WILSON SEES CHINA ROUSED BY CHRIST

And Furnishing Momentum to Moral Forces of World. President Addresses Presbytery of Southern Presbyterians.

Washington, April 21.—President Wilson's address at a meeting here tonight of the Potomac presbytery of the Presbyterian church, pictured a vision of China awakened by the voice of Christ, furnishing a great momentum in future to the moral forces of the world. He declared that as soon as the unity of China was realized, its power would come into the world.

"Shall we not see that the parts are sundered by the teachings of Christ?" he asked.

Incidents of Boyhood.

The president's address was devoted largely to incidents of his boyhood, when he assisted his father, a Presbyterian clergyman. "He had the risky habit of selling ex parte, and I often thought such a boyhood was bad," he said.

Which I part inherited, and of which I have diligently tried to cure myself. "But he was the best instructor, the most inspiring companion, I venture to say, a youngster ever had; and in fact, a southern presbyterian. I cannot think of myself as the president of the United States; I can only think of myself as the son of Joseph R. Wilson, and I only wish I could claim some of the vital connection with the church which he could claim. Because those who stand outside of the active ministrations of the church, sir, it is, get an illegitimate usurpation of it, its capital, but we do live on its investments. We do live on its great investments of spirit."

Christianity Sustains World.

Before Mr. Wilson spoke, Warren H. Sturt, a missionary in China, had told of the great importance for the work for Christianity being done there. The president dwelt upon this in his address.

"When I think of the great bodies of opinion which sustain the affairs of the world, it seems to me that the heart and nucleus of them is the principle of Christianity," he continued, "and that therefore, the conservation of the great founders of all that is best and most important in civilization, the most important things conceivable, infinitely more important than the things which those of us who attempt to take some part in administering the external affairs of the world, can conceive. I hear men like Mr. Sturt pleading for the means to introduce this great influence into a part of the world now under the control of the Turk, and into the rest of the world, now under the control with the rest of mankind, now first awakening to the possibilities of the power that lies latent in it, it would be quite possible that the imagination of Christian people will call for fire."

An Inspiring Vision.

"Why this is the most amazing and inspiring vision that can be offered you, this vision of great sleeping millions of people, who are being awoken more tremendous than that? And could there be any greater contribution to the progress, momentum of the moral and spiritual condition of the world than the use of this instrument, by quickening this force which is being set afire in China? China is at present incubous; as a nation it is a pestilence, but it is a pestilence which there is energy but which is unburned in any essential and active unit, and just as soon as its unity comes, its energy will be set afire, and should we not see that the pests are frightened?"

"That is quite apart from what I did come to say, but I cannot speak on foreign missions. I am not competent to speak on foreign missions. I am merely competent to utter my personal anxiety to the things which are represented by Sir George, like this and to express my thanks to God that as a youth and as a man, I have been permitted to have some part in them."

NEGRO MAKES ESCAPE BUT IS SOON CAUGHT

Dillard Parks, a negro serving a seven-year term in the county stockade for burglars, enjoyed a few hours of liberty Wednesday after escaping from Vienna camp, but was finally caught by the county dogs at the river bank, 8 miles from the camp.

Parks had served five years of his sentence and for the past year had been trusty at the camp. While the dogs were busy with other prisoners, Parks made his escape. At 6 o'clock when the dogs were called up he was missing and the dogs were sent on his trail. Two hours later he was captured.

These places have been opened or projected. They contain reading rooms and halls for concerts, exhibitions and other entertainments."

PUBLIC COMFORT STATION IS URGED

L. C. Green Says Several Members of Finance Committee Have Promised the Funds in June Sheet.

Several prominent Atlanta business men Wednesday held a conference with L. C. Green with a view to reviving the movement to secure a modern public comfort station, to be centrally located in the business district. This matter has been agitated for several years and plans and specifications were drawn last year.

"Shall we not see that the parts are sundered by the teachings of Christ?" he asked.

The president's address was devoted largely to incidents of his boyhood, when he assisted his father, a Presbyterian clergyman. "He had the risky habit of selling ex parte, and I often thought such a boyhood was bad," he said.

