

Allies Stretch Battle Line Into Belgium
UNCONFIRMED REPORT SAYS CITY HAS FALLEN
In Desperate Attempt to Reach Antwerp

Plucky Antwerp's Fate Written Red on Sky; King Albert Wounded

Two of Inner Forts Have Been Silenced by Terrible Fire of Germans' Big Guns—Reported That Dykes Have Been Opened—Terrified People in Full Flight—Stubborn Fighting Still Proceeding, Although It Is Reported That Every Sign Indicates City Is Falling.

London, October 9.—(8:50 p. m.)—A wireless message from Berlin says that it is reported there that King Albert of Belgium has been slightly wounded.

London, October 10.—(2:13 a. m.)—The Morning Post says that it has been informed by a good authority that Antwerp has fallen.

The official press bureau says it is unable to confirm the foregoing.

Count De Lalaing, Belgian minister to Great Britain, says he has received no confirmation of the report.

"Stubborn fighting is proceeding before the Antwerp fortifications," says The Daily Mail's Ostend correspondent, telegraphing Friday.

"Four assaults have been repulsed at No. 4 fort, at Vieux Dieu. The bombardment of the town appears to be diminishing somewhat in intensity."

3,000 GERMANS TAKEN IN BELGIAN SORTIE.

"According to the latest advices the Belgians made a successful sortie from Antwerp which resulted in the capture of 3,000 Germans and forced the enemy to recross the river Nethe, abandoning their guns."

"Every sign indicates that Antwerp is falling," says The Daily Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent in a dispatch dated Thursday. "It is possible the town will be surrendered."

"The main streets are deserted, but there are 20,000 panicky people on the quays and around the railroad station waiting to leave."

"The town is in flames throughout the southern section. No attempt is being made to quench them."

The Chronicle's Rosendaal, Holland, correspondent, under date of Friday, says the situation in Antwerp is critical and that the town virtually is deserted except for the Belgian troops. "Every house here," the correspondent continues, "is packed to the roof with refugees, and other refugees are camping around the railroad stations. Antwerp's civil guard was disbanded Wednesday."

The Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent, telegraphing Friday, says:

"A more hopeful view prevails here regarding Antwerp. Refugees from that city declare that not a single German soldier yet has entered Antwerp."

GERMANS ARE USING 200 BIG SIEGE GUNS.

The places which thus far have suffered the most severely in the bombardment of Antwerp are the Southern station, the Palace of Justice, the Avenue de L'Industrie and the quarters in these vicinities. This statement is made in a press message from Ostend.

"Thousands of refugees are arriving here and the steamers for England are packed," says Reuter's Ostend correspondent.

"In the siege operations against Antwerp the Germans are using no less than 200 guns of 11, 12 and 16-inch caliber, some of them having a range of over eight miles."

"The bombardment of Antwerp yesterday began at half-past 9 o'clock at night, and stopped at 10, only to be

BRITISH WARSHIP STOPPING SHIPS OFF NEW YORK HARBOR

1. CARONIA OFF NEW YORK HARBOR. 2. SAILORS GOING TO BOARD A STEAMER.

Shipping men are not taking kindly to the activities of the former Cunard liner Caronia, which was converted into an auxiliary cruiser by the British government and which has been lying outside Sandy Hook for more than two weeks, carrying out what shippers term a 'siege of New York.' Her officers have been boarding incoming and outgoing liners despite the fact that these were under neutral flags coming from or going to neutral ports without contraband of war. The Englishmen simply said they were searching for Germans among the passengers or crews. The delays occasioned by these hold-ups have not only inconvenienced travelers, but have cost the steamship owners a large amount, the latter assert. No preference has been shown in the selection of vessels to be boarded. In fact, most of those stopped have been British ships. If an approaching vessel has carried wireless she has been ordered by wireless to stop. If not, she has been signaled to do so. If the command has not been obeyed instantly a blank charge has been fired at a warning. As far as is known, that has been sufficient inducement for all to heed her command. When a vessel stops a cutter is put overboard from the Caronia, with a British flag in its stern and its crew wearing life preservers. British naval officers are then rowed to the vessel that is to be searched. The captain is ordered to show his papers, the passengers are looked over and the crew is lined up for inspection; then the ship is searched for contraband.

WAR TO BREAK DOWN BARRIERS BEFORE CHRISTIANITY'S MARCH, SAYS COMMITTEE OF DISCIPLES

Pleas for Unity of Action by Churches of America Made by A. E. Cory and Prof. Shailer Mathews.

SAYS GREAT REFORMS WILL FOLLOW THE WAR

No Action Yet on Question of Abolishing General Convention—Spirited Debate Expected Saturday.

Outlining the tremendous problems of the foreign mission field, and setting forth the urgency of the church coping with the sociological problems of the world today, forceful appeals for Christian unity were made before the convention of the Disciples of Christ Friday afternoon by A. E. Cory, head of the Men and Millions Movement, and by Professor Shailer Mathews, president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Mr. Cory, who has served as a missionary in China, Russia and many other lands, told of the progress of the foreign mission work, particularly in Russia, and outlined the need of the churches of all denominations combining their forces in order to spread the gospel to the greatest advantage in foreign fields.

Two German Companies Are Forced to Retreat By 3 French Troopers

Bordeaux, October 9.—(11:05 p. m.)—The story of how three French soldiers captured two German quick-firers and put to flight two companies of German infantry is related in a letter sent home by the captain of a company of infantry which is fighting on the Aisne.

Two corporals and a private, in reconnoitering, crawled within ten yards of the German trenches. Most of the German soldiers were away to get their dinners and the officers were some distance back of the guns.

KAISER PLANS TO CARRY WAR INTO GREAT BRITAIN

Rome, October 9.—(Via Paris, 8 p. m.)—War against Great Britain, according to German newspapers received here, will commence at the end of October after Antwerp has fallen.

FRENCH TORPEDO BOATS COLLIDE AND GO UNDER

London, October 10.—(1:50 a. m.)—A Reuter dispatch from Toulon says that two French torpedo boats, the 338 and the 347, collided Friday morning off the Isles of Porquerolles, in the Mediterranean, and sank. The crews were saved, but salvage of the ships will be impossible.

POSTOFFICE MAY USE COTTON TWINE IN PLACE OF JUTE

Southern Manufacturers Are Instructed to Submit Bids to Department in Washington.

The first official action taken by Washington to aid the cotton states in their present financial crisis, due to the curtailing of the cotton market on account of the European war, was announced Friday in a letter from the purchasing agent, J. A. Edgerton, of the postoffice department, to Postmaster Bolling H. Jones, of the Atlanta postoffice.

The letter notified Mr. Jones to instruct southern manufacturers of cotton twine that bids would be received from them at Washington. At present jute twine is used.

Approximately 7,000 pounds of cotton twine will be needed at Washington, if cotton bids are accepted and this means that from 1,500 to 2,000 bales of cotton will be taken off the market, as the southern cotton twine manufacturers will require that amount of cotton to furnish the amount of twine needed by the postoffice department.

Bids will be received at Washington not later than October 21, and due to the shortness of time manufacturers in the southern states, if they wish to supply the demand of cotton twine of the postoffice department, must get busy.

The decision of the postoffice department to reopen bids on cotton twine, instead of using jute, follows an effort made by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce to get Washington to use cotton twine and help out that much the cotton situation.

Aerial Raid on Dusseldorf by British Airmen Confirmed by Berlin Announcement—Russian Army Has Again Invaded East Prussia as Far as Lyck—Montenegrin Troops Near Sarajevo—Suggestion of Peace on "Drawn War" Basis Finds No Favor With the British Press.

Paris, October 9.—(11:09 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued here tonight:

"There is nothing new to report, except that there has been a lively engagement in the region of Roye, where, in the last two days, we have captured 1,600 prisoners."

Paris, October 9.—(3:06 p. m.)—The following official announcement was given out in Paris this afternoon:

"The general situation has undergone no change."

"On our left wing the two opposing bodies of cavalry are still operating north of Lille and La Bassee, and the battle continues along the line marked by the regions of Lens, Arras, Bray-Sur-Somme, Chaulnes, Roye and Lassigny."

"On the center of the Oise, and on the Meuse, only actions of minor importance have been reported."

"On our right in the Woevre district there has been an artillery contest along the entire front."

"In Lorraine, in the Vosges and in Alsace there has been no change."

"In Bosnia Montenegrin troops have continued their advance in the direction of Sarajevo as far as the fortified line which protects the city at a distance from it of eight kilometres."

ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP BROUGHT TO GROUND BY ANTWERP SHELLS

London, October 9.—(3:50 p. m.)—The Evening Star's Antwerp correspondent says that eye witnesses of the Zeppelin flights over Antwerp insist that they saw one craft, hit by shells from the forts, fall to the earth.

