

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK OF DNIESTER BY TEUTON ALLIES

With Galicia Taken, Austro-Germans May Now Turn Large Forces Against Poland or Western Front.

FRENCH TROOPS MAKING SHORT GAINS IN WEST

British Munition Workers Rally to Appeal of Lloyd-George—Intense Recruiting Campaign Stirs England.

London, June 24.—The Russians still are retreating in the east; the French are slowly gaining at certain points in the west.

With the fires set by the retreating Russians still burning, the Austro-Germans are now firmly established at Lemberg and have shown no sign of ceasing their offensive.

The battle of the Dniester, south of the city, is not over, but, according to General Linsingen has been able to throw his forces across the river, a fact which is taken in some quarters to presage another Russian defeat.

With Galicia all but cleared of Russians, the weight of Austro-German forces released in that theater most soon be felt somewhere, but opinions are divided as to whether it will be on the western front or in Poland. One theory is that the Germans will launch against Warsaw another terrific attack. This coincides with the belief that it is the Austro-German plan to batter Russia more before turning west.

GERMANS REPORTED MOVING WEST

Opposed to this are reports that troops from Galicia already are journeying westward and that Germany plans to start a fresh campaign along the Belgian coast.

Lemberg is celebrating the return of the Austrians and Vienna has not ceased her revelry at the capture of the city. Petrograd meanwhile continues to depreciate the military importance of the achievement, professing confidence that it will have no bearing on the ultimate outcome of the war.

The first day of David Lloyd-George's appeal for munition workers seems to indicate that an adequate number is being enrolled. The whole country is in the throes of a recruiting campaign more intense than any previous appeal for fighters at the front.

AUSTRO-GERMANS CROSS DNIESTER

Berlin, June 24.—(Via London.)—A further victory for Austro-German arms was announced today at army headquarters. General von Linsingen's army, which has been stubbornly opposed by the Russians along the Dniester front, has succeeded in crossing the river.

The statement follows: "Western theater. "We drove the enemy out of a section of a trench on the eastern slope of the Lorette Hills, which was captured by our troops. South of Souches fighting continued with good results for our side. Our position in the Lorette Hills south of Neuville was maintained after stubborn hand-to-hand fighting in the face of a strong attack begun during the night.

"In the Meuse hills there were further bitter engagements. We took 150 French prisoners. The enemy suffered losses in two unsuccessful attacks. "Operations against the hill at Rande-Sapt, which we captured yesterday, were repulsed. The number of prisoners was increased by fifty. "Eastern theater: "Northwest of Kurskany (province of Kovno) the Russians left more than 100 prisoners in our hands after an attack which we repulsed on the Omulew river (Russian Poland) the German advance resulted in the capture of the village of Kopaczyska. South of the Vistula, in Poland, several enemy attacks were frustrated. "Southeastern theater: "The army under General von Linsingen crossed the Dniester between Hallow, which still is being held by our soldiers, and Zuzwano. This army engaged in a fierce battle on the northern bank.

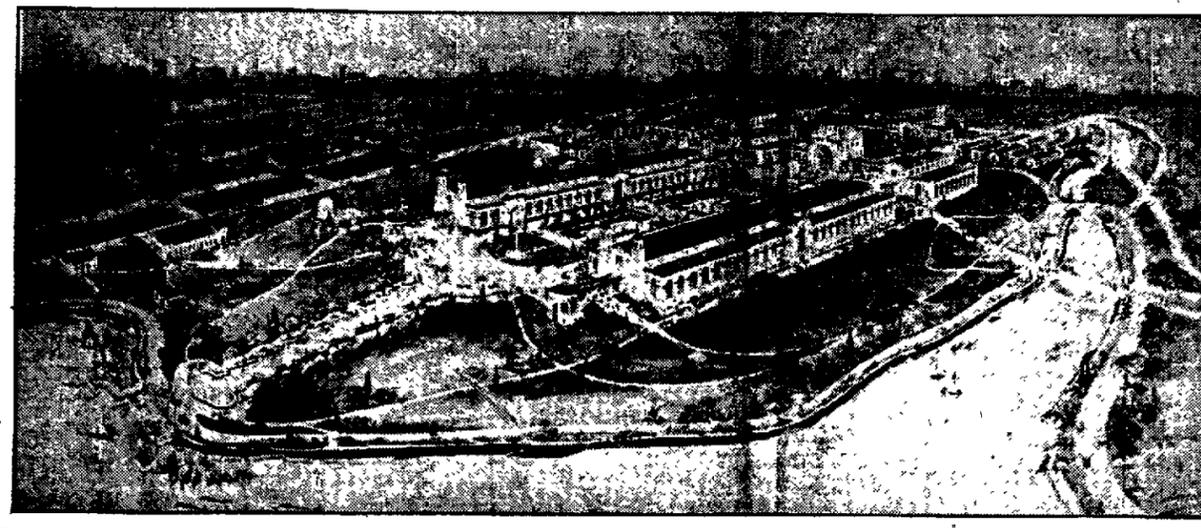

"In the neighborhood of Lemberg and Zolkiew the pursuit of the Austro-Germans and the San, as far as Ulunow, nothing of importance has occurred. In the angle between the San and the Vistula the Russians have retreated behind a range of the San, also on the left bank of the Vistula, where they are retreating towards the north.

ATTACK BY GERMANS IN VOGES REPULSED

Paris, June 24.—Tonight's war office communication said: "In the region north of Arras there have been no infantry actions today. The enemy attempted to force a passage on the conquered positions. A lively cannonade occurred in the sector of Angres-Ecurie.

"The enemy last night and today violently bombarded Berry-au-Bac and the neighborhood of Sappignoul. The bombardment caused us only insignificant losses, and on the heights of the Meuse there is nothing to report except artillery actions. "In the Vosges, at Fontenelle, a German attack was repulsed. The German forces bombarded the outskirts of Metzeral and the ridges to the east of the village, where our progress has continued to a slight degree. "Paris, June 24.—The French war office statement this afternoon says: "North of Arras last night passed relatively calmly, if we except the occasional shelling which never ceased. The enemy

Work on Buildings at Lakewood Will Start Next Week; Architect Shows Plans to Directors of the Chamber

HOW LAKEWOOD PARK WILL SOON LOOK.

The work upon the buildings for the Southeastern fair, at Lakewood, will start within the next week, at least in shops preparing material, if not upon the ground at Lakewood itself. Several important contracts have already been let, and other contracts will be ready for the approval of city council at its meeting next Monday week. For the erection of the buildings $150,000 is available. Two of the several buildings to be erected now will cost $110,000 when completed. They are expected to be complete early in the fall. These facts were made public at a meeting and luncheon of the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, in the Chamber of Commerce building, Thursday at noon. Upon the wall of the room in which the meeting was held was displayed a large perspective drawing of the grounds and buildings, made in the office of W. T. Downing, supervising architect of the plans. Ivan E. Allen, presiding over the meeting, asked Mr. Downing to explain the drawing. The buildings will be located on the south side of the lake, just west of the bathing, pavilion, said Mr. Downing. Upon a slight elevation a group of three magnificent buildings will form a court looking out over the lake. Two of these buildings, one located on either side of the court, will be completed at once. The third building, at the rear of the court, will be built at some future date. The two buildings of this group to be built now will be of reinforced concrete construction, with hollow tile walls and will be permanent buildings and practically fireproof. The dimensions of each of these buildings will be 26x100 feet, or practically a city acre. The buildings will be 25 feet high at the walls and 27 feet high in the center. Each building is architecturally beautiful, and the entire group is designed upon a basis of artistic symmetry. The grounds of this group will be not less attractive than the buildings themselves. In the center of the court around which the buildings will be constructed will be a sunken garden with two lagoons. The water from these lagoons will form a cascade leading from the court down to the lake. The walkways and resting places of the court and the terraces down which the cascade and its accompanying walks will lead will lend a pleasant prospect over the greatest length of the lake. These two first buildings will be designed for agricultural exhibits and the other for the exhibit of manufactured products. The basement of the outer side of the latter building will be designed for a restaurant and resting place, and in front of these restaurants and booths will be a race track, giving the whole an effect not unlike the similar plaza of Paris. The plaza will overlook the lake, and is designed to be the most lovely spot of the fair grounds. In the rear of this group of buildings will be several substantial buildings for the housing of cattle and similar exhibits. Across the lake from the buildings will be a race track, a midway and other entertainment features. A gravel street will lead an entrance to the grounds. R. M. Walker, supervising contractor of the building work, announced to the directors that the following contracts have been let. To the Nichols Construction company, of Atlanta, the contract for the concrete work. To the Phoenix Iron Works, of Philadelphia, the contract for the steel truss work. To S. E. Lilly, of Atlanta, the contract for the brick work. Several minor contracts have been let. Others will be let within a week.

JOINT HIGH SCHOOL PLANNED FOR CITY

Board of Education Seeks Co-operation of County and County Commissioners.

Steps were taken by the board of education yesterday afternoon to secure the co-operation of the county board of education and the county commissioners for the erection of a joint high school building, a university which will accommodate all the high school children in the city and county of both sexes.