NEGRO IS CREMATED WHEN JAIL IS BURNED

Athens, Ga., April 21.—The town jail at Winterfield was burned about midnight yesterday, killing a negro prisoner, the only occupant, and severely burning Carlton Hall, the only other inmate. He was arrested today and jailed for alleged criminal assault on a negro woman. It is believed that he attempted to burn his way out by breaking through the wall of the building after going to sleep with a cigarette burning. It was thought he had escaped, till his remains were found in the ruins of the building.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Not Due to Sex Alone

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and they are caused by physical weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills is the best way to get rid of these ills. There are so many thousand of women who can tell you this from experience.

An Atlanta Woman's Experience

Mrs. Charles Eberhardt, 18 Josephine street, Edgewood, Atlanta, says: "I had terrible pains in my back and head, and was under doctor's orders to bed. I had a tired and nervous feeling. The trouble interfered with my housework. In fact, I had little ambition to do anything when I was sick. After two hours of Doan's Kidney Pills, I have been free from kidney complaint."

There Are Never Enough First-Class Cars in the Spring

They always run out, as you know. Last year, many Hudson enthusiasts had to take second choice. Thousands waited weeks for delivery. This spring, despite trebled output, there will be more delays. Choose your car now, whatever class you are seeking. The leading car has more orders than cars each spring.

Two things are certain. If you buy a class car you will want a Light Six, the latest and coming type. Your best choice will be Hudson.

Hudson—the Ideal

Hudson stands out as the class car in Light Sixes. Its supremacy appears at a glance. It shows in beauty, finish, luxury and refinement. It shows in lightness—287 pounds. It shows in every part of the chassis.

Hudson is designed by Howard E. Collin who created the Light Six type. It marks his latest achievement.

This Hudson model is a four-year result. Two years were spent on it before it appeared. Two years have been spent in refining it.

Hudson is built by the leading builder of class cars. Its prestige gives it permanent value. A year after buying the Hudson will be worth more than any other car in its class.

12,000 Road Tests

But the greatest fact is that Hudson is known to be free from mistakes.

Many Women Ask and Secure Employment by Bureau's Aid

The activity in the Bureau of the American Association for Unemployed Women yesterday proved the value of that organization and the necessity for its continuance. The placing of the applicants becomes less difficult now that the women of Atlanta who wish work they have done realize that the Emergency association has a well organized bureau for that purpose. The bureau has a business like method of operation with a follow up system that enables the secretary to recruit the women who fill a place temporarily or permanently. There is an order in the classification of applicants which is helping each day in the writer of solving many of the questions arising in work among industrial operatives.

The bureau in its capacity to handle the question of the unemployed in an emergency has an experience that will prove a factor in its success in the case of permanent establishment.

Registered yesterday were the following applicants:

Small, Red and Shiny. White Scales Formed. Very Disfiguring. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Healed.

Carpenter Miss. For years I had been troubled with tough plates coming on my face in small places then gradually covering it. They would itch and almost make me scream with pain. Then my face would become covered with small white scales or bits of dead skin which would feel very bad. When they began they were small red and shiny. Then as they enlarged white scales formed and they were very disfiguring. They burned and itched so that I could not keep from scratching and I could not sleep if a skin scaled and peeled off.

I tried various remedies but was nearly crazy when some months ago I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed my face with warm water and Cuticura Soap then applied the Cuticura Ointment with my fingers several times a day. The first treatment helped the burning and itching and within a week there was no sign of the trouble. Now my face is as smooth and white as anybody's. I am healed.

