

ATLANTA DISTRICT LEADS IN BUSINESS

J. E. C. Pedder, Bradstreet Official, Says This Section Suffered Little From Recent Depression and Gives Reasons.

Due to variety of enterprises, Atlanta has suffered less in the past period of depression than any other point in the south, according to J. E. C. Pedder, division superintendent for Bradstreet's. In viewing the reports which were made to him by the fourteen field superintendents, who met Monday for an annual conference of two days, Mr. Pedder says that money is free and there are abundant facts to stimulate the belief that unlimited commercial strides can be made by the business men of this section if they do not act too hastily in speculation.

"Atlanta has suffered less than almost any section of the south," said Mr. Pedder, "for a number of reasons. While some of the manufacturing plants have been running fewer hours than formerly, it was the cotton mills rather than the rest of them that were closed during the period of depression. Reports from some of the largest plants for June show business in excess of the same year in 1914, which has registered the largest amount of business in the south's history."

CASES DISMISSED; BOARDERS GIVEN 48 HOURS TO MOVE

Mrs. E. Langley, proprietress of a rooming house at 111 Ivy street, has six inmates who were arrested by Officers Allen and Gorman during the vice campaign by members of the police force Sunday afternoon, when they were given eight hours in which to vacate the neighborhood, when their cases were tried in police matinee Tuesday afternoon.

House Passes Bill Affecting Procedure For Tax Collectors

The time of the house of representatives, while in session on Tuesday, was given over to the consideration of a discussion of a third and the introduction of a number of new bills. After an argument which had extended into its third day, the bill, Mr. Davidson of Fulton, providing that tax collectors against whom executions are issued may bring bills of injunction against the comptroller general, was discarded for the substitute of Judge E. H. Walker of Fulton. The principal difference between the original and the substitute bill is that the original provided that the injunction be brought in Fulton superior court, while the substitute provides that the injunction be brought in the county in which the tax collector bringing the bill resides. The substitute passed by a vote of 15 to 3.

SHRINE OFFICE SOUGHT BY FOREST ADAIR

Seattle, Wash., July 13.—The feature of today for the Mystic Shrine's drawn to Seattle by the forty-first annual meeting of the Imperial Council was a procession which escorted the imperial officers from the city to the convention hall at the hall the first session was held. Entertainment in the afternoon included a sea-side ride and automobile trip. Three balls were given tonight and band concerts were held at several points by musicians from various parades. The imperial council tomorrow will take up the election of an imperial outer guard. Candidates are John T. Buckbee, Rock Ford, Ill.; William C. Bristol, Portland, Ore.; James E. Chanter, Kansas City, George Filmer, San Francisco; Forrest Adair, Atlanta, and James Burgess, Denver.

Kinship Ties Tangled When Six Brothers Married Six Sisters

Representative P. D. Rich So Closely Related to Himself That He Can't Figure It All Out.

It's all in the family! At least that is the way Representative P. D. Rich, of Miller county, looks at it. Also he has reason for his peculiar and unusual point of view, for Representative Rich probably is more closely related to himself than any other member of the general assembly of Georgia, if not any other citizen of this sovereign state. Eight children were born to the parents of Representative Rich, of these no less than six married brothers and sisters members of another prominent family of Miller county. As a result, these two families have a sort of monopoly on relationship, and Mr. Rich himself admits that the problems of kinship which frequently confront him are beyond his most ardent efforts at solution. While steadfastly denying that he is an economist in relations, Mr. Rich says that he is never times his own brother-in-law, and that his children and those of his various sisters and brothers are doubt first cousins. "I'll probably turn out to be my own Aunt Ben by marriage some day," he said, "and it's all in the family."

HIGHWAY BUILDERS FORM ORGANIZATION

Wardens and Superintendents Organize at Kimball House—Governor Harris to Address Body Today.

Wardens and superintendents of roads from all parts of the state gathered for their annual convention at the Kimball house yesterday, forming a body which is expected to go far in aiding the movement for better roads in Georgia and in originating progressive laws governing the convicts that work them. W. S. McCurdy, DeKalb, was elected president. The other officers are T. S. Chapman, Houston, first vice president, W. S. Walters, Twiggs, second vice president, and J. S. Butts, Monroe, secretary-treasurer. The standing committee on rules and by-laws occupied the greater portion of the afternoon, formulating the rules and regulations governing the permanent organization. This committee was composed of G. S. Tucker, Decatur, H. J. Crayley, Upson, J. C. Stine, Dooly, and W. Z. Kemp, Johnson.

WIFE CHARGES HUSBAND INTOXICATED 12 YEARS

A state of habitual intoxication, that began the first week of their marriage, and has lasted twelve years, is the alleged cause of the divorce which Mrs. Watson in a divorce suit filed against F. L. Watson in the superior court yesterday afternoon. The suit was filed by Attorney Leonard J. Grossman. Mrs. Watson charges that her husband, in 1903, and prior to that time her husband had apparently been a sober, industrious man. A week after their marriage, she alleges, he began to drink, the habit ripening into a state of habitual intoxication. She charges him further with general cruel treatment during drunken states, neglect and abuse.

