The Weather.
Forecast for Atlanta and vicinity: Local thundershowers Sunday and Monday.

HEARST'S
SUNDAY AMERICAN

Atlanta Edition of The American
Consists of the Following Sections:
1—Late News. 5—Editorial and City Life.
2—Real Estate, Wants. 6—Magazine.
3—Sports, Autos. 7—Comics.
4—Society and Foreign.
BE SURE TO GET THEM ALL.

VOL. I. NO. 16. Copyright, 1913, by The Georgian Company. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JULY 20, 1913. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

WILSON WILL LET POWERS SEND TROOPS INTO MEXICO

Great Britain, Germany and France to Make Formal Showing, After Which U. S. Will Recognize Huerta Government.

Senator Fall Criticises Secretary Bryan for Deserting State Post for Chautauqua When Government Faces Grave Problems.

Special Cable to The American.

MEXICO CITY, July 19.—Another complication was added to the international situation to-day when it became known through an authoritative source at the British Legation that England had recalled Minister Stronge, following complaints of his actions during the bombardment of the city. He will leave shortly to make way for Minister Cardena, appointed in his place.

Still another unexplainable situation arose when it was learned to-day that Italy had recalled her minister.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Adding to the statement printed in this morning's papers that in return for Great Britain's intercession with Japan President Wilson had agreed to permit Great Britain, Germany and France to go into Mexico and protect their citizens and collect claims, and indemnities, the Government official—a powerful member of the Senate and a close friend of the President—who gave the information, said to-day that the understanding provides that the United States shall eventually recognize the Huerta Government.

According to this information, the plan of procedure agreed upon is that the three nations named shall enter Mexico and undertake to protect their citizens, by force of arms, if necessary, and that after they have made a showing, which is to amount only to a matter of form, they will officially advise this Government that they can not succeed unless the United States recognizes Huerta.

To Divide Bond Issues.

The Sunday American informant goes on to say that, this being accomplished, the United States will proceed to carry out the further provisions of its understanding with the three great powers and assist American bankers to participate in the rehabilitation of the Mexican republic. Mexico will desire to build railroads, construct public works and develop its natural resources to restore prosperity to its people. Millions of dollars will be needed. Great bond issues will be floated to raise the money to do all these things.

The great finance houses of four nations will divide these bonds and the vast profits they represent, according to the information given to The Sunday American. These will be the United States, Germany, France and Great Britain.

Fall Traps Democrats.

Senator Fall caught the Democrats napping to-day when he offered a resolution defining the constitutional rights of Americans in Mexico, using the exact language of the Baltimore convention, and drew from Leader Kern an objection to its consideration.

The resolution, which was intended to be expressive of the opinion of the Senate, declared "that the constitutional rights of American citizens should protect them beyond the borders of this country and go with them throughout the world," and "that American citizens having property in foreign countries and living in foreign countries must be given full protection both for themselves and for their property."

"I object to the consideration of the resolution," said Mr. Kern as Senator Fall requested that it be agreed to.

Rebuke for Bryan.

"I admit," replied Mr. Fall, "that it is somewhat suspicious in being presented at a time when the Secretary of State is delivering lectures instead of attempting to protect the interests of American citizens."

Mr. Fall insisted upon reading the Democratic platform on this subject. Several Democrats objected, but it was ordered read.

"What's the matter with our platform?" asked Senator Tillman as the

Continued on Page 10, Column 2

Lipton's Challenge To Race for America Cup Finally Taken

Event To Be Held Off Sandy Hook in September, 1914—Irish Club Agrees to Conditions.

NEW YORK, July 19.—After many months and almost endless correspondence, the New York Yacht Club has accepted the Royal Ulster Yacht Club's challenge, on behalf of Sir Thomas Lipton, for another race for the America cup. The race will be sailed off Sandy Hook in September of 1914.

Formal announcement to this effect was made by Secretary George A. Cormack, of the New York club, to-night.

Mr. Cormack stated that the challenge had been accepted formally by the New York Yacht Club, but that the New York club had been waiting for the Royal Ulster club to accept its conditions before making an announcement.

The first race is to be sailed Thursday, September 10, 1914; the second, Saturday, September 12, 1914, and the third, Tuesday, September 15, 1914.

Suffragette Locked In to Prevent Row

Measures of Liverpool Police Taken During King's Visit Are Revealed In Court.

Special Cable to The American.

LONDON, July 19.—Measures taken by the police to frustrate a suffragette demonstration on the occasion of the King's visit to Liverpool were revealed in the Liverpool Police Court yesterday during the case in which Helen Jollie, secretary of the local branch of the Women's Social and Political Union, was charged with doing damage to property.

