The Germans who have crossed the San north of Przemyel and the Austrians who have advanced to the southeast of that town, appear to have been halted, as today's report from Berlin does not claim any further progress.

ELEVEN JURORS FAVOR ROOSEVELT

Syracuse, N. Y., May 21.—The jury in the trial of William Barnes suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt was deadlocked tonight, after once having returned a conditional verdict for the former president which Supreme Court Justice William S. Andrews refused to receive.

The condition which made the verdict an improper one was that the trading court costs and disbursements should be divided between the principals in the action.

Tonight after the proposal of putting the costs on one of the principals had been under consideration for more than ten hours no word had come from the jury to indicate it stood otherwise than when it was sent back to its room.

The jury was in court twice today. As Justice Andrews opened court he received a note from the jurors informing him that a peculiar situation had arisen and asking that he confer with them in the jury room.

Nearly an hour afterwards word came from the jury room that a decision had been reached. In open court the foreman announced almost in a whisper, that a verdict had been found for the defendant.

Verdict Improper
The spectators started for the exits. Then the foreman went on to say that the verdict was for the defendant on the condition that he pay half and the plaintiff pay half the costs.

Justice Andrews declared the verdict improper. The foreman suggested a poll. It was taken and juror No. 11 said emphatically "I find for the plaintiff."

"Gentlemen said Justice Andrews 'you must go back to your room and stay there until you have agreed upon a proper verdict.'"

BRITISH BLOCKADE NOT RECOGNIZED

Bryan Says United States Has Not Assented to Order in Council—Negotiations About Cotton Unofficial.

Washington, May 21.—President Wilson and his cabinet met today for the first time since they gathered ten days ago and approved the note which the United States substantially sent to Germany as a protest against the sinking of the Lusitania with the loss of more than 100 American lives.

In the absence of any definite news from Berlin there was no discussion, it was understood, of the probable contents of Germany's reply.

When the cabinet met there had been published here a British foreign memorandum saying the arrangements being made by Great Britain with American cotton interests for disposition of their cargoes were understood to be acceptable to the United States.

The United States has received no reply to its note of March 30, in which Great Britain order in council was declared to be a violation of international law.

In view of continued detention of American cargoes, a further protest was prepared a week before the Lusitania disaster to be sent as soon as further data on interference with American shipping could be obtained.

There was brief discussion of the subject today by officials, and President Wilson said the situation with Germany ought not to be complicated with any correspondence with Great Britain, and it is certain the note will not be issued until after the German reply is received.

That the United States is prepared to controvert further the right of Great Britain to enforce a virtual blockade against neutral countries, detaining cargoes of non-contraband, was the intimation conveyed by Secretary Bryan's statement regarding the British foreign office memorandum.

BRITONS RALLYING TO LORD KITCHENER

Insults Heaped Upon Him by the Times and Daily Mail Have Reacted—Kitchener More Popular Than Ever.

London, May 21.—The British people talked of nothing yesterday but who had insulted Lord Kitchener. The Times and the Daily Mail were forgotten in the controversy over Lord Kitchener.

The Times and the Daily Mail attacked the consistency of the minister later this morning. The impeachment of the Daily Mail was particularly vicious. An upheaval of popular sentiment against the newspaper and its dominating spirit, Lord Northcliffe, quickly followed.

The terms of the arrangement quoted in the British statement telegraphed were arrived at in London between a private representative of the American cotton interests in London and British officials in London.

The arrangement in question formed the subject of conversations between the British minister and representatives of the cotton interests in this country. There never was any question of a formal understanding between the United States government and the British embassy.

The memorandum issued by the British foreign office attracted much attention. It generally was regarded as having been prepared in London by the United States on various detentions of American cargoes. It was not intended to refer to the legal principles underlying the American cargoes being detained.

The British government, the embassy says, has agreed to purchase all or a part of the cargoes of thirteen of the ships detained in several cases. The cargo was put into prize court and part the government states, it will purchase.

TEUTONS STRIVING TO FINISH RUSSIANS

An official statement today reviewing the recent fighting in the Carpathians, says: "In the fighting of the past three weeks since the beginning of the offensive operations in the Carpathians, their losses on May 10, May 11, May 12 and May 13 during which the fighting was most intense, they have suffered 4,000 a day. On the other hand, during the days they were much heavier especially during the period May 14, May 15 and May 19 when they amounted to several tens of thousands daily."

Certain regiments of the enemy have been reduced to a single company. Their total losses during this period, including 40,000 prisoners captured by us, are undoubtedly in excess of one fourth or perhaps one-third of their total strength.

The losses of the enemy in this fighting is as nothing compared with their total number, but it must be remembered that the Carpathians are a region of the most rugged and the most fertile of the Carpathians, and the enemy has had to fight on the most difficult terrain.

On May 19 our troops seized an enemy position near the village of Kocin, and captured 1,000 prisoners, including 200 machine guns. West of Shavli the enemy fell back and the Russian army, consisting of 100,000 men, was driven back to the region of Rosnyeni. The enemy reinforced, partly crossed to the left bank of the Dniester river.