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of others' definite treatment for Influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the Lancet Club Dr. James Bell of New York City says he seconded the opinion of Dr. B. H. Miller that it was unnecessary and injurious when all do to a case of La Grippe the patient is usually seen when the fever is present, and still more so when the condition in the disease has gradually passed away. Dr. B. H. then orders that the bowels be opened freely with salts, Aconite, or extract of sarsaparilla, and the fever, headache, pain and general soreness, one Anti Lammin Tablet every three hours, is quickly followed by complete recovery. Ask for Keen's Tablets. They are also excellent for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

the difficult music of "Amore dei Tiechi," which has been defined by the critics as the most original and most original operatic productions that have come out of Italy since Verdi lived down his pen. Critics everywhere are agreed that Montezemolo was on equal enthusiasm. The program this afternoon is in charge of Mr. Jenkins, who is in charge of the department of music in the study and presentation of the work. Miss Peve Todd and Mr. James Whitwell have done a great deal of work on this dramatic and powerful work and will be heard to great advantage in the solos and duets of the vocalists. Mr. Jenkins at the piano will illustrate a short talk on the structure of the drama. An elaborate bibliography will undoubtedly agree these musicians today and applaud their meritorious work in the teaching of Atlanta with the new work to be produced by the Metropolitan forces.

THE TEST OF NEUTRALITY

In his time, and carefully prepared ad re-sented before the directors and officers of the Associated Press in New York on Tuesday President Woodrow Wilson gave perhaps the most accurate definition of real neutrality that has yet appeared. The test of neutrality, the president said, is not sympathy in one side or the other, but getting ready to help both sides when the struggle is over.

President Wilson has submitted the best test of true friendship for Europe that has yet been given. It must be remembered that regardless of individual opinion or the sum of it in any particular direction as a nation we are not sitting in judgment and have no right to. We must wait patiently without attempting to judge or construe motives clearing our vision and preparing ourselves meanwhile to assist when the time comes in the great work of reparation. That this must fail to our lot as the only great nation at present disengaged President Wilson clearly showed. The probability is the United States will be the chief mediator and in any event we must be the chief factor in financial industrial and commercial rehabilitation.

There is echo in President Wilson's words of the gospel of peace on earth when he says:

"There is something so much greater than the right and wrong of Europe that the American must be to Europe than the day it started the war. The rest of the world is not in the path with us."

How different from the attitude of those some of whom are in the president's intimate councils who would involve us in war with one or the other of the European factions for none but sentimental reasons or because the European viewpoint as to the manner of conducting their quarrel may differ from ours. In the light of the president's statement the American attitude as expressed in official action which has some times seemed open to criticism at least as measured by the individual standard becomes clearer and more forcible in its command of general approval. At no point have we sacrificed our national dignity even in slightest degree nor have we anywhere to unbiased judgment laid ourselves liable to the charge of unfairness.

There is no doubt that President Wilson's timely utterances will strike a popular chord. Already there is marked evidence of a tendency on the part of the individual citizens of the United States where uncontrolled by national descent or other primary cause to weigh to consider and to preserve an unbiased judgment regarding the motives of the European controversy. The president's words have crystallized this growing national sentiment. It is as if he pictured the American feeling and viewpoint when the struggle shall have closed—not an official attitude alone but one expressive of the broad national view when the trial balance shall have been taken.

The best and most satisfactory conclusion we can draw from President Wilson's presentation is that those who have laid wagers on our becoming embroiled in the European controversy will lose while disappointed jingoes will be forced to turn elsewhere for the consolation they cannot hope to get from demonstrated national sanity.

THE VITAL STATISTICS LAW

It is more or less a matter of habit with the Georgia legislature to enact administrative laws without providing the ways and means for their enforcement. That is what the last legislature did with the new vital statistics law, passing up to its successor the responsibility of providing the needed funds.

This is one instance, however, in which it was found impossible to put the law into operation without the money. It can hardly be said that economy dictated the legislative neglect; it was, rather, an opportunity to get away with a recognized duty by merely enacting the law, and saving the money for other appropriations of which the legislature—and it was no exception—would have made more than its share, if it had not been well held down.

Several years ago when the legislature created the department of commerce and labor it made no appropriation for meeting the department's expenses in the first six months of its authorized existence. The people elected a commissioner and he went ahead with the organization and conduct of the department taking upon himself the responsibility until a subsequent legislature made good the omission.