Salaries of High School Teachers. An effort was made to get a salary scale for the high school teachers adopted, but the whole matter was fully referred to the committee on teachers and schools. The schedule discussed and which was referred to the committee was as follows: Boys' high school and Technological high school. Principal, $2,400 or $2,700; one group (first), $1,350 or $1,500; one group (second), $1,200 or $1,350; one group (third), $1,050 or $1,200; one group (fourth), $1,800 or $1,950. Girls' high school and English Commercial high school. Principal, $2,400 or $2,700; assistant principal, $1,300 or $1,500; one group (first), $850 or $1,200; one group (second), $1,050 or $1,200; one group (third), $1,200 or $1,350; one group (fourth), $1,350 or $1,500.

On motion of Dan Green all salaries of teachers not yet fixed were referred to the same committee. Miss Myra Graves was elected physical director to succeed Dr. Theopold and Miss Annie M. Wilby was elected assistant director. The salary for director has been reduced from $1,300 to $1,200, and the director required to give her entire time to the work. It was determined that Dr. Theopold would not accept the position under such conditions. John E. Pitts was elected associate superintendent of drawing and mathematics to succeed Dr. Theopold.

Transfers and Resignations. Miss Agnes Morgan was transferred as principal from the W. F. Slaton to the Georgia avenue school, and Mrs. Cola Spears was transferred as principal from the Georgia avenue to the W. F. Slaton school. The following resignations of teachers were announced: Miss Beane Jackson, Miss Lillian D. Hart, Miss M. G. Sirophire and Miss Ethel Belcher. Miss Cora Brown, speaking for the lady board of visitors, stated that two of the summer schools had been visited and that the list of pupils were obtained. The schools visited were the Calhoun and Lee street. She said that both parents and children were well pleased with the work that was being done.

Twenty-seven Vessels Held. According to a summary of ships detained there are now twenty-seven vessels cleared from the United States now held in ports of the United Kingdom. Of these, eight are said to be unloading cotton which Great Britain has agreed to purchase, seven will be allowed to depart as soon as items of information which can be afforded have been discharged and the other twelve—three of them American ships—are the subject of investigations not yet completed.

Memorandum concludes, "are earnestly desirous of removing all causes of avoidable delay in dealing with American cargoes and vessels which may be detained, and any specific inquiries or representations which may be made by the United States government in regard to particular cases will always receive the most careful consideration and all the information which can be afforded without prejudice to prize court proceedings will be readily communicated; but they can scarcely admit that, on the basis of actual facts, any substantial evidence on the part of American citizens."

COMPEL DERNBURG TO SPEND NIGHT IN SCOTCH PORT

London, June 24.—Unknown to the British public, Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, whose propaganda in favor of Germanism he was on a visit to the United States, created much comment, spent last night aboard the Norwegian steamer Bergensford in the harbor of Kirkwall, Orkney Islands. Dr. Dernburg is proceeding to Sweden on his way to Germany aboard the Bergensford, which was detained at Kirkwall yesterday, presumably on suspicion that he carried contraband. The steamer was released late today. The news that the Bergensford had been taken into Kirkwall did not become known until the release of the vessel was announced. The predicament of Dr. Dernburg in being forced to spend the night in a Scotch port is considered here an amusing one. He was in no danger of being stopped by British officials, in view of the promise to give him free passage. He did not leave the steamer while the examination of her cargo was being made.

BILL SEEKS LIMITING OF PARDONING POWER

Measure of Senator Haralson One of First Introduced in the Senate.

One of the first measures to be introduced in the senate was a bill to amend the constitution, presented on Tuesday by Senator Pat Haralson, of the former district, so as to give the clemency powers of the governor and prison board.

When the clemency is based on doubt of guilt, the bill limits the investigating powers of both the prison board and the governor to newly discovered evidence, and gives the governor power to commute or pardon only upon the written recommendation of a majority of the pardon board or upon the written recommendation of the solicitor general and a majority of the jury. The bill also disqualifies a governor who has represented the applicant or who is connected with a law firm which has represented the applicant.

"Provided, however, when any application for clemency is based on a finding of guilt, both the governor and the prison board shall be limited in their investigation to such evidence, matters and things as may have been newly discovered subsequent to the date of the sentence and which would be pertinent under the law to the hearing of an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

"Provided further, That the governor shall not commute or pardon, in whole or in part, upon the written recommendation of either a majority of the prison board, or otherwise upon the written recommendation of the solicitor general who prosecuted the case, if private bills are introduced by the living members of the trial jury. "Provided further, That the governor shall be disqualified to act in any case in which the applicant for commutation or pardon has been represented as attorney in said case by the governor or by any member of the law firm with which he may be connected, and in event of disqualification of the governor, the majority of the prison board shall have the right to finally grant or refuse such pardon."

The second and third sections of the bill direct the governor to provide proper machinery for submitting the proposed amendment to the voters of the state, which is to be adopted by the legislature, while the fourth and last section of the bill repeals conflicting laws.

AMERICAN STEAMER SEIZED BY ENGLAND

London, June 24.—The American steamer Noches was seized today in the Downs and ordered to proceed to London to discharge her general cargo, which is being held by the prize court. TWO TRAINS CRASH OVER DEEP RAVINE

Eight Known Dead and Many Injured in Head-On Collision Near Mason and Dixon Line.

Gettysburg, Pa., June 24.—Eight persons are known to have been killed and from twelve to fourteen injured in a head-on collision between the Blue Mountain special and a local train on the Western Maryland railroad, near the Mason and Dixon line tonight.

The trains met at high speed on a bridge spanning a deep ravine, between Highfield and Thurmont, and it is feared some of the passengers were thrown from the bridge. The location of the wreck is isolated and darkness prevented rapid search. Telegraph wires were carried down, and it was difficult to obtain information. The engines were telescoped, three members of the engine crew and a baggage-master being killed. Three and probably four passengers were killed.

The identified dead are: CHARLES COOK, engineer of the accommodation train; CHARLES R. FRITZ, fireman; LUTHER HULL, baggage-master; MRS. CHICHESTER, of Baltimore, and her son.

A baggage car apparently was the only that left the bridge, but a parlor car was suspended over the side. All the cars of the special train were of steel construction. The injured were taken to Hagerstown and Thurmont, but the relief work was difficult. The private car of President Gray, containing a number of officials of the Western Maryland, was on the train, but none of the officials was killed. The bridge on which the accident occurred is 200 feet high, and it was considered miraculous that both trains were not precipitated to the bottom of the ravine. A mistake in orders is believed to have caused the wreck.

SHOCKED BY WIRE, CHARLESTON MAN LIES NEAR DEATH

Lem R. Autman, aged 30, of Charleston, S. C., is lying at the point of death at the Grady hospital from coming into contact with a live wire at the corner of Boulevard and Edgewood avenues, last night.

Grady physicians who answered the ambulance men sent in by citizens in the neighborhood, state that the live wire of the Georgia Railway and Power company broke and fell on Autman as he was standing on the sidewalk watching for a street car. He was struck by the wire and was knocked to the side of the walk into a vacant lot, the physicians state.

Autman has not regained consciousness since his removal to the Grady. He it was learned that he was only in Atlanta on a visit, having arrived here Wednesday. He is a painter by trade.

VOYAGE OF SUBMARINE THREAT TO AMERICA

London, June 24.—The correspondent at the Hague of the Exchange Telegraph company transmits a telegram received here from Munich concerning an article published by The Neueste Nachrichten, of Munich, commenting on the voyage of a German submarine from Wilhelmshaven to the Dardanelles. This paper points out that the distance from Bremen to New York is only 3,800 miles, and expresses the hope that this submarine exploit will make the war party in the United States think twice.

AGENT AT CARROLLTON FOUND SLAIN IN DEPOT

Unknown Crushes Skull of J. L. Guill With an Iron Bar.

Carrollton, Ga., June 24.—(Special.) J. L. Guill, depot agent of the Central Railway, was found dead in his office here about 9:30 tonight, his skull crushed in and neck broken, presumably by a heavy iron bar, lying near his body. The dead man was found by W. A. King, telegraph operator of the depot, who went to look for Mr. Guill, at the request of his wife, who had become anxious when the agent did not come home to supper.

When Mr. King reached the office he found the door shut and locked, as it is generally kept, leading authorities to believe that whoever committed the murder had been on the inside of the station. The key to the special lock was in the possession of Mr. Guill, the oldest employee of the Central and Southern railways. He is survived by his wife and one son, Willis Guill.

Watchful Weighting. Trenton, N. J., June 24.—President Wilson, en route to Cornish, N. H., left his car for several minutes here today and watched himself on a pair of platform scales at the station platform. A crowd watched him with interest.

Ontario Battalion Loses 500 Out of Between 600 and 700 Men in Action Near La Bassee.

Toronto, Ontario, June 24.—The First Western Ontario battalion was all but annihilated in the action near La Bassee, in northern France, on June 15 last, says a semi-official account received here today. Out of between 600 and 700 men, the battalion lost in killed and wounded nearly 500, including twenty officers.

Twelve of the officers were killed in this action, according to the account, leaving only three officers of the battalion not wounded. Stunned Three Trenches. The First Western Ontario battalion, the account says, was selected to act in co-operation with the British troops in attacking a German position. Three trenches were their objective. They came from the rear, having had a rest in the evening. The Germans apparently had an idea that a serious attack was to be attempted, and, as events proved, had made elaborate preparations for resistance.

