BRYAN'S STATEMENT AMAZES WILSON; STIFF NOTE IS CABLED TO GERMANY

BRYAN WILL CARRY HIS GERMAN POLICY BEFORE THE PEOPLE

Former Secretary Wanted Wilson to Warn Americans Not to Take Passage on Any Belligerent Ships.

AMAZEMENT IS CAUSED BY BRYAN'S STATEMENT

Official Washington Feels That He's Comforting Germany in Her Controversy With the United States. Bryan Advised Not to Issue Statement.

Washington, June 9.—William Jennings Bryan retired today as secretary of state. His first act as a private citizen was to issue a statement explaining his reasons for leaving the cabinet...

The statement came as a sensational climax to a day of farewell speeches and good wishes from President Wilson and executive colleagues of the retiring secretary.

In his explanation Mr. Bryan revealed that the president had not felt justified in adopting two suggestions made by his secretary of state—that an offer should be made to Germany to submit the questions in dispute with the United States to an international commission...

These propositions Mr. Bryan expects to urge upon the people. "In the hope of securing such an expression of public sentiment as will support the president in employing these remedies if in the future he finds it consistent with his sense of duty to favor them."

Mr. Bryan's statement was received with undiluted amazement in official quarters. No comment was made in the white house, but some high officials indicated that they believed it most unfortunate that so pronounced an expression of opinion should be made public while the discussion with Germany was in progress.

The principle advocated by Mr. Bryan is embodied in treaties of peace negotiated by the United States with thirty nations, and was accepted by Germany, although no convention ever was drafted. The statement is a condensation of the argument which Secretary Bryan has been making repeatedly to President Wilson in the last few weeks...

The retiring secretary left the state department shortly after 1 o'clock. The note was put on the telegraph wires at 2 o'clock, when Mr. Bryan's resignation went into effect.

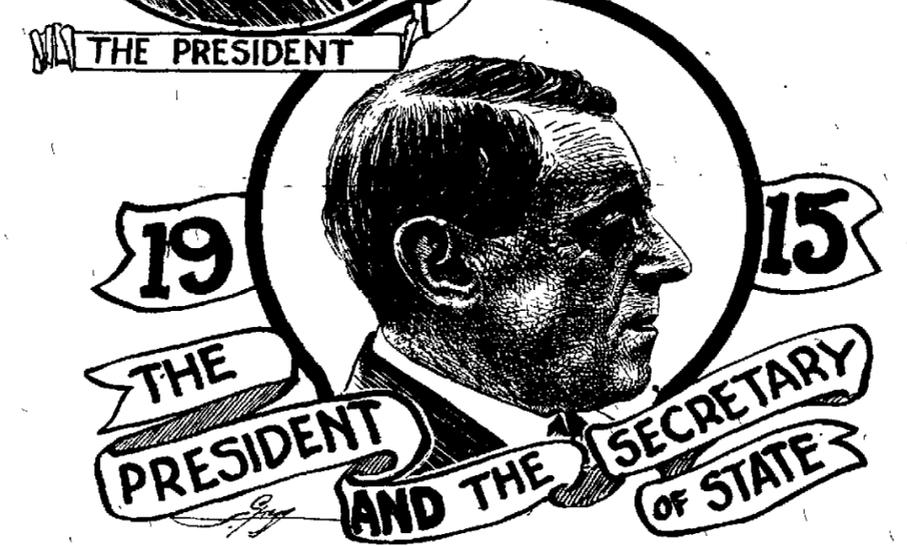

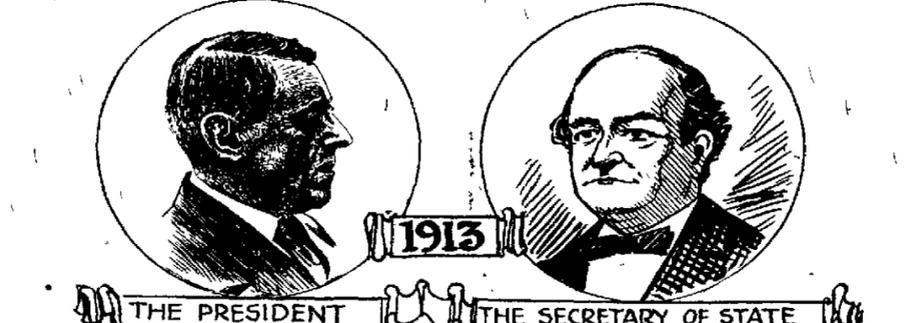

To friends Mr. Bryan amplified his argument in his statement regarding the international relations now straining the American people. In these talks he gave some intimation of the stress of his efforts in the cabinet to change the course taken by the administration toward Germany...

Mr. Bryan told several persons that he had felt from the day the American citizen Thresher was killed on the British ship Palaba that Americans had no business traversing the war zone on belligerent ships.

Mr. Bryan's statement follows: "My reason for resigning is clearly stated in my letter of resignation, namely that I may employ as a private citizen, the mess which the president does not feel at liberty to employ. I honor him for doing what he believes to be right."

