"Saw No Submarine, But Am Certain Torpedo Hit Us," Is Statement by Vessel's Commander.

WASHINGTON AWAIT'S REPORT FROM EXPERT

Naval Constructor McBride to Examine Ship to Decide Whether Mine or Submarine Did Damage.

JUDGE R. T. DANIEL DIES AT HIS POST

Head of American Odd Fellowship Stricken at Close of Address to Grand Lodge in Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—Just as he closed an eloquent address to fifteen hundred Odd Fellows attending the grand lodge here, Judge Robert T. Daniel, sovereign grand sire of the order in America, was stricken with apoplexy on the platform and died early tonight without regaining consciousness.

He was attended immediately by Dr. L. B. Clarke, of Atlanta, who is attending the sessions, and, with the aid of Past Grand Masters J. F. Dozier, John W. Bennett and W. Coleman, was hurried to the Lee Grant hotel in an ambulance.

His death cast a gloom over the grand lodge proceedings and the news rapidly spread over Fitzgerald. The fifteen hundred delegates attending the grand lodge are leading the city greatly affected by the death of the leader of American Odd Fellowship.

Judge Daniel was inaugurated grand sire of the sovereign grand lodge last session in Atlantic City, and had since traveled over Canada and the United States, visiting various grand jurisdictions, and had been received everywhere as possibly the most popular and brilliant grand sire who was ever in all America, and its two and a half million members will receive the news of his tragic end with a profound sense of grief and loss.

Harwell Issues Proclamation. The following proclamation has been issued by Judge Frank Harwell, of LaGrange, grand master of Georgia Odd Fellows: "Whereas, our distinguished and beloved brother, Hon. Robert T. Daniel,

WARM WELCOME GIVEN TOURISTS ON RETURN HOME

Party of Atlantans Motor Through the Country to Meet Members of the "Seeing Georgia" Tour.

DESPITE BAD WEATHER, CARS MAKE FINE RECORD

Tourists Are Given Greeting by Mayor Woodward at the Majestic—Stoddard Receives Loving Cup.

With a cold rain but a warm welcome the tourists of the "Seeing Georgia" tour of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce returned to Atlanta and checked out in front of the Majestic hotel yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, after a 700-mile run through south Georgia.

Although the last day and a half of the run, all the way from Montgomery, was made over muddy roads and much of the time in cold and blinding rain, all cars, except such as those whose owners were compelled on account of business to leave the tour earlier, made the trip successfully. There were thirty-six cars in the line when the tour pulled into Atlanta. These cars, despite the worst imaginable weather conditions for the latter half of the last day's run, were but thirty minutes behind schedule, a record, indeed, to be proud of.

Encoered Into City. The returning tourists Thursday afternoon were met at Hapeville by a dozen or so Atlanta cars, which escorted them into the city. As they came through Five Points and Peachtree street the automobiles made an impressive line, and all traffic was stopped to give the tourists' right of way. Pedestrians stopped in the hard rain to see the procession of machines, with horns tooting and occupants snapping pass by.

At the Majestic hotel, the tourists were the guests of J. Lee Barnes, manager, who was a member of the tour and who, with warm and enthusiasm added in a great way to the success of the event.

The tourists were welcomed to Atlanta at the Majestic by Mayor James G. Woodward, who thanked them for the remarkable success they had made of the tour. Mr. Barnes served a delightful buffet supper to the tourists on the veranda of the Majestic hotel. The weather had dampened the ardor and enthusiasm of the tourists not one bit, and everybody enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Barnes to the fullest.

After a fine supper, "Handsome Bill" Stoddard was presented with a beautiful silver loving cup by Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of the tourists, whom Mr. Stoddard conducted most ably and with such eminent success. His daughter, Miss Marie Stoddard, was standing by his side when he received the cup. Stoddard Honored.

When Mr. Haden started speaking, "Handsome Bill," with his famous unbroken voice, which has so often enthusiastically engaged in leading a song which had to do with the denial of the statement that Quitman, Griffin and other south Georgia cities "ain't got no water in all the wide world," by Mr. Haden brought a blush to Mr. Stoddard's cheek which would have done credit to any maiden, and he sought to make his escape from his admirers, but they would have nothing of the kind.

Mr. Haden expressed the sincere appreciation of the tourists for the manner in which Mr. Stoddard conducted the tour, and presented him with the cup.