It is stated that the head of the city detective force, having failed to obtain a promise from Miss Jollie that there should be no demonstration when the King drove through Liverpool, the night before the King's visit policemen mounted a ladder and screwed down the windows of the offices. It is alleged that Miss Jollie was so annoyed by these tactics that she secured a poker and attacked the windows of the premises opposite.

Bill Plans Cinder Shields on All Cars

Representative Prouty Has Measure Providing for Deflectors on Day Coaches of Railroads.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Travelers on railroad trains who have had their trips marred by flying cinders will be interested in the fate of a bill which has been introduced in Congress requiring all interstate railroads to equip their day coaches with cinder deflectors, such as are in use on the Pullman cars.

The author of the bill, Representative Prouty, of Iowa, expects to be able to obtain a favorable report on the bill from the Committee on Interstate Commerce, and is confident of receiving strong support for the measure should it be brought up for consideration in the House.

30 Divorces in Three Hours Breaks Record

One Decree Granted at Rome Because Wife Was Poor Gardener.

ROME, July 19.—All divorce court records for Floyd County were smashed to-day when 30 decrees were granted within three hours. Forty cases were set for trial. In nearly every instance cruel treatment was charged.

Because he planted tomato seed and they would not sprout, Mrs. Ollie Bannister alleged, her husband John Bannister, Jr., became enraged and beat her. Mrs. Bannister claimed that this and other cruel treatment constituted a good excuse for divorce. A jury thought the same thing.

Thinks Son Drowned In Piedmont Lake

W. C. Baker, Jr., Disappears and Father Thinks Him Dead, but Clothes Are Not Found.

That his son has been drowned was the fear expressed to the police Saturday night by W. C. Baker, No. 7 Effie avenue. W. C. Baker, Jr., has been missing from the home since early Saturday, when he said he was going to swim at Piedmont Park. The drowning theory is weakened by the fact that the boy's clothes could not be found at the park after he disappeared.

In the event the boy does not return home within a day or two, the lake will be dragged.

PISTOL DRAWN IN CLUB FIGHT SAYS MEMBER

Warrant for Waiter Is Sworn Out by Auto Man After M. & M. Affair.

THREATS ARE CHARGED

Member Declares Servant Covered Him With Revolver After Dinner Party in Rooms.

H. M. Rice, a prominent automobile man of Atlanta, on Saturday night caused the arrest of Joe Wright, a negro waiter at the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club in the Candler Building, on charges declaring that the waiter threatened his life with a drawn revolver in the reception room of the club last Sunday night.

The charges were made in two warrants which were sworn out before Justice of the Peace Girardeau. The negro was taken into custody and later released on bonds of $300 in each case.

Drew Pistol Is Charge.

According to the allegation, Rice and the waiter had some words in the dining room at a dinner party. Following the quarrel Rice and the waiter went into the reception room, where it is alleged, the latter drew a pistol.

Members of the club refused to make statements Saturday night following the swearing out of the warrants. The negro has been in the service for some time. His bonds were signed by W. A. Nisll, of the Nlall-Herring Company. Rice charges Wright with carrying a concealed weapon and with threatening to kill.

Rice Keeps Silent.

Rice, questioned Saturday night, said no one but himself was concerned in the affair, but would vouchsafe no other information.

"It was an unfortunate affair," he said, "and for some time we thought to do nothing of this sort in connection with it, but found it necessary."

Mayor Springs New Dance—'Peace Jig'

Cuts Pigeon Wing Just to Show Aldermen He Has Sworn Off on Quarreling.

With the mercury standing at 98, Mayor Woodward displayed the fact that he was satisfied with the world Saturday afternoon by dancing a jig while Alderman J. H. Harwell patted his hands in true backwoods style.

"Do you ever expect to quit quarreling?" asked the Alderman of the Mayor.

"Why, I have already quit," replied the Mayor, with a smile.

The Alderman started patting his hands. "If you mean it, let's see you dance."

And the Mayor danced until he was dripping with perspiration.

Torpedo Boats Asked For Atlantic Flight

Aviator, Who Wishes to Make Trial, Says Without Them Attempt Would Be Suicidal.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 19.—Jack McGee, a Pawtucket aviator has received a copy of the rules governing the cross-Atlantic aeroplane flight to be conducted under the management of the Royal Aero Club of the United Kingdom.

A wealthy New York banker is backing McGee. It is understood that efforts are being made by Rhode Island Representatives to have torpedo boat destroyers stationed at different points along the route, but no definite decision has yet been made by the Government. Without these, McGee says, the flight would be deliberate suicide.

