LEO FRANK'S PLEA FOR COMMUTATION TO BE HEARD TODAY

Solicitor Dorsey Has Not Yet Announced Whether He Will Make Oral Argument Against Clemency.

COMMISSIONERS HERE READY FOR HEARING

Large Number of Delegations Will Appear to Make Appeals for the Prisoner. Chicago Party Arrives.

PLEA FOR FRANK.

"The 200,000 women I represent do not argue the innocence or guilt of Leo Frank. Our plea is purely humanitarian. We feel that there is an element of doubt in the case, and we are supported by the expression from Judge Roan. We think that Frank should be given time to prove either his guilt or innocence. We plead that Georgia should not slay a man who is likely to be innocent of the crime with which he is charged. It is no time to quibble about the technicalities of the law.—Mrs. M. DeLaney Fisher, of Chicago.

Georgia's prison commission will meet this morning at 10 o'clock at the capitol for the purpose of giving a hearing to the petition for commutation from death to life imprisonment of the sentence of Leo M. Frank, condemned to die for the murder of Mary Phagan.

The length of the hearing is undetermined. Frank's attorneys believe it may be finished in a day, but others are of the opinion that it may last for several days, as there will be a number of delegations present to plead for the prisoner, and prominent Atlantans are also expected to make appeals.

When the hearing opens the defense will introduce the affidavit made by Judge L. S. Roan, now deceased, who told of the hostile atmosphere of the trial, and the reasons why he urged that Frank be not present when the verdict was rendered.

It is also understood that a letter will be presented which was written by Judge Roan, in which he reiterates his doubt as to Frank's guilt and urges clemency.

Then William M. Smith, Conley's lawyer during the trial of the Frank case, is expected to testify that he now believes the prisoner innocent and his former client guilty. The records of the court in the different appeals made for Frank will also be presented.

The prisoner will be represented by ex-Congressman William M. Howard, who will review the case, and will stress the doubt as expressed by Judge Roan, by two state supreme court judges and by two United States supreme court judges.

Dorsey's Course. It is not known yet whether or not Solicitor Hugh Dorsey will make an oral argument before the board when it goes into session this morning.

Mr. Dorsey was asked Sunday if he anticipated appearing before the commission in support of his letter in reply to the recent notification of the board. He stated that his letter had fully covered details, but that he had

Desperate Efforts Made By Austro-German Forces To Beleaguer Przemysl

Teutons Are Striving to Cut Off Fortress and Release Their Armies for Operations Against the Italians.

BIG HUMAN SACRIFICES MADE BY TEUTON ALLIES

But Their Progress Is Extremely Slow, as the Russians Have Brought Up Strong Reinforcements. Sharp Fighting on the Western Front.

London, May 30.—Around the great fortress of Przemysl a mighty battle is still raging. The Austro-German armies are making supreme effort to cut off the stronghold and free these armies for operations against Italy and the allies in the west.

Although great human sacrifices are being made, progress latterly has been extremely slow, as the Russians have had time to bring up large reinforcements. North of Przemysl the Russians appear to be more than holding their own, but to the southeast the Austrians and Germans claim further headway, and now command with their artillery the railway between Przemysl and Grodek, which runs just south of the main line between Przemysl and Lemberg. From Lemberg the Russians draw a large portion of their reinforcements and supplies.

The German official statement says that after a ten-hour artillery attack was repulsed.

FIGHTING BLOODY, RUSSIANS REPORT.

Petrograd, May 30.—(Via London.)—The following official account of recent military operations has been issued from the headquarters of the Russian general staff:

The object of the prodigious efforts made by the enemy in the last few days has been the encircling of Przemysl. The desperate fighting on the four following days were occupied by the enemy in an attempt to change the position of his offensive on the north-east to the southeast. Between Sienawa and Jaroslau fifteen bridges were constructed.

While the enemy was changing his front the whole mass of the enemy of which led to the supposition that the Germans were beginning a retreat, but on the morning of the 24th General Mackensen began to hurl his army against our positions between the River Luda and the San.

Concurrently hundreds of thousands of infantry supported by a thousand artillery pieces, well supplied with ammunition, attacked our trenches on the left bank of the San in the direction of Kadyrno and Drohobitch on a front of fifteen miles.

General Mackensen, in endeavoring to turn out the line at Przemysl, is repeating the maneuver which he practiced at the beginning of November in the battle of Lodz when his forces on our lines near Strykow and Brzeziny, while at the same time an attempt was made to break us with his left flank. The same maneuver is being repeated now, but on a larger scale; not with less success, but with more vigor.

General Mackensen's maneuver still is being repeated, although his infantry regiments already have lost three-quarters of their effectives. The Austro-German armies, which were to have met General Mackensen and turned Przemysl from the south, have been cut off and are being annihilated. The vain attempt to pierce our front, while General Irbansoff, the hero of Fort Astar, crushed the German army, and General Mackensen's army on the Little Senawa, seizing trophies and cattle intended for the revictualing of the troops, directed at Przemysl.