The first enemy trench was only 40 yards away from that occupied by the First Western Ontario battalion. A mine had been laid and its explosion was the signal for a forward movement. The mine itself killed many Germans. A member of the battalion who took part in the subsequent charge declared the battalion rushed forward under a terrific fire from the machine guns and bursting high explosives. "I shall never forget," he said, "looking around and seeing Colonel Brocher, of London, Ontario, apparently standing on the parapet of a trench, leading his men by voice and gesture. He was hit by a bullet and struck by a bomb, and was carried to the rear, but did not give long.

"Conditions grew more terrible as the fight progressed. The Germans brought up reinforcements. "Furled to Retire. "The second trench was about 60 yards beyond the first, which we captured, or about 100 yards from our starting point. Our loss in taking the first trench was very great. We took the second trench and it proved a hot position. "We then went for the third trench, but the Germans, with reinforcements, concentrated a tremendous fire on us. I should think, by this time, considerably more than half our officers and men had been killed or wounded. "Gradually the position became untenable, and it was necessary to relinquish the ground already won. We could not, with our depleted force, remain there, so we moved back. The Germans then tried hard to shift us from our original position, but to no purpose. "The battalion went into that action from 600 to 700 strong. The killed and wounded numbered nearly 500, including twenty officers of twenty-three officers, twelve of whom were killed."

KAISER TO MODIFY SUBMARINE POLICY

Good Prospects That Forthcoming German Note Will Go Long Way Toward Meeting America's Wishes

Berlin, June 24.—(Via London.)—There are good prospects that the forthcoming German note to the United States will go a long way toward meeting the American government's wishes regarding Germany's conduct of submarine warfare and making passenger traffic on the high seas safe.

Write it is stated that submarine action against hostile merchantmen will not and cannot be abandoned entirely. It is increasingly probable that the German note will embody some proposals to exempt ships employed wholly or principally in passenger traffic from submarine attack. Such ships, it is said, would be subjected to stoppage and examination by submarines in accordance with the practice in vogue prior to the present war, and to capture if carrying contraband, but the regular rules of the prize law, partly relating to the safety of passengers and crews, would be observed.

It is hoped here that such a solution will satisfy the requirements of President Wilson's note. It is hoped and expected here among those who are working for a friendly settlement of the situation between Germany and the United States that the United States would accept such a modification of the German note, and that the United States would not use to transport ammunition and guns nor lend themselves to attacks upon submarines.

WILSON BELIEVES PEACE IS FAR OFF.

House Tells President Public Opinion in Warring Nations Will Act Strongly Against Any Compromise.

New York, June 24.—President Wilson does not see any prospect for an early peace in Europe.

Colonel E. M. House, his unofficial envoy to Europe, gave the president today the results of his sojourn of several months in European capitals, where he talked intimately with the responsible officials of the German, British and French governments, and the information he imparted in the long walks and talks which they enjoyed today reflected definitely the ideas held by both diplomatists and the military element in each of the countries at war.

Colonel House also disclosed the currents of public opinion in each country as to peace terms.

Wilson Guided by House.

The president has been guided largely by what Colonel House has reported to him by cable and letters in handling the delicate question of renewing the efforts of the United States to bring about a general acceptance of mediation. Mr. Wilson himself said last Tuesday that no new tenders of good offices had been made to any of the warring powers, but that all foreign governments understood the willingness of the United States to be of any service in any way possible to pave the way for an armistice to peace terms.

One fundamental thing the president has learned, which has affected the efforts of the United States to make peace, is the unpreparedness of public opinion in some of the belligerent countries as to terms which they fear their adversaries might advance, or that already are discussed. Colonel House observed that public opinion in some countries insisted on terms which the governments of those countries already had earned in various ways would not be acceptable to their opponents.

At all countries Colonel House found there had developed among the masses a desire for a settlement that would be commensurate with sacrifices made by the people. If left to the diplomatists in Europe alone, a return to peace would not be difficult, some of the information indicated.

Freedom of the Seas.

In Germany it seemed, according to information given to the president, that the object of a large and influential party was to prepare public opinion for a realization of the idea that Germany's best interests lie in colonial expansion and the incidental development of overseas commerce, rather than in territorial extension in Europe proper. The question, however, which Colonel House thinks likely will play a most important part in any peace negotiations is "freedom of the seas," the principle that the property of all private citizens except in various cases shall be exempt from capture or seizure on the high seas in time of war.

This point was discussed at the first and second Hague conferences and at the London conference which brought forth the so-called "declaration of London," but no general ratification of any nature was obtained. The American delegations to the first and second Hague conferences were entrusted with the adoption of this principle.

Colonel House is known to be a supporter of the "freedom of the seas" principle, and in his discussion of the subject while abroad there is some reason to believe that he had the sanction of general George B. Hart, commander of the marine corps and Captain Ridley McLean, judge advocate general of the navy.

This council will meet with the secretary every Thursday and oftener on call. Captain George R. Clark, who had been developing the naval educational system as aid for education, will become a member of the naval board to be heard by the president.

John J. Knapp, lately assigned to the command of the Philadelphia navy yard, will be in attendance and will carry on under the bureau of navigation. The work of the other aids, excepted out of the old system, already had been absorbed by other offices.

Secretary of Navy to Discontinue Meyer's System of Aids.

Washington, June 24.—Creation of "the secretary's advisory council" in the navy department, to include the assistant secretary, the chief of operations, the bureau heads and other naval officers, was tonight by Secretary Daniels. At the same time the secretary made known his intention to discontinue the system of aids originated by his immediate predecessor, Secretary Meyer. The new office of chief of operations.

Captain Josiah S. McKean, now commanding the battleship North Dakota, has been designated as chief of material to the chief of operations. Captain Volney O. Chase previously had been named as assistant for operations.

Under the present organization of the department, the advisory council will be composed of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, Rear Admiral Benson, chief of operations, the following bureau chiefs: Rear Admiral Blue, navigation; Rear Admiral Strauss, ordinance; Rear Admiral Griffin, steam engineering; Rear Admiral Taylor, construction and repair; Rear Admiral Stanford, yards and docks; Rear Admiral Clegg, supplies and accounts; and Rear Admiral Bratton, medicine and surgery; Major General George B. Hart, commander of the marine corps; and Captain Ridley McLean, judge advocate general of the navy.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK OF DNIESTER

bombarded Arras, the hospital of the Holy Sacrament being particularly damaged. Some sister and some of the nurses lost their lives.

In front of Domjeu, west of Peronne, the explosion of a German mine was followed by a violent bombardment of our troops. An attack on the part of the enemy, executed by a not numerous force, was easily checked by us.

On the heights of the Meuse, at the Calonne trench, there has been no change in the situation. We are maintaining our positions in a portion of the second German line.

In Lorraine, not far from Leintrey, the enemy delivered a counter attack. After a rather spirited engagement they were repulsed.

On the rest of the front last night passed quietly.

"The number of prisoners made since June 14 in the region of the Fecht river now amounts to twenty-five officers, thirty-three under-officers and 428 men."

AUSTRIANS ATTACK ITALIAN POSITIONS.

Rome, June 23.—(Via Paris, June 24.)—An official statement issued tonight says:

"Along the entire front there has been an artillery duel between the heavy and medium caliber. The enemy endeavored last night to attack particularly Pizzocollina, Val Grande, Val Piccolo, Cressnoverze (situated between Pizzocollina and Zellonkofel) and Crestaverdo, which had been occupied by our troops yesterday."

"During the night of June 21-22 and continuing the following day the enemy made three desperate attacks against our position at Pizzocollina. All these attacks were repulsed successfully by the splendid fire of our artillery and the use of hand grenades. The enemy left 200 bodies on the battlefield."

"In the bay of Pizzo preparations are being made by the Austrians for installation of heavy artillery and along the neighboring heights convoys have been going to Pizzo toward the Upper Isonzo."

"In the Montenegro region and along the Isonzo the day of June 22 passed quietly."

TEUTONS VICTORIOUS ON UPPER DNIESTER.

Vienna, June 24.—(Via London)—The following official communication was issued by the war office today:

"The general situation in eastern Galicia is unchanged. To the east and north of the Vistula the Russian strong Russian rear guards are receding."

"On the Upper Dniester, Mikolajow and Zydaczow have been captured. Down the river from Zydaczow the allied troops are advancing from several points."

"On the northern bank of the Dniester, between the Vistula and the San, the enemy continues to retreat. The Vistula the Russian rear guards were driven beyond the Kamienka strong points occupied Ostrowiec and Santomierz."

"In the Italian war theater, on the Carinthian frontier, a strong attack of Italian troops near Pal (east of Ploekner pass) was repulsed. Otherwise on these frontiers and those of Tyrol only artillery engagements occurred.

"In the region of Krn calin prevails. On the Isonzo river there is heavy artillery fighting. Italian attacks near Gorizia and Montebelluna failed."

ALLIES MAKE GAINS AGAINST THE TURKS.

Paris, June 24.—An official note made public here today giving details of land operations on the north side of the Dardanelles between June 1 and 5, says that as a result of French and British attacks a gain of front of 150 to 500 yards along a front of over a mile was made. British troops took more than 500 prisoners.

The text of the communication follows:

"Our offensive movement during the last two weeks of May had been gradual, the line moving forward in small sections from one vantage point to another. The enemy, however, still held out. They took also further positions situated on the right and the left of the first line of trenches, and gained ground approximately 500 yards in depth."

