It is understood that E. W. Watkins will not be a candidate for congress, and should Mr. Holder enter for governor, there will be only two candidates for congress from the ninth, Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, Jackson county, and Hon. Thomas M. Bell, Hall county.

Judge Quincy Looking Over Situation in Eleventh District. Brunswick, Ga., March 21.—(Special.)—Judge J. W. Quincy, of Douglas, who is prominently mentioned as a congressional candidate against Congressman J. Randall Walker, of the eleventh district, was in Brunswick yesterday, coming here, as he said, to confer with some of his political friends.

When asked whether or not he had decided to become a candidate, Judge Quincy said that he was not yet prepared to give any definite announcement.

"I have had the matter under consideration for the past few weeks," said the well-known jurist, "but I am not yet fully decided. Many of my friends in all sections of the district have urged me to enter the race, but there are many things to be considered. You may say, however, that I will arrive at a decision and make a definite announcement as to whether or not I will be a candidate before the first of April."

Judge Quincy is at present judge of the Waycross circuit.

We Are Twenty-Seven Years Old Today

¶ The house of Maier & Berkele, Inc., was founded in 1887.

¶ This is the oldest jewelry house of continuous existence in Atlanta. It is the biggest, having grown from a small partnership to a corporation with a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $69,000.

The Business has produced its own capital for every increase, and Atlanta produced the original investment.

¶ This is an Atlanta institution in every sense of the word. Its officers and directors are:

H. A. Maier, President

Frederic J. Paxon, Vice-President

J. T. Fleming, Secretary and Treasurer

Asa G. Candler

Robert J. Lowry

W. J. Davis

John E. Murphy

Robert Stahl

Hubert W. Anderson

¶ The president, who is also the managing director, is a native of Atlanta. He was born at the corner of Alabama and Forsyth streets June 2, 1864, while the cannon were booming at the Battle of Kennesaw Mountain. He is a practical jeweler, having learned his trade at the bench of J. P. Stevens. He is a diamond buyer of rare skill and judgment. Some of the heads of departments have been with Mr. Maier through the entire twenty-seven years.

“SO THAT a child can buy as safely here as the shrewdest trader—”

¶ These words spell confidence.

¶ Upon confidence—the confidence of Atlanta and the South—is built this institution. To promote public confidence in us is our hope of future growth.

¶ Contemplating our success we attribute it to a number of causes, all arising from these two fundamentals:

One Price to All People;

One Rule of Fairness to All Officers and Employes of the Company.

¶ Each of these invariable rules underlies and vitalizes the policy of this house, that—

Business efficiency and public convenience are best served by a firm so organized and equipped that, automatically, it secures the best goods at lowest cost, adds a fair profit and distributes purchases most promptly, courteously and neatly to the public at large.

THE House of Maier & Berkele, Inc., is a permanent stronghold of business integrity and efficiency—efficiency to secure for its supporting public the world's best jewelry stocks at the fairest prices. Every member of our buying and selling organization contributes to efficiency, trains an assistant to continue his work, cuts out lost motion wherever found and seeks to maintain the firm as an institution in the public service, regardless of the life of any individual.

¶ The efficiency of Maier & Berkele, Inc., in buying and selling jewelry has been increased greatly by the profit-sharing plan established some years ago, the first, we believe, in Atlanta. The organization became more compact and more thorough. An immediate stimulus was felt throughout. We believe this feeling on the part of employes, that the business belongs in part to them, has caused them to study more carefully the wishes of our customers and to seek more thorough knowledge of the merits and quality of goods under their charge. The confidence our employes have in the house is of vital consequence to our customers.

ON THIS, our twenty-seventh anniversary, we thank the people of Atlanta and the South for a fifty per cent increase every year in our mail order department and for the patronage that has increased our retail jewelry trade in this city.

¶ Increased business demands more room, to gain which we are discontinuing our art goods departments and giving over the space and energies to an extension of the jewelry departments.

¶ We are remodeling one store and ask you to watch the progress of our alterations. Come in and visit the departments untouched by the workmen. You need not feel under any obligations to buy. We have here an exposition of rare wares from all over the world and we want you to see them. We will sell them in due time—there's no need to hurry about that—and their value never depreciates; so you should have no hesitancy about “just visiting and looking around.”

¶ When the manufacturing departments are moved to give greater efficiency; when the salesrooms are enlarged and beautified for the better display of exhibits, we will have a special visiting day which will be announced later. At present, come at your convenience, look to suit your pleasure and stay as long as you like.

¶ Next week the House of Maier & Berkele, Inc., will have its annual family dinner, when officers and employes, though they meet in business conference every morning and discuss plans for the day, will relax for a time and celebrate the completion of twenty-seven years of successful business.

