NATION-WIDE CHURCH WAR ON DIVORCE IS URGED

Presbyterians, U. S. A., Adopt Resolutions Reproving Ministers.

The churches are derelict in their duty in respect to the divorce evil.

The ministers are not keeping themselves informed of the alarming situation except in a general and casual way.

These were important conclusions in the report of the special committee on Christian life and work which was submitted to the Friday afternoon session of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly, by which it was unanimously adopted.

The report contained a strong recommendation for a nation-wide campaign against the evil and called upon the ministers to awake from the apathy which appears to have afflicted them.

A paragraph was inserted in the report advocating work for uniform legislation on divorce in the various States.

Church's Apathy Scored.

Speaking of the rise and spread of various cults and creds another report said that if the church had been awake to its mission in the world, Christian Science never would have obtained the foothold which it now enjoys. More attention should have been paid to the efficacy of prayer, and the healing of the spirit and the body by spiritual means, the report says.

The main features in the report on divorce were embodied in the following paragraphs:

We call the attention of the general assembly to the sad and alarming situation pertaining to marriage and divorce. Cccurate statistics on this important subject show that the evil is steadily increasing.

This matter is pre-eminently the care of the church. It reaches down to the vitals of the church and the state. Your committee has corresponded directly with the authorities in several of our synods and presbyteries and report a desire on the part of many to take advanced steps pertaining to the regulation of marriage and divorce. But it is evident that our ministers and our churches are not grappling with this great evil as they should. They are not keeping themselves informed as to the situation except in a general way. The result is that the movement for reform needs a great new stimulus of thought and effort.

The Resolutions Urged.

We recommend the following resolutions:

That our ministers and church courts be urged to organize a new and widespread campaign of education in the churches, regarding the sacredness of marriage and the evils of divorce, and to arouse all classes in the community by means of the press, the school and the social agencies to the need of reform.

That all our ministers and church courts be urged to study the present laws of each State on marriage and divorce, with the aid of earnest Christian lawyears and other laymen, with a view to the introduction of new and improved codes pertaining to marriage and divorce, and to that end that competent committees be created to prosecute the matter successfully.

That the committee on Christian life and work communicate with the Presbyteries on the subject of the laws of the tSate and the United States, both as to marriage and divorce, recommending action by each in order to secure proper regulations by the State in connection with marriage and also to secure such legislation as will make the laws

SECRET PROBE BEGAN BY BURNS AGENT INTO THE PHAGAN MYSTERY

Investigator for Great Detective Believed To Be in City Hunting Phagan Slayer---Will Be on Same Plane as Pinkertons---State Won't Aid.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said Friday that William J. Burns and his assistants would work on the Phagan case under the same conditions as the Pinkertons, namely, that while he would welcome any information from them, they would receive none from his office.

Mr. Dorsey issued the following statement:

"Mr. Burns is welcome. We are delighted to have aid in arriving at the truth no matter from what source it comes. However, Mr. Burns would have to get his information first hand so far as this office is concerned. We accept the statement without question that Mr. Burns' employment is in entire good faith, but our attitude toward him is the same as our attitude toward the Pinkertons, namely, that he will be expected to give and not to receive. The work being done by the city detectives is entirely satisfactory."

Mr. Dorsey added that there was absolutely no development of any kind in the case to-day except that considerable progress was being made in preparing the evidence.

It was reported the case would go to the Grand Jury to-day. Witnesses in the case were summoned on the form of subpena used by the Grand Jury. They appeared before Mr. Dorsey, however, and he stated positively the case would not be presented until next week.

The Burns investigation into the Phagan murder mystery began Friday.

William J. Burns, who personally will conduct the case some time shortly after his arrival from Europe on June 1, cabled his orders to the New York office and one of his best men was dispatched to Atlanta to get as much evidence as possible before the arrival of the great detective chief. He left New York shortly after midnight Wednesday and should have been in Atlanta Thursday night or Friday morning.

He will make every effort to keep his identity and the result of his findings secret until the time for him to report to his chief or to Colonel Thomas B. Felder.

The fund to secure the services of the great detective and his assistants from New York, being raised by public subscription, was considerably swelled following the announcement in The Georgian Thursday that an appeal had been made to the public.

Colonel Felder said Friday morning that a number of substantial subscriptions had been pledged by telephone and he had directed the donors to send their checks to Charles I. Ryan, cashier of the Fourth National Bank. He said he had not learned the exact sum subscribed so far, but that he had no doubt it was several hundred dollars.

"I know of more than six subscriptions that will be made this morning, but I promised the people their names would not be published. The fund will be raised all right, and we are so confident of it one of the Burns men should be on the scene now."

Hugh M. Dorsey, Solicitor General, held a secret conference at his office Thursday night with city detectives and members of his staff. It was understood the conference followed the finding of valuable information or evidence in connection with the Phagan case, but the Solicitor would make no announcement.

The examination of witnesses by Mr. Dorsey will be continued to-day. J. Williams, ex-policeman, who operates a livery stable near the pencil factory plant on South Forsyth Street, will be examined to-day.

AUTO DROPS 40 FEET; MAN IS PINIONED

C. S. Walraven Badly Hurt When Truck Leaps Embankment Near Tech Dormitory.

C. S. Walraven was seriously crushed in the spectacular leap of a heavy motor truck down a 40-foot embankment in front of a Tech dormitory on West North Avenue Friday afternoon.

Walraven was riding on the seat with the driver. Just as they started down the incline in front of the school, the driver lost all control of the machine. Both men tugged at the steering wheel, but without avail.

It was too late to jump when the truck hit the embankment and made its 40-foot plunge. Walraven was rescued from underneath the machine and was hurried to Grady Hospital.

His limbs and body were badly crushed.

Walraven was partially paralyzed by the shock. The physicians were unable to say whether he would recover the use of his limbs.

The driver was practically unhurt.

A score of persons looked on, horror-stricken, as the big machine hurtled down the embankment, thinking that Walraven would be dead when picked up.

Mr. and Mrs. Hearst Arrive in Atlanta Friday Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst will arrive in Atlanta Friday afternoon to remain for a few days.

Mr. Guy Barham, of Los Angeles, accompanies them.

The party have rooms at the Georgian Terrace Hotel.

Cracker-Pelican Battle Off; Rain

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 16.—Rain butted in this afternoon and caused a postponement of the Cracker-Pelican game. Both teams were fit and ready for the fray, although the players admitted that they would enjoy the layoff.
