TRAIL LEADS MOTHER TO PACIFIC

Mrs. Lily Lamar Martin, Fulton County, Locates Little Daughter in Los Angeles, Cal.

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—After a two-year search, extending across seven States, Mrs. Lily Lamar Martin, of Fulton County, Georgia, has located her little daughter, Sarah Alice, at 1242 West Thirty-eighth Street, Los Angeles.

Human Officer McLaughlin, at the request of the mother, applied for a writ of habeas corpus ordering the child's father, A. R. Martin, to produce the child in Judge Wilbur's courtroom Monday.

Martin is charged by McLaughlin with kidnaping the child from its mother after his custody had been awarded Mrs. Martin. The Martins were divorced in Georgia April 18, 1911. The mother is now in Dallas, Tex., but is leaving for Los Angeles to regain possession of the child.

The litigation with the little girl in the center dates back to December 25, 1910, when A. R. Martin filed a petition for divorce in the Fulton County courts. He charged his wife, Mrs. Lily Martin, with grossly inhuman and cruel treatment, asserting that she had plotted a plot to kill him with a butcher knife and had threatened to poison him by putting strychnine in his food. After his last threat, his petition alleged, he became afraid for his life and fled. He asserted also that she had threatened to kill their daughter, Sarah Alice, who was 6 years old at the time of the filing of the petition. Martin asked for the custody of the child.

Mrs. Martin at once filed a cross-bill, denying the charges made by her husband, and praying the court to allow her to keep the little girl. Both Martin and his wife were granted a divorce, and she was given a judgment for alimony. The court ordered the child placed in the Baptist Orphan Home, at Hapeville, but because of the crowded condition of the home the girl was placed temporarily with her grandfather, F. L. Fry.

A few months after the court's decision, while Mrs. Martin was visiting in America, Ga., Martin took out a writ of habeas corpus and took the child away from Fry. He then left with the little girl for San Francisco, and the case began. Mrs. Martin trailed her husband through several States in the West and across the entire continent, finally locating him at Los Angeles.

62 Sunday Concerts Planned by Music Festival Association

Plans for an unbroken series of Sunday afternoon concerts at the Auditorium-Army next year are now being prepared by the Atlanta Music Festival Association. It is the hope of the association to arrange with the Auditorium Committee of the General Council to secure the building for each Sunday during the year that there may be no break in the series of concerts.

Meeting of representatives of the association and of the Council committee was held in Mayor Woodward's office Friday afternoon. V. H. Krieger declared that during the last year the association had paid $4,000 for an organ, but because other attractions were booked Sunday, it had been able to give only 48 concerts. He declared that a break in the series caused people to lose interest, and he urged the committee for an arrangement whereby each of the 52 Sundays of the year could be used for a concert.

FIGHT NEGRO AS FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Dixie Lawmakers Roused by Wilson's Selection of Oklahoma Lawyer as Treasury Register.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The selection of Adam E. Patterson, a negro, of Muskogee, Okla., for Register of the Treasury by President Wilson has created a stir here among Southern Democrats, who declare they will fight the negro's confirmation to the post.

Patterson, a lawyer and author of several treatises on the Democratic party, has received the endorsement of Senator Gore and Representative Carter, of Oklahoma. It is said, with these two exceptions, the Oklahoma delegation is solid against him.

Race Antagonism Seen. Southern Democrats, including Representative Davenport and Murray, of Oklahoma, condemn the selection of Patterson on the grounds that a negro should not be placed in a position where he will exert authority over white men and women, thus antagonizing the race.

Heads, they point out that Oklahoma's Constitution makes the negro a negligible factor in politics. The job for which Patterson has been selected pays $5,000 per year and has been held by a negro for several years.

Believes Him Capable. "While I believe this man to be capable," said Representative Davenport, "I do not believe any colored man should be placed in a position of authority over white men and white women. I don't think anything ought to be done to accentuate the race question."

Representative Murray, commonly known as "Alfalfa Bill," said he was surprised at the President's action in selecting Patterson, and believed it was a political mistake on the latter's part. The grandfather clause in the Oklahoma Constitution, he said, made the negro a negligible factor in politics.

TAX ACTS TO PASS WITH BUDGET

Appropriations Bill, as Framed, Pleases Governor—Needed Revenue To Be Provided.

The one disturbing element in the program of financial legislation as mapped out by Governor Blanton just prior to the assembling of the Legislature, and as outlined by him in his inaugural address, seems more than likely to be removed, thus avoiding either an Executive veto of the general appropriations bill or an extra session of the General Assembly.

The general appropriations bill, as framed in the House and as likely to be amended in the Senate, will be entirely satisfactory to the Governor, provided suitable and necessary tax acts are passed to produce the revenue called for.

ATLANTA GIRL PLEADS SUMMER FLIRTS' CASE

MISS GLADYS WATKINS.

Atlanta's prettiest society girl, had her way, the good old summer time would no longer be an open season for flirtations. Friendship formed under the spell of the full moon and the moonlit breezes would be as lasting and as open fire, and sure-enough, honest-to-goodness romance would feel as much at home in a rowboat as it is in a sleigh.

"Is there any good reason," asked Miss Watkins, "why every romance that begins during summer should be greeted with skepticism and labeled a 'summer flirtation'?"

"No one expects at this time that the public were obtained in spite of the fact that the time element may be modified in certain respects.

Similar surprises may be expected from the defense. Attorney Roscoe has not been communicative with the newspaper men. The few bits of his evidence that have become known to the public were obtained in spite of the fact that the time element may be modified in certain respects.

Two operatives who began turning up this sort of startling evidence at the moment they were placed on the case soon were taken off to a Phagan mystery by the Pinkerton agency.

Both sides announce themselves ready for the trial to proceed. It is regarded as doubtful that the defense will ask for another continuance, except on account of the absence of material witnesses or the illness of counsel. About 150 witnesses already have been summoned by the defense.

ATLANTIAN HURT IN WRECK ON SOUTHERN

MACON, July 25.—Southern passenger train No. 13 (northbound) and No. 14 (southbound) had a head-on collision on a siding at Hillton, near Macon, this morning at 3:10 o'clock, resulting in the death of Will Jackson, the negro porter, who operated the switch, and injuring Engineer H. G. Jennings, of Macon, and Fireman W. E. Jones, of Atlanta, of train No. 24.

When train No. 24 was within 100 yards of the siding the porter became excited over the apprehension that he had not turned the switch properly. He turned it again opening the siding to the approaching train. He was struck by the engine of train No. 24 and instantly killed.

Engineer Jennings sustained a bruised shoulder and sprained back, and Fireman Jones had a rib broken. None of the passengers was hurt, although all were severely jarred.

A delay of less than an hour was occasioned by the wreck, train No. 23 taking train No. 13 on to Atlanta, while the passengers from No. 24 were transferred and brought to Macon.
