BREACH OF FAITH LAID TO BRANDEIS IN RAIL RATE CASE

Commissioner Clifford Thorne Tells Senate Committee Wilson's Nominee for Supreme Court Grossly Betrayed His Clients.

THORNE DUMFOUNDED BY BRANDEIS' CONDUCT

Alleged That Brandeis Conceded to Cause of the Railroads to Fatal Injury of Public Interest—Thorne Urges That Brandeis Be Not Confirmed.

Washington, February 9.—Charging that Louis D. Brandeis, as counsel for the interstate commerce commission in the five per cent advance rate case, conceded to the cause of the railroads to the fatal injury of the public interest, Clifford Thorne, railroad commissioner of Iowa, and an associate counsel in the rate case, appealed tonight to the judiciary subcommittee of the senate not to recommend confirmation of Mr. Brandeis' nomination to the supreme court of the United States.

Mr. Thorne argued that it would be very costly to the American people to put men on the supreme court bench with pre-conceived notions as to high returns on railroad investments in view of the fact that questions involved in the national appraisement of railroads now going on ultimately would have to be determined by that tribunal.

Summing Up Against Brandeis.

Summing up his case he declared:

"I shave shown conclusively from the records that Mr. Brandeis has committed himself to the proposition that a return on the capital stock of railroads of 7½ per cent is, to use his own words, 'rather niggardly.' That is the return which the interstate commerce commission unanimously determined was adequate. Further the investors of this country have decided that a stock yielding 7½ per cent in the market places of the country is worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

"I have repeatedly challenged any one to name a security which earns that amount that does not command par or above par. This return Mr. Brandeis branded before the interstate commerce commission as niggardly.

"The other proposition which I have attempted to show is entirely independent of the merits of the rate case and whether Mr. Brandeis was right or wrong in his position as to the adequacy of railroad revenue.

Matter of Ethics.

"The other proposition related to a matter of professional ethics. I have shown you that Mr. Brandeis was employed by the interstate commerce commission with specific instructions not to advocate any particular theory as to the disposition of the case. He was asked if he was willing to take the burden of seeing that the other side of the case was developed, and told that the railroad side would be adequately cared for. I have tried to show that Mr. Brandeis had expressed the greatest of confidence in the presentation of the rate case by associate counsel.

"I have shown that Mr. Brandeis co-operated in a friendly manner during the conduct of the case with Assistant counsel, yet, at the critical time, Mr. Brandeis without warning to other counsel after all argument had been closed on behalf of the public, conceded entirely to the railroads. Had I known that such was going to be his position, had he advised us of his decision, steps certainly would have been taken for our protection and we would have demanded an opportunity to be heard after Mr. Brandeis had closed the argument for the public.

Brandeis' Concession Fatal.

"Coming from Mr. Brandeis, who participated with us in cross-examination during the rate case, and who was employed by the interstate commerce commission, I consider that his concession was practically fatal to the cause of the public. Our work was usele[illegible]

Senator Fletcher, questioning the witness regarding instructions to Mr. Brandeis in the letter from the interstate commerce commission relating to his employment as counsel in the rate case, asked if it was not a fact that Mr. Brandeis was engaged to see that "all sides were taken care of."

Mr. Thorne said that there was such a proposal in the commission's letter, but that later on in the letter it was specifically stated that Mr. Brandeis should undertake the burden of the "other side," because the commission knew that the railroads would be adequately represented.

Mr. Thorne occupied the stand at two long sessions of the sub-committee,

Frightened Thief Smashes Records In Marathon Line

Everything Went Fine Until He Gazed Into Closet. There He Saw a Grinning Skeleton—Imagination Tells You the Rest.

"The Skeleton in Armor" had nothing on the one in a closet of a room occupied by A. J. Ayers, medical student residing at 97 Lawton street, last night when it successfully defended the residence from a negro burglar and, from all evidence, started a Marathon which hasn't ended yet.

Ayers is a student at the Atlanta Medical college, and since last August has kept a real skeleton in the closet of his room to aid him in his studies.

An exceedingly black negro who has been seen prowling around the neighborhood of the Ayers home for the past several days, entered the residence last night and in the course of his prowlings wound up in the room occupied by Ayers. According to Detectives Cochran and Doyal, he had emptied a trunk of its contents and had ransacked the bureau drawers.

In opening the closet the negro evidently espied the skeleton, which was resting in a lifelike position on a pile of clothing.

In front of the closet door was dropped everything of value which the negro had collected in his search of the room, showing that one glance into the interior of the closet had been sufficient.

Neighbors state that shortly before dark last night a very black negro rounded the corner of the Ayers house breaking all speed records and mumbling incoherently as he ran.

Detectives Doyal and Cochran state that they did not hope to catch the burglar, as he is probably too far from Atlanta by this time.

GEORGIA MAN LEAVES $20,000 TO HIS NURSES

Texas Women Cared for J. M. Tuggle, of Macon, Thinking He Was Poor.

Plainview, Texas, February 9.—After having nursed through a fatal illness a laborer apparently lacking means of support, Mrs. J. D. Earnest and her daughters have learned that their patient, J. M. Tuggle, of Macon, Ga., before his death had bequeathed to them $20,000 life insurance. Tuggle, it is said, had no near relatives. He arrived here recently seeking work.

Chains Binding Creen To Post in Prison Soon to Be Loosened

Constructing Solitary Cell at Milledgeville for Man Who Made Attack on Leo M. Frank.

William Creen, life prisoner at the state prison, at Milledgeville, who has been chained to a concrete post in the sleeping quarters for safety's sake ever since his murderous attack upon Leo M. Frank, is soon to be released from his post and put in a solitary confinement cell.

It has been necessary to keep Creen chained to the post all this time because the state prison had not a solitary cell in the building. The state prison commission, however, has just placed an order for two cells to be installed in the present building, and these will shortly be put in for use when prisoners are found to be dangerous. Each of the cells will have a capacity of two prisoners each.

Other solitary cells will be installed in the new building which is now in course of construction.

In addition to these cells, it was stated by Judge Rainey, of the commission, other cells will be added if it is found necessary.

The walls of the new building are up, but the work is temporarily halted on account of the inability to obtain steel for the remainder of the structural work. Steel mills are now rushed with war and railroad orders and the prison commission has not been able to get its orders filled.

Meanwhile, the commission has ordered a third story built to the boys' reformatory building, and while this work is being done the entire building will be made fireproof throughout. The building, as it now stands, is not fireproof.

Buy-Right Hints for the Housewife

Advertising the Direct Guide

Advertising is the "direct guide" to your purchases.

You rarely ever go to a store, or to your market, and inquire for their prices. You read the advertising FIRST, post up on prices, then select the store or stores you feel justified in trading with.

If it were not for advertising, what a lot of time you would consume, and what a lot of shoe leather you would use up, trapseing from store to store to learn what prices they were asking for any particular article, or articles, you might be needing.

So you see what a beneficial agent advertising has become.

There's scarcely a thing you need to eat or to wear, improve household conditions, beautify the home, add to its comfort, or facilitate the economic operation of domestic affairs but are advertised daily in The Constitution, and at the lowest prices.

Advertising argues the "point of least resistance" between your needs and their acquirement. Be sure to read The Constitution's advertising carefully.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

DR. JONES ASKED FOR RETRACTION

Rev. J. C. Atkinson Writes Letter in Behalf of His Daughter, Mrs. W. J. McDaniel, One of Dr. Jones' Neighbors.

"I shall not allow you to cast any insinuations or aspersions upon my child, either by positive statement or inference. So far as Mrs. McDaniel is concerned, I very respectfully request you, Dr. Jones, to retract, unconditionally, the charge of 'unprovoked assault.'"

This is an excerpt from a scathing communication from Rev. J. C. Atkinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, of Douglasville, Ga., in reply to the card published by Dr. C. O. Jones in Sunday's Constitution in reference to the Highland and Adair avenues arc light episode.

Pastors of Same Denomination.

Mrs. W. J. McDaniel, the next door neighbor to Dr. Jones and the resident whose house is partly hidden by the alleged spite fence that borders the Jones back yard, is a daughter of Dr Atkinson, who is not only the pastor of a church of the same denomination as that of Dr. Jones—Trinity church, Atlanta—but is a member of the same conference, the North Georgia Methodist.

That portion of Dr. Jones' card to which the Douglasville minister takes exception is:

"In reference to the arc light controversy, any statement in or out of the newspapers affirming that I have painted an arc light globe to exclude the light from my wife's bedroom or advised any mechanic to do it, is a falsehood, unmitigated and libelous. The entire court matters have been handled by my son, N. T. Jones, in an effort to protect his mother's home from unprovoked assaults. One supposed ministerial disqualification is that a preacher must receive and not strike blows. Self-defense is a law both in civics and morals."

Dr. Atkinson's Letter.

The letter of Rev. Atkinson follows:

"Editor Constitution: In Sunday's Constitution, February 6, appeared a card from the pen of Dr. C. O. Jones in reference to the far-famed arc light at the intersection of Highland and Adair avenues. His card is misleading to those unfamiliar with facts in the case.

"Inasmuch as my daughter, Mrs. W. J. McDaniel, resides at 18 Adair avenue, Mr. McDaniel being out of the city on business, I assume the responsibility of asking Dr. Jones to make the misleading language in his card, clear, not only in word, but in inference, so far as it may have reference to Mrs. McDaniel, Mr. McDaniel being a subscriber to the light, and a neighbor to Dr. Jones.

"Dr. Jones says: 'In a long life, this is my first card to a newspaper on a personal matter. I have never been a personal litigant, not even a witness in court.'

"Dr. Jones, will you please be so kind as to tell the public why you have never been a personal litigant, not even a witness in court? It is a well-known fact, Dr. Jones, that your family, living in the same house with you, have been both litigant and witnesses in court; it is a well-known fact, Dr. Jones, that you have been inordinately active in these issues up to the very moment litigation was to begin.

"Dr. Jones, will you tell the public why you side-step and disclaim all responsibility, all knowledge, just as to how the issues are to be litigated? You have been active beforehand, so please tell the public why you do not go all the way?

"Dr. Jones further says: 'In reference to the arc light controversy, any statement in or out of the newspapers affirming that I have painted or advised any mechanic to paint an arc light globe to exclude the light from my wife's bed room windows, is a falsehood, unmitigated and libelous.'

Wanted Arc Light Painted.

"Dr. Jones, did you not go in person to Mr Preston Arkwright's office and use all your powers to have him order, at once, the arc light globe to be painted?

"Dr. Jones, tell the public all about that visit to Mr. Arkwright's office, will you not?

"Dr. Jones further says: 'The entire court matters have been handled by my son, N. T. Jones, in an effort to protect his mother's home from unprovoked assaults.'

"Dr. Jones, will you fully explain to the public what you mean by 'unprovoked assault?'

"Mrs. McDaniel is one of your nearest neighbors; she is my daughter, and Mr. McDaniel is a subscriber to the arc light, and just because you are opposed to that progress common to all growing towns and cities—the installation of lights—I shall not allow you to cast any insinuations or aspersions on my child, either by positive statement or inference.

"So far as Mrs. McDaniel is concerned, I very respectfully request you, Dr. Jones, to retract, unconditionally, the charge of unprovoked assault.

"Dr. Jones further says: 'The corner of Highland avenue and Adair has been lighted for the past twelve months by an incandescent light.'

"Dr. Jones, did you not then interpose the same objections to the incandescent light as you now do to the arc light?

"In a word, Dr. Jones, tell the public what kind of a light you really do wish, will you, please?

Size of Proposed Spot.

"Dr. Jones further says: 'Mr. Preston Arkwright proposed to place an ordinary arc light on this corner, so painted as to exclude the glare of light from our bedroom windows, and in addition, to install an incandescent light on Adair avenue, without extra cost.'

"Dr. Jones, why did you not tell the public the size of the spot Mr. Arkwright contemplated; one possibly as large as a silver dollar, and on this assumption, the defendant in the injunction case accepted the proposition and it was made the order of the court.

"Dr. Jones, why did you not tell the public that the ordinary arc light was installed promptly, as per the order of the court, confirming the agreement reached, and just as promptly, more than half the globe was painted, shading not only your bedroom windows, but your house premises—and the whole of Adair avenue.

"Dr Jones, tell the public that this was done right under your own eyes and you never raised your voice in protest, although you knew at the time that only the shading of the bedroom windows was contemplated in the agreement and in the order of the court.

"Dr. Jones, the public is entitled to know this, will you be so kind as to make your language clear?

(Signed.) "J. C. ATKINSON."

German Flier Risks Life To Get Pair of Trousers For His British Captive

Berlin, February 9.—(Via London.) A new illustration of how the amenities of warfare are observed by hostile airmen is given in a letter from a German aviator on the western front.

This aviator was a participant in an aerial battle in which a British aeroplane was shot down and one of the aviators killed. The second was uninjured in person, but in landing his trousers had been irreparably damaged. The aviator thus afflicted, the German letter writer says, was so distressed that the German aviator mounted an aeroplane and dropped a note into the British lines. An hour later an English flier appeared, returning the call and dropped a bundle containing new trousers for his compatriot.

President Wilson "Snapped" at St. Louis

PRESIDENT AND MRS. WILSON AT ST. LOUIS.

The accompanying picture of President Wilson, with Mrs. Wilson and others, was made in St. Louis, where the president delivered one of his "preparedness" addresses. He was greeted and cheered by an immense crowd in the city, which has a large percentage of residents of German extraction. The photographer was fortunate in "snapping" Mrs. Wilson, as she is averse to posing for newspaper photographers.

MERCHANT MARINE URGED BY HOWELL

Editor of The Constitution Tells St. Louis Business Men Marine Is Best Means for Preparedness of Peace.

St. Louis, Mo., February 9.—(Special.) When the merchant marine was suggested by Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, and member of the democratic national committee, as the best means for the preparedness of peace, four hundred business men from all parts of the United States who were assembled at luncheon today as guests of the members' conference of the Business Men's league, quickly understood that the democratic party will consider other great questions besides those of preparedness for war at its St. Louis convention in June.

After picturing briefly, but eloquently, the unpreparedness of the United States for defense in war, and declaring that this country ought to have an adequate defense military system for both land and sea, Mr. Howell alluded to the equally inefficient posture of the United States for aggressiveness and conquest in the commercial battles of peace.

New Army, Navy and Merchant Marine.

"We need a great navy," he declared, "and we ought to have it; we want a great army and we must have it. But it is equally imperative that we should be ready to achieve our ends in the endeavors of peace, and it is necessary that we should have a merchant marine. We are unprepared to handle our commerce on the high seas, and I insist that we must have a merchant marine even if we are compelled to convert some of our fleet of armored cruisers into commercial freighters.

"Atlanta, my city, is inland. It is one thousand feet above the sea level. I don't think a ship ever will enter Atlanta. But I hold emphatically, nevertheless, that we must have a merchant marine, so that the goods of St. Louis, New York, New Orleans, Chicago and every sea and river port in America can reach their destination easily, quickly and surely.

"Think of it. At Savannah, in my state of Georgia, two hundred thousand bales of cotton are held, because there are not ships to carry them. In New York 25,000 carloads of freight are congested. Similar conditions exist in other ports. We ought to get this freight where it belongs, though we had to use the naval transports to convey it there."

Era of Great Prosperity.

Mr. Howell then graphically described the progress of American prosperity. The country faces the greatest era of prosperity in its history. The banks of the land have infinitely more surplus money than they have ever had and this money will operate to accelerate and expand prosperity.

"Cotton is selling now at 12 cents a pound," Mr. Howell said. "I predict that in a few years, perhaps in a few months, it will bring 20 cents."

Mr. Howell suggested vocational training in the schools as a means of preparedness for commercial conquest. He described the work which the south is carrying on for good highways.

Mr. Howell said St. Louis was the most representative American city, according to his ideals, as it always presented something new, and always proved itself to be lively, energetic and progressive.

Peace Resolution Blocked.

Washington, February 9.—On objection by Republican Leader Mann the house today declined to consider a resolution by Representative Clark, of Florida, for the calling of a peace congress of neutral nations by President Wilson.

Descends Unaided Into 30-Foot Well And Rescues Baby

Tot Fell in Playing Hide-and-Seek and Was Nearly Drowned—Medal Urged for Rescuer.

Jakin, Ga., February 9.—(Special.) At the great risk of his own life, Byron Merrett yesterday rescued 4-year-old Estelle Bryant from death by drowning at the bottom of a 30-foot well. This is the second life Mr. Merrett has saved by an act of bravery, and his fellow citizens are unanimous in advocating a Carnegie hero medal for him.

The child, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryant, fell into the well during a game of hide-and-seek. Hearing the screams of the child's playmates, Merrett ran up. He could see the child's white dress floating on the water in the dark depths thirty feet below.

Calling to the nearest neighbors to bring chains and ropes, he descended unaided into the well by means of grooves cut into the walls, bracing himself on both sides with hands and feet.

He was able to pull the unconscious tot out of the water, which is 12 feet deep, and fasten his own arms to trace chains which had been hurriedly pieced together and lowered. The child and her rescuer were then hauled to the surface.

Estelle was unconscious and apparently dead, but Dr. E. C. Smith, who had been summoned, succeeded in resuscitating her after hard work, and it is believed she is no worse off for her harrowing experience.

Old Woman Who Preached, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," Put in Jail by Germany

Cologne, February 9.—(Via London.) Elly Reuss, 74 years old, a woman missionary at Cologne, the head of a small section of Seventh Day Adventists, who preached the practical application of the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," was sentenced today by courtmartial to nine months' imprisonment in a fortress on the charge of attempted treason by inciting soldiers to insubordination. The woman had advocated in speech and print the principle that soldiers must not slay on the Sabbath. The court accepted as a mitigating fact evidence that the defendant had not acted in an anti-German spirit. Moreover, a court physician pronounced her mentally subnormal. Otherwise the sentence probably would have been much greater.

Washington, February 9.—Seventh Day Adventist headquarters here has no record of a missionary named Elly Reuss. Officials thought the woman referred to in the Cologne dispatch was rather a local adherent of the faith than an officer of the church.

GERMAN BEET SEED FOR UNITED STATES

Washington, February 9.—State department dispatches today announced that the entire consignment of 15,000 bags of sugar beet seed recently released by Germany for shipment to the United States soon would be delievered at New York and that negotiations were in progress for release of an additional 4,000 bags. A small part of the 15,000 bags already has reached New York, and the remainder will be shipped from Rotterdam, the advices said, within a few days.

GERMAN AIRSHIPS RAID KENT COAST

Two Aeroplanes Drop Bombs, Injuring 2 Women and a Child—Bombs Fell Near Schoolhouse.

London, February 9.—Two women and one child were injured this afternoon when two German seaplanes raided the Kentish coast, dropping bombs. Three missiles fell on the outskirts of Ramsgate and four near a school at Broadstairs. The material damage is said by the war office to have been confined to the shattering of glass.

The attack was made in broad daylight. At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon two seaplanes were reported approaching the Kent coast, and a few minutes later they flew over Ramsgate and Broadstairs.

A number of naval and military aeroplanes and seaplanes ascended to attack the Germans, but they immediately retreated. As no engagement between the airmen has been reported, it is presumed that the Germans made good their escape.

Of the four bombs dropped in Broadstairs all fell near a school house. Three of them exploded.

Ramsgate and Broadstairs are both seaside pleasure resorts. They have no manufactories or other trade and are of no military importance. Both towns have a number of popular schools.

Ramsgate, February 9.—Two German aeroplanes, flying abreast at a great height and moving slowly, approached Ramsgate from the sea about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. When barely 150 yards over the cliffs they dropped six or eight bombs in rapid succession. All of these fell in the fields between Ramsgate and Broadstairs.

The raiders turned seawards and soon disappeared. Hundreds of people flocked to the scene, hunting for fragments of the exploded bombs as souvenirs.

Broadstairs, England, February 10.—Four bombs from German aeroplanes fell into the grounds of a girls' school here yesterday afternoon. Another landed in the garden of a private house and sank deeply into the ground, but did not explode. Both the German machines were light in color and owing to the bright sunshine it was difficult to detect them in the clouds.

Rather Than Face Peril Of a Probable Lynching Negro Commits Suicide

Tunica, Miss., February 9.—Rather than face the danger of a probable lynching, Dave Hagen, negro, committed suicide today by slashing his throat with a razor after he had been placed under arrest. The negro fell from the horse he was riding and died almost instantly. Hagen was captured today by a posse after he had shot and slightly wounded Cal Smith, town marshal here.

