Austro-Germans Who Had Crossed the Dneister River Are Routed by the Czar's Forces With Heavy Losses

MANY MEN AND CANNON CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS

The Military Critics Believe That Few of the Austro-Germans Who Crossed the River Escaped—Lull in the Fighting on West Front.

London, June 11.—The Russian success has caused gratification and relief, and military experts expect there will be a repetition in Galicia of what occurred before Warsaw last winter when the Germans suffered enormous losses in their efforts to break the Russian front.

LULL IN FIGHTING ON THE WESTERN FRONT.

On the western line the French declares they have fortified their positions in front of Neuville St. Vaast and in the region of the Touvent farm, southwest of Hebuterne. Little fighting is going on along this front.

RUSSIANS WIN ON THE DNEISTER.

Petrograd, June 11.—Today's official communication announces a Russian success on the River Dneister. After hard fighting the Russians yesterday took from their antagonists 17 cannon and 49 machine guns and took prisoners 133 officers and 5,500 men.

FRENCH FAIL, SAY GERMANS.

Berlin, June 11.—(Via London)—German army headquarters today gave out the following news: "The fighting in the Lorette hills and repeated attacks against our positions north and south of Neuville failed. Fighting at close quarters in the trenches north of Ecurie continues."

RUSSIANS STOP AUSTRIAN ADVANCE.

Geneva, June 11.—(Via Paris).—A dispatch to The Tribune from Innsbruck, in the Austrian Tyrol, purports to give details of Russian successes in the Galicia campaign. The dispatch says: "The Russians bombarded the Austrian positions from Stanislau to Hefenau on a hard fight which was un- successful."

the river, making a large number of prisoners. The Austrians also have been obliged to fall back across the Danube at Bukassowice. The Russians stopped the advance of an Austrian column marching on Kolomea. The action was fierce and the losses heavy on both sides.

MUCH BOOTY TAKEN BY FRENCH.

Paris, June 11.—The following official communication was issued tonight: "On Friday we fortified our positions in front of Neuville-St. Vaast. "We continue to inventory the war material captured by us. We have found thus far in the ruins three 77-millimetre field guns, three bomb-throwers and fifteen mitrailleuses, which were buried in the ground or damaged; thousands of grenades, one thousand rifles, eight hundred thousand cartridges, incendiary implements, a number of 105-millimetre shells, a very large number of engineers' implements and tools, numerous cases containing explosives and vituils and articles of equipment.

"In the region of the Tontout farm, southwest of Hebuterne, we have organized the positions captured last night. We captured four batches of 150 prisoners, among them a major. In addition, many German wounded have been admitted to our ambulances. The bodies of dead Germans can be counted by the hundreds. We have captured three more mitrailleuses. We have sent the German line on a length of more than two kilometers (1 1/2 miles) and on a depth of one kilometer (two-thirds of a mile).

"This morning we completely repulsed a counter attack by the enemy. To the east of Tracy-le-Mont, in the neighborhood of the Queenveleya farm, our trenches, which are strongly established, are in immediate contact with those of the enemy. The Germans have every counter attack. They confine themselves to using their artillery. "In Champagne, in the region of Beaumont, the enemy has renewed his attempt against the trenches, the scene of the latest engagements here, which are now completely in our hands.

Vienna, June 11.—(Via London.)—The following official war statement was given out tonight: "In southeast Galicia and in Bukovina the Teutonic allied armies prosecuted successfully an attack against the Russian forces which still are standing south of the Dniester river. The troops of General Pflieger's army drove the enemy from positions north of Otynia near Obarzyn and Horodenska, and are now advancing toward the Dniester, on the left bank of which the Russians are offering resistance. East of Czernowitz, at some points where the Russians still are standing on the River Pruth, our troops, after a short engagement, repulsed an enemy attack. Otherwise the situation here is unchanged.

ITALIANS FIGHTING FIRST BIG BATTLE

Heavily Engaged With the Austrians Along Isonzo River Front—Gradisca Is Taken by the Italians.