¶ The House of Maier & Berkele, Inc., bids you welcome to its displays throughout the twenty-eighth year.

If hotels generally adopt your system you will free the road of crooks," said William J. Burns, the detective, after an examination of the system.

The following letter to traveling salesmen explains the plan to the men most vitally interested—the men who will be registered.

WHOLESALE PAPER HOUSE

THE S. P. RICHARDS COMPANY.

SCALE COMPANY TO OPEN BRANCH HERE

Dodge Scale Company of New York Will Cover Southern States From Atlanta.

Every time the erection of a new skyscraper is started the same old story is sprung. Folks begin talking about who's going to fill it up and where are the coming firms? They seem to forget to take into consideration the fact that Atlanta is known as the "mountain city" and the "city of the south." Cold facts, beyond the question of a doubt, basally substantiate the fact that a new building is finished, it immediately becomes filled. And they keep coming.

The Dodge Scale Company of New York, will about April 1 open permanent headquarters in Atlanta to handle the southern states.

The Atlanta office and, of course, the southern territory, will be in charge of E. E. Williams, who expects to work several salesmen in the new field.

Mr. Williams has been a hustler around Atlanta for some twelve years and his many friends have heartily congratulated him on his content of his success in the new venture.

BINDER FRAME CO. TO KEEP ATLANTA OFFICE

About fourteen years ago four brothers moved from Chicago to Atlanta, Georgia, and established the Binder Frame Manufacturing Company. The business was successful from the start.

After operating for twelve years in Atlanta it became necessary, for various reasons, to establish headquarters in Chicago. When this move was made Atlanta became southern branch.

Several days ago it was announced that the Atlanta office would be discontinued, because the business in the southern territory could be handled as efficiently from Chicago at less expense.

When the announcement was made the company little dreamed it would be met with such strong protests from their trade as to cause them to reconsider their decision.

In discussing the matter with Mr. I. N. Binder, he said: "We are maintaining a local distributing house was so impressed on us by our many customers who have decided to continue operating here. The stock that was on hand here at the time we announced our decision has been practically disposed of, but we are restocking the same numbers show in position to promptly care for all orders."

Joseph Binder, president of the company, has decided to stay in Atlanta for several days, and now that the Atlanta branch has gotten well started under the new management, he will return to Chicago, accompanied by I. N. Binder.

Sees Trade Increase of Ten Thousand Per Cent in Eight Years

T. K. Johnson, sales manager of the John Deere Plow company, of Atlanta, occupies a position for which he is well fitted.

Ten years of steady, active service, and the weight of age for him is a matter for future speculation as he is still a young man.

In 1904, Mr. Johnson became connected with the John Deere Plow company, starting in with the St. Louis office, to cover Missouri and Oklahoma territory.

After serving some two years in that territory, he was transferred in 1906 to the south, to travel the states of Georgia and Florida, making Atlanta headquarters.

Atlanta at that time was only a "backwater" territory, practically a virgin field for the company.

In the hands of Mr. Johnson, the business from this territory began to grow. Its steady, continued growth was something remarkable, and after six years had grown to such proportions that the company realized that it was immediately necessary for them to give more attention and better service to this section.

After a thorough investigation, the company decided to open a branch house in Atlanta to handle the business of six southeastern states, namely, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, North and South Carolina. The branch was established on April 1, 1912.

There are now twenty salesmen traveling out of the Atlanta office and these salesmen are transferring more than 100 cars a year to meet the demand from the six states.

It is needless to say that Mr. Johnson's work has been absolutely satisfactory in every detail and that his company made no mistake when they selected such a man for this important post.

S. P. RICHARDS COMPANY AGENTS FOR PRANG LINE

The S. P. Richards company have become agents for the south for Prang artists' materials. It is the first time that this line has been represented in the southern states and the Richards company is highly pleased at having secured this important post.

The headquarters of the Prang company is New York, with only five branch distributing points, as follows: New York, Chicago, Boston, Dallas and Atlanta.

RETAILERS' TRIPS TO MARKET PROFIT

Merchants Now Visit Trade Centers Regularly to Keep Stocks Stylish.

A trip to the primary market is always a good thing for the retailer, even if he does not buy a thing, and he has never seen it better presented than in the following, which gives some good ideas on the lines of buying close to home.

It is reported that the large Cleveland retailers have been compelled to recall their salesmen from the road because of an absolute lack of interest on the part of retailers with whom they hope to do business.

Generally, are, according to common understanding, absolutely indifferent to anything that is offered, just now particularly, largely because they intend to be here in numbers toward the latter end of the month, when they will be buying or making their selections from what they see here.

