

CAN JURY OBEY IF TOLD TO FORGET BASE CHARGE?

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

"Gentlemen of the jury, having heard from James Conley, the blackest, most damning story ever told in Atlanta by one human being against another, having sat there and listened as he mumbled with unresolvable and the irrelevant in this case, Leo Frank, although it is irrelevant, immaterial, and has nothing to do with this case, you will kindly forget it, being on your oath as jurymen to consider the evidence declared competent!"

And the jury, being like most other juries, in one way and another, and having heard all the things as aforesaid, will promptly proceed to do as instructed about forgetting it—NOT!

I have heard juries told too many times to "forget" things—such, for instance, as that there is no such thing as "unwritten law" in this land of the free and home of the brave—and I have seen too many times these very same juries proceed to "forget"—NOT!

Juries are, after all, composed of mere human beings, and things such as Conley said to the Frank jury can NOT be forgotten, and will NOT be disregarded by the average jury.

Merely Question of Belief. It is merely a question whether the jury BELIEVES the negro.

There was something infinitely pathetic in the situation Tuesday, when Conley came in the afternoon.

For one thing, it brought to the cheeks of the defendant's wife, Alvera, and ever at his side, the first time I yet have seen, fall from her eyes.

She has borne herself with amazing fortitude thus far—the wonder is that she has not long ago collapsed—and when Reuben Arnold, moving to strike from the record the vile story of Jim Conley, paused a second before reading the exact words he had expunged, looked a moment in the direction of the defendant's wife, and said, with no show of the spectacle whatever, "Your honor, I would prefer not to read this in the presence of these two ladies, and I therefore pass it to your honor that you may read it in silence!" The moment was tense and tragic!

Weeps For First Time. I do not know whether it was gratitude to Arnold for the kindness and consideration thus shown, whether it was realization of the weighty purpose of the motion, whether it was the first chilling breath of apprehension or whether it was just a physical giving way that moved Mrs. Frank. Whatever it was, as Arnold passed the paper along to Judge Roan, the first tear I ever saw from the eyes of Lucile Frank trickled down her cheek, and she dropped her head in her hands for a moment or two and sobbed!

Apparently there was nothing in the incident, either upon the part of Arnold or the woman, designed to do the least bit theatrical. The jury had been removed, the stage settings were wanting.

It merely was a natural and minor incident that tugged, somehow, at the heartstrings and caught at the throat, there was a morbidly hungry crowd of men, ready to grasp greedily at anything sensational.

Arnold denied the crowd for the sake of the women.

And now the jury has been asked to forget the damning thing that has been said to it, that has been said in the presence of the wife and the mother—and that was too vile to say a second time in the presence of the latter!

Do you think the jury WILL forget?

SCENE IN COURTROOM AS CONLEY WAS UNDER FIRE OF THE DEFENSE

Reuben Arnold assisting in the grilling of the negro.

in his patience with the negro. He has gone over the same ground, time after time. In his efforts to get Conley's various stories adjusted to the purpose of the defense.

Conley, rapid-fire enough in direct examination, rattling off his gawdawny and frightful story as if it were a recital of an altogether commonplace, became quite another Conley to collapse him.

The point is: Can the defense—this or with the defense—ON UNDERMINE Conley's story that, through the introduction of other evidence, it eventually will fall to the ground as a mass of lies?

Slowly but persistently, with deadly intent even if with unconsciousness of method, Luther Z. Rosser, for more than two days has attacked the amazing and terrible story upon which the State hopes to convict Leo Frank of the murder of Mary Phagan.

Rosser has been almost maddening

in the courtroom has been looking for Conley to "break down," to fall on his knees and confess it all a lie, and all that sort of thing.

There never was any chance that Conley would do that. It should be born in mind that to "break down" Conley's story does not necessarily mean to break down Conley—to collapse him.

Where but a few moments ago he had remembered most amazing and inconceivable details—such as the fact that a woman who called to see Frank on Thanksgiving Day wore a blue and white polka dotted dress, a green hat, and white shoes and stockings—under cross-examination he could remember nothing at all save after the most persistent prodding.

Time and again Mr. Rosser had to go over the entire ground of an intricate situation to draw from Conley one further comment upon it. Questioned on his story under both cross and direct examination, the negro was patient enough in reply—on other points he was as vague as he possibly could be.

Twenty-one times Tuesday he had admitted to Mr. Rosser that he had "lied" seven times in addition to that he admitted that he had been "mistaken."

As the cross-examination progressed, too, it became evident enough that the defense is to hold the entire charge against Frank to be largely a "frame-up" with Conley as the bright and particular star about whom it revolves.

The negro said he at first refused to speak of the crime at all, and when he did speak deliberately lied because he was afraid to prosecute a white man.

"It was my young superintendent—would have done anything to save him," said the negro—another sinister cunning or genuine sincerity, the jury must say.

Showed How Negro Lied. And yet, with Conley's own lips, Rosser showed how, time and again, he deliberately lied about his movements on the Saturday night when Mary Phagan's last on earth—after he had said that he had looked in vain for help from Frank, and was then determined to tell "the whole truth."

After Conley's excuse of protection, Frank had been battered by the negro's own "confession," he had to make three subsequent and different "confessions" before he got things shaped to his liking—and every time he readjusted the story it was changed to meet the ever bobbing objections to the story of the day or two before.

Continuously Mr. Rosser referred to the fact always admitted by the negro, that his various admissions were changed "at police headquarters," in the presence of officers, "after being released from jail and carried to headquarters."

There are dozens of puzzling inconsistencies to be bridged over in Conley's story—scores of things you to be explained and straightened out. And yet—

In the average mind I doubt whether Conley's story has been seriously discredited in the main. There are people who admit, readily or through hundreds of them—that Conley is a liar, a thousand times over, a loafer, and an utterly unscrupulous thief.

They will say this and so to his disparagement, but—

Fateful, suggestive, profoundly melancholy "but" for Leo Frank! It bespeaks a widespread and crystallizing doubt, that is dangerously incompatible with Frank's hopes for life and liberty and the restoration of his good name.

With all the undermining and inconsistencies of Conley's story, the most subtle ingenuity of the defense can confute it. He said, the jury has been given a story which, if as much as 5 per cent of it sticks, likely will serve to convict.

Crowd Set in Its Opinions

By O. B. KEELER.

The impression persists that courtroom crowds are made up in the main of two classes, as follows: (1) People who take it for granted that any person being tried on any charge in any court is guilty, and then some. (2) People who are constitutionally

DORSEY ACCOMPLISHES AIM DESPITE BIG ODDS

By L. F. WOODRUFF.

Practically the entire case on which the State of Georgia bases its claim on the life of Leo Frank to pay for the chain may be read number as though struck by lightning, but that will be the work of the skilled attorney who are fighting to save the life of the pencil factory superintendent.

Here was Dorsey's work. He had to adduce enough circumstantial evidence to corroborate the testimony of Jim Conley before his case could even be seriously considered. The unaided word of the negro, supported word of the negro, would have been committal as valuable as a punctured drum. The Solicitor knew this.

First he had to prove the venue. He had to locate Frank at the National Pencil Company factory at the time Mary Phagan was slain. He did this by the unaided testimony of many witnesses. He did it so thoroughly that the defense has finally admitted that Frank was at the factory about the time he died was supposed to have been done.

Then he had to prove the time. According to the State's theory the murder was committed about 11:15 on Memorial Day. Frank himself has said and his employees and his associates have testified that he was there at that time. This point also is practically unchallenged.

As far as the time of the murder is concerned, he had to prove that Leo Frank was the only human being in the pencil factory at that time, who could have taken Mary Phagan's life.

By every witness introduced on this point it was shown that as far as the human knowledge of Leo Frank was concerned he was the only man in that part of the factory at that time, and either could have committed the crime. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Next came the testimony which was introduced to show that Frank was not at the factory at that time. Mr. Harris' testimony tended to show that the body may have been done immediately after Frank had given the child her week's wage and had given it to her while they were alone. Mrs. White's testimony tended to show that the body was not at the factory at that time. It was Dorsey's work to place the blame on Frank alone.

Soda crackers are more nutritive than any other flour food. Uneeda Biscuit are the perfect soda crackers.

Though the cost is but five cents, Uneeda Biscuit are too good, too nourishing, too crisp, to be bought merely as an economy.

Buy them because of their freshness—because of their crispness—because of their goodness—because of their nourishment.

Always 5 cents. Always fresh, crisp and clean.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

SEMIANNUAL STATEMENT For the six months ending June 30, 1912, of the condition of the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. OF BALTIMORE, MD.

Organized under the laws of the State of Maryland, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance of the laws of said State. Principal Office—11 S. E. and 11, Baltimore, Md.

III. CAPITAL STOCK. Whole amount of capital stock $2,500,000.00. Amount paid up in cash 2,000,000.00.

Total assets of the company (each market value) $7,676,574.98.

Total liabilities $4,646,641.93.

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1912. Income actually received during the first six months of the year 1912 $4,317,769.48.

V. EXPENDITURE DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1912. Total expenditures during the first six months of the year 1912 $2,939,931.91.

In case of the act of Incorporation, duly certified, it is filed in the office of the Insurance Commissioner of the State of Maryland.

Personally appeared before the undersigned Albert H. Buck, who being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Assistant Secretary of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

ALBERT H. BUCK, Assistant Secretary. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 21st day of July, 1912.

Name of State Agent—OLSON & SMITH, 110 N. W. Second St., BALTIMORE, Md.

GAR DUNLAP INSURANCE AGENCY.