London, June 11.—The first large battle of the Italian campaign now is under way, having been brought on by the attempt of the Italians to force the Isonzo river, running north from the Gulf of Trieste, toward the city of Gorizia. The Cologne report states that the Italians were repulsed at this point as well as near Gradisca and Montfalcone.

GRADISCA TAKEN BY THE ITALIANS.

Rome, June 11.—(Via Paris, June 12, 2:30 p. m.)—It is officially announced that the Italians have occupied Gradisca, 6 miles southwest of Gorizia, in Austria-Hungary.

BATTLE RAGES FOR GORIZIA.

Geneva, June 11.—(Via Paris.)—A Laibach dispatch to The Tribune says: "The Austrians began a march against Gorizia on the morning of June 8. When the first detachments were near the city Austrian artillery opened fire and heavy masses of infantry which were thrown forward forced the Italians to fall back several times."

SUCCESSES CLAIMED FOR AUSTRIANS.

Cologne, Germany, June 11.—(Via London.)—The correspondent of The Cologne Gazette attached to the Austrian army headquarters in the south, says in a dispatch that the first considerable battle of the war with Italy has been fought in the region of the Isonzo river, and that it resulted favorably to the Austrians.

ITALIANS FAIL, SAY AUSTRIANS.

Vienna, June 11.—(Via London.)—The Austrian war office has issued the following statement in regard to operations against the Italians: "In the Italian attack against the day before yesterday, all the Italian attacks on all fronts were repulsed. A renewed attack against a part of the bridge head at the collapsed under the fire of the Dalmatian landwehr. An enemy attack north Ronchi also was unsuccessful. An artillery combat on the Isonzo front is proceeding."

ITALIANS FAIL, SAY AUSTRIANS.

On the Carinthian frontier yesterday afternoon a strong hostile attack against Frefekof and a minor attack near Volaj lake were repulsed. The Italian forces were driven back to their positions near Pentelstein, by an Italian brigade which entered near Cortina d'Ampezzo. Recent attacks in this district and night engagements near Landro concluded in the retreat of the enemy. Otherwise, continual artillery combats and minor skirmishes in which we were successful, took place on the Tyrolean frontier."

SUBMARINE OFFICERS DON'T LIKE THEIR WORK

Disapprove of Sinking Unarmed Ships, But Have to Obey, More Vessels Sunk.

Plymouth, Eng., June 12.—(2:30 a. m.)—Captain Smith, of the British schooner Express, has arrived here and reports that his vessel was sunk by the German submarine U-25. Captain Smith says one of the officers of the submarine told him that he disapproved of submarine attacks on merchantmen, but that unless the submarine commanders carried out their orders they would be shot. The officer added, according to Captain Smith, that submarine warfare such as the Germans were engaged in was useless to them.

"Why," Captain Smith says, the German officer asked him, "do not the big ships come out and fight?"

London, June 11.—The Russian bark Thomasia has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off the southwest coast of Ireland. The crew has been landed at Queenstown.

The Thomasia was overhauled by the German submarine at noon on Thursday, forty miles south southeast of Old Head off Kinsale.

A warning shot was fired by the submarine and the crew of the Russian bark was ordered to take to the boats. Seven shells were then fired into the vessel, which sank in thirty minutes. The captain and the crew were rescued by the steamship Patricia and taken to Queenstown.

London, June 11.—The Russian steamer Dania has been torpedoed by a German submarine. The members of her crew were saved.

The Dania was of 1,689 tons net and a German submarine of the length of 100 feet. The vessel was owned by the Northern Steamship company, Ltd., of Rotterdam. Maritime records show that she has been running between Liverpool and Archangel.

London, June 11.—(Via London.)—The British fishing smelter Welfare and Laurestina were attacked and sunk by Zeppelins in the North sea. The crew of the Welfare was rescued by a Dutch boat.

London, June 11.—(Via London.)—The Glasgow steamship Strathcarroll was torpedoed yesterday without warning by a German submarine while outward bound from Barry. The crew, which put off in boats, was rescued by the steamer and landed here.

The Strathcarroll, 2,807 tons, sailed from Barry May 28 for Barry, where she arrived June 2 and was reported to have entered the government service.