"They are inclined to consider this trip as being important, because it gives them a diversion which they enjoy, and keeps them in touch with what the metropolitan houses are offering in the line of the new season. It gives them a different atmosphere entirely and is considered unimportant by many of them, as they did last year, return to their homes and purchase their requirements of houses without any reference to the goods they first got their ideas.

Apparently until they have made this trip to the primary market, they are inclined to consider that after all this established the precedence of this market as a fashion center, and that while the houses in the home market may have a better selection of goods, they are inclined first to find out what new styles are being offered in the primary market before they make their final arrangements for the season.

"Apparently until they have made this trip to the primary market, they are inclined to consider that after all this established the precedence of this market as a fashion center, and that while the houses in the home market may have a better selection of goods, they are inclined first to find out what new styles are being offered in the primary market before they make their final arrangements for the season.

Instances have not been wanting in the past in which trade-marks have been used to set up fictitious standards. The goods have been so loaded with advertising campaigns that they have failed to show fair competitive values.

The retailer who is not satisfied with the manufacturer's goods, while the goods themselves have been satisfactory, the manufacturer has sought the retailer's cooperation in distribution without sufficiently considering his interest in the profits. In such cases the retailer cannot expect to gain his own profit by his own business and his own profits before all other considerations.

Generally have come to realize on the one hand, however, that false values, although backed by money, are not worth the trouble of opening wide the door to competition and substitution; and on the other, that the retailer who is not satisfied with the manufacturer's goods, while the goods themselves have been satisfactory, the manufacturer has sought the retailer's cooperation in distribution without sufficiently considering his interest in the profits.

W. A. WEBB TO LEAD U. C. T. COUNCIL 18

Well-Known Traveler Is Elected Senior Councillor at Greatest Meeting in History of Lodge.

Editor of the Firing Line: The Atlanta Council, No. 18, gave a Jubilee at their hall Saturday, March 14, at which the election of officers was held.

It was one of the greatest meetings held; I dare say the largest gathering of United Commercial Travelers ever held together at one time in the south.

The committee on arrangements, under the skillful leadership of that brilliant Congressman, Mayor, Brother R. N. Fickett, Jr., issued invitations to all the councils, councilors and their wives and to the great delight of the members of Atlanta, No. 18, the opportunity was graciously accepted by the other councils.

Atlanta Council, No. 18, by this move, started the precedent that will add to the great good of our noble order. It was a regular "get-together" meeting, it enabled us to get acquainted in a social way with our brothers and their wives and sweethearts, and the gracious ladies, God bless them, the flowers of our great southern land, how nobly did they respond to the call.

Never will I object to my husband being away from me to attend his council meetings again, for never did I think that the order stood so much for me and my children.

Space will not allow me to tell all the things that happened, but it will go down in the annals of the United Commercial Travelers of the South as one of the greatest United Commercial Travelers' meetings ever held. Grand Councillor, Brother Ed Ware paid us an official visit, and as he always is, was welcomed by the members of Atlanta Council. Brother Ed Ware paid us an official visit, and as he always is, was welcomed by the members of Atlanta Council.

Officers were elected for the year as follows: W. A. Webb, past senior councillor; C. C. Cox, councillor; W. D. East, junior councillor; E. M. Laureford, secretary and treasurer; H. D. Shackelford, conductor; J. P. Armstrong, executive board; H. M. Ash, W. J. Elliott, C. K. Ayers and J. A. Farnsworth, and were publicly installed.

I will ask for space to publish the names of the good ladies who attended, and will close by saying, let us have more of these "get-together" meetings.

On The Constitution Firing Line With the Commercial Travelers

LOWRY FRUIT CO. MOVES APRIL FIRST

Rapidly Growing Produce Firm Acquires New and Larger Quarters Near the Railroad.

The Lowry Fruit and Produce company, who commenced the wholesale and commission fruit and produce business in February, 1910, at 41 South Broad street, and which building they have occupied since, will move April 1 to 55 and 57 East Alabama street. The main floor of the new quarters contains 6,000 square feet, with a storage capacity for 30 cars, and with a solid concrete basement, which is cool and moist-proof, contains 4,500 square feet and will store approximately 30 cars. The basement will be used mainly for storing potatoes, cabbage, turnips, etc., which require a cool dry place. The main floor will be used for sales room, offices, and display room for seasonal fruits, vegetables, poultry, etc.

In 1910 we opened up at 41 South Broad," says Mr. Lowry, "with no customers—with but little cash and practically no experience. We invested a few dollars at the beginning in postage, writing to a few shippers we had procured in a crude manner. We began to look forward to the coming of the mail carrier to the express wagons—but more times than otherwise they passed us by without a letter or a package. We determined to stick it out as long as we had a penny or had a friend to back us. So with persistence and a lot of grit, we passed the crisis and have from time to time increased our business to its present stage.

