William Creen Declares That He Alone Plotted Famous Prisoner's Death

Frank's Family Physician Says That Prompt Attention of Prison Doctors Saved Patient's Life. Thinks Frank Will Get Well—Two Trained Nurses on Duty.

"I'M GOING TO LIVE. I MUST LIVE. I MUST VINDICATE MYSELF," DECLARES FRANK TO DOCTOR

Creen Had No Quarrel With His Victim and Read No Anti-Frank Literature—Admits Talking About Case to Fellow-Convicts, But Shoulders All Blame—Creen Is Chained to Concrete Post.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 18.—(Special.)—Leo Frank, with his throat cut almost halfway round, is resting easily late tonight in the hospital ward of the prison farm here, and the indications are that he will recover.

Frank, who has been conscious since he was attacked, is optimistic and displays considerable fortitude. "I am going to live. I must live. I must vindicate myself," he declared.

CREEN TAKES ALL BLAME FOR ATTACK ON FRANK.

William Creen, the life-term convict who admits cutting Frank's throat, declares that there was no conspiracy among the prisoners to kill Frank.

Dr. Guy Compton says that the prognosis is favorable for Frank's recovery. The jugular vein was ligated and anastomotic circulation has successfully set up in the deeper and surrounding blood vessels.

In fighting off his assailant, Frank got gashes in both of his hands from the knife. The wounds are not bad, however.

DR. ROSENBERG THINKS FRANK WILL RECOVER.

Dr. Rosenberg, Frank's Atlanta physician, arrived at noon. He also thinks Frank will recover. He complimented the efforts of the prison doctors, saying their prompt services saved Frank's life.

Commissioners Davison and Rainey Are Expected to Arrive in Atlanta Today to Consider Affair.

With Leo M. Frank conducting a desperate fight for life at Milledgeville state prison farm, where he was wounded by a fellow convict Saturday night, state authorities are now preparing to conduct a searching probe into the attack upon the famous prisoner.

Commissioners R. E. Davison and E. L. Rainey are expected to arrive in Atlanta this morning. It is understood that the first matter to engage their attention will be the Frank case.

Burglars Prepare For Sunday Meals By Daring Thefts

Many Residences Looted Saturday Night, But in Majority of Cases Only Groceries Are Taken.

City detectives were busy Sunday on six burglaries and several other robberies, thieves working overtime Saturday night, looting a number of residences and stores.

E. W. Wallace, driver of a Ford truck for Zakas bakery shop, 86 Garnett street, reported that a thief had stolen his truck from in front of the Hurt building Saturday night, and that the truck was loaded with many fancy cakes, dozens of rolls and other baker's delicacies.

Clinton Worthan, aged 13, a messenger service boy, who lives at 81 Oakland avenue, was knocked off his wheel Sunday by a negro directly in front of police station, who then mounted the wheel and rode off.

Negro Thief Escapes. Worthan, who has not yet finished paying for his wheel, ran screaming with pain into police barracks to report the robbery. The negro thief escaped.

C. P. Lifford, of 24 East Eighth street, reported that thieves burglarized his residence Saturday night, and that they had stolen a large quantity of lard, 2 pounds of butter and two boxes of breakfast bacon.

From the refrigerator of Mrs. E. G. Baker, 134 Washington street, thieves stole three dressed chickens, which were to have been a part of Mrs. Baker's Sunday dinner.

Burglars looted a cigar store at 1300 DeKalb avenue, stealing a large quantity of cigars and tobacco. Entrance was gained by breaking out the front plateless window.

Residence Burglarized. Some time Saturday night the residence of J. L. Turner, 523 Greenwood avenue, was burglarized and $10 worth of sugar stolen, a large quantity of eggs and butter, a smoking jacket, white felt hat and a pearl-handled umbrella.

The Red Seal Shoe company, 101 Yonge street, was entered by thieves, who stole a case containing twelve pairs of shoes. Entrance was gained by prying open a rear window.

The most daring robbery of the night was at the Bauknight Furniture company, 143 Whitehall street, where thieves took out the plateless front window and carried away a refrigerator, which was a large-sized one.

A number of other smaller robberies were reported.

Atlantals Ready For Celebration At World's Fair

Yaarab Temple, Local Elks, Governor's Horse Guard and Others From This City in San Francisco for Big Day.

By Fred Houser. San Francisco, July 18.—(Special.)—Tomorrow is Atlanta day at the Panama exposition. Almost every train is bringing in various delegations to participate in the exercises in the Court of the Universe during the afternoon.

Yaarab Temple, headed by Forrest Adair, with a party of 140, arrived from Seattle this morning.

The Atlanta delegation of Elks, led by Al Dunn, arrived on a special car from Los Angeles Saturday, bringing forty Georgians.

The Governor's Horse Guard, under Captain O. D. Rudisal, are expected to arrive today. With these various delegations Atlanta will make a mammoth parade that will come second to none yet held. The demonstration will take place within the exposition grounds, where we have the co-operation of the various officials.

Commissioner Lemon has gone into every detail with representatives in advance. Ex-Governor and Mrs. Slaton are expected to arrive in time to participate in the celebration.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will be represented by H. G. Hastings, vice president; Albert S. Adams will represent the Atlanta Rotary club, and President Ivan E. Allen the Atlanta Convention bureau. These gentlemen will take a prominent part in the proceedings, as Atlanta's civic associations have done much to make the day a success.

Headquarters of the Atlanta Convention bureau have been a busy place for the past few days, the various delegations having arrived and arrangements are being made to make Atlanta day one of the best of the exposition.

The exercises will begin at 2 o'clock, immediately following the parade, which leaves from the Tower of Jewels at high noon and will be participated in by several hundred loyal Atlantans after the parade.

Forrest Adair will receive a handsome engraved bronze medal from President Moore, of the exposition, and respond in behalf of Atlanta.

Judge Walter E. Lamar, representing President Woodrow Wilson, will give a luncheon on Tuesday to Forrest Adair and party of friends at the Fairmont hotel.

San Francisco is alive with conventions this week. Quite elaborate entertainments are arranged for the delegates who are here from Seattle and the Elks from Los Angeles. The National Christian Endeavor convention is in session, and the sixth annual meeting of the international convention of Rotary clubs is also in session.

President Mulholland delivered the opening address to a great multitude at the Young Men's Christian association this afternoon. The Atlanta club is represented by Ivan Allen, A. S. Adams, H. G. Hastings and your correspondent.