11 TREATIES TO BE ENDED BY THE UNITED STATES

Action Made Necessary Because Conventions Conflict With the Seamen's Act.

Washington, June 11.—Twenty-one of the principal nations of the world have been notified by the United States that it intends to terminate provisions of the United States treaties with those nations which are in conflict with the seamen's act passed by the last congress.

It was learned today that this notice was given as required by the law through the American embassies and legations just within the prescribed limit of ninety days from March 4, last, when the act was approved.

Provisional denunciations of treaties by the United States have covered the entire continent of Europe. It remains to be seen whether the nations interested in the present instance will consent to the termination of the treaties. If they will not consent to this, then the state department is under obligation to cancel all of the treaties.

Such a proceeding would result in destruction between the United States and all these nations provisions for the settlement of estates, the transfer of property, the exercise of consular functions, diplomatic immunities, customs and port and lighthouse dues, and a hundred other subjects which have formed the basis of international relations and stipulations between civilized powers.

When it would become necessary for the state department to immediately begin negotiations for new treaties to replace those which are being terminated, the business and diplomatic relations of the United States.

Provisional denunciations made to the seamen's act by Spain, Italy, Austria-Hungary, The Netherlands, and other European governments are prepared to adopt a similar course. Generally speaking, these denunciations are based upon provisions of the treaties which permit a foreign sailor in an American port to claim half his wages from the crew of the vessel to which he belongs.

All of these provisions are declared to be in violation of existing treaties. Notice of the termination of the provisions requiring at least one month's notice before they can be terminated, and the seaman's act provided that in such cases the act shall not take effect until the expiration of the period fixed in the treaties.

REGIMENTS ARE HELD ON MEXICAN BORDER

Washington, June 11.—Possible interference by local Mexican officials along the border with plans of the Red Cross to distribute food supplies was responsible for orders from the war department to delay the departure of three regiments from the border to the Philippines.

The American troops cannot cross the border without instructions from Washington, but in view of the possibility of resistance by the Mexican officials, the war department intends to have at hand means to enforce any orders which may be given by President Wilson.

Several weeks probably will be allowed to pass before the United States takes any further step in the development of the relief work, as announced by President Wilson.

His recent statement warning the factional leaders to accommodate their differences and restore peace.

In the meantime replies from Villa and Carranza will be awaited, the government will work to increase the efforts of the belligerent factions to bring a settlement of their differences on the battlefield and the American Red Cross will go ahead with its work of relieving starving non-combatants.

Consular Agent Carothers advised the state department today that he had received a letter from the general manager of George Marks and S. Franklin, believed to be American citizens, who are social denunciations of the American curators of counterfeit money.

Mr. Carothers said he would go to Chicago with an organization so strong, that he has been instructed by the state department to insist that no summary measures be taken against the two men.

Additional reports of distressing conditions in various parts of the country received during the day at the state department and Red Cross headquarters, point to a dire need of relief among the natives of Lippas, Lower California, and vicinity was reported. In the state of California, the situation is so dire that the natives being practically without any means of subsistence.

A Saturday Morning Sale of Wash Skirts at $2.19
They Are Worth $3.00 and $3.25

One hundred in all—the greater part of them came to us new this morning. So, not only are they immaculately fresh, but they are fashioned in styles decidedly novel.

Some six styles in all.

Plain, narrow and wide welt piques and a light honeycomb fabric that you realize at once will wear well and be cool the while.

Many have smart little pockets put in "sort-o' side ways" and trimmed with buttons—some are severely tailored, some are plaited in one way or another.

Women's Bathing Suits this season are far prettier than any season we can recall---as a result we have a more diversified selection. It permits an individuality of choice that must please a woman. Suppose she desires a very simple, neat style---here are many to choose from---suppose she prefers something distinctly different---the same is true---the sashed, the yoked skirt, the scalloped skirt---ALL---in silks and woolsens.

PRIVATE CITIZEN BRYAN.

William Jennings Bryan has become, by his resignation from the cabinet, a private citizen. Being no longer in official life, there is a vast difference between the significance and import of what he may say now, and what he might have said as secretary of state.