In spite of the enemy's tremendous efforts which since May 29 alone have amounted to hundreds of thousands, it would be premature to speak of the result of this battle, which is of extraordinary intensity. Austro-German communications in April and the Third German army corps had been entirely annihilated on the Wisloka. Yet the same corps captured fourteen cannon and 7,000 prisoners at Sienawa.

END THE ANARCHY, WILSON WILL SAY TO THE MEXICANS

President to Inform Factional Leaders Government Must Be Agreed Upon That the United States Can Recognize.

INTERVENTION COMING UNLESS FIGHTING STOPS

President to Tell Leaders if They Don't Restore Order United States Will—Famine Is Spreading Throughout Mexico.

Washington, May 30.—There were plain indications tonight that from now on the administration will vigorously seek to end the chaos in Mexico. Until President Wilson makes public on Tuesday a statement he has prepared, details of his plans will not be known, but it was understood tonight that the various Mexican leaders will be informed that the time has come for them to stop fighting between themselves and agree on a government which the United States can recognize.

It is expected that the statement will recite the conditions in the southern republic, as Durval West and other government agents have portrayed them. The president will point out that the United States government has no intention of recognizing a government that would not solve the problem themselves, and how helpless the Mexican people generally have become in the hands of the military elements.

The statement which is to be sent to all the factional leaders, will announce the course the United States expects to follow in case an agreement is not reached, but will point out that conditions are becoming so serious that they must be remedied by outside influence if there are no elements in the country with sufficient capacity to wrest the republic from its state of anarchy.

The advantages of placing an embargo on the exportation of arms and ammunition to Mexico has been urged as one means of putting a stop to fighting there.

A Red Cross statement issued tonight pictured conditions in the southern Mexican civilian population as deplorable, with famine spreading from city to city and through the outlying districts.

The Red Cross statement said that the supply of food for the starving is being kept down by the price of food supplies. Food supplies are being hoarded by the rich, and the poor are unable to buy.

At Tampico all food is about exhausted. Conditions in outlying districts are worse, and tales of the starvation of the poor people are constantly coming into the city.

At Vera Cruz and in the surrounding country famine conditions prevail. At Jalapa the general condition of the town is appalling. Money was raised by the farmers of corn and wheat to relieve the distress and corn was imported, but the funds were soon exhausted. Most distressing scenes took place at the city of Orizaba when these funds were distributed. Some 2,000 women were collected at 7 o'clock in the morning to receive their share of the corn, which began at 11. Many, after waiting hours, went home crying for the relief which the distribution of corn meant the practical starvation of the town.

On the west coast the inhabitants are reported as starving. When a boatload of corn was brought into Acapulco the rich people were so greedy that several children were trampled to death and a number of women injured.

In Mexico City the situation is grave. As early as March a hundred thousand persons were reported suffering from hunger. Conditions have grown worse, and many are starving. The government has been unable to feed them. For the food supplies the government has been unable to reach, so only the rich can buy. Epidemics prevail and medicine is prohibitive in price. The city is in danger of perishing from hunger, misery and epidemics. Serious epidemics of typhoid fever have been reported. The government was distributing some corn a crowd of 8,000 people gathered, by far larger than the amount of corn available for distribution. On account of the state of weakness to which hunger is bringing the city, the government is unable to distribute the corn.

While the Red Cross was giving out this statement the Carranza agency was making public a cablegram from Vera Cruz declaring there was no possibility of a famine, and that the shortage of food was serious only in Mexico City, where the Villa-Zapata government controls.

No Famine, Says Carranza. The message said: "Scarcely of food, while general is not serious, except in Mexico City, where the Zapatistas have been unable to

Wilson Is Resolved to Have Reparation For Killing of Americans on Lusitania Even at Cost of Clash With Germany

Evasive Character of German Note and Defense of Lusitania Tragedy Profoundly Disappoints Washington—The President Will Immediately Send Emphatic Note to Germany Repeating Demand for Reparation and for Guarantees Against Submarine Attacks on Unarmed Merchant Ships—Wilson Will Not Hesitate to Sever Diplomatic Relations With Germany.

QUICK REPLY TO GERMANY

From a previous knowledge of President Wilson's position, it was generally predicted tonight that a prompt answer would be sent to Berlin, perhaps within twenty-four or forty-eight hours.

This is expected to give the American government's understanding of the facts—that the Lusitania was unarmed and carried no concealed guns, that she sailed from the United States a peaceful merchantman, and that under all rules of international law and humanity, the vessel should have been visited and searched and her passengers transferred to a place of safety, whether she carried ammunition or not.

American law does not prohibit ammunition from being carried on passenger ships. It will be asserted, but only self-expanding material, and liners in the past have been permitted to carry arms and ammunition by special ruling of the state department on the meaning of federal statutes.

REPARATION NOT MENTIONED.