"The French charged simultaneously with the British against the Turkish positions situated in front of Kereves Dere. The first line soon was taken. As was also a Turkish fortress which, with the ditches surrounding it, was heavily fortified by barb wire entanglements. We called this fort 'Harcot.'"

"The result of our attacks gave us an advance ranging from 150 to 500 yards along a lateral front of two kilometers (a mile and one-fifth). British troops took 500 prisoners, including ten officers and seven German machine-guns who had formerly belonged to the German warships Goeben and Breslau vessels which, since the war, have been under the Turkish flag."

bright sun. The principal attack was upon the Turkish position opposite the British trenches. British soldiers charged these trenches and found that a majority of the Turkish defenders had been killed by the machine shells. Without stopping at their first success, our allies charged again, occupying the second line of trenches. At this point they were given support which permitted them to turn about and capture a Turkish redoubt which still held out. They took also further positions situated on the right and the left of the first line of trenches, and gained ground approximately 500 yards in depth."

"The French charged simultaneously with the British against the Turkish positions situated in front of Kereves Dere. The first line soon was taken. As was also a Turkish fortress which, with the ditches surrounding it, was heavily fortified by barb wire entanglements. We called this fort 'Harcot.'"

"The result of our attacks gave us an advance ranging from 150 to 500 yards along a lateral front of two kilometers (a mile and one-fifth). British troops took 500 prisoners, including ten officers and seven German machine-guns who had formerly belonged to the German warships Goeben and Breslau vessels which, since the war, have been under the Turkish flag."

FRENCH WAR MINISTRY ATTACKED BY DEPUTY

Accambrey Raises Storm by Declaring Administration Has Proved Inefficient.

Paris, June 24.—Animated scenes occurred in the chamber of deputies today when M. Accambrey, in discussing the war appropriation, criticized the ministry of war. He declared defects had been proved in the national resources and protests from various parts of the chamber interrupted him and the president reminded the speaker he must confine his remarks to the question under discussion.

M. Accambrey declared the sanitary service of the army was responsible for the deaths of many soldiers. He regretted, he said, that the national resources were being extravagantly disbursed, and deplored the lack of foresight displayed in preparing for adequate supplies and munitions.

"The state of war, he declared, ought to possess technical training sufficient to fit him for general direction of the army's supply services."

Applauded by Socialists.

Protests frequently interrupted M. Accambrey. The applauding him. Feeling among members rose high and the stormiest scene in parliament since the war broke out. M. Accambrey affirmed that he did not wish to criticize the leadership of the army, but only to correct them when a way to do so was pointed out. His statement that "not only members of the committee but every citizen has the right to come and go and to observe the entire military organization," was received with great applause.

"That is the very spirit of the republic," cried M. Decroix.

Premier Viviani continued, frequently interrupted by frantic applause, urging "a policy of action."

"The present hour," he said, "is no time for words of pessimism. France will go to the very end, and it may be hard and it may be long, but we shall go through. We have a valiant army, admirable leaders, and the nation possesses patience and confidence incomparable."

The members of the chamber who stood as they listened to the peroration broke into uncontrollable applause and cheers as the premier and other deputies pressing forward to congratulate him.

Chamber in Disorder.

M. Accambrey sought the floor again despite vigorous protest from deputies in all parts of the chamber crying:

"That's enough. He finally succeeded in shouting the word:

"This government is a shame."

"Go and say that in Berlin," called out a voice from the gallery.

Great disorder followed, which the president of the chamber calmed. The great majority of the deputies, however, were in disagreement with M. Accambrey and the hostile interruptions continued until he gave up.

Premier Viviani then arose and the house instantly became quiet. The premier expressed his regret that M. Accambrey had not intimated the government in the usual parliamentary manner.

U. S. NOTE REITERATES DEMANDS IN FRYE CASE

Washington, June 24.—The reply of the United States to the last German note regarding the case of the American ship William F. Frye, sunk by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was dispatched to Berlin today.

In substance, the note reiterates the contention that the sinking of the Frye was in violation of international law and that the United States demands reparation under the treaty of 1828, but justifies the destruction of the Frye and has referred the case to a prize court.

New York, June 24.—William Jennings Bryan, addressing a meeting in Madison Square Garden tonight under the auspices of the "League of Peace," an organization of various sections of American citizens, gave his definition of national honor and called upon his hearers to act upon his influence in favor of either side, but in favor of peace in the United States and against war with any of the belligerent nations.

Mr. Bryan reiterated his views regarding his proposal to submit all disputes to an international commission. After Mr. Bryan spoke, the meeting passed a resolution that the government to place an embargo on the exportation of arms and ammunition.

ATLANTA RESERVE BANK TO HAVE BRANCH IN N. O.

New Bank to Be First Authorized Under Federal Reserve Act.

Washington, June 24.—The federal reserve board announced today it had approved a request of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta to open a branch at New Orleans. This is the first branch bank to be authorized under the federal reserve act.

The board's announcement makes no definite assignment of territory to the branch, but says it is intended to assign to it member banks of Louisiana, Mississippi and Mobile and Baldwin counties, Alabama.

The banks in the territories so segregated will deal with the New Orleans branch only.

The board announced that the branch would conduct only operations in discount and purchase of commercial paper and acceptances and matters relating to clearing collections and exchange transactions and transfers of funds.

The issue of notes and the function of rediscounting with other federal reserve banks," said the announcement. The board also authorized the bank of Atlanta to issue certificates of deposit in the federal reserve bank of Atlanta.

"The operations are to be reported promptly to the federal bank of Atlanta, and the federal reserve board is to be advised of the same without delay."

"The transactions of the New Orleans branch will be considered as the transactions of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta and so reported in the statements of the latter."

By-laws, salaries, the election of directors and other matters of detail, the board announced, will be taken up later.

"While the board," continues the announcement, "has carefully considered the principles which should be observed in opening a branch, it is not ready at this time to promulgate any general rules applicable to other points, as it regards the proposition as somewhat experimental. It is felt that the experience gained in this case will have an important bearing upon the future development of the branch bank idea."

Incidentally it may be mentioned that the banks comprised in the New Orleans Clearing House association have undertaken to make good for the first year of operation any difference between the expense of conducting the new branch bank and the revenue to be derived from it.

The board's announcement adds that it assumes the provisions of the reserve act in regard to directors will be observed.

ROADS ARE FINE FROM THOMASTON TO FULTON COUNTY

F. M. Garner, of Thomaston, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Upson county, motored to Atlanta Thursday on business, and reported the roads in excellent condition all along the route. He said the Upson county board was also active in constructing many miles of permanent highways this year and is planning to build first-class roads to join with all trunk lines entering from other counties.

Mr. Garner, in addition to being president of a cotton mill, a big farming corporation, general store and oil mill, is also head of the Thomaston ice plant and is, therefore, interested in the proposed Wimbly anti-trust bill.

The bill in question is aimed at the alleged Georgia ice trust, and is being backed by nearly four score independent ice companies of the state. Mr. Garner will return to Atlanta when the bill is up for consideration in the legislature.

Mr. Garner spent the day with his son-in-law, Councilman Sim L. Dallas, of the seventh ward.

Hospitable Dalton Royally Entertains B. Y. P. U. Delegates

Dalton, Ga., June 24.—(Special.)—The Baptist hosts of Georgia have completely captured the city and the annual convention of the B. Y. P. U. is in full swing.

Commencing Tuesday morning every northbound train brought hosts of delegates and practically every section of the state is represented. The work of assigning the guests was thoroughly organized. Professor J. R. Humphreys, aided by a corps of assistants, met the trains and, with a score of volunteer automobiles they were rapidly conveyed to their respective assignments. Fully 500 enthusiastic young Baptists and the guests of this occasion but there were homes for all and to spare. The various denominations vied with each other in maintaining the proverbial hospitality of Dalton.

The principal streets and many of the homes are decorated in the colors of the union and American flags, the latter being appropriate on account of the fact that the organization is a branch of the "navy."

Walden Is Given Fine Of $5.75 for Fracturing The Skull of Newsboy

G. E. Walden, the man who threw a beer bottle out of the saloon of G. H. Parker, at No. 7 North Pryor street Tuesday night, fracturing the skull of Willie Shaw, a 14-year-old newsboy, was fined $5.75 in recorder's court Thursday afternoon and instructed by Judge Johnson to pay young Shaw 50 cents a day for thirty days. The boy is still in Grady hospital.

A crowd of newsboys were waiting outside the saloon in an alley adjoining to get papers when a fight started among them. Walden, hearing the fight, picked up a beer bottle and threw it through a window, the missile striking the Shaw boy on the head.

Recorder Johnson stated that he was certain there was no malicious intent behind Walden's action, but would fine him for being in the saloon drunk, as well as for carelessness.

COUNCIL TO PASS ON BEER SALOONS AND POOLROOMS

Mayor Woodward Thursday returned to City Clerk Walter Taylor the entire batch of 152 near beer licenses approved by general council Monday, with the explanation that he would defer action until next week so that general council might be able to consider them along with locker club and pool room licenses at the special meeting Monday.

The outlook Thursday was that the pool room licenses where operated in connection with saloons will not be granted, but that the saloons will be allowed to operate. There are fifty-two applications for pool rooms to be considered by council and the majority of them are operated jointly with saloons, which it is believed council will disapprove.