It was a brave attempt that Bill Stoddard made at a speech of appreciation. He was rushed up on the hotel desk by the tourists. He opened his mouth once or twice, shifted it from one side to the other in deep embarrassment, blushed a deep crimson and finally delivered his speech, as follows: "Fellow, I can't do it." And Bill got down from the desk. When vying with the likes of south Georgia wits, leading a song before a thousand people, selling a funny story to a crowd of school girls had not made "Handsome Bill" blinch, this one little token of real esteem from the heart out of the part of his fellow-tourist left him speechless. The body of an honor was given. But his embarrassment was an eloquent expression of his genuine appreciation of the memento. Other speeches were made at the Majestic by Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price, K. G. Matheson, president of Georgia Tech; J. Lee Barnes, Mr. Hayden and others, telling of the success of the tour.

Another British Battleship Is Destroyed by Submarine

War's Cloud Hangs Over Practically All Europe

With the entrance of Italy into the war, the black cloud which has partly covered Europe is now so extended that only the least important nations are not covered by it. They are the least in population as well as in area. They are Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece and Albania, which is in a turmoil. Rumania, particularly, and Bulgaria and Greece, in the minds of most diplomats, will be drawn in with Italy. The ships of Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark have been repeatedly attacked in violation of international law, as stated by President Wilson. So they have constant incentive to join. In fact, Spain is the single nation which seems to be without trouble. Portugal is just now in the throes of a revolution. The population of the allied nations at war is as follows: Great Britain, 45,000,000; France, 40,000,000; Italy, 35,000,000; Belgium, 8,000,000; Serbia, 4,500,000; Montenegro, 500,000; total, 137,500,000. The population of the three nations in the Germanic alliance are: Germany, 65,000,000; Austria-Hungary, 50,000,000; Turkey (Europe and Asia), 21,000,000; total, 136,000,000. Grand total at war, 409,500,000. Population of Europe, 452,000,000. People not in the war, 43,500,000. Portugal in revolution, 6,000,000. People at peace, 37,500,000.

MAJESTIC SINKS WHEN TORPEDOED IN DARDANELLES

Nearly All Officers and Men Were Saved—Ship Was Supporting Army on Gallipoli Peninsula.

STEAMER IS BLOWN UP IN SHEERNESS HARBOR

Accidental Explosion Costs Many Lives—British and Danish Steamers Are Sunk by Submarines.

London, May 27.—The British battleship Majestic, another of the ships supporting the allied army on the Gallipoli peninsula, was sunk by a German submarine today. Nearly all the officers and crew were saved.

At about the same time the steamer Princess Irene, built last year for the Canadian Pacific-British Columbia coast survey, and which was taken over by the admiralty at the commencement of the war, was destroyed by an accidental explosion while at anchor at Sheerness, where she was undergoing repairs. All her crew, numbering about 250, except one seaman and 78 dockyard workmen, aboard at the time, lost their lives.

SUBMARINE MENACE STEADILY GROWING.

The submarine menace is a growing one, both in the Aegean sea and home waters, and these vessels promise to take an active part in the operations in the narrow waters of the Adriatic, where, as in the Aegean, islands afford good shelter.

While the warships are able to escape submarines in the waters around the British Isles, the increase in their numbers makes the carrying on of seaborne trade more and more hazardous. The admiralty still believes that the American steamer Nebraska, now on her way to Liverpool, was torpedoed. The British steamer Jorwenna, bound for Canada, and the Danish steamer Bettie have been sunk by submarines. Only a few days ago the commander of a submarine informed a Danish captain that he had no orders to sink Danish vessels.

TEUTONIC ALLIES SURROUND PRZEMYSL.

Amidst the activities on land and in the air, from the Dardanelles to the waters around the British Isles, middle Galicia remains the scene of the greatest and most important fighting. There the Germans continue to batter at the Russian lines northeast and southeast of Przemysl and, according to reports which have not been confirmed by official reports, the completion of which is being stubbornly opposed by the Russians. The Germans have forced another crossing of the San river, 11 miles Severe Shock First. "I was below at the time. There was a terrible shock which threw everybody aboard on their feet. Immediately afterwards came a tremendous explosion, which slightly injured two quartermasters and the boatswain, hurled the derricks 30 feet high and blew up the hatches.

The ship rapidly filled with water in the lower hold and commenced to settle. We thought the ship was lost, and got into our lifeboats. Two armed British vessels came up in reply to our distress signals.