LAWYERS ARE INDICTED FOR SUBORNING PERJURY

Chicago, February 9.—Patrick H. O'Donnell and Charles E. Erbstein, lawyers, were indicted today on charges of subornation of perjury in recent trials of police officials accused of graft. At the same time indictments were returned against former Police Captain James O'Dea Storen, former Detectives Michael Weisbaum and Fred Roth and three witnesses in the cases against Storen, Weisbaum and Roth out of which grew the perjury charges.

O'Donnell and Erbstein are among the most widely known of Chicago criminal lawyers. Each is indicted on five counts, the aggregate bail for each being $50,000.

FURIOUS FIGHTING BETWEEN FRENCH AND THE GERMANS

Germans Penetrate French Positions Between Lens and Arras, But Are Driven Out by Counter Attacks.

FRENCH HEAVY GUNS WRECK GERMAN WORKS

Hard Fighting Reported on Russian Front in the Riga District—Austrians Claim to Be Advancing in Albania.

London, February 9.—The French and the Germans have been engaged in furious combat between Lens and Arras, where recently there has been great activity. Berlin reports that to the west of the town of Vimy the Germans captured French positions over a length of 800 yards. Paris admits that the Germans, after the explosion of two heavily charged mines, got a foothold in portions of a French trench, but says that they were driven out by hand grenade attacks.

The German attack was made near the western end of the French front, a short distance below the Belgian border in the region which has been the scene of pronounced activity recently. Vimy is two miles northeast of Neuville, near which town the Germans late last month made an infantry attack, capturing, as reported by Berlin, about 1,500 yards of French positions.

Southwest of Vimy, in the vicinity of the road running from Neuville to Thelus, the Germans discharged another mine, but an infantry attack against the French was repulsed.

Paris also reports that the French in a grenade attack drove the Germans from a small post between Soissons and Rheims, and that the French batteries have badly damaged German organizations in the forest of Apremont, southeast of St. Mihiel.

Reports indicate that the Germans are preparing for a great offensive on the Franco-Belgian front. The latest advices concerning these preparations came today from Amsterdam in the shape of a report that 600,000 men have been sent by the Germans to the Belgian frontier.

On the Russian front Berlin records the repulse of Russian infantry attacks at several points in the Riga region. A Petrograd dispatch says severe fighting is developing in this district, the preliminary artillery duels having changed into bombardments of great intensity.

Nothing new has come through concerning the situation on the Austro-Italian line, in Belgium, or in Asia, where the Russians and British at various points are engaged with the Turks.

FRENCH REPULSE GRMAN ATTACKS.

Paris, February 9.—(Via London.)—An official statement tonight reads:

"In Belgium our heavy artillery continued the bombardment of the Vauban fort and the trenches in the region of Het Sas.

"In Artois a rather intense artillery duel has been going on between Hill 119 and the road from Neuville to Thelus. The enemy after having exploded a mine in front of our trench to the southwest of Hill 140 directed against our positions an infantry attack which was repulsed.

"Between Soissons and Rheims, to the south of Ville Aux Bois, we attacked with grenades a small post which the enemy was obliged to evacuate.

"To the southeast of St. Mihiel our batteries caused extensive damage to the German organizations in the forest of Apremont.

"Between 5:30 and 6:40 o'clock today the enemy threw seven shells on Belfort and its environs."

"In Artois artillery on both sides continued to show activity. On the front extending from Hill 140 to the road from Neuville to La Folie, the Germans yesterday just after midday exploded two mines heavily charged. To the west of La Folie they were able

GERMANS TAKE FRENCH POSITIONS

Berlin February 9—(Via London)—Capture of the first line French positions over a front of 800 yards to the west of Vimy was announced today by the war office.

The text of the statement follows

'Western theater West of Vimy our troops stormed first line French positions over an extension of 800 metres, securing more than 100 prisoners and five machine guns.

'South of the Somme the French again penetrated during the evening a small German trench section

In Bois le Pretre an enemy aeroplane was shot down by our infantry It fell in flames, its two occupants dead.

GERMANS MASS ON WEST FRONT.

London, February 9—Reiterating the report that large numbers of German troops have been transferred recently to northern France, the Amsterdam correspondent of the Central News telegraphs that it is reported from the Belgian frontier that 600 000 men have been sent to that front.

The message also says the Germans are planning to extend the Belgian port of Zeebrugge so that it will shelter more ships

HARD FIGHTING ON DVINSK FRONT.

Petrograd, February 9—(Via London)—Severe fighting is developing on the Dvinsk front, preliminary artillery duels having been succeeded by a continuous bombardment of great intensity on both sides The Germans attacked the railway station at Liksno on the east bank of the Dvina, 7 miles northwest of Dvinsk, which would appear to indicate a serious penetration of the Russian lines but the Russian staff explains that the German forces were unable to advance still occupying their old positions and succeeded in reaching Liksno only by using heavy artillery which they now have had time to mount

Regarding the security of the strong German fortifications which were erected along the northern front during Field Marshal von Hindenburg's campaign against Dvinsk Russian military critics believe they will remain effective as long as the ground remains frozen and that in the early spring the German positions including Mitau will become untenable

Little importance therefore is attached in these circles to the persistent predictions of a great German offensive against Riga and Dvinsk in March since Russian military men have been convinced by the failure of Von Hindenburg's last efforts to take Dvinsk that even under conditions most favorable to the Germans the Dvinsk Riga line is impregnable

A French detachment, the correspondent reports, has occupied the Greek island of Fano, north of Corfu.

In Galicia to the northwest of Tarnopol the enemy fired heavy calibre explosive shells against the sector of Gliadki-Vorobievka Northwest of Zale Szezyky we occupied Uscieczko, where our troops crossed to the western bank of the Dniester Southwest of Zamoussin, on the Dniester below Zale Szezyky the enemy inadvertently blew up a small mine The explosion destroyed a portion of his trenches

Southeast of Zale Szezyky a priest, Alexandre Jarlovetzky, fell a victim to his duty while blessing with the cross the killed and wounded close to the enemy entanglements

GERMANS PROUD, EVEN IN DEFEAT.

Amsterdam February 9—(Via London)—The Frankfurter Zeitung hails the successful retreat of the German colonial troops from Kamerun to Spanish Guinea as one of the most notable achievements of the whole colonial warfare, and adds

That the enemy was unable seriously to interfere with the retreat allows of agreeable conclusions on the unbroken fighting spirit of the Germans

ITALIANS REPORT ARTILLERY DUELS.

Rome February 9—(Via London)—An official communication today reads The artillery actions on the whole front have been most intense On the Isonzo we obtained good results from our fire directed on various enemy positions and behind the enemy's lines, and also against columns of troops and wagons in motion

ALBANIA INVADED BY THE AUSTRIANS

Vienna February 9—(Via London) An official communication today reads

In the Russian and Italian theaters there is nothing important to report.

Southeastern theater Vanguards of the Austro Hungarian troops operating in Albania have crossed the river Im and occupied Prezlja (about 12 miles northeast of Durazzo) and the heights northwest of the town The enemy, composed of remnants of Serbian units Italian detachments and Essad Pasha's mercenaries avoided battle and retreated toward the south and southeast

Only when occupying Valja, eight kilometers (about five miles) north west of Tirina, did a short battle develop In it the enemy was repulsed

Our airmen have recently repeatedly bombarded with success the troop camps near Durazzo and Italian steamers lying in the harbor there

In the Montenegro sector the situation is quiet The disarming of the Montenegrins has been completed

SPECIAL PENSIONS FOR 1,000 VETERANS

Washington February 9—Special pensions of $10 a month each and places on a roll of honor for former soldiers holders of medals of honor and over 65 years old are authorized in a bill introduced by Representative Sherwood of Ohio and passed today by the House It is estimated that not more than 1 000 veterans come under the provisions of the measure

Another pension bill designed to benefit widows of Spanish volunteers who served more than ninety days aroused much discussion and finally went over until next Wednesday without action It would grant widows whose incomes do not exceed $250 a year pensions of $12 a month and $3 additional for each minor child without regard to the causes of the soldier's death

Republican Leader Mann urged the passage of the bill to encourage volunteer duty

Especially at present with the possibility of war facing us he said it is appropriate that we should say particularly to the young men You offer us your lives when you enlist and by the eternal if you die we will take care of your widows

Representative Gardner insisted that the measure was unfair to the widows of regular army soldiers

ANTHRAX NOT SPREAD BY WEARING CHEAP FURS

New York February 9—A belief which gained considerable currency here early in the winter—that the comparatively rare disease known as anthrax is spread by wearing cheap furs—is contradicted by Health Commissioner Emerson In a statement published today Dr Emerson says that his department has record of only nine deaths from anthrax in 1915 and that in every case the cause of the disease was unknown The nine victims followed these occupations Lawyer candymaker medical student government weigher labor (two cases) shoemaker no occupation (two cases)

If cat fur is such a dangerous source of infection says Dr Emerson it is a miracle that the death rate among those employed at Barren Island in preparing the large consignments of cat fur is not much greater than the total number of anthrax cases alleged to have been discovered in New York city by the representatives of the state labor department As a matter of fact among those most closely associated with cats and cat fur no cases of anthrax have developed

GERMAN RAIDER REPORTED TAKEN

New York Hears Cruiser Drake Has Captured Warship Roon and Two Other Ships—No Confirmation.

New York, February 9—Advices received here today assert that the German warship Roon, alleged to be the captor of the Appam, has been captured by the British armored cruiser Drake after a three-hour fight 200 miles east northeast of Bermuda, according to a story printed by The New York Evening Globe.

The capture of the Roon is said to have been followed by seizure of two merchantmen flying the German flag, one of which was armed.

Message Came in Code.

The story is contained in a message which The Globe states it received in code from a reliable source in Bermuda The message reads

Drake here today towing Roon Took her 200 knots east northeast Bermuda, three hours running fight Lost Danforth eighteen men Her losses about one third Struck as we came abeam Two merchantmen with her one armed Took both Brought here Segrave on sighting Roon, said Please God today I will avenge Craddock Roon badly knocked about by 9 2 Thirty-two officers and 719 men taken in the three prizes

Segrave With Craddock.

The Segrave mentioned in the message is supposed to be Captain Segrave, who was with Admiral Craddock when the latter went down with his flagship the Good Hope, which was sunk in an engagement with a German squadron off Chile

There is no Danforth among the officers in the British navy list.

Captain John R Segrave was in command of the auxiliary cruiser Orama which formed part of Admiral Craddock's squadron in the battle off Chile The Orama escaped, and later in company with the cruisers Glasgow and Kent, sank the German cruiser Dresden off Juan Fernandez Island A few days later Captain Segrave fought a battle with the German armed merchantman Navarra, off the river Plate and sank her The Orama was last reported at Callao in June 1915

For several days reports have been current in maritime circles here that the German commerce raider had been either sunk or captured by the British The British consulate, however has received no official confirmation

BRITISH EMBASSY RECEIVES THE NEWS.

Washington February 9—The British embassy today received advices from British agents in New York that a man living on Staten Island whose name was not transmitted had received a private dispatch from Bermuda, saying the British cruiser Drake had taken the German cruiser Roon and some German merchant ships

The embassy had no further advices

NO CONFIRMATION FROM BERMUDA.

Hamilton Bermuda, February 9—If a battle has taken place between the British armored cruiser Drake and the German cruiser Roon off Bermuda, nothing is known here of the occurrence Numerous inquiries have failed to confirm the report that the Drake attacked and captured the Roon These vessels have not reached this port and so far as can be learned, no advices have been received at Hamilton to indicate that the Drake has taken a prize into any other Bermuda port

GERMAN PEACE OFFER REJECTED BY BELGIUM

Germany Willing to Restore King Albert and Pay Indemnity, But Wants Antwerp.

Rome, February 9—(Via Paris)—The Giornale D'Italia states that Monsignor Tacci Porcelli the papal nuncio to Belgium presented to Belgium Germany's proposals for a separate peace Whether or not he was authorized to do so by the vacation says the newspaper has not been ascertained.

It is said that Germany through Prince von Buelow and other prominent personages has indicated that the terms she is ready to offer to Belgium for the concluding of a separate peace comprise the restoration of Belgium to the government of King Albert and the payment of a large indemnity for damages caused by the invasion and the occupation and that she asks in return economical and commercial privileges which practically transforms the port of Antwerp into a German center of traffic To these proposals Belgium is said to have replied with a prompt refusal and a declaration of intention to adhere to the allies and not conclude a separate peace

Statements regarding efforts being made to induce Cardinal Mercer to use his influence in favor of proposals for a separate peace have also been made but it is asserted that they have been entirely in vain Cardinal Mercer is living in strict retirement at the chief house of the redemptorist fathers in Rome where he receives no visitors and where he is recuperating from an attack of grippe Cardinal Mercer is occupied in working out plans for the reconstruction of the ecclesiastical seminaries in Belgium in accordance with the provisions of the new Roman congregation which has been appointed by Pope Benedict to take charge of seminaries throughout the world

U. S. EXPORT FIGURES GROSSLY INACCURATE

Secretary Redfield Says Errors Due to Refusal of Shippers to Give the Facts.

Washington, February 9—Wholesale inaccuracies in government export statistics were admitted today by Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, in a speech before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States He said, however, that by an order issued February 1 he had remedied the situation so far as was in his power and that the gross errors of the past caused by refusal of shippers to give the government facts and by antiquated laws would not be repeated

The secretary referred to a charge made a month ago by officials of the chamber that the percentage of errors in departmental reports was so great it was impossible even for experts to estimate it that single cargoes running into thousands of dollars in value left American ports without being recorded and that the published export figures for 1914 fell far short of the actual exports

Case Understated.

He said this probably understated the case There was but slight inaccuracy in import statistics he added as returns on imports were more fully under government control

Such errors as have existed in recording exports said he are probably understated The business of compiling figures of $5 000 000 000 a year under a law of 1820 is not a simple matter The errors have been caused wholly by shippers who were unwilling to state the facts I am glad that you have gone into this matter I welcome your co operation You are my witnesses that at there are no closed doors in the department of commerce So long as I have anything to do with that department if there is anything of concealment I will show it up

Mr Redfield was an unannounced speaker on the day's program Others who addressed the chamber included Dr Wellington Koo the Chinese minister who declared that in China the greatest of world markets awaited the American business man and Senator Fletcher of Florida who spoke of the work facing the Pan American International High commission

Mr Sheehan was born in Buffalo was once comptroller of that city and was a political opponent of Grover Cleveland, when the latter was mayor of Buffalo On coming to New York he became a district leader and gradually rose to a place of influence in Tammany Hall circles He served as police commissioner from 1892 to 1895

VERBAL CHANGES ABOUT LUSITANIA

Not Believed Germany Will Object to the Alteration in Phrasing Suggested by the Unied States.

Washington February 9—One of the changes in the Lusitania agreement suggested by Secretary Lansing to Count von Bernstorff the German ambassador, is the substitution of the words recognizes liability for the words assumes liability which were employed in the tentative draft

It is understood that upon this change and others described also as minor is based the expressed view of high officials that the two governments are substantially in accord, although not wholly so

No new difficulty is expected here from the change of words It is felt that Germany could not or would not assume a liability which she would not recognize

It is not believed here that the Berlin officials will hesitate to accept the suggestion

It was not disclosed just when American officials determined that the recognition instead of the assumption of liability was more to be desired

From one quarter came the suggestion that the word recognizes makes clearer the meaning the German government desires to convey It has not been suggested, it was said that either the word illegal or legal be employed in the formal communication the understanding being that the Berlin officials are particularly undesirous of using either at the same time wishing to have the viewpoints of the two governments concerned in harmony

TEIPER TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER OF MOTHER

Buffalo N Y February 9—John Edward Teiper will be tried before a jury at the April term of the supreme court for the alleged murder of his mother Mrs Agnes M Teiper Both prosecution and defense agreed after the return of an indictment by the grand jury today charging Teiper with matricide to which he pleaded not guilty that it was desirable to await the possible recovery of Grace J Teiper sister of John Edward and a victim of the Orchard Park tragedy

The hope that the young woman ultimately will recover grew stronger today among the physicians attending her Her periods of returning consciousness were longer and she appeared to be gaining strength hourly She frequently calls for her mother, but has not yet mentioned the name of her murdered brother Frederick C Teiper

The indictment returned by the grand jury contained two counts and both related to the death of Mrs Teiper The omission of any mention to Frederick C Teiper, the second victim of the tragedy, was recognized by Teiper's lawyers and a strenuous effort was made during Teiper's arraignment before Justice Louis W Marcus to force the prosecutor to conduct the coming trial on a charge of double murder Justice Marcus held however that there was no process of law to compel the district attorney to add to the charge as it now stands

PACIFISTS CRYING NO PREPAREDNESS

Washington, February 9—Opponents of administration plans for national defense legislation concluded their day in court today before the house military committee and, while not unanimous in their opinion as to what should be done or left undone with regard to the army and navy, they all opposed any present change in military policy

Representatives of the Society of Friends and a score of others, speaking under the auspices of the Woman's Peace party, discussed war and its causes and consequences from many angles They were seldom interrupted by committee members except where the openmindedness of congress on subjects of preparedness was assailed.

List of the Speakers.

Among those who spoke were Walter Fisher of Chicago former secretary of the interior Oswald Garrison Villard president of The New York Evening Post the Rev John McCracken, chancellor emeritus University of New York Samuel B Montgomery, of West Virginia speaking as the representative of the United Mine Workers and several fraternal organizations Mrs Florence Kelley of New York speaking for the Child Welfare Workers of the country, Sara Bard Field of California, who said she represented the sentiment of the women voters of western states Frederick Howe, New York, state immigration commissioner, and Rev Frank Hall of New York speaking for the clergy of all denominations of that city

Rabbi Wise of New York, was also one of the speakers and in his talk he attacked General Wood and "other incipient czars

The views expressed ranged from suggestions that congress should await the conclusion of the European war to profit by the lessons it might teach to declarations against a policy of military preparedness at any time or for any purpose

Villard for Peace at Any Price.

A majority of the speakers even the women disclaimed any sympathy with a peace at any price doctrine, but Mr Villard prefaced his remarks with the statement that under certain conditions he would wear that designation as a badge of honor

"If it means to believe" he said "that there is no cause leading up to war which cannot be composed and adjudicated by international tribunals precisely as the quarrels of individuals are vindicated then I would be willing to have the stigma of a peace at any price man attached to me and shall wear it as a distinction."

Mr Fisher aroused the resentment of some members of the committee when he declared that under a general order of the war department army officers had been gagged and the views presented to the committee by staff officers did not reflect the opinions of many officers of the line He said several officers of his acquaintance had declared themselves opposed to any great military increase plan, but all feared to express their real views because of the gag order Representative Kahn called attention to the statement of Secretary Garrison to the committee that officers were "free as air" to express their personal views

Mine Workers Oppose.

Mr Montgomery said he spoke for 500 000 mine workers, who had declared against preparedness in their convention He admitted that he and other officers of the organization had believed it would be impossible for their side to get a fair hearing, and added that he had been agreeably surprised at the kindly reception he had met in Washington The great newspapers, he declared, were controlled by munition makers and armor interests and the opposition to their proposals was denied a hearing He added that labor was not opposed to the national guard in states where it was not controlled by the employers and filled with 'gun and billy men' to trample on labor's rights

Mr Villard urged that the army be reduced to the status of national police it occupied in 1895 Adequate preparedness was a will-o'-the-wisp, he said, and could not be obtained under any plan proposed short of conscription and the military domination known in Germany and which had led to the moral ruin of that country

How about an attack by Germany, France and Japan," he said, "at the same time? Can you arm against that, except by steering the nation in paths of righteousness?"