THE CONSTITUTION'S WORK SAVED SCHOOLS, SAYS PRESIDENT GUINN

Clark Howell, Editor The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.: A S president of the board of education, I wish to acknowledge with thanks the great service you have rendered the school system of this city. Except for the campaign of enlightenment you have so vigorously conducted for the last few months, resulting in an awakening of the people to the very pressing needs of our school system, the splendid beginning made by the city council on Monday would not have been made.

I have never doubted that the people of Atlanta, through their representatives, the mayor and general council, would give ample support to the department of public education when once fully apprised of the true situation. Your campaign has been conducted with great thoroughness and you should feel gratification at the results accomplished.

AMERICAN RIGHTS TO BE MAINTAINED, GERMANY IS TOLD

No Room for Berlin to Misunderstand Meaning of the United States in the Note Now on the Cables.

CABINET IS UNITED IN SUPPORT OF NOTE

Germany Told That United States Won Her Rights by War and That She Can't Afford at This Late Day to Surrender Any of Them to Suit the Convenience of Any Power.

Washington, June 9.—The United States today sent to Germany a note reiterating its demand for reparation for the loss of American lives in the sinking of the Lusitania and setting forth clearly the earnest desire of the American government that Germany signify her early adherence to the principles of international law—that neutrals be permitted to travel on unarmed ships without being subject to the dangers of submarine warfare.

Couched in much more friendly terms than it was believed would be used when the unsatisfactory answer to the American note of May 13 arrived from Germany, the communication was cabled to Ambassador Gerard for presentation to the German foreign office.

UNITED SUPPORT OF THE CABINET

As the all-important document on which President Wilson and his advisers have worked for ten days went forth, it had behind it the united support of the cabinet. The one man who had opposed its terms because he believed it might precipitate war—William Jennings Bryan—had resigned the portfolio of secretary of state at the moment the note was dispatched.

WILSON STANDS FOR U. S. RIGHTS.

The president stands unalterably it was stated, on the principle that the United States at this stage in its history can not afford to surrender any of its rights, that the American people had fought in 1812 for their rights on the high seas, and could not sacrifice those rights with the nation's rise and growth to a position of command as a world power.

High officials generally held the view that Mr. Bryan's statement constituted a virtual surrender of American rights guaranteed not only by international law, but specific treaties between the United States and Germany. Mr. Bryan's suggestion that Americans do not take passage on American ships carrying ammunition was in direct conflict, it was pointed out, with the treaty of 1828, between Prussia and the United States wherein it was stipulated that war is given the right to free access of belligerent ports for commerce in arms and ammunition and other contraband.

BATTLE IN GALICIA HOLDS THE CENTER OF THE WAR STAGE

GAINS BY THE FRENCH ADMITTED BY GERMANS

French Forces Have Become Complete Masters of Neuville, and They Are Still Attacking German Lines.

London, June 9.—The battle in Galicia still holds the center of the stage. The capture by the Austro-Germans of Stanislaw shows that the offensive against the Russian left has been successful and that the Russians have been compelled to fall back to their defenses on the Dnieper in eastern Galicia along the rest of the front.

On the sea a Turkish gunboat, Turkish transport and a French transport have been sent to the bottom, a German submarine has been sunk, her crew being rescued, and several small British vessels have been torpedoed.

The Turkish gunboat and transport were sunk by the British forces operating in the Persian gulf. The French transport was sunk by the Turks in the waters off Gallipoli peninsula.

STANISLAW TAKEN BY THE AUSTRILIANS.

Berlin, June 9.—(Via London)—The Galician town of Stanislaw has been captured by the Austrians, according to the official statement issued by the German army headquarters today. Stanislaw is 75 miles southeast of Lemberg, the Galician capital.

"Enemy forces commencing an attack yesterday afternoon on the eastern slope of the Lorette hills were driven off by our fire. An enemy attack today on the eastern slope of the hills was repulsed with the loss of a small part of the force."

"The eastern bank of the Windaun in Ljubit, northeast of Kurachany, has been captured by our forces."

"Attacking forces are approaching the town of Shavil (in Kovno), from the east."

"On the Dubysa the enemy's northern wing has been driven back in a series of attacks. By an attacking force our foremost line has been reached the highway of Betigol-All-gh."

"South of the Nieman river the Russians retreated in the direction of the frontiers at Lumborg, Lumborg, and Kozliski. Three hundred prisoners and two machine guns were captured. During the pursuit which followed we secured fortified positions facing Kovno on the high road between Mariampol and Kovno."

SUCCESS CLAIMED FOR RUSSIANS.

Geneva, June 9.—(Via Paris)—A Czarowitz dispatch to The Tribune, dated Monday says: "The Russian army north of Stanislaw have repulsed all Austrian attacks between the Swica and Lomnita rivers. The Austrians attempt to break through the Dnieper, but the Russians inflicted serious losses upon them. General Lohmeyer's divisions, operating southeast of Kolem, suffered enormous losses on the Pruth, whose the Russians have gained an important success since Sunday. General Baitin was unable to effect a junction with the troops of General Gortchakov."