During the bombardment of Antwerp Thursday night it is estimated that shells fell at the rate of twenty a minute. Many civilians were killed. In addition to the law courts building and the museum which were damaged by shells, fires broke out at many points in the city.

BOTH LINES EXTEND TO THE NORTH SEA.

London, October 9.—(10:30 p. m.)—Belgium once again is the center of military interest, for not only is her army battling for its life behind the fortresses at Antwerp, but the long battle line in France has struggled northward until it has crossed her frontier at Armentieres and yet may join the beleaguered Belgians.

According to a German report received by wireless from Berlin this evening, railway and telegraphic communication with Antwerp is interrupted. It was reported also that the king of the Belgians had been slightly wounded.

The severing of communication had been expected, for the Germans had been directing their attacks at points of ingress to and egress from the city and at the same time dropping shells into the town itself. A portion of the town is reported to have been destroyed. The 42-centimeter guns made short work of the great Brialmont forts and lesser ones are now engaged in destroying the city, which, under the provisions of The Hague convention, was given due notice before the bombardment commenced.

The military fortunes of General von Kluck and his one-armed adversary, commanding the allies' cavalry, rapidly are being made or marred within sight of the North sea, which sets a limit to the outflanking movements, the accomplishment of which for so long has been the supreme goal of the rival generals.

The storm center gradually has extended northward. The battle of the Aisne already has been merged into the battle of the Somme and the battle of the Lye, and if the long left tangle of the allies continues to stretch out in its present direction the final of the titanic struggle may be fought out on the banks of the Scheldt, and may decide the fate of the beleaguered fortress of Antwerp, now prey to German howitzers and aircraft.

Whether or not the garrison of Antwerp can stand its ground until the fate of the attempt to relieve the fortress is decided it is impossible to foretell, as the situation is liable to

RUSSIANS TAKE 10,000 GERMANS

Przemysl Ablaze From Bombardment, and Its Capitulation Seems Imminent. Germans Defeated in East Prussia.

Rome, Italy, October 9.—(By way of London, 5 1/2 p. m.)—The Russian ambassador, while denying a report that the garrison of Przemysl in Galicia had surrendered to the Russians, added, "however, the whole town is aflame and its capitulation is now inevitable." Paris, October 9.—(2:50 p. m.)—In the recent battles along the East Prussian frontier the Russians took 10,000 prisoners and forty cannon, according to a Havas dispatch from Petrograd. Russians Recapture Lyck. Petrograd, October 9.—The following official statement has been given out by the general staff: "On October 8 our troops on the East Prussian border continued to press the enemy, who had formed two fighting groups. The first group was operating in the region of Vladislavoff and Wirbalen (both towns in the government of Suwalki, Russian Poland). Our troops dislodged them from the vicinity of Wirbalen and surrounded them on the north. On October 8, however, this group still maintained its position east by south of Wirbalen. All its attempts to take the offensive at that point failed, the enemy sustaining heavy losses. The second group of the enemy, a very strong one, commenced an energetic attack in the vicinity of Ratchka lake and Bakalazewo (East Prussia). Toward morning on October 8 we assumed a vigorous offensive against their front, the enemy, covered by strong rear guard, tried, it seems, to get out of the sphere of the battle. Our troops captured, by successful assaults, the positions which the enemy was trying to hold. We

"The British, French and Russian ministers were the last of the diplomatic body to quit Antwerp. They left by boat at 11 o'clock last night, after witnessing the first part of the bombardment."

ANTWERP BURNING IN MANY PLACES. London, October 9.—A Star dispatch, dated midnight Thursday, filed at Ghent, says: "An officer declares the bombardment of the cathedral at Antwerp began at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Fire then had broken out in many places. The Germans were using their 16-inch howitzers with terrible effect on the inner ring of forts, but guns of smaller caliber were being employed for the terrific fire and certainly must have been hit. The burgomaster of Antwerp has declared his intention of supporting the military in resisting to the last." Concerning the operations around Antwerp, the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in Belgium, under date of Wednesday, says: "The Germans today forced passage of the river Scheldt between Schoonaerde and Eigenen, and over cover of a heavy early morning fog. "During the last few days the Germans have brought up large reinforcements. They no longer depend on the landsturm and the reserve troops, but are fighting up troops of the first line. At least one army corps is concentrated at Asche, from which place they advanced through Alost toward the Scheldt. "Previous attacks of the Germans on the river were all made under cover of violent artillery assaults, which repeatedly proved futile. The last of these open attacks was Monday evening and was defeated by the allies. "After this defeat the Germans changed their tactics. Instead of making an advance in force on the river, they sought to reach the river during the night, towards a river side point further east. Here they threw across a pontoon bridge and at 6 o'clock this morning about 600 infantrymen were seen marching under cover of a heavy artillery fire on the river bank. "The Belgian patrols immediately opened fire. The defenders were in small numbers, and after accounting for a few of the advancing infantry withdrew to the main Belgian lines. "Simultaneously the German commenced an action all along the river side line, extending from Termonde to Cyhous, and in the direction of Bergen. They met with a vigorous defense, in which both artillery and infantry participated, and in one place they were repulsed by a bayonet charge. Again the enemy advanced, this time with augmented strength, and broke through. "During the morning the Germans brought up several batteries of heavy guns, which they directed against the Belgian positions, and after accounting for a few of the advancing infantry, they commenced shelling the Germans' operations. "As soon as it became known that the Germans had crossed the river the Belgians brought up troops to hold their back, under cover of batteries which were shelling the enemy's main position on the opposite side. "At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon a hotly contested battle was engaged along the whole line. The mitrailleuses played a considerable part in the fighting, and many of the German ranks were drawn by dogs, several of which I saw lying wounded. "The main Serbians force, who advanced over Roumania and Planina under the command of General Noyko, and now, former minister of war, were routed by our troops in an engagement which was a different company in support and made a hit that is remembered. Other strong acts will make the show one of unusual interest."

AUSTRIA REPULSES RUSSIAN INVASION

Attacks on Przemysl Also Thrown Back With Terrible Loss, According to the Austrian Staff.

New York, October 9.—Dr. Alexander Duenuber, Austro-Hungarian consul general at New York, issued the following statement tonight: "The imperial and royal consular general has received the following message of the war operations taken from official communications: "New groupings of our army in Galicia and the uniting with them of strong German forces, was accomplished unmolested by the enemy. In consequence of new operations on our side the Russian offensive, which only reached to the San, was broken down and already has changed to a retreat of the Russians. Attempts of the Russians to invade Hungary across the passes of the Carpathian mountains were repulsed. "Przemysl is holding out successfully. "Our offensive in Serbia, which binds the entire Serbian army, advances slowly but surely. Serbians admit public spirit depressed on account of losses, sickness and lack of food. "We have already been successful in offensive operations against Montenegro, who together with the Serbians, have advanced toward Sarajevo. Rumor of the fall of Mostar is at present unfounded. The situation is altogether favorable. "London, October 9.—(10:50 p. m.)—The following official statement has been received by wireless from Berlin: "The Russian invasion of Hungary. The Russian attack was Monday evening with terrible loss to the enemy. The defense of the fort is being conducted with the greatest energy. "The Russians have been cleared from the Carpathians to the western front near Przemysl. The Austrian troops have retaken Marmaros Sziget, Hungary. "There is nothing to report from the East Prussian frontier. "The Russian steamship Modig, carrying 1,800 tons of coal from England to Russia, has been captured by a German torpedo boat and brought into Swinemunde. "German banks state that application for participation in the German war loan have been received from neutral countries."

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Forth.) Joseph E. Howard, the famous composer, will appear as next week's headliner at the Forth. The writer of many of the most popular songs of today is co-star with Mabel McCarroll, one of the prettiest and cleverest singing comedians in all vaudeville. This act is one of the star features that was produced at the Forth and there is no indication that it will be one of the season's real hits. Will Macart, comedian of the high order, will be the comedy partner. With the aid of a company of three other players will present his newest success, "The Nightingale," which is a comedy that appeared at the Forth a year ago with another cast and a different company in support and made a hit that is remembered. Other strong acts will make the show one of unusual interest. "St. Elmo" Drawing Big. (At the Grand.) The romantic "St. Elmo" picture form, is proving the biggest drawing card the Grand has had in weeks. The matinee audience, principally of ladies and children and judging from the interest manifested, today's matinee will prove a record breaker for the house since a long policy was adopted some few weeks ago of charging ladies and children 5c at matinee. "Atlantis" Coming. What is reputed to be the most sensational film of the year in "Atlantis," a story of the discovery of the lost continent, novel by the same name, written by Garhart Hauptmann, winner of the $40,000 novel prize, "Atlantis" is booked for Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

COTTON SEED MEN ASK AID OF THE PRESIDENT

Object to English Naval Interference With Shipments to Neutral Nations.