Rabbi Wise Attacks Wood

'I deny your right to give us the preparedness legislation proposed," said Rabbi Wise "There has been only one side presented and you have no mandate from the American people to take this step

"New York said the rabbi, 'is the hot bed of all the hysteria If we are defenseless after spending hundreds of millions of dollars on the army and navy then somebody ought to be courtmartialed—I would not like to use the word shot"

He said 'we have the Woods," and others who are the incipient czars who want to ram militarism down our throats He claimed that everywhere the thinking men and women were opposed to preparedness "We are denied a hearing in the newspapers on the anti-military preparedness program' he said

I protest,' he said, against this crime of the great military program I'm not a peace-at-any-price man, but I am against war at any price'

The rabbi explained that he was not a native of the United States, but said he was as patriotic as anyone else

D. A. R. for Preparedness.

Mrs Kelley said hundreds of women were receiving letters from the Daughters of the American Revolution urging them to promise the use of their homes and motor cars and money to care for the wounded in 'the war' She declared the letters said Secretary Garrison approved the effort to organize 10 000 000 American women in this phase of preparedness Chairman Hay expressed surprise over this activity and asked that a copy of the circular be furnished the committee

Mrs Field asserted that the so-called yellow peril was a myth The Japanese and Chinese were being crowded out of their own country by growing population, she said, and the United States with vast unoccupied lands, must give them shelter Representative Kahn of California, asked if she thought residents of the Pacific coast would welcome such a proposal

We have the land and they have not she replied 'There's your problem

Wars Caused by Bankers.

Mr Howe said the spreading of investments abroad by the bankers of any country caused its wars He sketched the colonial expansion of Great Britain France and Germany to support his statement that he was "more afraid of foes within the country than foes without The greatest achievement of the present administration Mr Howe declared was its rejection of dollar diplomacy through refusal to sanction American participation in the proposed six power loan to China

Dr McCracken said he knew of only two ministers in New York who favored preparedness One was a Canadian by birth he said and the other an Englishman He was not opposed, he said to maintaining and increasing the army on a basis of a growing population and to pay for it he proposed that congress 'take half the retail price of death-dealing munitions as you take it from death-dealing whisky now'

To Drill 300 Oil Wells

The Uncle Sam Oil Company is offering the greatest money maker in America for the moderate investor

Advertising space comes high, and as the Company wishes to put all capital raised into actual drilling on proven grounds—it is not using much space in this paper—only to notify you to write at once for full particulars and same will be gladly sent without cost or obligation to you When you receive full information as we want you to have, you will not consider any other investment proposition in preference to a big block of stock in this established Company

This is the age of oil and big financiers are taking advantage of the oil boom to sell to the public stocks of the Trust on a capitalization basis of Two Billion Dollars Some of this stock on such a basis will now only pay two per cent and cannot advance much Get in touch with us and get a line on the high brow schemers for the big Trust as well as the fake wildcatters and you will make your money count where a real advance of five to twenty times is possible, as our drills push development.

Millions are made in oil and millions will be made in oil but you must join an established company building on a big broad basis We refine our oil, and it may soon bring $4 00 per barrel

By acting quickly you can secure a part of this valuable stock on a capitalization basis of One Million Dollars, and we have several properties that, by just a little good luck can produce more oil than all the stock when issued will come to at the price you need pay

The Uncle Sam Oil Company has Three Refineries. Over one hundred twenty producing wells. One hundred sixty five miles of pipe line connecting the larger percentage of our properties with two refineries in two states. The Company has about ten thousand acres of oil and gas leases and fifteen hundred acres of deeded lands in the real oil and gas belt, and at least 00 locations where good judgment demands that wells be drilled

The Company is now drilling six deep wells that can easily secure production that should increase our combined properties several million dollars

To make big profits you must invest with a concern developing on a big basis Four of our deep wells are in the east extension of the rich Cushing oil fields At the hour this notice was written one of these wells was developing a rich new producer in the Wheeler sand at 2489 feet Three of these wells will be drilled 3300 feet unless big producers are developed at less depth At this hour they are 1900 and 2610 and 2840 feet deep at these three locations

Some big producers are practically sure within the next six to ten days—but subject to withdrawal without notice the Company will accept remittances at the present prices until February 16 Answer quickly and you will have time to secure your stock at present prices.

We have another well half drilled on a big lease in Pawnee County, and we are helping to drill another well near the center of four hundred acres of leases west of the Glenn pool in Creek County You can secure this stock at about half the book value and when you join this Company you will be backed by seventeen thousand other stockholders and an already great property

The Uncle Sam Oil Company is the real big growing independent of the Middle West, building for principle as well as financial gain It is the pioneer that for ten years has maintained the first direct to the people marketing stations in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri "High brow' financiers and "so-called" investment journals and the subsidized press all take a "paid knock' at "Uncle Sam Oil" but it has gone from persecution to prosperity, and if you wish to join a winner that is determined to drill 300 new wells during the next twenty-four months and finally cover the United States with its direct-to-the-people marketing stations—then write today for full particulars and get a big block of real oil stock before some great producers advance the price five to twenty times It will only cost you a 2-cent stamp to secure free full information, and up to date reports on oil wells now drilling, but do not answer unless you mean business.

Respectfully submitted,

THE UNCLE SAM OIL CO.

HUGHES DECLINES TO BE CANDIDATE

Justice Writes He Is Totally Opposed to Use of Name in Connection With G. O. P. Nomination.

Washington, February 9—Representative Slemp, chairman of the Virginia republican committee, today made public a letter from Justice Hughes, declaring "I am totally opposed to the use of my name in connection with the nomination and to selection or instruction of any delegates in my interest directly or remotely"

Justice Hughes' letter, made public with his consent, was in reply to a letter from Mr Slemp, which informed the justice that Frank H Hitchcock, postmaster general under President Taft has inaugurated a movement in the south favoring the justice for the republican presidential nomination

Slemp to Hughes.

Chairman Slemp's letter to Justice Hughes and the reply of the justice follow

"My Dear Justice Hughes

"I take the liberty of writing to you in regard to a political situation that has developed in the state of Virginia Conventions are called in the state to select delegates to attend the republican national convention at Chicago June 7 The state convention is called for Roanoke March 29 the district conventions at various times and places in respective districts

"There is a general feeling in the state that the delegates in the state should go to the national convention uninstructed and there with the republicans from the other states in the union, assist in selecting the most available man as a candidate I am chairman of our state committee a member of congress from the only republican district in the state

"About ten days ago a movement started in the state directed from New York city, by Frank H Hitchcock former postmaster general, favoring you as a republican nominee He has secured around him in our state a few of his old appointees, Mr R E Cabell, former commissioner of internal revenue, now living at Richmond, Va, Mr B A Davis, postmaster under Mr Hitchcock at Rocky Mount and Mr S Brown Allen, former postmaster at Staunton, Va

Movement by Hitchcock.

"I enclose you a copy of a letter written by Colonel S Brown Allen to one of my friends who forwarded the same to me In this letter is explained a movement by Mr Hitchcock, and I have other letters of similar character You will observe it advocates an attack on me as state chairman, and the organization generally, with the statement that Mr Hitchcock is to be chairman of the national committee, and again postmaster general therefore the dispenser of patronage and that those that indorse his views and support you as presidential candidate will receive commensurate consideration afterward

"I am not willing that I should be placed in the attitude of opposing you as a candidate for the presidency, and this is the view of thousands of republicans in our state, neither do I think it is right for a fight to be inaugurated in our state against me and others upon the supposition that we oppose you

I am writing you at the earliest moment to acquaint you of the situation that has so recently developed under your name, and at the same time to assure you that there has been no hostility exhibited toward you anywhere in our state but on the contrary the greatest admiration and friendship exists for you Very respectfully

"C BASCOM SLEMP

'February 3 1916'

Reply of Justice Hughes.

Justice Hughes replied

My Dear Mr Slemp Your letter of February 3 has been received I am entirely out of politics and I know nothing whatever of the matters to which you refer I am totally opposed to the use of my name in connection with the nomination and to the selection or instruction of any delegates in my interest, either directly or remotely Very sincerely yours,

"CHARLES E HUGHES"

The letter which Congressman Slemp inclosed in his communication to Justice Hughes, which was written to an unnamed friend of the Virginian by S Brown Allen, former postmaster at Staunton, was also made public Allen wrote that he had been called on the long distance telephone from New York by Mr Hitchcock and advised to go to Richmond to confer with Mr Cabell

'Mr Cabell laid before me the campaign,' Allen's letter said, "which is as follows

"The friends of Justice Hughes, with Governor Whitman at the head, got together and sent to Mr Hitchcock who was as I suppose you know, about the best politician in the country and arranged to place him in full charge of the Hughes campaign The arrangement is not to antagonize Roosevelt, because it would be surely Hughes or Roosevelt, and under the arrangement Hitchcock, of course will be postmaster general and the premier of the next administration He will be made at Chicago chairman of the national committee in place of Hilles, and will be in full charge of the campaign until the vote is counted in the November election"

Reference that Prompted Letter.

The reference in Allen's letter which prompted Congressman Slemp to communicate with Justice Hughes, was as follows

"They know, too, full well, that the persons who assume to speak for the organization here are dead against either Hughes or Roosevelt, and persons looking for recognition under the next administration would do well to put a black mark through their names on an indorsement"

In making public the correspondence, Chairman Slemp issued a statement in which he said the feeling was general among Virginia and other southern republicans to send uninstructed delegations to the republican convention at Chicago.

"As a consequence," said Mr Slemp, "I deplore the effort that is being made in the state of Virginia and, I understand, in other southern states, to secure instruction for candidates, and more particularly to secure them by the promise of political patronage In pursuance of this thought the correspondence with Justice Hughes is given."

Not True, Says Cabell.

Richmond, Va, February 9—Royal E Cabell said tonight that so far as he knew there was not one word of truth in the statements in the letter alleged to have been written by S Brown Allen. He declared that Frank H Hitchcock has just told him over the long distance telephone that the whole story was a fabrication

"It is true," added Mr Cabell, "that I, in common with thousands of republicans in Virginia, would like to see Justice Hughes or a man of his type nominated for president, but any fight that I am making will be entirely within the party organization, and will not be carried to the point of endangering party harmony"

Staunton, Va, February 9—S Brown Allen, former postmaster of Staunton, expressed great surprise tonight when told of the publication of a letter purporting to have been written by him and sent by C Bascom Slemp to Justice Hughes Mr Allen said he had written but one letter bearing on the present presidential campaign, and that was to a constituent in Highland county asking the support of that section for Mr Hughes That letter was confidential, he asserted Mr Allen added that he had written once to Mr Hitchcock and talked to him once over the telephone regarding the proposed candidacy of Mr Hughes

Statements False, Says Hitchcock.

New York February 9—"The statements in the alleged letter from Mr Brown Allen, of Staunton, Va., so far as they relate to me, are entirely without foundation," Frank H Hitchcock said here tonight

Mr Hitchcock said Mr Allen once called him on the telephone while he was in Washington, but the name of Justice Hughes was not mentioned in the conversation, nor were any of the other matters referred to in Mr Allen's letter

Mr Hitchcock added that he knew of no organized effort to bring about the nomination of Justice Hughes

BISHOP NELSON OBJECTS TO ROCKEFELLER MONEY

For Episcopal University and Hospital in China Unless It Is Stringless.

New York, February 9—The Protestant Episcopal church will consider the acceptance of Rockefeller foundation donations for its university and hospital at Shanghai, China, provided such acceptance "does not interfere in any way with our own control of our church institutions" according to a resolution adopted here today by the board of foreign missions

The offer of the Rockefeller foundation, laid before the board in a letter from Bishop Graves, of Shanghai to the Rev F L Hawkes Pott, president of the church university, St John's, at Shanghai, was the subject of spirited discussion

Bishop C K Nelson, of Atlanta, Ga, opposed acceptance "It may do very well to accept outside assistance when it comes without conditions, he said 'There may be strings to this offer and we may find ourselves tied up to outside institutions' Bishop Nelson suggested that the question be referred back to the executive committee

The Rev Alexander Mann, of Trinity church, Boston, argued that acceptance would mean danger of "an infringement on our control of our own institutions' He believed it would be better for the church to continue its work without "outside dictation'

Bishop Greer, of New York, said he did not wish it to be understood that the board was against acceptance of the offer but said it would be well to be careful that the university and the hospital remain independent George Wharton Pepper, of Philadelphia, urged acceptance

The Rockefeller foundation is about to establish a new medical school in China, and its proffer of financial aid to the Episcopal institutions is intended, it was explained, to give the students of St John's medical education and to furnish clinical material and training for internes at the hospital, the church in return to render service to the Rockefeller school Dr Pott explained that it was the understanding of Bishop Graves that the foundation stood ready to pay for the training of nurses and for laboratories

Under the resolution adopted today the authorities of the church institutions in China will be asked to prepare detailed statements of the amounts needed to enable them to render the service asked by the Rockefeller school These statements, if approved by the board of foreign missions will be forwarded to the foundation's China medical board with the understanding that if such service is given there shall be no interference by the foundation of the church's control of its Shanghai institutions

Defense Ad. Campaign Proposed to President By Advertising Clubs

Washington February 9—A national defense advertising campaign was laid before President Wilson today by a committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The committee said it stood ready to prepare the campaign and carry it to fulfillment, enlisting assistance of newspapers and other advertising agencies and secure the free services of leading writers, illustrators, engravers and printers

'We seek the privilege," said a memorandum the committee left with the president, "of serving our country with all the capacity and power we possess in mobilizing the United States for national defense and for international service"

The committee, headed by Herbert S Houston, of New York, president of the association, P S Florea, of Indianapolis secretary, T E Meredith, of Des Moines, and William Woodhead, of San Francisco, also presented a plan for mobilizing resources for national defense and for international peace

Mr Wilkinson extended the invitation on the part of Atlanta

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was next visited and invited to deliver a speech in Atlanta on the need for a bipartisan tariff board He said that lack of time alone prevented his acceptance A visit to Birmingham, Waco and New Orleans, which he had expected to take next week, would probably be cancelled, he told his visitors "I have had hard luck about Atlanta I had planned to visit there five years ago during the Southern Commercial congress session, but was prevented," said Mr McAdoo

Representative Howard interrupted, saying 'Incidentally, Mr Secretary, you spoiled a speech that I had been working on ten days and nights to deliver to you I would still like to get it off"

"Now that you know me better, possibly you would tone it down said Mr McAdoo He was assured not

Southern Tour Not Likely.

The discussion of a southern tour for the president has arisen over the need for starting a backfire against the 'little navy' and the "little army" men in congress Advocates of preparedness thought that a personal word from the president might create the active support congressmen are watching to see develop Another phase of the problem is if the president should go into the home district of men who are opposing his program, it might be thought he was seeking their scalps

Representative Howard entertained at lunch at the capitol today Mell R Wilkinson and Walter G Cooper, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who are here attending the Chamber of Commerce of the United States meeting Representative Lee had as guests G Ed Maddox, of Rome, and J. P Shattuck, of Lafayette.

Representative Howard has accepted an invitation to address the Junior Order of United American Mechanics on February 24 in Atlanta if possible for him to leave Washington then.

E. Lee Worsham, of Atlanta, president of the National Conservation congress, today called at the white house with the executive committee of the congress to invite President Wilson to address their Washington meeting in May

Athens, Ga, February 9—(Special) Pressing invitations have been sent by the University of Georgia and the chamber of commerce to President Wilson to include Athens, the home of the first Mrs Wilson's grandparents for many years, on his southern itinerary The city council also tonight passed resolutions of invitation to the president to stop in Athens on his southern trip.

DESCRIBES VALUE OF CITIZENS' CAMP

"In Preparing Army and Navy We Are Just Taking Out Peace Insurance," Says General Wood.

General Leonard Wood, commanding the department of the east, at a luncheon at the Capital City club yesterday, told Atlanta business men of the urgent need for preparedness in this country and in response to this need urged them to attend the citizens' camp which will be held at Fort Oglethorpe beginning April 3.

At the dinner the following committee was organized for the purpose of working up a large attendance from Atlanta for the camp:

Governor Nat E. Harris, chairman, Wilmer L. Moore, Clark Howell, J. K. Orr, Brooks Morgan, E. H. Cone, St. Elmo Massengale, Burton Smith, Lee Jordan, Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, Harrison Jones, Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, Forrest Adair and J. R. Gray.

General Wood Arrives.

General Wood arrived in Atlanta at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and left last night for Augusta. He was the guest of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce at 1 o'clock at a luncheon. It was not known until General Wood arrived what hour would be convenient for the luncheon, and its organization didn't start until 9 o'clock. There was an attendance of seventy-five of the leading business and professional men of the city, which brought forth the comment at the luncheon:

"If the Atlanta spirit gets behind the encampment as it did behind the luncheon, there will be no question of the strength of Atlanta's quota."

Victor Kriegshaber, president of the chamber of commerce, presided over the luncheon and introduced General Wood. In his introductory remarks, President Kriegshaber referred to General Wood as a former citizen of Atlanta, and reminded him of the fact that Atlanta is still watchfully waiting for the brigade post at Fort McPherson.

General Wood declared that if Atlanta gets behind the Oglethorpe camp it will go through a success. He stated that the camp will not make a soldier of a layman, but that will give him an idea of the work of a soldier and show him how much really needs to be done.

"Training and organization is what modern warfare takes," he said, "and that means not merely the army and the navy, but means the organization of the nation. The army and navy forms the keen cutting edge of a heavy knife, to use an illustration, while the men, communication, transportation, munitions, supplies, etc., furnish the weight. The organization must represent the availability of everything in this country. The citizenship, resources and industry must fall in behind the cutting edge.

"This sort of organization has never been perfected in the United States. But we have never been at war with a first-class prepared nation. Wars today come suddenly.

Just Peace Insurance.

"Whom are we preparing to fight? Nobody. We are merely taking out peace insurance. The sense of individual responsibility is not as general as it should be and we have got to build it up. We all owe a man-service to our country.

"We do not want a tremendous standing army in this country, but we do want an adequate army and a cracker-jack navy. We need an army sufficient to garrison all our possessions and to protect the Hawaiian islands and the canal. Whoever holds the Hawaiian islands controls the Pacific. The canal must be protected at all hazards. This, of course, means a radical increase in the army. I am not here to discuss that. That is for congress to decide.

"I believe that we can become strong without abusing our strength. It is an insult to the nation to say that we will not be restrained and be a moral and law-abiding nation if we prepare to defend ourselves. There are many advocates of the Swiss or Australian system of training in schools, and statistics show that this sort of training does not debauch a nation.

"We have got to do something. You are to decide what we are going to do. The volunteer system has proven a failure in every war that we ever got into. The volunteer idea is splendid, but the system of it is a failure.

Penalty of Responsibility.

"When a nation becomes a nation, she signs a penalty clause of responsibility. She owes it to herself to back it up.

"In wars in the past we have had to resort to worse than conscription. We have had to resort to bounties and to substitution. That gives you an insight into the moral side of this preparedness question. We have been fed enough on this 'We-could-raise-a-million-men-overnight' stuff. We had a discourse upon how severely we would punish an invading foe in congress last Friday three weeks ago.

"We army men believe in your patriotism. We know you are coming. But the question is, shall you come trained men or like sheep going to slaughter? It is an insult to ask us whether we should be trained. This is not a political, but an American, question.

"These training camps would provide that element of welding the nation together. At these camps Jew and Gentile, rich and poor, all lines of nationality should be wiped out. The thing a man considers at one of these camps is not what is the social or business standing of the man beside him, but how well is he doing his end of work?"

Of the National Guard.

Speaking of the National Guard and the continental army plan, General Wood said:

"It is not the men but the system that makes the national guard a failure. No matter how good the officers are, a national military force must be under some one general head and with a uniform system of training and equipment. The continental army plan is a great step in this direction. It would take in the militia, officers and all, with exactly the same rank and standing that each has now. New York and Alabama have already agreed to this plan."

Referring to the training camp, General Wood said:

"Training camps have been spontaneous so far. We have had men who could go back to the schools and colleges who could talk sense and not stuff. These camps should be built up.

"The business men's camp at Plattsburg was most extraordinary. We had all kinds and conditions of men in it side by side, digging trenches and maneuvering. It shows that they were all Americans and nobody cared who was beside him, so long as he did his share of the work.

"We want Fort Oglethorpe to be a success and we want you to go and help us make it a success. You folks have showed that you can put across whatever you want.

"Signing up a pledge to go to this camp is not an ironclad proposition. It is simply notice that you will make an earnest endeavor to be there. If it should turn out at the last moment that you cannot get away, there is no penalty attached.

Just a Safeguard.

"You will be asked a lot of questions about who we are going to fight, but we are simply taking note of the sign of the times and preparing to safeguard what we've got."

Governor Harris, chairman of the local committee, responded to General Wood, assuring him that he would do all he can to make Atlanta's interest in the camp all that it should be.

