ONE OF THE ZEPPELINS REPORTED DESTROYED

Airship Was Disabled by Gunfire and Fell Into Sea, Where Destruction Was Completed by Aircraft From Dunkirk.

London, August 10.—An attack by German airships which flew over the English coast last night was announced today by the official press bureau. The statement says one of the airships was damaged by British aeroplanes and was towed into Ostend. According to the official announcement eight women, four children and one man were killed and six women, four men and two children were wounded as the result of the explosion of missiles dropped by the Zeppelins. The text of the statement follows: "A squadron of hostile airships visited the east coast last night and this morning between the hours of 3:30 p. m. and 12:30 a. m.

"Some fires were caused by the dropping of incendiary bombs, but these were quickly extinguished and only immaterial damage was done.

"The following casualties have been reported: Killed, one man, eight women and four children. Wounded, four men, six women and two children. One Zeppelin was seriously damaged by the gunfire of the land defenses and was reported this morning being towed into Ostend. She has since been subjected to continual attacks by aircraft from Dunkirk and has been under heavy fire, and it is now reported that after having her back broken and her rear compartment damaged she was completely destroyed by explosion.

"The night was extremely dark and was accompanied by thick fog in places which rendered night flying by aeroplanes very difficult.

"It is regretted that Flight Sub-Lieutenant R. Lord, who was one of the pilots sent up to engage the enemy, was killed on landing in the dark."

A revised list of casualties resulting from the airship raid was given out by the official press bureau this evening as follows:

Killed, one man, nine women and four children.

Wounded, five men, seven women and two children.

SOUTH WINS FIGHT FOR "SPLIT TICKET"

Railroad Commission Abrogates Rules Limiting Privileges on Combination Tickets—Eliminates Many Possible Inconveniences.

The action of the Interstate commerce commission on yesterday in abrogating the orders of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad which would prohibit through checking of baggage and purchase of Pullman transportation on mileage books between points in the south and points in the east marks a complete victory for the railroad "split-ticket" fight in which they were strongly supported by The Constitution.

Had the commission failed to abrogate the order it would have meant that travelers making a trip from Atlanta to New York for instance could have had their baggage checked on their mileage only as far as Washington and would have purchased Pullman transportation in their mileage only as far as Washington. There they would have had to have their baggage rechecked and would have had to purchase new Pullman transportation.

The right to check baggage through and purchase Pullman transportation through on mileage has been recognized by all railroads for years and the validity of the order would have meant a tremendous inconvenience to travelers from and to the south. The decision was a clean-cut victory for the business men and organized labor south who so vigorously fought the move.

Commission Deals Blow.—Washington, August 10.—Proposed rules of certain railroads which would have prohibited the through checking of baggage and sale of through or sleeping car tickets on combination tickets used in connection with joint fares from junction points were abrogated in a decision today by the Interstate commerce commission.

For years travelers from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other trunk line territory going to points in the south and southeast have checked their baggage through to destination and have obtained through Pullman car accommodations on combinations of tickets good only to and from the gateways to southern and southeastern territory. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads, and others, have insisted on the practice of forcing their joint fares and to conserve their revenues.

The rules were to apply to combinations of all forms of tickets issued by the roads and by their southern connections to and from the gateways in southern territory to the south and to combinations involving the case of mileage books of southern railroads or service tickets issued by the Baltimore and Ohio exchange orders, which effect lower fares than the published rates through railroads.

The railroads contended that the real purpose of mileage books and reduced rate tickets is to provide a lower band of fares within defined and limited territories and they are not intended for use in combination with through fares. They claim their use in combination tends sooner or later to favor the lines to the detriment of the combination rates.

Retail merchants, chambers of commerce and travelers in the south and southeast were among those who protested against the inconvenience of detouring at Washington and other southern points to check baggage and obtain Pullman accommodations for the remainder of their journey.

The commission received the equivalent of its full local fare to the junction, whatever the route through to destination, and abrogated the provision of a bill which passed the lower house of the legislature today. The bill has been passed in the senate and goes to the governor for his signature.