Protest against the British government interfering with shipment of cotton seed oil and cotton seed products from the south to neutral countries of Holland, Denmark and Italy has been made by President P. M. McCarroll of the Georgia Cotton Seed Association of Georgia to President Wilson. A similar protest has been made to Georgia senators and representatives. "President McCarroll says that the interference of the British government is already curtailing the already small foreign markets for seed products. Holland and Denmark, according to President McCarroll, are among the largest consumers of cotton seed oil and cotton seed products. The Georgia Chamber of Commerce has taken up the issue with the Georgia representatives in Washington and has sent the following letter to Senator Smith: "Hon. Hoke Smith, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.: We are informed by the Georgia Cotton Seed Crushers' association that interference by the British government with shipments of cotton seed oil and other cotton seed products to neutral ports in Europe, through the already small foreign markets for these products, Holland and Denmark, is a serious matter. These products will necessarily lower the price of cotton seed. We urge that you take the necessary steps to prevent such interference by the British government with our export trade. We will be glad to appreciate your prompt personal attention to this matter. "C. J. HADEN, "President Georgia Chamber of Commerce." Every effort is being made to induce the state department to protest so vigorously to the British government that ships will not be detained or delayed in future when bound to neutral ports with American cargoes.

CAVALRY ENGAGEMENTS BEING FIERCELY WAGED

Continued From Page One. change vitally with each round of the German 16 1/2-inch siege guns. While some pictures of the bombardment of Antwerp may have been overdrawn, it nevertheless is fully confirmed that the damage done by the incendiary shells and bombs since the start of the attack is being done by German howitzers and aircraft is extensive. The aerial raid on Dusseldorf, presumably by British airmen, is confirmed by the German official communication, which admits that the cover of an airship in the hangar was demolished. From the same source it is admitted that the Russian army invading East Prussia is again back at Lyck, the scene of one of the earliest Muscovite successes. YOUNG GIRL RULER IS HELD CAPTIVE. The report that the youthful Grand Duchess of Luxembourg is a prisoner of the Germans is reiterated today, though the official German statement is that the Grand Duchess is now being held in a prisoner of war camp in a hill named "Grog," a little way northeast of the Sarajovo. The arrival of hints from Washington that the subject of peace on the basis of a drawn war is under consideration is being widely and apparently inspired statement in the West-Minister Gazette, which is the westernmost of the government's many other London newspapers. This statement reiterates that while Great Britain has no desire to crush or humiliate the German people, there must be no mistake about the fact that she intends to take whatever political measures are necessary to crush Germany's military power. "To the suggestions," the West-Minister Gazette says, "that we shall be content with a drawn war, which leaves the German empire under the same influences and with the same policy and machinery as before, peace and to threaten our safety until eventually we fall prey to it, we can never consent. We mean to prevent that and whatever means may be necessary to protect our safety we will employ. King Albert Withdraws. King Albert has withdrawn from Antwerp toward Ostend, where the administration is established, but virtually the entire Belgian field army has remained in Antwerp. It is applicable, the fire of the great German guns, the terrible effects of which were made plain at Liege. The nation opposing Germany hoped the defense could hold out until the allies delivered some decisive blow along the battle line in France, which has almost ruined the German army and taken in conjunction with the fighting which extends across the Belgian frontier to the north, the German army a gigantic front sprawling like a snake half way across Belgium and across the frontiers of France and Holland. Though separate conflicts, the siege of Antwerp and the battle of the Aisne are closely related and both the Germans and the allies are making the most desperate efforts to break through and smash through the ever-lengthening line of interlocking defenses. It is sternly warned that the Germans failed in their great effort to drive a wedge through this region and the latest Paris communication says that the situation is stationary, though most serious fighting continues. If Antwerp falls, it will prove the ineffectiveness of modern fortifications against modern guns, and it will be the last word in ingenious barriers. To the east the situation on the East Prussian front is becoming more and more like that in France after the German invasion and retreat. Being driven from Poland, the Germans are making a stubborn stand and, with reinforcements from Konigsberg, will doubtless give battle. Whether we determine whether the Germans will again invade Russia in this region. The British are dispatching Lord Curzon from Petrograd, saying that a new Russian army has arrived at the frontier near the city of Pskov and is marching toward Thorn. The reports of the surrender of Przemysl appear to be premature, as were various reports of the beginning of a battle at Cracow.

ALLIES' AVIATORS RAID GERMAN AIRSHIP BASES

Bombs Are Dropped on Zepelin Hangars at Cologne and Dusseldorf.

London, October 9.—(8:25 p. m.)—The following official statement was issued tonight covering an attack by a British air squadron on a German airship shed at Dusseldorf. "The secretary of the admiralty announced that Squadron Commander Gray reports that, as authorized, he carried out with Lieutenant R. L. G. Marx and Lieutenant S. V. Sippe a successful attack on a Dusseldorf airship shed. Lieutenant Marx's bombs, dropped from a height of 500 feet, hit the shed, went through the roof and destroyed a Zepelin. "Flames were observed 500 feet high, the result of the igniting of the gas of an airship. "All three officers are safe, but their aeroplane has been lost. "The feat would appear to be in every respect remarkable, having regard to the distance of over 100 miles penetrated into country held by the enemy and to the fact that a previous attack had put the enemy on their guard and enabled them to mount anti-aircraft guns. "London, October 9.—According to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam, the allies have made another aerial raid on Cologne and Dusseldorf, both important German Zeppelin airship bases. The telegram follows: "A dispatch from Cologne states that hostile aeroplanes on Thursday night destroyed the Zeppelin hangars at Cologne and Dusseldorf. The damage was inflicted by incendiary bombs. "The previous aerial raid on Cologne and Dusseldorf was made by British naval aviators from Belgium September 24. The Zeppelin hangars at Dusseldorf were reported as successful.

THEFTS AND HOLD-UPS KEEPING POLICE BUSY

While Mrs. C. H. Wells, of 20 East avenue, was seated on her front porch about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a negro thief entered the alley leading to the rear of the premises, broke open the back door and went through a part of the house. She saw the man, who was stily dressed, return the way and she immediately called out, arousing her suspicions. Mrs. Wells searched the house, finding that a burglar had taken a small sum of money and valuable papers. "In the absence of everyone from the boarding house of Mrs. Robert Hissett, of 433 Washington street, a burglar ransacked the place. Articles of every description were thrown over the premises. The investigating officers were unable to obtain a report of the amounts stolen because the various residents there had not returned. "Dr. S. C. Strman was attacked by a negro last night about 11 o'clock between Central and Pryor, on Mitchell street, receiving a severe cut on the hand and being robbed of several dollars. "Dr. Strman stated that the negro suddenly jumped from the entrance of a building, placed a knife at his throat and demanded that he turn his pockets inside out. In the ensuing fight the negro cut his victim. As he finished the thug another man, which he had been struggling to retain.

B. & O. ROAD TO ISSUE $600,000 MORTGAGE

New York, October 9.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, it was learned today, intends to issue a blanket mortgage covering all existing issues of bonds and providing for refunding purposes. "The amount of the mortgage probably will not exceed $600,000. Shareholders will hold a special meeting on November 16 to approve the plan.

Berlin Admits British Bomb Damaged Dusseldorf Airship

London, October 9.—The official communication of the German general staff given out at Berlin the evening of October 8 is contained in a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam. It says: "From the western scene of war no facts of decisive importance can be mentioned. Small progress has been made near St. Mihiel and in the Ardennes. "Before Antwerp, Fort Braessdonk (to the south) has been taken and the attack on the inner fort line has begun there. The bombardment of the quarter of the town lying behind was begun after a declaration of the commander of the stronghold that he took the responsibility. "The airship hall at Dusseldorf has been hit by a bomb thrown by a hostile aviator. The roof of the hall was pierced and the cover of an airship in the hall was demolished. "In the east the Russian column is marching from the Russian (East Prussia) and has reached Lyck (in East

COTTON GOODS EXHIBITS ARE URGED BY WILSON

Hopes All Patriotic Women Will Follow Example Set in Washington.