Germany's failure even to discuss the reparation demanded by the American note, and evasion of the request that guarantees be given that American vessels and lives be not endangered in the future, are the main points, however, to which the United States government, it was generally believed tonight, would advert in the second note. The expressions of regret and offers of reparation for unintentional attacks on neutral ships are expected to have little weight in determining the nature of the response of the United States. When the note of May 13 was sent it was pointed out that such promises did not remove the risks to which American vessels and lives were subjected—and to support this contention, the United States will add, it is said, that the American steamer Nebraska was torpedoed without warning within the last few days.

While it is generally thought the United States will answer Germany's request for facts with a restatement of the circumstances as recited in the American note of May 13, the promptness with which the reply will be dispatched is counted upon to serve as an indication that the American government wishes an early answer and does not desire to engage in a protracted diplomatic discussion.

MAY BREAK RELATIONS.

Persons close to President Wilson have leaked that he is determined to obtain reparation for the Lusitania victims and assurances of respect for American rights in future, and that failing this, he would not hesitate to sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

In German quarters here tonight it was again reiterated that the Lusitania was armed.

To controvert this, the United States has proof gathered before the American note was sent, that there were no guns aboard. Furthermore, the British government entered into an informal agreement with the United States early in the war to see that no British vessels left American ports armed.

Hopes for Acceptance. "We hope and trust that the American government will take the same view of the case, and let us know in what points the understanding of the facts differ from the German viewpoint as set forth in the note and in what points they agree, before looking for a direct answer to their communication. "The American note of course, leaves the way open for a preliminary discussion of the situation as suggested in the German note. I hope that such a

Germany Evades the Demands Made by the United States; Justifies the Lusitania Horror

In Reply to Demand for Reparation for Killing Over One Hundred Americans Germany Alleges She Was Acting in "Justified Self-Defense"—German Reply States Attacks on the American Ships Cushing and Gulfight Are Being Investigated—Full Text of Note.

Berlin, May 30.—(Via London, May 31.—1:08 a. m.)—Germany withholds its final decision on the demands advanced by the United States government in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania, until the receipt of an answer from the United States. to the note which Herr von Jagow, the foreign minister, has delivered to Ambassador Gerard, in reply to the American note received by the German government on May 15.

JAGOW OUTLINES GERMANY'S VIEW

Kaiser's Foreign Minister Explains Reasons for the Note Sent to United States. Hopes for Acceptance of German Viewpoint.

In its reply the German government declares that it is not its intention to submit neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attacks by submarine or aeroplanes, that it is investigating the circumstances in connection with the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Gulfight, and that in all cases where neutral vessels, through no fault of their own, have been damaged, Germany will pay indemnification.

LUSITANIA HORROR "SELF-DEFENSE." The reply urges that in the case of the Lusitania, which, Germany alleges, was armed and carried large stores of war munitions, "it was acting in justified self-defense in seeking with all the means of warfare at its disposition to protect the lives of its soldiers by destroying ammunition intended for the enemy."

The German government recalled the proposals submitted by the United States government to Berlin and London, designed to end the submarine warfare and the shutting out of food supplies from Germany which, it declares, would result in the starvation of the German people.

Berlin, May 30.—(Via London, May 31, 8:30 a. m.)—Gottlieb von Jagow, the imperial German foreign secretary, today received the correspondent of the Associated Press and outlined the reasons which impelled the German government to send an ad interim note to the United States government instead of a final and definite reply to the American representations regarding the Lusitania and other ships that have been torpedoed, and Germany's submarine policy.

TEXT OF NOTE FROM GERMANY The text of the German note which was made public today, follows: The undersigned has the honor to submit to Ambassador Gerard the following answer to the communication of May 15 regarding the injury to American interests through German submarine warfare.

CASES OF CUSHING AND GULF LIGHT Regarding firstly the cases of the American steamers Cushing and Gulf Light. The American embassy has already been informed that the German government has no intention of submitting neutral ships in the war zone, which are guilty of no hostile acts, to attacks by a submarine or submarines or aviators. On the contrary, the German forces have repeatedly been instructed most specifically to avoid attacks on such ships.

cases in which it has been shown by its investigation that a neutral ship, not itself at fault, was damaged by German submarines or aviators, has expressed regret over the unfortunate accident and, if justified by conditions, has offered indemnification. PROBE IN PROGRESS The cases of the Cushing and the Gulf Light will be treated on the same principles. An investigation of both cases is in progress, the result of which will presently be communicated to the embassy. The investigation can, if necessary, be supplemented by an international call on the international commission of inquiry as provided in Article 13 of the Hague Convention of October 18, 1907.

SINKING OF OF LUSITANIA Regarding the loss of life by the sinking of the British passenger steamer Lusitania, the German government has already expressed to the neutral governments concerned its keen regret that citizens of their states lost their lives. On this occasion the imperial government, however, cannot give the impression that certain important facts having a direct bearing on the sinking of the Lusitania may have escaped the attention of the American government.

GUNS ALLEGED ON BRITISH SHIPS It is further known to the imperial government from trustworthy reports that for a considerable time practically all the more valuable British merchant ships have been equipped with guns, and that the Lusitania too, according to information received here, had cannon mounted on her deck.