A Tarnow dispatch, dated Tuesday, says: "The Russians are getting nearer and nearer the Vistula, driving before them the troops of General Mackensen, who probably will be obliged to fall back."

SUFFERED 10 YEARS WITH HEMORRHOIDS

Caused Itching, Burning and Pain. Lost Sleep, Irritated and Inflamed. Used Cuticura, Permanent Relief in a Month.

Stephens City, Va.—"My father had been a chronic sufferer with hemorrhoids for ten or fifteen years. The disease first manifested itself in the form of bleeding hemorrhoids and later developed into tumors as large as a hen's egg. They would be unable to work after some unusual exertion and could get no relief sitting or lying down. His trouble caused a great deal of itching, burning and pain. He lost a great deal of sleep. This affected parts were irritated and inflamed very much. It was during one of his severe attacks that I suggested to him the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. He found much relief from the itching and burning by bathing the affected parts with warm water and Cuticura Soap. After that he would apply the Cuticura Ointment. (The first application relieved him, considerably and after three applications he was able to go to work. He kept up this treatment for a month and was permanently cured." (Signed) Miss Saxton Kamsell, October 27, 1914.

Cash Was Positive, Notwithstanding Fact He Had Had Several

Recorder Doubtful Whether Man With Bunch of Drinks in Him Could Qualify as Detective.

Recorder Johnson is trying to determine if a man who has been freely imbibing beer, with a slug of whisky on the side, can make a dependable sleuth.

J. L. Cash, who drives a county convict wagon, appeared in the police court Wednesday afternoon to testify against four negroes whom he had arrested on the charge of holding him up and robbing him. He stated that he was in a beer saloon several hours Tuesday night and went out to deliver a gallon of beer on Baker street. When near the corner of Hayden street four negroes held him up and took $38.40. He went out to look for the highwaymen and found two on Marietta street and two on Decatur street. The negroes pointed out by him were arrested.

One of the arresting officers stated that Cash was about half drunk. Cash admitted that he had consumed a lot of beer and one whisky. He was positive, however, that he had pointed out the right men.

The attorneys representing the negroes asked for more time in order to establish alibi, and the cases were held over until Thursday afternoon. "I have some grave doubts about a fellow tanked up on beer making a good detective," stated the recorder. "Five minutes to look very closely into these cases before I send the negroes to jail."

PHARMACY GRADUATES RECEIVE LICENSES

Athens, Ga., June 9.—(Special.)—There were only two graduates of the school of pharmacy this year at the University of Georgia, leaders Hovitz and Julius Edgar Jenkins, of Savannah and Wrightsville, respectively. At the examination of applicants for license before the state board of pharmacy held at Tybee yesterday they were the only two in a list of fifty-five applicants to obtain pharmacist license—the highest form of license. Only twenty-one of the fifty-five secured any form of license as apothecaries and as druggists. The school of pharmacy thus broke its own remarkable record of having never had a graduate fail to secure license by winning the only two highest places this year in the state.

NELMS INVESTIGATION COST MOTHER $10,000

Solicitor General Dorsey Files Brief to Prevent Lowering of Innes' Bond.

The systematic continental investigation to solve the mystery of her daughters' strange disappearance, which eventually led to the arrest and prosecution of Victor Innes and his wife, has cost Mrs. John W. Nelms $10,000. This is stated in the brief of Mrs. Nelms and the state of Georgia, presented by Hugh K. Dorsey, in the appeal the Inneses have made from the Antonio, Texas, to the United States supreme court to separate effort to gain freedom on reduced bonds of $500 and $750.

The brief reads, "In her search for the girls, and in obtaining evidence against the Inneses and returning them from Oregon to the state of Texas, has expended in cash not less than $10,000. The search extended throughout the country and was not for the efforts of the mother, the mystery of her daughters' disappearance and which has never been cleared.

The brief was filed Wednesday and sets out various reasons why the Washington court should not allow bond of less than $10,000 for the man and woman held in connection with the disappearance of Beatrice and Elois Nelms. In the abstract of the brief it is set out that the Inneses, who are still in San Antonio, were indicted by the Fulton county grand jury on three bills charging larceny after trust in August, 1928, for $4,000.

Request for extradition was made to the governor of Texas, but extradition to the United States was refused. The Inneses, through a lawyer, suggested bonds of $500 for the woman and $750 for Innes. In the present situation of the Innes case, that if any officer or court has to issue bond, it should be in the United States supreme court and not the courts of Texas. In this connection, the brief explains the case against Innes, a brief history is given of the Nelms sisters' disappearance, and the subsequent prosecution of Innes and his wife.

Met in Carson City. Innes became acquainted with Mrs. Lois Nelms Dennis sometime during her stay in Carson City, Nev., where Innes acted as attorney for the girl in divorce proceedings. Returning to Georgia, Mrs. Dennis corresponded regularly with Innes, and became subject to affidavits by her husband during April, 1931. Mr. and Mrs. Innes, the latter posing, it is said, under the assumed name of Innes, visited Atlanta. The wife of Innes, it is charged, passed herself as the aunt of Innes to the Innes family and the public, as his wife, although this latter fact was never known by Mrs. Dennis.