ALABAMA TO WATCH ALL PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Montgomery, Ala., August 10.—All private, denominational and parochial schools must make regular reports to the state educational department, according to the provisions of a bill which passed the lower house of the legislature today. The bill has been passed in the senate and goes to the governor for his signature.

OVERLOOKING THE OBVIOUS

Inability to see the obvious is a striking "gift" with some people. They prefer will-o'-the-wisps to realities. If every Atlanta advertiser sensed the obvious he would be a Constitution advertiser. He would reach the people the easiest way. He would put his advertisements where people would read them every morning when the buying impulse is forming. And the result would be increased sales and increased profits.

Advertising in The Constitution brings the largest percentage of returns, because it reaches the people who have money to spend and spend it for dependable merchandise.

FATHER KIDNAPS BABE AND HIDES FROM WIFE Behind Tower's Bars

"Billie" McCoy, Age 18 Months, to Witness Trial Today of W. P. McCoy, on Charge of Cruelty to Wife.

"Billie" McCoy, aged 18 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McCoy, of 1033 Highland avenue, is in the hospital ward on the fifth floor of the Fulton county jail. At 10:30 o'clock this morning, the youngster was taken to the courtroom before the judge of the municipal court and witness the trial of his father, who is charged with cruel and inhuman treatment of his wife in a warrant sworn out by the latter.

"Billie" has been the bone of contention in the McCoy family for the past several weeks, finally being spirited away by his own father and taken to the hospital ward. The youngster, when seen by a representative of The Constitution, Tuesday night, was looking through the bars of the big iron grating into the face of his mother, who had been having the time of his life romping through the corridors and swinging on the iron bars and steel cots in the cells.

Long before the trial, at Sheriff Mangum's "hotel" state that "Billie" and his father entered the front door and astonished the men present by asking that they be locked up as they were. He had been having the time of his life romping through the corridors and swinging on the iron bars and steel cots in the cells.

"I wanted to get 'Billie' safe behind these bars so my wife and her relatives couldn't get him," stated Mr. McCoy. Mr. McCoy told the reporter of going to his home on Highland avenue and taking the boy much against his grandmother's wishes. He carried the boy to the woods in DeKalb county near his home, where he waited until dark to bring the child to town.

Mr. McCoy is in the brokerage business at 4 1-2 South Broad street. He stated that the difference between himself and his wife were greatly augmented by interference of one of his sisters. Mrs. McCoy reported to police headquarters that her son had been kidnapped by her husband and furnished a description of the two. She said she thought Mr. McCoy had taken "Billie" to Acworth, Ga., where McCoy's parents live.

It's all the same to Billie, whether he is in his little bed at home or with his father in jail. He has laughingly won his way to everything which he desires in the Mangum Hotel and at the hospital ward. He has been crying and crying of the fifth floor during his short stay there.

Billie is in both cheeks are constantly showing themselves because he is always laughing. He has been crying and crying of the fifth floor during his short stay there. Mrs. McCoy reported to police headquarters that her son had been kidnapped by her husband and furnished a description of the two. She said she thought Mr. McCoy had taken "Billie" to Acworth, Ga., where McCoy's parents live.

ALLIES STRIKING AT DARDANELLES TO AID RUSSIANS

Greater Efforts Are Being Made to Force the Straits and Substantial Progress Is Claimed by London.

London, August 10.—Greater efforts are being made by the allies to force the Dardanelles and thus succeed in the Russian, hard pressed by the Austro-Germans, and at the same time influence the Balkans.

"For some time news from the Dardanelles has been very satisfactory for the British. While no details of operations there have been given out, the public has been told that the hope for a successful issue is brighter.

The renewed attempt against the Turkish positions appears to be a concerted one. Attacks at the tip of the peninsula, along the Krithia road, have gained the British two hundred yards on a front of 300 yards, and at Sari Bair, north of the Krithia road, have gained an important position. The British command, according to General Sir Ian Hamilton, the British commander.

"Elsewhere," General Hamilton reports, "a fresh landing has been made on the Gallipoli peninsula and considerable progress made."