CANADIAN TROOPS ON THE LUSITANIA Finally, the imperial government must point out particularly that the Lusitania on its last trip, as on earlier occasions, carried Canadian troops and war materials, including no less than 300 cases of ammunition intended for the destruction of the brave German soldiers who are fulfilling their duty with self sacrifice and devotion in the fatherland's service.

CARGOES INCREASING FOR AMERICAN SHIPS Washington, May 30—American ships carried $30,000,000 worth of imports and exports of the United States during the eight months ending with March 31. Figures made public tonight by the department of commerce show that the total of imports and exports amounted to $2,797,000,000 of which 64 per cent was transported in vessels under the American flag, compared with 34 per cent of a total of $2,950,000,000 handled by American vessels during the same period last year.

New York, May 30—A committee of 100 prominent men from all over the country, headed by Mr. Taft, has issued a call for a conference to be held in Independence hall, Philadelphia, June 17 to consider the adoption of a League of Nations.

QUICK SINKING OF LUSITANIA The sinking of the Lusitania, which was confirmed by all the nations, is primarily attributable to the explosion of the ammunition shipment of passengers would, if it were not for the above mentioned fact, have been enough to recommend them to the attention of the American government.

The minister is unwilling to give a more definite outline to or to comment on the suggestion that in arrangement might be reached on a basis of an inspection and certification by the American government of German ships not carrying war cargoes pointing out that he did not feel entitled to anticipate, as the other departments of the government must be heard before suggestions could be definitely taken up or discussed.

SWEEP OF DIXIE HIGHWAY

With the entrance of Michigan into the Dixie highway movement now assured this splendid road development will sweep the country all the way from north to south, from the apex of the Michigan peninsula almost to the Florida Keys from the upper Great Lakes to the lower Atlantic and the Gulf.

So eager was Michigan to participate in the Dixie highway movement that the governor of the state named two commissioners who attended the recent meeting of the board in Chattanooga and it was there agreed that the Dixie Highway association would extend links of the highway from Indianapolis to South Bend, Ind., near the Michigan line, and from Dayton Ohio through Lima, to Toledo, if Michigan would agree to complete a loop from South Bend around the peninsula through Niles, Petoskey, Mackinac, Bay City, Detroit and back to Toledo. Arrangements to this end, placed by the commission in the hands of Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis have just been completed and Mr. Fisher informs the members of the commission that Michigan has agreed to open and maintain a well paved highway entirely around the state as indicated.

Thus not only has the Dixie highway begun to extend beyond the original plans of its projectors but everywhere there is evidence of its substantial construction in advance of the time at which it was provided material progress must be shown. The Michigan commissioners have accepted the agreement in good faith and promised immediate and rapid work on the peninsula loop.

In eastern Tennessee there have already been authorized $1,500,000 of bonds for the construction of the Knoxville link of the highway from Chattanooga northward toward Cincinnati.

A meeting has been called in Summerville Ga. on June 3 in which the counties of Walker, Chattooga and Floyd will be represented and at which steps will be taken looking to coordinate effort in the immediate construction of the Chattanooga Cartersville link through Rome. The Florida commissioners are now working on the return loop from Miami across the southern end of the state to Tampa, thence northward to complete the loop. Georgia returns link between Jacksonville and Macon will soon be determined in a manner to insure speediest and best development.

Dixie highway enthusiasm not only shows no abatement but everywhere deeper and more active interest in the completion of the project for which the preliminary plans have been so well laid. The rivalry between competitive routes so happily settled by the action of the commissioners in providing the double roadway between many points has been translated into an even keener competition in the work of construction. It will now be a race between these routes to see which can make the best showing on dedication day.

The extended Dixie highway will spread out through eight states. From extreme northern to southernmost point it sweeps across 2,000 miles of the richest and most attractive country in the United States, and through its connections with the Lincoln highway at Lima, South Bend, and near Chicago, there is opened up to tourists the magnificent cross country run from Atlantic to Pacific.

The establishment of the Dixie highway is but the initial movement. It is the main branch or foundation of a system of substantially built roads that will traverse every state adjacent to or within reach of it. Its lateral will spread on the one hand to the Mississippi and on the other to the Atlantic ocean. There is no constructive development in this territory within recent years that can compare with it, there is no predicting the ultimate extent of it. The enthusiasm apparent in its conception has grown greater over construction. A short time ago we might have said we believed, today we can say we know, not only that it will be built, but that it will be built both speedily and well, and that when it is completed there is every promise that it will be the most traveled highway in the United States.

THE HAND OF BROTHERHOOD.

The suggestion of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, of Independence, Mo., that Grand Army and United Confederate veterans should mingle freely on Memorial Day—in fact march together—has received favorable comment. The Buffalo Express says:

'The suggestion is not a new one. Federal and confederate have marched side by side on Memorial day before this. But the suggestion for independent general character than has been the case hitherto.