Motor Cars to Cut High Cost of Dying

Storage Battery Busses To Be Put in Service in Chicago as Funeral Equipage.

CHICAGO, July 19.—The high cost of dying is to be reduced. Storage battery motor busses are to be put in service as funeral cars. The change from carriages to busses, it is estimated, will result in a saving of $90 in the cost of each funeral. As there are 31,000 funerals in Chicago each year, the general reduction in the cost of dying, if busses were used in all funerals, would be $930,000.

Threatens to Kill Girl By Wireless In Blackmail Plot

Inventor Telephones Rich Salt Lake Woman He Will Slay Her Unless $1,000 Is Paid.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 19.—W. L. Cummings, 23 years old, an electrician, and inventor of a wireless machine which, it is claimed can ring a bell, turn on a light in an electric bulb and explode dynamite at a considerable distance, is being held by the authorities here to-night on charges made by private detectives that he sent a black hand letter to Miss Dorothy Bamberger, a rich Salt Lake girl, and threatened her life. Cummings' machine was seized.

Cummings was arrested while telephoning to Miss Bamberger to give new instructions about leaving the $1,000 which he demanded. He was turned over to the Government authorities.

Cummings, according to the authorities, threatened to blow Miss Bamberger up with nitroglycerin and dynamite, using his invention to set off the explosives. He recently came here from Georgia.

New Newport Dance Called 'Un Tartare'

Inventor of Terpsichorean Novelty Says It Is Not so Spicy as It Sounds.

Special Cable to The American.

LONDON, July 19.—Uriel Davis, who sails to-morrow for New York, has a new dance to teach Newport society. It is called "un tartare," but Davis says it is not so spicy as it sounds.

It is not a jumpy dance, but consists mainly of pointing the toes and bending of the knees, he declares, and could not scandalize anybody.

Mrs. John Drexel, Mrs. Preston Gibson, Mrs. MacLean and the Vanderbilts will learn the "tartare," which was evolved by Davis and Miss Blanca Waldo, the American whistler.

Downtown Block in Indianapolis Burning

Flames in Heart of Wholesale District Not Controlled at Midnight—Loss $500,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 19.—Fire in the heart of the downtown wholesale district, the total loss of which probably will reach $500,000, threatened last night to sweep the entire block bounded by Maryland, Georgia, Pennsylvania and Meridian streets.

The four-story brick building occupied by the Layman Carey Company, wholesale hardware dealers, was destroyed, with a loss estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000. The fire spread to the buildings adjoining, the Hamilton Harris Company, tobacco wholesalers, and the Atlas Paper Company, and at midnight the flames were raging fiercely in both of these buildings.

Hat Pin Thrust Is Gallantry's Reward

Traveling Salesman Rescues Weapon of Womanly Warfare and Gets Pinked as Result.

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—Joseph Butler, a traveling salesman, has doubts about the use of a hat pin to express gratitude. He was on a train running between Chapin, Ill., and Alton, when a woman in front of him made a frantic appeal to him to stop the train and get her hat which had blown out of the window. Mr. Butler gave the necessary signal, the train was stopped, backed, and he rescued the hat.

He was thanked and decided to sit in the seat in front of the woman. The conductor suggested that she pin her hat to the seat in front of her so as to let the train follow its schedule the remainder of the trip.

This she did with such energy that the hat pin went through the back of the seat and two inches into Mr. Butler's back.

Chinese Province Proclaims Secession

Governor General of Kwang Tung Announces Beginning of Campaign Against President Yuan Shi Kai.

HONGKONG, July 19.—The secession of the Province of Kwang Tung from the republic was proclaimed by the Governor General of Kwang Tung today. The capital of the province is Canton, the home city of Yuan Shi Kai, against whose government the revolt is directed.

The Governor General declares that the Provincial Council has appointed him commander-in-chief to lead the Southern troops against those of Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai.

This step has been taken, he says, because of Yuan's despotism, which he says would ruin the republic. Traffic between Hongkong and Canton has come to a standstill.

SEATTLE MAYOR MUZZLES PAPER AS RIOT GOES ON

"Times" Gets Injunction to Halt City's Action, and Police Are Threatened With Arrest.

DANIELS NOW EXPLAINS

Secretary of Navy Declares He Had No Thought of Industrial Workers in Speech.

SEATTLE, July 19.—Rioting, which began last night as the result of an encounter between sailors from United States warships in the harbor and members of the Industrial Workers of the World, continued throughout the day and night.

Mayor George S. Cotterill this afternoon declared the city under martial law and ordered saloons closed, and notified the management of The Seattle Times that all its editions would be suspended unless proofs first were submitted to him.