This landing evidently surprised the Turks, as 500 prisoners, guns and material are declared to have been taken by the British. Turkish efforts to retake the localities of two landings. According to this, forces were put ashore in the environs of Karachall, on the road which skirts the north shore of the Gulf of Saros, opposite the neck of the peninsula, and at Sari Bair, north of the Krithia road, and at Karachall, on the road which skirts the north shore of the Gulf of Saros, opposite the neck of the peninsula, and at Sari Bair, north of the Krithia road, and at Karachall, on the road which skirts the north shore of the Gulf of Saros, opposite the neck of the peninsula.

SENATE W. & A. BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE BY A BIG MAJORITY

All Substitutes and Amendments to Persons Antiparalleling Measure Voted Down by Representatives.

MOTION TO TABLE GETS BUT FEW VOTES

Action on Teachers Prompt Payment Bill This Morning May Be Followed by Renewal of Filibuster.

The general assembly enters this morning upon the last day of the present regular fifty-day session and with prospects of doing more general and effective legislation in one day than in all the other forty-nine days of the session put together.

The prospects of action started Friday with the failure to table the antiparalleling Western and Atlantic bill to force an extra session.

Although it is likely that the prohibition wing of the house will yet use every means possible to bring about an extra session, it does not appear that the possible defeat of anything that will come up today would bring about this effect. Moreover, such matters as are likely to come up today are of great importance and all are practically without opposition.

After local matters, the house calendar will today be headed by the senate bill to provide for the prompt payment of the school teachers by the use of the governor's monthly warrant.

This bill has been passed upon by the present attorney general, his immediate predecessor, the state tax commissioner and a number of other authorities, and is declared by them to be constitutional. The payment of the teachers is a matter in which every member of the assembly is vitally interested and this bill will probably pass without opposition.

White Governor Harris would have included this bill in a call for an extra session, in event it is not passed at the regular session, he has made it known that he would not call an extra session solely upon this issue.

Next on the calendar will probably come the Persons constitutional amendment to prevent the paralleling of the state road. With the statute already passed for the protection of the state property in this particular, it is problematical whether the governor would call an extra session for the passage of this companion bill, should the prohibition wing defeat the amendment to the constitution.

Following this order will come the senate bill providing for a state auditor, which has never figured in any way as a factor in an extra session.

The state auditor bill will send the appropriations bill back to the house for concurrence in amendments immediately after the convening of an afternoon session today. This bill, it is anticipated, will restore to a large degree the cuts made by the prohibition wing when it was up for passage in the house. Any fight on the bill in this stage could hardly prevent its passage, as it is expected to be passed by the state auditor bill.

It is expected that the prohibition wing of the house will not let this session adjourn without expressing its disapproval of the unreasonableness of the rates committee.

One of these expressions will probably be in the shape of a resolution this morning to the house expressing the disapproval of the rates committee. Action in failure to report the prohibition measures, and it may not stop at this.

The resolution was being circulated in the house yesterday afternoon and it is anticipated that this morning it will have upwards of 100 signatures.

Two U. S. Battleships Hurrying to Vera Cruz To Protect Foreigners

The Louisiana and the New Hampshire Sail From Newport News—Wilson Himself Ordered Ships to Mexican Port.

PAN-AMERICA TO MAKE LAST MEXICAN APPEAL

To Quit Fighting and Restore Order—Diplomats Reassemble in New York Today to Resume Consideration of Mexican Question.

Washington, August 10.—Two American battleships, the Louisiana and the New Hampshire sailed tonight from Newport News for Vera Cruz in response to an urgent request from Commander McNamee that his little fleet of gunboats be reinforced in view of anti foreign demonstrations at General Carranza's capital.

It was understood here that President Wilson himself ordered the warships sent, although no official word had been taken during the day to point out that any naval or military activity now only would be precautionary to safeguard foreign interests and could not be construed as connected with the Pan-American conference to be resumed in New York tomorrow to complete a program for bringing about peace in Mexico.

Officials were reticent. Official reticence concerning the movement of the battleships is due largely to a fear that news of their coming reaching Vera Cruz ahead of the ships might accentuate the already serious situation there.

Commander McNamee called his request last night and the two battleships immediately were ordered held in readiness to proceed.