ROMANCE OF HOTEL REVEALED BY CALL OF YOUTHFUL PAGE

"Call for Mrs. Griffith" Billy Powers, the red-haired, pug-nosed and freckled-face page in the Hotel Ansley, mischievously planted himself in front of the cashier's cage occupied by his mother, who was Mrs. Griffith's mother.

The pretty little woman behind the network turned a profuse red and tried to get away, but she was held back by the page.

"Call for Mrs. Griffith" The page continued impishly, until finally the mother was forced to drive him away, thereby revealing the hotel romance that culminated one night last week when she was married in De-catur to Jack Griffith, manager of the Ansley bar. For two years Mr. and Mrs. Griffith have been employed at the Ansley. Billy Powers, the mischievous page, who turned the joke on his mother, has also been attached to the hotel for a similar length of time.

TEUTON ULTIMATUM READY FOR RUMANIA

Large Bodies of Teutonic Troops Being Massed on Rumanian Frontier to Give Emphasis to Ultimatum.

London, July 18.—(2:25 a. m.)—An Austro-German ultimatum to Rumania is being prepared, says The Moscow Ruskoye Slovo, quoted in dispatches received here. It is added that large bodies of the Teutonic troops are massing on the Rumanian frontier to give emphasis to the ultimatum, which, it is declared, will demand unimpeded transit for war munitions.

TEUTON PROPOSALS MADE TO RUMANIA. Berlin, July 18.—(Via London, July 18, 1:10 a. m.)—German officials decline to discuss Austro-Hungarian proposals to Rumania, which have as their object assurance of Rumania's friendly neutrality, and perhaps even participation in the war against the entente powers.

That such proposals have been made is not denied. It is an open secret that one phase of the negotiations has to do with shipments of munitions to Turkey passing through Rumania.

Negotiations between Turkey and Bulgaria have not been concluded. Turkey is willing to make certain territorial concessions, but a point escaping general attention is the fact that Turkey demands in return not merely passive neutrality as heretofore, but participation in the war.

VENIZELOS ATTACKS GREEK GOVERNMENT. London, July 18.—(12:05 a. m.)—An Athens dispatch to the Central News says: "At a meeting today 156 members of the chamber of deputies requested Eleutherios Venizelos to resume the leadership of the liberal party. The premier, accepting, said it was his duty to obey the call of the people as 'the wavering foreign policy of the present government constitutes a grave national danger.'"

"M. Venizelos attacked the government for remaining in power against the wishes of the people, and expressed the opinion that with the recovery of Greece Constantine affairs would resume their normal state.

"The reopening of the Greek parliament has been postponed until August 14."

POSSIBLE THAT SWEDEN MAY ENTER THE WAR. London, July 18.—(2:40 a. m.)—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Copenhagen says: "That it is not impossible that Sweden will enter the war was indicated by a speech of the Swedish premier, Dr. Hammarskjold, in replying to a deputation representing the peace congress recently held in Varberg."

"The premier said: 'The Swedish government sincerely desires to remain neutral, but it does not necessarily follow that we are to be maintained. It is as dangerous to believe Sweden favors war as to believe that she favors peace at any price.'"

FRENCHMAN AT FRONT MARRIED BY PROXY

Paris, July 18.—Gaston Pine, a cavalry quartermaster who at the front, was married by proxy today to Eugenie Vieillard. The ceremony was held at Corbel and was performed by the mayor, Paul Gize, acting as proxy for the absent bridegroom.

The minister of justice has decided that the proxy marriage-law of April does not apply to Frenchmen who are tried prisoners of war in other countries.

RUSSIAN LINE IS BROKEN BY THE FIERCE ASSAULTS OF THE TEUTONIC ARMIES

Gains Claimed by Austrians and Germans Along Battle Front That Stretches From the Baltic, on the North, to Bessarabia, on the South.

WARSAW IS THREATENED BY THE TEUTON ADVANCE

The Russians, However, View the Situation Calmly, Holding That the Further the Invaders Penetrate Into Russia the Worse Off They Will Be.

London, July 18.—The Austrians and Germans, who are hurrying themselves at the 1,000-mile Russian line, stretching from the Baltic on the north to the Bessarabia on the south, have broken through in places, Berlin's official report claims.

In the Baltic provinces, General von Buelow, with large cavalry forces, has crossed the Windau river and is moving on Riga. In the Przasnyz district Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in his fourth attempt to reach Warsaw, has twice broken the Russian defense and compelled the Russians to retire toward the Narvay river.

In southern Poland Field Marshal von Mackensen again is on the move, and claims to have captured Russian advanced positions which stood between him and his objective, the Lublin-Cholm railway.

Simultaneously with these attacks, which are the main ones, the Austro-German armies are on the offensive west of the Vistula river, in central Poland, and along the Danester river, in Galicia. As was the case in the drive through western Galicia, the Austrians are fighting stubbornly. But whether they can hold their lines is problematical.

WARSAW MENACED BY GERMAN DRIVE. The probability of the Russians having to evacuate Warsaw, threatened by von Hindenburg and von Mackensen, is being discussed seriously. The possibility of a further retreat, however, is considered calmly in Russia, where the old theory that the further the Germans are driven into the country the worse it is for him, buoys up their hopes of final victory.

For the present Berlin is the only capital celebrating, and again Field Marshal von Hindenburg, whose success in the Przasnyz district is the cause of it, is lauded.

With the enormous number of Germans being used in the east, the great effort of the kind ever undertaken in the history of war, military critics do not look for important events in the west for some time. Today's official reports show that the German offensive has been undertaken by either side. There have been artillery engagements and a few infantry attacks, but they were infinitely small in comparison with operations in the east.

Unofficial reports continue to refer to the fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula, but they are not confirmed by the headquarters concerned. News from that district is waited anxiously, as the efforts to clear the peninsula of Turks is about due.

GERMANS STORMING RUSSIAN POSITIONS. Berlin, July 18.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued by the war office today: "A French attack against the church yard and hill at Souchez was repulsed."

"In the Argonne the captured lines have been reformed by some minor successes."

"Fighting continued on the heights near Luz barges."

"In Lorraine enemy attacks near Embarras, east of Lunerville and in the region of Ban-de-Saint were repulsed."

"Western front: Portions of the army of General von Buelow have defeated the Russian forces near Aute, where 3,620 men and six guns and three machine guns were captured. They are pursuing the enemy in an easterly direction."