Washington, October 9.—Urging that the demand for cotton be increased, President Wilson today gave out a statement in which he urged that patriotic women in their home cities should exhibit in their home cities. Such displays must have the effect of impressing the demand and opening new fields for the use of the starchy staple and, therefore, are to be warmly commended. "The exhibition of cotton goods in Washington this week opens the eyes of many to the growing uses of cotton. It is gratifying that patriotic women in their home cities are planning to follow the good example of Washington women and make like exhibits in their home cities. "The discussion today dealt with details of the proposed loan fund. Board members were interested to know what profit the backers of the pool expect to make and the benefits will be to the cotton producer. "Mr. McAdoo's letter to Mr. Henry went exhaustively into the aid so far extended by the treasury to national banks in the cotton states showing that it has issued to them since the war began $68,000,000 in currency; that its crop funds amount to $11,537,000; that the total deposits of the cotton states total $1,685,000, and that there is available for southern banks in compliance with law $151,000,000 more in additional national bank currency. "What is really wanted is a market for cotton. The value of cotton has been injured this year by the European war. This injury cannot be retrieved nor the market restored by legislation any more than the injury to corn, which was caused by the drought last year in the great corn states of the west, could have been repaired by legislation. "Denies Henry's Assertion. "In his letter, Mr. McAdoo denied that he had the right to deposit treasury funds in the cotton states. He said there were "several hundred millions" exclusively in the south. The statutes require that such funds be distributed as far as practicable and equitably between the different states and in proportion to the cotton crop. "If the government had several hundred million dollars in the treasury, Mr. McAdoo said, "cotton would not be engaged now in passing a new tax bill to repair the loss in revenues occasioned by the European war. "In conclusion, the letter says: "The resources of the treasury should be employed for the benefit of their people and the government should not be expected to do things which are beyond its power. I am glad to state that the federal reserve banks throughout the country are now practically organized. The resources of these banks will be available for the very near future for the further relief of the financial situation and for the benefit of all kinds of business. "Representative Henry, of Texas, filed with Chairman Glass, of the house banking committee, today a letter requesting a prompt hearing on the bill drafted by southern congressmen as a substitute for the currency bill. "The bill would empower the treasury to deposit in national banking associations and state banks $250,000,000 to be loaned to planters at 4 per cent interest. "Representative Henry resumed his fight in the house when he failed to get permission to have the bill printed in the record. "The house leaders are making every effort to bring about an adjournment as quickly as possible without recourse to cotton currency legislation. "Synthetic Plan Indorsed. "Jackson, Miss., October 9.—The plan of the Louisiana legislature to issue $500,000,000 to be loaned on cotton in the south was indorsed by the executive committee of the Louisiana cotton association at a meeting here today. A resolution recommending that one-third of the amount be raised in cotton producing states and that Mississippi banks subscribe their full reasonable share, was adopted. "BELL PRESENTS BILL TO AID STATE BANKS. "Washington, October 9.—(Special.)—Representative Thomas B. Bell introduced today a bill to raise for one year the requirements of the act of 1912 taxing state bank note issues 10 per cent. "This bill, if passed, would allow any state bank to put out its own circulating notes for use in its own territory and during the civil war until the prohibitive tax drove in these notes. He was actively at work today getting pledges to support the bill. "Representative Charles R. Crisp, who was one of those suggesting the call for the bill, said he had introduced it today upon the president, was striving today to advance the compromise measure suggested by the representatives from the south at last night's meeting. "Bell will vote for the Henry bill or anything else," he asserted. "If the government can sell Panama railroad bonds for the purpose of raising $500,000,000 or appropriate money to bring home stranded Americans or build a $40,000,000 railroad in a friendly country, it can go far to protect industries at home." "BILL BARLOW AND WIFE FATALLY HURT BY NEGRO. "Little Rock, Ark., October 9.—William Barlow, formerly a widely known minstrel, and his wife were probably fatally wounded late last night by an unidentified negro who forced his way into the Barlow home at Argenta, a suburb of Little Rock. A posse is in pursuit of the negro. "Neighbors attracted by cries for help from the house, where the negro was with his head badly battered and his wife, a young woman, with her throat cut, were hurried to hospital, where it was stated their chance for recovery was slight. "Barlow for a number of years, traveled through the south with minstrel organizations. Several years ago he established his residence in Little Rock and conducted an advertising agency here.

SOUTHERN ROAD PAYS DIVIDEND IN SCRIP

New York, October 9.—Explaining the reason for paying the semi-annual dividend in scrip instead of cash, the directors of the Southern railway today apportioned the earnings of the system for the last six months, issued this statement: "Although the full dividend of 2 1/2 per cent for the period has been earned, the board deems that in view of the falling off of revenue and the consequent necessity for retrenchment of expenses, it was fair that stockholders should share with employees and officers of the company a sacrifice of their current income.

SENATE WILL DEBATE REVENUE BILL TODAY

Washington, October 9.—Although the senate finance sub-committee did not complete today its revision of the proposed tax on domestic wines in the war revenue bill, the measure will be called up in the senate tomorrow for general debate. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, will present the views of the administration. "The wine tax will be taken up by the full committee, as soon as the sub-committee completes its work, probably tomorrow morning.

GERMANS FORTIFYING FORTS ON DARDANELLES

Kaiser's Officers Also Placing Big Guns Along the Bosphorus.

London, October 9.—A Reuter's dispatch from Athens says it is asserted there that German officers have placed forty-two centimeter guns in the forts on the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus. "Washington, October 9.—The alternative the Ottoman empire faces as to whether the Dardanelles are to be swung open in answer to the demand of the triple entente or whether the key to the Black sea is to remain in Turkish possession promises to force the ports to join the European struggle, according to opinion expressed in diplomatic circles here today. "At the Turkish embassy it was admitted that it might prove highly embarrassing to the sultan to be forced to commit himself on such a request. Officials stated that unless no other course was open it was highly unlikely that Turkey would submit to a change in its own policy because of outside influence. "Diplomats conversant with the Balkan situation stated that so far as the equilibrium is still safely maintained, nothing is to be expected in the immediate attitude toward Serbia. Bulgaria, according to a statement made by Turkish officials, is closely allied with Turkey and if Turkey were drawn into the struggle, Bulgaria will fight with her. "Efforts are to be made today by Great Britain, France and Russia to open the Dardanelles, as announced in a declaration issued by the Russian foreign minister, were said at the Russian embassy here today to have only a commercial and not a warlike purpose. The great hindrance to commerce caused by Turkey's action in closing this channel in the Black sea was pointed to by embassy officials as making the proposed step necessary. "Kills Wife and Self. "Louisville, Ky., October 9.—The bodies of Steve Katsura, aged 32, and his wife, aged 16, today were found in their apartment here. Police believe Katsura shot his wife, then committed suicide.

Former Princeton President Here for His Son's Wedding

Dr. F. L. Patten, a resident of Bermuda, for many years one of America's distinguished educators, is a guest of Atlanta, having traveled hundreds of miles for the purpose of marrying his son, John McMillan Stevenson Patten, assistant attorney general of Bermuda, to one of Atlanta's prettiest and most popular belles, Miss Katie Scudvart. The wedding ceremony will take place tonight. "It would have gone around the world," Dr. Patten told a reporter for The Constitution at the home of Harry L. Dix, 456 North Jackson street, where he was attending a rehearsal of the wedding. "To marry my son to such an excellent young woman." "Dr. Patten was, for thirty-three years a member of the faculty of Princeton university, serving fourteen years of this time as president of the institution, and eleven years as head of the Princeton Theological Seminary, resigning that chair in May, 1913. "He was a colleague of President Woodrow Wilson, and was teaching at the college when Wilson first entered there as a student. "Commenting on the president, Dr. Patten said: "Mr. Wilson is one of the noblest characters of history. He is making history at Washington, and will in time stand out as a pur leading president." "Dr. Patten is a native of the Island of Bermuda, and a British subject. He stated that he desired to carry out the spirit of President Wilson's proclamation regarding the observance of strict neutrality on the part of individuals in this country. "While Dr. Patten is in Atlanta he will appear in public twice, having accepted an invitation to preach Sunday morning at the North Avenue Presbyterian church, and on Sunday night at the First Presbyterian church. "Dr. Patten is visiting Captain John H. Sharp, at 23 Crescent avenue.

ALASKA COAL LAND BILL DISCUSSED BY SENATE

Washington, October 9.—A contest over the conference report on the Alaska coal land leasing bill occupied the senate all day. Opposition to a single clause in the conference report forced the final vote on the measure over until tomorrow. "Senators Lane and Borah objected to a provision of the conference report compelling the secretary of the interior to bring suit for forfeiture in order to interfere with lessors, such suits to be instituted within ninety days of notice to the defendant of the facts upon which the suit is brought, "or the same shall be forever barred." Senator Lane made the point of order that the conferees had exceeded their authority in inserting the proviso and this point was pending when the senate recessed. "Opponents of the proviso declared it would render the government powerless to regulate properly the development of the coal lands to be leased.

DUBLIN CITY FATHERS BANISH POOL ROOMS

Dublin, Ga., October 9.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the city council this week a resolution was passed that next year there shall be a prohibitive tax placed upon pool rooms, both white and colored, in Dublin. This action was taken in order to allow the present owners of such places to close up their business satisfactorily by the first of the year. "The reasons given by council were that it required more or less watching to keep the pool rooms from being disorderly, especially the negro establishments of this kind, and the city officials had grown weary of the job. As white pool rooms cannot be allowed without allowing negroes to have one also, it was thought best to abolish all of them. This will make the second time within the past ten years that pool rooms have been outlawed in this city, and it has only been a few years since they were allowed to open again.

SALARY IS TOO HIGH, SAYS MAYOR WOODWARD

He Will Not Approve Position for Captain Clayton in Present Form.