Reaching The People

What do you and your wife read? What do your friends at the club read? What do the laundress, the cook, the iceman and the people you see in the cars read? Any way you ask the question, is not the answer invariably the same—Newspapers. Mr. Merchant, when you want to tell the people about your goods why not advertise where the advertising will be read? In Newspapers. And remember, always, that the Constitution reaches the people who have money to spend and spend it for dependable merchandise.

WOODWARD CLAIMS TO HAVE EVIDENCE ON CHIEF BEAVERS

Promises to Furnish Police Board With Affidavits to Support Serious Charges and to Press Matter to the Limit.

CHIEF ADMITS APPROVING EMPIRE HOTEL LICENSE

Letter From Hotel Clerk Says He Was Discharged Because He Told Police Hotel Harbored Suspicious Women.

Mayor Woodward promised to spring a sensation in the police crusade against "scattered vice" in Atlanta at last night's monthly meeting of the police board, which, as the mayor termed it, "would involve charges of a serious nature against Chief Beavers' actions in connection with an Atlanta hotel."

In executive session Mayor Woodward took the floor and read a communication from a young hotel clerk who stated he had been discharged by the proprietor of a well-known Atlanta hotel last week because he had telephoned Chief Beavers of disorderly things going on in the hotel.

MAYOR TO GET AFFIDAVITS

Mayor Woodward said he would not disclose any names in connection with the letter until he could get affidavits to back up the statement in it, which he promised to do immediately. He said he had just received the letter from Chief Beavers, who declared that he had heard nothing of the hotel clerk and no complaints from any hotel. "This is a serious charge, gentlemen," said Mayor Woodward, "and I am going to get at the truth and the board will hear from this matter further."

BEAVERS APPROVED EMPIRE LICENSE

Chief Beavers learned upon referring to his records Tuesday afternoon that he did approve the permit issued to the Empire hotel, which was the center of controversy in the public press between Councilman Edwin Johnson, of the sixth ward, and Marion Jackson. Chief Beavers' office records show that he approved the Empire hotel permit on January 14, 1913, and that the police committee of council, of which A. R. Colcord was chairman, on the chief's recommendations, reported favorably to council on the Empire hotel's application for business license on January 20, 1913.

BLOCKADE ON COTTON PROTESTED BY ALABAMA

Legislature Requests President Wilson to Urge Great Britain to Lift Embargo.

"HOTEL WAS TIPPED TO RAID."

The mayor then charged that the managers of the Empire hotel were given information last Saturday afternoon to the effect that the police would raid the hotel that night, and that every woman in the house was moved out of the building. A police officer has furnished me with this information," declared the mayor. "I am going to see the whole matter through."

MILITIA UNDER ARMS FOLLOWING MOB RUMOR

Macon Troops to Go to Milledgeville if Trouble Developed.

CHIEF ADMITS APPROVING EMPIRE HOTEL LICENSE

Letter From Hotel Clerk Says He Was Discharged Because He Told Police Hotel Harbored Suspicious Women.

While militiamen were being called together from all parts of the city, gathered up in automobiles and every other means, arrangements for the transportation of the troops were completed. A special train on the Central of Georgia railroad was obtained and is in readiness to take the troops to the very door of the state prison. No order to proceed, however, had been received up to 8 o'clock tonight.

WILSON DEVOTING HIS ENTIRE TIME TO GERMAN NOTE

Statement Given Out at the White House Contradicting Reports in Certain Papers as to the President's Attitude.

NO DECISION YET MADE AS TO AMERICAN POLICY

The President, like Secretary Lansing, considers the situation as grave, and is resolved to assert American rights. Washington, July 13.—The first official announcement of President Wilson's immediate plans for dealing with the situation that has arisen between Germany and the United States came tonight in a telegram from Cornish, N. H., to Secretary Tumulty, stating that the president would return to Washington soon to lay the entire subject before the cabinet. The message indicated that the president had arrived at no decision as to the American policy.

CRUCIAL POINT HAS ARRIVED

Emphasis has been laid in official quarters on the fact that the issues at stake in such a case are of the highest importance and that consideration for a week or more of the kind of reply that should be made ought not to be construed as meaning that the necessity for a final decision for American policy was underestimated. So far as can be gathered here, the president will find his advisers practically unanimous in the belief that the crucial point in the correspondence with Germany over submarine warfare has arrived, and that if the American government is not to recede from its previously announced position on this subject, it must convey more or less pointedly the purposes of the United States in the event of further violations of American rights in the war zone. Just what the United States should say with reference to Germany's refusal to disavow the intention to destroy American lives on the Lusitania has not crystallized definitely in the informal discussions of the cabinet, but the suggestions are heard that the German government might be informed that the United States intended to continue to press for a settlement of the case and would keep it constantly to the front as a diplomatic issue of prime importance between the two countries.

TRADE BALANCE GROWS IN FAVOR OF AMERICA

Washington, July 13.—A favorable trade balance of $15,574,211 is indicated by the department of commerce statement on imports and exports for the week ending July 10. Despite the fact that the week contained but five business days, the trade balance exceeded the record of the week in June by more than $2,000,000.

FRENCH GIVE CHECK TO THE TROOPS LED BY CROWN PRINCE

Germans Attack With Very Heavy Forces in the Argonne Forest, But Are Thrown Back.