As the vessel still floated we returned on board and made a more careful examination. We found the No. 2 bulkhead holding firm, and decided to remain aboard and try to bring the ship into Liverpool under her own steam, which we accomplished successfully.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTOR TO EXAMINE SHIP. Washington, May 27.—Ambassador Page at London cabled the state department tonight that Captain Greene, of the American steamer Nebraska, had given the naval attaché of the embassy a sworn statement at Liverpool concerning the explosion on his ship off the Irish coast Tuesday and that the attaché was returning to London.

Any official report, which accompanied to Liverpool by Naval Constructor L. B. McBride, who is expected to make an examination tomorrow with the hope of ascertaining definitely whether the Nebraska was damaged by mine or torpedo. The captain's affidavit will be forwarded to the state department as soon as Lieutenant Powers reaches London, but any decision as to action by the American government probably will be delayed until the constructor's report is received.

His body left Fitzgerald at 10:30 p. m. for Atlanta, over the A. B. & A. railway, and will be transferred to Griffin. The funeral car was filled with the grand lodge officers who accompanied the body as an honorary escort. The funeral will occur in his home city of Griffin next Sunday, May 30, and will be attended by friends in every walk of life from every section of the state.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Finance Committee of the Council Expects to Have $150,000 Instead of Facing Deficit of $49,000.

Facing the problem of housing 4,000 negro children who are unable to attend school for lack of rooms and the fact that fifty-five of the ninety negro teachers in Atlanta are forced to teach double sessions, the general council finance committee Thursday sought to add to the income side of the finance sheet.

At the close of Thursday's conference the committee had increased the anticipated revenue of the city $109,000 over disbursements. It was predicted that the increase would probably reach $150,000, which made the prospects look brighter for an increase in the public school appropriation.

Large Sums Added. The statistical report submitted to the finance committee originally showed a loss of $49,000, but by anticipating income from various city departments and denying certain petitions for appropriation in the June sheet, the committee was able to add several large sums to the income side of the sheet.

South End, England, May 27.—An other Zepplin raid was made upon this town last night. It is reported that three persons were killed by bombs.

Some reports say that two and others that three Zepplins took part in the raid. It is impossible to give a number of heavy clouds obscured the sky.

The noise of the propellers was first heard shortly before 11 o'clock. Then came at once the shock of explosions.

TO CREATE MARKET FOR U. S. BILLS OF EXCHANGE

Large Interests Back Plan to Facilitate Trade With Chile.

Washington, May 27.—A definite plan for creating a market for bills of exchange drawn on banks in the United States payable in dollars was presented today at the conference between business and financial representatives of the United States and the Chilean delegation attending the Pan-American financial conference.

It was said tonight that the Guggenheim copper interests, the Bethlehem steel company and the Dupont Powder company all of which have large interests in Chile are behind the plan, which would involve exchange aggregating some $20,000,000 a year.

Representatives of the United States in this conference group were told that Chile exacted an export duty on nitrate and had provided that ninety-day bills of exchange on London payable in pounds sterling should be practically legal tender in the payment of those duties and for other purposes.

The Chileans promised to urge their governments to take the steps necessary later. It was said the same proposal would be made to other South American countries where bills on London are legal tender.

Features of the conference today were a general session a luncheon given by Secretary McAdoo and a trip to Mount Vernon on the presidential yacht. Tomorrow there will be more group conferences and a general session at which the groups are expected to make reports.

It became apparent today that several of the South American nations intend to make a vigorous effort to have some concrete plan for improvement of their facilities submitted to the conference before adjournment Saturday.

Several countries have declared themselves for encouragement to ship builders either by direct or indirect subsidies. The Argentine delegation is anxious that at least the United States or through private capital take action to assure that the future will not see a repetition of conditions that arose in the shipping world after the European war began.

While some bankers are known to feel that American capital will not go into shipping enterprises at present or until it is assured of certain modifications in existing laws, it has become apparent that a serious effort to get private capital or government aid back of a ship company can be expected as a consequence of this conference.

one of two night schools for heroes. He said that such institutions would greatly reduce conditions among the school children of his race.

Alderman J. E. Arnold, head chairman of the school committee of council and member of the finance committee, announced that he would ask for $1,000 to be written into the budget for two night schools to be opened next year.

An appropriation of $4,000 was agreed upon by the committee to supply and equipment for the hospital. $2,000 was appropriated for the building now being erected at Riddle Hill Tuberculosis sanitarium in addition to $100 for provisions at the sanitarium.