On the Galician front the battle continued on the 19th with great ferocity. The enemy extended his advances somewhat to the right bank of the San in the center of the region of Sienawa, but on two flanks in the direction of the enemy's retreat. In the north, we realized important successes in his repeated attempts to pierce our front in the sector of Rosnyeni. The enemy was driven back to the left of the San on the 19th and at dawn a desperate battle was in progress. The last of the day Bolakhoff, near Barla, were conquered by successful counter attacks several times during the night. The battle continued.

Allies Repulsed, Germans Report.
Berlin, May 21.—(Via London)—The following statement was given out at the war office today: "The theater of war 'North of Ypres' colored French troops attacked the enemy's positions during the night. The battle continues. 'British attacks in the late evening

FRENCH GUNS WRECK BRIDGE

Basel, Switzerland, May 21.—(Via Paris)—French artillery has destroyed a bridge across the Thur, in the vicinity of Cernay, and it is believed that Cernay, which has been the German supply and hospital base in the Hautmans-Wellerkopf and Berensweiler regions or Upper Alsace, must be evacuated.

The roads around Cernay as well as the town itself, are damaged badly.

TEUTONS GAIN, VIENNA REPORTS.
Vienna, May 21.—(Via London)—The following official communication was issued this evening: "Battles along the front in middle Galicia continue. On that part of the San that runs down from Hynawa the Russian detachments still holding the west bank were thrown back. East of Jaroslavl the Russian allies viciously repulsed isolated attacks of strong enemy forces. The number of prisoners taken is continually increasing. In stubborn night battles our troops stormed the Russian position east of Drohobycz and captured Neudorf, taking 1,000 prisoners."

The Russian counter attack across the Dniester in east Galicia has come to a halt. On the Prut the Russian efforts to break through our line near Kobonea failed. All attacks against our positions were repulsed with most severe enemy losses.

In the fighting in theilly country of Krasnopol which still continues at some points we have captured 4,000 prisoners since May 16. The total number of prisoners in our hands now amount to 194,000."

Newport News Va., May 21.—National prohibition was made an issue of the fifty-fifth general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church here today in the filing by the Transylvania presbytery, of Kentucky, of a protest against the resolution adopted at the last general assembly and favoring the abolition of the sale of liquor by an amendment to the federal constitution.

The greater part of today's business session was taken up with the presentation of overtures. These were referred to committees for a report and several of them are expected to cause serious discussion when they come before the body. The principal overtures were: Reasons for and against the organization of the proposed Appalachian synod.

TWO MORE STATES ADVOCATE ROUTES

Toledo, then connecting with the Lincoln Memorial highway. Mr. Cole and Mr. Probasco declared that the highway should pass through Indiana and the route of the greatest good to the greatest number. They also presented an offer from Ohio to dedicate as part of the Dixie highway a road now in course of construction from Cincinnati to Dayton and Toledo.

Arguments for competing routes in Indiana were presented by former Mayor Charles E. Bookwala of Indianapolis, for the South Bend-Indianapolis-Louisville line; Congressman M. R. Wood, Lafayette, for the Crown Point-Indianapolis, W. L. Sparks, Terre Haute, for the Paris, Ind., route; and Senator W. H. Johnston, Crawfordsville, for the Crown Point-Lafayette-Paoli route.

The speaker set forth the scenic and historic attractions of the route, including the homes of Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk and the battlefields of Nashville and Murfreesboro. Louis S. Pope, of Pikeville, arguing for the central route, presented figures to show the central line between the Tennessee and Louisville would be 105 miles shorter than the Nashville route and 17 miles shorter than the eastern Tennessee route.

The commission granted time to N. S. Remine, Bristol, Va., who presented a request from that state asking that the highway be extended via Knoxville and that the commission permit a branch road to be constructed from that point to Bristol, Roanoke and other Virginia points.

Mayor Says Resolution Affecting Indorsers of Notes is Too Sweeping. It appeared Friday, following disclosure Thursday night by T. S. Kerlin to the effect that firemen had indorsed notes one for the other, that the board of firemasters will have a difficult job handling the matter.

"I don't see how we can afford to dismiss every fireman that indorsed a note for a brother fireman, but still the practice is bad and something must be done."

Momentous Future in Woman's Mind

The expectant mother revolves in her mind all we understand by destiny. And it is of the utmost importance that her physical comfort be our first thought. There is a most splendid remedy for this purpose, known as "Mother's Friend." It is applied over the muscles of the stomach, gently rubbed in, and at once penetrates to relieve all strains on nerves, cords, ligaments and all parts involved. It makes the muscles so pliant that they expand naturally. And at the same time they are invigorated by the absence of harassing pains so apt to distress the mind. Whatever will add to the comfort of the expectant mother is a great and helpful influence since a calm and peaceful period must have a wonderfully beneficial impression on the coming child. LONG DISTANCE SERVICE FOR ATLANTA COMPANY

Memphis, Tenn., May 21.—Announcement was made at the annual meeting of the Tri-State Telephone association here today that the independent telephone companies of the south virtually had completed arrangements with the Postal Telegraph company for the use of wires of the telegraph company to establish a long distance telephone service throughout the southern states. It was stated that the so-called independent companies which heretofore maintained only a limited long distance service, would immediately enter into active competition with the American Bell system.