Today, after conferences between Secretary Lansing and Rear Admiral Benson, acting secretary of the navy, it was understood the sailing of the ships would be delayed pending fuller reports from Vera Cruz and that, if possible, the sending of any considerable additional force would be avoided because of its possible effect on work of the Pan-American conference.

President Wilson, in New Hampshire, was advised of Commander McNamee's report and several hours later a long code dispatch reached the navy department from which it became known that the ships had been instructed to start immediately for Vera Cruz.

To increase border forces. Secretary Lansing, who left tonight for New York to attend the Pan-American conference, would not discuss naval movements further than to admit that a ship would be sent to replace one which would bring the Brazilian and Guatemalan ministers to the United States. He said that on account of continued bandit raids on the border, orders soon would be issued to increase the American military forces.

HE'S NAMED CAPTAIN.

CAPTAIN L. S. DOBBS

POLICE COMMISSION AGAINST "DISTRICT"

Unanimously Passes Resolution Commending Police in Vice Crusade—Elect L. S. Dobbs Captain and E. R. Ryan Sergeant.

By a unanimous vote the board of police commissioners last night adopted a resolution, introduced by Commissioner W. A. Vernoy, and seconded by Commissioner J. C. Vaughan, commending the action of those Atlanta policemen connected with the closing down of the old red light district of Atlanta, and crusading against vice thereafter.

Commissioner Vernoy explained his resolution by saying that many citizens have openly charged that the police board, since denying former Chief of Police James L. Beavers, had conspired to "reopen" Atlanta.

The resolution also included the phrase "that the board will not countenance the reopening of the red light district."

After a spirited three-cornered race for captain of police, made vacant by the refusal of former Chief Beavers to serve as captain, when recently demoted to that position by the board, L. S. Dobbs, who was sergeant of the mounted squad of police, and a strong supporter of Chief Beavers, was chosen captain on the twelfth ballot, when he received seven votes.

On this ballot Station Sergeant George C. Bullard received four, and Sergeant A. J. Holcombe one vote. Other candidates in the race who received an occasional vote were Sergeants C. P. Connolly, W. N. Sheridan and S. J. Roberts.

Ryan Elected Sergeant. Ed R. Ryan, former bicycle officer and marshal of Oakland City, was named sergeant of police to fill the vacancy created by the promotion of Dobbs, winning on the first ballot when he received nine votes. Patrolman E. F. Davis polled two votes and Patrolman L. F. Carter one.

Superintendent Policeman Guy Lindsay, at one time station sergeant of the force, was detailed by special resolution of the board in the station sergeant's office to handle records of prisoners and robberies.

Councilman J. N. Renfro, of the first ward, who, as vice chairman of the police committee of general council, served for his first time on the police board, in the absence from the city of Councilman Edwin Johnson, chairman of council's police committee, was responsible for the election of Captain Dobbs, changing his vote from Bullard to Dobbs on the twelfth ballot, which made the necessary seven.

For eight consecutive ballots the election resulted in a deadlock, and it looked for some time as though the police board would tie up in one of its famous all-night sessions.

During these eight ballots the deadlock was between Sergeant Holcombe and Dobbs, each, on practically every ballot, receiving six votes, with an occasional vote being switched to Sergeant Bullard, or to one of the other three candidates in the race.

At the end of the eighth ballot Commissioner James W. English suggested a thirty-minute recess, during which time it was agreed all the candidates for election were to be called before the commissioners to be put through an "efficiency test" by the commission.

COTTON QUESTION EXCITES ENGLAND

Government Is Strongly Urged in Some Quarters to Declare the Staple Contraband—Meetings to Be Held to Urge Action.

London, August 11.—(3:05 a. m.)—Cotton is the subject of editorials in all the morning newspapers today. Some urge the government to declare the staple contraband, while others address the United States and ask sympathy with the British viewpoint.