SUCCESS FOR RUSSIANS AGAINST THE AUSTRIANS

Czar's Forces, After Fighting the Enemy, Take New Positions and Are Now Waiting for Austro-Germans to Move.

London, July 13.—A check to the German crown prince's army in the Argonne forest and the forced retirement of the Germans before an energetic counter attack by the French is described in the latest French official communication. The Germans, it is asserted, had attacked with very heavy forces from the road between Binerville and Vienne-le-Chateau as far as the region of Haute-Chavauchee, after a preliminary bombardment in which asphyxiating shells were used. The French line held several places, but a counter attack stopped the Germans.

RUSSIAN FORCES PUSH AUSTRIANS

Geneva, Switzerland, July 13.—(Via Paris.)—A Swiss dispatch from Innsbruck says "Archduke Joseph Ferdinand is expected today at Cracow to preside over a war council. The next few days the Austrians cannot stop the victorious Russian advance the whole front must retreat. The Russian reinforcements have been hurried to the province of Lublin, but the Russians, though fighting with superior forces, continue advancing. The Austrians have been returning to Galizia and waiting for the Austro-Germans to move. It is not expected that this will be long delayed for General von Mackensen has had time to bring up reinforcements.

LOCAL ACTIONS IN THE EAST

Petrograd, July 13.—(Via London, July 14.)—The following general headquarters' communication said "Local actions continue on the Rubezh and on the front of the army. The fighting occurred near Obozovsk and Jidvabno from the evening of the 11th to the morning of the 12th. In the valleys of the Skroda, Pissa and Skva rivers there has been only little fighting. Heavy mortar fire was heard on the night of July 12 attacked in the region of the villages of Tartak, Belz and Groudouk. The attacks were repulsed. There have been no engagements on the front of the army."

FRENCH CHECK CROWN PRINCE

Paris, July 13.—The following official communication was issued tonight: "In Belgium, the Germans in bombardment the British and French lines, having made use of asphyxiating shells. In the region to the north of Arras the cannonade has been particularly violent. Heavy mortar fire has been reported during the course of the day. In the Argonne, the army of the German crown prince has resumed the offensive from the road between Binerville and Vienne-le-Chateau."

forty miles an hour, this morning bombarded the railroad station strategically established by the Germans at Vignoulles-Les-Hattoncheval. This station served the region of the Colonne trench and the forest of Apremont. Very important stores of every kind, and particularly ammunition, were concentrated there. Aviators dropped upon these objectives 171 bombs of ninety-kilogram each. The bombardment started several. All our machines returned, although they had been violently cannonaded."

NO CHANGE, AUSTRIANS SAY.

Vienna, July 13.—(Via London).—The following official communication was issued today:

"The general situation in the Russian war theater is unchanged. On the front of the coastal district at some points severe artillery engagements took place yesterday. Near Redning, an attack of several infantry regiments was repulsed."

"The Carpathian and Tyrolean frontiers districts the situation is unchanged."

GAIN CLAIMED BY GERMANS.

Berlin, July 13.—(Via London).—The German army headquarters staff today gave out the following official statement:

"Western theater: A French hand grenade attack at the Souchez trench was repulsed. In connection with the storm attack on the cemetery, our positions were pushed forward across the cemetery over a width of 600 yards and the Caberet Rouge, situated on the road to Arras, also was captured."

"The number of prisoners has increased to three officers and 250 men. Several attempts at counter attacks were subjected to our fire, and their execution thereby was prevented."

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle the enemy developed lively artillery activity. He attacked our positions in the forest of Apremont four times during the evening and the night. The attacks broke down under our fire with heavy losses in front of our lines."

"The situation in the eastern and southern theaters of war remains unchanged."

GERMANS AIM AT VERDUN.

Paris, July 13.—Loss of the Souchez cemetery and adjacent trenches, indicated in the French official statement yesterday, does not affect the principal French defenses in that region, according to French military writers. It is a warning, however, says Colonel Rousset in 'The Petit Parisien', that what he neglected to mention is that the Germans visibly are redoubting their efforts to capture Verdun. After the failure of their plan in the forest of Argonne, they are trying, by concentrated attacks in the Woëvre district to obtain the most accessible parts of the attitude by attempting to establish batteries with the idea of reaching the city. The outer works, however, in the opinion of the French military officers, are solidly guarded and are equipped with all means for repulsion."

GERMAN SHELLS WRECK ARRAS.

Paris, July 13.—Since June 27 the Germans have bombed Arras with projectiles of all calibers, says an announcement today by the French war department.

On June 27 the bombardment was extremely violent, and was executed by French military writers, by concentrated attacks in the Woëvre district to obtain the most accessible parts of the attitude by attempting to establish batteries with the idea of reaching the city. The outer works, however, in the opinion of the French military officers, are solidly guarded and are equipped with all means for repulsion."

On July 3 secondary shells were used, and they started a most violent fire.

"On July 5 at 4:30 p. m." the statement continued, "the enemy recommenced its bombardment of the city, concentrating its fire on the environs of the cathedral, more especially upon Saint Vaast, the ancient bishop's palace, which had been transferred into a museum. Incendiary shells set the cathedral on fire, and the size of the shells from the three-inch and four-inch guns prevented our organizing to counter the bombardment."