Colonel Alden C. Blethen, publisher of The Times, upon receipt of the Mayor's orders, appeared before Judge Humphreys, of the Superior Court, and obtained an injunction restraining the Mayor and Chief of Police from interfering with the publication of the paper. The Mayor refused to recognize the authority of the court until he had been called before Judge Humphries and warned that he would be sent to jail unless he obeyed the court's mandate.

Warrants for Policemen.

The court also issued a score or more of John Doe warrants for the arrest of policemen who were barricading The Times press room. Seeing no other alternative than to lift the ban or go to jail, the cordon of police surrounding The Times building was withdrawn and the first issue of the paper appeared on the streets late in the afternoon.

Mayor Cottrill charges that The Times incited the riot by publishing a garbled account of the speech of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, in which it was made to appear that the Secretary expressed himself as being in favor of expelling members of the I. W. W. from the country.

Late this afternoon Judge Humphries issued a second order notifying saloon men that they might open their places of business without danger of interference from the police.

Shore Permits Refused.

Commanders of the warships in the harbor withdrew all shore leaves and refused to issue shore permits to the sailors.

From National Park Inn, Secretary Daniels sent this telegram regarding his speech:

"The reference I made to the flag and my statement that the red flag meant danger was the same as originally made by me at a banquet of Railroad Men's Y. M. C. A. at Washington City a few days ago. It had no reference whatever to local conditions in Seattle.

"I believe in free speech and a free press, as the bulwarks of our liberty. Every evil that exists or that threatens our country can be righted by appeal to the judgment of the American people. The weapon is the ballot. The man who resorts to violence to redress evil is bringing more evil into existence than he can hope to cure by violence.

"Obedience to lawful authority and respect for the flag must precede any reforms. The man who takes the law into his own hands imperils American institutions and jeopardizes the hopes of securing real relief from conditions against which he complains."

GEORGIAN DIES IN KENTUCKY.

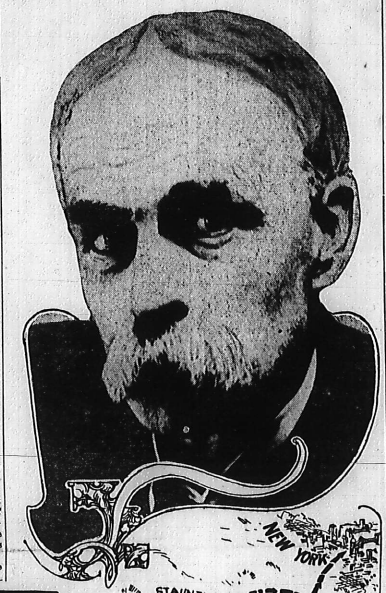
LEXINGTON, KY., July 19.—Typhoid fever to-day killed Rufus H. Anderson, aged 27 years, a ministerial student. Anderson's home was at Jersey, Ga. His body will be sent to Georgia for burial Sunday night.

Hawthorne to Walk 1,000 Miles

Solitary Jaunt to Follow Parole

Novelist to Use Prison in Writings

Julian Hawthorne, famous writer, now prisoner in Atlanta penitentiary, and route he will take on walk to New York when he is paroled in fall.



Experience in Atlanta Penitentiary Will Be Worked Into Future Literary Works of Author.

Julian Hawthorne, the novelist, is planning a 1,000-mile cross-country walk from Atlanta to New York, to begin late in July, when he will be released from the United States penitentiary. His application for a parole will be granted, it is announced from Washington.

Julian Hawthorne is a hefty, dynamic gentleman for all his 67 years. Out at the Atlanta Federal Prison, where he is Register 4436, he turns out volumes of copy for the prison paper, good copy, too, that would frighten any young and vigorous reporter. And daily he performs a feat that few cub reporters can equal, and cub reporters are wonderful because of the power that lies in their legs. Hawthorne walks ten or fifteen miles around the walls each day.

He Is Eager for the Jaunt.

It is a natural outgrowth of his energy that this white-haired old man should plan to walk from Atlanta to New York when he is released from prison and becomes Julian Hawthorne again instead of Registry 4435. He has talked of this ambition to his mates in the penitentiary, to the officers and the guards, and they say that he is as eager for the jaunt as any boy.

It is said that Mr. Grant, in retaliation, has threatened to cut them off entirely in his will unless they change their attitude before he sails on the steamer Yale to-morrow morning. The children say they stand firm in their attitude and assert that their father has been taken advantage of by Mrs. Will, now Mrs. Grant.