"Other portions of this army are fighting to the northeast. The heavy position has been stormed. Between the Pissa and Vistula rivers the Russian troops are retreating and the troops of Generals von Schantz and von Gallwitz are close behind them. The enemy was attacked and driven back, where he offers resistance in prepared positions."

"From the north of the Vistula to the Pilsna the Russians also have begun to retreat. Our troops, in a short engagement and during the pursuit, made 400 prisoners."

"On the southeastern front the offensive was taken by the army under General von Woytich, which made successful progress under the heavy fire of the enemy. On Saturday morning took a narrow point in the wire entanglements of a strongly fortified enemy main position and through this opening stormed an enemy trench on a

CITY WATER SUPPLY CUT OFF FOR HOURS WHEN 36-INCH MAIN ON 14TH ST. SPLITS

From 9 O'Clock at Night Until Shortly After Midnight People in Downtown Atlanta Had to Be Content With Lithia Water and Soft Drinks.

CITY IN GREAT DANGER IN CASE OF BIG BLAZE, SAYS FIRE CHIEF CODY

Water Pressure Today Will Not Be Sufficient if Fire Starts in Tall Building. Independent Light Plants Are Put Out of Business for Time.

For hours last night Atlanta's water supply was cut off and the city fire department helpless in the event of a big blaze, when an entire 12-foot section of pipe split in the 36-inch main on Fourteenth street between Kontz and Francis streets, one-half mile distant from the Hemphill avenue pumping station, which supplies Atlanta with water pressure. If a fire should break out today the firemen would have great trouble in fighting it.

The water supply was cut off at 9 o'clock, and the pumps were not started again until 10:30 o'clock. On account of the fact, however, that the pressure was not sufficient, water could not be obtained at many downtown points until after midnight. The pressure is normal at 110 pounds, while shortly after midnight the register showed 93. Under normal conditions, in cases of fire, the pressure is increased to 125, and then increased upon demand of the chief.

FIGHTING BLAZE.

At the time the water pressure went "dead," firemen were busy fighting a blaze at a residence, 151 Capitol avenue. The flames were under control, and a few minutes more would have been extinguished. Then the water came to an end.

Realizing that an entire block of business stores and residences was threatened by this fire, Chief Cody issued hurry-up orders for chemicals.

All the chemical wagons at the nearby fire stations were rushed to the scene to aid those already on hand. With hand and wagon chemicals the fire was extinguished by 9:30 o'clock without spreading beyond the roof of the house in which it originated.

Chief Cody then hastened to headquarters, and within five minutes one of his men, who had been sent out in search of officials of the waterworks, located W. M. Rapp, superintendent of construction.

ZODE SMITH ARRIVES.

W. Zode Smith, general manager of the waterworks, reached the scene of

The Season of Change

People shake themselves out of fixed habits in the summer months. They move about more.

They devote less time to work and more to recreation. It seems natural that they should be particularly open to changes in their buying routine and that warm weather would be a good time to advertise.

To the strangers passing through the city your message in the advertising columns of The Constitution would be a new one.

They would be attracted by it. And our own people, during the changeable season, are more in the mood for shopping round.

The Constitution brings a high percentage of returns because it reaches people who have money to spend.

Candles Light Terminal Station When Water Supply Is Cut Off; Night Mail Delayed by Darkness

With its corners shrouded in deepest gloom and so many candles strung around over vestibules and lobby that it resembled "A House of a Thousand Candles," the Terminal Station presented a most unusual spectacle to arrivals in the city Sunday night from 9 o'clock until an early hour Monday morning.

The bursting of a water main on Fourteenth street early in the evening forced the city waterworks department to shut off all the city water supply, and as the Terminal Station power plant only had a small supply of the fluid in its boilers, the engineer was long as possible.

As soon as Night Station Master E. H. Peak found out from the water company that his engines could get no more water, he ordered that each employee of the station be furnished with a supply of candles.

As the power grew weaker the workers would light those candles and place them at the different ticket windows and gate entrances.

A few of the lights were allowed to burn until the last night train had left the depot at 12:01 o'clock, although Mr. Peak had instructed his men to line up with candles beside each train and assist passengers to get on and off, had the lights gone entirely out.

O. B. Cartwright, railway mail clerk, stated that practically none of the night mail would get out on trains as scheduled on account of the clerk's inability to sort and tie out the packages.

As the last train left the depot without an accident having happened to a single passenger or employee, Station Master Peak gave a sigh of relief and his sigh was just in time to see all the lights go out as the water supply became exhausted.

Shortly after midnight the water reached the Terminal Station and the power plant again resumed operation.

THREE STATES SWEEP BY A TERRIFIC STORM

Kansas City, July 18.—Two hours after the Missouri and Kansas rivers ceased rising today because of heavy rains last week, a terrific storm swept eastern Kansas, western Missouri and southern Nebraska, and renewed fears of a disastrous flood. Weather bureau officials immediately warned residents along with the house committee. The senate committee is so large that hardly a quorum will be left in the senate on Tuesday, anyway.

In the house only routine matters are expected during the early part of the week.

post The report of his being in a private cell or dungeon is untrue, for there are no cells in this prison According to Green's statement he has killed two men, Tobe Reese, eight years ago, being acquitted on a plea of self-defense, and O S Kitchen, three years ago, for which he was given life sentence. Before the trial he was examined by a lunacy commission, which pronounced him sane. Dr L M Jones, superintendent of the state sanitarium, was on the commission

Green weighs 165 pounds, has dark hair and mustache, brown eyes, is 6 feet tall, was born in Memphis, Tenn, lived in Georgia 25 years and has a wife who works in the Eagle-Phenix factory

MRS. FRANK PROSTRATED BY THE TRAGEDY

Mrs. Leo Frank is broken down and badly fatigued from the harrowing experience of last night She, too, thinks her husband is on the road to recovery She shudders when she thinks of the narrow escape he had She declares her husband is the most wonderful man in the world to endure what he has with such patience and heroism

Everybody who has been around Frank's bedside comment on the calm fortitude exhibited by him almost in the very face of death For some time he thought he was going to die, but through-out showed courage, never giving away to pain nor uttering any protest He reiterated his declaration of innocence, saying if he had to die he had no fear of death and he hoped his as-sistant would be forgiven

Warden Smith deeply regrets the tragedy He has been on a great strain since Frank was placed under his care He hasn't had a good night's sleep in weeks. He says the happening of last night emphasizes another need at the prison farm—a place of detention for dangerous convicts. He has several such prisoners now that he has to keep chained to prevent them from committing acts of violence Green is another problem to handle.