Injury Is Admitted. "We do not conceal from ourselves," says The Morning Post, "the injury that will be caused the United States by our refusal to permit cotton to enter Germany through neutral countries. This injury we deeply regret, but in justice can the United States hold us to blame? The responsibility must be placed on Germany, the aggressor in this war, and we do not regret the loss the United States may suffer, we simply ask it to put itself in our place. It is not a matter of what the United States did in the past under similar circumstances, but what it would do if placed in the position we are in."

The Daily Telegraph says the mere declaration of contraband cannot decide the issue.

The Daily Telegraph adds, "to be effective must be supported by an arrangement with such neutral countries as are in touch with the enemy's frontier."

The Daily Telegraph declares that the government should carry out its delicate task unhampered by meetings or demonstrations.

The body says the question of declaring cotton contraband "is much more delicate and far more complicated than it is currently assumed to be."

WILSON HAS DECIDED TO HURRY TO CAPITAL

Cornish, N. H., August 10.—President Wilson today decided to return to Washington within forty-eight hours. He will be back in time for Friday's cabinet meeting.

The president was in communication with Washington officials regarding the request from Commander McNamee that a battleship squadron be sent there. It was believed he directed that further information be obtained regarding the situation at Vera Cruz.

Member of the president's family are to remain here.

Women's Suits for Fall Are Very Tempting

Their prettiness of style, fabric and trimming has tempted many women already to choose from them. Those who are going to the Panama Exposition, or going East, even women who are staying at home and who have grown tired of summer clothes, are buying Fall Suits.

To all these we know your answer is--YES. For a good, long while we have been preaching to you the doctrine of patronizing home industries. Let us repeat that, as buyers of things to eat and things to wear, you can render no better service to your home community than by calling for the goods made right here in your midst.

mechanism and the foreign consumer. We can do this through the same methods which the European nations have long successfully employed.

THE NEW RURAL LIFE.

A drama to fit the changed conditions of rural life is needed—to hold the mirror up to the life of rural communities as it is lived today.

Of the appeal of rural drama which gives perfect pictures of life, The Indianapolis News says:

"The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East" are two shining examples. Seasons have come and gone, bringing changes with their advent and departure—new styles in drama, new styles in acting.

That is the point to bring the rural drama down to our own day; and it is with this idea that the Agricultural College of Massachusetts offers a prize for the encouragement of playwrights.

In this connection The Christian Science Monitor says that "the success of the 'Little Country Theater,' organized and maintained by the North Dakota Agricultural college, proves how eager are the people of the farms and villages for the best work of the best playwrights."

And as to the people of the cities, the faithful portrayal of farm life—the old home with the porch of the morning glory vines and the "old-fashioned roses" touches the tender chord, awakening memories that last a lifetime.

That is the cheerful, humorous view, and the crippled soldiers may get what comfort they can from it.

It is well that in a war in which money is the moving power it can be put to such beneficial uses in the partial restoration of the wrecks it has made.

OUR NEW FOREIGN TRADE. Are American manufacturers and producers going to let slip the new foreign trade, or a large portion of it, that is coming to them as a result of the European war?

With the revival of trade in certain lines in this country, it is stated manufacturers are losing interest in trade with South America and the Orient.

From South America comes evidence that many American commercial travelers content themselves with selling at a few large cities and do not see the traders at interior points because business is not so good there.

Similar reports come from China and other Oriental countries where our consuls report indifference or neglect on the part of American manufacturers to adapt their methods of selling to conditions existing in those countries.

Even if the Turk "fights like a Christian," that's saying mighty little for him.

The Sun is so different—when you reflect that 45,000 miles of spotlight doesn't amount to a row of pins to him.

The Russians can "give ground" for years and still have a big block of real estate left.

Considering all the fines Brussels has to pay, if the allies are successful there won't be much left to retaliate.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

"A Pore White's Banjo." There are some mighty bright songs and sayings in the Charlotte (N. C.) Observer's column.

"My buddy, he don't take no keer. Uv war, hard times nor taxes, At feedin' time he wants his cheer, Beyan that he never axes."

"He hain't a-worryin' at nite. 'Bout when th' rent is due, He chuckles daytimes with delite, Never is a-feylin' blue."

"I don't know what makes him so glad, What makes him luff an' coo, He sees more fun in his ol' dad, Than you wood in a soo."