There is no apparent reason that we can see why the frequent and somewhat prolific remarks of Mr. Bryan now in the retirement of private life, should be dignified by any more attention than is given the statements of any other private citizen of similar standing in the country.

In fact we incline to the belief that there is stronger reason now than ever for minimizing Mr. Bryan's daily pronouncements. The statements he is feeding to the public morning and evening can serve no good purpose, their one effect is to embarrass the president at a time when it is essential that the country shall present a united stand.

Mr. Bryan's continued statements at this particular juncture, therefore make of him nothing less than a public nuisance.

Throughout our negotiations with Germany the Constitution has as always, stood for peace, it stands for peace today, and has no share in the belief wherever it may exist that this country will become involved in war.

With full confidence in President Wilson's ability to handle the situation, the Constitution does not intend that his work shall be made any more difficult, or that the country shall be made to appear divided before the world by continued publications of what Mr. Bryan may have to say.

Whether intentionally so or not, the statements of Mr. Bryan are timed in such manner as to cause the greatest embarrassment to the president in a most delicate situation.

Determined, therefore, not to be a party to this unwarranted embarrassment of the administration, which is ably dealing with our present crisis, the Constitution will not at this time publish any more of Mr. Bryan's statements, nor will it deal with them beyond such brief news references as may be warranted by the discussions of any private citizen.

SECOND NOTE TO GERMANY.

There will be a sense of relieved disappointment, if such a term is permissible, over President Wilson's second note to Germany. Following the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan, there was a somewhat natural inclination to fear that the note had been couched in terms more strongly hostile than the one which preceded it. In fact, it looked, on the face of things, as if we were about to precipitate a conflict.

Perusal of the note itself affords strong evidence that it was the occasion, rather than the single cause of the secretary's resignation, and the conclusion becomes inevitable that other disagreements must have preceded it.

If any had been led to hope President Wilson's second note contained an invitation to combat, to those it will be a distinct source of disappointment. To those whose fears were aroused by events in Washington, there will come a distinct feeling of relief, for the document is expressed in the friendliest of terms, and clearly gives Germany every opportunity to make the amends demanded by us without the sacrifice of one whit of her dignity and honor.

It is true the American note is firm in tone and unequivocal in its insistence upon compliance with demands which are made in full accord with the principles of international law. No other sort of a document could possibly comport with the dignity of the United States. The note makes it clear that we stand upon the broad ground and doctrine of humanity as recognized by civilized nations the world over, in their own laws, in treaties and international agreements, a principle recognized centuries ago by medieval nations just emerging from semi-barbarism.

The cases of attack on the American ships Gulfright and Cushing, through Germany's admission of liability, may be considered as practically disposed of except as to matters of detail, and there remains only for determination Germany's action with reference to our demands growing out of the Lusitania incident. President Wilson makes it clear that no American law was violated when clearance was granted to the Lusitania, it must be beyond further dispute that the vessel carried no guns of any sort for the purpose of offense or defense. Although Germany's contentions with reference to contraband upon the Lusitania are held irrelevant, her representations upon this subject are accorded courteous attention, and, far from inviting hostilities, the president takes occasion to proffer the good offices of the United States in mitigating the terrors of the war, or in bringing about among the belligerents a more complete accord in adhering to recognized usages under war conditions.

The wording of the note neither leaves Germany opportunity to doubt our friendly interest, nor to question our determination to insist that the lives of Americans shall not be placed in jeopardy through the activities of her submarines in the so-called war zone. We ask categorical answer to the demand that Germany shall cease her submarine operations to the extent that they shall no longer imperil the lives of American citizens traveling upon passenger vessels under the flags of belligerents, and that Germany shall make reparation for the destruction already wantonly and illegally done.

In replying, Germany cannot again make play for delay without weakening her cause, nor is it anticipated that she will attempt to trifle with us. Her favorable answer will at once re-establish the friendly relations which have long existed between the two countries, in fact, from time immemorial. Her denial which is scarcely anticipated, could mean no more than the severance of diplomatic relations—a refusal to continue to hold friendly association with a government that abrogates the highest law of humanity.