The suggestion is of interest every where. It is of special interest this year. When so many of the nations of the world are fighting each other. It is a common service.

That is the significance of this Grand Army invitation. The spirit of national brotherhood—of millions moving as one—was never stronger than now. North and south cherish the battle flags of old, speaking of wounds that Time has healed, but over these memorials of past strife waves the flag of a common country, of one people, with one hope, one heart, one destiny.

THE STATE IN BUSINESS

Georgia is in business just the same in a measure, as is any firm or corporation. It collects money from the citizen for the service which it renders him and it disburses that money in payment for what it needs. What reason is there, then for the state putting itself above and beyond the ordinary laws of business? Why should there be one rule for the government of the citizen in business transactions and another and more advantageous one for the state?

We are moved to ask these questions as the result of an opinion of the attorney general in which he holds that there is no liability on the part of the state agricultural schools or other state institutions, for the payment of interest on past due accounts. They are state agencies he says and are, therefore not subject to interest charges. Isn't the state setting a bad example to its citizens by assuming this attitude? We are forcibly reminded in this connection that the state itself insists upon interest payments upon overdue taxes, and it looks like another case of a poor rule. December 20 or thereabouts, is always the last day for the payment of state taxes, and the unfortunate citizen who through inability to pay or other cause delays his settlement, must add 7 per cent per annum to the amount or suffer the same penalty as if he had failed to pay altogether.

This 7 per cent which the state collects on past due taxes isn't a matter of simple business rule. It is absolute law. It is probably collected from hundreds, if not a few thousands of citizens every year. And yet when it comes to an ordinary business proposition such as the payment to a citizen of simple interest on an overdue account the state says neither it nor its institutions are liable.

It is difficult to conceive upon what theory a decision of this sort was rendered. Everybody understands, of course that the state is sovereign and cannot be sued for debt or anything else. But that should be the more reason why the state should conform to well established business customs. The state cannot borrow money without paying interest on it, and it should be just as ready to meet interest payments in those ordinary cases where the business world recognizes the justice of it and where the citizen would be required by law to pay it under similar circumstances.

We would respectfully suggest in the interests of the state's good faith that here is a decision which should be reviewed and made to conform to well known and recognized business practice—if not to common honesty.

Italy seems to be going some, but in this war you never can tell.

However, when Billy Sunday left for home he didn't shake the gold dust of Paterson from his shoes.

People who blame Carranza for talking overmuch probably do not stop to consider his great admiration for his own voice.

The country is determined to keep its temper and a perfectly sane Fourth.

Another reason why "the heathen rage" is because the Christians coaxed them into the war.

The Hague Palace is a monument to Peace, but it is high time for Peace to get from under it.

Some of the little countries have straddled the war fence, merely to put the film men on notice that they are worth while.

People that are short of summer worries might devote their time to figuring the world war debt.

The progressive party shows a flicker of returning life every time the Colonel gets into a lawsuit.

As a rule poets singing of "bands of bluebirds" are unalterably opposed to regiments of lawnmowers.

And still the Colonel's luck holds, with Barnes threatening to appeal him to the front page again.

Carranza asks for recognition, and immediately Villa revives and makes him unrecognizable.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

The green looks so inviting where the meadow lands are spread, An the winds are calling, callin' over roses white an' red.

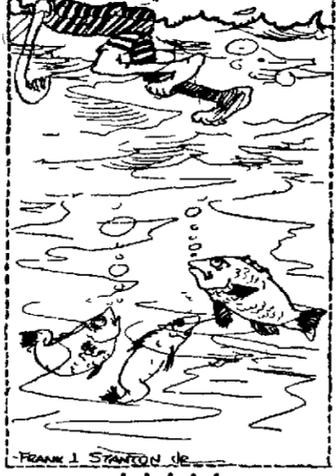

But with the race begun It's all the time a run They's mighty little restin' for a mighty weary one!

I reckon when we rise where the saints are settin' wise We'll read our shiny titles to the rest time o' the skies.

Lifes toll'll then be done But this side o' the sun They's mighty little restin' for a mighty weary one.

Words From the Wastide. All sorts o' company on the highway and some need Trouble to keep em going straight With so many worlds blazing around us looks like a reasonable proposition to keep up the fire in this one.

ANOTHER DISREGARD FOR NEUTRALITY

Where the Home-Fields Shine. They're makin' all the hills bloom—the valleys blossom bright And even in the shadows they fashion lanes of light.

The green fields know their footsteps—the larks that wing the loam Hear the singing of the toilers in the fruitful fields of Home.

For them's are dreams of happiness that cheer them on the way— The glory of tomorrow crowns the duty of today.

And when the toiling's over in pleasant paths that roam Lit by the lamps far shining to the rest of love and Home.

So they're making all the hills bloom and the valleys sing their praise And the tolling furrows lead them to the peace of harvest days.

They are the toil glad citizens and with life's tasks sprang to see the nations Heaven blessed still life's bread.

The Louisville (Ky.) Times tells this one of three negroes discussing the destructive news and velocity of big guns in use in the war.