"The state will show," the brief reads, "that previous to coming to Atlanta, Innes had received from Mrs. Dennis express large sums of money from Mrs. Dennis, for the ostensible purpose, as he claimed, of investing in real properties in certain western states. "The state can also prove that Mrs. Innes, posing as the aunt of her husband, also received as much as $1,100 from Mrs. Dennis. The state can likewise show that Innes and his wife plotted together while in Georgia to induce Mrs. Dennis and her sister, Beatrice Nelms, a splendid business woman, to go to Texas with them.

"Mrs. Dennis was engaged to Innes and was expecting to marry him and go to India. Mrs. Beatrice Nelms went to San Antonio, Texas, to receive of Innes, as per his promise made in Georgia, papers and documents accounting for the money he had spent for the sister of Beatrice Nelms. The state will be able to show that both girls were murdered by Mr. and Mrs. Innes in a cottage in San Antonio, rented by Innes for the purpose of disposing of the bodies, and that a large meat and bone grinder was used in the process.

BAUXITE IS FOUND AT PINE MOUNTAIN, SAYS S. W. McALLIE

An important discovery of a valuable deposit of bauxite was announced Wednesday morning at the state capital when the advisory board of the state geological survey met in the governor's office.

Professor S. W. McAllie, state geologist, made the announcement, and said: "The locality in which this new find occurs is at the base of Pine Mountain, Meriwether county, three miles west of Warm Springs, on W. Howard Smith's property. The main outcropping of the ore occurs on a knoll in the form of huge boulders, some of which weigh several tons. The length of this individual exposure is approximately 200 feet, while its width is only about half as great. On other knolls or spurs of the mountain in the immediate vicinity, but lying farther to the west, are to be seen more or less drift ore which indicates an extension of the ore in that direction.

"The investigation of these ores recently made by H. K. Shearer, assistant state geologist, indicated that they are associated with local beds of cretaceous clays, and that they are, therefore, of the same age as the bauxites found in the vicinity of Andersonville, Sumter county. In case this interpretation is correct the discovery is of considerable scientific interest, as it would seem to show that the cretaceous sea at one time extended much farther north than has heretofore been supposed, covering possibly much of the Piedmont area of Georgia, which has an elevation of 1,000 feet or more above sea level."

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A New Discovery

Thin men and women—that big, hearty folks—dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed through your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sissy out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh crease meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the diet result. Sargol charges your weak stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of some of the best fish-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and in all other respects in Atlanta and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.—(Adv.)

MR BRYAN'S RESIGNATION

In the resignation of William Jennings Bryan of the portfolio of secretary of state the inevitable has happened. The second German note only furnished positive occasion for what sooner or later, had to come. From the very inception of their official association it has been practically apparent that this unnatural and unreasonable combination could not stand. Previous differences have been smoothed over to prevent rupture always undesirable, but the result has been largely that Mr Bryan has been secretary of state only to the extent of signing his name to public documents, dictated by the president.

The real overshadowing significance of the incident as indicating the fundamental difference between the two men is illustrated in the letter Mr Wilson wrote, as president of Princeton to A. H. Johns regarding Mr Bryan's government ownership of railroads speech on his return from Europe. Mr Bryan he then thought ought to be knocked into a cocked hat.

The appointment of Mr Bryan as secretary of state was, perhaps, unavoidable. Leading the Nebraska delegation to Baltimore which had been pledged to and instructed for Champ Clark and in the face of his own notorious declaration of the principle that state instructions should absolutely control in the convention balloting for national candidates Mr Bryan was the first to depart from instructions and from his own announced principle upon the floor of the Baltimore convention. Mr Bryan's defection from the candidate to whom the vote of his state was pledged, gave the nomination to Mr Wilson notwithstanding that the man forsaken by Mr Bryan and for whom he was specifically instructed held for a long time a clear majority of the convention vote.

Probably there was no other course for President Wilson under the circumstances than the tender of the state portfolio to Mr Bryan. Its acceptance was never in doubt. Its occupancy has probably at times bordered on embarrassment to the administration itself. It is only because of the president's own domination in important public matters that it has not been more publicly so.

The separation had to come, and it is perhaps well for the country and the party that it was no longer delayed. The country has confidence in President Wilson's ability, firmness and conservatism. He has demonstrated these qualities in the most trying situations.

Mr Bryan's resignation does not mean there is any graver danger of conflict with Germany than there has been at any time since the sinking of the Lusitania. President Wilson will proceed with the negotiations demanded by this incident sustained by American confidence in his ability to handle it to the best advantage of the United States—a confidence which will suffer no appreciable diminution as the result of the resignation of the secretary of state.

OUR OWN ROAD ENGINEERS.