President Wilson's second note appears to have met with the same cordial approval the country over, as was accorded, the document dispatched just following the sinking of the Lusitania. It goes to the extent of conciliation consistent with American dignity and honor, and again the country will feel keenly grateful for a guiding hand that knows how to hold an even balance between our national rights on the one hand and hysterical jingoism on the other.

DIXIE HIGHWAY GROWS.

With the preliminary survey scarcely cold, already the Dixie highway has begun to grow. Birmingham must have a connection, two routes for it are proposed, it is a safe prediction that both of them will be built. One of these routes lies through Gadsden, the other through Anniston, both connecting with the Dixie highway at Rome through Cave Spring.

Interest in this first lateral, or double lateral as it is certain to be, is due in large measure to Rome's enthusiasm. Rome automobilists and good roads developers blazed the trail and they found a gratifying reception awaiting them at every point. They found that the territory traversed is not only willing but anxious, they are assured that the construction of the Birmingham lateral will be coincident with the construction of the Dixie highway itself.

From Birmingham on to Montgomery, thence into Mississippi and to New Orleans, is the next step, and we may likewise predict construction in that direction before the project is many weeks older. The New Orleans lateral to the Dixie highway has already been discussed, there is abundant demand upon the route for the building of it.

More rapidly than anticipated is the Dixie highway bringing results. The predictions which the Constitution made for it at the time of the first Chattanooga meeting are bearing splendid fruit. The construction, in practically every instance, of all the competing routes, was then assured in advance of the action of the commissioners in locating the highway. The question of the competing routes being settled, interest began to grow in the lateral extensions, many of these are already projected, but the Birmingham lateral promises to be the first built.

Birmingham and those wide awake Alabama towns like Gadsden, Anniston and others upon the proposed connecting roads are too keen to let the importance of this development to let the opportunity slip. This is but the beginning of a Dixie highway that will ultimately cover, netlike, with good roads construction the entire eastern half of the United States.

The Holland Letter

Were J Pierpont Morgan or Norman B Ream or Marshall Field or Abram S Hewitt alive he would read with a sense of personal vindication the opinion recently handed down by the circuit court of the United States, at Trenton, in which the government was defeated in its attempt to dissolve the United States Steel corporation.

What led to the organization of the Steel corporation were the various conferences and discussions which took place in Chicago in the twenties, and which at first had other and more legitimate purposes than the Federal Steel company's organization. In those discussions it was at last disclosed that it was vital if this steel industry of Illinois were to accept its opportunities that it should very largely increase not merely the amount but the character of its output in steel manufacturing.

Discussion had not gone very far before the suggestion was made at first by Marshall Field—a suggestion in which Judge Garv agreed—that in order to make manufacturing of this kind commercially practicable it was essential that various heretofore independent organizations or corporations be brought into one family.

Another subject which required long discussion was the best way of eliminating brutal destructive competition of the kind which in other parts of the world has ruined the life of those who compete without at the same time impaling ability to maintain honorable competition. This purpose was at last well worked out and the belief was strong would be the domestic industry, and what has been a large enough to give every well regulated corporation in the steel industry a fairly good chance to maintain honorable competition.

Having got as far as this and having associated with themselves as Mr Field and Mr Ream and the others did, J Pierpont Morgan, Henry C Frick and Abram S Hewitt, it is not clear that an organization of this kind did not go far enough. It was essential for stability, remunerative production and the elimination of brutal cut-throat competition that certain great steel and iron industries be certain to join in a movement of far wider scope and plan than that which led to the proposed reorganization of the Federal Steel company.

Yet the fundamental economic principle upon which the United States Steel corporation was built was only an expansion of the principle which had already been worked out by some of the great business minds of Chicago. There was not one of these men who was not persuaded that if a monopoly were established it would be very short lived. There was not one of them who did not believe that one of the chief purposes of an organization of this kind should be the extermination of brutal competition and also the maintenance of honorable competition.