OLSON & SMITH, Mgrs. Southeastern Department

ATLANTA GENERAL AGENTS

Frank H. Reynolds & Co. and Edgar Dunlap Ins. Agency

AFTER 15 1/2 HOURS ON STAND, CONLEY ENDS HIS TESTIMONY Grinning After Ordeal, He Lights Cigarette and Grabs a Newspaper

DEFENSE GIVES UP FUTILE EFFORT TO BATTER DOWN SWEEPER'S MAIN CHARGE

Continued from Page 2. About seeing this negro Monday after the crime. Several spectators were put out of the courtroom for laughing at Mr. Frank's admission of the error. Rosser-I will say it is the first time that you have been right. Your honor, we object. It is immaterial what time the witness made known the fact unless they go further and show she was deluded through the influence of Frank. The objection was overruled. Lawyers Clash. Dorsey-You honor, I have already thought that Leo Frank knew on Monday, April 25, that she saw this negro there and that it was May 7 before the state got into possession of this fact. Rosser-I say that no such evidence has been introduced. Dorsey-Call for the record of Harry Scott's evidence. Rosser-I say he has not introduced this evidence, and he says he has. If your honor can't remember any more of the things that happened here we are perfectly helpless. Stenographer Frank was called. He said he was taking the testimony for Mr. Arnold and he wanted Mr. Arnold's consent before reading it. Q. When did you report it to any one else? Rosser objected. Dorsey-I want to show who it was who first reported to detective of the State of Georgia. The objection was overruled. Q. When did you report it? A. May 7. Q. How long the witness on cross-examination. Q. You never declined to tell any body? A. No. Q. I want to refresh your memory. Didn't you tell Wade Campbell who saw the negro when you went up? A. No. Q. Didn't you tell Wade Campbell that when you came down you heard voice? A. No, that was when I went up. The witness was excused. Sheriff W. W. Mangum was then called to the stand. Dorsey questioned him. Q. Were you at the jail when Jim Conley was brought there? A. Yes. Q. Did you have any conversation with Frank about seeing Conley? A. No. Dorsey-We want to show that this white man wouldn't see this negro negro, his prisoner. Can I ask the question? Judge Ross-Go ahead. Frank Didn't Want to See Police. A. Chief Weaver, Chief Lanford, Harry Scott, Detective Burns and Jim Conley came down and wanted to see Frank. I asked Frank if he wanted to see them. He said no, that his lawyer was not there and he had no body to defend him. Rosser took the witness on cross-examination. Q. Mr. Frank knew who was there didn't he? A. Yes. Sheriff Mangum was excused, and Coleman and George Evans. Neither answered. Dorsey-We have got two propositions and there will be objections to them. They are Dalton and Epps. When we finish with them we only have one more witness for Mr. Harris. We would like him until 2 o'clock, and we can't get that that argument over. Judge Ross sent the jury from the

CONLEY PROVES HIMSELF NO SHARK AT ORTHOGRAPHY

Jim Conley gave the court a demonstration of his ability as a speller during the Wednesday morning session of the Frank trial. He had told of writing notes to Mr. Frank advising him when certain stocks of pencil boxes were exhausted. 'How long have you kept up with these boxes?' asked Rosser-A. About a year. Q. And you write Mr. Frank reports on these boxes? A. Yes, sir. Q. Would you know 'luxury' if you were to see it? A. No, sir. Q. How did you write it for Mr. Frank, then? A. I can write it. Q. Can you spell it? A. I can try it. Q. Well, let's hear you spell 'luxury' now. A. L-u-x-u-r-y. Q. Was that the only kind of pencil boxes up there? A. No, sir. There was Uncle Remus, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington and others. Q. Did you write reports on them? A. Yes, sir. Q. Let's hear you spell Uncle Remus. A. O-n-e-R-i-m-o-s. Q. Let's hear you spell Thomas Jefferson. A. T-o-m-J-e-f-f-e-r-s-o-n. Q. Let's hear you spell George Washington. A. G-e-o-r-g-e-W-i-s-h-i-n-g-t-o-n. Q. What did Mr. Frank say about your spelling? A. He laughed. Q. How do you spell O-x? A. O-x. Q. How did you write him notes to borrow money? A. I just wrote them. Q. Tell me what you wrote? A. I just said: 'Please let me have fifty cents.'

SAYS DIVORCED PASTOR TOOK 'HUSH' MONEY

Minister Accused of Accepting $1,500 From Own Brother, Who Was Friendly With Wife. MACON, Aug. 6.—The Rev. E. T. Moore, a Baptist minister at Andersonville, formerly of Macon, is charged by Attorney Oliver C. Hancock in a suit brought in the city court of America with extorting $1,500 from his own brother as a price for silence in court as to his brother's alleged intimacy with Mrs. Moore. Mrs. Moore now is living with her parents at Euflavia, Ala., and the two children are temporarily in her custody. Rev. Mr. Moore, while here, resided in the Mercer University campus and was highly esteemed both as a man and a minister. Last year Rev. Mr. Moore obtained a divorce from his wife in the Fifth Superior Court, after a long contest. He charged her with being unfaithful. One of the alleged co-defendants swore to improper conduct with Mrs. Moore, who is a strikingly beautiful woman of about 30 years. It is now charged that Rev. Mr. Moore found his own brother and Mrs. Moore in a compromising position and that he threatened his brother, who was about to be married, with exposure unless he made the actual payment of the money.

Girl Is Run Down by Auto on Whitehall

A small girl, who refused to give her name, was knocked down and badly injured by an automobile driven by Lewis G. Hartman on Whitehall street, in front of Rich Brothers store about noon Wednesday. The child was taken into Cones store and her bruises bandaged and then put in a cab and taken home. Witnesses to the accident say it was unavoidable, and that the driver, who is now in front of the hospital, could be stopped. No arrest was made.

Loses Fight to Force Promotion in Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Justice Barnard, in the District of Columbia Supreme Court today dismissed the suit filed for by Major Joseph B. Ray to compel the War Department to show why he should not be promoted to lieutenant. The court declined to decide the constitutionality of the promotion act of October 3, 1919, saying the question seems to be one for an executive or administrative officer rather than one of the courts.

Deputies Announced By Marshal Davis

MACON, Aug. 6.—Marshal J. S. Davis, for the United States Court for the Southern District of Georgia, this afternoon announced the appointment of his deputies as follows: Macon—Henry Tucker, John Heckle, Dave Riley and Frank Riley. Augusta—E. S. Sheriff, Pierce, W. G. O'Leary, of Albanyville. Wilcox—Savannah—W. Wilson. Tarver. The deputies in Macon and Savannah were reappointed.

FLEETS OF WORLD AT CANAL OPENING

Secretary Daniels Plans Huge Naval Display for 1915—Announces Defense Policy. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today announced his plan to have all the world's fleet mobilize in Hampton Roads in February, 1915, and led by the American squadron, proceed through the Panama canal and up the West Coast to San Francisco. Secretary Daniels considers that this will form a fitting opening for a State Department. It is the greatest naval parade the world has seen. In addition to this, Secretary Daniels intends to have the American fleet, headed by the old battleship Oregon, steam through the canal next spring to celebrate the opening of the passageway to ships of commerce. 'It has been stated,' said the Secretary of the Navy today, 'that I intend to divide the Atlantic, and to keep a portion of it on the Pacific side. This is arranged. What I intend to do is to divide the time of the year so that I will spend six months of the year on one coast and then go to the other, instead of spending all the time on the Atlantic side as at present.'

FIVE ATLANTANS WIN PLACES ON RIFLE TEAM

Adjutant General Holt Announces Georgia Representatives at Camp Perry National Shoot. Team Organized—Bridger General J. Van Holt, Adjutant General, has announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month. The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Perry rifle range at Port Melbourne. Following is the team: Team Organized—Bridger General J. Van Holt, Adjutant General, James A. Searles, Major, Captain William T. Harrod, spotter, Macon. Philadelphia—Major Wallace D. Wheeler, Macon. Captain William T. Spratt, Atlanta. Captain Oscar L. Russell, Atlanta. First Lieutenant Samuel Y. Turner, Atlanta. Second Lieutenant James W. Armstrong, Albany. Sergeant Warner S. Hale, Windsor. Corporal A. Williams, Windsor. Private Enoch C. Hale, Windsor. Private Owen C. Holleran, Atlanta. Atlanta—First Lieutenant Primes A. Dickinson, Monroe. Second Lieutenant James C. Adolphus, Macon. Sergeant Algernon S. Brown, Macon. All team members will report in person to the captain at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of August 10 at the adjutant general's office, State Capitol, Atlanta. The team will leave Atlanta, Ga., Monday morning, August 11, at 1 o'clock, via the E. and N. Railroad, in a special car from the Old Station, for Camp Perry, Ohio.

THE GREATEST MATINEE IDOL.

CONFESSED SLAYER ON TRAIL. SAVANNAH.—Today, in the Superior Court, Luther George was put on trial for the confessed killing of the wife of Henry Mettalan in a room in the house occupied by Mrs. George, who was separated from her husband. FLOVILLA, GA. $2.30 Round Trip $2.30 Tickets on sale daily August 5 to 17. Return limit August 21. Account INDIAN SPRINGS CAMP MEETING. SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Mothers' Testimony Binds Over Man Who Cruelly Beat Son

Several mothers appeared in police court Wednesday to testify that J. S. Newman, 41 Gaskill street, Tuesday brutally beat his 13-year-old boy, Joe Newman, with a horse. The mothers declared they would never think of whipping a child as severely as Newman did. Newman insisted that the boy deserved a good thrashing and quoted 'near the rod and spoil the child.' Judge Preston, declaring it one of the worst cases that had come to his notice, bound the father over to the State court in bond of $200.

Kills Man Who Held Her Captive in Woods

MEMPHIS, TENN., Aug. 6.—Mabel Farmer, 18, shot and killed Henry Blum today when he tried to force her to leave her home and remain with him for twelve hours in the woods.

Detroit Wins Out In Street Car Fare

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 6.—A compromise in the city's fight for a 3-cent street car fares was effected today when the Detroit United Railway agreed to sell seven tickets for 25 cents, after an automobile firm offered the city the use of 1000 automobiles in case the company refused to operate its cars. A strike of employees, held off by a promise of arbitration, is threatened unless the company's arbitrary action agrees with the union's representative upon a third arbitration within 24 hours.

Woman Injured in Chicago Race Riot

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Mary A. Barrett was in a serious condition today as the result of a riot between whites and negroes on a street car. The trouble was caused by a remark of a negro directed at one of the white passengers.

SPECIAL REDUCTIONS

For a few days you have an opportunity to get your eyes fitted with first-class glasses at lowest possible prices.

Eyeglasses and Spectacles

$2.50 Glasses Now $1.00 $5.00 Glasses Now $2.50

We are thoroughly equipped to fit you with any style of glasses you may desire. Our oculist will give your eyes a thorough scientific examination, and we guarantee glasses he prescribes to give satisfaction.