First Negro—Dem Rushins is shoot fight ers. Dey got a gun wat will shoot eight miles.

Second Dito—Go long nigger dat's nuthin. Dem grenchers got a gun dat will send a bullet bag as a automobile fifteen miles.

No 3—I thought you niggers knowed nuthin. Dem Germaners got a gun an all it wants to know is yo' address.

The Little Soldiers. Brer Williams version of 'Boys in the European War'.

Dey say de lil' chilluns Mus' learn de army rule. Took way fum de open strings— Dey let loose fum school.

Dats why ole War grows wusser— It sho's de butcher pen. Keepin' de lil' chilluns Fum growin' up ter men!

The Riches of Love. Folger McClintock has this fine lyric in his Baltimore Sun column.

'Love knocks upon a neighbor's door, He was run out to see And maybe cry—I am so poor Hell never come to me But, lo some day that neighbor's heart Blows open it so glad And we discover love was all He ever owned or had.

'Another Good Reason' George Bailey believes in making the most of elegant leisure. He says in The Houston Post.

Another good reason why we shall op' our eastern time for this part of the country is that we do not care for getting up time to come an hour earlier. Neither do we particularly care for bedtime to come at a time when the fun is coming strong.

RIPLING RHYMES

AT HOME. I pity the fellow who has no home! No wonder gray hairs are upon his dome! No wonder he grumbles and grunts and sighs and brushes the briny from both his eyes. I'd rent a palace of brick or stone for an hour, if I could call my own. I'd rather live in a shackly cot with a top eared cow in a stable lot, and a barbed wire fence and a row of trees, and a sway-backed dog and a swarm of bees and have no debts that would spoil my sleep, than have a hall with a donjon keep and mortgage bill, with a village square, though pomp and splendor were reigning there. To have a home and out of debt—well, that is truly the best scheme yet!

HUMAN NATURE SIDE OF THE WORLD'S GREAT WAR.

By Iman Dooley.

Schooled now somewhat to the horrors of the war, men and women are passing through the vague knowledge which came to them at first and are arriving at the clearer view where they can see the greatness of human nature manifesting itself with heroic strength. The warring nations while they count their dead can count their heroes and scarcely a day passes that the world press does not cry out on the honor role the names of men who have willingly and gloriously died for their country.

Whether civilization is going on to stand for war or whether this war will bring on a racial unity which shall in time wipe out war forever remains to be seen. But in world history there will never come a time when men and women will not worship heroism when they will not bless the man who lays down his life for a cause not cherish the woman who gives of her best for that cause.

The Heroic. The world can look on death and destruction in its many forms patiently and resignedly. Great disasters momentarily strike horror and the human emotions can preserve their equilibrium but the heroism of one man or one woman can thrill the world and tear the deepest emotions from their place.

The men and women writers of the war have lived with one another in the passionate tributes they have paid to the sacrifice of the women of the warring nations. Their patience and suffering and their part of the tragedy has made theme for the drama unending. The position of woman in world civilization is being made more clear as she bears sons to sacrifice them with no chance to read whether she would or not.

The most read and world wide story being told today is the story of the heroism of the woman who dealt with woman John L. Stoworth in his Gentle Let Us Rest adding his in these lines.

The whole effort of a true civilization is to graduate the fortifying of that higher part of us the exaltation of the principle of justice the chaining of the principle of love and the emancipation of women would be but a symbol of this effort of true civilization. The world with which we live is still serving humanity still trying to be gentle and just.

The Men. But in our justice to woman there should be no failure on the part of the world to realize the true heroism which has carried this war and is carrying it on and on. The democracy of things is extending honors not merely among the great generals and their aides the men of moment leading the forces looking on the women by day and night should be the willingness to grow with glory the most humble of the young sons of nations who heroically give up all that is loved and sacred to them for their country's cause.

And again we are told of the love there is between the general and his men and the captain who shares his all with the men under him.

What Belgium has lost we are told she has gained in love, and her heroes are moved in the spirit of her highest narrative shows on the death list of her heroes men whose names are bound up reverably with the greatness of that nation from her earliest history. Germany and Austria are writing the heroes of their nations. Russia is drawing her heroes and Italy's sons have drawn their swords.

And France—ever called beautiful France—is giving a strength and fortitude in her men and women that is staggering the forces looking on. The women by day and night should be the willingness to grow with glory the most humble of the young sons of nations who heroically give up all that is loved and sacred to them for their country's cause.

The Letter. The letter was found on his body as he lay dead on the battlefield. It was published in the paper of the 20 and might be recorded as one of the great human documents of a war. It follows.

My darling I write for any chance for you never know. If this letter is found on the body of my dear France, has had need of me to the very end. You must not weep for I swear to you I shall die happy if I must give my life for her.

My only care is the difficult situation in which you will find yourself and the children. How you can make sure of your babies' future and your own. Happily you can count on your old post as a teacher and all the help of my family. How I wish I could be sure some possible arrangement could be found.