"On July 6 about 7 a. m. shells fell on the cathedral, the roof of which took fire and despite the efforts of our troops was entirely consumed, as were the cathedral organs."

The departmental archives, which had been deposited in the palace of Saint Vaast, had been placed in the cellars of the palace before the bombardment and were saved. The sacred ornaments and part of the furnishings in the cathedral were removed."

Seeking Possession Of Alleged $12,000 Check as "Love Balm"

Falling to give bond of $25,000 required in a sensational "love balm" suit instituted against him by a girl who charged that she had been seduced by the defendant, George B. Rauch, attached to the office of the Credit Trust Association, slept in the Tower last night.

His accuser, Miss Stella B. Griffin, former of the city, could not be located last night, her attorney, Judge R. E. Jackson, refusing to divulge her whereabouts until the developments. The bail trover proceedings instituted against Rauch seek the recovery of a check for $12,000 the girl charges he gave her as "love balm" but later took it back.

Rauch denied the charge, asserting that he had never seen such a check, and further denying that the girl had ever worked for him. Rauch will probably stay in jail the required five days, at the end of which time he can be held before a judge and his case dissolved.

husband, who had deserted her, and was reported to be in Atlanta on that day.

Commissioner Johnson recommended that Chief Being requested to reprimand Officer Long, though, by telling him that he had been indiscreet.

The board recommended that Officer Long be given full pay for the time that he has been suspended from the force.

Charges against Officer S. A. Greer, instigated by George L. Bell, Jr., son of Judge Bell, that Officer Greer had treated him roughly and threatened to arrest him recently, were dismissed, although it was recommended that Officer Greer be removed from the Peachtree-Linden street intersection bench, where, it was charged, he made himself enemies with drivers of automobiles by haranguing with the drivers over petty matters.

It was recommended that he be permitted to destroy a large quantity of blind tier liquor stored away at the station, but that the hospitals of the city did not want it.

On the matter to Commissioner Johnson for investigation.

Captain James V. English, commissioner from the sixth ward was called out of the city yesterday afternoon on important business.

All the other commissioners were present. They were Commissioners W. P. Putnam, Mayor E. King, Robert Holland, Dr. J. C. Vaughan, Robert Clarke, Edwin Johnson, Mayor E. King, Mayor E. King, Mayor E. King, W. A. Verney and Robert Pace.

Commissioner Johnson informed Chief Being with the approval of Chairman Fain that there was more money coming from council to pay street car fares for policemen, who compose the vice squad.

It further developed that there will be a fight to hold up this annual appropriation unless these conditions are disproven or properly adjusted.

The bills of Messrs. Leobetter and Bullard were referred to the committee. The substitute provides for a state auditor, appointed by the governor and removable by him for cause. The auditor shall be under bond of not less than $10,000. The bill will be reported to the house today.

$6,000,000 Spent Annually.

In the discussion of this bill, in which Mr. Ayer charged that the state does in the neighborhood of $6,000,000 worth of business a year without even a correct procedure of an audit of the books to find out whether the money is being used economically and efficiently, Mr. Ayer said that he declared that he hoped the auditor would make proper investigation of the disbursement of funds by the educational institutions of the state.

"To my knowledge, there is one educational institution in the state not under the supervision of an auditor," he said, "where from $5,000 to $7,000 of the annual appropriation of $45,000 are being expended for the maintenance of the institution for the advancement of the deaf and dumb. At the same time I am going to expose this matter fully and, unless these conditions are adjusted, I intend to have that appropriation held up."

Deaf School Unaffiliated.

"I was present at a meeting of the board of trustees of the state institution held in Atlanta several weeks ago, and I learned from remarks I heard there that all the money going to the school should, I made it my business to inquire into these things. I have eight or ten letters in my possession showing how funds are being misadministered at the school for the deaf."

Another member of the committee remarked that he knew such conditions to exist at the school.

Mr. Jackson, of Chattahoochee, said he knew also that conditions were as they should be at the institution at Cave Springs.

Give It to South Georgia.

"There is no reason why this school cannot be properly operated on its appropriation," he said. "Give it to the state in south Georgia. The state can take that money, buy the ground, erect a new building and operate the institution as it should be, without asking for a new appropriation."

Commission to Investigate.

For the purpose of making an investigation at the institution and looking into the advisability of moving the school to a more central location, a resolution was introduced in the house, to be concurred in by the senate, asking the governor to appoint a commission, to be composed of one member from each congressional district in the state to make this investigation.

This commission has not yet been created.

It is presumed that it is the intention of Mr. Ayer to make his preferences before this committee. Mr. Ayer declined to disclose details of the alleged conditions of misadministration at the school for the deaf, further than his statement before the committee.

At the recent meeting of the board of trustees of the cities of Macon, Atlanta, Milledgeville and Griffin were suggested as possible locations where a new institution might be more advantageously located.

message advices whether the Americans had been advised the Leo when she was attacked and took to their small boats, or whether they were first removed to the Nordandy before the billigerent ship was destroyed.