L. N. HUFF OPTICAL CO.

Builders Fine Spectacles and Eyeglasses. TWO STORES. 70 WHITEHALL 52 W. MITCHELL

ATLANTA'S GREATEST PRE-INVENTORY SALE OF FURNITURE Thousands of Dollars Worth of the World's Best FURNITURE To Be Offered at a Saving of From 20% to 50%

Our buyers have just returned from the leading markets of the North and East, and have bought a tremendous stock of Fall Goods. We never carry goods over from one season to another, for we want to always give our customers the newest styles and best values to be had for the money. So we must close out our present $50,000.00 stock of Furniture in order to make room for the Fall Stock.

FURNITURE COMPANY

129-131 Whitehall Street Between Mitchell St. and Trinity Street. NEVER BEFORE HAVE YOU SEEN SUCH WONDERFUL BARGAINS. FREE FOR 15 DAYS ONLY. WE WILL BE GLAD TO ARRANGE TERMS TO SUIT YOU. FREE With every purchase of $25.00 or more, we will give you a $1.00 coupon good for 15 days.

STATE CALLS LAST WITNESSES

Frank Hid Girl's Purse in Safe, Says Conley

ONE OF WITNESSES FOR DEFENSE

Mrs. Emma Freeman, who will testify for Leo Frank.

'U. S. WOMEN SET TOO FAST A PACE'

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, LONDON, Aug. 6.—American society women are accused of setting too fast a pace by Elton Young, a famous English publisher, in an article in The Saturday Review. Supplementing his article by an interview Mr. Young to-day said: "It is a baboon could be trained to play ragtime he would soon be the rage and would be invited out to dine by the idle rich. Where the shepherd goes society women follow like sheep. In the case of questionable dances American women have been to blame."

"Tango in Latin means 'I touch' and it is well named. American women in London and Paris are the leaders in reveals which should cause a blush of shame to red-dress the cheeks of every modest woman. One by one the English leaders have surrendered to the daring irreverence of the American women."

So frequently did the Bulgarian peace representatives plead their cause, and so graphically did they paint the sufferings undergone by the Bulgarians in the war with Turkey to secure victory for the Balkan league that the Serb and Greek envoys relented.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, RICHMOND, Aug. 6.—Sympathy may get prevent Bulgaria from losing all the spoils she won in the Balkan war, Premier Paichko of Serbia, and Premier Venizelos of Greece, to-day wired their respective sovereigns for permission to extend the Bulgarian frontier so as to include a big area of the territory in Northeastern Macedonia which was taken away from Turkey.

It had been the original intention of the Serbians and Greeks to punish Bulgaria for the atrocious of her soldiers by refusing to allow the Bulgarians to profit by the war.

Other witnesses said Mrs. Greenberg was the aggressor Judge Preston found her guilty of maintaining the case, Mrs. King.

Bulgaria's Enemies Relent; Intercede For Conquered Ally

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, RICHMOND, Aug. 6.—Sympathy may get prevent Bulgaria from losing all the spoils she won in the Balkan war, Premier Paichko of Serbia, and Premier Venizelos of Greece, to-day wired their respective sovereigns for permission to extend the Bulgarian frontier so as to include a big area of the territory in Northeastern Macedonia which was taken away from Turkey.

It had been the original intention of the Serbians and Greeks to punish Bulgaria for the atrocious of her soldiers by refusing to allow the Bulgarians to profit by the war.

So frequently did the Bulgarian peace representatives plead their cause, and so graphically did they paint the sufferings undergone by the Bulgarians in the war with Turkey to secure victory for the Balkan league that the Serb and Greek envoys relented.

Other witnesses said Mrs. Greenberg was the aggressor Judge Preston found her guilty of maintaining the case, Mrs. King.

Judge's Compliment Praises Women Who Battled With Fists

When Mrs. J. T. King, No. 144 Piedmont avenue, and Mrs. M. Greenberg, No. 6 Warren place, were arraigned in Police Court, Wednesday as the result of a fight in the former's home, Recorder Pro Tem Preston sought to pacify them, remarking that "good-looking women like you two ought not to be fighting this way."

The compliment went home, both women smiling their thanks.

Mrs. King said it was all the fault of Mrs. Greenberg. Mrs. Greenberg declared Mrs. King was to blame. They fell out over some sewing and used their fists.

Mrs. King pushed Mrs. Greenberg out of the house and shut the door. Mrs. Greenberg paid to have kicked the glass out of a window.

FILIBUSTER BEATS DRY FORCES

Resolution to Report the Hixon-Searcy Liquor Bill Defeated. Tax Plot Charged.

The filibuster in the House against the resolution of Kidd of Baker, which instructed the Temperance Committee to report back the Hixon-Searcy bill for action, and by which Wohlwendler of Missouri, consumed the entire time of the House Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, with victory resting with the forces against the bill.

In response to a point of order raised by Stewart of Ohio, Speaker Bursell ruled that Kidd's resolution was not in order for consideration Wednesday, and the end of the temperance force to force a hearing on the bill were therefore in vain.

The point raised by Mr. Stewart was that, inasmuch as the resolution was introduced Tuesday and specifically called upon the Temperance Committee to report the bill back "to-morrow," it was asking the committee to perform a substantial impossibility, and was therefore not in order.

Wright of Floyd, who is generally credited with being behind Mr. Kidd in the introduction of the resolution, protested vigorously against the decision of the Speaker.

"Doesn't the speaker intend to hear those who favor this resolution?" he demanded.

"You are out of order," the speaker replied. "The resolution has been ruled out of order, and is not now under discussion."

Representative Wohlwendler, backed by Myrick and Shuprine, of Chattanooga; Nunnally, of Floyd, and others of the anti-dry force, appeared when the House convened to-day determined to continue the filibuster until Mr. Kidd consented to withdraw his resolution. This Mr. Kidd and the temperance cohorts absolutely refused to do.

Stewart then finds loopholes. Conferences between the pro and the anti were numerous, but of no result, and it looked as though the filibuster would continue, with the anti-dry people holding the whip hand indefinitely, when Mr. Stewart found the loophole through which the resolution was ridden.

The effect of the resolution and the filibuster has been to draw the line sharply between the anti-dry and the temperance force, and to smother the more important question of tax revision. The victory of the anti-dry force has been to prevent the bill getting a hearing at this session, inasmuch as the Rules Committee has charged and no resolution similar to the Kidd resolution can be introduced.

Claims Anti-Tax Plot. Mr. Wohlwendler, whose strong lungs and determination defeated the resolution, voiced the opinion Wednesday morning that the resolution was an outgrowth of the tax revision.

"Sheppard of Sumner; Stovall, of Elbert; and the others who are fighting the tax revision were behind the resolution," he declared Mr. Wohlwendler.

"They hoped to get that bill brought out because they knew if the House once got busy on no tax measure could be passed at this session."

'Wilson White' for Male Dress Rules. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—White is the proper color for men who want to be up-to-the-minute in their dress at the National Capital.

The tropical raincoat was adopted by the President one day when the mercury was trying to hit the sky. This next day Secretary Bryan made his debut, and within 48 hours "Wilson white" was the fact. The matter may be anything from silk to duck.

SAYS PASTOR TOOK 'HUSH' MONEY

Minister Accused of Accepting $1,500 From Own Brother, Who Was Friendly With Wife.

MAISON, Aug. 6.—The Rev. E. V. Moore, a Baptist minister, at Andersonville, formerly of Mason, charged by Attorney Oliver C. Hancock, in a suit brought in the city court of Anderson, with extorting $1,500 from his own brother as a price for silence in court as to his brother's alleged intimacy with Mrs. Moore.

Last year Rev. Mr. Moore obtained a divorce from his wife in the Bibb Superior Court, after a hotly contested trial. He charged her with being unfaithful. One of the alleged correspondents aware to improper relations with Mrs. Moore, who is a strikingly handsome woman of about 25 years. It is now charged that Rev. Mr. Moore found his own brother and Mrs. Moore in a compromising position and that he threatened his brother, who was about to be married, with exposure unless given $1,500.

Attorney Hancock alleges that he can prove the facts and the actual payment of the money.

This charge is made in a suit brought for the recovery of a fee for legal services. Mr. Hancock claims that Rev. Mr. Moore has also refused to pay him for services in procuring the divorce, but also borrowed $50 while the case was pending which he also refuses to pay.

Mrs. Moore now is living with her parents at Euclid, Ala., and the two children are temporarily in her custody. Rev. Mr. Moore, while here, resided in the Mercer University community and was highly esteemed both as a man and a minister.

Arkansas Has Fifth Governor This Year

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 6.—George W. Hays was to-day inaugurated Governor of Arkansas, being the fifth executive the State has had since January 1. He is chosen in a special election July 23.

A special train from Camden, the home of Governor Hays, carried a delegation to attend the ceremony. Hays succeeded to the remainder of the unexpired term of Joe T. Robinson, now United States senator, who in January succeeded Governor Doughty. The State has had two acting Governors—Senators W. K. Oldham and John M. Pugh—since Robinson resigned on March 10.

Mulhall, Nervous, Gets Quiz Respite

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Pleading that he was suffering from nervousness, Colonel M. M. Mulhall to-day obtained permission of the House Lobby Investigating Committee to go to his home in Baltimore and take a rest.

He promised to be on hand next Monday to testify.

Girl Leads Strike Of 10,000 Knitters

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Three thousand more women knitting mill operatives joined the strike here to-day, bringing the total number of strikers to 10,000.

The strike is being led by Miss Jennie Peristy, 20 years old.

Word by T. R. Worth Army Under Wilson, Says Gov. Johnson

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Criticism of the course of the Wilson Administration was contained in an address by Governor Hiram Johnson, who was the Vice Presidential candidate on the Progressive ticket last year, speaking at the first anniversary celebration of the Progressive.

"The National Administration has not come up to expectations," said Governor Johnson. "We have foreign policy that is weak and vacillating. One word from Theodore Roosevelt is worth a whole army under Woodrow Wilson."

"We were shocked by the whitewashing of Halligan by Taft. That differed in no essential from the whitewashing of McReynolds by Wilson."

This Is Comforting! Freezing at Big Bear, Snow in Yellowstone

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., Aug. 6.—Very chilly weather is reported here today, and no essential from the whitewashing of McReynolds by Wilson.

Early yesterday morning there was a thin sheeting of ice around the edges of the lake. At Pine Knot Hotel the thermometer registered 33 degrees.

The minimum in the city of San Bernardino yesterday was 48 degrees, the lowest July record in many years. HELENA, MONT., Aug. 6.—There was a heavy snowfall in the Yellowstone Park last night and the mountains in the vicinity of Livingston were white with snow this morning.