"Hit may be that he's not as wise, He growed-up folks kin be, He may be that his big blue eyes, Sees more than you an' me."

And take this simple song of "A Rainy Day" as another poetic instance:

"Th' big drops go putt, putt, putt, putt, Agin th' windpance, An' littil flowers lift th'ir heads, To git th'ir share uv rain."

"Th' weazy streets th'et's been tromped on, By hundreds uv heavy feet, Have th'ir wounds washed and bruises healed, By showers obol ar' sweet."

"An' I, who've worked th' night afore, An' layin' sn' in bed, A-his'nin' to th' ratstrops fall, Er' sleepin' like th' dead."

"My wimmenfolks kaint wash today, Th' kids is noisy, too, But waint's that to you, tired old world, When God is bathin' you?"

The column is conducted by O. J. Coffin, and no one is writing truer poetry than comes to the attention of the "Playful Plunkings of a Pore White's Banjo."

Proverbs of the Highway. Funny, when a man makes laws to govern the people and is the first to be tripped by them.

After some men enter public office they are so afraid of a draught that they keep the doors locked day and night.

A Big Undertaking. General Secretary Edward Young Clarke of the Brooks County Industrial Club, who is in charge of the building of the film for the Georgia Chamber of Commerce returned to Atlanta Tuesday morning.

He found the building of this film on Georgia a vastly bigger proposition than at first thought it seemed that it would be having undertaken the proposition, however the Georgia Chamber of Commerce is determined that the most important, intensive and perfect undertaking of its kind ever put through by a state or an organization.

From every part of Georgia is coming letters to the Georgia Chamber of Commerce citing things and places which should form a part of the film. It is evident that the film will run not less than 7,000 feet and the actual cost of the footage of the film, regardless of very heavy incidental expenses, is going to run up into several thousand dollars.

When it is completed it will be so complete a display of Georgia and her resources as to make the finished film well worth the money and time expended to produce it.

Parts of the film already completed have been run for inspection and it is declared to be one of the finest pieces of camera work ever put on a screen in Atlanta.

WHOLESALE BUTCHERY OF THE CHRISTIANS

Tiflis, Trans-Caucasia, August 10.—(Via Petrograd and London)—The Armenian bishop has learned that 60,000 Armenians refugees have arrived at Igdir, principal outlet of the vilayet of Van. It is expected that fully 100,000 will be driven from Van alone and another exodus of Christians from Persia is feared.

Kurds are reported to have massacred 10,000 Armenians in the vilayet of Bitlis, throwing the bodies into the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. The war on this front has reached a degree of intensity not known to the Armenians in the period just preceding the Russian victory at Sary-Kamysh.

B. Varadate, a member of the committee of the Armenian social democratic party, writing to L'Humanite, of Paris, on August 2, said the committee had received word that the Turks after massacring all the male population in the region of Bitlis, Turkish Armenia, assembled 3,000 women and children and drove them to a place in the Tigris, where they shot them, throwing the bodies into the river.

The head of the Armenian church was reported early this month to have written to President Wilson an appeal to the American nation to protest against "Armenian massacres and the violent removal of Armenians from Constantinople and Cilicia and Mesopotamia, where they are doomed to perish."

CASH versus CREDIT!

TODAY you are selling on 60 or 90 days' time with 3% off for cash in 10 days, and you have a $25,000 credit line with your Bank, and are in good trade credit.

TOMORROW you change your terms to 80% cash against bills of lading, reducing your price by 3%, and you expect to increase your volume or buy for cash—discount all purchases, etc.

How could such a change of "terms" either cause your Bank to curtail your line of credit or unfavorably affect your credit in the trade?

Your customers, like you, must carry open accounts and must buy on time. Through us, and with their knowledge, you simply change your credit sales to 80% cash at date of shipment, giving us about the same discount for our Cash as you offer to your customers for their money in 10 days.

Your contingent liability on accounts sold to us is only your risk of loss by failures, and even this can be restricted under Credit-Insurance.

When these facts are clearly understood, why shouldn't the honest assignment of accounts by any firm be encouraged?

Write for further details. A. C. President.