Will Improve Drive. The committee placed on the sheet an appropriation of $100 for the improvement of the drives and walk at Piedmont park. It is stated that the committee would furnish its own men with the city's appropriation about $200 for the park. He stated he would make an effort to secure a federal appropriation for a monument at the park and by private subscription funds for still further improvements.

The committee included in the budget $500 for the Southwestern fire station on the city several months ago.

An appropriation of $700 was made for a fire ambulance to be used by the city health department. It will be a motor ambulance and will be used in the city and in the suburbs.

DR. MAYNARD GIVES LECTURE ON GEOLOGY

The history of Atlanta is revealed by the geology, Dr. Maynard gave the subject of a most interesting lecture by Dr. Paul Maynard at the University club last evening.

Dr. Maynard explained the general formations of which this region is composed and then he pointed for those present what the geological features in the city are. He said that the city is built on a geological formation which is a little over 100 million years old.

Dr. Maynard pointed out what was of volcanic origin and has been formed and is evidence sufficient to show that the city is built on a great extent of flow. It is to be seen there are many other stone mountain peaks in the city which have not been revealed by the erosion of over the years.

The lecture was the second of a series which is being given under the auspices of the University club for its members and friends.

"The Newport" Is the New Sports Coat $15

It has just come in with a note telling how "big" it is in New York. All of which is easily understandable. It is a distinctive affair—unlike anything that has been brought out this season.

Of silk jersey, it is as light and soft as down—it has, of course, no lining. It is pocketed and has a belt, or rather sash, since it ties. It comes in the high colors such as rose, Belgian blue and green—$15.00.

A Belted Corduroy Sports Coat $6.45

Came with yesterday's express and compares so favorably with those we have seen as higher priced coats that it deserves particular mention. In blue, green, tan, rose. Other corduroy coats with belts in back, across front, that go all around, are priced at $7.95 and upwards—those at $12.50 to $15.00 are silk-lined.

Woolen Skirts That Were Priced Up to $11.75 Are $7.45

Serges and poplins and gabardines, in navy and black—a few shepherd checks. All are models developed this season and so offer a fine choice—plaited variously, many in the yoke effect.

And large sizes a-plenty—we mean skirts that measure 31 to 36 inch waists.

This Bathing Corset

at $1.50 helps wonderfully. For the same reason that its construction and boning give support to the body and therefore help the swimmer, it also lends a grace of line that, in this day of smart bathing suits, is very desirable.

It is of a rubberized material and has hose supporters.

A Pink Batiste Corset $1.00

An ideal summer corset. Light in weight, easily boned it is of a dainty pink batiste that is very pretty. It is from a maker whom we have depended on for years for valuable corsets. Medium high bust with four hose supporters. All sizes.

GERMANS INDICTED FOR RUBBER FRAUD

Conspiracy to Ship Rubber From New York Through False Manifests Revealed by X-Ray Examination.

New York, May 27.—A conspiracy to defraud the United States through the filing of a false manifest on exports of rubber in order to conceal its contraband character is alleged in indictments issued by the federal grand jury today against Harry R. Salomon, his cousin, Albert Salomon, of the importing and exporting firm of Salomon Brothers, of this city; Albert E. Newman, a commission merchant; Franz Rozenberg, of Hanover, Germany, representative here of an Austrian rubber company, and Sigmund Karmann, of Budapest, Hungary, a rubber expert, who also is said to be in this city.

Violation of Neutrality.

The defendants are alleged, through the filing of the false manifest, to have caused the collector of the port to transport and to re-export to ports to Washington in violation of the federal criminal code.

This classed as technical violations of the customs laws, the defendants charged also are considered by federal officials to be violations of American neutrality.

According to information given out by Assistant District Attorney Wood, Harry Salomon was abroad when the war broke out, and being a German army recruit, answered the call to the colors. In the course of a few months, it is stated, he made a lieutenant so as to organize the rubber contraband conspiracy. According to Mr. Wood, he was a first lieutenant and came to this country, where he established a rubber smelting plant in Georgia, and in the meantime, it is stated, was well supplied with money.

X-Ray Discloses Rubber.

On February 15 an examination made with an X-ray apparatus disclosed that the cloudy matter in 175 barrels of cotton was rubber. The defendant on the White Star dock here, was hidden rubber. This contraband was hidden by a man for whom Newman, but its ultimate destination probably was Germany. The waste shipment was held up here and the Italian and Carpathian were warned to search the Carpathian's cargo of rosin. This led to the discovery of the contraband rubber hidden in the barrels of rosin.