In addition to that, Governor Harris expressed his intention of going to the camp himself. "I am strongly in favor of preparedness and I want to learn something about modern warfare myself," he said. "I will be glad to shoulder a musket or do whatever is required of me at the camp, just like anybody else. I have been criticized some about my alleged infirmities here lately. I am willing to show you that I am able to go to this camp and do the work that may be necessary."

Speaking of the need for preparedness, Governor Harris said:

"Europe in this war will lose much, but when it is over some of those countries will have the most magnificent armies in the world. The United States at that time will probably be the richest nation in the world. I don't want us to be a temptation to those countries unprepared."

Governor Harris closed with an eloquent plea to Atlantans to take an interest in preparedness and to go to the Fort Oglethorpe camp.

Speaks at Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., February 9.—(Special.) Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., is the guest of honor at the annual dinner tonight of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association. PORRAS WILL WELCOME CHRISTIAN CONGRESS

Panama President to Make Address Despite Protest of Roman Catholic Bishop.

Panama, February 9.—The opening session of the congress on Christian work in Latin-America will be held tomorrow evening when the president of the republic, Dr. Belizario Porras, is expected to deliver an address. The congress will continue in session for ten days. Organization will be effected in the afternoon.

President Porras' address is likely to prove one of the important events of the session, he having promised to speak notwithstanding the opposition voiced by the Right Rev. William Rojas, Roman Catholic bishop of the diocese of Panama, who in several open letters has declared the congress to be inimical to the Roman Catholic church in Latin-America.

About 300 delegates and visitors have arrived at Panama and will take part in the sessions, at which there will be an extensive discussion respecting the furtherance of Christian work in all the Central and South American countries. Possibly there will be an arrangement of areas in which the various denominations shall confine their main activities. The reports of seven commissions on the different phases of missionary work will be read and discussed.

It is pointed out that the congress will take no definite action as the delegates are meeting in an advisory capacity for the purpose of outlining methods for guidance in missionary work.

SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT WILL GO TO THE HOUSE

Washington, February 9.—A house judiciary sub-committee by a vote of 4 to 3 today recommended to the full committee the reporting to the house "without recommendation" of the Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment for nationwide woman suffrage. This is in accord with the action of the committee in the past. BRITISH NAVAL EXPERT REPLIES TO LANSING

Proposal to Forbid Arming of Merchant Vessel Is Attacked.

London, February 9.—The Times' naval expert in an article today dealing with Secretary of State Lansing's suggestion that the belligerent countries subscribe to a declaration of principles governing attacks on merchantmen and forbidding the arming of such vessels says:

"The acceptance of Secretary of State Lansing's proposal would be suicidal. First, because it would hamper and injure us out of all proportion to our enemies, and secondly, because no faith can be placed in German promises. The effect of an acceptance of Mr. Lansing's formula would be the virtual disarmament of merchant ships.

"The formula is expressed by Mr. Lansing under five headings, of which the first, second and fourth are correct enough and could be accepted, while the fifth is meaningless in practice as it affirms that 'only if it is impossible to supply a prize crew or to convoy a merchant ship is sinking justified, and in that case passengers and crew must be removed to a place of safety.'

"But it is always impossible for a submarine to supply a prize crew and thus she would always be justified in destroying prizes. We take our stand firmly on the necessity of taking ships before a prize court. If the Germans cannot do this they have no real complaint, for the established principles of international law are perfectly clear, although the enemy has chosen deliberately to disregard them.

"The third clause, however—that a belligerent-owned merchant ship should promptly obey an order to stop—has no justification. That a neutral ship should stop if it is ordered to do so is an accepted principle, but no twisting of precedents can warrant the assertion that one of our merchant ships must do so. She is liable to be fired on if she does not, but she has a perfect right to try to escape.

"Merchant ships have been armed from time immemorial and their right to resist capture had never been disputed until the Germans began to make their numerous efforts to undermine our power at sea. It is inconceivable that the British government should make any concessions in this direction.

"The American note connects the arming of merchantmen with the weakness of submarines, contending that the introduction of submarine warfare has altered the relative status of the armed merchant ship and the limited defensive powers of submarines, rendering them liable to successful attack by armed merchantmen. The allied governments cannot be expected to suffer and the Germans to profit by this.

"Germany, moreover, has recently sent out merchant vessels with formidable armament to attack commerce, showing the imperative need of the allies arming their trading ships more heavily than in the past."

PRINCE OSCAR'S HEART TOO WEAK FOR THE WAR

Amsterdam, February 9.—(Via London.)—The German newspapers state that Prince Oscar's wound, recently received in the eastern war theater, is not serious, but that as he suffers from a weak heart, he will not be able to further participate in the war. The German emperor and empress have received thousands of telegrams congratulating them on Prince Oscar's escape.

RELIEF DAY IS URGED FOR THE ARMENIANS

Washington, February 9.—The senate today adopted a resolution proposed by Senator Lodge requesting the president to set apart a day on which the public might contribute to the relief of distressed Armenians.

During discussion of the resolution Senator Borah sent to the desk a press dispatch from Petrograd, dated January 18, in which Dr. Jacob Stargis, an American Methodist medical missionary, who had escaped from Urumiah in Turkish Persia when threatened by the Kurds, told of the death of Dr. Shimmun, declared to be an American missionary. The dispatch said that Dr. Shimmun was burned to death in oil.

Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, resented reading of the clippings as an attempt to give the resolution partisan color. Senator Borah declared he simply wanted to accentuate the situation of the Armenians.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

WORK IS SPEEDED ON DEFENSE BILLS

Measures May Be Ready for House in Two Weeks. Chairman Hay Still Fighting Continental Army.

Washington, February 9—With President Wilson personally urging both democratic and republican members of the house military committee to hasten preparation of bills to carry out the army s part in the national preparedness scheme indications tonight were that the measures might be ready for the house within two weeks or less

Hearings will end tomorrow or next day and it is understood the main features of the bills already have been whipped into shape in which it is expected they will receive virtually the unanimous approval of the committee

The senate committee has concluded its hearings on army bills and will take up the work of drafting its proposals for the senate early next week

There also the general outline of the plan to be recommended has crystallized in the minds of the members

The bills of the two houses it is expected will differ radically and the final legislation will be worked out as a compromise in conference

Progress also was made today on navy legislation the measures paving the way for construction of battleships 43 and 44 at navy yards and providing for 300 additional midshipmen in the July class at Annapolis being passed by the senate They passed the house yesterday and lack only the president s signature to become law Speaker Clark introduced a bill today to increase the number of cadets at the military academy

Army Plans

Chairman Hay of the house military committee and several of his democratic colleagues discussed army plans with President Wilson during the day at the president s suggestion Tomorrow Representative Kahn ranking republican member and others of the minority will go to the white house on the same errand It is understood the president was pleased with the report on progress Chairman Hay was able to give him

It was evident however in later proceedings of the committee that Representative Hay had not been swayed from his opposition to Secretary Garrison s proposal for a continental army which the president warmly advocated during his recent preparedness speaking campaign A witness before the committee said he was opposed to the continental plan

So am I, interjected Mr Hay We all are

Democrats and republicans of the committee agreed tonight in saying that an army bill would be quickly written although there might be minor details which would take considerable debate to settle The feature of the house bill it was said would be federalization of the militia through a pay bill carrying limitations designed to give the war department peace time control of training and officering of the national guard

Acceptable to Militia.

Adjutant General Foster of the Florida national guard chairman of the executive committee of the National Guard association was again in Washington tonight, and it was understood he would be further consulted in order that the bill might be made acceptable to the state soldiers

Coupled with the pay feature of the bill probably will be Chairman Hay s plan to authorize the president to draft national guardsmen into the federal service immediately in time of war This is designed to settle any conflict of authority that might arise and also to insure that the whole membership of the guard will be available for federal uses the number not being dependent as now upon how many volunteer

For the regular army the bill probably will provide 40 000 additional men asked for by Secretary Garrison although the committee is said to be about equally divided on the Hay and Garrison plans for making the increase Representative Hay proposes to fill existing regiments up to full war strength and increase only the number of artillery regiments while Secretary Garrison has asked for additional skeleton regiments of infantry and artillery to make up tactical divisions Opinions of army officers who have testified has been divided on this point, but committee members think they can reach an agreement among themselves

Army Munitions

An element of the committee favors continuance of the practice of government manufacture of army munitions and on this aspect of the plans the committee will face a struggle within its own ranks Some members believe that those favoring the war department s attitude of providing work enough for private plants to insure a big war time production capacity have votes enough to secure this end in the bill

The house naval committee continued its struggle today over details of navy personnel problems, with Rear Admiral Blue, chief of the bureau of navigation, still on the stand. Admiral Blue presented the department's proposals for a redrafting of the naval reserve law, worked out in elaborate detail, and the subject was under debate all day

CITY'S BIGGEST PROJECT, SAYS YORK OF EMORY

Declares Institution Will Be "The Backbone of the Town."

"The backbone of the town is what Lucian York of M Rich & Bros Co. calls Emory university in an interview in which he urges all Atlantans to help make good the city s pledge of $500,000 for the university

"This is the biggest thing Atlanta possibly can put over" declares Mr York whose firm is one of the big contributors to the fund The esthetic, financial and various other great values of the institution are readily appreciable There are a hundred or more reasons each good and sufficient in itself as to why this project should receive the support of all

One of these, and by far not the least, is the fact that the university gives Atlanta great prestige and supplies a show place for visitors that is much greater than anything we now have To my mind a great university such as Emory is a much better show place for our visitors than a federal prison

Cold in the Chest Often Results in Bronchitis

A cold begins to be bronchitis with tightness across the chest. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey relieves that congested feeling.

When tightness across the chest creates an oppressed feeling, with difficulty in breathing or with soreness and irritability within the chest, it is time to take a Pine-Tar-Honey treatment During this stage of the disease the membrane has become dry while the phlegm is difficult to raise The dryness is immediately effected by the moist and penetrating honey qualities and at the same time the pine-tar cuts the phlegm, thus relieving congestion. Pine-tar also acts as an antiseptic. As a result of the general relief that follows, the tissues are strengthened, breathing becomes easier, and further inflammation is arrested. Dr Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will be found an ideal treatment in aiding recovery Price, 25c.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches of any kind is caused by auto intoxication—which means self poisoning Liver and bowel poisons called toxins sucked into the blood through the lymph ducts excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent throbbing pain and distress called headache You become nervous despondent sick feverish and miserable your meals sour and almost nauseate you Then you resort to acetanilide aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it drank before breakfast for awhile will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate It is inexpensive harmless as sugar and almost tasteless except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant

If you aren't feeling your best if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste foul breath or have dizziness indigestion biliousness constipation or sour acid stomach begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

WOES GALORE WORRY KARL VON LAWRENZ

Agitation Over Madame Van de Zande Upsets Entire Orchestra.

His nationality is causing much trouble for Karl von Lawrenz, German nobleman, orchestra director, musician and head of the Von Lawrenz Concert Booking agency

He recently booked Herr Halfdan Jebe to appear upon the concert stage in Cornelia Ga before the colony of winter tourists Wednesday he received word that none of the advertising material sent out from his offices would be used but that handbills published by the local print shop, had been preferred

This because of the name of Von Lawrenz that adorned all advertising matter forwarded from the booking agency The Cornelia booking agent, C Cornway is a patriotic Englishman and resents even the very sound of a German word

Because of the lack of advertising Baron von Lawrenz is agitated over the attendance upon Herr Jebe's concert

Added to this load of woe, members of Von Lawrenz's staff since the agitation over Mme Emma Van De Zande's affiliation with the German baron, have become apprehensive Alec Tarranco, a Russian, who has relatives in the Cossack ranks, is beginning to experience little shivers of trepidation over his connection with a German of rank And J H. Duggan, superintendent of the Von Lawrenz offices, a Londoner by birth is fearful that any moment some official of the allied governments is liable to start something in opposition to his professional alliance

Tarranco is a flutist in the Ansley orchestra, an organization directed by Von Lawrenz News of the agitation over Mme Van De Zande has set him worrying The Von Lawrenz staff was in its entirety, none too composed Wednesday

A letter from Mr Cornway, in Cornelia explains the attitude of many natives of allied countries over her connection with the German

I will not use the advertising material it reads with the name of V Lawrenz on it This is no reflection on Mr von Lawrenz but vons are not popular here and I would not care to associate with a von

Mme Van De Zande stated to a reporter for The Constitution last night that she had nothing to deny about the story published in Wednesday's Constitution but all that she asked was that publicity regarding her cease

I am seeking to sever my connection with Mr von Lawrenz ' she said If I can do this in face of my contract, I will be pleased to do so and bring an end to the disagreeable matter '

SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY CAMPAIGN CREATING GENERAL INTEREST

Reports from the superintendents of Sunday schools in all parts of the state show that in practically every county of Georgia interest is being manifested in the second annual Georgia Go-to-Sunday-School-Day which has been officially set for next Sunday in a proclamation by the governor

The Georgia Sunday school association of which John J Eagan is president has sent to the schools over the state large posters, with a number left blank so that the individual Sunday school can fix a definite attendance aim for the day Most of the schools are doubling the average number of pupils in attendance

If all of the schools double their average attendance more than half a million people will be in the Sunday schools of the state next Sunday morning If they should double their total enrollment the number will be more than 800 000

The state association has prepared a special program for the occasion, and it is being furnished to the superintendents who wish to use it in their schools

As a result the program will probably be read to a larger number of people than any other similar paper in the history of the state

CANDIDATES WILL BE ASKED TO TELL THEIR LABOR VIEWS

Women Are Alert for Spring Style Hints

They are on tip-toe of expectancy regarding Fashion's latest dictates.

Here are a few features for the well-dressed woman to regard in choosing her wardrobe.

A graceful, youthful figure. That will be the aim of every woman who wants to be in style this spring.

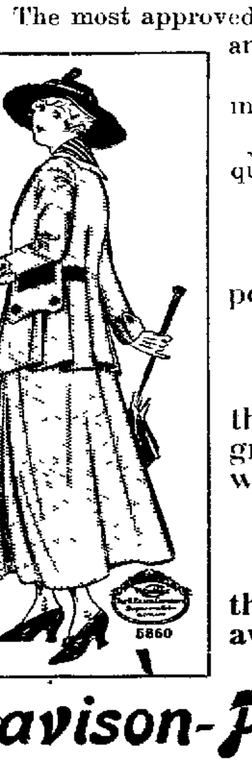
This does not mean that women will try to look like sixteen-year-old girls.

Rather, they will choose clothes that give graceful, youthful lines, lines that indicate the natural poise, activity and attractiveness of young womanhood.

Skillful tailoring has much to do with giving clothes the graceful curves of youth.

Style Points in Coats and Suits

The most approved of spring suits and coats show the incurve at the waist, without being close fitting, and with sharply flared, rippling pleats below the waistline.



Many jackets and coats have almost a wing-like flare. This feature is carried out in a smaller way in the flared cuffs which finish the new bell sleeves.

Plain materials and checks are preferred for suits. The plain fabrics are frequently ornamented with silk embroidery and inlays of taffeta.

For Sports Coats

There are novelty weaves of white wool and fancy coatings in the popular colors.

Skirts Still Short

As skirts are fuller, either in circular models or pleated, they give the smartest appearance when worn short. Eight inches from the ground is the most fashionable length. Even conservative women will wear their skirts six inches from the ground.

The short skirts call for very thin and genteel footwear.

WASHINGTON'S TEMPER.

It is an odd sort of "preparedness" for the celebration of Washington's Birthday that begins with criticism of the conduct of the Father of his Country, but eminent professors are taking him up, as usual, and new lights are flashed on his daily dealings with his fellowmen.

In one instance we are told that "he did not have a large brain," and in another, Professor Channing, of Harvard, says "he had an unsurpassed temper!"

This last is not in the nature of a revelation, and when one considers what Washington was "up against"—the perplexities and trials of the earlier revolutionary days, as well as the later criticism and calumny that he had to endure, the statement that he had even an "ungovernable temper" excites no wonder.

In a book of ancestral reminiscences of the Henry Cabot Lodge family there is a story of General Washington's temper with a thrill in it—one which imparts a moral in the making of a soldier and a man.

General Washington ordered an officer to cross an ice-locked river and make a report as to the enemy's position.

The officer left the general's tent with such instruction and, after some time had elapsed, returned to report—that the river was impassable, on account of the ice!

Whereupon General Washington ripped out a large, comprehensive oath, which consigned the officer to Hades, and threw a leaden inkstand at his head! "Go," was his raging exclamation, "and send me a MAN!"

The officer stood not upon the order of his going, but crossed that ice-jammed river and—returned with the desired information!

It was the making of a man

There will be no lack of Washington Birthday speakers to reply to these strange criticisms, and to honor with the eloquence of oratory the Father of this glorious old country who had a temper worth while!

AS TO RURAL CREDITS.

At a meeting of representatives of several farmers' organizations in Washington the other day, the rural credits bill recently introduced and now pending in congress was denounced as a measure under which nothing definite or substantial could be accomplished for the farmers of the country, and particularly for that class of the farmers who most need this assistance.

It was pointed out at that meeting that 58 per cent of the farmers of the United States are tenants, that is, farmers who rent their land instead of owning it. This includes those farmers who may own a small amount of land, like five or ten acres, and rent anywhere from twenty to a hundred acres more, in the prosecution of their farming operations

The pending bill makes provision for loans to the farmer who owns his land and can give a mortgage upon it. But the farmer who owns his land free from obligation is about the last one who needs this assistance; and, besides that, under this measure, the farmers in a particular community are required to pledge their lands as security for the loans made to their neighbors. This is a decidedly objectionable feature, for which none of the farmers of the country will stand.

If the government proposes to pass a rural credits bill under which a number of farmers must put up their lands as security for loans to one or more of their number, it might as well not pass any measure of this sort at all. The farmers are not going to accept it and will not borrow under it, and it will become practically a dead letter at the outset.

Under the pending measure, it is stated by the representatives of these farmer organizations, no provision whatever is made for taking care of the wants and needs of the renter and cropper, who is the man of all others to whom assistance should be given. It is not proposed or asked that loans should be made to this class without security, but that some plan be provided under which the tenant class may be assisted in acquiring and holding their own home place. Wherever there is ambition and a spirit of saving is shown, the tenant may make a cash payment and then borrow enough to enable him to become his own proprietor.

It was the consensus of the farmers' meeting in Washington that congress would labor in vain unless it made provision for taking care of and assisting the tenant class, which is most in need of this sort of help.

Now that congress has gone into the matter of rural credits, it may as well get to the very bottom of the question and wait until it can develop a plan which will be beneficial and helpful to the largest farming class.

There is no use in carrying coals to Newcastle. But that is exactly what congress will do, if it persists in providing a plan which will take care only of the man who has an unincumbered farm and who doesn't need a loan on it.

HOW COLONELS ARE MADE.

A rather humorous foreign opinion is that while America has millions of men who are deficient in military training, she is overstocked with colonels who can quickly get the men in trim!

For the benefit of our foreign friends who do not understand the large "colonel" supply, Colonel Watterson explains it in The Courier-Journal:

> In the south, especially, and in Kentucky more especially, a man becomes a colonel at about 47 unless he is of a wilful, rebellious, obstreperous disposition and inclined to stand up for an admitted, but rarely exercised, right not to become known as 'Colonel.'
>
> There are, of course, many colonels under 40 When a governor is inaugurated he has the power to appoint staff colonels. A governor who does not appoint as colonels such of his constituents as he knows by name is lacking in the punctiliousness which distinguishes the practical politician Thus many young men who would have been "leftenants" if they had adopted a military career are made colonels in civil life. Another predisposing cause of premature colonelcy is the tendency of some men to become fat early in life A man who measures as much as 40 inches at the waistline, and has not been convicted of felony, is entitled, even obliged, to be called "Colonel" before he is 40.

As Colonel Watterson speaks with unquestioned authority on this, as on all other subjects, his enlightening explanation should settle the colonel business to the satisfaction of all who are interested in it.

But we venture to add the further explanatory remark of an old Georgia negro of the Civil War period, who said that he addressed "ALL his men white folks as 'colonel' because they were entitled to it; it just naturally ran in the blood, and they couldn't help it!"

THE SHIPS THAT GOT BY.

"That is why her ships cannot be allowed to go to sea again," says Rudyard Kipling, with reference to the bottled-up German navy.