FRANK'S CONSTITUTION IS HOLDING OUT.

Frank's strong constitution, which was noticeable throughout his fight for life in the courts of Georgia and the higher courts, is still holding out He was a frail man when he was brought to the state farm, probably sixty pounds lighter than when he was first arrested accused of the murder of Mary Phagan But he has taken on flesh since his arrival here He was getting strong and robust, working much of the time in the open air with other convicts, hence the great loss of blood that he has suffered has not caused a complete collapse He is weak, but he has nerve

Frank has asked the prison doctors again if they thought he would live "You have a good chance to recover," he was told today.

Frank smiled "Don't punish the man who attacked me," he said. "I have nothing to fear There is nothing between me and God I will be able to prove to the world that I am innocent of the crime of which they accuse me if they give me a chance."

"Doctor," he said late this afternoon, "I am going to live I must live I must vindicate myself"

The weather is very hot, the temperature having reached 98 yesterday and again today Frank stands the heat remarkably well, however, and he has a light, airy room

NO CONSPIRACY TO KILL FRANK.

William Green, the life-term convict, who admits that he cut Frank's throat, was questioned again today by prison authorities to ascertain if there was a conspiracy to kill Frank Green asserted that there was no plot He said that he had the inspiration that he should kill Frank and he went to the butchering of hogs on Saturday morning, how he had hidden a butcher knife that had been made

GREEN'S MIND AFFECTED BY FALL FROM BRIDGE

Many Believe Frank's Assault Insane—He Has Killed Two Men.

Columbus, Ga., July 18.—(Special)—Will Green, who cut Leo Frank's throat at the state farm last night, has had an adventurous and unusual career and has killed two men before attacking Frank, and is now under life sentence

Green is about 40 years of age, and is married, his wife now residing in Columbus, Ga. He was a street car driver and worked in and around the city for a good many years He was one of the workmen on the new Dillingham street bridge across the Chattahoochee river here, and fell from the bridge into the river, narrowly escaping death It is believed that he has not been altogether sound mentally since his fall from the bridge

Afterwards Green shot Sam Hudson in a fight, and while under indictment for this, on a charge of assault with intent to murder, killed Otis Kitchens on March 9, 1914 Green cursed a number of boys in the street who laughed at him as he passed by, and was arrested, an insurance man, who was passing along, reproved him for his words Green went to his home, secured a pistol, returned and shot Kitchens through the eyes, killing him Upon his arrest Green acted queerly, and his attorneys claimed that he was insane Dr Jones, an expert from the state insane asylum at Milledgeville, was called to Columbus and examined the prisoner, and made a decision that he was feigning insanity At the same time it was felt that Green was not altogether sound mentally, and under an agreement between the solicitor general and his attorneys, he was given a life sentence

STATE TO PROBE ATTACK ON FRANK

officials that they feel that a searching probe of the whole case is necessary

IN TOUCH WITH PRISON.

The prison was kept in close touch with Milledgeville Sunday afternoon Shortly after lunch he held a long talk over the telephone with Governor E. C. Compton, the prison surgeon, who is attending Frank Dr Compton assured Governor Jones that the greatest danger came from the possibility of blood poisoning

Chiefly for Frank's life was felt in Atlanta all Sunday however His friends throughout the city felt that he was in a fighting chance, and this was verified by reports from the state prison

Two trained nurses from Macon, Miss McCormick and Miss Parker, were brought here in an automobile this morning to care for Frank Two noted Macon doctors hurried here shortly after the cutting, to be of assistance in dressing the wounds, if possible, but prison doctors had completed dressing the wounds before they arrived

PARDON FOR GREEN ASKED.

Governor Harris received an appeal to pardon the prisoner, Green Sunday afternoon from a body of citizens of a small city near Columbus The appeal was made by a message reading: We, the undersigned, respectfully appeal to you to pardon William Green, who has been sentenced to the state penitentiary. It was signed by a dozen names

It is probable that the proposed probe of the prison commissioners would be extended to the disciplinary system of the state prison Guards and officials, in this event will be called upon to explain why Green was permitted to handle the knife in the dormitory and make his attack upon the sleeping man without interference There is a possibility of the state legislature being urged to investigate the prison relative to the system of heading a large number of prisoners in a single room where they sleep in a body, which state of affairs largely permitted Green to make the attack necessarily reflect upon prison conditions in the state Both pastors Rev. M. D. Rouse and Dr. C. W. Smith appealed to the prison commission with a number of other ministers to commute the life term sentence Green considers this incident one, greatly to be regretted and deplored stated Rev. D. B. Jones, but I do not believe that one of those horrible affairs that are difficult to prevent and therefore do not want to reflect upon Georgia or her people

Similar sentiment was expressed by Dr. D. W. Jones, who said in part: "It is an unspeakable tragedy, but one that does not rest upon the heads of the people of Georgia."

President Pays Special Attention to Little Ones as He Journeys to Washington—Ready to Consider German Situation.

On Board President Wilson's Train New Haven Conn., July 18.—President Wilson today brought to a close the longest and most strenuous vacation he has had since entering the white house He left Cornish, N. H. late today, and will arrive in Washington early tomorrow morning prepared to give immediate consideration to the German situation

President Wilson is taking back with him to Washington the results of a careful and detailed study of the last German note on submarine warfare for discussion with Secretaries Lansing and others of his cabinet

The president was greeted by large crowds at every stop this afternoon At several places he shook hands with folks Virtually all the people of Cornish and Windsor, Vt., saw him off from the "summer capital"

The president paid particular attention to the babies at the different stops At Balltown Falls, Vt., he picked up a small red headed boy by the hand to shake hands with him, and at Green field, Mass., chucked a baby under the chin

It is rather hot weather for babies," he remarked to the mother

DEFINITE STATEMENT TO BE MADE GERMAN.