Some things have been said recently which led to the inference that some of the war material which Austria has recently manufactured was made by the use of American apparatus which was bought in the United States and delivered to Austria shortly before the war began. So, also it has been said that before the war Russia imported from Germany substantially all the apparatus she used in manufacturing ordnance. Now all manufacture of this kind with the new apparatus is with American machinery and after the apparatus and machinery bought in Germany before the war have worn out Russia will exclusively use American manufactured tools in her arms and munitions of war manufactures.

CHARLEY CHAPLIN COMES TO TOWN

THE INIMITABLE, the ever-funny Chaplin has been cavorting on the screens for several years, during which it is claimed that he has produced more laughter than any other person in the history of the world. But the moving picture screen wasn't enough to portray all the funny capers of the greatest of comedians.

And so, Charley Chaplin has been drafted by the newspaper game. His great comedy stunts will appear in The Constitution Sunday, and the full-page in four colors, devoted to "Charley Chaplin's Comic Capers," will be a regular feature of The Constitution's funny section.

Chaplin will continue to appear in the movies. He has simply enlarged his field. The thousands of people who laugh at the comedian on the screen will find an added enjoyment in following his stunts in the Sunday colored comics, for his capers in the paper will be entirely different from his stunts in the movies.

Watch for "Charley Chaplin's Comic Capers" in The Constitution Sunday, and be sure to tell the children that the greatest comic in the history of newspaper comics is on its way.

Another Important Announcement

HUNDREDS of requests for copies of last Sunday's Constitution have come to the circulation department from those who, for one reason or another, failed to read the first installment of the remarkable HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE BY PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON. The edition was exhausted, but in order that none may be disappointed, The Constitution has decided to run both the FIRST AND SECOND INSTALLMENTS this coming Sunday.

Two full pages of "Our Country by Our President" will appear in The Constitution's magazine section. It affords you another chance to start at the beginning of the history and read it through. It is highly important that you read the first chapters. President Wilson's American history is complete, accurate, interesting, and is written in his best style, forceful, yet clear and simple enough for the school children to understand and appreciate.

After next Sunday, when two pages will appear, the installments will consist of a full page, never less, sometimes more. It is a history worth reading, and more—it is a history which you should read to keep well informed, and that you will enjoy, as well as profit from.

Watch for the double PAGE on "Our Country by Our President" Sunday.

Many Other Features

The Constitution Sunday will be packed with features of interest. The cover will be a beautiful four-color page, entitled "The Futurist Lunch," handsomely illustrated and interesting from beginning to end.

In addition to Charley Caplin's Comic Capers, the funny section will contain the latest exploits in "Home Wanted by a Baby," by Clare Dwiggins, and the amusing antics of "Hank the Hermit and His Animal Friends," drawn by Walt McDougall.

The thirteenth installment of "The Black Box," the sensational novel by E. Phillips Oppenheim, will be published. Following "The Black Box," The Constitution will present a new novel by Emerson Hough, "The Broken Coin," which is said to be even more thrilling than his famous "Mississippi Bubble" and "54-40 or Fight."

In addition to the regular magazine features, including a page for housekeepers, a page on science and near-science, two pages of moving picture news and gossip and a page of club news, there will be a number of full-page stories timely in character, interesting, well illustrated.

Among them will be a page on "THE MAN WHO REALLY SENT ITALY TO WAR," a page of some of the unique exploits of the European armies, including even the REPLICAS OF THE TROJAN HORSE, and a page on the three things most important to TEACH A BABY.

The Constitution is the paper for you!

It Was Gayest Kind of Life But This Young Girl Repents

Miss Sallie Maud Sapp Promises to Appear as a Witness Against Male Companions Arrested by Government Agents.