But what a sea song Kipling could write at this time, with the exploit of Lieutenant Berg with the Appam reversed in favor of England!

The unexpected happened. The ships got by!

Whatever else—now unknown—may be charged up to the German raiders that so successfully eluded the British sea-patrols, the adventure with the Appam shines by contrast with the sea-tragedies preceding it. It becomes a pleasant sea-story with the light flavor of romance and human nature rising superior to the killing power of the big brute conflict of Europe.

Just how many German sea-rovers are now at liberty, and preying upon her commerce, is what keeps England guessing; and how they got by—as Kipling would say—"is another story;" but in the instance of the Appam a new sea-lesson has been taught—a lesson of humanity, when it might have been otherwise.

For here were hundreds at the mercy of a handful—a few captors who made threats to quiet them, but who soon got on friendly terms with their prisoners, and brought them safe to a port where, as the German commander stated, good treatment was a foregone conclusion.

Whatever England's feelings may be over the enemy's capture of such a prize, it is matter for world-congratulation that the result is perhaps significant of a new deal in sea-warfare.

It was a good pace to set. The daring of the deed must be applauded by even a fair-minded enemy, while the example of the German commander on the side of humanity should be far-reaching in its good effects.

In the meantime, Mr. Kipling will have to revise his bottling-up edict. Evidently, there are "ships that pass in the night."

GRATEFUL CUBA.

The Springfield Republican, commenting on the report of a preparedness movement in Cuba, says that emphasis is placed "on the desirability of being ready to return past favors from the United States by rallying in her defense in case of necessity."

That is, indeed, a pleasing feature of the movement, coupled with the statement that "the teaching of English is being re-established in the Cuban schools."

Good work is being done for educational preparedness on the line of the general literacy uplift, of which our Springfield contemporary says:

> The strengthening of the educational system of Cuba would be of real service to the United States. The more enlightened our neighbors are the better.

With such general enlightenment comes greater national appreciation of services rendered. Evidently Cuba is not guilty of the charge of "benefits forgot," but as stated in this report of a preparedness movement, is willing to give service for service should the need arise.

WAR STORIES.

I'm tired of the stories of battle, that word painters send from the front, of peasants who perish like cattle, performing the patriots' stunt, I'm tired of the gun and the armor, of all things that slaughter and slay; so tell me a yarn of the farmer who shucks eighty bushels a day. In lists of the butchered diurnal, there's nothing I see that enchants; I'm tired of the major and colonel, with blood on their bibs and their pants; I'm tired of the spy and the spoiler, of dead ones that litter the sward, O, tell me a tale of the toiler, who's whacking up wood by the cord. I'm tired of the boys in the trenches, with shoes full of water and loam; far better the plumbers, whose wrenches are fixing the pipes in my home I've read of the movements of legions, I've read of advance and retreat, of ashes and ruin in regions, where once grew the corn and the wheat; and now I am weary of reading these stories of carnage and gore, of myriads wounded and bleeding, of hosts who will wake never more; so tell me a tale of the granger who curries his mules in the morn, who digs up the eggs from the manger, and shucks eighty bushels of corn

Matter-of-Fact Wars.

(From The Boston Transcript)

Wars sometimes conclude in almost a matter-of-fact way, as did the Franco-German war of 1870-71 Bismarck, who had just concluded the terms of peace with France, told his friends at supper that "at 12 o'clock tonight our troops and the French will exchange their last shots, and I have agreed that the latter shall fire the last one." Shortly before midnight Bismarck's guests left him, and waited outside the Hotel de Reservoir, Versailles Soon they heard a shot from the Germans, and then, after a brief silence, the French fired their last reply. Hardly had the cannons' echo died away than the tower clock of Versailles struck 12—and the Franco-German war was an event of the past.

CHANCE FOR FOUR BRIGHT BOYS TO GET GOOD CITY HALL JOBS

Four boys will soon be wanted at the city hall at $25 a month each.

It's a good chance for bright boys to get a foothold in public affairs and at the same time earn a fair salary.

The boys will be wanted in the waterworks department, the construction department, the mayor's office and in the comptroller's office.

The appointments will take place just as soon as council can approve what the committee on public buildings and grounds has agreed upon. It's now time, however, for the boys to put in their applications.

"PROFESSOR" C. T. ASHLEY TELLS ABOUT THE HABITS OF THE BEAVERS

The councilman, who has been dubbed "professor" by the mayor, is making a great reputation as a lecturer at the schools in the city.

HOW WATER BOARD IS RAISING FUND FOR SPRING BARBECUE

The water board is raising a barbecue fund by a very unique method.

Every time a member of the board is absent he is fined 50 cents Every time he is tardy he is fined 25 cents. Already there is quite a nest-egg in the fund.

The water board has been long noted for its barbecue functions every spring. The barbecue grounds are at the river pumping station, where there is plenty of water to drink.

Start a Fertilizer Factory On Every Farm by Planting Velvet Beans With Corn

Editor Constitution: The south generally, and Georgia in particular, is facing a very serious condition. Being the heaviest user of commercial fertilizers of any state in the union, the great struggle going on in Europe has been peculiarly unfortunate to us. That is, on the face of things, it appears so. Utter inability to secure supplies of potash, cotton seed meal, nitrate of soda, and other sources of nitrogen being abnormally high, and even domestic acid phosphate being too costly for profitable use because of the demand for sulphuric acid for ammunition, it seems that it will be great folly to promise to pay about double the usual price for inferior and incomplete commercial fertilizers. A great many of us will be compelled to do the best we can without them.

For the moment this seems to be a great shock to, and setback for, our usual methods. While we cannot hope to make as much cotton even as last year, and our acreage outturn for corn and small grain will be reduced to some extent, we may console ourselves with the thought that we will get more money for a small crop than for a big one.

This has been our invariable experience since 1865. Still we have, year after year, strained our credit with the bank, supply merchant and guano dealer, to make more cotton to buy more supplies, guano and bank credit. The farmer's most prosperous years have been those of forced economy and short crops, providentially brought on us. Our very hardest years have been those of bumper cotton crops.

Baldly stated, every farmer in the south may this year start a guano factory on his own land. It can be started at comparatively little cost, and its output is far superior to any other soil-building agency known, whether in the form of the sacked material furnished by the dealer, or plant growth.

The by-products are the most valuable and costly articles we buy—namely, butter, beef and pork. Unlike most by-products, they cost nothing, not one cent for preparation for market. They do not even have to be sent to market Our own families and laborers are here to consume them We will not have to grow cotton, often at a loss, to send to the west to pay for them.

Remember, this home factory will set you free from dependence on commercial fertilizers. It will emancipate you from all the class of credit sharks. Their general establishment all over the south will, indeed, emancipate and make us free.

The growing of velvet beans will do more for the cotton-growing region than wheat has for Dakota or corn for Illinois. Planted with corn and in the same furrow with it, both being covered at the same time, this wonderful crop costs not one penny save seed and dropping Equally as good or better corn will be grown, more bushels of beans per acre than of corn. When mature, gather the corn. Then turn hogs and cattle into the field and they will attend to harvesting the bean crop, nor will they need a particle of other feed so long as the beans last. They will remain all winter in good edible condition. The milk and butter will be of the best quality and almost doubled in quantity on the average farm. The beef will be of a superior quality to the corn-fed western product. The pork will be firm, sweet and juicy, with a much greater per cent of lean than if corn fattened. Both cows and hogs can be kept from September to April or May on them, and cost not a cent for other feeds Our corn can be used solely for work animals and meal

But better than all, the immense amount of litter left on the land will have a fertilizing value of $10 to $25 per acre. Being a legume, nitrogen is gathered from the inexhaustible supplies in the air. This is the costly element in guano. Lastly, the great deficiency of humus in our soils, brought about by years of continuous clean culture of cotton, will be supplied. On our light pine lands of the wiregrass region, repeated tests have proven that a good crop of beans assures practically a double production of cotton following.

The results are not so marked on the stiffer red lands. Still, a field of cotton following is so superior that they appear to be heavily top-dressed with nitrate of soda, and heavy increases in crops assured. All these benefits can be had at so small a cost that it is negligible. A bushel of seed costing $3 to $4 will plant from 5 to 10 acres, owing to variety and method of planting.

The trouble has heretofore been that none but a late variety were procurable. The long season required for maturity confined their cultivation to a comparatively narrow strip along the gulf coast and Florida. We now have them that will mature crops anywhere cotton can be successfully grown. They will double the feeding value of every acre of corn in which they are grown. Meat can be raised at almost no cost; and a two-year rotation of corn and beans followed by cotton will, in four or six years, so build up the soils that half of the acreage with no commercial fertilizers will give more cotton than can now be grown with it.

And now is the time to start one of these factories Within a few years practically the whole state will be infected with the Mexican boll weevil A fertile soil and consequent rapid growth and early maturity of crops are the only known methods of combatting them. The farmer whose fields are rich, whose pastures are filled with fat cattle, whose smokehouse contains enough and to spare of meat and lard for his farm, is in infinitely better shape to meet and conquer this dread pest than one who depends on cotton to supply all his wants and needs.

At the very best, cotton production will be much cut down. The history of every infected area proves the truth of this statement. Last year Louisiana did not grow more than 35 per cent as much cotton as she did ten years ago. This pest is now established in thirty-five of our counties along the western border. They travel eastward about fifty miles a year. In a very short time practically the whole cotton growing area of Georgia will be paying heavy tribute.

One of the very greatest means to prevent the loss and actual suffering his coming has always brought to unprepared sections is to grow this wonderful crop, more valuable than an individual guano mixing plant.

Almost without cost and without price these wonderful results can be obtained. They will prove to be Aladdin's lamps opening to us undreamed and inestimable treasures.

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

AMAZING BUT RARELY SUSPECTED TRUTHS ABOUT THE THINGS YOU EAT.

By ALFRED W. McCANN

(Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

CHAPTER 18.

Destroying the cornerstones of health does not strengthen the foundation of life. Defective adults follow defective children.

When only fourteen out of 500 New York city school children are found to possess sound teeth, is it not time, indeed, for the nation to inquire into the causes of such defects?

The dental hygiene counsel of the city of New York states: "Sound teeth are the foundation of health-building. The 6-year molar is the cornerstone."

Alfred W. McCann.

If this statement was not idly made the school children of New York city are building as best they can upon defective cornerstones or without cornerstones at all.

Over 90 per cent of the examined children who have reached the age of 13 have lost their 6-year molars. Cornerstones that are lost are not cornerstones at all. Why should God provide 6-year molars at all if He does not intend His creatures to have them?

A hundred eminent authorities, whose work will be recorded here, now stand on record with these statements. "Defective teeth are symptoms of malnutrition. They indicate that something is wrong with the food supply Wherever the individual is normally nourished the teeth are sound."

Notwithstanding the truth of these implied warnings, no symptom of the national health is so completely ignored or so grossly neglected as the symptom revealed by defective teeth, even in the face of overwhelming evidence to support the prophecy that if we do not quickly look to the underlying causes of these defects America will soon become a decadent nation.

It is no difficult matter for those who are seriously in earnest to trace the physical defects of the school child into adult life.

In June, 1914, Dr. S. S. Goldwater, commissioner of health of New York city, ordered a physical examination of the employees of the health department. His order was really in the nature of an invitation, for it exempted all who did not care to comply with it.

Between June and October 240 men and 456 women employees of the department had availed themselves of the opportunity to find out what, if anything, was the matter with their physical health.

These 696 people represented the average standard of American citizenship. Perhaps because of their education and environment they represented a standard a little higher than the average

The average age of the men examined was 33½ years and the average age of the women 32 years From the department laborer to the highest executive officer, a variety of indoor, outdoor, and mixed employment, was represented.

Dr. Charles D Slade, reporting on the results of the examination, as tabulated by him for the department, stated One hundred and twenty-three were found to have defective digestion Habitual constipation was found in the majority of these Constipation was by no means confined to the women. A great number of young men (in spite of their highly polished shoes, clean-shaven faces, and bright neckties) suffered from this condition, which, if allowed to go uninterrupted, has baneful ultimate effects upon the blood vessels, kidneys, heart and nervous system"

In addition to constipation, the cause of 100 other preventable ills, Dr Slade found nearly 60 per cent of the entire number to be suffering from defective vision, defective hearing, and defective teeth.

Ninety-two of the 696 employees examined had heart disease Many of these had valvular leakage, of which they were entirely ignorant. They had not died as infants, but here they were looking like healthy creatures, with the forces of destruction working unseen and unsuspected within

Others, especially very young men with constipation and nervousness, had dilated left ventricles with unstable and rapid heart action. They were a fine, healthy, average looking lot from the outside and would justify the comforting expression of the average commentator upon the long over-flattered American public health "We are the best fed nation in the world."

If it were not for the fact that such deception has inspired nearly everybody to be satisfied with the wonderful health of Americans these symptoms would long ago have been interpreted in their true significance and an honest effort made to provide against them. Self-flattery has blinded the nation.

Of the 696 employees thirty-one had some form of lung disease, 232, or exactly one-third, were in obvious need of medical advice; 172, or nearly one-fourth, were in actual need of treatment

The number who needed advice or treatment or both was 327—44 per cent

The noble diet of the American people had not saved these 44 per cent from their infirmities, even though they had not been included among the nearly 400,000 who every year, as little children, succumb to an untimely death

Commenting on this fact, Dr Slade stated. "Forty-four per cent of those examined had, without their knowledge, some vital physical defect which might have shortened their life by a number of years if undetected Those in whom we discovered actual signs of disease amounted to 213, or nearly one-third of the entire number

There was not much reason for self-flattery here, but as we advance toward the end we shall discover still less.

HOW RUSSIA TREATS ITS JEWISH CITIZENSHIP

Editor Constitution: I wish to call your attention to the monthly bulletin of the Jewish Relief committee, and believe that a reprint of the statements of members of the Russian duma would be valuable at this time, showing to what terrible and barbarous extremes the Russian government is going in the treatment of its Jewish citizenship who are just as loyal, and whose men are just as good soldiers as any that they have got in their trenches.

V. H. KRIEGSHABER.

Atlanta, February 5.

Duma Members Witness Atrocities.

(The following is an extract from the speech of Deputy Telegatza)

"What kind of truth is this when lying communiques are being published in the official organ of the government to the effect that Jews at Kuzy have betrayed the Russian soldiers to the enemy? Why have the various periodicals been ordered to publish this communication under threat of penalties of the justice, that requires that a Jewish volunteer—and there are thousands of them in the Russian army—who has been several times embattled and is now crippled and mutilated, should be sent out within twenty-four hours from places in Russia where he was looking for some employement? What humanity is this which forbids the offering of food to hungry Jewish fugitives, kept in sealed wagons at the stations, as our authorities have done? What freedom is this? To have the whole Jewish press suppressed and destroyed by a single stroke of the pen? What fraternity is this, when a part of the army is set against the Jewish soldiers who are risking their lives in the same trenches with the others? What, gentlemen, in the name of what code of the law are orders being issued to the Russian army to drive the Jews—the peaceful Jewish population—in front of the fire of bullets? By virtue of what code are Jewish subjects of Russia being taken as hostages by the Russian army and thrown into prison in order to subject them to torture and to have them shot? Shame, indeed—but this is a fact."

Another deputy of the duma, Duworsky, as representative of the Fifth Siberian division, says. "I have been at the front and can bear personal witness to the immeasurable brutality with which the Jews are expelled from the province of Radom, for example. The whole population was driven out in the night time within the space of a few hours. At 11 o'clock they were informed that they must leave immediately, and those found behind by daybreak would be hanged, and in the night the Jewish population started for the nearest town, Ilsah, lying at a distance of thirty versts. The old, the sick and the paralyzed, and the invalids, had to be carried in arms, as no means of conveyance were obtainable. The number of those expelled is enormous, for instance," says the deputy, "the expelled from the province of Kovno alone, from one province that was a center of Jewish life, and of Jewish culture, of Jewish hope and of Jewish work, from one province alone there were expelled about 150,000 Jews. From the province of Grodno about 60,000 in a night; given a few hours in which to leave—men, women and children, the old, the maimed, the sick, packed into freight cars, when they were available, carrying them along in their arms, wending their weary way if they bad, they must, from Poland and other provinces about another two hundred thousand—about a half million people condemned to suffering placed on a footing with criminals because the police are treating the expelled Jews exactly as if they were criminals."

Short Term Scholarships For Deserving Boys and Girls

The agricultural committee of the Georgia Bankers' association has opened up a way to help the deserving boys and girls who live on farms in Georgia. This aid in securing an education in bettering home conditions in rural communities and in up-to-date agricultural methods is not distributed broadcast to any applicant, but is apportioned upon a basis of merit as is explained by the following letter from Hon Benjamin W Hunt, chairman of the committee, and the attached circular of the association giving the rules. This important matter is worthy the consideration of every father and mother in state.

Mr. Hunt's Letter.

Editor Constitution: As chairman of the Georgia Bankers' association I have instructed that the second installment of our educational funds be paid on all the scholarships

It is my hope that in another year the agricultural committee may educate more girls in the arts of creating satisfactory rural homes The future of agriculture is placed on a par with American standards of living must be in the hands of competent women.

The way most farm homes are run, the grounds surrounding them, the stables adjacent breeding typhoid flies, a country store in the front yard make an ensemble that any young impressionable person, with a proper sense of things, will get away from at the earliest possible moment. Our educated girls must correct these drawbacks to rural life

BENJ W HUNT, Chairman

Eatonton, Ga.

Explanation of the Fund.

There are two funds of the Georgia Bankers' association. The first is continued as last year, viz., $750 devoted to sending 15 boys and 15 girls to the State College of Agriculture for the short course. The boys are to be chosen for their work in the Agricultural clubs, and the 15 girls who have accomplished most in home demonstration work to be the beneficiaries.

For particulars regarding obtaining these scholarships write to the State College of Agriculture, Athens, Ga. To assist highly deserving boys and girls, who may, from no fault of their own, fail to win these short term scholarships, a private person has created provision for four extra pupils

The other fund is at present $1,500, and will be administered as a loan fund to deserving pupils. Rules governing the Georgia Bankers' association require the applications to be first approved, as in paragraph 4, as follows, before they can be considered by the agricultural committee. They are as follows.

Rules Governing the Loan Fund.

1. This fund is to be loaned in amounts not less than $50 nor more than $100 to any student except at the dicretion of the agricultural committee

2. The notes are to be dated at the beginning of the year in which the advances are made, interest beginning one year from date at 4 per cent interest and principal payable on year after graduation or date of leaving the educational institution to which the loan applies.

3. Loans are to be made only to students who are without the means themselves and whose fathers, mothers or guardians have not the means to give them the advantages of an education.

4 Applications may be made for this fund to the president of the State College of Agriculture, to the Georgia State Normal school, to the Georgia Normal and Industrial college and to the South Georgia Normal and Industrial college, to be finally approved by the agricultural committee of the Georgia Bankers' association

5. If applicant is entering college for a four years' course then high school record may be submitted with application

6. Applicant must be at least 18 years old. It is further required that the pupil making application for the loan fund shall present with application a physical examination made out by a reputable physician on a blank furnished by the committee

7. Any beneficiary of this loan fund will be required to make a monthly statement to the agricultural committee, giving details of expenditure and income for the preceding month on blanks furnished by the committee Obligations of borrowers shall be in writing on a negotiable sealed note, payable to the Georgia Bankers' association.

That the fund for the present be loanable to the boys for the purpose of attending the State College of Agriculture at Athens, or to girls for the purpose of attending the domestic science schools at Athens, Valdosta or Milledgeville.

Applicants, who have complied with the rules under which the agricultural committee is governed, will find all members anxious to extend the educational benefits committed to their administration by the Georgia Bankers' association.

IMPORTANT CHANGES PLANNED AT CITY HALL

Committee Wants All City Departments to Have Headquarters at Same Place.

If the plans outlined by the committee on public buildings and grounds yesterday afternoon are adopted by council there will be some important changes made in the administration of city affairs

The committee wants all city departments to have headquarters at the city hall and to hold their meetings and conduct all of their business from that one central point

This will mean that the police board will no longer have offices at the police station the board of education will move from its present offices in the chamber of commerce the fire department will have offices in the city hall and the board of fire masters meet in that building and the city attorneys will have their offices in the city hall

To carry out this plan another story must be added to the building which will cost under the estimates of the city building inspector about $25 000 The new story will be used as a council chamber and the present fourth floor will be divided into offices for the departments that have headquarters elsewhere

City Business Should Be Concentrated.