In any event this and other instances in the last two weeks are regarded here as evidence of the fact that the German submarine commanders probably have instructions to torpedo no ships without warning and to save passengers and crews before destroying the vessels. The view in official quarters, therefore, is that if the present policy of the German submarine commanders is continued the next note of the United States, with its emphatic assertion of an intention to exercise neutral rights, will not necessarily lead to a break between the two countries. There are some officials, however, who regard the present situation as merely a truce during the pendency of the negotiations and who are not so confident that Germany has entirely abandoned her

Quickly Relieves Without Distress

The congestion of waste and refuse from the stomach, fermenting in the bowels, generates poisonous gases that occasion distress and invite serious illness. Health and comfort demand that this congestion be speedily relieved and the food mass expelled. The well-founded objection most people have to the use of cathartics is overcome by using the combination of simple laxative herbs with peppermint that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A dose at night brings relief next morning, without discomfort or inconvenience. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

THE ECHOES OF REFORM. For the last ten years or so, until more recently the country caught its second breath, so-called "reform" has been running rampant.

Now that the country has caught up with itself, it may be well occasionally to take account of stock, find out just how we stand and contemplate whether, after all, it was worth the candle.

The traveling public is weighted down just now with a requirement as to baggage, as annoying and inconvenient as it is unnecessary. No trunk can be checked unless it is equivalent to a customs house declaration.

There is another echo of our reform campaigns of the recent past in the upward trend of railroad rates the country over. Already a large portion of the country these advances have been granted, and the same thing is coming, inevitably, in others.

And the same thing may be said as to service. Compare the railroad facilities of today with those of five years ago, witness now the number of trains taken off, schedules lengthened, dining cars removed and other evidences of railroading economy which have not only curtailed public service, but thrown thousands of employees out of work.

It is not the war that has done this, the work of curtailment began long before the European countries became involved. The war may have emphasized efforts at corporate economy, to increase revenue at the expense of facilities as well as by higher rates, but it did not begin it.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE. There are many American newspapers which appreciated the friendly tone and tenor of the recent German note, and which saw in that friendly expression probabilities of an early satisfactory settlement of our differences with that country.

marine warfare, since the dispatching of the first Lusitania note, it is difficult to understand why some have arrived at the hurried conclusion that we are at the end of our diplomatic tether, and that now rear up on our hind legs, and paw the air.

Why should we not accept the apparent conciliatory spirit of the German note as genuine, and use it as a further and a substantial basis of effort to bring about a satisfactory conclusion? Concerning this aspect of the matter, The Pittsburg Dispatch remarks:

While the German reply fails to accept the American demands, it does not evade them, and is framed in an unpunishably conciliatory spirit. Considering the radical differences of viewpoint at the outset, it was not reasonably to be expected that Berlin could at once be brought to agreement with the Washington view.

Altogether, it would appear that some of our patriotic and zealous contemporaries have been too quick to conclude that Germany has willfully insulted us and hurled back "impudence" and "defiance."

A NEW WAR DANGER. Our attention is called every few days to some new danger that threatens us on account of the European war.

One of the most recent of these war dangers is the possible exhaustion of this country of breeding stock, as the result of the almost unlimited shipment of American mares to Europe for war uses.

Major General Scott's discovery that a large percentage of the animals now being shipped to the allies are brood mares of the best type was the work of the trained eye of the soldier who sees ahead in view of the discussion of American unpreparedness for war, should it be forced upon us, the question of our own supply of horses for war purposes naturally forces itself to the front.

Seriously, it is difficult to see what the United States can do except to make the effort to discourage the sale of brood mares for war purposes, and at the same time to encourage in every way possible the breeding of good stock.

Instead of taking Warsaw the enemy generally takes second thought. It is still a long way to Tipperary and the capital places.

It is still a long way to Tipperary and the capital places. They might vary the monotony of that western front phrase, "There is nothing to report," with the more expressive "Nothing doing."

JUST FROM GEORGIA BY FRANK L. STANTON

But Trouble Made Him Move. He knew the world was speeding to a future in its view, That staffs were sending signals from their stanchions in the blue, But contented still he tarried, though with faith and strength to prove, Joy put him on the rest-road, but Trouble made him move!

In dreams, violet-alleys he heard swift Times' farwells, Joy made a couch of roses and tinkled silver bells. His faith and strength were idle, but there to-day was a time to prove, For millions rise to manhood when Trouble makes 'em move!

The Prophet of the Auto. The editor of The Ashley (Ark) Eagle says that the ancient Hebrew prophet never saw an automobile, and yet he could tell in much more accurate language have described it than when he wrote "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightning."

Nothing to Report. What the war winds whisper Of the bloody trench and fort, "Only seven hundred killed, Nothing to report!"

King has left the string line For his peaceful court, More men as food for powder, Nothing to report!"

The Supreme of Joy. Folger McKinsey is quite ready to accept "The Lemon for Leading" as this stanza from one of his Baltimore Sun poems attests:

"Give me the lemon for leading, And let me loaf on till I die, A hush of birds by the river, A music of blue in the sky" Maybe there's work that is waiting, 'Til working at leisure now, With sixteen hooks to be battling And a bundle of mint on my brow!"