It also was announced that the Tri-State association after the present meeting would extend their membership to all the southern states. According to the plans made public today the Memphis Telephone company will establish the service between Memphis and Dallas, Texas; the Home Telephone company, of Cairo, Ill., will arrange for circuits between St. Louis and Memphis and to Louisville, Ky.; the Atlanta Telephone company will control circuits from Atlanta to Memphis and Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala.; and the Home Telephone company, of Mobile, from that city to Memphis and Hattiesburg, Meridian and Yazoo City, Miss. BEAUTIFUL DRIVES ADD TO APPEARANCE OF ATLANTA PARKS

Visitors to Grant park tomorrow will find a network of beautiful drives and walks put down this spring under the direction of Park Manager J. O. Cochran. The drives add much to the appearance of the park and will open up several new sections which in the past have been closed to automobiles. During the past week a gang of workmen from the county camps have been at work on the drives. They were put down by the park department. They are being well rolled and put in first-class condition, and by laying concrete gutters along all the drives they will not be injured by showers. The next move of Manager Cochran is to secure a special appropriation from council in the June money sheet to provide for surfacing and oiling some of the drives in Piedmont park. Several members of the finance committee and others in general council have assured the park manager they will support the proposition when it goes before them for final action.

Atkinson will speak on "The Public and Its Relations to Amusements." Basil Stockbridge, chairman of the executive committee, has addressed hundreds of invitations to the entire membership of the Atlanta bar and business men in all walks of life. That the locker clubs of Atlanta are violating the law, and that all their licenses should be revoked, will be urged tonight by J. W. LeCraw and William H. Ahlgren. S. M. Castleman and a. P. C. Odom will contend that the locker clubs are not violating the law.

FIVE ARRESTS MADE OF "DOPE" BUYERS; TO LOCATE DEALERS

The police are rounding up the dope dons for the purpose of trying to also round up the dope-sellers.

Five arrests were made Friday, and the men tried by the recorder were Dan Williams, Gus Isell, A. J. Fitzgibbons, Tom Martin and Martin Watts. On them, it is said, were found morphine, opium, cocaine and all the necessary paraphernalia for using the drugs.

The officers making the arrests stated that they wanted the men sent to the state farm for treatment. They said they hoped to get the men to state where they bought the drugs in order that the sellers could be arrested and punished.

FATHER AND SON TO STAND TRIAL FOR FELONY CASE

Two sensational indictments were returned by the Fulton grand jury Friday against Dr. E. F. Nixon, a well-known physician of East Point, and his son, F. H. Nixon, representative of the Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur insurance company.

The charge against father and son is felony. It was alleged before the jury that they had sought to enrich themselves by fraudulent operations in connection with the son's insurance deals; that they had forged applications and other insurance documents in effort to collect commissions.

Dr. Nixon, the father, it was charged before the jury, had been appointed, through the son, an examining physician in East Point for the Ben Hur organization, and that he would attest to forged applications and other insurance documents, upon which young Nixon would be able to collect commission and other funds.

Up until last night neither father nor son had been arrested. The bond for Dr. Nixon was assessed at $500, while that of the son's was increased to $1,000. Both Dr. Nixon and F. H. Nixon have been residents of East Point for years, and are known in Atlanta.

FISHING FOR SUBMARINES. It has been a matter of some curiosity, growing out of Germany's submarine warfare upon British merchantmen, as to whether feasible use could be made of nets as a means of protection against the activities of the undersea war craft.

Authentic instances of the employment of heavy steel nets for this purpose, especially for harbor protection and even in the narrow portions of the English channel where British transports are constantly passing to and fro, are related by Captain F. H. Claret, of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnehaha, just arrived in New York.

An interesting incident of the protection afforded by the steel nets which trap submarines running into them, as ordinary nets do fish, is told by Captain Claret. Many of the more important harbors are guarded by nets and traps particularly naval bases. A few weeks ago a submarine was found in one of the nets on the Firth of Forth.

It is within the range of possibility that the submarine has already reached the height and extent of its effectiveness as a weapon of warfare. Students of war problems certainly will not let it rest until they find, as they have already begun to do, methods of limiting, if not altogether eliminating, its power of destructiveness.

KITCHENER. The fall of Lord Kitchener, the hero of Khartoum, through what amounts to practical deposition from the British cabinet, will be a matter in connection with which the future historian will deplore the temper of a people in thus rewarding ability and capacity of the heroic sort.

It is hardly possible that England has at this moment a man better or so well qualified to dictate absolutely her military operations. Kitchener may remain the active head of the army, but even at that he must be somewhat hampered as a result of transference from absolute authority to that of understanding, or what practically amounts to that of the making of a new war minister.