Directors Liable in Suit for $500,000

CHATTANOOGA, Aug. 6.—Chancellor M. McConnell has instructed the jury in the Great Southern Agency case, in which stockholders are attempting to recover $500,000 which they allege was obtained by fraud, to name C. J. Heber, H. C. Hagan, A. W. Willis, C. W. Stevenson, W. D. Haggard, John Early, E. C. Morrow, Nathan Hale and Kierling, directors of the defunct company, as defendants.

The jury agreed that fraud had been practiced but they could not agree upon those to be held responsible. More than 1,000 stockholders in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee are parties to the suit.

Postmaster Named By Hayes Resigns

JACKSON, Aug. 6.—After serving as postmaster at Jackson for more than twenty years and with one interruption of four years, having served continuously since the Hayes administration, Mrs. A. B. Hays has sent her resignation to Washington.

Continued ill health is given as the reason. For many months Mrs. Hays has been in feeble health and has been able to be at the office but little for several months. Her resignation would have expired in 1915.

Pump Going Again; Stands 2-Day Test

After a test of over two days, the big 1,000-horse power pump at the river station of the Atlanta waterworks is again running full time.

Wednesday members of the Board of Water Commissioners and officials of the waterworks department visited the station and were more than pleased with the condition of the big pump.

Mystery in Death of Rich Man in Memphis

MEMPHIS, TENN., Aug. 6.—The body of J. M. Hughes, wealthy lumberman of Benoitville, Miss., was found in the basement of a furniture store to-day. Hughes came to Memphis yesterday and was at the store in the afternoon.

DORSEY PRACTICALLY COMPLETES HIS CASE; AWAIT JUDGE'S RULING

When Jim Conley left the witness stand Wednesday, the State's case against Leo Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, practically was completed. So far as the presentation of direct evidence against the factory superintendent was concerned, the jury was in possession of practically every piece of testimony.

Solicitor Dorsey announced when court reconvened in the afternoon that he proposed to call only one or two new witnesses. It was predicted that even these would be prevented from testifying as the result of Judge Roan's expected ruling on the line of testimony that they were expected to give.

Witness Dalton Is Excused. One of the new witnesses was O. B. Dalton, who was called at the forenoon session, but excused after a mysterious side-bar conference. Dalton was to tell of the alleged conduct of Frank at the factory on occasions to which Conley already had referred in his testimony.

With the testimony of Dalton ruled out, as well as that of young George Epps, whom Dorsey proposed to recall and question concerning remarks of Mary Phagan in respect to Frank's conduct, the probability was strong at the opening of the afternoon session that Dr. H. F. Harris and possibly one other witness would be the only ones called by the State before closing the presentation of direct evidence.

Dr. Harris collapsed when on the stand last Friday before the Solicitor had completed his questioning and before Benben Arnold had been given the opportunity for cross-examination. The Solicitor planned to quiz Dr. Harris more closely concerning the condition of the young girl's body and organs and also to bring out more in detail the physician's conclusion that the girl must have been killed within half an hour after she left home because of the undigested condition of the cabbage he found in her stomach.

Hot Argument Over Excluding Testimony. The fight to exclude Conley's testimony in regard to Frank's alleged conduct proved one of the exciting incidents of the morning session. The argument was still in progress when court adjourned for the noon recess. That and Conley's sensational declaration that Frank had hid the murder victim's silver-plated mesh bag, for which the detectives have been searching for months, in the safe in the factory office immediately after the crime were the features of the day.

The jury was sent away at noon to permit the lawyers to argue on the admissibility of Conley's testimony in respect to Frank's conduct. Solicitor Dorsey said he wished to call Dalton and others to substantiate it.

Reuben Arnold argued that it was inadmissible because irrelevant and immaterial, and that it was a violation of the general principle in law that because A committed X last year, it can not be introduced to show that he committed X of which he is now accused.

Early Ruling Is Promised. Combating the contention of Attorney Hooper that the objection of the defense had not been made until the lawyers for Frank had cross-examined the negro and found that they could get no reversal of statements from him, Arnold cited cases in a large number of States indicating that it is a well defined privilege that testimony may be stricken out at the instance of the defense even after the cross-examination has taken place. Judge Roan said that he would make his ruling early in the afternoon session. Colonel Arnold grew faint during the argument and got the judge's consent to fall sitting.

Attorney Rosser's manner was angry and threatening when he arose for the re-cross examination. He began at once a vicious attack on Conley's story of the mesh bag. He asked when Conley first told this remarkable tale. Conley said he couldn't remember.

"Why didn't you tell all this when you were telling 'the whole

Do You Know the Largest Diamond? See page 15

AFTER 15 1-2 HOURS ON STAND, CONLEY ENDS HIS TESTIMONY

Grinning After Ordeal, He Lights Cigarette and Grabs a Newspaper

DEFENSE GIVES UP FURTHER EFFORT TO BATTER DOWN SWEEPER'S MAIN CHARGE

Continued from Page 2.

Several spectators were put out of the courtroom for laughing at Mr. Frank's admission of the error.

Rosser—I will say it is the first time that you have been right. Your honor, we object. It is immaterial what time the witness made known the fact unless it goes further and show she was delayed through the influence of Frank's making error.

The objection was overruled.

Lawyers Clash.

Dorsey—Your honor, I have already shown that Leo Frank knew on Monday, April 25, that she saw this negro there, and that it was May 7 before the state got into possession of this fact.

Rosser—I say that no such evidence has been introduced.

Dorsey—Call for the record of Harry Scott's evidence.

Rosser—I say he has not introduced this evidence, and he swears he has. If your honor can not remember some of the things that happened here we are perfectly helpless.

Biographer Darry was called. He said he was taking the testimony of Mr. Arnold and he wanted Mr. Arnold's consent before reading it.

Q. When did you report it to anyone else?

Rosser objected.

Dorsey—I want to show you that it was the first reported to detectives of the State of Georgia.

The objection was overruled.

Q. When did you report it?—A. May 17.

Rosser took the witness on cross-examination.

Q. You never declared to tell anyone?—A. No.

Q. I want to refresh your memory. Didn't you tell Wade Campbell you saw the negro when you went up?—A. No.

Q. Didn't you tell Wade Campbell that when you came down you heard voices?—A. No, that was when I went up.

The witness was excused.

Sheriff C. W. Manum was then called to the stand. Dorsey questioned him.

Q. Were you at the jail when Jim Conley was brought there?—A. Yes.

Q. Did you have any conversation with Frank about seeing Conley?

Rosser—I object.

Dorsey—I want to show that this white man wouldn't see this ignorant negro, his accuser. Can I ask the question?

Judge Roan—Go ahead.

Frank Didn't Want to See Police.

A. Chief Beavers, Chief Landrum, Harry Scott, Detective Beck and Jim Conley came down and wanted to see Frank. I asked Frank if he wanted to see them. He said no, that his lawyer was not there and he had no money to defend him.

Rosser took the witness on cross-examination.

Q. Mr. Frank knew who was there, didn't he?—A. Yes.

Sheriff Manum was excused, and Solicitor Dorsey called for Mr. W. J. Coleman and George Briss. Neither answered.

Dorsey—We have got two propositions, and there will be objections to them. They are Dalton and Epps. When we finish with them we only have one more witness, Dr. Harris. We can't get him until 12 o'clock, and we would like to get that argument over.

Judge Roan sent the jury from the courtroom.

CONLEY PROVES HIMSELF NO SHARK AT ORTHOGRAPHY

Jim Conley gave the court a demonstration of his ability as a speller during the Wednesday morning session of the Frank trial. He had told of writing notes to Mr. Frank advising him when certain stocks of pencil boxes were exhausted.

Q. How long have you kept up with these boxes?—A. About a year.

Q. And you write Mr. Frank reports on these boxes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. Would you know "luxury" if you were to see it?—A. No, sir.

Q. How did you write it for Mr. Frank, then?—A. I can write it.

Q. Can you spell it?—A. I can try it.

Q. Well, let's hear you spell "luxury"—A. L-u-x-u-r-y.

Q. Was that the only kind of pencil boxes up there?—A. No, sir. There was Uncle Remus, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington and others.

Q. Did you write reports on them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. Let's hear you spell Uncle Remus?—A. O-n-e R-i-m-e-s.

Q. Let's hear you spell Thomas Jefferson?—A. T-o-m J-e-f-f-e-r-s-o-n.

Q. Let's hear you spell George Washington?—A. J-o-e W-a-s-h-i-n-g-t-o-n.

Q. What did Mr. Frank say about your spelling?—A. He laughed.

Q. How do you spell O-x?—A. O-x.

Q. How did you write him notes to borrow money?—A. I just wrote them.

Q. Tell me what you wrote?—A. I just said, "Please lend me have fifty cents."

LEGISLATION FOR W. AND A. LEASE DEFEATED

Senate Amends, Then Kills the Sweat Bill—Hot Fight Over Adjournment.

Positive assurance that the Georgia Senate will pass one sort of leasing bill which will relieve the financial embarrassment was given Wednesday afternoon.

Senator Miller and President Anderson wrote the bill. It provides, among other things, that it is understood for a State Tax Commission, as well as for County Boards.

If the substitute bill is adopted, it probably will be presented in the Senate Thursday. The Sheppard bill will be read in the Senate for the third time Thursday.

When the final vote was taken Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

FLEETS OF WORLD AT CANAL OPENING

Secretary Daniels Plans Huge Naval Display for 1915—Announces Defense Policy.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today announced the plan to have all the world's fleet mobilize in Hampton Roads in February, 1915, and led by the American squadron, proceed through the Panama canal and up the West Coast to San Francisco.

Secretary Daniels considers that this will form a fitting opening for the Panama canal besides being the greatest naval pageant the world has seen.

In addition to this, Secretary Daniels intends to have the American fleet, headed by the old battleship Oregon, steam through the canal next spring to celebrate the opening of the passageway to ships of commerce.

"It has been agreed," said the Secretary of the Navy today, "that I intend to divide the Atlantic fleet into two parts, one to remain on the Atlantic side. This is erroneous. What I intend to do is to divide the fleet of the sea so that it will spend six months of the year on one coast and then go to the other, instead of spending all the time on the Atlantic side as at present."

KNIFE BLADE IN BREAST.