For the bringing up of the little ones I am not troubled you will know how to direct their lives. I will be with myself. I hope they will be able to make for themselves that independent living which I counted on for them. I will be with you. You will kiss the dear little ones for their papa. You will tell them he is gone on a long very long journey. You will love them and protect them from harm. I wish, Gode it is not my wish, that you should be a doctor. You also be a little baby, so little whom I shall not have known. If it is a son my wish is that you should be a doctor. You also be a little baby, so little whom I shall not have known. If it is a son my wish is that you should be a doctor.

Goody my darling my love France. I am not to begrudge me to France if she wishes to have me. Promise me also to comfort mother and father, and do not forget to say to the little girls that they shall not matter how far away will never cease to watch over them and love them. Some day when you are all happy—that is my hope—with him who guides our lives and who has given me with you and by means of you and my hope to linger over the thought of our love—yet it has been so great and strong. Goodbye my darling. I'll meet you at the great meeting the true one. Be strong. YOUR JEAN.

Divorce Too Easy.

Editor Constitution. Some time ago I read an article in one of Atlanta's papers that in this one county last year there were more than 750 divorce cases! This is a burning shame. A humiliating disgrace to the one fair name of the state.

One cause is the surprisingly great number of too speedy, or too hasty, marriages. The same passion that spurred on to this too hasty marriage spurs on to this too hasty undoing and unjustifiable association with others not your own husband or wife. Then other passions arise. These last, passions are for the dissolution of the matrimonial bonds.

There are other causes almost innumerable. Let me point out one or two remedies. Let the state legislature enact a law that will absolutely and entirely do away with the too-easy-to-get-a-divorce law and in its stead let the suggested new law be so thoroughly impregnated with the principles of the divine law that for no cause save the one granted by Jesus can a divorce be obtained.

Let the law do entirely away with the alimony business and you will have settled and settled out of court about 95 percent of the divorces. Let the law ask for a divorce unless there is an issue born to their marriage, because no helpless ones to provide for and support means no alimony.

"CITY HALL CAT AND DOG FIGHT" BLAMED BY DR. JACOB L. WHITE FOR ATLANTA CRIME CONDITIONS

Dr. J. L. White pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle in his Sunday night sermon placed the blame for crime in Atlanta upon the sickening dog and cat fight at the city hall.

This condition together with the sale of beer in the saloons and liquor in the streets, he said is the cause of Atlanta's crime.

Dr. White declared that it is not his belief that there is any epidemic of crime in Atlanta but at the same time said that he is of the opinion that there is so much crime in Atlanta that it stinks to high heaven and burns to hell which he pointed out is too much.

For this however he gave the police department a clean bill of health. He declared that he did not know personally the rank and file of the department but that Chief of Police Beavers was his friend and that he believed Chief Beavers would be ready to go to the stake and be burned to death if necessary.

When he made this statement he asked "Why don't you say Amen?" Amen said a dozen or more voices.

When he laid the blame upon the city hall family row which he declared made him feel left upon Mayor Woodworth's doorstep the accusation of preferring to be mayor rather than to be right.

There is one man in town he said who would rather be mayor than to be right. Always he says that he is right yet when he was brought the other day to face with impeachment he said "All right I'll give in."

Dr. White said that he did not know the mayor personally but that he had heard a good deal about him. A contributing cause to crime in Atlanta said Dr. White is a spirit of rebellion against certain laws. The reason for this rebellion he said is because men want their liquor.

There is no sentiment in Georgia he said to have the prohibition law repealed. All these people want is to have it violated. He urged that the next general assembly should pass a law closing all saloons and locker clubs out of every city in Georgia.

He declared that Atlanta's prohibition city spends annually $1,650,000 for liquor. He also expressed his fear that soon he would see a new wave of beer and liquor are not wiped out of Atlanta there will be a repetition of the riot of '06.

He upheld the Men and Girls club publicity policy. At the end of the services collection was taken up at the foot of the church. A number of the remaining members of the corps of the stranded Moon Maiden company back to their homes.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS ATTEND GRAND ARMY MEMORIAL SERVICES

With a number of veterans who wore the gray in the sixties present the memorial services of the Grand Army of the Republic were held yesterday morning at the Memorial Hall in addition to the members of the G. A. R. the majority of whom wore uniforms the Women's Relief corps and a large number of friends and acquaintances were in attendance.

The memorial sermon was preached by Dr. Fred A. Lane who took as his text "Put on the whole armor of God." His subject was "The New Patriotism." The speaker stressed the importance of good citizenship our obligations to America and the necessity of tribute of loyalty to high ideals to preserve this loyalty to high ideals to keep our standard of citizenship high requires he declared a citizen at times even is great as those made by the brave men of the north and the south in times of war.

Referring to the present struggle in Europe and America's position he said "With the nations of Europe in a life and death struggle and with new battlefields of the old world made red with the blood of men."

He then closed his sermon quoting King's "Remember" Memorial Day will be observed at the National cemeteries at Marietta and at Andersonville. Preparations have been made to exercise at both places and for the decoration of all the graves. At Andersonville in the afternoon a number of the Women's Relief corps in Princeton will be invited.