Billie Burke Wires She Is Recovering

Actress Was Threatened With Appendicitis, but Did Not Have to Undergo Operation.

Special Cable to The American.

LONDON, July 19.—Billie Burke, telegraphing the London bureau of The American to-day from Carlsbad in reply to an inquiry concerning her health, says:

"Thanks awfully. Was threatened with appendicitis, but have not had to undergo operation. Recovering nicely.

"BILLIE BURKE."

U.S. Grant, Jr., Weds; Only One Child to Greet Stepmother

Ceremony Performed Secretly and Announced at Dinner Which Former Friends Refuse to Attend.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., July 19.—Ulysses Simpson Grant, Jr., and Mrs. America Workman Will were married by Judge George Putterbaugh Saturday evening, July 12. The ceremony took place at the home of the Police Court Judge entirely without premeditation on the part of either Mr. or Mrs. Grant.

The startling announcement of the wedding was made at a dinner to-night at the U. S. Grant Hotel. Many old friends of Mr. Grant refused to attend, and the only child of the aged bridegroom who was present was U. S. Grant IV, a Junior at Harvard.

Friends and relatives of Mr. Grant have been bitter in their opposition to this, his second, marriage and pleaded in vain for him not to wed again. His grown son, Caffee Grant, and his three daughters absolutely refused to recognize their "new mother."

It is said that Mr. Grant, in retaliation, has threatened to cut them off entirely in his will unless they change their attitude before he sails on the steamer Yale to-morrow morning. The children say they stand firm in their attitude and assert that their father has been taken advantage of by Mrs. Will, now Mrs. Grant.

COUNSEL OF FRANK SAYS DORSEY HAS SOUGHT TO HIDE FACTS

Attorneys Rosser and Arnold, in a Statement to the Press, Make Bitter Attack on Solicitor for His Conduct of Phagan Case.

Call Attention to Secrecy Maintained by Prosecution, and Declare Action of State's Attorney Has Inflamed Public Opinion.

Luther Z. Rosser and Reuben R. Arnold, attorneys for Leo M. Frank, who will be tried July 28 on the charge of killing Mary Phagan, joined Saturday in a bitter attack upon the policy of Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey, whose procedure in the case, they said, had inflamed public opinion and had placed the Solicitor far below the dignity of his office.

In a formal statement, they charged that Dorsey had ignored his constitutional and legal functions and had sought to usurp those of the Grand Jury by his attempt to block the indictment of Jim Conley by that body.

They described his action as unprecedented and dangerous in the extreme, and represented Dorsey and Conley as partners in "a harmonious concert."

The document, which is one of the few public statements issued by the defense, is bristling with criticism of the Solicitor's conduct throughout the investigation of the murder mystery, and charges that Dorsey has maintained his belief in Frank's guilt apparently for no other purpose than to convict Frank.

Call Attention to Secrecy.

Attention is called to the secrecy with which evidence is being gathered by the prosecution "in manufacturing its case against Frank," as though an innocent man—as the law contemplates Frank until he is proved guilty—should not be given the advantage of a knowledge of every shred of evidence which may be found for or against him, so that it may be presented, if favorable, and that it may be met and disproved if false.

Disclaiming any intention of criticising the previous Grand Jury, Attorneys Rosser and Arnold cite the circumstance of Conley's first confession, into which he was forced by the discovery that he could write after he steadfastly had denied he could, and asserted that the Solicitor had been asked to bring this incident to the attention of the Grand Jury, but that he, if report were true, actually directed that it be not done.

Another indication of the Solicitor's alleged domination over the Grand Jury was contained, said the attorneys for the defense, in his reported action in insisting that the jurors pledge themselves not to act in any way on the suggested Conley indictment during his absence on a vacation.

Statement of Defense.

The statement, in full, follows:

Counsel for Leo M. Frank have refrained from making a statement for the papers except under strong provocation. Clearly counsel on both sides should refrain from any comment of or criticism on any action of the Grand Jury to be taken at its meeting next Monday, which might tend to hamper or limit the Grand Jury in their action upon the Conley case.

The Grand Jury is an independent body; it is under the control of no one.

A Solicitor General is the adviser of that body as to legal principles merely, but he has no right to exercise any sort of control in determining who shall or shall not be indicted.

To permit a Solicitor General to use the position intrusted to him by the people to decide for himself who shall and who shall not be indicted is a danger too great to be contemplated.

Reply to Solicitor.

With this preliminary statement we reluctantly make a reply to Solicitor Dorsey's interview in this morning's paper.

It is rather remarkable that the Solicitor General and a person admitting complicity in a grave crime

Continued on Page 10, Column 3.