Mayor Woodward said Friday that he will not approve the proposed charter amendment creating the office of consulting engineer for the city at a salary of $3,000 per annum, unless friends of the measure make several dramatic changes.

One change which the mayor will insist on being made will cut the salary from $3,000 to $1,200 per annum, and he will also urge that the term of the office be made two years instead of four. If these changes are made, Mayor Woodward will not only approve the ordinance, but he will also allow the authors of the measure to insert a clause in the law to provide for extra compensation for the incumbent whenever he is called upon by the city to perform some extraordinary duty.

The ordinance is now pending before the aldermanic board. Alderman James R. Nutting, who introduced the measure, caused action on the part of the aldermanic board to be postponed, following a conference he held with Mayor Woodward. Alderman Nutting will acquaint friends of his measure with the wishes of Mayor Woodward, and if an agreement can be reached and the measure redrafted to suit the mayor it will be re-introduced in council and referred back to the aldermanic board.

Alderman Nutting's ordinance was drafted with a view of providing a place for Captain R. M. Clayton, who retires at the end of the present year as chief of the construction department. Members of council are agreed that something should be done to retain Captain Clayton as an officer of the city in order that the city might continue to benefit of his knowledge and advice. Mayor Woodward is also in favor of placing Captain Clayton in a place after the expiration of his term, but the mayor says that he considers it a reckless expenditure of money to provide $7,500 for engineers.

"The city has just elected a chief of the construction department at a salary of $4,500 per annum, and to create this new office with a salary of $3,000 will put up the cost of our engineers to $7,500 per annum," said the mayor.

"I don't like to be placed in the position of approving or disapproving this ordinance, because my relations with Captain Clayton have been most cordial, and I feel that the city should do something to show its appreciation for the many years of faithful service he has given. But I feel that $1,200 a year would be sufficient for the place, and council can allow Captain Clayton to act in the capacity of consulting engineer on the outside if he is so inclined. I am also of the opinion that council can make the term of office two years instead of four."

Dedication Services At Inman Park Church On Sunday Afternoon

Dedication services of the Inman Park Presbyterian church will be held Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. The members of the church have prepared an elaborate program for the occasion, and have invited Rev. J. B. Green, of Greenwood, S. C., to deliver the sermon. The services will be presided over by Rev. A. A. Little, D. D., pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church. The invocation will be read by Rev. Carl Barth, pastor of the Kirkwood Presbyterian church, and Rev. D. M. McIver, of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, will read the Scriptures. Prayer will be offered by Rev. J. S. Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and a history of the church will be reviewed by Rev. J. B. Picklen. Rev. J. G. Patton, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church, will offer dedication prayers, and benediction will be asked by Rev. Arnold Hall, pastor of the Gordon Street Presbyterian church.

The church had its start in 1886 with fifty members, and its growth has been pronounced. It now has 220 members and a Sunday school class of 250 and a cradle roll and home department numbering 125 more. The present church building was erected eight years ago, and the debt has been decreased and now the building is the property of the congregation. The last cent was paid off in April, and the congregation is now ready to dedicate the church to the service of the Master.

COUNCIL WILL MEET TO CORRECT ERROR

Special Session Is Called to Put Apportionment Sheet in Legal Form.

Discovery on Friday of a shortage of $21,183 30 in the October apportionment sheet, which was approved in both branches of the general council at a special meeting on Thursday, caused Mayor Woodward to issue another special meeting to be held at 11 o'clock on Saturday to correct the error.

The shortage was caused by the failure of council to adopt an ordinance introduced by Councilman Jesse E. Lee, chairman of the sewer committee. Chairman Lee's ordinance provided for repealing ordinances authorizing the construction of sewers in various wards of the city to the amount of $21,183 30.

In making up the finance sheet for October, the finance committee decided to include as revenue, $21,183 30, which was set aside as a fund for building sewers passed up during the year. Mayor Woodward and Chairman Lee told the committee that it would be impossible for the city to build the sewers and collect the assessments against the property owners a year ago, guided by that information, the committee decided to use the sewer money to make the finance sheet balance.

Thursday afternoon when council met in special session, Councilman Lee offered a resolution authorizing council to repeal all sewer ordinances on which work has not been started. This was done in order that the money could be placed in the October sheet, but council tabled the Lee resolution early in the session and before the finance sheet was offered for consideration, and no further action was taken, even after the sheet was adopted in council.

Immediately following the approval of the sheet in council, the aldermanic board met and also approved the sheet. Councilman Claud Mason, of the Tenth ward, called on Mayor Woodward Friday morning and they discussed an item of $725 which was passed up early in the year for construction a sewer in Dill avenue in the Tenth ward. Mayor Woodward called Councilman Mason's attention to the technical error caused by council's failure to repeal the sewer ordinances first and then adopt the finance sheet, and it is understood that the council then issued the call for the special meeting of the council.

Mayor Woodward stated Friday that it would be impossible for him to approve the sheet in its present condition. He said that it is not his intention to veto the sheet, and explained that his action in calling council to meet again was inspired by a desire to put the sheet in legal shape.

"There is no danger to the school apportionment," said Mayor Woodward, Friday morning. "The error which must be corrected is a technical one, and in no wise does it affect any but the sewer fund."

VISITORS TO PREACH AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

On Sunday, both at the morning and evening services, the pulpit at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, south, will be filled by visiting preachers attending the convention of the Disciples of Christ. At 11 o'clock, Rev. Allan Wilson, of Valdosta, Ga., will preach. Mr. Wilson is pastor of the First Christian church of that city, and is a preacher of great force and power. At 8 o'clock the pulpit will be filled by Dr. S. M. Martin, of Seattle, Wash., who is an evangelist of great note—one of the greatest and most successful of his church and of the country. # A Full-Page, Four-Color Map of Europe's War Zone Will Appear in Sunday's Constitution

No clearer grasp of the epoch-making struggle now going on in Europe can be gained than by tracing the movements of the warring armies on the CLEAR-CUT AND COMPREHENSIVE MAP of the present war zone which will appear in The Constitution Sunday. The Constitution thus enables readers to interpret the press dispatches so that they will have definite and significant meaning. The capture of a city or the crossing of a river is no longer a colorless event, but, by the shifting of the battle front, becomes full of strategic value.

The Constitution will present AS USUAL the most complete, the most accurate account of the unparalleled events in Europe, which seem to be rapidly approaching a crisis. The news of The Constitution is news that can be depended upon.

NOT TO CONDEMN MEN

But to Save

"God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved."

---John 3:17

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND GERMANS killed and wounded.

You grasp the cruel and inexcusable waste of life because their broken bodies have fallen in a space of a few hundred miles.

Did you know?

LAST YEAR THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND CHILDREN died from neglect and want in the United States.

FIVE HUNDRED THIRTY FIVE THOUSAND LABORERS were killed and wounded that year in trying to make a living.

The unnumbered hosts of children born blind or maimed by their fathers' sins are known only to God, but our homes for the blind and the asylums for those of weakened mind are eloquent evidence of the multitudes of these.

BISHOP LAWRENCE, of Massachusetts, recently said:

"DRINK, AND THAT NOT TO EXCESS, BUT HABITUAL, gradually disintegrates the physical nerve and the moral fiber; the resisting power, whether against disease or temptation, weakens, AND WHAT IS MORE TRAGIC, the sons and daughters REVEAL THE FATHER'S RATHER LOOSE HABITS OF cocktails, champagne and whisky, IN WEAKENED BODIES AND MORE OR LESS DEGENERATE SYSTEMS."

After traveling through the Far East, PRESIDENT CHARLES W. ELIOT, of Harvard University, said before the General Unitarian Conference at Buffalo:

"It is mortifying to the last degree for an American to see intoxicated American soldiers and sailors staggering about the streets of the Chinese cities—

"THE LESSON OF THE EAST IS THAT THE ALCOHOLISM OF THE WHITE RACE MUST BE OVERCOME, OR THAT VICE, WITH THE LICENTIOUSNESS IT PROMOTES, WILL OVERCOME THE RACE."

In considering these facts, be fair.

The deaths of those children—The killing and maiming of that vast army of laborers—The sickening tragedies among women and babies from vice and alcohol—These sins and their fruits lay not at the doors of a few; the guilt rests upon us all; the burden is both yours and ours.

Let no man boast!

BUT ANSWER—IN SUCH AN HOUR, WHEN EVEN RUSSIA HAS FORBIDDEN THE SALE OF LIQUOR, TO ENABLE HER PEOPLE TO FACE WITH CLEAR HEADS THE CRISIS OF THEIR LIVES, SHOULD OUR SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES AT WASHINGTON HELP TO ENTRENCH THE LIQUOR DEALERS BY INCREASING THE TAX ON WHISKY, WINE AND BEER, THUS ADDING TO OUR SHARE OF MONEY MADE BY THE RUIN OF MEN, WOMEN AND LITTLE CHILDREN?