Washington, July 18.—With President Wilson's return from Cornish tomorrow, formulation of the policy to be pursued in the issue between the United States and Germany over submarine warfare will be begun

The president will collaborate with Secretary Lansing in completing a note that has been tentatively prepared, to be dispatched to the German government, probably before the end of the week

Both the president and Mr Lansing have virtually made up their minds, it is said, to make a definite statement of what the consequences of further violation of American rights would be should be given to the German government There is little likelihood that there will be any further discussion of principle involved

It is not likely that the president will attempt to destroy the British liner Ogdun, carrying a score of Americans, but no limitations or conditions will be placed on the American position, as stated in its previous notes has been materially changed The president's attitude toward the American contention that the character of a vessel her destination and the cargo she carries are determined only by visit and search

As yet official confirmation is lacking to show whether the Ogdun was attacked without warning and what the circumstances were of her encounter with the German submarine In discussion of the case, stress is laid on the fact that the vessel was en route to the United States and carried no cargo of importance

DRASTIC LIQUOR RULES ADOPTED BY BRITAIN

White, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, yesterday morning called upon the people of Atlanta to rally to the cause of prohibition and to give their unstated support to Chief of Police Beavers

Dr. White took as his text, Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee, Jonah 3:2

Then he sketched the growth and the prosperity of these two great cities of the past, and told how finally they became slaves to the desire for the gratification of the every pleasure of their citizens He painted the wretchedness and the impurity that reigned in the vice of their people and then told of the punishment of each world center

DR. OGDEN ADDRESSES UNION CHURCH MEETING

Comparing the beginning of a life to the launching of a ship Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, addressing the union meeting of five churches on the steps of the capitol Sunday evening, urged his hearers to find in the development of lives about them the same interest that made the launching of a great ship so fascinating

No ship was ever launched that did not depend for its seaworthiness upon the honest cooperation of the men who have been building it for years or more," he said "No life is launched that does not depend upon the cooperation of father, mother, sister, brother and friends in its development Therefore, I call upon you to have cooperation in building the characters of your associates in home and school and business connection

Dr. John E. White, who is leaving the city next week, will preach the last sermon in his pastorate here at the union meeting in front of the capitol Sunday evening, July 25

An Imported Cigar (Porto Rican) for 5 cts. La TUNITA (Princess Size)

And this price for an Imported cigar was not possible until the stars and stripes were raised over Porto Rico in 1898.

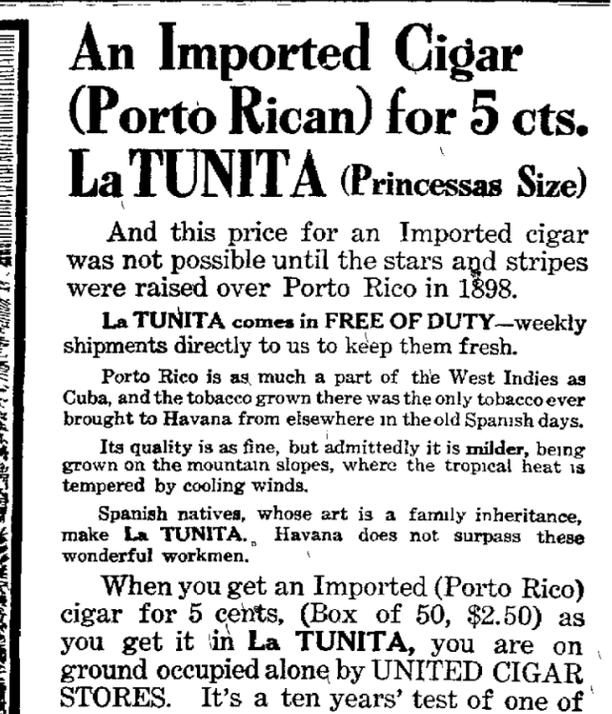

La TUNITA comes in FREE OF DUTY—weekly shipments directly to us to keep them fresh.

Porto Rico is as much a part of the West Indies as Cuba, and the tobacco grown there was the only tobacco ever brought to Havana from elsewhere in the old Spanish days.

Its quality is as fine, but admittedly it is milder, being grown on the mountain slopes, where the tropical heat is tempered by cooling winds.

Spanish natives, whose art is a family inheritance, make La TUNITA. Havana does not surpass these wonderful workmen.

When you get an Imported (Porto Rico) cigar for 5 cents, (Box of 50, $2.50) as you get it in La TUNITA, you are on ground occupied alone by UNITED CIGAR STORES. It's a ten years' test of one of our strongest claims.

GEORGIA NEEDS THIS MONEY. Under the Smith Lever act passed by the national congress, Georgia has the opportunity to secure for the next two years $71,325 for the development of agriculture within the state, if the state will offset that sum with a like amount. Georgia is receiving now $10,000 annually from the federal government under the terms of the Smith Lever act. When that appropriation was made without conditions, the Georgia legislature accepted it and approved the purpose of the law under which it was given by a joint resolution adopted by the legislature and approved in August, 1914. It is construed that that resolution at least morally bound the state to meet other requirements of the federal law, the only purpose of which was to help the states in agricultural progress in the same measure to which they were willing to help themselves.

There is available to Georgia from the federal government for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1915, $25,174, and for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1916, $46,151, provided Georgia will offset these appropriations with like amounts to be devoted to the purposes prescribed in the federal act. As evidencing Georgia's agricultural importance among the states, it will receive the fifth largest amount paid to any state in the union, provided the necessary offset is appropriated by the legislature. This state is thus practically recognized as the fifth in agricultural importance among them all.

The federal act is broad and liberal in its statement of the purposes to which this fund shall be applied. It provides for a systematic agricultural uplift and extension movement throughout the state, under plans to be approved by the board of trustees of the State College of Agriculture and the secretary of agriculture of the United States. Not one dollar of the fund can be expended for the benefit of education through, or equipment in, the State College of Agriculture or any other institution. The act itself thus states its general purposes.

That cooperative agricultural extension work shall consist of the giving of instruction and practical demonstrations in agriculture and home economics not attending or residing in said colleges in the several communities and imparting to such persons information on said subjects through field demonstrations, publications and otherwise, and this work shall be carried on in such manner as may be mutually agreed upon by the secretary of agriculture and the state agricultural college or colleges receiving the benefits of this act.

It would appear, therefore, that Georgia is not only morally bound to take the steps necessary to secure this substantial appropriation for the important purpose to which it is to be devoted, but from a financial standpoint and one of the necessities of the case, it can ill afford to ignore the opportunity for the rural development which this fund would make possible.

The importance of the situation is accentuated by the fact that action must be taken at the present session of the legislature, if Georgia is to avail herself of this opportunity. The first year's fund is already available to those states which have acted, and there remains but half the legislative session in which Georgia may say what she wishes to do.

Considering the importance of the purposes to which this fund is devoted, Georgia cannot afford to lose it—to let some other state or federal project benefit at her expense. It is one of the few methods by which we may receive from the federal treasury, in part at least, a return of the taxes which our people pay into it. We believe the legislature should consider this proposition as one of the most important, from an appropriation standpoint, which will come before it. It should make every effort to find the money needed. Its favorable consideration will mean substantial and permanent progress along lines which Georgia can, under no circumstances, afford to ignore.