Plano, Five Hours a Day! The Musket Ridge Philosopher tells what he would do if he were rich "I would have a flower garden with forty acres of the most beautiful flowers that I could get, and then I would listen to plans migrate for at least five hours every day, then, to set the thing off just right, I would want twenty-five hundred richly bound books written by the world's best writers."

In the Dry Section. The providence to pray, but pray in vain For Providence to send the rain, To give the world for big, round drops To fall upon the thirsty crops

More "Human Nature." "No matter how rich a fellow may get, nor how high he may fly in society," says The Macon News "there is always somebody still living who remembers the time when he used to board in a room over the undertaker's shop and worked as a clerk for five dollars a week"

Makes the Linotypes Hum. Says The Columbia State "Human nature is pretty funny, and we suppose the natives of Passabucukumpus, Maine wonder how in the world a Polish town can stand for a fool name like Szczeczeszyn"

The Blazing Woods. So wondrous wide the heat-waves run, The flaming forests nearer retire, It's cruel so great a Sun To set his little worlds on fire

The Brightening Times. This is the way a Georgia prose-poet sums the situation: "I know when times are glisten better-when dull grim Care has fled our litter, and sweet dreams come to bless our night, and there is light to SEE the light, the old world's rollin' on the way to greet the Good Times holiday."

RIPLING RHYMES BY WALT MASON

RAINMAKERS. In Europe they are still bawling and piling up the slain and over here both field and garden are ruined by the rain. Throughout the spring the western prairie have swollen, been and soaked and wheat and corn and huckleberries are swamped and drowned and choked. I view my patch of watermelons my bosom filled with pain, and knock the kings and other fellows who keep on making rain. Some days the armies spent and weary, are resting on their arms and then the sun shines bright and cheery, and starts to dry our farms. We take our waxy cutters, hope stirring in each heart, and try to plow our sweet potatoes, in rows four feet apart. And then the soldiers start a shooting, afar on Europe's shore, and down the rain comes, to soak and drown and then some more. Upon the roof the rattlers rattle they spout our hay and beans, and when we go to feed the cattle, we go in submarines, Oh, cut it out, ye kings and kaisers and monarchs high and low! Our spuds and other early risers don't have a decent show!

(From The Indianapolis News) One would hardly think that a simple flower, the daisy, or marguerite could be among the "verboten" things in Austria. That it is so is testified to by Dr. Antonio Cippico, now professor of Italian literature in University college, London. The doctor is a native of Dalmatia and once upon a time, when in that country, he got into serious trouble through wearing a daisy in his button hole on the birthday of Queen Marguerite, the mother of the king of Italy.

What Newspaper Talk Did.

(From The Tampa (Fla.) Tribune) "It is newspaper talk, says a citizen who thinks his opinion is worth a good deal and he shows one incident of little weight. Let us suppose the thing "newspaper talk" has done for Florida during the last few weeks. It was less than two months ago that talk of a Dixie Highway began to be heard. Where? In the newspapers. They took it up and discussed it from every angle, calling on their readers for expressions of opinion and generally pushing the thing along. The time was ripe and it was easy to push. What the politician calls the psychological moment had arrived. The people had stood by roads as long as they would. They wanted good roads and they wanted them connected so that they could get somewhere on them. So they took up the talk of Dixie Highway in great shape. They went to the first meeting at Kissimmee by the tens. They went to the big meeting at Chattahoochee by the scores from the dozen or so states that will be served by the road. They went over to Orlando the other day by the hundreds. Four hundred men from twenty-four counties, they estimate it. And they organized that thing. Systematized it. Secured pledges to build the road, and will see that it is built. What did it? Newspaper talk. To be sure the time was ripe and it was not hard work, but it was the newspapers of this and other states that furnished the vehicle through which that road will be built. Don't believe it? What was the first thing any man with an idea on it did? Went to the newspapers. Didn't he? Where should he get a sort of? The machinery that gets that sort of public service done. And what does the road mean for Florida? County commissioners have promised to build 125 miles of brick instead of thirty between Lake City and Miami. They have promised to eliminate seventy-two miles of woods trails and replace them with graded roads or better. Newspaper talk? A pretty good line of talk, eh?"

BILL WOULD PROVIDE TEACHERS PROMPT PAY

Committee Reports Favorably on Bill to Increase the Tax Rate Quarter of Mill.

The house committee on ways and means Tuesday afternoon recommended for passage the bill of Messrs. Jones of Coweta, Ledbetter of Polk, and Swift of Muscogee, authorizing the governor and comptroller general to assess a tax of 1-4 of a cent addition to the assessment for the necessary current annual expenses of the state, the extra assessment for the purpose of meeting the deficit in the state treasury. The report of the committee that the bill do pass will be made to the house today.

The object of this bill is expressly that of paying the back salaries due the state's public school teachers and placing the state upon a basis where it can, in future, meet these payments promptly. The state now one year behind in its payment of the teachers.

The constitution limits the tax levy to five mills, or such part thereof as the governor and comptroller general may find necessary for the current expenses of the state. For many years, until 1914, the entire levy of 5 mills was used. The appropriation of more money than this levy would produce brought the deficit. The appropriations of the state last year were held to a point where the reduction of 1/4 mill could be made. The passage of this bill would, therefore, leave yet a margin of 1-4 of a mill, unless the appropriations this year run above the 4 1/2 mills of last year.