Lacking expert engineering knowledge, many of the counties of Georgia are still far behind in the matter of road construction, although they have their own convict squads to do the work. The secret of efficient road building is doing it in accordance with well-defined engineering rules. One county may build a road that the first heavy rain will destroy, another, using the same materials, will build a highway that will resist the elements for years. It is simply a question of knowing how. Advertising to a piece of Wheeler county

The Telfair Enterprise calls attention to a bit of roadway out from Lumber City in Wheeler county that was built by an expert in the employ of the government and seemingly is as good as ever. It is indicated that when just completed it is indicated that the repair work upon it has been negligible. It at really has lasted five years without being repaired and is in first class shape now. It is a remarkable road and might well serve as a model in Georgia. It runs over a sandy ridge and is elevated along a width of sixteen feet. The Enterprise suggests that a competent engineer should be employed to direct at least a part of the road construction and that application to the federal government, would bring one speedily.

A sand clay road that renders more than five years service with practically no repairs is a valuable asset to any community. It not only renders service, but it releases the road forces for important work elsewhere.

There is no excuse or reason for Georgia's depending on the federal government for this sort of service. Georgia now has one expert road builder employed by the prison commission but the state should have a dozen available for service in any county that may call on them. Every one of them should be a man of equal ability with that federal expert who made the Wheeler county sand clay road that is good today after five years service.

Georgia has a magnificent opportunity to provide for just such service as this in the fund derived from the specific tax upon automobiles. This $100,000 and more is doing scant service today because of its long division and the small proportion of it that goes to each county. If each county in the state were given the services of an expert road builder for two or three months in the year it would derive far more benefit from it than it can possibly get from the few hundred dollars that go to it from the automobile tax fund.

The legislature could not do a better work in the direction of state development this summer than provide means for rendering more efficient and lasting the road work now being done in the various counties of Georgia. In the automobile fund it has its opportunity and whether it does it through the establishment of a state highway commission or otherwise it should make some provision for supplying expert knowledge and service to those counties which are eager to make the most of the facilities the state has given them.

HOW IT HELPS THE CITY

With Mayor Woodward's assent to the June financial sheet on the assurance of the unanimous concurrence of the aldermanic board it looks as if The Constitution's fight for schools has accomplished what we predicted for it the day before council made its record breaking school appropriation—the restoration of harmony and accord between mayor and council.

Certainly they have come together on this subject in a way which indicates the possibility of comparatively easy agreement on other matters if taken hold of on both sides in the right spirit.

The Constitution suggested in its editorial of last Sunday in urging prompt and unanimous action by council on the financial sheet that no better opportunity could be presented for mayor and council to wipe off the slate and start anew on a friendly basis. We suggested too more recently that Atlanta stood to gain more from the agitation of the school problem than simply the needed betterment of the school plant.

The situation is already bearing splendid fruit. The way is now opened to a reconciliation between mayor and council with a prospect of an immediate termination of the disappointments and setbacks Atlanta has suffered as a direct cause of their too-often unnecessary and always too bitter differences.

If this result is accomplished and there is now every indication of it it will be the best business stroke for Atlanta recorded in recent years.

Both council and the mayor should make it the occasion of sincere and lasting reconciliation.

Since both have met on common ground for the safety of the schools the rest is easy.

It is not necessary that the mayor and council shall always agree among themselves. Honest differences of opinion are the safeguard of any government. But in such differences there is no occasion for begets antagonism and opposition even upon minor matters where there could be no possible reason for it.

Happily the school question just as The Constitution predicted has furnished the occasion and opportunity for a reconciliation which should be made permanent.

If it is Atlanta has occasion for double rejoicing, for the spirit of the thing will infuse every branch of municipal activity.

Hunting Whales in Aeroplanes. (From The Baltimore American) A novel use of the aeroplane is under consideration by owners of sealing vessels as a result of the failure of the seal hunt this year. It is proposed that two experienced aviators be engaged to visit the east coast and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, respectively, just before the opening of next season and locate the herds. The information thus obtained would enable the fleet to sail directly for the scene of the hunt instead of spending much time in searching for the animals.

PEACE.

There are a great many precious things in the world, but nothing so desirable as peace. Peace is a condition of international tranquility in which a man has to run an aeroplane in order to get killed with any degree of certainty. The stories of peace have been sung for four thousand years—generally by men who have possessed tenacious memories or have heard about the thing from their grandfathers. In peace nations love each other and work together for the general good. Swords are beaten into plowshares, sparrows build their nests in the mouths of cannon and no body gets shot except the friendless wild duck in the spring time. In peace nations grow rich and the humble poor put money away in the savings bank. Also each nation spends hundreds of millions of dollars laying away cartridges and other forms of ill health against the day when some other nation shall go out of the peace business.

There is very little peace in the world today—less than for centuries past. That is because peace has been too highly valued of late. For forty years Europe has been staying off war and preparing for it. In the present age old times nations called each other names today, wait to war tomorrow and forgot it the day after. But after staying off war for fifty years Europe fell in and will not be able to climb out until there is no one left to fight.

That peace can be too highly valued. Nobody should go about the world poking a gun as big as a subway tunnel at his neighbors in order to encourage peace. Sooner or later his forefinger will get nervous. On the other hand there is China which has loved peace for 4000 years and has declined to go to war or to prepare for it. Therefore China has been whittled down by the war to war which is one tenth its size. There is a happy medium in preserving peace. It should maintain enough big ships and cannon to make it very unhealthily for the enemy to approach. On the other hand it should maintain enough to make it equally unhealthily for it to attack anyone else. The tall quiet man with tipping muscles who can choke a man with one hand but never learned how to fight enjoys more peace than any other variety of human.