"They ought not to be allowed to operate together," said the mayor, "young men will assemble in pool room and before they have been playing every long they will begin to bet drinks on the game if a saloon is near by. A bad element congregates as a rule in such places and a lot of the trouble reported in the city is traceable to this arrangement."

The white ordinance now pending in council and which makes it unlawful for the two to operate jointly is expected to pass with practically no opposition.

ARNO MAY BE NEXT STATE GAME WARDEN

Reported at Capitol That Gov. Harris Will Appoint Camden Man.

While the appointment of state game commissioner by Governor-elect Nat Harris does not take place until next December, which is a little far ahead for definite announcements, it is not at all improbable that Charles S. Arno, of Camden, Ga., will succeed Charles DuVivie, the present incumbent to that office.

Judge Harris has come to no conclusion about his appointment to the office of adjutant general. When asked about this appointment he said that he is waiting to get a little closer to the general sentiment of the militia before he decided upon this appointment.

Judge Harris is a great friend of the militia and will naturally want the utmost harmony and co-operation between the organizations and the state-house department.

He will touch upon the question of the state's militia in his message to the general assembly and make recommendations for its improvement in such instances as are compatible with the state's present financial condition.

$200 Reward Offered For Dock Williams, Double Murderer

Tifton, Ga., June 24.—(Special.)—Sheriff Shaw, of Tift county, has been away since Monday morning searching for Dock Williams, the negro who shot and killed another negro and afterwards murdered Saunders Bryan, a young white man in cold blood at Eagle Head, in this county, Saturday night.

When heard from this morning, the sheriff was still without any clue to the negro's whereabouts. A reward of $200 has been offered for Williams' arrest.

Aged Citizen Finds Trouble on His Trip To "Divine Healer"

Believed He Would Regain Sight, But Claims Georgia Railway and Power Company Delayed His Arrival.

As the blind and others afflicted with divers diseases encountered insurmountable difficulties when about to step into the troubled waters of the medicinal pool at Jerusalem, so did James Reid, aged citizen of Clarkston, Ga., fail of regained sight when the Georgia Railway and Power company, through alleged negligence, did not carry him to the stopping place of the "Divine Healer," recently visiting Atlanta.

Though he arrived at her doorstep and there talked with this widely known woman of wonderful powers, he came too late to become a beneficiary of her healing, and in a suit filed yesterday in the Fulton county courts, asks $1,000 of the street car company for his continued condition of blindness.

Sympathizing neighbors told the aged man of the "Divine Healer" of Bellwood avenue, and on April 5, with car fare furnished by friends, only sufficient to carry him and his small grandson to the healer's home, he set out to regain his sight.

When he attempted to board the Marietta car at Decatur and Pryor streets, he alleges, the conductor refused to take him on and the next conductor demanded fare on the ground that the time limit of the transfers had elapsed. After paying the additional fares for himself and little guide to ride to Bellwood avenue, the conductor, the petition continues, caused the old man's great inconvenience by carrying him to the end of the line and thus compelling him to walk for more than a mile to the "Divine Healer" house.

Romance Begun One Year Ago Culminates in an Elopement

MISS MAE REID.

A romance which began in Atlanta more than a year ago culminated in an elopement in Atlanta yesterday, when the groom, who lives in Halmet, N. C., met here his bride from Griffin, Ga. The groom is C. W. Carter, and the bride was Miss Mae Reid, the pretty daughter of Mrs. Jacob Reid, of Griffin. Although they had planned the elopement three months ago, none of the friends or relatives of either had the slightest inkling of the intended marriage.

Mr. Carter arrived in Atlanta Thursday morning and was joined by Miss Reid Thursday afternoon. They were married by Rev. Arthur H. Gordon, pastor of the Peace de Leon Avenue Baptist church, Thursday afternoon, at the pastor's residence. They will spend several days in Atlanta, stopping at the Piedmont hotel, after which they will go to Halmet, where they will make their home.

Man and Woman Found Guilty of "Doping" Man From East Point

Miss Pearl Couch was carried back to the Fulton county jail yesterday after she had been sentenced conjointly with E. C. Mauldin to two years in prison for "doping" and robbing Luther C. Pearl Couch will be sent to the state prison at Milledgeville and Mauldin will be assigned to one of the convict camps.

In Self-Defense Tift County Bailiff Kills Negro Criminal

Tifton, Ga., June 24.—(Special.)—Floyd Hill, colored, was shot and instantly killed at a late hour last night while resisting arrest by Bailiff E. M. Ford, of the Ty Ty district. The killing was at Ty Ty, nine miles west of Tifton, on the Atlantic Coast Line. Hill had a row at a negro church with another negro, named Charlie Thomas, and shot Thomas over the eye with a revolver, but did not kill him. Hill was drunk and a warrant charging him with assault and attempt to murder was placed in Officer Ford's hands. When the officer and his brother, Clarence Ford, who had been deputized to arrest him, approached Hill he began cursing them and fired at them twice with his revolver. It was then that Hill was shot, one ball entering his forehead and the other his neck. It appears to have been a plain case of self-defense.

When Gordon denied to the chief that at the time of his arrest Policeman McDonald he was impertinent to the officer, his remarks were overheard by the policeman, and he attacked the negro, and his suspension followed.

Cuthbert, Ga., June 24.—(Special.)—The continued drought in the immediate vicinity of Cuthbert has played havoc with the crops on the farms and the gardens in town. There has not been a rain, such as is called a "season," which means sufficient for the time being, since April 30.

Nearly all the gardens have been literally burned up. The bean crop in the gardens is almost a total failure. On the farm the cotton is growing fine, the continued sunshine assisting in a needed degree in the eradication of the grass from it. The weather has been exactly right for that crop. The corn fields look very bad, though, and if rain does not come in a day or two the amount which has been planted to date will be a total loss, instead of the large crop as expected. There has been a much larger amount of corn planted than usually, and already about half of the expected amount to be reaped is lost. The field peas, of which a large amount has been planted, have failed to come up, although they should have done so several days ago. It is feared that all that have been planted have been lost.

The early peanuts have come in, but the later ones have not. The early watermelons are coming up, all small, but the later ones do not come the crop will be small. A quantity of wheat has been threshed and sent to mills in nearby towns for grinding into flour. One man, Cliff W. Ethredge, about 3 miles from town, is planning to make a large amount of flour, but he intends for the entire mill to come from his own farm here, on which he is living.

MUCH PROGRESS MADE IN FIGHT ON SMOKE

J. M. Van Hartingen, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on smoke abatement, made his report to the directors of the chamber at a session which was held yesterday afternoon. His report showed that, while the limit for dense smoke in Atlanta during the month has made very appreciable progress since the institution of the office of smoke inspector. Smoke Inspector Paul H. Hightower before the directors and indicated the broadening of the scope of the smoke inspector's office since its inception. He declared that there is now very little opposition to the enforcement of the smoke ordinance and that the majority of those who have complied with it have found it an economy. He further indicated to the directors other powers and assistance that his office needs.

BOARD NAMED TO PICK DIXIE BEE LINE ROUTE

Evansville, Ind., June 24.—Delegates from eighteen counties in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee tried in vain at the Dixie Bee-Line association's convention today to locate a route completing the highway from Chicago to Nashville, Tenn. After hours of debate, the 1,200 delegates voted to leave the question to a board of vice-presidents, one from each of the counties represented. The board must perform its task by November 1, 1915. A resolution was adopted calling for completion of the route by January 1, 1917. The association elected Mayor Benjamin Basse, of Evansville, president for the first year with power to choose a vice president and secretary-treasurer. The board of vice-presidents will act as a governing body.

Habersham Players to Repeat This Evening Presentation of Great Shakespearean Drama

View of grandstand and boxes in "The Forest of Arden."

The Habersham players will repeat their beautiful presentation of Shakespearean drama tonight, when, in "As You Like It," they will appear before a large audience in the "Forest of Arden," on Peachtree street, where they made their debut three weeks ago. The success of the play at that time was so great that the players have been urged to repeat it, and for the past week under the direction of Miss Carolyn Cobb and Mrs. William Lawson Peck they have been rehearsing. The performance will begin at 8 o'clock this evening, with a procession of the players across the front of the stage, which is under the branches of huge oak trees. A grand stand has been erected, and the boxes have been increased in number, admitting the assemblage of an audience as large as that held by any local theater. Lights have been provided, and there will be beautiful music interspersing the program. The leading women's roles will be interpreted by Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin as Rosalind, Mrs. Shalinger as Celia, Mrs. Hamilton Hoek as Phoebe, and Miss Cleveland Zahner as Audrey. The men taking part are: Banished Duke, W. Frank Smith; Amiens, Richard Bold; Jaques, Robert F. Moore; Oliver, William Perry; Jaques DeBois, W. C. Clarke; Orlando, Lamar Hill; Adam, Edward Clark; Le Beau, Walter G. Marchant; Touchstone, Victor Corin; T. W. Heriant; Sylvius, Walter Cummins; Frederick, H. T. McDuffie; First Lord, Frank Butt; Second Lord, Francis Pavlovich; William, Edmond Zahner; Charles, the Wrestler, James Preece; Lords, shepherds, foresters, attendants, Fine stage setting, beautiful costumes, exquisite incidents, music, exciting wrestling match. Success of Players. "The Forest of Arden" is located on Peachtree road, on the picturesque site between the homes of Mr. Charles J. Haden and that of Colonel William Lawson Peck. There are two entrances, one for machines or carriages, which is the road just beyond the home of Mr. Haden, and a footpath leading down the road. Cars which stop the nearest point are those which stop on Peachtree to Brookwood and Buckhead, and the nearest stopping place is almost directly in front of the residence of Mr. A. G. ... The first production stirred the greatest interest among Atlanta lovers of good plays. Many who did not hear the first production desired the opportunity and among the first purchasers for tickets this morning were those who attended the first performance several weeks ago. The proceeds of the performance go for patriotic purposes, promoted by the Joseph Habersham chapter, from which organization the players have taken their name. Edith McKenzie, of Montezuma, who will be attending at her marriage next week to Mr. William H. Merrill. Mr. Merrill brought the young ladies from Atlanta to Atlanta yesterday in his motor car. Hill and Miss Dorothy High returned Wednesday from Tokaway. Mrs. Eli Meyer and little daughter Jane, leave July 1 for Mount Airy. LANSING TAKES OATH AS BRYAN'S SUCCESSOR