This was the life, but no more care I to roam as the opinion of Miss Sallie Maud Sapp, a pretty young Jacksonville girl who was arrested yesterday by the city detectives and federal agents at a local hotel in company with two young men with whom she admitted having run away from her Florida home on a dare. Her youthful companions are J. H. Baggett, in the employ of the government as assistant postmaster at Carr Ely and E. H. Calder, a young business man of the same place who are now prisoners at police barracks awaiting a preliminary hearing tomorrow before United States Commissioner Carter on a charge of swindling the government out of thousands of dollars. Miss Sapp denies being a party to the swindling scheme, but upon her statements that she was forced to leave her home with the two young men the department of justice has been requested by City Detective C. O. Cochran to institute an investigation of the case in order to see if the Mann white slave act has been infringed upon. The young girl says that money has been lavished on her, and almost everything that money can buy auto rides, candy handsome clothes, silk hosiery, linen handkerchiefs with fancy borders and other articles that form a heart's delight to a young girl, but Miss Sapp has now repented of what she terms a foolish act and upon her promise to appear as a witness tomorrow before United States Commissioner Carter on a charge of swindling the government out of thousands of dollars. I am going to tell the truth, she told Detective Cochran. I am sorry that I have done and wish now that I had never left my Jacksonville home. Detective Cochran believes the young girl's tale that she was forced to come to Atlanta. The Associated Charities has been requested to aid Miss Sapp and they have been on an investigation of her case. Baggett and Calder are said by the police to have had 170 postoffice money orders in their possession when arrested, which are alleged to have been stolen by Baggett from the Carr post office. Many orders were filled out for sums running as high as $100 and mailed ahead by Calder and Baggett. The police say and upon their arrival in Atlanta, several of these have been cashed.

The city attorney held that under Billet's lease the park was private grounds and no one could enter the premises if Billet objected. Under this opinion the recorder held that Hopkins must not drum trade in the park. With this warning the case was dismissed.

Men and Religion Bulletin No. 174 Should Mayor And Council License Saloons Locker-Clubs? The Mayor can veto a License Council can refuse a license They can revoke a license

"No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and Mammon." --Luke 16:13.

THE CLUBS AND SALOONS OF Atlanta daily break the law. They sell intoxicants. Making lawlessness worse the thing sold hurts the buyer. It has been known to dump a soul break the heart of a wife and send her child a gibbering degenerate through life.

You cannot serve liquor dealers and Atlanta. You cannot serve brewers and Georgia.

You cannot serve distillers and God.

YOU WHO BELIEVE ADS SHOULD TELL ONLY THE TRUTH, what think you of yonder take exposure?

What think you of that treatment of the dead?

BEN FRANKLIN'S marvelous brain put him a century ahead of his time.

EVER CHILDREN in our day know—

Beer contains poison and spreads disease and crime whether bottled in clear glass or brown.

KRILOFF has a fable of a robber and a writer in hell. The author complains "An imp of Satan's asks

"WRETCH, dost thou upbraid Providence? Dost thou compare thyself with the robber? His crime is nothing compared with thine. Only as long as he lived did his cruelty and lawlessness render him hurtful

"BUT THOU! Long ago have thy bones crumbled to dust. Yet the sun never rises without bringing to light fresh evils of which thou art the cause—"

He had poisoned the minds of men with written lies. Thus he had murdered their souls.

WHAT OF HIM who first poisons the mind with falsehoods about beer wine and whiskey, then poisons both body, mind and soul by feeding man alcohol in exchange for gold?

They do this in Atlanta. And the City participates in the gain.

Atlanta's license to a man guarantees that that which it permits the man to do is lawful and not hurtful to the community.

The license fee is the city's share of the money made. You, as a citizen, share, in each license, a part of the price of each glass of whiskey, wine or beer sold, whether it be to the immaculate member by the steward in the club or to the lowest bum by the bar-keeper in the dirtiest bar, the city gets a rake-out from club and bar.

BOTH BREAK THE LAW, and by licensing them, your Mayor and Council have not only made you share the profits of a crime, but they have put a protecting barrier between the chief of police and law-breakers.

Should this not stop? You cannot serve law and lawlessness. You cannot serve both Truth and a Lie.

Tomorrow Go To Church

Listen! Then ask your conscience— Should Mayor, Council and Police Force of the City of Atlanta permit the law of Georgia to be trampled under foot in the clubs and saloons of the Capital of Georgia? Must private citizens be forced to use the injunction to protect themselves from being partners in law breaking clubs and bars? Should the Mayor and Council license law-breakers?