The vital statistics law is a somewhat different proposition. There is a heavier expense involved and there is no one in position to bear the burden of responsibility for this expense pending legislative action this summer. Consequently, although the law was to have gone into effect January 1 last its benevolent operations were necessarily delayed until the legislature can meet this summer and apply the remedy in the shape of the needed appropriation.

Forcible attention was called to this failure on the part of the legislature at the annual meeting of the state county and municipal health officers held in Macon this week when that organization appointed a committee to go before the new legislature this summer and urge it to lose no time in correcting the mistake of its predecessor.

The value of a general vital statistics law is no longer an issue. The legislature which passed it gave it almost a unanimous vote. It probably thought the law would go into effect without question as others have done depending upon the next legislature, to make good the deficit. But in this case the plan didn't work and Georgia will not as a matter of fact have a vital statistics law until the money is forthcoming.

The coming legislature should make this appropriation without delay and let it be immediately available. Until this is done one of the most valuable laws enacted in recent years must remain a dead letter.

THE CAUSE OF THE WAR

It is doubtful if any kind of a prize offer would bring forth a generally satisfactory answer as to the cause of the European war. There are those who know just exactly what it is, know beyond the question of a doubt, but they are having considerable difficulty in securing adoption of their views by a majority.

It would be a hard task to get together a considerable number of persons who might entertain precisely the same view as to the reasons why the war is being fought unless perchance the aforesaid aggregation were composed altogether and in toto of Germans or English or French or some other of the nations engaged and their sympathizers.

Thus we are left a wide range of choice in war causes, and it becomes after all a matter of individual selection. Here are a few of the unquestioned causes of the European war depending of course upon viewpoint.

German militarism

England's jealousy of German commerce

Germany's jealousy of English trade

Desire of England to maintain her supremacy on the seas

Russia's desire for territorial aggrandizement

French desire for revenge for 1870

Germany's determination to establish an open sea

To these might be added a number of other alleged causes more technical in nature and more deeply involved but here is a list from which the average man may readily make his selection and find plenty of facts and argument to back it.

The partisan of either side will find no difficulty in making selection to the prejudiced man it may be a somewhat harder task but it matters not where he picks a little reading from the supporters of his chosen theory will fill him full of convincing argument.

There is an interesting wealth of material here just now for the high school and college debater but even these will scarcely prove convincing to the mind made up somewhere else.

To get at the real cause of the war it looks as if we will have to wait for history. Possibly the next generation will have the pleasure of being accurately and reliably informed as to just what brought it on.

Song of the chautauqua statesman "My platform fits of thee, cash place prepared for me"

With prospects of a fine peach crop for killing purposes why waste time settling war problems?

All after a place in the sun, but it's going pretty far to see stars

Fog Day See that the label is on straight

Huerta might have known that by bringing on more talk he wouldn't have a chance to do it all

Seize the opportunity to be the best tagged man in the country

With so many generals, Mexico can pick a new president every day

Vain for a fog surrounded Zeppelin to try for a place in the sun

Billy Sunday believes in praying for rain But even if one has faith, the wind may not be in the right direction.

JUST from GEORGIA

By FRANK L. STANTON

Song of Little Troubles.

Hey my Little Troubles!
Are you all at home tonight?
I'm from the blossoms—the beauty of the light
In a shadow corner still you love to shong-ton
I'm bringin' you a sunbeam—in unforgotten song.

II

I feared that you would follow where I found a garden bright
But you cling to shadow corners—you are all at home tonight
But you shall not stay the dark hours I've brought the light along
I'll washin' your brows with sunbeams and touch your lips with song.

III

And the Little Troubles answer is the beauty of the beam.

We have always dwelt in shadows—we have never known a dream Then knowing that the darkness was the shadow of the day They heard the Morning sun sing and dreined the dark twy.

Mr. S. Harper, second officer of the torpedo boat ship, told us this story of the dragon to the London Times.

We had just sat down to tea, said Mr. Harper, at the engine room table, and the chief engineer was singing glace. He had just uttered the word "Tea" for what we are about to receive may the Lord make us truly thankful when there came a awful crash. The torpedo had struck us.