"We are now handling car lots of sweet and Irish potatoes, oranges, grapefruit, apples, onions and turnips; and will soon be handling tomatoes and other Florida vegetables in car lot quantities. Strawberries, pineapples, celery, lettuce, eggplants, carrots, beets, peppers, cauliflower and pineapples now moving to us from Florida by express, but on account of recent cold snaps and higher prices prevailing in eastern markets, the movement has not been as free as we would like to see it. However, we anticipate heavier receipts from now on, and trust to have plenty to supply all our customers.

"Sweet potatoes and onions are about the scarcest we have ever known. However, we have arranged to keep our customers supplied with sweets by contracting several cars of Delaware sweet potatoes, which we keep on hand continually. We will soon have Texas Bermuda onions, which will relieve the scarcity to a certain extent.

"Sorghum cane seed will be the choicest ever recorded this season, prices having advanced 25 to 30 cents per bushel during the past week, and from all accounts, it will be a problem to supply the demand at the present. We have bought two cars to the present, but have orders booked against our purchases for the majority of yesterday.

"Poultry and eggs are again becoming scarce, and in consequence the market has advanced somewhat. A little warm weather will have the tendency to relieve this situation. We handle words of poultry, eggs and butter."

NOTES OF THE CITY SALESMEN

The C. S. A. is working smoothly in the hands of the new administration. Prices have advanced somewhat, but a renewed interest in the association.

Brother W. T. Daniel, with F. E. Block company, was present today. J. S. Everett and I. C. Chandler are in regular attendance again, and we are always glad to see them.

I. C. Harrison and F. E. Kibler is another pair usually come in and get their "How proud we would be to have all salesmen take a like interest in the regularity of attendance."

Brother E. C. Towler was up this morning smiling and happy, and has that "I should worry" expression with him.

We regret very much to learn of the death of the father of our beloved president, C. H. Holt. Brother Holt has our sincerest sympathy in his sorrow.

The good wife of Brother C. E. Register is quite ill at home. We trust she will soon be on the road to recovery.

The hundreds of friends of Brother H. L. Simmons will rejoice to learn he is improving at Hot Springs. It is hoped Brother Simmons will soon be back home to once more take up his work.

Brother M. M. Anderson is a regular attendant and takes an active and helpful interest in the work of the association.

It was the intention of the finance committee to make a trip looking to the selection of a place for our summer excursion, but on account of the death of Mr. Holt's father, the trip has been postponed for a few days.

It won't be long now until the secretary will be called at old Ponce de Leon, and most of the boys will be answering "here."

The C. S. A. boys are all good fans, but they don't let their enthusiasm for the game interfere with business.

We hope to see a good attendance at the meeting next Saturday.

Some Things Salesman Should Know.

That his employer's business is his success. That his advancement depends entirely upon his own individual effort. That success is never attained without hard work. That he will never get something for nothing. That he should never be ashamed to do his employer what he would have another do for him. That he is not paid merely for his presence, but for his work—and is judged accordingly.

IS IT IMPOSSIBLE TO PLAY SQUARE GAME?

A Dilemma—With the pure fabric and labeling bills pending in congress, the clothing manufacturer finds himself the victim of conflicting sympathies. In short, he is confronted by a dilemma that would seem to defy solution, and which has all the earmarks of three-card monte, whichever way he plays he loses. Here's what he's up against, as it was pointed out by a man familiar with the subject, yesterday.

"The fake sale is known to be one of the greatest evils in the industry," said this man. "If the pure fabric bill, including the one which requires every manufacturer to label his product, become law, no manufacturer would want to risk his reputation by having his garments sold at one of these sales. On the other hand, no manufacturer wants to let the retailers know just whom he is selling, because there are times when, owing to the accumulation of stock, he is able to offer one a better price than another."

TRADE NEWS

A T. Moreland south Alabama salesman for the John Deere Plow company, is in the city for a day or so.

W. H. Stenz, manager, and F. R. Lubbock, division sales manager, both of the John Deere Plow company, of Atlanta, have returned from Moline, Ill., factory headquarters. They attended a semi-annual meeting of branch house managers. They are enthusiastic over the bright business. Business is fine and the factory is going at full blast.