WOMEN AND LAW. The house of representatives will consider, within the next few days, under favorable report from its committee on general judiciary, the bill which proposes to legalize the admission of women to the bar of Georgia. There remains no valid reason why this bill should not become a law. It was the law of Georgia prior to 1860. It is asked today simply that there shall be rewritten into the law of the state the privilege that men had not thought of denying to women in ante-bellum days. Shall modern, progressive Georgia be less generous, less just, than Georgia of more than half a century ago?

The last public appearance of the late Judge John S. Hopkins, who possessed one of the strongest and clearest legal minds Georgia has ever produced, was before the general judiciary committee of the house of representatives in the summer of 1912, in advocacy of the right of women to practice law. He delivered one of the most forceful and convincing arguments ever made upon the subject, he removed all doubt of his hearers as to the natural right of woman as a citizen, as one of "we, the people," to select for herself, if she so desired, this noble occupation.

So directly to the point was Judge Hopkins' argument that, with the question now under consideration, it will be appreciated today, and The Constitution publishes extracts from it with a letter from his son, Linton C. Hopkins, believing they should be read and weighed by those who have to deal with it. Aside from the question of right and justice, upon which is based the most forceful appeal for the enactment of this law, here are some forceful, incontrovertible facts from the argument which Judge Hopkins then made.

The experiment as to the legal profession (referring to the admission of women), has been tried on a large scale and uniformly with success. Forty-five of the states of the union have tried it and not one of them has retraced the step. All but three of the forty-eight states have women lawyers. There has resulted no hurt to woman, no detriment nor to the public. What better proof can we have of the merit of any measure of this nature than that forty-five states, under circumstances similar to our own have thoroughly tested it and found it satisfactory? If they do not convince nothing will.

Thus, from the standpoint of sentiment, of inherent right, of justice, and of fact established by innumerable tests, the plea of woman for the removal of the legal obstacle to her entrance into the profession would seem to command favorable consideration and action. This measure has no more to do with woman's suffrage than with tax exemption, or the laws of the Medes and the Persians; doubtless the latter would have been more generous than the present Georgia statute of inhibition. It seeks to give woman, as a citizen, who is taxed as are other citizens, and who bears her share of the burdens, both of business and government, the right of selection, as a means of livelihood, of a profession from which there is not even a reasonable excuse for her exclusion.

The Georgia legislature cannot afford not to pass this bill. The present law is an anachronism clogging real progress. We should lead at least the three remaining states, and restore to woman a right that ought never to have been taken away.

A GRAT EDITOR. Charles R. Miller, editor of The New York Times, one of the foremost of American daily publications, has just completed the fortieth anniversary of his service with that newspaper, having gone with it in 1875 under the administration of Publisher George Jones.

Mr. Miller is, perhaps, the greatest of living American newspaper editors. Although not nationally so well known, he belongs to that vigorous school of writers of keen penetration and foresight which included such well remembered men as Dana and Greeley. Politics and public incidents of various sorts brought them into prominent notice, Mr. Miller's life work has been that of the deep thinker and able editor at his office desk or in his library.

He has neither sought the limelight, nor has it been turned upon him, but he has worked, worked unceasingly, with the splendid talent and capacity given him, at a calling that attracted and pleased, and his effort and ability have been one of the most potent of all factors in making The Times great and forceful among leading American dailies.

Recognition of service such as his, while the author of it is yet in life, is too often neglected and overlooked. We are inclined too much to remember it only when they are gone. Mr. Miller's associates have most pleasantly directed attention to his years of capable devotion, and The Constitution hastens to join with hundreds of friends and acquaintances throughout the country in presenting heartfelt and most cordial congratulations.

Anyway, Przasnysz isn't a pronounced success. The Polish towns with the nightmare names don't lose them when they capitulate. Governments insist that they are "notes," no matter how far they violate the neutrality of a column. It is hard for a Mexican general to realize that he cuts a wider swath with a peaceful lawn mower. A Chicago physician prescribes bay for dyspepsia. Another kick coming from the mules and pessimists.

Impossible Paragraphs. Every bill our representative champions passes like a brand-new gold certificate. The senator was granted, two hours' time, but got through in twenty minutes. As so many lawmakers don't know what to do with their money, they want to turn it over to the charitable institutions of the state. The men who are preaching about "saving the country" started first by saving themselves.

On the Greenward. Wind sends a message: "Now is your time and chance! I'm tunin' all my fiddles For to play the world a dance!"

On Rising Ground. You don't get out when by country your troubles, but every time you figure up your losses, you're that much nearer Happiness Hill.

The Grand Old Title. Here is what Colonel George Bailey has to say of "the grand old title of Colonel." One of the beautiful things about the grand old title of colonel, as compared with those titles of nobility in Europe, is that a fellow can hold it and hustle like the devil for titles and clothes without reducing his pretensions to the public. It will not be recognized when he offers to set up shop.

The Royal Ride. Warning hatless will destroy—Leave the world to woe. But Life is holding hands with Joy 'And Sorrow lies asleep.

His Guest. Editor's personal comment in The Camden Beacon Herald: "A Philadelphia man has discovered something 350 times sweeter than sugar. If we had our guess we'd say she was about five feet six, 132 pounds light complexioned and equipped with six cylinder dreamy eyes and $17,000.00."

The Color Scheme. The paragrapher of The Memphis Commercial Appeal drops into patriotic rhyme: "We are not planning a war book, But you bet if we do The color scheme of it will be The old red white and-blue."

A Philosopher Approves. Comment of the observant paragrapher of The Brown News: "In England the ladies are wearing printed bands on their ankles which urge men to enlist and we want to say that they deserve a close reading. In fact it is a display of patriotism that ought to be encouraged."

With a Smile. The brightness of the country, Each glowing mile on mile, She melts the storm with blossoms Meets morning with a smile.

"Take Joy Home." This from Jean Ingelow is a little sermon to the sighing who cannot see the real light of life around them: "Take joy home, And make a place in thy great heart for her, And give her time to grow, and cherish her. Then will she come, and sit and sing to thee. When thou art working in the furrows, ay, Or wedding in the sacred hour of dawn It is a comely fashion to be glad—'Joy is the grace we say to God'."

So, What's the Last? "Even if Happiness should come our way," says a weekly editor, "we'd have to miss an issue of the paper to take a day off and enjoy it."