INCREASE IN LOANS FOR STATE PROMISED

James Wright, of Pan-American Life, Investigating Conditions Here.

For the purpose of materially increasing the investments of his company in Georgia, Secretary-Treasurer James L. Wright of the Pan-American Life Insurance company, of New Orleans, has been spending several days in Atlanta and vicinity, particularly investigating the importunities John G. Saxon, Jr., of this city, Mr. Wright has examined numerous commercial and residential investments in Atlanta, and has also taken an automobile tour of the agricultural sections near Atlanta and in adjoining counties.

"The people of Georgia," said Mr. Wright, in discussing investments in this state, "have demonstrated to the world their ability to overcome the greatest crisis through which the south has passed in fifty years, and to do without loss of prestige or wealth. Our large sum of money invested in Georgia securities, and so satisfactory have they proven we have decided to largely increase our holdings, particularly of Georgia loans, on both city and country property. Notwithstanding the conditions prevailing throughout the entire south since last August, especially in the rural districts, we have no fear of default or delinquency on any Georgia investment."

The Pan-American Life Insurance company of New Orleans absorbed the life insurance business of the Cosmopolitan Insurance company of Atlanta earlier in this year, removed their general agency for Georgia to this city, and, as a result of Mr. Wright's present visit, will make arrangements with Atlanta banks to handle their southeastern banking and collection business, and also establish Georgia loan connections for farm and other debts.

The present state offices of the company in the Third National Bank building in Atlanta through which all the life insurance investment business of the company will be handled, are in charge of A. J. Shropshire, Jr., state manager, who is associated with John G. Saxon, Jr., A. Riley and Walter F. Callaway.

Melon Distributors
Of Three States Here
To Form Organization

The Southeastern Melon Distributors' association was organized by about one hundred distributors from the melon belt of Georgia, Florida, and Alabama at the Ansley hotel Wednesday morning.

It was declared at the meeting that this year's crop, which will go on the market about June 5, will be as large as last year's. Representatives of the Southeastern Freight Lines Agents, associated members, the distributor close co-operation.

The following officers of the melon distributors' association were elected:

David Brown, of Albany, Ga., president; C. C. Winkler, of Vincennes, Ind., vice president; R. H. Pennington, of Evansville, Ind., secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is composed of James Leonard, of Cincinnati; Fuller Groover, of Gultman; D. H. Gilbert, of Monticello; C. C. Winkler, of Vincennes, and O. K. Jelks, of Quiltman.

WILL GIVE RECEPTION TO OLD GUARD OFFICERS

The newly elected officers of the Old Guard will be honored at a reception and ball to be held in organization in the ball room of the Ansley hotel Thursday evening. The officers and members will attend in blue fatigue uniforms. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

The election of officers and their ladies will constitute the reception committee. Colonel J. F. Burke, honorary commander; Major Edwin L. Johnson, major commanding guard; John W. Murrell, adjutant; Captain A. M. Wilson, quartermaster; Captain W. O. Wilson, surgeon; Major Frank Jones, Lieutenant T. A. Kemp, Lieutenant Frank Ridge, Lieutenant E. L. Bergstrom; honorary staff and their ladies.

TAKE VOTE OF PATRONS ON CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Following several hearings on the petition of the citizens of Buckhead and other persons to change the schedule of the Atlanta railroad to have the schedule of the Buckhead special changed so that it will leave Buckhead about 6:30 in the morning instead of 4:30 and arrive in Atlanta at 9:30 instead of 10:30, the Atlanta railroad is now taking a vote of patrons of the line to learn just what the effect of the change would be. Patrons this week have voted to have the change made as requested, and to change the schedule as requested, thus putting them into Atlanta too late to transact a daily business.

TOM HARRISON SPEAKS TO PRESBYTERIAN MEN

Rev. Tom Harrison, of Nashville, Tenn., will address the Presbyterian church on Washington street, opposite the state capitol, this evening, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Harrison comes under the auspices of the Atlanta chapter of the American Legion, and his address will be brief. The speaker and his address will be fine with the work this league is doing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK SHOWS GREAT GROWTH

Augusta Gets Next Meeting.
Fulton Subscribes $1,500
of $5,000 Fund.