Iconoclasm, it would appear, is an inseparable quality of human nature. Kitchener may have made mistakes, the rapidity of his prosecution of the war may not have satisfied a clamorous public, but it may be stated almost as a certainty that his mistakes have been fewer and his speed of prosecution greater than would or could have been the achievements of any other man in his place.

In "dole-announcing" in our own war with Spain. It seems impossible, in times of tempestuous struggle, even for greatest heroism, greatest capacity and greatest achievement to mitigate, in the public mind, the smallest or most accidental delinquency; there is always tendency rather to demand the impossible.

History and future opinion based upon it usually correct these mistakes of the present, but this method is somewhat akin to the custom of placing flowers upon the grave of the "dear departed" to whom rather scant consideration was shown while there was yet opportunity for his own enjoyment of it.

THE $100,000 ROAD FUND. When The Constitution suggested that some substantial plan of expending the $100,000 or more received from motor vehicle licenses, which would be of benefit to the whole state, should be devised by the legislature, it had no special project in mind.

There are, perhaps, other plans for the investment of this fund which the legislature will have before it for consideration should it determine to continue the collection of this specific tax on motor vehicles. There is an interesting suggestion, for example, contained in a communication from Harry H. Stone, published in The Constitution today, recommending that the state do something for better road construction in the mountain counties of the state, where road building is expensive, and where road money is scarce.

The development work suggested by Mr. Stone is an important and valuable one. Road building in the mountain section is sadly behindhand for the two reasons stated, it would be well if something could be done to stimulate and help it along. It is a question, however, as to whether the legislature would have the authority to expend state funds, collected from the entire state, in a particular section or set of counties, regardless of how great may be the need for it.

And possibly this could not be done better than through a state highway commission with authority to extend expert aid and assistance to those counties where it is most needed. The important thing is that the state make some substantial and effective use of this money which, in the aggregate, can accomplish a great good; while doled out in dribbles it will be frittered away almost uselessly and without definite achievement.

"EMOTIONAL VEGETATION." Some time since The Constitution published a short story, entitled "The Snake Geranium," from the pen of an imaginative contributor who had endowed the plant with the qualities of love and hate, a demonstration of the gentler passion being found in the mysterious disappearance of two beautiful children, who died in its embrace!

In view of recent discoveries of scientific investigators that certain vegetation is emotional, that there are plants that love and hate, the story was not such a wild one, after all. Professor Henry G. Walters, of a plant research bureau, is quoted in a Philadelphia dispatch to The New York Sun as having discovered emotional plants—with affections and hatreds.

The professor says that the blue rocket perfume carries one of the deadliest of poisons—"One-sixteenth of a grain shot from its poison pistol has proved fatal to a man. Give this plant the semi-muscular system possessed by the carnivorous plants and it would be more dangerous than the cholera."

And "there are plants with memories, that exercise all the emotions of love and enmity." There is work here for the genius of a Luther Burbank, to tame the stormy tempers of these apparently innocent enemies of animal life. Much may be hoped for from the discoverer of their dread attributes. In the meantime they should not be allowed to "run wild"—especially in the picnic season!

JUST GEORGIA By Frank L. Stanton The Winner in the Race. When a feller hits the highway with the mornin' in his face It's then he feels the spirit that a winner in the race.

An' he don't mind the rocky road o' Jordan! He feels the spirit move him, an' he knows he's got a home. Thunder don't stop him when it's beatin' of its drum. For the winners there before him rise an' holler to him "Come!" An' he don't mind the rocky road o' Jordan!

The Roadside Philosopher. Dunno whether the world is gettin' better or not. Fact is, I'm afraid to ask myself that question. Some folks don't believe in a personal devil, and yet many a man sits up all night in company with his conscience.

A statesman who is perfectly candid with the people may hold office a long time, in spite of that rare quality. Even when folks take the world as they find it, they are still of the opinion that they never find enough to reward their energies.

The Friendly Providence. Providence runs the weather. An' it's runnin' it right. Even when the sun's a-blastin'. Or a Noah-flood's in sight. An' it ain't for me to tell it. How the weather will done, run. Be thankful when the rain falls. An' I praise God for the Sun.

So, Start the Music! It isn't far to prospects fair— On joy we're often chance! It isn't such a world of care With so much room for dancin'!

That's the Question! "Why doesn't the government settle the big issues that confront the people and let the insignificant moonshine stifle alone?" asks the Mountain Patriot.

Poetically Stated, Anyway. "I'm not a writer of any hymns to 'Old Glory' says the poetical spokesman of The Whitsett Courier. 'The fact is, the old flag's a poem in itself, and the red stripes ripple music!'"

EARLY MORNING. When the eastern sky is shining with the first bright tints of day, sleepers on their beds reclining, throw the best of life away. He is but a horrid warning who will sleep an' dream and snore, when the birds of early mornin' sing a twitter at his door. I am old and bent and bustled and by day I feel my years, and at night I'm so disgusted I could shed all kinds of tears, but when comes the wondrous breaking of a new and perfect dawn, I forget my his and aching, all my weight of age seems gone.