The Problem. Life, with its rocky ridges—Its unencircled tracks—How do you hang your bridges, And you can't swim back.

Squaring Accounts. "The editor of Religion," says The Adams Enterprise "which is all he ever got out of the town, but since that is priceless, he'll pack his grip and let the blamed town go at that!"

RIPLING RHYMES. BY WALT MASOV. TIRED BUSINESS MAN. The business man is tired, with tears his eyes and him, the rest he's long desired, is still sidestepping him. His weariness has grown to be a public weevil. Grief marks him for his own and will not give him ease. For all hat passers beg a chance to run him down and deftly pull his leg. For Kopeck yen and crown, he'll have a perfect bid to paint the railway tracks? The merchant's shapely neck is best to feel the ax. Is there a kindly plan to send the poor some ducks? The weary business man must cough up seven bucks. Is there a prospect big to glid the village pump? The business man must dig his savings in a lump. For every cheerful fake devised by Jack or Jill, the business man must take some roubles from his till. The hobbes in the jail must have a Christmas tree, oh merchant, hand the scale—the generous and free! A widow needs a pup, to keep the tramps away, oh, merchant, loosen up be liberal today. A good electric fan the county poorhouse needs, oh, sad-eyed business man, shell out a dozen seeds! The business man must fall for every such demand, his back against the wall, his checkbook in his hand.

Amazing Increase of South's Grain Production. (From The Manufacturers' Record). The grain crop of the south this year will exceed in value by several hundred million dollars the total of the most valuable cotton crop ever produced by this section. This remarkable fact is due to an increase in grain production throughout the south, which will demonstrate what this section is capable of doing in the development of diversified farming. According to the forecast of grain production for the country based on conditions existing at the present time, the southern states for this year will be 1,540,000,000 bushels or a gain of 288,000,000 bushels over last year. If to the figures covering wheat, corn and oats we properly add the rice crop, the total grain for the south this year will be 1,570,000,000 bushels, and as this year's rice crop exceeds by 6,000,000 bushels last year's, we would have a total increase of grain in this section of 294,000,000 bushels.

This present grain situation is all the more impressive when taken in connection with the grain crop of the entire country. The estimated yield for the country for this year, including rice, is 5,416,000,000 bushels, or an increase of 490,000,000 bushels over 1914. Out of this total gain 292,000,000 bushels, or nearly 60 per cent, is due to the increase in the south. The grain in this section will be nearly 23 per cent over last year, as compared with only 5.12 per cent for the balance of the country. The actual gain in the south is 94,000,000 bushels greater than the increase in the balance of the United States. These figures are wonderfully significant of the agricultural possibilities which typifies the increase in foodstuffs generally, will largely offset the adverse situation in cotton. In the south corn commands a much higher price than elsewhere, and the average price of 10 to 20 cents a bushel more than western prices. On this basis, therefore, it is safe to estimate that the grain crops of the south will represent a gain of at least $20,000,000 over last year's figures.

Every state, with the exception of Maryland, has increased its grain production. Alabama shows a gain of nearly 17,000,000 bushels, Arkansas, 25,500,000 bushels, Georgia, 17,000 bushels, Louisiana, 16,000,000 bushels, Mississippi, nearly 20,000,000 bushels, South Carolina, 7,000,000 bushels, Virginia, 18,000 bushels, while Texas comes to the front with a gain of 38,000,000 and Oklahoma 40,400,000 bushels.

Business interest in the south should feel the uplifting influence of this splendid grain crop. The south did not this year lose a single bushel of grain, and as it should have done, and at the same time still further lessen its cotton acreage, but it has gained a gain of at least $20,000,000. It indicates its almost limitless opportunities for grain-growing. In 1900 the production of wheat corn and oats in the south was 911,000,000 bushels compared with this year's yield of 1,540,000,000. We have thus advanced the production of grain 62,800,000 bushels, or 6.9 per cent. But looking beyond the south to the whole country we find that Nature has again blessed this land with abundant crops already harvested and with the promise of splendid crops now growing. If conditions are maintained as favorable as the present, production this year's crops will largely exceed in value $10,000,000,000. The indications of the United States agricultural department show that the grain crop of the south is one of the units that make up the whole.

The man is a citizen. She is one of "we the people of Georgia," and is as plainly embraced in this preamble and constitution as the man. The right of the citizen to the equal vote is equal in the right to justice and equal in the right to have public policy so framed as to protect the interest and happiness of each and all. Man has the natural right to the inalienable right to the means of livelihood by the use of the powers given him whether those powers be estimated as they are when exacted from the citizen, or as they are when developed and enlarged by labor, energy and education. Whatever his powers or attainments may be, he has the equal right with all others to pursue any of the vocations that may be within the reach of his ability. The man has the right to the equal vote, one of the units that make up the whole.

1915 July 1 Final Yield Forecast 1914. Rice 2,100,000,000 2,100,000,000. Winter wheat 685,000,000 685,000,000. Spring wheat 295,000,000 295,000,000. Corn 2,814,000,000 2,814,000,000. Oats 1,000,000,000 1,000,000,000. Barley 205,000,000 205,000,000. Rye 30,000,000 30,000,000. Total 5,416,000,000 4,924,000,000.

With an indicated wheat yield of 965,000,000 bushels which may be fair weather conditions be possibly enlarged to a better yield of 1,000,000,000 bushels, and an average increase for the entire country on July 1 of a fraction less than 26 cents per bushel higher price for wheat than on the same date in 1914, the total value of the grain crop of the south will exceed $1,000,000,000. What the fluctuations may be during the coming months is not possible to forecast by reason of the uncertainty of war, but that every bushel of wheat will be sold at a very profitable price to the farmer admits of no question.

AUTOMOBILE TOURING. BY GEORGE FITCH. Author of "The Road to Hell." Automobile touring will be more popular than ever. The automobile is the most popular of all the modern inventions. There are two reasons for this. In the first place, automobile touring is now confined to those who carry machine guns along to assist in the day's work. In the second place, the American automobile is becoming more competent to tackle the American road each year. Thanks to the new sleeping scientist the American automobile can now travel through country over which a state line would not be difficult to find. The automobile is now the adventurer's climbing mountain and daredevil's running all over Cook county, Illinois, in motor cars.

There are now about 2,000,000 automobiles in the United States and half of these are owned by some sort of a tourist this year. Some of these owners will roll happily over the smooth roads of New York and New England loving their country, more with each mile. Some will tackle the yielding bosom of Illinois and Missouri with the aid of spades, windlasses and rubber boots and will not love their native land so much when they get through while a few adventurers will run their cars into the red clay of the south and after they have been extracted they will go back home to increase the sectional feeling.