X-rayed at the suggestion of British Consul General Bennett, each bale of cotton was found to contain 250 pounds of rubber.

Salomon Brothers & Co. is regarded as one of the biggest importing and exporting houses in the country.

Fraud Ignorance of Law.

Counsel for the defendants, in a statement issued late today, said: "Franz Rozenberg, a merchant of Hanover, Germany, came to this country for the purpose of purchasing rubber for certain rubber concerns in the United States and was accompanied by the rubber concerns, accompanied him for the purpose of passing on the quality of the rubber. Newman was employed by them to do bids and ends.

"In shipping the rubber in the manner they did, they did so for the purpose of evading the customs and had not in view a violation of any statute. They did not know that there was a statute on the books which compelled them to give a proper description in the manifest of the shipment. If they failed to comply with the law in having given an improper description in the manifest, they were entirely ignorant of such violation.

"The crime of conspiracy can only be proved if the parties are shown to have intended to violate the statute. We do not believe that this intention can be shown in view of the fact that it never existed.

Albert and Harry Salomon declared in a statement that they had been found with great surprise of the indictment by the grand jury. They said they were informed that they had been indicted for violating a highly technical statute.

"We feel ourselves entirely blameless in the matter, the statement they said and are not conscious of having committed any wrong whatever."

Threat of Suicide Gives Man Salary And Very Easy Job

Atlanta Pays C. H. Stafford $10 Weekly to Keep Him From Killing Self, Finance Committee Is Told.

Drawing a monthly salary from the city of Atlanta merely for staying alive is the unique distinction of C. H. Stafford, formerly proprietor of a paint shop here.

"Atlanta pays him $10 a week to keep him from committing suicide," was the report made to the financial finance committee Thursday when they made up the June sheet.

Stafford, it is said, has for several years claimed that the world owed him a living and he refused to work. Stricken ill nearly five years ago he was taken to the city's detention hospital and on recovery he refused to move out.

Threatened with being turned out of the street, Stafford declared he would take his life if that course was taken. The city health authorities were in a dilemma. He was unable to earn, he would not work and he suffered from no disease that warranted his being kept on the sick list.

One of the officials hit upon a plan. Stafford was listed as a painter at the hospital and an appropriation of $10 per week was made for him.

When members of the finance committee heard of this arrangement they objected, and when told that it might mean murder if the appropriation was denied, they tentatively agreed to one dollar per day for the "valuable citizen."

of Griffin, sovereign grand sire of the International Order of Odd Fellows, was suddenly stricken with paralysis and died Thursday afternoon, May 27, in his home at 1100 Peachtree street, the zenith of his great usefulness and vital work for his fraternity, and irreplaceable loss to the order universal, especially to the Odd Fellows of his home state. J. Frank Harwell, grand master of the grand jurisdiction of Georgia, hereby issues this my official proclamation calling on all members to wear their appropriate insignia of rank, and all lodges to display their charters for thirty days, and urgently request that all grand lodge officers attend the funeral in the city of Griffin, Ga., on Sunday, May 30.

(Given under my official seal, (Signed) "FRANK" Grand Master.

"Attest," "T. H. Robertson, Grand Secretary."

Atlanta mourns his death.

Ordinary Thomas H. Jeffries, of Fulton county, lifelong friend of Judge Robert T. Daniel and a college mate at the University of Georgia, was one of the first in Atlanta to receive a message announcing his death.

"One of my best friends has been taken from me," said Judge Jeffries, "and the state and nation has lost one of its noblest and ablest men. Too much praise cannot be said of Judge Daniel, both as a man and a citizen. He was a true patriot, even hundreds of thousands throughout the country will mourn his death."

Judge Daniel was 57 years of age. He had resided in Griffin practically all of his life and practiced law there for many years. He was a member of the Red Men of Georgia, and was taken to Griffin to attend the funeral services.

The body of Judge Daniel will be brought to Atlanta this morning over the A. E. & A. railroad, reaching here at 6:10 o'clock. It will be deposited in "Robertson's chapel" and will later be taken to Griffin, where the funeral and interment will take place Sunday.

HOURS ARE CHANGED AT FEDERAL PRISON BY WARDEN ZERBST

Because of the great interest the public shows in the Atlanta federal prison, Warden Fred G. Zerbst has found it advisable to increase the number of visiting hours for the public.