ROBERT F. MADDOX TO ATTEND LATIN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE. Robert F. Maddox, vice president of the American National bank and vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, has accepted an invitation from Hon. W. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, to attend the conference between the secretary of the treasury and the delegates representing eighteen of the Latin-American republics, which will be held in the Hall of the Americas of the Pan-American building in Washington, May 24.

The Holland Letter. From Nathaniel Curry, who is president of the Canadian Car and Foundry company, he comes the first authorized statement respecting a very large order for material of war which has been received on this side of the Atlantic from one of the belligerent nations.

Some Great Purchases. When the great electric works at Pittsburgh were at a large salary, one of the ablest of American salesmen and one who is an expert in the manufacture of machinery, which is used for making rifles, the presumption is strong that the Pittsburgh corporation will have already received or is about to receive large war orders.

The Friendly Providence. Providence runs the weather. An' it's runnin' it right. Even when the sun's a-blastin'. Or a Noah-flood's in sight. An' it ain't for me to tell it. How the weather will done, run. Be thankful when the rain falls. An' I praise God for the Sun.

part of the week during which the meeting will be held to separate conferences between the delegates of each of the eighteen Central and South American nations and representatives of the United States. There also will be some general meetings to discuss questions of common interest to all the American republics. These questions will be stated in the present financial needs in national, state and local governments, nature and character of public loans, how secured, rates of interest thereon, where such loans have heretofore been placed, and the prices at which they have been sold, possibility of placing such loans in the United States, effect of the European war on public revenues and expenditures, relation of decline of public revenues to guarantees of payment of interest and principal.

Editor Constitution. Your editorial of Saturday, May 15, suggesting that something should be done to stimulate and help it along, is most encouraging that the people of this state are so interested in the question of highway construction. South and middle Georgia are building many good roads, and with their tremendous and growing facilities will continue to build them, whether they be a state highway commission or not.

Teachers in public and high schools, academies and colleges will recommend their pupils to read this page every week because it will give them in a concrete, easy-to-understand form the history of their country.

There has never been a time when it has been more important for every citizen to be familiar with the history of our country, and with our position and rights both as a nation and in relation to other nations.

Every Sunday IN THE Atlanta Constitution Our Country By Our President An Intensely Absorbing Story of the History of the United States Why You Should Read This Series

It makes clear and comprehensive much that is vague or entirely incomprehensible in our present relations to and attitude toward the warring European nations.

It gives the origin and history of the Monroe doctrine, how it may be interpreted; our rights on sea and land; what really led up to the war of 1812 with England; the stopping and searching of our ships at that time; the position we took then and how it compares with our position today.

The younger members of the family will find this history invaluable as an aid to them in their school and college studies. They will read it as they would a story, and look out for it each Sunday.

SAYS ROAN BELIEVED IN FRANK'S INNOCENCE

Letter to Prison Commission by Judge Powell—Texas Solons Ask Commutation.

The third state legislative body to take action in behalf of Leo M. Frank in the widespread movement to secure his commutation, is the legislature of Texas, in which was introduced Friday a resolution signed by a large majority of representatives making a plea upon Georgia authorities for leniency.

Another development in the Frank case Friday was the receipt by Governor Slaton and the prison commission of a letter from Judge Arthur Powell asserting that the late Judge L. S. Roan, presiding justice over the Frank case, had believed Frank to be innocent.

The Texas resolution was signed by seventy-one members, and was introduced in the lower house. It went over until Saturday, when it will be decided upon.

Judge Powell's Letter.

Atlanta, Ga., May 19, 1915.

To the Prison Commission of Georgia and to Hon. John M. Slaton, Governor, Atlanta, Ga.

In re Leo M. Frank.

I feel it proper to make this statement if I was an intimate friend of Judge Roan. If he were living I would not attempt to speak for him. Since his mouth is closed by death, I feel that it is due to him and to the fact that I should give you the benefit of what I know of how he felt as to the defendant's guilt.

Frequently during the trial he advised me, sending for me often to come to the court in case he had any questions. The substance of what he said to me was that he believed the defendant to be guilty. He expressed this opinion in substance to me at varying intervals during the trial.

At the close of the trial I prepared portions of his charge to the jury. I mention this fact to show that I had opportunity of intimate knowledge of the state of his mind.

Judge Not Himself He Says

Why, from these views, he did not grant the new trial, which from his conversation with me, I fully expected him to do, I do not know, and cannot explain. I have known Judge Roan for a number of years, and I can say he was an honest, upright man, and that he was not influenced by the trial and afterwards.

Furthermore, I wish to say that I was present in court on several of the times during the trial and kept up tolerably well with the evidence. I had the interest of it as a citizen of the state as my partner, Mr. Hooper, was the prosecuting attorney. What I saw of the trial convinced me that the defendant was innocent. To any critical mind there must be grave doubts of his guilt. As a citizen of the state let me say that I hope he will be pardoned or that his sentence will be commuted.

I can say further that I have recently been in various parts of south Georgia and practically unanimous the sentiment there against his being hanged. I think there was considerable feeling against him in that section at the time of the trial.

Respectfully,
A. G. POWELL.