John Silvey & Co appear to be having a little house warming, judging from the number of salesmen hanging around yesterday. The house was full of 'em. There was R. E. Jackson, Banks Whitman, Frank Corry, V. M. Hyatt, J. W. Hughes, R. C. Jones, Sam Johnson, H. T. Burton and maybe more blew in later. We don't know. Salesmanager Rambo was all smiles. The force evidently brought in some good orders. Messrs. Hyatt and Jackson did because they were arguing as to which one had delivered the biggest single order. Let's take a chance on giving them honorable mention; they probably deserve it.

City Salesman Ed Stroud, of E. J. Adams company, was called to Henry county last week on account of the death of his father and his trade was covered by G. B. McDowell.

A mighty nice opening "I was sold by E. J. Adams company" week, M. T. Turpin, of Stockridge, was the buyer. The bill was sold in the house.

J. L. Reddick, north Georgia salesman for the John Deere Plow company, is back from a special trip to the Rehance buggy factory at St. Louis, Mo. The trip was in the interest of the company.

A. T. Stephens, of the John Deere Plow company, is back from a special trip to Griffin, Ga., where he attended John Deere day, with one of his customers there.

E. L. Adams had a call from J. D. Nelson, of Bremen, Ga., one day last week.

A. R. Ebb, general traffic manager of the John Deere Plow company, is in the city for a short visit to the local house.

J. R. Thornton was the sole "in" at S. P. Richards company Saturday morning. He had a good week and made some nice orders with him and prophesied great happenings in the order line for next week.

F. C. Cameron, of the John Deere Plow company, is back from a special trip to Griffin, Ga., where he attended John Deere day, with one of his customers there.

J. O. Castleberry, the handsome salesman of Dougherty-Little-Redwine company, may have to stay in the city this week. He has been summoned to juror service in Judge Reid's court. When he appears to answer the summons tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, his excuse will be—over age—unless he can find one more to his taste. He might hate to stay in the city all week and do jury duty. You never can tell.

Last week was "come-in" week at Ragan-Malone company. And yesterday they were "in" in great numbers. Sam Hanes, W. C. Croft, M. J. Johnson, Garland Turner, Z. F. Daniels, W. M. Scott, J. C. Hanes, W. J. Swanson left Friday afternoon for his territory, after having spent the week in the house. Sam Hanes has covered himself with glory. He was in the house all week and succeeded in making a new record. The biggest week he has ever had by a long way, and he must have sold some goods, because one of the bill clerks was raving about how he had been working nights getting rid of Sam Hanes' invoices for the week. He said "The sales footed up a good month's business and sold faster than he could slip in the daytime."

J. A. Woodliff and H. L. Truett, two men with Dougherty-Little-Redwine company, did team work last week and turned in some mighty fine business.

A. S. Wilkins, covering territory down the Georgia road for Dougherty-Little-Redwine company, was in the house last Monday and Tuesday, with some of his good customers. He made several large bills, which when footed up, amounted to a grand total, making for him one of the biggest weeks of the season. He was leading the sales-force, when the last posting was made, on March 19.

The Atlanta Merchants and Manufac-ture's association, the Atlanta Credit Men's association, the Atlanta Freight bureau, the Atlanta Credit bureau, in fact, all the organizations now being watched over by Secretary Harry T. Moore will soon be pleasantly situated in new quarters. They expect to get moved into their new quarters in the Chamber of Commerce building in the next few days.

BE A GOOD BUYER BY KNOWING TASTES OF YOUR TRADE

Here is the advice of a successful retailer: "More small business ventures come to grief because their owners overstock on merchandise that does not sell quickly than for any other reason. Let me show why small merchants, as well as large should buy often and in small lots. Take a slow selling article that wholesaler, for example, at $9 a dozen, or 75 cents each. Suppose that buying this article single means that it costs 75 cents. The 35 cents on the dozen purchase looks fine at the time of buying and often swings a sale. Suppose, however, that it takes six months to sell the twelve articles at a profit of 25 per cent. This means that the $9 spent earns $2.25 in six months. Suppose on the other hand, that one article had been bought at 75 cents, had been sold at the same profit and the remaining $8.25 had been put into more active merchandise. It is not unusual in this business to turn stock over four times in six months on certain goods. This $8.25 in stock, turned four times with a 25 per cent profit, would mean that the merchant would take in about $42 with a $9 investment, instead of $12.25 as on the dozen purchase.

The Master Salesman.

Successful salesmanship requires specializing or the application of yourself to the selling side of merchandising, or, in other words, concentrate yourself to the subject by constant persistence in an unflinching, never-ending attitude. Indulgence in versatility develops a doubtful accomplishment, and it is too often the cause and cause of failure on the part of many a man in life by not having a single plan and seeing it to a finish. Genius is but the doing of a thing over and over again until sufficient power is developed in hand or brain for the accomplishment of the purpose. A successful salesman must be master of a number of special cardinal points, intelligence, judgment, honesty, frankness, aggressiveness, enthusiasm. He must have that tact to meet the everyday conditions, knocks, rebuffs, etc., in fact, be a big-hearted, broad-minded gentlemanly man.