He has made the following announcement of visiting hours for the public: "Beginning June 1, 1915, visitors will be shown through this penitentiary at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of each day, except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Visitors must be identified before admittance, either by personal acquaintance or by satisfactory reference."

MEMORIAL PILLARS WILL BE DEDICATED AT INCURABLES' HOME

The newly erected memorial pillars presented to the Home for Incurables by Mrs. S. Y. Tupper will be formally dedicated with appropriate exercises this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA RAILWAY CHANGE SCHEDULE

DORSEY'S COURSE STILL UNDECIDED

Solicitor Has Not Yet Announced Whether He Will Appear Before Prison Commission in Frank Hearing.

Committee Confronts Atlanta.

Chicago, May 27.—Representatives of Leo M. Frank committee and the Anti-Capital Punishment society today appointed a committee to wait upon the governor of Georgia in the interest of clemency for Frank, sentenced to death here.

On the committee are Judge John M. O'Connor, chief justice of the criminal court; Rev. Johnstone Meyers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, and Mrs. Mary Blany Fisher, representing women's organizations with a membership of 200,000. The committee will leave tomorrow night.

It all depends upon the attitude of the prison commission toward his reply to the appeal for commutation, and the attitude of the governor for the doomed man, whether or not Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey will appear before the board to combat the move to give Leo Frank life imprisonment instead of death.

Dorsey himself is non-committal, except to say that he is undecided. It is understood that if the prison board gives his written reply to the Frank appeal full and thorough consideration, and if the attorneys for Frank do not attempt to impugn the motives and efforts of the prosecution, Dorsey will not actively oppose the commutation plea.

Among those who joined the widespread plea for commutation Thursday were Judge Spencer B. Atkinson, former justice of the Georgia supreme court, and a member of the state legislature, and Judge E. C. Kozitz, prominent Atlantian. Judge A. L. Miller, former justice of the superior court of Macon, has also written Governor Stanton and the prison board.

A strong delegation will come from Savannah on Monday to appeal to the prison board when it takes up the Frank hearing. It will be headed by Samuel B. Adams, former justice of the state supreme court; A. Lawrence, state senator-elect, and T. Mayhew Cunningham, a prominent jurist.

Twenty thousand petitions signed by men and women in all phases of life have been mailed to Mr. Frank from citizens pleading for commutation from the governor. The signatures were obtained at the instigation of the Anti-Capital Punishment society.

Although he has not compiled a list of names, Frank has been informed daily of the numbers of men of judicial affairs who have sent appeals for his commutation. He manifests renewed hope, and is cheerful.

WARM WELCOME GIVEN TOURISTS

At the Majestic Thursday afternoon everyone was waving.

"The next time the tour is held count me in."

Hospitality Received.

Many of the tourists heartily discovered south Georgia on this trip. They saw wonders in agricultural and other industries which they had never before believed existed. That thing of beauty and joy forever, the Georgia peach, contributed to the pleasure of the trip. The hospitality of south Georgia was tremendous. The towns visited by the tourists were cordially thrown open to them, and everything there was absolutely forced upon them.

An example of the manner in which south Georgia opened to the tourists the invitation of Jackson to the tourists arrived in Griffin Thursday at lunch time, a rumormonger from Jackson was waiting for them.

"Our women folks have been cooking for the last three days for the tourists," said Mrs. Jackson, "and we just took a chance on getting you to come by, and see us."

The invitation was put to a vote of the tourists, and although Jackson was many miles out of the way, the vote to go to Jackson was unanimous. Unfortunately the road from Griffin to Jackson has much red clay and is very lumpy and the tourists were compelled to leave Griffin and they were then in such condition that it was out of the question to attempt the trip to Jackson. The tourists sent their regrets to the citizens of Jackson by long distance telephone.

Near Accident.

The nearest approach to a serious accident of the entire tour, Thursday noon just when the tourists were arriving in Griffin. As the pace-maker's car rounded a street corner, driver Herbert Montgomery, the little son of H. B. Montgomery, of Griffin, slipped away from his mother's hand and stepped from the curb directly in front of the car. The little fellow was knocked down and rolled between the front wheels. Fortunately the driver quickly applied his brakes and stopped the car instantly.

Mr. Stoddard knocked the little fellow up and asked him if he was hurt.

"I want my mummy," said the little chap.

Mr. Stoddard found the little chap's mother for him, and when his tears were dried, Mrs. Montgomery was demanded to be shown the rest of the parade.