Universal Satisfaction Expressed Over His Appointment as Secretary of State. Washington, June 24.—The United States government today notified all foreign governments of the appointment of Robert Lansing to be secretary of state. Notice was also sent to all diplomatic and consular representatives of the United States in foreign countries. Mr. Lansing took the oath of office today as the successor to William Jennings Bryan. High officials, diplomats and close personal friends were on hand to witness the ceremony and to extend their congratulations. Formal announcement of the selection of Mr. Lansing was made by President Wilson before his departure last night for New York. A white house statement said that the post had been tendered to Mr. Lansing and that he had accepted. Mr. Lansing had served as secretary of state ad interim since June 8, when Mr. Bryan resigned. He had been counselor of the state department for more than a year. One of President Wilson's last of-cial acts before he left last night was to sign Mr. Lansing's commission, giving him a recess appointment. His nomination will be sent to the senate upon the reconvening of congress. It is not believed that his confirmation will be opposed. The president's action in naming Mr. Lansing for secretary of state came in for widespread commendation here today. In all quarters satisfaction was expressed. Mr. Lansing's appointment did not come as a surprise, as it generally had been expected. The cabinet was a unit in favor of his selection and many of the president's close personal friends had urged it. Former Secretary Bryan, although not consulted, is said to have hoped for Mr. Lansing's promotion. He returned late last night from Asheville, N. C., but would make no comment upon Mr. Lansing's appointment, except to say that he would send his congratulations today. The new premier of the cabinet is generally regarded as peculiarly fitted for his important post, because of his training in the intricacies of diplomacy, his grasp of international affairs and skill in handling them. Mr. Lansing is a recognized authority on international law and is intimately acquainted with the details of his department. He has drafted many of the most important state documents in connection with the pending negotiations with Germany and Great Britain. Today was diplomatic day at the state department and representatives of foreign governments in Washington flocked to felicitate Mr. Lansing upon his appointment. He is very popular among the diplomatic corps.

Washington Gives Up Hope That Factions Will Settle Their Differences. El Paso, Texas, June 24.—A Carranza army under General Pablo Gonzales has reached the suburbs of Mexico City, according to a telegram received from the Carranza agency here today from Vera Cruz, dated yesterday. Galveston, Texas, June 24.—Zapala forces in Mexico City have entrenched themselves, according to a message today from General Gonzales, of the Carranza consulate here. The general added that for this reason and because he wished to spare the city the horrors of an attack, he had delayed his movement of occupation. Because the only harbor in Dakota Minn., is very fond of hunting, James Gwynne had to travel more than 30 miles to Minneapolis, to be shaved. For the last seven weeks the barber shop has been closed.

HE CALLS WILSON MAN MOST LIKELY TO RESTORE PEACE

New York, June 24.—President Wilson is considered by Colonel E. M. House as the man most likely to restore peace to the world. As the president was playing golf at the Piping Rock club on Long Island today, Colonel House, who was sitting on the porch of the clubhouse, turned to a friend and pointed to the president, saying that was the man likely to bring about peace. Colonel House told friends that the president knew far more about the European situation than he did and in handling the problem, got the best out of the war in a highly intelligent manner, and as well as any man could handle, them. He is understood to have said the president displayed remarkable knowledge of the European situation during their long talk. "Colonel House informed the president that no peace moves were being carried on in Europe at present. He gained this information from officials of the countries at war." BIG DEMAND FOR LABOR. Men Needed for War Orders and Wheat Crop. Washington, June 24.—War orders from Europe, the prospective record-breaking crop of wheat now being harvested and heavy yields of other grains are creating a big demand for labor, according to indications at the government employment office of the department of labor. Requests for workers are coming from many manufacturers and farmers throughout the country and from state labor commissioners. Oklahoma is said to need from 16,000 to 18,000 harvest hands, and Kansas 35,000. An Oregon association has applied for 1,000 berry pickers. An arms and ammunition plant in Connecticut has asked for 300 men. Zinc and lead mines in Missouri need 1,000 laborers. A Maryland steel company has applied for 100 hands. In West Virginia, 2,000 coal mine employees are wanted. So far the department has been more successful in the cities than in the country in placing men who want work. RED CROSS DESCRIBES CONDITIONS IN MEXICO New York, June 24.—What is described by the American Red Cross society as "an appalling state of affairs as to starvation in Mexico" was given here today by that organization. The report described pueblos which are deserted except for women, babies and feeble old men. In twenty thousand persons are said to be near starvation in Guerrero. The wheat crop, which is due in the next thirty days, is only 85 per cent normal, says the report. The unfavorable conditions and heavy floods brought this about. Probably only 20 per cent of the crop that is planted will be gathered, however, owing to the lack of men and animals. Work animals have been confiscated, and pueblos are deserted. The wheat crop will be exhausted after August. The corn supply in the state of Chihuahua and Montezuma, is exhausted. There are no beans. The shops of the merchants are afraid to import any more goods. Another very trying factor is the flat or low money, because of the inflation and of very small purchasing power. The society announces that a telegram has been sent to the purchase of a large load of corn for the relief of the Mexican sufferers, relief funds will have been exhausted. It reports that there was arranging to supply Saltillo with rations of corn and beans. He also is endeavoring to afford relief to Chihuahua, described as being in distress.

THE TEST OF A NEWSPAPER.

Speaking to the delegates in attendance on the annual convention of the International Associated Advertising Clubs in Chicago, Joseph H. Finn, a well-known advertising agency man of that city, said: "It is the paper which publishes the true news that pays the advertiser best."

Without prejudice to the afternoon newspaper, Mr. Finn might have still further qualified his statement by saying: "It is the morning newspaper which, publishing the complete news, pays the advertiser best."

The morning newspaper is the natural purveyor of the true news of the day.

The field of the morning paper is the complete day from midnight to midnight. It seizes the day's situation at its very beginning, and it carries its events through to the end.

In the very nature of things it is necessary for the afternoon paper to accept rumor in the absence of verification. Competition demands that it feed out the news quickly; it must get it as best it can, very often without waiting for substantiation.

It is no fault of the afternoon paper: it is simply that its field is so limited that it must take what comes and furnish what comes, leaving verification and, very often, correction, to the morning paper which follows it. It is not infrequent that afternoon papers using different news service disagree upon the big news items of the day, while the facts are given in the morning paper, which has had time and opportunity to ascertain them as they really are.

It is the fact that The Constitution presents the true news and all the news of the preceding day, that has given it the name of "The Old Reliable." The people of Georgia and the south have long since learned to rely upon it; they have confidence in it. They turn to The Constitution for the true news because they know that is where they always get it.

And it is this very confidence in its news columns that makes The Constitution the most valuable medium to the advertiser. A feeling of confidence on the part of the reader in the news columns of a newspaper begets a similar confidence in the advertising which it carries. Whether it be said of advertisement of news story, the assertion, "I saw it in The Constitution," carries force and weight; it compels confidence.

That is what the careful, honest advertiser wants, must have, to make his advertising campaign successful. It is through The Constitution that the best results are attained, because it has and keeps the confidence of the people. The advertiser who wants the very best result should use all the newspapers—morning and afternoon. But to omit the use of the morning newspaper is to literally throw away business.

Do you doubt it? If so, just think a moment and see if you can recall the name of a single firm in Atlanta which used the afternoon paper exclusively and lived for over two years!

And then count some of those gone, or going out of business, which did not use the morning paper.

It is worth thinking about!

FARMERS AS AUTO BUYERS.

The large investment in automobiles by farmers is attributed by Farm Life to the decrease in the price of the machines "and the need felt by the farmer for a time-saving vehicle."

An investigation covering seven counties in south western Indiana shows that twice as many automobiles are being sold this year as compared with last, and that about 75 per cent of the machines going out this season are being sold to farmers.

The investigation seems thorough enough to establish a basis for the whole country. The licenses issued by the state were first considered running about $400, and about $500 the same date in 1914. The farmers were interviewed, as well as more than 700 farmers. The investigation proved further that no instance was it found that the farmers neglected their flocks and fields to go joy-riding. On the contrary, the machine owners were prosperous and happy."

Further, it is stated that "every fourth or fifth man interviewed, if he had no car, was arranging to buy one," or had reasonable hopes of such investment, based on the products of his farm.

SECRETARY LANSING.

It is certainly refreshing, in these days when appointment to public office is so much based upon political influence and political service that we are led to inquire upon each occasion as to what is the appointee's particular "pull," to find one of the most important official positions in the United States actually seeking the man.