SAVANNAH.—With a knife blade buried in his breast, Fred H. Hines, William Butler, walked into the office of Dr. George W. H. Hines and asked for surgical relief.

He was wounded in an altercation.

THE GREATEST MATINEE IDOL.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

MOTHERS' TESTIMONY Binds Over Man Who Cruelly Beat Son

Several mothers appeared in police court Wednesday to testify that J. S. Newman, 41 Cassell street, Tuesday brutally beat his 11-year-old boy, Joe Newman, with a board.

The mothers declared they would never think of whipping a child as severely as Newman did.

Newman insisted that the boy deserved a good thrashing, and quoted "pare the rod and spoil the child."

Judge Preston, declaring it one of the worst cases that had come to his notice, bound the father over to the State courts in bond of $500.

A article of employees, held off by a promise of arbitration, is threatened unless the company's arbitrator agrees with the union's representatives upon a third arbitrator within 24 hours.

Kills Man Who Held Her Captive in Woods

MEMPHIS, TENN., Aug. 6.—Mabel Palmer, 16, shot and killed Henry King today when he threatened her life because she would not elope with him.

The girl told the police after the shooting that King forced her to leave her home and remain with him for twelve hours in the woods.

Detroit Wins Out In Street Car Fare

DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 6.—A compromise in the city's fight for 10-cent street car fares was effected today when the Detroit Union Railway agreed to sell seven tickets for 25 cents after an automobile firm offered the city the use of 1,000 automobiles in case the company refused to operate its cars.

A strike of employees, held off by a promise of arbitration, is threatened unless the company's arbitrator agrees with the union's representatives upon a third arbitrator within 24 hours.

Woman Injured In Chicago Race Riot

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Mary A. Barrett was in a serious condition today as the result of a riot between whites and negroes on a street car.

The trouble was caused by a remark of a negro directed at one of the white passengers.

New Tax Reform Bill Framed by Assembly Leaders

Positive assurance that the Georgia Senate will pass one sort of leasing bill which will relieve the financial embarrassment was given Wednesday afternoon.

Senator Miller and President Anderson wrote the bill. It provides, among other things, that it is understood for a State Tax Commission, as well as for County Boards.

If the substitute bill is adopted, it probably will be presented in the Senate Thursday. The Sheppard bill will be read in the Senate for the third time Thursday.

When the final vote was taken Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

Among the amendments which were adopted and then voted down in the general bill was that of Senator BSWAT, the author of the resolution voted against the bill on the grounds that it had been "mutilated" to such an extent by amendment that it would not be effective.

The "mutilation," according to the Senator, was the result of Senator Clarke's amendment, striking out the clause providing for an investigation into the proposed extension of the road to the east and with the further provision that the commission should have authority only to investigate the question of a 30, 50, or 100 year lease.

FIVE ATLANTANS WIN PLACES ON RIFLE TEAM

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

The announcement follows the double elimination shoot at the Camp Evans rifle range, Fort McPherson.

Following is the team: Team Organization—Brigadier General J. Van Holt Nash, captain.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash was announced the personnel of the Georgia National Guard rifle team to participate in the national shoot at Camp Perry next month.

ATLANTA'S GREATEST PRE-INVATORY SALE OF FURNITURE

Thousands of Dollars Worth of the World's Best Furniture To Be Offered at a Saving of From 20% to 50%

To close out these goods quickly, we have marked the price down to the very lowest possible figure; and, in addition, we will give away (as long as they last) a handsome 50-piece Dinner Set with every purchase of $25.00 or more. Stocks are arranged for easy choosing, and every piece bears our original low selling price and the Pre-Inventory Sale price. If you miss this sale you will miss the greatest opportunity of a lifetime.

EMPIRE FURNITURE COMPANY

129-131 Whitehall Street Between Mitchell St. and Trinity Ave.

FOR 15 DAYS ONLY

NEVER BEFORE HAVE YOU SEEN SUCH WONDERFUL BARGAINS

WE WILL BE GLAD TO ARRANGE TERMS TO SUIT YOU

FREE With every purchase of $25.00 or more, we will give away a handsome 50-piece Dinner Set.

CONLEY SWEARS FRANK HID PURSE

Sweeper's Grilling Ends After 15½ Hours, His Main Story Unshaken

CONLEY BEATS DRY FORCES

Resolution to Report the Hixon-Searcy Liquor Bill Defeated. Tax Plot Charged.

The filibuster in the House against the resolution of Hixon of Baker, which instructed the Temperance Committee to report back the Hixon-Searcy bill for action, and by which Wohlwend, of Muscogee, consumed the entire time of the House Tuesday, came to an end Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock with victory resting with the forces against the bill.

In response to a point of order raised by Stewart, of Coffee, Speaker Burrell ruled that Hixon's resolution was not in order for consideration Wednesday, and the efforts of the temperance forces to force a hearing on the bill were therefore in vain.

The point raised by Mr. Stewart was that, inasmuch as the resolution was introduced Tuesday and specifically called upon the Temperance Committee to report, the bill back to "tomorrow," it was the duty of the committee to perform its official responsibility, and was therefore not in order.

Wright Objects to Decision. Wright, of Floyd, who is generally credited with being behind Mr. Kidd in the introduction of the resolution, protested vigorously against the decision of the Speaker.

"Doesn't the Speaker intend to hear those who favor this resolution?" he demanded.

"You are out of order," the Speaker replied. "The resolution has been ruled out of order, and is not now under discussion."

Representative Wohlwend, backed by Hixson and Shurtline of Chatham; Nunnally, of Floyd, and others of the anti-dry forces, appeared when the House convened to-day determined to continue the filibuster until Mr. Kidd consented to withdraw his resolution. This Mr. Kidd and his supporters absolutely refused to do.

Stewart Then Finds Lophole. Conferees between the pro and the anti forces were numerous, but barren of result, and it looked as though the filibuster would continue, with the anti-dry people holding the whip hand indefinitely, when Mr. Stewart found the lophole through which the resolution was ridden.

The effect of the resolution and the filibuster has been to draw the line sharply between the anti-dry and the temperance forces, and to smother the more important question of tax revision. The victory of the anti-dry forces precludes the possibility of the Speaker's getting a hearing at this session, inasmuch as the Rules Committee takes charge and no resolutions similar to the Kidd resolution can be introduced.

Claims Anti-Tax Plot. Mr. Wohlwend, whose strong language and determination defied the resolution, voted the opinion Wednesday morning that the resolution was an outgrowth of the tax revision.

Sheppard, of Sumter; Stovall of Liberty and the others who are fighting tax revision were behind the resolution, declared Mr. Wohlwend. "They hoped to get that bill brought out because they knew if the House once got behind it, the tax measure could be passed at this session."

'Wilson White' for Male Dress Rules. WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—While it is the proper color for men who want to be up-to-date in their dress at the National Capital.

The tropical climate was adopted as the reason for the measure. The President's day when the measure was introduced.

The first day when the measure was introduced. The President's day when the measure was introduced.

The first day when the measure was introduced. The President's day when the measure was introduced.

Bulgaria's Enemies Relent; Intercede For Conquered Ally

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. BUCHAREST, Aug. 6.—Sympathy may yet prevent Bulgaria from losing all the spoils she won in the Balkan war. Premier Paasch, of Serbia, and Premier Venizelos, of Greece, to-day wired their respective governments for permission to extend the Bulgarian frontier so as to include a big area of the territory in Northeastern Macedonia which was taken away from Turkey. It had been the original intention of the Serbians and Greeks to punish Bulgaria for the atrocities of her soldiers by refusing to allow the Bulgars to profit by the war.

Word by T. R. Worth Army Under Wilson, Says Gov. Johnson

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Criticism of the course of the Wilson Administration was contained in an address by Governor Hiram Johnson, who was the Vice Presidential candidate on the Progressive ticket last year, speaking at the first anniversary celebration of the Progressive.

This Is Comforting! Freezing at Big Bear, Snow in Yellowstone

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., Aug. 6.—Very chilly weather is reported at Big Bear, in the San Bernardino Mountains.

Department Store In Shark's Stomach

VENICE, CAL., Aug. 6.—In a post-mortem operation performed on a shark eighteen feet long, which was cast up on the sands here, the fish was shown to be a collector of no little ability. Here is a list of the contents of the stomach:

300 Factory Women Gamble on Baseball

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Three hundred women gamblers, working in mills and spending their money on baseball pools, have been counted by Detective Charles Lee, head of the vice squad.

SAYS PASTOR TOOK 'HUSH' MONEY

MINISTERS ACCUSED OF ACCEPTING $1,500 FROM OWN BROTHER, WHO WAS FRIENDLY WITH WIFE.

Macon, Aug. 4.—The Rev. E. T. Moore, Baptist minister at Andersonville, formerly of Macon, Ga., is charged by Attorney Oliver C. Hancock, in a suit brought in the city court of America, with extorting $1,500 from his own brother as a bribe for a suit on his brother's alleged infidelity with Mrs. Moore.

WANT ORNAMENT REFUSED PARDON

McReynolds, Ignored Recommendation of Board Which Made Special Inquiry of Case.

Despite the fact that the Federal Pardon Board strongly recommended after a thorough investigation, that pardons be granted to Julian Hawthorne and Dr. William J. Morton, who are imprisoned in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary on charges of using the mails to defraud in the sale of mining stocks, Attorney General McReynolds has issued a statement from Washington that he has decided to override the recommendations of the board and refuse clemency to the two men.

Asks Special Judge To Hear Demurrer

COLUMBUS, Aug. 6.—Alleging that Hugh M. Moody, former bookkeeper for the Beehive, a large dry goods establishment in Columbus, is not a resident of Muscogee County, but of Fulton County, and that the Superior Court of this county has no jurisdiction over his affairs, his attorney, Judge Gilbert, has filed a demurrer in a recent decision is heard.

If You Don't Drink Do Not Read This

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., Aug. 6.—Henderson Hasty, of Easton, a small town near here, was stripped, plastered with a coat of warm tar and his face painted green last night by a party of citizens, determined to observe a prohibition law. Hasty was found asleep beside a road in Easton.

FOR THE WEATHER Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia Unsettled Wednesday, probably fair Thursday.

ACCUSER OF CONLEY IS READY TO TESTIFY

W. H. Mincey, who declares Conley told him he had killed a girl.

W. H. Mincey, the school teacher and insurance adjuster, who made an affidavit that Jim Conley killed a girl that day and didn't want to kill anyone else, was the center of attraction for the crowd on the outskirts of the courthouse Wednesday morning.