T. P. A. OF STATE TO MEET IN COLUMBUS

Big Convention Opens on April 2—J. M. Gibbens Is Boosted for President for Next Term.

That a royal time is in store for visitors to Columbus, Ga., during the Travelers' Protective association, state convention, to be held April 2 and 3, is a sure bet. The Travelers' Protective association boys are keeping things on the hum with the elaborate preparations for a great reception. Many features will be included in the plans for entertainment such as baseball, basketball, boat rides, dances, field sports and various other forms of enjoyment.

The state of Georgia is well populated with Travelers Protective associations and the convention at Columbus will no doubt be largely attended. The assurance of a good attendance is already evidenced by the number of letters received by the hotels asking for reservations. Post C of the Travelers' Protective association, at Columbus, has unanimously endorsed its president, J. M. Gibbens, for state president, at the election, which is to be held during the convention. Mr. Gibbens, in addition to his office of president of Post C at Columbus, is first vice president of the state association. Being directed in line for the presidency, in all likelihood he will be chosen to head the state association for the ensuing year. April 2 and 3 is the time Columbus, Ga., is the place. Harmony circle will be convention headquarters. The hat-tie cre runs this. The weary states of Columbus, that issue on golden hinges, are thrown wide open and a royal welcome awaits the T. P. A.'s. Come and enjoy yourself!

Milledgeville, Ga., March 21.—(Special.)—A new department is to be added to the Boys' Reformatory at Milledgeville, which will mean much for the betterment of the boys at that institution.

All three members of the prison commission, R. E. Davison, T. E. Patterson and E. L. NOSTRILS AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD? TRY MY CATARRH BALM

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely; Dull Headache Goes; Nasty Catarrhal Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear.

NOSTRILS AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD? TRY MY CATARRH BALM

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils, penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat, and raw dryness, is distressing but truly needless.

RIGHT NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY GARDEN SEEDS. We have put on an extra force of clerks and are better prepared to serve you than ever before, but we strongly urge all of our customers that can to make their purchases before the rush begins.

Foreign Troubles Have Influence on Our Markets

Reactions Follow Each Advance and Gains Are Wiped Out—Money Market Firmer During Past Week—New Financing.

New York, March 21.—(Special)—The last week in the stock market during the last week of the month or two back, though with each gain in the last five or six days there has been a relapse of active support following which wiped out many of the advances of the one or two strong spots in the trading. As a whole, stock operations have been in small volume and without interest. Professionals have supplied about all of the transactions for four or five weeks. As a result of the many weak markets recently the average of the leading securities at the low of the present week was at very near the same level as at the start of the year, though the average of the present time is considerably below that of last fall. However, about all of the January and early February gains have been wiped out.

The foreign situation has influenced trading here with the Lister crisis in the French political disturbances, the Russian Government difficulties, upsetting the stock exchanges and bourses of Europe and making all but professionals cautious about trading here. The Mexican situation occupied little attention in financial circles during the last few days. Many developments were distinctly favorable, the main one being the news that the New Haven difficulties were about settled. Other news was that the Russian Government had announced the plan to discontinue the dividends on Colorado Southern. Political developments were without influence on securities though some speculating much of the time and attention of traders was centered in copper. One of the best features of the week was that practically no note liquidation was noted. There was selling on every bulge but it was from professional holders and it is believed that long holders have about flushed with their selling with stocks now in stronger hands. Money market conditions were not so favorable and a gain in copper metal prices was offset by poor business and softening prices in the steel industry. The visit of Senator Owen to the stock market here and a better insight into his views on legislation on securities produced some interest in governmental activities in Wall street.

Money Market Firmer.

The money market has been firmer as a result of heavy withdrawals of funds for financing though not as strong as a week ago. The position in the market is believed to be excellent. At this time last week money was very tight, rates were high and bank statements were very unfavorable. However, the situation has improved since the public has stated the yellow metal going there for the account of Europe. It is expected that this movement will continue for several weeks and that the aggregate will be a substantial sum. So far only $90,000,000 in gold has been shipped here for shipment to the Argentine. The borrowing of $20,000,000 in London by the Argentine republic may mean that all of the payments on it may come via New York for European account. The money market has been firmer as a result of heavy withdrawals of funds for financing though not as strong as a week ago. The position in the market is believed to be excellent. At this time last week money was very tight, rates were high and bank statements were very unfavorable.