It is the opinion of members of the committee that all branches of the city government should be operated from one central point and that this is what a city hall is for

The matter may be presented at the next meeting of council

The committee re elected Joseph M Shearer custodian of the city hall building and took occasion to say that there was no more efficient custodian of a public building in the state

A radical change was made in the janitor service Hitherto the custodian has employed janitors for only certain offices while the mayor's office, the construction department the waterworks department and the comptroller's office have had negro porters who were paid from $1[illegible] to $[illegible] a month It was claimed by these departments that their porters acted both as janitors and messengers

To Employ White Messenger Boys.

The committee by a unanimous vote, decided to recommend to council that all the janitor service be under the jurisdiction of the custodian and the departments employ white messenger boys at $[illegible] a month The negro janitors get $[illegible] 50 a week

The committee will ask for small appropriations to install sanitary drinking founts on each floor of the city hall and to make parks of the areas to the east and west of the building

Another change that will be made is the installation of a modern directory board on the first floor giving full information about all the city hall departments

While in Atlanta Senator Burton will be entertained by friends here at a breakfast and a luncheon

FAKE PRESSING CLUB AGENTS ARE AT WORK

Chief of Police Mayo Issues Warning to the People of Atlanta.

Chief of Police W M Mayo states that he wishes to warn Atlantans against fake pressing club agents who during the past several weeks have obtained a good many articles of clothing from residences and never returned them

According to reports of the operations which have come into headquarters the fake agents go to residences, and, after stating that they are representing well-known pressing clubs and dry cleaning establishments secure suits of clothes and then dispose of them in pawn shops or in other ways

No less than eight reports of such operations have been received in the past two weeks, and in almost every case the thieves obtained at least a suit of clothes or overcoat

"The only way we can protect the people in these cases until the thieves are caught" said Chief Mayo "is to put every housewife on notice about allowing clothes to leave their residences unless they are positive that the agent is a bona fide one

ALDERMEN WILL PASS ON MONEY SHEET TODAY

No Immediate Prospect for Deadlock Being Broken Is Now in Sight.

Unless the aldermanic board fails to concur in the action of council, in again passing the finance sheet after it was vetoed by the mayor, there seems to be no immediate prospect of the deadlock over the sheet being broken

The aldermanic board meets this afternoon at 3 o'clock If it concurs in the action of council the sheet goes to the mayor for the second time This would mean that the mayor will veto it a second time, and it will go back to council, which will a second time sustain the mayor's veto, and there will be another lap of what looks like an endless circle

If the aldermanic board adopts the usual parliamentary proceedure when an executive vetoes a paper it will non-concur so a conference committee can be appointed and the whole matter thrashed out between the mayor and council

Mayor Woodward held a conference Wednesday morning with the city attorney and the assistant city attorney in reference to a proceedure whereby a city official could be held individually liable for the misuse of the city's funds Nothing definite was announced by the mayor after the conference

Until the finance sheet is adopted and approved by the mayor some of the departments will be handicapped about carrying on public improvements The mayor however, has not refused to sign any vouchers or checks for the maintenance of the city government and city hall affairs are running along smoothly

The ordinary business of the city could be conducted until the June sheet is adopted but no public improvements could be made

Much now depends on the action of the aldermanic board

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY TO GET GREAT SONG-BOOK

Through Offer of The Constitution of "Heart Songs."

The modern ragtime music so called may be considered but a temporary aberration A few years ago the popular airs were taken from the light comic operas or from the sketchy music of the vaudeville artist These have given way to variations on the plaintive negro airs of the old south and will in turn lead to something else that happens to catch the popular fancy

But the simple songs of our fathers—the beautiful music and the heart-stirring words—will again come into their own And when they do the great American balladist, Stephen Foster, will be recognized as one, who, perhaps more than any other, caught the spirit of his time and rendered it into music and words that were sung by millions of his countrymen and women

Foster was born in Pittsburg, Pa, July 4 1826 and received his education in the public schools When only 16 years of age he wrote his first song, while clerking in a little store in Cincinnati It was called 'Open the Lattice, Love' and was soon followed by 'Uncle Ned'—which at once caught the popular ear, and was sung all over the country

Then came 'O Susanna"—popular with the minstrel troupes—and for which he received a hundred dollars His 'Old Folks at Home' was published in 1850—and brought him five hundred dollars from the then famous Christy minstrels For copyrights of this song he received, first and last, nearly $15 000

Among his most popular productions were 'Old Black Joe' 'Old Kentucky Home' 'Old Folks at Home' and 'Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming' These touching and beautiful compositions are all to be found in 'Heart Songs'—that wonderful song collection now being offered by The Constitution for one coupon and the cost of distribution A reference to the coupon printed in this issue will give information as to the terms upon which it may be had

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples disappear.

Pimples sores and boils usually result from toxins poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples

Jad Salts is inexpensive harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia Here you have a pleasant effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well

21 PLAYER LIMIT KEPT BY NATIONAL LEAGUE

Although Boston, Chicago and New York Favored Increase to 22.

New York, February 9.—Meetings were held here today by club owners in the National and International baseball leagues and the delegates hurried through their business at both sessions, so that they would have ample time left to prepare for the banquet which is being held tonight in celebration of the National league's fortieth anniversary.

No change was made in the rule limiting the number of players to 21 by the National league magnates, although Boston, Chicago and New York went on record as favoring an increase to 22 players for each club. All the other representatives expressed their belief that the 21-player limit was sufficient. President Weeghman, of Chicago, said that while he intended sending 26 players to the training camp, the rule would cause no hardship to the Cubs, as they could get through the championship season with 21 players eligible for the pennant race.

The word "manager," as well as "player" was read into the rule governing the deduction of salary during a term of suspension, and it was agreed that any club guilty of an infraction of this law should be fined $250.

No definite action was taken on the motion of President Ebbets, of Brooklyn, that the drafting system be changed so that the lower division clubs would be afforded the first privilege of obtaining players, though it was the sense of the meeting that such a change would be desirable. The question went over to see what the American league and the minor leagues might have to say about it.

Mr. Ebbets also advocated the limiting of 25-cent bleacher seats at any club's grounds to 2,500, but the suggestion was voted down.

President Weeghman stated that he had not made any definite arrangements for the disposal of Roger Bresnahan's services, but that he would endeavor to place the former Chicago club manager to the best advantage.

During the International league meeting the player limit was increased from 15 exclusive of a manager to 17, including the manager, for each club. Following the action of the National league it was decided that in future there shall be no appeal from the decision of President Barrow on protested games, and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president.

DISCUSSING PLAYS THAT CONFLICT AND CONFUSE

"Wait till he gets on the rubber." Every fan has often heard the coacher shout such a warning to the runner when in doubt as to what player has the ball in his possession. Such warning to notify the base runner or runners that the best policy is to hold their bases until it is definitely determined who has the ball or until the pitcher gets on the rubber. It is the general understanding that a pitcher has no right to get on the rubber and assume a preliminary pitching position unless he actually has the ball in his possession.

It is generally agreed among umpires that a pitcher has no right getting on the rubber unless he has the ball in his possession. Such an act on the part of the pitcher gives the general impression to batter, base runner and umpire that the pitcher is ready to deliver the ball. Getting on the rubber is regarded as one of the preliminary actions to the actual delivering of the ball. Assuming his position on the rubber without the ball in his possession is an act of deception, and the balk rule was made as a penalty for such an act. That is the reason coachers invariably warn the runners to hold their bases until the pitcher gets on the rubber when they are in doubt as to where the ball is.

There are some umpires and some expert authorities who insist that an umpire really oversteps himself when he calls a balk if the pitcher simply gets on the rubber without the ball in his possession and makes no preliminary motions, simply stands on the rubber. They will refer you to Rule 34, which covers all the various balk violations. They will specifically call your attention to Section 7 of this rule, which reads as follows: "A balk shall be making any motion to pitch while standing in his position without having the ball in his possession." They contend that simply standing on the rubber and making no preliminary motions whatever does not constitute a balk.

Possibly the rules do not explicitly give the umpire the right to declare a balk when the pitcher gets on the rubber, yet I have always strongly favored such a version of the play. It is often possible to secrete the ball, and the coacher and base runner in a good many cases are powerless to determine who really has it. They must therefore play it safe until they get a line on who has possession of the ball. One player who can give them such a line on the play is the pitcher. They watch his actions. The moment he gets on the rubber it is generally understood that he has the ball in his possession, otherwise he really has no right taking such a stand. It deceives coacher and base runner.

As I have before stated, umpires generally interpret such action on the part of the pitcher as a balk. However, it is a point that is open to dispute, since the rules would give the impression that the pitcher had such a right. It would be a very easy matter to clarify this situation and forever do away with the arguments that are annually brought up when some runner is caught off the base on the hidden ball trick, after he has left same, the moment the pitcher has stepped on the rubber. All that would be necessary would be to add: "A balk shall be called when the pitcher gets on the rubber without the ball in his possession."

CHANCE FOR MACON TO KEEP FRANCHISE

Many Volunteer Subscriptions Received—Jacobs Wants Time Limit Extended.

Macon, Ga., February 9.—So many volunteer subscriptions poured in the office of the Macon baseball club today that President E. G. Jacobs announced that the South Atlantic league will be asked to extend its time limit for Macon's entry to Saturday night.

The volunteer subscriptions received in the mail today totalled $1,100.

Mr. Jacobs is trying to get in touch with members of the committee, President N. P. Corish, W. A. Walsh, of Charleston, and C. E. Walton, of Columbus, to have the offer to Macon held open to Saturday at midnight. If he succeeds there is a chance that the balance of the necessary $5,000 will be obtained.

Savannah, Ga., February 9.—It is stated on good authority here that a number of prominent business men will retain the Savannah franchise in the South Atlantic league, and will keep the team on the field as long as the attendance warrants it. Outside of this information the situation here is still unsettled.

MARIST BEATS G. M. A. BY SCORE OF 70 TO 15

Victory Gives Marist Perfect Record for First Round of the Schedule.

By Walter Reynolds, Jr.

By defeating G. M. A., 70 to 15, yesterday afternoon at the Athletic club, Marist basketball team completed the first round of the schedule with a perfect record, having defeated the remaining three teams. All of the Marist victories have been won by large margins, and unless some one of the other teams takes on a decided brace, Joe Bean's team appears almost certain of winning the rag. Marist is the only team with a clean slate.

Marist started off the game strong, outplaying their opponents from the opening whistle. The passing of Marist was, as usual, exceptionally good, while their goal-shooting was also fine. On the other hand, G. M. A., doubtless due to the much superior playing of Marist, never could seem to get started. They were simply rushed off their feet and never had but few free shots for goals.

In the first half Marist ran up 35 points, while G. M. A. was scoring 5. In the second half G. M. A. did a little better work, due perhaps to the changes made in the line-up by Marist.

Notwithstanding the large score, the game furnished plenty of excitement for the spectators. The game was unusually clean, there being few fouls called.

The best work of the day was done by Dodge, of Marist. He played a roving game, frequently breaking up G. M. A.'s passing and then getting back down the court for a shot at the basket. He rang 12 goals from the field. Mott ran Dodge a close race for the premier honors of the day, the little forward doing some of his best work of the year. He got 26 points.

For G. M. A. the playing of McReynolds and of Bennett featured. Bennett did especially well, scoring 9 points and playing jam-up ball in other departments.

The line-up:

MARIST COL.	Pos.	G. M. A.
Mott (26)	R. F.	Brown
Prescott (12),
F. Harrison	L. F.	Bennett (9)
Dodge (26)	C.	McReynolds (3)
Jernigan,		Burghard (3),
D. Harrison (4)	R. G.	Clayton
Cheves (2)	L. G.	Jones

Summary—Fouls called on Marist 6, on G. M. C. A. 5; goals from foul, Dodge 2, Bennett 1, Burghard 1, McReynolds 1. Time of halves, 20-20. Referee, "Pie" Weaver (A. A. C.).

Many Pugilists Become Policemen After Their Ring Ability Has Dimmed

By "Gravy."

In these days most of the top-notchers of the ring men are financiers who save their coin and retire with comfortable fortunes. In former times pugilists, as a rule, were not so forehanded, and many of them have had to make a living by resorting to various comparatively humble occupations. Since the beginning of the game the job of policeman has made a strong appeal to the men who have outlived their usefulness in the roped arena. Frank Mantel, the German boy who was prominent as a middleweight until a few years ago, is one of the latest recruits, and now wears the brass buttons of authority in Dayton, Ohio.

Of former stars who turned cops after leaving the ring Martin Duffy and Jack Moffatt are among the best known. Both were Chicago boys and both got jobs beating the pavement in the Windy City when their fighting days were over. Moffatt was a middleweight and might have become champion except for an injury he received in one of his battles.

This is the birth anniversary of Martin Duffy, as he was born in Chicago on the 10th of February, 1877. He was one of the pupils of Harry Gilmore, the Chicago boxer who was Jack McAuliffe's principal rival for the lightweight honors. Gilmore fought Williamsburg Jack for the title in Lawrence, Mass., nearly thirty years ago, and gave Jack a tough time of it for 28 rounds. Gilmore had to quit because of a broken nose, but at the time McAuliffe was almost blinded in one eye and could scarcely see out of t'other. Gilmore taught the fighting trade to a number of Chicago youths, including Jimmy Barry, the bantamweight champion, who retired undefeated.

Martin Duffy didn't attain titular honors in his ring career, but he fought many hard battles. Under the instruction of Gilmore, he developed into one of the cleverest performers in the ring. He was something like Packey McFarland, Chicago's later idol, in his ring work. He started as a professional in 1900, and whipped Adam Ryan, Otto Sieloff and other good lightweights. In 1901 he was defeated by Sieloff at Oshkosh, but in a return engagement in the same city turned the tables. His victims that year also included Martin Judge, Artie Simms, Perry Queenan and several others. In 1902 Sieloff got the best of a six-round match in Chicago and Martin also lost the decision in a ten-round affair with Tom Couhig in Toronto.

It was in 1903 that Duffy came into the limelight as a contender for the welterweight honors. After several minor battles, he was matched to fight Rube Ferns, the former welterweight champion, in Louisville. Martin put the Rube to sleep in the thirteenth round. He then fought Matty Mathews, another ex-leader of the welter division, in Port Huron, and triumphed in ten rounds. He rounded out the year's campaign by going six rounds to a draw with Tony Caponi, in Minneapolis.

The season of 1904 was one of disasters for Duffy. He started well by whipping the veteran Rube Ferns in a twenty-round engagement in Hot Springs, Ark. He then tackled Joe (Twin) Sullivan in Chicago, and was outpointed in six rounds. He was then matched with Honey Mellody, at that time a comer among the welters, and for the first time in his career Martin took the count. The Sweet 'Un landed a wallop in the fourth chapter that made Martin see stars. After several other bouts in the middle west Duffy was given a return engagement with Mellody in Spokane. Honey proved that his first victory hadn't been a fluke by knocking Duffy out in the very first round. Duffy then quit the ring, and afterward became a cop.

WAYNE HART NAMED COACH AT CLEMSON

Clemson College, February 9.—(Special.)—Wayne M. Hart, of Washington, D. C., has been elected football coach for Clemson for next season. He has a fine record, both as a player and as a coach. He will remain at Clemson for the session coaching football in the fall, the class teams in the winter, and track in the spring.

Mr. Hart played on the teams of George Washington and Georgetown universities, 1908-11, and was picked All-South Atlantic tackle for four years. He was assistant coach at Georgetown in 1912, and was sent that year to study the Warner system of play used by the Carlisle Indians. He coached the Tech High school team in Washington in 1914-15 and won the championship of the city both years. He coached the "Vigilantes," Washington professionals, in 1913, and did not lose a contest.

Chattanooga Can Whistle for That $400, Says Frank

Andrews Has a Ball Player on His Hands—It's Up to Him to Handle Situation. Matty Busy at Training Camp.

By Dick Jemison.

"Where'd you get this stuff that I was going to give Oliver Bucknell Andrews back his $400?" said Manager Charles Frank, of the Crackers, upon his return from Birmingham, where he attended the schedule committee meeting Tuesday.

"I feel sorry for Mr. Andrews. He has a ball player on his hands that he doesn't know what to do with, but that's his worry, not mine.

"Suppose I buy a ball player from the big leagues and I find when he is delivered to me that his contract calls for $500 a month, does that big league club give me my money back? They do not. I've got a ball player on my hands and I'm out some money, too. I'm supposed to know all these things before I buy a player.

"As far as I knew, Bisland was getting just what his contract called for, $250 a month. He signed an affidavit on the back of his contract saying that this was all he was getting, and that's all Baugh's records showed he was getting.

"I suspicioned he might be getting more, but as far as I knew then and know now, $250 was every cent that Bisland was getting from the Atlanta club and I'd swear to that in a court of law.

Bisland's Affidavits.

"Bisuand made an affidavit that he was getting $350? Won't one offset the other? Which one would a court believe? Either, neither or both? There you are.

"I've got $400 and I intend to keep it. Mr. Andrews can whistle for it. He's got a ball player on his hands. I feel sorry for him, but that's the best I can do for him."

Mr. Frank also stated that Mr. Andrews still showed his speed in the way he can travel to the newspapers with his troubles. The first thing he did when he found his fingers were burnt, was to hustle to the papers with his troubles.

"I left Birmingham Wednesday morning," said Mr. Frank, and up until that time Mr. Baugh had heard nothing from Mr. Andrews regarding the Bisland controversy. Neither have I. Andrews has not written me that he was going to turn Bisland back, neither has he written the league head, but he gave it to the papers first."

Reports from Birmingham are to the effect that the members of the schedule committee had quite a laugh about the matter when they read the stories in the papers from Andrews and heard Mr. Frank's side of the argument.

It appears to be up to Mr. Andrews to either make Bisland play ball for him or sell him to some one that will, or suspend him. He's got these three alternatives.

As for that $400 waiver price. The Atlanta club has that money and the Atlanta club intends to keep it. Andrews believed he was slipping one over on the Crackers when he bought a $1,500 ball player for $400. He looked before he leaped and he was hurt in the leap.

Poor Mr. Andrews!

Matty Is Busy.

Advices from Valdosta are to the effect that Harry Matthews has started work getting things in shape for the Crackers when they will arrive there March 1.

The Valdosta Chamber of Commerce turned a squad of men over to Matty and he has put them right to work on the field getting it in A-No. 1 shape. The clubhouse and shower baths will be remodeled inside and everything put in big league order for the locals.

As for exhibition games, the locals are going to play any games that the Valdosta people arrange for them, and that the big league clubs that are training in Florida will be brought to Valdosta to lock horns with the locals is certain.

Manager Frank has no news regarding new players. Things are moving along quietly, he said, and it would be several days before anything new developed.

WILL HOLD GOLF TOURNAMENT AT USEPPA ISLAND

Amateur golfers are interesting themselves in the announcement of a cup tournament to be held over the new course on Useppa Island, the great tarpon fishing resort off the west coast of Florida.

Paul N. Dean, of the Skokie club, of Chicago, under whose supervision the course was prepared, has received letters from quite a few prominent golfers who will arrive at Tarpon Inn in time for the play-off February 12.

They will find an unusual course over which to test their skill, but withal a very beautiful one—high and rolling and greatly in contrast with the usual flat courses of Florida. It is well provided with natural hazards; with up, down and side hill lies, and has been appropriately named "The Vest Pocket Golf Course of America."

The combination of golfing amid such ideal surroundings, and the opportunities to land game fish weighing 100 pounds and upwards, is so unusual that nearly all of the sportsmen who will take part in this tournament have announced their intention to remain and try their skill with rod and reel.

Other tournaments are being arranged and will be announced later, according to Mr. Dean, the professional in charge.

SINCLAIR SELLS FOUR MORE OF HIS PLAYERS

New York, February 9.—Pat Powers, representing Harry Sinclair, chief stockholder in the late Federal league, announced today that he had sold four players held by Sinclair. The Cincinnati club obtained Catcher Emil Huhn, a hard-hitting player with the Newark Federals last season; Infielder Jimmy Esmond, from the same club, and Heinie Schulz, formerly with the New York Americans, and last year with the Buffalo Federals. Outfielder Grover Gilmore, of the Kansas City Federals, has been purchased by the St. Paul American association club. The prices paid for the players were not made known.