While deposing newspaper publicity, he readily agreed to pose for a group of newspaper photographers, assuming many poses, some of which were rather grotesque.

U. S. WOMEN SET TOO FAST A PACE

Famous English Publicist So Declares in Article Scoring the New American Dances.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, Aug. 6.—American society women are accused of setting too fast a pace by Eileen Young, a famous English publicist, in an article in The Saturday Review, supplementing his article by an interview Mr. Young today said:

Work Resumed at Thirty Copper Mines

CALAMITY, MICH., Aug. 6.—Reports from over the Calumet copper region, where 15,000 miners are on strike, indicated that quiet had been restored about all mine shafts. Work was resumed to-day at four mines in the neighborhood of Calumet, making a total of 30 in operation.

BATTLE WITH MOONSHINERS

LEXINGTON, VA., Aug. 6.—George W. Castel and Sherman Lewis, deputy United States marshals, engaged in a battle with moonshiners in Morgan County, Kentucky, today. Lewis was shot in the arm by John Rice, a liquor king, and wounded and captured. A 15-gallon still and a lot of beer and whiskey were destroyed.

W. H. Mincey who declares Conley told him he had killed a girl.

Deplores Newspaper Publicity, but Poses Merrily for the Camera Brigade.

W. H. Mincey, the school teacher and insurance adjuster, who made an affidavit that Jim Conley killed a girl that day and didn't want to kill anyone else, was the center of attraction for the crowd on the outskirts of the courthouse Wednesday morning.

U. S. WOMEN SET TOO FAST A PACE

Famous English Publicist So Declares in Article Scoring the New American Dances.

Work Resumed at Thirty Copper Mines

CALAMITY, MICH., Aug. 6.—Reports from over the Calumet copper region, where 15,000 miners are on strike, indicated that quiet had been restored about all mine shafts. Work was resumed to-day at four mines in the neighborhood of Calumet, making a total of 30 in operation.

BATTLE WITH MOONSHINERS

LEXINGTON, VA., Aug. 6.—George W. Castel and Sherman Lewis, deputy United States marshals, engaged in a battle with moonshiners in Morgan County, Kentucky, today. Lewis was shot in the arm by John Rice, a liquor king, and wounded and captured. A 15-gallon still and a lot of beer and whiskey were destroyed.

MYSTERY OF GIRL'S MESH BAG EXPLAINED BY NEGRO ON STAND

That Mary Phagan's silver-plated mesh bag, mysteriously missing since the girl's bruised and lifeless body was found the morning of April 27, was in Leo Frank's office a few minutes after the attack and later was placed in the safe in Frank's office was the startling statement made by the negro Conley Wednesday in the course of his re-direct examination by Solicitor Dorsey. At 11:10 the negro left the stand after being questioned for fifteen and one-half hours.

This testimony was the sensation of the forenoon. Throughout the more than three months of the murder mystery an unavailing search was made for the mesh bag, the city and Pinkerton detectives being convinced that the finding of the bag would go a long distance toward pointing out the person guilty of the Phagan girl's murder.

"Did you ever see a silver mesh bag that Mary Phagan carried?" inquired the Solicitor.

"Yes, sah," replied Conley. "I see it right on Mr. Frank's desk when I went in there."

"What became of the mesh bag?" continued Dorsey.

"He went and put it in his safe," the negro said.

First Word of Mysterious Bag. It was the first information, authentic or otherwise, that had come to light regarding the disposal of the mesh bag. The homes of Newt Lee and Jim Conley had been searched high and low for the bag or any other clue to the perpetrator of the crime. Except for a vague rumor that a mesh bag had been found by a negro in a shop on Decatur street, a story which later was found to have no connection with the Phagan mystery, not the slightest clue ever was discovered to the whereabouts of the bag which so strangely had disappeared.

Conley Rosser's manner was angry and threatening when he arose for the re-cross examination. He began at once a vicious attack on Rosser's story of the mesh bag. He asked when Conley first told this remarkable tale. Conley said he couldn't remember.

"Why didn't you tell all this when you were telling the 'whole truth' to the detectives?" Rosser shouted.

The attorney apparently sought to create the impression that the mesh bag story was an afterthought, and that it was manufactured by the negro when he heard of the search the detectives were making for the bag.

On Grill Over Thirteen Hours. When Rosser turned Conley back to Dorsey for the re-direct examination, the negro had been under the grill of Rosser's cross-questioning for a total of thirteen hours. His main story of Frank's admitting the killing and of the disposal of Mary Phagan's body at Frank's direction was unshaken except by his own admissions of previous falsehoods. He had been on the stand a total of fifteen and one-half hours. Of this time the Solicitor had questioned him only about two hours.

Conley was called from the stand at 11:10 o'clock. Conley was taken into an anteroom. He removed his coat and hid a cigarette someone had given him.

"How did you like it?" he was asked.

"I liked it all right," he replied, grinning.

Sheriff Mangum then interrupted the questioning of the reporters, saying that under the judge's orders no one could speak to him.

The next moment Conley picked up a newspaper and became intensely interested in the story of his own testimony.

As soon as court opened Mr. Rosser asked the judge if he was ready to hear argument on the proposition to eliminate parts of Conley's testimony. He said he was prepared to support his motion with authorities.

Judge Roan replied that he would postpone the decision until 2 o'clock.

Solicitor Dorsey declared that he had witnesses he expected to put on the stand Wednesday morning to corroborate the part of the negro's testimony in dispute. He said:

"I just want the court to under the one I just read. Now, listen."

CONLEY SAYS FRANK TOOK MARY PHAGAN'S MESH BAG Lies Down on Floor to Show Jury How He Left Girl's Body in Cellar

NEGRO'S LONG GRILL ENDS AFTER 15 HOURS, HIS MAIN STORY STILL UNSHAKEN

ONE OF WITNESSES FOR DEFENSE

Mr. Emma Freeman, who will testify for Leo Frank.

Continued from Page One.

Over there at the police station. Q. Did he say anything? A. No, he just smiled and bowed his head.

Q. When you wrote those notes, did you sit down, and if so, where? A. I was sitting at the desk.

Q. Where was Frank sitting? A. At the other desk.

Q. How long was he there before he was taken away? A. He went into all that before, he said. Judge Roan—Did you, Mr. Dorsey?

Q. What did Frank do when he wrote those notes? A. He wrote the notes.

Q. Did Frank touch your pencil when you were writing? A. No, he didn't.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to where her body was dragged? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to the desk in Mr. Frank's office? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How long were you in jail before you wrote for the detectives? A. About ten or fifteen days.

Q. How long would it take Frank to go down and lock that door? A. About one minute.

Q. Where was Frank standing when you saw the clock at four minutes to one? A. He was standing near those stairs, steps.

Q. Describe that scream you heard. A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it before your honor? A. He said.

Q. How long was the longest you were ever questioned before you came here? A. Mr. Scott came and got me one day and I heard him tell the jury it was fifteen minutes to eleven. It was dark when I got back.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has Mr. Rosser questioned you? A. Your honor, I want to get this matter in the records, said Dorsey.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long was it from the water cooler to where her body was dragged? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to the desk in Mr. Frank's office? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How long were you in jail before you wrote for the detectives? A. About ten or fifteen days.

Q. How long would it take Frank to go down and lock that door? A. About one minute.

Q. Where was Frank standing when you saw the clock at four minutes to one? A. He was standing near those stairs, steps.

Q. Describe that scream you heard. A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it before your honor? A. He said.

Q. How long was the longest you were ever questioned before you came here? A. Mr. Scott came and got me one day and I heard him tell the jury it was fifteen minutes to eleven. It was dark when I got back.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long was it from the water cooler to where her body was dragged? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to the desk in Mr. Frank's office? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How long were you in jail before you wrote for the detectives? A. About ten or fifteen days.

Q. How long would it take Frank to go down and lock that door? A. About one minute.

Q. Where was Frank standing when you saw the clock at four minutes to one? A. He was standing near those stairs, steps.

Q. Describe that scream you heard. A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it before your honor? A. He said.

Q. How long was the longest you were ever questioned before you came here? A. Mr. Scott came and got me one day and I heard him tell the jury it was fifteen minutes to eleven. It was dark when I got back.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long was it from the water cooler to where her body was dragged? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to the desk in Mr. Frank's office? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How long were you in jail before you wrote for the detectives? A. About ten or fifteen days.

Q. How long would it take Frank to go down and lock that door? A. About one minute.

Q. Where was Frank standing when you saw the clock at four minutes to one? A. He was standing near those stairs, steps.

Q. Describe that scream you heard. A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it before your honor? A. He said.

Q. How long was the longest you were ever questioned before you came here? A. Mr. Scott came and got me one day and I heard him tell the jury it was fifteen minutes to eleven. It was dark when I got back.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long was it from the water cooler to where her body was dragged? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to the desk in Mr. Frank's office? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How long were you in jail before you wrote for the detectives? A. About ten or fifteen days.

Q. How long would it take Frank to go down and lock that door? A. About one minute.

Q. Where was Frank standing when you saw the clock at four minutes to one? A. He was standing near those stairs, steps.

Q. Describe that scream you heard. A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it before your honor? A. He said.

Q. How long was the longest you were ever questioned before you came here? A. Mr. Scott came and got me one day and I heard him tell the jury it was fifteen minutes to eleven. It was dark when I got back.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long was it from the water cooler to where her body was dragged? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How far was it from the water cooler to the desk in Mr. Frank's office? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. How long were you in jail before you wrote for the detectives? A. About ten or fifteen days.

Q. How long would it take Frank to go down and lock that door? A. About one minute.

Q. Where was Frank standing when you saw the clock at four minutes to one? A. He was standing near those stairs, steps.

Q. Describe that scream you heard. A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it before your honor? A. He said.

Q. How long was the longest you were ever questioned before you came here? A. Mr. Scott came and got me one day and I heard him tell the jury it was fifteen minutes to eleven. It was dark when I got back.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

Q. How long has that? A. I'd say about three and one-half hours.

ATLANTA'S GREATEST PRE-INVENTORY SALE OF FURNITURE

Thousands of Dollars Worth of the World's Best FURNITURE To Be Offered at Saving of From 20% to 50%

Our buyers have just returned from the leading markets of the North and East, and have bought a tremendous stock of Fall Goods. We never carry goods over from one season to another, for we want to always give our customers the newest styles and best values to be had for the money. So we must close out our present $50,000.00 stock of Furniture in order to make room for the Fall Stock.