MARCH COTTON LED BY SHORTS ADVANCE

Market Closed Steady, 4 to 13 Points Higher—Old Crop Shorts Rushed to Cover.

New York, March 21.—The local old crop situation again appeared to be the dominating factor in the cotton market during the day.

Private cables attributed the relatively easy showing of Liverpool to Egyptian selling, and it was also reported that Manchester's spinners were using American cotton.

News from the dry goods trade showed no particular improvement, but indicated a continued steady situation and after opening steady at a point 7 points, the local market sold on a basis of old crop shorts to cover.

Final estimates place the Indian crop at 5,210,000 bales of 400 pounds, or an increase of 12 per cent over last year's crop.

Spot cotton steady; middling uplands 12.50; gulf 12.75. No sales.

The Chic Spring Hat.

Hats that Show the Trend of Spring Millinery

FRENCH blue taffeta caps the crown of the white chip hat in the upper left sketch and is also used for the smart spreading bow placed directly on top. The brim is faced with black taffeta.

The black chip hat opposite with its wide flaring side brim has a single rose cluster of smaller ones in deep shades of rose color as its only trimming.

The brim of the blue milan straw hat in the center of the page stops in front just when it reaches the face, but sweeps upward in the back where an ostrich plume is so arranged to give even greater height. A band of black velvet crosses the crown and disappears in a small bunch of pink flowers on the side.

A smart little bow perched on the end of a piece of wired taffeta ribbon is arranged at the back of the red milan hat in the lower left sketch. The crown is entirely of the taffeta shirred.

White taffeta ribbon cleverly plaited supplies the needed height to the panama hat in the lower right sketch. Though tall in back it diminishes till in front and around the opposite side only a fraction of an inch appears beyond the edge of the brim.

Remarkable Diary of Mrs. Livingston Mims

Being the notations made by her of those things worth more than passing notice, giving an intimate study of the south, throwing interesting sidelights of the men and women of prominence in the days of the south's re-making. Diary edited for publication by Miss Isma Dooly.

LAST INSTALLMENT

This, the last installment of the Diary of Mrs. Livingston Mims, which is copyrighted, and which will in time be published in book form...

The period of time covered is that of 1884 to 1887, Mrs Mims at that time giving up almost entirely all social activities except the hospitality extended in her own home...

Sullivan's Island July 2, 1884—We had a very interesting visit from Colonel Youmans attorney general of South Carolina...

ISMA DOOLY... to our existence. Indeed the Christian science in an elaborated step forward and upward from the same base or principle as was the foundation of Berkeley's metaphysics...

The Power of Silence... For Mr Beckwith looks so tired out with so many services that I love to assure him of the value of his little Lenten talks so Saturday evening after the lecture I went into his study and said 'Well Mr Beckwith, you said one of the finest truths of your life this afternoon. Oh it is inexpressibly beautiful.'

April 1—When assailed by a belief in the puns that for years have crippled my efforts I mentally protest and try to lose myself in the infinite. Whether it heals the body or not and if that it does I leave to the spirit on strong wings of faith into undreamed of heights.

A Pink Tea... Atlanta March 5 1888—Quite a long time have I neglected to chronicle my small beer—a winter of unexemplified gaiety has passed. Atlanta indeed has been quite cosmopolitan in the way of entertainments and gaieties.

Spiritual Reflections... All spiritual phases and experiences seem strange and absurd in the search light of the every day sensual observation. I should think St Paul's expostions of being snatched up into the third heaven when he saw things unlawful to utter would seem ridiculous as some of the experiences of the Christian Scientists to Dr B.

The New Life Begins... I am now my profound interest in Christian Science or metaphysics. Everything else falls on my moral spiritual text. Mrs Pddy's book is an illumination and demonstration of Christ's meaning alone interests me.

Lenten Reflections... My Lenten exercises and readings have been of great service. Canon Farrar's beautiful 'Life of Christ' has made me realize as I never did before the sweetness majesty and consistency of Christ's work.

From Mrs. Mims' Diary. 1884-1887.

I am struggling bravely. I have cast aside all the material aids that I thought indispensable to my well-being and am trusting to that one Divine Power.

Canon Farrar's beautiful 'Life of Christ' has made me realize as I never did before the sweetness, majesty and consistency of Christ's work. The re-reading of that wonderful work, of which Gladstone said it was the finest effort of genius since 'Vestiges of Creation.'

When assailed by a belief in the puns that for years have crippled my efforts, I mentally protest and try to lose myself in the infinite. Whether it heals the body or not, and I must believe that it does, it lifts the spirit on strong wings of faith into undreamed of heights.