NO ATTACK ON DORSEY, SAYS WILLIAM M. SMITH

Conley's Former Attorney Denies Stories to That Effect.

Attorney William M. Smith, Jim Conley's former counsel, but now his accuser, stated to a reporter for The Constitution Friday afternoon that he did not intend, contrary to report, to make an attack upon Solicitor Dorsey or upon the prosecution of Leo Frank.

He asserted that he had no secrets to expose, and that he did not propose to score the methods under which the man in the Tower was prosecuted. His plan, he stated, was to convince the people of Frank's innocence through evidence and through facts he had unearthed by an exhaustive study of the case.

I have no secrets of the prosecution to lay bare, he declared, and neither do I expect to arraign any one connected with it. If I accused Frank's prosecution, I would accuse myself.

It was rumored Friday that Conley's former attorney has come into possession of a piece of evidence against the negro in shape of a handprint which has been discovered on the back door of the basement of the pencil factory. It is reported that the print fits conclusively with the negro's hand and fingerprint.

Smith was non-committal in this respect. He would neither deny nor affirm the rumor, but he said, however, that he had been able to put in the hands of Frank's counsel evidence of this character.

The broken lock on the back door of the pencil factory basement was never satisfactorily explained. Conley swore that he had not touched it or the door of the murder. Frank was accused of breaking the heap in an effort to misdirect suspicion.

SLATON NOT DECIDED ON AN EXTRA SESSION

He Will Doubtless Make Known His Decision by Sunday.

It is expected that Governor John M. Slaton will make known Sunday his decision if it is reached by that time—as to whether he will call an extraordinary session of the legislature to prevent the paralleling of the Western and Atlantic railroad.

Legislative enactment is agreed upon by several state house officials as the only logical means of saving the W & A from the encroachment of a parallel line, such as the proposed extension of the Louisville & Nashville.

Attorney General Grice has advised Philip Cook secretary of state that under the law he has no authority to refuse to grant the charter of the North Georgia Mineral road if all papers are in legal shape.

Governor Slaton stated Friday that he had not yet reached a decision in the matter.

S. Guyt McLendon, former chairman of the railroad commission, announced Friday that he would exert every effort at his command to prevent what he terms an encroachment on the state road and a move to impair its usefulness.

He has issued notice to the secretary of state that he will ask a complete hearing before Mr. Cook grants the charter for the L. & N. S. proposed extension.

THREE DAMAGE SUITS AMOUNTING TO $7,000 FILED AGAINST TIFT

Tifton Ga. October 9.—(Special)—Mrs. L. H. Simmons of Pulaski county brought suit in the county court of Tifton against H. H. Tift Jr. in her own behalf for $1,000, and as next friend to her son for another $1,000 for damages alleged to have been sustained when a buggy in which they were driving in Pulaski county was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Tift, July 18, last.

This suit was followed by another brought by Mrs. Pearl Henderson of the same county for $5,000 damages. Mrs. Henderson was in the buggy with Mrs. Simmons and her son at the time it was struck. She asked for greater damages because of alleged delicate state of health. These three suits were followed this week by the indictment of Mr. Tift by the grand jury of Pulaski county, under a charge of assault and battery for the same accident.

Mr. Tift says the accident was a very slight one and that it was settled at the time apparently to the satisfaction of all concerned and all hands parted friendly. He accompanied by several players of the Tifton base ball team drove from Cochran to his home in Tifton. He remembers seeing the buggy some distance ahead, he says but about that time was seized with a lack of faintness to which he is sometimes subject. He immediately shut off the motor and threw on the brake to stop the car. It had almost come to a full stop when the buggy was rescued.

One of the players sitting by Mr. Tift caught the steering wheel and turned the car from the road. One wheel struck the rear wheel of the buggy and broke two spokes. Neither of the occupants was thrown out of or injured by the accident. Mr. Tift explained, the people in the buggy appeared to be satisfied. Gentle persuasion was made to the damage to the vehicle at $6 but he gave them $10 and told them that if the damage was found to be greater, he would pay it. He afterwards had a letter from Mr. Henderson offering to settle for $100 or a new buggy.

The Sorosis Room

Our SOROSIS ROOM is the result of reciprocal suggestion. At first, the thought of creating it did not exist in any individual mind. Without straining the metaphor, we might say that it originally was the contents of the collective social mind. The idea was refracted. The zeal of the public simply spread its desire.

¶ As local taste in DRESS rose higher, more and more Atlanta women depended upon Broadway and Fifth Avenue shops for their Shoes. Thus large sums of money, earned here, enriched the retailers of New York. Their patronage from this city grew so great and profitable that they sent their representatives here with portable Shoe stores.

¶ It seemed that the upward development of Shoe wants could not be supplied at home. If this be not true, why did foreign dealers enjoy such a thriving business in our community? We are stating well-known facts—not appraising 'round-town stores.

¶ Streams of suggestions began to flow in to us. At last, the demand became imperious. The response to that demand is found in the SOROSIS ROOM.

¶ Today, no Atlanta woman can find any artistic or economic justification for buying her Shoes or her children's Shoes out of Atlanta.

¶ The SOROSIS SHOES we show are the Shoes that control the fashions in New York, Philadelphia, Boston—in Paris, London, Vienna, Berlin, Frankfort, St. Petersburg, Rome, Naples and a hundred other centers of cultured taste.

¶ In Paris, the feminine world turns to SOROSIS for exquisite Footwear, just as it turns to Paquin, Doucet and Callot for gowns, or to Lafeviere and Blossier for hats, or Guerlain and Houbigant for perfume.

¶ SOROSIS variety ranges from delicate, elegant Evening Slippers—gems of art—to hardy Golf Shoes. Don't let the season's novelties absorb ALL your interest. They are simply the glittering spray cast up by the high-rolling wave of fashion.

¶ STAPLE SOROSIS SHOES, replete with facile strength, striking style, incomparable comfort—$7.00, $6.00, $5.00, $4.00 and $3.50 masterpieces—are your and our dependence in the main.

¶ The striving, contriving fancies and vagaries of our designers create beautiful and brilliant effects—extreme, audacious models that appeal to the artistic imagination of women who are devoted to the rare, the exotic.

¶ But this class of SOROSIS SHOES is transient, impermanent, evasive. Their spell is brief—like a sensitive flower whose dying, fading beauty still has the power to charm our sense of grace and fragrance.

¶ SOROSIS novelties are without serious rivalry. They are the apotheosis of artistic Footwear. But the others—the splendid, serviceable types are the real pride of the SOROSIS organization.

¶ SOROSIS SHOES are based on anatomical precision.

¶ Look at one of MICHEL ANGELO'S STATUES—the languid pose and supple rhythm of the figure, flowing down a sinuous line of beauty, through the slightly swelling flanks, along the finely moulded thighs to the loveliest feet emerging from peerless stone.

¶ Had the gifted sculptor worked with leather instead of marble he would have made Shoes like SOROSIS.

¶ Greek perfection as to outline marks every pair. They interpret an ideal as classic as any that ever inspired the master of the mallet and chisel.

¶ SOROSIS SHOES for children are trim, neat, attractive. They are authentic in style, thorough in construction, always reliable. Art combined with utility. Their gloss hides no flaw. Tension of every thread tested—pronounced goodness that grows on you.

¶ We know these Shoes.

¶ We know them inside—outside.

¶ No need for you to know them as we do.

¶ You haven't the time to acquire the information.

¶ Our knowledge is your guarantee.

Sorosis Service united the practical with the ideal and out of the union a blend is derived that appeals to all.

PERSONAL:

If you differ with us in regard to SOROSIS SHOES, probably you are wrong, and not the Shoes. How are you to learn the excellence and elegance of SOROSIS SHOES? Chiefly, of course, by examining them and honestly trying to understand them. This process will be materially helped by the frame of mind which says:

"I know on the highest authority that SOROSIS SHOES are fine, that they are capable of giving me service and comfort. Hence, I am determined to find pleasure in them."

Let us place SOROSIS SHOES before the bar of your individual judgment. We believe your verdict will confirm and vindicate all our claims.

The greatest maker of Shoes is the one whose vision has been the widest, and whose feelings have been the most intense.

Your own fragment of insight is accidental and casual. His life is one long ecstasy of denying that Shoes are dull things.

SOROSIS SHOES are certificates of correct culture and comfort—as exemplified by dress.

It is not enough that the maker sees and knows their merit. Others must see and know. YOUR sense of beauty and thrift must be made to quicken and focus on SOROSIS SHOES.

You should begin by making up your mind to read our advertising.

How an Ancient English Prejudice Was Shattered by

SOROSIS SHOES

AN American business man, visiting London, was the dinner guest of a friend at the Charlton Club. The conversation finally swerved to a discussion of several well-known American products that have achieved immense popularity throughout England.

The pronounced vogue of SOROSIS SHOES in London and other English cities was the subject of great emphasis. The host's explanation was interesting; he said:

"Practically all classes of the English people were educated to bear a decisive prejudice against ready-to-wear things.