Some Staggering Statistics.

Editor Constitution. From 1898 to 1911 inclusive the south produced the fabulous number of 192,736,622 bales of cotton at an average weight each of 500 pounds. Total pounds 96,368,311,000 at an average price of 19 cents per pound, or $18,328,818,900.

Add to this amount received for cotton seed $1,000,000,000. Received for cotton and cotton seed in sixteen years $19,328,818,900 + $1,000,000,000 = $20,328,818,900.

So in the past sixteen years the southern states has received from one source alone cotton and cotton seed $20,328,818,900—over two billions of dollars more than all the gold coin known to be in the world. The figures stagger the mind—an amount of wealth produced in only sixteen brief years beyond any human comprehension. And the still greater staggering truth is this vast wealth was created on farms that could and should have produced this wealth as a surplus. It is possible to raise cotton in the south as a surplus crop—whether five or fifteen bushels per acre. It should be raised. If Germany had the cotton instead of sugar beets they would have had every dollar of the gold in the world and due bills amounting to $2,175,633,100 in the past sixteen years.

Does the above statement awaken any interest in the minds of the people? Do they seek to change the conditions that allowed this vast ocean of gold to flow through her hands and stay forever? Absolutely none. Do we want the help of others to enable us to change these disastrously wasteful conditions? We do not! We will sleep on!

In the Harbor.

Happy is the child that drinks in with a mother's milk the love of home and best is the home that feels and appreciates the heaven of childish innocence. Not in utter nakedness not in entire forgetfulness. But trailing clouds of glory do they come from God who is their home.

The man in life's full vigor may forget the heaven that lies about us in our infancies may. Perceive the vision die away. And fade into the light of common day.

But when he is old and life's journey is about to end where it began—in eternity—earth clamour fades beneath the stars that rise not to set and he hears the music of the angels in childhood's happy laughter sweeter than echo of bugle notes among vine clad hills and softer than the moonbeam's kiss.

Grandpa finds a comrade in the little tot upon his knee. The golden curls against the locks of gray are very close together and closer still the cradle and the grave for after all the soul is a citizen of eternity and life is but a meteor glare. How the old man loves the little child. No wonder both stand upon the Father's threshold. The little one is leaving home with heaven's halo still bright upon his brow undimmed by sin and sorrow. The old man is returning strong hearted empty handed and sustained by an unflinching trust in the Father's welcome home.

And this is why the baby fair Loves to climb on grandpa's chair To greet him with a smile, Two ships in friendly harbor frae— One nearing home one bound for sea— Would furl their sails awhile.

Oh beautiful Month of Roses Embracing the buds to bloom Tinting the dewdrops just a-coming. Fulfilling their rich perfume— Oh, Mother Month of blossom. May Roses heedeck thy tomb!

Oh, beautiful Month-of-Roses, Thrilling their ardors to bear, Wooing with night's entrancing Pulsing the star-lit air— Oh, Moon of June and passion. May Roses fulfill thy prayer!

Oh, beautiful beautiful roses Mid the pulsing green of June Fair emblem of love and heaven. With infinite music in tune— 'Tis the heart-o-the-year—and Roses My garden paths have strewn! —AUGUSTA WALL.

FUTURE RICH IN OPPORTUNITIES PICTURED TO TECH GRADUATES

Featured by the commencement address of J. J. Spaulding, addresses to the graduates by Chancellor David C. Barrow and Governor-elect N. E. Harris and the presentation of scholarship trophies and medals the closing exercises of the Georgia School of Technology took place in the Atlanta theater Wednesday morning.

In conferring the degrees upon the graduates President K. G. Matheson awarded three to men who graduated in the class of 1915. The degrees awarded to those three men R. W. Davis Arthur P. Wells and W. H. Pritchett were in recognition of work done by them since leaving the institution. They were the degrees of D. S.

After the graduates had taken their places in the theater Rev. W. W. Memminger read the invocation. Mr. Spaulding's Address. Mr. Spaulding in his commencement address at the Prospect of a Technical Graduate at the Present Time covered every phase of activities in the southeast and the United States at large to be participated in by the graduates of Georgia Tech.

Mr. Spaulding stated that the field which the graduates were entering was one of the sternest and hardest that they have had yet to contend with. The field of life will embrace for the graduates according to the speaker every activity of advancement which will appear in the next twenty five years.

In going back twenty five years from the present time Mr. Spaulding stated that all the older residents of Atlanta had watched the growth and development of the city the erection of her largest buildings and the different enterprises which have been launched and which have tended to make the city.

If those enormous developments have taken place in the past twenty five years stated Mr. Spaulding what are we to expect in the next twenty five?

We have just scratched the surface continued Mr. Spaulding and the real advancement and growth of the southeast and the south is yet to take place. Effect of Foreign Wars. According to Mr. Spaulding the United States has been greatly enriched by the South African and the Russo Japanese wars. He stated that it was also being enriched in many different ways by the European war.