He not only saw the procession, but he rode at the head of it through Griffin in Pace-maker Stoddard's car, and had a bully time of it.

Here In Lou Castro.

In Griffin many Atlantians were greeted by their old friend, Lou Castro, who played host to them in Griffin at the Griffin hotel, of which he is now proprietor.

The refreshments which he served the tourists were characterized by that the judgment which Lou always displays in such matters, and as you must know, always includes certain liquid details.

The tourists left Macon Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock on the last leg of the tour, and were escorted out of the city by many friends.

The tourists were met at the edge of Pike county by a score of automobiles from Barnesville. The tourists were taken over the city of Barnesville and were given every opportunity to see the city of Barnesville, the Georgia Agricultural school. Refreshments were afterwards served at the public square.

Escorted to Griffin.

Nearly a score of machines, headed by an automobile in which was Mayor J. Henry Smith, came over from Griffin and met the tourists at the city and escorted them to Griffin. They were escorted through the streets to the city of Barnesville, where the Woodmen's brass band, Sam Pegram was the head of the committee which met the tourists at Barnesville and refreshments of the visitors at the public square.

and he and his committee showed a capability that was gratifying in every particular.

After the tourists had had to forego their trips to Jackson and McDonough they waited in Griffin until the rain greatly bettered, but matters were not greatly improved, for the roads were muddy and slippery practically all the way from Griffin to Atlanta. Intermittent showers fell, and a cold, wet wind was blowing. It was rough going all the way, but all cars stood up well.

At Seaside the tourists were met by about thirty cars from Forsyth, which formidable escort accompanied them to Forsyth. This long procession of cars wound through the beautiful grounds of Besiege Tilt college. At the courthouse square pretty girls served lemonade, while a chorus of Bessie Tilt girls sang songs for the visitors. The refreshments were prepared by Ordinary George Newton, of Monroe county, and were attractive enough, but when he brought that host of pretty girls down to meet the travelers, he scored a ten strike.

From Forsyth to Atlanta the tourists made but brief and only necessary stops. The roads for the rest of the way to Atlanta were for a good part of the way dry. Much work is being done on the roads, and recent work had left the roads rough in some places. The rain caught the tourists again just outside Atlanta.

Gives Umbrella Lecture.

Everywhere Bill Stoddard delivered his famous umbrella lecture with great success.

The presence of the pace-maker was always distinguishedly even in the largest crowds, by the remarkable white umbrella which he at all times carried. This long procession of umbrellas was a miniature bale of cotton. Hanging from the tips of the ribs, alternately by both sides, were the dollar bills, for illustrative purposes, "Handsome Bills" lecture ran about as follows:

"Pointing out the little bale of cotton, he said: "Gentlemen, if you get up early in the morning and work very hard and raise a lot of these you will have a lot of those" referring to the dollar bills, "but you have not done them" referring to the baby shoes, "you will find that you will not have so many of those" referring again to the dollar bills.

The logic of Mr. Stoddard's argument always struck a popular receptive chord among the south Georgia folks.

From every standpoint the tour was a tremendous success, and everybody in any degree concerned has been greatly pleased with the results secured. That other such tours will be held is not now to be doubted.

The work of W. J. Dabney, chairman of the general tour committee; "Bill" Stoddard, pace-maker; J. Lee Barnes, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and the other committee chairmen and members are deserving of the highest praise.

The generosity of the Stoddard corporation in contributing three cars for the entire tour, and a fourth for a part of the tour, as well as the action of the Maxwell people in allowing the use of one of their cars as pace-maker, was greatly appreciated by the men in charge of the tour. Mr. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, in his speech at the reception at the Majestic hotel, expressed the warm appreciation of the chamber of commerce for the co-operation of the Stoddard and Maxwell people.

Jackson Disappointed.

Jackson, Ga., May 27.—(Special.)—Jackson citizens are keenly disappointed that they cannot attend the Georgia Tourists' from visiting the city Thursday afternoon.

The citizens had planned to entertain the visitors socially while here, and the plans for their entertainment were made by the Butts County Chamber of Commerce and a committee of ladies here arranged all the details of the reception. The exercises were to have been held in the armory, where Mayor W. E. Watkins and Colonel C. L. Redman were to extend short addresses of welcome.

An abundance of cream and cake, punch, sandwiches, cigars and cigarettes, and the entertainment of the party and the armory had been attractively decorated and Jackson's most charming young ladies were to render music during the short and informal reception and "get-together" meeting.