JAILER'S WIFE HOLDS PRISONER WITH PISTOL

Nashville, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—Willie Cox and Ben Mitchell two white men who were lodged behind the bars here some time ago on a charge of stealing clothes last night picked a hole in the wall of the jail upstairs and climbed out on the kitchen, from where they jumped to the ground. Mitchell made his escape, but Mitchell stumbled and broke a hole in his foot. Mrs. C. V. Durso, the jailer's wife, hearing the commotion got her pistol and ran to the scene of action. She fired at Cox but the bullet went wide of him. Then she ran out of the house and pointed her pistol at Mitchell, who had crawled underneath the kitchen holding him until her husband could come. Mitchell searched until a late hour last night for Cox, but as yet have no clue to his whereabouts.

CHARITY FLOAT WINS IN HAZLEHURST PARADE

Hazlehurst, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—The Hazlehurst attractions at Hazlehurst this week are proving very attractive and are being largely attended. This morning one of the largest parades ever seen in this section was put on by Hazlehurst citizens and business houses. The most attractive float was that of the charity ward of Hall's sanitarium, fixed up by the Ladies Auxiliary club, and the next best was that of G. L. Hinson. Every display of the merchants and business men spoke well for the city.

MAN STRUCK ON HEAD WITH PICK MAY DIE

Mineral Bluff, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—While working on the public road two miles north of Mineral Bluff this morning a man named Johnson was struck on the head with a pick by Bud Curtis and was brought in a passing automobile to Dr. Jones' office in a unconscious condition his skull being badly fractured. It is thought the wound will prove fatal. It is suggested that bad feelings have existed between the Johnson and Curtis for a long while. Both men are prominent in their community.

WALTER ANDREWS EXPLAINS REMARKS BEFORE AD CLUB

Walter P. Andrews, legislator-elect, who addressed the Ad Men's club at the regular banquet in the Hotel Analey Thursday afternoon, said in a statement to the press that a statement deploring the fact that reporters had neglected to refer to the vital theme.

As a more incidental remark, introductory to his speech, he writes, "I expressed the hope that the next general assembly would not fritter away its time, as some of them had been doing for the past eight years, on such questions as the beam and locker clubs. I then remarked that we had a sweeping, state-wide prohibition law, which is as well, if not better executed in Georgia than our laws against larceny, robbery, burglary and murder."

I then expressed the opinion that there should be a somewhat greater degree of liberality in matters of that kind in such large municipal centers as Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta and Macon than in rural counties with small populations. I then said that I thought that Georgia had been going through a period of long depression, thousands of her best men had been idle, their families suffered, and I greatly hoped the next general assembly would devote itself entirely to constructive legislation.

I named, among other important matters, the Western and Atlantic re-leasing question, the improvement of country life, the betterment of schools, the necessity of establishing a state highway commission, and the value of enacting business laws on a sound and broad basis so that the outside world would be convinced that Georgia is a sane and safe place for the promotion of new industries.

MONEY RECEIVED TO CARRY MASCOT TO GRAY REUNION

A story in The Constitution Friday morning resulted in the receipt of money enough to carry Ed Davis, the mascot and drummer to the reunion in Richmond. The money, $11.25 was sent by a person whose name was withheld because of modesty. The following letter has been received from W. P. Archer, adjutant of the Joseph Brown camp, United Confederate Veterans.

In behalf of the Joe Brown camp of old veterans accept my thanks for your aid in this training. I hope your great paper asking help to carry old Ed Davis, our mascot and drummer to the reunion at Richmond. The ink had scarcely dried when I received a check from one person for the full amount, and I told men a transportation. We don't want any more money for this purpose and please tell our friends to give it to the orphans' tours.

(Signed) W. P. ARCHER, Adjutant.

EGGS CAUSE SUIT; $2,000 IN DAMAGES ORDERED BY JURY

The proximity of a slice of broiled ham or bacon to a dish of fried or shipwrecked eggs on your breakfast table is entirely up to your individual taste but the relation of a car of eggs in storage to a mass of meat and vegetables is a matter to be decided by the Fulton county courts.

This latter question came up before Judge Bell when a suit was filed by the Atlantic Ice and Coal company against the Swift Packing company for deterring the latter from selling to the company a car of eggs. The suit was met by a counter suit of the Swift company alleging damages to the extent of $5,000, in that the eggs had deteriorated in value because of their proximity while in storage to cases of meat and vegetables.

Following three weeks of trial the jury went out Friday morning at 10 o'clock. During the afternoon a verdict was returned in favor of the Swift company with an award of $2,000 damages.

DIGGSBY SAVES GAME, BUT IS BADLY HURT, HITTING WIRE FENCE

Cases of historic baseball reputes deserves to more renown than an East Point lad by the name of Henry Diggswby, who was a patient at Grady hospital yesterday, injured as a result of risking his life to snag a long drive when the bases were full.

Diggswby, center fielder of the Orleaners, was playing in a game against the Hapeville Sluggers Friday morning at East Point.