ED KNETCHY IS SOLD TO BOSTON NATIONALS

Pittsburg, Pa., February 9.—President Edward W. Gwynner, of the Pittsburg Federal league club, announced today he had completed a deal for the sale of First Baseman Edward Konetchy and Pitchers Frank Allen and Elmer Knetzer to the Boston National league club. The terms of the sale were not made public.

LITTLE ROCK BUYS OUTFIELDER KIRBY

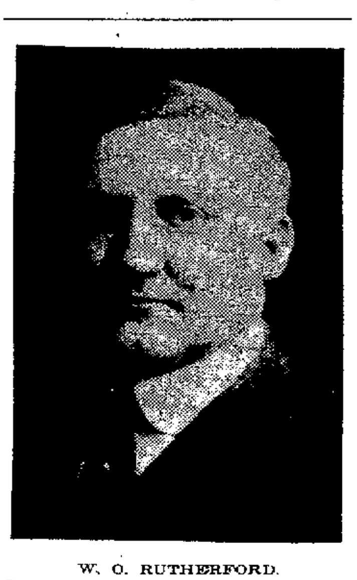
Rutherford Is Elected General Sales Manager For Goodrich Company

H. E. Raymond, second vice president of the B. F. Goodrich company, of Akron, Ohio, relinquished the office of general sales manager to W. O. Rutherford, at the January meeting of the company's board of directors, just concluded. Mr. Raymond will continue actively as vice president, exercising general supervision over sales and advertising policies.



W. O. RUTHERFORD.

The change was made necessary by the enormous increase in the Akron concern's business.

R. J. Murphy, branch manager for the Goodrich company in this city, gave out this information Saturday.

"Mr. Rutherford will begin his new duties at once," said Mr. Murphy. "The announcement of the change was made by the board of directors of the company after their meeting in Akron.

"Mr. Rutherford has ben connected with our company for seventeen years. He has been a branch manager at Denver, Detroit and Buffalo, going from Buffalo to the home offices as Mr. Raymond's assistant nine or ten years ago."

Sports in Short Metre

The Eastern Intercollegiate association has placed an order for 200 prizes for trophies to be awarded winners of the second indoor intercollegiate games to be held in Madison Square Garden New York city on March 4. The prizes, bronze reproductions of the Borghese gladiator, will be distributed to all point winners in both individual and team events. In many of the contests from twelve to fifteen trophies will be awarded in each race, since the events will be team affairs, with each college represented by four athletes.

Cornell expects its track squad to number 500 candidates.

Mayor Davis, of Cleveland, favors erecting handball courts in the public parks of that city. Davis believes in field days and Marathon races to encourage outdoor athletics and interest the citizens in the benefits of sports and recreations.

Chattanooga schools are taking up the game of archery.

Detroit Golf club plans to have erected a new clubhouse to cost over $100,000.

William F. Hoppe, the billiard champion, asked recently regarding the three-cushion style of billiards, said: "I'll never challenge for the title. The games are different and I find that to be at my best I must confine my attention to one specialty, I prefer balkline."

New York state has 176 golf courses, leading the country in this respect.

TODAY IN PUGILISM

1883—Ugo Michell, known to American boxing fans as Hugo Kelly, born at Florence, Italy. Hugo was about the best of the many Italians who have crossed the pond and turned to the ring as a means of livelihood. He began fighting in 1899, and within a few years had defeated Rube Ferns, Owen Zeigler, Mike Schreck, Joe Grimm, Jack (Twin) Sullivan and other good men, and had fought draws with Tommy Burns and Philadelphia Jack O'Brien. He had also been defeated by Schreck and Jack "Twin" Sullivan, and in 1906 fought a 20-round draw with the latter. A little later he knocked out Tony Caponi, his countryman, in Leavenworth. At the beginning of the 1907 campaign Hugo boxed a draw with Tommy Ryan, and the latter conferred upon the Italian the title of world's middleweight champion. Hugo defended his new honor against Billy Papke and his old enemy, Sullivan, both bouts ending in draws, and a little later was outpointed by Papke. In July, 1908, he fought Stanley Ketchel in San Francisco, the bout being advertised as for the world's middleweight title, and the Italian was knocked out in the third round. His last important bout was in Indianapolis in 1912, when he was put to sleep in the third chapter by Jack Dillon.

TED MEREDITH ASKS CREDIT FOR RECORD

New York, February 9.—On the strength of his time of 59 4-5 seconds made in the 500-yard race at the New York Athletic club games here last night, Ted Meredith, the University of Pennsylvania runner, will apply to the Amateur Athletic union for the official record in that event. At present there is no record on the books for 500 yards indoors. Meredith made what was believed to be the best time for that event last year, when he ran the distance in 1:00 1-5. The record for 500 yards outdoors is 57 3-5 seconds, made by Mel Sheppard.

Rochester, N. Y., February 9.—Tommy Leach, a former National league ball player, today signed a contract to manage the Rochester team, of the International league, according to a statement made by President Chapin.

Celebrated at Banquet of National League—Old Stars Present.

New York, February 9.—Stars of the universe, old and young, joined here tonight with owners and managers and fans of prominence in all walks of life in celebrating the fortieth anniversary of the game at the annual banquet of the National league. Whatever enmity remained as the result of the recent war was removed when former foes joined in the merrymaking.

President John K. Tener, as toastmaster, in his opening address, declared that "as we believe the United States is fitted to sit at the head of the table of internationalism, so we believe that baseball, our pastime, is designed to become the world's international sport."

Other speakers were Morgan G. Bulkely, former governor of Connecticut, and Colonel A. G. Mills, the third president of the National league. A standing toast was drunk to the memory of the late A. G. Spalding.

A. J. Reach, who was a star with the Philadelphia team in 1876, and John F. Manning, who, in the same year wore a Boston uniform, were among the guests.

Accordingly Finn announced that he had asked Jim Delehanty, former American league second baseman, to assume his contract to manage the Beaumont team of the Texas league during the coming season.

"Finn last year was scout for the Detroit Americans. Today he received a telegram from President Navin of Detroit, which said:

Twelve-Hour Bike Mark.

Chicago, February 9.—Figures made public today showed that the competitors in the international six-day bicycle race which closed last night broke all records for 72 hours' riding.

The McNamara-Spears team, winners of the race, covered 1,542 miles in the 72 hours. The former record was 1,487 miles, made in a race where the contestants rode 24 hours instead of 12, as in the Chicago competition.

The average time of the winners of the Chicago race was 21.41 miles per hour.

FIFTY-TWO TENNESSEE JACKS AT AUCTION SALE

The jack stock breeders of Marshall county, Tennessee, own more celebrated herd jacks and high-class herds of jennets than any county in the United States. PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York February 9 —(Special)—The cotton market shows a net loss of 10 points today Liverpool was very weak, due probably to selling on that side against purchases made yesterday and furnishes evidence that our strength of yesterday was due wholly to straddle operations and of no market significance except the tendency to congest the supply of contracts

One of the features that has never been pointed out is that last year the total consumption which footed up 14 000 000 bales included in the entire stock of Hamburg and Bremen, Germany amounting to 294 000 bales in addition to about seven or eight hundred thousand which must have been shipped into Germany from other countries to whom our exports were largely in excess of normal For instance Italy last year of American cotton alone imported 600 000 more bales than usual and the amount which the Netherlands and the Scandinavian countries gave to Germany out of their American purchases must have been enormous

This year other mill takings will not include a bale for Germany nor will Italy the Netherlands or the Scandinavian countries be able to pass any cotton of moment through to Germany during the year ending August 1 1916 Therefore it looks as if the final figures on mills takings for this year would not foot up more than 13 000 000 bales, which is less than the size of the crop and the carry over in farmers hands for the previous year

We think lower prices will follow although the market at the moment has a very small supply of contracts and might easily again be induced to make a rally but we advise sales on any rallies which occur

RENSKORF LYON & CO

New York February 9 —(Special)—Each passing day gives added strength to the general spot situation Cotton continues to go out of the hands of holders into the channels of distributors. Weak holders have been practically eliminated and there is no question but that a demand exists to take care of any of the staple that may by chance be pressing for sale The attitude of the banks has not changed in the least according to advices While consumption of cotton by Europe is proportionately reduced due to the stringent blockades it does not necessarily mean that the consuming capacity has been entirely wiped out but in reality we who have become a creditor nation are financing the major part of the cotton which Europe would normally take for stock We believe those who are inclined to look for the staple to be a drug amongst the world's commodities may face disappointment sooner or later

SHEARSON HAMILL & CO

New York, February 9 —(Special)—As a result of yesterday's large buying in the market the demand here today was much smaller and therefore prices declined rather easily under local and southern selling During the day it was rumored that the German raider had been captured and to this report was ascribed Liverpool's easiness for if it proves true freight and insurance rates will undoubtedly be lower The market continues to lack strong support and depends for its buying power upon the short interest open for both domestic and foreign accounts

JAY BOND & CO

New York February 9 —(Special)—Cables were easier this morning rather to the surprise of the local trade who had expected a strong Liverpool The south was a seller early and the market was some 10 to 1 points lower than the close of yesterday

It was currently reported that the marine insurance rates had been lowered in consequence of the capture of the German commerce destroyer who had captured the Appam This report while not confirmed tended to steady the market after the selling from the south subsided.

There was decidedly less demand from Europe and there appears to be less buying by the domestic trade although their business is so good as to lead to a desire on the part of domestic mills to take advantage of easier markets to secure a portion of their requirements.

The advance appears to have brought little or no fresh speculative buying

New York, February 9 —The cotton market lost part of yesterday's advance during today's trading but after selling off to 12 13 May rallied to 12 21 and closed at 12 19 with the general list closing steady at a net loss of from 6 to 10 points

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 6 points in response to disappointing cables There was an idea in some quarters that Liverpool had eased owing to yesterday's talk of a somewhat easier ocean freight situation and there seemed to be some overnight buying orders around the ring here which held prices pretty steady for the first few minutes Houses with Liverpool connections were sellers of the later months however while near months in New Orleans were easier reports as to marine war risks were conflicting and prices here soon sagged off under scattering liquidation local and southern selling

A better demand developed around 12 13 for May 12 27 for July and 12 30 for October and after showing a net decline of about 12 to 15 points the market turned steadier Buying was by no means active on the advance but the firmness of the stock market was accompanied by a little demand from Wall street while there was scattered recovering which may have been inspired by reports of larger spot sales in some of the eastern belt markets March contracts rallied from 11 92 to 12 01 while July sold up to 12 35 and October to 12 36 in the late trading The close was within two or three points of the best

Early rumors that the break in Liverpool had followed the capture of the German ocean raider were not confirmed and while it was reported early that war risks were easier again there were later reports to the effect that any insurance selling was commanding the recent advance Reports that a small lot of ocean freight room had been booked at $2 50 out of New York to Liverpool were confirmed but the market was quoted today at $2 60 bid and $ asked Advices from Galveston forecast a larger export movement from that port during February than there was in January as it is said many steamers are heading in that direction in ballast to load cargoes out for Europe

New Orleans Sags 13 to 15 Points

New Orleans February 9 —Cotton was depressed on the local market today by a selling movement which began in Liverpool and spread to this side of the water as soon as the trading opened Buyers of yesterday were confused by the sudden change in sentiment and liquidated freely while considerable fresh short selling made its appearance although confidence in the bear side appeared to have been shaken by yesterday's developments

Gossip of the market was that the weakness abroad was caused by talk of lower freight rates This market merely followed the trend in Liverpool Around the first call prices lost 3 to 8 points This loss was almost recovered by a sudden increase in the demand around the middle of the morning but the support was not well maintained and prices fell off again At the best the trading months were within 1 to 2 points of yesterday's close at the lowest prices were at a net loss of 13 to 15 points The close was 9 to 11 points under yesterday's last quotations

SECURITY GROUPS VARY IN TRENDS

Coppers and War Specialty Group Lead in Advance, While Oil, Motors and Several Others Sag.

New York February 9 —Lack of buying power, implying continued abstention of public interest, was once more the dominant feature of today's market, which was dull and circumscribed up to the last hour when a wide and general demand for leading shares resulted in numerous substantial net gains

On the whole coppers were foremost in the day's operations Butte and Superior leading that group with an extreme gain of 5⅞ to 84⅞ Lackawanna Steel and Crucible Steel as well as American Car General Electric, Westinghouse and other equipments featured the war issues at gains of 1 to over 3 points while various unclassified shares as well as utilities like Western Union and Mackay Companies gained as much

This betterment was partly offset by intermittent heaviness in oils motors, Harvester Corporation Cuban-American Sugar, United States Industrial Alcohol and Peoples Gas the latter losing 3½ at 10⅞ on rumors of a cut in the dividend at the next quarterly meeting

While making up much lost ground later, rails were subordinated to the more speculative stocks, but New York Central, Union Pacific Canadian Pacific and New York Chicago and St. Louis first preferred were active and strong the latter rising 5 to 88 on resumption of the full 5 per cent dividend

The rally was at its fullest vigor in the final dealings United States Steel and American Smelting sharing conspicuously in the upward movement

Trade journals again confirmed recent statements of the high pressure in the steel industry but forecasts of United States Steel's January tonnage were revised on a less optimistic basis Copper conditions were summarized as boiling, with indications of further unprecedented advances for the refined metal

Recent measures to stabilize German and Austrian exchange were reflected in the increased strength of rates on Berlin and Vienna, with steadiness in sterling and francs

Firmness ruled in the bond market except for Anglo French 5s which made a further decline to 94⅛ on relatively heavy offerings Total sales par value aggregated $3 8 0 000

Sugar.

New York February 9 —The deadlock which existed between buyers and sellers in the raw sugar market for the past few days was finally broken today when holders yielded slightly in their ideas and met the buying views of refiners. The day's business was fairly active consisting of between 50 000 and 75 000 bags of Cubas for February and March shipment to local refiners at 3 13 16c cost and freight equal to 4 83 for centrifugal It was also reported that an equal amount of Porto Ricos were sold during the past few days for February shipment to local refiners at equal to 4 70 for centrifugal At the close there were further offerings at the above basis and the market was barely steady at 4 83 for centrifugal 4 06 for molasses and 3 13 16c for Cubas cost and freight

In refined there was only a moderate trade reported. but the undertone was firm and prices were unchanged at 6 00c for fine granulated The labor situation was a little better if anything and aside from the American refiners were said to be catching up in deliveries.

The market for futures was irregular and after showing slight advances at the start on covering prices eased off under trade selling prompted by the slightly easier turn in the spot market Sales 4 950 tons

CHICAGO STAPLES IN MIXED TREND

Curbed Export Demand Gave Grains Setback—Liquidation Affected Pork. Lard and Ribs Advance Because of High Hogs.

Chicago February 9 —Disappointment because of a sudden stoppage of export demand brought about heavy selling in the wheat market today and forced a net decline of 2¼ to 2⅜c. The close was steady at $1 27⅝@1 27⅞ for May and $1 20⅝ for July Corn finished ⅝@⅞c down oats off ½ to ½@⅝c and provisions varying from 22½c loss to a rise of 10c

Notwithstanding that during the first hour and a half of the session, the wheat bulls appeared to have almost complete control of the market, they withdrew support as soon as the fact became evident that early signs of continued liberal buying for Europe were not likely to be fulfilled at least not without some delay It was then that the burden of profit taking by longs and of aggressive selling by speculative bears led to a crash in values and left the market nearly flat and about 3⅝ to 4c under the day's top level. In addition to the apparent let up of export buying advices from the southwest that told of free country marketing of wheat tended to unnerve the bulls

Largest consignments of wheat in a long time were reported by Kansas City According to one authority there it was only the scarcity of cars that prevented the movement out of first hands from becoming an avalanche In this connection the statement was added that 6 000 cars of grain were waiting on track at Galveston unable to obtain elevator room

Coarse grains were depressed by the break in wheat Previously the corn market had been on the upgrade, owing to the removal of embargoes on shipments to Baltimore and as a result of bullish crop reports from Argentina

Oats at first were inclined to advance on account of talk of a good demand at the seaboard Weakness though, set in when wheat and corn began to sag

Pork suffered from heavy liquidation by longs Lard and ribs on the contrary were free to respond to higher prices on hogs

W. A. WOLIHIN IS DEAD; WAS PROMINENT MASON

Grand Secretary of Georgia Grand Lodge Passes Away Near Macon.

Macon, Ga., February 9.—(Special.) Regret throughout the state especially in Masonic circles will be caused by the announcement of the death of W. A. Wolihin, grand secretary of the grand lodge of Georgia Free and Accepted Masons, which occurred at 4 o'clock this morning at his home near Macon.

Early last week Mr. Wolihin underwent an operation for stomach trouble and it was apparently successful at the time as the patient began to improve rapidly. However, Monday he had a sinking spell, and from that time until his death this morning he lost strength gradually.

Mr. Wolihin was probably the best known Mason in Georgia, at least among the Masons. He succeeded his father as grand secretary in 1897 and had held that office continuously ever since.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. F. E. Wolihin, with whom he resided, and by two sisters, Mrs. Ringland, of Alabama, and Mrs. Woodall, of Albany.

All of the officers of the grand lodge of Georgia will come to Macon to attend the funeral.

BREACH OF FAITH LAID TO BRANDEIS

closing his testimony late tonight. Tomorrow the subcommittee plans to hear representatives of the United Shoe Machinery company, with which Mr. Brandeis was once associated as counsel.

Because of the widespread interest in the nomination the committee decided to hold public sessions. So far as known it is the first instance in which such a nomination has been inquired into except behind closed doors. The subcommittee consists of Senators Chilton, chairman; Walsh, Fletcher, Cummins and Clark of Wyoming.

Thorne Attacks Brandeis.

Clifford Thorne, railroad commissioner of Iowa, was called as the first witness.

"How long have you known Mr. Louis D. Brandeis?" asked Senator Cummins.

"Since 1910," was the reply.

Mr. Thorne explained that he had been connected with the 5 per cent advance rate cases before the interstate commerce commission in 1910 and 1911 [illegible] that he was first asked to participate in the 1913 case by Mr. Brandeis.

"Mr. Brandeis urged that I take part in it," said Mr. Thorne, "and I told him it would be impossible. I had determined not to take such an active part as I had theretofore in rate cases. [illegible] at a conference with the [illegible] I repeated what I had said to Mr. Brandeis."

[illegible] later to take part in the [illegible] when Henry Martin of Kansas [illegible] become vice governor of the Philippines, Mr. Thorne said he [illegible] chairman of the [illegible] interests [illegible] of the National Grain Dealers' association, National Live Stock association and the Corn Belt Meat [illegible] association.

When the case began, he said, the commission indicated that there were two fundamental questions to be determined, namely: "Are the railroads entitled to more revenue, and if so, where shall the revenue be secured?"

Infidelity Charged.

Asked what interest he had in the nomination of Mr. Brandeis, he said he appeared at the request of Mr. Chilton.

"[illegible] two facts stand out, it appears to me," Mr. Thorne declared. "In the first place I believe the nominee [illegible] this committee was guilty of infidelity, a breach of faith and of unprofessional [illegible] in one of the greatest [illegible] of this generation. In [illegible] place in open court hearing [illegible] as special counsel, Mr. Brandeis committed himself to the proposition that the net returns [illegible] expenses all interest [illegible] on capital stock of railroads was inadequate, or to use his own words, niggardly. This had been held adequate by the commission in 1911."

Mr. Thorne said at the beginning of the [illegible] case he testified for two and one-half days. [illegible] minutes before [illegible] he said, Mr. Brandeis said to [illegible] that my testimony was [illegible] should [illegible] the other side [illegible] the [illegible]

Mr. Thorne said he [illegible] Mr. Brandeis [illegible] compliment to Judge [illegible] of Iowa.

He [illegible] long [illegible] upon the conclusion of his testimony [illegible] representatives of many interests.

Mr. Brandeis [illegible] participated in [illegible] railroad [illegible] were most friendly.

When he first [illegible] of Mr. Brandeis [illegible] he was surprised [illegible] adequacy [illegible] asked Brandeis what [illegible] was [illegible] and the [illegible] some of the [illegible] enough [illegible] unsatisfactory [illegible] and [illegible]

Dumfounded by Brandeis.

