

NO LAMAR DECISION YET.

Justice Expected to Rule on Frank Writ Appeal This Week.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Justice Lamar of the Supreme Court of the United States, who has had under advisement since Thursday the appeal of Louis Marshall of New York from the Georgia District Court's denial of a writ of habeas corpus to Leo M. Frank, under sentence of death at Atlanta, has not yet handed down his decision. Information that he would not do anything before "next week" is taken to mean that he may not give his decision for four or five days.

The Supreme Court is now in recess and Justice Lamar heard Mr. Marshall's argument in chambers.

WOMAN'S BODY IN MEADOWS.

Mrs. Joseph Burries, Missing Since Nov. 21, Found Dead in Jersey.

James Johnston and Frank Berg of Harrison, N. J., were hunting in the Kearny meadows yesterday afternoon when they found the body of a woman lying face down in the frozen ground. She had evidently been dead for some time, and the Harrison police, who were summoned, had to dig the body out of the mud with pickaxes. It was taken to the Harrison Morgue and promptly visited by Burns detectives, who have been working on the disappearance of Mrs. Walter Breck of East Orange, but they found that the body was not hers.

Then the police remembered that Joseph Burries of 540 West Twenty-ninth Street, New York, had called on them about two weeks ago and asked them to look for his wife, Mrs. Helen Burries, who had wandered away from home on Nov. 21 and was believed to have come to the Kearny meadows, to which she had made her way on two previous occasions when suffering from an attack of wandering mania. The police had searched the meadows at that time, but without result. Mr. Burries was notified, and, although he was just convalescing from an operation on his shoulder in a New York hospital, he insisted on getting out against the advice of his physician and making the trip to Harrison. There he identified the body as that of his wife.

Mr. Burries, who is connected with a warehouse company, said that his wife was seemingly happy at home and that he was unable to explain the strange attraction which had led her three times to wander away to the Kearny meadows. She was 44 years old and left two sons, aged 15 and 11 years.

FELL 14 FEET WHILE ASLEEP

84-Year-Old Woman Walked Out of Window—Lay Nearly Frozen.

Walking in her sleep at the home of her son, Thomas Kettleman, 157 Beech Street, Yonkers, early yesterday, Mrs. Isabelle Dunn, aged 84, fell out of a second-story window into the yard fourteen feet below.

While no bones were broken, she suffered so severely from exposure in the near zero atmosphere that pneumonia developed and she is now in a serious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital. She has been a somnambulist for years.

Two Hit by Skidding Auto.

Samuel Wolfskovcazak, a laborer of 906 East 161st Street, and Paul Dudjr of 892 Eage Avenue, the Bronx, were run down last night in First Avenue, near 116th Street, by an automobile driven by Cyril Rizzrack of 328 East Fifty-ninth Street. Rizzrack saw the men in time to put on the emergency brakes, but his car skidded on the icy street and ran into both men. Wolfskovcazak suffered internal injuries and Dudjr was cut about the face and hands.