Rev. Thomas M. Elliott.
—(Special)—
Augusta secured the unanimous vote of the Georgia Sunday school convention today for the next meeting, to be held in Atlanta. Other cities bidding for the meeting were Macon and Rome.

In response to appeals made tonight for immediate support of the campaign for the next two months, more than $5,000 was assured. Fulton county pledged the sum of $1,500, which was more than double the amount which the county promised. A large number of Georgia counties have not yet been heard from, among which there will be some of the most contributors.

This hospitality-loving city is being taxed heavily to entertain the multitudes of Sunday school workers who are assembled here for the annual convention. All former records of attendance have been smashed, and the outlook now is that more than 10,000 will be present.

An announcement was made today that over 1,500 registered delegates are in attendance. Last year, at Millidgeville, 1,700 delegates were present, and it is expected that some 1,600 will have been here before the close Thursday evening.

Beginning with the rise of the sun an early morning prayer meeting was conducted by W. S. Within of Atlanta, and the regular sessions were opened at 9 o'clock. C. E. Mathews, presided over the morning session.

Addressess were delivered in the forenoon by T. H. B. Tiffey of Marion, Classis DePuis, and a conference on the subject of "What Are Our Duties in the Sunday School" was held.

Dr. L. E. Burrow of the American Scotch Madras Co. spoke on "How With Workers Make Reports."

A most interesting feature of the morning work was the report of the employed workers of the Georgia Sunday school association. Dr. Simon Simola, president, reported that he had visited seventy-eight countries during the year past, in which sixty-nine country conventions had been held. One hundred and fifteen national and state conventions had been conducted by him, in which he had delivered 486 addresses, travelling 20,300 miles in the meantime.

The international committee of the states are now organized in the prosecution of Sunday school interests.

Two new records were set up, the banner standing of officials and flying up to the gold star standard, which is the acme of organized work. The gold star committee, Dr. Harry Carton, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Caldwell, and counties are Barrow, Bartow, Butts, Campbell, Carroll, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Elbert, Fayette, Fulton, Gwinnett, Hall, Haralson, Jasper, Jeff Davis, Jefferson, Laurens, Madison, Morgan, Pickens, Pike, Polk, Putnam, Spalding, Ware, Washington, and White.

Mrs. Daisy Magee, elementary superintendent of the state association, and other members of the state service also made excellent reports. As editor of the official organ of the state association, Miss Davis reported that the paper had increased in circulation in the year and is now self-supporting.

Work Shows Big Growth.

Interesting features of the workers' reports showed the remarkable growth of the organized Sunday school work in Georgia, the membership increasing in population of 1,25 per cent and in Sunday school enrollment of 55 per cent. In two years the number of organized counties increased from 50 to 102, while the number of annual county conventions in the same time have increased from 90 to 180, and the number of local meetings increased in number from 21 to 111. In two years the number of baton counties has grown from two to 10, and the number of counties represented in the state conventions two previous years were fifty-six and three years ago were 113. This year the state association presented to its representatives of 123 counties attending.

Other reports of the state association were given by Dr. W. J. Bryan, born of Atlanta; treasurer; Dr. Joseph Broughton, of Atlanta; president; J. J. Cobb, of Marion; chairman of the executive committee; and A. B. Caldwell, of Atlanta, auditor.

At noon today a workers' luncheon and conference was held, in which 1,000 delegates from the many departments of the modern Sunday school gathered for special consideration of the phases of the work. Dr. John B. Bagnall, of State, presided at the evening session of the convention when John Bagnall, of Atlanta, spoke of the Sunday school and service.

The afternoon was devoted to a large number of conference sessions of the many departments of the modern Sunday school gathered for special consideration of the phases of the work.

John Spalding, of Atlanta, spoke of increasing the ability of the Sunday school to meet the needs of the people.

John Jones, of Atlanta, spoke of preparing to meet the class.