[illegible] of Mr. Brandeis' [illegible] this statement [illegible] Mr. Thorne [illegible] feeling [illegible] and net [illegible] smaller than [illegible] prosperity [illegible] because [illegible]

I was simply [illegible] by the statement [illegible] For four years [illegible] fighting [illegible] interstate commerce commission. They had carried [illegible] propaganda in [illegible] speeches and [illegible] manner. I am not [illegible]

I was dumfounded [illegible] at the [illegible] great [illegible] a human [illegible] the dawn of civilization to [illegible] the very point [illegible] the time the case was [illegible] argument.

Senator [illegible] inquired if Thorne's position was that [illegible] should [illegible] railroads and Brandeis [illegible] that the public should pay [illegible] that was a [illegible]

[illegible] present [illegible] and that [illegible] the public.

What Brandeis Said.

[illegible] of the hearing Mr. Thorne [illegible] testimony [illegible] arguments [illegible] of the [illegible] Brandeis declared that Mr. Brandeis had said there would be no difficulty in getting all the capital needed [illegible] the railroads in spite what bankers said and that the maintenance account of the railroads was not properly subject to objection because they had been well maintained in earlier years.

"I call [illegible] attention," said Mr. Thorne, "not to the great volume of issues in the case, but to the fact that there was only one position in which there was serious difference of opinion and that was the surplus. I call your attention to the fact that there is at the present time a situation in this country which you gentlemen should not overlook. We are just making a national appraisement of American railroads and many phases of that appraisement are to come up for final determination before the supreme court of the United States. If you gradually pack that tribunal with men possessing preconceived notions, whether honestly or not, as to extra high returns or unreasonably high returns, it is going to be very costly to the American people.

"The larger railroads will welcome that situation. I do not know whether you gentlemen ever have considered what a tremendous factor a simple variation of 1 or 2 per cent means with relation to railroad surplus earnings."

Chilton Questions Thorne.

Senator Chilton asked the witness what he thought of naming a man for the supreme court who had preconceived ideas of unreasonably low returns. Mr. Thorne said that "that would be equally dangerous."

"Well, how can we reconcile the problem?" asked Senator Chilton. "You are assigning to us powers that only angels have."

"Then all that would be necessary from the railroad standpoint," Mr. Thorne continued, "would be to get men who are honest with reasonable ideas of returns. We are dealing with huge sums. It would be far better to try such issues before men who have not committed themselves to unreasonably high or low returns. The railroads certainly will take great concern in seeing that class of men appointed on your interstate commerce commission and supreme court irrespective of whether these rates are to be advanced or not."

Mr. Thorne declared that at the rehearing of the 1913 advance rate case he hardly knew on which side Mr. Brandeis was and that he took up the matter with the six other counsel for the shippers and public. All but one, the witness said, combined in asking Mr. Brandeis to speak first at the rehearing argument so that they would have a chance to answer any position he might take.

Brandeis Careful About Argument.

Mr. Brandeis declined, he added, and the matter was taken to Commissioner Clements. At the beginning of the argument, however, Mr. Brandeis announced that other counsel desired to answer his arguments and that he would speak first.

"He made no arguments to which we took exception," said Mr. Thorne. "If he had done so I presume some of us might have made it unpleasant for him. He did not make any concessions as to adequacy of revenue as a whole. He left that to the commission to determine where it belonged."

"Do you wish us to understand that but for your action Mr. Brandeis would have taken some other position?" asked Senator Fletcher.

"I would prefer to make no assumptions as to what he might have done," responded Mr. Thorne. "I am simply narrating incidents."

Mr. Thorne emphasized that strictly speaking Mr. Brandeis and he were the only representatives of the consumers at the hearing and commented at length on the difficulties of getting the consumers' side before the commission because the shippers were only interested in seeing that the rates were kept horizontal and that their competitors paid them.

Thorne Cross-Examined.

On cross examination Mr. Thorne said he had no information that Mr. Brandeis had notified the railroads as to his conclusion that the revenues were inadequate. He argued that Mr. Brandeis having reached the conclusion which he did should have retired from the case or at least retired from that phase of the case and notify associate counsel of his conclusions.

Senator Chilton inquired if some of Mr. Thorne's clients were not opposed to the special charges which Mr. Brandeis contended should be made by the railroads for services performed without special compensation. Mr. Thorne said that cattle shippers whom he represented believed that the special services already were taken care of in the rates.

Senator Walsh cross-examined Mr. Thorne about the surplus which Mr. Thorne expressed a willingness at the rate hearings to allow the railroads, and which Mr. Brandeis characterized as rather niggardly. Senator Walsh contended that Mr. Brandeis was speaking of 1½ or 2 per cent as the case might be, which was designed by accountants to care for non-revenue producing improvements and lean years. Mr. Thorne insisted that Mr. Brandeis had in mind that this 1½ or 2 per cent was grouped with 6 or 6½ per cent to care for dividends, thus making a total return or surplus of 7½ per cent.

Mr. Thorne said $75,000 was raised by packers, cattle shippers, grain men, state railroad commissioners and others to pay the expenses of preparing the data he had presented to the commission in the western advance freight rate case.

"What are your politics?" inquired Senator Walsh of Mr. Thorne as he concluded his testimony.

"Republican," responded Mr. Thorne.

"Did you vote for Mr. Taft?" inquired Senator Clark of Wyoming.

"I did not."

Eshleman Defends Brandeis.

Lieutenant Governor John M. Eshleman, of California, president of the California railroad commission at the time the advance rate cases were pending, next took the stand, explaining that he happened to be in Washington and that somebody had given his name to the committee as a witness. He vigorously defended Mr. Brandeis.

"I have no charges to make," he said. "Our state was interested in these cases and I have never been able to tell why Mr. Thorne feels as he does about Mr. Brandeis' action and I have not found any railroad commission man who does not agree with me. Mr. Brandeis never suggested to the commission that the railroads should get the five per cent increase they were asking for. And as to a breach of faith and unprofessional conduct charge, I want to say that if Mr. Brandeis had been appearing before me as president of the California railroad commission I should have felt very much surprised if he had not stated his position frankly.

"There has been too much of a tendency in this country by those representing commissions to think that they must agree with all the contentions of the public. A representative of a commission should be impartial in presenting his conclusions. I think Mr. Brandeis' action was entirely justified under the letter asking him to become special counsel for the commission."

Asked by Senator Walsh for his view of Mr. Brandeis' judgment in concluding that the net revenues of the railroads were inadequate, Mr. Eshleman said he had always thought that Mr. Brandeis was at least very liberal to the carriers in that advice.

Teal Believes in Brandeis.

Joseph N. Teal, of Portland, Oregon, was the next witness. He said that at the time the advance rate cases were pending before the interstate commerce commission he as an attorney had repeated occasions to come to Washington in regard to rate cases before the supreme court and the commission and had talked repeatedly to Mr. Brandeis regarding the advance rate cases.

He said he was surprised that Mr. Thorne had taken the position that Mr. Brandeis had betrayed the public in those cases because he did not believe Mr. Brandeis would betray anybody on earth, particularly the public, and because he had read the record of the advance cases.

As to Mr. Brandeis' statement about surplus being niggardly, Mr. Teal declared that in the financial world the word surplus meant surplus after dividends had been distributed and that this undoubtedly was what Mr. Brandeis had in mind.

SHIELDS IS PUSHING WATER POWER MEASURE

Washington, February 9.—Senator Shields, of Tennessee, addressed the senate today urging prompt passage of his bill designed to accelerate improvement of navigable rivers and promote development of water power by private capital. The measure would remove the restriction which now requires a special act of congress to authorize the damming of a navigable river and would enable the secretary of war to issue permits for the construction of private dams and power plants. It also would give the interstate commerce commission jurisdiction over the interstate traffic in power developed on the rivers.

Senator Cummins suggested that rivers not practically open for transportation purposes be eliminated from the provisions of the measure even though they be listed as navigable streams on the maps of the war department.

A report read by Senator Shields from the committee on commerce said the bill provided a way to open to commercial navigation many rivers which could not be improved for years by the ordinary method of treasury appropriations.

GIVE VAUDEVILLE SHOW AT NORTH AVE. CHURCH

North Avenue Presbyterian church will be the scene of a unique event Friday night, when the boys of the Alpha Sunday school class will give a vaudeville entertainment, at which black-face comedians and other well-known vaudeville types will be portrayed.

Nightly rehearsals have been held this week, under the direction of Erwin Sibley, teacher of the class. No admission is being charged and no collection will be taken, therefore a large crowd is expected. The orchestra which will furnish the music is being directed by J. Thornton Kontz. The vaudeville features will be as follows:

1. "Donovan and Dago," by Horton Askew and Charles Tidwell.
2. "Modest Molly, O'Gosh and Aw'shaw," by Emory Flinn, Frances Jones and Calvert Winsborough.
3. "A Slight Miscalculation," by Thomas Hull.
4. "Schoolboy of Muskydine Hollow," by Erwin Sibley and Harry Jones.

HANS SCHMIDT TO DIE FOR MURDER OF GIRL

Albany, N. Y., February 9.—Hans Schmidt, the former priest convicted of the murder of Anna Aumuller in New York in 1913, will be put to death in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison during the week of February 13. Governor Whitman tonight declined to interfere with the execution.

The court of appeals affirmed Schmidt's conviction, but called the governor's attention to the claim made by the man's attorneys that Miss Aumuller died from the effects of a criminal operation and, therefore, Schmidt could only be tried on a charge of manslaughter. The governor granted Schmidt a respite of thirty days in which he investigated the claim.

Governor Whitman tonight said he had reviewed the medical testimony at Schmidt's trial and also had had two physicians examine portions of Miss Aumuller's body that had been preserved at Cornell Medical college. Both reported that Schmidt's victim had not, in their opinion, died from the effects of a criminal operation.

DYNAMITE PLOT RUMOR CAUSES MONTREAL PANIC

City Hall in State of Siege. Valuable Papers Put in Fireproof Safes.

Montreal, February 9.—Information received by the police that the city hall was to be blown up at 12:30 o'clock today spread alarm throughout the city and caused the hurried return from Quebec of Mayor Martin. The police were relieved when the hour passed without any untoward incident.

Mayor Martin, on his arrival, went into immediate conference with the police heads and the city hall was placed in a state suggesting siege. Police were placed in and around the building, while new hose was brought to supplement the regular fire fighting apparatus. All valuable papers were transferred to fire-proof safes.

Three Separate Fires.

Ottawa, Ont., February 9.—Investigation by the provincial authorities of the fire last Friday night in the Grant-Holden-Graham munitions factory here has revealed that there were three separate fires on different floors.

Coroner J. E. Rogers said today that there are metallic ceilings in the building and that one blaze could not have started the others. Several employees have been examined, but were unable to give any information as to how the blaze started.

Fire Chief Graham declared he was of the opinion that the three fires in the factory were of incendiary origin. Coroner Rogers and Fire Marshal Heaton after a personal inspection of the ruined building, said they were of the same opinion.

Germans Use Boston as Base.

Boston, February 9.—Investigation by federal officials of an alleged conspiracy by German sympathizers here to harry Canadian cities in various ways, has proceeded so far that United States District Attorney George W. Anderson is prepared to place the matter before the grand jury, it is understood. The jury which meets next Tuesday, will hear evidence of several lines of activity by a group of men said to be operating in the interests of the Teutonic allies, if information gained from attaches of federal offices is substantiated.

Records containing reports of a conference of the alleged conspirators are in the possession of the prosecutor's staff, it is said. The suspected individuals are under surveillance, federal employees say.

The inquiry begun in this city is said unofficially to account for the presence in Washington today of District Attorney Anderson and Edmund Billings, collector of the port.

Washington, February 9.—George W. Anderson, United States district attorney at Boston, said here tonight that he never had heard of a German plot to use Boston as a base from which to direct hostile activities in Canada. He declared he had come to Washington solely for the purpose of attending the senate committee hearing on the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court.

Two Boys Arrested; Tried to Enter Store, Assert Police

Louis Black, aged 16 years, of 8 Williams street, and George Barber, aged 14 years, of the Y. M. C. A., were arrested late last night by Officers Jeffries and Kilpatrick in front of Broyles' grocery at 165 Luckie. The officers reported that they had seen the boys entering the store through a window. They are believed by the officers to be part of an alleged gang. Officers were making efforts last night to round up the rest of the gang.

Rubbing Cant Reach RHEUMATISM

YOU MUST GO BACK OF THE PAIN AND CURE THE CAUSE OF IT FIRST.

Rheumatism is not just a local soreness. The pain in the muscle or joint is merely a symptom—the cause is much deeper.

Rubbing the sore spot with oils or liniments brings a certain amount of temporary relief, but the disease is still in the system—and the pain will come back again.

Rheumatism is poison in the blood. That poison must be removed before the disease can be cured.

The wonderful successes attending the use of S. S. S. in cases of rheumatism are due to the fact that S. S. S. goes right to the source of the trouble.

It acts directly on the blood—purifies the blood and removes the poison that is the cause of rheumatism.

If you suffer from rheumatism in any of its forms, your first step towards health must be to purify your blood. Start now taking S. S. S. according to directions.

Our laboratory is the best equipped of its kind in the world. We have facilities for extracting the medicinal qualities from herbs and roots and ageing them—possessed by no other concern.

S. S. S. is not a drug—it is purely vegetable. It is Nature's own remedy—the blood purifying properties extracted from native roots and herbs.

S. S. S. has been known for half a century as a blood purifier, and for diseases arising from impurities in the blood. Druggists all over the Country carry it in stock—or can get it for you without delay.

GARRISON WILL PASS ON LANGHORNE'S CASE

Washington, February 9.—Secretary Garrison has undertaken personally an investigation to decide whether Major George T. Langhorne, formerly military attache at Berlin, will be ordered before a court-martial for alleged delivery of communications from German officials to Captain Franz von Papen, the withdrawn military attache of the German embassy here. What will be done, the secretary said today, will depend almost entirely upon the character of the communications Major Langhorne is said to have carried.

Should the communications prove to be of a personal and unofficial character, the matter probably will be dropped. Should investigation reveal the communications to be of an official character or to contain unneutral information, the act would constitute an offense subject to trial.

Copies of the papers relating to the Langhorne case are on file in the state department and will be studied by Secretary Garrison.

El Paso, Texas, February 9.—Major George T. Langhorne, former military attache at Berlin, mentioned in Washington dispatches in connection with a possible investigation by Secretary of War Garrison into the delivery of documents from Berlin to German officials in the United States, declared that he could not comment upon the report. Major Langhorne is at his headquarters at Fort Bliss, having come here from his regiment, now stationed at Sierra Blanca, Texas.

"I have not heard of any investigation," Major Langhorne declared, "and in view of this fact I do not believe it proper for me to make any statement at this time."

GENERAL SMITH-DORRIEN QUITS AFRICAN COMMAND

London, February 9.—General Sir Horace Lockwood Smith-Dorrien has relinquished the command of the British forces operating in East Africa owing to ill health, it was officially announced tonight.

General Jan Christian Smuts, the minister of the interior, mines and defenses of the Union of South Africa, has accepted the vacancy with the rank of temporary lieutenant general, the announcement added.

On December 14 last General Smith-Dorrien, who had command of the British second army in Flanders, was appointed to the supreme command of the forces operating in East Africa. That he was in active command there was indicated as recently as February 2, when an official statement issued in London embodied a report from him on satisfactory progress that was being made with the campaign.

While the British expedition against German East Africa was organizing in November General Smuts was placed in command and early in December announced that the entire force asked for the expedition had been recruited. The sending of General Smith-Dorrien to Africa to take the supreme command of all the forces for the East Africa operation followed shortly thereafter.

Last November when the union contingent for East Africa were being formed the government offered the command to General Smuts. For various reasons he was then unable to accept it. Now it has again been offered to General Smuts, who in the circumstances accepted.

GOOD ROADS MEASURE TO POSTAL COMMITTEE

Washington, February 9.—Opponents of the $25,000,000 good roads bill, already passed the house, maneuvered it into the senate postoffice committee today and prevented its sponsors from keeping it in the agriculture committee where they hoped for favorable action.

Senators Smith, of Georgia; Simmons, of North Carolina, democrats, and Sutherland, republican, of Utah, joined in a fight against taking the measure from the committee on agriculture.

MANY INVENTIONS FOR REPAIRING MEN WRECKED BY WAR

Berlin, February 10.—(Via London.) At the convention of the German Orthopedic society, in session here, many inventions of methods for repairing the wastes of war have been exhibited or discussed.

Dr. Ferdinand Sauerbruch, professor of surgery at Zurich university, showed the delegates an artificial hand which was able to grasp objects of all forms and to lift weights up to 22 pounds. An entirely novel feature of the hand is that it and the fingers are controlled by muscular action in the upper arm, which is prepared for such work by two operations. The muscular power is afterwards transmitted to the hand through a system of wires and pulleys to which the fingers respond.

Dr. Karl Ludloff, professor of surgery at Breslau university, described a method for uniting severed nerves and reviving the muscular action of nerveless limbs. Dr. Ludloff pointed out that the natural tendency of severed ends of nerves to reunite is hindered by the fact that the cicatrized new flesh between them is impervious to growing nerve fibers.

Professor Ludloff said he restores the connection by a piece of an artery of an ox filled with gelatine, through which nerves readily grow, even bridging gaps of several inches. After several weeks crippled limbs regain their motor activity. The professor said that many cases already had been successfully treated where permanent lameness would otherwise have followed.

Professor Hoerstmann, of Koenigsberg university, described a method for treating joints left stiff after wounds have healed. Through the use of hot air, massage and mechanical appliances, Professor Hoerstmann said he had been successful in 80 per cent of the cases treated by him.

NEW YORK GEM WORKERS STRIKING FOR 8 HOURS

New York, February 9.—A general strike of the jewelry workers in New York City was called at a meeting early today attended by more than 1,000 members of the union. The jewelers demand an eight-hour day. They are all highly paid workers, some of them, the diamond setters, earning as high as $100 a week in busy periods and the question of pay does not enter into the present trouble.

The strike call affects about 200 shops and 2,500 employees. In some of the shops a demand is made for the abolition of the piece work system.

Meat Eating Makes Bad Kidneys

Heavy meat meals are all right for athletes, for people who work hard out of doors and for dogs, but for the average person, such a diet is apt to load the blood with uric acid and to injure the kidneys. Bad backs, lame aching back, blue, nervous spells, dizziness, heart flutterings, rheumatic pains, and bladder troubles indicate weak kidneys, and foretell danger of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Don't neglect this condition! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have given quick relief to thousands.

W. E. Anderson, retired farmer, 24 Orange street, says: "Kidney complaint clung to me for quite a while. I was often bothered by severe attacks of backache and I got so bad at times that I couldn't do a day's work. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage, especially when I caught cold. Doan's Kidney Pills were very beneficial."

POLICE ARE SEARCHING FOR MISS M'LAUGHLIN

New York, February 9.—Police aid was enlisted tonight in the search for Miss Grace McLaughlin, daughter of a former deputy chief of police, who is said to have inherited $75,000 and who has been missing from her home here since December 8. When last seen by her relatives she wore pearl ear rings valued at about $2,000, a platinum ring set with diamonds and carried a satchel containing several other articles of jewelry besides a large supply of money. An aunt with whom she lived has offered a reward for information concerning her whereabouts or proof of her marriage.

Soon after she left home Miss McLaughlin's relatives issued a statement declaring they believed she had eloped with a man in the automobile business. They later received a report that she had been seen in Florida.

West Palm Beach, Fla., February 9.—Police here announced on January 26 last that they had been asked by New York detectives to look for Miss Grace McLaughlin, of New York, who, it was thought had left New York for this place. The request, it was said, came from detectives employed by Mrs. Catherine Ingles, the girl's aunt, and indicated a belief that Miss McLaughlin might have eloped with George M. Stevens, a garage proprietor of New York city. No trace of either Miss McLaughlin or Stevens has been found here.

MRS. WARREN INDICTED ON SMUGGLING CHARGE

New York, February 9.—Mrs. Charlotte A. Warren, wife of Whitney Warren, a wealthy New York architect, was indicted today by the federal grand jury on a charge of making a fraudulent statement to the customs authorities in regard to the value of a large quantity of wearing apparel which she brought with her from France on November 15 last.

Mrs. Warren appeared before United States Judge Clayton and entered a plea of not guilty. She was released on bail of $2,500.