We have depended too long on the countries of Europe to furnish us with things that we could just as well have turned out ourselves stated Mr. Spaulding and we are now waking to the necessity of what we must do.

Mr. Spaulding touched on the faults to be remedied by the present war. He stated that the practice of sending raw material to Europe to be manufactured and then shipped back into the United States had been stopped and would never be resumed on an extensive scale.

The speaker declared that this country would become one of the richest in the world and that at the present time the American dollar was at a premium in all the nations of Europe.

Speaking on the merchant marine Mr. Spaulding declared that the enforcement of a commercial trust on this country by the stopping of ships of warring nations would only serve to bring about laws as well as a way and means for a merchant marine to be established.

Mr. Spaulding closed his address by declaring that the graduate had profited by receiving their diplomas that they could make good in life in so far as brains were concerned. Medals Presented. Following the reading of the honor roll by Professor French the presentation of the scholarship medals and the conferring of degrees—the eighty five graduates received their diplomas.

The special degrees or degrees specially conferred to Messrs. Davis Wells and Pritchett were features of the commencement.

Mr. Davis is southern agent for the Saco Lowell shops and has his headquarters for the south in Charlotte N. C. Mr. Wells is consulting mechanical engineer for the Central of Georgia railway with headquarters in Savannah and Mr. Pritchett is a captain in the engineering department of the army having earned prominence and position by government irrigation work in the west and the Philippines.

RULES ANNOUNCED FOR STATE BANKS

The Federal Reserve Board Makes Public Regulations for Membership of State Institutions in Reserve System.

Washington, June 9.—Rules and regulations to govern the membership of state banks and trust companies in the federal reserve system were made public today by the federal reserve board in announcing the regulations under which the right is reserved to suspend or refuse admission to membership in considering each individual application, the board said.

Appreciating fully that the strength of the federal reserve system is to be measured by the quality and character of its members rather than by their number, the federal reserve board is prepared to use its discretionary power vested in it by the federal reserve act to bring about the inclusion of the better banking institutions on a basis of equity and practicability.

Reasonable Standards

The board has sought in the regulations governing the admission of state banks and trust companies to establish only such reasonable standards of admission as will be generally recognized as necessary to protect the federal reserve system and the national banks whose membership in the system is obligatory against the admission of any bank which would be a detriment to the strength and stability of the system.

Points to Be Considered

In passing on the application the following points will be especially considered:

The financial condition of the applying bank or trust company and the general character of its business.

Whether the nature of the powers exercised by the bank and its charter provisions be consistent with the provisions of the federal reserve act and membership in the federal reserve bank.

Whether the laws of the state in which the applying bank is located contains provisions which interfere with the exercise of the powers of supervision of member banks.

PROHIBITION IS WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

According to Joseph Smith, Who Addressed Convention of Liquor Dealers.

Cincinnati, June 9.—While I have no religious interest in the traffic prohibition desires to destroy. I cannot say I am wholly disinterested because any movement of legislation that threatens the peace and prosperity of the nation must interest every good citizen.

Prohibition is a wolf in sheep's clothing. It is a destroyer of temperance and roaring with the tongue and treachery of the serpent. It has many prophets and preachers, and some practitioners.

"Mutilated Morality"

Prohibition is generally an accompanying circumstance of social and religious decadence; of mutilated morality and political hysteria. When the normal and healthy conditions of society are destroyed, and the moral and political life of a nation is in a state of decay, prohibition is the rule of the world.

Tobacco and Whisky Linked

The assertion that the tobacco industry and that the fight being waged by the liquor interests against the adoption of prohibition are the right wing of the tobacco interests was made by J. Lawton Kendrick editor of New York.

Merritt Dips Crackers In the Kalsomine Keg; Weak Hitting Continues

By Herbert Caldwell.

Memphis, Tenn., June 9.—Howard Merritt left-handed with considerable accuracy and consistency through nine innings this afternoon and there was little intimacy between Howard and the Atlanta batters.

Jim Allen, another left-sider, had his troubles and was greeted by Chick batters when greets Merritt runs, and Howard and the Chick went about their winning way with a 5 to 0 victory over the Crackers.

It started out like a three-cornered debate with the Atlanta players comprising one side, the Memphis players another and Umpire Chestnut and Pfenniger standing for their platform.

After three innings of wrangling, using up three-quarters of an hour of perfectly good time, "theirumps" took the matter in their hands and the Chick and the Crackers settled down to entertaining the lady guests with a fast and pretty exhibition of baseball.

Billy Smith, manager of the Crackers, talked himself out of the park in the third inning.

Jim Allen made Salt Lake famous in the Union association last season, had a variety of left-sided chunking that looked good enough to bring these victorious days of the Chick. It doesn't seem to matter to what kind of a brand of pitching he offers.

The homebats accorded Merritt better support than he has had in the past. Merritt pitched the game with a fast and accurate arm, and the Chick turned out enough runs in the old-fashioned way of getting from the hip to win without any assistance from their allies.