The Orleaners were one run ahead when the end of the first half of the crucial ninth came. The sluggers by the second out, had three men on bases. The batter lined out a long one to Diggswby's garden. The base runners romped homeward.

With a loved hand outstretched, Diggswby, after a long run backwards, leaped high into the air, stabbing the drive and saving the game.

A second later his cries for help disclosed to his companions that he had run and saved the game. He was carried out a deep gash across his eyelid and cut his face and body severely. A Grady ambulance called, and Diggswby, who had a very happy and historic feat, was removed to Grady.

MACON CHIEF IS URGED TO CLOSE UP DISTRICT

Ministerial Association Demands Enforcement of Section 1082 of City Code.

Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—In a communication to Chief of Police Riley this morning, a committee representing the Macon Ministerial association called on the chief to abolish the restricted district of the city known as Tykes, pointing to section 1082 of the city code. The ministers also called attention to a recent letter which the civil service commissioners wrote to the chief asking him to enforce section 1082.

Chief Riley was in consultation with the city attorney today relative to the legal aspects of the case, and announced that he will be governed by the civil service commission, the mayor and city attorney.

The position has been taken that under the section of the city code referred to, the police cannot close up the district because the section of the code itself is unconstitutional or has been held so by many well-known attorneys.

The code provides that "upon complaint lodged and proof furnished to council of the existence of maintenance on any house of ill fame or bawdy house, it shall be the duty of the mayor to give the occupants five days' notice to leave the city, and in case of their failing to do so by the expiration of that time, he shall require the chief of police and officers to forcibly eject them from the premises and summon a sufficient number of citizens to assist the officers in doing same."

To Decide on "Bine Law."—Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—Judge Mathews, in the Bibb superior court, will decide on May 23 whether or not Macon is in violation of the law on Sundays. T. J. Clamar, proprietor of a second street ice cream parlor, today secured a temporary injunction to prevent the police from arresting him next Sunday for operating his business in violation of the city ordinance.

Clamar claims that the police were discriminatory in ordering him to close, while they permit stores to continue to sell ice cream and soft drinks. He claims there is no law on Macon which makes it his duty to stop doing business on Sunday.

If Judge Mathews decides against Clamar it will have the effect of closing up all places of business in Macon on Sunday with the exception of drug stores and eating houses.

Try Woman as Tiger.—Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—Mrs. C. E. Lucas, a woman, was placed on trial in the recorder's court this morning on a charge of running a blind tiger, but because of the large number of witnesses the case was not completed and went over until tomorrow.

The case was made last Sunday against Mrs. Lucas following a raid on her house by the state police. At the time of the raid four young men were seated around a table drinking beer but they escaped before the police could summons them to court.

Mrs. Lucas testified this morning that the whisky business is done by eleven men who were preparing to go on a fishing trip and had been left at her house by several of the members of the alleged fishing party were named and will be called to testify.

Moonshiner Re-arrested.—Macon, Ga., May 21.—(Special)—Just after 11 o'clock, Williams, the notorious middle Georgia moonshiner, had given bond in the United States district court this morning on a charge of distilling. He was re-arrested by Deputy Marshal F. L. Riley on a second charge of this character, the alleged offense being committed in Hancock county. Bill was sent to jail until he could arrange to make the second bond. Williams has served a couple of terms for "moonshining" but is said by the raiding officers to be one of the hardest in the business to catch.

HUSBAND IS FREED BY THE GRAND JURY; RIVAL GOES TO JAIL

J. J. Nash, the husband who shot and severely wounded Dr. E. M. Brunson, the young medical student whom he encountered with his wife on the night of the shooting, Mrs. Nash and streets, was acquitted by the grand jury Friday, while Mrs. Nash's companion was indicted under the charge of assault and attempt to murder.

When the true bill was returned against Brunson, he is in a serious condition at the Grady hospital. Brunson's bond was put at $1,000, and he will be tried at the next session of the superior criminal court.

The husband accused the young student of illicit relations with Mrs. Nash because of his picture that had been found in Mrs. Nash's trunk. On the night of the shooting, Mrs. Nash and Brunson encountered the husband. Testimony before the grand jury was to the effect that the youth, the moment he perceived the husband, lunged behind his companion and, clapping an arm around her waist, threw her body into his pocket he drew a pistol (ring at Nash returned the fire. Both men were wounded. Brunson was so severely injured that he was carried to the Grady hospital and, at one time, was expected to die.

FEARED THAT SHERIFF MIGHT DISREGARD WRIT

Least the sheriff of Washington county might misunderstand or disregard the power of a supercedas issued by Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court, at Macon, to stay sentence, Attorney John R. Cooper, representing Robert Kitchens, indicted and sentenced to be hanged Friday, called at the office of Governor Slaton on Thursday afternoon and asked a respite. The governor declined to grant it on the ground that the supercedas of Judge Speer took the case out of jurisdiction and that the state but he instructed Attorney General Warren Grice to telephone the Washington county sheriff the status of the case.

The supercedas was granted to allow Attorney Cooper to appeal his case to the United States supreme court. Kitchens was convicted of the murder of a white man, and had already been denied executive clemency by the governor. He is now in jail at Sandersville.