In the appointment of Robert Lansing as secretary of state, an office recently made vacant by the spectacular resignation of William J. Bryan, President Wilson has again distinguished himself.

The usual official appointment, wisely dictated, is a combination of political influence and ability; the appointment of Mr. Lansing is the selection of a combination of ability and experience.

Both the human and the political point of view—nor are those who attain even the dignity of president of the United States exempt from it—is to bestow appointments upon usually good and able men who have rendered effective party or personal service. And the appointments which go elsewhere generally have strong political influence back of them. Mr. Lansing is neither a politician himself, nor does he possess political influence which, apart from his experience in dealing with matters of international law, could have won him the state portfolio.

The only thing that may be said to be of force in Mr. Lansing's political record is that he is a democrat. The controlling factor in his appointment, however, was that he had been tried and found equal to the emergency which confronts the government. He had had the training equal to the test. His life has been devoted to international law and the solution of international problems; indeed, it is said of him that he has probably represented the United States in more international situations than any other of its living citizens. It was this equipment which brought him into the state department as legal adviser, where he, rather than his predecessor, has rendered greatest assistance to the president in connection with the crisis in our relations with Germany.

The entire country will heartily commend President Wilson's recognition of the merit system in the promotion of a man and an official who deserved it. The very act is as great a tribute to the justice and wisdom of the president as it is an honor to the appointee. We have long pretended to recognize meritorious service in our civil service system, and though it has its weak points, much has been accomplished in that direction through its application. It has concerned itself, however, chiefly with minor positions. The big places have, as a rule, gone through favor, though ability is an essential qualification.

We have no doubt that the president will have in Secretary Lansing an able, sound and conservative adviser whose presence at the long table at this particular moment will materially strengthen the executive branch of the government at a time when it is in need of all the strength it can muster.

THE CHILD AND THE KAISER.

The letter of a little Swiss girl, addressed to the kaiser, received personal consideration recently, among the weighty problems at the war front. The New York Tribune prints the letter, which is as follows:

"Dear Germain Kaiser: When you visited Switzerland some years ago, I saw you. You sat in a beautiful auto. Now I have decided to write you a nice letter and ask you to help me. We have a little cousin in Mulhausen, Alsace, who went there to spend her vacation. She is not allowed to return. Her parents are worried to know what has become of her daughter. We are anxious to have her come to Switzerland and remain with us until the war is over. Now, I said to myself, if you order that Gretchen Goetz be sent to Switzerland, she will be permitted to leave. Please know that a cousin of Gretchen is fighting for you on the Russian front. If you grant my request I shall be glad to do something for you. You need only to write and inform me what you would like. Gretchen lives in Zillshelmstrasse, 42, Mulhausen."

"I could send hearty greetings for your birthday, that you may remain in good health and that peace will come."

Soon after the receipt of this child's petition the Swiss family received official news that owing to the little girl's letter, Gretchen would be permitted to leave Mulhausen.

What different letters other children whose lives have been blighted by the world-war might write to all the war kings! Probably many such have burdened the kaiser's mail; the plights of homeless children—the waifs of the war-roads!

Stories from the battle front tell of these children, who cannot find the way to human hearts and homes.

There is one of a crippled German soldier taking a little Belgian girl home with him. "I found her wandering," he said. "She has lost all her people, and I have no children."

But the children of the desolated lands cannot plead their cause with kings, to tell of the want and woe—the misery of millions of war's innocent victims.

And these are the children of a Kingdom greater than that of the kings of earth—the Kingdom of Love, and the Light which does not shine upon the thrones of kings that "offend even the least of these little ones."

It's never a dull day. When the Colonel subsided, Mount Lassen fired up.

Never mind about selecting dates for the end of the war. The best business is to pay attention to the beginning of Prosperity.

Anyway, the man mad with the weather can say that it fired up first.

DISTURBING ELEMENTS

MR. GOSSIE, LET'S PRACTICE THAT 'TROT' WHERE THE LADY GETS PICKED UP AND WHIRLED AROUND!

FRANK L. STANTON, JR.

"I Am It." The New Age says they are telling a story of an artist of some reputation who was reproached by a volunteer for not enlisting. He gazed a while at the younger man with impenetrable calm; then, slowly and with grave dignity, he said: "I am that civilization you are fighting for."

The Want-All One. Any way the weather goes You're growlin', night an' day; You wouldn't want to wear a rose Unless it's keen an' thorny too. Were weeded all away.

Givax All. The Benitown Bard sings of the life-panacea in his Baltimore Sun column: "I paid for today with yesterday. I gave for it all I had— The little song that I sang away. Beneath the old flag's glory-stars, And so it will be when we come some hour To the Infinite Creditor; We will have paid for our little hour By the smiles we lit in our door."

Word From De'er Williams. I has never had more trouble than I could handle, an' has never seen a day too dark fer folks ter travel, or da light.

A Little Girl's Poem. Jack Johnson had a boxing glove, He was made of leather strong. But one gloomy day he put it away When Jess Willard came along. —CHRISTINE GORE.

A Philosopher's Opinion. There would be no peace in heaven if we kept praying for what we want instead of working for it.

Light of Freedom. With half the world at war we see The light a-shining on the free Where never storm our progress bars. Beneath the old flag's glory-stars, Forever and forevermore The signal-lights on Freedom's shore.

Word by the Wayside. I don't want any more of the earth than I can tote away, an' even if I get that much I may have to ask some brother to help me before I get to the end of the road.

Prominent Prohibition Speakers Have Returned to Their Homes

Congressman E. Y. Webb, of North Carolina, has returned to his home after a pleasant visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Witham here, with ex-Chief Justice Weakley, of Alabama. They were in Atlanta in attendance upon the meeting called for the purpose of presenting further prohibition legislation.

Judge Weakley, of Alabama, was the author of the three sweeping prohibition measures enacted by the last legislature of that state—and all within five days of the adjournment.

Congressman Webb was one of the most conspicuous figures of the last national house of representatives, being chairman of the Judiciary committee and author of the famous Webb-Kenyon bill, which prevents the shipping of liquors into dry states.

Both of these eminent visitors were listened to with intense interest when they spoke at the Baptist Tabernacle in Atlanta Tuesday night. "I am more than ever impressed with the wonderful development of Atlanta," said Congressman Webb upon returning. "It is marvelous to me how it grows, and I never come here without deriving new inspiration in the wonderful possibilities of our southern section. We are all proud of Atlanta, and as a North Carolinian, am highly gratified at the part my state has played in its development. I understand that the North Carolina element in Atlanta is the very forefront of the city's activities."

During their stay in Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. Witham showed their guests what the city was doing in the way of development, entertaining them charmingly at their lovely country home on Peachtree road.

Correspondents Hurt South by Sending Out Fake Boycott Stories

(From The Philadelphia Public Ledger.) Atlanta, Ga., June 24.—(Special.)—Sending citizens of Atlanta were amazed today when informed by their correspondents that dispatches had been sent to eastern newspapers indicating there was a movement in the south to boycott Jews on account of the Frank case.

These not only is no such movement in the south as a whole, but there is not the slightest thing seriously resembling such a movement in Georgia or in Atlanta. The Jewish stores are not being doing as much as they ever did. They are enjoying every privilege afforded anybody. No Jew in Atlanta has complained of a boycott, or any manifestation of prejudice against him since the governor commuted the sentence of the Jew.

On the day that Frank was commuted the Jewish residents of Atlanta went about their business as usual. They were out that night as usual. As far as known, no Jew was forced in a fight with anyone in the crowd, and the police did not have to make a single case for insults to any Jew.

Protest by Dornier. In Marietta, a little town about twenty miles from Atlanta, the home of Mary Dornier, feeling was always run high. Following the commutation, it is reported that a few anonymous people told one or two Jewish people in Marietta they had better move out of town by Saturday. The report reached Marietta Governor Dornier, and he promptly sent a vigorous protest against any such action.

As far as Atlanta, and the rest of the state are concerned, there has not been a serious suggestion of any such movement. It is, unfortunately, true that there are a number of special correspondents in Atlanta who serve northern newspapers, and who, being paid on space, feel no hesitancy in exaggerating every minor incident in the south. If a crowd of fifty people holds a mass meeting to protest against anything, these correspondents have no paucity of conscience at calling the crowd a mob and the meeting a riot.

Should there really is any disturbance, the disturbance is nearly always magnified ten-fold.

Mr. Howell's Statement. Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, and senior member of the national democratic committee, after a statement for a statement by the representative of the Public Ledger, said: "The report that there is any movement to boycott or to ostracize the Jews in Atlanta or elsewhere in this section is preposterous. There is no such movement nor has there been any such suggestion. The controversy arising out of the Frank case no more involves the Jewish race than would such a controversy involve the Gentiles if Frank had been one. Such unfounded reports are being sent every day from the state, but they are cruelly so to the Jews of our community forming, as they do, a highly esteemed element of our citizenship."

Following the commutation of Frank, there was considerable excitement in Atlanta. The case has been bitterly fought for two years. The crime was an atrocious one. Those people who believed Frank guilty and could not be made to believe otherwise, were resentful at Governor Slaton for granting commutation, after a long and hard battle. It is so to recommend. They held a number of meetings. There were no fights. There was no violence. At night a crowd, which the Associated Press estimated at 700, and which was composed largely of boys, marched on foot to the governor's. The crowd carried no arms. When the militia arrived to disperse them, after they had jeered at the governor for perhaps half an hour, the crowd dispersed without the slightest evidence of a battle, except that one soldier was hit in the stomach with a brick, and another in the hand with a bottle.