Both pitchers started out by striking out a couple of men each in the first inning and the way both were heaving it looked like a two left-handed game was in the air before the first pitch. The Chick got to Allen first and kept after him until they won a game, in the second inning. Merritt pitched first when Manning let his grounder slip through his hands. Schiel hit to left and Baldwin was forced out. Merritt pitched second, but Schiel on third with a single to right. Dunckel stood on base and was safe at first with a grounder to second, but Merritt grounded out for the third time.

Allen threw wild.

Allen's wildness helped the homebats to their next run in the third. Allen walked, but was trying to get Merritt with his head in the air. Allen then pecked McDermott in the slugs. Stewart fled out to Moran.

Women's Tennis.

One Philadelphia player, one Pittsburger, one Philadelphia and Miss Mollie Burrested, of Norway are left to fight it out in the fourth round tomorrow.

Three New York pairs survived the second round in the shammy match doubles. Two Philadelphia pairs, one combination Newport and Boston team, one combination Newport and Boston team, one New York-Boston combination.

Several interesting matches were played in the mixed doubles and two or three of the results were most surprising. Probably the most unexpected was the defeat of Mrs. Barger by Wallace and Bladie. Forty-Six Young Men Receive Diplomas—Degree Is Conferred on Retiring President Dickey.

During the whole week a spirit of enthusiastic optimism for the success of the students, the alumni and the hundreds of good people who have been in attendance.

This enthusiasm was especially manifest in the reunion of the alumni association. Senator Nathan P. Bryan, of Florida, delivered the address, discussing in the most statesmanlike manner "Political Powers, Rights and Duties."

The gifted orator protested with power against "new-fangled fads" that threaten our social and political institutions, and called for a return to fundamental principles.

Seated immediately in front of the platform, in solid body, were most of the class of 1892, of which the senator was a member, and his classmates greeted him most warmly with their claps, yell, when he entered.

Following the address, the banquet of the alumni association was held in the large dining hall of "Old Marvin." At the banquet stirring addresses were

CHAMPION DEBATE WON BY GREENSBORO HIGH

Athens, Ga., June 9.—(Special.)—In the preliminary high school debate today between teams from seven congressional districts the teams from Sylvester and Greensboro, affirming and negating, respectively, won places in the final contest tonight which in turn was won by the negative, upturned by Reid Montford and Kelso Mullins, of Greensboro, who took the state championship.

More than 175 girls and boys from the twelve congressional districts of the state are in Athens today for the state contests in literary and athletic events. They are the winners of district contests held during the spring and represent the best effort of the high schools of the state in several lines.

The two contests held today were in spelling and the state championship oratorical contest. The spelling contest was written one and the winner will be announced Friday.

The debate on capital punishment tonight was by the two teams selected from the original hundred teams debating the question over the state in the past few months. The final contestants from as many districts came to try for the places as final debaters.

Survivors' Association Of Governor's Guard Organized Last Night

The Survivors' association of the Governor's Guard was organized by about twenty-five men who were active members of the guard years ago in a meeting held in the parlors of the Army Hotel last evening.

A battalion organization was formed with J. S. Dozier as permanent chairman and major. The other officers elected were J. G. Candler, senior captain; W. S. Smith, junior captain; and Dr. C. F. Benson, surgeon. When the full number of those eligible are enrolled the survivors will have an enrollment of 150, which will include many of the prominent men of the city.

The question of having some form of entertainment similar to those enjoyed in former years by the Governor's Guard was enthusiastically discussed and a committee was appointed to arrange a barbecue to be held before July 13.

The members of this committee are Ass. G. Candler, Charles Smith, H. C. Adams, J. S. Dozier, George Hoke and J. S. Dozier.

The publicity committee is composed of W. S. Smith and J. S. Dozier. Captain Candler and Captain Smith made entertaining talks about their experiences as guardsmen years ago.

ENTIRE STOCK LIST WAS NERVOUS

New York, June 9.—Because of its direct bearing upon an already tense international situation, Secretary Bryan's resignation yesterday, and all other considerations and developments in Wall street today, measured in terms of quoted values, it created a distinct, if not profound, impression, prices declining substantially in all parts of the list.

Among the few stocks calling for specific mention were Bethlehem Steel, which attained to a new high price of 168 on the early rebound, but yielded later in common with other specialties. Coppers were inclined to increase recently on establishment of the new metal and another advance in by-products, and United States Alcohol was prominent.

Another importation of gold from Canada, coincident with the release of international bonds, had been announced, and constituted the feature of the foreign exchange markets.

Bonds irregular, prices shading after a general advance of 700 sales (par value) aggregated $2,500,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

New York, June 9.—Cotton futures were nervous and unsettled today, with the close easy at a net decline of 14 to 20 points.

The Washington news no doubt accounted for considerable liquidation and local pressure. The market opened easy at a decline during the forenoon and active months sold about 12 to 14 points net lower right after the call.

Following prices were practically the lowest for the day. Except for comment upon excessive rainfall in Oklahoma and parts of Texas and the fact that the weekly weather report indicated satisfactory progress with the crop, and the promise of a good crop, but renewed predictions of a probably favorable July harvest, exports for the week ending June 9, 1915, were 1,291,000 bales, against 1,291,000 bales for the week ending June 2, 1915.