To close out these goods quickly, we have marked the price down to the very lowest possible figure; and, in addition, we will give away (as long as they last) a handsome 50-piece Dinner Set with every purchase of $25.00 or more. Stocks are arranged for easy choosing, and every piece bears our original low selling price and the Pre-Inventory Sale price. If you miss this sale you will miss the greatest opportunity of a lifetime.

EMPIRE FURNITURE COMPANY

129-131 Whitehall Street Between Mitchell St. and Trinity Ave.

FOR 15 DAYS ONLY

FREE With every purchase of $25.00 or more, you will give a 50-piece Dinner Set.

NEVER BEFORE HAVE YOU SEEN SUCH WONDERFUL BARGAINS.

WE WILL BE GLAD TO ARRANGE TERMS TO SUIT YOU.

FOR 15 DAYS ONLY

FREE With every purchase of $25.00 or more, you will give a 50-piece Dinner Set.

EMPIRE FURNITURE COMPANY

129-131 Whitehall Street Between Mitchell St. and Trinity Ave.

FOR 15 DAYS ONLY

FREE With every purchase of $25.00 or more, you will give a 50-piece Dinner Set.

CASH GROCERY CO. 118 and 120 Whitehall EGGS 15c LEMONS 12c LIMES, doz. 7c PINEAPPLES 4c 5 POUNDS SUGAR .26c 100 LBS. SUGAR $4.79 3c WESSON OIL .24c No. 10 COFFLENE $1.15 No. 10 LARD $1.39 No. 4 SNOWDRIFT .44c WINNER MILK .10c No limit, discount in quantities. EAGLE MILK 7 cans $1.00 MEADOW BUTTER .33c GOLD PALE BUTTER .29c 40c COFFEE, LB. .28c Cash Grocery Co. 118 and 120 Whitehall

CONFERENCING BEGINS AGAIN

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN.

South Georgia

AFTERNOON EDITION

Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results

VOL. XII, NO. 3, ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1913.

2 CENTS, PAPER NO. 1007

CRISIS IN 1913 ASSEMBLY FACED

House Paralyzed by Temperance Filibuster While Budget, Cut by Senate, Hangs Fire.

With the Senate decks cleared for concerted action on the taxing bill and with a paralyzing filibuster on the action of the temperance bill in full swing in the House, the Georgia General Assembly Wednesday faced the real crisis of the 1913 session. Leaders in both branches are frank to confess that they can not tell just what may happen during the six remaining days of the present session. In the meantime the decrease in county returns has been estimated at the million mark. Returns from 85 counties received at the Comptroller General's office up to Friday night indicate a total decrease of $1,000,000. Unless the larger counties, including Fulton and Chatham, which have not been heard from, show big increases, nothing will save the State treasury from the first decrease in its revenue since 1898.

Assembly Aware of Deficit. The legislators are aware of this condition. They have been apprised of the facts and given the figures by Governor Slaton in a recent message, as well as by President Anderson in the Senate. Acting on this information, the Senate Tuesday concurred in the Appropriations Committee recommendation of a slash of $230,000 in the House general appropriations bill.

So far so good, the Senate leaders say, but the end, or the final solution, is not yet in sight. The Senate appropriations bill must be transmitted back to the House for the approval of the lower body. Whether or not the threat of a veto by the Governor will deter the Lower House from wreaking vengeance on the Senate for slashing its bill, by again raising the appropriations, remains to be seen.

Some Sort of Bill Certain. In either case, however, under the laws of Georgia, the State will have some sort of an appropriation, as the Governor has the power to veto any item, and so in such a way he may reduce the general bill to the sum where disbursements balance revenues. Even this must be returned to the House for approval. If the House and the Senate then fail to concur in these cuts and in the meantime adjourn, then the bill, unless vetoed as a whole by the Governor, with the cuts stands.

Something like this may happen. The wheels of the House are clogged even now by a filibuster on the report of the Temperance Committee, which seeks to investigate the constitutionality of the Webb bill.

Senate Works on Tax Act. In the meantime the Senate is going ahead on the taxing bill. And according to indications will have some sort of a bill to present to the House by the end of this week. Chairman of Senator Miller, chairman of the Finance Committee, the Senate probably will pass an out-and-out substitute to the Sheppard House bill which provides only for county bonds of tax equalizers.

If such a bill is passed by the Senate, the probability is that the House will adopt the bill, as the temper of the lower body seems to favor the passage of an adequate taxing bill. In fact, the Sheppard substitute was passed solely by the Senate a week back.

China Picks Cornell Grad to Replace Wu

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. BEIJING, CHINA, Aug. 5.—China, according to latest information, has selected Alfred Ross, Cornell graduate, as Minister to Washington. The appointment was announced by the Chinese government. Mr. Ross was a member of the Senate in 1911 but did not go to the seat on account of the revolution.

This Is Comforting! Freezing at Big Bear, Snow in Yellowstone

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., Aug. 5.—Very chilly weather is reported at Big Bear, in the San Bernardino Mountains. Early yesterday morning there was a thin sheeting of ice around the General's office up to Friday night. The thermometer registered 32 degrees. The minimum in the city of San Bernardino yesterday was 48 degrees, the lowest July record in many years.

HELENA, MONT., Aug. 6.—There was a heavy snowfall in the Yellowstone Park last night and the mountains in the vicinity of Livingston were white with new snow this morning.

Department Store In Shark's Stomach

VENICE, CAL., Aug. 6.—In a post-mortem operation performed on the shark fifteen feet long, which was cast up on the sands here, the fish was shown to be a collector of the little ability. Here is a list of the contents of the stomach: Sugar bowl, silver engraved Pacific Coast S. S. Co., steamer President. Three corset steels, nearly new. Dice box, gutta serena. Baby's shoes. Four undigested halibut and numerous small fish.

Society Girl Now a $3 Milliner Clerk

ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 5.—Miss Delphine Force, a pretty society girl and daughter of wealthy parents, is now a millinery apprentice at $3 a week and says she likes the work. She recently quit society because to become a professional cook. Miss Force plans to be a teacher of domestic science at Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass., in the Fall, where millinery is part of the curriculum.

300 Factory Women Gamble on Baseball

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Three hundred women gamblers, working mill and spending their money on baseball pools, have been caught by Detective Charles Lee, head of the vice squad here. Harry Reed has been held in jail by Magistrate Cowley having been charged with operating a pool.

23 Church 'Drones' Ousted by Elders

STOCKTON, CAL., Aug. 6.—Twenty-three members were forcibly removed from the First Baptist Church, of this city, last night by the deacons because of negligence in attending church. No specific charge was made against any individual, but all of them were referred to as "drones" and guilty of "indifference and non-attendance."

If You Don't Drink Do Not Read This

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., Aug. 5.—Henderson Hasty, of Eaton, a small town near here, was stripped, plastered with a coat of warm tar and his face painted green last night by a party of citizens, determined to enforce observance of the prohibition law. Hasty was found asleep beside a road in Eaton.

'Wilson White' for Male Dress Rules

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—While the proper color for men who want to be up-to-the-minute in their dress at the National Capital. The tropical rain was adopted by the President one day when the military was trying to hit the sky. The next day Secretary Bryan made a debut, and within 48 hours "Wilson White" was the fashion. The material may be anything from silk to

HAVIT HORNE IS REFUSED PARDON

McReynolds Ignores Recommendation of Board Which Made Special Inquiry of Case.

Despite the fact that the Federal Pardon Board strongly recommended, after a thorough investigation that pardons be granted to Julian Havithorne and Dr. William J. Morton, who are imprisoned in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary on charges of using the mails to defraud in the sale of mining stocks, Attorney General McReynolds has issued a statement from Washington that he has decided to override the recommendations of the board and refuse clemency to the two men.

The action of McReynolds is almost unprecedented in the history of the Department of Justice. The Board of Pardons made the Havithorne case a subject of thorough and exhaustive investigation. It came to Atlanta and went into every detail of the case. At the end of the investigation it made the Havithorne case the subject of a special report and a special recommendation for clemency. It had been intimated that the writer had been the scapgoat for others.

Mr. McReynolds's excuse for refusing to grant a pardon to Havithorne is that he and Dr. Morton have been shown enough leniency. It is generally understood that one result of Mr. McReynolds's action in the Havithorne case will be the re-doubling of the efforts of the writer's friends and the case may be taken to President Wilson.

Under the ruling of the Attorney General, Havithorne and Morton remain in prison until October. The trial judges, in sentencing them, dated their terms back a year and a day, and their time will be up in about two months.

Deputy William Hark of the Federal Prison, stated Wednesday morning that the prison authorities have as yet received no formal notification that a pardon had been refused Havithorne. He stated, however, that it is not usual for them to do so. They are notified when a pardon has been granted, but never when one has been refused.

Bulgaria's Enemies Relent; Intercede For Conquered Ally

Special Cable to The Georgian. BUCHAREST, Aug. 6.—Sympathy may yet prevent Bulgaria from losing all the spoils she won in the Turko-Balkan war. Premier Fastich of Serbia, and Premier Venizelos of Greece, to-day wired their respective governments for permission to extend the Bulgarian frontier so as to include a big area of the territory in Northeastern Macedonia, which was taken away from Turkey.

Trots and Tantos Boon to Chiropodist

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The turkey trots and the tango are to the chiropodist, equal to the roose that laid the golden eggs says Miss Clara Houston, of Chicago, the "girl with the perfect foot." Miss Houston, herself a chiropodist, says: "Those dances put an unnecessary strain on the toes and instep and should be started with care. Women were looking to chiropodists to give them the best method to give the soles their best treatment. I hope to have their feet made as perfect as I can do myself. I think you must of my feet."

ONE OF WITNESSES FOR DEFENSE

Mrs. Emma Freeman, who will testify for Leo Frank.

FLEETS OF WORLD AT CANAL OPENING

Secretary Daniels Plans Huge Naval Display for 1915—Announces Defense Policy.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels to-day announced his plans to have all the world's fleet mobilize in Hampton Roads in February, 1915, and led by the American squadron, proceed through the Panama canal and up the West Coast to San Francisco.

Secretary Daniels considers that this will form a fitting opening for the Panama canal and will give the greatest naval pageant the world has seen.