And yet, Atlanta two days thereafter found in one of the biggest newspapers in New York, one of the most conservative, a dispatch from this newspaper's Atlanta correspondent to the effect that 10,000 men marched on the governor's home.

A great many of these eastern newspapers by their orders or quotes from this section, have signified that riot stories, lynchings, race prejudice stories are what they want, and some of the correspondents are not too scrupulous in furnishing them when they want. If the editors of newspapers who have thus been made the victims of their correspondents will write the mayor, or to prominent citizens of Atlanta, they will find that there is no foundation for the reports of a boycott on the Jews, and that no boycott has been seriously attempted or suggested.

Constructive Measures Of Immense Value To State's Welfare

- 1. Adopt the Torrens land title law. 2. Require insurance companies to lend or invest in the state a reasonable percentage of the premiums received in the state. 3. Exempt from taxation all mortgages when the rate of interest charged is 6 per cent or under. 4. Create a state highway commission.

Editor Constitution: The above measures would make "progress" perceptible, visible, almost audible—in the state; you could see and almost hear the ship move forward. I venture to think that it is necessary for the development of any state. There is plentiful and cheap money; the only question is how to get it in Georgia. It is mainly a matter of security. Make the security unquestioned, and the money will come.

1. The Torrens Land Law—By giving a state-guaranteed title, the title would be undoubted and acceptable anywhere. At present the chief obstacle to foreign loans in Georgia is the risk of getting bad titles. Insurance companies, savings banks, trust companies, mortgage companies and individuals, with state-guaranteed titles, would lend. It is not a matter of security in this state. Canada, under the Torrens system, guarantees titles and Canada mortgages are standard investments. North Carolina, near us, has the Torrens system. A man pays the state to examine his titles (instead of a lawyer); if imperfect, they are perfected, if possible, and entered on the land title records; afterward a small fee as a state guarantee on titles and a certificate of sound title carries the state guarantee of the title. At present, if a land owner in Georgia borrows on his land twice, twice in a year, from a bank or individual, an interest-free loan to be paid every time of approximately 1 to 2 per cent of amount borrowed, which may amount to 10 to 20 per cent per annum. The Torrens system, if adopted by the state, would help the banks, the individual lenders and the borrowers.

2. The states that are requiring all insurance companies to lend or invest in the state a reasonable percentage of the money received from premiums in the state are helping to make money plentiful and cheap in those states. It is reasonable that this money should be kept in the state. It should not be taken out if there is good security for it. At present insurance money is a great drain on Georgia. This law would keep a lot of this money here. If it goes elsewhere it is lent at low rates; let it be lent here at the same low rates. But provide good titles—state-guaranteed titles under the Torrens system. The moment this insurance law (not necessarily including the Torrens law) has gone into effect in some other southern state, insurance money has become plentiful for farm and city loans and town and city improvements. Six or seven years ago South Carolina had around $3,000,000 invested; by insurance companies in the state; at that time such an insurance law had been adopted in that state and now around $12,000,000 is invested in South Carolina by insurance companies. Columbia began to grow phenomenally; insurance money became plentiful for the erection of office buildings, stores, etc., at

5 per cent—the companies were almost begging for good loans. 3. At present with mortgages taxed, as well as the real estate under mortgage in Georgia, private investors and companies within the state are discouraged from leading on real estate, and hence millions of dollars are invested in outside railroad stocks and bonds, etc., from Dan to Beersheba—Delaware and Lackawanna, Reading, etc., a thousand miles away. This home money should be encouraged to stay here. It is necessary that it stay here and be employed within the state. Except all mortgages when the rate of interest is 6 per cent or under and a large amount of home money will go into mortgages and the exemption will encourage a low rate of interest. Building and loan companies (so important for the upbuilding of the state) have been driven out of the state by taxation of mortgages; let the law be framed so as to encourage these companies and mortgage companies, generally, the land at a low rate.

4. Create a state highway commission to begin to develop a scientific highway system to improve the security. Money is attracted in the form of loans on real estate when there is a feeling of certainty that the security is improving—that land will steadily increase in value. Nothing will improve roads or give an assurance of security in values equal to a highway planned highway development. The highway of the state cannot be properly developed without expert direction—the ordinary county officials in charge of roads (county merchants, etc., elected to office) know little about road building or road work, and large amounts of money are being annually wasted for lack of competent direction. Let the state contemplate an early issue of state highway bonds, similar to issues by New York, Massachusetts, Virginia, etc., probably $10,000,000—to be issued at rate of $100,000 a year to "assist the counties" which would furnish twice or three times as much as the state on the construction of main highways to be built under direction of the state. There would be no trouble to place these "improvement" and "development" bonds at low rates, especially with the insurance companies asking for good loans. The way to "develop" is to "develop." The best way is to do it ourselves, if possible, and not wait for other people to do it. The first thing is to provide the machinery. The above measures would be invaluable in this general direction. H. C. MIDDLETON. Augusta, Ga., June 24, 1915.

Representative O. H. Arnold, of Clarke county.

Nat D. Arnold is 37 years of age and the eldest of the three. He lives at the old home at Lexington, Oglethorpe county, and is in the banking business.

Dr. R. J. Arnold is 51 years of age and lives at Hampton in Henry county. He is practicing medicine.

O. H. Arnold Jr. is 43 years of age and lives in Athens and is engaged in the manufacturing business.

Nat D. Arnold has served out and on some eighteen years in the state legislature. He served in the legislature in 1887 and 1888.

The father of the three brothers is O. H. Arnold Sr. of Lexington, Oglethorpe county, who served in the legislature in 1857 and 1858.

There is still another Arnold in the house, Zach, from Clay county, who is a cousin of the three brothers.

No Lobbying at Capitol By Georgia Club Women

There will be no lobby work done by the members of the Georgia Federation of Women's Club in the state house during this meeting of the legislature, according to a recommendation passed by the executive board of that organization holding a four-hour session yesterday at the Piedmont hotel.

The women of our organization are interested in a number of bills which are scheduled for this year, among them the compulsory kindergarten bill, one for compulsory education; one for the conservation of the holly tree; one to increase the appropriation for the Georgia Training School for Girls, explained Mrs. J. I. Fitzpatrick, president of the federation.

"We find the only way to work for legislation is through communication with the members of the legislature before they reach the state house, and our committee on legislation have been directed to pursue that course."

This statement was made by Mrs. Fitzpatrick after the meeting of the board in executive session.

Our recommendation does not prohibit any club member who may desire to do so from going to the state house to express her interest in any bill but we send no official committee there.

Our recommendation does not prohibit our appearing before any committee which may invite our co-operation in discussing the merits of a bill, and I dare say we will be invited as on previous occasions to these committee conferences.

Indorse Smith-Lever Bill. Mrs. Fitzpatrick mentioned among other business transacted by the executive board yesterday the arrangement for the program for the annual convention in Savannah in November and the indorsement by the board of the Smith-Lever bill to be introduced in the general assembly this week.

"This bill, if passed, assures the necessary appropriation from Georgia to secure the government fund proposed by the bill, the money to be distributed through the extension work of the college of agriculture," stated Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

"We want to see the rural women get their part of these funds, through the women extension workers, and I feel sure that if Georgia secures the rural farm women of Georgia will be benefited by it."

"I have appointed a special committee composed of Mrs. J. I. Peters, Black, Miss Rosa Woodberry and Mrs. Hugh Wiley, to investigate the way in which women can be benefited and the way the funds are being expended in their behalf in other states, their report to be made at the Savannah convention."

Work for Highway. When asked if the women of Georgia were interested in the Dixie highway, Mrs. Fitzpatrick stated that club women had been urged through their district president to do all they could to beautify the highway and all roads leading to it.

She explained that each county governed the width of the road and its improvement, the only requirement being that all counties must keep their part of the road passable at all seasons of the year.

When asked if the women would continue their plan to plant trees where they would add to the beauty of the roads, she laughingly replied, "We will do it wherever the farmers will treat us. Some of the money to be distributed through the extension work of the college of agriculture, stated Mrs. Fitzpatrick, that at the Savannah convention the fund of $10,000

McCoyville Citizens Are Anxious for Depot; Appeal to Commission

After a hearing lasting two days the state railroad commission late Thursday afternoon took under consideration the petition of citizens of McCoyville, Ga. asking the commission to order the Louisville and Nashville railroad to build a depot at McCoyville, about 300 yards from its depot in Copper Hill, Tenn. just across the state line.

The hearing began Wednesday morning and was hotly argued by both sides through both, Wednesday and Thursday. The principal fight is over freight rates. Present citizens of McCoyville are compelled to ship their freight for Georgia points from Copper Hill, Tenn. enabling the railroad to collect transportation in interstate rates. There were a depot in McCoyville from which freight could be shipped, Georgia shippers could take advantage of the Georgia intrastate rate fixed by the railroad commission. The intrastate rate is in instance 75 cents per hundred.

Hardgrove was hammered from the hunk hill in the first two sessions by the clan of Smith five bingles two of them double setting four of the five counters that the locals roared in the usually exciting game.