"The antipathy in this direction was particularly strong against Shoes.

"Custom-made Shoes were indigenous to British taste and preference. People in moderate circumstances had Shoes made to their individual measurements, because it was popular to disdain ready-made Shoes. They scorned them with the intensity engendered by traditions and could perceive no beauty, nor conceive of there being any comfort in the ready-made.

"This prejudice was not a mere whim or affectation.

"It was an instinctive and inherited habit of thought handed down from generation to generation.

"No effort of English manufacturers could subordinate the feeling. It was ingrain and innate and endured until the American manufacturers established stores in London and other English centers for the sale of Sorosis Shoes.

"At first these stores were ignored. The English were suspicious of American Shoes and looked upon them askance.

"Ladies and gentlemen unwillingly and waveringly tried them on in secret. They didn't wish to be detected experimenting with American ready-made Shoes.

"However, it did not take long for Sorosis Shoes to prove their superiority, and when the crust of the hardened prejudice began to crumble—it quickly disappeared entirely.

"Today our most fashionable ladies and gentlemen are enthusiastic advocates of Sorosis Shoes and custom Shoemakers are becoming extinct."

Kershner Explains Question Of Abolition of Convention

By Dr. Frederick D. Kershner.

The press reports in regard to the problems of the general convention have led to some misunderstanding on the part of those not familiar with the procedure. Some have gathered the impression from reading the papers, that the Disciples are about to abolish the half-century old practice of holding a national assembly, and that a split into separate organizations or denominations is imminent.

Of course all who are familiar with the history of the church or who are at all conversant with the present situation know how entirely erroneous are both of these impressions. The "general convention," which is being argued pro and con, is only a case in which the first come into existence at Toronto. National gatherings, however, are very old. As far back as 1808 the national anniversary drew over 50,000 people to our annual convention in Pittsburg, Pa. This was, of course, an extraordinary occasion, but our annual gatherings for a score of years have averaged from 5,000 to 15,000 people in attendance.

Neither Book nor Briney nor any other opponents of the "general convention" want to do away with these annual occasions which literally enter into the warp and woof of our history and traditions. What these men want after is to change from the limited delegation of meeting, adopted two years ago at the Louisville convention, back to the old unlimited delegate plan of the previous years. Book, Briney, Ashill and all the rest of the opposition want a national convention as such as Frank, Moore, Richardson and the other limited delegate advocates.

Plan Is Compromise.

The proposition of President Bell, as presented in his address Wednesday evening in a compromise between the two opposing positions. It would give up the limited delegate idea and so credit every Disciple present at the convention as a delegate, but it would also retain the framework of the "general convention" as it is at present. This position seems hardly acceptable to either side. The general convention advocates proper feel that to sacrifice the limited delegate feature for every hundred members, and in no case more than five from any one congregation, means to surrender the whole principle of an orderly business-like convention. On the other hand, those who oppose the general convention do not see any use in paying to support an unnecessary and useless organization, even though it has been short of its most objectionable features.

In regard to the matter of a "split," those who are familiar with the history of the church know that you cannot split a number of already irreducible units. There can be no split because there is nothing to split. Every Disciple congregation is a law unto itself, and when individual Disciples meet together in a convention there is no surrender of sovereignty either on the part of the individual or of the congregation. So long as there is no central organization, all talk of "splitting" is a misuse of terms. To those familiar with other church politics, however, the error is both natural and pardonable.

Interesting Features.

Yesterday morning's session of the general convention was replete with interesting features. By far the most interesting speeches were made by A. R. Moore, C. S. Meadbury, W. K. Ashill, B. Briney, F. Richardson, and W. H. Sheffer. The addresses of Briney and Moore were of peculiar interest because of the fact that both men have been literally a part of Disciple history for over half a century. Both of them know the whole story of organization among the Disciples from its first inception down to the present hour. It is a great pity that one or more days cannot be given to a full, free, frank and courteous discussion of the limited delegate plan. Men like Briney and Moore to say nothing of others, have information and experience which should prove valuable and interesting to us all. The brief half-hour devoted to the discussion each morning is altogether inadequate. Were the whole matter thoroughly discussed and debated out, whatever conclusion might be reached would be acceptable to practically everybody in the convention.

The convention sessions of yesterday were chiefly devoted to reports dealing with the various boards and with the committee on foreign relations. The splendid presidential address by Dr. W. H. Sheffer, pastor of the Linden Street church of Memphis, Tenn., is worthy of special note. It is also the smooth, far-reaching, and thoroughly addressed on "Church Extension" by L. D. Anderson, of Texas. The reports of the various boards have been summarized already in an earlier issue of The Constitution. An interesting feature of Secretary Muckley's report on the extension fund amounting up into the millions of dollars had been handled in churches at a low rate of interest and at a loss through bad loans of only $1,000 during the last year. The board's existence, a percentage of one-fourth of one percent of the total amount loaned, is a business, secular or religious, can beat this record for collections.

Work in Russia.

The afternoon session was devoted very largely to reports of our Russian work brought by Dr. A. E. Cory and M. M. Ammunsen, special representatives who visited the Russian field last summer. Dr. Cory reported for Moscow and Warsaw and Mr. Ammunsen for St. Petersburg. No mission for the past few years has attracted more attention on the part of the Disciples than the wonderful fascinating story of the "Gospel Christians" in far-off Russia. Those who favor the general convention and those who do not are in perfect agreement as to the value and significance of the work in Russia.

Burnham as Secretary.

The most significant feature of yesterday's session as it relates to the future of the church was the selection of Frederick W. Burnham, pastor of the White Shore Boulevard church, of Los Angeles, as the new secretary of the American Christian Missionary Society. By temperament, training and discipline, Mr. Burnham is peculiarly well fitted for the position. As pastor of the great Springfield, Ill., congregation he has won high rank for his leadership and kind and quiet qualities of mind and heart, endear him to our entire church. His position in the past has been called one of great responsibility and Mr. Burnham is sacrificing his personal interests in taking up the work. At the same time, there is no more important place in the church or in the world than that of the secretary. To those familiar with the work of the church, it is a matter of course that the unanimous sentiment of the convention in the selection of Mr. Burnham was made by the home board that was made in the choice of Frederick W. Burnham.

Today is to be devoted to "Education," both as exhibited in the work of the Sunday schools and in the institutions of learning. The sessions should prove among the most interesting and helpful of the entire convention.

CHRISTIANITY'S MARCH TO BE HELPED BY WAR

war in its relation to the church in the report of the commission on foreign relations, submitted to the convention Friday afternoon by Rev. Grant K. Lewis. The report showed the progress of the missionary work in foreign fields and told especially of the visits of A. E. Cory and M. M. Ammunsen to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Russia and other countries.

The European war cut short the visit and work of these brethren," read the report, "but they found enough to cause them to return with souls on fire for the great work in Europe and especially in Russia.

"The present war will break down many barriers and open many doors, and if we are wise enough to enter into and take possession, the future of this commission is pregnant with tremendous possibilities for good.

Missionaries Tell of Russia.

The reports of the foreign relations commission was directly followed by the addresses of Mr. Ammunsen and Mr. Cory, the two missionaries referred to by the report. They each gave interesting descriptions of their trips, with particular attention to the problem confronting the church in Russia. They said that this country presents the greatest opportunity to Christianity that is presented anywhere in the world, but that in order to grasp this opportunity the churches must work in union.

Following the addresses by the missionaries, the convention was addressed by Prof. Shailer Mathews. Professor Mathews is a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago, and the present head of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, an organization composed of churches of all evangelical denominations. He also has the reputation of a professor at the University of Chicago, and the present head of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, an organization composed of churches of all evangelical denominations. Welcomes Feminist Movement.

In speaking of the feminist movement, Professor Mathews said: "We are going to do to us, and they don't know, but whatever it is they're going to do it, and I for one welcome this force into society."

Reports of various committees of the American Christian Missionary Society followed the address of Professor Mathews, the program for the day being in charge of this organization, and Dr. W. H. Sheffer, of Memphis, Tenn., president of the A. C. M. S., presiding over the day's sessions.

Rev. Peter Ansell, of Baltimore, presented the report of the committee on prayer meeting topics, which the convention adopted. Rev. C. J. Tanner presented the report of the committee on the secretaryship of the A. C. M. S. This report was adopted by the convention. Rev. Reception to Visiting Ladies.

A feature of the day's program was the reception tendered to the visiting ladies at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Rhodes, at 1223 Peachtree road. The ladies were met by the chairman of the ladies who are in attendance on the convention gathered at the Rhodes residence, including all the members of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions and a number of lady missionaries from the Rhodes home.