Beware, Posers, of 'Soul Photos'

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—With the development of soul photography, the latest addition to the picture maker's bag, says Miss Emma Gerard, "the modern photographer will vie with the oil painter in producing pictures that will live forever." "It is wholly a matter of art," said Miss Gerard. "It consists of bringing out in the subject what is really in him or her, not in making an artificial reproduction of his features and clothes." "Every human being is constantly posing. There are a thousand and one little superficial things about every man and woman which cover up the real self, and these things overshadow all else in photography."

DIES FROM HEAT. SAVANNAH.—Overcome by heat after spending several hours at work in his garden, Bryan L. Heath, aged 34 years, died at his home in Savannah, Ga., Tuesday.

French Want Trading Base North of Canal

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. PARIS, Aug. 6.—The commission by the French government to study the effect upon French commerce of the opening of the Panama Canal reports unfavorably upon the establishment of a commercial base either on Guadalupe or Martinique. These French possessions in the West Indies are too far south of the regular Panama route, says the commission, and shippers will rather call at Porto Rico or Cuba.

THE WEATHER. Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Unsettled Wednesday; probably fair Thursday.

JUDGE WILL RULE ON EVIDENCE ATTACKED BY DEFENSE AT 2 P. M.

As soon as court opened Mr. Rosser asked the judge if he was ready to hear argument on the proposition to eliminate parts of Conley's testimony. He said he was prepared to support his motion with authorities.

Judge Roan replied that he would postpone his decision until 2 o'clock.

Solicitor Dorsey declared that he had witnesses he expects to put on the stand Wednesday morning to substantiate the part of the negro's testimony in dispute. He said:

"I just want the court to understand that I am going to do this."

Judge Roan replied: "I'll give you the benefit of whatever you bring out."

Conley was then recalled to the stand for the conclusion of his cross-examination.

Jim Conley was the same cool, unafraid negro when he returned to the stand Wednesday morning in the trial of Leo Frank after almost two whole days under the cross-examination of Luther Rosser. He had passed through fire and didn't seem to mind it. He had no fear of anything that was yet to come.

Mr. Rosser might threaten him or might joke with him; it was all the same to the negro. He had tried both and had established but one thing—that Conley is a liar, and Conley admits that.

Arnold might describe him as "that miserable wretch in the witness chair"; he could gaze calmly out the window as he had done before. He didn't quite understand all those names they were calling him, anyway.

If, in all the time that Conley was under the raking fire of Rosser's cross-examination, he was disturbed in the slightest degree it was when he was being asked about that mysterious affidavit of William H. Minzey.

The declaration of Minzey that Conley had boasted the afternoon of April 26 of killing a girl was sinister and held in it the possibility that Rosser would finish by blazing forth with a direct charge of murder against the negro. Conley moved unobtrusively in his seat. He refused to meet the eye of his inquisitor. He fidgeted with his hands, but with his lips he framed a denial of every damning charge contained in the document.

The ordeal soon was over. Conley regained his composure, and when court adjourned a few minutes later a grin of triumph clef his black face almost in twain.

Attorney Ross Conley. Conley's attorney, William H. Minzey, provided him with supper and breakfast at the jail and talked for some time with the State's star witness. He had been prevented from holding any sort of a conference with his client the night before, and proceeded at the procedure at the close of court Tuesday night. Judge Roan extended him the privilege of seeing Conley. He then entered in the record an exception he entered in the record. Conley slept between nine and ten hours last night.

As he tells the truth now," he said to a newspaper man who encountered him outside the jail. "That Mr. Rosser ain't got no chance to get me mixed up because I'm telling just what happened."

Frank occupied his usual cell on the second floor of the tower. He was joined by his wife and mother as soon as he arrived at the courthouse.

Rosser Reads Affidavit. Rosser asked Dorsey for the original of Conley's third affidavit. The solicitor advised Mr. Rosser that the original had never been signed. Rosser took a copy of the affidavit, which the solicitor said was identical with the original and read it to Conley. It was a signed statement from the negro in which he admitted the other two affidavits contained lies and the one which the detectives said was the last word of the great mystery.

The reading consumed nearly fifteen minutes. Rosser enigmatically smirled and sniggered every statement that differed with Conley's evidence on the stand.

Freely Admits He Lied. All of Rosser's questions had only one possible effect—that of casting suspicion in the minds of the jury of the story that Conley now is telling. He spread his lies with a lavish hand in that first affidavit. He freely admitted the and rather gloried in his prowess as a practical liar. In his second affidavit, however, he maintained that this was a step nearer the truth. And in his third affidavit, which he and the detectives had jointly concocted, "the whole truth," there were still the discrepancies and deviations from the straight path of veracity.

But this time that was unfolding in the jury this was the pure, unadorned, honest truth. He had raised his right hand and sworn that he was going to tell the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. Mr. Rosser was most unkind to throw over it a shadow of suspicion.

And the lawyer labored in vain to shake the negro's story as it had gone before the jury. Rosser midway in the Tuesday forenoon session abandoned his line of interrogation in regard to statements that Conley had made to the police and detectives and began questioning Conley directly on the crime.

Questioned Closely on Time. He questioned Conley most closely in regard to the time in an effort to show inconsistency to the jury that Frank and Conley did not have the opportunity to accomplish all which the negro narrated before Frank left the place to arrive by 11:20 o'clock, according to the State's own witnesses.

Conley testified, under Rosser's questioning, that he had been in the rear of the factory at Frank's direction and there found the body of the victim.

He said that he had yielded to Frank that the girl was dead and that he was going to carry the girl and he asked Frank, Frank, he said, yelled back something about getting some crocus baggies, but he did not understand him and walked to the front of the factory so that he could hear the superintendent better.

He said that he was in the factory for four minutes of a starting point.

CONLEY ON STAND AGAIN; SAYS HE'S NOT 'SCARED'

Continued from Page One. Rosser began to quiz the negro closely as to how long it took him to accomplish each part of the remainder of the afternoon's events.

SCENE IN COURTROOM AS CONLEY WAS UNDER FIRE OF THE DEFENSE

Reuben Arnold assisting in the grilling of the negro.

How and Why to Eat Watermelon

Cool, but do not chill Mr. Melon. Cut it lengthwise, not in round slices. Save the seeds, make 'watermelon tea'.

CRASH FATAL TO 2 LAID TO BAD AUTO BRAKE

Struck by a Southern Railway train when their automobile went down on the tracks of a crossing a mile north of McDonough, Ga., late Tuesday.

HOWARD ONE OF 8 BEST MELON EATERS

Georgia Congressman Right Up in Race for 'Champion' Title in Capitol Cases.

Jim Conley as he appeared on the witness stand during cross-examination.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—State secrets on statements a supporter, and particularly statements in the present height of the watermelon season were divulged today. The divulger is H. J. Martin, Representative of the Capitol cases.

DEFENSE TO TEST STORY

It is understood that persons interested in the defense have released a number of times every event that the negro says took place in the disposal of the body as Conley narrates it, and that they will be prepared to testify that it could not have been completed by the time that Frank had arrived at his home.

OFFICERS HUNTING IMPROVEMENT AT 2 TRAIN BANDITS 'PEN' FARM URGED

White Men Place Handcuffs on Postal Clerks and Rob Mail Car Near Birmingham. Following a visit to the State Prison Farm at Milledgeville Saturday, the Senate Penitentiary Committee of the Senate, in chairman, will make several recommendations for improvement to the Senate.

TODAY'S MARKET OPENING

Table with columns for Cotton, Wheat, and other market items, showing opening and closing prices.

'U. S. WOMEN SET TOO FAST A PACE'

Famous English Publicist So Declares in Article Scoring the New American Dances. LONDON, Aug. 6.—American society women are accused of setting too fast a pace by Flaubert Young, a famous English publicist, in an article in The Saturday Review.

Luther Z. Rosser in a characteristic attitude as he fired volleys of questions at Conley.

afternoon, Mrs. Emma Heard, wife of J. P. Heard, of Vienna, Ga., and her ten-year-old son, Leo Lindon Heard, were killed.

RATE ORDER KILLS OLD 'BASING' PLAN

Reduction of all rates in the territory south of the Potomac River and east of the Mississippi will be necessary to conform to the Interstate Commerce Commission's ruling giving lower freights to Ladang, Vienna and Carrollton, according to Watkins & Lattimer, attorneys in the case.

Funeral Designs and Flowers FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Atlanta Floral Company 436 EAST BAY STREET.

TAKE NUXCARA

One-half hour before each meal. Then you can eat five nourishing meals every day without the fear of aggravating the stomach. Nuxcara is a positive cure for indigestion, dyspepsia and other forms of stomach diseases.

After Shaving. Aftershave that refreshes, soothes, and restores the skin.

The Head. Talcum Powder. For the face and hair.

To Women. Do Not Delay. For women's health and beauty.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women's ailments.

K. of C. Plan Change In Insurance Rates

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The election of officers and the reports of the supreme officers featured the two business sessions of the delegates to the Knights of Columbus thirty-first annual convention today. The sessions were held at Hotel Somerset.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Table with columns for Cotton, Wheat, and other market items, showing prices for New Orleans.

Portugal's President Not Dead, Says Lisbon

Special Cable to The Georgian. LISBON, Aug. 6.—The reported death of President Arago of Portugal, published in the morning newspapers here, is denied in a dispatch received from Lisbon at noon.

The Best Food-Drink Lunch at Fountains

Horlick's Malted Milk. A nutritious and refreshing beverage.

Soda crackers are more nutritive than any other flour food.

Uneda Biscuit are the perfect soda crackers. Though the cost is but five cents, Uneda Biscuit are too good, too nourishing, too crisp, to be bought merely as an economy.

Buy them because of their freshness—because of their crispness—because of their goodness—because of their nourishment.

Always 5 cents. Always fresh, crisp and clean. NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Table with columns for Stock, Bond, and other market items, showing prices for New York.

Merchants on Tour of Factories While Committees Work

Much detail work is yet to be accomplished in the organization of the Southern Merchants' conference by the various committees, and a session of Atlanta's factories and stores by delegates and visitors.

Insist Upon ORIGINAL GENUINE HORLICK'S

Rich, mild, varied in power. For infants, invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorate nursing mothers and the aged.

Always 5 cents. Always fresh, crisp and clean.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY. Keep it on your shelves at home. A quick lunch prepared in a minute.