Several automobiles from Jackson went to Griffin Thursday morning to accompany the party to Jackson, but the heavy rain that came up in the early afternoon made the roads almost impassable. The leaders of the tour thought it best to proceed to Atlanta direct without coming to Jackson.

MRS. SMITH'S FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Henry L. Smith, who died suddenly Wednesday afternoon, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of her son, Alex W. Smith, 304 Peachtree street. The Rev. Founder's Day Celebrated By Alumni of Vanderbilt Founder's day was celebrated by the Atlanta alumni of Vanderbilt university Thursday evening by a banquet at the Piedmont Driving Club, and speeches by Dr. Edwin Mims, professor of English at Vanderbilt, and Whiteford R. Cole, president of the Vanderbilt board of trustees.

Dr. Mims stressed the opportunity the alumni association has of becoming a vitalizing force for the continued growth of its university. The university, he pointed out, belonged to the alumni in a peculiar sense, and it could not possibly attain the fullness of its purpose without their co-operation and support.

During the short business session, Mrs. Hinton was elected president. John Paschal, vice president; Hamilton Douglas, Jr., secretary, and Hinton J. Hopkins, treasurer.

During his short stay in Atlanta, Dr. Mims accepted invitations to make several addresses to educational institutions here. Thursday morning he spoke to the students of the Georgia Military Academy on the invitation of the president, Colonel J. C. Woodard. Later in the day he visited the Tech high school and delivered a most interesting talk to the boys. Dr. Mims returns to Nashville today.

The banquet was presided over by Morris Brandon, who introduced Dr. Mims, spoke of his attainments as a scholar. The banquet, which was a highly enjoyed affair, was attended by twenty Atlanta alumni of Vanderbilt. J. B. Gray, of Cordale, also an alumnus, was present.

PROBES ACCIDENTS TO U. S. SUBMARINES

Following a Report That Half Dozen Submersibles Are Unfit for War Game, Daniels Investigates.

Washington, May 27.—While unofficial reports indicating that half of the twelve submarines assigned to participate in the war game with the Atlantic fleet were at least partially ineffective, Secretary Daniels today announced his determination to make a thorough investigation to find the cause of and if possible a remedy for the too frequent breakdowns of the navy's underwater craft.

With the growing importance of the submarine as an instrument of warfare, said the secretary, it felt that too much attention cannot be paid to the maintenance of the service and every effort of the department will be directed to improving the records made by the submarines during the recent maneuvers. The submarine is still in an experimental stage, and the best of two years ago is compared with those now in active service abroad is probably even more comparatively obsolete than an automobile of these years ago.

Many Breakdowns Occur.

Of the twelve submarines which came to New York for the maneuvers one was unable to proceed and various others suffered from breakdowns necessitating repairs of greater or less importance during the out of the game for varying lengths of time. Reports unofficially gave a number of reasons for the breakdowns of the submarines effective during a certain period of the maneuvers.

The machinery of a submarine is a very delicate affair, and trouble is already announced, we hope to have eliminated in our newest boat, if the broken entries, lives up to its picture. The other troubles are being eliminated with each new design of the type of the old design is being improved.

What I am most interested in is in finding out whether the breakdowns were such as must be expected in more or less experimental boats of whether they were due to faults of construction that should have been corrected or to defects in our system of reporting and making repairs. It is my intention to have a thorough investigation to find the cause of and if possible a remedy for the too frequent breakdowns of the navy's underwater craft.

FUNDS ARE RAISED TO SEND ACTRESSES BACK TO NEW YORK

The story of the chorus girls' benefit to be held under the auspices of the volunteers of America for six stranded members of the Erie Music Comedy company at the Baptist Tabernacle Monday night, resulted in such a deluge of subscriptions that it is now found unnecessary to hold the performance.

Thirty dollars was donated by the Baptist Tabernacle (thirty by the volunteers of America) and a large number of private subscriptions furnished money enough to transport the stranded show girls back to their native Broadway.

The benefit performance, therefore, will not be held. By the time it was scheduled to have been held, the girls were on their way to New York.

A. W. Crawford, brigade of the division headquarters of the Salvation Army with offices in this city, stated Thursday that the Salvation Army was frequently approached with the volunteers of America which he said, had been formed from using the name of the Salvation Army.

There is no connection between the two organizations he said and each was a separate and distinct institution. His statement was occasioned by the publication of the announcement that the volunteers of America would hold a benefit concert in the Tabernacle Monday night.