There have been already several bills introduced in both houses of the assembly looking to solving the problem of prompt payment of the teachers, most notable of which so far, perhaps has been the bill of Senator Walker and others providing for the use of the governor's warrant as security for the advance of funds other than those of the state.

Ringold, La.—Mrs S. A. Cotter, of this place, writes "Will say that I am perfectly well and the happiest soul on earth. With every pellagra sufferer could know of your great remedy I know how to appreciate health and sympathy with those that are not so blessed with a growing stronger, gaining in weight and can do anything I ever could. Oh, I know I am well of that horrible disease, and my heart is full of rejoicing I feel that I have come out of a dense fog into the blessed sunshine God be praised! He has spared my life for some good, and I feel that I have just begun to live."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

There is hope. Get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 2908, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—(adv.)

BLACK BEARD ISLAND FOR GAME PRESERVE

Senator Way Would Have the Government Give Property to the State.

Georgia will soon possess Black Beard island, off the Atlantic coast of the state, for the protection and propagation of game, birds and animals, if Senator J. B. Way, of the second, chairman of the senate committee on game and fish, has his way. He has introduced in the upper house a resolution which would have the government acquire for the use of this abandoned light-house station, so that Georgia may establish there "a harbor of refuge for migratory wild fowl and as a sanctuary and breeding station for other birds and game animals."

"Black Beard island" is a small island which legend says was years ago a haven for a pirate. Black Beard, of the name, so the story goes, he was shipwrecked there, able to save only himself and his dog of doubtless and pieces of eight. He buried his trove somewhere on that island, they say, and with the artifice Black Beard bequeathed his name.

Tales of Black Beard Island.

When the legislative wheels in the senator's head rust a little from over-work, one can see a group of senators gathering around Senator Way, who—everyone knows—is telling some story about a hunting trip on Black Beard island. Senator Way has a steel-blue eye, so that no matter how long he stares his fish how fast his deer, you dare not question his veracity.

"It's not a very large island," is the way the senator describes it. "It is 18 or 20 miles long, and 8 or 10 miles wide, and I've seen an alligator forty feet there in one day. It's the greatest place I know of for migratory ducks, deer, turkeys and foxes—the greatest place on the coast."

"The island lies off the coast between Savannah and Brunswick counties, and St. Catherine island, of Liberty county, there is a deep sound and Georgia could rent the oyster and fish industry of Black Beard island for more than enough money to pay for the preservation and protection of the game on the island, which is covered with pine and oak timber."

"I have requested our representatives in congress to lend their efforts towards securing this island for our state. I want it to be placed under the jurisdiction of our state game warden. If that is done, Georgia, although now nearly a barren game, can be restocked from this reserve."

Even under our present game laws, the waterfowl and other birds, the coast counties of Georgia have increased 100 per cent in the amount of deer and turkeys, since the enactment of those laws. There has been appointed a joint committee from the house and senate, and a subcommittee, of which Senator Akin is chairman, is now working on the protection of the game on the island, which is covered with pine and oak timber.

THREE BILLS IN HOUSE WOULD AMEND TAX LAW

One Bill is Similar to Persons Measure to Discover and Tax "Invisible Property."

The ways and means committee of the house, Mr. Jones, of Coweta, chairman, considered Tuesday afternoon three bills designed to amend the equalization tax law.

The most important of these amendments was similar in intent to the Persons bill in the senate, which provides for the discovery and equal taxation of invisible property. This house bill was referred to a subcommittee, consisting of Messrs. Cooper, Green and McNeill, designed to amend the equalization tax law.

Both bills provide for the discovery and taxation of notes, mortgages, stock bonds and all other kinds in action, the only difference between the two bills being that the senate bill provides that failure to return such property for taxation renders the instrument invalid, while the house bill provides for the forfeiture of accrued interest.

The method of proving that the tax has been paid upon such property as provided by the house bill, is for the owner to present to the tax equalizers a list of such property which shall be marked paid by the tax equalizers.

The bill of Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton, amending the act so that county ordinaries shall be authorized to appoint a third arbitrator in cases in contest before local boards, was recommended to pass.

The committee passed unfavorably upon a bill of Beck, of Carroll, to amend the tax act so that the state tax commissioner, who is now appointed by the governor, shall be elected by the vote of the people.

SUFFRAGE LOSES IN FIRST ROUND; BILL IS TABLED

Senator H. A. Boykin, of the seven-teenth, is an able colon and a remarkable lawmaker, save for a little bald spot on the top of his head, he has been considered—until yesterday afternoon—a social lion with the ladies. But he has now incurred the wrath of all Georgia women suffragists, by moving yesterday afternoon in the senate to place the woman suffrage bill indefinitely. His motion carried unanimously, amid subdued laughter.

This is the first action that the present legislature has taken on the question of female voters. The fair sex had a difficult time in securing some senator to introduce the bill, finally persuading Senators Dobbs and Buchanan to be father to their bill. The proposition, however, enjoyed by an ephemeral life from the legislature, is now buried. (Can it be resurrected?)