Another incident of the day's program in which the ladies of Atlanta took an active part was the "Ladies' Demonstration" Friday afternoon at the Auditorium-Armory under the direction of Mrs. Walter R. Phillips, of Atlanta. The sketch was designed to show the problem presented to the churches by the immigrant foreigners, the scene being at Ellis Island and the characters representing immigrants and immigration officials. Among those who took part in the sketch were Mrs. A. G. Rhodes, Mrs. R. C. Foster, T. L. Jennings, Miss Anna Douring, R. W. Crenshaw, S. W. Cayce, W. O. Foster, L. Omer, Mrs. E. L. # DRUGGISTS OF GEORGIA PROTEST AGAINST TAX

Some Complainants Say Proposed Levy Will Run Them Out of Business.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, October 9.—(Special.)—Retail druggists of Georgia, flooded with telegrams protesting against the war revenue measure which provides a tax on proprietary medicines.

W. S. Elkin, president of the Elkin Drug company, of Atlanta, referred to the fact that retail druggists bore a large part of the burden of the Spanish-American war.

Other druggists in Macon, Savannah and smaller towns said they were already subjected to considerable loss because of the war, the interruption of imports and the rise in prices of drugs and chemicals. Some of the complainants said it would be impossible to continue in business if the proposed tax was laid upon them. The Georgia senators promised to take the matter under advisement.

DICK RUDOLPH'S GREAT TWIRLING COPS JUMP GAME FOR THE BRAVES

Little Right-Hander Holds Hard-Hitting Athletics to Five Hits—Fans Eight. Deserved Shutout—Score, 7 to 1.

CHIEF BENDER DRIVEN FROM HILL IN SIXTH BY BRAVE ONSLAUGHT

Hank Gowdy With a Single, a Double and a Triple Featured on Offensive—Maranville Delivered Twice in Pinch—Boston Rooters Hold Parade.

Philadelphia, October 9.—Playing with the sensational speed that marked their rush from last place to pennant winners in the National League, the Boston Braves crushed the Philadelphia Athletics here today in the first game of the world's series, 7 to 1. Although the newly constructed baseball machine of "Miracle Man" Stallings wobbled once or twice, it never left the track, and, under the guiding hand of Chief Bender, crashed through Connie Mack's Athletics.

The victory over the two-to-one American league favorites was well won, no rocky breaks or basical blunders figuring in the play, by sharp, heavy and timely hitting the Braves piled up a decisive lead which, coupled with Rudolph's sterling box work and the general defense of his teammates, proved the Philadelphia club's attack.

The Braves were first to score, putting two runs across in the second inning. Whitted walked and scored on a double by Gowdy, which Moran left home on Maranville's drive to left center.

The Athletics came back with a run in their half of the same inning when McInnis was passed and scored on Strunk's single, which Moran let slip through his fingers for three bases.

SIXTH INNING RALLY

In the fifth Gowdy tripled to center and came home on Maranville's short hit over McInnis' head. Boston clinched the game in the next inning, scoring three runs on Evers' single, Connolly's triple and Moran's double.

Rudolph's Slow Ball Puzzles Athletics

ATHLETICS WERE HELPLESS BEFORE HIS FINE HURLING

The grand little right-hander who twirled a wonderful game in the opening against the hard-hitting Athletics, holding them to five hits and fanning eight men. But for a bobble by Moran in right field, he would have had a shut-out game. That slow ball of his and his sweeping curve had the Mackmen swinging desperately. He'll probably twirl next Tuesday's game.

place a bet on the Athletics in the lobby of a hotel shortly before the game, and the ice man was having a good blow on the jaw. At this juncture, other members of the Boston team entered and hustled their master into an elevator. The ice man left the hotel, vowing vengeance on Stallings.

All the players of both teams were on the field before one o'clock, with the exception of Chief Bender, who did not appear until fifteen minutes before the game started. After the usual prolonged conference of the umpires, and Captains Evers and Tompa, play was called at 2:05 p. m.

PLAY BY PLAY ACCOUNT SHOWS BRAVES' STRENGTH Moran, of Boston, the first man up, let Bender's opening pitch, go by for a strike. The second pitch was a foul strike; the third, a ball; the fourth, a foul; and then he sent up a high foul fly to McInnis and the Athletic rooters cheered. Captain Evers was given a hand by the crowd as he stepped to the plate and shot a high fly to Collins, who had to step backwards to catch it. Connolly, the heavy hitting infielder, was next up. He took a strike and after fanning for another, missed Bender's offering and the side was out. Eddie Murphy, for the Athletics, also let the first ball go, but he laced the second one to center field. Oldring laid down a bunt and Moran advanced to first. He made a high throw to first, which Schmidt got after a fine effort, and put Moran out. The next man up was Murphy taking second. Eddie Collins walked, while Rudolph pitched three bad balls to Moran, who was out. Then up came "Home Run" Baker. The crowd cheered the slugger and the Athletic rooters began to realize that all hope of winning the game was about gone and there was a general murmur of dissent. Whitted opened the Braves' eighth inning by giving Baker a high fly to center. Oldring nor Barry could reach Schmidt on this one. Maranville struck out and a double steal scored Schmidt. Gowdy tried to reach third on a single, but was thrown out. Lapp to Baker.

Whitted sprung a surprise on Rudolph by smashing a two-bagger to the right field wall. He was out on Schmidt at the plate, but was thrown out. Lapp to Baker.

waiting hands and the chief caught Maranville trying to get back to first. McInnis taking the throw. Rudolph struck out Moran on strikes.

For the Athletics in the fifth, Barry flouted to Maranville, who made a hard throw to get up the ball in left field. Schanz went out on strikes and Bender sent a long fly to Whitted, in center field at the plate.

The sixth inning opened auspiciously for Bender, but before it was over he was in the dressing room, driven from the pitcher's box for the first time in his world's series career. Moran flied to Barry, who made the greatest fielding play of the game in scoring the out. He ran at top speed almost to the left field stand, and by extending himself caught the ball in his bare hand. It was a great catch and was loudly cheered by friend and foe.

Evers singled to center field, the ball almost striking Bender as it shot past him. Connolly received a base on balls and both Evers and he came home on Whitted's three-base drive to the right field wall. The Indian seemed to balk at the hit off Schmidt, but he was not to be deterred. He pitched rather unsteadily to Schmidt, who finally put a single into left field, scoring Whitted.

Superb Hurling of Little Dick Rudolph, Gowdy's Bludgeon Features, Says Howe; Victory Gives Braves Fighting Spirit

By IRWIN M. HOWE. (Official Statistician American League.) Philadelphia, Pa., October 9.—(Special.)—Followers of the Boston Braves have two candidates for canonization tonight. The names of the proposed saints are Rudolph and Gowdy. To the really superb hurling of the former and the mighty bludgeon of the latter is due the victory of the Braves in the first game of the series. When a pitcher holds the Mack wrecking crew to a meagre five hits and two passes he is doing some all right.

The Braves had something on every bat more than most of the followers of the Athletics thought he possessed. His well-delivered slow ball was the most potent weapon in his success. He used his splitter as a bluff most of the time, and the American league winners paid little attention to it after the second inning.

Slow Ball Teases. While they were trying to familiarize themselves with his curves, which they could not understand, he pitched before the end of the game, owing to the frequency with which they broke outside, the Midget would come along with a

Then Lapp went in to catch for the Athletics in the seventh inning. Rudolph won applause by hitting a single past second base, but Baker threw Moran's grounder to Barry. Captain Evers struck out as Moran advanced to first. Moran advanced to first. Moran advanced to first.

plendid slow delivery and the batter would walk to the bench. Clearly all of his strikeouts were due to his perfect control of this ball and the ease with which he mixed it with his curve. When he was not fanning the batters, they were hitting easy chances to the infield.

Howe Gowdy was as powerful on the offensive side of the play as Rudolph was on the defensive. With Whitted on first in the second round, the Boston catcher doubled to center and scored the first run of the game.

Whitted started the fifth with a furious triple and scored immediately afterwards on Maranville's single. This was really the signal to Mack that for the first time in world's series history the great old chief would not do. When Gowdy came up again in the sixth inning, he was one man out on first and three more runs had just been made off Bender, and he was out on the pitcher.

Whitted had just come on and signaled his entry into the game by passing the big backstop. Coming up for the last time in the eighth inning, he scored with a single to the pitcher's box, this being the final run of the game.

ning double plays of the Philadelphia crew, together with picture catches by Maranville and Barry, would have been worth more than passing notice. But as this series stands, and considering the strategy that Manager Stallings must employ, the performance of Rudolph is of overwhelming importance.

Without regard to the final outcome it may be said that little Dick won two games today. It is now very probable that if the Athletics defeat him on Tuesday it will be by a very small score, in which case, of course, the loss should be attributed to failure to hit rather than to poor pitching.

Since they could do no more in any case than win, it must be conceded that they have a better chance of making an outside chance for ultimate victory. World Bill James live up to his season's record in the same manner that Rudolph did, Boston will have Connie Mack worried tomorrow.