The Living Truth sustains me. I thank Thee, oh, Thou Divine One, that Thou art the Way, the Life, the Truth. May I ever bask in the Light and Glory of Thy Divine Principle. Wilt Thou, oh, Thou, Sustain!

The consciousness of immortality is immortality. Faith is the substance of things hoped for—the conviction of unseen realities.

seem illumined. It is as if in under scoring lines of light the real meaning of the divine words are made clear to me. For years my lips have said 'As it was in the beginning is now—and ever shall be' but now my soul knows it in its true interpretation.

February 24 1887—Another year in its ceaseless round and thank heaven with decaying physical powers—rather with advancing years—I am conscious of soul growth. I more and more clearly realize that I am a child of God and that He is my Father.

Had a pleasant letter yesterday from General P M B Young. He had just enjoyed a vacation on the Baltic Sea, at Stockholm and other places in Finland and Sweden.

The Two Visits of President Grover Cleveland to Atlanta

At the time of Mr Cleveland's first visit to Atlanta he presented more of the granite side of his personality. Although at that time he was accompanied by his lovely young wife he seemed tired and cross. His qualities always commanded great respect and he will go down to history as a man of strong integrity—a statesman sane and poised.

This first visit of the president was while our dearly loved General Gordon was in office and Mrs Gordon was appointed to go with Mr Cleveland while I had the fortune to go with that prince of gentlemen, that brave and brilliant soldier, senator and orator, citizen General John B Gordon. I recall the occasion with great pleasure for a more delightful love like courteous and tender and interesting dinner has than General Gordon's I never met.

THE VISIT OF JEFFERSON DAVIS AS TOLD IN MRS. MIMS' DIARY

May 2—Well what a glorious few days we have just passed through the unveiling of the Ben Hill statue and the presence of Mr Jefferson Davis drew an immense concourse of people.

The streets were draped in Confederate and national flags. His pathway was strewn with flowers. The young military veterans and many thousands of civilians followed in the cortege that attended his every movement.

Mr Davis had been an old friend and a blind admirer of Mr Davis but the thrill of that event will I am sure, ever be a part of my earthly life. On the stand with Mr Davis was Mr J C Black of Augusta the magnificent orator of the day.

Mr Davis made only a few remarks with dignity, grace and feeling. What a happy opportunity this has been for us. Had Mr Davis never emerged from the isolation of his life at Beauvoir had he gone to his last rest without this magnificent demonstration of the love and sympathy of his people...

and natural honor triumph over policy—and such has been! The Historic Significance of Visit To me this visit of Mr Davis to Atlanta (the occasion being the unveiling of the statue to Georgia's great statesman and orator Benjamin Harvey Hill) is one of the most beautiful occasions in the history of this section...

The Club Reception... I was not present at the Capital City Club Reception to Mr Davis—a brilliant and touching dinner...

POUR LA COIFFURE

Newest Designs in Combs and Pins

Excessive elaboration is the keynote of the most of the new designs in combs, pins, barrettes and other coiffure ornaments that have arrived from Paris. There are pins of every shape and size, with waved prongs and plain prongs and tops in oval, circular, horse-shoe, T-shape and irregular openwork design, made of jet, tortoise shell, amber and a new transparent composition.

The new combs, like the pins, are of infinite variety, in both design and material, and are frequently heavily jeweled and covered with gold and silver filigree. The high Spanish comb shown in the upper left-hand corner will be a great favorite. This one is of amber, decorated with rose-gold and coral.

Barrettes and Headdresses of the Latest

The new forms of barrettes are made in lace effects, in metal and shell, set with rhinestones. The one in the lower sketch is connected with a bandeau of tiny laurel leaves.

The headdresses for the evening still show the influence of the Orient. There are folded turban bandeaux, covered with gold and spangled crescents. The wonderful cap in the center is adapted from the Persian by Poiret. It is made of wired gold tissue, studded with seed-pearls and emeralds, the long hanging side ornaments are of rose-gold. The pearl band in the right-hand corner is also Oriental in design, having the great round ear-caps of pearls, finished with pearl tassels.

Simplicity the Keynote of Charming Coiffures

Fashion decrees that the coiffure itself shall, once more, be worn high. But even when it is most elaborate of construction, it preserves simplicity and grace in the general lines. It is nearly always done in a loose, natural wave and drooped low over the forehead and ears; but the line from the nape of the neck to the crown is distinctly shown, and indeed is often accented by the use of high Spanish combs and barrettes. This fashion is dignified and becoming to most women. Where the forehead is naturally high, little bangs or love-locks are very attractive. Among the freak suggestions from Paris are locks dyed to match the costume, but it is not likely that such a fad will meet the approval of the well-dressed American.