FOR ARBITRATION WITH WORLD AT WAR

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 21.—President Wilson's stand in the international crisis was approved by the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration tonight at the conclusion of its twenty-first annual meeting. The conference platform declared:

"We express our gratitude to the president of the United States for steadfastly maintaining the neutrality of our government and for asserting, with firmness, clarity and restraint, the rights of our people as citizens of a neutral nation."

The platform, as prepared by the platform committee, did not mention the subject of greater preparation for national defense, urged on the conference by Secretary of War Garrison D. Frazier, Major General Leonard Wood and Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, retired. Members of this committee were Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University; Dr. Elmer Blawie Brown, chancellor of New York University; Professor John B. Clark, of Columbia University; Senator Henri LaFontaine, of Belgium; Andrew B. Humphrey of New York, executive director of the American Peace Union; and former Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, and Lucius M. Cuthbert, a Denver business man.

Platform Urges Arbitration.

After long deliberation the committee drafted a platform which, in addition to the paragraph for approving the action of President Wilson, contained this:

"The Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration, although meeting in a time of the most serious international crisis, is proud to have endeavored to discourage the hopes entertained by many as to the maintenance of general peace, particularly among the larger and more powerful nations of the world, reaffirms its faith in the American Peace Union, and its endorsement of which the conference was founded. The present war daily furnishes convincing proof of the superiority of those methods over the resort to violence.

"We invite the thoughtful attention of all peoples and nations to the substitute for war to a consideration of the following proposals as a basis for joint action by any two or more powers, to be binding on the signers:

"1. All justiciable questions arising between the signatory powers not settled by negotiation, shall be submitted to a judicial tribunal for hearing and judgment, both upon the merits upon the case and upon any question of jurisdiction.

"2. All non-justiciable questions arising between the signatories and not settled by negotiation shall be submitted to a council of inquiry and recommendation for hearing, consideration and recommendation.

"3. Conferences between the signatory powers shall be held from time to time and formulate and codify rules of international law, which shall govern in the decisions of the judicial tribunal mentioned in the first proposal.

"The prize given by Chester DeWitt Pughley, of New York, for the best essay on the subject of international arbitration, written by an American college student, was presented tonight to Robert Brown, of the University of Arkansas.

Germany Forgets Force of Omnipotence.

Addresses were made by the Rev. Frederick Lynch, of New York, secretary of the Church Peace Union, founded by Andrew Carnegie; Mary H. Wood, president of the American League, and Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of Baltimore college.

"While there have been many surprises in the course of this struggle," said Dr. Mitchell, "the chief surprise has been the failure of Germany to calculate the force of conscience in human affairs. The treaties and armistices were crushed like an egg shell, international law fell like a card house. But there has emerged amid the wreckage the efficacy of conscience as never before. Public opinion in America has been wooed by the warring nations as a mistress and a lover. The moral agreement of Americans may prove to have more weight than armies and navies in deciding the fate of the world. It is a great and inspiring task that is presented to the educational forces of the world, the task of leading in the understanding of other nations and races, replacing fear and suspicion and

CHIEF BEAVERS FIRM FOR PRESENT POLICY

"I Will Not Budge From Path of What I Consider Right," He Asserts.

Despite the alleged switching of two of the police commissioners who have been rated as friends of Chief Beavers to the anti-Beavers administration, Police Chief James L. Beavers said last night that he "remained firm in his own righteousness."

"I will not budge one iota from the path of what I consider to be right and my duty," declared Chief Beavers, "not for all of the opposition I may encounter."

"I know there are elements who are seeking to oust me from office, but I think it is cowardly of any one to line up with this class, who seek only to reopen the tenderloin and fight to put me out of office."

Reports were current Friday that the police board's probe committee was preparing to recommend that Chief Beavers be removed from office, and a stronger man substituted, in order to place the disciplinary control of the department on a better footing, or, to recommend that the lines be drawn so tightly around Beavers that the chief would find himself hemmed in on all sides.

There have been in tighter places than even this, and I have never flinched," declared the chief. "The whole bunch that changes the police department and myself with inefficiency cannot cause me worry. I remain firm in what I believe to be right. It is a disgrace for a clique of citizens and politicians to attempt to indict its police department for inefficiency on no better grounds than a few petty larcenies and burglaries."

This Daring Burglar Drops Silk Chemise, But Retains Dresses

Mrs. T. E. Makrim and Mrs. J. Malone of 124 Courtland street, discovered a burglar in their house about 9 o'clock last night when Mrs. Makrim went into the hallway to answer the ring of the telephone.

Seeing Mrs. Makrim, the burglar quickly fled out of the front door, carrying with him two of the ladies' silk dresses, a diamond ring, Mrs. Makrim's silver mesh bag, containing a $35 New York draft, and a hand-embroidered silk chemise.

On the front veranda the burglar paused a moment and proceeded to sort out the articles he wished to flee with. He quickly dropped the hand-embroidered chemise, and escaped before Call Officers George Allen, Maddox and Lon W. Evans could arrive at the scene of the robbery.