MANY ENJOY PLUNGE IN POOL AT Y. M. C. A.

The premature arrival of the sultriness of dog days has caused several hundred Atlantans to take advantage of the aquatic sports at the "Y" at the swimming pool. The Y. M. C. A. association, however, now announces that they will discontinue this rate on July 15 and urges all who wish to take a daily splash in the pool or enjoy a shower for the sum of $2 for three months to call at the association's office before that date. Those joining will also have the advantage of being taught swimming and physical education by competent instructors.

Decatur's New School.

Work will begin shortly on the proposed new public school building of Decatur, for which $25,000 bonds were recently issued. The building will be constructed by day labor, under the supervision of Superintendent W. F. Ellis. It will be ready for occupancy on about January 1, 1916, and will be the third modern school structure for Decatur.

PERSONS' VOTE DEFEATS RECOMMITTING OF BILL

Akin and Mangham Issue Statement as to Their Position on Taxing Invisible Property.

The vote of President Persons, who has a ballot only when it will make or break a tie prevented the senate yesterday morning from recommitting the report of the finance committee, recommending for passage Senator Persons' bill providing a method for taxing invisible property in the state.

When the motion for the second reference of the bill to the committee was made by Senator Mangham, the yeas and nays voted showed those in favor of Senator Mangham's motion to be 16 and those opposed 15. President Persons then cast his vote as "nay," thus blocking the plan to recommit the bill.

Akin's Position.
Asking for the privilege of explaining his view on the Persons amendment, Senator Akin, while admitting that he had not been mentioned in the report of his speech in Tuesday's Constitution, stated he feared that the phrasing of the article might lead some to believe that he opposed taxation of invisible property. Senator Mangham felt the same way.

As a matter of fact, it is well known among legislators and others who have followed the legislative careers of Senators Akin and Mangham that neither has ever opposed taxation of invisible property, although the both bitterly denounced the method of such taxation proposed by Senator Persons' bill.

Senator Akin and Mangham desire to go on record as favoring any bill to amend the present tax law so as to reach in such manner the business men and small farmers who are struggling for existence, on account of the conditions which exist in the state, in December by firms and individuals, caused farmers and business men who have to borrow to be at the mercy of their creditors, and in many instances, force them into bankruptcy.

Senators Akin, Mangham and Way signed a minority report advising against the passage of the Persons bill. Senator Akin and Mangham made an unsuccessful attempt to amend the bill to repeal the tax equalization law by the same effect as Senator Stovall has previously been killed in the committee.

Senator Persons' motion to have three hundred copies of the Persons invisible property tax bill printed and distributed in the assembly carried.

REPORT ON PRISON FARM WILL BE LESS DRASTIC

Committee Spends Day Probing Conditions and Noting Needed Improvements.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 13.—(Special)—Thirty-five legislators, composing the penitentiary committee from the house and senate, today put in a solid day examining the physical conditions existing at the prison farm. The report of this committee will not be as drastic as former reports.

The crisis in the typhoid epidemic has passed, all patients being regarded as cured in this state. This is sufficient to temper the report but aside from that this committee is more inclined to give credit to the prison commission and authorities at the farm for their improvements and precautions inaugurated prior to this investigation, many of the committee saying that they do not see how much more could have been done by the authorities with their limited funds.

The report will recommend the following as the chief needs of the prison. A brick concrete structure for the male negro prisoners, enlarging the buildings at the reformatory to relieve the crowded condition there; building a sewerage system, installing electric lights in and around the buildings, sinking deep wells, artesian wells if possible for water supply, probably building a small annex at the female building for the accommodation of the few white women prisoners.

These will be the main features of the report when completed it will be read Thursday afternoon in the legislature by Senator Baker, of Conway, and Representative Dorsey, of Marietta, chairman, respectively, of the senate and house committees.

The game was tied and counted three times. The Chicks got off to an one-run lead. The Crackers got a one-run lead, only to be tied by the Chicks again. The game was tied again, but the Crackers finally won in the ninth.

The Crackers tied it in their half of the eighth on a home run by Earl Thompson.

Newnan Wins Pennant in Georgia-Alabama League

Harry Matthews, the former Atlanta catcher who has been piloting the Newnan club of the Georgia-Alabama league this season, piloted it to a pennant when his club won the game with LaGrange today.

Talladega, in second place, is right behind the Newnan club, but if Newnan should lose today and Talladega win, the Newnan club would still win the pennant.

Listen! Get this for what ails you!

JUST about as soon as you get next and try Prince Albert tobacco you'll wise right up that it was made for your taste! And that's no idle dream!

Line up in the row with other men; then you'll sure enough wake up to some pipe and cigarette makin' facts! It's this way: Costa you a dime for a tidy red tin of P. A. that'll prove in fig time that you never did get such flavor and fragrance, whether you hit a jimmy pipe or roll up a delightful makin' cigarette.

Put the half-Nelson on all pipe and cigarette gouches because it can't bite tongues and can't parch throats. And you prove our say-so! P. A. is made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. This patented process is controlled exclusively by us. Remember that when you hear some of that "as good as P. A." stuff!