There are now many thousands of miles of very good road in the United States. These roads are also being made in miles of road which is no better in wet weather than a river bottom. Those cities which are reaching for the stars are also reaching for the stars of tourists on their streets this summer dropping ten dollar bills with the careless abandon of the automobile. The business men of these towns which have fortified themselves against the world by maintaining mud highways, ways in wet weather will continue to kick about hard times and to deplore the growing loss of the country. It is now possible for an automobile to travel from New York to San Francisco in a car with good tires and good wheels. However, he should take with him plenty of tires and chains, a compass, some spades and hickory shovels, a small portable steam shovel, a camping outfit, a pontoon and a mile of rope. He may need none of these things, but it is a man of leisure he should take no chances.

JUDGE HOPKINS ABLY PRESENTED THE PLEA FOR WOMEN LAWYERS. The favorable committee recommendation last week of the house bill making provision whereby women may practice law in Georgia and the prospect of this bill coming up for the consideration of the house probably this week or next, has set legislators to thinking.

The cause of the women who desire to be lawyers in Georgia has never been more clearly and ably set forth than in the address of the late Judge John S. Hopkins upon a similar bill before a general judiciary committee of the house in 1912. A copy of this splendid address has been furnished The Constitution by Linton C. Hopkins, a prominent Atlanta attorney and son of the late Judge Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins is an advocate of allowing women to practice law. Regarding the present law Mr. Hopkins says: "Mr. Hopkins' Statement. 'It seems to be a shame that Georgia should be among the three or four states who are left who still deny women entrance to the legal profession. All other professions and businesses are open to women. The great point in the case is that every individual field opened to them makes for the betterment of the community. A woman who has to earn her own living goes into a profession which leaves a vacancy behind her which is filled by another woman. It is a bit below and this of course leaves another vacancy for another woman. An additional opening for women of high earning power makes for the betterment of the community. The law which we have for men, intellectual ability and whose labor is worth much less money feel the same want. Therefore, this bill other than a desire to see it passed for the good of the state. The address of the late Judge Hopkins upon the subject of women lawyers in part, is as follows: 'Judge Hopkins' Address. 'Equality of rights to men and women upon which our state government is based. The preamble to the constitution reads: 'To promote the principles of free government, insure to all the people the enjoyment of liberty, the protection and guidance of their rights, and the promotion of the best interests of the people.' The constitution itself says: 'All government of right originates with the people, the sovereignty rests in them and is instituted solely for the good of the whole. The man is a citizen. She is one of 'we the people of Georgia,' and is as plainly embraced in this preamble and constitution as the man. The right of the citizen to the equal vote is equal in the right to justice and equal in the right to have public policy so framed as to protect the interest and happiness of each and all. ### First Game in Post-Season Series for the F. L. A. G. League Pennant Scheduled at Valdosta.

The first game of the post-season series to determine the winner of the F. L. A. G. league will be played at Valdosta, Ga., Tuesday, July 20, the winner to be determined by the team winning four games of the series.

The first and second games of the series are scheduled for Valdosta, the fifth in Valdosta, and the sixth in Brunswick, the seventh, if necessary, to be arranged later, either in one of the two towns or a neutral city.

Brundage won the first half pennant, Valdosta won the second half. Umpires White and Dumas have been selected to handle the series.

The general admission fee to all games will be 50 cents, with the home club getting the grandstand price.

The players will get 50 per cent of the first four games, which will be 40 per cent of the last four, and 20 per cent of the first four, and the league gets 10 per cent from all the games.

The complete list of eligible men, and the batteries for the opening game at Valdosta will probably be announced tomorrow.

"Boy Manager" and Vols Come Today For Series That Closes Home Stay

Bill Schwartz, known generally as the "boy manager," and one of the most popular of the visiting managers that come to Ponce de Leon, will pilot his Nashville Vols to Atlanta today for a series of four games with the Atlanta Crackers.

To be correct, however, the Vols are already here, and all the piloting that will be necessary will be to pilot them to the ball park and then to victory over the Crackers.

Scott Perry will face the Vols in the opener, and Scotty has had a splendid rest. The Vols can assure themselves that they are in for a battle right now.

Bill will show us a new second baseman today in Shochan. George Kircher has gone back to the outfield, and the rest of the team is the same.

PRE-PENNANT FIGHT IN SALLY

Games Today and Tuesday, Which End Season, Will Determine the Winner of the Second Half.

The South Atlantic league's second pennant season will come to a close with the games scheduled for today and Tuesday, and so close is the race between three teams that it will take the outcome of the games on these two days to determine which team will win.

Columbus is leading the race, a half game in advance of Columbia, who is but one game ahead of Augusta.

Therefore it will be seen that if all three of these teams win their games today and Tuesday, they are not pitted against one another, but it will take the games of today to determine the winner.

Macoon won the first half pennant, and Macoon will play the first game of the series today.

Miss Stirling's Golf Will Bear Watching, Says Linksman

(By THE NEW YORK EVENING STAR.)

In the light of recent happenings in the world of women's golf it will be well to remember the name of Miss Stirling.

She has shown promise of becoming what subsequent events have indicated is not an easy matter to win a national title.

It is not an easy matter to win a national title. Many a full grown man has been known to lose to a very young girl.

It was the Brooklyn woman who told Miss Stirling at the end of the match that if she minded her p's and a's there would come a time in the not far distant future when she would be heard from in the realm of public prints.

The point is that Miss Stirling, whose very soul is made of gold, has made a name for herself in the national championship at St. Louis.

PACKAGE OF ICED TEA FREE TO CONSTITUTION READERS

At last! Something for nothing! It has been said that no one ever gets anything for nothing, but here is a chance where you may really get something—and something mighty good, too—for nothing—absolutely free.

Read the "Want Ad" page of today's Constitution, and if you find your name there you may call at The Constitution office and receive absolutely free a big package of Heekin's famous Deer Head Iced Tea.

The Constitution will select at random each day from the city directory a number of names of Atlanta ladies. Maybe your name is there today. If not today, perhaps it will be there tomorrow. Look each day, for it is likely to appear at any time.

Whenever your name appears all you have to do is call or send to The Constitution office and get your fine package of tea free.

And for these sweltering days what is better than a big frosty glass of tea with the ice tinkling in it?