MEMORIAL ADDRESS FOR PRINTERS PREACHED BY DR. JOHN E. WHITE

Love is the basis of the success of the capitalist and the laborer said Dr. John E. White in his Memorial Day sermon on "The Power of Love." Speaking for the annual memorial services of the Atlanta Typographical union at the Second Baptist church Sunday evening. The success of the Ford Motor company is largely attributable to a high ideal exemplification of this fact. (Can think of no more proper motto for the co-operation between the capitalist and the employee than to place a Ford automobile on the next coin which our government authorizes.)

The faith in the instrument of religion hope is the aspiration of religion but love comprehends faith and hope in its highest expression and reach. Capital and labor will never get together properly by fighting. The blind man of today in the capitalist who does not love the man he hires or the laborer who does not love the man for whom he works.

This is true in solving the world wide questions of the present moment. There is no hope for Europe except through love. The title of Napoleon's last example of the fact that the law of force reacts upon those who use it. The theme of Christ's teachings is love and there are millions in the world today who would die for them.

Love is the great industrial motive. Men do not work to obtain money for its own sake but for the assistance it may give those they regard. It is the lash of love which drives them on from day to day.

Seeing America First—Mount Vernon.

Author of "At Good Old Hiram."

America is full of shrines to which the pilgrim wends his way to scatter devotion and lunch boxes in their vicinity. Chief of all of these is Mount Vernon where Washington lived and breathed his last in 1799.

Mount Vernon sits on a hill crest above the water of the Potomac. No one who has seen the patriotic visitor may see the home of the father of his country as it was 100 years ago when Washington lived there and set all national records for honor, dignity and patriotic example. Nothing has been changed here preservation has been possible. The room where Washington lived and died his furniture his clothes the trees he set out the flower garden he loved the kitchen he trimmed are all there. Mount Vernon is one of the few American institutions.

Mount Vernon is a perfect specimen of early American architecture and with its picturesque outbuilds its fine lawns gardens and site is in itself a priceless relic. Seventy years ago the last Washington was unable to maintain it any longer and there was danger that it might be sold and ruin a carload of pennies and nickels patriotic women rallied by thousands and Edward Everett wrote $65,000 worth of pure literature—a herculean feat in those days—added it to the fund Mount Vernon was tions which has not been enlarged to meet the demands of the growing nation. It is so perfectly of its past and so redolent with the high purposes which once filled it that proud owners of vast marble country homes adored it. But the school children of America gave a carload of pennies and nickels patriotic women rallied by thousands and Edward Everett wrote $65,000 worth of pure literature—a herculean feat in those days—added it to the fund Mount Vernon was

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY WOODMEN AT FIRST BAPTIST

The four companies of the uniform rank of the Woodmen of the World headed by Colonel W. J. Simmons together with a large number of the ladies of the state gathered at the Woodmen's circle attended the annual joint memorial service held Sunday evening at the First Baptist church. The pastor Dr. C. W. Daniel preached a special sermon for the occasion.

Newton Phillips state manager of the Woodmen of the World read the names of the deceased members of the ten camps and two graves located in Atlanta. At the conclusion of the reading of the several articles the Woodmen's memorial hymn "Among the Dead Our Sovereigns Sleep" which was composed by Colonel W. J. Simmons was sung for the first time.

In speaking on "The Ministry of Memory" Dr. Daniel pointed out that memory is an ever present source of strength to men facing the new perplexities of passing days which effectually add them in periods of depression or weakness. Memory of past accomplishments he said gives us strength to meet the new perplexities of passing days which effectually add them in periods of depression or weakness. Memory of past accomplishments he said gives us strength to meet the new perplexities of passing days which effectually add them in periods of depression or weakness.

Editor Constitution. I wish to express my appreciation of the splendid work you are doing quietly yet surely in behalf of the world's peace. In looking over my paper of last Friday morning I noticed outside of the main news the most valuable articles exposing the cruelty the shame the horror of this awful war. These were all written in your office two being editorials and the other by your brilliant and yet wonderfully humane writer Iman Dooley. And to all of this was a fine contribution from Edward Everett of the American School Peace League. Perhaps no greater service is being rendered today to the cause of universal peace than by the press of this country.

Perhaps no greater service is being rendered today to the cause of universal peace than by the press of this country.

J. J. HALL Secretary Georgia Peace Society Atlanta, May 28 1915.

Editor Constitution. I wish to express my appreciation of the splendid work you are doing quietly yet surely in behalf of the world's peace. In looking over my paper of last Friday morning I noticed outside of the main news the most valuable articles exposing the cruelty the shame the horror of this awful war. These were all written in your office two being editorials and the other by your brilliant and yet wonderfully humane writer Iman Dooley. And to all of this was a fine contribution from Edward Everett of the American School Peace League. Perhaps no greater service is being rendered today to the cause of universal peace than by the press of this country.
